Gramm to meet with law officers

Local law enforcement officials will meet next Thursday (Aug. 24) in Stamford with U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm to discuss the "war on drugs" in Haskell and Jones counties.

The senator will receive an update on the extent of the drug problem in these counites and the surrounding areas. In addition, he will brief those gathered on the recently passed Anti-Drug Act of 1988 which Gramm co-

County Sheriff Johnny Mills and Police Chief Tom Paul Barnett of Haskell, along with Jones County Sheriff Mike Middleton, Stamford Police Chief Don Glasgow and DPS

Trooper Max Shaw, as well as other law enforcmeent and civic officials, will participate in the meeting.

In describing how the new legislation will better equip the nation to wage and win the drug war, Gramm said, "For too long, law enforcement officials have had to fight a big battle with a small stick. I am pleased to say that the federal government is finally wading in and giving local officials a bigger stick."

The meeting will be at the City Hall council chambers in Stamford, 201 E. McHarg. Concerned citizens are encouraged to attend.

School begins Monday; 700 students expected

Approximately 700 students will answer the first bell of the 1989-90 school term Monday morning.

. School officials estimate that elementary school enrollment will be 400, and secondary enrollment 300.

Classes at both schools this year will begin at 8:25 a.m. Tutorials will begin at 8.

Heading the list of new additions to the schools this year is the new superintendent, Bill Stewart. New faculty members include:

Betsy McManamon, librarian:

Students plan flag ceremony

Haskell Secondary School will have a flag ceremony next Wednesday

Students and faculty members invite everyone in the community to gather with them on the front lawn of the school at 8:25 a.m. to raise the U.S. flag and to receive a Lone Star flag from State Rep. Rick Perry. The state flag will be one which has flown over the state capitol dome in

The Haskell Indian Band, under direction of Joe Waldrop, will play during the ceremony. Perry will give a brief address.

The ceremony is being sponsored by the Student Council of the secondary school whose members include seniors Missy Davis, Rodney Johnson and Missy Phemister; juniors Nole Hadaway and Shelia Unger; sophomores Misti Bartley and Chris Tanner; freshmen Cindy Henry and Nichole Cothron; eighth graders Matt Perry and Cyntha Halliburton; and seventh graders Heather Hobgood and Casey Larned.

Weinert plans annual party

The Weinert Baptist Church will host the annual "Back to School Roundup" at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Games will include horseshoes, "Win, Lose or Draw," table games and magic tricks by Randy McLelland. Activity committee members urge everyone to attend.

Each family is being asked to bring hamburger patties for the family by 7 p.m. as head cooks Buck Turnbow and Tiffen Mayfield will have the grills hot from the wood Major Ed Murphy has "grubbed" and

The buns, "fixings" and sweets should be brought by 7:30 as Hal Guess, Jerry Hester and Jerry Walker will be lining up the guests by then.

The Roundup was established more than 30 years ago by Carter Tucker, who was pastor at that time, and has continued annually since.

It is a community-wide picnic to honor new and returning faculty, students and staff, and offers an opportunity to get acquainted with newcomers to Weinert.

Tea and ice and paper goods, as well as mustard and mayonnaise, will be furnished, but those who want to be seated should bring their own lawn Kerry Gartman, math and coach; Steven Hale, history and coach; Jo McGuire, biology and chemistry; Jodi Sorenson, special education; Joe Waldrop, band director; Bonnie Zak, physical science and introductive biology; and Lana Stewart, early childhood at the elementary school.

In addition, Suzanne McGuire will be a part time counselor, Karen Harlan is the business manager of the administrative office and Frankie Gartman will be an aide at the secondary school.

The school calendar provides for the following holidays:

Nov. 23-24: Thanksgiving. Dec. 20-Jan. 1: Christmas/New

Jan. 26: Stock Show. March 19-23: Spring Break. April 16: Easter.

In addition, the school has set aside April 17 and May 11 as bad weather days.

Paint Creek students

Students to hear of P.C. program

Monique Morgan, gifted/talented coordinator at Paint Creek school, and teacher Pam McDonald, will present a session on the school's program to Texas educators in October.

It will come during a conference on "Gifted/Talented Programs in Small Districts" by the Texas Education Agency in Austin Oct. 15-

During the conference, educators will hear special topic presentations on issues in gifted education as well as participate in sessions by personnel from small school districts who have developed and implemented gifted/talented programs.

The recommendation that the Paint Creek program be included in the conference was made by Connie Ricci of the Region 14 Education Service Center in Abilene. Jeanette Covington of the Division of Gifted/Talented Education with TEA, then invited Mrs. Morgan to appear on the program.

Wheat producers to have program

A meeting of area wheat producers is scheduled next Wednesday (Aug. 3) at the Haskell National Bank Community Room. It begins at 7:30

Al Alexander, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be on hand to present a program on wheat varieties that are adapted for this area. He will discuss grazing qualities as well as grain production. He also will give an update on the Russian wheat aphid problems. He is very knowledgeable on wheat production and promises to present a very informative program.

The program is being sponsored by the Ag Committee of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service of Haskell County.

Those planning to attend should call the county extension office, 864-

In appreciation

School expenses increase

School budgets have been increased by 50 percent since the school reform HB 72 was enacted five years ago.

A total of $13.5 billion was approved by school trustees in 1,055 Texas school districts last year. To pay for it, officials levied local property taxes totaling $5.6 billion. The state provided $4.9 billion. The remainder came from school lunch and other fees, federal aid, bond sales, interest and other revenue.

The figures come from the latest issue of Bench Marks: 1988-89 School District Budgets in Texas, an annual publication of the Texas Research League, an Austin-based, educational corporation engaged in governmental research.

An average of $3,384 per student for current operations was budgeted last year plus $288 for repayment of debt and $464 per student for capital

Haskell ISD's budget provided $3,436 per student for current operations and $525 per student for capital outlay based on the 708 students enrolled in the fall semester

The average salary for classroom teachers paid by Haskell ISD in 1987-88 was $22,263, plus supplements for the career ladder. Locally, the average salary for administrators was Four dollars in five were spent for salaries. Statewide payroll expense averaged $2,757 per student, as compared to $2,656 in Haskell. Payroll expense is a combination of salary levels and staffing patterns.

Taxpayers provided one teacher for every 14 students in Haskell ISD while the statewide pupil-teacher radio was 17.1-to-1. Because of the existence of small classes, especially at the high school level, and abbreviated teaching schedules, many

Rochester schools to have new look

Elementary and secondary campuses of the Rochester Independent School District will have a new look this fall.

Extensive renovation and repairs to school facilities have been conducted throughout the summer and will be completed in time for the opening of school Aug. 28.

Bob Wood Construction Co. has done all the contract work which includes:

-- Re-covering all covered walkways and painting metal posts and beams which support the roofing.

--Improving the old gymnasium, including pouring of a new floor, wall covering, carpeting and paneling.

-- Refurbishing the auditorium, including roofing, replacement of missing tiles, re-stapling of all tiles, re-painting the ceiling, removing and replacing damaged woodwork, repainting of wood trim and cleaning and re-varnishing of woodwork.

-- Re-painting of classrooms, the library and the office in the high shcool.

Local mainteanance efforts have included the refinishing of all flooring, extensive exterior painting, the installation of new marker boards in all elementary classrooms, replacement of window covers and regularly scheduled routine maintenance.

Stage curtains are being installed and will complement the new decor in the auditorium with emphasis on the school color of purple.

In addition to facility improvements, the school will have a new 48-passenger bus and a new 15passenger van. These vehicles will replace models from the early 70s.

Modern technology will be well served with 16 new computer

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

'For Sale' issue continues

AUSTIN-The issue of lawmakers for sale continues to gather steam, perhaps on its way to becoming a major issue in the coming

Meanwhile, the governor's race tightened when a third Republican entered the ring, becoming the first to publicly address the issue of taxes.

Taxes Touchy Subject

Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance announced he will join Clayton Williams and Jack Rains in the gubernatorial sweepstakes.

So far, neither Williams, Rains nor Democrat contenders Jim Mattox and Ann Richards have stated their tax position.

A third Democrat, former Gov. Mark White, will find taxes a little touchy if he joins the race as he has hinted.

White won in 1982 by promising not to raise taxes. He then proceeded, as he later boasted to a northern audience, "to raise every tax and fee in the book," a maneuver which fueled his defeat four years later.

If White tries a 1990 comeback, he will face a credibility hurdle the first time a reporter asks him if he will raise taxes, which will probably occur the day he becomes a candidate.

If he answers yes, he'll drag down the credibility of fellow Democrats Mattox and Richards, two liberals expected to be friendly to new taxes, as Hance painted them.

If he answers no, voters will be reminded that he broke that pledge once before and has never apologized for doing so.

Political Reform

When the well-healed Capitol crowd dismissed state Sen. Chet Edwards' chances for lieutenant governor against well-funded Comptroller Bob Bullock, Edwards challenged lawmakers to clean up gifts from lobbyists and misuse of state funds.

He angered more than a few lawmakers by predicting that voters won't approve their salary increase in November unless legislators clean up their act.

Edwards, one lawmaker said, was trying to create a campaign issue and should not be taken seriously.

But every week some new report surfaces of questionable gifts or improper state spending. The issue is far from dead.

Dollars and Gimmicks

Last week, Edwards, some fellow Democrats and Republicans criticized Bullock's mailout of his agency magazine to Democrat primary chairmen, calling it a campaign gimmick mailed at state expense. Bullock denied it was such or improper.

No matter the veracity in that incident, alleged missteps of state officials are increasing, whether true or not. But whether Edwards' tact will brew into a clean house movement remains a quiet speculation.

One example is the revelation that Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower paid some $16,000 to the wife of state Sen. Steve Carriker to study financially stressed farmers. She delivered a directory of rural artists and craftsmen.

Mattox is investigating defrauding of state universities by a firm because he received a $10,000 contribution from a Pan American University regent, the firm's head charged. Mattox denied the connection, saying all the regents requested the probe.

Hollywood, D.C. Dollars

Treasurer Richard's campaign has received thousands of dollars from Hollywood figures like her friends Lily Tomlin, Barbara Streisand, James Garner and Norman Lear. Former LBJ associate George Christian remarked Richards has attracted more out-ofstate money than any candidate he can recall.

Meanwhile, Mattox has received thousands from Washington, D.C.based labor groups, prompting some to believe he will lock up the other classes have more than the average number of students.

To fund higher school budgets with a declining tax base, school trustees in most districts have raised tax rates. The average school district imposed a property tax at the rate of 91.2 cents per $100 of appraised value, which value averaged 96.5 percent of market value (selling price). The "true tax rate" was 88.1 cents (91.2 times 95.62 percent) statewide. Locally, the Haskell ISD imposed a rate of 89.2 cents while property was appraised at 93.4 percent of its market value, making the true rate 83.4 cents per $100 of market

The report points out that the calculation of a true tax rate based on market value rather than on appraised value enables a valid comparison of tax levels with other schools. In 1988, the true tax rate exceeded $1 in 336 school districts in Texas.

The tax on a house that would sell for $80,000 in Haskell ISD would have been $707. If the homeowner were eligible for homestead exemptions, the tax would have been $662, and if owned by a person 65 years or older, the tax on an $80,000 house in this district would have averaged $573, or less if subject to a tax freeze. That compares with statewide average tax bills of $723, $638 and $544, respectively, for an $80,000 house.

Last year, Haskell ISD's revenue from the property tax increased by 2.9 percent for 1988-89 as compared to a 6.8 percent increase statewide.

Local property taxes plus state aid was $3,272 per student in Haskell ISD, as compared to $3,221 statewide. The primary purpose of state aid is to equalize state and local tax resources among schools.

In 1988-89, tax-resources ranged from less than $2,500 per student in 12 districts to more than $10,000 in five districts.

You might want to run over to Dallas next week. They're having another one of those FSLIC auctions to raise some cash from failed S&L

Among the merchandise:

A 17th-century castle door, a custom made Bohlin saddle from Hollywood, Calif., approximately 200 pieces of 17th, 18th, 19th and 20th century antiques, bronzes, sculptures, paintings, prints and antique books.

Kent Hance, who has run for the U.S. House, the U.S. Senate, Governor and the Railroad Commission, and is now making another stab at the Governor's race, should know just what the voters want to hear.

In announcing his latest candidacy, he said he's against a state income tax and for stiffer penalties for drug dealers, more prison beds and more industry.

So now we know how to vote--just in case the other candidates come out in favor of a state income tax and lighter sentences for drug pushers and against more prison beds and more

Hance must be the Harold Stassen of Texas politics, but he's being challenged. Beau Boulter, who gave up his seat in Congress to challenge U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen last year, has announced that he will run for the Railroad Commission. In less than two years, he's now been a candidate for three different offices.

Those who like statistics are going to have a ball with the Census Bureau's latest publication, Statistical Abstract of the United States, hot off the press.

Among the revelations:

Texas is the third most populous state, ranking behind California and New York. By the year 2000, Texas is expected to overtake the latter.

The birth rate is Texas is the fifth highest in the nation---18 births for every 1,000 people. Of these, 15.2 percent are to teenage mothers and 17.7 percent are to unwed mothers, the 13th and 38th highest rates in the

The lifespan of the average Texan is 73.6 years, just below the national average of 73.8. (Hawaii has the highest, 77 years, but it apparently has nothing to do with the climate since Minnesota ranks second at 76).

Doctors aren't too plentiful in Texas. There are 165 doctors for every 100,000 residents, far below the national average of 205. But it's not so difficult to get a lawyer. The state has a lawyer for every 410 citizens. Still, the citizento-lawyer ratio is below the national average of 360-1.

Texas ranks 13th in average salaries, but is still below the national average. Here, the average pay is $20,463, while the average is $20,855. (Alaska is first at $28,008.)

Texans die on the highways at the rate of 22.2 per 100,000 residents, good enough for the nation's 21st worst record.

Don't we rank first in anything? Yep. We have 14.1 homicides for every 100,000 citizens, tops in the US of A.

So you've quit smoking, gone to the right kind of diet and started exercising.

Now, you can look forward to a long, care-free life. Right? Wrong.

A University of Oklahoma researcher now tells us that brushing your teeth may be hazardous to your health.

Dr. Tom Glass of the OU Health Sciences Center says that toothburshes harbor disease-causing microorganisms. Research has found that toilet stools send germs swirling through the air every time they are flushed. And the germs contaminate toothbrushes.

"We discovered people with burning mouths, mouth ulcers, lowgrade mouth infections . . . If we could get them well, we couldn't keep them well. We came to realize they were infecting themselves with their own toothbrushes," he said.

He recommends that adults change toothbrushes every two weeks. Children should get a new toothbrush every two weeks in peak flu and cold season, and every three or four weeks the rest of the year.

In addition, toothbrushes should be stored bristles up so they can air dry, he says. Ideally, they should be stored outside the bathroom which Dr. Glass says is the "germiest" room of the house.

WTU has a plan that will level out your monthly electric bills!

With the Equal Payment Plan, you can pay the same amount every month of the year for your electric service.

Electric bills peak in the Summer and Winter when demand is up and are lower in the Spring and Fall. With the Equal Payment Plan, you can level out your electric bill because the monthly payments are averaged and adjusted over a year.

Any WTU residential customer or church with approved credit and a monthly bill of $15.00 or more can qualify.

For more information on the Equal Payment Plan contact your local WTU office.

Booster Club

Indian Booster Club members honored special guests at the first meeting of the year Monday night.

Introduced were coaches and their wives, Kerry and Randi Gartman, Steven Hale, Nelson and Janie Coulter, Randy and Janie Stone and Walter Hargrove.

Other special introductions were Supt. Bill Stewart and Lana, band director Joe Waldrop and Dixie, principal Gerald McCoy and assistant principal Greg Melton and D'Anne and boys.

Officers were elected with Conrad Roewe stepping in as president.

Coach Coulter gave a brief report on the Indian squad for the 1989 season. He is excited about the potential of players and the leadership capabilities of HHS seniors Harper Stewart, Patrick Burson, Roger Roewe, Shane Osborne, Eugene Butler, Rodney Johnson, Robert Swann and Davis Chapman.

The Indians are anticipating a good year and will scrimmage the Roscoe Plowboys this Thursday, Aug. 24, at 6 in Roscoe

Anyone interested in the sports program at HHS is invited to support the athletes on Monday nights at 8 in the Ag building.

Final playnight to be Saturday

The Haskell Horse Club will have its final torphy playnight of the season Saturday, beginning at 7:30 at the Haskell arena.

Contestants will compete in age groups of 8 and under novice, 8 and under regular, 9 through 12 and 13 through 18.

Events will include barrels, flags and pole bending, plus an open barrel race.

Date changed

Librarians, aides attend workshop

A regional workshop for school library aides and librarians was held Aug. 17 at Taylor Elementary School in Abilene.

"Effective Practices for Library Aides" was hosted by Region 14, Education Service Center and presenters were June Carden, specialist, Region 14, Education Service Center, and Betsy McManamon, Haskell ISD librarian.

The objective of the workshop was to provide practical information and ideas for experienced and new library

About 40 workshop participants

viewed and discussed a video titled, "The Library Aide: The Indispensable Assistant to the Library Media

Librarians and aides then entered into group discussions to address the major concerns in the library. During the open session which followed, various solutions to these concerns were discussed, and information and ideas were shared.

In the afternoon sessions, Mrs. Carden demonstrated techniques of story telling in the library, how story telling can correlate with the essential elements, and the use of a book theme in the library. She also promoted the Bluebonnet program, a statewide contest to involve children in reading, and displayed the 1989-90 Texas Bluebonnet Book award

Mrs. McManamon spoke to the new library aides on the media center duties they should be familiar with. New aides received explanations and materials to help them with the technical and management tasks they are expected to perform routinely, as well as tips on assisting students and teachers in the library, and using effective public relations.

The Sonshine Patch is a top quality teaching school designed to aid in the growth of pre-school children spiritually, mentally, physically and socially.

Each Tuesday, classroom activities teach Bible lessons with application stories, songs and finger fun. Other classes teach language, art, music, and science. Learning center time in all classes is structured to help children learn numbers, colors, shapes, patterns and manipulative activities to aid in the development of fine and gross motor skills.

Physical awareness is taught to every age group. Also, indoor and outdoor play is provided.

Since children develop socially by being associated with other children, the Sonshine Patch provides the students with extensive opportunities to participate in field trips, holiday parties, birthday celebrations and other exciting activities.

"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it."

Proverbs 22:6
