Indians meet Canadian Friday

It will be the Haskell Indians against Canadian in the opening game of the Region I basketball game in Big Spring Friday night. The game begins at 6 p.m.

Bangs will play Farwell in the other half of the regional twinbill. The winner of that game will meet game at 1 p.m. Saturday for the right to represent the region in the state tournament in Austin next weekend.

Haskell, which won the regional last year and earned its first trip ever to the state tournament, boasts a 26-5 season record, two of the losses the winner of the Haskell-Canadian coming in practice games as they tuned up for the playoffs and the other three losses all to larger schools.

Coach Randy Stone said the Canadian team is much like his own and he expects a tough opening-round assignment in the regional

Eldorado falls in regional

Thanks to an early 20-point lead, the Indians were able to sustain Eldorado in an area playoff game in Big Spring Tuesday night and escape with a 66-58 victory over the feisty

The win moved the Indians into this weekend's regional tournament which will be played in the same Howard College gym in Big Spring.

The Indians, who led the Eagles 18-7 at the end of the first period, quickly upped the advantage to 27-7 before the second quarter was two minutes old.

But any hopes of a runaway quickly faded as the Eagles caught fire and outscored the Indians 19-10 the rest of the way in the period. Haskell still had a 37-26 lead at halftime, Eldorado pulled to within 9 points at 39-30 early in the third period, but Haskell went on an 11-2 run to pad the cushion to 18 at 50-32. The Eagles narrowed the margin to 51-38 by the end of the period.

The Indians still had a comfortable 56-40 lead midway in the fourth quarter, but the Eagles scored 9 straight points to pull to within 7 at 56-49, the closest they had been since the opening period.

Eldorado pulled to within 4 points at 62-58 with just 26 seconds left, but a pair of free throws by James Rike and a 2-pointer by Brad Bevel iced the victory for the Indians.

The Haskell scoring was led by Dusty Meeks who had 23 points on the strength of 9 field goals and 5 free throws. Bevel had 12 Rike 11 and Chan Guess 10.

Blacks upset over A&M appointment

AUSTIN-Only days after Democrat senators roasted him for ignoring minorities in his college board appointments, the governor slam-dunked them by opting not to maintain a black on the Texas A&M Board of Regents.

His decision both angered and saddened those who feel that with mostly black Prairie View A&M under its umbrella, blacks should have a vote on the board. Dr. John Coleman, the only black ever to sit as a TAMU regent, ended his term this month.

Instead, Clements appointed Raul Fernandez, a San Antonio developer who once presided over the Aggies' association of former students. The Legislature is expected this session to move three South Texas colleges under the TAMU umbrella.

Clements filled another slot with an Anglo; that's what has some blacks upset.

Some Blacks Upset

The issue is noteworthy, not only because it tests whether senators can force appointments as well as approve them, but it comes at a time when Texas Republicans are trying to court blacks into their ranks via a moderate George Bush presidency.

It also follows the Louisiana election of a former Ku Klux Klan grand wizard-turned Republican, and Texas Democrats are trying to keep blacks from defecting by painting the GOP as racist.

But as one insider pointed out, if blacks want appointments from a Republican governor, they need to support his candidacy. Indeed, that's the way the game has always been played, and to the hilt by Clements' predecessor, Mark White, a Democrat.

Clements, more likely, is signaling senators that he'll take only so much guff off them and it's time to back off; nor is he likely to forgive senators for ripping the appointment of good friend Chet Upham in the first battle.

In fact, a truce has been called, according to Dallas Sen. Eddie Bernice Johnson, who recognizes that Clements is not one to shy away from endless war.

But Sen. Craig Washington, a Houston black active against Upham, warned that Clements is signaling "that there are no qualified black Republicans that the governor feels appropriate to appoint to the A&M board."

track licenses has arrived, political suspense is building to see which of several venture groups will be awarded the lucrative Galveston contract.

Curiosity is there, not from greyhound aficionados but because the competing companies, which must have Texan majority ownership, have enlisted a host of Texas political blue-chippers.

Besides prominent citizens of several cities, other well-known names mentioned are John Hill, former Supreme Court Chief Justice;, former Secretary of State Roy Barrera Sr., former Speakernow A&M Regent Bill Clayton, former legislator-now top lobbyist Nick Kralj and former Oilers head coach Bum Phillips.

In this high stakes game for what is regarded as a sure-fire money-maker, the groups pay $100,000 just to apply and the winner pays another $880,000 for the license.

Racing Commission Broke

Although designed to be self-supporting, and even though the betting track industry wants to reduce the amount of taxes they will pay, the Texas Racing Commission has asked the Legislature for $10 million to see it through hard times.

The agency is nearly broke from too little money collected in fees, because of delays in setting up pari-mutuel betting.

Trina Try listed on all-academic

Trina Fry has been named to the Class A Academic all-state volleyball team.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Fry of Rochester and attends Knox City High School.

Nominees to the all-academic team must be in the top 10 percent of their classes. Trina, a senior hitter, was one of the 10 girls selected by the Texas Girls Coaches Association.

Trina also has been named by the coaches association to the 1988-89 all-state Class A volleyball team. Twelve girls received this honor.

Trina will be going to state computer programming competition in April. She and her team won first plce in the computer programming contest held in February in Wichita Falls.

Watching Washington

Our rural hospitals are fighting for their survival and need help desper-

Forty-three rural hospitals closed in the United States last year—19 of them in Texas. A recent survey of rural hospital administrators suggests that as many as 600 hospitals could close their doors in the next five years.

We cannot afford to let these hospitals go under. People residing in small, often isolated areas need these hospitals to provide them with vital health care services.

It is especially true for older Americans on Medicare. The elderly comprise 25 percent of our nation's rural population and turn to rural hospitals for their care.

Much of the problem that rural hospitals face comes from the way Medicare reimburses our nation's hospitals for the care they distribute. Under the system used by Medicare, hospitals are no longer reimbursed on the individual costs, but on an average of those costs.

In 1987, half the rural hospitals lost money on their Medicare patients because of this reimbursement system. Historically, rural hospitals have lower average costs than their bigger city neighbors, and their Medicare payment rates are currently 12-13 percent lower than their urban counterpayment.

Recognizing the inequity of this repayment system, I have introduced the Equity For Rural Hospitals Act of 1989 to provide urgently needed short-term relief and long-term structural reform for rural hospitals.

My bill will phase in a new uniform reimbursement system to ensure equity for rural hospitals. Until the new system is in operation, Medicare will guarantee that rural hospitals with large numbers of elderly patients and 100 beds or less receive reimbursement for their full costs.

A special review board will also be created to examine the difficulties of "border" hospitals that are located near cities but are unfairly treated by Medicare. In addition, my legislation increases grants so hospitals can expand the types of medical services they offer and better tailor their current services to the needs of the community. It also expands a program urging teaching hospitals to train resident physicians in rural areas, and opens a new program to encourage students into the nursing profession.

Rural hospitals are the most vital source of health care to their communities, and should not be forced to close their doors. The Equity For Rural Hospitals Bill will revive that vital link between the rural hospitals and the people they serve.

During my tenure in the Senate, health care issues have ranked at the top of my agenda. And as Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, I will continue working to assure that all Americans have continued access to proper medical care.

An NBC piece aired the other day pointed out there are 36,200 lawyers in Washington, D.C., one for every 22 men, women and children. That's 10 times the ratio of lawyer vs. population in New York, the country's next most represented city.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

And some guy on the program predicted the number will double in five years.

National Procrastination Week--"to promote the benefits of relaxing by putting off until tomorrow everything that doesn't need to be done today"---was supposed to have started yesterday (March 1). But it will be delayed until next week, March 5-11.

Now in its 15th year, Procrastination Week is sponsored by the Procrastinators' Club of America, an organization with 6,500 members worldwide and, according to its president, Les Waas, "millions more who haven't gotten around to joining yet.

Waas has been "acting" president ever since the organization's founding in 1956. As soon as a time can be arranged, the group will meet and elect a new president.

"Until then," Waas says, "the members of this club will continue to plan more inactivities for the coming years."

Small towns all over the country are trying to entice doctors to move to their communities. And they're not making much progress.

This week's Newsweek in an article entitled "Help Wanted: Boor Docs," points out some of the problems being faced by rural areas:

Twenty-five percent of the U.S. population and one-third of the elderly live in rural America. Yet only 12 percent of the nation's doctors work there and many of those are nearing retirement. A study by the National Rural Health Association predicts that the number of rural practitioners could drop by 25 percent in the next five years.

Medicare and private insurer, reimburse rural practitioners at rates much less than their city colleagues for identical procedures. At the same time, small town doctors tend to have more patients who are poor and have limited health insurance, making it harder to pass on the cost of malpractice insurance.

Some communities are attempting to "grow their own" doctors by lending money to medical students who promise to practice there. Fairfield, Ill. (population 6,000' offered to cancel half of the repayments if recipients stayed at least five years. So far, only one doctor has fulfilled his commitment. Five didn't go to Fairfield but did repay their loans. Two others filed for bankruptcy, one owing $25,000 and the other just $250.

The federal government has had a similar program since 1972. Fifteen percent of the doctors now practicing in small towns were placed through the National Health Service Corps, which gives scholarships to prospective health-care professionals in exchange for tours of duty in underserved areas. But budget cuts have just about eliminated the program. From a peak of $100 million in 1978, funding decreased to just $2.3 million last year, supporting just 49 students. Meanwhile the government has designated 1,944 communities in need of primary medical care.

A 1981 report by the Gradual Medical Education National Advisory Committee predicted a surplus of 150,000 physicians by the end of the century. That finding led to cutbacks in federal funds for medical education and propelled many prospective doctors into other careers. The aging population, the spread of AIDS and other factors lead other experts to conclude there will be a shortage, rather than a surplus, of doctors in the near future.

Right now, though, there is no shortage of doctors. They just aren't in the right places.

It wasn't widely reported, but Prescott Bush, the president's brother, was in the Far East drumming up business for his consulting firm just a week before the president would be visiting the same countries.

Sharlene Grisham is all-star

Senior guard Sharlene Grisham of Paint Creek has been chosen to play in the small school all-star basketball game in July in Stephenville. She will join fellow seniors Mandy Ford of Lueders-Avoca and Katrina Creason of Newcastle as representatives of district 19-A.

Grisham, who was the district's most valuable player last year, has an outstanding four-year career as a starter for the Lady Pirates.

Her teams won 73 games and lost only 31 when she started. In four years, she scored 1,115 points and snared 624 rebounds. Her shooting percentages were 40 percent from the field and 52.2 from the free-throw line. The 5'-3" guard averaged 18.2 points per game during the past two years.

Sharlene also excells in academics. She will be valedictorian of this year's graduating class with a 93.14 average. She also has been a cheerleader for four years.

She hopes to play basketball for Western Texas or South Plains junior colleges. She has been accepted at Texas Tech and hopes to major in physical education.

Sunday fun fly winners named

The Texas Chiefs Model Airplane Club held the first fun fly of 1989 Sunday.

Low clouds early in the afternoon kept the turnout low, but the competition was close and exciting.

Competition began with loops for time. Winners were Jim Cottingham, first; Brandon Cottingham and Kip Nemir, tied for second; and Mark Bailey, fourth.

Next was a dead stick spot landing. Placings were Mark Bailey, first; Brandon Cottingham, second; Jim Cottingham, third; and Kip Nemir, fourth.

Final event was a bean haul that took two flyoffs to settle a winner. Jim Cottingham edged Mark Bailey for first. Brandon Cottingham took third, Randy Koonsman was fourth and Kip Nemir was fifth.

Seymour coach calls it quits

Seymour football coach and athletic director Rocky French has resigned.

French, who coached Rochester to the state quarterfinals in 1987, was in his first year at Seymour. The Panthers did not win a game.

He told the School Board in Seymour that he probably will locate in the Corpus Christi area where he lived previously, but that he also is looking at an offer to coach in the Garland school system.

Public Notice

On November 9, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed a tariff which proposes to prevent local exchange calling over interstate, unrestricted, multi-jurisdictional, WATS Access Lines (UWALs) and intrastate WATS Access Lines (WALs).

UWALs are provided to interexchange carriers for their use in the provision of interexchange interstate and intrastate long-distance and WATS-type services. Similarly, WALs are designed for use in the provision of interLATA and intraLATA WATS services. The UWALs and WALs were not intended to allow local exchange calling.

If these proposed tariff changes are approved, the blocking of local exchange calls over intrastate WATS access lines and UWALs will take place within 30 days. This proposed tariff change will not result in the blocking of local calls placed to an 800 Service number.

The Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas has assigned this matter to Docket 8421. A hearing on the merits of these proposed tariff changes is scheduled for March 13, 1989.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should mail a request to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757 by February 27, 1989. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Southwestern Bell Telephone

To all customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company:

Public Notice

On December 22, 1988 Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas several proposed changes in its Universal Emergency Number Service (911) Tariff. These proposals include:

 a. deletion of the current regulation which restricts E911 Service to a single exchange area which has 50,000 exchange access arrangements or more;

b. revising the tariff text to clarify that costs associated with network rearrangements required to accommodate the 911 code may result in additional charges to be determined on an individual case basis;

c. a text addition to clarify that telephone company provided Public Safety Answering Equipment is required when a service includes Automatic Location Identification (ALI); and

d. a text addition to explain emergency ringback

The application is styled Docket No. 8565, Application of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company for Approval of Amendment of Universal Emergency Number Service (911) Tariff. It is anticipated that Docket No. 8565 will be evidentiary in nature.

The public may intervene or participate in this docket but it is not required to do so. Anyone who wishes to intervene in this proceeding or comment on the relief sought by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757 or call the Public Utility Commission Information Office at (512) 458-0010 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf. Motions to intervene in this proceeding must be filed with the Commission's filing clerk by April 12, 1989.

BY GLADYS O'NEAL HASKELL GARDEN CLUB

Are you a houseplant person? I hope you are because you can put color into the bleak days of winter by filling your windows with flowering houseplants.

Our February days have been so dreary and relief is still months away. Seed catalogues provide temporary help, but sooner or later they become dog-eared through overuse.

There are plants that will thrive in almost any home environment that you can offer.

Light is a critical factor for indoor bloomers, and it should top your list of priorities. You will have little difficulty with any winter-bloomer on the south side of the house. Second best are east-facing windows, followed by those facing west. Northern exposures receive very little light. However, foliage plants and fonced bulbs will do fine by north

Each plant will give you fair warning if it needs more light. If the foliage begins to yellow or stems stretch in desperation toward the window, or if they begin to drop buds and fail to bloom, move them to a sunnier spot.

If your lips begin to chap and the piano is out of tune, think how dry the air must be for your houseplants. Woodstoves are bad humidity bandits, or forced-hot-air-heating systems. But there is a solution. A shallow pot of water placed on the stove or near a heating duct will help raise the humidity. Don't worry about the heat. Most houseplants like warm temperatures in the low 60s at night with a 10 or 15 degree rise during the

I have chosen a few of my own favorites that will thrive in the same living conditions that I do. Geraniums are easy to please when given adequate light. Withhold your fertilizer on these during winter. Kalanchoes are among the most tolerant plants known to indoor gardeners. Like all succulents, they endure extremely dry conditions. Be patient, they wait until the dark days of midwinter to bloom.

As the name implies, impatiens are perfect for the indoors. The person who has little patience wth plants can water them liberally and they will do well. I have one herb plant, basil which does well, and some arrowhead ivies and shrimp plant and they are all doing well from a south exposure.

Weather, soil, pot size and humidity level all will determine how often you should water your plants. Just water when the soil surface is dry to the touch. Always use warm water, not cold. Turn your plants weekly to ensure even, balanced growth.

In January, I forgot to wish all my garden friends a Happy New Year, so it's in order now. Happy gardening to all of you and a blessed Happy New

Hobby Club

Area cotton producers are invited to an informative meeting next Thursday (March 9) at the community center in Roby.

The meeting begins at 8:30 a.m. with coffee and doughnuts provided from 8 to 8:30. Lunch will be catered by Frazier's Restaurant of Aspermont and is sponsored by DuPont and American Cyanimid chemical companies.

Speakers will include Beltran Chavez of the Texas Department of Agriculture; Emory Boring and Al Alexander of District 3 Extension Center; Steve Davis, county entomologist; and several chemical company representatives.

Topics include the "Right to Know" law, recently enacted, and information regarding integrated pest management for Rolling Plains cotton producers.

Hadaway awarded scholarship

Shane Hadaway of Haskell has been awarded the Harwood Memorial scholarship by the Real Estate Educators Association (REEA) headquartered in Chicago.

The scholarship fund was established by the late Dr. Bruce Harwood of Ventura, Calif., noted author of real estate texts. Awards were given to 40 full-time American students of real estate who demonstrate excellent academic records and the intent to pursue a career in real estate.

Hadaway was nominated for the award by William B. McKinney, professor of real estate at Angelo State University.

Hadaway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Davis of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hadaway of Midland. He is a graduate of Haskell High School and a student at Angelo State. He has maintained a 3.78 grade point average while participating in the Angelo State Student Senate and Alpha Lambda Delta.

He is a former treasurer of the Financial Management Association National Honor Society and a winner of the National Collegiate Business Merit award. He will graduate in May with a degree in finance with a real estate option. After graduation, he will attend law school at Texas Tech University.

REEA is an international organization comprised of more than 1,000 individuals and organizations involved in real estate education REEA was formed in 1980 to facilitate communication and cooperation among all concerned with instruction, administration and regulation of real estate education and to raise the competence and performance of real estate instructors to the highest possible level.

What is arteriosclerosis?

for thickening and hardening of the arteries normally occurs as a person grows older.

Atherosclerosis, a type of arteriosclerosis, comes from the Greek word athero (meaning gruel or paste) and sclerosis (hardness). It's characterized by deposits of fatty substances, cholesterol, cellular waste products, calcium and fibrin (a inner lining of an artery. This buildup is known as plaque. Plaque may partially or totally block the flow of blood through an artery. Two things that can happen where plaque occurs are 1) bleeding (hemorrhage) into the plaque, or 2) a blood clot (thrombus) may form on the plaque's surface. If either of these occur, a heart attack or stroke may medium-sized arteries. The type of artery and where the plaque develops varies with the individual.

Atherosclerosis is a slow, progressive disease that may start in childhood. In some people atherosclerosis progresses rapidly in thier third decade; in others this may not happen until they're in their 50s

How does atherosclerosis start? Atherosclerosis is a complex process. Precisely how it begins or what causes it isn't known. At first a growth of new cells in the artery wall forms; later degeneration may occur. Many scientists believe that atherosclerosis begins because something damages the innermost layer of the artery (endothellium) and, over time, certain substances in the blood enter the artery wall. Gradually these substances build up and eventually narrow and block the Arteriosclerosis is a general term artery. Three possible sources of damage to the arterial wall are 1) arteries. Some hardening of the elevated levels of cholesterol and triclyceride in the blood, 2) high blood pressure and 3) cigarette smoking. Cigarette smoking is particularly potent, aggravating and accelerating the development of artherosclerosis in the coronary artries, aorta and peripheral arteries of Once cells in the artery wall are clotting material in the blood) in the damaged, they dislodge from the wall, exposing the tissue (collagen) underneath. Next, platelets from the blood stick to the collagen. (Platelets are elements in the blood involved in forming blood clots.) If too many platelets accumulate in the artery wall, a blood clot may form, blocking the artery and stopping the normal flow of blood.

Scientists are studying other ways in which platelets may play a role in Atherosclerosis affects large and atherosclerosis. For example. platelets are involved in forming a group of substances called prostagiandins, one of which may damage the artries. Platelets also contain a substance called platelet growth factor, which can stimulate the growth of smooth muscle cells. Smooth muscle cells are normally present in the artery all, but their growth and proliferation is believed to be one of the earliest events in developing atherosclerosis.

Another theory that may explain the growth of smooth muscle cells and their migration into the inner wall of an artery is that they multiply abnormally like cancer cells.

Regardless of how smooth muscle cells get into the artery wall, the important point is that they get there and form a network of connective tissue that eventually becomes the

Briscoe, Weaver marry in candlelight ceremony

The First Baptist Church of Haskell was the setting for the ceremony on Saturday, Feb. 25, uniting Linda Michelle Briscoe and Aaron Lee Weaver in marriage.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Victor Andersen, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Briscoe of Haskell and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Briscoe of Haskell and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howard of Rochester.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weaver of Haskell and the grandson of Mrs. Ralph Weaver and the late Ralph Weaver of Stamford and Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Crump of Fort Worth. He is the great-grandson of Mrs. Lois Rogers of Stamford.

In a candlelight ceremony, vows were exchanged before a setting of cathedral and spiral candelabras, flanked on each side by fan candelabras, entwined with English ivy and gypsophia, fan shaped arrangements of flowers in the bride's chosen colors adorned each side of the altar. The choir railing was accented with white candles bordered with English ivy completing the altar setting. Above the altar a cross shaped candelabra illuminated the setting. Mauve satin bows with English ivy and hurricane lamps marked the pews.

The foyer of the church held the registry table with mauve cloth with candelabra and flowers of the bride's colors. Laurie Lacey of Abilene registered guests.

Prenuptial music was played by Ruth Ann Klose, organist.

Special musical selections were "Doubly Good to You" by Jana Norville of Seymour, and "The Lord's Prayer" by Tammy Estes of Anson. During the lighting of the unity candle, Tammy sang "Make Us One."

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, was attired in an exquisite designer original of white imported satin fashioned with a Victorian neckline edged in alencon lace. The

The gown flowed to slipper length and extended to a cathedral train. A halo of soft finy silk flowers covered in pearls, sequins and crystal tear drops entwined with side and back accents of lily of the valley held the illusion tulle puff extending into a cathedral length veil, sprinkled with miniature

The bridal bouquet held a free flowing cascade of white roses, trumpet flowers, rose buds encircling a mauve magnolia. An illusion bow sprinkled with miniature pearls and strings of pearls accented the bouquet.

As something old the bride chose a white Bble carried by her mother in her marriage and a string of pearls belonging to her maternal greatgrandmother worn by brides of the family. Something new was a locket given by the groom, something borrowed was a garter belonging to her aunt, something blue, her garter. She wore a six-pence given by the groom, along with a penny dated the year of her birth in her shoe.

The groom was attired in full dress Black Diamond tuxedo from the Dynasty collection. The coat was styled with satin faced peak lapels, self top collar and high center vent and matching black formal trousers. Complimenting white Dynasty vest with white band tie with a white pleated shirt with wing collar.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Shelly Briscoe. Bridesmaids were Robyne Weaver, sister of the groom. Jana Norville of Seymour, Tina Morris of Abilene, Patricia Gauntt, aunt of the bride, and Amanda Gauntt, cousin of the bride.

Attendants were gowned in tea length mauve satin dresses with long dropped waist, turquoise sash and turquoise side blow. The dresses had elbow length sleeves and bateau neckline. Attendants carried nosegays of silk mauve and turquoise roses with ruffled tulle sprinkled with from a turquoise white washed basket with mauve bow.

Monty Moller of Bowie was best man. Groomsmen were Jonnie Hise of Aspermont, Tommy Croft of Abilene, Benny Bredthauer of Haskell, Kerry Winkle of Vernon and Joy Weaver, cousin of the groom. All of the groom's attendants wore tuxedos identical to the groom.

Candlelighters were Jason Gauntt, cousin of the bride, Justin Crump, cousin of the groom, Cody Stocks. cousin of the bride, and Cody Ushers were Lee Lane, Landon Pannell, Mike Stewart of Munday. Russ Greene of Vernon and Derryl Howard, uncle of the bride.

Candlelighters and ushers wore black Dynasty tuxedos.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception at the Civic Center.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth with alencon lace motifs with pearls and sequins, made by the mother of the bride.

A three-tiered white wedding cake with orchids, roses, lilies and trumpet flowers was featured by a chandalier shaped stand with crystal prisms and tear drop lights framed by five identical side cakes. Crystal columns which elevated the top tier were decorated with a bride and groom surrounded by lace and miniature

The bridegroom's table was covered in ecru cloth which held a heirloom candelabra belonging to the groom's great-grandmother. German chocolate cake topped with swirls of chocolate was served with coffee.

A third table held a champagne fountain and a silver punch bowl with mauve cloth and lace overlay.

Serving at the bride's table were Gia Henshaw of Haskell and Casey Cooper of Stamford. Assisting at the punch table were Tammie Howard, aunt of the bride, and Laurie Lackey Serving at the groom's table were Sylvia Weaver and Debbie Strickland, aunts of the groom.

Immediately following the reception a dance was hosted by Mr and Mrs. Danny Josselet, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Medford.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted Friday evening by the groom's parents at the Civic Center.

The bride is a graduate of Paint Creek High School and Bryan Institute of Dental Assisting and is employed by Nocona Boots.

The groom graduated from Haskell High School and attended Tarleton State University. He is employed by West Texas Utilities.

The couple will honeymoon in Ruidoso and make their home in

On Feb. 12, the bride was honored with a lingerie shower, given by Vicki and Gia Henshaw.

A gift brunch honoring the couple Feb. 18 was held in the First National Bank Community Room. Hostesses were Lois Howard, Mollie Moeller, Florence Pedan, Julia Harrell, Frances Fischer, Alene Bredthauer, Ruth Ann Klose, Eunice Koehler, Janis Brzozowski, Erma Peiser, Sue Hertel, Janice Payne, Marie Kretschmer, Louetta Davis, Kay Morris, Jerryl Ann Cooper, Jerri Ann Harris, Dewanna Klose, Kay Croft, Janet Earles, Delight Jones, Janet Frierson and Lee Barnett.

A fish fry was held at the home of Dickie and Jerryl Ann Cooper of Stamford Feb. 4 honoring the couple.

TAX PLANNING

Written By Gerald Rodgers, CPA

THE "KIDDIE TAX" (How to Reduce or Avoid It)

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 has made it harder for parents to shift incomeproducing assets to their children in order to take advantage of the child's

In its simplest form, the "Kiddie Tax" taxes the net unearned income (e.g. interest, dividends, rents) of children under 14 at their parents' tax rate. It reduces the child's standard deduction to the greater of $500 or earned income (up to $3,000). The "Kiddie Tax" doesn't take effect until the child's unearned income passes $1,000.

Some suggestions to help you reduce the impact of the kiddie tax:

1. Purchase tax-free instruments like municipal bonds for children. 2. Give children assets with inherent tax-deferral features such as Series EE bonds or annuities.

3. Give children low-income, high-growth stocks and bonds or real estate parcels with appreciation potential that can be sold after the child turns 14. Parents who own a business have additional options:

1. Hire the children as employees in the firm to shift family income to the child's lower tax rate as earned income.

2. Give the child money to purchase business equipment. The child can lease the equipment to the family firm, offsetting the rental income against depreciation while the parent takes lease deductions. The equipment can be sold after the child turns 14.

Business owners need to keep in mind that these transactions must have a legitimate business purpose and be arms-length transactions in order to be

There are still important reasons to shift assets to children, such as estate planning and college savings. The "kiddie tax" may be of less significance in these situations.

To Cory Wood, who came home Weblos division of the district pinewood derby car race held in Stamford Sunday afternoon. He will treasure the silver trophy he won, and Grandpa "Scooney" Vojkufka will treasure the Boy Scout who won it.

Cory is the son of Bob and Melanie Wood.

Congratulations to other scouts also. To Jace Yates who was awarded his Weblos badge, and also one for Fitness, and Handy-man. To Lucas Castillo, Heath Guess, Dusty Yates and T. Nichols who each was awarded 1 gold and 1 silver arrow point. We are proud of you.

In the recent Soil and Water District Poster Contest, first place winners were David Pena, Heath Guess, and Alica Garza, in grades 1, 2

Second place winners were Lane Murphy and David Crump in 1st and 3rd grade.

Third place winners were Lucas Castillo and Timmy Perez, 2nd and 3rd grade.

These will be honored at the annual awards banquet hosted by the Haskell SWCD. Congratulations!

Our birthday people this week includes Myrnie Sanders, Kathi Hutchinson and Nathan Sikes.

Nathan was born on Feb. 29th, so in reality he had had only 2 birthdays, per se, in his young life. In later years he will appreciate not getting "older" as fast as his peers! Congratulations to all!

We have received word that Pearl Monke Henecke recently celebrated her 93rd birthday in poor health physically, but young and alert in mind and spirit. Happy belated birthday greetings to her!

Pearl's new address is 451 E. Orange St., Tarpon Springs, Florida 34689. She requires nursing care, but loves to renew acquaintances. Telephone number is 813-937-9405 Many more years, Pearl. Congratulations!

Ila Moody will celebrate her birthday on March 3rd. We remember the many years she lived and taught here, and we wish her a happy day also. Ila is living with Ron and Ginger at 5208 Simon Dr. N.W., in Albuquerque, N.M. Love and best Mary Murphy was honored with a the second place winner in the birthday dinner hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Yates on Sunday with all family members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Raphord Tiffey of Eugene, Oregon were in town to renew acquaintances on Saturday, and visited old-time neighbors, Susie and Pud Brockett. Raphard's mother was a Forehand and is interred in the Weinert Cemetery which he also visited while here.

Margaret Pena, with Lucy, Adelia and Velencia, has returned to her home in Mayton, Utah, after spending several days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymon Castorena, and other relatives.

We extend our sympathy to the Rainey families and to the Swailes families upon the death of J. E. Swailes last week, a former resident of Weinert.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Iva Palmer who passed away Feb. 27th in the Knox City Hospital with pneumonia.

Mrs. Palmer had been a resident of Munday Nursing Home for several years, and though her body wore out, her mind was bright and alert to the

She spent several of her 91 years in Weinert, and taught many of us while she lived here, and we each loved her and remember her fondly.

Mrs. Palmer wrote a book of her memoirs in her last years, and placed one in the Munday Public Library where it can be checked out by those desiring to do so.

Tom Kregar was involved in a car accident on Saturday, and though his pickup was damaged from the rear-end collision, Tom suffered no injuries for which we are grateful. Ton reports that in his 81 years this was his first car wreck. Good record!

Coming soon:

Approximately 17 students wil participated in the annual American Heat Association's jump-a-thon held at the Weinert school gym on March 10 from 1 to 4 p.m. with Jane Frazier as sponsoring leader. You are Simply come by or call and we will come by to see you.

Many people plan for what might happen-fire, burglary, injury, and accidents. Now more and more people are planning for what will inevitably happen. It simply makes good sense to prepare for that which we can not avoid.

Pre-need funeral arranging allows one to control the type of service they would prefer, select a means of financing it, freeze the prices at to-days price, and save loved ones the anguish of deciding these matters at a later date. Really it is the loving thing to do for your family.

Those who enjoyed being at the iendship Club last Thursday were erbert and Velma Lou Lammert, rs. ### Severe Weather Week being observed this week

Gov. William P. Clements Jr. has proclaimed this week (Feb. 26-March 4) as Severe Weather Awareness Week in Texas.

The Governor's Division of Emergency Management, in conjunction with the National Weather Service and the Texas Insurance Advisory Association, annualy sponsors the week to encourge Texans to be aware of the severe weather problems that can threaten the state.

Tornadoes, heavy thunderstorms, hail, lightning, floods and flash floods are serious weather phenomena for which Texans should be prepared.

"Last year, at least 13 people in our state lost their lives as a result of tornadoes, thunderstorm winds, lightning and flash floods," the Governor said in the proclamation. "Loss of life and property damage can be reduced if our citizens are prepared for severe weather situations.

The Division of Emergency Management has made available brochures on various severe weather preparedness tips to local emergency management offices for distribution to citizens. The Texas Insurance Advisory Association also has made information available and the National Weather Service is focusing on a specific type of severe weather daily during Awareness Week.

WHY WE RECOMMEND PROWL FOR WEED CONTROL IN COTTON

PROWL' herbicide provides longlasting weed control without harming your crop. That means a fast, healthy start. And that can mean a highyielding, quality bottom crop.

Incorporate right away or wait up to a week after application. And with PROWL you get full-season control without root pruning, stunting or carryover. To tailor your weed control program, you can tank mix or use sequential treatments with other labeled herbicides.

See us today. We have the products and the service to help your farming operation.

Always read and follow label directions carefully.
