A moment to remember

Indian quarterback Cody Cyfert manages to evade tackler Creed Akers (22) and the rest of the Quanah defenders Friday night as he sets out on an 84-yard touchdown run for Haskell's first score.

Indians hope to rebound against Knox City Friday

The Haskell Indians had little time this week to lick their wounds from their loss to Quanah as they prepared to do battle with the Knox City Greyhounds who invade the wigwam Friday night.

There's plenty of incentive for the Indians. Not only are they anxious to prove they are a better team than they showed last week, but they haven't forgotten last year's Knox City game.

Haskell took a 2-0 record into last year's contest against a Greyhound team that hadn't won a game in two years. The game ended in a 7-7 standoff.

This year's Knox City team is vastly improved over a year ago. The 1A Greyhounds opened their season with a 20-8 victory over 2A Seymour and then in their second game last week, they tied 2A Olney, 7-7.

"They should have won that game," said Indian coach Dwayne Gray, who pointed out Knox City lost six fumbles.

While Knox City was getting its tie with Olney, the Indians were taking a 32-12 whipping at the hands of Quanah.

Gray said he can accept being beaten by a real good team, but he hopes his Indians can overcome some of the mistakes which made for the long night Friday.

"We did things we shouldn't do, and we didn't do some things we should have done," said the Indian coach. "Quanah did what we expected, but we didn't respond as we should have."

One of the big things the Indians didn't do was move the ball in the first half. Quanah's nose guard, 130-pound J. J. Jalomo, was getting in the Indian backfield and stopping the offense before it could get started. In the second half, the offense did much better.

The Indian defense did shine at times, Gray said. "We would stop them on first and second down, only to see them get a big third-down play. I just hope we learned a lot in playing a good team," the coach said.

Brandon McFadden, starting offensive guard and defensive tackle, suffered a broken foot in the Quanah game and will be out of action for about six weeks. Halfback and safety Casey Larned has a bruised right arm and defensive end Cory Green a sprained ankle, but both should be ready to play against Knox City.

Ryan Olson again led the Indians in tackles. He was in on 14 tackles, 3 solos and 11 assists. Martin Limones was in on 13 tackles (3 and 10), while Casey Larned was in on 12 (3 and 9) and Frankie Masias 10 (8 and 2).

Olson, Wesley Alsbrook and Robert Ortiz had fumble recoveries.

Friday's game will be the Indians third of four consecutive home games. They host Albany next Friday before going to Baird Sept. 30. After that comes the district 7-2A schedule, beginning in Stamford Oct. 7.

Haskell firemen elect officers

The Haskell Volunteer Fire Department elected officers at its regular meeting last Monday.

Officers for 1994-95 are:
E. J. Stewart, chief; Joe Cortez, assistant chief; Keith Hannsz, secretary-treasurer; Kenny Watson, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Kenny Watson, Captain Co. #1; Bill Steele, Captain #2; Randy Shaw, Captain #3; Donald Cunningham, Lieutenant #1; Eddie Klose, Lieutenant #2; Jerry Stocks, Lieutenant #3.

Jerry Stocks, chaplain; Coy Scoggins, tail twister; Sid Winn, Tom Bassett, Wayne Wainscott and Rex Pittman, trustees; Bill Steele, training officer; Tony Haynes, assistant training officer; and Eddie Klose, reporter.

Firemen will be selling hamburgers on the square Saturday, Sept. 24, in conjunction with the community auction.

surpassing Haskell County's goal of 40 units.

The Red Cross sent professional staff to handle the normal 30 or so donors the county has averaged each mobile the last several years. With double that number, the nurses were swamped. Some donors had to wait in line for just over two hours. Some just could not wait that long and had to leave without giving.

I was so proud of the way our folks put up with the long wait to give blood. It was above and beyond the call of duty. Because of the great turnout, the Red Cross has promised us more nurses and beds for the Thanksgiving "Holiday Hero" bloodmobile.

The most promising aspect of this mobile was all the first time donors we had. The hardest time to get folks to give is the first time. I asked one first-timer how it went. She said, "Well, it was no picnic, but it wasn't as bad as I thought it would be. I'm glad I did it."

First time donors included Martha Casillas, Sylvia Torres, Mary Starnes, Teresa Ryan, Lisa Frierson, Christy Gannaway, Mary Ann Allred, Joyce Wallis, Robert Tribbey, Lynette Tribbey, Faye Davis, Debbie Solomon, Brandy Huckabee, Jerri Buerger, Lupe Rivera, Missy Harris, Irene Castillo and Bill Mankunus. There are two other names on the list that were

City of Haskell sales tax rebate continues decline

Sales tax rebates to the City of Haskell continue to fall behind those of a year ago, although the latest rebate from the state comptroller indicates a lesser decline.

The rebate check received this week was in the amount of $13,499.15, and was the city's share of sales taxes collected in July.

This compares with a check for $14,313.90 for the same period last year and represents a 5.69-percent decline.

For the year to date, Haskell has received $160,099.90 from its 1.5-cent sales tax levy. That's 8.04 percent below the $174,113.85 received in the first nine months of 1993.

Only other Haskell County city to receive a rebate check this month was Rule, which received $999.00, somewhat less than the $1,220.89 that city received for this period last year. Rule has a 1-cent sales tax.

For the year, Rule has received rebates totaling $15,190.71, or 5.56 percent less than last year's $16,086.08 for the January-to-September period.

Rochester, which also has a 1-cent sales tax rate, has received $5,605.07 so far this year, compared to $5,761.48 last year.

Weinert's rebate this year has totaled $1,628.23, compared to $3,707.83 last year. O'Brien's 1994 rebate has come to $1,326.47, compared to $1,490.95 last year. Weinert and O'Brien also have 1-cent rates.

Beginning Oct. 1, Haskell merchants will begin collecting an additional half-cent sales tax, but the effect of this increase will not show up in rebate checks until December.

City OKs budget; tax rate .2598

The City Council last week adopted a $1,342,929 budget and set a tax rate of 25.98 cents.

While the tax rate is an increase of 2.97 cents over this year's rate, it will have minimal effect on taxes for the average taxpayer, said city administrator Sam Watson.

Taxes will increase $6.81 on a home valued at $22,493, the taxable value of an average home in Haskell. Total tax on an average home will go from $51.76 to $58.44. On a $50,000 home, the tax will increase by $14.75, from $115.05 to $129.80.

Watson said the tax rate was necessary even though the 1994-95 budget is $39,000 less than this year's. The increased tax will help offset the loss of income from the landfill which has been closed since April.

Property taxes are expected to bring in $126,200 of the money needed to finance the budget. Sales taxes should bring in another $216,000, not including the half-cent economic development tax which cannot be used for operation of the city. Water sales and garbage and sewer fees will bring in most of the money for the budget.

Total expenses for the city are budgeted at $1,332,206, some $48,000 less than the $1,380,202 budgeted last year.

Just call her FCS agent

Lou Gilly has a new title.

The long-time Haskell County county agent/home economics is now officially known as Haskell County "Family and Consumer Sciences Agent."

The change took place Sept. 1 when the Extension Service adopted the new title which it says "more accurately reflects the agency role."

"The foundation of home economics has always been based heavily on science, and this strong descriptor indicates that to the public," said Dr. Jennie Kitching of the Extension Service.

"Family and consumer sciences means empowering individuals, strengthening families and enabling communities, which are all a part of what Extension has been doing for at least 80 years."

The name change did not come about overnight, Kitching said. The entire home economics profession has discussed a professional name change for a number of years, and many university programs have changed the name of "home economics" to a variety of titles over the past 25 years.

An international conference in 1993 brought together representatives of major home economics-related professional societies who selected the "Family and Consumer Sciences" name for the profession.

--Rice Springs Care Home--

Everything is back in the "rush" mode. As school is back in session, mothers taking their children to school. School calling about activities, and activities taking their toll on everyone's free time. Sound familiar?

We are sad to see the end of the fresh garden vegetables, but are looking forward to the cooler weather that comes this time of year.

Football season is a highlight for many of the residents. When Haskell playf Munday, there was a friendly rivalry between the Munday residents who live with us and the Haskell Indian fans living here.

Those of us who always look forward to the World Series are at a loss and will have to be satisfied with a little football.

Lena Rueffer was excited that she was able to go to Spur for her granddaughter's wedding. Lena also had visits from Ray Lynne, Dippel Papp, Stephan Papp, Bobby Druessedow and later a visit from both Bobby and Barbara Druessedow.

Wilma Bartley continues to have daily visits from her daughter, Geneva Stone, plus visits from Chunky and Viola Tidwell, David Page, Bonnie Jircik, John and Marie Bartley, Dell Anderson, Jerrie Sue Hise, Myrna Coffman, Dennie, Cindy and Tom Bartley.

Visitors for Mildred Townsend have been Henry Townsend, Betty Berry, Randolph and Nan Wilson and Travis Boyd. Mildred is in the hospital as we are writing this article, but we hope she returns by the time this goes to press.

Travis and Lorene Boyd, Randolph and Nan Wilson, Betty Berry, Hazel Letz, Truett Kuenstler and wife, and Charles Harvey are regular visitors with us often, and we appreciate their visits to the residents.

Many visitors came to see Frieda Nehring, and among those not already listed, are Louis and Adeline Spitzer from Old Glory, Alvin and Alice Bredthauer of Sagerton, Barbara Druessedow and Wylie and Adeline Roberts.

Mabel Witt extremely enjoys the visits from her very special Charles Harvey and Cindy. Mabel keeps us on our toes with her "wit" and humor.

Pearl Schwartz, Clancey and Helen Lehrmann, Carl and Verneda Opitz and families have been visiting Lillie Lehrmann and keeping her days filled with pleasure.

Gussie Ford has enjoyed many visitors, plus a package arrived from one of her daughters and was especially appreciated by her. Benny, Velma and Joylane visited and Mr. Brenner came by also.

Betty Bruce enjoyed many visitors, among whom were Opal Dunnam, Carl and Verneda Opitz and Irvin and Emmie Overton. Carl and Emmie's mother had been Betty Bruce's room mate in the past and they remember to come and visit Betty on occasion. Milbert Opitz also visited Betty.

We want to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Milbert E. Opitz on their 50th wedding anniversary. Their mother was a resident with us for many years and they were very dear volunteers for us, and still are.

Delma Kuntz and Mary Whittington visited with Velma Gann. Allene Wilson, Cleo Gann, Bertha Wilson and Nan Miller visited with Nannie Miller, and Lucy Hunt had visits from A. D. and Tommie May, Jim Cowan and Frank.

Velma Turner had a special blessing, with visits from Barry, Joan and Jason Kelley who reside in St. Michael, Minn. Sammie and Jim Turner continue to be regulars at her door, and sipping coffee with her at her table.

Our sympathy to Thelma Atkinson in the loss of her husband. Her nephews were very attentive in her grief, and took care of arrangements so she could attend the funeral. Thelma has daily visits from her nephews and their families, plus visits from Neat Bevel and Marie Townsend.

Several have enjoyed visits to the local library and we want to extend our appreciation to Joan Strickland for her help and the community for supporting a good library to enjoy.

Oleta Bailey has enjoyed visits from Christine Bruton and Cuddles, Wayne Wells and Dale Huff, plus others who always drop in to visit with Oleta. Oleta worked for Rice Springs for many years as a nurse aide, and she is the source of information to us when we are trying to remember old times and can't recall a name, we go to Oleta.

Stanley McMillan continues to get in trouble with our administrator if she thinks he is "cheating" Ol Sol when he is playing solitaire. Stanley has enjoyed visits from his sister, Faye Jetton, and her daughter, Sandra, and husband, Don Stafford, who live in Montana, and he often has visits from Victor Lowery which he enjoys.

We welcome Cecil Booe to our home. Mr. Booe comes to us from Munday. He enjoys many telephone calls and visits. Among his many visitors are Marvin and Dean Stiewert, his sister, Lillian Hodgkin, his brother and sister-in-law, Eulice and Elsie Booe, Chunky and Viola Tidwell, Sondra Davis of Stamford, Hattie Mitchell, Cloyce Mitchell, Floyd Pattson, Jack Stewart and Judy Booe.

Activities have been well received and the residents made their "kick the can" ice cream again and some wanted to continue even after it was made. We thank our volunteers who have helped us with this and other activities held lately. You are always appreciated. Please continue to come and help.

Anita Jackson was visited by Eileen Hancy and by Anita's daughter, Nan McAdams of Abilene. "T" Jackson, Anita's husband, continues to be a visitor, coming multiple times per day, and he is appreciated.

Harvey Dudensing is the envy of the crowd as he gets to go to so many activities with the MH/MR group. He thoroughly enjoys all the fun and entertainment. J. B. Kirby, Bobby and Barbara Druessedow and Lynn, Renee, Molly and Jenny Dudensing have paid him visits lately.

Harvie Medford (who is Harvey Dudensing's room mate) has had many visitors also. Among them were Pansy Koenig, Pete Hatfield, Flossie Bates, Zora Medford, Rick Thane, L. O. Green, D. R. Green, Jerry Decker and Johnny Medford. Harvie's son, Johnny, has been good enough to agree to come and share with us some of his poetic talents. We are fortunate to have a poet among us and we appreciate his giving of his time to do this for us.

The whole home is excited for Carol Lewellen in her ability to lose over 75 pounds of weight. Keep up the good work, Carol. We are "rooting" for you. Carol has worked very hard to curb her food intake and stay on a low-fat regimen. She has taken up walking which has given her a new lease on life.

Evelyene Graham, Geneva Miles, Chunky and Viola Tidwell, Mattie Abbott, Callie Moore and Nellie Bird have visited with Gladys Carruth, plus her regular visits from Ocie and daughters.

Nell Rogers has enjoyed visits from Irvie Deam of Oklahoma, Thelma Dunlap, Maggie Threet, Neat Bevel, Chunky and Viola Tidwell, and her family who come many times per day so they do not always sign her registry.

Longina Barrios enjoyed visits from Mr. and Mrs. Simon Rocha Jr., Lolly and Taryn Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Gavino Ortiz, Rebeca Gonzales and Arthur Barrios.

Hugh Miller continues to be a regular visitor with us, and Bea also enjoyed visits from her daughter and family, plus Allene Wilson, Cleo Gann and Bertha Wilson.

The travelin' bingo trophy is hanging on Harvie Medford's door at this time. Bingo continues to be a highlight of the week at the activity room, but there have been many games of dominoes, cards and checker.

Jonathan Gholson has contributed quite a few hours of volunteer work with our residents. He is so good to read to them, and play games with them, and help them to activities when needed. This is a personal pleasure for him, as well as working toward Boy Scout honors.

Ocie Garrett was thrilled to have her son Don come in for a surprise visit. Don and Marlyce Garrett are welcome visitors to Ocie, plus all her sisters who visit with her daily.

Many visitors come to see Vennie Lytle. Among them were Gerald and Johnnie Lytle, Vennie

Massey, Betty Andress, Harlan Miller, A. C. and Jan Hennessee, Lolly Allen of Fort Worth, and Rebecca Gonzales. Her daughter, Maxine Miller, continues to be a regular visitor with her, on a daily basis.

Tillie Wendeborn has enjoyed visits from J. C. and Margaret Wendeborn, and Tillie's room mate Lois Rogers has enjoyed visits from her granddaughter, Jamie Weaver.

Viola Mercer hasn't been feeling too well, but has enjoyed all of her visitors. Some of them were Barbara Druessedow, Neat Bevel, May Cothran, Shirley Reed of Arlington, Grace Atchison, Dude Mercer, Pauline Dick and Viola's daughter Kay.

We want to commend our activity director, Judy Wolsch. She gave blood when the Red Cross unit was at the First Baptist Church. This is a highly needed commodity and we appreciate the fact that she took time from her busy schedule to do this.

We welcome Mary Garner back from her stay in the hospital. And we send our "get well" wishes to those who are in the hospital: Adeline Letz, May Wimberly and Myrtle Townsend.

We extend our sympathy to the family of Birdie Culberth. We miss Birdie, and we miss the visits from her family. We are sad at the loss of Birdie, who expired at the age of 103.

Our logo "Home Away from Home" was contributed by two members of our staff, so we have dual winners. These staff members were Judy Wolsch and Sandy Gholson. Congratulations to both.

We look forward to all of your visits and we hear many nice comments about our column in the newspaper. We hope you continue to enjoy reading our news as it is very important for our residents to have their names appear in the newspaper. They look forward to each issue with anticipation. We try to get our news to you at least twice per month. Thanks for being a patron of Rice Springs Care Home.

Sidelines Late-starting Indians fall to Quanah

Before Friday's game, Coach Dwayne Gray had warned that Quanah's Germont Jackson might be the best running back the Indians would face this year.

Let's hope we won't see a better one this year.

Knock out the first half, and the Indians held their own against a real good Quanah team.

At halftime, Quanah had a 12-0 first-down advantage and a 193-2 total offense advantage.

In the second half, the Indians had 8 first downs to Quanah's 9, and trailed only 220-200 in total yards.

***

Frankie Masias, the Indians' 125-pound mighty mite, had two touchdown-saving tackles.

In the second period, he nailed Jackson after a 44-yard gain and in the fourth quarter he caught up with Brian Claudrick after a 38-yard scamper.

"Frankie's not real fast, but he's a smart player," said Gray, who added that Masias does a good job of getting himself in the right place at the right time.

Cody Cypert accounted for 188 of Haskell's 203 total yards. He rushed 17 times for 137 yards, including runs of 84, 18 and 15 yards. He completed 2 passes for another 51 yards.

In addition to his 84-yard scoring run, the Indian quarterback had pass completions of 8 yards to Masias and 43 yards to Mik Everett in the Indians' final touchdown run.

Cypert also had a great night as a punter, lifting kicks of 36, 48, 60, 50, 45 and 25 yards.

Golfers needed

Several nice prizes will be awarded.

Before the Haskell Indians could get their offense untracked here Friday night, the Quanah Indians already had the game sewed up.

As a result, the visiting Tribe scored a 32-12 victory as the local Indians saw their season record dip to 1-1.

Quanah padded a 20-0 halftime lead to a 26-0 cushion before Haskell got its first score in the final seconds of the third period. So dominating was the Quanah defense in the early going that Haskell's total offensive output in the first half was a paltry 2 yards and the Indians didn't get their initial first down until nearly 5 minutes had elapsed in the second half.

It was much better after Cody Cypert ignited the offense. The senior quarterback provided local fans with their first excitement

Rough week for district 7-2A teams

Hamlin was the only winner among district 7-2A teams in the second week of action last Friday.

The Pied Pipers defeated Clyde, 15-0.

In other games involving 7-2A teams, Haskell lost to Quanah, 32-12; Hawley lost to Roscoe, 61-0; Rotan was shut out by Coahoma, 29-0; and Stamford bowed to Eastland, 20-0.

After two weeks of play, Hamlin, Haskell and Rotan stand 1-1, while Stamford, Anson and Hawley are all 0-2.

Hawley, which has given up 101 points, and Anson, which has yielded 83, still are looking for their first touchdowns.

This week's schedule finds Cisco at Anson, Iowa Park at Hamlin, Knox City at Haskell, Hawley at Baird, Jim Ned at Rotan and Albany at Stamford.

Quanah, its offense paced by Germont Jackson, who rushed 26 times for 246 yards, scored on three of its first four first-half

JV, junior high to play Knox City

Junior varsity and junior high football teams will play Knox City in O'Brien Thursday (today).

The seventh-grade game begins at 5 p.m. with the eighth-grade and junior varsity games following.

Last Friday, the JVs were defeated, 14-6, by Quanah. The seventh grade lost, 28-0, and the eighth-graders lost, 28-6.

Boosters urge fan participation in victory line

Indian Booster Club members have issued a call for fans to be a part of the pre-game victory line at the football game with Knox City Friday.

At their meeting Monday night, Boosters heard game reports from coaches.

They were told the seventh- and eighth-grade teams will be concentrating on basics during practices this week. They will play Knox City in O'Brien Thursday, beginning at 5 p.m.

They also were told the junior varsity should be more aggressive in their game this week.

possession and again the first time it had the ball in the second half.

With Jackson carrying seven times, the visitors drove 77 yards in 11 plays the second time they got the ball. Jackson got the touchdown from 8 yards out with 2:26 remaining in the first period.

Next time Quanah got the ball, Jackson picked up where he had left off, carrying for 44, 5, and 11 yards before scoring from the 6 to climax a seven-play, 73-yard drive.

Following the Quanah kickoff, the Indians fumbled the ball right back to Quanah at the Indian 24. Four plays later Quanah had another touchdown when Cree Akers passed 11 yards to Aaron Wilkerson to put his team out front, 20-0.

After Haskell couldn't move following the second-half kickoff, Cypert's 45-yard kick gave Quanah possession at its own 18. Dusty Edwards picked up 6 yards, Quanah was penalized 5, Jackson was stopped for no gain and Acree passed 13 yards to Cody Robertson to put the ball on the 32. From that point, Jackson broke loose on a 68-yard scoring romp that padded Quanah's lead to 26-0 with the second half less than 4 minutes old.

Haskell finally got its first first-down on its next possession when Cypert scooted 15 yards from his 27 to the 42, but that was about as far as the Indians could move.

After an Indian punt, Quanah moved from its 30 to the Indian 15 where Brian Claudrick fumbled the ball and Wesley Alsbrook recovered for the Indians.

Justin Lisle made a yard to the 16 and then Cypert broke his beauty, racing 84 yards down the sideline.

After the Indians kicked off, Quanah moved from its 22 to the 42 where Akers' fumble was recovered by Robert Ortiz. A 13-yard run by Cypert and a pass interference penalty helped move the ball to the 32, but Cypert's fourth-down pass was picked off by Akers on the 20. He took it all the way, but a holding penalty brought the ball back to Quanah 24.

Jackson made 9 yards, Claudrick picked up 13 and Jackson gained 7 and Claudrick 7 more before picking up 38 to the 2. Claudrick was then stopped for no gain, but Jackson took it over on the next play and Quanah saw its lead go to 33-6, with 3:15 to go in the game.

Taking over on their 25 after the Quanah kickoff, the Indians drove 75 yards in 12 plays. Larned got the touchdown from 2 yards out with 13 seconds to go. Big gainers in the drive had been an 18-yard run by Cypert, an 8-yard pass from Cypert to Frankie Masias and the 43-yard pass from Cypert to Everett.

Life-threatening stroke requires prompt treatment

Katherine M. Jew, M.D.

Question: What exactly is a stroke and what are its symptoms?

Answer: A stroke is a life-threatening event in which the brain's vital supply of oxygen is disrupted. A stroke can affect the senses, speech, behavior, thought patterns and memory. It may also result in paralysis, coma and death.

A stroke occurs when an artery to the brain bursts or becomes clogged by a blood clot, cutting off the supply of oxygen to a part of the brain. Brain tissue that is deprived of oxygen dies within minutes. As a result, the part of the body controlled by those brain cells cannot function properly.

A stroke may happen suddenly, but it often follows years of a slow build up of fatty deposits inside the blood vessels. High blood pressure and atherosclerosis, the build up of fatty plaque in the arteries, increase the risk of a stroke.

About 10 percent of strokes are preceded by transient ischemic attacks, or TIAs. These mini-strokes can occur days, weeks or even months before a major stroke. They usually last less than five minutes and have many of the same symptoms of a stroke. Because a large percent of people who experience TIAs suffer strokes, often within days, prompt medical attention for TIAs is essential.

- Symptoms of a stroke include:
- Sudden weakness or numbness of the face, arm and leg — usually on one side of the body.
  - Loss of speech, or trouble talking or understanding speech.
  - Dimness or loss of vision, particularly in only one eye.
  - Unexplained dizziness, unsteadiness or falls.
  - Sudden, severe headache.

If any of these symptoms occur, it's important to get immediate emergency medical care. The degree of recovery from a stroke varies greatly, but much depends upon prompt treatment to minimize the brain damage.

Ralph Franklin

UPS honors Ralph Franklin

Ralph Eugene Franklin has been honored by United Parcel Service for completing 20 years of service with the company.

Franklin, who provides delivery service in the Haskell area, is a delivery driver with UPS in the Abilene center. He began his career as a delivery driver in 1974.

Franklin and his wife, Barbara, live in Tuscola. They have three grown children, Cindy, Becky and Tracy.

24, the Haskell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service joins with other farm organizations in promoting the event and calling special attention to the theme of the week, "Safety and Health: A Way of Life."

The theme has been selected to take special note of issues involving age-appropriate tasks.

"Farm and ranch youth are at risk for incidents involving farm equipment, livestock and chemicals," said Glenn Brzozowski, Haskell County ASCS executive director. "The elderly are at risk for many of the same hazards and represent an increasingly higher proportion of the agricultural population."

Farm workers range in age from 8 to 88, unlike the usual 16 to 65 range in most other lines of work. Children often begin helping with farm work at an early age, even operating machinery intended for adult capabilities.

As harvest season approaches, farm safety leaders remind drivers that farmers and ranchers may be using slow moving farm equipment on rural highways to get crops to market or storage.

"Approach all farm machinery using public roads with care," advised Brzozowski. He also said that farmers and ranchers are urged to exercise caution in operating farm equipment on rural highways, displaying a slow-moving vehicle emblem that is clearly visible from the rear.

Hostesses were Evalynn Marr of Haskell, Elaine (Marr) Appleton and Brandy Appleton of Tuscola.

This year's reunion gathered 21 family members from across Texas.

Those in attendance were Vaohi Benton, Charles and Dorothy Clark of Sagerton, L. E. A special thank you was issued to everyone attending. "It seems like our family gets a little smaller each year and it gets more important for us to reunite and keep the family ties strong," said a family member.

The hostesses dedicated the reunion to J. B. Marr, who passed away Sept. 6, 1992, and dedicated the following poem to him:

A Eulogy for Grandpa

It's harvest time, and I think of you;

I wish you could be here.
The wheat is white with heads bent low

As if to shed a tear.
They whisper oh so softly
As a dry wind rushes through;
Then they thrash and turn around
As if to catch a glimpse of you.
It's harvest time, and we know
You're not that far away.
It seems as though you left us

Weinert FCE meets in home of Faye Jetton

The Weinert FCE club met Sept. 6 in the home of Faye Jetton.

The meeting was called to order by Myrtle Plemister, president. Club members repeated the club prayer. The hostess read a poem, "Grandma's House," author unknown. Roll call was answered by 10 members and two guests.

Minutes were read by Betty Sanders, secretary, and approved, Alta McGuire gave the treasurer's report and Estalynn Liles gave the council report.

Alice Yates reported that all of the calendars have been delivered and Jimmie Weinert reported the Weinert homecoming quilt was finished by the club and a few Weinert ladies and is ready for the Oct 1-2 homecoming. The women planned what they would each bring for the concession stand. Myrtle Plemister stated that it is time for the Weinert highway cleanup.

Cordie Cunningham reported she had called and talked to Agnes Winchester in Hendrick Hospital in Abilene. She has had heart surgery. The quilt is ready to be quilted for the Rehab Center.

Faye Jetton presented the program, "How to keep fit for life." She stressed exercise, explaining that walking is one way to stay fit. There were two demonstrations for persons who cannot walk by Mona Gibson and Erma Liles.

Next club day will be at the country kitchen with Henrietta Rueffer and Kathryn Shonerstedt hostesses. The county agent will speak on "Read the fine print."

Refreshments were served to Myrtle Plemister, Estalynn Liles, Erma Liles, Betty Sanders, Alta McGuire, Henrietta Rueffer, Jimmie Weinert, Alice Yates, Cordie Cunningham and Faye Jetton, and guests Mona Gibson and Julia Wallace.

all
Just the other day.
We feel you in the wind that blows;

We know you're very near,
We know you wouldn't miss
This very special time of year.
It's harvest time, and we understand

God has His harvest too.
He chose this very time of year
To come and walk with you.
He took you from these fields of toil

Into a land of rest,
Where the work is very easy
And the harvests are the best.
It's harvest time, and you're not here

To show this time of joy,
But memory is one gift of God
That death cannot destroy.

We'll hear your voice, we'll see your smile
In the dreams of harvests past,
You'll be a part of all our harvests

Until the very last.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

Business Repairs

If you expect to pay big money on business repairs, you should know the tax difference between a repair and a capital expenditure.

A repair can be deducted on your tax return for the year in which it was made. An outlay for a capital expenditure must be capitalized and written off over a period of years.

The difference can have an impact on your income taxes. For example, if you spend $10,000 patching up a store roof so that it doesn't leak, you can deduct the entire $10,000 on your tax return. But if you spend $10,000 to replace the roof, you must capitalize the expense and depreciate it.

It may be in your best interest to expense your repairs rather than capitalize them, but how do you know which is which? Tax experts agree it's a gray area, but the IRS offers this guidance: if the expenditure increases the value of your property, makes it more useful, or lengthens its life, the expenditure must be capitalized and depreciated. Otherwise, it's an expense.

For instance, if you have a machine that requires you to replace parts to keep it running, the cost of the parts is considered an expense because you're maintaining the machine's existing life. But if you replace those parts during an overhaul of the machine, that's usually considered a capital expenditure, because the overhaul has lengthened the machine's life.

Since the decision to expense versus capitalize can be a gray area, make sure that you are able to justify your decision with thorough documentation.
