Constitutional amendments outlined

Haskell County voters will go to the polls again Nov. 5 to help the state decide the fate of 13 proposed constitutional amendments.

The amendments cover a wide variety of subjects ranging from a proposed ethics commission which would also recommend the salary of members of the legislature and the lieutenant governor, to the proposed exemption of ad valorem taxes of select properties in an enterprise zone, to a state lottery.

Absentee voting now underway

Absentee voting for the Nov. 5 election opened Wednesday and will remain open until Nov. 1. Absentee ballots may be cast at the county clerk's office.

The Nov. 5 election will be to decide 13 proposed constitutional amendments. Also on the ballot will be a proposition to legalize bingo for charitable purposes in Haskell County.

Goodies for Corky

"Corky," 18-month-old Boston Terrier belonging to Don and Delia Haynes, eagerly accepts a dog biscuit at the drive-in window at Haskell National Bank Friday afternoon. Kathryn Medford, teller, said she often gives suckers to children of drive-in customers, but that a lot of people have dogs instead of children so she has started giving out dog biscuits to their canine pets.

Senior housing project proposed

An Atlanta, Ga., developer has proposed to build a 24-unit apartment complex for senior citizens on US 380 west of the hospital.

Jerry Shipley of Arlington, an associate of Charles Schreeder of Atlanta, told The Free Press Monday that the developer has taken an option on the land and is in the process of having it re-zoned from agricultural use to general residential.

The zoning request was presented to the Zoning Board last Thursday, but the board postponed a decision until its Nov. 14 meeting. Shipley said he would appear before the board at that time.

Shipley said the project would be financed by the Farmers Home Administration. Occupancy will be limited to senior citizens. Government rental assistance would be available to tenants who qualify. Shipley estimated that 50 or 60 percent of the tenants would qualify.

Both one- and two-bedroom apartments would be included in the project. Each would be equipped with carpeting, all-electric appliances and washer-dryer connections.

In addition to the 24 units, the project would include a central office and a recreation room (club house). The complex would have a manager and maintenance and security personnel.

Shipley said the complex will be designed for independent living and will meet all handicap access requirements.

Schreeder has built many similar projects in southeastern states and has been building in Texas over the past five and a half years. He recently completed similar projects in Idalou and Littlefield. Other projects have been started or are planned in Andrews, Breckenridge and Lamesa, as well as a number of other Texas cities.

Shipley said the paper work, including financial arrangements and market studies, would take about a year, and construction could be completed as early as four months later.

Indians to meet tough Pied Pipers

One thing the Haskell Indians won't have to worry about in Hamlin Friday night is "overconfidence." That may have been a factor in last Friday's debacle at Jim Ned, but the Pied Pipers are a much more formidable foe.

Hamlin brings a 4-2 record (2-1 in district) in to the 7-2A game at Hamlin. Haskell stands 1-4-1 overall and 1-2 in district.

"Hamlin probably has as much talent as any team we've faced," said Coach Walter Hargrove.

The Pipers have an outstanding back in the person of Waylon McGee. There are several other top hands on the Hamlin team. The Pipers are both big and fast.

Hamlin has lost only to a couple of unbeaten powerhouses, Rotan and Albany. Victories have come over Merkel and Baird, in non-district, and Stamford and Anson in 7-2A play.

Hargrove said he felt the Indians' 36-0 loss at Jim Ned may have

Chamber to get lodging taxes

Revenue from the City of Haskell's hotel/motel tax will be turned over to the Chamber of Commerce.

The 7-percent tax presently generates about $5,000 per year.

State law requires that all proceeds from the hotel/motel tax be used to promote tourism.

Jackson named to City Council

C. T. Jackson was appointed last Thursday as a member of the Haskell City Council. He will be sworn in to office Nov. 14.

The new councilman will succeed Dickie Greenwood, who resigned. Jackson's appointment is only until the next city election, which will be in May of next year.

Jackson, a United Methodist Church minister, moved to Haskell in 1979. He moved to Anson in 1985 to become pastor of the First United Methodist Church there, but returned to Haskell when he retired in 1988 and has lived here since. He now serves as pastor of the First United Methodist in Lueders and commutes there from Haskell.

Council names architect for new city hall

The City Council last Thursday appointed R. E. Marabito of Richardson as the architect to do the design and architect work on the new city hall.

Marabito, who was the architect on the recent school addition, is expected to have the design work completed within the next few weeks.

The council also announced that Selected Municipal Services Group of Houston will handle the financial arrangements for the new building. The city plans to borrow $300,000 from the Houston firm. Arrangements call for a down payment of $45,000 and annual payments of $49,000 over a period of seven years. Interest rate will be 8.05 percent.

Current estimates place the total cost of the building, equipment, professional fees and land acquisition at slightly more than $300,000. Actual construction of the 5,000-square-foot building is estimated at $50 a foot, or $250,000. The land will cost $8,000 and architect fees will be 5 percent.

The cost estimate is considerably below the $400,000 originally announced by the city, a figure which was based on an engineer's estimate. From the beginning, the city said the original figure was "a maximum" and probably above what the actual cost would be.

Still indefinite is the exact location for the new building. The city has chosen property at the southwest corner of South First and Avenue C, pending results of tests for environmental hazards and suitability for the foundation. Tests have been completed and results are expected this week.

Hospital problems corrected

The Abilene Reporter-News quoted Haskell Memorial Hospital administrator Bill Nemir Tuesday as saying that documentation deficiencies leading to a Medicare decision to terminate payments as of Oct. 28 have been resolved. The Free Press was unable to contact Nemir.

The article referred to an announcement in the form of a legal publication that the hospital was not in compliance with Medicare Conditions of Participation for Compliance with Laboratory Services.

The Abilene newspaper said that

Paige Morgan weds Lt. Richter

Resley Creek Village, near Lampkin, Texas, was the scene of the wedding ceremony of Paige Monette Morgan to 1st Lt. Gaylon Rudolph Richter on Saturday, Sept. 21. Paige is the daughter of Jerry and Monique Morgan of Paint Creek. 1st Lt. Richter, of Tolar, is the son of the late W. R. and Judy Richter.

The double-ring ceremony was read in front of an arch trimmed with English ivy and white country bows. An abundance of white mums and Boston ferns edged the veranda.

As the bride was escorted from the log home across the scenic covered bridge, the groom sang "Annie's Song" to her. Music during the ceremony was provided by Michael McCoy, accompanying himself on the guitar. The bride and her father entered the wedding area through a natural arch formed by the two-story gazebo at the edge of Resley Creek.

The bride wore her mother's heirloom full-length original gown of silk by Triss. Lace appliques of seed pearls and bugle beads were scattered over the bodice, long sleeves, and full skirt that fell into a chapel train. The gown was enhanced by a princess neckline and flat silk bow at the back of the waist.

Her finger-tip veil of embroidered imported illusion was held by a wreath of seed pearls and iridescent paillette. She carried a bouquet of fresh flowers containing roses, lilies, iris and miniature daisies.

The groom was in his full military formal dress uniform.

Rachelle Morgan of Dallas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a navy and mauve floral tea-length chintz dress by Laura Ashley. The bodice had a V-neck and puffed sleeves.

Geoffrey Richter of Lubbock was his brother's best man. He also was attired in navy.

Erick Richter of Lubbock, brother of the groom, officiated.

Dane and Roman Morgan, the bride's brothers and Adam Andress, cousin of the bride, were ushers. Aaron and Andrew Andress and Zane and Brennan Abbey assisted guests and rang the estate's bell that precluded the ceremony.

The bride's mother wore an imported three-piece raspberry ensemble. The jacket and skirt were heavily trimmed with crochet and paillettes.

Immediately following the ceremony, written especially for the bride and groom, the couple and their families received guests at the bridge entrance under massive oaks that grace the entire estate.

A barbecue dinner was served to the guests in the garden area.

The bride's table held a wedding cake wreathed with flowers identical to those found in the bridal bouquet. The white linen tablecloth was decorated with the bride's bouquet and a silver candelabra. The couple cut their cake with the silver sabre received by the groom upon graduation from the Air Force Academy.

The groom's table was covered with a white trimmed navy cloth and held, besides an Italian creme cake, his military accessories.

A horse-drawn carriage carried the couple from the dinner reception.

The bride graduated from Boles High School and Abilene Christian University. She completed graduate studies in education this past summer at Tarleton State University.

The groom graduated from Tolar High School and the U.S. Air Force Academy with a degree in general science. He is currently a pilot stationed at McDill Air Force Base.

After a wedding trip through the southern states, the couple will reside in Tampa, Fla., until February when they will be transferred to Panama City, Panama.

TAX PLANNING

Written By Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

PROBATE: SHOULD YOU TRY TO AVOID IT?

There is much talk these days about avoiding probate. Before acting, you should have a basic understanding of probate.

Probate generally refers to the court proceedings necessary to establish the validity of a will and to distribute the net assets of the decedent's estate. The proceedings can be very slow and expensive, using up part of the estate to pay court and legal fees. Most proceedings (and documents) are open to the public, allowing others to learn the value of the estate and the assets each beneficiary receives.

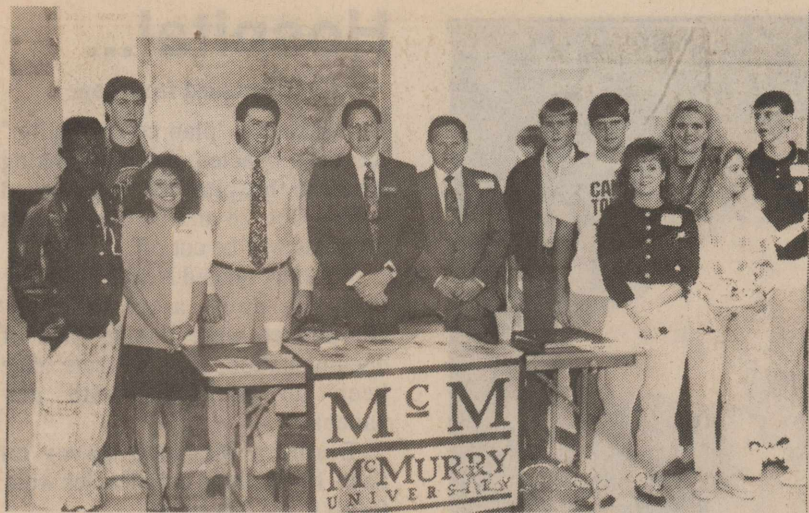

With planning, you can avoid most of the difficulties of probate, and in some instances, reduce taxes. You can make lifetime gifts of your property (or sell it to an intended heir for a fraction of its value). You can also designate the beneficiaries of your pension or life insurance. If you need money to live on during your lifetime, you can place property in a living trust or in joint ownership with right of survivorship. You can also sell property to a trustworthy person who will pay you a lifetime annuity in return.

You can rarely avoid probate completely, and the avoidance mechanisms have their own drawbacks. For example, the sale of property for a private annuity can lead to tax difficulties, and you may encounter financial problems if the buyer becomes unable to make the payments. Drafting the plans also requires legal assistance.

Whether you will benefit from probate-avoiding plans depends on your circumstances. In any event, you should still have a will to catch any property inadvertently overlooked.

Give us and your attorney a call; we can help you establish an estate plan.

Peanuts

Erwin Hamilton stopped by the Haskell County ASCS to show how his Rochester peanuts are grown. Here, he holds a Virginia peanut in his right hand that was grown on his farm near Rochester. The peanut measured over 2 1/2 inches long and 4 1/4 inches around which is a sizeable difference to the average size Virginia peanut shown in his left hand that measured 1 1/2 inches by 2 1/2 inches. Peanuts are a new and important crop to producers in this area.

Two contract with landfill

Albany and Aspermont are the latest area cities to contract with the City of Haskell for use of its regional landfill.

Many attend reunion

The Pinkerton Baptist Church meeting Sunday evening, Oct. 6, was an unqualified success.

People, some of whom had not seen each other in 30 years, were delighted to note that no one had changed much.

The church between Rule and Haskell used to be located on two acres of land. Bonner Ingram lived northwest catercornered from the church yard and the family of Leora (Bradley) Cox lived just north of it. The church was organized in 1891. I. N. Alvis preached there early on. The cemetery is a mile or two west of the old church.

In "A History of the First Baptist Church of Haskell 1888-1988," Juanita Jenkins Miller mentions that Brother James R. (Robert) Barnett pastored the congregation when a larger building was moved in in the early 1940s. He attended Southwestern Seminary and came on weekends to be pastor. He and his wife, Alma, would call Pinkerton "home" during many years of service all over the world. Retired now, Chaplain Robert and Alma Barnett were here for the homecoming.

Mrs. Miller states that Pinkerton helped many young pastors to attend seminary and Hardin-Simmons University through the years. Current pastor of the First Baptist Church of Haskell, Jimmy Turner, preached in revival at Pinkerton when he was a student at Hardin-Simmons in 1958 or 1959.

Former members and friends of Pinkerton who met Sunday evening were Claudia Reid of Rochester; A. B. Cox and Leora (Bradley) Cox of Old Glory; Snooks and Marie Townsend, Wanda Lees, Doyle and Mary Ann Norman, all of Rule; Chunky and Viola Tidwell, Garland Wood, Marion Ray and Geneva Stone, Grace McKelvin, Dave and Sue Miller, Juanita and Melvin Miller, Delma and Doll Williams, Kathy Lee Britt, Amelia Perry, Annie Darnell (representing Albert and Beatrice Barnett), W. H. Jones and Aura Belle (Simpson) Jones, Mary Doris Hannsz, all of Haskell.

Wallace and Imogene (Glover) Dobbs of Abilene; Dick and Karen (Pittman) Godbout of Tuscola; Robert (James R.) and Alma Barnett of San Antonio; Evelyn Pittman of Mesquite; Tom Robert and Christina Barnett of Snyder; and Johnny and Betty Barnett of El Paso.

Nemir said a "plan of correction" has been enacted and he is asking that the hospital be resurveyed before Oct. 28 and he expects that no funds will be cut off.

It further quoted Nemir as saying that all three areas of non-compliance were due to lack of documentation, adding "there have been no problems with any patients."

During a Medicare survey on Sept. 18-19, three deficiencies were found in the laboratory.

Since the inspection, new forms have been put into use for blood banking and transfusions, solving a paperwork problem cited by Medicare, Nemir was quoted as saying.

Also, the temperature of the refrigerator in which blood is kept is being monitored every 30 minutes. The temperature was never unacceptable, Nemir said, but paperwork did not verify it, according to the story from Abilene.

Medicare also faulted the hospital for not doing preventative maintenance on equipment required by the manufacturer. Nemir said the work was done, but not documented.

Bridesmaids wore long black gowns of taffeta. The bodices were covered with black crocheted lace and had scooped necklines. The dresses, by Bianci, were from Lane-Felker. The bridesmaids carried stems of white snaps and white daisies adorned with greenery.

Rule Bobcats won yet another game this past Friday night by defeating the Paint Creek Pirates by a score of 58 to 12, and the game was called in the third quarter. Way to go, Bobcats! As Angela Hisey will give all the details in her article, will not go into that. Suffice it to say, they looked and did "Good!"

Incidentally, if you haven't taken advantage of those delicious charbroiled burgers made by FFA members that are served at the home games, you don't know what you are missing' so try one next time-okay?

Belated sympathy and condolences are sent to the families of Sam Turner, Leon Hargrove, Annie Baize, Mrs. Guy Mullins, Sr. and Bob Prichard, former Stamford mayor and owner of KDWT for years. We will miss all these fine people.

On Thursday night your wife and other relatives were in Abilene to visit the Danny Kitley family. While there, we also saw ACU Freshmen: Tiffany Bradford of Haskell, Sarah Greer of Chattanooga, Tennessee and Tori Jenkins of Rule. After a delicious meal of roast, carrots, mashed potatoes, salad, etc., we had a few rousing games of "Taboo" followed by "Balderdash".

It is good to hear that Retith Keahey is home from Hendrick Medical Center after an eleven day stay this time. Get-well wishes are sent to her.

Welcome home, also, to Dr. and Mrs. Tony Selmon of Stamford. A neighbor informs me that Dr. Selmon is able to walk with a cane now, so he seems to be progressing quite well.

Thanks, Lela Bowles, for your nice comment about my News Items also to Dorothy Pryor of Stamford.

How about this weather--talk about changeable! One never is quite sure how to dress each day as it is nice and cool early; then, by noon, the temperature has reached the 80's and even 90's.

While in Abilene on Friday at Dr. Joe Cannon's office, it looked like Stamford and Anson Day for there we saw and visited with people from those cities. First, it was a pleasure to see Hazel Scott Middlebrook, a former co-worker at Anson General Hospital from 1968 to 1972, with two of her friends; then, Carl Griggs of Stamford came in. Next, Bill Reed of Abilene, formerly of Stamford walked into the lobby. If I am not mistaken, Harold Moon of Stamford was there, too, but it has been so many years since I had seen that man, I may have been mistaken. Last, in came Bamah and Harold Wilka of Stamford. Had a good visit with Bamah as her brother and I were patients at the same time in a hospital last spring. Supposed to tell her hello way back there, but hadn't seen the lady until now. The Wilkas live across the street from my dear friend Doris Rainwater.

John and Orheana Greeson spent this past Friday night in Stephenville with Leon, Darla and children.

Former Hamlin resident, Erma Locke Smith of Decatur, has recently had quadruple by-pass surgery in Dallas. Her husband, Irvin Smith, formerly lived in Haskell as well as Hamlin. Mrs. Smith's sister, Pauline McKinney has been staying with her since her return home.

A speedy recovery is wished for you, Erma. This lady worked at Stamford Hospital as an LVN for many years.

Condolences are also sent to the family of Dr. E. J. Hawkins of Jayton and of Annie Baize of Tuxedo. Dr. Hawkins certainly saw more than his share of patients during his active years. Who will ever forget his cheerful whistling of "Camptown Races" when he made his early morning rounds at Stamford Memorial Hospital. He was quite a guy!

From The Apache News Sept. 5, 1991: "And That's Wright" column: We wouldn't worry about what people think of us, if we knew how seldom they do."

Visiting his parents Jackye & Eddie Leonard over the weekend was John Leonard of San Angelo State; and Jason Halliburton of Abilene Christian University visiting his parents: David and Claire Halliburton.

Welcome home to Bertha McQuinn and Nona Norwood, who have been gone to the Pacific Northwest with a couple of other ladies on an automobile journey for about a month. They spent two nights with former Rule resident, Jewel Ousley, in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Travis Boyd and family upon the loss of his brother, Charlie. Services were held in Blum last Tuesday.

Sympathy is also extended to the family of James Adkins of Haskell. He was an uncle of Joyce Turner and a brother-in-law of Adell and Estelle.

A belated "Happy Birthday" is sent to Molly Cannon who celebrated her birthday on Oct. 10th; then, a Happy Birthday is wished Bob McLain on the 17th, and to Travis Boyd and Russell Beakley on the 18th and to Jennifer Murray on the 24th of Oct.; also, Jonathan Hisey on the 25th of Oct.

Recent visitors of Retith and Coy Keahey were Retith's sister-in-law and brother-in-law: Anna and Eddie Duben from Cole Harbor, N.D. The Dubens were very interested in the agriculture of this area as compared to things grown on farmland on North Dakota. A good visit was enjoyed by all.

This weekend Mark and Lisa Justice from Dallas visited Lisa's mother Retith Keahey and husband Coy Keahey.

J. C. Halliburton is scheduled to go to Abilene for treatment with several more visits to be made.

It was good to see Retith Keahey out for services on Sunday after her recent hospitalization in Abilene for treatments. She will be going back for more treatments.

The Wayland Fuqua Memorial Golf Tournament was held in Stamford this past weekend, proceeds going to the American Cancer Society. Wayland was a cousin of Rule's Malcolm Herlenberger.

Going to Rice Springs on Sunday afternoon were John and Orheana Greeson, Travis and Lorene Boyd, Faye Webb and Vicky Anderson. They were quite surprised to walk in on the 92nd birthday party of Belle Turner.

Get well wishes are sent to Jo

Speck, who recently underwent major surgery.

While at Rice Springs, the group from the Church of Christ also visited Gladys Dykes, Velma Gann, Rosa Weaver and many others.

Delia Faye McLain had the Travis Boyds over for Sunday night supper of chicken and dressing and all the trimmings in celebration of Bob's upcoming birthday and Travis' too.

Our deepest sympathy to the Casey family upon the loss of one of Tony and Carla's newborn twins, daughter Ashley.

The Leroy Caseys have been in Shreveport and Longview to be with the family. The other twin, a boy, Andy Ray weighs only 1 1/2 lbs. and is scheduled for surgery today Oct. 14. to repair his heart. Carla has had a rough time of it, too. Our prayers best wishes go out to this family during this trying time.

One night this past week Airmen First Class (A1C) Kevin Scott Saffel called his Mom, stated he had been injured in a job-related accident whereby his ring finger was lacerated and ten sutures were required to close the cut. He is still stationed at Minot Air Force Base in North Dakota.

Guests of Jeanne Bursleson this past weekend were her son Tommy and wife Shelia of Abilene; Brian and Pam Holmes of May and daughters.

Also visiting Jeanne Bursleson were Jeanette Freeland and Chase of Brownwood.

Have you seen this month's recipes at West Texas Utilities Co.? They are for rice dressing, also pumpkin pie squares.

Public Notice

On July 1, 1991, Southwestern Bell Telephone filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that proposes to delete Paragraph 3.4(G) from Section 3 of Southwestern Bell's intrastate Access Service Tariff, which concerns credits where a customer uses Switched Access Service to furnish a service which has been defined to be an exchange service. The application was assigned Docket No. 10463.

Because Southwestern Bell is not aware of any customers who presently use switched access service to furnish an exchange service, Southwestern Bell does not believe its revenues will be affected. However, certain interexchange carrier customers of switched access service have made claims under the aforementioned tariff. Such customers, but only to the extent they provide an exchange service using switched access, would be affected by this application. Based on claims made for credits (assuming such credits were allowable), Southwestern Bell's revenues would be affected by no more than $1,168,962 annually, which is .037 percent of the Company's adjusted revenue for the 12-month period ending December 31, 1990. It is not possible to know how many interexchange carriers might believe themselves entitled to credits, but 189 carriers have registered with the Commission pursuant to PUC Substantive Rule 23.61.

The tariff, after suspension, is proposed to be effective May 1, 1992.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible, but no later than November 15, 1991. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. # --Paint Creek--

by Mabel Overton

My apologies to the President of the Paint Creek School, Board. He gave me this write-up two weeks ago, and I misplaced it, and forgot it. But I found it and here it is. The Paint Creek ISD had a Parent Involvement night, Tues., Oct. 2 to introduce parents to the teachers. Mr. Morgan introduced the new teachers: Christy Bowen, Kindergarten-Primary; Sherry Pitcock-Home Economics; Lanwa Lewis who teaches speech, Spanish and English; Larry Halliburton and Michael McCoy-coaches.

Debbie Hobgood, the Elementary Principal, introduced a play on the value of reading (there was an owl, Betsy, who didn't like to read, a mother, and a narrator). Next the cute little Lamb girl read a book, and then there was a film on parents encouraging reading. Refreshments were served.

The play the children gave has been presented to the Lion's Club and will be presented to other organizations, the Rotary Club, Kiwanis, etc. to solicit funds for books for our library.

Mrs. Lorene Harris has been in Hendricks Hospital for the past seven weeks. She may have to undergo another surgery, but the doctors are not certain of that until some more tests are made this week. She will appreciate cards from all of us. A friend who was there last week said that she was sitting up, and visiting her son Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffith spent this past week in Vidor, Texas with their daughter, Norma Jean Berry, her husband and family.

Word has been received of the death of Rob Simmons, who was our Paint Creek football coach in the late 1930's and early 40's. Rob died at his home in Buffalo, Missouri of leukemia. He is survived by his wife and a daughter. Rob was reared in the Post Community which is now Paint Creek. His dad, Bob Sr. was a County Commissioner and farmer. They lived in the house where the Stanley Mortons live now.

The Jerry Morgans spent the weekend in Strawn to help celebrate Jerry's grandmother's birthday. She is Mrs. Lou Mallory, and this was her 90th birthday. The Scout troop visited her one time, and the boys loved her place and her stories about it. She let them camp in her pasture.

Mrs. Thelma Cole of Rule, Mrs. Frances Hills and daughters Mildred Lou Strube of Lumberton, Texas and Mrs. Nancy Tarbox of Terre Haute, Indiana spent Saturday afternoon with their niece and cousin, Mabel Overton. Mrs. Hills spends her winters in Lumberton and her summers in Terre Haute, so the girls bring her to Rule and she can visit her sister and nephew Ford Cole. Then she can go south for the winter.

Frances Fischer, Ernest and Lillie Peiser, Roselle Wilkerson, Thula Perry, Jerene Boone, Mildred Berry and Ann Druessedow returned Saturday from the Balloon Fest at Albuquerque, N.M. Frances said the balloons were simply beautiful when they were all in the sky. There were all forms and shapes of balloons. One was shaped like the Statue of Liberty, one like a shoe, a tractor, a cow, a big peanut. One had a sign "Julie, will you marry me?" Frances has a film of it, so she'll probably show it at club. She said there was a crowd estimated at 180,000 and they saw four wrecks on the way out there.

Alfred Dukatnik died at his home in Quanah Saturday and his funeral was at Holden-McCauley Funeral Home Tuesday morning. Alfred grew up in our community in the stucco house east of the school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dukatnik. His brother Clarence now lives in Clarksville, Tennessee.

I joined the Stamford Music Club this year, and we had our first meeting last week. You would have loved seeing the members of the club who are former Paint Creekers. Mrs. Jean Burnett who taught 1st grade at Paint Creek for several years, Mary Lou (McLennon) (I don't know her married name), Mrs. R. V. Hagle who taught our Scout Troop First Aid one time, two ladies who are in the Church of Christ at Haskell (and know the Morgans, the Burl Medfords, the Martin Colemans and Mrs. Jodie Earles), and Mrs. Tony Selmon who 40 years ago taught our William to make puppets. I had thought I would know only two women, and there were all these former Paint Creekers. Small world.

Winter is coming! Sunday morning there were so many wasps in the sanctuary of the Methodist Church, we had to have the service in the dining room. Imagine that. Methodist Wasps!

Program on aging scheduled Monday

Dr. Judith Warren, extension gerontology specialist from College Station, will be guest speaker for an educational program Monday night in Haskell. It begins at 7 in the Haskell National Bank community room.

Dr. Warren specializes in all aspects of the aging process, from establishing supportive environments for the elderly to developing the potential of older adults.

Those responsible for the care of aging family members or those who will have elderly relatives in the near future are encouraged to attend the program.

The program is being sponsored by the Haskell County Home Economics Committee. There is no charge.

Park fun

Study club hears Abilene educator

The Progressive Study Club met Oct. 10 in the community room. Donna Cole, president, called the meeting to order and guests, Jo Cox, Edna King of Abilene and Nancy Hill Tarbox of Terre Haute, Ind., were introduced and welcomed. Mrs. Cole, program director of the Education Division on Leadership emphasis, introduced Dr. Judy Pfiefer, new principal of Abilene's Cooper High School. Dr. Pfiefer, wife, mother of two high school sons, concerned citizen, educator par excellence and writer, used Mrs. Cole's chosen theme for the year, "Dare to Be," to challenge each one to live to the fullest, dare to learn everything possible, dare to laugh at oneself, dare to fail, dare to dust oneself off and go again, and dare to dream.

As a new principal, but not new to teaching, she has learned to calm an irate parent when she calls and asks if the band is really necessary, to make the restrooms so clean and attractive there is no graffiti on the walls even after six weeks of school, and to get out of the way when 2,300 students come down Sayles Boulevard at 75-miles-per-hour.

She has also learned that something can't be fixed if one doesn't know what is wrong, so she asked teachers and students to communicate with her. When she was a small child, she accompanied her father, Dr. Rex Kiker, to his various preaching appointments. This was good training for understanding people, but it was hard for her to understand why he drove out of town when he already had a job.

She dares to keep herself physically fit by jogging two miles each morning and spiritually fit by repeating over and over as she jogs Psalm 23. She thinks that today is wonderful to get student and faculty input but also to look five years down the road. She concluded by expressing how delightful it was to come to Haskell again and to think of Jo Cox, Suzanne Starr and Vida White, whom she had had in college classes.

A brief business session was held. Judy Ray called the roll, read the minutes of the Sept. 12 meeting and gave the financial report. Members were reminded that Oct. 25 is the date for the chicken spaghetti supper. Franciene Johnson read the constitution and by-laws.

Hostesses Jane Coston, Ruby Turner, Kay Croft, Doris Jordan and Jimmie Weinert served cake squares and fruit punch. Decorations were pumpkins of various sizes, fall leaves and a cornucopia near the speaker's stand.

Students to open campaign

The Texans' War on Drugs will begin its 1991 Texas Red Ribbon campaign Saturday. The campaign will continue through Oct. 27.

In a combined effort, students from schools in Haskell, Jones and Stonewall counties, along with Wal-Mart in Stamford and the Abilene Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse are promoting coalitions in support of drug-free lifestyles.

On Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., student representatives from the 12 schools involved will be pinning on "Proud To Be Drug Free" red ribbons on citizens of the surrounding communities as they enter Wal-Mart.

Wal-Mart is providing the 3,000 red ribbons, as well as prizes which will be given away at drawings. A drawing ticket will be given for each $1 donation. All donations will be divided equally between the participating schools for initiation or continuation of school-based Student Positive Support Groups.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

PHARMACY NEWS

By Elbert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

Is Garlic A Cure-all? Despite the claims of some advertisers, the verdict is still out on the healthful effects of garlic. While it has been suggested that garlic may be protective against heart disease and cancer, the findings are not definitive. Additionally, a person might have to eat up to seven clove of garlic daily for it to be effective, and even more if dried powder or pills are used. Eating lots of garlic can't necessarily hurt, but it shouldn't be the only preventive step to take.

Notes From The Rolling Plains

(Note: The following is one of a series of stories by noted wildlife photographer Wyman Meinzer offered by Haskell Save-A-$ for your enjoyment.)

Who will deny that the last few mornings of crisp Autumn spice is good for the soul? Early Sunday morning I took my cameras into the brush and stood in reverence as the rising sun touched the crystal clear horizon to the east. A dew lay heavy in the tabosa grass covering my boots in a coating of water as I walked toward a low growing cedar near the edge of a thick stand of mesquite. As I sat in my camo clothing, breathing the clean cool air that we so often take for granted, I could hear the chatter of the scissortail flycatchers as they swooped and fussed in their haste to head south for the winter. The cool mornings of recent have foretold the winds that will come and, as in centuries past, all warm weather birds are making ready for their age old trip to the south. How I do cherish this time of the year when all eyes cast expectant eyes to the north. Life is so vibrant in the fall and one must only listen and watch to note the excitement of the wild ones! Shortly I placed an old coyote call to my mouth, one which I diligently whittled on for many hours in my dorm room at Texas Tech University some 18 years ago. The cries of the call bounced through the mesquite and tabosa, quieting all life momentarily. I peered over the big 6 pound camera lens in anticipation. Somewhere out in the shadows of a shallow arroyo a furry pair of ears must surely be listening to the call! Only four minutes had elapsed when, to the north, the sliding gray form of an old coyote topped a low rise in the land. Watching for any sign of danger he stood motionless, staring straight at my position. In the old days he would have been mine right then. Instead of the camera I would have been holding a scope sighted rifle, its shiny rocket shaped cartridge poised in the chamber for this very moment. But now, at least for today, I only held my camera and lens. He must come closer as my intentions were for magazine quality photos of this elusive creature. At 30 yards he stopped, those yellow eyes staring at the unusual form hunkered beneath the cedar only a few yards away. Fourteen photos later the old gray coyote turned her gaze to the west, her curiosity satisfied for now. With her graceful form disappearing in the grass and distant brush I was filled with a feeling of satisfaction. Autumn is in the air and it is a good day to be alive!

BREAST CANCER DETECTION UNIT AVAILABLE TO AREA WOMEN

Call 864-2621 for appointment

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10 year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. Asymptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $60.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

Medical professionals address homemakers

Haskell Young Homemakers heard from a quartet of medical professionals at their Sept. 16 meeting at the First National Bank.

Appearing on the program were Dr. Bill McSmith, DO; Dr. Cliff Ray, DDS; Keith Everett, pharmacist; and Judi Ray, RN.

They gave brief histories of their careers, after which many interesting questions and information were exchanged by members and the panel.

Volunteers were asked to assist with the homecoming luncheon Oct. 5. The group discussed a request from the Chamber of Commerce that the club submit a five-minute act for the Country

Dinner Theater on Nov. 2.

The Halloween carnival has been changed to a pumpkin decorating contest. Each child needs to bring a pumpkin, markers and any other items they might use to decorate with. Costumes for mothers and children are optional, but it was pointed out that costumes are a lot of fun for children. Members and children are to meet at the Homemaking Cottage on Oct. 21. A prize will be given for the best pumpkin.

Hostesses Mickey Holloway, Lisa Cheatham, Angie Kruger and Tammi Pannell served finger sandwiches, vegetables, dips and iced tea.

Tréci Burson wins in Abilene

Tréci placed first in her age division, first among female finishers and 32nd overall in a field of 98 competitors Saturday in the HSU/United Way Fun Run in Abilene. This was a 5K (3.1 miles) race.

Contestants started at the old depot station downtown, ran to the courthouse and then on to the HSU campus. Proceeds went to benefit the United Way.

HSU student Craig Hanson assisted with the race.

Indians fall to Jim Ned

It just wasn't the Indians' night. Haskell went down, 36-0, to the Indians of Jim Ned in Tuscola Friday, suffering its second consecutive district 7-2A loss.

After Jim Ned's Jake Pemberton rambled 65 yards for a touchdown on the second play from scrimmage to stake the hosts to a 7-0 cushion, the two teams battled on pretty even terms for the rest of the half.

But in the second half, things got real bad for the Indians. Jim Ned scored 14 points in the third period and 15 more in the fourth. Not only did Haskell fail to score, but the Indians got only one first down in the second half and lost the ball on turnovers five times (plus twice in the first half).

Things had started out a little more optimistically. On their first possession following Pemberton's touchdown run, the Indians moved from their own 22 to the Jim Ned 20 before self-destructing. After a 2-yard loss and a 15-yard penalty, the Indians fumbled the ball to the host Indians at the 49.

Their only threat after that came late in the second period when Cody Josselet lifted a 44-yard punt from his own 45 which was fielded at the

1. On Jim Ned's first play from that point, Pemberton fumbled after being hit by Jonathan Tatum and Mike Layland recovered on the 8. But Jim Ned's Danny Salinas intercepted an Indian pass and returned it to the 22.

The Indians were down only 7-0 as the third period opened, but they lost possession at their own 25 on a fumble on their first running play of the period. Tien after holding Jim Ned on downs at the 17, they promptly fumbled the ball back, and this time Jim Ned took it in, getting the touchdown on a 15-yard pass from Jade Lamb to Mike Jones.

Next time Jim Ned got the ball, they drove 47 yards in seven plays with Pemberton getting the touchdown from 7 yards out.

Another recovered fumble, this one at the Haskell 34, put Jim Ned in scoring position again. They scored in four plays, going up 28-0 just 1:10 deep into the final period.

Two minutes later, Jim Ned completed the night's scoring, going 62 yards in five plays following another Indian turnover, this time on an intercepted pass.

Rochester remains unbeaten at 5-0

The Rochester Steers cleared a big hurdle Friday night with a smashing 46-0 victory over the Jayton Jaybirds. It was the unbeaten Steers' fifth consecutive victory.

Mark Brown scored four touchdowns and Robbie Strickland added two more as the Steers scored two touchdowns in each of the first three periods before the game was called under the 45-point rule at the 1:20 mark of the third quarter.

Brown scored both first-period touchdowns, one on a 16-yard run and the other on a 17-yard scamper. Strickland ran 3 yards for a touchdown in the second period and Brown also added a 3-yard TD run.

In the fourth period, Strickland scored from a yard out before Brown completed the scoring with a 30-yard run. Stephen Lopez converted after each of the first five touchdowns, but did not get an attempt after the final score as the 45-point limit had already been exceeded.

Brown gained 99 yards in 16 carries and Strickland had 93 yards in 15 attempts.

Curt Sloan was the defensive standout, being credited with 11 tackles and an interception. Ross Shaver also had 11 tackles and Phillip Clark had 10.

This Friday, the Steers travel to Aspermont to meet the unbeaten Hornets in one of the top 6-man contests of the season. The battle of the unbeaten begins at 7:30 p.m.
