K.B. Lane

Lane receives national acclaim

An employee of the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Lubbock has earned professional recognition in a national program offered by the Council of Rural Electric Communicators of Washington, D.C. The council is affiliated with the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association (NRECA).

K. B. (Kennie Beth) Lane of Lubbock has been notified by the council that she has met the requirements to become a Certified Rural Electric Communicator.

Lane, the daughter of B. K. and Jo Nored Lane and the granddaughter of Nored and Durene Boone, all of Haskell, is one of 20 to be certified in 1992. Since 1985, when the program began, 172 rural electric communicators have attained CREC status.

In order to achieve certification, Lane had to submit a portfolio of samples of her work in mass communications for evaluation by a national team of judges composed of professional communicators from outside the rural electric program, Certified Rural Electric Communicators and academicians. Having passed that evaluation with a score in excess of 1,000 points, Lane then took a four-hour written examination administered by an educational consulting firm whose principals are associated with George Washington University. In order to become certified, Lane had to achieve a combined score of 2,400 points on the portfolio and exam.

Certified Rural Electric Communicator credentials are offered by the national organization in order to improve the practice of communication in the rural electric field through the establishment of professional development goals, identification of a body of knowledge and skills necessary to the practice of rural electric communication, and recognition of those individuals who have demonstrated a professional level of excellence in the practice of rural electric communication.

The program is strictly voluntary.

Lane also was presented an "Award of Merit" for Best Newsletter in the Spotlight on

Indians need to win against Jim Ned Friday

It will be a big game for the Haskell Indians Friday night when they host the Jim Ned Indians in a crucial district 7-2A contest.

Each team is 2-2 in the topsy-turvy district and needs a victory to remain in serious contention for the playoffs.

The task will not be easy for the hometown Indians. Jim Ned, boasting its best team in years, is coming off a 21-20 victory over district favorite Hamlin last week which threw the district race into a muddled mess.

Haskell, meanwhile, was losing a 27-20 heartbreaker to Rotan.

After last week's fireworks, Hamlin and Winters are tied for the top spot in 7-2A with 3-1 records. Haskell, Jim Ned, Stamford and Rotan stand 2-2, while Anson and Hawley are 1-3.

But not taken into account in those standings is Jim Ned's forfeit to Hawley which came after the Indians had beaten the Bearcats, 28-0. If that game could have been counted as a victory the Indians would be tied for first place at 3-1. The forfeit came after it was learned Jim Ned had used an ineligible player. The Indians also had to forfeit their victory over Baird.

Jim Ned boasts an offense which has consistently scored three or four touchdowns per outing. Its other district victory was over Stamford, 28-14.

A group of talented performers leads that offense. Jade Lamb is quarterback of the one-back offense and Jake Pemberton is the running back. Slot backs are Jason Melton and Larry Trevino. Top hand on defense is tackle Jason Shea, who doubles as an offensive guard.

Jim Ned averages 15 passes per game, about the same as Haskell.

Haskell Coach Walter Hargrove said his team is in high spirits despite the narrow loss to Rotan.

The Indians had their best offensive night as Mart Guess completed 13 of 23 passes for 198 yards. They added 135 on the ground with Justin Lisle netting 104 yards on 21 carries. Cody Josselet added 36 key yards on six carries and Jason Torres carried four times for 16 yards.

Congressman Charles Stenholm visits with District Judge Charles Chapman after arriving in Haskell Tuesday morning.

Stenholm gives views on issues

By Wendell Faught

Congressman Charles Stenholm handled a volley of questions from an attentive audience Tuesday morning after he arrived in Haskell on one leg of a tour of the 32 counties in his district.

Stenholm arrived by bus and was accompanied by a group of supporters, including State Rep. David Counts of Knox City. State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday joined the group in Haskell.

Speaking on the south side of the courthouse, the Stamford Democrat thanked the people for their support over the 14 years he has served in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"Every incumbent is running on his record this year," said Stenholm. He then elaborated on the recognition he has received from small business and rural health interests.

"The Americans people want change," said Stenholm, "and we're going to get it in the White House and in the Congress. We can expect between 120 to 180 new members of Congress and I am confident that Bill Clinton will be elected president." Stenholm said this is one of the very few remaining rural congressional districts. "Texas gained three House seats, but not one is rural. Of the 100-plus new members of Congress to be elected this year, I will be surprised if we get as many as one farmer, one small businessman and one teacher."

The audience included members of the Haskell High School economics classes of Amanda Hadaway and Mark Coffman.

In answer to questions from the audience, Stenholm said:

"He believes in equal rights for gays but would oppose any legislation giving special privileges to the gay community."

"He would be willing to raise taxes to balance the budget only as a last resort. "I would much rather reduce spending. When I came to Congress Americans were taxed at a rate equal to 18.9 percent of the gross national product and we were spending at a rate of 19.5 percent. We're still paying 18.9 percent but we're spending in excess of 23.5

Business group to meet Tuesday

The monthly meeting of the Haskell Business Association will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 27, at the First National Bank community room.

The meeting will be a covered dish affair.

Clinton debate winner?

Bill Clinton was a clear winner in Monday night's presidential debate, if the Haskell group which showed up Tuesday morning to greet Congressman Charles Stenholm can be believed.

After Stenholm asked his audience to vote for the debate winner, about a dozen hands were raised when he asked if Clinton won, three or four voted for Ross Perot and only one for President Bush.

Don't forget to set your clocks back one hour on Saturday night, the 24th. We will regain the hour we lost last spring, won't we? The best way to remember the correct way to set them is say to yourself: spring forward and fall backward.

Happy birthday on the 25th to Jonathon Hisey; on the 27th birthday greetings are sent to Mikeana Jeffrey, on the 28th, a happy birthday is wished to youngest grandson, Zachary DeLoach, who will be the ripe age of seventeen; on the 30th greetings to Paula Oliver and on the 31st to John Cannon.

Note to David Counts of Knox City: "You have a double." When yours truly was in The Drug Store in Haskell on Monday, a man was sitting at one of the back tables to make copies. Felt as if an apology was due Mr. Counts for missing a recent convention at which he was the featured speaker, so started to tell him why it was missed when the man said: "I believe you have me mistaken for someone else". He went on to say not to be embarrassed as it happens all the time except people think he is Phil Donahue. He laughingly told the clerks and I that recently as he was getting off a plane at DFW in Dallas a lady rushed up to him and asked for his autograph, and was very perturbed that he didn't give it to her for she insisted that he was TV host Phil Donahue. His name is Bob Bailey and he is from Ballinger.

In Haskell it was nice to visit with Doyle High at The Drug Store. Doyle was the Pharmaceutical Consultant at SMH when your writer worked there. (Dr. Bunkley used to tease Doyle and say the hospital hired the wrong "High" as Roberta was a lot better-looking than her husband, which she is (and Doyle will agree).

Our minister's mother, Earlene Harvey, suffered a heart attack on Monday before last, and had triple by-pass surgery on Friday at Humana Hospital in Abilene. We wish her well. She is in room 404.

Enjoyed seeing Joyce Hester, Elaine Holcomb and Jean Meier, all of Rule, at Wal-Mart on Sunday. Also, saw Little Tidwell there.

Did you know that there is some wonderful gospel singing each Friday morning at the VIP Center, which is led by Thomas Goulet, Gloria's husband and accompanied on the piano by Gladys Gibson, his mother-in-law? How about coming out and joining in? Among the numerous songs we sang were some old goodies: "I'll Fly Away", "I've Got a Mansion Just Over the Hilltop" to name a couple, but there were many more.

Condolences are sent to the families of J. B. Cooper, Lora Lewis, J. C. Halliburton of Rochester, and Marta Weeks of Lueders. Also to the families of L. E. Weeks, Nancy Hollard and Gladys Woods.

Wild horses being offered for adoption

Wild horses and burros, symbols of the nation's Western Heritage, will be offered for adoption in Sonora Nov. 7-8 at the Sulton County stockpens on I-10 and US 277.

Horses may be viewed on Friday, Nov. 6 when applications will be issued.

About 50 burros and 70 horses will be available to qualified adopters for a fee of $125 each.

The Adopt-A-Horse program began in 1973 by the Bureau of Land Management in order to control the increasing populations of horse herds on federal land in the west.

Congress passed a law in 1971 to protect wild horse herds from extinction and to preserve them as "living symbols of the historic and pioneer spirit of the West."

PHARMACY NEWS

By Elbert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

Family Medical History: A family medical history (of parents and siblings and, if possible, of grandparents, aunts, uncles, and first cousins) may help to assess the risk for certain diseases. Among inheritable diseases are heart disease, lung cancer, breast cancer, ovarian cancer, diabetes, Huntington's Chorea, Alzheimer's disease, and asthma/allergies. Discovering a pattern may suggest the necessity of genetic testing (Huntington's and Alzheimer's) or at least lifestyle changes to lessen the risk.

Mary Kaigler:

From the Inside Out

It hasn't been written up in the New England Journal of Medicine, nor approved by the AMA, but I may have hit upon a practical remedy for one of mankind's maladies--at least it works for me.

Unreasonable Insomnia, or Nightus Wide-Eyedus. You know the symptoms. It's when you're having one of those, "It's 2:30 a.m., I don't hurt anywhere, the election isn't until next November, the kids have a job, the cat's out for the night, there's that casserole in the freezer for tomorrow, so why can't I sleep," kind of night.

It can get pretty boring and frustrating when you can't even call up a proper problem for causing sleeplessness. That old thing of counting sheep is not very creative; my mind keeps wandering and I lose count. Besides, who wants to bore themselves to sleep?

Recently, during a veritable "spell" of such nocturnal nuttiness I decided to try to think of every person who has touched my life in some way (that I am aware of) for both good and not-so-good, and to ask the Creator of us all to bless them in whatever way they may need.

Don't laugh! Already a believer in the value of meditation for helping to lower blood pressure (because it worked for me), I figure I've nothing to lose in trying this. I'm already awake, so why not?

My memory hops and skips from the obscure to the obvious; from the minor to the momentous. I take it decade by decade, town by town, job by job, block by block, group by group. It's surprising how many people you can call up and lift up in a couple of hours (or three or four). Some names I can't now recall, so I picture them, trusting the One who has even counted the hairs I have left on my head will know who I mean. Not only is this a creative way to spend a sleepless night, but it's also a great, pardon the pun, "eye opener" as to how many seemingly small events and barely known persons have added to the dimension of one's life.

For instance, the little, older lady who drove all the way from Buchanan Dam to Austin to get me to plan the decorating of her lake cabin. (I'd helped her two years before with another house in Gonzales.) Learning that I'd started radiation therapy, she walked up to the crowded counter, and looking and pointing straight up, she authoritatively said, "Mary, you are going to be all right, because I'm going to be talking to Someone about you every day."

In unison, everyone standing at the counter looked up toward the ceiling before they realized what she meant. Then, in unison, they looked at me. It was a rare, brief moment when I felt completely wrapped in caring love.

Bless you Ella. I haven't seen you again, but I was, indeed, "going to be all right."

Then there was Harold, the sweet-faced little neighbor boy who whirled around in blind anticipation, stepping off into the old cesspool, sinking up to his chin before the boys could pull him out. Washing him down at the windmill the best they could, they sent him home to supper.

For several years his shy, sweet mother thanked my brothers for saving Harold from a fate even worse than death, by baking our family sugary-crust apple pies we knew she could not easily afford. Even now my family's expression for anything good we anticipate is "Oh boy, Pie!"

The many old philosophers who wrote on the theme, "None goes his way alone," must have come by that train of thought during some sleepless, medieval, midnight meditation. Never before so aware of how we touch and become some part of the fabric of the other's life, I'm intrigued by the idea of trying to chronicle all of their stories into a book; if I can just stay awake that long. After Midnight With Mary might be a title that would sell, sight unseen.

After such reflection and introspection, I get up in the morning somehow refreshed and energized in both body and spirit. (I think it has something to do with "talking to Someone", as Ella said.) If I could bottle it or roll it into a neat capsule I'd write free prescriptions for it any day.

Anyway, Harold, whatever else you may have stepped off into during these last 50-plus years, Happy Insomnia to you, too.

Homemakers meet with Mrs. Winchester

The Weinert Homemaking Club met Oct. 6 in the home of Agnes Winchester.

The meeting was called to order by Jimmie Weinert, president. The hostess gave a reading, then members repeated the club prayer and TEHA creed.

Roll call was answered by 13 members and two guests. The club has two new members, Brenda Sanders and Shelia Harbor. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Betty Sanders and the treasurer's report was given. Jimmie gave the council report.

The council will meet only four times in 1993 unless a business meeting is called. Meetings will be in January, March, July and September, on the third Wednesday at 2 p.m.

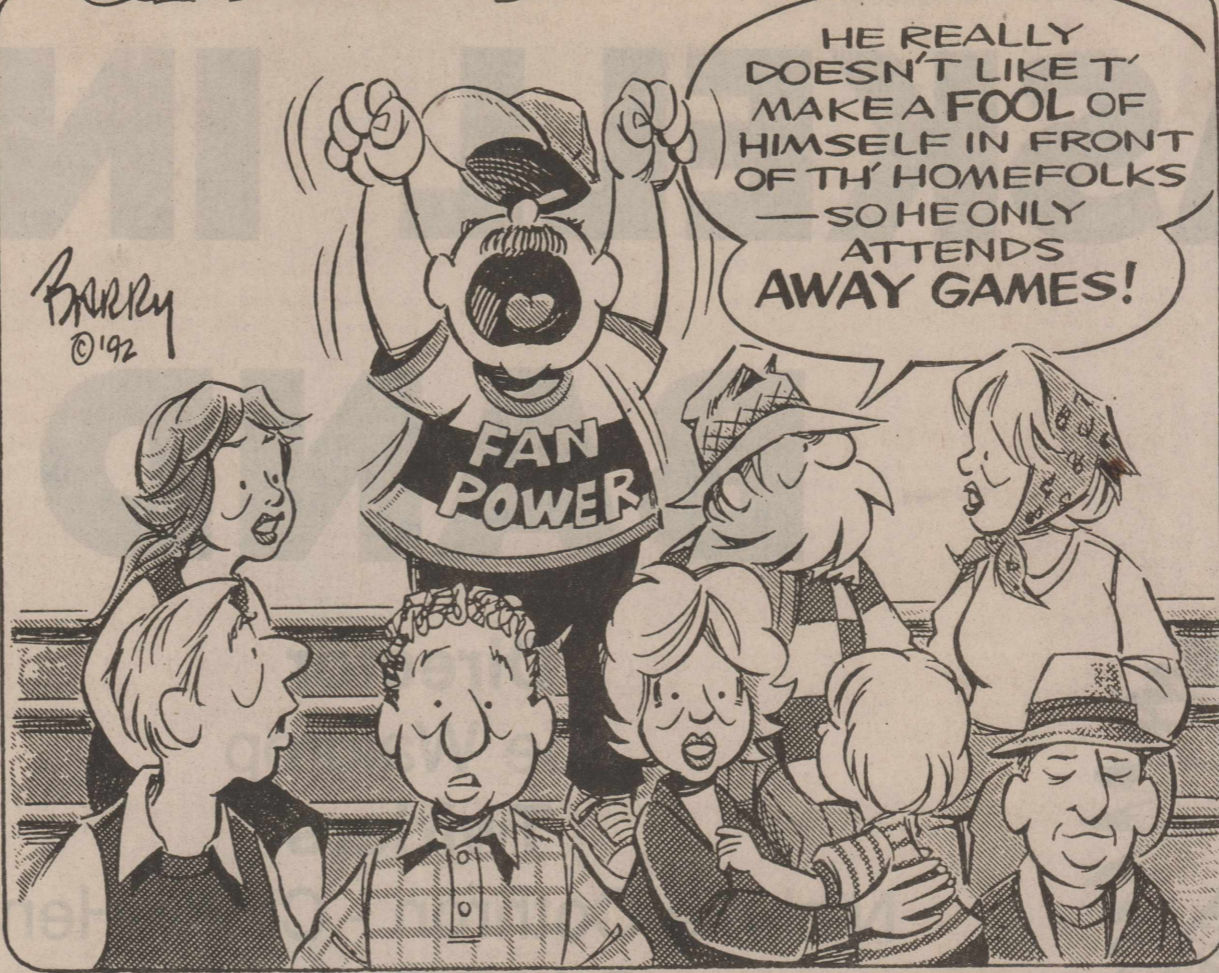

Each club is to have a chairman to report the sick to the Sunshine lady, Joetta Burnett, in the Eager Housewives Club in Haskell.

The group discussed the Oct. 17 Information Day at the Haskell bank community room. Each club was given an assignment and everyone is to bring a covered dish.

Lou Gilly extension agent, gave the program: "Reduce, Recycle and Reuse."

Refreshments were served in Agnes' lovely dining room. Attending were Jimmie Weinert, Betty Sanders, Estalynn Liles, Henrietta Rueffer, Cordie Cunningham, Myrtle Plemister, Faye Jetton, Alice Yates, Larita Burgess, Frances Mahan, Erma Liles and new member, Shelia Harbor, two guests, Marguerite King, Lou Gilly and the hostess. Sixty years ago a country school teacher left Haskell County and returned to Alabama where he was born in 1887. Last, week, the same man, 85-year-old J. C. Gentry, returned to Haskell for the first time and visited many people he had taught to read and write.

80 Years Ago Oct. 10, 1912

Last Monday, Virgil Christian, son of a farmer living two miles west of town, found a pocketbook on the streets of Haskell that contained a cashier's check for $60, and $50 in currency. This boy was honest. He took the purse and money to Sheriff Dan Faulkner who began a search and found the owner, a traveling man who had gone to Rule in an auto and had noticed his loss after leaving Haskell.

National Bank at Stamford and has accepted a position with a commission company in Fort Worth.

T. G. Carney left Thursday on a business trip to East Texas.

Mrs. A. C. Foster and children left Tuesday on a visit to relatives at Belknap and Graham.

A fellow who evidently dislikes walking and who in all probability is a fugitive from justice, passed through the country last week. He is supposed to have come up on the train Friday evening to Stamford, where he took a saddle horse tied to a hitching rack and rode it to the ranch of Burwell Cox in the north part of the county Friday night. He turned it loose there and appropriated one of Mrs. Cox's horses which he rode to near Goree and turned it loose and threw the saddle in a field. Both the Stamford man and Mr. Cox recovered their horses but no clue as to the identity or whereabouts of the self-accommodating whelp has been found.

Heart Walk

Editor: As chairperson for the American Heart Walk sponsored by the American Heart Association, I would like to thank those who participated in our annual walk.

All of our families are affected in some way by heart disease, and because of the generosity of our county, we exceeded our goal of $3,000.

Our local heart board would especially like to thank the businesses who contributed money and prizes to help make our walk successful.

Editor: Thanks for reminding me concerning my subscription. I would have forgotten and I don't want to miss a single issue.

In a recent Free Press, I noticed the writeup about Homer Josselet donating cantaloupes to senior citizens, and also the Josselet switch was mentioned.

When I was 2 years old, my parents moved from Tennessee to Haskell. I don't remember the occasion but we got off the train at Josselet switch, along with some furniture and luggage. That was in 1920.

Growing up at Haskell and living there 25 years, I come to know lots of wonderful people. We knew the Josselet generation and they were mighty nice people.

Have a word also for John Sam Rike. I have spent many Sunday afternoons on the Rike ranch watching bronc riding and many other activities on the ranch. My sister and her husband, Luther and Emma Conner, were caretakers and did some farming for your grandfather, John Rike.

This is just a few of some special memories in Haskell County.

Keep the paper coming.

College Day

Editor: It was a pleasure to host the College Day in Haskell Oct. 13 at the Civic Center. Over 450 area students and college representatives were present.

I would like to thank HHS National Honor Society and Student Council representatives for the help they gave by setting up tables and registering visitors. Mrs. Christi Stapleton was in charge of these student groups.

The Haskell National Bank made this event possible by providing the Civic Center for our use. The advertising of the date and address by Bill Wilson Motor Co., The Drug Store and KVRP was very helpful.

Candidates get farm endorsement

Texas Farm Bureau Friends of Agriculture Fund (AGFUND) has endorsed the re-election of U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, Democrat, and the endorsement of Tom Haywood, a Republican candidate for the Texas Senate.

AGFUND is the Texas Farm Bureau's political action fund. It is a legal entity separate from the Texas Farm Bureau and may endorse and contribute financially to political candidates.

Whiskey Ranch: Most ranchers did not allow drinking among the cowhands, would not even permit the presence of liquor. So cowboys had to find the nearest settlement saloon--usually on Saturday night--to quench their thirst. These remote and indispensable saloons were given the nickname "Whiskey Ranch," and often, by extension, the entire community would carry the nickname.

Knight-Ridder Newspapers says Larry Hopkins, Republican congressman from Kentucky, last year paid his wife $1,500 for compiling their Christmas card list.

Like a lot of others who will be exiting Congress early next year, he's trying to use up the excess money in his campaign chest that he won't be able to take with him when he leaves.

A 1989 campaign reform law limits the use of leftover campaign funds but House members who were elected before 1980 and depart by January 1993 are permitted by legislation to keep for their own use the amounts they had in their campaign war chests when the law was passed. Therefore, Hopkins and others are eager to use up that part they can't keep. Hopkins had $660,682 in his fund when the law was passed, so he can't keep anything over that amount.

When he was running for governor of Kentucky last year, Hopkins said he would make no personal use of his surplus. But he lost that race and now says he won't "preclude any option" for using the money.

Many of the congressmen who will be leaving office in January will depart with tidy sums under this escape route from the campaign reform law, which along with their robust pensions, should enable them to continue their living standards.

Matthew Rinaldo, Republican from New Jersey, will pocket about $800,000. Ten others will leave with more than $400,000, including a couple who were involved in the House bank overdrafts.

So far, only two retiring lawmakers--Charles Bennett, Democrat from Florida, and Edward R. Roybal, Democrat from California--have made explicit pledges to give their surpluses to charities. Six others have pledged to make no personal use of the money and nine say they have not decided.

Many are "living it up" by spending it on travel, appreciation dinners, charity balls, leased cars and repairs and political contributions to others.

At least one PAC is asking for a refund. Allied-Signal Aerospace Co. gave $500 to Bob Davis, Michigan Republican and third-ranking abuser of House bank check cashing privileges. He deposited the check 25 days after he announced he wouldn't run for re-election. But a press aide to Davis said the money belonged to the Michigan congressman as soon as Allied-Signal wrote the check, which was before he quit.

Stay tuned.

Rochester rolls on

Unbeaten Rochester upped its record to 6-0 Friday night with a 66-19 victory over the Rule Bobcats.

Mark Brown scored four touchdowns on runs of 2, 32 and 42 yards and a punt return of 65 yards to pace the Steers' scoring.

Chris Carver threw two touchdown passes, one for 10 yards to Kyle Hollingsworth and another of 31 yards to Jacob Marin. Other touchdowns came on a 20-yard return of an interception by Kurt Sloan, a 55-yard run by Robby Strickland and a 16-yard run by Charles Helms.

The Steers led, 40-0 at the half. The game was called under the 45-point rule in the fourth quarter.

Armando Delacruz and Matt Cineros led the tacklers with 10 tackles each.

This week, the Steers will host Jayton.

Grandmother readers

'Grannies' resume reading program

The Grandmothers' Lap Reading Program at Paint Creek began last Tuesday.

Seven "grandmothers" came to read selected stories to the children.

Begun last year, this reading program has been highly successful in bringing the importance of books to kindergarten, first- and second-grade students.

"It was fun. I laughed. We talked," said Cassie Lamb, a second grader.

Courtney Buerger, first-grade student said, "We talked to each other and read stories and stuff. One was about a rabbit."

Students and grandmothers all agreed that the time together is very special. It is something they all are looking forward to each week. Reading time is from 10 to 10:45 every Tuesday.

Any grandmother (or even grandfather) who is interested in reading to the children may call Debbie Hobgood at Paint Creek (864-2471) for more information.

Art club tries something new

The Brazos West Art Club met Oct. 12 at the Corral building with a good turnout of members.

This was the first meeting where each member painted from a model that was set up by an appointed committee, or something of their own choosing.

It was voted upon at the last meeting in May to try this type program instead of paying an artist to do a demonstration each time.

Friends and family gathered Sunday in the home of Hal and Christene Greene to celebrate the couple's emerald wedding anniversary (55th).

Mr. and Mrs. Green were married Oct. 16, 1937, in Oklahoma. They moved to Haskell in 1942 from Slidell. He is a retired farmer and she is a retired hair dresser.

They have three daughters, eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Visiting from Fort Worth were Brenda Swiney, Edna Joe Nixon, Edwin Nixon and Jessie Mae Davis, L. D. and Rodney Greene of Stinnett; Woody Wayne and Georgia Turnbow of Weinert; Suzan and Autumn Pollard of Snyder; Paulette and Dusty Kincaid of Bonham; Mazelle Kainer of Knox City; Donnie, Linda and Donnie Joe Sparks of Millsap.

Becky Cline of San Angelo, Corne Mills of Brownwood, Gwynn Brintia, Kendra, Anthony Grazzitit and Cody Stevens of Eules, Carol and Dee Pipkin of Mount Vernon.

There's a better way to stay warm...

Call your heating and cooling dealer instead.

The best way to stay warm this winter is to have your heating system serviced now. A checkup by a heating and cooling dealer could help prevent a costly, uncomfortable breakdown during the cold of winter. Proper maintenance can also help reduce operating cost and extend the life of heating equipment.

And if your present system has seen too many winters, replace it with an all season electric heat pump. Ask your dealer or WTU for details.

Indians drop tough one to Rotan

It was a tough one to lose. The Haskell Indians played their hearts out at Rotan Friday night, but the host Yellowhammers pushed across a pair of late touchdowns in a 3-minute span to hand the Indians a 27-20 defeat.

It was Haskell's second district 7-2A defeat to drop its record to 2-2, the same as Rotan.

Rotan scored the winning touchdown with just 43 seconds to go, marching 25 yards in a four-play drive after recovering a Haskell fumble. Eric Smith carried all four times, getting the touchdown from 2 yards out.

The Yellowhammers had tied the score at 20-20 just three minutes earlier when Smith capped a 38-yard drive with a 9-yard scoring run.

The two-touchdown spree nullified a spirited Indian rally during which they had overcome a 14-0 deficit to take a 20-14 lead in the third quarter.

Rotan scored on its first two possessions, the first coming on a 37-yard run by Steven Warren on the game's third play from scrimmage.

On their next possession, the Yellowhammers marched 56 yards in 13 time-consuming ground plays with Smith getting the touchdown on a 1-yard keeper. Tyrone Daniel's second conversion kick made the score 14-0 with 2:33 left in the first quarter.

The Indians, who had had only one possession at this point, took the ensuing kickoff and marched 82 yards for a touchdown, which came on a 5-yard run by Justin Lisle on the first play of the second quarter. The passing of Mart Guess had fueled the drive. The Indian quarterback passed 18 yards to Tommie Isbell, 13 yards to Shawn Jordan and then 47 yards to Jonathan Tatum to put the ball at the 5. The extra point attempt was no good, leaving the score at 14-6.

Rotan stormed back, moving from its own 32 to a first down at the Indian 4, but that was as close as they were going to get. After reaching the 4, a penalty set them back to the 9. Warren made a yard to the 8, but on the next play, the Indians' Kevin Conner hit Smith, forcing a fumble which the Yellowhammers recovered at the 10. On third down, Smith's pass was broken up by Brandon McFadden. Then Daniel's fourth-down field goal attempt from the 16 was no good.

On Rotan's next possession, the Indians pinned them back to their 9 from where they punted to the Haskell 40. Guess hit Tatum with a 16-yard strike to the 24, but this was followed by two incomplections and finally an interception in the end zone. The half ended shortly thereafter with the score still standing at 14-6.

The Indians wasted little time getting on the scoreboard again once the second half began. Taking over on their own 23 following the kickoff, they began a 77-yard scoring drive. Lisle picked up 2. Guess passed to Isbell for 8 to the 33, Cody Josselet clicked off 13 and Lisle followed with an 11-yard run. Guess then hit Tatum for 15 yards to the Rotan 27. A 15-yard penalty against Rotan moved the ball to the 13. Jason Torres picked up 5 and then Lisle took it over from the 8. Guess passed to Lisle for a 2-point conversion and the score was tied at 14-14.

Brent Breeden was the hero of the next touchdown which put the Indians out front. The Haskell linebacker stole the ball from Rotan's Curtis Huit at the Rotan 38 and raced to the 2-yard line. Guess then passed to Isbell for the touchdown. The kick was no good, but the Indians had taken the lead, 20-14, with 3:29 left in the third period.

Things continued to look bright after Casey Larned intercepted a Smith pass two plays later at the Haskell 43. Guess passed 15 yards to Tatum to the Rotan 42. Lisle lost a yard and then made 11 for a first down at the 32. Torres picked up a yard to the 31 and then the Indians were penalized back to the 36. Two incomplete passes and a completion for a yard loss forced the Indians to surrender the ball at the 37.

Rotan then marched all the way to the Haskell 4, but two consecutive penalties moved them back to the 14 where Daniel attempted another field goal on fourth down with 8:33 to go.

From the 20, Lisle lost a yard and Torres gained 6, but a penalty set the Indians back to the 9. After a pass fell incomplete, Josselet kicked to the 38.

It was from here that Rotan began the drive which tied the score when Smith scored with 3:54 left.

Haskell returned the kickoff to the 14. Lisle picked up 2, Josselet made 11, Lisle ran for 14 and Josselet added 2 to move the ball to the 43. A 10-yard penalty wiped out a 10-yard run by Lisle and moved the Indians back to the 33. On the next play, the Indians fumbled and Rotan recovered at the 25. Four plays later, Smith scored from the 2 only 0:43 left to play.

But the Indians made the most of the remaining 43 seconds. After the Rotan kickoff went out of bounds the Indians took over at the 30. The Guess-Tatum combo clicked for 16 yards. After an incomplete pass, Lisle hauled in a deflected pass for a 35-yard gain to the Rotan 19 with 16 seconds left. Two passes then fell incomplete, the last being batted away from Lisle at the last moment in the end zone, and the game was over.

The 11th annual night Christmas parade will be Saturday, Dec. 5, at 6 p.m. The parade is sponsored by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

The theme, "A Synchronized Christmas," is derived from a suggestion by Darold Roberson that all parade units be tuned to radio station KVRP with the same music through the city. Viewers also are asked to turn the dials on the car radios to the same broadcast.

Floats may be of the entrants' choices of design, but if ideas are needed, all the chamber office at 864-2477.

All units must be well lighted and anyone wishing to participate should contact the chamber office by Nov. 10.

After the parade, concerts will be presented on the square while the first Christmas drawing is being conducted.

The Haskell Business Association is asking all participating businesses to remain open two hours after the parade and feature the best discount offers of the holiday season.

As usual, thousands of parade viewers are expected to be in Haskell for the parade.

'Spook Cave' to operate Halloween

By Jennabeth Kimbrough

Halloween is just around the corner, so get ready for a night of thrills and chills. This is our fourth "Spooktacular Year" and if you've never visited our cave, you've missed a lot of fun.

Visit our "Spook Cave" Halloween night, Oct. 31 if you're brave enough. Doors open at 7 p.m. Cave is located east of downtown Haskell, Hwy 380, at Old Dave's Cave. It costs $1.75 to enter.

In addition to the "Cave," we'll have a Halloween Carnival for the younger children. We'll have games to play, cakewalks, prizes, fortune telling and snacks.

Doors will be open from 6 to 10. There is no charge to get in. Games cost 25 to 50 cents to play.

We are not responsible for accidents. Enter the cave or carnival at your own risk.

We are a responsible group, known only as "The Spooks," who enjoy Halloween and our only wish is to make Haskell a safe and fun town on the "spookiest" night of the year.

Come out and join in the fun. We're non-profit. All proceeds go to a good cause.

Tobacco

Six states produce nearly all the tobacco in the United States.

In 1991, North Carolina accounted for 37 percent of the crop (by value) and Kentucky about 29 percent. The four neighboring states of Virginia, Tennessee, South Carolina and Georgia added another 26 percent.

Homemakers meet with Mrs. Jones

Margaret Jones was elected to be Sunshine chairman.

Martha Toliver and Reatha Mullins will serve on the program committee with Margaret Jones.

Information Day was discussed and Margaret showed the tape, "The Three R's--Reduce, Recycle and Re-use."

Members voted not to deliver meals for the ECC next year.

Refreshments were served to Mary Abbott, Edna Anderson, Phylecia Bailey, Earmal Bevel, Flo Holder, Reatha Mullins, Augusta Owens, Mildred Robertson, Hazel Thomas, Martha Toliver, Margaret Wall and the hostess, Margaret Jones.

Reatha Mullins received the door prize.

Next meeting will be Nov. 10 at the home of Mildred Robertson.

year, and we are excited about the new crop.

Thurman Howeth was at the Junior football game with Lueders last week. His little step-son was playing. Thurman was in the Paint Creek Scout Troop for several years. Also, at the game were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Alvis. Tom is the Superintendent of the Lueders School and I'll bet he is a good one. Gene and I visited with them at the game, and they were so concerned about each of the Lueders players especially those who hadn't played but in one or two games. Geneva, Mrs. Alvis, graduated from Paint Creek High.

Today our school has not one child, not one teacher, not one Superintendent or lunch room lady. They all got in the buses and went to New Braunfels Monday to see the river, and ride in glass bottomed boats, and all the fun things one can see and do at New Braunfels. Some school board members and faculty members drove the buses. Isn't that great? I hope they have good weather, and not one case of tummy ache.

Gene Fischer, one of the best carpenters in Paint Creek, has built some new bookcases, tables, book drops, and other necessary things for a study hall, which the old science room will now be. It surely looks nice.

Mrs. Dorothy Thane told me that the Extension Homemaker's meeting at the Haskell National Bank Community Room last Saturday only had 18 members present. There were so many schools having homecoming, I imagine that might have been one reason for such a low number attending. Rule, Stamford and a college or two had their homecoming last weekend.

The cotton is opening so fast. Some of the fields are almost white. Some of us lost a crop last We're a Community Bank. And Proud of It!

We're proud to be a local community bank. We are not tied to a far away corporate office dictating lending or borrowing policies in our local community.

We keep your money working here at home. Local community banks don't have to send capital out of town, out of state, out of region or out of the country. Your local bank is free to invest back in the community by making your deposits available right here for loans.

And because it's locally controlled, your community bank is more responsive to your needs on a local level and a personal basis.

The USDA has extended the disaster sign-up to ensure that producers who qualify under the program will receive a payment rate of 50.04 percent of the payments for crop losses approved for coverage.

The ASCS has extended the period to file for benefits under Phase II to Feb. 12, 1993, for those crops planted in 1991 for harvest in 1992. The original deadline was Oct. 2.

The extended sign-up period does not change the requirement for producers to purchase crop insurance on the same crop for 1993 if this year's crop loss was more than 65 percent.

Applications will be processed and checks mailed to qualifying producers as soon as possible. For more information about the program, contact the local ASCS office.

Crop insurance

Farmers applying for U.S. Department of Agriculture disaster payments for 1992 crop losses must purchase crop insurance on the same crop for 1993 if this year's loss was more than 65 percent, as required by the 1990 farm bill.

Producers cannot avoid insurance simply by delaying application for disaster payments. In addition, they must certify they understand that failure to pay the required crop insurance premiums will mean forfeiture of disaster payments.

The Federal Crop Insurance Corporation is extending closing dates for insurance sales on some commodities.

Sales' closing dates for wheat, barley, oats, rye, nursery crops, potatoes and sugarcane have been extended to Oct. 31. Some areas of the country will have later closing dates. The FCIC has provided all Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service county offices with sales closing dates for all insured commodities in the area.

Under the law, there are some exceptions to the requirement that producers obtain crop insurance. If they acquire insurance because they thought the had to and learn later that it was not required, farmers may request release from the policy.

Findley payments

The USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation has announced that no increased deficiency payments, known as Findley payments, will be made for 1991-crop corn and sorghum under the 1991 feed grains price support and production adjustment program since the national weighted average market prices exceeded the basic support level.

Findley payments are made when the basic support level for a crop of a commodity is reduced to maintain domestic and export markets.

The national average market prices per bushel received by producers from September 1991 through August 1992 were $2.37 for corn and $2.25 for sorghum ($4.01 cwt). The basic price support level for each of these commodities was $1.89 per bushel and $1.80 per bushel, respectively.
