New resident

The City of Haskell now has a pelican to add to its growing fowl fleet. Thomas Rodriguez captured the rare bird Friday in the Gentry Middleton pasture three miles east of town. He's been feeding it sardines.

Perry recognized by prosecutors

State Rep. Rick Perry of Haskell has been recognized by the Texas District and County Attorneys Association (TDCAA) for his outstanding service to the criminal justice community during the 71st Legislative session.

Perry was named "Outstanding Legislator" by TDCAA during an awards ceremony held at the association's annual conference in El Paso Sept. 19. More than 600 Texas prosecutors and staff members attended the conference.

TDCAA representatives noted that Perry was a leader in the Texas House during the 71st session on many criminal justice issues supported by the association, including a bill which resulted in a pay raise for state-paid prosecutors and, during the special session, a bill which greatly enhanced the state's ability to forfeit the property of criminals.

TDCAA is a non-profit organization with a membership composed of elected and assistant prosecutors from every prosecutor office in the state, criminal investigators employed by prosecutors, and other personnel employed in prosecutor offices.

The association, dedicated to supporting and improving prosecution throughout the state, maintains a headquarters in Austin and is governed by a board of directors elected by its members.

Following each legislative session the association honors six legislators (four representatives and two senators) whose efforts during the session enhanced the ability of the state to prosecute criminals by improving the state's criminal justice system.

Prison survives cut

The proposed prison site located near the Stamford Airport cleared its first major hurdle last week when it survived the first cut made by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice (TDCJ).

James Elam, president of the Rolling Plains Industrial Foundation, received word Thursday, Oct. 5, that the site was one of 26 still being considered for the six prison units that the state plans to construct.

"We have a one in four chance of getting one of the prisons based simply on the numbers, but we are cautiously optimistic that our chances are greater than that," Elam said. "We haven't heard any indications of any problems with our proposal."

The proposal was submitted July 28 by the foundation composed of citizens from Stamford, Anson, Hamlin and Haskell. After more than 130 cities, counties and organizations requested information concerning the proposed prisons, only 46 submitted proposals by the July 31 deadline.

The foundation's 230-page proposal was hand-delivered to Huntsville by foundation secretary Tom Isbell of Anson Friday, July 28. Prison staff members visited the proposed site and the incentives being offered Thursday, Aug. 31.

After making the first cut, staff members as well as members of the board of directors of the TDCJ are expected to return to Stamford to looking at the proposed package once again. The visit will likely be either Oct. 17, 18, 25, or 26, according to Elam.

"We are expecting to receive a letter outlining when the team will be here and who will be on the visiting team," Elam said.

After the remaining 26 sites are reviewed, a second cut will be made Nov. 8 with the final six sites being announced Monday, Nov. 13.

"We are encouraged by the fact that we made the first cut," Elam said. "When we have met and talked with the staff, they have said that we have a 'solid proposal' and we find those words encouraging."

Elam pointed out that he felt that one of the proposals strong points was the fact that all four communities in Jones and Haskell Counties are working on the effort.

"The fact that the four communities are working together is a real plus for us. We are all close enough together that transportation and housing for the employees will not be a problem and education for their children will not be a problem either," Elam said.

Legislators have provided funds for the construction of two units with funding for the other four proposed prisons dependent upon the passage of Proposition 8 Nov. 7. The amendment authorizes $400 million in bonds to build prisons, youth correction, mental health and retardation facilities and the expansion of statewide law enforcement facilities.

If the proposed constitutional amendment passes, the state will build three 2,250-bed and three 1,000-bed facilities. The Rolling Plains proposal is for either of the two size units.

"We are encouraging everyone in Jones and Haskell Counties to support Proposition 8," Elam said. "The passage of the amendment could have a great economic impact on our immediate area, plus the prisons are something the state desperately needs."

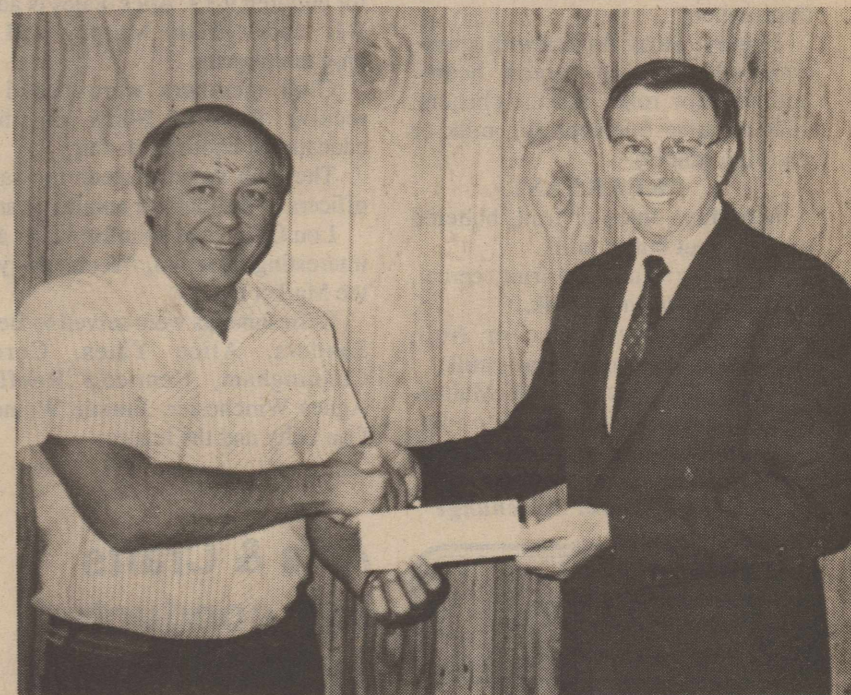

It is estimated that it will take approximately 24 months and $64 million to construct the large facility while the 1,000-bed unit would require 17-19 months to construct at a cost of $22 million.

Once completed and operational, the 2,250-bed unit would pump a monthly payroll of $1.4 million into the area with 800 employees. The smaller unit, similar to the one recently completed in Snyder, would employ approximately 260 employees with a monthly payroll of $461,000.

Other communities making the short list announced last week include Abilene, Big Spring, Breckenridge, Childress, Dalhart, Eastland County

(Carbon), Freestone County (Teague and Fairfield), Lamesa, Pampa, Seymour, Trans Pecos (Fort Stockton), Wichita Falls, Angelina County (Lufkin), Beeville, Bell County (Killen), Dilley, Eagle Lake, Hondo, Jasper, Jefferson County (Beaumont), Karnes City, Polk County (Livingston), San Jacinto County (Shepard), Staff County (Rio Grande City) and Woodville.

Gift from GTE Southwest

Robert J. Meyers of GTE Southwest presents a check to Haskell Industrial Foundation president Ken Lane.

Foundation gets another GTE gift

GTE Southwest has contributed another $500 to the Haskell Industrial Foundation.

The telephone company has invested $3,500 in the foundation over the past two years in an effort to assist in the funding of the program which seeks new and expanded employment opportunities in the area.

Robert J. Meyers of Brownwood, Mid-Texas division general manager for GTE Southwest, was in Haskell last Wednesday to meet briefly with foundation members and to present the check for the industrial development program. Local manager

Jim Adams joined Meyers.

"We were pleased to be a part of the community effort last year to obtain a sewing factory," Meyers said. "The foundation's plans to repair, remodel and expand the building leased to the sewing factory as well as the joint efforts with area communities to obtain new employment opportunities show the drive needed to stabilize the downward trend in our local economy."

"It is because of this drive shown by your foundation members that GTE believes in the future of Haskell and is pleased to be a partner in its economic development plans."

Merchants to again sponsor drawings

The 1989 Christmas promotion by the Haskell Retail Merchants Association will again climax with a giant Christmas drawing Friday, Dec. 22, at 3 p.m. on the south side of the court house.

Conrad Roewe is chairman of the Retail Merchants and Thomas Long is chairman of the Christmas drawing.

Giant jackpots will include two at $500, one at $1,000 and one at $2,000. Winners must be present at the drawings. Awards will be in $20 certificates, redeemable at participating businesses.

Participating merchants will have individual drawings earlier that day for merchandise at their stores. A list of these merchants will be published in The Free Press prior to Nov. 1 when ticket distribution will begin.

In the giant jackpots, no owner or manager or their families are eligible to win whether a business or not. Employees of businesses can win on tickets from other businesses, but not from tickets received at their places of employment. All tickets must be stamped on the back by the businesses distributing them.

Indians open district at Hamlin

The Haskell Indians open the district 7-2A football campaign Friday night when they travel to Hamlin to take on a Pied Piper team which has won three straight games.

Kickoff is 7:30 p.m., 30 minutes earlier than for the pre-district games. The Indians will take a 2-3 non-district record into the 7-2A opener. They lost a tough one last week, bowing to Rotan, 21-18, after leading much of the game.

"We played a good game," said Coach Nelson Coulter. The coach added that the Indians played well for the entire four quarters and he felt the Indians outplayed Rotan despite the score.

Haskell has now lost to Munday and Electra, in addition to Rotan, and owns victories over Seymour and Merkel.

Hamlin, as always, poses a formidable foe for the Indians in their district opener. The Pied Pipers opened the season with two straight losses, to Clyde, 35-11, and to Breckenridge, 27-6. Both Clyde and Breckenridge are 3A schools.

They then rebounded to beat Winters, 7-6, and Seymour, 28-7, before coming on strong last week to take a 24-13 verdict over 3A Childress.

"It will be the biggest team we've met," Coulter warned. "Their offensive front will average about 200. On defense, they'll average about 185."

Mrs. Phemister hostess to Weinert club

Mrs. Myrtle Phemister was hostess to the Weinert Extension Homemakers Club when members met Oct. 3 in the typing room in the Weinert school building.

Betty Sanders, president, called the meeting to order. The hostess read a poem, "The Good Old Days." They all read the club creed together. The roll call was answered by seven members with "a program I'd like for 1990." Minutes were read by Alice Yates and approved, along with the treasurer's report.

Henrietta Rueffer gave the council report. Dues were paid by club members for next year. Lou Gilly reported that two ladies in the community organized a 4-H program for children 9-19. Alice Yates is adult 4-H leader. Mary Murphy will be program director.

Club members were proud to receive Best of Show on their educational booth at the fair.

The club voted to keep the same officers of the club for another year.

Lou Gilly gave an informative and interesting program, "Technology in the Market Place."

Refreshments were served to Betty Sanders, Alice Yates, Cordie Cunningham, Henrietta Rueffer, Agnes Winchester, Jimmie Weinert, Lou Gilly and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael King

Hendrix, King exchange vows

Holly Kay Hendrix and Michael Bruce King, both of Stephenville, were united in marriage Saturday, Sept. 9, by the Rev. John Hutchinson of Hico.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendrix of Jacksonville. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Olen King of Haskell and Yvonne King, also of Haskell. The wedding was at Randy's Rodeo Arena in Stephenville.

The arena was decorated with bandana bows, rodeo banners and streamers. Two bulls were loaded in bucking chutes to add to the western atmosphere.

Randy and Lorene Clerihew served as the best man and matron of honor.

The family and guests were seated and everyone was in place when a sudden thunderstorm came over the arena and showered everyone from grandmas down to the children. After the third time the wedding march was played, the bride finally appeared. The bride was brought into the arena on a buckboard pulled by a team of horses driven and owned by Wayne Kelly of Stephenville.

Music was performed by Deborah

McKay, cousin of the groom, from Daingerfield. She sang Evergreen, The Rose, and Wind Beneath My Feet with a voice with Patsy Cline flair.

Pete Shabay and Donny Journey were in charge of the music. The ushers, Garry (Grady) Thomas and J. R. Hudson, escorted the family into the arena and directed the starting of the wedding.

The wedding atmosphere was very western. The bride's dress was the only thing out of place for a rodeo arena. But it was fitting for a bride. The tea-length dress was made of ivory taffeta with lots of beaded pearls detailed with cut lace appliques. For something borrowed and something old, the bride wore a cameo pin belonging to Mrs. Julia Conner, grandmother of the groom.

The nose gay was of red carnations, white daisies, baby's breath, greenery with red and white gingham streamers.

The groom wore a white western shirt and jeans.

Dudley Barker, rodeo photographer, was kind enough to take pictures for lasting memories. Everyone was dressed in western attire.

After the vows were said, the bride and groom rode out of the arena in the buckboard to the tune of Foster and Lloyd singing "Texas in 1880."

A barbecue dinner catered by Dean Taylor was served after the ceremony. Tables were decorated with red and white gingham tablecloths. Hay bales were used for additional seating. There were woven baskets filled with assorted colored oat bags rather than rice bags.

The cake was decorated with white chocolate hats, red colored boots and the State of Texas on top. Champagne punch with a Texas-shaped ice mold was served in a silver punch bowl that Wanda Hendrix, the bride's mother, had won in a state golf championship.

The bride is a graduate of White House High School and Tarleton State University with a degree in animal production.

The groom is a graduate of Haskell High School and Tarleton State University with a degree in agribusiness. He is employed by Fibergrate.

The newlyweds are making their home in Stephenville.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

School decision means $$$

AUSTIN--Top lawmakers disagreed on whether a tax increase will be needed to equalize public school financing in the wake of last week's historic Texas Supreme Court decision.

The High Court sent the Capitol world spinning with its unanimous decision that struck down the present finance system as unconstitutional and sent the issue back to the Legislature for remedy.

The justices gave legislators no recipe, but set May 1, 1990 as the deadline for a solution.

New Taxes Predicted

Key Democrats immediately predicted a state tax hike as much as $2 billion coupled with some local school district tax increases.

New taxes would most likely come in the form of an expanded sales tax base to include new service industries such as real estate and others.

The so-called "sin taxes" on alcohol and tobacco could also be increased and certain tax exemptions cancelled.

But Gov. Bill Clements cautioned that money itself was not the solution and promised to call a special session this spring following task force hearings across the state.

The High Court, composed of six Democrats and three Republicans, said the present system cheats students in poor school districts out of an equal education.

Bloated School Budgets

Clements said the first step to a solution was to attack bloated school budgets and consolidate some of the 1,100 school districts.

While some local school districts feared a loss of state revenues, Clements also warned other districts not to expect large amounts of new state funds to be infused into local spending.

Prisons, Drug Stance

Unused military bases and under-used state buildings should be temporary housing for prisoners and drug addicts, said former Secretary of State Jack Rains, now a candidate for governor.

"If these barracks, dorms and hospital beds were good enough for our nation's soldiers, they should be good enough for our state's prisoners," he said.

Rains also promised he and his staff would set examples for others in state government by voluntarily submitting to drug tests.

He also vowed to push for a new law requiring prison inmates to improve their literacy skills and be drug-free before parole.

Burial Plots for Sale

Texas General Land Commissioner Garry Mauro said the state would auction 17 burial plots in a cemetery where three former governors, two U.S. cabinet members, and the first woman elected to statewide office are buried.

The lots are in historic Shady Oakwood Cemetery, which is owned by the Texas School for the Blind.

Governors Elisha Pease, Jim Hogg, and O.B. Colquitt are buried there. The sale will be held Oct. 25, with a minimum bid of $16,000.

Brady Races Start

Texas' fledgling parimutuel racing industry was off and running, for the first time in 52 years, at G. Rollie White Downs in Brady.

Gambling proponents predicted the new industry would boost local economies in Brady and other racetrack towns around the state, while opponents warned of organized crime.

Brady officials said motel rooms were booked solid in a 60-mile radius, while a new fast food franchise rushed to open its doors before the weekend.

TDC Moves on Job Program

The Texas Department of Commerce sent a five-man team to take financial control of the Dallas job-training program after it failed for months to send the state proper budget reports.

Last year the $12 million Dallas program was reported having one of the worst records for training welfare recipients and the poor.

Other Highlights

Former state Rep. Cliff Johnson, who until recently served as Gov. Bill Clements' legislative director, was appointed by Clements to the Texas Water Commission.

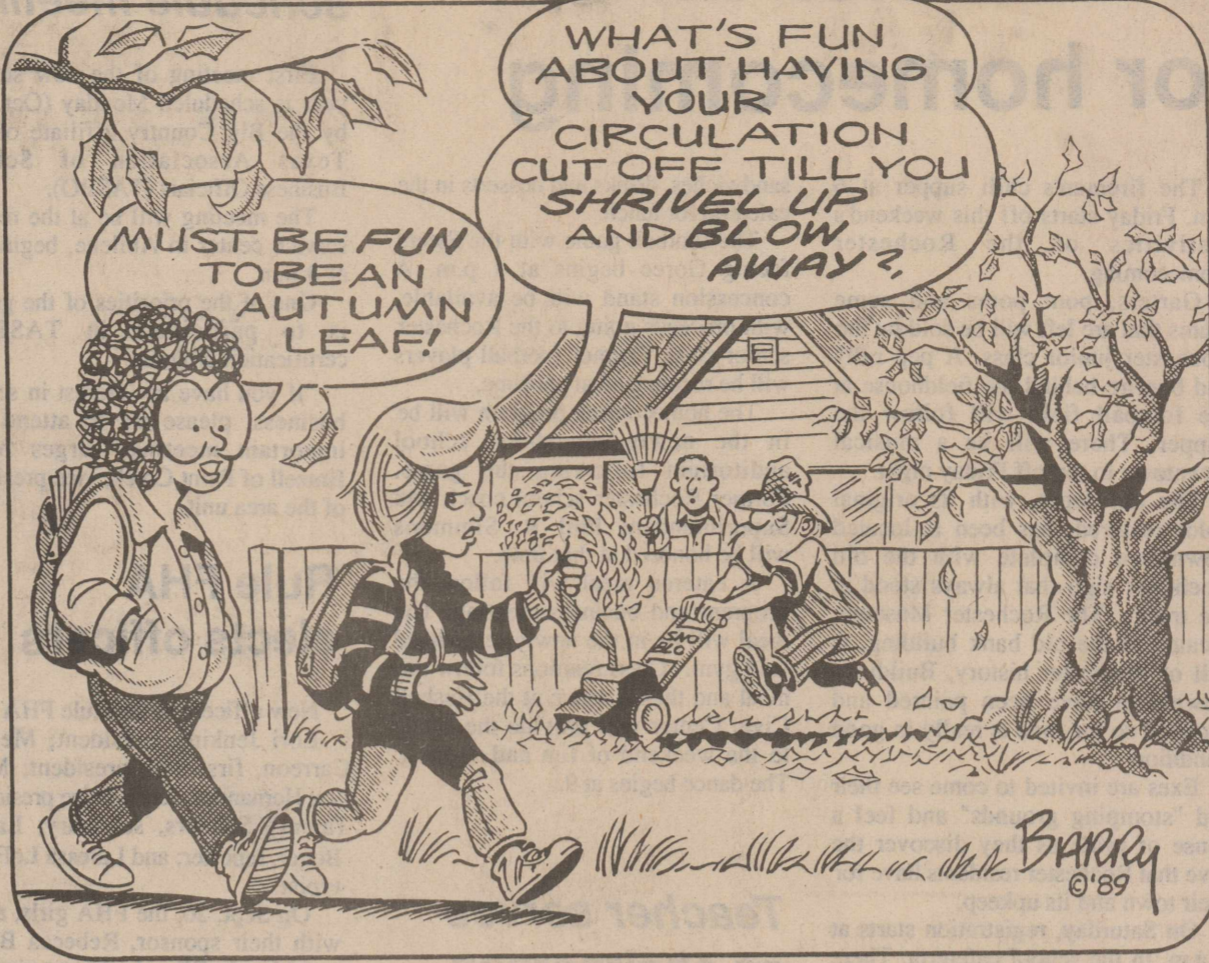

The State Preservation Board awarded emergency contracts of up to $192,860 to remove cancer-causing asbestos particles released into the basement of the state Capitol during a recent fire.

Six people, including two Killeen attorneys, have announced their candidacy to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of long-time state Rep. Stan Schlueter.

Eleven Texas counties repeated their demand for the Texas Department of Corrections to take about 6,000 felons out of their jails, while their attorneys asked for permission to seek compensation for keeping them.

Chuck Nash, chairman of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, was named to the National Park System Advisory Board by Secretary of the Interior Michael Lujan.

Halfway house

Editor: The need for a halfway house for chemically dependent pregnant women and chemically dependent women with small children has been evident for many years. Various need assessments have focused attention on this problem.

There is only one halfway house for women with children in the state of Texas and it has a six-month waiting list. They have no place to go. Women have been denied the right to recovery because of the lack of child care. Early stages of recovery are difficult enough without having to give up your children too. Even more desperate is the plight of pregnant women. It seems that again there is no room.

The process to establish a halfway house for chemically dependent pregnant women and mothers has begun in San Angelo. A group of concerned citizens has formed a non-profit corporation. A house has been located. Negotiations are underway to purchase an old convent from the Catholic Diocese. The convent should accommodate five mothers and 10 children.

Our mission is two-fold. First, to succor these children and second to provide a structured environment for the mothers as they begin their recovery. The halfway house will strive for a family centered healing of mind, body and spirit emphasized in the 12 steps of the Alcoholics Anonymous program.

Make the commitment to lend your support to this worthwhile project. This area is in dire need of the ministry you can provide. Local organizations are considering this as a community project. Texans have a big heart. Help these families find their new beginning.

Please help us with the investment of your time, talents and treasures. Call 949-5870 or write: Women's Halfway House of San Angelo, care of 1636 Hunters Glen Road, San Angelo 76901.

I have reason to believe that some of these tokens were used in your area and I would be most interested in obtaining some of them for my collection.

I would like to hear from anyone having one or more of these tokens or from anyone that might be able to help me. Any help that you can give me of any kind is greatly appreciated.

Good people

Editor: Speaking of good people, Haskell is full of good people. And take a fire and you realize just how good they are.

I have had people offer me a home, brought gifts, helped me with work and so many things I can't begin to name all that's been done for me. I want each one to know I love and appreciate each one.

I thought for a while I would move to Merkel to be close to the kids, but just couldn't move away from all my friends.

May God bless each home and each family in Haskell because all are good people. I have reason to know.

Old tokens

Editor: I am a lover of history and I have a somewhat unusual hobby. I collect old tokens used by stores, barber shops, pool halls, bakeries, saloons, forts and other businesses years ago.

These tokens were "good for" 5 cents, 10 cents, 12 1/2 cents or such in trade or merchandise or "good for" a loaf of bread, a drink, shave, a ride or whatever. They were usually made of metal, and while having the general appearance of a coin, they were made in all shapes and sizes.

I am hoping that you might mention my search in your "Letters to the Editor" section. I know that this request is relatively unimportant, but as our elderly pass away and the

A cartoon in the Houston Post asks this multiple-choice question: "Which job will be created by cutting the capital gains tax?"

- And offers these choices:
A) Factory job,
B) Desk job,
C) Snow job.

Dallas-Fort Worth tops the list of Fortune magazine's "best cities for business."

Immediately, many leaders of both cities credited the cessation of hostilities between the two cities as one of the prime reasons their area attained the lofty position.

"Dallas and Fort Worth simply realized that a rivalry born out of decades of economic jealousy made no sense when both cities were now competing for the top spot on this misery meter," wrote a columnist in The Dallas Morning News. "They didn't have to love each other, but officials understood that they were going to have to get along and work together if this part of the state ever expected to climb out of its financial malaise."

But some people in Fort Worth are calling the new peace "Dallas Glasnost" and they point to these recent events:

--The Dallas City Council voted to repeal the Wright Amendment limiting flights at Love Field, which some in Fort Worth feel is a betrayal of agreements signed more than 15 years ago to place most commercial airline service at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport.

--Dallas business leaders are trying to sell the new owners of the Texas Rangers on the idea of moving the baseball franchise out of Arlington to a stadium which would be built in Dallas.

--Dallas leaders were successful in their bid to establish a four-year undergraduate school at the University of Texas at Dallas without bothering to ease the concerns at the University of Texas at Arlington.

--The Dallas Area Rapid Transit is discussing the possibility of using the old Rock Island railroad tracks for commuter service between Dallas and D/FW, even though the two cities jointly purchased the abandoned property for future mass transportation service.

So Dallas-Fort Worth may be the country's most desirable business area, but it's doubtful that it came about as a result of a truce between the cities.

Amon Carter must be smiling from his grave. The old Fort Worth Star-Telegram publisher wouldn't want it any other way.

I know exactly one B-1B bomber pilot at Dyess Air Force Base---or in the world, for that matter.

Therefore, I couldn't help wonder if he was the pilot in the suspense-filled drama last week when that B-1B was making the emergency landing at Edwards Air Force Base.

He was.
Capt. Jeffrey Been, 30-year-old Air Force Academy graduate from Cleburne whose grandfather once lived in Haskell, had the prayers, and later the cheers, of millions as he steered the plane to a safe landing.

Small rural towns are not the only ones having trouble getting local folks to buy locally.

From an editorial in the Abilene Reporter-News last week, was this paragraph:

"Chamber of Commerce officials estimate that as much as 40 percent of Abilenians' shopping dollars are spent outside of Abilene. Last year, that amounted to almost $600 million."

Forty percent?
Well, that's what it says.

Don't hold your breath waiting on results of the president's recent education summit.

Wrote James Kilpatrick about such conferences:

"Certified experts deliver papers to certified experts; panelists talk to panelists. A 'rapporteur' works up a summary of discussion points.

"Having rehearsed the hash, the conferees did what they always do: They appointed a study commission. What a bold idea.

"Everybody files an expense account, and the participants go home with full tummies and bulging briefcases."

Sidelines

The Indians punted only once during the entire game.

Seven times, Haskell faced fourth-down situations, and five times the Indians converted.

The first time was in the first quarter, when on a 4th and 9, Osborne hit Stewart for 25 yards from a fake-punt formation.

Other conversions:

With 4th and 4, Rotan jumped offside to give the Indians a first down; with 4th and 9, Osborne passed 14 yards to Johnson; with 4th and 1, Johnson ran for 1 yard; and with 4th and 3, Johnson picked up 5.

Except for the punt, the only time the Indians failed to convert on fourth down was in the third quarter when they surrendered the ball on downs at the Rotan 34 following a 10-yard penalty against them and two incomplete passes.

Johnson's 121 yards rushing in 23 attempts gives him 591 yards in 99 rushes for the season, an average of 118 per game.

He outgained Rotan's heralded Joe Huit, who rushed for 112 yards in 22 carries.

Oddly, Huit didn't score any of his team's three touchdowns, although his 79-yard kickoff return set up the final score.

For the third time, the Indians did not lose a fumble.

They've lost only two fumbles all year--one against Munday and one to Merkel. The Merkel fumble came on a kickoff in the final seconds when Merkel pulled a semi-onside kick.

Leonard named territory rep

Roger D. Leonard of Gunter has been named territory representative by Summit Pharmaceuticals.

He is the son of Jess and Olevia Leonard of Haskell and is a graduate of Mattson High School. He holds a BBA from North Texas State University and has been in the pharmaceutical field for 17 years.

Indians bow to Rotan

Just 57 seconds after the Haskell Indians had completed a 58-yard scoring drive to re-take the lead, Rotan pushed across a touchdown to hand the Indians a 21-18 defeat in a see-saw contest at Rotan Friday night.

Rotan's Joe Huit had set up the winning score by returning Haskell's final kickoff 79 yards to the Indian 11. Brandon Alls got the rest of the yardage in two stabs of 4 and 7 yards and Huit ran over the two bonus points.

The winning touchdown came with 3:18 to go and wiped out an 18-13 Indian lead attained at the 4:15 mark when Rusty Stocks passed 17 yards to Harper Stewart.

The defeat left the Indians with a 2-3 record in their five non-district games, while the Yellowhammers improved their mark to 4-0-1.

Haskell started strongly, moving 76 yards to score in just four plays following their first possession. After the Indians took over on their own 24 following a Rotan punt, Rodney Johnson made 6 yards and then 5 yards. After a 5-yard penalty set them back to the 30, Stocks passed 54 yards to Jeremy Fuentes to the Rotan 16, and on the next play Johnson went wide for the touchdown. The extra-point kick attempt was no good, but the Indians were out front 6-0 with 7:11 remaining in the opening period.

Next time the Indians got the ball, they moved from their own 35 to a first down at the Rotan 19, but a 10-yard penalty and two consecutive quarterback sacks pushed them back to the 41 from where Roger Roewe lofted the Indians' only punt of the night, giving Rotan possession at the 10.

Rotan then began a 13-play drive for the Yellowhammers' first touchdown. With four different backs carrying the ball, the Yellowhammers stayed strictly on the ground as they ate up the 90 yards. The touchdown came on a 4-yard run by David Daniel. Danny Warren kicked the extra point to put Rotan ahead 7-6 at the 7:54 mark of the second period.

It took the Indians a little more than four minutes to recapture the lead. From the Rotan kickoff, they moved 65 yards for the go-ahead touchdown which came on a 3-yard run by Johnson. Four pass completions had sparked the drive, Shane Osborne to Stewart (16 yards), Stocks to Stewart (6 yards), Osborne to Stewart (17 yards) and Osborne to Johnson (19 yards). A pass attempt for the extra points fell incomplete, but the Indians were back ahead, 12-7.

Rotan stormed back following the Indian kickoff, but after getting a first down at the Indian 5, four plays netted only a yard and the Indians took over at the 4 just two plays before halftime.

On Haskell's second possession in the third period, the Indians drove from their own 33 to the Yellowhammer 24 from where Osborne hit Stewart with an apparent touchdown pass only to see it called back by a penalty. The Indians were unable to overcome three major penalties in that drive and finally surrendered the ball on downs at the 34. A 36-yard scamper by Johnson and a couple of receptions by Jonathon Dever of 6 and 9 yards from Stocks and Osborne, respectively, had fueled the drive.

The third period was scoreless but the quarter ended with Rotan in the midst of a 66-yard scoring drive. Smith scored from a yard out, climaxing a 10-play drive which had featured a 25-yard pass from Smith to Sammy Daniel and a 12-yard run by Brandon Alls. Warren's kick was no good, but the Yellowhammers were back ahead, 13-12.

Five minutes later, the Indians put the finishing touches on a 58-yard, 11-play drive when Stocks hit Stewart for a touchdown. The drive had featured runs of 12 and 21 yards by Johnson. A two-point try failed again but the Indians were ahead, 18-13.

Then Huit returned the Indian kickoff from his own 10 to the Haskell 11 to set up the winning touchdown.

Jayton clobbers Rochester, 48-0

Rochester took it on the chin from state-ranked Jayton Friday night, losing 48-0 in a game called at halftime under the 45-point rule.

Paced by brothers Mark and Paul Morales, each of whom scored three touchdowns, the unbeaten Jaybirds jumped to a 20-0 first-period lead and then scored four more touchdowns in the second period to send fans home early.

Todd Landes and Jeffrey Hollingsworth were leading tacklers for Rochester, each having 10.

This week, the Steers will host Goree in a homecoming game scheduled for Saturday, beginning at 1 p.m.

Boosters see film of Rotan game

Indian Booster Club members met Monday night to view the film of the Rotan-Haskell game and to hear comments on the upcoming first district game with Hamlin.

The Indians travel to Hamlin with the kickoff at 7:30.

Seventh-grade players were introduced to members and refreshments were served.

Next Monday, Oct. 16, at 8 p.m., Haskell's twirlers and cheerleaders will be introduced. Parents are invited to attend.

Remember safety first when installing antennas.

- Stay clear of all electric lines, assume all wires are uninsulated.
- Be sure there's enough distance in every direction so that if your antenna should fall, it won't hit a power line.
- If an antenna does start to fall, let it go and stay clear. Never touch it until you're sure it's not in contact with any wires.
- Work only in dry weather and never on a windy day. Most antennas are top-heavy and difficult to control in the wind.
- Guy wires should be secured so they won't whip around and come in contact with power lines.
- Make sure antennas are grounded properly.

Cub Scouts attend 'Lad and Dad' camp

Fourteen boys from Haskell Cub Scout Pack 136 attended the first "Lad and Dad" campout on Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. The campout was at Camp Tonkawa, near Buffalo Gap.

Attending from Pack 136 were Randy Cass, Craig Cunningham, Dawson Druessedow, Harrison Druessedow, Ezequiel Estrada, Tarvis Garison, Jason Hobgood, Kevin Patton, Ross Pittman, Jason Shaw, Justin Teague, Jason Trammell, Will Trammell and Brent Watson.

The boys and their adult partners participated in many activities at the camp, including archery, B B gun shooting, a scavenger hunt, and a handicap obstacle course. The father and son teams also silk-screened T-shirts, worked on leather craft and built and raced Pinewood Derby cars.

They could also participate in horseshoe throwing, ring toss, frisbee throwing, a bean bag toss and other events. For each activity completed, a boy received a colored bead which was worn on a belt tag.

One of the most popular events was the "duck shoot." This involved launching water balloons at duck decoys, which were floating on a small pond. Tom Dewey and Chris Arendall, leaders of Haskell Webelos Den 4, were the supervisors for this game.

Officials from the Chisholm Trail Council, organizers of the campout, were ecstatic about the turnout. All 300 spaces available for the weekend were filled and a second weekend campout, planned for Oct. 21-22, is also nearly full up. Any registered Cub Scout and his dad who wish to attend and have not yet registered are urged to contact the Scout office immediately. The cost is $15 per team.

Big growth seen for some counties

In the future, Texas' fastest-growing counties will be located near major cities as more workers opt for "bedroom community" living.

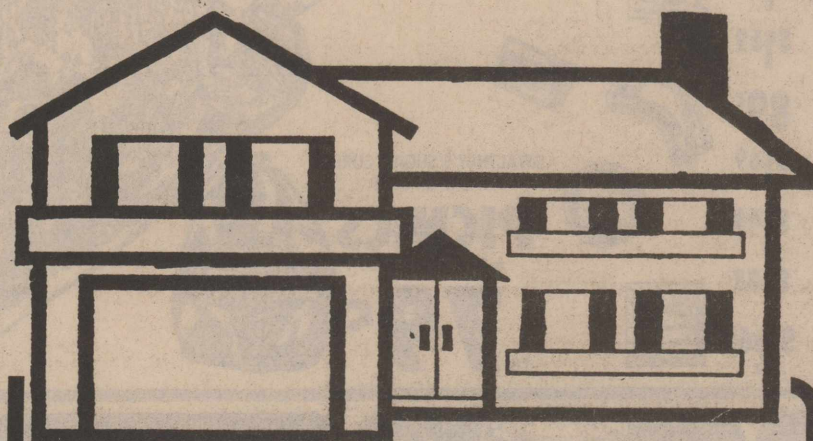

In the first quarter of the 21st century, Fort Bend County, near Houston, will undergo an explosive 307-percent growth, rising in population to more than 731,000. Montgomery County, also in the Houston area, will grow by 266 percent, and Collin County, in the Dallas metropolitan area, will expand by 248 percent.

Some Border counties also will undergo phenomenal growth.

'Lad and Dad'

Among Haskell representatives attending the "Lad and Dad" campout at Camp Tonkawa were Travis Garison and his dad, Dusty Garison.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

TAX TIPS FOR INVESTORS

Some suggestions for investors on cutting your tax bill:

- Consider tax-free investments. Municipal bonds and tax-exempt mutual funds usually provide a yield comparable to the after-tax yield of taxable investments. The reduction of taxable income can be beneficial to those subject to the supplemental Medicare premium.

- Analyze passive investments. With limited exceptions, passive losses are deductible only to the extent of passive income. A change in your level of participation in an activity may change its status from passive to active. Determine whether it is feasible and beneficial to meet the "material participation" standards.

- Review capital gains and losses. Up to $3,000 of net capital losses can be used to offset ordinary income. Consider selling loss investments to offset existing capital gains plus $3,000 of other income.

- Defer investment income. Consider shifting investments to certificates of deposit maturing after 1989, U.S. Series EE savings bonds, and Treasury bills. Defer investments in mutual funds in which year-end dividend requirements may result in a portion of your investment being immediately returned to you as taxable investment earnings.

- Review S corporation basis. If you're planning to deduct a loss generated by an S corporation, be sure you have sufficient basis to take the deduction. Insufficient basis can be rectified by contributing to capital or making a loan to the corporation. Such actions must be completed by year-end to permit a current loss deduction.

- Consider tax-free exchanges. If you plan to sell business or investment assets and reinvest in property, explore the possibility of a tax-free exchange.

Proposed tax legislation could impact your investment planning; keep in touch with us.

Crime

First-half figures increase

Major index crimes in Texas were up 3.8 percent in the first half of 1989 compared to the same period last year.

Although four of the seven major crime categories were down in volume, the increases in motor vehicle thefts, larceny thefts and aggravated assaults raised the overall total.

Also rising, by 3.8 percent, was the crime rate, totaling 3,931.9 crimes per 100,000 population, compared to 3,787.6 for the same period in 1988.

The total number of major crimes in Texas for the first six months of 1989 was 659,779, compared with 635,894 during the same period last year.

Largest increase was in the motor vehicle theft category. There were 71,794 vehicles stolen in the state during the first half of this year, amounting to a jump of over 17 percent over last year.

Other theft cases were up by 4.6 percent and burglaries were down by 1.7 percent.

In the violent crime categories, murders were lower by one percent, rapes decreased by 7.5 percent and robberies fell 4.1 percent. However, a 4.8 percent increase was reported in aggravated assaults.

Nine Texas law enforcement officers lost their lives during the reporting period. Four were killed in the line of duty by criminal action.

Five died in duty-related accidents. Twenty percent of the major index crimes were cleared by arrests in the first half of 1989. In another category, arrests for illegal drugs increased 16.5 percent.

Reports submitted by 827 Texas law enforcement agencies to the DPS Uniform Crime Reporting program were totaled for the statewide crime statistics.

Here is how crimes in the first half of 1989 compared with those for the same period in 1988:

Murder: 959 in 1989, 969 in 1988, down 1 percent.

Rape: 3,810 in 1989, 4,119 in 1988, down 7.5 percent.

Robbery: 17,594 in 1989, 18,347 in 1988, down 4.1 percent.

Assault: 30,874 in 1989, 29,463 in 1988, up 4.8 percent.

Burglary: 168,826 in 1989; 171,789 in 1988, down 1.7 percent.

Theft: 365,922 in 1989, 349,906 in 1988, up 4.6 percent.

Motor Vehicle Theft: 71,779 in 1989, 61,301 in 1988, up 17.1 percent.

GOOD VIBRATIONS

Not all sharks rely on their sense of smell to locate prey. Many sharks have a highly acute sense of hearing.

National Wildlife magazine reports many sharks pick up sounds through a series of vibration detectors along their sides. These detectors allow sharks to sense movement several hundred feet away.

Coming home queen

Coming home queen for the Paint Creek homecoming was Sybil Nanny Henry of the class of 1939. Here, she receives her award from Irvin Overton, president of Paint Creek Homecoming.

Getting along takes work on both sides

Relationships within today's four-generation families can be difficult. Adjustments in traditional roles and lifestyles make compromise necessary.

To ease the traditionally strained relationship with in-laws, communication and cooperation are both necessary, said Dorothy Taylor, a family life specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Changes in the modern family have reduced some of the friction of 30 years ago. Couples today are less likely to live near their in-laws, women today are less dependent on their parents for emotional and financial support and negative stereotypes about in-laws, particularly the mother-in-law, are fading.

Today's mothers-in-law also are different. Many are young, attractive, busy and prefer to be called by their first names.

"Other changes in family life may add to problems with in-laws," Taylor said. "About half of today's marriages end in divorce and when children are involved, in-laws often have problems seeing grandchildren who are in the custody of the former daughter- or son-in-law."

"One of the best ways to solve problems with in-laws is to prevent them," Taylor said.

"If possible, get to know your future in-laws before you marry," she said. "Learn as much about them as possible and establish a friendly and warm relationship from the beginning and work to keep it."

During your first few visits with in-laws, try to avoid making absolute statements such as "I'll never..." or "I'll always..." these can come back to haunt you later, Taylor said.

"As with any relationship, honest and open communication about likes, dislikes and preference will help prevent problems," said the extension specialist.

Communication about holiday plans and special events is critical. Many couples compromise by alternating Christmas with one family and Thanksgiving with another, then rotating the next year.

As families divide and divorced children re-marry, parents may end up with several sets of grandchildren.

Schools

Editor: The Texas Supreme Court decision in Edgewood v. Kirby poses a far more important challenge than can be answered by mere partisan politics. All Texans are challenged to work together to provide basic educational opportunity for a whole generation of children, some of whom now go to school in districts with no chemistry, physics, or foreign language classes, no advanced math courses, no pre-kindergarten, no band, and no football, even though their parents pay among the highest property tax rates in the state.

The bipartisan nature of the Edgewood decision, decided by three Republicans and six Democrats, hopefully signals an end to the destructive politicization of the school funding issue. School finance will become a 1990 election issue only for those who would dare put a cynical political agenda ahead of the needs of our kids, our hope for the future of Texas.

In addressing this question, the legislature must maintain the proven Texas system of local control through independent school districts.

In 1984, 1987 and other recent special and regular legislative sessions, Democrats have led the fight for responsible education funding. Through their decision, perhaps the three Republican justices have indicated their party is ready to join Democrats in addressing this vital issue and abandon the old Republican ploy of dumping the problem on the backs of the local property taxpayers.

It is imperative that politics be put aside so the legislature can address educating our kids in an honest and statesmanlike manner.

Revival begins Sunday

The First Christian Church of Haskell will hold revival services, beginning Sunday, Oct. 15, and running through Wednesday, Oct. 18. Services will be at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, and at 7 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

Johnny Joslin of Clayton, Okla., will be the evangelist for the services. Joslin is a former rodeo cowboy, rodeo producer and rancher, as well as an ordained minister.

Dusty Garrison, minister, said the church is excited to be able to host these meetings. "Brother Johnny has been here before, and our people just love him," Garrison said. "He has a terrific gift for mixing homespun humor, down-to-earth illustrations, and outstanding Bible preaching. He is a great preacher, whom God has used in a powerful way for more than 30 years."

Garrison said that Joslin is a missionary affiliated with the Kiamichi Mountain Mission. The mission, founded over 50 years ago by A. B. MacReynolds, operates numerous churches across southeastern Oklahoma and southwestern Arkansas. It also is the site of the Kiamichi Men's Clinic, an annual retreat which draws thousands of men and boys from all over the world.

David Garrison, brother of the local minister, will be song leader for the revival. He is associate minister at the Northside Christian Church in Spring, Texas, where he directs the music and youth programs. Other special music will be provided by the church choir and by Ginny Kloog and Kathy Garrison.

The public is invited to attend. A nursery will be provided for each service.

Mrs. Nanny gives program to Homemakers

Haskell Young Homemakers met Sept. 11 for their regular monthly meeting. The program was brought by Betsy Nanny, the Outreach coordinator for the Noah Project-North, a resource for counseling and aid for victims of family violence.

The presentation by Mrs. Nanny centered around a description of services and the needs of the Noah Project in this area. She expressed the need for this type program to make a positive difference in the area of family violence.

Following the program, refreshments were served during a short business meeting. Plans were finalized for the Arts and Crafts Sale on Saturday, Nov. 11, at the Civic Center.

Hostesses were Debbie Solomon, Tammi Pannell and Debbie Medford. The door prize was won by Dixie Waldrop.

The Halloween party will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 16, at the Homemaking Cottage.
