The bi-district game will be played in Ballinger on Friday, Feb. 26, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

To tune up for the playoff game, the Indians will have a practice game Saturday night at Wichita

State spends $3.8 million on welfare in Haskell County

Welfare programs in Haskell County 1992 received $3,824,563 in state funds, according to David Maberry, regional administrator for the Texas Department of Human Services.

Medical assistance had the biggest impact, with $527,554 spent for families and children and $490,265 for the aged and disabled for hospitals, physicians, laboratory, X-ray and other services. Also, $52,990 was spent for families and children and $250,543 for the aged and disabled in Haskell County for prescribed medicines.

Nursing home costs of approximately $1,315,764 were paid for aged and disabled residents. Community care for aged and disabled spent $217,759.

Food stamps worth $794,965 were issued for the fiscal year which ended Aug. 31, while Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) totaled $174,723. Food stamps are funded entirely by the federal government, while the Texas Department of Human Services determines eligibility of applicants and issues the food coupons.

To be eligible for the honor list, a student must be enrolled in at least 12 semester hours and maintain at least a 3.5 grade-point average for the semester. WMU studies Esther

Minnie Faye Dean and Dell Anderson were hostesses for the East Side Baptist Church WMU Feb. 9. Wilma Bartley called the meeting to order and led a special prayer. All repeated the 1992-93 watchword in unison. During the month of February, the group has studied the book of Esther. Last week, the reading was Esther 3:7-15. The prayer was that "in our own nation and around the world God will overrule those who misuse their authority for their own selfish ends." Prayer focus was Connecticut. The prayer was that Southern Baptists led by Maner Tyson will be fruitful in their ministry and witness to the inner city residents of Waterbury. Dee Sprayberry brought a lesson from the book, "Each New Day," by Corrie Boom. It is like a diary she kept. One of the things she did was led a Dutch girl to the Lord while she was "waiting to be executed." Corrie's sister was executed but the Lord still had a great amount of service left for Corrie. There were nine women present: Wilma, Minnie Faye, Dell, Nell Rogers, Dee, Maggie Threet, Dorothy Bowers, Deborah Laird and Ruby Green. A delicious chef's salad was served after the dismissal prayer. Two county couples assist in U. S. Figure Skating contest

By Faye Dunnam
 About 1,100 volunteer workers were used to make the United States Figure Skating contest in Phoenix, Arizona, Jan. 18-24, the success it was. Four of those volunteers came from Haskell County: Joyce and Sidney Hester of Rule and Mr. and Mrs. John Pope of Haskell. Joyce and Ada are sisters. Joyce and Ada worked on costume repairs, working 18 hours a day. They took care of the repair needs of the skaters' costumes. They had ringside seats and many of the repairs were made while the costume was on the skaters. Many amusing incidents will be remembered. They made repairs with needle and thread, safety pins, Scotch tape and rubber bands. The skaters were congenial and grateful and they made many friends among them. The Popes and Hesters had rooms on the 19th floor of the Hyatt Hotel. At 3:30 a.m. of the last night there was a false fire alarm. Fire trucks surrounded the building. The Rule Co-op Gin donated two T shirts for door prizes. The Farmers National Bank donated money for supplies for Joyce and Ada.

The skaters are a very dedicated group. The expenses are so high that many are prohibited from becoming contest skaters. They get to the skating rink at 3 a.m. From the rink they go to school where they are full time students. They take drama, theatre, ballet, dancing, weight training, gymnastics and skating. Each skater must have hair and makeup done before each exhibition. Joyce and Ada were picked up by chartered bus one morning for them to get their hair fixed. Mr. Hester was security supervisor. He was on the bottom floor, just off the rink, from 7 a.m. to 2 a.m. each day. Most of the time he was standing. He assisted the skaters, trainers and all others involved in the competition. There were 14 security stations around the arena. Mr. Pope was a security guard. American Broadcasting Company had sports reporters there to cover the competition. They got to meet Al Michaels, Lewis Johnson and Dave Avery. Dave said he "passed through Rule once."

There was very tight security all week. No drinks or drugs were allowed. Drug tests were made frequently and skaters were not allowed to go the bathroom alone after competition. No one was allowed in without proper credentials. There were more than 90,000 spectators during the week. There were hospitality rooms at the arenas and hotels for skaters, volunteers and other special groups.

The opening and closing ceremonies were spectacular. Veronica and Arthur Rohrbocher, grandchildren of the Popes, niece and nephew of the Hesters, participated as skaters in this. The theme was "Skate-A-Mania." Saturday night there was a $50,000 party for the skaters and volunteers. The western theme dance and party were a fitting climax for a hard, fun filled week. The competition will be in Detroit next year. When the two couples were asked if they would go back if asked, they replied, "You bet."

Rural home loans available to some

Rural housing loans for very-low and low income applicants are available through county offices of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), Larry McDaniel, Haskell County FmHA supervisor, said this week. Home ownership loans may be used to buy, build, improve or repair rural homes and to provide adequate water and waste disposal systems. Homes may be built on individual tracts or in subdivisions. Funds may also be used to modernize homes---add improvements such as bathrooms, central heating, modern kitchens and other improvements. Borrowers may buy an existing house and lot or buy a site on which to build a home. Loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the appraised value of the site and the new home. Interest rates for this type of loan are presently 7.75 percent with 33-year terms. Monthly payments are subsidized with the amount of the payment dependent on the borrower's annual income. Homes will be modest in size, design, and cost but adequate to meet the family's needs. New homes average about 1,050 square feet of living area. In addition, FmHA guarantees home ownership loans made to applicants of low or moderate income. Guarantees offer opportunities to families who are unable to afford a commercial loan without a guarantee. These loans may be made for up to 100 percent of the value of the property and are made for terms of 30 years. The interest rate is based on the Federal National Mortgage Association rate with maximum loan amount in most counties of $67,500. McDaniel said FmHA assists rural America by guaranteeing private sector loans and by providing temporary, supervised direct loans to farm and housing

The Hesters have lived in Rule for the past five years. They own and operate "Designs by Hester," designer jackets designed and made by Joyce. Her jackets are distributed in several states. Mr. Hester is employed by the Department of Human Services, and is a senior welfare fraud investigator, working in Abilene and Wichita Falls. They are member of the Baptist Church. The Popes moved to Haskell last year from Payson, Arizona, where they were retired.

Huge vitamin C dosages dangerous

If you're trying to prevent a cold, taking huge doses of vitamin C may cause more problems than the virus you're trying to avoid.

Researchers at Arizona State University found that two people complained of chronic diarrhea after taking 500 milligrams of vitamin C daily. Although the amount given was eight times the recommended daily allowance, it is commonly found in just one pill.

When researchers increased the dosage to 2,000 milligrams a day, two more people complained of dry nose and nosebleeds. The sample in the study was small--nine men and women--yet, any supplement may cause problems if not taken as recommended, said Dr. Mary Kinney Bielamowicz, nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Many people have a habit of taking vitamins on an empty stomach, when most labels will tell you to take them with food," she said. "The high acidity in vitamin C can especially cause stomach problems."

For those who think vitamin C can help prevent the cold virus during bad weather, Bielamowicz recommends getting it naturally by eating foods high in the vitamin.

Fruits rich in vitamin C are oranges and orange juice, grapefruit and grapefruit juice, lemons, strawberries, berries and papaya. Raw vegetables that provide good sources of the vitamin are greens, broccoli, tomatoes, cabbage, green peppers, brussels sprouts and cauliflower.

"Vitamin C is destroyed by heat, so ordinarily, you should eat uncooked fruits and vegetables to meet nutritional needs.

More than 100 different viruses cause colds, which are spread by coughs, sneezes, kissing and the common use of drinking glasses and other personal objects that have been contaminated.

Bielamowicz said people cannot cure colds, but can help prevent them by following these steps:

1. Protect your health by eating a balanced diet and getting plenty of rest.

2. Avoid being around those who have colds, especially when they are coughing and sneezing.

3. Don't use items that may have been contaminated by someone with a cold.

"If you do come down with the symptoms of a cold, drink plenty of liquids and take cold medications that you know work for you," Bielamowicz said. "See your doctor if you have high fever, severe headache, chest pains or other symptoms."

PHARMACY NEWS

By Eibert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

Avoiding Colds and Flu: While nothing can make a person immune to colds or flu, some people who become infected with a virus actually can fight it off. A balanced diet, particularly with enough vitamins A and B6 and folic acid, is important. Zinc-gluconate tablets do not help a cold, but some vitamin C may. Sleep can help in the fight, as can moderate exercise. Too rigorous of a workout can weaken immunity. Keeping stress to a minimum also can keep immune system strong.

Paint Creek

Editor: The Paint Creek Volunteer Fire Department is working hard to raise the money to get another truck going that the Texas Forest Service donated to us.

We were graciously donated a fire station by the Forest Service that Congressman Stenholm found for us. We are working hard at getting enough funds to get the foundation poured.

Dale and Ruby Mae Middlebrook were gracious enough to donate us the land for us to rebuild the station on. We plan to get the foundation poured as soon as possible.

The surrounding volunteer fire departments have offered to help PCVFD rebuild it, along with people in our community.

Stanley wants to tell the volunteer firemen how he appreciates all the help. They are always there to work on the trucks.

Our men do this out of the kindness of their hearts for our community. These men are out anytime in any kind of weather.

A lot of times their families never see them on Saturday or if they are fighting a fire.

The wives stay by the radios to make sure they are all right or if they need anything and they are safe.

So please let's support our PCVFD. They give a lot because they care.

Stanley and Patty Morton

Fire Department

To the friends and supporters of the Haskell Fire Department:

The Haskell Fire Department wishes to take this opportunity to thank you for your generous support in our recent fundraiser at the Hatahoe. It was a wonderful feeling and a quite enjoyable experience to see so many of our friends and neighbors turn out to support us.

Fire Department members always appreciate the support you give us with any fundraiser. Since this was a first time fundraiser, we were very grateful to see the support you, our friends and neighbors, so willingly gave to the department.

Along with our thanks to you, our friends and supporters, we must thank Mr. Doug Browning for giving us this fundraising opportunity. Thanks must also go to the following Hatahoe personnel for lending us a helping hand: Michael Boone, Scott Burleson and Connie Amaro.

Haskell Fire Department members, like every individual in the area, realize that economic times are hard. However, this never seems to stop you from willingly supporting us when we proclaim a need. With your recent support, we will be able to continue our building of the training field and continue to learn how to better serve and protect each of you.

We continue to want to learn how to better serve our community, and we continue to want to serve you if you have a need. We sincerely hope there is never a time that we must arrive at your home, business, or land, but please be assured you have our solemn word we will be there to help.

Once again, thank you for your support. We hope we can continue to count on you.

On behalf of the Haskell Fire Department,
Tony Haynes
Public Information Officer
Haskell Volunteer Fire Dept.

Good man

Editor: Enclosed is information about the passing of J. T. Andress who was born in Haskell. He and his wife, even in recent years, have gone to Haskell to visit friends and relatives.

We here in Arizona want to thank the people of Haskell for giving us such a wonderful man. At graveside this morning, overheard was a lady, speaking softly: "J. T. was very special."

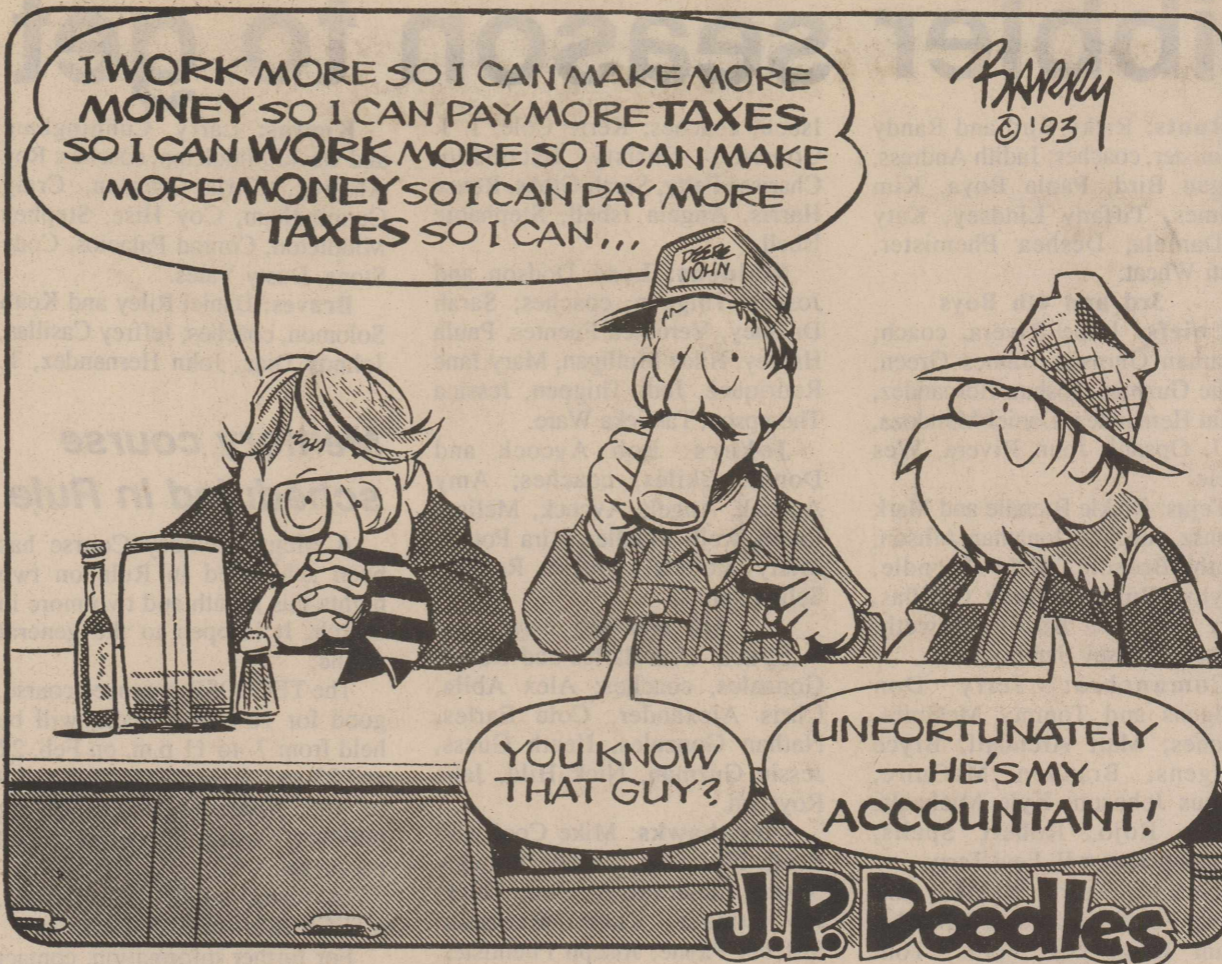

I knew J. T. since 1954. He was a people's man who cared. Haskell has produced many fine people, and among them was J. T. Andress.

My parents grew up in Weinert. Everette Medley, Vera and Marvin Berry are my relatives who live in Haskell. We have the Medley reunion at the Haskell Country Club the second Sunday in July each year. However, I have not been able to attend as I have been in New Zealand and Australia at that time for the past four years.

Haskell has a very special place in my heart. Let me borrow some letters: BPOE---Best People on Earth---Haskell, Texas.

Study club sings favorite songs

The Progressive Study Club met Feb. 11 in the Community Room.

Mary Kaigler, program director for the evening, called the meeting to order in the absence of Donna Cole, president, and spoke briefly on the universality of music as an art form. Each active club member had been assigned to a group at the January meeting.

The folk songs, represented by Stephen Foster, was directed by Mona Gibson. Nancy Tolliver gave an original poem concerning Foster's life. Others added facts before singing "Oh, Susanna" and "Camptown Races." Mrs. Gibson sang "Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair."

Several beloved religious songs written by Fanny Crosby (1820-1915), a blind poetess who wrote over 8,000 songs, were sung by a group directed by Mary Martin. Billie Cannon read a poem about the influence of Christian hymns, and Gladys O'Neal, Ruby Turner and Erma Liles gave geographical and historical facts. Some wore old-fashioned clothes, which also illustrated that hymns appeal to all stages of life.

The third group, directed by Kay Croft, sang Broadway hits by Irving Berlin, a Russia immigrant. Thula Perry said Berlin sold newspapers on New York streets and many of his 900 compositions reflected that influence by unusual rhythms. He lacked musical education but composed by playing with one finger on the black keys only. Franciene Johnson, dressed in bright red and holding a huge valentine-shaped candy box, sang "Always." Oleta Cornelius, dressed as a hoedown country hick, sang and acted out "Doing What Comes Naturally." Kay Croft, wearing a military uniform, did a marching routine as she sang "This Is the Army, Mr. Jones." Anita Herren paraded in her Easter bonnet while the others sang. The conclusion was "God Bless America" as many waved small American flags. Nelda Lane was the accompanist.

Margaret Jones and two guests, Orheana Greeson and Joyce Hester, both of Rule, judged. The first-place winners, the Irving Berlin group, were each given long-stemmed red roses. All others received chocolate hearts.

The hostesses, Mildred Berry, Ruby Turner, Jimmie Weinert, Kay Croft and Erma Liles, served cherry pie, candy hearts and coffee. The serving table had a beautiful red geranium with heart balloon. Other decorations included an Alice in Wonderland, Alice and various animals; a picture frame with old-fashioned valentines at the speaker's stand; and a beautiful quilt covered the back of the piano.

Oleta Cornelius, first vice president, conducted a business session. The minutes of the Jan. 14 meeting were ready by Mary Martin, in the absence of Judy Ray.

A nominating committee, Jerrene Couch, Ruby Holt, Sammie Turner, Jane Coston and Mary Holden, was elected. A request by President Cole was made concerning those eligible for life membership, having been a member continuously for 15 years and serving as an elective officer.

The next business concerned the ACU dinner theater on April 9, Good Friday. Those desiring to go signed and paid the fee. Since a number of members were ill and not present, they need to contact Mrs. Cornelius, who needs to make reservations.

Jo Nored Boone Lane was elected to active membership. Federation counselor Anita Herren announced that the district convention will be March 13 in Aspermont.

Our youngest president was Teddy Roosevelt.

Jack Westbrook, the one-time Rule boy now retired and living in Tulsa, occasionally sends me clippings of a column in the Allen (Okla.) Advocate.

The latest mailing includes an article clipped from a newspaper in Sulphur, Okla., to wit:

A Boy's Essay

Your head is kind of round and hard, and your brains is in it, and your hair is on it. Your face is the front of your head where you eat and make faces. Your neck is what keeps your head out of your collar. It's hard to keep clean.

Your shoulders are sort of shelves where you hook suspenders on them. Your stomach is something that if you don't eat often it hurts and spinnage don't help it none.

Your spine is the long bone in your back that keeps you from folding up. Your back is always behind you no matter how quick you turn around.

Your arms you've got to have to pitch a ball and so you can reach the butter. Your fingers stick out of your hand so you can throw a curve and hold a pencil when you do 'rithmetic. Your legs is what, if you don't have two of, you can't get to first base good.

And that is all there is to you, except what's inside---and I never saw that.

-o-

Dallas News columnist John Anders tells of a recent visit to Chasen's Restaurant in Beverly Hills. The menu listed a $17 hamburger.

You may think that's quite a price until you learn that a hamburger at "21" restaurant in New York goes for $24.

I'm sure they must be made from chopped sirloin, topped with arugula lettuce and Dijon mustard, and contain a half-dozen foreign ingredients, which only goes to prove they're not even hamburgers.

My definition of hamburger is a sandwich made of meat, bun, mustard, onion and pickle---nothing more, nothing less.

That's what Bill Conwell put on his at his eatery in Eldorado, Okla., when I was first introduced to hamburgers back during the Great D. You could get one of 'em, plus a red soda pop, for a dime.

Garden Club has variety of topics

The Haskell Garden Club met Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Haskell Community Room.

The meeting was called to order by Mona Gibson, president. The roll call was answered with each member telling her favorite bird. Four new members were recognized: Martha Bruns, Ozelle Frierson, Wanda Ham and Irene King.

Marsha Whittemore was program director, using the topic, "Beauty in Wings." Ernestine Dickson discussed "Planting a butterfly garden." She told about the location for a garden, and colors and flowers that were liked by butterflies.

Linda King brought a flower press and flowers under glass. It was a beautiful and interesting display. Mrs. Whittemore told the Indian legend about the cardinal which is said to be the most social bird.

Martha Bruns from Old Glory showed an interesting book concerning all birds of this area.

Juanita Rhea brought two very pretty arrangements and Dee Sprayberry brought plants for the members and violets for horticulture. Neat Bevel brought a beautiful apple blossom Amaryllis for horticulture.

Hostesses using a Valentine motif were Helen Cox and Marion Carlisle.

Band Boosters to meet tonight

Band Boosters will meet at 6 p.m. tonight (Thursday) at the new band hall.

Topics to be discussed will be the open house at new band hall and the band banquet.

All members are urged to attend.

According to the American Cancer Society, one out of ten women in the United States will develop breast cancer sometime in her lifetime. It is currently estimated that over 37,000 women die each year as the result of breast cancer.

Ninety percent of breast cancers are diagnosed by women or their physicians finding a lump in the breast. Women who are diagnosed with a lump large enough to feel have a 50 percent five year survival rate. A woman who is diagnosed as having breast cancer by mammography, before a lump can be felt, has a 97% five year survival rate and a 90% 10-year survival rate.

A mammogram can detect a cancer this small, even before it can be felt.

Guidelines For Screening Mammography Established by the American Cancer Society.

- I. 35-40 years of age - One baseline mammogram.
- II. 40-50 years of age - A mammogram every 1-2 years depending on breast type and risk factor.
- III. 50 years of age and over - An annual physical examination and annual mammogram.
- IV. Asymptomatic women under 50 years of age with significant high risk factors should be examined at appropriate intervals. These risk factors include previous breast cancer and family history of cancer.

V. A symptomatic woman should have a mammogram at any age when she experiences a mass, nipple discharge, skin changes or unexplained breast pain.

A screening mammogram is an x-ray of the breast using extremely low dosages of radiation (usually comparable to dental x-rays) and is designed to find very early cancers.

A female technologist who is highly trained in mammography will perform the examination.

The charge for the screening mammogram is $20.00. The Unit accepts cash, check, Visa, Mastercard and American Express.

--Paint Creek--

by Mabel Overton
Paint Creek patrons were invited to an Open House Sunday to see the new building and meet the teachers. Dignitaries present were our own Rick Perry, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, and our own Dr. Ann McLennan who is the Region 14 Facilitator, and who has five schools assigned to her, and Paint Creek is one. Paint Creek is the only school she has that is in the Partnership Schools Initiative.

Other special guests were Terry Harlow, Director of the Educational Service Center in Abilene, Mitchell Kid from West Texas Utilities, and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Brooke, parents of Debbie Hobgood.

Honored guests were former Paint Creek School Board members, Fred Buerger, Gene Overton, R. V. Earles, Sammy Griffith, Walter Buerger, Wallar Overton, Gene Fischer, Wayne Wells, Don Cobb, Martin Coleman, Kenny Thompson, Burl Medford, Ronnie Reel, Vern Howard, Keith Medford, Darlene Walton, Billy Lamb and Stanley Morton.

Each teacher was hostess or host in his or her classroom to answer questions and show some of the work the students are doing. Even in the lower grades students were busy with computers, and they could explain what the classes were studying, and using words some of us had never heard, (and were embarrassed to ask what they meant.) I have 80 years of experience of one kind or another, and a college degree, and I decided Sunday afternoon I probably couldn't pass 4th grade today. But it is wonderful that our children and grandchildren can.

I am so proud of our Paint Creek School and its faculty and Board.

The Paint Creek Methodist Church lost a beloved member of the church last week. Zeleka Grand died Wednesday afternoon in the Haskell hospital. She had been ill with a respiratory condition for almost two years. Her funeral was Thursday morning at 10:30 at the Haskell Methodist church. Many family members and friends from out of town were here for the service. She is survived by her husband, Russell Grand.

Wallar and Steffi Overton were in Abilene Saturday for the Chisholm Trail Council meeting at the Paramount Theatre. Three district scouters were presented the Silver Beaver Award. Wallar was honored to get to present Scouter Marvin R. McFadden of Haskell his Beaver Award.

Our Paint Creek Superintendent had a gala birthday celebration last week celebrating his 49th year. At his birthday party were his daughter Rachelle from Dallas, Buzzy, Carolyn and Adam, Aaron, and Andrew Andress and Vernon and Billie Andress of Abilene.

Mr. Lionel R. Meno sent this message to the Paint Creek School. Mr. Meno is the Commissioner of Education in Texas.

"Congratulations on being selected to participate in the Partnership Schools Initiative. Paint Creek was chosen because of the demonstrated commitment to abandon the status quo and embark upon an adventure that could become a model for improving student performance statewide. PSI is one of the most important educational restructuring initiatives to occur in Texas. No initiative has allowed more flexibility for a local campus to design a plan for improving student achievement. You and your staff are the heart of this historical concept.

Congratulations again on being chosen to participate in this innovative and challenging endeavor. I look forward to working with you in the coming months in the Partnership Schools Initiative."

Our superintendent, Mr. Jerry Morgan had this message on the programs at the Open House Sunday afternoon:

"It is my belief that the most important purpose of the public school system is to adequately prepare students to participate successfully in a changing world. Paint Creek has identified five exit level competencies we believe our students must possess to be a successful contributing member in our society.

These outcomes will be a key factor as we begin to restructure and make changes in our school. They will be the driving force behind all of our decisions relating to curriculum, instruction, and other student-related policies. It is my dream that each of our students will achieve all of these outcomes. My challenge is to consider the needs of each student while creating learning environments conducive to learning for all. Innovation, creativity, courage, and hard work will be required to meet this challenge."

February is the month to prune roses. Use good pruning shears that will make clean cuts. Remove dead, dying and weak canes. Leave four to eight healthy canes. Cut back from 18 to 20 inches from the ground. Seal cuts with a rose sealer.

Be in no hurry to prune until late February or early March. By then, buds should be swelling and it will be easier to distinguish any damaged tissue. With our mild winters, a sudden freeze may freeze many plants.

This month is a good time to fertilize fruit and nut trees. Be sure and read carefully everything on the fertilizer sack.

Roses are thirsty plants that require a lot of water. As a general rule, roses should be watered once a week throughout the growing season.

Morning is the best time to water roses because leaves dry quickly, preventing diseases from developing.

Most roses require regular feeding. Nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium are the primary nutrients roses need for proper growth. It is best to fertilize once a month throughout the growing season.

Two of the most popular methods of pest protection are spraying and dusting.

The most feared enemies are aphids and mites. Mites are almost invisible. They can be detected by finding fine webs on the underside of the leaves.

If your houseplants have had a problem with leaves turning yellow and dropping, they may not be getting enough light; during the winter this often happens. Overwatering may also cause leaf drop. Check for spider mites under the leaves.

Now is the time to start indoors some of the warm-weather annuals, such as coleus, impatiens, marigolds, petunias, zinnias and begonias. Starting your own seed might seem like a lot of trouble, but you'll have a greater selection of plants and you'll save a lot of money.

Those clear plastic food containers you get from supermarket delicatessens or bakeries make idea seeding trays. Just fill the container bottom with potting soil, sow your seeds, moisten the soil and cover to retain moisture. Once the seeds sprout, uncover the tray. Transplant the seedlings when their first set of true leaves appear.

I am a bird lover. Therefore, I have a tasty treat for the birds I want to pass on to you:

1 1/4 pounds suet.
1/2 cup each of crushed peanuts, sunflower seeds, cracked corn kernels.

Melt suet in oven or saucepan (yields about 2 cups liquid fat). Stir in peanuts, sunflower seeds and corn.

Spoon into 4 cup heart mold or 2 cup molds, insert a drinking straw at the top for hole.

Cool in refrigerator until solid. Un-mold, remove straw, thread with a string, tie to a shaded tree branch.

While only 5 percent of those over 65 live in nursing homes, 10 percent living in the community require substantial aid provided by family members.

Haskell hosts WMU

The Haskell-Knox Association WMU met Tuesday with women from East Side Baptist Church.

Prayer patterns had a different individual on the back of a valentine that each said a private prayer for. It was led by Helen Patterson.

Special music was brought by "Coles and McLellands."

Sammie Turner reviewed the book, "Heart's Cry." We start with God's work and progress through relationship, invitation, God speaks, crisis of belief, adjust, obey and begin experiencing walking with and serving God.

Prayer is not an activity; it is a relationship. We are to pray without ceasing. We need to abide in His word as a vine in a branch. Disobedience breaks the flow. We need to be in spiritual receptiveness. God may use you to answer your own prayer. God is interested in us as His children.

After dedication and benedictions, the group enjoyed a fellowship lunch.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

THE $125,000 GAIN EXCLUSION

When a taxpayer sells his principal residence for a gain, he can defer taxes on that gain by purchasing another home of equal or greater value within two years. Over a lifetime, a taxpayer can accumulate a sizable amount of deferred gain on residential sales.

However, there is a way taxpayers can permanently avoid income tax on such accumulated gains. Taxpayers can exclude up to $125,000 of gain on the sale of a principal residence if they meet the following tests: (1) the taxpayer, or his or her spouse, is 55 or older at the time the home is sold, and (2) the taxpayer owned and lived in the home for three out of the last five years.

A taxpayer can use the exclusion only once in a lifetime. Therefore, before making the election, there are certain questions you should consider.

For example, is it possible you may have a larger amount of gain to defer on a later home sale? If so, you may want to save your election. Once you use any part of the exclusion, you can never make the election again.

Is your replacement residence the last home you intend to own? If so, consider taking the exclusion, even if there's only a small amount of gain.

Also, if you are planning to marry, and either or both of you own a home, you should consider selling both homes before the wedding. This allows each of you to exclude up to $125,000 of gain (up to $250,000 total). After the wedding, you are considered one taxpayer for purposes of the election, limiting your total exclusion to $125,000.

The $125,000 exclusion is particularly beneficial to taxpayers at retirement age when, quite often, they sell a larger family home and purchase a smaller, less expensive residence.

If you are considering selling your home and you have questions concerning this election, contact us for professional assistance.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"NOT ASHAMED"

The Apostle Paul uses three wonderful phrases in Romans One: "I am debtor" (Ver. 14), "I am ready" (Ver. 15), and "I am not ashamed" (Ver. 16).

As God's appointed Apostle to the Gentiles, Paul declared: "I AM DEBTOR both to the Greeks and to the barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise."

The gospel now was no longer to be confined to Israel, but was to go to all nations, and Paul felt himself a debtor to proclaim it, first because God had appointed him to do so, and second, because he held in his hands that which would save the lost. He was morally obligated—and so are Christians today.

Notice: the Apostle did not say, "I am debtor, but" and then begin to give a thousand excuses, as so many Christians do. He said: "I am debtor...SO..." and his fidelity to his call is seen as he adds: "So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel" (Ver. 15).

Oh, that the millions of Christians today would join Paul and say: "I AM READY to preach the gospel with all that is in me."

But in Verse 16, the Apostle explains why he was ready to put his all into proclaiming the gospel to the Gentiles:

"For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; unto the Jew first and also to the Greek [Gentile or Nations]."

Many thousands of Jews had already come to trust Christ as Savior, but the news of Christ's finished work of redemption was—and is—"the power of God unto salvation to EVERY ONE that believeth."

Surely there is no other way. None of the pagan religions can give the assurance of salvation. They all represent efforts to find or earn salvation. Only the gospel, the good news of our Lord's payment for sin can give us the knowledge, the assurance and the joy of salvation from sin.

CLEAN AIR ORDINANCE ORDINANCE NO. 8-20

An ordinance for the City of Haskell, Texas, with regard to health of city employees, pertaining to smoking in buildings owned by, or under control of the City of Haskell; providing for a penalty; providing for a savings clause and a penalty clause; and providing for publication.

WHEREAS, the Surgeon General of the United States has reported that inhalation of tobacco smoke involuntarily can cause disease, including lung cancer, in healthy non-smokers; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the City of Haskell believes that its employees should have the right to choose for themselves on an individual basis whether to smoke actively or passively; and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of the City of Haskell to balance the interest of its employees who smoke against the potential hazard to its employees who are non-smokers in a manner that will result in the minimum possible burden on those persons regulated while still meeting the duty to protect the health of its employees.

Now Therefore be it ordained by the City of Haskell, Texas;

Section 1-SMOKING IN BUILDINGS OF CITY OF HASKELL

A. Definitions.
The following definitions shall apply:

1) City's buildings means all of the enclosed area that is used by the City and its employees and general public, including but not limited to all or any part of the building used for any of the operations of the City, such as the City Hall, Police Station, Municipal Court, Fire Station, City Maintenance Facilities, and Waste Water Treatment Plant.

2) Smoke, Smokes or Smoking includes:

a) Carrying or holding a lighted pipe, cigar, or cigarette of any kind, or any other lighted smoking equipment or device, or

b) The combustion of any cigar, cigarette, tobacco, or similar article, or any other combustible substance in any manner, or in any form; or

3) Emitting or exhaling the smoke of a pipe, cigar, or cigarette of any kind.

B. Offense; Penalty.
1) A person commits an offense if in a City building the person smokes and fails, or refuses, to extinguish smoking materials or move outside the building upon request by any person to do so.

2) Any person convicted of violating this provision shall be guilty of a Class C Misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than one dollar ($1.00), nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) as set by a judge or jury.

C. Signs.
Signs shall be visibly placed at each public entrance to city buildings to notify persons entering the premises that smoking is prohibited. This provision does not include exits used exclusively as emergency exits.

Section 2-PENALTY
That violation of any provision of this ordinance shall be deemed a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than One Dollar ($1.00) nor more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000).

Section 3-SAVINGS CLAUSE
That should any section, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase or word of this ordinance be declared unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the remainder of this ordinance shall not be affected thereby.

Section 4-PUBLICATION
That the City Secretary is hereby authorized and directed to cause publication of the descriptive caption of this ordinance as an alternative method of publication provided by law.
