

City designates Cleanup Week

Next week, Monday through Saturday, May 10-15, has been designated Spring Cleanup Week in Haskell by the City Council.

On Saturday, May 15, the City will provide extra dumpster pickup free of charge.

Also on Saturday, the landfill will be made available free of charge. Those wishing to use the landfill on that day should bring their city utility bill to receive the free service.

Sunday in Park is re-scheduled

The fifth annual Sunday in the Park program has been re-scheduled for this coming Sunday, May 9. Bad weather forced postponement of last Sunday's scheduled event.

As originally planned, activities will begin at noon and continue until 5 p.m.

All organizations which had registered as participants are encouraged to participate. Other organizations are welcome.

For additional information, contact the Haskell Chamber of Commerce or the Haskell City Hall.

'Promote Haskell' meeting Monday

All persons interested in promoting Haskell are invited to attend a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 10, in the First National Bank meeting room.

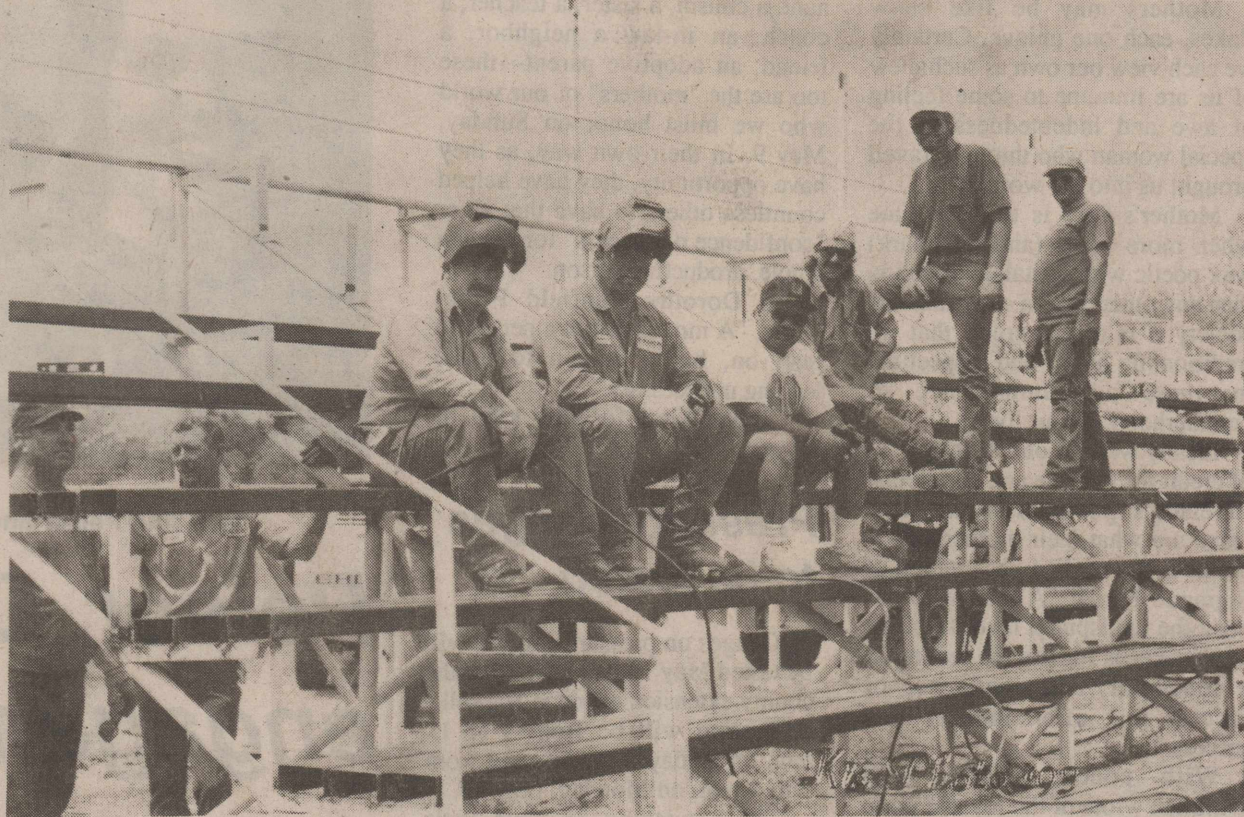

Members of the Haskell Business Association and Randy McLelland will be talking about some ways to promote Haskell.

"We'll even serve you an ice cream sundae to entice you to come," said a spokesperson. "Be there."

Boosters announce important meeting

An important meeting of the Haskell Indian Booster Club is scheduled Monday, May 10, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Officers state that it is vital that all members attend as important issues will be discussed.

Little League

Flower garden at City Park to honor late chief of police

The Haskell Parks and Recreation Committee voted Tuesday to build a brick-enclosed flower bed around the recently constructed Bonehead water fountain.

The flower bed and the planting of flowers will be in memory of the city's late police chief, Tom Paul (Bull) Barnett.

A plaque will be placed on the enclosed area designating it as the "Tom Paul (Bull) Barnett Botanical Garden.

"His special attention to the park was widely known, and the flowers will be a tribute to the longtime police chief who enjoyed flowers, children and ducks," said Jill Druessedow, coordinator of the project. "We will try to have color year round and muse a mix of native perennial flowers as well as annuals."

Memorials to the Barnett Botanical Garden may be made at City Hall or given to any park committee member, said Ruby Turner, park chairman.

Schedules given for commodity distributions

Here is this month's schedule for distribution of USDA surplus commodities:

Rochester: Tuesday, May 11, 8 to 9 a.m. at Rochester Fire Department building.

Sagerton: Wednesday, May 12, 10 to 11 a.m. at Faith Lutheran Church.

Haskell: Thursday, May 13, 9 to 10 a.m. at Church of Christ Fellowship Hall.

Haskell: Thursday, May 13 at Haskell County Experienced Citizens Center, 8 to 9 a.m. for those 60 and older, and 9 to 10 a.m. for those 59 and younger.

Each recipient should bring a large grocery sack as well as identification documents.

Schools get grant for summer project

Haskell schools have been awarded a grant to provide summer school and summer employment for youth in Haskell, Jones and Knox counties.

The $78,000 grant is funded through the West Central Texas Council of Governments.

Students from Rule, Rochester, Paint Creek and Haskell will attend English or math classes each morning at Haskell secondary school and then return to their communities in the afternoon to work for various non-profit agencies.

Students in Jones County will attend school in Anson and classes for those in Knox County will meet in Munday.

The grant will pay the students' tuition for summer school and the wages for their summer jobs. Students also will be taught employability skills and positive work habits.

"We were excited to receive the grant because it will make more funds available for programs for students," said Superintendent Bill Stewart. "We also are glad it will benefit students in three counties."

Voters re-elect all incumbents for school, city

All incumbents were re-elected in Haskell city and school elections held Saturday and the proposed half-cent city sales tax for industrial development went down to defeat.

In the state election also held Saturday, Haskell County voters endorsed Democratic incumbent Bob Krueger for the U.S. Senate and turned thumbs down on all three proposed constitutional amendments.

In the city election, incumbents Kenny Watson, Tony Burson and Iva Lee Gipson won two-year terms on the Council by virtue of being top vote-getters in the crowded 11-candidate field.

Watson led the field with 349 votes; Burson had 346 and Mrs. Gipson received 319.

Former councilman Jerry Stocks led the also-rans with 252 votes. Gaston Tidrow received 234 votes, Mary Lowe had 221, Marvin Letz registered 204, David Davis had 183 and Kay Bagot had 146. Tim Larned with 34 votes and Todd Barnes with 17 were the other candidates.

The half-cent sales tax proposal was defeated 428 votes to 279. It was the third time in the past two years the measure has been defeated. In the 1992 city election, it lost, 486-408.

A total of 817 persons voted in the city election, 138 of them in early (absentee) voting. The total fell 159 short of the record 976 votes cast in the 1992 city election.

School Board incumbents Danny Josselet and Roger Moeller easily won re-election. Josselet bested Nick Jimenez, 542-188, in the race for place 1, and Moeller defeated Lupe Guadalcazar, 599-136, for place 2. These were the only candidates for the two three-year terms.

Krueger, a Democrat who was appointed to the U.S. Senate when Lloyd Bentsen resigned, was the

Kindergartners to register Monday

The Paint Creek school will have kindergarten registration at 2 p.m. Monday, May 10, in the school cafeteria.

All children who will be 5 years old by Sept. 1 need to bring their birth certificates and immunization records.

Lively activities at 2nd Saturday

This week's Super 2nd Saturday will have a Cinco de Mayo and Mother's Day theme and will feature a citywide sidewalk sale, a dance group from Lubbock and a live radio broadcast.

At 3 p.m. the 43-member folklorico dance group will perform on the courthouse square. Representing St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Lubbock, members come from Lubbock, San Angelo and Abilene. They have been together seven years. They were 1989 Discovery national champs and will appear this year on Ed McMahan's Star Search 93. They have performed all over Texas, as well as in Arkansas and Louisiana.

Y-99 radio will broadcast live from the square.

Food booths and arts and crafts booths also will be in operation.

choice of 599 Haskell County voters. Kay Bailey Hutchison, the Republican who edged Krueger in the statewide vote, polled 361. Jack Fields received 224 votes in Haskell County, Richard Fisher polled 165 and Joe Barton got 87. Nineteen other candidates received at least one vote.

Krueger and Hutchison will meet in a runoff election, probably in June.

The three constitutional amendment proposals all lost by wide margins in Haskell County. County voters turned down proposition No. 1 by a vote of 991-518, No. 2 by a vote of 821-623 and No. 3 by 1080-335.

All three amendments were defeated in statewide voting.

Mary Kaigler:

From the Inside Out

No one like one's mother ever lived.

Robert Lowell

Mothers may be like snow flakes, each one unique. Certainly we each view our own as such. Few of us are immune to some feeling of awe and indebtedness to the special woman who through travail brought us into the world.

Mother's Day is the one time when more of us (and Hallmark) wax poetic with nostalgic affection than any other day. In our American society it is to our credit that we traditionally honor and respect the mystique and importance of "motherhood" in our lives.

Ideally we give our mothers a lot of credit for who we are. Paralleling Emerson's poetic assertion that "men are what their mothers made them" is the studied observation of Sigmund Freud: "A man who has been the undisputed favorite of his mother keeps for life the feeling of a conqueror; that confidence of success that often induces real success."

With poetic license Walt Whitman wrote of the joy and pride of being "well-begotten, and raised by a perfect mother."

Unfortunately, our world is not a perfect place, nor is everyone who gives birth a perfect mother. How hard it is to even try to understand the selfish motivation of a woman bringing children into life to abuse, neglect or abandon. Yet, we constantly see it and hear of it through our news media, Child Welfare Agency and sadly, even in our Haskell neighborhoods. It wounds our world and our social consciousness of how "it ought to be." We cannot comprehend the heart of the women in the Waco compound who chose a violent, painful death for their innocent children rather than courageously let them walk out to the opportunity to live out their lives. There is no day of honor for such mothers.

Real "motherhood" is much more than a biological relationship. It is an attitude of nurturing and teaching, guiding and caring for, giving shelter, encouragement and love.

Fortunately there are those women whose "mothering spirit" provides these things for many who would not experience them otherwise. An aunt, a cousin, a sister, a teacher, a coach, an in-law, a neighbor, a friend, an adoptive parent--these too are the "mothers" of our world who we must honor on Sunday, May 9. In their own way, as they have opportunity, they have helped countless others to have that inner "confidence of success" for being a whole, productive person.

As Dorothy Canfield Fisher wrote, "A mother is not a person to lean on, but a person to make leaning unnecessary."

Thank God for this kind of women!

Pressure gauges to be tested

Gauges on pressure canners will be tested May 14 and May 17 at the county extension office in Haskell.

Testing will be from 9 to 11 a.m. on Friday, May 14, and from 2 to 4 p.m. on Monday, May 17.

Those wishing to have their gauges tested should bring their pressure canner lid to the extension office.

It is recommended that owners of new dial gauges have them tested before using them.

Bredthauer elected at Paint Creek

Brian Bredthauer won election to a two-year unexpired term on the Paint Creek School Board in Saturday's election.

He received 41 votes to edge out Gena Buerger who got 33.

Billy Lamb and Kenny Thompson were unopposed for regular terms on the Paint Creek board and Steve Barbour was unopposed for a one-year unexpired term.

--Green Thumb--

By Gladys O'Neal
Haskell Garden Club

I'm going to give you some good hints; some I have given you before but I think they are worth repeating.

When you see ants crawling on garden plants, look closely for aphids. Some species of ants tend aphids by protecting them from predators and stroking them to excrete more honeydew, a sugary substance on which ants feed.

The ants are not likely to damage your plants, but the aphids surely will. The aphids are easily killed with insecticidal soap. Be sure to spray the stems and underside of the leaves.

If you have wild onions that grow in your lawn, dig them up, cut them into small pieces and soak them overnight in a jug of water. Strain the solution, and pour into a hand sprayer. Spray this liquid on your chrysanthemums and other flowers. It will rid them of aphids and other pests.

I gave you this recipe several weeks ago, but it is extremely effective in killing aphids:

- 1 large strong (not sweet) onion
- 1 whole garlic
- 4 tablespoons cayenne pepper
- 2 quarts water

Cut onion and garlic. Boil all items until onion and garlic are soft. Strain through cheese cloth and put in a bottle. Apply to plants with a spray bottle. It is good to use on roses, oleander, broccoli, cabbage, etc. It is completely harmless to humans.

From an Amarillo Garden Center bulletin, here's a good hand softener and cleaner. It is recommended by English gardeners. First, wash hands in cold water. Then rub thoroughly with a mixture of: 1 tsp. sugar, 1 tsp. lemon juice, and 1 tsp. oil (olive or cooking oil).

Now that your irises are blooming, watch for iris borers. It is a large caterpillar that bores into iris rhizomes, making it easy for fungi that causes rot. Spray with lindane or Cygon according to label directions. Also rake up and destroy any dead iris leaves left from last winter as they may harbor borer eggs.

Mulching is probably the most beneficial, inexpensive and labor-saving technique available. The list of benefits from a 3-inch layer of organic mulch is extensive. When applying mulch, spread it on the ground around plants, but avoid direct contact with plant trunks or the crown of young plants; otherwise the moisture retained in mulches can cause rot. Wait until young plants are four to eight inches high before mulching.

Excellent organic mulches, such as compost, pine straw and leaves, peanut hulls and hay is available. Compost is excellent; as it breaks down, it improves soil texture. It adds nutrients to the soil and encourages earthworms, whose tunneling improves soil aeration.

A one-inch layer of dry grass clippings is a good mulch that adds nitrogen to the soil as the grass decomposes.

Mulches reduce moisture evaporation, aids weed control, reduces erosion, insulates the soil from excessive heat and cold. Your beds will look neater.

If you use sawdust or wood chips, you will need to compost first, or apply one-fourth to one-half pound of ammonium nitrate per 100 square feet to aid in decomposition.

ONE-TWO PEST CONTROL HIGHER QUALITY CROP.

Protecting your cotton crop from weed competition and insect damage can pay off in higher yields. And we have a great combination to help you do just that.

WEED CONTROL PROWL® herbicide delivers long-lasting control of certain broadleaf weeds, without root pruning, stunting or carryover. And less root pruning helps improve insecticide uptake. That means your cotton gets off to a fast, healthy start, for a higher-yielding quality bottom crop.

INSECT CONTROL THIMET® 20-G soil and systemic insecticide provides early-season control of aphids, thrips and mites in cotton. And applied at planting, it also controls aphids, leaf miners, leafhoppers, black cutworms and white flies. See us today about the one-two combination that helps you get the most out of your cotton crop. We're your local Cyanamid AgriCenter™ dealer.

Always read and follow label directions carefully. THIMET is a Restricted Use Pesticide. *Trademark, American Cyanamid Company © 1991

Death of the school building

No one remembers when I was built in 1916, on the I Smith Survey, northeast corner joining the Benjamin road, between Haskell and Benjamin, five miles southwest of Weinert and nine miles north of Haskell. This land later belonged to the Fred Monke family.

The school trustees, Paul Zahn, WM Myers and Fred Monke had me built so strong and sturdy that 25 years later I was the only building moved to Weinert in the consolidation of Weinert Rural School District in 1939.

My two rooms were very large, with a big south front porch. Huge windows on the north and south. However, they were so high from the floor, only teenagers could see out. Two large cloak rooms for hanging your jackets, coats, caps and storing the lunch pails.

Oh yes, I remember quite well what all went on in those cloak rooms: a shy look at your sweetheart, note passing, a touch of some fingers, a whisper, a wink, a smile to your best friend.

Oh those lunches, I can smell them yet, fruity smells, garlic sausages, potted or cured ham, dill pickles, cracker and limberger cheese--what a variety. There were sometimes a small delicacy lifted from a pail by a hungry youngster. Oh, I understand the youth probably rose at 4 o'clock in the morning, did many chores and walked four miles to school, and who ever had any fruit except at Christmas, and you were hungry.

My roof was never painted but my insides and outsides were always snowy white. I was so proud and so were my patrons and occupants.

The social life was so exciting. There were those famous not forgotten box and pie suppers, George Washington parties with the costumes and the Virginia Reels. Musicals and plays, speeches, candidate rallies and then those Red Cross drives during World War I.

To be sure I remember the true reason for this building: pupils, classes and teachers. Seeing boys and girls playing Wolf Over the River, Three Deep, Drop the Handkerchief, Flying Dutchman, and Oh My, that game Anti-Over, that ball hit my roof so hard sometimes when a big boy would throw the ball over me. The tiny children could barely throw it on my porch, but how they could run! There was always baseball and basketball on the school ground.

When I was moved to Weinert, they taught in my rooms again, and then I became the Agriculture Department. Sure missed the females.

As Weinert School District grew smaller in numbers, lost our Agriculture Department, I became a storage place and Day Care Center. I did not feel so well and at times was neglected.

Then Weinert School District was consolidated with Haskell School District and I was left with my memories.

By eaves-dropping, I heard they were going to auction me off. Oh Me, I bought a measley pence--I am so worthless. Also heard they were going to move me again. Oh, I hope not, that move 50 years ago really unjointed some of my joints.

One cold day a man climbed on my sparsely shingled roof and began stripping shingles from my crown, and soon all my elegant rafters were showing to everyone in town. As days went by slowly, my entire structure was brought to the ground.

There is one that saw each day's depletion of destruction as she sat by her window and now I am her memory.

TexSES program helpful to all

With the implementation of the Americans with Disabilities Act in July 1992, many employers are scurrying about to check their p's and q's to make sure they are in compliance with the new law.

Described by its sponsors as "the most significant civil rights bill to pass Congress in a quarter century" and the "Emancipation Proclamation for those with disabilities," the new law will provide civil rights protection and open up opportunities to an estimated 43 million Americans with disabilities.

And how is Haskell answering this call to end employment discrimination in regard to people with disabilities:

By using TexSES employment service. TexSES is an acronym for Supported Employment Services of North Texas. Supported employment is a concept; a belief that all people, regardless of their disability, can do meaningful and productive work if they choose to do so and if they are given the proper training and support necessary to do the job.

TexSES offers employers a creative alternative to the high cost associated with traditional recruitment, hiring and training practices. Employers will reap benefits such as the opportunity to hire a TexSES worker for six months at no cost. TexSES will reimburse the employers for the wages paid to the workers for the first six months of employment.

In addition, employers can collect up to $8 per hour for training the workers on the job. Every employer can file a Targeted Jobs Tax Credit with the IRS after the six-month period has ended. This can mean an additional $2,400 to employers in tax credits.

All TexSES workers are 100-percent eligible for employers to claim as a Targeted Jobs Tax Credit.

"Train children in the right way, and when old, they will not stray."

—Proverbs 22:6—

There is no textbook on perfect parenting, but you can't go wrong if you teach your children about love. About hope. About true values.

Give them the richness of a childhood spent growing up in a warm and loving church family, where we keep the wellbeing of all God's children in mind.

Give them the kind of foundation you'll want them to pass along to your grandchildren someday.

--Paint Creek--

by Mabel Overton

Paint Creek Boy Scout Troop 148 participated in the Double Mountain District Camporee, Saturday at the Y-6 Ranch in Hamlin. The troop arrived Saturday morning and participated in the presentation of Colors with the rest of the district scouts in a beautiful valley on the ranch.

The event area was so large that the troop was presented with a map indicating compass bearings to locate each of the events. The first event that they entered was the estimation of the height of a pole set in the ground which they missed by less than a foot.

The next event was the fire building contest where the scouts built a fire with flint and steel and burned a string 18 inches above the ground in only a minute and 13 seconds. At the map reading contest, the boys read two bearings and distances on an Arkansas map after they had oriented it.

At noon, the boys prepared grilled hamburgers and practiced on the remaining events to be held that afternoon. After lunch, the scouts participated in a raft contest where they constructed a ladder looking affair with square lashings, mounted two boys on it, and pushed it along the ground over 30 gallon barrels, removing the rear barrel after they had passed over it and returning it to the front to continue the trek.

The scouts then laid off a 1/4 acre plot using a compass and measured strides and missed the final point by less than 5 feet. In the travois event, the boys constructed a travois or "A" frame from staves and lashings forming a chariot on which they pulled on of the troop along a course to test the worthiness of the lashings. The "horses" were pulling the travois so fast that scouts running alongside could not keep up.

On the first aid event, they were given a hypothetical situation where a boy had copped off the end of his foot, the loss of blood had made him dizzy and he had fallen receiving a skull fracture and laceration of the head. Next, the scouts built a friction bridge out of staves with no ropes or lashings and the entire troop had crossed over to the other side.

In the knot contest, the scouts tied a series of knots between two posts driven in the ground and suspended a log in the middle by adjusting the ropes with the taut line hitch tied on one post.

The rest of the day was spent exploring some limestone formations and climbing cliffs in the area.

The main event however, was the grand finale during the evening meal when the cooking was interrupted by high winds and hail followed by some heavy rains. Many of the tents in neighboring campsites were blown over and some of the hail stones measured 3 inches or so. At one point, the air became charged just prior to a large lightning strike nearby reminding the scouts of the dangers of an electrical storm.

Due to the inclement weather, the awards ceremony was cancelled so the scouts in Troop 148 do not know how well they compared with their brother scouts in the district, but I will try to find out and report the final results next week.

Scouts attending the Camporee were Hans Overton, Marcus Overton, Casey Thompson, Jim Crawford, Jeffrey Dunnam, and Jason Shaw. The troop was led by Scoutmaster Kenny Thompson and the scouts wish to thank him for getting them home safely. Troop 148 is sponsored by the Paint Creek ISD.

Sunday's "Sunday in the Park" at Haskell was called off because of the rainy weather and the wet park. It will be held next weekend. Our gifted and talented students are going to sell ice cream.

The storm Saturday night was really something. The south east of Paint Creek really took a beating. The Kenny Buegers had damage to their yard, and Irvin and Emmie Overton's newly sodded lawn, and their flower beds and vegetable garden were just ruined by hail. Luckily their home wasn't hurt too much. Stamford people had a lot of damage to shrubs and gardens and many had broken windows. The Paint Creek Scout Troop was coming home from the Double Mountain Camporee, and we parents and grandparents paced the floor until they got here.

Holding the general election for a Senator and the Proposition Saturday at the Paint Creek cafeteria were Mrs. Kara Lamb, Mrs. Doniece Jennings, James Crawford, and chairman Wallar Overton.

Holding the School Board election were the chairman, Albert Thane, Mrs. Dolores Medford and Peggy Middlebrook. There was a good turn-out. 83 people voted.

Our water superintendent, Tim Jennings attended a school for water system managers.

James Raughton (Stick) had surgery recently. He had surgery on his shoulder as well as several spurs. He is back in his classroom at the Aspermont school where he and his wife Jeanine teach.

Dorothy Wells is still in the hospital in Wichita Falls. We hope she is better.

Our rain gauge measured 7/10ths following the Saturday night rainstorm, which my farmers tell me is just right to bring the new-sown HayGrazer up. I hope the wind and rain didn't hurt everybody's wheat too much. It surely is pretty and green and growing. My gorgeous iris now have fringed petals, and my climbing roses have been de-rosed a bit.

Rule Boosters to honor athletes

The Rule Booster Club is sponsoring three upcoming banquets.

Students in K-12 will be recognized for athletic and academic achievements. All parents and interested persons are encouraged to attend and support the students.

Junior high awards banquet will be Tuesday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Ice cream and desserts will be served.

High school awards banquet will be Thursday, May 20, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. A meal of spaghetti, salad, bread sticks and cobbler will be served at a cost of $5 for adults and $3 for students fifth grade and younger. Pay at the door.

Elementary recognition program will be Tuesday, May 25, at 1 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Many people plan for what might happen—fire, burglary, injury, and accidents. Now more and more people are planning for what will inevitably happen. It simply makes good sense to prepare for that which we can not avoid.

Pre-need funeral arranging allows one to control the type of service they would prefer, select a means of financing it, freeze the prices at today's price, and save loved ones the anguish of deciding these matters at a later date. Really it is the loving thing to do for your family.

Rolling Plains PCA gets award

For the fifth consecutive year, Rolling Plains Production Credit Association (PCA) has earned the Farm Credit Achievement award, the highest possible performance rating from the Farm Credit Bank of Texas (FCBT).

The award was presented during the bank's annual meeting for PCAs in Austin April 23.

The agricultural lending association has offices in Stamford, Abilene, Childress, Matador, Munday and Spur.

Bank officials recognized the PCA for its financially strong organization and high-quality loan portfolio.

"Rolling Plains PCA has upheld a solid reputation for having top quality directors and staff, which is evidenced by the association's healthy financial condition and overall performance in 1992," said Arnold Henson, the bank's chief executive officer.

"To receive the award, the association must exceed a rigid set of financial performance standards for credit quality, capital, earnings and liquidity," Henson added.

The association has more than $45 million in loans outstanding approximately 845 farmers and ranchers in 19 counties.

John S. Rike III of Haskell is president of Rolling Plains PCA. Board members are Garon B. Tidwell of Munday, chairman; Dan Henard Jr. of Wellington, vice chairman; Keith Corzine of Stamford; Lance D. Morris of Crosbyton; Jack Reese of Abilene; and Dean Turner of Matador.

Stenholm's group studies health care

Rep. Charles Stenholm, in his capacity as co-chairman of the House Rural Health Care Coalition, has announced the coalition's legislative strategy for improving accessibility and quality of health care in rural areas.

In the political context of reform this year, the coalition focused on those priorities for reform which are particularly meaningful to rural areas.

In addition to its principles and priorities for reform, the bipartisan coalition introduced a total of 16 bills, involving all aspects of rural healthcare.

Haskell students work on program

The Haskell High School FFA and the Haskell County 4-H organizations are working cooperatively to implement a pilot project being funded this year by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation through the National FFA organization.

The PALS (Peer Assistance Leadership) project is a mentoring project that pairs a high school student (mentor) with a fourth-grade student (mentee). The 1992-93 Haskell PALS are:

Mentors: Quinten Billington, Stephen Campell, Blake Henshaw, Holly Hobgood, Shawn Jordan, Brandon McFadden, Shana McKenzie, Heather Stewart, Jason Torres.

Mentees: Jimmy Rojo, Angel Castorena, Ted Harvey, Toni Crane, Michelle McWhorter, Kendra Wolsch, B. J. Scott, Keisha Woodard, Cynthia Soto, Robert Spells.

The project being developed locally is designed to combine all the leadership and subject matter skills learned in ag classes and in FFA and 4-H activities into a community program that will help participants develop marketable social skills while generating school, community and parental involvement.

The program has 19 FFA and 4-H members involved (nine high school age and 10 fourth-graders). The group meets each Friday morning from 8 to 9 in either the ag building or the county extension office kitchen. The group is also involved in special 4-H recreational activities held outside of school hours.

Major activities that have been carried out since the project was implemented in October are as follows:

-The mentors (high school students) appeared on the Harry Holt TV show.

-The group carved Halloween pumpkins and placed them in strategic spots on school campuses and in the community. The carved pumpkins were used as decorations at the countywide 4-H Halloween party which the PALS attended.

-They decorated Halloween cookies to take back to all the other fourth-graders.

-The group drew pictures of their families on a large sheet of butcher paper and then discussed their home life.

-The PALS made the popular Indian bead necklaces.

-The group had breakfast together at which the high school PALS did a program on the meaning of Thanksgiving. The high school PALS at Thanksgiving lunch at school with their fourth-grade PALS.

-The PALS were invited to ride on the Kiwanis Club float in the annual night Christmas parade.

-During December the group cut, painted and decorated wooden Christmas ornaments to give to the nursing homes. Each fourth-grade PAL made a decoration to take home with them.

-For Valentine's the PALS made felt heart refrigerator magnets for themselves and the fourth-grad students and teachers.

-The high school PALS helped with the fourth-grade Easter party.

-Currently, the PALS are working to complete either a clothing project or a woodworking project.

All 19 of the PALS have special PALS T-shirts to wear at special times. The T-shirts contain the PALS logo that was developed locally on the front of the T-shirt and their PAL's name on the back.

The T-shirts were made possible by the generosity of the nine high school mentors. The mentors did without a sponsored meal on the way home from a training session and cleaned up the Civic Center following the District 4-H Gold Star banquet in order to save enough money to purchase the T-shirts.

The local program is coordinated and managed each Friday and for special activities outside school hours by Duane Gilly, Haskell High School ag science instructor, and Lou Gilly, Haskell County extension agent-home economics.

Special thanks go to the following individuals for their time and efforts in helping to develop, implement and carry out this pilot projects:

Other team members: James Bevel, Lela Bevel, Richard Holloway, Billie McKeever, Nancy Toliver.

Cooperating fourth-grade teachers: Paula Everett, Janie Stone, Jo Nell Trammell.

School administration: William H. Stewart, superintendent; Jim Lisle, elementary principal; Greg Melton, high school principal.

Cooperating agency: Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Max Stapleton, county extension agent-agriculture.

Computer usage: Debi Burson. PALS high school student aide: Shana McKenzie.

PC Homemakers study recipe substitutions

Paint Creek Homemakers' Club members held their May meeting in the Haskell extension office.

Frances Fischer gave the devotion on "Camps Teach Water Responsibilities."

Mabel Overton called the meeting to order and five members were present with two guests.

A very interesting roll call was "Things I could do without."

The minutes and treasurer's report were given and approved as read.

The club voted for council to donate to school party at the end of the school year

The program on "Substituting Ingredients A to Z" was given by Lou Gilly, Haskell County extension agent. It was interesting to learn some of the ways to substitute in recipes to have less calories, reduce fat and cholesterol. Also to help prepare healthful foods and make good-tasting changes in favorite dishes.

Homemade vanilla ice cream, topped with strawberries, was served by Frances to Lorene Harris, Peggy Burnett, Mabel Overton, Dolores Medford, Lou Gilly and Kathryn Schonerstedt.

Orville Hamilton is at home after being hospitalized in the Haskell hospital. Elda and Owen Aikin have recovered from their bout with a virus. We are happy to report that Belle Turner is back at Rice springs after a stay in the Haskell hospital.

Get well wishes and prayers are sent to Troy Casey, to Hollis Lindsey, Norris Russell, Mike Casey, who is seeing a doctor at Children's Hospital in Dallas; Joyce Howell, Cole Alsbrook's sister, who has cancer; Dustin Marr, Skeet and Denise Dennis.

It was nice to visit with Dorothy Halliburton of Rochester, Tonya Miller of Rule, Lila Mary Isbell, the main cook at the ECC, to see Elaine Holcombe, Thersa Baiza, both of Rule, Jerri Ann Harris of Haskell.

Happy birthday to Lorene Boyd on the 13th.

Belated birthday greetings to Cheryl Robinson, L. B. Cox, Rob Kitley, and Jeffery Murray. Too, belated anniversary greetings are sent to Orville and Lorce Hamilton, Owen and Elda Aikin, Danny and Melinda Hisey and Malcolm and Maxine Hertenberger.

Congratulations to Karen Lehmann of Sagerton for being named "Conservation Homemaker" for 1993.

Pat Gray and her aunt, Vicky Anderson, were in Hamlin on Thursday, the 29th to attend the funeral of Ann Ferguson Parker at the First Methodist Church there.

Following the Parker funeral services, Mrs. Gray and her aunt visited their cousin, Milton Crow in Hamlin.

It was great to see two of my former walking companions: Doug Laughlin and Jo Simpson along with Frances Campbell all of Rule at the Cliff House on Friday night, April 30.

Too, it was nice to see former "boss", John Martin and wife, Tommye at the same place.

Congratulations to Allison Pike, who qualified for the state UIL meet in calculator applications in a competition held at HSU on April 24. The state meet competition will be held in Austin on May 8. This is her second time to qualify for state in calculator.

Her parents are John and Gina Pike.

Results of the regional UIL meet are as follows:

Allison Pike, number sense 4th; math 6th.

Denise Wilson, number sense 4th, math 7th.

Number sense team of Allison, Denise and Cory Robinson, 2nd math team of above three, 3rd.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

Thank You

I would like to express my sincere appreciation for your vote of confidence for Rule City Council.

It has been a pleasure living in Rule the past 5 years and getting to know each of you.

FHA group attends state convention

Representatives for the Haskell chapter of Future Homemakers of America attended the 1993 State Leadership Conference, along with 5,500 members and advisors from Texas.

"FHA/HERO: A Circus of Stars" was the theme of the 1993 meeting which was held April 16-17 in the George R. Brown Convention Center in Houston.

Attending from Haskell were Melanie Michaels, Joyce Wallis, Katy Martin and advisor Wanda Thompson.

Dynamic keynote speakers and presentations by members highlighted the two-day conference. Interesting sessions on leadership skills, time management, positive self image, self defense, communications, sexually transmitted diseases, environmental issues and other critical teen topics were held for members to attend.

The Haskell members traveled to Houston on a chartered bus with members and advisors from six other schools. This allowed time for both students and advisors to share ideas to benefit their local chapters. The bus arrived back in Haskell at 8:30 a.m. on April 18.

A tribute to my brother

(As I Remember Him)
By Robert Barnett

These are a few words I would like to say about my brother, Tommy. He was sort of another Andy Griffith in his manner and the way he did his job.

When I began to think about him and his many accomplishments the word ENTERPRISING came to mind. Way back there on the farm when he was a youngster he was the only kid left. He had his own enterprises so he raised guineas and ducks. Some of them he could never catch to sell. But one thing for sure, they belonged to him. That was his project.

I did not say he made a lot of money, I only said he was enterprising. Carried over to many years later he raised and sold hogs and was more successful. If the market bottomed out he did not quit. I never heard him complain or make excuses. He could face adversity without quitting.

Tommy was a person of deep thought and understanding. He was sort of shy as a teenager. He grew out of that, and was even called "Bull". Did you ever see a shy bull? He was an entertainer at our family gatherings. He could tell stories of incidents in our family from all the way back to depressing days on the farm and keep us in stitches.

I don't have the space to go into detail, but he had a wonderful philosophy of life. He was of the school, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it."

He was enterprising in his knowledge of people and dealing with them. He loved his work and was a conscientious lawman for over 36 years.

He could be seen every school day at the proper time parked at the school to watch the traffic and protect the children . . . not just sometime . . . but year after year. He was enterprising in his job. An eight-hour day and 40-hour week were unknown to him. It was more like 20 hours a day, and every day in the week.

His telephone or his beeper was buzzing incessantly. Once we were there and some lady called for him to come and rescue her cat from under her house, or he was off to a wreck, or a funeral or some other emergency. In all these years I never heard him complain. This was his calling and challenge and he met it head on.

Tom was enterprising concerning his family and foremost his choice of a lovely wife. He went to Germany when he was in the service just to do a short six-month tour. He made it pay off by winning the heart of this wonderful lady, Lee, and she joined him and matched his enterprising spirit for these 40 wonderful years which they celebrated only recently. They molded a family into a bond of faith in God and each other and pulling together in strength and love.

Tom was not afraid of hard work. He taught his children by example. He never said, "I want you to learn so you can grow up and have it easier than I had it." By his example he said, "Life is a challenge and full of hard work."

I could say many other good things about Tom, but none so important as to say, he was a man of faith and loved the Lord. I do not say he was perfect but that he trusted in the Lord. Please read sometime that wonderful eleventh chapter of Hebrews in the New Testament about "Faith." There are many recorded there who displeased the Lord. Some were dishonest and sinful. Take just three for example, Moses, and David and Jacob. Great sins could be laid at their door. But when the record was penned there about them and all the others, God accepted them BY FAITH. Almost every verse begins, by faith, by faith, by faith, etc. In Christ Jesus we are perfect because God sees us in Christ His holy and righteous Son. Tom was not perfect, just forgiven. That is more important than any earthly accomplishment or achievement.

Tom has not left us. He has just changed his address. He now lives on High Street inside the Pearly Gates in the New Jerusalem. Glory is his address. We can't write to him there but we can go and see him by and by, if we take the road of faith.

L. E. Stinger has written some beautiful words that seem appropriate to end this tribute:
FINALLY HOME

Think of stepping on shore and finding it HEAVEN,
Of touching a hand and finding it GOD'S,

Of breathing new air and finding it CELESTIAL,

Of waking up in Glory and finding it HOME.

Aycock described as hero

(The following article appeared in UPS Big Idea magazine in Denton. Aycock is the son of Ima Jean Aycock and the late J. W. Aycock of Haskell.)

His years of UPS experience had taught him to size up situations, be prepared and expect the unexpected. This training and alertness are what helped Denton Center delivery driver Jim Aycock become a hero.

Jim makes his deliveries in Bowie County. His route takes him 280-300 miles per day. Recently, Jim was making what he thought to be a routine delivery to a rural route in Bellview, Texas. When Jim approached the house he noticed the resident, Mr. Albert Bacher, trying to tell him something by pointing and motioning to his throat.

Jim immediately realized Mr. Bacher was choking, and administered the Heimlich maneuver to Mr. Bacher, dislodging what was caught in his throat.

Mr. Bacher said, "Thank the Lord we have such people who still love to help their fellow man. This was much appreciated and I was blessed to see my 92nd birthday in January, thanks to a very fine UPSer by the name of Jim Aycock."

"With all his years of experience at being able to expect the unexpected and happening to be in the right place at the right time when I needed his help, a potential tragedy was avoided."

Jim Aycock is an 18-year driver and an 18-year safe driver.

Sounds like the work of a committee.

In his book, Humorous Stories About the Human Condition, Eric W. Johnson tells about the third-grader who was given an assignment to write about "What My Dog Means to Me":

"My dog means somebody nice and quiet to be with. He does not say Do like my mother, or Don't like my father, or Stop like my big brother. My dog Spot and I sit together quietly and I like him and he likes me."

The 10 most popular names for boys born in Texas in 1991 were: Michael, Christopher, Joshua, Jose, Matthew, David, John, Justin, Daniel and James.

For girls born in the same period, the 10 most frequently given names were: Ashley, Jessica, Amanda, Sarah, Stephanie, Brittany, Elizabeth, Samantha, Lauren and Jennifer.

These figures come from a report released by the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the Texas Department of Health (TDH).

Besides the separate lists for boys and girls born in 1991, the report provides similar lists for ethnic groups. Although those lists contain many of the same names as does the overall roster, there are some exceptions.

Among children of white parents, the most popular names for boys were: Michael, Christopher, Matthew, Justin, James, John, Ryan, Cody, Jacob and William. For girls, they were: Ashley, Jessica, Sarah, Lauren, Brittany, Amanda, Megan, Shelby, Emily and Elizabeth.

Black parents chose Christopher, Joshua, Michael, Brandon, Anthony, James, Jordan, Justin, Jeremy and Robert most frequently for their sons. For their daughters, they chose Jasmine, Ashley, Brittany, Jessica, Courtney, Mariah, Raven, Crystal, Tiffany and Ebony.

Hispanic parents chose Jose, Juan, Michael, Daniel, David, Jesus, Christopher, Luis, Joshua and Jonathan for boys. For girls, they chose Jessica, Ashley, Stephanie, Amanda, Samantha, Elizabeth, Jennifer, Crystal and Victoria.

Texas Medicine reports that more Texas died in 1991 from firearms than from motor vehicle accidents.

During that year, 3,692 Texans died from gunshot wounds, compared to 3,180 who died as the result of injuries involving automobiles.

Gunfire was the leading cause of all deaths among Texans between the ages of 1 and 44, a group that represents 69 percent of the state's population, the article states.

In 1991, 2,693 Texans in that age group died from gunfire, compared to 2,301 who died in traffic accidents. In the same year, this age group recorded 1,692 deaths from cancer, 1,654 from HIV infection, 1,159 from heart disease and 257 from stroke.

Put into another perspective, more Texans were killed by gunfire in 1991 (3,692) than were killed in the entire Vietnam War (3,405).

Love and marriage may go together like a horse and carriage, but some special ingredients are necessary for lasting commitment.

To find out what they are, Dr. Catherine Surra of The University of Texas at Austin is looking for 300 couples to participate in a study to examine the processes through which premarital partners are led to tie the knot.

She says commitment is different from love, and she hopes the study will shed light on how early relationships predict whether they will develop into satisfying and stable unions.

IRS offers help to tax non-filers

If you haven't filed tax returns in the past three years, the best gift you can give yourself may be an appointment today (Thursday) at the office of the IRS.

The office, located at 341 Pine Street, will be staffed between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. to help taxpayers get right with their taxes.

Gary O. Booth, Dallas district director of the IRS, said this is an ongoing effort by the IRS to help taxpayers who have failed to file their returns.

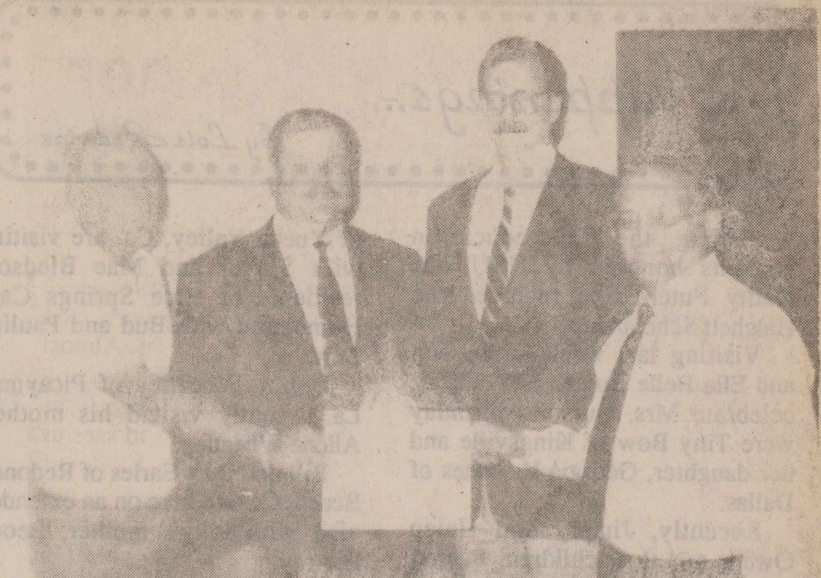

"One young couple had filed for three years and that had been all they had done in their marriage," Booth said. "When they saw that they were in trouble, they weren't sure what to do, but they were doing what they could, yet, as much as they could through tax years 1989, 1990 and 1991, refunds wiped out that first year's liability, and they even wound up with a small refund."

Booth says that taxpayers who owe IRS returns owe it to themselves to get back into the system. "For many, it is the fear that creates a barrier," he said. "We see our job as making it as easy as possible for taxpayers to comply. Many have paid in withholding or estimated tax payments which are held in credit to their accounts. And if they owe us, we can work out payment arrangements to bring them square with us."

The Community Credit and the Greater Independent Bank are sponsoring the event.

The Haskell office of the Texas Department of Health has a new phone number. The number is 864-2609.

Bank recognized

The Jones Haskell County Texas Exes presented a certificate Monday to Haskell National Bank in appreciation of the bank's cooperation in furnishing a meeting place for the organization over the years. Making the presentation were Dr. William J. Kemp, left, and Flain Hascan, right. Receiving the certificate were Robert Howard, bank CEO, and Andy Gannaway, president.

Happenings...

by Lois Redwine

Among the top education students honored by HSU was Kathy Futch. She received the Hatchett Scholarship.

Visiting last week with Leon and Ella Belle Burson and helping celebrate Mrs. Burson's birthday were Tiny Bow of Kingsville and her daughter, Georgia K. Oates of Dallas.

Recently, Jimmy and Helen Owens and their children, Bassett of Dallas and Beverly and Sarah SoRelle of Lubbock were in Henderson to visit Mrs. Owens' father, Curtis Bassett, and her sisters. On Sat., April 24, the Bassett children, their husbands, children and grandchildren held a bar-b-que with all the trimmings at their recently restored farm home. The house was built 75 years ago in April and is located 10 miles north of Henderson. About 45 relatives and friends enjoyed the noon meal under beautiful oak trees. Plans were made to hold the Bassett family reunion there each year.

Jimmy and Jan Bledsoe of Anchorage, Al. and Carroll Bledsoe of Yucca Valley, Ca. are visiting with Slover and Mae Bledsoe, residents of Rice Springs Care Home, and with Bud and Pauline Der.

Bobby Wheatley of Picayune, La. recently visited his mother, Allene Wheatley.

Bill and Inky Earles of Redondo Beach, Ca. are here on an extended visit with Inky's mother, Leone Pearsey.

Virginia Flourney of Wichita Falls spent two weeks visiting in Haskell and Stamford.

Emma Bland has returned from a two weeks stay in El Reno, Ok. with her daughter and family, Dana and Mark Gibson, Emily and Trent. Son-in-law, Mark, flew her home last Friday.

Bud and LaVera Hummell have returned home to Sterling, Ill. After an extended stay in Texas and Oklahoma. They spent time visiting the Mayfield and Guess families in Weinert. Also visiting the two families were the Hummell's son and family Greg, Teresa and Brandon Hummell from Evanston, Ill. and Tad and Jeanie

Rhodes, Max and Ella from Norman, Ok.

Frank and Fauna Garrett of Las Vegas spent the weekend in Weinert with Mr. Garrett's sisters and brothers-in-law, Ida and Willie Farrell and Maxine and Roy Boling.

The Willie Farrells and the Roy Bolings of Weinert recently spent time fishing at Proctor Dam. The fishing was good. They also attended the Proctor Baptist Church.

Verda Lee Calloway visited Willie Mae Sampleton in the Stamford Hospital last Saturday.

Members of the Greater Independent Baptist Church were in Stamford Sunday at the Sim Chapel AME Church for a pre-Mother's Day program. The program theme was "The Blessed Mother". Rev. Hopper from Mt. Oliver Baptist Church was the speaker.

The Community Choir met at the Greater Independent Baptist Church last Sunday evening.

Three elected to Rule council

Joyce Hester, Ernest Carreon and James Marquis were elected to the Rule City Council in Saturday's city election.

They were the top vote-getters in a five-candidate field. Hester received 128 votes, Carreon got 124 and Marquis had 113.

Other candidates included two incumbents, Chris Trussell with 65 votes and J. N. Cornelius with 57.

In the Rule School Board election, voters returned incumbents Donna Saffle (153 votes) and Larry LeFevre (138 votes).

Other school candidates were Alan Beard with 32 votes and La Nell Trussell with 19.

First playday to be Sunday

The Haskell Horse Club's first jackpot playday of the season will be Sunday afternoon at the Haskell County Arena. It begins at 3.

Events will include barrel races, pole bending and goat-tying. Anyone interested in riding is invited.

ABILENE EYE INSTITUTE
CATARACT SURGERY CENTER
DEDICATED TO EXCELLENCE

We specialize in cataract surgery with intraocular lens implant and routinely use the small incision phacoemulsification technique. We have 2 modern, fully equipped operating rooms each with its own Zeiss operating microscope and Phacoemulsifier. We also have an observation room so that family and friends may view the surgery while it is happening. Our ambulatory surgery center is State licensed and Medicare approved. We have performed over 3,000 cataract implant operations since 1987. Our doctors accept Medicare Assignment and we think you will find our fees very competitive with most hospitals. Our friendly, dedicated staff is available to answer any of your questions. If you need transportation, we can help.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

PLAN AHEAD FOR DISASTERS
Recent newscasts have reminded us that no one is safe from the possibility of natural disaster. Thousands of American homes and businesses were hit this past year by hurricane damage, floods, fire, earthquakes, and tornadoes.

While you can't change Mother Nature, you can do some planning to protect your financial stability in the event a disaster strikes.

Consider these suggestions:

1. Have your insurance policies reviewed by an experienced agent. Find out whether you're adequately covered for the replacement value of your home and your personal property. Also, have your agent explain exactly what natural disasters are not covered by your policy. (Many policies don't cover flood damage, for example.) You may need to purchase a supplemental policy to get complete coverage.
2. Business owners should consider business interruption insurance, which provides payments if your business operations are suspended because of fire, flood, or other covered disaster.
3. Get a safe deposit box, or arrange another way to keep important papers safe. The following papers should be in safe storage: real estate deeds, auto titles, stocks and bonds, marriage and birth certificates, military service record, social security numbers, insurance policies, list of credit card account numbers, and an inventory of the contents of your home (see #3 below).
4. Business owners should keep financial records in fire-proof storage, and a backup of all computer files should be kept off-site.
5. In the event of a loss, you'll have to prove to the insurance company what was destroyed. So before a disaster occurs, consider taking photos or video footage of your insured possessions, or make complete list of them. Also make a record of the purchase price or estimated value of all major items.

SMALL ENOUGH
As a nurse, a professional, you have many opportunities to apply your skills and your compassion in helping others. But consider the setting that is best for you. Consider long term care. Haskell Nursing Center allows you to work with other dedicated professionals and is large enough to offer professional development, promotional opportunities, and competitive wages and benefits as well. But it is also small enough for you to be recognized as an important individual, a member of the team, and not lost in the shuffle.
Consider long term care. Call and talk with our DNS about opportunities in nursing where YOU make a DIFFERENCE. EOE

PHARMACY NEWS

By Elbert Johnson, Registered Pharmacist

Lightscanning is No Alternative to Mammography: Some clinics are advertising lightscanning as a "painless" alternative to mammography for young women with no symptoms of breast cancer but very dense breast tissue. However, lightscanning, in which visible and infrared light is beamed through the breast and the imaged on film, produces three times the rate of false-positives as mammography. That means that it identifies benign tissue as malignant. It also is not effective at detecting small cancers.

The Telephone Companies Are Talking Out Of Both Ends Of Their Receivers.

The Texas Telephone Companies Are Asking The Texas Legislature To Deregulate Their Industry.

A Presentation Of Their Claims And The Real Facts:

Telephone Claim: "We are not making enough money to really invest anything back into the Texas telephone infrastructure."

FACT: They made record profits last year. They say they can't afford to invest in Texas, yet they invested in Mexico's telephone system, bought an overseas cable company and are one of the brand-new owners of the San Antonio Spurs basketball team.

Telephone Claim: "We want deregulation so we can be competitive. It really has nothing to do with the rates we will charge customers."

FACT: The telephone companies under their proposal will be able to increase consumer rates as much as 10 percent a year (25 percent in some cases). Their bill is all about money—more for them, less for the consumer.

It Is Time To Hang-up On The Telephone Companies.

Call your legislator and say NO to telephone deregulation
