Baptist church has new pastor

New pastor of the First Baptist Church is the Rev. Jimmy Turner. He and his wife, Sammie, moved to Haskell last week and he began his new duties at prayer meeting Wednesday evening.

The Turners came to Haskell from Azle where he had been pastor of Ash Creek Baptist Church for the past seven years. Before that, he was pastor of the First Baptist Church in Tahoka 14 years.

The Turners said they had thoroughly enjoyed living in Tahoka, a community similar to Haskell in many ways.

"This is a progressive community with a lot of good planning. It's a wonderful community," said Turner. "We're going to love it here," echoed his wife.

Both of the Turners are originally from Rising Star and both graduated from high school there.

Turner graduated from Hardin-Simmons University in 1959 and from Southwestern Theological Seminary in Fort Worth in 1964.

While attending Hardin-Simmons, he pastored rural churches in Corinth (between Anson and Stamford) and Mary Neal. After graduating from HSU, he pastored churches in Carbon and Loraine.

The Turners are parents of two grown sons and a grown daughter, David Turner of Eastland, Stacy Turner of Andrews and Patti Cloe of Snyder. They also have seven grandchildren.

Moving to Haskell with the Turners was his mother, Mrs. Velma Turner, who has become a resident of Rice Springs Care Home. She previously lived in a nursing home in Azle.

Indians scrimmage Aspermont Friday

The Haskell Indians will scrimmage the Aspermont Hornets in Aspermont Friday night. The practice game begins at 7.

Coach Nelson Coulter was well pleased with the Indians' showing in their first scrimmage last week against Rotan.

He said he thought the three-hour workout was highly productive. "We were able to run more plays and use more kids than we were in our first scrimmage last year against Bronte," the coach said.

"We made a few mistakes," Coulter said, "but they were the kind of mistakes we can do something about."

Most offensive emphasis in the Rotan scrimmage was on the passing game. The coach was satisfied with the performances of receivers Josh Reid, Alberto Alvarez and Cole Larned.

The Indians will open the 1988 season next Friday, Sept. 2, when they host the Munday Moguls.

Season tickets

Season football tickets go on sale at 9 this morning (Thursday) for those who had season tickets last year. They are priced at $18 for the six home games.

Tickets not purchased by 4 p.m. Tuesday will go on sale to the general public next Wednesday morning.

Farmer credit improves

The credit quality of area farmers and ranchers has improved substantially through 1988, according to John S. Rike III, president of Rolling Plains Production Credit Association. Stocker cattle operations, especially, should also fare well due to the lowest cattle numbers in 30 years.

"Overall, the credit quality of our member-borrowers has improved," says Rike. He noted that in 1988, the association has not had to channel any additional funding into its loan loss reserve accounts.

According to Rike, approximately 65 percent of the PCA's loan portfolio is invested in cotton production, another 25 percent is in livestock, 5 percent goes to wheat farmers and the remainder is spread among various other enterprises.

Even though the association's loan activity increased and financial indicators improved, the PCA reported a net loss of $413,350 for the first half of the year, compared with last year's net income of $217,877 at mid-year. Rike attributes the loss to the $743,305 assessment paid to the Federal Crop System in March of this year. Rolling Plains was one of nine Texas associations required to make this payment.

Under provisions of the Agricultural Credit Act of 1987, financially strong farm credit institutions were required to pay a one-time assessment to the Farm Credit Financial Assistance Corporation (FAC). In turn, the FAC will use the pooled capital to support the nation's ailing farm credit institutions. Congress is now considering legislation which could reverse the assessment and return a portion of the $743,305 to the association. Rolling Plains PCA maintains a healthy capital to assets ratio of 35 percent with some $13 million in capital funds.

Statewide, the Texas Farm Credit System reported $900,000 in net income for the first six months of 1988, compared to a net gain of $6.8 million for the same period in 1987. Nationwide, the farm credit system recorded a $336 million profit over the two quarters, compared with a loss of $201 million for the same period last year.

Production credit associations in Texas specialize in short- and intermediate-term loans for financing producers' livestock, equipment, supply and real estate needs. Rolling Plains PCA has approximately 730 loans outstanding for a total of $36 million to farmers, ranchers and ag-related businesses in Briscoe, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dickens, Donley, Foard, Hall, Hardeman, Haskell, Jones, Kent, King, Knox, Motley, Shackelford and Stonewall counties.

Library program

Haskell County Library will have a program at 2 p.m. Saturday for the children who joined the summer reading program.

Certificates will be awarded to students who participated.

The program will include a speaker. Refreshments will be served.

County to get peanut plant

Lone Star Peanut Co. will begin operation of a peanut drying facility in mid-September. It will be located on the old Paymaster Gin yard in Rochester.

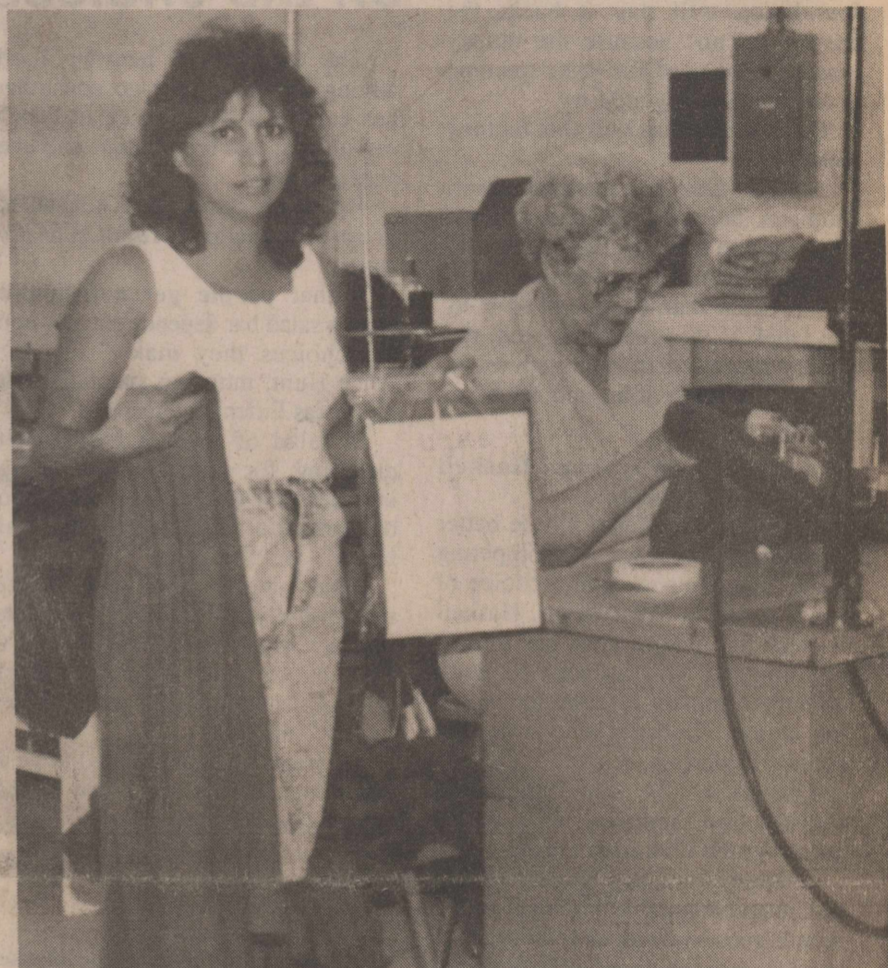

The plant is being made possible by a loan of $98,000 from the Texas Department of Commerce. An interest-free loan is being made to the county, which in turn will make a low-interest loan to Lone Star Peanut Co.

Lone Star Peanut Co. is comprised of a group of investors from the Rochester area. Cole Turner is president of the corporation, Danny Harris is vice president and Reida Harris is secretary.

The drying plant will be ready in time for the harvest of Haskell County's 6,500 acres of peanuts. Peanuts will be brought to the plant where they will be weighed and dried. Proper drying is critical to the grade.

Eight-hour shifts will be run for a week or two, then the plant will operate 24 hours with 25 to 30 employees working at peak times.

First product produced

This woman's skirt is one of the first products produced this week as United Sewing Agency began production in its Haskell plant. Fourteen employees began work Monday. Jim Vinyard, plant manager, said 10 or 15 more would be hired over the next two or three weeks, and the labor force would continue to increase gradually after that. Applications are now being accepted. Vinyard said he is particularly interested in experienced people for the sewing factory.

Greenwood attends school in Austin

Dickie W. Greenwood, vice president and branch manager of Olney Savings Association in Haskell, recently graduated from the Texas Savings and Loan School, which is held annually at the University of Texas at Austin.

Greenwood has been with Olney Savings for six years. He received his B.S. in agricultural business from Tarleton State University in Stephenville. Prior to working in the thrift business, Greenwood worked for the USDA Farmers Home Administration in Haskell.

He is active in the Haskell community as president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, director of the Haskell Memorial Civic Center, member and past president of the Rotary Club and member of the First Baptist Church.

The school is sponsored by the Texas Savings and Loan League and the Graduate School of Business, Department of Finance, at the university.

The two-week curriculum includes more than 70 hours of classroom lecture and exercises of relevance to savings and loan associations. Topics include management, monetary economics, marketing and communication. Considerable time is spent on current market situations and a specially designed savings and loan computer simulation.

Questions and answers on sewing plant

Question: Exactly, what is the money we're raising to be used for?

Answer: To equip the sewing plant for United Sewing Agency.

Question: Is any part of the funds to be used for expenditures other than equipment?

Answer: Present plans call only for the purchase of equipment.

Question: Did United Sewing Agency sign a five-year lease?

Answer: Yes.

Question: Are we to understand that if United Sewing Agency should leave before the five years expire, they will continue to pay the lease fee on both the machinery and the building until the five-year contract is honored?

Answer: Yes.

Question: How much rent will they pay per month. On the building?

On the machinery"

Answer: The contract spells out the lease payments on an escalating schedule for the first year, then level payments for the next four years. This allows for a lower payment during the start up and increases as the plant reaches full production.

Question: Is the building clear? If not clear, will the lease revenue be used then to pay off the existing indebtedness of the building?

Answer: The building is not clear. Lease revenue will be used to pay off the note. When the building is paid off, lease revenue will be used to attract new industry to Haskell.

Question: When will the plant be in operation?

Answer: Production started Monday of this week with 14 employees. This will gradually be increased until the plant is in full production. The goal is 60 employees, but this number could reach 100 if labor is available.

Question: What is the Haskell Industrial Foundation?

Answer: The foundation was created in the early 1970s by a group of progressive citizens who believed that industry could be encouraged to locate in Haskell, produce a product sold outside the area and made by local labor, which would bring money into the local economy. Members of the non-profit foundation elect officers to serve in non-salaried capacities.

Question: We've heard the new sewing plant will eventually create cash-flow income of $600,000 annually. Is this correct?

Answer: That's the figure which has been used as the eventual result, assuming 60 employees at $10,000 each. This will be earned by people who live here and spend their money here, which means that money will be re-spent five to seven times before leaving the area.

Question: But suppose you're not a merchant. How will this help you?

Answer: What's good for any segment of our population eventually helps all of us. More money means more people, more taxes, more students. If you are looking for a job, there will be more of them. If you own real property, it will be worth more. It will make Haskell a better place to live and to shop.

Question: We had a factory here and it closed. Did anyone suffer, or notice?

Answer: After Trammel Bit moved out, several businesses closed. We cannot take over a half million dollars out of our local economy and never notice it.

Question: But is this a permanent industry?

Answer: While United Sewing Agency is not an old company, it has never closed a factory. They are under contract to stay five years.

Question: Why do we have to raise $60,000? Why not just borrow it?

Answer: Many towns the size of Haskell would do almost anything to get an industry of this size. We probably could borrow the money. But that would mean borrowing $60,000 today and paying back $180,000 tomorrow.

Question: But what would you do with the money then?

Questions and answers

Answer: The foundation started with a few thousand dollars, donations from merchants and individuals. The money was used to buy land, build a building. An industry was brought in to spur the local economy, which it did. The building is nearly paid for. This contract will assure that the building will be paid off. Then, we can look for new industry.

Question: But suppose I'm not directly involved. Say I'm a farm worker. How will new industry help me?

Answer: Many ways. More cash flow means more taxes being paid. Your city can build paved streets, put in new sewer lines, improve parks, provide better services at less cost to you because others share the burden. More cash flow creates business expansion which means more things you need are available here. We'd like for our children to be able to raise their children in this fine community, but they must be able to make a living here. They need jobs. Industry is jobs.

Question: Will those who donate, say $100, get it back eventually?

Answer: If you are asking if the foundation will pay it back, the answer is "no" because the money made will be used for years to come to create more new industry.

Question: What will this factory make?

Answer: USA is a contract sewer. Products being made will change from time to time. In the beginning, the product will be women's clothing. This is better than being locked in to one label. If that label goes out, the factory closes. With contract work, they just change jobs and keep on sewing.

Question: Why was Haskell chosen as the location?

Answer: We offered a little better atmosphere than the next competing town. The company had a choice of many towns in West Texas. Haskell is clean and progressive, has a great building and was anxious to work with the company. It's hard to believe but it took almost a year from first contact to start up.

Question: Is the Industrial Foundation seeking any other industry, and if so, what kind?

Answer: In every way, anything decent and honorable and legal. Not a month goes by without some type of industry making an inquiry. We keep trying. The competition for industry among other towns is very aggressive.

Question: Why are we giving this company machinery which it will profit from?

Answer: We're not giving them anything. The machinery will belong to the Industrial Foundation and will be leased to the sewing plant and maintained by them.

Question: But why do we have to buy the equipment?

Answer: There were 20 other towns willing and eager to get this plant. They were willing to buy the equipment. We lost a plant a year ago because they went to a town that had a fully operational factory. All they had to do was walk in, blow off the dust and go to work. After five years, the machinery will be paid for by the lease and will still belong to the Industrial Foundation.

Salad bar value depends on the choices

The interest in healthy foods among today's on-the-go consumers has created a boom in salad bars at restaurants, fast food chains and even supermarkets.

However, patronizing a salad bar doesn't automatically result in healthy eating.

"What people get nutritionally from a salad bar depends entirely upon the choices they make," said Dr. Alice Hunt, nutrition specialist with the Texas Extension Service.

A salad of iceberg lettuce with dressing, for example, will be high in fiber and low in calories if you don't overdo it on the dressing, said Hunt.

"But you can do better nutritionally by adding vegetables that are high in vitamins A and C, such as romaine lettuce, spinach, broccoli, carrots, cauliflower or green pepper," she said.

"If your salad is supposed to be an entire meal, you should also include some protein foods, such as bacon bits, shredded cheese or chopped egg," said the specialist.

Home work offers deserve close look

In newspapers and magazines around the country you may see ads like this:

Would you like to earn hundreds of dollars a week at home, in your leisure time? Many people are supplementing their income in a very easy way. Let us tell you how...

An offer like this may sound very attractive, particularly if you are unable to leave your home to work. But, be cautious about work-at-home ads, especially those that promise you large profits in a short period of time. While some work-at-home plans are legitimate, many are not. Home employment schemes are one of the oldest kinds of classified advertising fraud.

What many of these ads do not say is that you may have to work many hours without pay. There also may be hidden costs. Many work-at-home schemes require you to spend your own money to place ads in newspapers, make photocopies or buy the envelopes, paper, stamps and other supplies or equipment needed to do the job.

The company also may demand that you pay a membership fee or make regular payments in order to get continued instructions or materials. Consumers deceived by these ads have lost thousands of dollars as well as time and energy.

If a work-at-home program is legitimate, its sponsor should readily tell you, in writing and for free, what is involved. Here are some questions you might ask a potential employer:

- What tasks will I be required to perform? Ask for a list of every step of the job.
- Will I be paid on salary or commission?
- Who will pay me?
- When will I get my first paycheck?
- What is the total cost of the work-at-home program, including supplies, equipment and membership fees? What will I get for my money?

The answers to such questions may enable you to detect whether a work-at-home scheme is legitimate and guard against the loss of your money and time.

For additional information, you may send a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Better Business Bureau, 1106 Brook Ave., Wichita Falls 76301 for a free brochure entitled "Tips on Work-at-Home Schemes."

'Trim the fat' featured in diet

The American Heart's Food Festival, Sept. 11-17, has the theme of "trim the fat and cut cholesterol for life." The American Heart Association diet describes the latest recommendations of medical scientists and provides a step-by-step guide to eating with your heart in mind by trimming fat and cutting cholesterol.

"The body can get all of the cholesterol it needs by making it, but we also ingest cholesterol directly from foods of animal origin such as meat, poultry, seafood and dairy products," said Dr. Bill McSmith, president of the Haskell County division of the AHA.

What is recommended on the AHA diet? "Foods low in cholesterol, saturated fat and sodium are all a part. The first step to a heart-healthy diet is variety," Dr. McSmith said.

Eat at least three servings of fruit or real fruit juice every day. And, eat at least three servings of vegetables every day. Vegetables and fruits are high in vitamins, minerals, potassium and fiber, but low in fat, calories and sodium. And they contain no cholesterol. The only fruits and vegetables to avoid are coconut and palm oil; avocados and olives should be eaten only occasionally.

The milk you drink should only contain 0-1% fat. Look for milk products labeled "Fortified with vitamins A and D" and have two servings daily if you are an adult or young child, three or four servings if an older child, teenager or pregnant or breastfeeding woman. Avoid cream, nondairy cream substitutes (unless made from polyunsaturated fat), and cheese with more than two grams of fat per ounce.

Some fats and oils are high in A and E vitamins, but all are high in fat and calories. Saturated fats (those that usually harden at room temperature) raise the level of cholesterol in the blood. So, buy vegetable oils with polyunsaturated fats (those that are usually liquid at room temperature), which help lower the level of blood cholesterol. They include safflower, sunflower, corn, partially hydrogenated soybean and cottonseed oil. Buy margarine that has one of the choice oils listed as the first ingredient on the label, with twice as much polyunsaturated as saturated fat. Avoid butter, solid fats, shortenings, chocolate, coconut, and coconut, palm and palm kernel oils.

Breads, cereals, pasta and starch vegetables are low in fat and cholesterol and are high in B vitamins, iron and fiber. Buy breads that are made from whole-grain or enriched flour. Avoid products made with egg yolks, whole milk, and "avoid" oils.

"Adults need no more than 5-7 ounces of meat, poultry or seafood per day. An example of a 3-ounce portion would be a half chicken breast; a chicken leg and thigh; half-cup flaked fish; or two thin slices of lean roast beef," Dr. McSmith said.

Remove the skin from chicken and turkey before cooking to save calories. Pre-schoolers should have one ounce of meat, poultry or seafood per day for each year of age.

County represented in Abilene show

By Myrtle Plemister

When the Abilene Philharmonic Guild entertains with its annual Fall Luncheon and Fashion Show, Haskell County will be represented with new fashions by Lane-Felker of Haskell, and modeling participant Imo Brockett of Weinert.

The show will be a benefit fundraiser for the Philharmonic Orchestra, and will feature furs, furnishings, fashions and food, and will be well worth the $15 cover charge for the show, which will take place in the Abilene Civic Center on Sept. 7 at 11 o'clock.

Imo Brockett is associate manager of the Ruth Ann Malm Modeling School and will also be a model in the fashion show. Imo has just returned from her third trip to New York for a photography session for the New Lear's magazine, a publication which caters to the woman "over 50". She will be featured in the September-October issue which is now on the newsstands, especially at the M System store in Munday.

Mrs. Brockett will be featured on the cover of the November-December issue.

On Tuesday, she had a photography session with the Reporter-News for a layout for their newspaper for the Aug. 28 issue.

Imo recommends the modeling school for those who find time on their hands after the "nest" is empty and the last child out on its own. Classes are constantly in progress for the young, as well as those "young in heart." She is a perfect example of what it can do for one's good health.

Gin managers are guests of Cotton Inc.

By Myrtle Plemister

Donald and Gracie Griffis, managers of the Weinert Paymaster Gin, were honored guests of Cotton Incorporated of Raleigh-Durham, N.C., last week. They were flown from Lubbock with a group of gin managers for a two-day tour of the plant and the White Oak Denim Mill in nearby Greensboro.

They were shown the way the mill works, and the different fabrics that are processed, and the drying methods used for the fabric. They also were shown the milling of the cotton as well as the weaving.

Cotton Inc. uses various methods to gain new markets, using the money that farmers donate for the promotion of cotton products.

At the White Oak Denim Mill, which is almost 100 years old and employs over 2,000 workers, they were intrigued by the whole setup, and admired the "brains" of those who invented all the processes. They saw 288 machines, each 16 feet long, in operation at the same time, spinning the cotton into yarn, and then into thread--then being dyed and woven into fabric.

The trip was an impressionable one, and one Mr. and Mrs. Griffis recommend.

To welcome them home were their daughters, Derinda and Johnny Larned of Wichita Falls, Donna of Lubbock, Darla of the home, and a guest, Randy Waggoner of Munday.

Weinert schedules 'Roundup'

By Myrtle Plemister

Everyone is invited to the annual "Back-to-School Roundup" at the Weinert football field at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 31.

There will be a return to the tradition of cooking hamburgers, so each family is asked to bring hamburger patties and all the fixings for their family.

The meat needs to be there so that cooking may begin at 7. Mustard, mayonnaise, dessert and drinks will be provided.

Special guest speaker, Coach Nelson Coulter of Haskell, will give his testimony.

Games of horseshoes, volleyball, "Win, Lose or Draw" and dominoes will provide plenty of entertainment. So come join the fun to celebrate the beginning of a new school year.

The event is sponsored by Weinert Baptist Church.

Businesses eligible for ACU program

Haskell area businesses are eligible to participate in a Small Business Institute (SBI) at Abilene Christian University for the fall semester.

Client businesses for the program are now being solicited.

Businesses interested in the program should call SBI director Don Altman at (915) 674-2776.

The Small Business Institute assigns teams of senior or graduate students to provide research, case analysis, counseling and consulting services to area businesses at no cost to the business.

In past years, ACU student teams have performed such efforts as market research projects, advertising studies, record keeping and paperwork analyses, and many similar projects.

Students register Wednesday morning

Registration for students in grades K-6 will be Wednesday, Aug. 31, from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Students will register in their rooms.

New students (those who did not attend Haskell Elementary last year) will register in the library, and will need to bring report cards from last year and their immunization records.

130 help Herrens celebrate anniversary

About 130 guests helped celebrate the 51st anniversary of Sam and Ernestine Herrens at the Presbyterian fellowship hall Sunday afternoon.

Samuel Pruitt Herrens and Ernestine Cox were wed May 15, 1937, at Haskell's First Methodist Church. The Rev. David Stitt performed the ceremony before close family and friends.

At Sunday's celebration were three guests who had attended the Herrens wedding: Agnes Rike, Anita Herrens and Anna Lee Tribby Cook. Also, these three ladies attended the luncheon-reception held for the young couple in the home of Mrs. George Herrens back in 1937.

Both the Herrens daughters and their husbands served as hostesses and hosts. Margaret and Zerl Myers came from their home in Phoenix, Ariz., to be a part of the event. Louisa and Bill Archibald with children, Will, Kellie and Joe, travelled from Fullerton, Calif. The Herrens' other grandchildren are Thomas Cross and Margie Cross Brazell of Houston. Two great-grandchildren are Jennifer and Rachel Brazell.

An ecru satin and lace cloth spread the table of cake, punch and coffee. All gold utensils were used for serving. Silk flowers were centered between a three-tiered golden cake decorated with live flowers and the punch bowl and coffee urn.

House party members who helped with the serving were Nancy Toliver, Hortense Lees, Jo Cox, Sara Lees Jackson, Yuvi Cadenhead, Leiza Morales, Kelli Archibald and Billie Cadenhead. Lee Ann Colbert and Sara Cox Snailum registered guests.

An item which caught the eye and interest of guests was a tack board containing pictures of the Herrens from their wedding day and pictures of the family through the years.

Ernestine chose a long-sleeved, pastel green, checked, shirt waist Serbin dress. She wore a very special gold bracelet which had been worn by her mother, herself and her daughter, Louisa, at each of their weddings. Tiny orchids and red roses composed her corsage.

Margaret's grey crepe, blouson dress and Louisa's navy and white fitted dress with an a-line skirt were complimented by pink carnation corsages.

Sam wore a short-sleeved, sky blue, embroidered Mexican wedding shirt and summer slacks.

Guests visited, lingered and ate at a pace indicative of pleasure and enjoyment. The Herrens expressed their joy at the attendance of friends who came and helped make their celebration such a momentous occasion.

Adult classes to register

All materials and instruction are furnished at no charge to the students.

These classes are preparatory for the GED tests which are given in Abilene. This program has helped many people in the community and surrounding areas obtain the GED certificate and qualify for better jobs.

According to law, all immigrants with numbers beginning with A90--- are to study English. Anyone having a worker or workers with such a number are asked to call for information.

Merchants schedule supper

All retail merchants, their spouses and guests are invited to attend a special salad/casserole supper at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 6. The supper will be in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank.

Conrad Roewe, chairman, said the retail merchants decided at their monthly breakfast meeting to hold the September activity at night and on a different day to enable some to be there who are not able to attend at the regular time.

In addition to a chance to visit with other merchants, it will be a time to exchange ideas, to make plans for fall promotions and to discuss the 1988 Christmas program.

A secretary will be elected at this meeting.

Participating merchants are asked to bring a salad or casserole to the supper.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON TAX INCREASE

The Haskell Memorial Hospital District will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in 1987 by 42.16% percent. Your individual taxes may increase or decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in the taxable value of all other property.

The public hearing will be held on 9-1-88 at 7:00 PM at Hospital Board Room.

FOR the proposal: Wayne Peiser, Charles McCauley, Modelle Barton, Weldon Norman, Harlan Weinert, Wilton Weise

AGAINST the proposal: None

PRESENT and not voting: None

ABSENT: None

The statement above shows the percentage increase the proposed rate represents over the effective tax rate that the unit published on 7-28-88. The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average home value	$29,926.00	$29,173.00
General exemptions available (amount available on the average home, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	-0-	-0-
Average taxable value	29,926.00	29,173.00
Tax rate	.1991	.2900
Tax	59.58	84.60

Under this proposal taxes on the average home would increase by 25.02 or 41.99 percent compared with last year's taxes.

Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would increase by .0909 per $100 of taxable value or 45.66 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

Weinert grads of 1958 live it up in Jamaica.

Weinert graduates of 1958 mark anniversary in Jamaica

By Erlinda Mayfield

While enjoying their senior trip to Colorado, the Weinert High School graduates of 1958 stood on Pike's Peak Mountain and pledged to one another to maintain their friendships and to reunite as a class on the 10th, 20th and 30th anniversaries of their graduation.

The 10th anniversary slipped quietly by with only visitation being done at Weinert's bi-annual homecoming. The 20th milestone was celebrated by some of the group in one of the class member's home after the 1978 homecoming activities. This reunion instigated the decision to get together as a group after each homecoming.

It was only a short time until the class began to meet each summer at Lake Brownwood for a weekend reunion. Last summer at this reunion, plans were started for a very memorable 30th anniversary reunion.

The result was a recent trip to Jamaica by 13 class members:

Elwood Bruton, Durwood Bruton, Donald Griffis, Bobby Jenkins, Tiffen Mayfield, Trueitt Wren, Truman Therwhanger, Charlene Sturdy Therwhanger, Christine Hutchinson Meers, Marie Sanders Kirkland, Glenda Williamson Therwhanger, Carolyn Davis Griffin and Patsy King.

Also enjoying the trip were eight associate members: Marsha Bruton, Gracie Griffis, Barbara Jenkins, Erlinda Mayfield, Darlene Wren, Boyd Lynn Meers, B. D. Kirkland and J. B. Griffin.

The festivities began on Sunday, July 10, when everyone, including associate Jack Therwhanger, met at the home of the Elwood Brutons for a pool party. Chef Truman prepared hamburgers for all and Charlene drove to Safeway to get a cake which had been decorated to commemorate the anniversary. Durwood supplied the "after swimming" fun by coaxing the other members of his band to help entertain the group with music from the 50s. Jerry Hill and Wendell Callaway were bestowed the honor of becoming temporary classmates—as long as they kept the music slow enough for dancing and familiar enough for singing.

Later in the evening, Marie presented each member with a picture badge which showed each individual's eighth-grade picture and the year of graduation. The badges had been made and sent as a gift by Marie's sister, Sue Sanders Cox, and were worn throughout the week.

On Monday, they boarded a plane destined for Jack Tar Village, Montego Bay, Jamaica. The week held many activities such as swimming, snorkeling, scuba diving and other water sports. And of course, shopping and sightseeing were major events as Barbara, Glenda, Darlene and Patsy vied for the title of champion shopper.

A tour showing different points of interest was taken and Bobby became the tour guide's assistant and got to ride in the big seat while the others rode with their knees under their chins. Gracie captured the entire island in snapshot with her lost-then-found camera.

The hotel's staff has planned activities for each night which the group usually enjoyed. Carolyn and J. B. certainly enjoyed getting the best suite in the entire hotel. VIP seating and dining arrangements were made possible each night because of Marsha's intense insistence with the personnel.

Although Jamaica's Reggae dancing did not impress the group, the Snake Dance, led by Tiffen, was introduced to the village and was joined in by almost everyone in the hotel, including the band, waiters, desk clerk and cooks. Donald and Gracie placed second in the Texas Schottische Dance Contest. It is felt that they could have taken top honors if Gracie's camera had not kept getting in the way.

The week's activities proved different things to different people. They did prove that Boyd certainly is no marine biologist as he consistently picked the loser in the crab races. Christine and Marie kept everyone on time and managed to supply anything anyone had forgotten to bring or needed, proving that they are still good room mothers. B. D. proved that he still has a great sense of humor since he had become the group-appointed bodyguard and defender and Trueitt always managed to create chaos wherever he went.

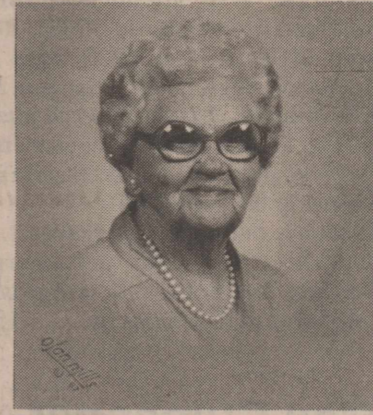

The annual Trivia Game was played and the men won back the trophy, but only because they refused to let Erlinda read the questions.

The class agreed that they had not really changed much at all, that the group still had its worriers, pace setters, peace makers, sharers, idealists and realists and that some members fit into more than one category. It also was agreed that Mrs. Ila Moody should be canonized for being their class sponsor throughout their high school years, that Ted Boykin had been a genius at the art of bus driving, that Jay Cox would still do anything to help any one of the group, and that Douglas Myers was really a miracle worker or how else did he manage to keep the school intact during their reign there and for many years afterwards? Also, that the trip had been marred only by the tragic loss of Nero, the Bruton family's dog, who in his excitement or disgust, fled the safety of their yard and met his fate in the street.

The class headed for home on Friday and left the island singing the class song and making plans for 1989. However, the site will not be Jamaica since the islanders were last seen rolling up the red carpets and heard singing Hit the Road Jack and Don't Come Back No More No More.

Former Baptist pastors to return for 100th birthday

By Billie Cadenhead

Four men who have pastored the First Baptist Church in Haskell are expected to attend the church's 100th birthday celebration.

Allen O. Webb

The first of these, Dr. Allen O. Webb of Pascagoula, Miss., and his wife, Lela Mae, are expected to attend all of the five-day celebration.

The Webbs, both native Mississippians, came to Texas after being graduated from Clinton College, a Baptist school in Jackson, Miss. While attending Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth, Bro. Webb pastored Rhetta and Red Springs Baptist churches.

Later, after receiving his master of divinity from the seminary, the family moved to Throckmorton First Baptist and in 1948 to First Baptist Church in Haskell. Successive years in Texas were as pastor of First Baptist of Bay Springs, Second Baptist of Corpus Christi and Harlandale Baptist in San Antonio. During these years, Bro. Webb completed his ThD from Southwestern Baptist Seminary.

Returning to Mississippi, he became pastor of Daniel Memorial Baptist in Jackson. While in Jackson, he served as director of missions for the association. Bro. Webb left Jackson to go to Pascagoula and became pastor of Ingalls Avenue Baptist Church until his retirement in 1985.

Retirement meant the Webbs could choose short-term areas of service. In 1985, they served in Emerado, N. D., where Bro. Webb pastored Calvary Baptist Church, a church serving families of servicemen from a nearby air base.

In 1986-87, they went to West Germany as Bro. Webb "filled in" for a missionary when he pastored the International English Speaking Church in Munich.

Back home in Pascagoula, Bro. Allen does interim pastoral work and serves as interim director of missions in his area.

The Webbs have three children and six grandchildren. Ann, their daughter, a 3-year-old when the Webbs came to Haskell in 1948, lives in Birmingham, Ala., with her two children and teaches Spanish. Jim, 10 months old on his arrival in Haskell, lives in Jackson where he and his wife, Margaret, have two children. (He attended Hardin-Simmons University in 1966). Ron, born in Haskell in 1950, lives in Ocean Springs, Miss. He and his wife, Margie, also have two children.

The Webbs made a "sentimental journey" and visited Haskell and First Baptist in the early 1970s.

Many people look forward to renewing friendships and sharing worship, praise and fellowship with this pastor of days gone by.

Troy Culpepper

Dr. Troy Culpepper, his wife, Kay, and sons, Bob and Jim, moved to Haskell from Linden in 1966. He had been graduated from Denton High School, Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Seminary before moving to Greenville as pastor and then to Linden. During his seminary training, he served as pastor in Reavilon and Argyle.

While in Haskell, Bro. Troy completed the graduate work he had begun at Southwestern and received his ThD from Luther Rice Seminary of Jacksonville, Fla. The present education building of First Baptist was completed during his pastorate here.

The Culpeppers moved from Haskell in 1973, going to First Baptist in Kaufman. Later, they moved to Pleasant Grove Baptist in Texarkana. Kay Culpepper died suddenly in 1982 while the Culpeppers were living in Texarkana. Her funeral was held in the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

Bro. Troy moved to North Baptist in McKinney. During those lonely years, Bro. Troy came to Haskell to visit close friends as often as possible. In a lovely lady, a Haskell native, herself alone, he found a new helpmate. They were married in 1984. The remaining years of ministry in McKinney were shared years of service for Bro. Troy and his wife, Gene Holt Jeter Culpepper.

Throughout his years of pastoral ministry, he has served as chairman of evangelism and as moderator for the Double Mountain Area, was on the committee to procure trustees for Hardin-Simmons University, served as trustee for the Baptist encampments at Lakeview and La Von, was chairman of the Texas Baptist Committee on Resolutions and, later, in 1984-86, was on the Calendar Committee for the Southern Baptist Convention.

In March of this year, with First Baptist of Haskell needing an interim pastor, Bro. Troy decided to retire and accept the interim pastorate of the church. Moving back to their home here meant "coming home" for Gene and Bro. Troy. There has been much shuffling and swapping of furniture with their four children, a shuffling which is still in process.

As Bro. Jim Turner comes to First Baptist as full-time pastor, Bro. Troy will serve churches as interim, yet, First Baptist is still their "church home." For five months, their presence and guidance have meant much to the fellowship of First Baptist.

Children and grandchildren of the the Culpeppers are Rod and Carolyn Jeter, Rod and Shayla of Haskell; Jody Jeter King, husband Jamie, Jimmy and Bobby of Hearne; recently-wed James (Jim) Culpepper and wife, Irene, of Odessa; and Robert Culpepper of Dallas. Both of the Culpepper sons work with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Dudley Bragg

Bro. Dudley Bragg moved to Haskell First Baptist in August of 1973. He, his wife, Bobby, and their four children, Rob, Todd, Lynn and Val, moved their lives and service as pastor and family to serve in Haskell.

Bro. Dudley received his ministerial degrees from Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Seminary. Also, he received a master's degree in counseling from Texas Tech University.

Before coming to Haskell, Bro. Dudley had been pastor of Sharon Baptist in Wichita Falls. Prior to that, he served in several other Texas cities.

While pastor of First Baptist in Haskell, the church undertook a complete remodeling of the sanctuary, carpeted parts of the educational building and constructed the Family Activity Center. Facilities for the TV broadcasts and a control booth for sound were installed during the complete renovation.

Mrs. Bragg taught special education in the Haskell Junior High School while living here. From Haskell, the Braggs moved to Pecos, then to Del Rio, both times to First Baptist churches. Bobby continues to teach in Del Rio.

Rob Bragg, his wife, Kathi, and children, Spencer, Lindsey and Dustin, live in Fort Worth. As a member of Jack Taylor's staff of the Anchor Church, he is training and working as a church planter. Also, he teaches school. The three children attend the school where Rob teaches. Kathi is a lab technician at Harris Hospital.

Todd Bragg, wife, Suzanne, and Christopher live in the Dallas area. Todd still works in banking and Suzanne continues her schooling.

Lynn and her husband, Craig Carter, with two sons, Seth and Caleb, live in San Antonio. Lynn has recently gone back to work assisting Craig in their chosen profession as court reporters.

Val was graduated from Hardin-Simmons in May with degrees in psychology and sociology. Still unmarried, Val talks of plans to seek a job as a firefighter.

A foster son, Dan, and his family are always a part of the Bragg family get-togethers. Although few ever met him, many in the Haskell church heard the Braggs speak of Dan in the same manner as of their four natural children. Dan, Carole, Michael and Christopher live in Carrollton.

While the Braggs have been in Del Rio, the First Baptist Church has remodeled its sanctuary, also. Each spring holiday, the Missions Group which goes from the Haskell church, sees the Braggs. Some of the people stay with the Braggs and travel across to Villa Acuna during the day for VBS and evangelistic services.

Mike McKinney

Bro. Mike McKinney with his wife, Martha, and children, Shane and Cori, moved to Haskell where he served as pastor of First Baptist Church in 1979-84. Having surrendered to preach at a very early age, Bro. Mike began to work in church youth ministries during his college years.

He attended Weatherford Junior College and was graduated from Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Seminary in 1975. His love of preaching was paired with a love of music which led him to work in music and youth ministries at Baptist churches in Munday and Weatherford.

Bro. Mike's first pastorate was the First Baptist Church in Moran. From there he went to Freeway Manor Church in Houston before moving to the First Baptist in Haskell. For the last five years the McKinneys have lived in Childress where Bro. Mike pastors the First Baptist.

Crusades to foreign countries have played a growing part in Bro. Mike's ministry as he has preached in Spain, France, Guiana and in Brazil three times. For several years he has been associational church training leader of the Haskell-Knox Association and in Red Fork Association. He has been on the board of development for the Texas Baptist Children's Home in Round Rock for the past six years.

Master Life is one of the church growth programs he has begun since he became a trained leader in 1980.

Bro. Mike finds it a special privilege to be able to use his plane and flying skills to serve the Lord. He ministers to his people, visits those in distant hospitals and carries people in emergency situations where speed is essential. He feels this area of his ministry to be a "blessing God opened to me for His glory."

Shane is now 12 years old and in seventh grade; Cori is almost 9 and in third grade.

First youth leader to return to church

Coming for the First Baptist centennial celebration will be the first young man to join the Haskell Baptist Church staff as an assistant pastor and youth leader, Gerald W. Pinkston, and his wife, Florence.

Under Bro. M. D. Rexrode, Gerald moved to Haskell in 1951 where he served the church and taught in the Haskell High School. Later, in 1953-54 he pastored the Paint Creek Baptist Church.

While still in Haskell, in 1952, Gerald married Florence Goldston of Hereford. During their years in this area, Gerald (Pinkie, as he was called back then) commuted to Southwestern Baptist Seminary. He was graduated from there in 1954. Florence taught in Haskell High School from 1953-55, too.

After leaving Haskell and Paint Creek, the young couple lived and served churches in Tollison and Buckeye, Ariz. They were appointed as Southern Baptist missionaries in 1957 and began their language study that same year in Bandung, Indonesia. Through the last 31 years, the Pinkstons have served in Bandung, Samarang and Jakarta of Indonesia.

Their children, Vicki Lynn Smith and Jim David, knew Indonesia as home throughout their childhood. Both are married now. Vicki and Kendall have three children and live near Akron, Ohio. Jim David married Jill Gorzon this year and lives in Cincinnati where he manages Pier I Stores.

After their last furlough in 1984, Gerald and Florence carried their grandson, Aaron, then three months old, back to Jakarta with them. He is back with his parents in Ohio now.

Missionaries to help church celebrate

Patsy Davidson, Southern Baptist missionary to Swaziland, South Africa, is expected for the 100th celebration of the First Baptist Church.

From Pinkerton Baptist Church, the Davidsons moved to Haskell First Baptist in 1960 and stayed almost a year. Roy Davidson served as assistant pastor and youth director while in Haskell.

The Davidsons moved to Africa as Southern Baptist missionaries in 1966. First, they started the beginning work of Southern Baptist in Malawi, serving there for eight years. In 1975, they began new work, the first for Southern Baptist, in another inland nation, Botswana. Within both of these nations there are several dozen missionaries continuing the work begun by the Davidsons.

Moving to Mbabane, Swaziland in 1983, Patsy experienced a touch of prejudicial treatment against her as a

by Myrtle Plemister
We are happy to say we received 9 tenths of an inch of rain Friday afternoon, which will help our dry land cotton. Crops are doing OK, and there are watermelons and cantaloupe in abundance these days. We appreciate the Stewart brothers who planted the large garden on the former Waymon Lain place and invited us all to help ourselves. We did, like a flock of turkeys, or a herd of cows. Thank You!

Weinert boasts a new resident today, and we are all excited about him. He is Patrick Douglas Carroll, 6 lb., 18 1/2 inches, newborn son of Dale and Doris Carroll, who arrived at 6 p.m. on Sunday, August 21st at the Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Mother and son are doing well and the father will survive if the clouds under him don't give away too suddenly. To welcome the new baby are his three sisters, Denise, Diane, and Darlene and Kerry Therwhanger of Megargel. Congratulations!

Our teachers are "In-Service" this week, and are attending workshops, etc., in preparation for the students entrance on September 1st.

Georgia Turnbow, assistant librarian, with Betsy McMannon, librarian, were in Abilene on Tuesday for special classes and training.

Back to School round up will be held on Wednesday, August 31st, 7 p.m. at the Football field.

Bobby D. and Cindy Therwhanger, with Lauren and Tyler of Baltimore, MD, have been spending a few days visiting with his parents, Bob and Ann Therwhanger of Munday, and his grandmother, Mabel Derr of Weinert and other relatives in the area.

They will visit Cindy's parents in Hart, Texas Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks, before returning to Baltimore.

Other guests in the home of Mabel Derr was a granddaughter, Teresa Therwhanger, who is leaving today to return to Abilene where she teaches Math at the Cooper High School.

Roy Lynn and Di Plemister of Odessa, who spent a few days with his parents, Roy and Leta Plemister. Roy Lynn teaches Horticulture at Odessa High Schools, with the Special Education programs.

Jimmie Young of Holiday and Jackie Frautz of Dallas were guests of their parents, Ted and Faye Jetton, and spent the day in their home. Jackie has accepted a job with the state as a nursing Home Monitor, and at present she is working with the Home in Pilot Point.

Pamela Marshal and Sarah of Weatherford, Oklahoma spent the weekend with her grandmother, Francis Mahan, and attended worship services with her. Pamela is a pharmacy student at Southwestern State University there.

Thomas Alexander of San Antonio was in town to check on the health progress of his mother, Bertie Alexander, and his aunt, Sallie Sanders, who was rushed to Humana Hospital when her heart condition worsened.

They are both improved, Bertie is at home, but Sallie is still hospitalized in Abilene.

Couilla Cunningham of Ransom Canyon Spent a few days with her parents, Clyde and Otie Mayfield. Little Miss Maggie Teague, daughter of Jeff and Lisa Teague of Haskell, was also a guest of her grandmother, Couilla, and great-grandparents, Clyde and Otie for a couple of days.

Shannon Forehand left Monday for Weatherford, Oklahoma where he will enroll as a Junior student at Southwestern State University.

Mondy Mayfield will be a Freshman at Tech University.

Darla Griffis returned to Lubbock where she will enter Tech as a Junior student. We will miss her at the coffee shop.

Woody and Georgia Turnbow, with Greg, were in Weatherford, Texas this week for a visit with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Sorrells, Luke and Levi.

On Friday night, they were co-hosts for the 50th wedding anniversary for Woody's parents, Woodrow and Myrtle Turnbow of Haskell.

The Weinert Homecoming Committee, Mary Nell Colthrap, Sue Stewart and Hal Guess, met for a planning session on Monday. The regular day for the homecoming is the first Saturday in October, in even years, and this year it will be October 1st.

The D.I. White's report that their grandson, Todd Hackney, son of Jimmy and Sue Hackney, is realizing a dream come-true with the job he has accepted in Vail, Colorado for the Piney River Ranch, where he will work as a wrangler and tour guide for hunters and fishermen. He is in training just now, and serves as an escort for the horseback riders who come to the ranch for their summer vacations. Knowing Todd, I am sure he will be entering every bull-riding event in the area, also. We congratulate him.

Monica Estrada spent a delightful vacation with her grandparents, visiting relatives in Denton and in Mineral Wells.

Our birthday people this week includes Deena Walker Hacker and Lucas Castillo. But those who are former Weinertites include Jackie Frantz and Jimmie Young, Sue Stewart, Mary Alice Anderson, Derinda Larned and Valerie Anderson. Happy Birthday, All!

Observing wedding anniversaries are John and LaVern Mayfield; Julian and Andrea Estrada; and George and Faye Gray. Congratulations!

Our sympathy is extended to the Mansker family. Bobby Henry Mansker was killed in a truck accident on Thursday and was interred in the Weinert Cemetery beside his parents on Saturday afternoon. He was living in Abilene, and is survived by his wife and two daughters.

Have a nice day!

woman when she was required to send back to the states for a written statement from Roy permitting her to move "his" goods from one African nation to another. To recuperate from recent ear surgery, it had been necessary for Roy to let Patsy return alone and move their belongings. At present, the Davidsons continue to serve a growing congregation in Swaziland.

The Davidsons have four children and three grandchildren. Oldest, Roy Guy III, lived in Haskell with the Frank Cadenhead family during his senior high school year 1970-71. From Haskell he attended Texas Tech from which he was graduated in 1985. He lives in Atlanta, Ga., and Charleston, S.C., working back and forth in television production. Gil, born while the Davidsons served at Pinkerton Church, lives in Fort Worth He has not married.

Gay, now Mrs. Stan Littleford, lives in Eldorado, Ark., with her husband and new daughter, Carmen. Because of little Carmen's expected arrival, Patsy came to the states and is sharing in those earliest days of her newest grandchild's life. Carmen arrived Aug. 18, just a week ago.

Gwen, the Davidsons' child born in Africa, will be back in Abilene at Hardin-Simmons University this fall to complete her senior year there.

Commentary

Battle for votes crisscrosses Texas

AUSTIN—By Election Day, the battle for votes will be house-to-house combat in Texas, which has been crisscrossed more times this year by presidential candidates than Virginia by cavalry in the Civil War.

Certainly the political parties are launching forays into each other's territory, erasing tradi-probes of football recruiting scandals in the Southwest Conference and elsewhere.

The athletics groups were sued by some media after refusing to disclose records, particularly the SMU "Ponygate" files which involved Gov. Bill Clements, on grounds they were not covered by the Open Records Act.

Mattox said the appeals court relied on a 1982 opinion by then-Attorney General Mark White which Mattox overturned in 1987.

Last week, members of the Texas media decided to ask a chief federal judge to confirm reports that a district judge heard secret testimony during lunchtime in the drug trial of suspended Orange County Sheriff James Wade, a violation of the public trial amendment.

Other Highlights

- A Select Committee on Education reported the only viable response to the lawsuit challenging the fairness of public school funding will cost taxpayers an extra $1.6 billion a year.

- The state would still not be able to meet all requirements of Austin District Court Judge Harley Clark's ruling, now under appeal to the Texas Supreme Court, the panel reported.

- Records released by Sen. Bentsen indicate he is worth between $5 million-$10 million, and is in good health. Bentsen drew flack from detractors when it was learned he recently resigned from several prestigious private clubs to run for vice president.

- Bentsen campaigned in Houston last week and pledged the Dukakis-Bentsen ticket to a manned space station by the year 2000, a program which would mean 1,000 jobs for Houston contractors.

- Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower and labor officials warned that the railroad industry is trying to repeal the law making railroads financially liable for rail accidents.

- Hightower, often criticized by legislators for his involvement in areas outside of agriculture, said he is concerned with natural resources which are threatened by toxic rail mishaps.

tional borders and staking a new political map of Texas.

One new aspect is clear by now: Texas Republicans have stolen a page from the Democrats' handbook and opened the door to minorities of a conservative philosophy.

The gambit is a natural follow-up to Texas GOP gains made in 1986 when Roy Barrera Jr., running as a Republican, narrowly missed upsetting Attorney General Jim Mattox.

Texas Democrats, with U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen on the ticket, are trying to recapture the white, middle-class voters who fell behind in 1980 when Texas Democrats pushed too far left.

Another aspect yet to be decided is whether the Democrats' strategy of agitating class struggle, or poor vs. rich warfare, will work this time or be proven an unsuccessful campaign tool.

Richards-Edwards Team?

The voting bloc which may have the final say is women, now the largest in numbers, and they currently poll in favor of Dukakis-Bentsen.

In Texas, women voters support Treasurer Ann Richards, who last week teamed up with Duncanville state Sen. Chet Edwards to rip GOP vice presidential candidate Dan Quayle for his wealth.

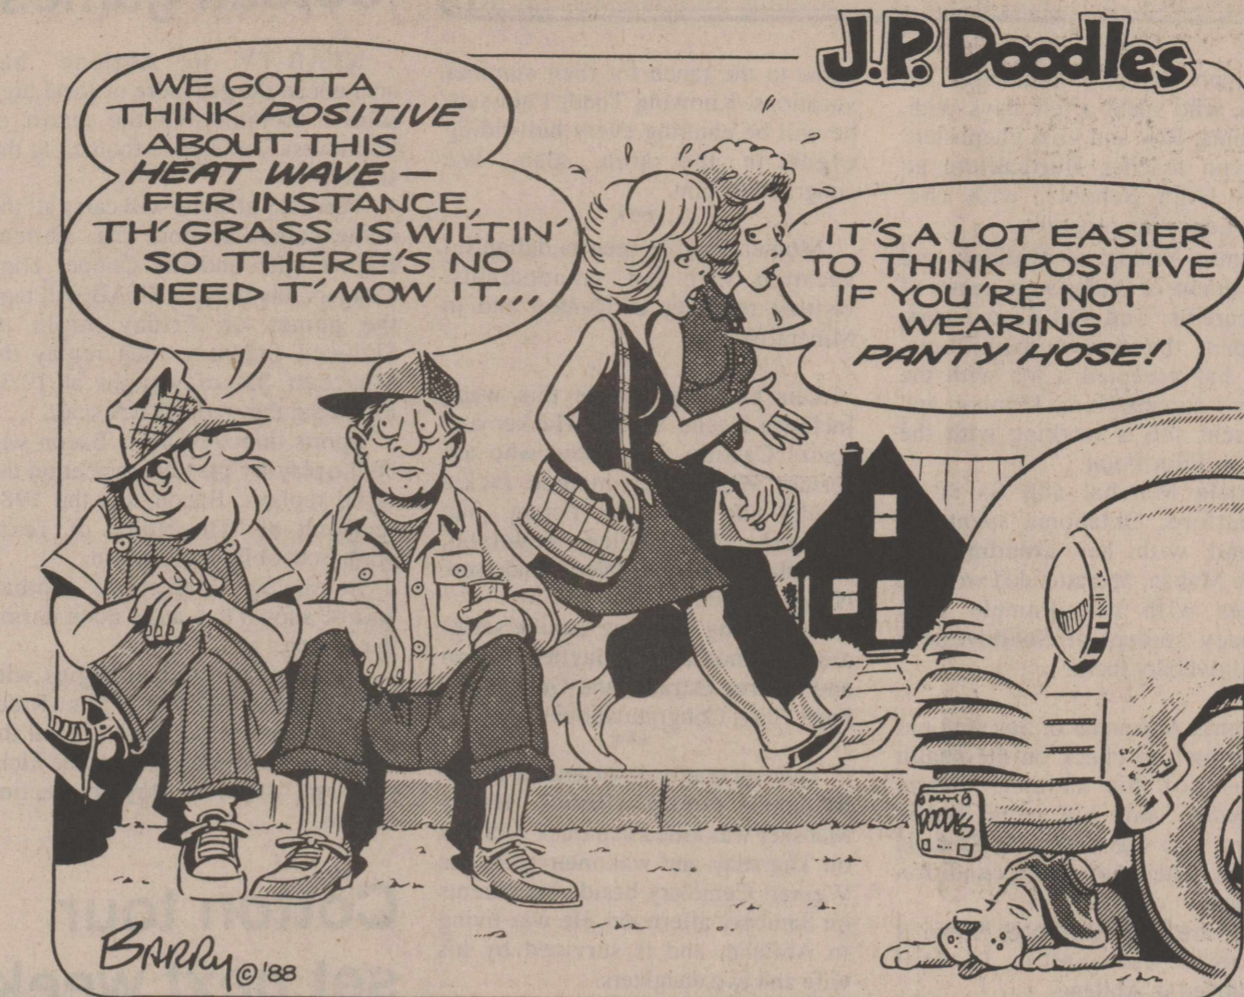

Edwards said the GOP ticket now has "a silver foot and a silver spoon," referring to Richards' famous gibe at George Bush.

Richards is expected to run for governor in 1990 and Edwards is jockeying to make the lieutenant governor's race against Comptroller Bob Bullock.

While primary candidates do not run outright in teams, sooner or later it appears that way, usually later. The sight of Richards and Edwards at the same table naturally has provoked some private comment on their possibilities in the top two slots.

Hospital

Editor: Our hospital, like all Texas hospitals, especially smaller ones, has been paid a reduced "pay scale" for Medicare patients---and many times money we have been paid has been recalled---thereby making our fiscal operation most difficult in the summer months.

We have reduced expenditures to the bare necessities and need to remind our local people the need to use our facilities rather than going to Abilene, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, etc.

Many times we have people bypassing our local facilities when it would be better, more convenient and cheaper to use local doctors.

We have two modern, well-equipped clinics, staffed by young and experienced doctors, where Medicare patients can be served efficiently. Our two rest homes and the population in our hospital district certainly justify our keeping a modern hospital. We need your support.

We have a "code team" for emergencies that is on call 24 hours every day. What would you do about a severe heart attack? What about a teenage overdose? What about a car wreck, respiratory illness, gun accident or any emergency requiring immediately attention to save a life?

We need your support to keep operating. We hope you don't have an emergency, but our being here may save someone's life---if not yours.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Of the vice presidency, John Adams said:

"The most insignificant office that ever the invention of man contrived."

Thomas Jefferson said:

"It's splendid misery."

Daniel Webster said:

"I prefer not to be buried until I die."

John Nance Garner said:

"It's not worth a bucket of warm spit."

Bob Dole said:

"It pays well and there's no heavy lifting."

In all seriousness, being vice president does have its potential rewards. Thirteen of the 39 men who have served as president were one-time vice presidents.

John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and Martin Van Buren were elected president while in the No. 2 office and Richard Nixon came back later to win the presidency.

Eight vice presidents became president upon the death of the president: John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester A. Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, Harry Truman and Lyndon Johnson. And, of course, Gerald Ford became president when the incumbent resigned.

Roosevelt, Coolidge, Truman and Johnson all went on to win terms of their own.

Actually, Adams, Jefferson and Ford were never elected vice president. Adams and Jefferson served in the days when the candidate receiving the second highest number of votes for president automatically became vice president. Ford was appointed vice president when Spiro Agnew resigned.

As we keep reading, America hasn't elected a sitting vice president as president since Van Buren in 1836. Since that time, only two sitting vice presidents have been nominated for president (before Bush) and both went down to defeat: Richard Nixon in 1960 and Hubert Humphrey in 1968. Ex-vice presidents have fared a little better: One won (Nixon in 1968) and one lost (Mondale in 1984).

One losing vice presidential candidate later became president. Franklin D. Roosevelt was the No. 2 man on the Democratic ticket in 1920. And John Kennedy, although he didn't get the nomination, went all out for the No. 2 position in 1956, losing out to Estes Kefauver when presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson decided against recommending his own running mate.

Rating the Republican National Convention:

Best speech: The Great Communicator (who else?).

Worst speech: That long-winded chairman of the Alaskan delegation, first speaker on Wednesday night's roll call, who struck fear in the hearts of viewers that if all states answered roll call in the same manner the convention wouldn't be over in time for the election.

Best idea: The seconding speeches being delivered from the floor instead of the podium.

Best performance by a member of the younger generation: A tie between the Bush grandson who led the pledge of allegiance and the 10-year-old girl who sang the national anthem.

Most ridiculous comment: New Mexico Sen. Pete Domenici was dropped from consideration for vice president because he is a smoker and Barbara Bush dislikes smokers. (Actually, Pete said he quit 50 days ago.)

Worst performance by a member of the younger generation: Dan Quayle who indicated running a newspaper is like running the federal government when he said he knew what it was to meet a payroll since he had been associate publisher of the Huntington Herald-Press, the family-owned newspaper in his hometown in Indiana.

Best TV coverage: CNN with anchors Bernard Shaw and Mary Alice Williams, along with Roland Evans and Bob Novak, Tom Braden and Pat Buchanan, Larry King and Linda Ellerby, who warned us to be on the lookout for four rich men going across the country begging for a job. (She also said that Dan Quayle had been a typical American boy, who had a newspaper route---and a newspaper.)

Kathy Houghton Stegemoeller

Houghton, Stegemoeller marry in Abilene ceremony

Kathy Seree Houghton and Clifford Louis Stegemoeller of Arlington were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 13, in the Zion Lutheran Church at Abilene with the Rev. J. Russell Kinser officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Judy Sanders and Alvin C. Houghton of Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Leon Stegemoeller of Sagerton are the parents of the groom.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her dress, by Bonny, was ivory satin accented with double rows of ruffles on the skirt, which extended to a cathedral train. The fitted bodice was accented with a dropped "V" waist and beaded with pearls and sequins, with an illusion scalloped bateau neckline that dropped to a deep "V" in the back. The full puffed sleeves were inset with beaded pearl appliques and illusion tulle and tapered down to a point below the wrist.

Her veil was ivory illusion tulle with a silk flower and pearl headpiece that framed her face. Her shoes were ivory satin and lace pumps. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink silk roses, rosebuds and miniature mums, mixed with ivory gardenias, stephanotis and tiny white lilacs accented with pearls and ivy.

For something old, she carried a linen handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Gladys Wilkerson of Odessa. Her dress, shoes and veil were something new, and she borrowed her mother's pearl necklace and earrings. For the traditional "blue", she wore a blue garter and had a small blue ribbon tied to her bouquet. Her "good luck" piece was a 1966 penny in her shoe.

Vows were repeated before the altar which was flanked by spiral candelabra, palms and greenery. A fan shaped arrangement of fresh flowers, in the bride's chosen colors, was above the altar, and large hanging baskets of Boston Fern decorated the sides of the church. Family pews were marked with silver and white bows. The unity candle was decorated with ivory flowers.

Julie Houghton of Arlington attended her sister as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were her cousins, Sherry Lehew of Fort Worth, Beck Lehew and Andrea Muscanere of Arlington. They all wore pink taffeta tea length gowns with fitted bodice, puffed sleeves and bateau neckline that dropped to a "V" in the back. The waistline extended to a "V" in the front and back just below the waist, and featured sashes that were tied in a large bow above the full skirt. Their headpieces were ivory silk flower halos and pink and ivory ribbons flowing down the back. They carried pink and ivory nosegays of silk roses, miniature mums, gardenias and stephanotis, accented with pearls and ivy, and tiny ivory ribbon streamers.

The flower girl, Mindi Stegemoeller, niece of the groom, from Hobbs, N.M., wore a pink taffeta full length dress with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and puffed sleeves. Waistline sashes were tied in a large bow in the back. She wore a matching pink bow in her hair and carried an ivory basket adorned with pink and ivory silk flowers accented with pearls.

Candle lighters were Stephanie Stegemoeller, niece of the groom, from Sagerton and Brad Sanders from Arlington, brother of the bride. Stephanie wore a polished cotton, street length dress of muted pastel prints, with a fitted bodice, ruffled cap sleeves and a full skirt. Brad wore a silver grey tuxedo, by After-Six, with a silver bow tie and cummerbund, ivory shirt and grey shoes.

Ring bearer was Eric Stegemoeller of Duncan, Okla., nephew of the groom. He wore a silver grey tuxedo, with silver bow tie, cummerbund, ivory shirt and grey shoes.

Mark Callahan of Colleyville and Charles Simmons of Watauga were co-best men. Groomsmen were Kevin Kellogg of Arlington and Clyde Stegemoeller of Dallas, the groom's brother. Ushers were Carl Stegemoeller of Hobbs, N.M., brother of the groom; Tom Bivins, the groom's cousin from Argyle; Randy Wilkerson, an uncle of the bride from Abilene; and Jason McClain of Arlington. All of the groom's attendants wore silver grey tuxedos by "After-Six" with ivory shirts, silver bow ties, cummerbunds and grey shoes.

The groom's tux, by "After-Six", was a full dress ivory tuxedo with ivory bow tie, cummerbund and shirt.

The bride's mother wore a grey lace and crepe dress by Casadei. The bodice was lace crepe wrap front that buttoned on the side with pearl buttons and had a lace flounce over the straight skirt. The back scooped low with strings of pearls draping across. The lace sleeves were long and tapered at the wrists. The groom's mother wore a pink silk crepe street length dress with a high mandarin collar, gored skirt and flutter sleeves.

The Handbell Choir of Zion Lutheran Church, directed by Dorothy Clark, aunt of the groom, provided background music as the mothers were escorted to their places and each lighted a "family" candle. The music selection was "Beautiful Savior" by James Klein. The song "Always" was sung by Maj. and Mrs. Steve Krause, as the bride and groom were lighting the unity candle. Mrs. Verlene Stegemoeller from Rochester, aunt of the groom, was the organist. Clyde Stegemoeller accompanied her on the processional piece, "Trumpet Voluntary."

Registering the guests was Lisa Wilkerson of Lansing, Kan., cousin of the bride. She wore a pink brocade street length dress with lightly puffed sleeves, trimmed with white lace.

A reception, catered by McCloskey's of Abilene, was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The tables were covered with floor length ivory circular cloths and featured the bride's colors of pink and silver. The five-tiered wedding cake was covered with a basket weave design with fresh pink flowers between the tiers and flowing down the side. A crystal heart with love birds framed the porcelain bride and groom in the center of the cake. This was accented with pink rosebuds.

Serving the cake were Paula, Beth and Cheri Lynn Stegemoeller, sisters-in-law of the groom. Helping at the punch table were Kathy Lehew of Arlington, Ann Wilkerson of Abilene, Janie Kemp of Houston, Elaine Layton of Rendon and Beverly Wilkerson of Lansing, Kan. Serving the "double wedding ring" spice cake from the groom's table were Ruby Olson of Ozona, aunt of the groom, Winnie Youngquist and Donna Kinser of Abilene.

A family dinner, held at the Sons of Hermann Hall near Old Glory, was followed by a dance. "Triple Shot" of Stamford provided the music.

Guests registered from Abilene,

Austin, Houston, Arlington, Lubbock, Slaton, Roby, Odessa, Stamford, Fort Worth, Hamlin, Lueders, Sagerton, Dallas, Spring, Argyle, Ozona, DeSoto, Rochester, Tahoka, Mesquite, Knox City, Rule, Richardson, Old Glory, Haskell, Spring Lake, Merkel, Colleyville, Watauga, Hobbs, N.M., Duncan, Okla. and Lansing, Kan.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted on Friday evening by the groom's parents in the fellowship hall of Zion Lutheran Church. Party tables were covered with ivory colored floor length cloths and the meal was catered by McClosky's.

The bride is a graduate of Arlington High School and attended the University of Texas at Arlington. She is employed by American Airlines in Fort Worth.

The groom graduated from Rule High School and attended Texas Tech in Lubbock and the University of Texas at Arlington. He is presently attending the University of Texas in Dallas and is employed by RecordsPro in Richardson.

After a short honeymoon trip to Mongeto Bay, Jamaica, the couple will live in Arlington.

Child Welfare Board

The Haskell County Child Welfare Board ended the summer vacation period and met Aug. 16 in the jury room. Chairman Brian Burgess called the meeting to order and led in prayer. Six members and Linda Haynes, Child Protective Services, were present. Two new members, Thomas Long and Dr. James Kemp, were welcomed.

Mrs. Haynes explained the Independent Living Project since a donation had been made to the Region 04 Council. The children under the care of the Department of Human Services are dismissed at age 18. It has been found that some need to be given extra training, beginning at age 14, in practical things such as how to rent an apartment, use the telephone book, buy a wanted object and fill out a job application, all having to do with living independently. Ten are now in this program in the region. A sum of $800 is given to those who complete the training and are deemed capable.

The expenses during the vacation period were to provide food for an infant, treat an eye infection and broken collar bone, pay for a Rule child to see a Dallas doctor which will be reimbursed by the Wichita Falls Crippled Children's fund, and buy a bus ticket for a stranded mother and small child to return home.

The Texas Council of Child Welfare Board is sponsoring 1988 Children Who Wait Conference Sept. 19-21 at the Hyatt-Regency in Austin. This will be an opportunity for local members to learn their responsibilities and share ideas, concerns and issues.

Plans were discussed concerning the booth at the Haskell County Fair Sept. 20-24.

All Child Welfare Board meetings are open to the public. The group meets the third Tuesday evening of the month.

Paint Creek coach sees good potential

In his second year as head coach, Jim Bob Mickler, assisted by Alan Steele, had the following to say about the Paint Creek football team for this year.

I think the '88 Pirate team has a great deal of potential. We're young, with only six players who are not freshmen, but what we lack in experience we more than make up for in enthusiasm.

The seniors, Daniel Acosta and Mike Guerrero, are very solid performers. Mike has 4.58 speed in the 40 and excellent hands as a receiver. Acosta comes in as the top ranked passer in 6-man football, according to last year's statistics. Both play excellent defense.

They are joined by two juniors, Johnny Hoadley and Chris Cockerell. While each saw a lot of playing time last year, the biggest asset each brings to the team is size. At 6' 3" and 6' 2" respectively, and with 5-flat or better speed, they are good, big, mobile targets for Acosta's passes.

The two sophomore players, Kelly Williams and Tanner Childress, saw limited action last year. They both had good springs and are progressing well during the two-a-days. Both are now listed as at least one-way starters.

The four freshmen, Rodney Medford, George Mayen, Mo Green and Joe Bob Campbell, each brings his own special talent to the squad.

"Yes, we're young," said Mickler. "But if we can stay injury free, we'll be in the thick of the district race."

The players out here now concern me a great deal. But what really needs to happen is for those four or five young men who are not yet out and playing to make the decision to play. Sure, we can use them but more than that, they don't understand that they are losing something they can never regain. Once you miss a sport as a freshman, sophomore, junior or senior, you never get that year's season back, never.

While I never beg anyone to play, I just think they need to realize that they need us, just as badly as we need them.

Regardless, the '88 Pirates will be there in Rochester on Sept. 2. We invite everyone to come and watch because 6-man is fast and furious. Our home opener is against Harrold on Sept. 9. Hope to see you there.
