Church to celebrate 75th year

Trinity Lutheran Church of Haskell will celebrate its 75th anniversary on Sunday, Oct. 11.

Lutherans in the Haskell area were first served by the Rev. F. A. Bracher Sr., who came to the Stamford-Sagerton parish in August 1907. In the fall of 1907, there were some 20 families living in the Irby community, 17 miles east of Haskell, and this was one of Rev. Bracher's preaching stations. Services were held monthly, first in homes and later in the Irby school.

The organizational meeting was held Feb. 12, 1917, with Rev. Bracher presiding. Church officers named later that year were August Steinfath Sr., president; Martin Arend, secretary; and George Moeller Sr., treasurer. Trinity Lutheran and St. Paul Lutheran of Sagerton were a dual parish and Rev. Bracher served as pastor until 1924.

Under the leadership of the Rev. F. Bracher Jr., a building fund was begun in 1945, and plans were made for relocation and construction in Haskell. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rueffer donated land for the new building. The Rev. C. N. Roth designed the Tudor gothic building.

Herbert Fischer and Willie Peiser were chairmen of the building committee, with John Stiewert, George Moeller Jr. and Henry Steinfath assisting.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held March 19, 1950, and the cornerstone was laid on Sept. 17 of that year. Members furnished most of the labor for the buff brick building. The sanctuary was dedicated April 15, 1951, with the pastor, the Rev. O. K. Oelke, officiating.

In 1951, the Trinity congregation decided to call its own pastor and the dual parish with Sagerton was dissolved. The Rev. Bruno Gaskamp became the first full time pastor of the church in June of that year. In 1953, a matching brick parsonage was erected.

Plans on an educational wing were begun during the Rev. Robert Berry's service and completed in 1962. Later pastors were James F. Schaefer, Allen Johannes, Sam Urrate, Anton Kern, Don Marquart, Harvey Faltisek, Richard Hahn, Victor Andersen and the present pastor, Bruce Adamson.

Kiss a pig

Superintendent Bill Stewart had to kiss a pig at last Friday's pep rally after he was declared winner of the "Kiss a Pig" contest. Runnersup were Amanda Hadaway and Deana Hargrove who don't appear to be upset over losing.

Biker

Bill Dickerhoff gets ready to leave Haskell Monday morning. He left Wichita Falls Friday and expects to reach the West Coast in about three weeks.

Biker stops here on trip to coast

By Wendell Faught

He was drinking coffee in the Dairy Queen and checking out a road map Monday morning before hitting US 277 toward Abilene.

From there, Bill Dickerhoff, 58, will take Interstate 20 enroute to California, and possibly Oregon.

But he's no ordinary traveler. He's riding a bicycle.

Dickerhoff began his three-week, 1,500-mile journey by bike in Wichita Falls Friday. He spent Sunday night at the park in Haskell.

He said he's on no timetable. He'll probably work a day now and then to replenish his traveling funds. A cook by trade, he says he'll get a job when he needs the money. "It may be as a cook, it may be mowing a lawn, just anything to make $25 or $30 to keep me going," said Dickerhoff.

Long bike rides are nothing new for Dickerhoff. He made his first long trip when he was 48 years old, traveling from Yuma, Arizona, to Lincoln City, Ore., and back. Since then, he's travelled from Yuma to San Francisco and back "at least a dozen times."

Eighteen months ago, he left Fort Bragg, Calif., (200 miles north of San Francisco) by bicycle for Wichita Falls. There, he worked for the Salvation Army. But now he's interested in returning to the West Coast. He said he's not sure whether his final destination on this trip is California or Oregon. "I'll start looking for a job on the Coast," he said.

In addition to his work as a cook, Dickerhoff is a photographer and has worked as a commercial fisherman. He claims no hometown.

Dickerhoff said he travels as much as 100 miles in a day, although on this trip, he will probably average much less than that.

Heart walkers have Saturday date

Participants in the annual Haskell County American Heart Walk will gather at the gazebo in the City Park Saturday morning. Registration begins at 8:30 and the walk starts 30 minutes later.

Walkers are now lining up sponsors who will agree to contribute a set amount for each mile walked.

The walker raising the most money will win a weekend retreat for three days and two nights at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Abilene.

Second and third prizes will be $50 savings bonds, donated by Haskell National Bank and the First National Bank of Haskell.

Every walker raising as much as $75 will receive a T-shirt and those

A memorabilia room will be open during the day Saturday.

There will be a community worship service at 10:30 Sunday morning with the address being given by the Rev. Terry Sanders of Hamlin, class of '68.

All activities will be in the Weinert school gymnasium.

School parents to meet Monday at elementary

The monthly meeting of parents of Haskell students will be Monday at the elementary school cafeteria. It begins at 7 p.m.

Indians expect tough battle with Winters

"Winters is as good or better than Anson."

That's what Haskell coach Walter Hargrove said this week as he prepared the Indians for their second district 7-2A contest. They will play the Blizzards there Friday night.

Although Winters is winless in four outings, the Blizzards have played it close with some good teams. Last week, they lost a 6-3 heartbreaker to 7-2AA favorite Hamlin.

Other losses have been to 3A Coleman and to a couple of highly regarded 2A teams, Wall and Goldthwaite.

The Winters offense is led by freshman quarterback John Belew, whom Hargrove describes as an excellent player. Running back Albert Bernal is another good offensive hand, and he also doubles as a linebacker on defense. Russell Paramore, an offensive and defensive lineman, is a three-year starter for the Blizzards, while Josh Awalt, linebacker and center, is also highly regarded. "They just have a lot of good players," Hargrove said.

Haskell brings a 3-1 record into Friday's game. The Indians are fresh off a 13-7 win over Anson in last week's district inaugural. They also hold victories over Munday (7-0) and Knox City (25-0) and have lost to Seymour (7-2).

The Indian defense, which has allowed only 14 points in four games and caused 12 turnovers, was never better than it was last week against Anson, probably the best team they've met.

Hargrove said the entire defensive unit played well. Specifically, he mentioned the work of Brent Breeden, Matt Perry, Cody Josselet and Tommie Isbell. He also noted the two interceptions by Robert Huff and the heads-up play of Casey Larned.

City Ok's budget again

By the same 3-to-2 margin which prevailed in an earlier vote two weeks ago, the Haskell City Council adopted the city budget and tax rate at its meeting last Tuesday.

A second vote on the two measures had become necessary after Mayor Pat Henry objected to their approval.

As before, Kenny Watson, Tony Burson and Ruby Turner voted in favor, while Iva Lee Gipson and Kim Nemir voted against.

Passage of the two measures sets the city budget for the 1992-93 fiscal year at $1,344,772 and the tax rate at .1969 per $100 assessed valuation.

The council also approved the sale of a 1972 Chevrolet van to Darold Roberson for $357.50.

Billy Wayne Hester was sworn in as commissioner of Precinct 1 Tuesday morning by County Judge B. O. Roberson.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has asked the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to offer new optional call management services called Caller Identification Service (Caller ID) and Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR).

Caller ID is a new optional phone service which allows subscribers to see the phone number and/or name of most local calls before they answer the phone. Caller ID also allows the recording of the date, time, name and/or phone number of calls. Currently, Caller ID would work only on most local calls, not long distance calls. It would also require that a separate display unit be connected to the telephone. These units that attach to the telephone will be available from various retail vendors, including Southwestern Bell, at a cost starting at approximately $50.

Southwestern Bell is also proposing that all customers be able to "block," or stop their name/number from being transmitted and displayed on a Caller ID device, free of charge. You would have this option of "blocking" your name/number on each call free of charge. There would be no need to subscribe to this service. All customers would have this capability when Caller ID is introduced in their area.

If you want to block your name or number, you need only press *67 on your touch-tone pad (or dial 1167 from a rotary phone) before dialing the telephone number. The person you're calling would see displayed a message such as "private" or "anonymous" on their Caller ID display unit.

Southwestern Bell also proposes that qualified domestic violence and law enforcement groups have the option of free per-line blocking, or free per-call blocking.

Anonymous Call Rejection (ACR or "block the blocker") allows subscribers to automatically reject all calls that have been marked anonymous, or "blocked" by the person calling. It is not necessary to subscribe to Caller ID Name/Number to subscribe to ACR. With ACR, your telephone will not ring if the person calling you has "blocked" his/her name or number. The person calling whose identification is blocked will receive a message to hang up and call back with caller identification unblocked. Following are the proposed monthly rates for Caller ID and ACR.

Proposed Rates (monthly)*	Residence	Business
Calling Number only	$6.50	$ 8.50
Calling Name only	$6.50	$ 8.50
Calling Name & Number	$8.00	$12.00
Anonymous Call Rejection	$3/$1	$3/$1

* These rates are in addition to the initial installation charges and monthly basic service rate. For residence customers, installation charges are $2.70 per feature, with a maximum charge of $5.40. For business customers, the charges are $5.40 per feature, with a maximum charge of $10.75.

 Anonymous Call Rejection is $3 per month if purchased without Caller ID and is $1 per month when purchased with Caller ID Name or Number.

This proceeding has been designated Docket No. 11362, and a hearing on the merits has been scheduled for November 16, 1992. The PUC has jurisdiction to consider this matter pursuant to Sections 16, 18, 37 and 38 of the Public Utility Regulatory Act (PURA). This application was filed pursuant to the provisions of the PUC's Substantive Rule 23.24. Among the issues that will be addressed in this proceeding is the legality of the Caller ID device and service under Texas wiretap laws.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the PUC as soon as possible. The deadline to intervene is October 26, 1992. A request to intervene, participate, or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

"DECISIONS MADE EARLY"

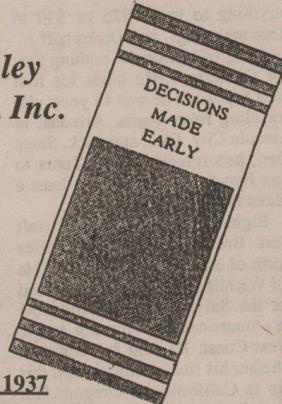

Many people plan for what might happen—fire, burglary, injury, and accidents. Now more and more people are planning for what will inevitably happen. It simply makes good sense to prepare for that which we can not avoid.

Pre-need funeral arranging allows one to control the type of service they would prefer, select a means of financing it, freeze the prices at today's price, and save loved ones the anguish of deciding these matters at a later date. Really it is the loving thing to do for your family.

Simply come by or call and we will come by to see you.

Indians open district with win over Anson

The real Haskell Indians stood up Friday.

After the Anson Tigers overcame a 6-0 deficit in the third quarter to take a 7-6 lead, the Indians stormed back with a touchdown of their own to ice away a 13-6 victory over the visitors and take a giant step forward in the district 7-2A championship race.

Once again it was a stout defense which enabled the Indians to boost their 1992 record to 3-1 (1-0 in district). Indian defenders blocked a punt, recovered two Anson fumbles and intercepted three passes.

Haskell broke the scoring ice midway through the second period when Justin Lisle ran 10 yards for a touchdown on the second play after Casey Larned recovered an Anson fumble on the 10. Cody Josselet's 36-yard punt, which went out of bounds on the Anson 5, had pinned the Tigers back near their goal line. On their second play from that point, Anson's Travis Wilburn fumbled and Larned recovered.

Anson went ahead in the third period, when Cody Hestand broke loose for a 22-yard touchdown run to climax a five-play, 40-yard drive following a short punt, and Michael Herrera booted the extra point to make the score 7-6.

Late in the third period, the Indians began a long drive which carried from their own 20 to the Anson 20, but there the drive fizzled when a fourth-down effort came up about six inches short. Lisle carried eight times in the 10-play drive, his first two carries being for 18 and 19 yards respectively.

But the Indians were still able to take advantage of the drive. After three running plays by Anson netted only 7 yards, punter Herrera bobbled a fourth-down snap. Although he managed to get off his punt, Brent Breeden and Matthew McFadden combined to block it and Larned landed on the loose ball at the 9.

On the first play thereafter, Mart Guess hit Tommie Isbell in the end zone for a touchdown. Larned kicked the extra point and the night's scoring was completed.

Except for the scoring drive, Anson never seriously threatened to score, their deepest penetration being to the 38-yard line.

The Haskell defense has now yielded just two touchdowns (14 points) in four games.

SIDELINES: The game's most electrifying play was called back. Early in the second quarter, the Indians' Robert Huff intercepted a pass on his own 29, and ran it back 71 yards for an apparent touchdown. But the Indians were called for clipping at the 50-yard line and the ball was brought back and the Indians penalized to the 35. That was one of two passes Huff intercepted. The other was by Casey Larned.

Justin Lisle had another big night, rushing 28 times for 132 yards. Anson's Cody Hestand was the game's top rusher, however, getting 167 yards on 28 carries.

Lisle now has 439 yards in four games. He was held to 49 yards in the opener against Munday, but has been well over the 100-yard mark in each game since.

On defense, there were numerous stars, but Larned's efforts were particularly noteworthy. He recovered a fumble which set up Haskell's first touchdown, recovered the block punt which led to the second, and intercepted a pass which turned out the lights for the Tigers on their last possession.

Only two penalties were stepped off, two against each team. The Indians were assessed 25 yards and the Tigers 10 yards.

The Indians gave up the ball on a lost fumble on each of the first two times they had possession. They didn't lose another.

Through the first four games, the Indians have a 5-12 advantage in the turnover category. They lost two fumbles to Munday, one to Seymour, none to Knox City and the two to Anson. They have not suffered an interception.

Munday lost five fumbles and two intercepted passes to the Indians, Seymour didn't have a turnover, Knox City lost two fumbles and Anson lost two fumbles and had three passes intercepted.

For the second time in four games, the Indians intercepted more passes than their opponent completed.

With six games to play, the Indians already are assured of their best record since 1988 when they posted a 5-5 mark. They were 2-8 in 1989 and again in 1990, and then went 1-8-1 last year.

Last winning season for the Indians was in 1987 when their 6-4 regular-season was good enough for the runnerup spot in district. This dropped to 6-5 after they lost to San Saba in bi-district.

Unbeaten Steers romp over Miami

Unbeaten Rochester brought its record to 4-0 Friday night with a 49-0 victory over visiting Miami.

Rochester led, 12-0 at the end of the first quarter and 36-0 at halftime. The game was called under the 45-point rule after Rochester scored twice in the third period.

DOES YOUR WILL NEED UPDATING?

Do you bypass articles about the need for a will because you already have a will? Good for you! Too many people never manage to get a will prepared. But don't regard your will as something to be faced once and then forgotten, because a will needs to be changed as often as your life's major circumstances change.

Wills are a creature of state law. If you have moved to another state since your will was written, it may be invalid under your current state's laws. Get an attorney in your new state to review it for compliance with current state laws.

Are your personal representative and the guardian appointed for your minor children still willing and able to serve? Are they the ones you would still want to serve? If time and circumstances have changed these choices, you should contact your lawyer to reestablish these important provisions or risk having the court appoint someone who might not know your wishes in these matters.

Marriage, divorce and births should always trigger an updating of your will. Even if you have left someone out intentionally, that person may contest the will, tying up the estate assets during a period when your rightful beneficiaries have need of them. Address this issue with your attorney.

Do you still own the personal or real property items referred to in your will? If not, do you want the intended recipient to get a comparable inheritance? If you don't specifically say so, that individual may not get anything.

Has your will been examined in the cold, clear light of the massive tax changes that came about during the 1980's? What was smart estate advice ten or even five years ago may not be appropriate today.

A clear, concise, up-to-date will is a final gift you can leave your beneficiaries, one that can alleviate additional stress and uncertainty at an already difficult time. If you haven't reviewed your will in some time, set up an appointment with your attorney to do so now.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC), hereby gives notice of the Company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas for optional Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone service, effective March 15, 1993, unless otherwise determined by the PUC.

These proposed rates will not increase or decrease the Company's overall revenues; the net effect will be neutral to the Company's annual revenues.

The Company proposes to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service for residential customers from $1.00 to 68 cents, and also to reduce the Touch-tone rates for business customers from $1.75 to $1.70. In addition, the Touch-tone rates for business PBX trunks will be reduced from $3.15 to $2.18.

This proposal to decrease the rates for Touch-tone service does not change the commitment that the Company made in the Docket No. 8585 Stipulation to reduce the rates for Touch-tone service in 1993.

The Custom Calling Services affected by the Company's application are optional telephone service arrangements that provide the following features: Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, Speed Calling-8 and Speed Calling-30. Following are the feature combinations and their current and proposed rates.

One Feature per line	Residence		Business
	Current Rate	Proposed Rate	Current Rate	Proposed Rate
Call Waiting	$2.10	$2.85	$2.65	$3.25
Call Forwarding	2.10	2.10	2.65	3.50
3-Way Calling	2.10	2.10	2.65	2.50
Speed Call-8	2.10	2.10	2.65	2.50
Two Features per line
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding	3.75	4.25	4.75	6.00
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling	3.70	4.25	4.75	4.75
Call Waiting, Speed Calling-8	3.70	4.25	4.75	4.75
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling	3.70	3.50	4.80	5.00
Call Forwarding, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50	4.75	5.00
3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	3.70	3.50	4.75	4.00
Three Features per line
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and 3-Way Calling	5.30	5.65	6.90	7.50
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.65	6.90	7.50
Call Waiting, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	5.65	6.90	6.25
Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling and Speed Calling-8	5.30	4.90	6.90	6.50
Four Features per line
Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, 3-Way Calling, Speed Calling-8	6.90	7.05	9.00	9.00
Speed Calling - 30 code capacity	3.20	3.20	4.25	3.20

Most of the Company's residence and business customers who subscribe to Custom Calling Features and Touch-tone service will be affected by the proposed rate restructuring.

It is expected that the restructuring of Custom Calling Features will result in a rate increase for approximately 2.9 million residence customers and 280,000 business customers. The reduction in rates for certain Custom Calling Services and Touch-tone Service will affect approximately 4.3 million residence customers and 1.7 million business customers.

This rate restructuring is expected to have a "revenue-neutral" effect on the Company's annual revenues. The proposed rate restructuring of Custom Calling Services will increase the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million; while the reduction in Touch-tone rates will decrease the Company's annual revenues by $19.8 million.

This proceeding has been designated Docket No. 11382. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in this proceeding should notify the PUC as soon as possible. The deadline to intervene is October 30, 1992. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Bogus scholarships

Offers for "guaranteed" scholarships, grants and loans may look very attractive to college students who don't qualify or take the time to apply for financial aid. But before signing up, they need to do their homework.

Better Business Bureaus report that scholarship information firms advertise on television and in newspapers, or may contact prospective students over the telephone or through direct mailings. For upfront fees ranging from $20 to hundreds of dollars, the firms indicate that students can obtain funding, regardless of their academic qualifications, scholastic credentials or family economic status. Some advertisements and sales pitches claim there are millions of dollars in unclaimed scholarship monies just waiting to be tapped.

But, in exchange for their upfront fee, students receive lists of possible scholarship sources. While the company making the offer may claim scholarships are guaranteed, prospective students should understand that only the source actually granting the funds can guarantee approval, not the company merely providing information about possible sources of funding.

These companies don't assist students in obtaining scholarships and they don't screen applicants. After purchasing the lists, it is the students' responsibility to research and contact each organization. Students who are unsuccessful, or not satisfied, may find that refunds are difficult, if not impossible to obtain. The company may require students to prove, through documentation, that they were denied a scholarship by every source on the list.

Many of the scholarships sources that these companies provide for a fee are available at no cost from high school guidance offices, in the reference sections of libraries or from the financial aid office of the college the student is planning to attend.

In another twist, some scholarship information firms also try to recruit "licensees" to open their scholarship services. Usually for a fee of several hundred dollars and yearly renewals, licensees receive training tapes and materials on how to start their own business. Problems may arise because licensees are not given specific territories and can operate anywhere they choose, regardless of whether other licensees have already set up shop. Licensees also must market their own service to high school and college students.

Financing a college education is one of the most expensive investments a family makes. For a free brochure entitled "Tips on Financial Aid for College," contact the Better Business Bureau, 1106 Brooke Ave., Wichita Falls, TX 76301-5009.

Mary Kaigler:

From the Inside Out

Days decrease, and Autumn grows.

Autumn is everything. . . Robert Browning

In every, created, living thing there is an autumn--that time of transition, of moving out of and into new cycles. We love it in the world of nature. We take trips to see it, to drink in and become almost intoxicated with the color and richness of its beauty.

Even living in this part of the country not noted for long days of autumnal beauty, we sense each year a certain difference in things. With one foot still in summer, all nature seems to be heightened in intensity, in an urgency to do and be and experience all that life has equipped it to do.

If we are perceptive we can sense our own autumn with our own rich colors of heightened awareness of the goodness of life. And, as in nature, while there is urgency to "be", there is also more depth and joy in the "being."

A few years ago, spending some long late-summer hours on our Austin Hill Country back veranda I recuperated from the effects of radiation therapy. During rich mornings spent communicating with the green, opulent, natural beauty and the "whys" of life; meditating about my own place in the ever-cycling scheme of things, I experienced an exhilarating, yet peaceful euphoria of being completely at one with the Universe.

Sensing my own personal autumn for the first time. I both hurt and exuded in the bitter-sweetness of it.

Needing to express it in some way, I wrote the following poem about my favorite tree from among the 50 cedars, live-oaks, Spanish oaks and river-elms growing on our lot. Can a tree be a soul-sister? This one was mine. Each year in late summer, I think of her and I remember autumn.

AN ELM AT AUTUMN
Warm sun shines on the green fullness of my crest, still casting a strong shadow on the grass below.

Yet, today a different breeze is stirring among my leaves, sending a sense of change quivering along my limbs.

With each wave of the gentle, almost-coolness, a few golden leaves float out across the lawn, leaving me lessened, and surprised that I hadn't known they were ready.

The knowledge of it brings an awareness that my life's-essence, though still flowing and nourishing, is indeed hearing the distant call of the winter roots.

There is contentment in my thoughts about the fullness of time when I will be compelled to say, as MacBeth did, "My life has fallen into the sear, the yellow leaf."

The comforting promise of winter rest, away from the cold buffeting, awaiting the unknown awakening to another spring, is like a protective blanket I keep folded and ready to securely wrap around my heart.

But wait! Now suddenly I feel full summer's breath return, and hints of another season fade in its warmth.

My whole being responds and clings to the sweet goodness of it, and I cry out to winter, "Not yet! Oh, not yet."

In its October issue, Country America magazine announces the "Top 100 Country Songs of All Time" as voted by the magazine's readers and panel of music experts.

Readers were invited to list their 120 all-time favorite country hits. More than 30,000 responded.

This first-time-ever compilation of the Top 100 Country Songs of All Time is a result of a contest announced in the magazine's February issue. Readers were invited to list their 120 all-time favorite country hits for the chance to win the vintage AMI jukebox featured in country music star Alan Jackson's video for "Don't Rock the Jukebox." More than 30,000 readers responded.

"All country music lovers have their own list of favorite country songs," says Editor Danita Allen. "We believe this marks the first time anyone has ever identified the 100 best-loved country songs of all time. It's also a tribute to the songwriters and artists who have given us these wonderful songs that have seen us through love, heartache, and everything else life has sent our way."

So what song was voted No. 1 on the Top 100 Country Songs of All Time list? George Jones' "He Stopped Loving Her Today." In 1979, Jones bet $100 that his soon-to-be-released tune would never be a hit. "He Stopped Loving Her Today," a ballad about a man whose love for his ex-wife was so powerful and obsessive that only death would end his devotion, went on to become the first consecutive two-time winner of the Country Music Association's Song of the Year award and Jones' biggest hit.

With five songs on the Top 100, Hank Williams Sr. posted the most, including such chart-topping hits as "Your Cheatin' Heart," "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry," and "Cold, Cold Heart." Patsy Cline charted four hits on the Top 100, including "Crazy" and "I Fall to Pieces."

Even though tunes from country music giants like Williams and Cline are prevalent on the list, country music's newcomers also fared well. Garth Brooks, a recent country music phenomenon, notched in at No. 3 on the list with "The Dance."

THE TOP 10 SONGS

1. "He Stopped Loving Her Today"---George Jones.
2. "When I Call Your Name"---Vince Gill.
3. "The Dance"---Garth Brooks.
4. "Crazy"---Patsy Cline.
5. "I Fall to Pieces"---Patsy Cline.
6. "El Paso"---Marty Robbins.
7. "Your Cheatin' Heart"---Hank Williams.
8. "I'm So Lonesome I Could Cry"---Hank Williams.
9. "Sixteen Tons"---Tennessee Ernie Ford.
10. "Lovesick Blues"---Hank Williams.

Social Security: 57 years old and still going strong

By M. Glyn Hammons
District Director

Fifty-seven years ago, this country was gripped by the Great Depression. Everywhere, people stood in breadlines and scavenged city dumps. Families lived in tents along roads; freight trains carried vagabond men and boys wandering in search of steady work. One out of five children in New York City was malnourished. One out of every four men nationwide lacked a job.

The depression had an even more devastating impact on the elderly. Unemployment among older workers was estimated at 30 percent. Fewer than 18 people out of a hundred were covered by pension plans. Businesses were bankrupt, savings institutions had folded. Agricultural prices fell. States lacked the resources to cope. Families and charities found it a heavy burden to provide for older people.

For the first time in our history, American workers were almost totally dependent on factors beyond their individual control for their economic security. This contrasted markedly to the pre-industrial age, when more than half the nation's adult workers were farmers.

A number of national solutions were proposed, most notably that of Dr. Francis E. Townsend, a Long Beach, Calif., physician. He advocated a program of giving people over age 60 $200 a month on the condition they quit working and spend each month's pension within 30 days. Millions of frustrated older people rallied in support of Townsend's plan and, though it was dismissed, political leaders took careful note of the support it had received.

In 1934, President Roosevelt appointed the Committee on Economic Security to study the long-term problems that had been highlighted by the Depression.

What followed was this country's first major federal government program to deal directly with the economic security of its citizens. Signed on Aug. 14, 1935, the Social Security Act provides "for the general welfare by establishing a system of federal old-age benefits and by enabling the several states to make more adequate provision . . ." Two programs were thus introduced on a national scale:

•A federal system of old-age benefits for retired workers who had been employed in industry and commerce;

•A federal-state system of unemployment insurance.

The choice of old age and unemployment as the risks to be covered by social insurance was a natural development, since the depression had wiped out much of the lifetime savings of the aged and had reduced opportunities for employment.

By January 1940, the new federal system was ready to pay its first retirement benefits. Mrs. Ida Fuller, the first recipient, received $22.54 that month. She had paid $24 in FICA taxes to qualify for benefits. She received checks every month for several years until her death.

Today, Social Security pays more than just retirement benefits. Through amendments to the Act over the years, the program now provides a package of protection for America's workers and families of all ages. Cash benefits are available in the event of a severe, long-lasting disability. Benefits are paid to young families when a breadwinner dies. And, of course, older widows and widowers are also eligible.

Over 40 million people--one in every six Americans--is receiving some type of Social Security benefit, financed with payroll taxes that are paid each year by 132 million workers. Social Security provides a floor of protection against the serious problems of economic insecurity.

Thanks to the wisdom of its founders 57 years ago, the Social Security program ranks as one of the most successful social insurance systems in the world.

Cholesterol Combat: Even with cholesterol-lowering drugs, most people must change eating and exercise habits to lower cholesterol levels effectively. Total cholesterol levels should not exceed 200, low-density lipoprotein (LDL) cholesterol should not exceed 130, and high-density lipoprotein (HDL) cholesterol should be 60 to 70. Dietary fat intake should be limited to no more than 30% of total calories. Ninety minutes of aerobic exercise weekly, combined with dietary changes, has been shown to lower total cholesterol and raise HDL cholesterol levels.

Students take part in PALS training

Nine Haskell CISD FFA and 4-H members participated in a PALS (Peer Assistance Leadership) training Sunday and Monday, held at the Lake Bridgeport Methodist Conference Center in Bridgeport.

Taking part were Quinton Billington, Stephen Campbell, Blake Henshaw, Holly Hobgood, Shawn Jordan, Brandon McFadden, Shana McKenzie, Heather Stewart and Jason Torres. They were accompanied by ag science teachers James Bevel and Duane Gilly.

Haskell CISD is one of 10 Texas schools selected this summer to implement a PALS pilot program. The Haskell FFA chapter and the Haskell County 4-H organization will work jointly on the program which was designed to promote both self-esteem and academic improvement by pairing high school and elementary students in joint and individual FFA and 4-H projects and activities.

PALS is funded through a national FFA grant through the Kellogg Foundation. Local school faculty members involved in the implementation of the pilot project are the two ag science teachers; principals, Jimmy Lisle and Greg Melton; counselor, Nancy Toliver; curriculum director, Billie McKeever. The campus contacts are Lela Bevel at the elementary school and Richard Holloway at the secondary school. The community contact person is Lou Gilly, county extension agent-home economics.

Cubs visit newspaper office

Members of Den 6 of the Cub Scouts visited the Haskell Free Press Monday evening.

Lisa Shaw of the Free Press showed the boys how a reporter gets the news and how a newspaper is printed and put together. The boys also learned how to look up stories in an old newspaper. Each boy looked up headlines that were printed on his birthday.

The visit helped the Scouts fulfill requirements for Bear achievements.

Pam Steele, leader, expressed her appreciation to Mrs. Shaw for her assistance.

Hermann Lodge to meet Sunday

Members of Sons of Hermann Lodge 241 will meet at Irby Hall at 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

All members are asked to bring either a chicken or sausage for the barbecue. Each member also is encouraged to bring a friend.

The lodge's dances are held on the second and fourth Friday of each month.
