

Mr. Muleshoe . . .

By J. M. FORBES

Murrell Brown clipped this out of his copy of "The Panhandle," hardware and implement publication:

The Government Is My Shepherd, I Need Not Work

The Government is my shepherd, I need not work. It allurs me to lie down on good jobs; it leadeth me beside still factories; it destroyeth mine initiative; it leadeth me in the paths of a parasite for politics' sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of laziness and deficit spending I will say no evil; for the Government is with me. Its doles and its votegetters, they comfort me. It prepareth an economic Utopia for me by appropriating the earnings of my own grandchildren. It filleth my head with false security; my inefficiency runneth over it on the heap, no evil shall care for me all the days of my life, and I shall dwell in a fool's paradise forever. — Grace Church Bulletin.

E. K. Angeley: Muleshoe is a young town, few realize just how young. Why, when I came here 25 years ago, I could have loaded everything there was in Muleshoe onto my truck and hauled it away in one load.

Bud Holdeman: Well, I remember when you had to open three gates to get out of town on your way to Sudan.

The shades of night were falling fast. I picked up the last piece of debris as I cleaned my yard, tossed it on the heap, noticed an unkempt person coming toward me at an unseemly pace, but started on in the house to prepare to eat my mush and sweet milk. The interview could not be avoided for the man called my name.

He leaned on my fence and began a recital of a long list of things that had happened to him called hard luck. He could have paraded a dollar from any man he met downtown but he walked clear out to my place to get one from me because he worked at the newspaper and magazine business in the early days, he said, and apparently to get help from one in your own profession will not cause you to lose face.

He wore a white Van Dyke beard and the whiskers on the rest of his face had not been trimmed in weeks. He was pretty dirty, his clothes were pretty ragged and you could tell he hadn't had time to even to sleep in quite a while. He said he was 62. I took his sack of Duke's, rolled me a cigarette and smoked it while I listened to his story. He wasn't bitter about it, just told it to pass the time, and all the while he was wondering whether our local cops would let him sleep in the city hall or the county jail.

But this is no preaching. However, as he walked away in ankle deep sand in the gathering gloom I could not refrain from repeating the classic line the fellow wrote: "There, but for the Grace of God, go I." This old boy, no doubt, once had a good job, maybe a family and a home to go to and clean clothes and a pack of pavement cigarettes in his pocket and a fresh shave; doggone if he hasn't punished himself I don't know who has.

Under House Bill No. 208, introduced in the Texas House of Representatives at this session by Rep. C. W. Wood, all advertising in newspapers by chiropractors would cease and stop. It just plainly outlaws advertising. If, says my Press Association, if the chiro can outlaw advertising, so can the plumbers, the butchers, the grocers, the druggists. And then, all would have the nicest opportunity we ever heard of for a complete monopoly. Of course not only would it be prohibited to advertise in papers, it would be agin' the law to advertise in any way, except for a professional directory or professional announcement. But representatives have to keep busy at something—they can't just go down to Austin and hold their hands.

Maybe It Wasn't A Blizzard That Struck Tuesday

You may not have called it a "blizzard," but had you been a cowboy out on his cayuse working a herd of cattle on Tuesday of this week, you may have used the term. Snow was falling and fierce wind was blowing straight out of the north, and although R. J. Klump's thermometer said "way above zero, most everyone thought it was 'way below.

Muleshoe got 4 inches of snow out of the storm. It was fairly wet and the moisture amounted to .33 of an inch, Mr. Klump said.

The low recorded Tuesday was 16 above, the high 24. The Saturday high was 81, Sunday 69, and Monday 71. That is why, when the norther hit about 7 o'clock Monday evening it seemed to get much colder than the thermometer showed. It was colder Wednesday morning, but, since the citizens had got used to it, and since the wind was not blowing, they thought it warmer. Low for Wednesday morning was 13.

Speech Class To Present Their Play, "Spider Island" On February 22, 23

By MISS RUBY GRIFFIN
Speech Instructor

When you noticed the headlines of this article you learned the name and producers of our spring production. Your next thoughts probably are: Time, place, cast, and cost. The time: 7:30 p. m., Thursday, Feb. 22 and Friday, Feb. 23. The place: Muleshoe High School Auditorium. The cost: 25c for children and 50c for adults. There will be no reserved seats; therefore, if you come early you shall have a choice seat. The price is reasonable in order that you may bring the whole family. We guarantee a full evening of fun and more than your money's worth. However, you, yourself shall be the final judge.

The cast is made up of six girls, all the roles are extremely important, and there is not a star part in the play. The character of Salem Mayo, a stern New England spinster, will be portrayed by Betty Dalton; while Jon Ann Thompson will be Abbie, her somewhat piliated sister. Star, their niece, is Jeanne Clem; while Betty Mooneyham will be Patsy, her wise-cracking girl friend. Dulle, the hired girl, is Leatrice Martin, and the cast is completed by Nell Jacobs, who enacts the role of "Old Meg," a strange, half mad crone.

Rehearsals have been underway for sometime. Should you happen to be entering the auditorium during the regular speech class you would probably be startled at seeing two old women chasing each other with an ax, or be frozen by a blood-curdling scream or half dazed at the awful ole crone and her evil ways and appearance. You would also hear laughter and be amused yourself when some actress misses her cue or gets her "tongue tangled up" trying to express difficult action and words all at once.

Francis Winberley is our costume manager and is overseeing the job of making three costumes suggestive of the early nineteenth century. Road Johnson and Bruce Simnacher are the stage managers and are in charge of repairing, rebuilding, painting, designing and setting up the set. You should hear those hammers bang and watch the paint brush fly.

For publicity managers we have Jimmy Thomas and Howard Watson. Watch for our posters and advertisements. Listen for them on the radio, too.

The house managers will be Rosemary Stinson and Joyce Spivey. They are responsible for the tickets and will greet you when you come to the play.

Make-up will be under the management of Minnie Ola Cox and Janice Grimsley. That will be a treat for you. The play takes place in an old abandoned light house on an island named Spider Island. The things which take place there will thrill, chill, and all but kill you.

February 22 is Washington's birthday and the story is rumored that during his life he chopped down a cherry tree with a "hatchett." Well! Why don't you come see what Abbie and Salem Mayo chop down with an ax?

The entire production is under the direction of Miss Griffin. Every student in the speech class has an important part in the presentation. Our purpose in presenting to our community a play of this type is to give you wholesome entertainment at a reasonable price, to broaden our experiences and to build up the speech department in your school if your children.

Everyone is invited.

Funeral services for Mrs. Cora Vinson, 69, resident of Bailey County for 22 years, were held in the Church of Christ Sunday, Feb. 11, at 3 p. m., with Ebb Randol, minister, officiating. Burial was in the Muleshoe Cemetery under the direction of the Muleshoe Funeral Home.

Mrs. Vinson died at the Green Hospital and Clinic Friday, Feb. 9, at 9 p. m. She was born Nov. 12, 1881 in Stone County, Arkansas. Before her marriage she was Cora McIntyre.

Survivors are: three sons, Martin L. Vinson, William M. Vinson, and Vernon Vinson, all of Muleshoe; two daughters, Mrs. Ira H. Thomas, Muleshoe, and Mrs. Bessie V. May, Portland, Oregon; four brothers, Cliff McIntyre, Norman, Okla., John McIntyre, Oklahoma City, Cleve McIntyre, Mt. View, Arkansas, and Clint McIntyre, Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. Dave Humphries, Texico, N. M., and Mrs. Daisy Vickers, Arkansas, and 16 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held by Tye Young, Boone Allison, Gene Guiley, Davis Guiley, Willie Herrington and Roy Thomas.

Ed White Tells Club About Voc. Ag. Instruction

Ed White, vocational agriculture instructor in Muleshoe high school, told the Rotary Club members at their meeting Tuesday of the aims and objects of this instruction and the aims and purposes of their side organization, the Future Farmers of America. Mr. White and G. S. Dowell, the other instructor, have a large group of boys, both farm and town boys, in their classes.

Vocational agriculture, he said, intends to teach boys skills in agriculture, such as handling and caring for livestock or poultry, selecting seeds, cultivating crops and so forth. It does not attempt to teach him to plow, since his father likely knows more about plowing than the instructor himself.

But, he said, it is desired that the boy learn something about what animals live on, the starches, sugar, fats, proteins, etc., which go into his development.

At the same time the Voc. Ag. boy is instructed as to the composition of a plant, what makes it grow, where it gets its elements. He outlined a very comprehensive course of instruction for these boys.

Then Mr. White explained the "Thrift Bank," which was started in 1947. The boys pay in anything they can to the fund and are then allowed to borrow ten times the amount from the fund for any purpose connected with his project. Right now the fund has more than $1,000 loaned out to students, many of whom have been able to carry out a feeding or crop program by reason of a loan from the fund.

D. L. Morrison introduced the speaker. Myron Pool reported that the Salvation Army setup is now working in Muleshoe with himself, R. Q. Casey, and Dr. B. R. Putman on the directing committee. One case already has been attended to by this committee. He said that since Muleshoe people have learned that the money they give is deposited in Muleshoe State Bank and is to be spent here, they have increased their average weekly donations from $26 to $42.

Arnold Morris was appointed chairman of a committee to nominate officers and directors for the coming year. A report will be made at the first meeting in March. Others on the committee are J. M. Forbes, Chief Jones, Herb Covin, and Bud Holton. New officers and directors take over in July.

The Rotary Club has been receiving letters from other clubs all over the world since its organization. Ray Keeling named Forbes, Bob Gregory, and Pool to work out form letters, including statistics about the Muleshoe country, to mail to these other clubs which have manifest a friendship and interest for the local club.

BRANNAN—IT IS

"Just think! When the Brannan plan gets going we can make money eatin' our own butter. Haul it to town, sell it at a loss, buy it back cheap, and get paid by the government for the trip," says Fox-tail Johnson in Arizona Farmer.

Girls' Co-Captains

Five Muleshoe Boys Training At Great Lakes

Five Muleshoe men, including one seaman and four seaman recruits, are undergoing recruit training at the world's largest Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The seaman, USN, is John A. Benson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Benson of 1211 West Seventh.

The seaman recruits, USN, are: Samuel A. Richards, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Richards of American Boulevard; LeRoy N. Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Hawkins of Route 1; Rex E. Briscoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Briscoe of Route 1; and William O. Stinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Stinson of Route 2.

Recruit training is the sharp break between civilian and Naval life in which the new Navy men learn the fundamental principles of the Naval service.

In the course of their training the recruits are taught seamanship, Navy customs, terms, basic ordnance, gunnery, signaling and navigation.

Upon completion of their training the recruits are assigned either to units of the Fleet or to a service school for specialized training.

Cooper Feeding Out Many Fryers

A large scale chicken growing operation is underway at Muleshoe. Mr. Cooper, who lives about a half mile north of the Muleshoe Gin usually has on hand around 2,500 frying size chickens.

Mr. Cooper puts in a full day at the Charles Lenu Lumber yard but finds plenty of time to take care of his flock of chickens.

It isn't much trouble the way he has his plant arranged, he says. There are electric brooders for the little ones and the older ones are automatically fed and watered and he doesn't have to spend too much time and work on that chore. He buys most of his chickens locally.

219 Motor Vehicle Licenses Sold

Bill Boothe, deputy tax assessor-collector, announced Tuesday afternoon that 219 new motor vehicle license plates for 1951 had been sold by that office. Registration is expected to reach approximately 3,700 before the year is over.

Of the licenses sold, 143 were for automobiles, 21 commercial vehicles and 55 for farm trucks. Deadline for new licenses to be on vehicles is April 1.

Man Blind For 18 Years Will Speak Here Next Monday

George Campbell, the man who was blind from birth until he reached the age of 18, will address a convocation in the senior high school and at noon in the junior high school auditorium. His return engagement here is being sponsored by the Muleshoe Lions Club.

Mr. Campbell last Wednesday made two appearances here. He addressed a convocation in the senior high school and at noon talked before the Lions Club.

His tour of the Panhandle and Plains is being sponsored by the South Plains Optometric Society, represented here by Dr. B. R. Putman.

Mr. Campbell lives in Amarillo. He titles his address "Out of the Shadows." His blindness was caused by congenital cataracts and four operations were necessary to give him eyesight. He now sees normally with the aid of extra heavy lenses.

His descriptions of his experiences are extremely interesting, say those who have heard him. And the Lions are very anxious to have as many of the parents, in addition to the teachers and pupils to hear him as possible.

Odessa and Pampa Odd Fellows Crack Drill Teams Compete Here Saturday

Pampa and Odessa Odd Fellows crack drill teams will compete for West Texas honors when they meet in Muleshoe the coming Saturday night. The meeting will be held at the American Legion Home in order to accommodate more spectators.

A. P. Lambert, noble grand of the Muleshoe Lodge, said the lodge feels honored to have this contest conducted here. The team which wins the forthcoming contest will be eligible to compete at the grand lodge against a team representing south and east Texas.

Muleshoe Lodge's drill team recently was eliminated by Pampa, which made a 983 score out of a possible 1,000. Muleshoe's team had a nice 925 score.

Members of many surrounding lodges will be guests of the local lodge that night, Mr. Lambert said. He said Odd Fellows will have an unusual opportunity to see the initiatory degree drill teams of such high standing to contest each other.

The local lodge will serve a meal during the meeting.

Persons will see Mr. Tambo and Bones playing clown, two of the endmen portrayed by Ernest Kerr and Tootie Middlebrook. Other endmen will be Handsome Harry Linderer, Bashful Buddy Blackman, Henpecked H. G. Burchett, Cassinova Carroll Howell, Belligerent Bennie Chapman, and Captivating Connie Gupton. Roy Howard will be interlocuter.

Banjo picking John Fried will be on hand for several numbers that are old favorites to all. Banging

An implacable enemy of the people of this city has invaded Muleshoe with what is apparently a "test force in considerable strength." It is an enemy that, while he has received setbacks, has yet to taste total defeat.

And while this enemy has invaded our fair city and has notified us of his presence by his unseemly, ribald, insolent, sarcastic cries, the men of Muleshoe have not as yet raised a hand to repel him.

Starlings is the name by which this bird has come to be known and it is a name to put fear into the minds of city dwellers. In the north and east, whole cities have felt the weight of thousands of starlings, and though thousands have been killed and scared away, other thousands from some vast bird population reservoir take their place.

They are a nuisance and even a menace. Public buildings in some cities are infested with them and dynamite explosions, scarecrows in the form of stuffed owls, shotgun blasts, and many other devices have scared them for a few hours but countless starlings always return. Most people have read the article in Reader's Digest a month or so ago detailing the cities' battle against starlings.

County Agent J. K. Adams suggests that many men with shotguns might gather about the courthouse square and blast away at these invaders. They have a regular party in the trees on the courthouse lawn every day and every night. The bird is a sickly blue, rather large, about as large as a dove, and the cry he utters is enough to give a very calm man a case of jitters.

Have you even observed this implacable, determined enemy?

Rites At Enochs For Ernest Harry

Funeral services for Ernest Harry, 58, Enochs resident for 20 years, who died in his home late Thursday, were conducted in First Baptist Church at Enochs at 2 p. m. Sunday.

Harry had been a farmer in the community since he moved from Brownwood in 1931.

Surviving Harry are his wife, Mrs. Ernest Harry of Lubbock; four daughters, Mrs. Howard Harvey, Enochs, and Sallie, Betty and Carol, all students of Texas Tech and residents of Enochs; and a son, Loyd, Sulphur Bluff.

Burial was in the Enochs cemetery under direction of Hammons Funeral Home.

Members of many surrounding lodges will be guests of the local lodge that night, Mr. Lambert said. He said Odd Fellows will have an unusual opportunity to see the initiatory degree drill teams of such high standing to contest each other.

The local lodge will serve a meal during the meeting.

Colorful JayCee "Minstrels of 1951" To Be Presented Tomorrow Night

Bill Don Barbour will be beating Negro rhythm out of the piano for the night and Bob Gray and several of his band will furnish music for the minstrel show parade.

A quartet composed of Tye Young, David Weyer, Willis Farrell, and Bob Harvey will render several selections of Negro spirituals and singing, dancing, jokes, and numerous other specialties. This is a preview of part of the hour and one-half show that is being planned.

All male members of the minstrel will be dressed in colorful costumes and will sport frock-tail coats, high hats, and class trousers. The girls in the show will be dressed strictly according to the best styles in Harlem.

Rehearsals are in the last stage tonight and a full dress rehearsal will be held Thursday afternoon at the high school auditorium. Prices are $1.00 for adults and 50c for school children. Tickets are on sale from any JayCee member or the Cross Roads Cafe, Western Drug, City Cleaners, and Waggoner Grocery and Market. All proceeds will be used by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in their civic improvement projects.

Babson Discusses

DOLLARS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 9.—There is no more certain way of wrecking our economy and our democracy than by allowing the value of our dollar to continue to decline. Many are finding it extremely difficult today to make ends meet with a fifty-seven cent dollar in this most prosperous era America has ever known.

Inflation Marches On

In 1940, a friend of mine got an air mail letter from Greece. The amount of postage on the envelope was 30 drachmas or about sixty-five cents. Just the other day, he received an air mail letter of the same weight from Athens. He counted the postage—323 times as much as it took in 1940! How would you like to hold life insurance policies in an Athenian company, or to have bought Greek Government bonds in 1940? Both are being paid as they come due; but in almost worthless money.

It can't happen here? It already has happened. By the time you get around to cash your 1953 Series E bonds which you bought in 1943, you will have lost an appreciable amount of money in terms of what your dollars can buy. It already takes twice as many dollars as in 1940 to buy the average car. Food costs are up over 100 per cent; clothing costs by about 95 per cent; and rent costs by about 20 per cent. Almost anything you can name has spiraled since Korea. The Air Force alone reports that the decline in the dollar has eaten out of its budget seven hundred and fifty jet fighters.

Some Causes of Dollar Decline

Management blames the decline of the dollar on wage raises. The wage earner blames management for price hiking in a seller's market. Both groups are at fault. But the real difficulty lies with the fact that the production of goods is not keeping up with the demand. The Bureau of Labor Statistics reveals an average hourly pay rise in the manufacturing industries from a low of $1.00 in 1946 to $1.50 in 1950, or 50 per cent. During the same time, the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Index rose 36.9 per cent. This meant an average hourly increase of around 10 per cent in actual purchasing power of workers.

From 1946 to 1950, corporate profits rose, before taxes, from 23.6 billion to around 37 billion in 1950, or an approximate 57 per cent increase. After paying taxes, however, 1946 corporate gains were 13.6 billion, and rose to 21.5 billion in 1950, and compare fairly well with the increase in wages and prices. This is a good illustration of the law of supply and demand—action and reaction—which ultimately takes care of unbalances. The desire of all of us for more play and less work is the real cause of our declining dollar. The Korean war simply brought our precarious economic status into sharper focus.

More Controls Coming

I hate the idea of more government in business. I always will be vigorously opposed to unnecessary government controls. We can no more control inflation voluntarily with our present Government in a wartime economy than we can raise a ten million man army voluntarily. It is, therefore, with reluctance that I have come to the conclusion that the only cure for inflation is through stringent regimentation of our economy—but only for as long as war lasts.

This means stiff taxes and a big reduction of all expenditures not required by the war preparations, in order to put the war on a pay-as-you-go basis. It means prices, wages, and profits must be controlled. It means an end to all subsidies to farmers, laborers, and businessmen. It means unloading the billions of dollars of farm inventories now stockpiled by the Government. It means a drastic reduction in the heavily overloaded executive branch of the Government. It means all-out mobilization, not a piecemeal mobilization which encourages inflation. Unless we immediately take these drastic steps, unpleasant as they may be, our dollar may become worth only twenty-five cents.

Sand Hills Philosopher Wants To Borrow Some Money If He Can Get Same Terms England Is Getting

Editor's Note: The Sand Hills Philosopher, on his Johnson grass farm, has caused a little comment, and we asked him for his picture, which we wish we hadn't done. But since he sent it along, we're publishing it with his letter, which this week incidentally reveals a considerable ignorance of international finance.

Dear editor:
I read in a copy of the Amarillo News which I got in town Saturday because it was wrapped around the shoes I had half-soleed where England some time ago negotiated a loan from the United States and the terms was so interesting to me I have been wondering why we can't have some bankin like that down here in Bailey County.

As I understand it, the United States is loanin Great Britain four billion dollars and won't no interest start un-til 1951 and when it does start it will be 2 percent, with the provision that England can ignore the interest if her exports fall below sixty per cent of what they was immediately before the last war started.

Now there's a system of bankin which I admire and I would like to know why Banker Osborn and Banker Casey don't get their bankin principles up on the international level and really do some business.

If the bank will loan me money without no interest until 1952 and none then if my farm don't produce sixty per cent of what it did before the war, and I figure I can arrange to keep production down to that figure without no effort at all to speak of, there ain't no tellin how far I could go or how much business the bank could do with me.

I understand the United States is makin this loan because it is worried about England goin under and the same thing would apply in my case. I could meet them terms satisfactorily. But it is my opinion England ain't in no serious danger as long as there is Englishmen left smart enough to negotiate their kinds of loans.

If you know of any bank in this area dealin in international loans I will appreciate you lettin me know as soon as possible and I hope I get there before the money is all gone.

Yours faithfully,
"J. A."

BENCH LEVELING WORK BEING DONE ON JESS OSBORN FARM

Frigid weather put an abrupt halt to the bench leveling project on the Jess Osborn farm, near Lariat, SCS Supervisor Bill Kennedy, of the Friona office, reported Monday, adding that work was scheduled to be resumed that same day. One of the newest things in irrigation practices, this is the first of such projects to be conducted in Parmer County, and is drawing considerable attention from other farmers of the area who have begun to rely on their wells rather than on Nature for water necessary to produce a crop. Wallace & Byrd, of Hereford, hold the contract for the dirt-removing work, Kennedy said, and the project is expected to be completed in a few days, providing the weather holds good.—State Line Tribune.

White City, in San Augustine County, was originally a lumber camp, so called because of the white tents which housed the employes.

Osborn Addresses Large Crowd At REA Meeting

Survival Under Atomic Attack . . .

We continue this week to print excerpts from the official pamphlet, "Survival Under Atomic Attack." The booklet is available from the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C., at 10c per copy.

What About Radioactivity in the House?

A few simple steps will go a long way toward keeping your house from being contaminated by lingering radioactive waves scattered about in some bombings. As a rule, it is far easier to prevent radioactive pollution of a household than it is to remove it.

Keep all windows and doors closed for at least several hours after an atomic bombing. In fact, better leave them shut until civil defense authorities pass the word that there is no lingering radioactivity in your neighborhood.

Should you get an official report that there is serious contamination in the vicinity, better cover all broken windows with blankets or cardboard.

Whenever there is widespread neighborhood pollution, it will be impossible to keep your house absolutely free of it. A little is bound to seep in through cracks or else down the chimney. (By all means close the dampers in fireplace flues and shut off air conditioners and ventilating fans not equipped with special filters.) Unless you are careful, some radioactivity is likely to be tracked in by people or pets. Keep your cat or dog indoors. And when you come in from the outside, leave your shoes at the door, for their soles are likely to be covered with radioactive dusts. Better still, wear rubbers, galoshes or other disposable foot coverings over your shoes. Take precautions, but don't worry. There isn't much chance really dangerous amounts will pile up in the house.

Should you help to clean up a contaminated area, you might get some radioactive materials on both your body and clothing. So don't go home and sit around in your work clothes. Take off your outer garments outdoors or in the basement. Then wash, if you can, using warm water and plenty of soap. Never fail to launder your working clothes, but don't use the family washing machine. Scrub all contaminated objects in buckets or tubs used for that purpose only.

What About Food and Water?

To prevent harm from accidentally eating or drinking radioactivity, throw out all unpackaged foods that were lying around where dust from ground bursts or mist from underwater bursts might have settled on them. And before opening canned or bottled goods, wash the outside of the containers thoroughly. That will remove most of the pollution that may have gotten on them. Also be sure that all cooking utensils and tableware are scrubbed clean in order to remove any invisible, radioactive dusts. Food and utensils that were in closed drawers or tight cupboards will be all right.

If it was an air burst, don't worry about the food in the house. It will be safe to use.

Be careful of drinking water after atomic explosions. There is little or no chance that water actually inside household pipes at the time of attack will be made radioactive. If a little is drawn off right after the burst and placed in clean containers with covers, it should tide you over the immediate post-raid period.

But even if the water continues running, don't keep on using tap water for drinking purposes unless you have received official information that the city system is safe. This is not only because of radioactivity, but because of other dangers like typhoid that can come from damaged water systems. If you have to use city water before you get official information, boil it. Boiling won't remove radioactivity, but the chances that your water supply will be radioactive are pretty slim. Boiling will kill most germs that may get into damaged water mains.

Bailey Co. Sent 42 Persons To Pen Since 1928

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 13.—Bailey County's commitments for 1949 to the Texas Prison System of six persons was the highest in one year since 1928, which is as far back as the record goes for this information. There were three persons sent to prison in 1950, and the second highest figure was in 1940 when four were committed.

This was revealed by Dr. Rupert Koeninger, director of classification at the prison and head of the sociology department at Sam Houston State Teachers College. His advanced students aided in the survey.

Total for the county since 1928 is 42.

Cities Continue To Commit More To Texas Penitentiary Than Rural Areas

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 13.—Texas city areas continue to send more people to prison than smaller towns and rural areas.

In 1950, more than half the new convicts sent to the State Prison system came from only eleven of the state's 254 counties. These counties represent about forty per cent of the state's population.

These figures were revealed recently by Dr. Rupert Koeninger, director of classification of the Texas Prison system. He was assisted in the 23-year study by sociology students from Sam Houston State Teachers college who take course work inside prison walls under his direction.

In order of the most number of commitments, the eleven counties were Harris, Dallas, Bexar, Tarrant, El Paso, Hidalgo, Travis, Lubbock, Jefferson, Nueces and Wichita.

They furnished 1,505 of the 2,995 prisoners committed during 1950, or 50.25 per cent of them. Based on 1949 population estimates, the 11 counties had a total population of 2,845,000, which was 39.35 per cent of the estimated state population of 7,230,000.

Lubbock and Nueces counties, on opposite ends of the state, were new-comers among the "few" counties which furnish the bulk of the state's convicts. All the others had consistently been in the group, although Travis county had not since 1947. Dropped from the 1949 "big commitment" list were Smith and Cameron counties. Cameron county did rank fifteenth, however.

The rank order of counties in number of commitments did change somewhat when Hidalgo county sent its fewest number of convicts in one year since 1945 and Tarrant county best recent previous records in number of commitments. El Paso county has dropped from third place in 1948 thru fourth for 1949 to its fifth position for 1950.

Big Four Cities Lead

Thus, for the first time in recent years, the 1950 number of commitments were less than in 1949, the State's highest year.

Harris county with its 418 commitments leads the state for at least the 23rd consecutive time (the compilations go back to 1928), and sent the biggest number from any one county in one year in history. However, there were only six more commitments than in 1948.

League Bars Sudan High From Grid Competition For The 1951 Season

(From Sudan Beacon)

The Sudan Hornets, co-champions of District 3-B in 1950, were ruled ineligible for football competition in the State of Texas during the 1951 season by the State High School Interscholastic League at a meeting in Austin Wednesday afternoon, according to a news release received in Amarillo and telephoned to Coach Francis Smith here about 7:30 p. m. last night.

The drastic action taken by the League, according to the best information available at this time, is the result of a protest of a game played with Olton last season in which the Hornets upset the favored Bobcats. The board charged Sudan with recruiting ineligible players and according to best information had reference to Alton Atkinson, star Hornet tackle, who has been a student in the Sudan schools since childhood. His parents moved to Mineral Wells in January of 1949 and the outstanding lad chose to remain in Sudan to finish his high school education.

The other player in question was "Toby" Smith, Sudan star tackle who also has been a student in Sudan for four years. His parents moved to Olton in December of 1948, and he, too, decided to work in Sudan and complete his studies. It was due to the fact that these boys parents are now living in other communities that the "allegation" of soliciting players was preferred against the Sudan school. A charge against the Sudan school of submitting false evidence was also included in the charges which caused the board to ban Sudan from the football contests.

Complete information and detailed information about the ruling by the board will not be available until the return of Superintendent A. Dooley, who was in Austin for the meeting.

Smith Says Hornets Will Play Coach Francis Smith told the Beacon last night that regardless of the interscholastic ruling, that Sudan would play football next fall, and will have a full schedule. Said Smith, "We will be eligible to play any club in our neighboring states; the boys want to play, and we are going to play, and win, as we have in the past."

Not Eligible At Other Schools

The Hornets will have next fall eight first string returning lettermen who will be seniors, and there was little doubt in the minds of most sports observers that Sudan was a strong contender for the State Championship in the "A" class.

Several of the boys were in line for "scholarships" and Coach Smith said that the ruling by the board would not hamper the chances of getting these "scholarships." The people of Sudan will see that our club is financed and we are going to have some good football games, both at home and on the road.

The eight juniors this year who will play their last season next year as seniors, all of whom are lettered this year, are Alton Atkinson, Toby Smith, Don Patterson, Monroe Fowler, Bennie Robinson, Raymond Humphries, Art Hogue, Kenneth Hays, and Bobby Lynch.

Other Sports Not Affected

Other sports in Sudan High School, according to Coach Smith, will not be affected by the ruling.

Fire Damages Church Monday

The Assembly of God Church was damaged by fire about 3:30 p. m. Monday afternoon. Considerable damage was done before it was brought under control by the Muleshoe Fire Department. The estimate of the loss had not been completed Wednesday.

The inside walls, ceiling and roof were the most badly burned. Some water damage resulted to the ceiling and other parts of the building, as part of the ceiling had to be torn down before the fire could be reached.

The fire is believed to have started between partition walls and spread into the ceiling.

New Cotton Oil Mill For Lubbock

Plans for construction at Lubbock of a new cottonseed oil mill—a solvent extraction plant of 360 tons daily capacity—has been announced by Western Cottonoil, subsidiary of Anderson-Clayton & Co. of Houston.

The new plant, expected to be ready for operation by October 1, will be located on the 450-acre site recently purchased by the company just off the Slaton highway south of Lubbock.

Western Cottonoil maintains territorial headquarters at Abilene, and said the new Lubbock mill will be the fifth of its plants in operation on the South Plains. Mills in the area are currently operated at Brownfield, Littlefield, Plainview and Slaton. It is anticipated that the new mill will be ready for an expected giant cotton crop on the Plains this year.

Plans also include a formula feed plant, to handle both formula and bulk feeds, and cattle pens that will permit some research in feed and feeding.

"Haney," said the husband, "I'd be the happiest man in the world if you could bake bread like my mother used to bake."

"I know," his wife agreed, "thoroughly. But you know dear, you would make me the happiest woman alive if you could just make dough like my dad used to."

A MATTER OF PHILOSOPHY

Mark Twain, the great American humorist, was often a philosopher in disguise.

Once, asked by a group of young church people for advice on conduct, he penned on the back of a postcard:

"Always do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest."

Such statements as this one might give us reason to believe that Mark was a philosopher disguised as a humorist, instead of the other way around. But be that as it may, he did point up a situation which is undoubtedly true. Unfortunately, most people are astonished and even suspicious when somebody does what he ought to. They automatically start looking for the hook concealed in the bait.

The State Government of Texas has astonished a good many of its citizens since it met in January. Governor Shivers recognized in statesmanlike manner, that state expenditures cannot continue their flaring course in the face of the national emergency. Reuben Serriff, the Speaker of the House, had his committees ready to function when the Legislature convened, and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey quickly appointed his in the Senate. Then the Legislature buckled down to responsible work. One of its first acts was to postpone all "single-shot" appropriations until the major appropriations had been made, thus paving the way for a new era in state budgeting—and possibly taxation.

The Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker, and both houses of the Legislature have gratified many citizens of Texas by their actions. Let us hope that this encouraging trend continues. We look for the day when the people of our state will be gratified often and astonished rarely by our government in Austin.

Washington Man, Former Bailey County Cowboy, Tells His Early Day Experiences

In faraway Tacoma, Wash., a man who was one of our first cowboys has set himself down and has written a letter to The Journal, which makes mighty interesting reading. How he came to write the letter is best told by himself. We quote in full:

Feb. 7, 1951
The Muleshoe Journal
Muleshoe, Texas

Dear Sirs:

This letter will need a little explaining at the start.

Last week while fishing in Puget Sound off Tacoma Washington, I picked up a newspaper on the beach. It was the Muleshoe Journal, dated Oct. 19th, 1950, addressed to Jack Bates and here the story begins.

I was born and reared in Chicago. In the spring of 1900 when I was 17 years old I became very restless and to make a long story short, I landed in Amarillo with $25 and the idea of becoming a ranchman. I believe the population of Amarillo at that time was about 800. Nothing doing there I went to Canyon City, population even less and fell in with a freighter going roughly south. We stopped at the Yellow House division of the X-I-T ranch and the Spade ranch; no work at either but I finally found a job at the -N- ranch in Bailey County. It was a little ranch, only 50,000 acres. Julian Bassett owned it and Jay Walling was foreman.

In a short time I was riding my horses with the rest of them; could build a fair loop but never became proficient enough to be a "cutter" so at round-up time always worked at the fire. It as work too; 700 calves a day was about the average.

No Legal Residents in 1900.

In 1900 there was no legal residents in Bailey County; the ranch hands were a roving lot and most of them had never voted. Pat Garrett was very much alive and I believe, still sheriff of Lincoln County New Mexico. He killed Billy the Kid in 1883. Things were pretty orderly in Texas in 1900 but across the line in New Mexico George Musgrave, an outlaw was very much hunted in the Capitan Mts. Ever hear of him?

Untold thousands of antelope roamed Bailey County and we got one once in a while but it would take a long letter to tell how we did it. A horse with a saddle and a man on him is no match for an unencumbered antelope.

The ranchers were beginning to place Hereford bulls in the herds and some queer looking critters were appearing. There were longhorns with white faces and short-horns with longhorn faces but I imagine 95 per cent of the cattle were longhorns.

There was no feeding of our horses and cattle; either they lived or died as the seasons grew or did not grow the grass.

In 1900 I doubt if an acre of Bailey County had ever been plowed but in 1901 we put in 5 acres of kaffir corn as an experiment.

Our work and grub was very hard; the latter consisted of beans, salt pork, blackstrap, sourdough biscuits and coffee but we thrived on it. A lot of water has passed over the dam in these past 50 years but ever since when the grass turns green in the spring I think of 1900 and Bailey County Texas. Are the stars as bright at night today as they were then? Is there anyone there who remembers those days? The -N- ranch or the headquarters of the X-I-T at Yellow House Lake? Is Yellow House Lake still there, white and dazzling with alkali when the sun shines on it? Do the mirages still hang on the horizon in the summer heat? A thousand questions and memories flood my mind; someone write to me. I'd also appreciate a copy of the Journal, a recent one. With kindest regards,

Sincerely yours,
R. C. Dodge

MORE and BETTER COTTON

SEED TREATMENT helps turn thin stands . . .

into thriving yields

As a cotton planter, you can expect four-way benefits from one simple operation you can perform on your own farm, or have done for you. It consists of planting seed that has been treated with an organic mercury dust. Its results include:

1. Control of most of the seed rot or decay that reduces your stands before the seeds can sprout.
2. Control of seedling blight caused by bacteria in your soil or seeds that attack the tender seedlings.
3. Control of anthracnose or pink boll disease, another germ-caused ailment that results in smaller crops of poor-grade, spotty cotton.
4. Control of bacterial blight or angular leaf spot that kills your cotton plants or stunts their growth.

Experiment Station figures show yield increases of 5% to 40% as a result of seed treatment. This means up to $12 per acre added to your income. Cost of the chemical amounts to less than 10¢ per acre.

Those who recommend seed treatment stress the fact it should be correctly used—applied to the seed according to directions—and in the right amounts. The cotton planter has too much at stake, they say, to risk cutting corners on the use of less than recommended amounts, or skipping any steps of the fairly simple seed-treating process.

The treatment can be done by many ginners and delinters. Ask your County Agent about the value of seed treatment and where you can get this service in this vicinity.

National Future Farmer Week To Be Observed Feb. 17 Thru Feb. 24

Weldon Mason, Meadow, State President of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, has announced February 17-24 as National Future Farmer Week in Texas.

The Future Farmers "believe in the Future of Farming and in the ability of our organized farm youth to improve the conditions of our Texas farms and raise the standard of living." This is a part of their creed, and means to them what your job, or earning your living, means to you.

The major purposes of the Future Farmers of America organization are to develop leadership, encourage cooperation, promote good citizenship, teach sound methods of farming and inspire patriotism among the members.

Through their intensive courses in Vocational Agriculture taught in the various high schools, and under the sponsorship of the Texas Education Agency, these members of the FFA perform valuable community services and provide important leadership in developing our agricultural economy and in building a better state.

Among other things, members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in a public meeting, to speak in public; to buy and sell cooperatively; to solve their own problems; to finance themselves; and to assume civic responsibility. The FFA is 100 per cent American in its ideals and outlook, and has no outside affiliations. There is no secrecy in connection with any of its activities.

Courses in vocational agriculture under the National Vocational Education Act were first established in the United States in 1917. From the very beginning the boys who were enrolled in these courses in the various states felt a spirit of comradeship due to their background of country life and their desires with a regard to farming as a vocation.

At present one-tenth of the National membership of FFA is made up of Texans. There are 32,000 Texas Future Farmers at present, the outsider, whether President of the United States or traveling salesman, when the mood and measure of this community is desired, the place to go for the information is the office of the home town newspaper.

and 798 Future Chapters in our State.

What Becomes of Members?

Study the product of an organization to determine its effectiveness. Is the FFA actually training for rural and agricultural leadership? To answer this question one has only to observe and review the records of outstanding members who are making good as young farmer-leaders in their home communities. Thousands also have passed on into the ranks of the Grange, Farm Bureau and Farmers Union, as well as other agricultural and civic organizations, there to accept and to fill creditably places of trust and ties where FFA Chapters are located. Observe the interest and achievements of FFA members in improving the communities in which they reside. The FFA is developing a trained leadership and a farm citizenry which serves and exerts an influence for good wherever found.

WHAT IS A NEWSPAPER?

By WILLIAM R. NELSON

Every American old enough to read is familiar with the home town newspaper. Yet, how much do the readers know about it?

How well do they understand its problems and actions; its place in their lives, in the community, state and nation? Just what is a home town newspaper?

Dictionaries have varied definitions of "newspaper," but none contains the full meaning of the word. Even journalism's "Hall of Fame" editors have given widely different definitions of what we in the United States call newspapers.

Services Are Varied

A home town newspaper, such as this one, is so many things, all of them important, that it cannot be defined in a few words. It is similar but still unlike every other business, profession, and institution in the community. Yet, its services are so numerous and varied that it is a vital part of all of the others. And more, too.

The local newspaper is a mirror of its community; a clearing house for ideas; a library of local information; a market place; a sentry constantly watching over civic and official affairs; and a partnership in which the owners, the advertisers, the readers and the community all have interests. In addition, it is a manufacturing plant for production of printed matter.

Unlike a food store, it cannot feed its community's people. But its advertising columns can nurture the food store.

It cannot render banking service, but newspapers have been banks' best protection against the damage misinformation or misguided interference might cause.

Tasks To Perform

This newspaper does not practice medicine, but it can play a vital part in preventing disease or the spread of epidemics. It is not a lawyer or a court, but it can prevent or correct injustice.

Neither the publisher, nor the members of the paper's staff will claim superior status in the community. They admit only that the paper tries to do its job. But to

LET REDDY'S ELECTRIC RANGE BE THE HEART OF YOUR KITCHEN

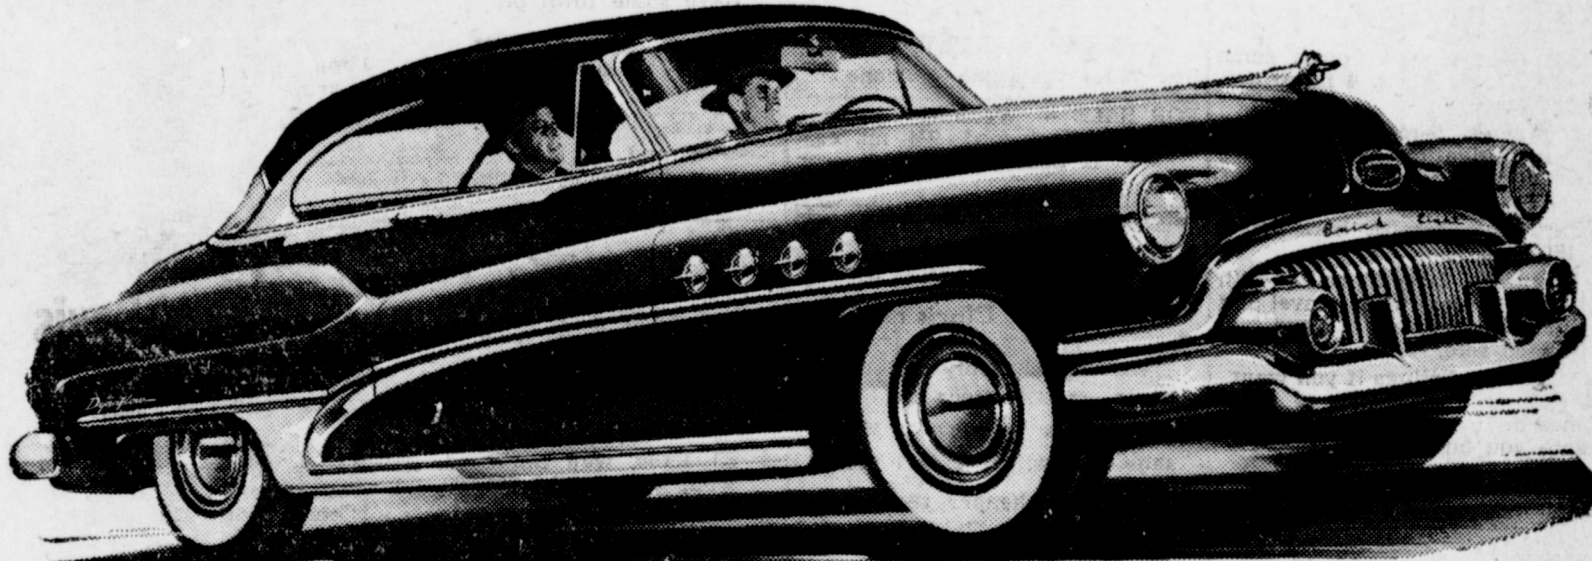

... and Valentine's Day will be every gay, all day. Reddy and his electric range takes the cook (that's you) out of cooking . . . keeps you fresh looking no matter how many meals you prepare. You see, there's no unwanted heat escaping from an electric range. All heat created by the high speed electric elements is transmitted directly to the pots and pans by three scientific means of heat transfer. The food alone cooks when you cook electrically . . . and you stay cool and fresh . . . always at your best. If you're not now cooking electrically, start now, like so many Panhandle-Plains-Eastern New Mexico, Pecos Valley women already have done.

What's its Power?

FIREBALL!

(Only Buick can make this statement)

BEND an ear to the deep baritone song of this marvel motor, and you'll know we aren't fooling when we call it Fireball.

What happens beneath that brawny Buick bonnet happens in no other car in the world.

Years ahead of the rush to high-compression valve-in-head engines, Buick was in there pitching for more power from every drop of fuel.

The result: a spectacular engineering phenomenon you feel the instant you touch toe to gas treadle. A rapid-fire sequence of tiny tornados, let loose their pent-up power every five inches a Buick travels.

If you could look inside that Fireball engine, you'd see why. Instead of the flat-topped pistons used in other cars, Buick uses a turbo-top piston, like this:

So the intruding fuel whirlwinds into a compressed ball that adds a super-urge to the downstroke of the piston.

And you get the thrill—and thrift—of this Buick "first" in every mile you drive.

More, you get a tried-and-true engine that's been polished and perfected in every detail up through the years.

Again and again, compression ratios have been stepped up to keep pace with advances in fuels. Self-setting valve lifters contribute to silence. Micropoise balance and Hi-Poised engine mountings add two more Buick exclusives.

And the silken might of this Fireball's power has been made more beautifully obedient by still another "first"—Dynaflow Drive.*

So we list as a prime reason why "smart buy's Buick" this Fireball power plant—and a host of happy owners will say "Amen."

Better see your dealer soon.

8 Calves Since Sunday At Davis Hereford Ranch

Things are happening out on the Davis Hereford Ranch, south of Muleshoe, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Davis. The Journal had to ask lots of questions before the reporter learned that:

Eight calves have been born at the ranch since Sunday, all, of course of registered stock.

Mr. Ashley, of Baileyboro community, bought a yearling bull, 49 Domino, from the Davis Ranch the first of January for $475; and came back a few days ago and bought DHE Domino for $500. Both are coming two year olds and are get of Dean Prince Domino, the Davis' herd bull.

They sold 7 bull calves, 5 to 8 months old, to Mr. Lindsay, of Hereford, for $200 a round.

The Davis Hereford Ranch, that began with a couple of animals in 1942, now has 35 registered Hereford mother cows, 1 heifer yearlings and some young bulls.

They sold 7 bull calves, 5 to 8 months old, to Mr. Lindsay, of Hereford, for $200 a round.

Shower Honors Mrs. Billy Earl Collins

A lovely bridal shower honoring Mrs. Billie Earl Collins, the former Marquita Splawn, was given in the home of Mrs. E. R. Hale, Jan. 25.

The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Robert Kimbrough, one of the hostesses. They were escorted to a bedroom where each one was registered in the guest book by Wanda Kimbrough, a friend of the bride. The bride's colors of white and gold were used. The dining table was covered with a lace tablecloth with a bouquet of white and yellow roses and white cocktail napkins with "Marquita and Bill" written in gold across the corner.

Punch was served by aunts of the bride. Open-faced sandwiches, mints and white and yellow cake were also served.

A program followed as the bride was escorted to the living room by the hostesses, followed by the mothers. She was seated in front of a bowery of white and yellow roses with a miniature bride and groom in the center. Mrs. Hale of Littlefield played music and Mrs. E. R. Hale sang "A Bower of Roses."

Several readings were given by Brenda Kay Mason and one by Wanda Kimbrough. After the program, the bride opened many lovely and useful gifts which were passed around for the guests to see. There were thirty-four guests present and forty sent gifts who were unable to attend.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. E. R. Hale, Mrs. Robert Kimbrough and Mrs. J. T. Eubanks.

Cancer Deaths in Texas Increasing Every Year; Nearly 8,000 In 1950

MEAT CUT Quiz

HOUSTON, Feb. 14.—How Texas is "meeting the challenge of cancer" is described in the 1950 annual report of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, just released.

Cancer deaths in Texas are increasing every year, the report reminds. During 1950 almost 8,000 Texans died of the disease. As in the rest of the United States, cancer is second only to heart disease as a cause of death in this state.

To meet this menace, the Texas Division of the American Cancer Society in 1950 spent $387,903.59, the amount contributed to the 1949 Cancer Crusade. One-fourth of this money went into research—$96,975.90. Medical Scientists at four units of the University of Texas, at Baylor University and at the Foundation for Applied Research, are conducting research under grants from the Society.

Fifteen cents out of every dollar donated to the Texas Cancer Crusade went for service to cancer patients, through financial help to eleven tumor clinics in Texas, the report states. Part of the Society's service program includes the preparation of dressings, the supplying of loan closets and sickroom items, and other aids for the cancer patients. Last year the El Paso County unit of the Society reported 250 women volunteers participating in this program.

Last year the state office of the American Cancer Society received 3,311 requests for cancer information through a special mailing arrangement by which letters are addressed to "Cancer" in care of the local post office. All were answered with a letter and literature.

$5,000 Posted For Outstanding Texas Farmer or Rancher 1949-50

LUBBOCK, Feb. 13. — Call for nominations which will lead to a Texas farmer, rancher or agricultural worker becoming the possessor of $5,000 cash and a gold medal for distinguished agricultural achievement during 1949 and 1950, was issued throughout Texas this week.

In the Panhandle-Plains area, Ray L. Chappelle, head, agricultural education department, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and chairman of regional committee No. 1 for the Hobbittzele Achievement Award for Advancement of Texas Rural Life, announced his committee is ready to receive nominations in its sector.

Other members of the Region No. 1 committee are: Jason Gordon of Plainview, Lee Roy Colgan of Lamesa, Joe Morris, Merritt Mills at Amarillo, and Fred A. Story, Editor of Farming for Profit, at Childress.

Meanwhile, four other regional committees are in like manner set to receive the names of nominees within their respective Texas areas.

The award, with its $5,000 cash and its medal, offered as prizes each two years by Karl Hobbittzele of Dallas, will go to the Texan who has made the most notable two-year contribution to the advancement of agriculture. This is interpreted as being work or activity, the effects of which have, more than any other, caused people to progress in the field of agriculture. It may have contributed to leadership or to inspiration, but it must have had a direct practical application.

Any one who wishes may nominate any farmer or rancher of Texas, or their wives, or practically any professional agricultural worker, administrator, educator, editor or writer, specialist, etc., other than persons assigned to formal research, provided their contributions have made definite agricultural progress possible in Texas. The nominee may live either within or outside the region in which he is nominated.

These nominations are to be forwarded, not later than March 1, to the chairman of the regional committee, together with description of the achievement of the candidate and with any available clippings or publications.

County In Region 1
Counties included in Region 1 are: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Roberts, Moore, Hutchinson, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Gray, Deaf Smith, Wheeler, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Castro, Cottle, Parmer, Swisher, Eriscoe, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Motley, Floyd, Cochran, Lubbock, Hockley, Crosby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Fisher, Hardeman, and Foard.

Public announcement of the award winner will be made at the Texas Research Foundation's annual Open House at Renner, in May.

Self-Employed Social Security To Be Reported

Self-employed persons come under the Social Security Act beginning January 1, 1951; however, in most cases the first report will be made at the regular tax paying time in March 1952, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security Administration.

Among the self-employed persons are operators of stores, filling stations, theaters, taxi cabs, advertising agencies, logging contractors, brokers, and certain others who classify themselves as independent contractors. The law specifically exempts farm operators, physicians, lawyers, dentists, architects, funeral directors, engineers, accountants, and a few other professions.

An individual must have self-employment income of $400.00 or more in a year to become subject to the law. Only the first $3,600 income in a year is subject to the tax. The tax rate is 2 1/4 per cent from January 1, 1951, through December 1953.

Partners in a business are considered as self-employed. A professional person may have self-employment income from sole ownership or a partnership outside his profession. Both wages and self-employment income may be credited up to $3,600 per year. Benefits are computed from the average wage or average net self-employment income, or a combination of the two.

A person just coming into the system who had no previous wage credits will not be penalized because he was not in covered employment prior to 1951. The law provides for a new start as a basis for figuring benefits. No one will be fully insured under the new start until he has obtained at least 6 quarters of coverage, which means he cannot become entitled under the new provisions before the middle of 1952. A free pamphlet explaining self-employment income and other provisions of the amended Social Security Act may be obtained from the Lubbock Social Security Office, 1311 Texas Ave., Lubbock, Texas.

Agronomist Urges Farmers To Use High Quality Seed In 1950 Planting

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 13.—Farmers who plant poor quality seed are likely to harvest poor crops, warns L. C. Coffey, associate agronomist for the Texas A&M Extension Service. Careful examination of the tag on each sack of seed will help the farmer determine the quality of the seed he is planting.

Coffey says that certified seed are usually the best seed of a particular variety available. Certified seed come from the fields that have been inspected during the growing season, and have been properly handled at harvest time, cleaned, tested for purity and germination, and properly stored.

Blue tags attached to each sack of certified seed carry accurate information about the quality of the planting seed. These blue tags are issued by the State Department of Agriculture for use on seed which have met certain high standards of purity and germination. In 1950, blue tags were issued for 96 varieties of 12 different crops grown in Texas.

High Germination Offsets Price

Although certified seed may cost slightly more than seed that are not certified, the added expense is offset by the assurance of purity and percentage of germination, says Coffey. Seed of questionable germination and purity may not be cheap at any price.

When farmers buy certified seed, they know what they are getting. Coffey reminds farmers that the certification tags are an excellent source of valuable information when they are buying planting seed.

Aylesworth Gives Recipe On Her Chicken Pie

When the home demonstration women gave a dinner Tuesday for the new home demonstration agent, they again served chicken pie a la Mrs. Dave Aylesworth. Many wanted the recipe, Mrs. Aylesworth said, and it was agreed to get The Journal to print it so everybody could learn how this delicious dish is prepared. Mrs. Aylesworth accommodated and here it is:

CHICKEN PIE

One 5-lb. chicken with plenty of broth, cut in small pieces.
Crust—
2 cups flour.
1 tsp. sugar.
1 tsp. salt.
2½ tsp. black pepper.
1-3 cup shortening.
Cut till mixture looks like meal, then cut in the rest of the shortening, stir in 2-3 cup milk. Mix well. It will be a fairly stiff dough. Knead until it is smooth, cover the bottom of the pan with strips of this dough, then chicken, etc., until you have filled the pan. This serves 8 people.

Cancer Films Are Shown At Study Club Meeting

The Muleshoe Study Club met Thursday evening, Feb. 8, in the home of Mrs. M. F. Green. Mrs. Houston Hart and Mrs. Buck Wood were in charge of the program.
Two films pertaining to cancer were shown by L. S. Barron. Title of the films were "Traitor Inside" and "Question In Time." Knowledge is the greatest ally in guarding against cancer, it was learned. Know about it. Learn to detect the warning signals of its early stages—when most cancer can be cured.
Untreated, cancer spreads. No cancer has ever cured itself. It is deadly to men and women alike, though older people are most often its victims; it also strikes at children.
Learn the 7 danger signals:
1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in a wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.
The methods of treatment are surgery, X-ray, and Radium, and are the only treatments which have ever cured cancer.
Sewage, salves, and mechanical gadgets are useless, the films showed, and dangerous.
The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. M. F. Harris. Refreshments of home made ice cream, little Baltimore cakes, and coffee were served to the guests, Mrs. L. S. Barron, Mrs. C. W. Grandy, and Lois Schoenberger, and the following members: Mesdames Pat Eobo, Milton Forbes, Mary Hart, Houston Hart, Marion F. Harris, Ray Keelby, Julian Lenu, Lee Pool, Buck Ragsdale, H. S. Sanders, Jr., Naomi St. Clair, Vance Wagon, John Watson, Buck Wood, A. J. Gardner, H. P. Holland, and the hostess.

The couple stood before an archway entwined with huckaberry, plumosus, and gladioli. The archway was flanked on either side by candelabra entwined with plumosus and white gladioli. Candles were used on the altar rail.
Mrs. Ralph Reesor, organist, played several nuptial selections preceding the ceremony, including "Always" as the candles were being lighted, and "I Love You Truly" immediately following. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Entering on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a street length dress of white lace designed with a fitted bodice and full skirt. A watch was the traditional something old, the bridal attire something new, pearls belonging to her mother were borrowed and a bow on her slip the something blue. She carried a white Bible topped with white roses.
The bride's mother wore a navy dress with pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a navy dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The next meeting will be Feb. 19 at the church. All members are urged to come and visitors are always welcome.

Progress W.M.U. Met February 12

Progress W.M.U. met Friday, Feb. 12, at the church. Opening song was "Let Others See Jesus in You." Prayer was led by Mrs. C. B. Thomas. The president, Mrs. H. T. Pugh, presided over the business session.

Guild Met With Mrs. H. A. Phillips

Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist Church met Monday evening, February 11, with Mrs. H. A. Phillips.
Mrs. A. S. Stovall, vice-president, had charge of the program. Mrs. Curtis Spivey gave the devotional on the life of Abraham Lincoln. Mrs. Francis Gilbreath brought "Stewardship in Methodism." Roll call was answered by something about Abraham Lincoln or George Washington, and many interesting things were given.
Elizabeth Harden, president, had charge of the short business session.

The next meeting will be Feb. 26, in the home of Mrs. Delma McCarty.
Delicious refreshments were served to two new members, Mrs. Lois Schoenberger and Mrs. C. W. Grandy, and other members, Mesdames Curtis Spivey, A. S. Stovall, Buford Butts, Delma McCarty, Ray Edwards, Francis Gilbreath, Jim Burkhead, Elizabeth Harden and the hostess.

National Soil Conservation Meet February 20-23 At Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 12.—Delegates to the fifth annual meeting of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts here Feb. 20 to 23 will have a chance to see two of Oklahoma's top attractions in soil conservation.

One of these points of interest is the Department of Agriculture's watershed flood control program on the Washita River where land treatment is being combined with engineering structures to keep rainfall on the land and slow down runoff.

A bus caravan will take convention delegates on a tour of the Mill Creek area near Sulphur to view a typical part of the watershed program Friday, Feb. 23. The visitors will see the land treatment measures which stabilize and improve the soil and increase its water holding capacity, and the gully plugs, small detention reservoirs and other engineering devices which hold back a portion of the surplus water until streams can carry it safely.

Parts of the big Washita watershed already have shown in flood periods that the watershed treatment program will go far in lessening agricultural damages. The Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture is carrying on the upstream flood control program through the 15 soil conservation districts lying in the watershed.

The bus trippers also will stop at Hereford Heaven, the ranch operated by Oklahoma's former governor, Roy Turner.

Planes of Oklahoma Flying Farmers on the same day will take other delegates to the Wichita Wildlife Refuge near Lawton. Here the visitors will see herds of buffalo, elk, deer and longhorn cattle on native bluestem range against a rugged mountain background. A buffalo barbecue luncheon will be served by the Comanche Soil Conservation District board of supervisors at Lake Quannah Parker. The lake bears the name of the famous Comanche chief who lived in the area. On the trip the planes will fly over a portion of the Washita River flood control project.

The bluestem ranges on the Wichita Wildlife Refuge are believed to be the only remaining areas of native bluestems which have not been commercially grazed.

A. P. (Red) Atkins, president of the Oklahoma host supervisors association, announced final plans for the three-day Oklahoma City meeting are nearly complete. Speeches by Secretary Charles Brannan of the Department of Agriculture and Dr. H. H. Bennett, Soil Conservation Service chief, and a three-man panel discussion on the needs of Soil Conservation Districts are expected to be program highlights.

On the panel will be Allen Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation; Obed Wyum, chairman of the program committee of the National Farmers Union, and Dorsey Kirk, master of the Illinois State Grange. President Walters S. Davis, Jr., of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts will serve as moderator.

A night of entertainment is being arranged for Feb. 21. Indian dances, square dancing, and a chorus from Oklahoma City University are among scheduled events.

To the list of large delegations planning the trip to Oklahoma City have been added those to be sponsored by the Louisiana, Georgia and Alabama associations of supervisors. A Georgia delegation of 60 will make the trip by plane, auto and train. President W. T. Nolin of the Louisiana association predicted the delegation from his state, including supervisors and wives, would be more than 50. John M. Lie, president of the Alabama association, will lead a group of 35 to the meeting.

Events being scheduled for wives in attendance include a tea at the Oklahoma City Country Club with Oklahoma's new first lady, Mrs. Johnson Murray, presiding.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Peeler and children, Rheta and Buddy, visited over the week end in Midland with his mother.

Physicians Of Area To Study Atomic Warfare

LUBBOCK, Feb. 13.—Physicians of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico will gather in Lubbock Feb. 15 for a one-day postgraduate course entitled "Disaster Preparedness for Atomic Warfare."

The all-day program will be staged in the Hilton Hotel and is under the auspices of the Postgraduate Division of the University of Texas School of Medicine in cooperation with the State Medical Defense Director, the State Medical Association of Texas, and the American College of Surgeons.

Nine prominent physicians are scheduled to speak on subjects pertaining to disaster arising from possible atomic warfare. "Being prepared for such warfare, though the possibility may be negligible, should be the concern of every physician," said Dr. R. C. Douglas, in charge of arrangements for the preparedness program in Lubbock. "This course will provide them with an excellent opportunity to become acquainted with a relatively unknown subject."

The course will be devoted strictly to the study of needed medical reaction to an atomic emergency. The meeting will open at 9 a. m. and close at 5 p. m.

Speakers on the program include Dr. Truman G. Blocker, Jr., Dr. G. W. N. Eggers, Dr. A. W. Harrison, Dr. W. L. Marr, Dr. R. M. Moore, Dr. R. H. Rigdon, and Dr. S. R. Snodgrass, all of the Medical Branch of the University of Texas, Galveston; and Dr. George W. Cox, State Medical Defense Director and State Health Officer, Austin, Texas, and Dr. A. T. Stewart, Representative of the President of the State Medical Association of Texas, Lubbock.

Invitations have been sent to 600 doctors in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, said Dr. Douglas. Any doctor who may have been overlooked in the invitation list is urged to attend.

Predict Shortage Of Cottonseed

LUBBOCK, Feb. 13.—Cotton authorities here have expressed fears that there may not be enough cotton seed available for the record breaking plantings planned for the South Plains this year.

A 20-county survey by K. N. Clapp, of Anderson-Clayton and Co., shows cottonseed supplies are far below the safety margin.

Joining Clapp in a warning to area farmers were George W. Cochran, president and Ike Dunbar, secretary, both of the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, and George A. Simmons, a director of the National Cotton Council.

There have been reports that farmers from other parts of Texas, and even from other states, are visiting the South Plains in search of cottonseed. It is understood some area farmers have sold planting seed at high prices in the belief that they will be able to replenish their supply later at a reduced cost. Clapp said, however, that some of these farmers may be disappointed to find that they cannot obtain seed at any cost. He said his survey indicated that enough seed is on hand for one planting of two and three-fourths times as many acres as the estimated 3,500,000 set aside for cotton on the South Plains this year. For safety, he said, about three and one-half times as much seed for the prospective acreage should be available.

Rural Telephones In Parmer Appear Probable As Bell and Co-op Agree

(From Friona Star)
In a conference Tuesday at Hereford between officials of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company and the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, agreements were reached whereby each organization will serve areas designated "economically feasible."

State regulations prohibit a formal division of territory, but informal agreements indicate Bell will serve an area about 9 miles around Hereford, with the Western Deaf Smith County left for development by the cooperative.

The Bell officials professed no plans for the future line construction in the Dawn, Black and Summerfield areas.

With these understandings reached at the Hereford meeting, the future of the cooperative plan serving Parmer County appears much brighter, with go-ahead orders contingent upon early signatures and fee payments by a sufficient number of consumers desiring service.

Leo Forest, manager of the local REA said the co-op probably will let an engineering contract soon and work can go forward rapidly on other contracts just as soon as the membership fee and stock is paid in. Release of federal funds previously granted is contingent upon the number of members signing.

Committees which first reach their quota on the required number of subscriber contracts probably will get telephone service first, he said.

Numerous community meetings have been held in Parmer County at which time the plan was explained in detail with a number of contracts being signed for service. With a concentrated drive now necessary, the Parmer County Farm Bureau has taken steps to contact the farmers of the coun-

Appetite Or Lack Of It May Have a Definite Bearing On Body Excesses

When the body sends out signals of persistent overactivity or constant underactivity, it is usually a good idea to find out what's behind the change. All the symptoms of emptiness and fullness may be your normal rate of physical reaction to the daily routine but when these symptoms change from normal, it may well be considered a signal of distress.

Too much or too little desire for food, too much or too little weight, too much or too little elimination of waste materials, too much or too little energy may all come under the classification of excesses or deficiencies, fullness or emptiness that the body responds to with discomfort.

Appetite or the lack of appetite may have a definite bearing upon all the excesses of the body. The overweight person seldom dislikes food and will normally like to eat to the extent that he places a burden upon the whole digestive tract. The person who is underweight will normally complain of lack of appetite or of a finicky dislike of certain foods to the extent that the digestive tract may suffer. When these normal symptoms are reversed or when the appetite varies from normal to the extent of either cravings for food or aversion to food, there is room for suspicion of a threat to health.

Disorders originating in the stomach or intestines may reduce or interfere with appetite and diseases affecting the glands of the body may create either constant hunger or a real aversion to food. Nervous disorders and emotional upsets may have either reaction, too much or too little desire for food.

Hot weather seems to decrease the normal appetite and allergy, sensitivity to certain foods, may become associated with the process of painful reaction to eating to such an extent that all foods become unattractive, the harmless ones as well as the ones that cause allergic reactions.

Peptic ulcer is that brand of sore that is sometimes found in the lining of the stomach or small intestine, just beyond the stomach. Since the acid or the gastric juice can get at the sore spot much better when there is no food to absorb or dilute it, the victim may want to take food at frequent intervals—even arising around 2 or 3 a. m. to ease his pain with a shot of milk. He may gain weight excessively as a result of his ulcer-enforced eating habits.

High fevers with acute infections and the longer illnesses of chronic infections are noted for the symptom of lack of appetite, which is called anorexia. Improper diet itself, lacking in some or all of the B vitamins, may turn the pleasure of eating into a chore.

The liver plays a very important role in whether or not you look forward with normal glee to those three meals a day, and any irregularity of the liver or its functions may make you wish those three meals were eliminated or doubled.

When your appetite changes from the desire for general foods into certain specific types of food, it may be indicative of changes taking place in your body. Certainly the strange yearnings for exotic foods that may accompany pregnancy are not necessarily a sign that something is wrong; they may be considered a sign that changes are taking place in the body, which happens during pregnancy.

Adolescent girls with a yearning for pickles and condiments may be manifesting a symptom of green sickness, though this illness is much less common than it used to be. Spices, acids and some liquids may be the chief desire of some people suffering from chronic gastritis, an inflammation of the lining of the stomach which may interfere with the stomach juices.

Bad Teeth a Health Threat
If your teeth are bad or if your false teeth don't fit well, you might develop a lack of appetite merely because eating isn't a pleasure anymore. Since you can't go on indefinitely without eating, any reason that may interfere with your partaking of food may be considered a health threat that requires medical attention.

And a ravenous appetite that seems beyond control may lead to or stem from health disorders that would soon become more serious. The desire for food at regular intervals is a very pleasant reflex; when it gets out of line, it may be a symptom of danger to your mental and physical well-being.

Tractor Tires Filled With Air Pull Best In Sand

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 13.—Air-filled tractor tires operate more efficiently and economically in sandy loam than tires filled either partially or fully with water. This was the conclusion of a report made by the Division of Farm Machinery, U. S. Department of Agriculture and a tire manufacturing company, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A&M College.

He says three identical tires were tested under 12 drawbar loads on the two types of soils. All tires carried equal weight, but the method of applying weight differed. One tire was filled to capacity with water, another was filled to the top of the rim with water and the third tire was fully inflated with air. Wheel weights were then used to equalize the total weight of each tire.

Tests in sandy soil showed that at 1,000 pounds drawbar pull there was little difference in the performance of the tires that were filled partially and fully with water. Both were considerably less effective than the air-filled tire.

Maximum drawbar pull for the air inflated tire was 1133 pounds as compared to 1085 pounds for the partially filled tire and 1050 for the water-filled tire. In loam soil, the air inflated tire proved to be equally superior.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

SELF-EXAMINATION
"... Out of his heart shall flow rivers of living water." (John 7:38 R.S.V.) Read John 4:19-26.

Traveling the winding way from Jerusalem to Nazareth, we sighted a small white building. It was Jacob's well. There a little white-robed priest lowered candles into the well that we might see it. He drew up clear, sparkling water that we might drink it.

All the while, however, we were thinking of a time when Jesus visited that well and told the Samaritan woman of another kind of well, a heart-well; and of another kind of water, living water.

India is a land of many kinds of wells, illustrating many kinds of heart attitudes. Dry wells are not deep enough to reach the underflow. The monsoon well has much water during the rainy season, but soon dries up. Other wells have plenty of water but it is brackish. Some wells have the inflow obstructed by rubbish.

The ideal heart-well is the one concerning which Jesus spoke. It is one in which the Holy Spirit dwells. It overflows with living water.

Prayer
O Lord, Thou art to us a well-spring of faith, hope, joy, eternal life. Keep the waters of our heart-wells sweet, plentiful, and overflowing; for there are thirsty hearts about us. We ask this in the name of Thy dear Son, our Saviour, Amen.

Thought For the Day
I will strive to be a wellspring of Christlikeness to my fellow men.—Marcellus D. Ross (India)

Man's identity as the expression of Soul, God, is made clear in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul" which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Feb. 18, 1951.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 62:1, and reads, "Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation." From the Bible is included this verse from the thirty-sixth chapter of Psalms: "How excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under

Now—How about traffic on the Santa Fe?

With the cooperation of our officers, and of the employes who remained at work, Santa Fe managed to keep thousands of freight cars and all its passenger trains moving during the "outlaw strike" which began January 30th and which so severely crippled our country's rail transportation. Santa Fe could not, of course, operate at its top efficiency.

Now vital supplies, which have been piling up in freight terminals during the past several days, are starting to move.

A complex situation

There is one point, however, we know the public will understand. So complex a thing as America's transportation system cannot be turned off and on like a water faucet.

Thousands of "car days" were lost due to freight cars standing still. Even though cars are now moving it is bound to take a while before congestion is relieved and delayed cars are unloaded at their destination.

Santa Fe was able to deliver more cars to other railroads than other railroads delivered to Santa Fe. Consequently, Santa Fe now has substantially less cars on its rails than when the "outlaw strike" began. Naturally, this will result in a shortage of cars until this complex situation has been cleared.

A word to our shippers

We are doing everything possible to speed up the return to normal. We ask, however, that shippers who now need cars bear with us during this period.

Santa Fe expresses its thanks to its shippers and passengers for their patience and understanding during the trying times we have almost passed through—and also to all our people who cooperated in this emergency, many of them responding beyond their normal call of duty.
