Emergency Medical Services to stress 'Awareness Week'

By Wendell Faught

Services available from the Emergency Medical Services (EMS) in Haskell will be stressed next week as the local organization participates in "EMS Awareness Week."

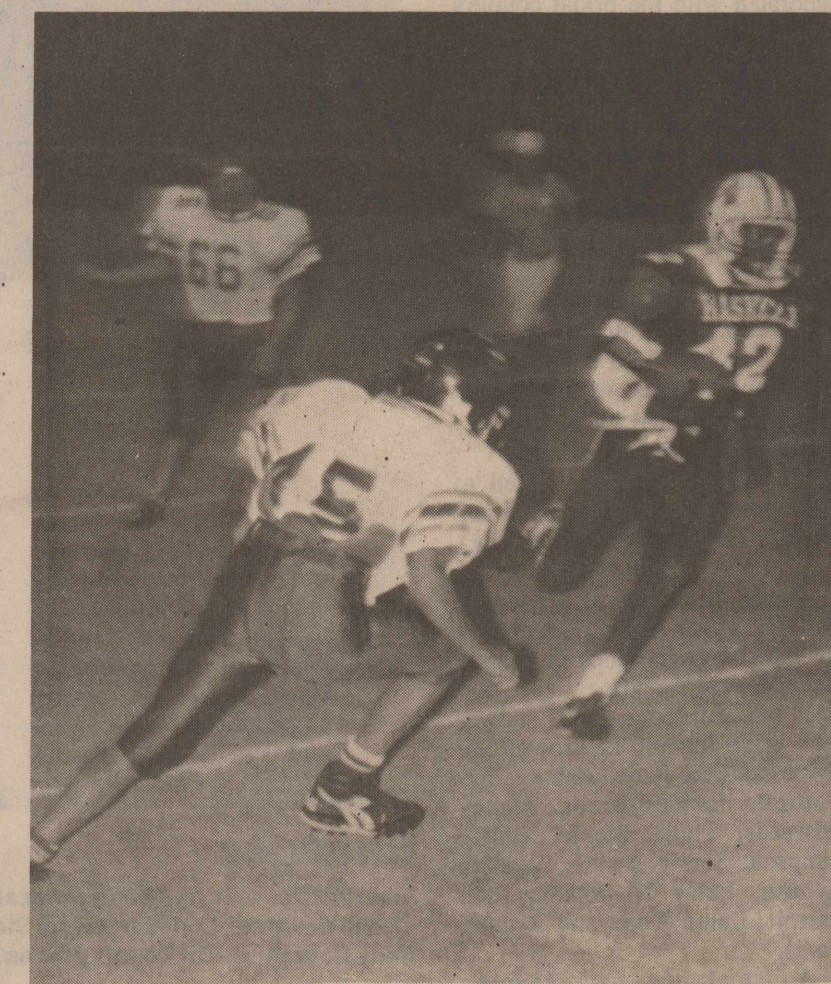

Pamphlets containing information about the services and how the public can respond to medical emergencies before EMS technicians arrive will be placed in various business outlets for distribution during EMS Awareness Week, Sept. 16-22.

The Haskell EMS is staffed by three full-time employees and five part time volunteers.

Casey Caldwell, paramedic, is administrator of the Haskell EMS. Intermediate emergency medical technicians are Johnny Campbell and Kendall Medford.

Volunteers are Randy Shaw, Kim Finley, Charles Harvey, Merry Harvey and Scott Alves.

To be certified, EMS personnel must complete a rigid training schedule. Campbell and Medford are now attending classes two nights a week at Texas State Technical Institute in Sweetwater. They also are required to take a psychiatric training course in San Angelo,

Big gun

Tailback Jonathon Dever carried the ball 30 times against Munday, gaining 197 yards. He had an 83-yard run on his first carry and a 32-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter.

Indians to invade Seymour Friday

Haskell's Indians re-grouped this week and started getting ready for Friday night's date with Seymour.

The Indian-Panther contest is scheduled in Seymour, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Each team will be seeking its initial 1990 victory after a disappointing opener last Friday. While the Indians were being manhandled, 64-19, by a great Munday team, Seymour was going down, 24-13, to Knox City.

The Panthers are a big team and are real physical, Coach Walter Hargrove warned his Indians. He said the team has improved a lot, having seen film of their scrimmage games. "We'll need to play well," the coach said.

Naturally, the coach and the players were greatly disappointed at the outcome of the Munday game. "But we played hard and didn't quit," said the coach, "and we're on the right track and not discouraged."

Even in the one-sided defeat, there were bright spots for the Indians. They scored on their first play from scrimmage and came right back and scored again the next time they got the ball.

Jonathon Dever rushed 30 times for 197 yards, including an 83-yard run on his first carry.

Defensively, the Indians stopped Munday twice at the goal line and again inside the 30. Although Munday accumulated 570 yards rushing and passing, Erik Harvey shone on defense for Haskell. The Indian cornerback intercepted a pass, recovered two fumbles and saved a sure touchdown by batting down a pass.

Square dance lessons begin Monday night

Square dance lessons will begin Monday at the Corral building on the fairgrounds.

Sponsored by the Haskell County Squares, the lessons will be given each Monday, beginning at 7 p.m.

The first lesson will be free. Subsequent lessons will be $2 each. Leon Ivey will be the caller and Maxine Ivey will teach the fun line dances.

Weinert plans parade

A parade in downtown Weinert Oct. 6 will kick off the 1990 homecoming activities. The parade will begin at 11 a.m.

To eliminate any confusion, the Weinert Homecoming Committee has defined a "float" as "anything you are physically able to direct safely down a city street" and will include bicycles, tricycles, joggers in costume, motorcycles of any kind, horses, pickups, cars or buggies.

A Pony Express relay is being planned as a means of adding variety to the activities. The relay will consist of four heats with no more than two racers to a heat. Trial relays will begin at 3:15, immediately following the afternoon business session. Winners will be determined by time.

Day-long activities have been scheduled for homecoming, including music, food, games, an auction and the evening meal which will be served at 5:30.

Sponsors recommend that people dress casually and be prepared to stay through the evening auction, which will begin at 7 and will include various Weinert school memorabilia.

Legion dues

Members of American Legion Post 221 were reminded this week to send their dues to P.O. Box 5 in Haskell, and not to state or national offices.

St. George Jamaica Saturday

The St. George Catholic Church will celebrate its 13th annual Jamaica Saturday, Sept. 15, at the Civic Center.

There will be food and games at different booths. The main meal will be in the Civic Center kitchen where tamales, Mexican enchiladas and taco plates will be served, along with chalupas, burritos, drinks and desserts. Serving will begin at 11 a.m.

The St. Vicente De Pollatic Church young Mexican dancers will entertain from 3 to 4 p.m. The dance will begin at 8 p.m. Tickets for the dance will be $10 donation in advance, or $12 at the door. Contact Ray Acosta or Andy Lopez for tickets.

Two bands will perform at the dance--Los Errantes from Abilene and Delsafio 90 from Hamlin.

Sales tax rebate continues decline

Haskell city sales tax receipts continued their downward spiral this week when the city received $8,707.83 as its share of July taxes collected by the state.

That compares with $10,023.69 received for the same period last year, representing a decrease of 13.13 percent.

This week's check brought 1990 receipts to $109,349.22, down 8.33 percent from the $119,285.98 for the first nine months of 1989.

Rule received a check for $892.97, slightly less than last year's check for $911.16. For the year, Rule is down 2.5 percent, from $14,696.36 to $14,329.67.

O'Brien, Rochester and Weinert did not receive checks this month.

Statewide, city tax collections were up 5 percent over last September's rebates. For the year, rebates are up about 8 percent.

The Jubilee queen will receive a $500 scholarship to be used for further education within two years after graduation from high school.

On Saturday, Oct. 6, drawings will be held throughout the day for merchandise and gift certificates donated by local businesses. A grand prize drawing will be held near the end of the day's activities. Ticket holders need not be present to receive their prizes.

Queen contest Tuesday

The fair queen's contest Tuesday night will officially kick off the 1990 Haskell County Fair. The fair will run through Sept. 22.

The queen's contest, beginning at 7 o'clock, will be in the Civic Center.

Judging of all entries except livestock will be Friday (Sept. 21). The flower show will be judged that afternoon.

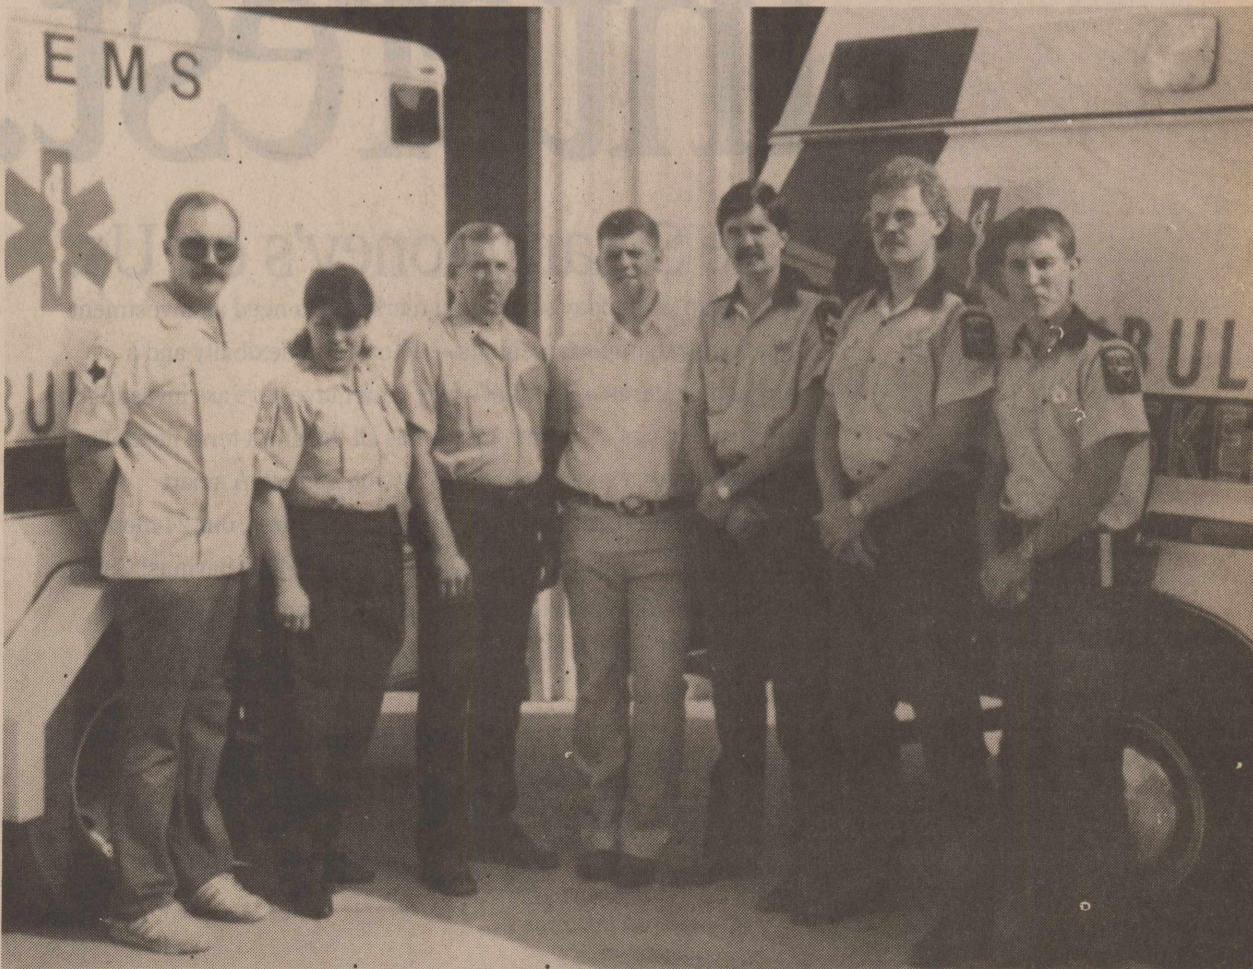

On Saturday (Sept. 22) sheep and rabbits will be judged at 9 a.m.

and cattle at 1 p.m.

The 1990 county fair is being dedicated to two long-time workers of the fair, Duane Gilly and Max Stapleton.

Admission to the fair will be $1 on Tuesday. On Friday and Saturday, admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for children.

Bobby Hobgood is president of the Haskell County Fair Association. Steve McGuire is vice president and Iva Lee Gipson is secretary-treasurer.

Jones, Cox repeat wedding vows

Leigh Jones and Dale Cox exchanged vows of marriage at 8 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 18, in St. David's Episcopal Church in San Antonio. The Rev. Ralph L. Schuffler officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Lt. Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Lewis M. Jones of San Antonio and the granddaughter of Mr. Hugh Ratliff and Mrs. Woodrow Jones of Haskell. The groom is the son of George and Judy Cox of Brownfield. The bride is a graduate of Texas A&M and the groom is a graduate of Texas Tech. Both are employed by Arthur Anderson Co. in Dallas.

The altar was decorated with an arrangement of white casablanca lilies, stargazer lilies, pink roses, pink stock and candles. Family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long, white taffeta gown designed for Ilissa by Demetrios. It featured a jewel neckline, long-fitted sleeves, a full skirt and a cathedral-length train. The fitted bodice dropped to a V-waist in front and a deep open-V in back. The bodice, made of Seville lace, was embellished with seed pearls, iridescent sequins, opalescent crystals and appliques of crystal cascades.

The bride wore a half crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequin covered leaves accented by a silk illusion, cathedral-length veil with a fingertip blusher. She carried a cascading bouquet of white casablanca lilies, white roses, white cascading orchids and stephanotis with accents of English ivy and Boston fern.

Bridal traditions included for something old, a 1918 Liberty dime from her paternal grandfather and a handkerchief from her maternal grandmother. For something borrowed and blue, she wore her mother's wedding garter.

Keisha Prince of Dallas served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Carol and Leslie Cox of Brownfield, Jan Becker of Fort Worth, Wendy and Kelly Sturdy of Irving, Shalome Marshall and Peggy McGrath of San Antonio.

Bridal attendants wore tea-length rose-red taffeta dresses with fitted bodices and puffed sleeves. They carried cascading bouquets of stargazer lilies, hot pink roses, alstromeria and pink stock, accented with Boston and maiden's hair fern.

George Cox of Brownfield served his son as best man. Groomsmen were Shawn and David Cox of Brownfield, Jay and Jeffrey Jones of San Antonio, Dale Bond of Dallas and Scott Haigler of San Antonio. Ushers were Scott Moore of Dallas, Jaon Sturdy of Irving and Richard Parchman of San Antonio.

Music was provided by a string quartet from the San Antonio Symphony.

Neisha Marshall of San Antonio registered guests at a round table that was set with a canvas portrait of the bride in a gold leaf frame that belonged to the bride's great grandmother.

The reception followed the ceremony at the church's McAllister Hall and courtyard. Music at the reception was provided by harpist John Strand.

The buffet table was draped with a white linen cloth decorated with satin borders and bows. The centerpiece was a tower of fresh fruit provided by the groom's family. A cocktail buffet with wine and champagne was served to guests.

Table appointments for the bride and groom's cake matched the buffet table. The table was centered with a silver coffee service. The four-tiered bride's cake was separated by crystal columns and decorated with cascading stargazer lilies, pink roses and baby's breath. The groom's cake was a rectangular fudge cake decorated with the bridal couple's monogram.

Upon the grand piano in the reception hall were displayed photographs of the bridal couple from birth to their engagement, and a crystal vase featuring a floral arrangement of stargazer lilies, pink roses and pink stock accented the display.

The courtyard was bordered by luminarias. Tables in the courtyard were covered with white linen cloths and centered with hurricane globes surrounded by English ivy and pearl and brilliant garlands.

The bridal couple planned to honeymoon in San Francisco and Hawaii. They will reside in Irving.

Gloria Grier hosted a couple's potluck in San Antonio on June 9 for the couple in which the recipe and dish were the gifts.

A miscellaneous bridal shower took place June 30 in Brownfield. Hostesses were Janice Auburg, Sue Cottrell, Frances Burda, Jeaney Edwards, Paula Steele, Emily Simpson, Sandy Dennis, Waneta Ryburn, Patsy Nicholson, Pam Carroll, Karen Knox and Redelle Davis.

A "stock the bar" couple's shower took place July 13 in Dallas, which was given by Brandi Davis, Rachel Marusak and Lauren Ader.

Keisha Prince, Jan Becker and LaVern Sturdy hosted a champagne brunch July 15 in Irving.

On July 28, a "pamper the bride" luncheon was hosted by Neisha and Shalome Marshall, Danielle and Penny Hrubetz, Marian Halderman and Penny La Meistra.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at McAllister Hall on Aug. 17.

Cathy McGrath and Kay Collins hosted a bridesmaids' luncheon on Aug. 18 in San Antonio.

State candidate campaigns here

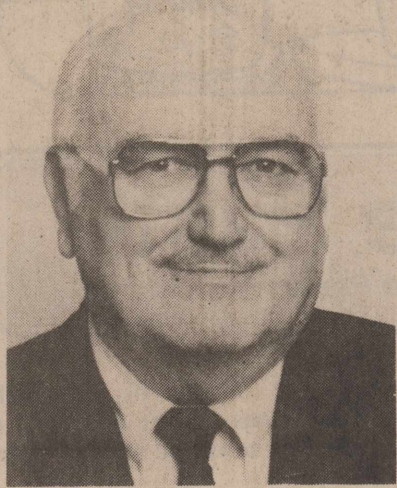

Saying he will bring a businessman's approach to the State Land Office, Wes Gilbreath campaigned in Haskell Friday afternoon.

The Republican candidate for Land Commissioner said he wants to make a "lasting and personal contribution to the future of our great state."

As Land Commissioner and chairman of the Permanent School Fund and a member of the University School Fund, Gilbreath said he will take his responsibilities seriously to assure "our children and grandchildren will be provided a well-funded primary and secondary education system."

He said that under the present Land Commissioner's administration, Permanent School Fund oil and gas revenues have dropped 82.4 percent, causing major problems in financing adequate curriculums for Texas students.

"I am confident that I can incorporate my 35 years of success in conservative business management into the operations of this office," said Gilbreath. "Since the Land Commissioner controls more assets than any other elected state official, totalling $11.1 billion, I will see to it that all assets will be used to generate revenue for the education of our school children or to benefit veterans. When elected, I will be committed to running the Land Commissioner's office more efficiently and insist on a complete and comprehensive audit of all Land Office departments."

Gilbreath said the election boils down to a simple choice:

"Do you want a conservative self-made, successful businessman handling the assets of our school children and veterans, or a liberal, professional politician whose track record is a failure in handling assets?"

--Library Notes--

By Joan Strickland
County Librarian

The library would like to thank Judge B. O. Roberson for presenting the certificates to our reading club members who participated in the program this summer.

We had 62 children sign up and we had 51 actively participate. Twenty-eight actually reached their goal and 30 people attended the presentation and party.

It is encouraging to know that so many of our children are using the library and enjoy reading. In this day of video everything it is wonderful to know that our young people can still find enjoyment in reading and exploring their imagination through books.

The new Library Board met last Wednesday night and elected Dusty Garrison as chairman and Gina Pike as secretary. Maxine Hamilton was appointed as lay representative from Haskell to the Big Country Library System in Abilene. Wanda Watson was appointed alternate lay representative. Maxine and I will be in Abilene Tuesday to vote on proposed policies in the Big Country Library System.

These policies affect all libraries in the Big Country System and we are pleased to be able to have a say in how these policies affect our library. Several items of business were discussed at the board meeting, among them being the establishment of a library policy and a book sale planned for the next Super 2nd Saturday in October.

The following people donated books and magazines since Aug. 1:

Tex Little, Robbie Harris, Clair Haliburton, Holly Smith, Jennifer Allman, Mary Ann Hatley, Lois Howard, Wendy and Sara Dulaney, Jo Cox, Faye Hallmark, Starla Whitaker, Kay Henry, Nelda Jetton, Charles Smith and Mary Dewey.

We would like to thank them for their donations. So many people enjoy the magazines and we appreciate your returning them when you are through so that others may read them. We have magazines on golf, guns, fishing, gardening, home decorating, architecture, travel, motor homes, finance, health care, Texas, New Mexico, fashion and farming.

Parents, please check and see if your children still have books out from the summer and if so please try and return them soon. Some of the books for the summer program were from the Abilene Library and they must be returned very soon if we hope to get books for next summer's program. I again remind you that all books are to be checked out for two weeks only and then they are considered past due.

See you at the library.

Rule Foundation continues planning

Rule Community Memorial Foundation met twice in the month of August. A called meeting on the 9th was for arranging addition of names to the monument which had been called to the attention of the Foundation since its having been erected.

The regular meeting on Aug. 28 reflected that a sprinkler system was now in operation for the park, two flag poles had been erected at the monument, and lighting installation is to be completed shortly. Further planning and preparations for the Homecoming '90 dedication ceremony on Oct. 20 were discussed.

A special moment came when it was announced that the memorial fund had gone over its goal with finance chairman J. C. Lewis having made an additional contribution. In recognition of the occasion, Leon Biffle led the pledge of allegiance and Joe B. Cloud led a prayer, just as they had at the beginning of the monument project.

Funds will continue to be sought according to plans to be developed by a Monument Perpetuating Committee appointed by chairman Herttenberger, composed of A. B. Arnett Jr., chairman, Delwin J. Vernon and Patsy Davis.

A meeting for finalizing arrangements for dedication ceremonies and completion of the monument is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 25 in the Lions Club building. Everyone in the community is invited to attend the meeting and take a part in the ceremonies.

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN - House Speaker Gib Lewis, who faces a reportedly unseen Republican in his Fort Worth re-election bid, got his eyes full of bad press in Austin last week.

Lewis was rocked, for the second time in his four terms as speaker, by charges he failed to comply with state law and make a full disclosure of his financial holdings.

The latest incident involves two business partners included in the first mishap.

Seven years ago, Lewis cleared the air when he filed a misdemeanor charge against himself, pleaded no contest, and paid $800 in fines, saying, "I believe the Speaker of the House is not allowed the privilege of such mistakes, no matter how unintentional."

This time, Lewis failed to disclose 8,800 stock shares, almost nine percent, of N.W. Investments, Inc.

The two controlling partners are beer distributor John McMillan and liquor store magnate James Leggett, both of Fort Worth, who were partners with Lewis in the plane leasing firm he failed to disclose in 1983.

No Knowledge of Stock

Lewis, saying he had no idea he owned part of the investment firm, acknowledged he failed to disclose the business tie as required by state law.

"The first I ever heard of this deal was when a guy with the bank called me. I was completely unaware of it... We had never been notified. Nobody had ever sent us any kind of papers or anything else."

Lewis blamed the problem on "an oversight" and indicated he will file an amended disclosure statement.

Sacred Cows, Tennis Shoes

In addition, Lewis drew fire for his letter to three advocates of the elderly, disabled and mentally ill, who call it an open threat of retaliation.

They had criticized Lewis for supporting Southwest Conference football more than their social services issues.

In his letter to them, Lewis wrote he will fight for social services "without the benefit of insight from your fine organization. I regret the taint your organization must now bear with members of the Legislature as a result of your actions."

The word in Capitol halls is that Lewis has now high-handed lobbyists from the sacred cows of UT and Texas A&M to the little old ladies in tennis shoes. What will follow?

Cowboy on A Comet

Often derided by Democrats as a man behind the times, GOP gubernatorial nominee Clayton Williams last week was more like a cowboy on a comet as he threw open his party's door to Blacks and Hispanics:

Williams stole a march on opponent Ann Richards by touring Houston's embattled Texas Southern University campus with school officials and vowed to keep the predominantly black college open.

Last month, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said TSU should be closed because of financial troubles. He also said the school worked against the state's plan for educational integration.

Williams' campaign also unveiled Spanish language TV ads featuring the bilingual candidate asking Hispanic voters for their support, in Spanish. They're to air heaviest in the Rio Grande Valley. An obviously miffed Richards campaign retorted that she had always been for TSU and was surprised "Williams even knew where the campus was."

Urban Warfare

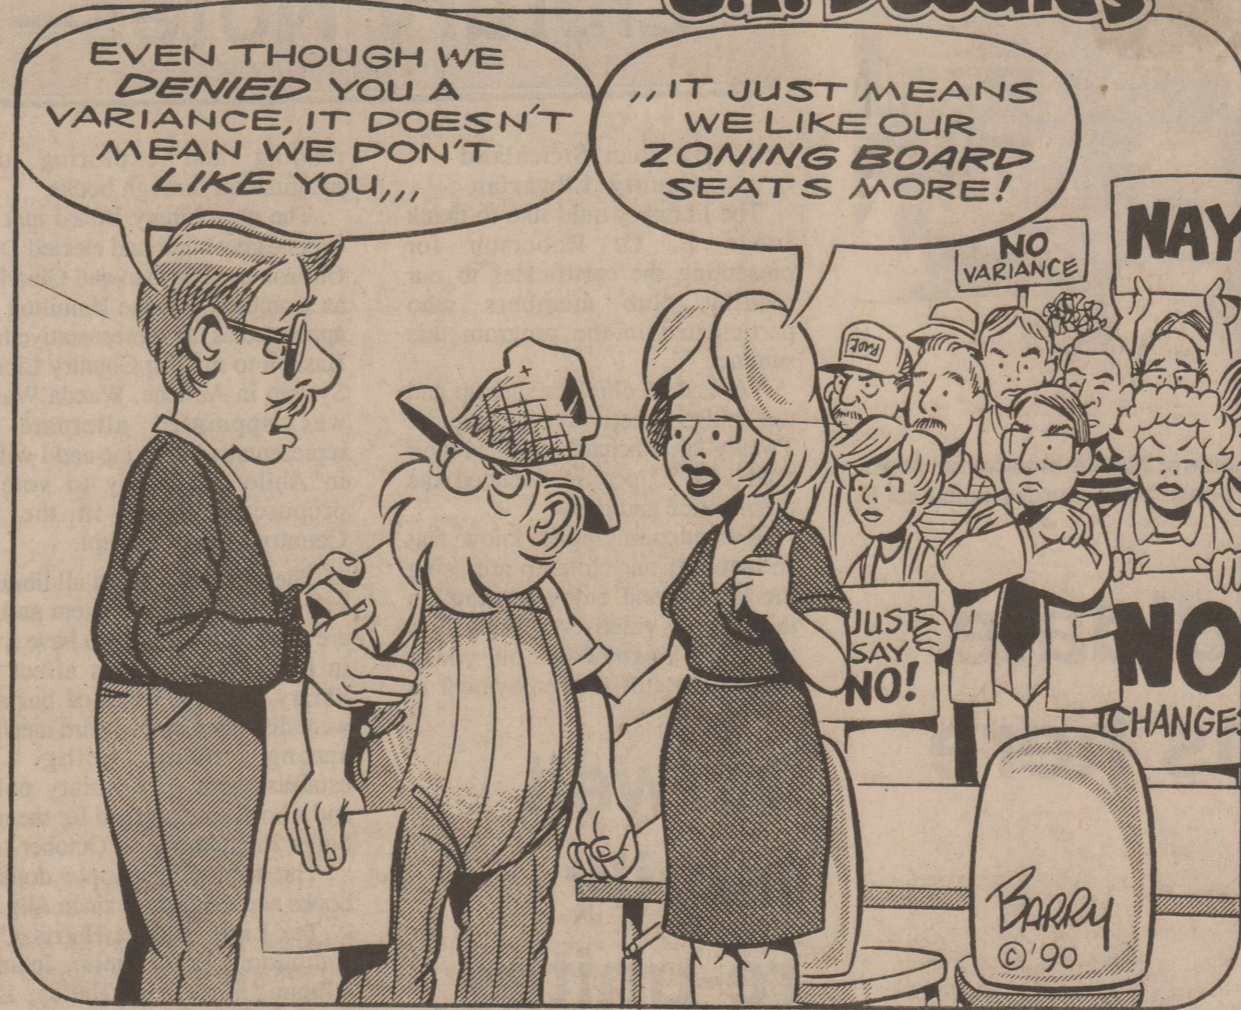

Richards won the primaries with her metropolitan strength, and she obviously counts on it to defeat Williams.

Just as obviously, Williams intends to win it away from her.

Quiet stops in Houston by former President Ronald Reagan and Vice President Dan Quayle, plus his timely courtship of Houston blacks on the TSU issue, can only help Williams there.

Likewise, Williams' Spanish-language appeal not only threatens to erode her strength in the Valley, but in metropolitan San Antonio as well.

Rausch concert

(The following letter was received by the Haskell Business Association.)

Dear Folks: I just wanted to write to you and tell you how very much Lewis Pack and I were impressed with the Civic Center that you have recently constructed in Haskell. It is a wonderful building and I can see where the community will get much benefit in so many ways from having this center.

As you know, Lewis and I were present on Aug. 10 when your association sponsored the musical concert performed by Leon Rausch and his Texas Panthers. I thought that the concert was a great success, well attended and those in attendance seemed to enjoy the music very much.

I do know that Leon Rausch and each member of his band commented to me that evening on how impressed they were with the building, with the stage and with all of the acoustics, and thought it a perfect place for such concerts. They were so pleased to come and they appreciated very much all the courtesies which you extended to them.

Again, I thank you very much and hope much success in the future to your Business Association.

Haskell, presumably, will be the site of a debate between state representative candidates John Cook and Fred Gough if plans of the two candidates materialize.

They have agreed to a series of debates, at least one in each of the eight counties of the district.

Cook, who accepted a challenge from Gough to hold the debates, has suggested that they be during the last two weeks of the campaign, but details are not yet worked out.

Cook, a Democrat, and Gough, a Republican, are seeking the legislative post now held by Haskell's Rick Perry.

A guy could go crazy this year trying to figure out how many football games it is possible to see on television.

CBS, NBC, ABC, ESPN and TNT all will be televising NFL games this season.

Fans will be able to watch tripleheaders every Sunday. The first nine Sunday night games will be shown on TNT. The last eight will be shown on ESPN.

In addition to the regular Monday night games, there will be two Saturday doubleheaders in December and one tripleheader on Dec. 22.

Teams still will play 16 regular-season games, but they will be played over 17 weeks with each club getting one week off. Two more wild-card teams have been thrown into the post-season pot, which translates to Saturday and Sunday doubleheaders the first weekend of playoff action.

And that's just in professional football.

Colleges are adding Thursday games to get away from the Saturday glut.

Outstretching man's best friend, cats have purred their way to the top of the pet popularity polls.

There were 54.6 million pet cats in the United States in 1987, compared to 52.4 million dogs, according to the American Veterinary Medicine Association. That was the first time cats outnumbered dogs.

Why have felines leaped ahead? Probably because of a change in American lifestyles. Since they require less care, cats are more in tune with the schedules of today's working families.

If it looks like a duck, and walks like a duck, it's gotta be a duck.

Right. If it looks like a TV show and sounds like a TV show, it's gotta be a TV show.

Wrong. It's a new type of television advertisement called an "infomercial."

The Federal Trade Commission warns that these program-length commercials, which often mimic genuine TV talk shows or investigative news programs like "Donahue" or "60 Minutes," are a rapidly growing type of television advertising.

They share many features of regular TV shows: typically 30 minutes in length, often part of a series, often hosted by a celebrity or with reports by "investigative reporters." Like genuine TV shows, they "break away" to realistic-looking commercials for the product featured.

There's nothing illegal about advertisers paying for a commercial to sell products. The problem is when a viewer can't tell whether it's a genuine TV show or a paid commercial. And, in many cases, infomercials hawk products that reasonable consumers find worthless.

Don't ever say we Okies don't do things right.

After Charles Troy Coleman became Oklahoma's first inmate to be put to death in 24 years, and first by drug injection, the body was sent to the state medical examiner's office for an autopsy.

The finding verified the cause of death was an intravenous injection of thiopental sodium, pancuronium bromide and potassium chloride.

The autopsy report listed the manner of death as homicide and said the only natural disease examiners found was cysts on the right kidney.

Brown family gathers

The five surviving daughters of Addler R. and Zephyr Brown met for a family reunion on Sunday, Sept. 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dumas in Haskell.

Guests started arriving Friday night and Saturday. Some of the younger men went bird hunting Saturday. Supper was enjoyed by all, and the "cousins" had a great time reminiscing about escapades and shenanigans they pulled during earlier years.

Sunday morning came and the families began arriving--loaded with food and all the necessities, including cameras and video-cam, and the fun really began. With much laughter, chatter, eating, lots of pictures, old and new, family members caught up with all the news and learned about all the new members of the families. Everyone seemed to have a ball and the video shows all.

This was the first time all had been together in 12 years, and the first time they had seen Sammie and Diana Cartwright and Karen and Ray Tate in 12 years. They are the children of Daisy and Sam Cartwright, both deceased. Daisy was a sixth sister.

The oldest family member present was Weldon Turnbow, husband of Estebelle, and the youngest was Kory Foster, son of Gina and Steven Foster, grandson of Bill and Charline Dumas and great-grandson of Robert and Bertie May Dumas.

Traveling the farthest distance was Patsy Milliman of Lafayette, La., the daughter of Estebelle and Weldon Turnbow.

The five girls surviving and all attending were Estebelle Turnbow and Bertie May Dumas of Haskell, Helen Whitworth of Abilene, Ruthie Vassar of Stamford and Geneva Joe Stem of Odessa. There were 37 registered family members, and several old friends dropped by.

Child Welfare Board

The Haskell County Child Welfare Board met Tuesday, Sept. 4, after a summer recess.

Brian Burgess, chairman, called the meeting to order and led in prayer. Other members present were Sue Miller, Billie McKeever, Debbie Earles, Thomas Long and Mary Martin. Linda Haynes, DHS, also was present.

Lori Fouts, CPS, resigned to return to school. The board voted to change the meeting date from the third Tuesday to the first Tuesday of each month.

Sue Miller, treasurer, reported that bus fare for a mother and child to return to Florida, gas mileage for two children to see a doctor, and medicine for a child had been the expenses since the last meeting. Partial reimbursement for the bus ticket had been received. Donations in Brian's office and Haskell Indian pens and $20 were received also. Billie McKeever and Debbie Earles will be selling pens again.

The board will again set up a table with free material during the Haskell County Fair. Linda Haynes will see about the printed material concerning child abuse and Debbie Earles, Billie McKeever and Mary Martin will set up the display.

There was a discussion concerning a better location for taking pictures with Santa Claus at Christmas and having a joint teacher-in service training and board-sponsored guest speaker.

The body constantly produces new cells for the purpose of growth and repair--about 500,000 daily.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as a result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate. The cost is only $60.00. A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

BECAUSE HE IS ONE OF US

Dear Friend:

We have a lot in common here in west central Texas. We share a glorious history. Our ancestors worked hard, sometimes had to fight hard, to make our land productive and secure.

We believe in the Lord, in ourselves, and in our families. We want steady work, a fair price, and a healthy economy. We want our children to have a good education and an opportunity to build their future here at home.

In order to accomplish these goals we need a state government that furnishes quality services efficiently and economically. A government that stands by our sides and stays off our backs.

I believe we can do better, that's why I'm running for State Representative. I know by working together and carefully using our resources we can make sure Texas' best days are ahead of us. I ask for your vote and support in this effort.

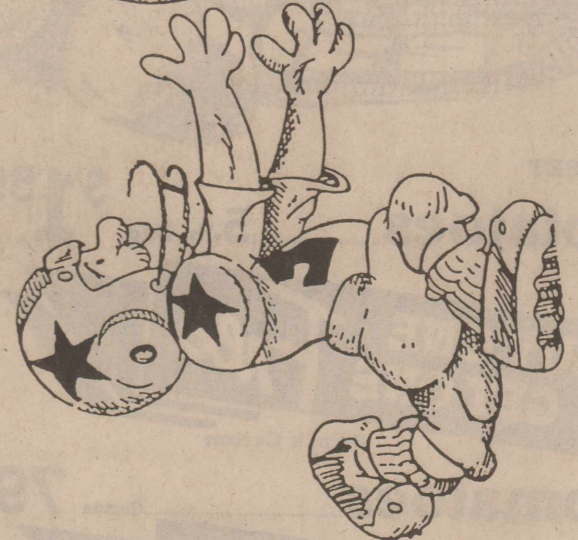

Thank you,

Moguls bury Indians

Haskell struck first, but Munday struck far more often Friday night as the Indians went down 64-19 in their 1990 football inaugural.

The 1A powerhouse Moguls allowed the Indians to build a 13-6 first-period lead before exploding for 28 unanswered points in the second period to put the game out of reach.

The Indians drew first blood on their very first play from scrimmage. After Erick Harvey intercepted a deflected Munday pass at the Mogul 34, Jeremy Fuentes of the Indians sped 34 yards for a touchdown and Chad Gibson booted the extra point to stake Haskell to a 7-0 lead with the game less than two minutes old.

Munday stormed right back. After Terry Collier returned the Indian kickoff to his own 42, the Moguls began a six-play, 58-yard scoring drive. Bobby Dockins scored the touchdown on a 24-yard run, but he missed the extra-point attempt as Haskell held on to a 7-6 lead at the 7:50 mark.

After the Munday kickoff, the Indians began their second possession on their own 16. An illegal receiver downfield penalty nullified a pass completion from Rusty Stocks to Cody Josselet and pushed the the Indians back to the 11. Then, Jonathan Dever took a handoff and raced 83 yards before being hauled down on the Munday 6. Three plays later, Stocks sneaked over from a yard out to give the Indians their second touchdown.

The extra-point attempt was blocked, but the Indians had increased their lead to 13-6 with the first period still less than half gone.

After the Haskell kickoff, Munday drove from its own 38 to the Haskell 2-yard line where the Indian defense forced the Moguls to surrender the ball on downs.

The Indians failed to pick up a first down so Stocks punted to the Munday 37 as the first quarter ended. On the first play after that, Perry Collier fumbled and Harvey recovered at the 35, but the Indians were unable to move so Stocks punted to the Munday 37.

Dockins immediately ran 59 yards to the Indian 4 and then another yard to the 3, from where Terry Collier took it over. Dockins ran over a 2-point conversion as Munday went out front for the first time, 14-13.

Three minutes later, Dockins ran 53 yards for another score and a couple of minutes after that, Dockins passed 53 yards to Terry Collier for another touchdown to make it 28-13 after Dockins' extra point. It was Munday's only pass completion of the night.

In less than another couple of minutes, Munday chalked up its fifth touchdown when Jay Kingston intercepted a Haskell pass and returned it all the way, making the score 34-13. A fumble recovery at the Haskell 24 gave the Moguls still another chance, but the first half ended with Munday facing fourth down on the Haskell 1.

The Moguls wasted little time continuing the onslaught when the second half got underway. Tyler Thompson ran 45 yards for a touchdown to make the score 42-13 at the 9:04 mark of the third period. Shortly after, Tony Hunter intercepted a Haskell pass at the Indian 17 and Munday scored again four plays later when Perry Collier went over from the 1 to make it 49-13.

After an exchange of possessions, Haskell drove from its own 48 to the Munday 3, but had to give the ball over on downs early in the fourth period. On the first play from that point, Dockins ran 97 yards for the longest run of the long-run night and Munday had built an insurmountable 56-13 lead.

Haskell drove 69 yards for its third touchdown in its next possession. Dever ran 32 yards for the score to make it 56-19 with 7:15 remaining.

Munday's final touchdown came when Terry Collier took a pitchout from Dockins and sped 34 yards into the end zone.

Dockins wound up the night with a staggering 270 yards rushing in just 9 carries. Terry Collier had 132 yards in 15 totes.

For the Indians, Dever carried 30 times for 197 yards and Fuentes had 60 yards in 10 carries.

--Social Security--

By M. Glynn Hammons
District Manager

Starting in October, some people in the Big Country area may receive a notice from their financial institution indicating that the Social Security number and/or the name in the institution's records are different than the ones in the records of the Internal Revenue Service.

In some cases, it may be necessary for the person to contact Social Security to change his or her name in Social Security records or to verify the information already in those records.

If the person needs to change the information in Social Security records, he or she should have documentary evidence showing both his or her old and new names, as well as evidence of identity.

It is a good idea to call Social Security first to make sure what action is needed. That way, an unnecessary visit to the office may be avoided. It is easy to call Social Security's toll-free telephone number, 1-800-234-5772.

Toll-free telephone service is available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays. The best times to call are early in the morning and late afternoon. And if you can, it is best to call later in the week and later in the month.

--Rule--

by Vicky Anderson
(Received too late for last week's column):

Visitors in the home of Doris Lehrmann over the Labor Day weekend were all of her children: Ricky and Brian Lehrmann of Rowlett, Randy and Vanessa Lehrmann of Sweetwater; Bobby, Norva, Hollie, Josh and Keli Smith of Rule; Mike, Marla and Mitchell Mills of Lubbock; also her parents: Mr. and Mrs. Leo Monse, Sr. of Sagerton, and her sister and husband, Virgil and Geneva Vahlenkamp of Denton.

Doris Lehrmann visited with her sisters-in-law and brothers-in-laws, also Mrs. Little Lehrmann of Haskell Care Home of Haskell in the home of Clancy and Helen Lehrmann of Old Glory recently.

Also, present were the following: Pearl Schwartz of Snyder, Verenda and Carl of Abilene; Jan and Adrienne Fouts of Lubbock and Willie Dee and Wanda Lehrmann of Fort Worth.

Orville Hamilton is recovering from recent surgery at Hendrick Medical Center. He is due to be released some time this week.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Roy Phemister. Roy was a brother of Rule resident: Retith Keahey. He was a gospel preacher at Edinburg at the time of his death.

Three family reunions were held in Rule on Labor Day weekend. The descendants of Will and Dora Sturdivant held their reunion in the home of the Jerry Cannons on Sunday. 35 were present. Jerry and Joe's late mother, Jessie Cannon was a Sturdivant.

41 descendants of Ida Mae and Jesse Ezekial Sorrells held a family reunion at the Rule Lions Club Building on Sept. 2. A good time was reported by all.

On Sept. 2nd, 37 descendants attended the Harris reunion which was held at the Philadelphian Club. Cities represented were Athens, Stephenville, Andrews, Denton, Plainview, Haskell and Rule.

A nice-sized crowd turned out for the picnic at Sorrells Memorial Park on Labor Day at 5:30 p.m. until dark. "Hard Country" band provided the entertainment. We were also privileged to hear Bonnie Workman play her fiddle. A peashelling contest was won by Maxine Hertenburger. Each family brought a picnic lunch and folding chairs. Cold drinks, watermelon and ice cream were furnished by the Lions Club. A fun time was had by everyone present. Candidates for the Jubilee Queen contests were introduced: Tammy Sanders, Melissa Carreon, Laurie Boger, Tori Jenkins, Angela Hisey, Kenna Tanner, Jana Saffel, Traci Sanders, Bobbie Jones and Christy Mathis. Thanks to Raymond Wooldridge for the delicious watermelons.

On Aug. 31, your writer was a luncheon guest of her niece, Pat Gray and husband, Tommy, at the Cliff House. Earlier I visited briefly with Woncile and Allan Fowler. After lunch, Vicky Anderson spent the afternoon visiting with long-time friend, Bobby Anderson.

Deepest sympathy is extended to the family of George Rollins.

Our sincere sympathy is sent to the family of Hugh Ousley, retired minister, who recently died in California. He was a brother of Novis Ousley, former Rule resident.

A speedy recovery is wished for Audrey Westmoreland, who is a patient in Anson General Hospital.

There was a good turn-out for the reception for Congressman Charles Stenholm and wife, Cindy, at the Farmers National Bank on the afternoon of Sept. 5.

Perry wants trade pact with Mexico

With Congress now reconvening, they will soon be able to help the Texas economy by encouraging a free trade agreement with Mexico, says Rick Perry, the GOP candidate for Texas Agriculture Commissioner.

"Texas is Mexico's No. 1 trading partner," Perry said. "We sold $9.7 billion in goods to them last year. With a free trade agreement, that will increase dramatically, creating more jobs and economic prosperity for Texas and America."

"Our relationship with Mexico needs to be No. 1 on our list," Perry continued. "They present a welcome market for our grain and livestock. As we've seen with the Iraqi invasion, markets can be shut down quickly. We need to capitalize on Mexico's needs and encourage Congress to put the free-trade agreement on the front burner."

Perry predicted his opponent would side with the AFL-CIO which has adamantly opposed lowering trade barriers to Mexico.

"He knows the labor unions are supporting him, so I figure he will take their side--which will be another kick in the teeth to Texas farmers and ranchers," said Perry.

Perry's plan to step up international marketing includes:

1) Convene a meeting of producers to identify trade barriers and trade opportunities.

2) Establish a working advisory committee to aid in the development of export markets.

3) Hold meetings of border state agricultural officials, modeled after Gov. Clements' Border State Governors.

4) Establish a close liaison with the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Agricultural Technical Advisory Committee to the U.S. Special Trade Representative.

"It will take credibility in Washington and in other countries to get this ball rolling," Perry said. "What kind of credibility does Jim Hightower have in Washington when he calls the President of the United States a 'fool' and the 'rear end of a horse'?"

If a kernel of popcorn were dropped on a neutron star, it would produce as much energy as a World War II atomic bomb.

1890 - 1990 A CENTURY of VISION

by Pauline Couch
Vice-President & Cashier (Retired)

New President Installed at Haskell Nat'l Bank September 1, 1967

Roy Johnson, vice-president for the past 20 years, will be stepped-up to president, and Abe Turner, who resigned his position as cashier of the Haskell National Bank early this year to join the staff of the Texas Bank & Trust Company in Sweetwater, is returning to Haskell to serve as vice-president and secretary to the board of directors.

Roy Johnson, who will assume the role of presidency of the Haskell National Bank on September 1, came to Haskell from Abilene on January 15, 1947, where he was associated with the First National Bank in that city from September 1920 to January 1947, including leave of absence while in the military service. Mr. Johnson is also active in community and church affairs and his wife was manager of the Chamber of Commerce for a number of years.

The late "sixties" and early "seventies" ushered in a whole new way of life for this nation, and most of the world. This was the era of protest, social upheaval, racial strife, "Hippies", generation gaps, Astronauts, the Moon Landing, Rock Music, ELVIS and the COMPUTER. It also was the time of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, culminating in the dramatic "swearing in" of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson aboard Air Force One on the return trip to Washington D. C. from the Dallas death site. Johnson's presidential years were embittered and embattled, due to civil rights movements, and the Viet Nam horrors, leading to his decision never to seek public office again. Then came Richard Nixon, again, (he had lost his presidential bid eight years earlier to John Kennedy in a very bitter battle of politics). This nation then had to deal with Nixon's Watergate scandal and eventual resignation to forego impeachment and possible prison. All of these events created turbulent times for this nation and its economy, and perhaps spurred industry and agriculture to revamp their images and turn to new methods.

It was during this time that W. R. Johnson replaced A. C. Pierson as President of Haskell National Bank in September 1967 and served until September 1969 -- becoming the first name other than Pierson to attain that rank. Mr. Johnson had previously served as Vice President for about twenty years before being elevated to the Presidency after Mr. Pierson's retirement. Mr. Johnson retired in 1969. Abe Turner became President in September 1969 and still remains in that capacity. Mr. Johnson is still enjoying his retirement years in Burleson, Texas.

Mrs. Rueffer hostess to Weinert club

By Faye Jetton
Club Reporter

The Weinert Extension Homemakers met Sept. 4 in the home of Henrietta Rueffer.

The meeting was called to order by Betty Sanders, president. The hostess led members in the TEHA prayer and a reading.

Nine members answered roll call (making a wish for the person on your left).

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Alice Yates, secretary-treasurer, and approved. Alice gave the council report in the absence of Henrietta at the last council meeting.

The club made plans to serve sandwiches, cookies, pies, brownies, coffee and Cokes at the Weinert Homecoming Oct. 6.

Plans were made for the education booth at the fair Sept. 21-22. Members were asked to turn in hints and ideas for the new year club book to Dolores Medford.

Chariman for the TEHA state meeting is Jimmie Weinert. (Frances Fischer, Margaret Jones and Jimmie Weinert are delegates.) Alternates are Alta McGuire and Retha Mullins.

The program for the day was plans for the fair and the Weinert Homecoming.

Next meeting will be Monday, Oct. 2, in the home of Alta McGuire.

Refreshments were served to Betty Sanders, Alice Yates, Myrtle Phemister, Faye Jetton, Jimmie Weinert, Alta McGuire, Agnes Winchester, Cordie Cunningham and hostess Henrietta Rueffer.

To remove chewing gum from clothes, press ice cubes against the gum until it becomes brittle and breaks off. Then use a spot remover to vanish the last traces.

Homemakers beginning new year

The Haskell Young Homemakers held their first meeting for 90-91 on Aug. 20 at the Haskell National Bank Community Building.

Hosting the meeting were the club's officers, Sharon Bird, president; Angi Kruger, vice president; Bonita Tatum, secretary-reporter; Sharon Rueffer, treasurer; Norma Richardson, parliamentarian; and Wanda Thompson, advisor.

Seventeen members and guests were served fruit from a watermelon bowl, along with sandwiches and chips.

After the business meeting, the group played Pictionary as a means of getting acquainted. The door prize was won by Kristi Walker.

Next meeting will be Sept. 17 at Holden-McCauley Funeral Home. Meg Hodges will speak on organ donors.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

HOME-OFFICE DEDUCTION (AN UPDATE)

You may be able to deduct a portion of the costs of your home if you operate a full or part-time business there. The tax write-off could include a share of utilities, insurance, repairs, property taxes, mortgage interest, and depreciation (or rent, if you don't own your home).

Your home office must be used exclusively and regularly as your principal place of business or as a place to meet clients or customers. You're disqualified if you watch TV in your "office" or let guests sleep on the office sofa. To prove you use your home office regularly, you should work there more than a few hours a month.

You get no deduction for performing your employer's work in your home unless you are required by your employer to do so. You can't deduct space you use merely to manage your investments or rental property.

The space you claim for a write-off can be a room or part of a room that is partitioned off for business use. Measure the portion of your home used for your business and deduct that same share of your total home expenses. You can't write off more expense than you have business income, however.

Until recently, your home office had to be the focal point of your business, where the bulk of your business revenue was earned. A physician named Soliman has been allowed by the Tax Court to take a write-off for a home office because it was essential to his business and he spent a substantial amount of time working there. So, even if you provide services elsewhere—such as at a hospital, performance hall, or showroom—you may be allowed a home office deduction. But, watch out! The IRS scrutinizes home office deductions and has indicated it will appeal the Soliman ruling.

South Plains counting on Roger Roewe

South Plains College track coach James Morris has inked three area blue chip prospects for his 1990-91 squad as it prepares for another banner season.

"We are proud to have these fine athletes join our program," said Morris. "Each has had an outstanding high school career and brings a lot of potential to college competition."

The list of recruits include Craig Skiles, state qualifier in the 110 high hurdles from Amarillo; Cody Stanaland, distance runner from Jayton who placed third at state in the 3200; and Roger Roewe, state 2A discus runnerup from Haskell.

"These recruits are the calibre of athletes who will contribute to our team as it competes on a national level," said Morris. "They are very much capable of competing at that level."

Roewe was a district champion in the discus two years at Haskell High School. His best mark in the discus is 164-7, just over his 163-3 throw which netted him second place at the 1990 2A state meeting. He has thrown a 46-9 shot put. Roewe is the son of Conrad and Betty Roewe of Haskell.

The Texans finished third in the nation this past year at both the National Junior College Athletic Association Indoor and Outdoor Track and Field Championships.
