JOURNAL REPORT

Bailey County Jail inmates unhappy because they missed a recreational period flooded the lockup last Thursday, stuffing towels down commodes and flushing them.

Bailey County Sheriff Richard Wills said the prisoners had an extra long recreational period the day before during a shakedown, during which deputies searched the facility for weapons and contraband.

Inmates were removed from their cells while deputies and trustees mopped up water. Wills said no real damage was done.

The Bailey County Commissioners Court Monday approved spending $10,000 to purchase vacant lots south of the Courthouse.

The lots, located on the southeast corner of West Second and Ave. D, are owned by Carol Young.

The Commissioners have discussed using the lots for Courthouse parking, if the present jail is expanded.

Gonzales becomes second time winner

By LEAH BELL
Journal writer

Entries were down in week four of the football contest, but competition was fierce none-the-less.

In the end, repeat winner Veronica Gonzales took first place over the twenty-two other contestants.

Second place this week went to last week's winner, Sandra Orozco, and third place was claimed by John Graves.

Gonzales took top honors by missing only three games, the best anyone has done so far this season.

The tiebreaker game was Muleshoe at Lubbock Roosevelt and the actual number of points scored in that game was 60. Muleshoe lost 26-34.

Orozco miscued on four games, but her tiebreaker guess of 50 points hoisted her above Graves, who also missed only four. His tiebreaker guess was 40 points.

For the second week in a row, Scott Brown finished just out of the money in fourth place. He, too, only missed four games, but his TB guess of 38 was just a little further away than Graves'.

Muleshoe awarded plaque

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

The Texas Economic Development Council (TEDC) has announced Muleshoe as the winner of Category I in its annual Community Economic Development Awards (CEDA) for 2002.

The winners in their respective population categories were: Category I - Muleshoe; Category II - Commerce; Category III - Mansfield; Category IV - Tyler; and Category V - Irving.

Neil McDonald of Odessa, 2002 TEDC chair, stated "Our CEDA luncheon is one of the ways in which our organization honors the excellent work done by our communities, their leaders and their economic development professionals," said McDonald.

She also noted, "Each community nominated achieved excellence in economic development and substantially improved the

Muleshoe Mules fall to Roosevelt Eagles

Sometimes coaches have to make difficult decisions and Friday night at Lubbock Roosevelt Muleshoe coach David Wood had to make one of those decisions. The Eagles owned a one-point lead and were on the Mule four-yard line with 59-seconds left in the game.

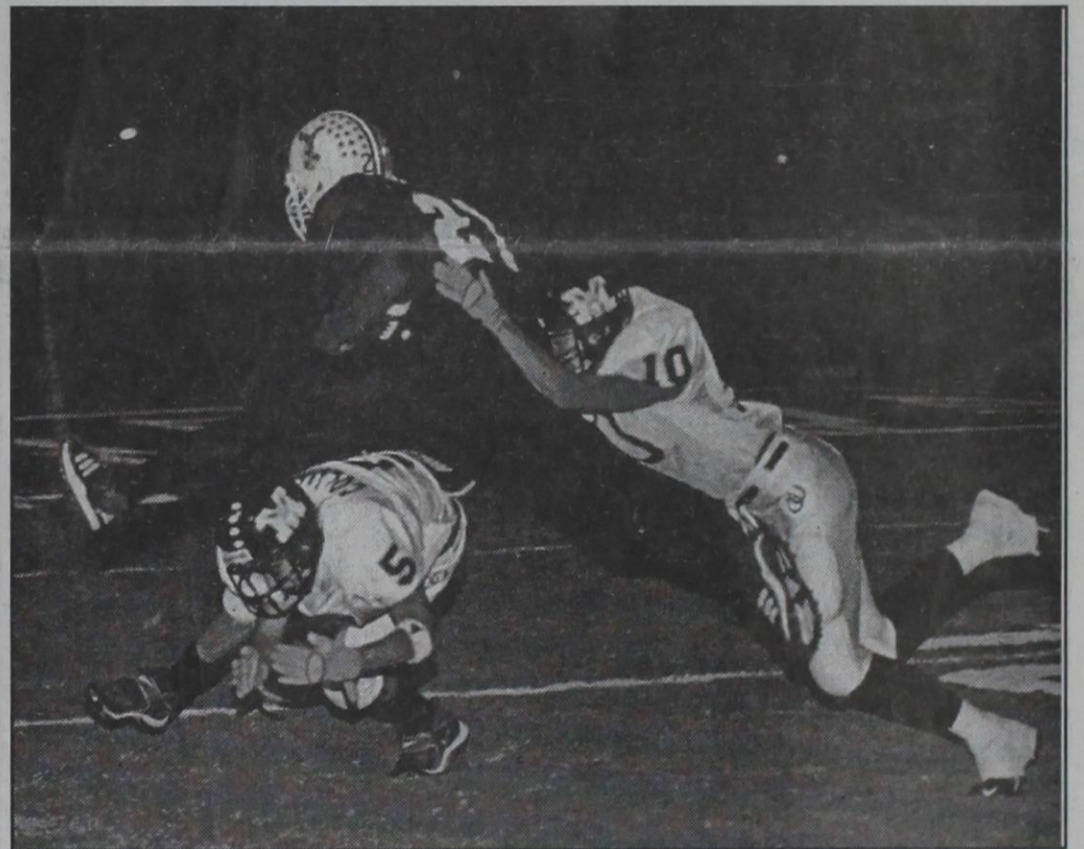

The Mules were out of time-outs when Wood sent in the message to allow the Eagles to score. Kyle Yell could not believe what he heard and tackled Courtney Bibbs after a short gain.

Again Wood sent the message to allow them to score and was allowed Bibbs to walk into the end zone to put the Eagles up 34-26 with 52-seconds showing.

"I told the guys to let them score — figuring they would go for the one-point conversion. That would put us down by eight but we would get the ball and have a chance to tie the game." Explained Wood.

"If they had just downed the ball they could have run the clock out. It looked like they just ran over us on that last touchdown. We gave our offense a chance by allowing them to score — but it just did not work out for us."

A.J. Flores banged a squib kick through the front lines of the Eagle return team. The football took crazy hops down the field and no Eagle could seem to get a handle on the ball. Matt Sadler was the first Mule to reach the loose ball and claimed it for the Mules on the Eagle 25.

In only four plays the Mules proved the Eagles were not invincible with Flores out running the defense to the corner of the Roosevelt end zone. Tatum Heathington made his first reception of the year for a 16-yard gain to give the Mules a first down on the Eagle nine.

In fact, he and Graves missed three of the same games. Brown's fourth miss was a result of Holliday's win over Henrietta. Graves' fourth miscue was Pampa's win over Canyon-Randall.

Dallas not only shocked St. Louis by winning Sunday, they fooled 19 of our contestants into believing they'd lose, making it the most missed game of the contest.

Week four's contest saw three games which were missed by only one person. This is the first time for this to happen during the Journal's 2002 contest.

Contest newcomer Justin Brozek was the only player to miss Frenship's win over Borger. Bruce Bruns lost his "Mojo" when he picked Lubbock Monterey to beat Odessa-Permian, and Mandy Garner was the only one to choose the Houston Texans over Philly.

Filling out the top ten places this week were, respectively: Richard Orozco, William Orozco, Bruns, Carl Jacobs, Retha Tigue and Harold Pollard.

The Eagles defended the Swinging Gate to hold the Mule lead to 6-0 early in the first period. The Mules held the Eagles scoreless during the first period. Almost two minutes were gone in the second quarter before Devin Rocha picked off a Landon Sheets pass on the Mule 25.

Four plays later Eagle quarterback Kelly Hildebrandt rolled to his right and ran to pay dirt. The failed conversion attempt left the game knotted at 6-6. The Mules regained the lead when Flores broke free up the middle for a 41-yard scamper.

Smoky Ramirez cut down the last Eagle to have a shot at Flores to put the Mules up 12-6 with over three minutes left to play in the first half. The scoring drive went 72-yards on eight plays.

The Eagles struck back quickly with a six-play 60-yard drive of their own capped by a two yard run by Bibbs. Rocha's kick was good to give the Eagles their first lead of the night at 13-12 as the first half ended.

Danny Bonilla returned the opening kick of the second half from the Mule 26 to the 38. Sheets kept the ball on an option around right end for a big gain before being tackled from behind.

Sheets lost the handle on the ball and as the ball rolled deeper into Eagle territory Joel Cowart recovered for the Mules on the Eagle 25 for a 37-yard gain. After finding Valentine Colunga open on the Eagles six, Sheets completed a scoring strike to Heathington to again put the Mules on top 18-13.

With 5:28 remaining in the third period Roosevelt drove 54-yards in seven plays to take a 20-18 advantage. The Eagles extended their lead to 27-18 early in the final period.

Daniel Campolla made a 39-yard grab to move the Mules to the Eagles three before Flores powered into the end zone to cut the Eagle advantage to 27-26.

"It was a good football game between two good teams tonight. We grew up tonight and played a solid football against a very good team. We are going to take the next two weeks to get ready for district and Littlefield," continued Wood.

The Mules open district October 11 when the Littlefield Wildcats visit Benny Douglas Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Though happy to see coverage of our event in the Muleshoe Journal, I was a little dismayed that there were several mistakes.

First, the name of the event was the West Texas Campaign Caravan, in celebration of Speaker Pete Laney.

The purpose you stated for the Caravan was incorrect. The purpose was two-fold:

—To celebrate Pete Laney for the entire week Sept. 22-26 (beginning with a banquet in his honor Sunday night). The distinction is an important one, because Pete Laney's admirers reach across party lines. Yes, we had some other candidates from the Democratic Party, but we also had some republicans participate as well.

—To celebrate West Texas and bring attention to our area, including Muleshoe, to show off our communities. We sometimes get ignored in West Texas and especially with the new redistricting. We felt it important that the media, which was traveling with the Caravan, be made aware that West Texas is not only alive, but not to be forgot ten.

One of the speakers said it very well—"In West Texas, we can't afford to be only democrats or republicans, we have to be West Texans first."

I am very thankful that the entire community helped make Pete Laney certain that, though he is no longer our representative, he has our heartfelt thanks for years past.

LINDA MCGONAGILL
Muleshoe

Dear Editor,

In case you're wondering why we're concentrating so much on Saddam Hussein, it's to keep us from concentrating on the economy.

Among the highlights of the Bush economic record:

Rising unemployment. More than two million Americans have been added to the unemployment rolls since Bush took office. Long-term unemployment has more than doubled since Bush took office, and unemployment has risen from 4.2 percent to 5.7 percent.

Corporate scandals. Despite enormous losses to investors and thousands of workers losing their jobs, the Bush administration fought tough reforms that would hold corporate America accountable for its actions. Bush is still fighting laws that would protect pensions for working families and make it harder for business to avoid their fair share of taxes by relocating overseas.

Slow economic growth. The gross domestic product (GDP) has grown just one percent since Bush took office, the slowest growth of any administration in 50 years.

A falling stock market. Slow economic growth and Bush's inability to stand up to corporate criminals have contributed to a loss of $4.5 trillion in investor value since President Bush took office.

A return to federal deficits. After years of budget surpluses under the Clinton Administration, Bush's fiscal irresponsibility has returned the federal government to deficit spending. The Bush administration projects that the government will spend more than it takes in through the end of Bush's term. Bush's tax giveaways to the richest Americans have cost our economy dearly.

This is a dramatized version of facts taken from the book of Genesis intending to show some of the customs of these ancient and traditional times.

A BRIDE FOR ISAAC

ELIEZER, HAVING BEEN MADE A GUEST IN THE HOUSE OF REBEKAH'S FAMILY, NOW ASKS THAT HE BE ALLOWED TO TAKE HER BACK TO ABRAHAM, AS A BRIDE FOR ISAAC, THE BELOVED SON OF ABRAHAM...

I PRAY THEE, DEAL KINDLY WITH ME AND LET ME TAKE THE MAIDEN!

NOW LABAN AND REBEKAH'S FATHER, BETHUEL, DWELL THOUGHTFULLY ON THIS REQUEST...

WE HAVE FEASTED, LONG AND MERRILY, SEND ME AWAY UNTO MY MASTER!

NAY NOW! STAY A WHILE LONGER—DO NOT GO!

WE MAY NEVER SEE REBEKAH AGAIN!

INDEED, ELIEZER IS VERY CONCERNED ABOUT ABRAHAM! HE HAS BEEN GONE A LONG TIME AND IS ANXIOUS TO RETURN WITH REBEKAH—FOR WHO KNOWS—ABRAHAM MAY EVEN NOW, BE ON HIS DEATH BED AND MAY NEVER SEE HIS SON'S BRIDE IF ELIEZER DOES NOT HURRY BACK—BUT THERE ARE OBJECTIONS!

“Building Strong Families” symposium Oct. 15

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

The Parmer County Annual Symposium for 2002 on “Building Strong Families” will be held on Tuesday, October 15, from 6:30-8:00 p.m. at the Farwell Community Center, 207 9th Street.

The symposium is sponsored annually by the Parmer County Extension Office and is open to any interested citizen.

A meal will be served and the central topic of the evening will be “The Value of Family.”

The keynote speaker for this year’s symposium is author, editor, newspaper columnist, and speaker Curtis K. Shelburne.

Longtime minister, managing editor of The Christian Appeal devotional magazine, and writer of the Focus on Faith newspaper column, Shelburne is the author of an inspirational book entitled “How To Measure a Rainbow,” published last year by Covenant Publishing.

Curtis K. Shelburne

Described in book reviews as “a gifted sentence-crafter reminiscent of Max Lucado” and a writer “whose storytelling skill is sharp,” Shelburne has spoken for many church, school, and civic groups and recently was featured at “author events” in, among other retail bookstores, the Barnes & Noble bookstores in both Amarillo and Lubbock. He and his wife, Juana, are the parents of four sons, ages 16-22.

Cody G. Hill, Parmer County Extension Agent, said, “This is a great opportunity for families in our area to enjoy a special evening together. We’ll have a great meal, have a brief report on the work of the Extension and Curtis Shelburne will share some heartwarming stories and gentle lessons designed to open our eyes again to the wonder and blessing of what it means to be a family. We hope many in our area will join us as in his presentation entitled “How To Measure a Rainbow,” he focuses on the beautiful colors of love and laughter, faith-based integrity and respect, that can so wonderfully shine through the lives of our families.”

The charge for participation in the symposium, including the meal is $5, with no fee for children under 10 years.

The deadline for registration is October 11.

For registration or other information, please call (806) 481-3619.

Grain conference scheduled in Amarillo

SPECIAL TO THE JOURNAL

Ethanol is quickly becoming the fuel of choice in the United States as a safer, cleaner-burning alternative to the petroleum-based MTBE.

As Texas looks at developing an ethanol market they must recognize the importance of its valuable co-product Distillers Dry Grains (DDG), which can be used as a protein supplement in livestock feed.

The National Corn Growers Association (NCGA) Southwest Distillers Grains Conference, sponsored by NCGA's state affiliate Texas Corn Producers Board (TCPB) and National Grain Sorghum Producers, will be held Oct. 30-31 in Amarillo, Texas.

This conference is intended to educate anyone interested in ethanol co-products fed to livestock, swine and poultry.

This two-day conference is designed to dispel myths concerning ethanol co-products and will instruct attendees on how to best utilize this complementary ingredient in their livestock and poultry rations. Sessions include nutrition reports, first-hand experiences, and future production and market trends of DDG.

NCGA Livestock Information and Programs Manager Tracy Snider says animal nutritionists, feed consultants, commodity marketers, co-product merchandisers, feed yard, hog farm and poultry operation managers will benefit most.

"Due to the number of cattle on feed in Texas, the growing dairy industry and prospective hog farms, there are accessible markets for corn distillers grains in Texas," says TCPB director and NCGA Research and Business Development action team member Jimmy Wedel.

As Texas continues to look at prospective ethanol plants, the livestock population is playing an important role in determining potential profitability and grower value.

Nearly 3.8 million tons of DDG are currently created in domestic dry grind ethanol production; farmer owned cooperatives represent 48% of that production. For every bushel of corn made into ethanol, 18 pounds of DDG are created and must maintain value to contribute to plant profitability.

"With the demand for ethanol set to triple by 2003, the question is where the co-products, such as distillers grains will go," Snider concluded. "These workshops are meant to set the stage for those discussions and open up opportunities for better understanding the use of distillers grains."

Twelve CEUs will be given for the American Registry of Professional Animal Scientists (ARPAS).

Attendees can register online at <http://www.ncga.com/research/ddg/form.htm> or by contacting Jennifer Mueller at 314-275-9915 ext. 118 or mueller@ncga.com. The deadline for early registration is Sept. 27. For more information about DDGS and the upcoming conference, visit the NCGA website at <http://www.ncgs.com/research/ddg/index.htm> or TCPB's website at www.texascorn.org.

HONORS

LUST

Local Angus breeder Glenn & Barbara Lust of Muleshoe were recognized for owning one bull listed in the 2002 Fall Sire Evaluation Report published by the American Angus Association headquartered in St. Joseph, Missouri.

Expected Progeny Differences (EPDs) are generated from the performance database of the American Angus Association, which includes information submitted by more than 7,500 Angus breeders this past year through the Angus Herd Improvement Records (AHIR) program.

EPDs are available for 17 traits including birth weight, weaning weight, milk, yearling weight and height, mature daughter weight and height, and scrotal circumference. Carcass progeny measures generate EPDs on carcass weight, marbling, rib eye area, external fat thickness and percent retail product. The semi-annual analysis for the sire evaluation report is conducted at Iowa State University.

PACHECO

MULESHOE HERITAGE FOUNDATION

The Muleshoe Heritage Foundation works constantly to support activities which enhance the Muleshoe area.

One example was the recent annual open membership meeting which brought unique entertainment as well as an update on the beautiful Heritage Center.

Other yearly activities include the Christmas Open House and the annual Tour de Muleshoe bike ride. Both these activities spotlight the attractions in the Muleshoe area and bring visitors from all around.

A new and exciting venture of the Heritage Center is to join and support the Texas Plains Trail Regional Committee in their application for the official designation of the Texas Plains Trail.

This is designed to promote tourism along this trail which embodies 52 counties in this area.

The Texas Travel Trails Tourism Program is a community-based endeavor designed to assist local governments and organizations in the preservation, enhancement and marketing of heritage attractions along and surrounding designated trails.

The Texas Plains Trail Committee, comprised of representatives throughout the region, is working to develop the Texas Plains Trail as a marketable tourism destination.

The monthly meeting of this group was held at the Muleshoe Heritage Center on Tuesday, Oct. 1 at 1:30 p.m.

Members of the Heritage board were excited to host this important meeting and to show the group our unique Heritage Center.

How Can I Really Find Happiness? By Not Chasing It!

I'm thankful for the Brits! When the last star twinkles its last twinkle on this world's last night, if the United States still stands, the English will still be standing right beside us as our most trusted and time-tested friends. I believe that. But I can't help but remind you that back when our nation was just being born over 200 years ago now, relations with King George were a bit strained. You may recall that our founding fathers sent his majesty a pretty impressive note, something to the effect that among the truths we hold to be "self-genuine article—is something that can never truly be "caught" if we make catching it, possessing it, our primary goal. If you want to be absolutely miserable, I'd suggest that you spend a good bit of time each day focusing on yourself and asking, "Am I really happy?" You won't be.

Happiness comes when we get over ourselves. It comes as a wonderful byproduct of doing our duty, loving the people around us, living in grateful thanksgiving to the God above us, and, wonder of wonders, it's not something we catch, it's something that catches us, almost by surprise. And we suddenly realize that, were someone to ask the question, "Are you really happy?" the answer would be, "Well, I hadn't thought that much about it, but, yes, I really am!"

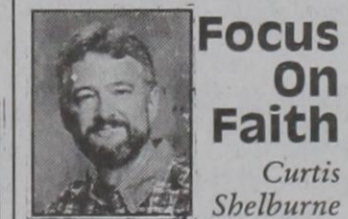

This can get pretty practical. Want an example?

According to James Dobson, an interesting national survey of families and households just released found that "among those who initially rated their marriages as 'very unhappy,' but remained together, nearly 80 percent considered themselves 'happily married' five years later." For those who divorced, the opposite was found to be true.

Sure, some marriages, truly dead or abusive, must be buried. But evidently lots of folks who pursue divorce pursuing happiness, don't find it that way. What they do find is custody battles, scarred children, almost certain financial disaster, loneliness, and, as often as not, a real cycle of unhappiness.

Happiness. Let's be wise about how we "pursue" it.

Curtis Shelburne is minister of the 16th & D Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Curtis Shelburne

But I'm struck by the fact that our lives, if they're going to be very meaningful, and our liberty, if we're truly to be free spiritually as well as legally, depend quite a bit upon how we go about that "pursuit of happiness." The way many folks in our society today chase happiness virtually insures that they'll never "catch" it.

You see, happiness—the

FINE ARTS BOOSTERS

The Muleshoe High Fine Arts Boosters recently held two meetings to start the 2002-2003 school year.

Officers introduced for the year include president, Beverly Beggs; first joint vice-president, David and Sylvia Dominguez; second vice-president, Lori Hall; third vice-president, Richard Orozco; treasurer, Cindy Clayton; secretary, Patricia Mata; and public relations, Gilbert Baca.

The Fine Arts Booster Club supports the art, speech and music departments in junior and high school.

The club's two main money-makers are the concession stand and Fine Arts "Night to Shine."

The concession stand is available Thursday and Friday nights during football games at Bennie Douglas Stadium.

The Fine Arts "Night to Shine," which is presented at the MHS auditorium in the spring, showcases student talent with art exhibits, and band concerts.

Beggs told those attending that "this year has started off great. The response from the parents wanting to help has been wonderful. I truly believe that we are going to have a great year with the Fine Arts Booster Club. So far we have had two meetings with a good turnout for both."

Beggs continues, "I want to encourage parents of Jr. High art, band and choir to come and support the kids. The money the booster club makes doing projects goes to our kids."

In the past, the club has sup-

DOWN THE STREET

By LEAH BELL
Journal writer

Down the street this week, I visited with Paul Wilbanks of Western Drug a couple of weeks ago and he was anxious to put his triple-bypass heart surgery at the end of August behind him.

"I feel just like a teenager," said Wilbanks last week. "I've been walking two miles a day."

He has begun to work three to four days a week at the pharmacy and plans to return to full-time as he feels stronger.

I reported that Helen Schmitz had some hearing loss due to a perm she got a few weeks back. I'm glad to report that her hearing has completely returned.

Schmitz told me that part of her hearing loss was due to "self-doctoring" but that the problem had been corrected.

Tino Campoya, owner of Rusticam Furniture, told me that business is great in their new location at 50th and Slide in Lubbock. His wife, Linda, is running that location while Tino runs the local store.

"We are pleased with business and the location couldn't be better," said Campoya.

Cleta Robertson's brother, Terry Obenhaus, visited his mother Lorene in Muleshoe a couple of weekends ago.

Obenhaus moved to Colorado City, TX about a year ago.

Jacque Boutell got a call from Kay Harris recently.

Kay is the daughter of O.G. and Loyce Killingsworth. She and her two sisters, Jean and Maryann, all came to see their parents for a short visit.

Boutell's parents, Darrell and Gayle Turner of Plainview, formerly of Muleshoe, took a trip to Florida to see their daughter, Cindy Hardy.

"Mom and dad lived in Muleshoe for over 30 years. They still like to know what's going on even though they've been in Plainview for several years," said Boutell.

Mail carrier and Journal office secretary Yolanda Martinez just got back from a one week vacation she took with her mom, Maria Orozco who works at Parkview Nursing Home, brother, Joe Orozco, sister-in-law, Gena, and niece, Sydnie.

The Orozco's drove to San Juan, Texas, to the Virgin del Valle Shrine where they participated in 6 o'clock mass, took in the beautiful scenery and visited curio shops. Unable to participate in all the activities of the day at the shrine, they stayed overnight and returned the next day.

Next, Martinez and her family traveled to San Antonio where they enjoyed shopping in the downtown's Market Square.

With only a week off and time running out, they made their way to Mason, Texas, Maria's birthplace.

She hadn't been to see the house where she spent the first six years of her life in over six years and was disappointed to find that her house was no longer standing.

"Mom was sad to see her childhood home destroyed," said Martinez.

"The trip was fun for the most part though," she added.

Little Sydnie had the roughest time. Car sickness plagued her for most of the trip.

Speaking of San Antonio, Margaret Quintana gave me an update on her daughter, Stephanie.

"She moved to San Antonio in March," said Quintana.

Stephanie, who is a graduate of MHS, is working for Landry's Seafood Restaurant on San Antonio's famous Riverwalk.

Quintana moved to San Antonio from Austin where she had been working for Papacito's Restaurant for four years when she was approached about a job by Landry's.

She accepted the job and is training new employees.

Margaret also mentioned that Monica Swint-Tyson, also a graduate of MHS, has just moved to Albuquerque, NM with her husband, James, and their daughter, Sierra.

Monica started a teaching job just two days after she arrived in Albuquerque.

Jim Haynes dropped by the Journal office last week to give me an update on his father, James.

The elder Haynes was a teacher and principal at Lazbuddie from 1951-57.

"Dad is in a nursing home in Dumas," said Jim. "He's doing reasonably well."

He had been living on his own and was quite healthy until 2001 when he ended up spending close to seven months in hospitals in both Houston and Dallas. Because of his extended illness and frailty, family members made the decision to place him in the nursing home.

Paula Benton and her husband, Steve, went to Lubbock to a birthday party cookout for Paula's great nephew, Kaden Kerby.

Kaden's grandfather is Paula's brother, Al Kerby, of Bovina.

The Bentons are planning a trip to Midland to hear the renowned preacher and author Max Lucado.

Paula said that they're very excited to see the famous inspirational speaker.

I recently got to sit down and have a delightful and all-too-short conversation with Dick Grundon, an English "chap" visiting with Robert and Nelda Hunt down at M-Pyre Auto.

Grundon is from North Hampton Shire, England.

"A shire is similar to your county," he said with a very pronounced accent. So translated into American, this means he's from the county of North Hampton.

He and his wife, Margaret, and their son, David, are in the country until Oct. 18.

They're staying in Portales with their daughter, Vicky Connor, who works at the milk production plant.

They've been making the trip to America since 1991 when Connor lived in Clovis.

Mr. Grundon met Hunt in 1993 while he was "on the combine." Being a farmer himself until 1963, Grundon struck up a conversation. The Grundons have visited the Hunts every year since.

"No visit to America is complete without a trip to Muleshoe," he said.

Grundon is a truck driver and plans to retire in two years when he turns 65.

"I'd retire right here in Muleshoe if we didn't have so much going for us in England," he said. "This is a lovely place."

This was the first visit for son, David, who is a truck mechanic. Another son, Charles, lives in Indonesia and works on a "digger," mining for coal.

RETIRED TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

The Muleshoe Retired Teachers met September 20 at the 16th and D Church of Christ Fellowship Hall. The meeting was called to order by president Lucy Faye Smith. The meal was a covered dish meal.

After the meal, Georgia Peña was recognized for her honor by the state for her work with children.

Buddy Sexton, District XVII President, was introduced and spoke to the group on the updates of the organization.

He told of the needs for this year. One need is for all retired teachers and personnel to be aware of the changes that may take place with their medical insurance in the near future. He said that it is very important for all to get more involved in the politics of our state and nation.

Mr. Sexton also gave the groups some dates to remember. September 23 was the Fall District Convention in Lubbock. Those that attended were Lucy Faye Smith, Rose Sain and Mary Nell Bleeker.

was the spring meeting to be held May 9, 2003 also to be held in Lubbock.

Junior varsity Mules fall to Roosevelt

By DELTON WILHITE
Journal sportswriter

The JV Mules could only cut 10-points from the Lubbock Roosevelt Eagles.

The 18-10 loss completed the Mules non-district season with a record of 2-3.

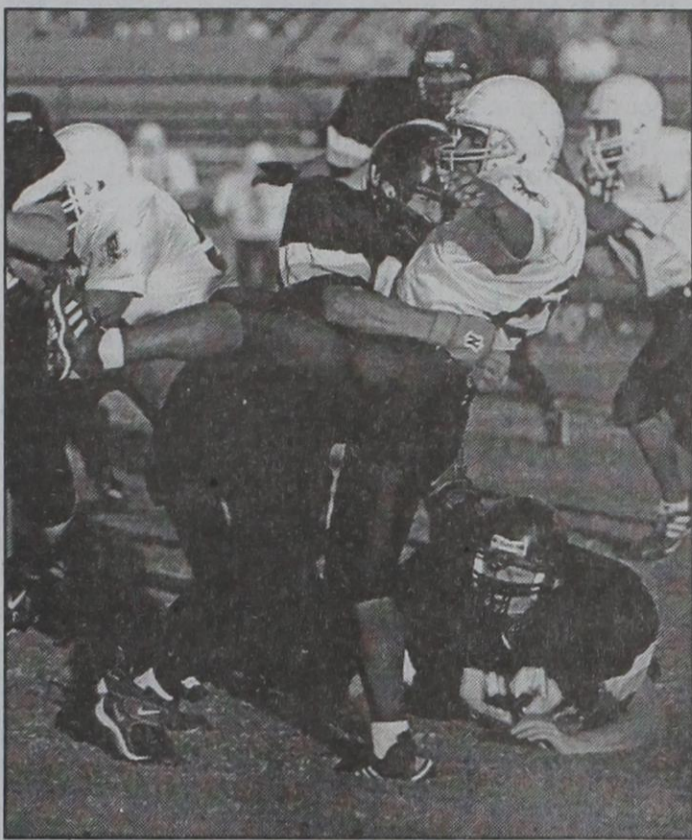

The Eagles first drive of the night began on their own 20. They drove to the Mule 47 before Derrick Purdy, Jorge Mendoza, Ariam Perez and Muniz combined to stop the Eagle ground attack.

Morris broke up a pass to force Roosevelt to punt to the Mules. Muleshoe couldn't handle the punt and the Eagles recovered on the Mule one-yard line. With 3:14 left in the first period Roosevelt jumped out to a 6-0 advantage.

The Mules fumbled a pitch on their own 22 to set up the Eagles second tally that pushed the Eagle lead to 12-0. The Mules were forced to punt on the first play of the second period to the Eagle 40-yard line.

Roosevelt marched 60-yards on 11 plays to take an 18-0 advantage into the halftime break.

The Mules returned to the field following intermission with a vengeance.

Wrap it up

Joel Salcido tackles a Roosevelt player. Because of his hard work, Salcido has been moved to varsity.

Barry Morris and Erwin Lewis stopped the Roosevelt return of the second half kickoff on the Eagle 20. A clipping penalty sent the Eagles back to their 10-yard line.

Raul Muniz, Paul Carrion and Kory Atwood teamed up to stuff the Eagles on first down. Brady Black made the stop after a short gain to force the Eagles to punt from their 17.

A high snap sailed over the Eagle punter's head. Atwood and Carrion chased and tackled the punter in the Eagle end zone for a safety. The two-points cut the Eagle lead to 18-2 with over seven minutes remaining in the third period.

Following the Eagle free kick the Mules could not move the ball and were forced to punt from their own 47. The Eagles mishandled the punt and Muleshoe covered the fumble on the Roosevelt 22.

The Mules cashed in quickly as Black scored from 22-yards out on the Hammer play. Black also carried in the two-point conversion to draw the Mules with in eight-points, trailing the Eagles 18-10.

Neither team could sustain a drive after the Mules' TD with just over six-minutes left in the third frame.

The Mules fumbled a pitch on their own 22 to set up the Eagles second tally that pushed the Eagle lead to 12-0. The Mules were forced to punt on the first play of the second period to the Eagle 40-yard line.

Roosevelt marched 60-yards on 11 plays to take an 18-0 advantage into the halftime break.

Black led the Mule offense with 138-yards on 21-carries and Jason Height added 22-yards on seven attempts. Joel Salcido paced the defense with eight solo tackles and four assists and Atwood had six tackles and 10 assists.

The Mules take a week off to prepare before traveling to Littlefield to tangle with the Wildcats in their district opener.
