'American Heart Walk' to be Saturday

Haskell County citizens will join together Saturday to walk all over cardiovascular diseases during the "American Heart Walk." The walk will begin at 8:30 a.m. at the gazebo in the Haskell City Park.

The American Heart Association's "American Heart Walk" is a national event sponsored by Lederle Laboratories and held in communities across the country during the first weekend in October.

It is co-sponsored in Haskell by Bailey Toliver Chevrolet & Olds, Medford Buick-Pontiac-GMC, Larned's Sales Center, Bill Wilson Motor Co., Richardson's True Value, Haskell National Bank and First National Bank of Haskell.

The non-competitive, just-for-fun event is expected to draw participants of all ages. The walkers will raise money for cardiovascular research by asking friends and co-workers for contributions for walking the course.

"We're excited about this event" said Clark and Debbie Richardson, chairmen of the walk. "Cardiovascular diseases, including stroke, are America's No. 1 killer. They affect people in the 30s, 40s and 50s--often their most productive years. And children aren't excluded from cardiovascular diseases, either.

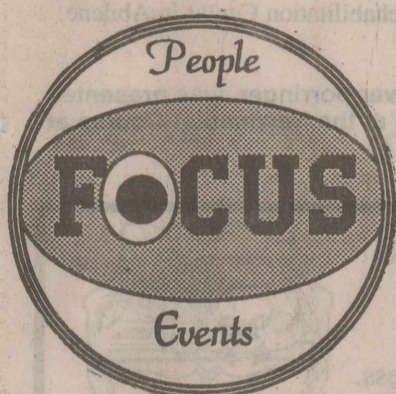

"There are only two ways to fight them: finding the cure through research and preventing them in the first place. We'll have lots of information at the "American Heart Walk" on how to help prevent cardiovascular diseases and stroke, including getting the regular exercise that helps strengthen your heart muscle."

Everyone who participates in the walk will receive a Sport Quart Bottle. Prizes for raising money to fight cardiovascular diseases will include American Heart Walk T-shirts, turkeys, Coleman coolers and American Heart Walk lockerbags.

Grand prize for the top money-raiser will be a 3-day, 2-night retreat at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Abilene. Second- and third-place prizes will be $50 savings bonds.

To pre-register for the event or for additional information about the "American Heart Walk", call Clark Richardson at 864-8551 or 864-8073.

Parents invited to hear speaker

All parents of Haskell school students are invited to hear Gloria Jones at 7 p.m. Monday in the elementary cafeteria.

Mrs. Jones will speak on "Why Parental Involvement Is Necessary for Student Success."

Anyone interested in coaching or helping is welcome to attend the registration.

Council meetings to be televised

Paint Creek students produce book on community

It's finally off the press and available to the public.

Putting Paint Creek on the Map, the result of a massive undertaking by Monique Morgan's Gifted and Talented students at Paint Creek School, is a thick printed document detailing the history of the southeast Haskell County community.

After four years of planning, interviewing, researching and other preparations, the book is now for sale.

Those who ordered and paid for copies of the book before it was printed may pick up their books at the Paint Creek school. Others who wish a copy may buy them for $25 each at the Paint Creek school or at The Haskell Free Press.

In the book's foreword, Mrs. Morgan writes, "The book is not meant to be viewed as a researched historical document, but rather as a collection of memories, patchworked together to reveal the significant and uniqueness of our corner of Haskell County."

But those who browse through the book may dispute Mrs. Morgan's assertion that it is not a historical document. There's plenty of history.

There are stories dealing with early settlers, churches and the schools. Well-known families were interviewed. There are many pictures.

A large section of the book is devoted to the re-printing of newspaper articles dealing with local servicemen during World War II.

All residents and former residents of the Paint Creek community, along with anyone who ever lived in the area or knew any of the people of Paint Creek, should find Putting Paint Creek on the Map highly interesting reading.

Education center honors Druessedow

Jill Harrison Druessedow of Haskell High School and Darla King of Hawley Elementary School have been named local "Teachers of the Year" by the Texas Education Agency and Region 14 Education Service Center.

Each will receive $500 and compete in the state "Teacher of the Year" competition.

They are part of a group of 40 Texas primary and secondary teachers who are being honored in the "Teacher of the Year" awards sponsored with a $25,000 grant from the Southwestern Bell Foundation.

Each of the 20 regional service centers in Texas is honoring a primary and secondary teacher from its area. They will compete for state "Teacher of the Year" and a $2,500 award to be announced later this fall.

"The quality of teachers competing in Region 14 was particularly challenging," said Terry Harlow, executive director of Region 14. "We want to recognize the dedicated work of our teachers and reward them for a job well done."

Teachers were judged in five areas: professional development, recognition, community involvement, philosophy of teaching and comprehension of major public education issues.

Mrs. Druessedow has been a teacher for 21 years, having taught in Wichita Falls, Stamford, Western Texas College and Haskell where she has spent the last 13 years. She received her bachelor's and master's degrees from Midwestern State University. In addition, she has been active in TSTA, NEA, state and national Council of Teachers of English, Texas Press Women, and served as the mayor of Haskell.

Mrs. King has been a teacher for 8 years, having taught in Austin, Brownwood, Abilene and Hawley where she has spent the last 3 years. She graduated from Howard Payne University

Indians play Winters here Friday night

The Haskell Indians have an old score to settle with the Winters Blizzards.

And they get the opportunity to do so Friday night when the Blizzards invade the Indian reservation for the second district 7-2A game for each team.

It was at Winters last year, at this same stage of the season, that a then-winless Blizzard team handed the Indians a crushing defeat, a defeat which eventually kept Haskell out of the playoffs.

Winters is again winless, but the 0-4 Blizzards have played a murderous schedule. They have lost to 3A Coleman, fifth-rated Wall, fourth-rated Goldthwaite and then last week to unbeaten Hamlin.

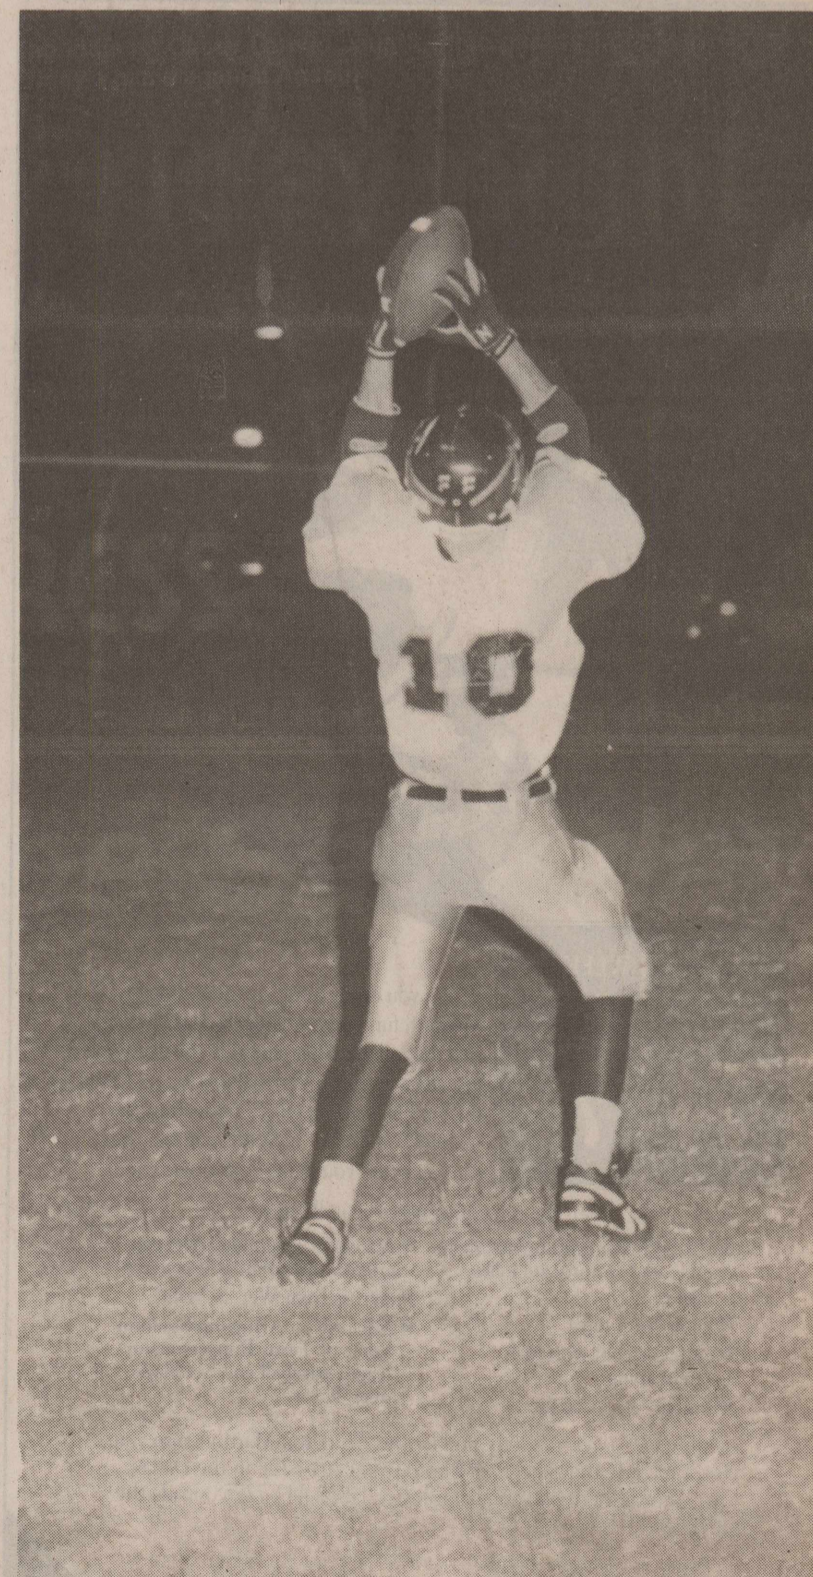

Haskell stands 2-1-1 after four weeks of play. Victories over Munday and Seymour were followed by a tie against Knox City and a 24-14 loss last week to Anson in the Indians' 7-2A opener. The Indians will be hoping to get back on the victory trail after what may have been two sub-par performances. Coach Walter Hargrove said the team had a good practice Monday and appeared ready to put the last two games behind it.

Some familiar names dot the Winters lineup. Jim Calcote, a freshman last year when he had a big night against Haskell, returns to lead the ground attack. Quarterback John Balew, also a sophomore, also is remembered from a year ago.

Up front, the Blizzard team is led by Ed Whitenburg and Jason Sanchez, a couple of 230-pounders at left tackle and left guard, respectively.

Hamlin, Jim Ned and Stamford, along with Anson, were victorious in last week's 7-2A openers. Hamlin and Stamford are unbeaten for the season with 4-0 records. Jim Ned is 3-1, Anson and Haskell each 2-1-1, Rotan 2-2, and Rotan and Winters 0-4.

Catches pass

The Indians' Casey Larned caught three passes from Mart Guess in Friday's game against Anson.

Homecoming queen

Paint Creek junior Misty McCain was crowned homecoming queen Saturday night. The crowning took place at halftime of the Paint Creek-Blackwell football game.

Noted educator to keynote session

Parental involvement and multicultural understanding will be the focus of Haskell teacher in-service training Monday, Oct. 4.

Gloria Jones, retired principal from Osborne Elementary School in Houston, will give the keynote address and also conduct training sessions for teachers and parents.

Mrs. Jones was named one of 10 outstanding principals in the nation in 1990. Under her leadership, Osborne Elementary, located in a culturally deprived area at the heart of "the drug capital of Houston", became known as a safe, peaceful haven for children. Furthermore, even though 90 percent of the student body is on free or reduced lunch, Osborne Elementary has had 100 percent parent participation for the past 10 years.

Mrs. Jones and the programs she has implemented have been featured on 20/20 and in Readers Digest. She will share with Haskell teachers activities which bind home and school together to insure student success. Programs which build students' self-confidence and self-worth and encourage parents to work with the school to enhance their children's education will be discussed.

Dr. Gonzalo Ramirez, principal at V. Z. Rogers Elementary School in Lamesa, will conduct training on "Multicultural Education: An Integral part of the Effective School." Dr. Ramirez will help teachers come to terms with the diversity found in the classroom. These sessions will examine what culture is and how multicultural education is necessary in the curriculum.

Haskell students will have a holiday so their teachers can attend this training. All parents are invited to hear Mrs. Jones at 7 p.m. in the elementary cafeteria.

Haskell native enjoys visit

Sam C. Jenkins, 1938 graduate of Haskell High School, recently spent 12 days visiting in the home of Juanita and Melvin Miller and visiting with other relatives and friends.

Being here to attend the Jenkins reunion on Sept. 11 was a very special time for him as he recognized cousins he had played with as a child and met many "new" cousins whom he had never seen.

It was an enjoyable occasion for those who were present and all are looking forward to the next reunion in 1994.

America's first sports trophy, a silver porringer, was presented in 1668 to the winner of a horse race at the Newmarket Course at Hempstead Plains, Long Island.

Paint Creek welcomes commissioner

By Wendell Faught

Paint Creek showed off its Goal Star Partnership School last Wednesday to the Texas Commissioner of Education.

Commissioner Lionel (Skip) Meno, who began the initiative during the fall of 1991, inspected the school, visited the classrooms and talked to students and teachers.

Meeting with school officials and board members after his tour of the classrooms, Meno said, "I am impressed. You have wonderful things going on here. You're well ahead of the pack in new ideas."

"When I came here I said we needed to determine what we want," the commissioner said. "You are setting a good example. I'll be sending a lot of people back here to look at you."

He told the Paint Creek school officials the school has demonstrated that a small school can do a good job. "What I like most is your high expectations, with no limits," Meno said.

Paint Creek was one of 83 schools in Texas, and one of three in the Region 14 Education Service Center, chosen to be pioneers in an effort to achieve excellence and equity in student performance through reduced regulation and increased flexibility.

Through the Partnership Schools Initiative, the school was given the opportunity to obtain maximum regulatory relief as it works with state and other entities in designing programs which will result in meaningful student achievement.

The 83 schools were chosen from more than 1,600 schools whose administrators and teachers expressed interest in the program. Each of the state's 20 regional education service centers recommended two schools and one alternate for the program through a selection process that included a screening committee whose members represented potential partners and the education community.

Schools were selected by the commissioner on the basis of several criteria, including:

- The degree to which the school could demonstrate a commitment to improve student performance;
- The level of staff participation and commitment in the decision to become a partnership school;
- The degree of willingness to question and modify the existing public education system;
- The willingness to participate in a partnership with the state;
- The willingness of the school to use performance indicators or other measures to determine student improvement and to identify areas in need of improvement; and
- The degree of understanding of the need for correlation between identified student needs and areas to be improved.

Restructuring the Paint Creek school is being accomplished by developing an instructional system that focuses upon the skills and knowledge needed in the 21st century. The vision is, that upon graduation, all students will be self-directed learners, collaborative workers, complex thinkers, quality producers and community contributors.

The system is designed to focus upon mathematics and science. These subject areas will then be interfaced with communication, ecology and technology and the rest of the disciplines are to be integrated as appropriate. The interdisciplinary units are designed to allow students the opportunity to demonstrate competencies and to promote excellence in academic achievement for all.

Partners include the Texas Education Agency (TEA), Region 14 ESC, Texas Water Commission, West Texas Utilities, ANVIRON Enprotech, Hardin-Simmons University, Texas State Technological College and community members. Representatives from these entities collaborate with teachers to create the innovative and futuristic units of study and to address various types of issues.

Excellence and equity for all students are promoted through a modified multi-phased, mixed-aged grouping instruction system (K-2, 3-6, 7-8, and 9-12). This allows for individual differences among student so that students have enough time with appropriate support to master designated skills and knowledge. In the long term, a goal is for students to progress from one unit of study to another based upon demonstration of competencies rather than progress based on years of study.

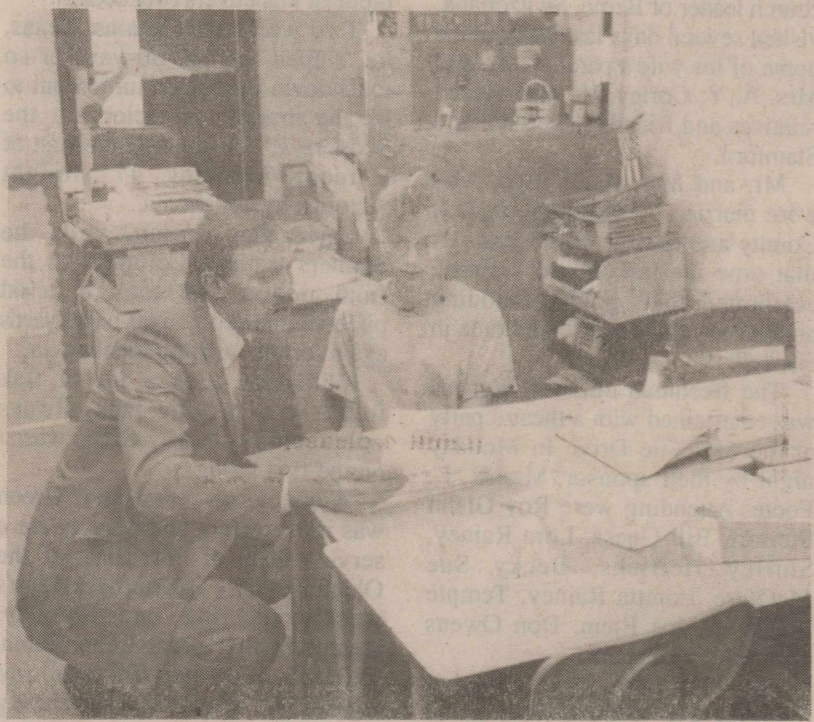

The instructional system differs from traditional school practices in seven ways:

- Involves many stakeholders,
- Focuses upon the skills and knowledge needed by productive citizens in the 21st century,
- Promotes the successful academic performance of all students by allowing for variation in the amount of time-on-task and means of demonstrating the learning of a specific unit of study,
- Designs to make learning relevant to the real world with learning experiences that promote the transfer of knowledge,
- Fosters the value of quality work,
- Elicits teaming among teachers to best meet the needs of students, and
- Emphasizes student performance criteria rather than curriculum coverage.

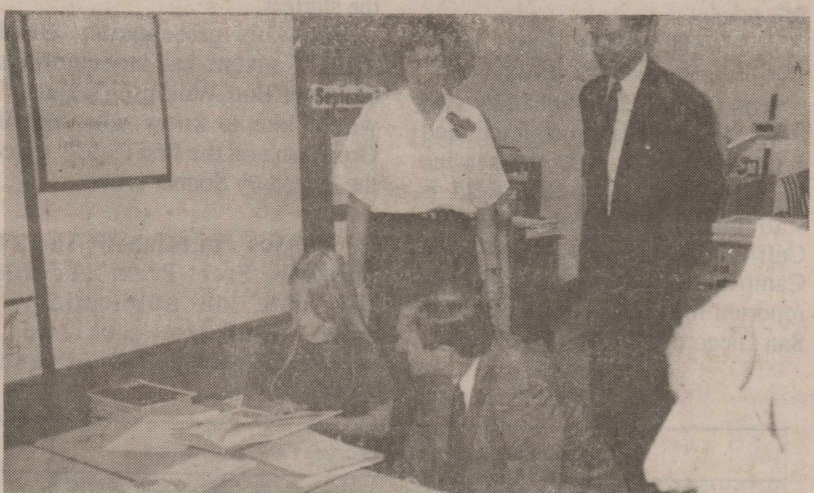

The staff development program includes the study of cooperative learning, outcome-based education, authentic learning/assessment, mixed-age grouping, spiraling curriculum, site-based decision making, integration of curriculum, complex thinking strategies, learning styles and strategies for peer mediation, as well as updates in content areas. Scheduling time for teachers to collaborate is a priority.

Faculty members have traveled to study numerous campuses and programs around the state.

A $90,000 Innovative Education grant to support the development of curriculum was awarded from the TEA and the Educational Economic Policy Center for the 1993-95 school years.

Young people learn through 4-H work

By Lou Gilly and Max Stapleton

County Extension Agents
The week of Oct. 3-9 is National 4-H Week. Four-H'ers all across the nation are focusing on what 4-H has meant in their lives and are taking time to encourage other youth to join their local 4-H clubs. We would like to take this opportunity to highlight what 4-H is:

Four-H is an exciting youth program that helps young people learn how to do new and interesting things through learn-by-doing projects.

Members may be found in urban, suburban and rural areas. Four-H is a non-profit, educational program which is open to all youth regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin. 4-H is the largest youth organization in America.

There is no membership fee but each member is usually responsible for financing his or her own projects. 4-H is the youth phase of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Boys and girls 9 to 19 (or 8 if in the third grade) take part in 4-H by joining a 4-H club. A 4-H club is a group of boys and girls who participate in 4-H projects, run their own club, elect officers and develop their own program with the help of adult volunteer leaders. Improving leadership and citizenship are two of the greatest benefits of 4-H club membership. Above all, 4-H is educational. 4-H explores everything from rabbits to rockets, from canning to camping, from square dancing to veterinary science.

Four-H projects help youth learn better ways of doing things in the sciences, agriculture, home economics and recreation. There are many things youth can do in 4-H: (1) discover new ideas and skills, (2) make things they can use, (3) learn to keep records of projects, (4) take part in club meetings and activities with friends, (5) learn to present educational demonstrations, (6) have fun at 4-H parties, camps, fairs, picnics and tours, and (7) make new friends.

After a 4-H member becomes 14 years old, he or she can try for state and national awards. This may include a trip to Texas 4-H Roundup or out-of-state trips to Chicago, Washington and other points of interest. College scholarships also are available to outstanding 4-H members through the Texas 4-H Foundation.

Four-H involves the family in fun and in work. Members select and conduct their projects (there are more than 70 projects from which to choose) with the approval and support of parents. Parents provide encouragement and many of the resources needed by the 4-H'er for project work. The understanding parent is often the force that helps 4-H members through their beginning year of 4-H and sets the stage for a fulfilling and enriching experience as a senior 4-H member.

Adults who are concerned about the future of local youth and are interested in helping young people will enjoy working with them as volunteer leaders. There are great personal rewards as a 4-H leader. These leaders make a profound impact on the lives of their 4-H members.

There are seven 4-H clubs in Haskell County. There is or should be one in your community. Anyone interested in learning more about 4-H, becoming a 4-H leader, or joining a 4-H club is encouraged to contact one of the Haskell County extension agents: Lou Gilly, Home Economics, 864-2546, or Max Stapleton, Agriculture, 864-2658.

Booster Club

The last day to order flag pole spirit flags will be Oct. 4.

"We've had many requests for these. Businesses, as well as individuals, have asked for them, and we've finally found a company that can make them like the original," said Sammy Larned, president of the Haskell Booster Club.

Members and fans will gather at 4 p.m. Friday at the Trading Post to fill spirit balloons with helium.

Haskell National Bank donated gold Indian balloons to be released at each home game.

"This is a good spirit booster for the team, and we need lots of help getting the balloons filled," Larned said.

The club commended photographer Bill Blankenship, Hatahoe manager Scott Burleson and owner Doug Browning for the picture display of the varsity players, cheerleaders and twirlers that lines the walls at the Hatahoe restaurant. Blankenship made the pictures and they will be for sale at the end of the season.

The club also commended the mothers for their help in decorating the square and highways with signs and spirit ribbons.

At the courthouse, Peggy Darden, Erlinda Mayfield and Gayla Nann assisted the mothers with the window decorations.

Coach Walter Hargrove said the cross country teams will compete at Grafon on Saturday. He suggested the club might want to host a cross country meet next year.

He praised the seventh, eighth and JV teams on their wins over Anson last week.

The coach said the varsity loss to Anson was a game of big defensive plays. "The team played a good second half, but the first half we didn't adjust well on the field," he explained. He attributed that to inexperience.

"We had a good practice today (Monday). The kids are right on track. We have a lot of football to play," he said.

Body clock needs setting

When crossing several time zones, airline travelers have two clocks to re-set: watches and internal "clocks."

"Jet lag occurs when the body gets out of sync with the day/night cycle," said Dr. James Frost, neurologist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

PC club has program on 'cream puffs'

The Paint Creek Extension Homemakers Club had a very exciting summer with all their programs. In July at Lorene Harris' home, there were seven members answering roll call of "Something I'm thankful for but often take for granted."

Frances Fischer gave the devotion on "The Gifts of Days."

The minutes and treasurer's report were given and approved as read. Several motions were made and passed during the business meeting.

Lorene had the program which was "How to make cream puffs." Everyone observed as Lorene demonstrated how to make the cream puffs. She gave a very interesting and tasty program.

Lorene served mixed fruit with Kool Whip, cheese sandwiches and of course, the cream puffs she made. Some club members, who had never eaten cream puffs before, really enjoyed the puffs and wrote the recipe down and vowed to make some at their home.

Those present were Mabel Overton, Dorothy Wells, Lorene, Frances Fischer, Peggy Burnett, Dolores Medford and Lena Petrich.

For the August club meeting everyone met at the extension office and had a program on "Flowers." Joe Cloud of Rule gave a very interesting program with slides on different flowers. Everyone enjoyed Joe's beautiful pictures and name of each flower.

On Sept. 7, the club took a trip to Abilene for lunch at the Golden Corral, where everyone enjoyed all the different kinds of food served at the restaurant. They then toured the Grace Cultural Center Museum.

After a short break members went on a sightseeing adventure of Lake Fort Phantom, the old Fort Phantom, the Abilene prison, the Ericksdahl Bethel Lutheran Church and all the different country and crops along the trip. Another Abilene trip, to the Paramount Theatre, is planned for October.

Homemakers plan new year

The first meeting of the year for the Haskell Young Homemakers was held Aug. 30 at the First National Bank community room. Hostesses for the meeting were the present officers.

While everyone got acquainted, members enjoyed refreshments and discussed the arts and crafts show to be held Nov. 13.

All who have not signed up for either the door or concession stand should do so. Also for setup or cleanup duties. Linda St. John has volunteered for co-chairman of the food committee and a publicity committee is still needed.

Membership dues are $10 again this year and must be paid by the end of October.

Sally Priddy won the newcomer door prize and Linda St. John won the regular door prize.

Next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Oct. 4 at the First Baptist Church activity building. The program will be on foster care while children play in the gym.

Editor: After a number of recent bicycle accidents, one fatal, in Abilene, it was hoped that young bicycle riders in Haskell would be more careful. This has not happened.

It is very frightening to drive down a street with bicycles weaving and wobbling on both sides of the street and darting into the street from drive ways. Their looks seem to say "I'm King of the Road."

If a child can ride a bicycle, then he or she is capable of knowing and obeying traffic rules.

I urge all parents of bicycle riders to see that their children know these rules and that they obey them. A child unavoidably struck by a car is a horrible thing. Don't let it happen here.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

It sounds like the work of a committee:

Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth will now be known as "Naval Air Station Fort Worth Joint Reserve Base."

Recent news stories concerning former Abilene Cooper Coach Merrill Green bring to mind the coach's playing career long before there was a Cooper.

My memory of Green goes back to the late 40s when he was an outstanding running back at Chickasha (Okla.) High School.

He started as a freshman at OU in 1950 when freshmen gained varsity eligibility by virtue of the Korean War.

But my most vivid memory is his senior year of 1953 when he was probably the country's best "substitute" running back.

That was the year the colleges threw out the unlimited substitution policy. With limited substitutions, teams had to field their best two-way players, and Coach Bud Wilkinson obviously believed that Green lacked the defensive credentials to be a starter. He was demoted to reserve status.

And what a "reserve" he turned out to be. Against Notre Dame, he ran back a punt 60 or 70 yards for a touchdown, breaking clear after sidestepping the Irish's All-America Johnny Latner in one of the prettiest maneuvers ever seen.

Two weeks later against Texas, he ripped off a 60-yard-or-so touchdown run which turned out to be the margin of victory in the Sooners' 19-14 triumph, the first of a record-breaking 47 straight victories by Oklahoma.

Later that season, with the Sooners trailing Colorado in the final minute, he took a blind pitchout and scooted 60-or-so yards again for the winning touchdown.

Wilkinson took a lot of flak from the press and fans, always wanting to know why Green wasn't on the first string.

A couple of years later, Green was in the Army and playing for a service team at Fort Sill. At the Oklahoma City Quarterback Club's weekly meeting one Monday, former Sooner great Leon Heath, the coach of the Fort Sill team, was a guest. He announced his starting lineup for the team's upcoming game. Green's name was not among the starters.

After his presentation, Heath asked if anyone had any questions. Up went Bud Wilkinson's hand. "I would like to know why Merrill Green isn't on the first team?" asked the legendary Sooner coach.

Al Owen with muppets

Kids Crusade being planned by area church

Pastor and Mrs. Al Owen will coordinate a "Kids for Jesus Crusade" Oct. 3-6 at the First Assembly of God in Stamford, 1214 Compton St.

They will draw on 26 years experience in ventriloquism, gospel music and oil painting artistry to present a program which will be enjoyed by the whole family.

The event, which begins at 7 p.m. Sunday, will feature a 10-foot puppet stage with large size muppets, featuring "The Praisin' Raisins" (full-bodied muppets in concert with sound and light effects). Koko, the talking monkey, is a real favorite.

Pastor Owen will conclude each service with a 3x4-foot oil painting containing a phantom effect which is revealed by way of black light.

Prizes will be given each night with a grand prize awarded at the end of the crusade.

"We encourage everyone, young and old, to attend this exciting back-to-school event," Owen said.

All nightly services will be from 7 to 8:15 p.m.

For information, call 915-773-5440 or 915-773-5342.

Life was meant to be lived, and curiosity must be kept alive. One must never, for whatever reason, turn his back on life.

Eleanor Roosevelt

LeFevre reunion held in Glen Rose

Descendants of Ira Phelix and Elizabeth Martin LeFevre met Aug. 13-15 at the Tres Rios Campground in Glen Rose for the first annual LeFevre reunion.

Ira Phelix and Elizabeth (Lizzy) had seven children, G. W. LeFevre of Sagerton, Earl LeFevre of Odessa, Elza (Tince) LeFevre of Center, Buddy LeFevre of Dublin, Beatrice LeFevre Pouncey of Houston, Melvin LeFevre of Houston and the late Jerrell LeFevre of Haskell.

The weekend started with an informal gathering at one of the campsites and a late night dinner was enjoyed by all the early arrivals.

By Saturday morning, more family members had arrived and everyone was out mingling and getting re-acquainted, and in some cases, acquainted for the first time. At 3 p.m. a pot luck luncheon was held at one of the covered pavilions.

Door prizes were given during the course of the afternoon and dancing to country and western music was enjoyed by some family members. In the early evening, several people chose to go swimming, some went shopping and others just rested before getting ready to go see the play, "The Promise," at the Glen Rose Amphitheatre.

By Sunday morning, the majority of those in attendance, approximately 65, had packed and were starting to say their good-byes.

In spite of the heat, a good time was had by all and many fond memories were made that weekend. Everyone was in agreement to meet again next year and reservations have already been made at Tres Rios for the weekend of Oct. 14, 1994.

Attending were: G. W. and Ophelia LeFevre of Sagerton; B. B. and Liz Young of Abilene; Earl, Wilma, Jerry Don, Juanell, Danielle and Terry LeFevre of Odessa; Bill, Shirley and Barry Morris of Odessa; Tince and Arlene LeFevre of Center; Reba Hooper of Center; Buddy and Lois LeFevre of Dublin; Steve, Patsy and daughter of Stephenville; Olson, Marjorie

The camp, attended by cadets normally between their third and fourth year of college, includes instruction in communications, management and survival training.

Successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from college results in a commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army, Guard or Reserve.

Miss Unger, the daughter of Ervin E. and Gwen D. Unger of Haskell, is a student at Texas Tech University. She graduated from Haskell High School in 1989.

--Rule--

by Vicky Anderson

It was really great to see a row of Rule people at the revival at the Stamford Church of Christ last week. In the group were Ennis and Faye Webb, Travis and Lorene Boyd, Cole and Dorothy Alsabrook, and Owen and Elda Aikin. Jerome Savage certainly brought some good messages during the four night revival. (NOTE: The Aikins and the Alsabrooks are actually from Rochester, but attend the Rule church.) On the previous night, the John Greasons attended the service as well as Hamlin's minister: Jerry Jackson along with Robert Perry and Rube Abney.

Get well wishes are sent to Gladys Summers, Zula Isaac, Eddie Ford, Jack Fox, Alline Carlton, Virginia Moore, Amelia Hickman, David Lassiter, Jymann Hokanson.

The West Central Texas Council of Government will hold another training seminar on Sept. 28. Hopefully, your writer will glean enough information to be able to help other "aged" citizens with some health care insurance. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cartee of Cisco are in charge of this program.

Wasn't the Am-Trak disaster sad? When we were crossing Lake Ponchatrain on Am-Trak a few years ago, part of the time the track seemed to almost be in the water for the track was so very low in places.

Our sincere sympathy is extended to the families of Stacy

Floyd Hester, Jessie Parmelly, Sallie Whaley, Earl Wright, Q. D. Byrd, Dorothy Massey, Kayla Pope and Rose Chase.

Ben Kittley was honored on his first birthday by his parents Danny and Nikki Kittley and his brother Luke. Also, attending were paternal grandparents Bobby and Jere Kittley, Rob and Shannon Kittley and son Will and daughter Samantha; Rick and Beth along with sons Kyle, Kolt and Kade Kittley; maternal grandmother Jo Ellen Jenkins and daughter Lezli, all of Rule; Tori and Kris Miller of Abilene, Linda Kittley and sons Jonathon and Christopher of Abilene; maternal great-grandmother Vicky Anderson of Stamford. Hot dogs and drinks were served and later the birthday cake which featured "Winnie the Pooh" theme. The party took place in the lobby of ACU's Smith-Adams dorm in Abilene where the Danny Kittleys reside.

On Sept. 20th, Vicky Anderson attended a training seminar for benefit counselors of this area, which was conducted by the West Central Texas Council of Governments at the corner of N. 10th and Judge Ely Blvd. in Abilene. This lasted from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. The program and speakers were as follows: "Resources for Seniors" by Margie Kelley; "Alzheimer's: Its Effect on the Caregiver" by Sue Davis; "Prescription Drugs, Cost, Relationship to Foods" and "Other Matters" Mark Preston R.P.H. and Karl Doering R.P.H.; "How Do You Have Access to West Texas Rehab Therapy?" James Hallmark; "Legal Services" Attorney-at-Law; Laurie Stephens, AAA Case Manager; Joe Rogers, Emergency Response System Coordinator AAA; Jeanie Williams, AAA Staff Ombudsman. Last, a general discussion followed.

Pecan farmers to vote on referendum

Eligible pecan growers, grower-shellers and importers can vote Oct. 4-6 on whether to continue the Pecan Promotion and Research Plan.

Glenn R. Brzozowski, executive director of the Haskell County ASCS, said that to be eligible to vote, growers, grower-shellers and importers must have produced or imported pecans sometime between Sept. 1, 1991, through Aug. 31, 1993. For the plan to continue, it must be approved by a majority of those voting in the referendum.

Eligible voters must register between Sept. 27 and Oct. 1. Ballots will be distributed at the time of registration.

Growers and grower-shellers must register in person at the local ASCS office. Importers may either register in person at the local ASCS office or by writing to the Research and Promotion Branch, Fruit and Vegetable Division, AMS, USDA, Rm. 2535-S, P.O. Box 96456, Washington, DC 20090-6456. Mail registrations must be received by AMS on or before Oct. 1. Voting must be by mail and ballots must be postmarked during the Oct. 4-6 voting period. Ballots postmarked before Oct. 4 or after Oct. 6 will not be counted.

The pecan plan has been in effect since May 1, 1992, and operates under the Pecan Promotion and Research Act of 1990.

Details on the referendum will be published in the Aug. 3 Federal Register.

Haskell County pecan producers may register and obtain ballots at the Haskell County ASCS office located at 506 S. 2nd St. in Haskell during office hours Monday through Friday.

Group discusses landfill progress

A group of Haskell, Knox and Jones county citizens met last Wednesday with Texas Water Commission officials in Abilene.

State officials initiated the meeting to check the progress of keeping Haskell's landfill open and to offer technical assistance.

Ken Martin of Abilene, Haskell city engineer, and Thomas Rodriguez, water superintendent, also attended the meeting to learn specifically how to execute the lining requirements if the landfill is to stay open and specific closure procedures if the landfill closes Oct. 8.

Earlier, the group met with Water Commissioner Peggy Garner in Austin.

Following the meeting with Garner and Ms. Janek in Austin, the group met with Ron Bond, director of municipal solid waste; Ann McGinley, director of field operations; Mary Adrian, permits officer; and Mark Vickery, director of enforcement.

Mrs. Turner led the group of three former mayors and a former city manager, along with city managers from Stamford, Knox City and Munday.

Many local citizens have said they want to explore options for keeping Haskell's landfill open and affordable to area and regional counties.

Anson drops Indians, 24-14

Haskell took a 14-0 lead in the first seven minutes of play at Anson Friday night, but the Tigers stormed back with 24 unanswered points in the second quarter to hand the Indians their first defeat of the season, 24-14.

It was the first district 7-2A contest for each team. Haskell, now 0-1 in district, dropped to 2-1-1 for the year.

There were few fireworks in the second half as neither team was able to mount a scoring drive. The Indians reached the Anson 18 in the final four minutes of play, but that's as close as either team came to an opponent's goal after intermission.

The Indians struck early when Justin Lisle went over from the 2 on the first play after a bad snap on fourth down gave them the ball. Casey Larned's extra point kick made it 7-0 with 6:28 to go in the opening period.

Haskell had to go only 9 yards for its next score after Brian Brzozowski intercepted an Anson pass at that point. After Larned picked up 5 yards to the 4, Mart Guess hit Keiland Riley with a 4-yard scoring pass and Larned again converted.

Anson took over on its 20 after the ensuing kickoff went into the end zone. The Tigers then began a 14-play, time-consuming drive which resulted in a 30-yard field goal by Jimmy Garcia after the drive bogged down at the Haskell 13.

On the first play after the Anson kickoff, the Tigers were on the offense again when they intercepted a Haskell pass at the Indian 33. Eight plays later, Chris Cromeens went over from the 3. Garcia, faking a kick for the extra point, threw incomplete for 2 points, but the Indian margin had been cut to 14-9 with 7:23 to go in the first half.

Cody Cypert was unable to get off a fourth-down kick on Haskell's next possession and Anson took over on the Indian 23. Cromeens ran for 5 yards and then 13 more before Cody Hestand scored from the 5. Cromeens then passed to Hestand for 2 points and the Tigers were in the lead, 17-14, at the 5:36 mark. Cromeens intercepted a Haskell pass and returned it to the Indian 27 to set up the game's final touchdown. Three plays later, Donald Williams ran 15 yards for a touchdown and Garcia booted the extra point to make it 24-14 with 2:23 to go.

Picking up one first down along the way, the Indians moved from their own 20 to the 37 after the Anson kickoff. But a fourth down pass which fell incomplete gave the ball back to Anson. The Tigers drove to the Indian 9 from where Cypert intercepted Cromeen's pass and returned it to midfield, only to have the runback nullified when Haskell was penalized to the 7 for an illegal block.

The Indians took the second-half kickoff and moved from their own 23 to the Anson 35 in a drive highlighted by Guess pass completions of 11 yards to Larned, 7 yards to Brzozowski and 5 yards to Jonathan Tatum, a 5-yard run by Riley and a 15-yard pass-interference penalty against the Tigers. The drive bogged down after Guess was sacked for a 10-yard loss. On fourth down from the 45, Cypert kicked to the 19, the first punt of the night.

Neither team threatened again until late in the game when the Indians moved from their own 19 to the Anson 18. Passes from Guess to Larned for 15 and 17 yards, plus a 15-yard penalty against the Tigers fueled the drive. But with a first down from the 18, Guess threw incomplete, Riley lost 3 yards, another pass fell incomplete and then on fourth down, Guess was sacked for a 7-yard loss.

The Indians managed just 39 yards on 23 rushing attempts. Anson gained 248 yards on 54 carries. Haskell fared somewhat better from the air, Guess completing 10 of 26 passes for 87 yards. Anson completed 4 of 12 for 37 yards.

Haskell's top rusher was Lisle who managed 40 yards in 13 carries. For the Tigers, Hestand carried 21 times for 95 yards and Cromeens picked up 84 yards in 17 carries.

Leading the Indian defense was

Pirates drop Hornets to even record

The Paint Creek Pirates celebrated homecoming Saturday with a 26-24 victory over the Blackwell Hornets.

The Hornets took an early 6-0 lead as they scored on their opening drive.

Will Duniven answered back in the second quarter with a 37-yard touchdown run that tied the score at 6-6, but Blackwell struck right back and took a 12-6 halftime lead.

Tony Martinez began his second half magic with a 15-yard touchdown run to tie the score at 12-12. After another Blackwell score, Martinez struck again on a 30-yard touchdown reception from George Mayen to tie the score at 18-18.

Blackwell re-captured the lead on a 62-yard fake reverse to lead 24-18, but Martinez answered the call again with a 42-yard touchdown run. Donnie Waters then booted the only extra points of the game for the final winning margin of 26-24.

The victory raised Paint Creek's record to 2-2, while Blackwell fell to 2-2. The Pirates take on Cherokee this Friday at 5 p.m. in May.

Touchdown

Kelland Riley gets free in the end zone just before he caught a 4-yard touchdown pass for the Indians' second score against Anson Friday night.

Steers maul Miami to keep slate clear

Mark Brown scored six touchdowns and passed for another as unbeaten and ninth-ranked Rochester won its fourth consecutive game Friday night with a 48-6 victory over the Miami Warriors.

Brown began the scoring with a 35-yard run to stake the Steers to an early 6-0 lead. After Miami came back to tie the score, Brown ran 47 yards for another score. Felix Flore's extra point kick gave the Steers a 14-6 lead.

In the second period, Brown ran 53 yards for one score and passed 30 yards to Brandon Kelly for another.

In the third period, Brown scored on a 22-yard pass from Shannon King and again on a 20-yard aerial from King to Kelly. Brown got the final touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 13-yard run.

For the night, Brown carried the ball 17 times and gained 221 yards. Kyle Hollingsworth gained 92 yards on 12 carries.

Brown also was the leading tackler for the Steers with 11 tackles. Sam Gonzales had 10 tackles. This Friday, Rochester will play Iredel at a neutral site in Moran.

PHARMACY NEWS

Food As Medicine: Phytochemicals—active compounds found in fruits, vegetables, grains, and herbs—can help to prevent certain diseases. For example, garlic can decrease cholesterol levels and increase immunity, while licorice root protects against breast cancer and possibly ulcers. Oranges contain ascorbic acid, beta carotene (which may fight off lung cancer), and flavonoids (which could help to remove lead from children's blood). Cranberry juice can prevent and treat urinary tract infections, and active-culture yogurt can prevent yeast infections.

--Haskell Nursing Center--

By Terrie McGhee

The 24 Karat planned a Mini Fair for Wednesday, Sept. 22, from 2 to 4 p.m.

We had a big turnout for the occasion. Residents, employees and employees' family members displayed crafts for all to see. The residents had made their crafts at craft classes in Haskell Nursing Center.

The first-place winner of the residents' division was Alvin Koonce. Lector Thomason won second place.

Some crafts were displayed that residents had made before entering the care facility.

Fadua Salman won a first-place ribbon for her cutwork table cloth and Maude Williams won second place for her butterfly quilt.

The employee division winners were Virginia Wright, first place for an afghan, and Betty L. Hearn, second place for a painting.

Youth division winners were Katy Martin, first place with a cross-stitch picture; and Selina Ruth Salinas, second place for her two-piece dress.

The baked goods that were entered came from the employees of Haskell Nursing Center. Winners were Theda Carpenter, first place for a yellow Neiman-Marcus cake, and Amy Sorrells, first place for a dietetic cake. Janis Payne won second for a turtle cake and Esther Chavez won second for a Dr. Pepper pound cake.

Judges were Buddy and Linda

Tibbets of Rule, Louise Chambers of Rochester and Marie McCain of Haskell. The judges did a wonderful job and we thank them.

We would like to thank Phillip Martin for making the pretty prize buttons for the winners and also the judges' buttons.

After the judging, everyone enjoyed eating all the "goodies." It was like Christmas in September. This is 24 karat's slogan to "Create Magical Moments."
