Hundreds expected for fly-in Saturday

Basketball camp to be next month

The second annual Haskell Basketball Camp is scheduled for next month. The boys' camp will be June 5-9 and the girls' camp June 12-16.

Haskell High School coaches Randy Stone and George Martin will conduct the camp.

For both boys and girls, the camp will run from 9 a.m. to noon for 7-10-year-olds and from 1 to 4 p.m. for 11-14-year-olds.

Cost of the camp is $35. Registration will be from 10 a.m. to noon on June 2 at the Haskell High School gym.

Kindergarten

Any parent who did not pre-register a child for kindergarten next year should call 864-2891 or come by the elementary school office by June 2.

The Haskell Industrial Foundation, Inc., will hold a town hall meeting tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in the Haskell National Bank community room to outline a plan of action to secure a state prison in Jones County (See story on page 3).

Rule students to give program

Kindergarten and elementary students at Rule will present a musical, "Goin' Buggy," next Wednesday, May 31.

The program by students in K-4 will begin at 10 a.m. in the Rule High School auditorium.

The program is open to the public. There will be no admission charge.

Roewe signs with UT-A Former Haskell High School basketball star Julie Roewe has signed a basketball letter of intent to attend the University of Texas at Arlington.

Roewe, a 5-8 guard-forward, played on the Western Junior College team that went to the national tournament last season, averaging 8 points, 6 rebounds and 7 assists.

She earned first team all-conference honors at Western and was a member of the the West Texas all-star team. She posted a 3.9 grade point average with an emphasis in physical therapy.

Roewe will be a junior at UT-A, which has a new coach, Jerry Isler, in this coming season. Isler coached the past two years at New Mexico Junior College.

"Julie is a hard nosed scoring threat and we are happy to sign her," Isler said.

Hundreds of spectators are expected Saturday morning for the second annual Haskell Fly-In and Pilots' Breakfast.

It all takes place between 7:30 and 11 a.m. at the Haskell Municipal Airport.

Last year's initial event, sponsored by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, proved extremely popular with out-of-town pilots and local spectators alike.

About 50 visiting airplanes, including 16 military aircraft, participated in last year's show and a like number is expected at this year's event.

All pilots and guests arriving by air will receive a complimentary breakfast. Local visitors showing up to view the visiting aircraft will be admitted to the grounds for $2 per person, a charge which includes breakfast.

The fly-in was initiated as a means of attracting pilots and airplanes from the area, especially those participating in the annual Breckenridge Air Show which is held during Memorial Day weekend.

A special feature of the show again this year will be the appearance of a number of "warbirds", or older military planes. Last year, 16 such planes came to Haskell.

As an incentive, the City of Haskell will offer aviation gasoline for $1 per gallon. The price applies only for transient aircraft and only during the hours of the show.

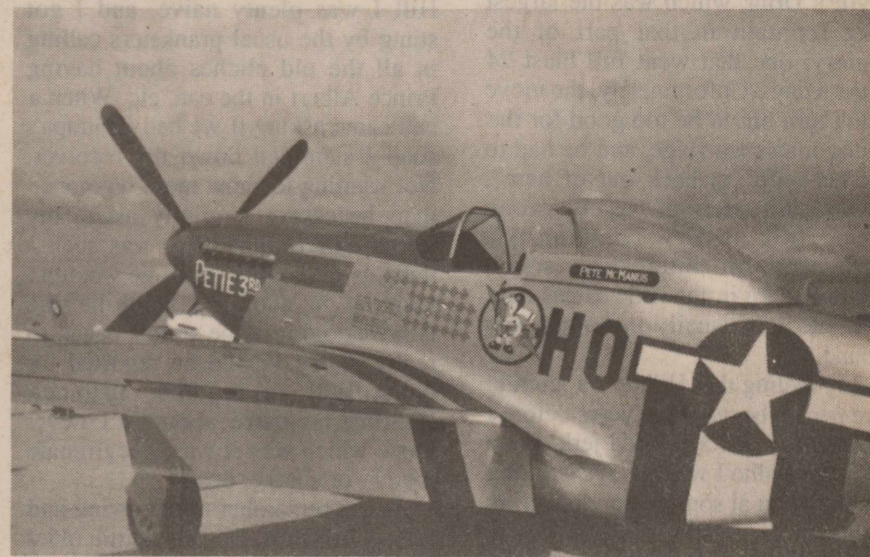

The Chamber of Commerce will present trophies to the oldest pilot, the pilot making the longest flight and to the best warbird.

Last year, the fly-in attracted pilots from as far away as Canada, New Hampshire and California.

Jim Bridwell is project coordinator. Bud Lane is president of the sponsoring Chamber and also is in charge of finances and Bob Baker, city administrator, serves as liaison with the city.

Other steering committee members include Don Comedy, operations and air traffic control; Dusty Garison, publicity; Elbert Johnson, registration; Mike Martindale, gate receipts; Gene Plunkett, ground traffic and parking; Joe Thigpen, hangar setup; and Tom Watson, food preparation.

37 to get diplomas Commencement Friday evening

Thirty-seven students will receive diplomas Friday evening, May 26, at the 104th annual Haskell High School commencement program.

The commencement begins at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

The valedictory address will be delivered by Joy McKeever, top-ranking student. She is the daughter of Eddie and Billie McKeever.

The salutatory will be by Loutina Hadaway. She is the daughter of David and Louetta Davis.

Honor graduate Dalyn Gilly will present a reading with music accompanied by Minnette Marr on the viola.

Diplomas will be presented by Gerald McCoy, principal, and Mike Guess, president of the School Board.

Assistant principal Greg Melton will present the honor students and awards. A musical tribute will be by Susan Pope and Randy McLelland.

Chan Guess will give the invocation and Bobby Medford will offer the benediction. The processional and recessional will be by Nelda Lane and Pam Gibson.

Juniors leading the processional and recessional will be Kyle Darden, Missy Davis, Scottie Martin and Holly Reed. Ushers will be Sylvia Alvarez, Julie Nanny, Missy Pheister, Jo Ann Villa, Rodney Johnson, Shane Osborne, James Rike and Roger Roewe.

Seniors receiving diplomas are Tim Alexander, Jr., Alberto Alvarez, Jr., Nicole Lee Anderson, Christi L. Bartley, Samuel Lawrence Beakey, James Bradley Bevel, Derrick Billington, Kristi Lynn Brister, Gloria Castillo.

Teresa Ann Crain, Gene Kaye Decker, Louis Enriquez, Elizabeth LaKay Gibbs, Dalyn Davon Gilly, Jovita Gonzales, David Samuel Green, Chan Allen Guess, Loutina Dawn Hadaway, Dala Harris, Paul Harvey.

Gia Victoria Henshaw, Cole Larned, Joyce Lynn McKeever, Bobby G. Medford, Jr., Dusty Meeks, Corey Le'Allen Mills, Eric Mullen, Kayce Leigh Ellen Nemir, Tony V. Ozuna, Penny Caroline Peden, Woodrow Joshua Reid.

Mary Teresa Rodriguez, Wendy Melissa Smith, Gina Lea Turnbow, Teresa Faye Unger, Bo Watson and Linda Michelle Whisenhunt.

During the commencement exercises, a nursery will be provided for young children in the graduate's family. Other young children of family friends or relatives also may use the nursery facilities; however, these children must be accompanied by another family member.

With this service, parents will have a place to take their children if they get fussy during the graduation exercises.

Top Grads

Joy McKeever, valedictorian

The valedictorian of the 1989 Haskell High School graduating class is Joy McKeever with a grade average of 98.27.

She is the daughter of Eddie and Billie McKeever.

An active high school career follows McKeever as she was an HHS cheerleader, a member of the National Honor Society, serving as president this past year, and was named Ms. Haskell High School.

She played varsity basketball and was named to the first team all district, first team Abilene Reporter-News all area team and second team to the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches' all region team.

This spring McKeever topped-off her four-year track career by capturing the gold in the 2A 100-meter hurdles at the state meet.

A track scholarship awaits her at the University of Texas at Arlington where she plans to major in architecture and minor in interior design.

Loutina Hadaway, salutatorian

Loutina Hadaway is the salutatorian of the 1989 Haskell High School graduating class with a grade average of 93.83.

She is the daughter of David and Louetta Davis.

During Hadaway's high school career, she was a member of the National Honor Society, serving as secretary-treasurer this past year, a member of the Quill and Scroll club and manager of the varsity basketball teams.

Voted most friendly and best dressed, Hadaway was active in tennis and served as secretary-treasurer for her class. She was also football sweetheart.

She plans to attend McMurry College and pursue a career in speech pathology.

Golf tournament needs sponsors

Sponsors are needed for the American Cancer Society's "Longest Day of Golf", scheduled for Saturday, June 3, at the Haskell Country Club.

Those interested in sponsoring a golfer in the tournament should contact Nancy Plunkett, 864-2087.

K.B. Lane

Tech co-ed interns at The Free Press

Newest member of The Free Press staff is K. B. (for KENNIE BETH) Lane, a 21-year-old Texas Tech senior.

An agricultural communications major at Tech, she's working this summer as an editorial assistant through an intern program of the West Texas Press Association.

Two college students are chosen each summer to participate in the program. They earn three credit hours for eight-week internships. Their salaries are paid jointly by the WTPA and the participating newspapers.

Miss Lane is a native of Spur. She grew up there and graduated from Spur High School where she was editor of the student newspaper, The Rowel. At Tech, she has served on the editorial staff of the Agriculturist, a magazine produced by ag communications students. She also has written articles, as lab assignments, for her hometown newspaper, The Texas Spur.

After graduation next spring, Miss Lane plans to pursue a master's degree in English and obtain certification in secondary education.

The teaching certificate is just a safety valve. Her first objective is to work in the field of agricultural communications, either as a journalist or in public relations.

Although she has never lived in Haskell, her parents, B. K. and Jo Nored (Boone) Lane, and her 16-year-old brother, Nored, moved to Haskell just last November.

Her mother is a native of Haskell and the daughter of Nored and Durene Boone who still live here.

Oates Drug

Jerking sodas and rolling pills

By Tom Kaigler

as told to Mary Kaigler
Gerry Spain called to say she'd found something, when clearing out the storage barns at her dad's (Mr. Jim Fouts) old home place; something I might like to see and could have if I wanted it. "It's a piece of the old Oates Drug Store," she said.

She thought, that having been an employee of the store, and a long-time fan of Hill Oates, I'd be interested, and I was. I was plenty curious.

What she'd found was a 6'x3' piece of black marble banded with a thin strip of red around it and pocked all across with kick marks; a part of the front of the new fountain Hill had installed when he did extensive remodeling in 1937. Harold Spain had kept it, and until Mrs. Edna Fouts recently left the house back into Gerry's hands it had been forgotten; obscured, as are so many mementos and memories of our lives, by the layers of more pressing matters, the dust of daily living. Wiping it off, I brought it home.

Actually, I'm not a compulsive "keeper" of non-useful things, rarely preserving something for sentiment alone (after all, what can be done with a red-trimmed, black marble white elephant?). But I'm keeping this one because it has stirred up a wealth of good memories of good times and good people who were woven into the fabric of my early years. I look at it and can almost hear the noise, the fun, the excitement; the special social center that was once what a drug store was.

Located on the northeast corner of the square, it was an old family business, being run by sons John, Oscar and Hill Oates in succession. Oscar, who married Helen Harbison, the town's imported maker of fine hats, bought a store in Bryson and moved for a while. Hill married Gladys Smith whose father owned and operated McNeil and Smith Hardware. A beautiful blonde with peaches and cream complexion, she always sang in our First Methodist Church choir.

Hill had a good personality for running the store, had built up a good business, and in 1937 completely remodeled the whole store. And what a keen place it was to work! It was the first place in town to have refrigerated air conditioning, one of the first drug stores in town to have stools at the bar. The others still had the old belly-up-to-the-bar variety fountains. Black, red and chrome, it was an impressive fountain; we were all glad to get to help install it when it came in.

The little store had a reputation among other West Texas drug stores for being innovative. In later years, after I'd left to go to Tech, Hill went out to Lubbock and successfully hired the fountain manager away from Wylie's Drug, which was the largest drug fountain in that part of the country; one that went full blast 24 hours a day. (Unfortunately, the move didn't turn out to be too good for the young man's marriage, and he had to get his wife "to heck out of here", back to the safety of the city, away from this little community's influence. An interesting social comment; we in the little towns tend to think it is usually the other way around.)

My feeling that Hill was a fair and rare person began some years before I worked for him as a soda jerk. From the age of nine I was always working around town at something; delivering milk or circulars, magazines, or clothes for the cleaners. For years I had a paper route, delivering by bicycle twice a day to both homes and businesses. Once, just after a big rain, I slipped down as I hurried into Hill's store with a stack of papers, ramming my foot through a plate glass showcase. Hill wasn't there so I went back that night to tell him about it. Hoping to have enough coming from my month's paper sales to pay him for it, I planned to ask him to carry the rest until the next month if I didn't. Hill just smiled and said, "You didn't do it on purpose, let's just forget about it." He made me his friend for life! And I never "just forgot about it."

When I first began to work for Hill I was plenty naive, and I got stung by the usual pranksters calling in all the old cliches about having Prince Albert in the can, etc. When a call came asking if we had Grandpa's soap I slammed down the receiver. Not wanting to show more ignorance than necessary I quietly asked my friend Bill Burt if there was such a thing as the soap (I knew he wouldn't laugh at me about it). When he said that we sold it in the store I began to really worry that I'd be reported for being rude to a good customer. Hearing no more about it I never knew which way it was; a legitimate inquiry or another hoax.

I can't remember not knowing and loving Bill Burt. He was a little older than I and like a good brother to me in every situation. His ambition was to be a pharmacist, and he worked several years for Hill before going on to pharmacy school. He was a serious minded, hard working boy who applied himself to whatever he did. He was always looking for a new and additional job, and at ages eight and nine he janitored at the South Ward school, getting there early to start the fires, empty the trash and sweep. (Those were the days when such things were "okay", when a nine-year-old kid was allowed to drive a model-T Ford if he were lucky enough to have one available.)

At the drug store Bill observed and learned a lot about dispensing drugs, and occasionally he would fill an order, without Hill's approval, of course. By that time he was out of high school, and one night a customer left a prescription, but on seeing Bill back in the pharmacy said, "That Bill Burt is not filling my prescription, is he?" I never doubted Bill's ability to know what he was doing, and neither did Hill, but I strolled back and whispered to him that he'd better "let up" on this one. He did, and came up to the front of the store smiling in complete innocence. He knew that he knew how to count out those capsules, but he didn't yet have a paper to hang on his wall saying that he had the right to count them.

Later he went on to own a chain of successful drug stores in New Mexico, Texas and Arizona, being at one time head of New Mexico's Pharmacy Board as well as a working board member of several banks. Retired now, he spends time in both Deming and Alto Village Ruidoso. He plays a lot of golf, manages his real estate holdings, and I think if I know Bill, recounts his money. He's made some.

Business was good and there were several of us working the fountain and hopping the curb. Johnny (John E.) Fouts was known as our official greeter. Good-looking, outgoing, fun-loving Johnny! Always looking for a party, he met everyone at the front door of the store, then followed them back to the door, patting them on the back on their way out. This was the boy who later became a fighter pilot, flying combat missions in China and Burma during "the" war, finally retiring to Lake Stamford where he now gardens with a passion. Still trim, tan and straight; great-looking Johnny! Understandably, he says he isn't looking for so many parties these days.

From among the possibly thousands of sandwiches I served at Hill's fountain, a few stand out in vivid detail. Mrs. Guy Mayes, owner of Mayes Dry Goods, ate lunch there every day. Once, as she sat across from me as I made her sandwich, I let one piece of the toast fall on the floor behind the counter. Without looking up or down I eased down, picked it up and continued to finish her order. When I handed it to her she surprised me by saying, "Tom, if you'll give me a big bunch of potato chips and olives I won't mention to Hill that you dropped my toast on the floor." I heaped it up for her. Hill's profit may have sagged a little that day.

Another time, Mr. Preston Baldwin was almost through eating a sandwich when he opened it up and said, "Tom, I don't think I ever got the ham on this ham sandwich!" We both looked and he was right. He had only lettuce and tomato. I couldn't believe he hadn't missed it until then. Hill's ham was not sliced that thin, that you couldn't tell whether or not you'd had it. Anyway, Mr. Baldwin had the sandwich and then he had the ham.

Once a week we took turns staying late into the night to clean up the fountain. During one of my times at this, a customer I knew came to the door. I unlocked it, let him in, then discovered that he wanted to buy some liquor, which was legal for drug stores in those days. He had one of those prescriptions which were signed wholesale by doctors at that time. His medical problem was probably no more than a severe case of "thirst"; I suppose the prescription was calculated to "cure" it. I was underage, it was after closing; there wasn't a thing "legal" about this legalized way to get around prohibition, but I let him talk me into selling it to him at the price he said he always paid for it. I knew if Ma heard about it she'd make me quit my job. I never told her; it wasn't one of those things you go home and tell your mother. The next day when I told Hill what I'd done, he said, "Well Tom, I didn't want you to do that. Don't do it again, but you did get the right price for it."

A nickel, one way or the other, made a difference then, and losing one could be serious. Drug stores and cafes had pin-ball machines, and if you made a certain score, you'd get a little jackpot sometimes. This caused a lot of machine pushing and thumping, all the while trying to keep them from "tilting," in which event you lost your nickel and the game was over. Fat Wilson once got so mad at a machine over whether or not he had caused a "tilt" that I thought he was going to cry. After about an hour of demanding his money back and almost fighting over it, he finally left, still saying, "But, I want my nickel! I lost my nickel!"

Those were the days! But, none of us are sorry to see the days of the shortage of nickels go. No one is sorry to see the going of the "prescription" liquor sales, or the low hourly wage which was a fact of life for both management and labor (but boy! I was glad to get it then).

One thing we can all be sorry to see is the going of an era. An era which incongruously, with all its social ills, its human frailties, its hypocrisies, now seems to have been almost an age of innocence (or were we just at an age of innocence ourselves?). The wonderful era when the drug store in town was "the" place to be and to be seen; after the show, after school, after church, after the ball games, and all the before's in between.

Hill Oates Drug Store was such a place, and I'll never forget it!

Homes needed for foreign kids

Applications are being accepted from families to host international exchange students from 22 foreign countries during the 1989-90 school year. Students will be matched with families through an in-depth research and interview process.

Host families are asked to provide room, board and guidance in exchange for the students' sharing their native cultures with their new families. The students speak English, bring their own spending money and have their own medical insurance.

For more information call 1-800-USA-0200.

Apples are safe

Apple products are safe as human food in spite of some recent conflicting information released nationally, say a couple of experts.

Group to discuss state prison in area

The Haskell Industrial Foundation, Inc., will hold a town hall meeting tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in the Haskell National Bank community room to discuss the efforts being made to secure a state prison in Jones County.

A general overview of the issues and advantages of obtaining one of the six prisons to be funded by the State of Texas will be presented.

A panel consisting of Haskell city leaders and members of the Rolling Plains Industrial Foundation, Inc., representing Anson, Hamlin and Stamford, will be on hand for a question and answer forum.

All interested citizens are encouraged to attend this meeting.

Members of the Rolling Plains foundation have been working on preliminary plans for the past three months. They will submit a proposal for both a maximum and a minimum security prison to the Texas Department of Corrections by July 31.

Three hundred acres of land at Arledge Field (Stamford airport) was donated to the project; therefore, the foundation members have chosen Stamford as the central location of the prison.

The City of Stamford will also make water and sewer facilities available to the site.

"Stamford is an ideal site for the prison because it is approximately 20 miles from Anson, Hamlin and Haskell," Ken Lane, president of the Haskell Industrial Foundation, said.

Lane said the TDC prefers to hire local residents and with a minimum security prison producing approximately 320 jobs and a maximum security producing twice that number, Haskell will benefit because of its geographical location.

He added that 20-25 percent of the jobs created by this new industry will be filled by Haskell County citizens.

"Haskell County should expect a minimum security prison to create about 64 jobs, while a maximum security would provide 140 jobs," Lane said.

"The experience of other areas is that the jobs are scattered throughout the area, not located in one central area. This is the desire of the Rolling Plains Industrial Foundation because it will not overload city services and school systems of one city," Lane said.

Citizens interested in becoming involved in the project can contact Lane at 864-8505.

Tamra Burnett chosen for honor

Tamra Burnett, sophomore at Tarleton State University, has been selected as an "Outstanding College Student of American Colleges."

A fashion merchandising major (minor in general business), she will serve as president of Rho Iota Delta, professional home economics organization for 1989-90. The purpose of Rho Iota Delta is to promote objective ideas and worthwhile programs to serve the professional and home economics community alike. The organization was created in 1970 as a student support group for the Home Economics Department and the four-year home economics degree. Tamra also received a scholarship from Rho Iota Delta.

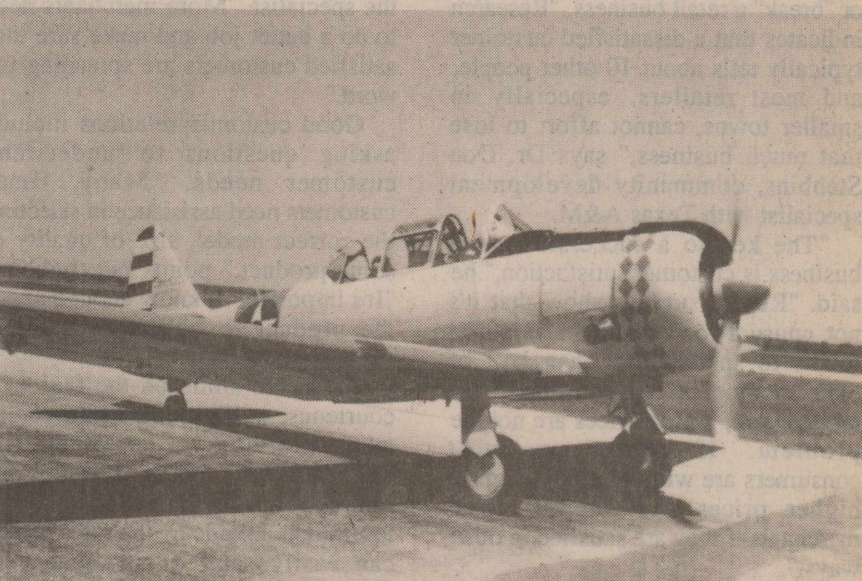

She also is a member of the American Home Economics Association, Texas Home Economics Association and Texas Home Economics Student Section.

Tamra is a 1988 graduate of Haskell High School. She is the daughter of Charles and Joetta Burnett.

Cancer Crusade underway here

Volunteers are distributing a leaflet called "Eat Right" to Haskell County residents this week. It contains recommendations that may reduce chances of getting cancer, such as adding more high-fiber foods and foods high in vitamins A and C to the diet.

It's part of the annual Cancer Crusade and the volunteer workers also will accept contributions to the American Cancer Society.

"Research has strongly suggested that certain foods, perhaps through their chemical content or the reactions they create during the digestive process, may affect a person's chances of getting cancer," said Anita Payne, chairman of the Cancer Crusade.

"Our message is that how you live may save your life," added the chairman.

"In the past, we've stressed the various tests and procedures that detect cancer in its early stages. This year, we're concentrating on how you can try to avoid cancer."

The Cancer Crusade in Haskell County is part of a statewide and nationwide effort involving more than 1.6 million volunteers. About 40 percent of the money raised here will go toward work in this area. Twenty percent is used for statewide programs and the remainder supports national programs and research.

Fiber reduces cholesterol

The news is flooded constantly with claims that Americans must eat more fiber, but how realistic is this information?

Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, registered dietitian and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said total dietary fiber is a new term for what used to be known as bulk, roughage, bran, fiber or unavailable carbohydrates.

She said the most widely recognized effect of fiber in the diet is increased intestinal bulk and regularity, resulting from eating water insoluble dietary fiber sources such as bran, beans and cellulose.

Sales tax rebate drops by $1,500

The City of Haskell's sales tax rebate check was down by about $1,500 this month, but the city still is 6.26 percent ahead of last year.

This month's check, reflecting the city's one-percent sales tax collections collected in March, was in the amount of $19,994.08, compared to last year's figure of $21,462.76 for the same period.

But for the year to date, the City has received $71,988.30, compared to $67,747.58 for the comparable period of 1988.

Other Haskell County cities received checks this month included: Rule, $2,915.11; Rochester, $1,538.11; O'Brien, $749.69; and Weinert, $539.21.

Combined, the five county cities have received $116,827.26 in the first five months of 1989.

Satisfied customer key to retail success

"Word of mouth" often can "make" or "break" a retail business. "Research indicates that a dissatisfied customer typically tells about 10 other people, and most retailers, especially in smaller towns, cannot afford to lose that much business," says Dr. Don Stebbins, community development specialist with Texas A&M.

"The key to a successful retail business is customer satisfaction," he said. "Recent surveys show that it's not unusual for consumers in small towns to spend more than half of their income in larger cities. To a large extent, higher prices are not the problem. If necessary, most consumers are willing to pay slightly higher prices and support local merchants if they are satisfied in other ways."

That means excellent customer relations--a low cost, effective way for merchants to keep present customers and gain new ones.

"Good 'word of mouth' advertising is the cheapest and best advertising that a merchant can get," emphasizes the specialist. "More merchants need to do a better job and make sure that satisfied customers are spreading the word."

Good customer relations include asking questions to understand customer needs. "Many times customers need assistance in selecting the correct model, size or quality of some product," points out Stebbins. "It's important to know enough about the product to help the customer make the best choice."

A sincere smile on the face of a courteous, well groomed salesperson who is giving a customer full attention can make a favorable impression. On the other hand, an indifferent attitude by the sales person can easily send a customer to a competitor.

Even the best managed store will occasionally have a dissatisfied customer, notes the specialist.

Seat belts: It's the law

Not only is wearing safety restraints a smart idea, it's the law. Read the following to make sure you understand the law and your responsibilities:

--A child younger than 2 years riding (front or back seat) in a passenger car or light truck must be secured in a federally approved child safety seat system.

--A child 12 years or older and under 4 riding (front or back seat) in a passenger car or light truck must be secured in a federally approved safety seat system or by a safety belt.

--All drivers and front seat passengers are required to use safety belts whenever they ride in safety belt equipped cars or trucks of 3/4-ton capacity or below.

--If an unbelted person is under 15, the driver of the vehicle will receive the ticket. If an unbelted person is 15 or older, the unbelted individual will receive the ticket.

--Failure to comply with either the child seat or safety belt law can result in a $25 to $50 fine.

Most people have high cholesterol

More than half of all adult Americans have high blood cholesterol levels which increase their risk for coronary heart disease, says the Texas Medical Association.

"For many years we've known that high cholesterol increases your risk to develop heart disease," said Dr. Ellison Wittels, medical director of the Institute for Preventive Medicine at Methodist Hospital in Houston. "Now we know that lowering cholesterol can decrease that risk."

Banquet honors athletes

Thanks for the Memories was the theme of the All Sports Banquet honoring the 1988-89 Haskell High School athletes May 19 at the Civic Center.

Guest speaker was Larry Nabors of De Leon.

Outstanding athletes, who make contributions not only on the playing field but in the classroom as well, were recognized.

Booster Club President Mike

Guess presented the club's Most Conscientious Player award to Bo Watson, senior.

The Dick Gaines award, named after the highly respected and well-liked football and basketball coach, is given to a football player displaying high scholastic achievement. It was awarded to Chan Guess, senior.

Senior Derrick Billington received the Jeffrey Anderson Boys' Track award, established as a memorial to honor the outstanding boys' trackster each year.

The Red Howard Girls' Track award was presented to Joy McKeever, senior. This award was named after the first girls' track coach, Red Howard, and was established because of his great contribution to the success of girls' track and field participation throughout the state.

Sportsmanship awards are given not necessarily to the most talented player, but to the one who has contributed to the team with his/her heart as well as athletic ability.

The Football Sportsmanship award was given to Paul Harvey, senior. Sam Beakey, senior, received the Boys' Basketball Sportsmanship award and Missy Davis, junior, was awarded the Girls' Basketball Sportsmanship award.

Pest management group helps farmers

The primary goal of Haskell-Stonewall Pest Management Association is to assist program farmers with crop pest management through Integrated Pest Management (IPM) strategies employed by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service (TAEX).

Frequent and precise field monitoring is a regular service offered by the Association.

The program is technically directed by the County Extension Entomologist officed in Roby, with support from scout supervisors and field scouts engaged in basic field monitoring.

Dry-land cotton will be monitored on a weekly basis until problems arise and will then be seen on an as-needed basis depending upon treatments applied or pest fluctuations.

Irrigated cotton is monitored on a bi-weekly basis due to rapid changes in the ecosystem brought about by the addition of supplemental irrigation water.

Reports will be delivered to growers or to a predetermined drop site upon completion of each field inspection.

Initial cost to the prospective program member is $10. This fee is for membership dues and allows the member to receive weekly newsletters and attend annual meetings of the organization.

Growers interested in enrolling in the program may do so at a cost of $2.75/planted acre for dry-land cotton and $4.25 for irrigated cotton.

Questions regarding program procedures can be directed to Max Stapleton, CEA-AG, Box 300, Haskell, TX, 79521 or call 817-864-2658.

Jody Bradford, CEA-AG, Box 369, Aspermont, TX, 79502 or call 817-989-3510.

Steve Davis, CEA-ENTO. (P.M.), P.O. Box 27, Roby, TX, 79543 or call 915-776-2706 or 915-776-2171.

Nikki Routon graduates at WTC

Nikki Routon of Haskell was among the students receiving certificates from Western Texas College in commencement exercises May 12.

Miss Routon received a certificate in cosmetology. Cosmetology students receive 1,500 hours of training in 12 months and are then eligible to take the Texas Board of Cosmetology examinations for licensing.

Memorial service planned at Rule

A memorial service is planned Monday at the Rule Cemetery. It will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Each veteran's grave will be marked with a small American flag.

--Obituaries--

Joseph W. Jetton

Joseph W. Jetton, 76, died April 22 in Long Beach, Calif.

Services were April 25 at the Church of Our Fathers, Forest Lawn-Cypress, in Cypress, Calif. The Rev. Mark Christian of Lakewood First Presbyterian Church of Long Beach officiated. Interment was at Forest Lawn in Cypress.

A former Haskell resident, Jetton was born Oct. 30, 1912, near Collinsville to Minnie Daisy and Charles W. Jetton. He grew up and attended school in rural Haskell County. In 1937, he married Alberta Orr and they lived in Haskell until 1940.

During World War II, he served with the 14th Air Force in the China-Burma-India Campaign. Moving to Long Beach, Calif., after the war, he worked in aerospace electronics research and development with North American Aviation and Rockwell International until his retirement in 1977.

Survivors include his wife, Alberta Jetton; a son, Barry Jetton, both of Long Beach; one sister, Katherine Dye of Abernathy; one brother-in-law, Jasper Wheeler of Haskell; and a number of nieces and nephews. Jetton was preceded in death by three sisters and one brother, Leora McCasland, Frances Wheeler, Verna Shelley and Cecil Jetton.

Mary E. Davis

Mary Evelyn Davis, 50, of Portales, N.M., died May 16 in Amarillo.

Funeral services were Friday afternoon at the Weinert Cemetery with the Rev. Roy Herricks officiating. Burial was in the Weinert Cemetery, under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

She was born in Graham on Jan. 6, 1939, and had lived in Portales since 1965. She was a member of the Christian Church.

Survivors include a son, Frank James Pruitt of Spokane, Wash.; a daughter, Ivy Betts of Portales; her mother, Cora Davis of Weinert; a sister, Lois Anderson of West; two brothers, Calvin Davis of Weinert and Frank C. Davis of Abilene; and three grandchildren.

Wayne Hester earns scholarship

Wayne Hester of Rochester has been awarded the Sam Rayburn-William Mayo Residential Scholarship at East Texas State University in Commerce.

The four-year general scholarship provides Hester with $1,000 a year. He will attend East Texas State in the fall of 1989.

Hester also was among 20 incoming students chosen to receive a $500 Freshman Leadership Scholarship and will be a member of the Freshman Leadership class.

Recipient of the West Texas Fair and Rodeo Association's Odell Johnson Scholarship, Hester will receive $500 for his freshman year. This scholarship is given to students pursuing a career in science.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wayne Hester of Rochester.

Roses cut in the afternoon last considerably longer than those cut in the morning.

Garden club has program on wildflowers

The Haskell Garden club met for a luncheon on May 11 at the community room.

After a short business meeting with Linda King, president, Lorene Dewey called the roll with each member answering with a name of a rose.

This year's theme, "The Pursuit of Gardening Using Nature's Bounty" was the general topic of the program for the last meeting of the year.

Floral arrangements using woodland capers with weathered wood were brought by Linda King and Leone Pearsey.

Marcy Martinez, Lorene Dewey, Nettie McCollum, Bernadine Blankenship and Juanita Bevel brought roses and iris arrangements.

Gardening with wildflowers was discussed by Gladys O'Neal. She displayed wildflowers and explained how they grow and where to find them in Texas.

Mrs. Ernestine Herren brought a beautiful bouquet of wildflowers. She and her husband, Sam, have a beautiful wildflower meadow and beds. Mrs. Herren told interesting facts about their culture.

Mrs. O'Neal read the names of Texas wildflowers which were interesting and humorous.

Twelve members and two guests, Ernestine Herren and Francis Lee from Wichita Falls, were present.

The club is looking forward to another year. Growing God's beautiful flowers is truly an art that we all love.

"Only through art can we get outside of ourselves and know another's view of the universe, which is not the same as ours." -Marcel Proust, 1948.

Rule uses volunteers for cleanup drive

Volunteers are needed to meet at Rule City Hall at 5 p.m. today (Thursday) and join in a concerted effort to haul off tree trimmings, trash (not picked up by the City), abandoned appliances, etc., and to help in clearing overgrown lots.

Anyone who has a pickup, trailer, chain saw, mower, hoe, rake, etc., is encouraged to assist in the effort.

The Rule City Council and the Rule Chamber of Commerce have designated the second and fourth Thursday of each month as "Community Cleanup Day."

Anyone with a "job request" may call City Hall at 997-2214. The information given will be used as a guideline for the work to be done on the next second or fourth Thursday of that month.

But officials point out that the number of volunteers showing up on Thursday evenings from 5 to 8 will determine the amount of work and how soon it will be performed.

There's still time for college classes

Late registration for summer courses at the Haskell extension center of Western Texas College is underway and will continue through Wednesday, May 31.

Classes will begin May 31 and run through July 27. All classes meet during evening hours.

Information about the Haskell extension center may be obtained by calling Bill Blakley at 864-2949.

Cancer can be beat! Give to the American Cancer Society.

Rule graduation is June 2

Rule High School will award diplomas to 12 seniors Friday, June 2.

Commencement will begin at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Baccalaureate will be Monday evening, May 29, at 8 in the high school auditorium. Pastor Mell Swoyer of the Sagerton Lutheran Church will deliver the sermon.

Guest speaker at commencement will be U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm.

The valedictory address will be given by Wes Pierce, son of Glen and Helen Pierce. His grade average was 95.58.

Salutatorian of the graduating class is Kevin Saffel, son of Kenneth and Joyce Saffel. His grade average was 91.21.

Diplomas will be presented by Patrick Pace, School Board president.

Graduating seniors are Cheryl Butler, Kimberly Diers, Yolanda Garcia, Donald Kreger, Kathleen Kutch, Jackie Martin, Connie Perez, Wes Pierce, Angela Rhoads, Kevin Saffel, Chad Stulir and Shanna Tibbets.

Bass tournament winners named

Charles Andress was first-place winner in the Haskell Bass Club's monthly tournament held May 13-14 at Hubbard Creek. His catch was 7.19 pounds.

Second place went to Bobby Weaver of Breckenridge with 5.14 pounds and third place to Johnny Isbell with 4.5 pounds.

Several club members participated last weekend in the KEAN Bass Tournament.

HASKELL, TEXAS 79521, May 25, 1989

Julie Roewe leaves her mark at Western

By Aline Parks
Publicity Director
Western Texas College
SNYDER---Julie Roewe of Haskell came to Western Texas College in the fall of 1987 to play basketball and begin her college career. Or was it to begin her college career while she played basketball?

She did both very well, and in her two years at WTC she earned recognition from her instructors, other students and Coach Kelly Chadwick who had recruited her for the Lady Dusters and given her a basketball scholarship. She ended her career at WTC on May 12 when she received the Associate in Arts degree. She was graduated with highest honors with a grade-point average of 3.91, just short of the perfect 4.0.

Julie said she chose WTC over other colleges because she had heard good things about the basketball program and that the academic standards assured transfer of college credit to four-year institutions. It was also nearer to home than some other schools.

Julie's hard work in the classroom put her on honors lists each semester at WTC, no easy task for athletes who must make up for time away from the classroom due to sports activities. She was named WTC's "Outstanding Female Student" at the April Awards Day program, a selection made by members of the Faculty Association. At the same program, she was recognized as the "Outstanding Academic Athlete," the "Outstanding Women's Athletics Student" and an "Outstanding Chemistry Student."

Earlier in the year she had been chosen for "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges," one of 26 students selected this year by a faculty-student committee. Her academic standing made her eligible for membership in Phi Theta Kappa, national honor fraternity.

Students honored Julie by choosing her "Miss Western Texas College" for 1988-89. The presentation of Miss WTC and Mr. WTC is the highlight of the spring formal each year and the 12 nominees are introduced as "Campus Favorites" before the title winners are named.

Julie also served as vice president of the campus chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for the 1988-89 school year.

Snyder has a dedicated corps of basketball fans and they grew increasingly enthusiastic as WTC's Lady Dusters moved toward a spot in the National Junior College Athletic Association's national tournament in March. Julie was captain of the team this season and a favorite with the fans.

The Dusters played well at the national tournament, held in Tyler, and many fans made the trip with them. Radio station KSNY in Snyder broadcast their games for those who couldn't go. The Dusters finished eighth at the tournament and got an enthusiastic welcome upon their return to Snyder.

Coach Chadwick praised Julie as "one of the top defensive players I've ever had" at the annual college sports banquet held April 30. Another Duster, Nickey Allen of Amarillo, was recognized for having been selected an NJCAA all-American and a Kodak all-American.

Chadwick went on to describe all the sophomores on the team as "intelligent, dedicated... everything a coach wants his players to be. They are winners."

Julie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Roewe of Haskell, became familiar faces in Snyder as they came on several occasions to see their daughter receive recognition.

Julie plans to continue her education at the University of Texas at Arlington this fall, pursuing a career in physical therapy.

Everybody at WTC wishes Julie good luck as she moves up to the university level. She will be missed, but it's the kind of parting that has got to be good. The fans will be hoping that the Lady Duster who gets Julie's No. 14 jersey for the 1989-90 basketball season will be another outstanding player.

But, there won't be another Julie.

Baseball team opens with a win

The Haskell Senior League team opened its baseball season Sunday afternoon by winning, 8-2, over Stamford.

Jason Torres pitched the entire game, giving up two infield hits enroute to the victory.

The big hit in the game was by Lee Decker in the first inning with the bases loaded when the left fielder misjudged a line drive, enabling all three runners to score. Raul Chavez made the defensive plays of the game.

The senior league, made up of boys 13-15 years old, includes teams from Anson, Aspermont, Knox City, Rule-Rochester, Stamford and Haskell.

Games are played on Tuesday and Friday nights.

We want to thank our wonderful friends and family for the love and caring shown to us while I was in Humana Hospital in Abilene and after I came home. Especially do we thank Dr. Joe, our own hospital staff and our Emergency Medical Service and our minister, Dusty Garison for being here for us so quickly. The cards, calls, visits, and food were deeply appreciated. God heard all our prayers and He has been with us all the way.

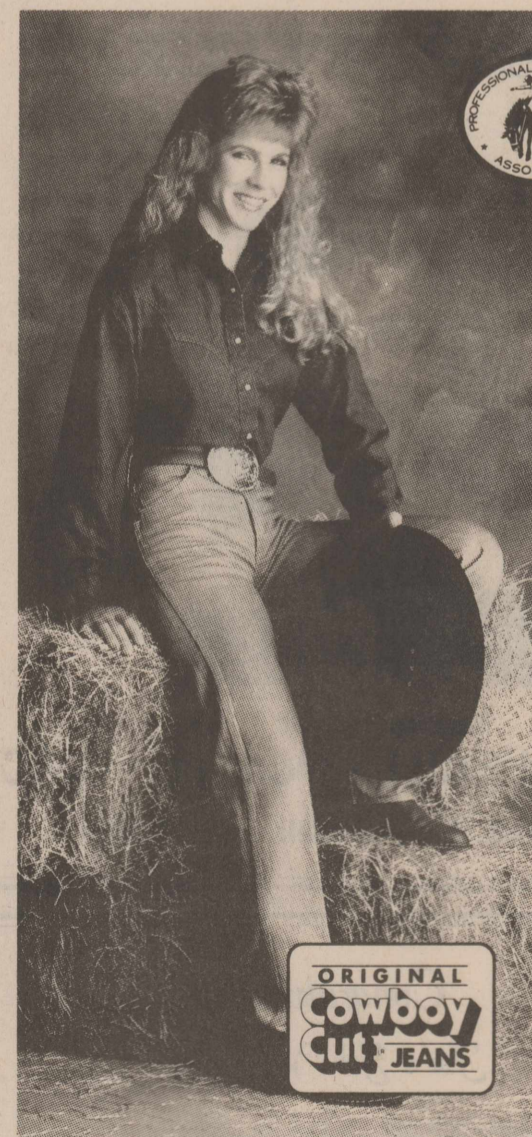

Our love to each of you,

Roofing Hints From Bob Wood Construction

By far one of the most exciting offerings in new roofing materials is laminated or "architectural-grade" fiberglass shingles. The extra-thick tabs and slightly curved edges of Celotex's Presidential Shake give it the look of hand-split wood shakes, and it comes with a 35-year warranty.

LONG-LASTING ROOF MATERIALS

TYPE OF MATERIAL	APPLICATIONS OVER 30 YEARS	COST OVER 30 YEARS	COST PER YEAR	LIFE EXPECTANCY (YEARS)
Fiberglass shingles, single-layer	2	$5,700	$190	20
Fiberglass shingles, laminated	1	$2,500	$83	30
Cedar shingles	2*	$23,000	$767	20
Cedar shakes	2*	$8,000	$267	30
Cement-asbestos shingles	1	$7,000	$233	50
Cement-fiber shingles	1	$8,000	$267	50
Cement tile	1	$7,000	$233	70
Clay tile	1	$7,000	$233	100
Slate	1	$15,000	$500	100
Copper, flat, standing seam	1	$10,500	$350	100
Terne metal	1	$9,000	$300	50+
Terne-coated stainless (TCS)	1	$14,750	$491	75
Steel tile, aggregate-coated	1	$7,600	$253	40

Longer-Lasting Shingles

Laminated fiberglass shingles: New dimensional roofing shingles can have such a dramatic impact on the overall appearance of a house, it's no wonder they are by far the most popular of the upscale roofing materials. These premium composition shingles project deep shadows and are available in a wide choice of colors and styles. When installed, some resemble cedar or slate.

Double-ply or laminated dimensional shingles weigh about 300 pounds/square. They have a Class A fire rating, the same as slate. For best results, laminated shingles are installed over felt-covered sheathing. But they also can be laid over a single-layer of standard composition shingles providing the sheathing is not rotted and the old shingles are not curled or missing in places. Installing the thicker laminated shingles over more than one layer of standard composition shingles would add too much weight to the roof and in many places is counter to the building code.

Extend Your Roof's Life

Follow these tips to avoid premature failure of your roof:

Don't walk on the roof any more than necessary. When you do, wear soft-soled shoes and walk lightly. Ensure superior ventilation by installing ridge and soffit vents. In winter, the ventilation prevents condensation from forming on the underside of the roof sheathing. In summer, it reduces the temperature of roof and sheathing.

To reduce the likelihood of ice dams (notorious for causing leaks and damaging roofing materials), increase attic insulation, but be sure to leave soffit vents uncovered. When reroofing, you can apply a self-sealing, bituminous flashing to the sheathing at the eaves.

Hose down the roof at least once every spring and fall to remove accumulated pine needles, dirt, leaves and small branches - each a small dam for water. Pay special attention to a sunless, north-facing roof because of the increased risk of freezing. You also should remove tree branches that extend over the roof. Tree sap can cause asphalt to bubble and can damage the paint on a metal roof.

Awards program recognizes students

The Haskell Secondary School academic awards program, conducted by members of the National Honor Society, was May 18.

This program recognized students for their endeavors in a variety of academic areas.

The two students with the highest average in each grade received certificates and medals.

They are grade 7: Richard Collins and Cynthia Halliburton; grade 8: Mark Jones and Marsha Moore; grade 9: Chris Tanner and Deanna Scheets; grade 10: Sheila Unger and Rusty Stocks; grade 11: Davis Chapman and Kyle Darden; grade 12: Joy McKeever and Loutina Hadaway.

The American Legion Citizenship Awards were presented by David Davis to seniors Bobby Medford and Dalyn Gilly and to eighth graders Mark Jones and Cindy Henry. Also announced were Boys State Nominees James Rike, Kyle Darden and Davis Chapman.

Nancy Plunkett of the American Legion Ladies Auxiliary announced the Girls State Delegate, Marty Trussell, and Holly Reed, alternate.

Sgt. Waite of the U. S. Army presented the National Scholar/Athlete Award to Chan Guess and Joy McKeever.

The Governor's Award for Academic Excellence also went to Joy McKeever.

Sonya Clayton of Region XIV Education Service Center presented Penny Peden with a certificate and a $75 cash award for her second place entry in the Vocational Equity Poster contest.

UIL Scholar/Athlete Awards were given to Loutina Hadaway, Gina Turnbow and Joy McKeever.

Fire Prevention trophies from the Mid-West Texas Fireman's Association were won by Holly Reed, first; Chad Gibson, second; and James Rike, third.

Principals awards for perfect attendance were accepted by Kim Gilly, Tommy Butler, Eugene Butler, Erik Harvey, Kenneth Billington, Will Duniven, Shawn Sanford and Kevin Grand.

Qualifying for Presidential Academic Fitness awards were eighth graders: Marsha Moore, Brooke

Baker, Stacey Martin, Mark Jones, Nichole Cothron, Holly Hobgood, Brad Lane, Sunny Lindsey, Shana McKenzie, Sarah Mullen and Erika Kilgore.

Twirlers

Twirlers for the Haskell Indian Band for next year will be Julie Nanny, left, and Holly Reed. Both will be seniors.

-Hobby Club-

The Rochester Hobby Club met May 6 in the bank building with 13 members present.

Annie Marshall, hostess, served old-fashion apricot fried pies as dessert after the club ate hamburgers at Sharon's cafe.

The threatening clouds caused an early dismissal. The club is to meet May 23 as a make-up day.

Ida Pack is to be hostess for the next regular meeting June 6. Club members need to bring a brown bag lunch.

New members and visitors are always welcome.

Traci Fry on Dean's List

Traci Fry of Rochester, senior English and news editorial education major at Abilene Christian University, has made the Dean's List for the spring 1989 semester with a grade-point average of 3.833. Her cumulative g.p.a. is 3.495.

Fry will complete her degree with 10 hours next fall and nine hours of student teaching in the spring of 1990.

Memorial Day

Memorial Day, we'll never forget.

Words do not change history. Merely wishing never resulted in action. In short, talk is cheap.
 The deeds and sacrifices of its citizens is the "stuff" nations are made of.
 On Memorial Day, we as a nation pause to honor a special group of citizens. They did not shirk from duty. They may have wished, but they also acted. And we as a nation are forever in their debt.
 They made the ultimate sacrifice. They died so we could breathe free.
 Memorial Day, lest we forget, is when we humbly say thank you to those whose deeds must never be forgotten.

AT&T MultiQuestSM Service

AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc., (AT&T) announces its intent to introduce within Texas on July 14, 1989, AT&T MultiQuest Service, a new interactive 900-type telephone service. Since February 19, 1989, this innovative service has been available to Texas businesses only on an interstate basis. With AT&T MultiQuest Service, Texas business customers (otherwise known as sponsors) may offer value-added information services to callers originating long distance calls from Texas or elsewhere in the United States over AT&T's public switched network. A Texas caller, accessing the service by dialing the sponsor's 1-900 plus seven-digit number, can obtain recorded and/or live information by communicating with attendants, voice messaging equipment and computer data bases. Flat-rate, time sensitive usage charges will be billed to the caller for the sponsor's service.

AT&T is offering AT&T MultiQuest Service within Texas in response to requests by its business customers for a service that offers intrastate as well as nationwide interactive voice & data transport capability. Potential sponsors include entrepreneurial companies entering into new ventures that are information intensive, local mass announcement sponsors who want statewide as well as national coverage coupled with interactive capability and other information service providers.

The Texas intrastate AT&T MultiQuest Service will be tarified as an "add-on" offering to a sponsor's existing interstate AT&T MultiQuest Service. The intrastate AT&T MultiQuest Service costs will be recovered from sponsor usage charges set forth in AT&T's intrastate tariffs. The usage charges billed to the caller are determined by the sponsor as appropriate to the service being offered and are not tarified charges.

For more information about AT&T MultiQuest Service please call your AT&T Account Executive or AT&T's business consultants toll free on 1 (800) 552-0212. They can answer your questions regarding this service and how it can be of benefit to you.

AT&T intends to file a tariff to offer this service with the Public Utility Commission of Texas on June 13, 1989, effective July 14, 1989. Persons who have questions regarding this tariff filing may contact the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf, or write to them at 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757.

Intrastate AT&T MultiQuest Service is projected to generate $1.1 million in the first year of its offering or .1% of AT&T's total gross service revenues in Texas.

Band gives awards at annual concert

Haskell High School hosted its annual spring band concert May 18 in the high school gymnasium.

Three bands, the fifth and sixth grade beginning band, the seventh grade band and the high school band, entertained the audience under the direction of Ron Chapman.

Awards also were presented to outstanding band students.

The Outstanding Bandsman of the Year was awarded to Susan Jarred. The Arion award was presented to Missy Phemister by the Lion's Club and Eric Harvey was given the Director's award.

Ten students were recognized for their outstanding participation in band. They included Brooke Baker, Nichole Cothran, Michelle Espinoza, Holly Hobgood, Susan Jarred, Carlos Mendoza, Missy Phemister, Joseph Rodriguez, Shawn Sanford and Bonnie Silvas.

Softball players plan work night

The Haskell Softball League will have a work night tonight (Thursday) to get the field ready for league play which begins next Tuesday.

Every team should be represented at the work night.

Rochester Tumblers compete in Abilene meet is Friday

Ten Rochester High School seniors will be awarded diplomas Friday, May 26, at 7 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Speaker will be Doug Gore, a former teacher and coach at Rochester. Valedictory address will be delivered by top-ranking student, Patricia Andrada. She is the daughter of Bafilio Andrada and Olivia Garcia of Wichita Falls.

The salutatorian is Morgen Walker. He is the son of Tom and Judy Walker.

Seniors include Patricia Andrada, Karyn Brown, Wayne Hester, Maxine Martin, Faye Mullino, Robert Ortiz, Craig Rogers, Ruben Salinas, Denny Tibbets and Morgen Walker.

Foreclosures

Gains from farm foreclosures or repossessions are taxable. Free IRS Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," discusses the details. Call 1-800-424-3676 to get it!

The Haskell Lone Star Tumblers traveled to Abilene May 20 for the State Championship Tumbling and Trampoline Meet.

Each ability level and age group was divided into several flights of competition.

The Lone Stars brought home several flight wins and one state championship.

The first place flight winners competing in ability 1B (6 & 7 year olds) were Reena Harris, Selina Salinas and Jodi Thigpen.

In ability 1B (6 & 7 year olds) the first place winner was Casey Larned. He was the state champion for his age group and ability.

Other first place flight winners were Kira Poteet and Hilee Mulligan participating in ability 2A (6 & 7 year olds).

Wesley Lefevre won first place in ability 3A (8 & 9 year olds), and Shanna Murphy was a first place flight winner in ability 3A (12 & 13).

Second place flight winners include Maggie Brzozowski and Breanna Marquis in ability 1B (2 & 3 year olds); Kelli Moeller, 1B (6 & 7); Nikki Wallace, 3A (4 & 5); and Chris McSmith, 3A (8 & 9).

Morgan Cox and Bergan Peiser placed third in ability 1B (4 & 5 year olds).

In ability 2A (6 & 7 year olds), Jenny Brzozowski won fourth place in her flight.

Fifth place flight winners were Jennifer Andress in ability 2A (8 & 9 year olds); Breann Peiser, 2B (8 & 9); and Lane Murphy, 3A (4 & 5).

Nacole Lezfevre placed seventh in ability 2A (12 & 13 year olds).

The team missed Kevin McSmith who was unable to attend due to illness.

Taxicab Fuel Refund Or Credit

The 4-cents per gallon credit or refund for motor fuel excise taxes for qualified taxicabs was extended to September 30, 1988. See IRS Publication 510, "Excise Taxes for 1989."

Morgen Walker gets scholarship

Rochester senior Morgen Walker has received an $8,000 academic Honors Scholarship at Howard Payne University in Brownwood.

As salutatorian of his graduating class, he also will receive an $800 scholarship.

Morgen plans to major in math and participate on the tennis team. He is the son of Tom and Judy Walker.

Farmers and Ranchers

There are a number of topics of interest available to you on the IRS "Tele-Tax" automated telephone system. Check for "Tele-Tax" numbers in your tax return package.

Mrs. Meir has most visitors present

Mrs. Vela Meier of Teakwood Manor in Stamford received honors recently at the annual mother-daughter banquet at Faith Lutheran Church in Sagerton.

She was awarded for having the largest number of daughters, daughter-in-laws and granddaughters present.

Those attending were Eunice Koehler, her daughter Karen Crim and daughters, Courtney and Mikah from Abilene; Rhonda Carter and Dusty also from Abilene; Malinda Bryan and Jason from Stamford.

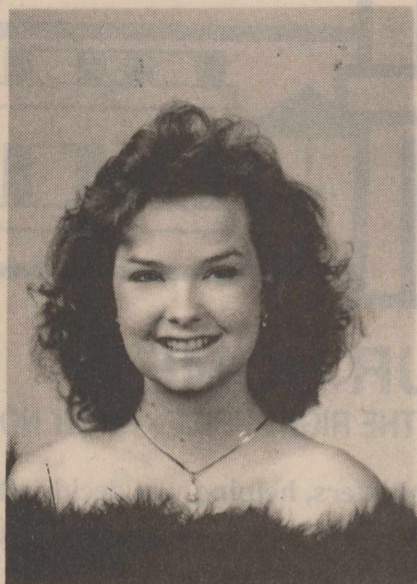

Bernice Vahlenkamp from Old

By Gladys O'Neal

This will be my last article until fall.

I thought I would write about zinnias, which is a nice summer flower. They are simple to grow, as long as they get plenty of sun.

Zinnias are ideal for either bedding plants or cut flowers. They are excellent for cut flowers because they last a long time without shedding their petals.

If you need long unbranched stems, remove the side branches as they grow. This will give you larger flowers. If they grow as tall as 24 inches, they need to be staked.

Now is a good time to plant zinnias for all summer blooming.

Choose a well drained sunny place. Cover the bed with a two-inch layer of organic matter, such as compost, sphagnum, peat moss or composted manure. Then turn it into the soil.

Level the area with a garden rake and scatter the seeds across it. Then drag the rake lightly across the soil so the seeds will be slightly covered.

Water very gently and the seeds should be up in a week.

Next, thin them and transplant wherever you wish. You will have plenty to share with a friend and it is so nice to share our garden flowers with our friends.

Now I have found with mine every year, I have a leaf disease. They like it hot and dry. Rainwater splashing on the leaves encourages bacterial leaf spot. It is best to avoid watering with overhead sprinklers; use a soaker instead.

Sometimes a powdery mildew will appear looking like white powder. Spray with a good garden flower spray, such as Fungi-Gard, Daconil 2787 on some other you may have.

Here is a formula for preserving your cut flowers: mix one quart of water that is 100 degrees with two tablespoons of white distilled vinegar and four teaspoons cane sugar.

Another formula is one teaspoon household bleach, one teaspoon sugar to one quart water.

The bleach and vinegar kills off microorganisms which induce rot; sugar acts as a food. Small amounts of charcoal, salt, ammonia or camphor added to water will give flowers a longer life. Do not use charcoal that you barbecue with, use horticulture charcoal.

I hope you all have a happy, healthy summer. Enjoy your flowers! Remember to share.

Two receive McMurry awards

Two Haskell County students have been named to receive Presidential scholarships at McMurry College for the coming school year.

They are Cheryl Marie Butler of Rule and Morgan Geoffrey Walker of Rochester.

To be eligible for a Presidential scholarship at McMurry, a student must graduate in the top quarter of his/her high school class. A score of 21 or better on the ACT qualifies a recipient for additional Presidential scholarship funds.

Miss Butler is a 1989 graduate of Rule High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Butler.

Walker, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walker, is a 1989 graduate of Rochester High School.

Haskell native heads NM refuge expansion

(Phil Norton is the son of native Haskell residents Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Norton. He is the son-in-law of Pauline Couch. He and his wife, Pamela, are both Haskell High School graduates. They live in Socorro, N.M. They have two children, Whitney, a third-year student at the University of Arkansas, and Erin, a freshman at New Mexico State University.)

By Nancy Harbert
Albuquerque Journal
Phil Norton spent nearly 20 years training to be the manager of Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge. The 47-year-old Texas native might not have known it, but the time he spent in a suit and tie behind a desk in cities from Phoenix to Washington, D.C., provided him the knowledge he needed to get the central New Mexico bird sanctuary back on a survival tract.

When Norton took over as refuge manager more than two years ago, the bosque was on its way to a steady, slow extinction. Years of silt buildup had clogged drainage ditches, preventing proper water flow through the soil. This blockage caused an increase in the soil's sodium content, making it difficult to grow plants beneficial to migrating birds. Salt cedar, the scourge of the desert, proliferated.

"When I first started, we'd pull out beaver dams every morning from the ditches," Norton said. "Because of a lack of funds and manpower, the refuge had quit working."

A misconception, and one that has hampered conservation efforts, is that the bosque is a natural habitat for birds migrating from Canada to Mexico. The refuge also serves as the destination for wintering snow geese, sandhill cranes and a handful of whooping cranes.

would become a salt cedar thicket in a few years," Norton said.

When he took over as manager, only three employees were charged with maintaining 57,000 acres of sprawling marshland along the Rio Grande nine miles south of San Antonio.

"Our equipment--bulldozers, backhoes, road graders--was handed down; someone else had worn it out before giving it to us," he said.

Norton was able to obtain funds through channels he had learned about during his years working for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Phoenix, Washington and Denver. This service, an arm of the Department of Interior, manages 450 refuges throughout the country.

He added seven employees to the refuge's maintenance crew and utilized state funds and federal personnel to clean up the 13-mile long interior drain that runs the length of the refuge. He even procured new machinery.

The Bosque del Apache refuge was established in 1939 as a migratory area for waterfowl. An encroaching civilization and depletion of natural water sources due to increased irrigation for farming were reducing natural feeding grounds of migrating birds. The Civilian Conservation Corps built the adobe headquarters during a two-year period.

Instead of regulating the bosque by maintaining wintering roost sites, mowing plants in the summer and flooding in the fall, Norton and his crew are concentrating on year-round management.

They are re-designing the water delivery system and rebuilding screw gates that control where the diverted water flows. A major effort is being made to keep water coursing through the bosque. This prevents stagnant water and sodium buildup and encourages the growth of plants with wildlife value, such as sedges and bulrushes.

In an effort to control the salt cedar invasion, a new chemical herbicide was sprayed in 1987 over 100 acres of thickets. Forty cottonwood trees were planted in their place.

Currently, the refuge leases 1,300 acres at its north end to three farmers who agree to plant one-fourth of the land in corn, which is used as feed for migrating birds. The remaining acres are planted in alfalfa, a money-making crop for the farmers.

During the past year, Norton said, the refuge began experimenting with planting other crops on an additional 100 acres. Corn, millet, yellow nutgrass and winter wheat replaced alfalfa. The refuge has purchased some farm machinery and Norton would like to lessen its dependency on farmers.

In addition to providing more complete nutrition to the traditional geese and cranes, these new crops would attract a wider diversity of birds.

"The bosque has been a two-dimensionally managed refuge," he said. "It's been a crane and geese magnet. If anything else came here, that's fine, but it hasn't been geared for that."

Norton, who favors providing more public access at the refuge, said he wants to broaden management goals to attract shore, marsh and wading birds. By creating a nesting ground for marsh and wading birds such as herons, egrets, cormorants, avocets and stilts, the refuge would be more attractive to summertime visitors. More than 1,000 of these wading birds visit the refuge during summer months along with about 130 Canada geese. White pelicans are found in spring and fall. The bosque also supports a thriving flock of wild turkeys and a herd of mule deer.

Currently, about 100,000 people visit the refuge each year, mostly during winter months.

Norton, soft-spoken and amiable, doesn't like to take credit for the refuge's new direction. He remembers what it was like when past bosses enjoyed the limelight for successful programs.

Norton also remembers warm, sunny days spent in an artificially cooled office, learning how to become a bureaucrat. And he also recalls that when he was in college at Texas Tech University, he often envisioned managing a refuge just like the Bosque del Apache.

Hobby Club works on quilt

Sagerton Hobby Club met May 18 for a salad luncheon at the Community Center with hostess Dorothy Toney to work on the bazaar quilt.

Club members cut and sewed and accomplished a great deal of work.

Those attending were Joyce LeFevre, Christine Strammel, Wilma Teichelman, Margaret Wendeborn, Mrs. M. Y. Benton, Margie Hertel, Ev Ulmer, Velma Lou Lammert and Aline Summers.

Men that came for the noon luncheon were Bill Hertel, Johnny Teichelman, Herbert Lammert, Herbert Strammel, F. A. Ulmer and Delbert LeFevre.

The next meeting will be with Ev Ulmer and members will continue to work on the quilt.

McMurry to offer reading

The McMurry College Department of Education will conduct a summer reading program for 5- and 6-year-old children beginning June 5 and continuing through June 29.

Classes, under the direction of McMurry education professor Dr. Ann Cook, will be held each Monday through Thursday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. on the McMurry campus.

The daily program will be made up of extensive language development activities, such as story hour, puppets, flannelboard stories, songs, fingerplays, field trips and chart stories. Reading, readiness, color shape and some number readiness activities also will be included.

Registration fee is $40. Parents may register their children by contacting the McMurry College Education Department at (915) 691-6369 or 691-6257. Registration is on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Memorial Day

By Martin Frost
U.S. Representative

On the 30th of this month, we will celebrate Memorial Day.

Many of us can vividly remember photos that we have seen from time to time, and one of the most memorable photos would be of a massive crowd in Times Square of New York City, jubilant that World War II was over. Life magazine captured for posterity the photograph of a sailor and a young woman kissing in celebration of the occasion.

The nation was elated, and we vowed to always remember not only what had been won, but what had been lost in the winning.

Still we're only human. The brilliance of patriotism from that and other similar moments fades, particularly between conflicts. The significance of the heroism and hardships, the valor and sacrifices, sometimes becomes remote. And, we forget the protectors. Millions of people today don't have the slightest notion of what our veterans did to deserve our nation's respect and gratitude.

It has been 14 years since the fall of Saigon, almost 36 years since the ceasefire in Korea, more than 43 years since the end of World War II and 71 years since World War I. The further we leave war behind, the more our memories of those who fought them are shadowed. But, we must not allow the significance of their deeds to pale against the backdrop of time and apathy.

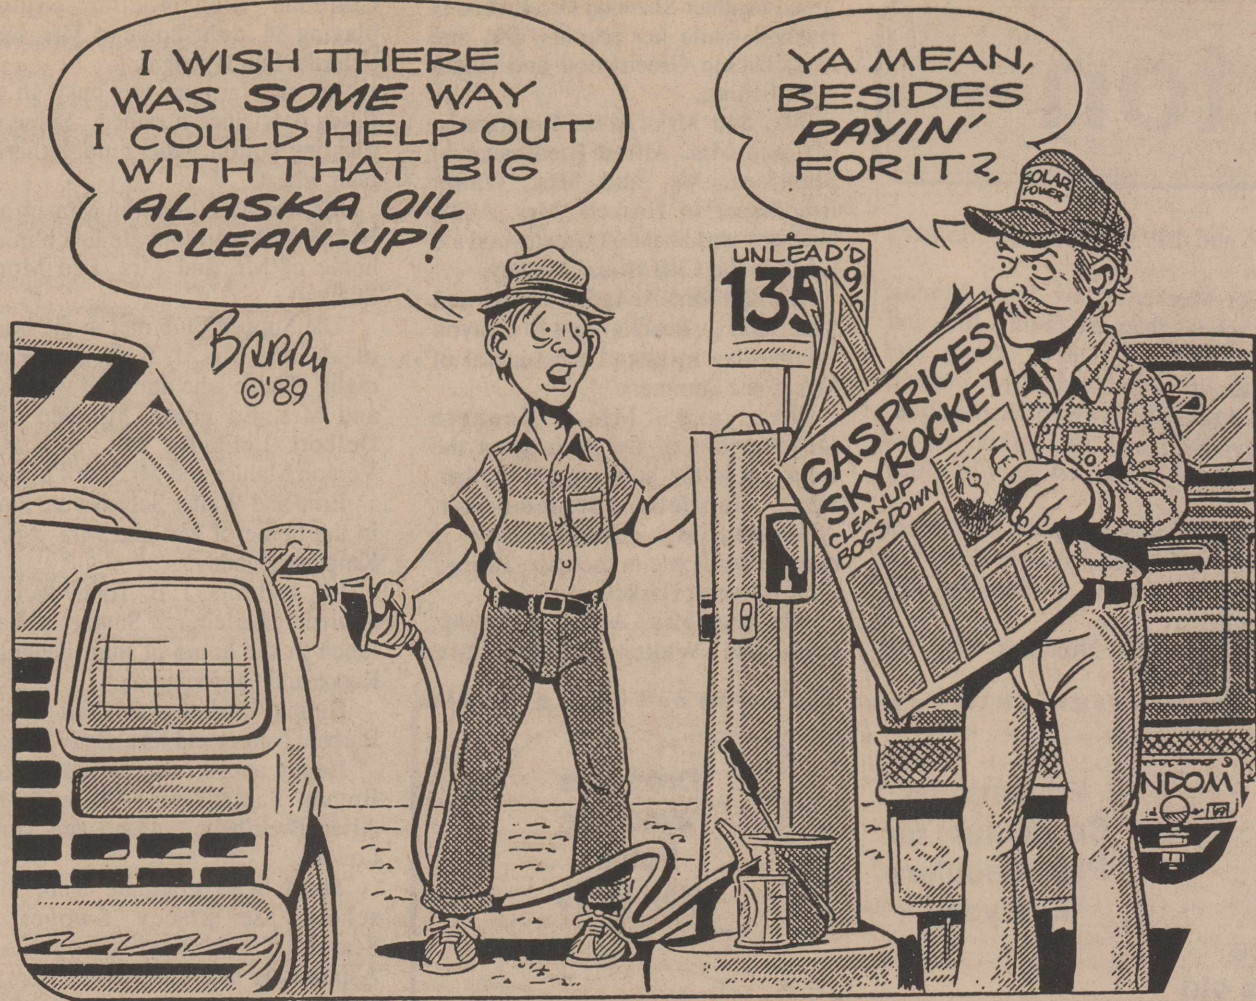

Those who answered a call to arms did so not to conquer and control other people nor to annex their lands. They did not seek glory. That is not what the struggle has been about.

They marched behind the most resplendent banner, the most glorious cause... freedom. That is what our children must be taught, and they must be made to understand that the task lies unfinished. What has been secured with the lives of hundreds of thousands and the blood of millions is fragile, and the surest way to lose it is to forget or ignore its true architects.

That is why we set aside special days and observances... to rearrange priorities that might have been shuffled, to re-affirm our determination as a free citizenry, and to remember those upon whose shoulders the burden of our struggles has been heaviest. We honor those who braved the bitter storms of war and those who fell as they advanced against the winds of aggression and tyranny. The fallen are still with us. They hover in our collective memory and live in each right that we enjoy. To forget their sacrifices is to render their legacy to so much earth and ash.

Remember the store clerk, the farmer and the professional--when they were through, there was peace. And yes, remember the rows of flag-draped coffins and those who never returned. Through their deeds, Freedom continues to grow strong.

Remember the store clerk, the farmer and the professional--when they were through, there was peace. And yes, remember the rows of flag-draped coffins and those who never returned. Through their deeds, Freedom continues to grow strong.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

Politicians learned long ago that one of the best ways to get publicity is to make an announcement.

So they started announcing. And then they began to announce that they were going to announce.

It sounds kinda silly, and maybe it is, but that's the way it is.

State Treasurer Ann Richards has been announcing for at least a year that she is going to announce as a candidate for governor. Last week, she got more specific. She announced that she is going to announce June 10.

Now, Secretary of State Jack Rains comes up with an increment announcement. He announced that he is 95 percent sure he is going to announce as a candidate for governor.

Perhaps that means that when he is 96 percent sure, another announcement of an upcoming announcement will be forthcoming.

When he was a candidate, this guy Bush talked like a Texan: "Read my lips."

But now as a White House occupant, he answers questions in Latin: "No quid pro quo."

Police in a Fort Worth suburb had a field day the other day.

They lured a bunch of ticket holders to a trap by sending them letters saying they had won contest prizes.

Needless to say, a lot of the respondents were furious. One guy who was mistakenly lured (it was his son the police wanted) demanded that the police pay him his cash prize. That seems to be a fair request.

Writing in the Dallas Morning News, an educator questions the wisdom of a Texas Senate vote to raise the compulsory school attendance age to 17.

Elizabeth M. Willingham, a former English and foreign language teacher who is now working toward her Ph.D. at UT-Austin, says that such a law will further complicate the condition of the "mortally ill" education system.

Instead of raising the compulsory age, she recommends that it be lowered to 15--or even 14.

Some kids are just born to be dropouts, she reasons. They disrupt schools, and play havoc with the system. "Students who use school as a forum for misbehavior and those who have broken certain laws should not only be allowed to drop out, they should lose their right to enter a public school," says Willingham.

She goes on: "Imagine a reluctant scholar. Let him run loose, give him a joint to smoke or a spot of inhalant to sniff. Now see that he's home on time; change his mind about something; convince him he's acting like a fool, demand that he abandon his bad friends; make him do his research paper; force him to get to school on time; order him to behave while he's there and to stay there. Put him beside your honor-student daughter or your struggling C-average son in English class. Turn to Chaucer.

"This kid is not going to please the school or his folks or the state. He's not going to bend to authority at school or to love learning. He will get the school and the state to bend over backward for him. What he likes at school is his audience. To assert that a simplistic age requirement will cure what ails him puts off a true solution and consigns public schools to greater misery and loss of quality.

"In Texas, convicted felons and others convicted of misdemeanors ranging from chronic truancy and petty theft to possession of illegal weapons and small amounts of drugs are sitting in classrooms alongside various degrees of innocence. Why should school continue to be a right--or a prop---for a person who has declared his independence from society?"

Willingham also recommends that we legalize the hiring of 14-year-olds as workers in certain kinds of jobs, such as stocking, loading, sacking, restaurant jobs, nursery work, farm, zoo and veterinary fields, and lower the minimum age for the general equivalency degree. "In a job," she says, "a kid can develop the maturity and responsibility that school, parents and senators cannot give him. Let's see if real life can work where school hasn't."

Col. Ed S. Graham, founder of the town of Graham in Young County, died last week at Spokane, Wash., and the body was returned to Graham for burial. Graham was a large owner of western lands and has been active in developing and settling western Texas.

Miss Allie Frost left Thursday for Henrietta, accompanying Mrs. L. W. Roberts, and they will spend several weeks there visiting friends.

W. H. Wood of the southwest part of the county received a patented incubator last week, and is going into the chicken business in a big way.

Miss Una Foster arrived home Tuesday from Rome, Ga., where she has been attending college.

George Maloney, who has been absent some time on a trading expedition into Louisiana, got home Tuesday. We learn his venture was successful.

It is said that the wool clip is turning out exceptionally heavy this spring. Some individual fleeces are reported as weighing as high as 15 pounds.

Burwell Cox has purchased the Hammer place from S. L. Robertson at a consideration of $750.

Jud S. Jones left Monday for Oklahoma Territory where he plans to go into business.

The young people were pleasantly entertained at the home of T. J. Wilbourn Tuesday night.

About Julie

Editor: Julie Roewe won just about every honor given to students at Western Texas College during her two years here. It is not often that one student earns so many honors.

While Julie has been at WTC, I have sent your newspaper many stories about her and have been pleased to see them appear in print. I am now sending the last story I will write about her as a WTC student and now a graduate. Please feel free to use it or edit it to better fit your situation.

We really have been fortunate to have had this outstanding young lady. I talked to Coach Chadwick a minute yesterday and asked him if there was anything else in particular he would like to say about her. "She's just a fine young lady," he said, and we agreed that her record speaks so well for her accomplishments that there's no more to be said.

Thanks for all your cooperation.

Band students

Editor: This year two seventh-grade students deserve recognition for performing in the Haskell High School band.

Robert Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Huff, and Andy Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Martin, are the only seventh graders in the high school band. Because there were no trombone players in the high school band, Mr. Chapman and Mr. McCoy asked Robert and Andy if they would help out and play their instruments in the high school band.

Even though both young men had to give up their own seventh-grade band, change classes to suit the new schedule and adjust to harder music and new faces, the boys did just that.

In the concert May 18, Achievement awards were given to those who were outstanding band members. The Band Booster Club would like to recognize Robert and Andy for doing more than they had to and making the high school band more complete.

Sandy Sanford
President
Band Boosters

Thanks

Editor: The Haskell Horse Club would like to express our gratitude to all the businesses, individuals and club members who donated time, goods and services for the Haskell Rodeo.

A hearty thanks to the following: Indian Drive-In, Olney Savings, Abe Turner, A. B. McDonald and Gwen Butler.

Education

Editor: As we approach the end of the 71st session of the Texas Legislature, more than 3 million Texas school children and a quarter of a million educators are patiently awaiting the answer to a common question: Will the Texas Legislature finally realize that education in Texas is in trouble, and the time to make the necessary financial commitment to quality education is now, not the next biennium or next century?

Why is it that Texas, a state ranked No. 1 out of 50 in state pride, pays its teachers a below-national average salary? Why is it that Texas currently ranks 38 out of the 50 states in what it spends from state coffers on education? Why is it that when the legislature does pass something of significance for education, it relies on the already severely overburdened local property tax system to pay for it?

The 50,000-member Association of Texas Professional Educator firmly believes that education is the most important commitment Texas will ever make to its citizens. Even more than a commitment, ATPE believes that education is an investment, and the rate of investment return depends on the wisdom used to make the investment and the resources dedicated.

We have a strong heritage of commitment to public education in Texas, but apparently that commitment doesn't extend beyond the ballot box. Isn't it time to quit talking and start funding? Isn't it time to begin paying more than just lip service to education?

There are more than 3 million school children and a quarter of a million educators patiently awaiting an answer.

Patty Ruth
President
Association of Texas
Professional Educators

Soldier completes infantry training

Pvt. Stephon Brockington has completed training at the U.S. Army Infantry School in Fort Benning, Ga.

During the course, students received training which qualified them as light weapons infantrymen and as indirect fire crewmen in a rifle or mortar squad.

Instruction included weapons qualifications, tactics, patrolling, land mine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

Brockington, who is now stationed in Hawaii, was an outstanding athlete at Haskell High School, from where he graduated in 1988. He was a running back and wide receiver on the Indian football team and was the state 200-meter dash champion. He played football last fall for Ranger Junior College.

Brockington is the grandson of Henrietta Ray of Haskell.

Child Welfare Board

The Haskell County Child Welfare Board met in regular session May 16 in the jury room.

Chairman Brian Burgess called the meeting to order and led in prayer. Seven members, including two new ones, Billie McKeever and Kim Nemir were present. Linda Haynes, CPS, was also present.

Sue Miller, treasurer, reported the Haskell Clinic had been paid and gasoline had been purchased for a family to go for counseling. There was a donation of $10.

A letter of resignation was received from Mary Jennings since she is not eligible to serve due to being employed by the Department of Human Services.

A letter of thanks was received from Susan Blanks, school nurse. A letter had been sent to Arnolia Foote thanking her for a recent donation.

Mary Martin gave a brief report on the Region Four meeting in Abilene. There are 139 people serving the 44 counties.

The supervisors were required to give an account of what they were doing when their beepers sounded several times daily during a 19-day period. Other employees had to do the same for 10 days.

New officers had been elected. Jim Bitner, Brown County, is the chairman. Ann Collier, Taylor County and vice-chairman, presented a paper asking each board to submit the name of a volunteer.

The Haskell board voted to present Mary Martin. She represents the board at the regional meetings and has served as secretary and reporter since the board began. Linda Haynes will complete the form.

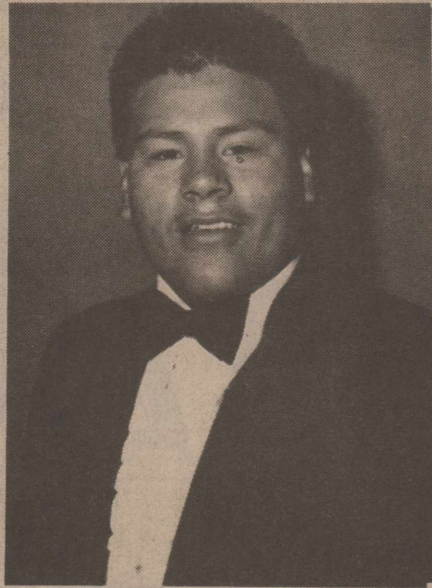

Ann Collier had attended a Micsait program in Dallas and presented each board with a copy of "Ritual Abuse-The Ritualistic/Satanic Abuse of Children". It was stories of Marimae Cioffi, Hermosa Beach, Calif., and Sylvia Warmrodt, Dallas, who had been forced as children to participate in family satanic rituals.

Several of the county board had sold records and tapes as a fund-raising project.

A thank you note was to be sent to Congressman Charles Stenholm, thanking him for signing an historic letter along with 49 other Democrats to remove abortion from its platform. "The principle of abortion on demand is wrong," stated the letter.

The next meeting will be in June

--Rule--

By Vicky Anderson

Kyle Wilson, high school sophomore, came in fourth in discus throw at the state track meet in Austin on May 12. Congratulations, Kyle, we are quite proud of you. Quite a number of Rule residents were in Austin for the track events. Among those attending were two former Rule track stars: Wes and Danny Kitley and their families of Abilene.

The rain and cooler weather that we recently experienced was certainly a blessing, but we could do without the storms and tornado warnings. Veema Gann is in Hendrick Medical Center following removal of a bladder tumor this past Friday. She expects to come home the first of next week.

Kenny and Debbie Tanner held an open house on Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. Their home has been renovated following an extensive fire last year.

Congratulations to Mike and Thelia Lisle of Stamford, who are the proud parents of an 8 pound, 14 ounce, 20 inches long son, Jeffery Allen Lisle, who was born May 12. Mike is the son of Jo Ruth and James A. Lisle, Jr. and the grandson of Ola Mae Lisle. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Grigsby of Nocona. Jeffery has two older sisters: Jana and Melissa.

Jenny Atkins and her sons, Bryan and Brad visited her parents, Jo Ruth and James Lisle, this past weekend. They came especially at this time to meet the newest family addition.

The following names were inadvertently omitted from the guest list attending the party in the park for graduation senior: Angela Tibbitts Rhoids on May 8: Her parents, Linda and Buddy Tibbitts; her sister, Amy and Laura and brother, Cody.

Mrs. Dorothy Burk, who is a secretary at the Medina Children's Home in Medina, spent last weekend with her sister, Faye Webb and family.

We would like to express our sincere sympathy to Ola Mae Lisle and family. Mrs. Lisle's brother, Floyd W. Pike died in a San Francisco hospital on May 10. He was married to the former Rosie Lee Patterson for 53 years.

Survivors are three daughters, Pauline Derham of San Francisco, Calif., Betty Jean Officer of Portersville, Calif., Shelia Hillison of Seattle, Wash.; two sisters, Ola Mae Lisle of Rule and Leona Lomier of Fresno, Calif.; one brother, R. E. Pike of Woodlake, Calif., and nine grandchildren. Services are pending.

Celebrating the weekend and honoring Mrs. Willie Jennings on Mother's Day were all of her children: Mr. and Mrs. George McKinney of Vera, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jennings of Pampa, Raymond Jennings also of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jennings of Idabel, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Koelder, Plainview.

Also attending were three granddaughters and four great-grandchildren: Mrs. Gloria Odom and son Vance Long of Arlington, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Ray and son, Travis of Hale Center, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnie Boyer, Jennifer and Lorie of Mt. Vernon.

Also visiting on Sunday afternoon were Mrs. Jennings nieces: Mrs. Kittie Howell of Rule, Mrs. James Riley of Spearman, her nephew, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Alexander of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Pitcock of Rule and Nolan Pitcock and son, Austin of Tennessee Colony.

Valeta Mullins of Hamlin and Vicky Anderson of Rule journeyed to Austin on May 12 for a delightful weekend visit with their cousin and brother, Ed Crow and his wife, Melba.

On Saturday the Crow's son, David, his wife, Tami and daughter Rachel stopped by for a visit. Then on Sunday, Mrs. Crow's sister, Charlene Waite and husband, Dick came by. On their way home on Tuesday the women visited briefly with Mrs. Anderson's niece, Linda Crow Peterson at Fort Hood where she is employed and where her husband Kim is stationed.

The Webelo scouts of Rule went on a bike-hike Saturday, May 20. The boys met at the city park early that morning. They rode approximately 17 miles on highways around the Rule area, then came back to the park for a sack lunch.

Those attending were: Scott Landreth, Christopher Boger, Michael Murray, Brad Simpson and Stephen Campbell. They were accompanied by their leader, Cindy Landreth.

Young Kyle Kitley, son of Rick and Beth, underwent facial surgery in Abilene on Saturday, May 20. The night before his uncle Danny, aunt Nikki, uncle Wes and aunt Linda and boys had an indoor picnic in the lobby of Edwards dormitory at ACU.

In case anyone should want to send a card to her, Linnie Yarborough's address is: 5328 Susan Lee Lane, Fort Worth, TX., 76118.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Keahey visited her daughter, Lisa Zuck in Bedford from Friday, May 12 until Sunday,

May 14. Lisa is employed as a tax accountant for Harken Oil & Gas Company. On their return home, they stopped at a Dairy Queen in Graham and were surprised to see Retith's cousins, Ted and Fay Jetton of Weinert there. The Keaheys reported a good trip with no rain or bad weather.

On Wednesday, May 17, Vicky Anderson and cousin, Valeta Mullins of Hamlin went to Dallas where they visited Mrs. Anderson's daughter, Diane DeLoach, and sons, Bill and Zach. Diane's husband, Jim DeLoach, a partner at Arthur Andersen Co. in Dallas is still commuting to Chicago each week, coming home on weekends. On June 2, Mrs. DeLoach and sons will join him where they have already purchased a home in Wheaton, Ill.

While in Dallas, the ladies met a cousin, Marguerite Anderson of Richardson for lunch. Marguerite is a former Haskell resident, and was the daughter of the late Date Anderson.

They had a most delightful visit that afternoon. Marguerite will soon be entering Medical City Hospital for hip replacement surgery. Should any old friends like to send her a card, her address is 800 Custer Road, Apt. 150, Richardson, TX, 75080.

On the way to Dallas, Mrs. Mullins and Mrs. Anderson had a bad scare when they ran into a deluge of rain with accompanying thunderstorm near Decatur.

Only a short time after the women had crossed a swollen, almost out-of-banks creek, it overflowed the highway as was seen by a truck driver who had stopped at the same cafe to wait out the storm. Fortunately, their destination was northeast Dallas, not the south part where five people were swept to their deaths by flooding creeks. The sun shone the remainder of their visit.

On their way home, the ladies stopped for a visit with former classmates at Hamlin, Erma and Irvin

Smith of Decatur. Mrs. Smith had a nice lunch prepared for them when they arrived. They went on to Abilene and spent the night with Mrs. Anderson's granddaughter, Nikki Jenkins Kitley, her husband, Danny and son, Luke and returned to their homes on Saturday, May 20.

Erma was an LVN at the Stamford Hospital for many years, and Irvin was consignee for Shell Oil Company in Haskell, and lived there many years.

Ronnie and Lou Landes, their daughter, Traci were in Snyder on Sunday, May 21 to attend the 88th birthday celebration of Ronnie's grandmother, Dora Landes. Five or six children were able to be there, and about 50 people were present. Lou's mother, Loudora Neeley, stopped off to visit her son, Bill Neeley in Snyder.

The Junior-Senior Prom at Sons of Herman Hall in Old Glory was termed a success by the over fifty students and dates attending. Twenty-one sponsors were also present to chaperone and see that plenty of snacks were available.

John and Ada Pope of Payton, Ariz., are visiting Ada's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Beauchamp and her sister, Joyce Hester and husband, Sidney.

The senior trip was taken on Sunday, May 21. All 12 seniors made the trip and spent the day at Six Flags Over Texas in Arlington. Accompanying sponsors were Alice Jones and Bobby Robinson.

The Recognition Banquet was held this past Thursday, May 18. Wes Pierce was chosen as Mr. Rule High School, and Laressa LeFevre was chosen as Miss RHS. Runners-up were Kevin Saffel and Kathleen Kutch. Kevin was chosen as Most-Spirited Boy and Kathleen Kutch as Most Spirited Girl. This was the third year for both of them.

Craig New, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy New of Sagerton is the Junior High valedictorian with a grade point average of 94+. Laurie Boger, daughter of Julie Martin of Rule and Dr. James Boger of Dallas is salutatorian with 93+ grade point average.

Carlton West Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pierce, is the high school valedictorian with a grade point average of 95.58. Kevin Scott Saffel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Saffel is the salutatorian with a grade point average of 91.43. Cheryl Marie Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Butler is the highest ranking girl with a grade of 90.63.

Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Webb and Ennis' sisters, Myrtle Townsend and Florence Tribbey, all of Rule went to Las Cruces, N.M., on May 9 to meet their brothers for their yearly visit. The brothers are Raymond, Hollis and Orris and their wives, all from Arizona.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Herrera over Mother's Day weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rincon, Carlos and Toya from Breckenridge; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gonzales, Michael and Matthew of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Colvillo, Henry, Paul, Jr. and Melda from Knox City; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herrera, Eric and Jenny from Abilene; and Mr. and Mrs. Juan Herrera and Johnny from Rule.

Mary Place recently visited her grandson, Phil Place in Denver, Colo. On the way home she visited friends in Lubbock, Buddy and Billie Jean Hager.

PC Scouts hike along the Brazos

Scouts of Troop 148, Paint Creek, completed a five-mile "slip and slide" Saturday on the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos River near Rule.

The Scouts had planned this hike for a couple of weeks, but recent rains covered the normally sandy bottom of the river with slick mud. Although it did make the hike more difficult, the mud gave the boys an excuse to forget that "a Scout is clean" and they dove right in.

The troop entered the river from the Mabel J Ranch northwest of Rule and ended at the Brazos River bridge west of Rule. Along the way, they found various tracks, heard numerous turkey and enjoyed each other's company with occasional dips in the river to cool off. At the end of their hike, the boys had a wiener roast under the bridge and were entertained by an air show performed by a huge colony of mu and marlins.

Scouts attending the hike were Hans Overton, Mathew Morton, Ray Morton, Marcus Overton, Casey Thompson, Jay Mickler and Cody Ender.

Adults making the hike with the Scouts were Waller Oveton, scoutmaster; Stanley Morton, assistant scoutmaster; Steffi Overton and Daxi.

Karate classes offered

Practical self-defense classes will be taught on Monday nights from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. beginning in June at the Corral Building on the Haskell Fair Grounds.

Tang Soo Do Karate, mixing the best of Chinese and Korean karate, will be taught by Gene Groce, third degree Black Belt and a board of director of the American Karate Black Belt A Association.

Groce is also head instructor of the United Academies of Self-Defense and Karate instructor at Western Texas College.

Assistant instructors will be Steve Manning, Barny Stansell and Gerry Portis. Also helping in classes will be Shanna Mueller and Elizabeth Lopez.

--Weinert--

By Myrtle Plemister
 May has been an unusual month, bringing rain, hail, wind and destruction to some areas. Weinert has been fortunate to have had very little of the bad, but some of the good. The farmers are planting cotton, harvesting grain and the 1,001 other things that must be done at this time of the season. Wheat will average approximately 20 bushels per acre. The Plemisters returned on Monday night from their tour of South Texas, with stops at Canyon Lake for a visit with son David and family; at Harlingen for a visit with daughter, Lola and husband, and at Edinburg for a visit with brother, Ray Plemister and his wife, and on the way home a stop at Avoca, for a visit with son Wayne and his family. Everyone was well, busy and happy. The crops in the valley were showing knee high cotton, corn ready to cut, (with the roasting ears almost ready to eat). The 10-15 onions were being harvested, as was cabbage and carrots. Milo was headed out, and as Earl Sargent would say, "things are looking good...". Our sympathy is extended to our friends and relatives in Munday because of the very severe hail storm they received last week which destroyed so many roofs, cars, windows and crops. Our sympathy to the Davis family at the death of their daughter, Mary, and to Mary's children. Mrs. Lucinda Davis and her sons learned of the death on Saturday afternoon. Mary will be interred in the Weinert cemetery with grave side rites on Friday, May 26, at 2 p.m. Visitors to town: 29 descendants of Bertie and Washington Alexander gathered to help their mother celebrate her 87th birthday on May 12. They were housed at the Western Motel in Munday and took their meals at the Shamrock Cafe, as Bertie's small home here could in no way accommodate the crowd. On Mother's Day, Sunday, 22 of the group gathered for worship at the Weinert Foursquare Gospel Church, where Bertie has her membership and attends regularly. Those in attendance included Dorothy Finn, with Judy and Jason of Clovis, N.M.; Audra and Bob Schindler of Abilene; Thomas and Sue Alexander, and Faye Crawford of San Antonio; Roy and Murl Alexander of Lubbock; Evelyn and Carl Ellington of Muleshoe, J. C. and Peggy Alexander of Beneta, Ore.; and Herschel Alexander of Weinert. Other grandchildren present included Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander with their two children of Ft. Worth; April Alexander and James of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Alexander and children; and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Owens and children, all of Munday. Congratulations Bertie, and many more birthdays! Matt Phelps of Muleshoe was a guest of one of his former classmates on Tuesday, as he was in town in the home of Doneta and Jerry Don Hudgens. Matt's parents are former residents of this area. Larry Sanders of Los Alamos, N.M. was in town for Mother's Day and spent the night in the home of Betty and R. S. Sanders. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, with Donald Ray of Graham were in Weinert on Sunday in the home of Mrs. J. D. Davis, Calvin and Frank. Helen Boykin spent last weekend in Vernon. Ted and Faye Jetton were in Dallas in the home of their daughter, Jackie Frazut, who has been hospitalized with back problems. Joseph Plemister rode his bicycle to Weinert on Saturday evening to invite his great-grandparents to the minor league baseball games. Joseph plays on the "Owl" team. He is 8 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Ida Farrel were in Olney to check on the health of their sister, Maxine Boling, and found she is improving from the severe arthritis attack she suffered last week. Pearl Alexander accompanied her sister, Bill and Louie White, to McKinney and enjoyed a fishing trip to Lake Lavon where they caught a 40 pound catfish. Birthday balloons go to Mildred Guess, Zachry Wood, Tina Herricks, Henrietta Ruetffer and Ted Jetton. We are looking at the end of the school year this week!

On Saturday Mrs. Bellinghausen took her junior high students to Abilene for an end-of-school trip. They enjoyed a day of bowling, movies, video games, eating out and an end-of-trip ice cream treat at Baskin-Robbins. Three students will be graduating from the Weinert school and will enroll in high school next year. They are Felipe Castoreva, Arthur Garza and Donald Mahan. Mrs. Janet Frazier will host a family reception for parents of her pre-kindergarten and kindergarten students on Thursday afternoon. The pre-kindergarten through sixth grade class will enjoy a picnic at the Seymour park on Wednesday with their teachers. Congratulations are in order for Lane Murphy who placed fifth in his age category in the state tumbling meet held at ACU on Saturday. Extra special congratulations go to Shanna Murphy who placed first in her age group at the same meet. They are children of Mary and Ed Murphy, grandchildren of Alice and Toby Yates. Karen Harlan and Lynzie accompanied the family to watch the tumbling and cheer the winners. Congratulations to Johnny Earp III, who has accepted a position as assistant director of FmHA in Dickens County. He moved to Spur over the past weekend with the help of his parents, Johnny and Marilyn Earp. Congratulations to Scotty and Linda Moody upon the arrival of 7 pound, 11 ounce, 21 inches tall, Dwight Ethan Moody, who came to bless their home last week. Mother and son are fine and father will be when he falls off of "cloud nine". Lucile Adams spent several weeks in Kingsville with the Moodys and arrived home Monday. Other grandmother is Ila Moody of Albuquerque, N.M. The child is named for his grandfather, Dwight Moody, deceased and he is the only male descendant. Congratulations to Kent Sanders, son of Kenneth and Brenda Sanders for being the valedictorian of his graduation class in Munday. Anita Garza is looking forward to graduating another son, as Andrew graduates this year. A special guest will be Sgt. Alfred Garza, who is stationed at Bangor, Maine. Jeff and Stacia Robertson will move this week to Stamford where Jeff will be employed at the Production Credit Association. Congratulations!

Weinert News

Douglas and Christi Boling of Haskell were guests of her twin sister, Mr. and Mrs. Len Mahan on Sunday, and attended worship services at the Church of Christ. Other visitors included Katie and J. Camp, also of Haskell.

Word was received that Robert Sanders, son of Larry and Linda Sanders, won second place in the National Chess tournament, fifth grade competition. Grandparents are Betty and R. S. Sanders.

Robert's team won 11th place in the nation. The tournament was held in Tempe, Ariz., with 2,000 children entered in the competition.

R. S. and Betty were recent guests of her sister and family, Virginia Black of Winters.

Guest speaker at First Baptist Church on Sunday was Matt Harrington of Knox City with his family, Mrs. Harrington, sister to Brenda Hager, and children, Jim and Amy.

The Forehands have spent every spare moment at the bedside of his mother, Maye Forehand, who has had surgery to remove a malignant tumor. She is doing well at this time and should be leaving Hendricks Hospital to return home this week.

Study club has year's final meeting

The Progressive Study Club met for its final meeting of the club year on May 11 in the home of Jerrene Couch.

Members and guests were seated at tables in the den, sunroom and dining room. Each table was decorated with summer skimmers designed of lace and ribbons and displayed on antique hat stands.

A Javian dinner was prepared and hosted by the social and yearbook committees. The invocation was given by Donna Cole.

The program consisted of a "Hats On Revue". Mary Kaigler, first vice-president, read descriptions which caused the members to have a "catty-hatty" look at themselves as club members and as the wearers of many hats.

As each description was read, a committee member modeled a hat and displayed mannerisms to demonstrate her name.

Such names were Tammy Timid, who was afraid to voice an opinion,

Willa Washie, who could not make up her mind and changed her hat several times, Darlene Dependable, Lola Look-at-Me, who always arrived late so she would be seen and Neva Change, who insisted that all programs and activities be as they were 40 years ago.

Reatha Mullins, president, conducted a brief business session. Resignation from Mary Rosser and Leesa Toliver were accepted. Mrs. Toliver is moving to Sweetwater. A letter of recommendation will be sent to a federated club there.

Pat Quattlebaum of the scholarship committee reviewed the method by which she and Jill Druessedow selected the recipients, a Haskell High School boy and girl. The club voted to give $250 to the institutions where the recipients enroll.

Reatha Mullins then introduced the 1989-90 officers. They are Mary Kaigler, president; Jimmy Weinert, first vice-president; Linda King, second vice-president; Oleta straw hats to the outgoing officers.

The hostesses from the yearbook committee were Mary Kaigler, Sharee Gardner, Nelda Lane, Jimmy Weinert and Helen Fouts. The social committee consisted of Pat Quattlebaum, Mary Martin, Judy Ray, Evelyn Cobb and Linda King.

Guests were Mrs. Ozelle Frierson and Mrs. S. Hassen, honorary members and Frances Lee, Wichita Falls.

Heart attack and angina

(8th in a series)
 1985 U.S. statistics (estimates):
 --Heart attack is the leading cause of death in America.
 --Mortality: 540,800.
 --Incidence: 1,500,000 victims per year.

--Prevalence: 4,870,000 victims of angina (chest pain) and heart attack are still living.
 --Age of victims: Based on data from the Framingham Heart Study, approximately 45 percent of all heart attack victims are under age 65, and five percent are under age 40.

What is a heart attack?
 A heart attack, or myocardial infarction, occurs when the supply of blood to a part of the heart muscle itself (the myocardium) is severely reduced or stopped because of an obstruction in one of the coronary arteries (the arteries that supply blood to the heart muscle). If the blood supply is cut off drastically or for a prolonged time, the muscle cells suffer irreversible injury and die. Disability or death can result, depending on how much of the heart muscle is damaged.

Heart attacks result from blood vessel disease in the heart. Coronary artery disease or coronary heart disease (CHD) are other names for this. Often cardiovascular disease is the result of atherosclerosis---a narrowing or blocking of the arteries by a buildup of fatty deposits and other debris along their inner walls. Atherosclerosis is a dangerous condition because a blood clot may form in a narrowed artery and block the flow of blood to the portion of the heart supplied by the artery. This type of heart attack is sometimes called coronary thrombosis or coronary occlusion.

Sometimes a coronary artery can temporarily contract or go into spasm. When this happens, the artery narrows and blood flow to part of the heart muscle can decrease or even stop. What causes spasm is unclear, but spasms can occur in normal blood vessels as well as in vessels partially blocked due to atherosclerosis. Spasms usually occur during rest rather than exertion. If a spasm is severe, it's possible for a heart attack to result.

What is angina? A heart attack isn't the only result of coronary artery disease. Chest pain called angina pectoris can also occur. Angina is a symptom of a condition known as myocardial ischemia, which occurs when the heart muscle (myocardium) doesn't get as much blood (hence as much oxygen) as it needs. This problem is called ischemia.

Angina pectoris can occur when the blood circulation to the heart is sufficient to meet normal heart needs but inadequate when the heart's needs increase, such as during physical exertion or emotional excitement. Running to catch a bus, for example, could trigger an attack of angina when walking to a bus stop would not. Some people, such as those who have a coronary artery spasm, may experience angina when they're resting. Angina can be a warning sign that a person is at risk of heart attack.

Estimates based on the Framingham Heart Study are that 2.435 million people in the United States suffer from angina. About 300,000 new cases of angina occur each year.

Dinner theatre opens this week

McMurry Summer Dinner Theatre begins its 1989 season with "Something's Afoot" May 25-27 and June 1-3 in the Little Theatre at Amy Graves Ryan Fine Arts Center.

"Something's Afoot", by James McDonald, David Vos and Robert Gerlach, is a zany musical that takes a satirical poke at Agatha Christie mysteries and musical styles of the past.

Dinner and show will begin at 7 o'clock nightly.

All dinner theatre seating is reserved and tickets must be purchased and picked up by noon of the day of the performance. Tickets may be purchased at the McMurry Theatre box office in the Amy Graves Ryan Fine Arts Center between 1 and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on performance dates including Saturdays.
