Customer seminar slated

Joel Combs, well-known business motivator, will conduct customer development seminars in Haskell on the next two Tuesday evenings, Oct. 18 and Oct. 25.

The sessions, running from 7 to 10, will be in the City Hall.

Combs, who presented a similar seminar here several years ago, stresses six primary areas of improvement: Personal attitude development, personal relations effectiveness, sales skills, goal-setting, time management and memory development.

His program has been endorsed by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Combs is president of Developmental Training Services, a company he helped found in 1967. He has conducted organization and personnel development programs for numerous business associations, chambers of commerce and individual businesses.

Responses of participants indicates an intense, exciting approach to training practices by the seminar leader.

Persons interested in participating in the local seminar may contact the Haskell Chamber of Commerce which will give the names to the seminar leader. There is a charge for the seminar.

Thrift Store moving to new location

The Haskell County Auxiliary Thrift Store will open in a new location Thursday.

The store is moving from its location on the east side of the square to the former Aladdin House building on the northwest corner of the square.

Jenny Collins, president of the Auxiliary, and Melba Pharr of the executive committee, said the store had outgrown its location.

They expressed their thanks to Thomas Long for providing the building which allowed the group to get the store started.

The store, which is open on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, sells used household items, furniture, clothing and other merchandise. Proceeds help finance the Auxiliary's programs for the benefit of residents of the two local nursing homes and the hospital. All merchandise is donated.

Spaghetti feed on tap Friday

Serving begins at 5 p.m. Friday at the Progressive Study Club's annual chicken and spaghetti supper in the high school cafeteria. It will continue until 7.

Advance tickets, available from club members and at Lane-Felker, are $4.50 each. Tickets at the door will be $5.

Haskell High twirlers

Haskell High School twirlers earned a Division I rating at the district contest in Brownwood and will compete in the state contest in May. From left, they are Jessica Bridwell, Brandi Briles, Vanessa Miller, Tenille Mathis, Kimberly Skiles, Shannon Jordan and Shelly Palacios.

Twirlers receive top rating

The 1994-95 Haskell High School twirlers received a Division I rating at the UIL District Twirling contest Sept. 24 in Brownwood.

The ensemble, consisted of Brandi Briles, senior; Jessica Bridwell, junior; Tenille Mathis, Shelly Palacios and Kimberly Skiles, sophomores; and Shannon Jordan and Vanessa Miller, freshmen.

The twirlers' outstanding performance made them eligible for the State UIL contest to be held in May.

District UIL solo competition was held the same day. Receiving a Division I rating were Tenille, Kimberly and Shannon. They will twirl their solos for the State UIL competition in May.

Auxiliary meets Monday

The Haskell County Hospital Auxiliary will meet Monday evening.

The meeting begins at 7 in the board room at Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Correction

The Women of Weinert won the Judge's award at the Weinert homecoming parade.

A story in the Free Press last week stated the Women of Weinert were the parade judges.

Chet Forehand, Lou Gilly and Billie McKeever were the judges.

Indians to battle Hamlin here Friday

If there's a positive that came out of the Haskell's loss to Stamford last week, it would be that it gives the Indians a powerful incentive against Hamlin here this Friday.

It's the second district 7-2A contest for the Indians, who must upset the favored Pied Pipers if they are to remain in contention for the playoffs. While a victory would put them back in the championship race, a loss would all but eliminate them from even a runnerup finish.

The task is not easy. The Pipers, everyone's pick to win it all, bring a 3-2 record to the Indian Reservation. The two losses have been a couple of squeakers to 3A toughies, 18-14 to Wylie and 21-14 to Childress. While Haskell was dropping a 27-10 decision to Stamford last week, the Pipers opened their 7-2A race with a 55-8 thrashing of Anson.

"They are an outstanding team," said Indian coach Dwayne Gray about this week's foe. "They have so much talent in every position. Talent wise, they are the district's No. 1 team by far."

The Indian defense, which played well in posting four victories, leaked for a number of long runs against Stamford last week. It will have its work cut out for it this Friday in trying to stop a Piper offense led by running backs Bruce Cooper, David Bell and James Clawson and quarterback Eric Brown.

And the Hamlin defense is no slouch either. Nose guard Chris Smith leads the defense department. "He's good and he's quick," said Gray.

The Haskell coach said he thought his team was well prepared for the Stamford game. "Until late in the first half, I thought we played the best we have all year," he said. "But after we made a couple of mistakes, we didn't come back."

The coach said the Indians needed to sharpen their offense, which looked good in the first half last week, but folded in the second half. "We're not executing as we would like," he said.

Gray was pleased in some areas. Cody Cypert was superb in the kicking department and the return coverage against the punts and kickoffs was outstanding.

And the defense shone at times. Except for their inability to stop the long run on several occasions, the Indians held the Bulldogs at bay.

The coach said he thought nose guard Martin Limones played extremely well. He was in on 14 tackles. He also liked the performances of linebacker Ryan Olson and the two tackles, Michael Rodriguez and Robert Ortiz.

Library receives state accreditation

The Haskell County Library has been accredited as a member of the Texas State Library System for fiscal year 1995, according to William D. Gooch, director and librarian of the Texas State Library.

"We are pleased to award a certificate of system membership in recognition of the efforts this community has made in providing public library services," said Gooch. "It is a symbol of having achieved a level of excellence."

The Haskell County Library is a renewal member of the Big Country Library System and serves citizens in Haskell, Rule, Rochester, Weinert, Paint Creek, O'Brien and the surrounding areas.

"We have had to meet strict criteria, such as hours of access, professional staffing requirements, the number of library materials and local per-capita support to become an accredited member," said Joan Strickland, library director. "Public libraries must apply and qualify for system membership annually."

Benefits provided by being a system member include: Extension books from the Abilene Public Library in large print, audio tapes and interlibrary loan orders for books that are in print but not in the local library (a fee of $1 is appreciated to help defray postage on these books, and is charged to out-of-county users; book value money from the state, summer reading logs, certificates and bookmarks. And in January, the local library will receive an IBM computer from the state for use by local patrons.

Authorized by the Library Systems Act of 1969, the Texas State Library was developed to improve library service in the state through cooperative efforts. Comprised of 10 regions, the statewide system provides an opportunity for local libraries to make the best possible use of both

Haskell hosts Legionnaires this weekend

Haskell rolls out the red carpet this weekend to Legionnaires from the 13th district of the American Legion.

Up to 100 Legionnaires and Auxiliary members from throughout the sprawling district will gather Saturday and Sunday at the American Legion Hall for their annual fall convention.

District 13 covers an area reaching from Denton and Lake Dallas on the east, Wichita Falls on the north, and Haskell and Aspermont on the south and west.

Visiting Legionnaires and Auxiliary members have reserved all rooms at the Fieldan Inn and the Bevers House. Others will stay in motels in Stamford.

The convention gets underway with registration at 8 a.m. Saturday. Registration will continue throughout the day. Workshops are scheduled Saturday morning and Saturday afternoon.

The groups will meet in joint session Saturday evening, beginning with a social hour from 5:30 to 6:30. A banquet is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Ruby Turner, a member of the Haskell City Council will give the welcome. Abe Turner, commander of the host Rogers-Cox Post 221, will introduce the acting district commander, Chuck Donaldson, who will introduce the guest speaker, Archie Heathington, past department commander.

Following the banquet, a dance will be held from 9 p.m. until midnight.

Sunday's activities begin with the past district commanders' breakfast from 8 to 9, followed by a joint memorial service from 9 to 9:30.

At 10, the Legion, Auxiliary and SAL will conduct separate business meetings.

The Legion will hear reports from Credentials and Rules, Resolutions, and Time and Place committees. Gene Plunkett, Rogers-Cox Post adjutant, is a member of the Resolutions Committee. Awards will also be presented.

The Auxiliary business session will be at the Haskell National Bank community room. Nancy Plunkett, president of Unit 221 of Haskell, will give the welcome. Reports will be given by various committees and awards will be given.

Ramps being installed

Construction of 40 wheelchair ramps along US 277 and US 380 in Haskell was to begin Wednesday, according to the Texas Department of Transportation.

"These ramps will be constructed at selected corners to enable the physically impaired better access to street crossings," said Joe Higgins, area engineer.

After completion of this project in three to four weeks, ramps will be constructed in Rochester and Rule, Higgins said.

Sagerton church gets new pastor

Jeff Zell has accepted a call to serve as pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in Sagerton. An ordination and installation service for the new pastor will be held at 4 p.m. Sunday. Mark Herbener, bishop of the Northern Texas and Northern Louisiana Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, will preside.

Speaker will be John Tietjen, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Fort Worth. The public is invited.

Zell, 28, is a native of Waterloo, Iowa, and grew up in Aurora, Ill. He received his BA degree from Concordia College in Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1988. He received a master of divinity (M.Div.) in 1993 and a master of theology (Th.M.) in 1994 from the Lutheran School of Theology in Chicago.

Mrs. Zell (Marie) was born in Hamilton, Ontario, and was raised on a small farm just outside that Canadian city. She received a two-year general business degree from Mohawk College in Hamilton in 1981, and a BA in elementary teaching from Concordia in 1987. They met at Concordia and were married there in 1987.

Jeff and Marie said they are excited to have the opportunity to live and be a part of the Sagerton community.

The new pastor succeeds Mike Couchman, who has moved to Fort Worth.

Out of reach

Kurt McCord of the Indians makes an all-out, but futile, effort to catch this pass in the Stamford game Friday.

Fierce action

There was plenty of close combat in the Haskell-Stamford game in Stamford Friday night. Getting in on the action here are Indians Stephen Campbell (21), Jamie Hodgkin (66) and Chris Silvas (22).

their own resources and those available elsewhere in the system.

These cooperative efforts are made possible through state and federal funds appropriated by the Library Development Program of the Texas State Library. This year, the Texas State Library will distribute approximately $7.8 million to the 10 library systems. Of this, $1,500 will be allowed to the Haskell County Library.

"Local cooperative effort is the key word here," said Mrs. Strickland. "By Sept. 30, 1995, we will have to come up with $800 to stay in the system. So please remember the library with donations to the memorial fund or to our 'Feed the Kitty' can at the library. Our library is very important to our community and schools. We need to make a very strong effort to stay in the system. The library needs your help."

The Haskell County Library is open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Friday.

Big plays sink Indians

Stamford's John Sanchez ran for 205 yards in 26 carries to lead the Bulldogs to a 27-10 victory over the Haskell Indians in the district 7-2A opener in Stamford Friday night.

Sanchez' heroics came after the Indians had started so well. They marched to a touchdown on their first possession, added a field goal in the second period and were driving toward another TD with two minutes to go before halftime.

And then the wheels came off. The Bulldogs intercepted two Indian passes in a span of 105 seconds and converted each of them into a touchdown to turn a 10-0 deficit into a 13-10 halftime lead.

Haskell never got back in the game, as Stamford scored again in the third period and added another touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

The Indians marched 47 yards for a touchdown in eight plays the first time they had the ball. Justin Lisle ran 12 yards for the score and Cody Cypert added the extra point to stake Haskell to a 7-0 lead with 5:43 to go in the first period.

The Indians missed a golden opportunity to pad their lead just moments later when Eric Strand's second-down pass was intercepted by Frankie Masias on the Haskell 30. But a 10-yard penalty erased Keiland Riley's 8-yard run and the Indians were able to move only to the 28 from where a fourth-down pass fell incomplete.

After a change of possessions, Cody Cypert's 48-yard punt pinned the Bulldogs back to their 7. Three running plays netted Stamford only a yard and Justin Reed's 19-yard kick gave Haskell another opportunity at the 28. After getting a first down at the 15, two running plays netted nothing and a third-down pass fell incomplete. On fourth down, Cypert booted a 32-yard field goal and the Indians increased their lead to 10-0 with five minutes gone in the second period.

Following the kickoff, a 39-yard pass from Strand to Aaron Pritchard and a 14-yard run by Sanchez powered Stamford to the Indian 37. But on fourth down, Sanchez' fumble was recovered by Cory Green at the 39.

A 10-yard run by Lisle and a 15-yard penalty against Stamford helped the Indians move to the Bulldog 37. But Rickey Ramos intercepted an Indian pass at the 30 and returned it to the Haskell 46. On the first play from that point, Strand passed to Paul McClendon at the 30, and then he lateraled the ball to Sanchez who streaked the rest of the way for Stamford's first touchdown. Todd Wellington kicked the extra point to make the score 10-7 with 1:57 to go in the half.

Masias returned the Stamford kickoff from his 20 to the 43. Riley picked up 4 yards, Lisle made 5 and then 8 for a first down at the Bulldog 40. Riley got 2 more to the 38, but on the next play McClendon intercepted Cypert's pass at the 37 with 24 seconds to go.

After Strand's pass fell incomplete, Josh Murpree streaked 63 yards, crossing the goal line with 3 seconds remaining before intermission. The extra point attempt was blocked, but the Bulldogs had forged ahead, 13-10.

On their second possession in the second half, the Bulldogs scored again when McClendon raced 74 yards for a touchdown and Wellington added the extra point to make it 20-10 at the 1:57 mark of the third period.

Four plays deep into the fourth quarter, Stamford got its fourth touchdown when Sanchez sped 67 yards.

Lisle was the Indians' leading ball carrier, rushing for 71 yards in 15 carries. Riley had 48 yards in 11 carries and Bucky Harvey had 14 yards in 4.

Junior noseguard Martin Limones led the Indian defense, being credited with 14 tackles. Senior linebacker Ryan Olson was in on 9 tackles. The Indians' two tackles, junior Robert Ortiz and freshman Michael Rodriguez had 6 each.

	Indians	Bulldogs

DID YOU KNOW?
Taffeta cloth is so-called from the Persian word taftah, meaning "twisted" or "woven."

Sidelines

Stamford lived up to its reputation of a big-play team.

The Bulldogs ran 41 rushing plays and made 338 yards. Nine of those plays netted 316 yards, the other 32 just 22 yards. Those seven big-gainers included runs of 18, 13, 14, 63, 38, 10, 74, 19 and 67 yards.

Nine times a Bulldog ball carrier was dropped for a loss and on six occasions there was no gain.

And the Bulldogs also made their passes count. They completed only two of eight, but those two completions were for 39 and 46 yards.

Haskell's biggest plays were a 13-yard run by Bucky Harvey and a 13-yard pass from Cody Cypert to Keiland Riley. Justin Lisle had runs of 12 and 10 yards.

It was one of those games divided into two parts. The Indians won the first 22 minutes, 10-0.

Of Lisle's 71 rushing yards, 62 came in the first half. And 35 of Keiland Riley's 48 yards were in the first half.

There's nothing wrong with the Indians' kicking game.

Cody Cypert's extra points were the margin of victory in the 20-18 win over Munday, and his extra point and field goal the margin in the 10-6 win over Baird.

Against Stamford, his kickoffs and punting kept the Bulldogs pinned in their own territory and gave the Indians great field position.

His opening kickoff went to the 2, and Stamford was able to run it back only to the 10. After the Indian touchdown, he kicked off to the 8 and it was returned to the 19. His first punt was a 48-yarder which rolled dead on the Stamford 7. In all, Cypert punted four times for a 42-yard average.

Stamford punted after three of its first four possessions (being intercepted on the other), but the Bulldogs never had to punt again.

If the Indians could play 48 minutes like they do the opening minutes, they would have quite a record.

In four of their six games, they've scored on their first possession, in another on their second.

They scored on their first possessions against Munday, Knox City, Albany and Stamford, and on their second possession against Baird. That's 298 yards in five scoring drives, ranging from 40 yards against Baird to 90 yards against Munday.

Only Quanah has shut them down in the early going.

District 7-2A

Stamford, Hamlin and Rotan were the winners last week in the opening games in the district 7-2A title chase.

Stamford defeated Haskell, 27-10; Hamlin routed Anson, 55-8; and Rotan defeated Hawley, 28-14.

This week's schedule finds Hamlin at Haskell, Anson at Rotan and Stamford at Hawley.

THE $51 PER BALE ADVANTAGE FOR COTTON PRODUCERS

More than $51 per bale paid in cash for the 1993 crop.

Your local and regional cotton cooperatives offer a vertically integrated system that takes your cotton from the field to the textile mill. It's a system that adds valuable income to your farming operation. Ginning, warehousing, marketing, textile manufacturing, and cottonseed processing all work to increase the value of your cotton crop every step of the way.

For the 1993 cotton crop, combined cash payments from the local and regional cotton cooperatives averaged $51.62 per bale, over and above the value of your lint cotton. Thus, the more cotton you send through the cooperative system, the more you can add to your net profits. Consider the cooperative advantage for your cotton crop. From your local cooperative gin to the warehouses, the oil mill, the marketing association and the denim mill - it's just good business. See your local or regional cotton cooperative today.

My Corner

(Haskell native J. R. Crane, 86, is now a resident of Quannah Parker Nursing Center in Quannah. He writes a column for the Quannah Tribune-Chief and has developed quite a following with his recollections of events of the past, often dealing with early life in Haskell. Below is one of his recent columns.)

By J. R. Crane

My first wedding date was June 3, 1927. On the lighter side of life at 15 or 16, I caught a desire called "girlitis." I was writing to my cousin, Vinnie James, and I went to see her in the deep Piney Woods, East Texas.

Met her one evening and she ran off with a man and got married. Then I met Matty Hodges, courted her a while, came home and got a "Dear John" letter. She found out she liked someone better than me, and that broke my heart for two days. Boo-hoo.

Then a carnival came to town with a merry-go-round, ferris wheel and a kind of swing that went round, up, down and fast. I knew better than to get on that one.

Chunking baseballs at dolls on a rack, I won some prizes and met another girl. Of all the girls I met, Fay or May Fields, can never remember which. We had a good time and a date for tomorrow; we were to meet downtown.

She wanted to ride that swing that went round and up and down. It is a good thing that I got on the outside, because I threw up all the junk food I had been eating, and the swing lost the crowd of onlookers. When it stopped to let me off, I was so dizzy I couldn't stand up.

Then I found out that I had two girls that were as alike as two peas in a pod. Only their mother could tell them apart. If I learned anything, don't date a twin unless you like trouble in pairs. So bye-bye Fay and or May, don't know which.

I lived by a man that had twin boys. They were not alike and you could tell them apart, but they thought alike. I had my cow staked out in the alley to a telephone pole. When I went to get her she was tied to the top of a 20-foot pole. I had to get a ladder to turn her loose. They were hiding in the bushes enjoying their prank. They did so many pranks people began to complain about it.

There was a cotton gin that had money to buy cotton with a safe in the office. They rolled it up to the door and turned it over against the door and left by the window. The gin had a little trouble getting in the office, as he was a large man.

To keep them from getting into any more trouble their daddy had to move. He went back to Arkansas. I feel sorry for those Arkies. Their dad put them to work.

He came back to Haskell with a truck load of tomatoes they had raised. To use all that energy the twins worked as a team. First, they picked those tomatoes, wrapped them in tissue paper and packed them in 25-pound boxes. The tomatoes sold like hotcakes for 2 dollars per box.

Their daddy sold tomatoes that the twins picked and packed and got paid for all that twin energy. Just don't waste it.

Red carpet rolled out for FCE clubs

Haskell County FCE clubs were welcomed with international flair and style by District 2 FCE members and the TAFCE state board in Lubbock Sept. 13-15 for their annual state convention.

Representing Haskell County as delegates were Estalynn Liles, county TAFCE chairman and member of the Weinert FCE club; Joetta Burnett, TAFCE vice chairman and member of the Eager Housewives Club; and Dorothy Trussell of the Josselet club.

Opening activities at the "Global Fest" allowed everyone to sample food and entertainment from other countries whose heritage is now a part of Texas.

The "early bird conference" drew large crowds to view and participate in heritage skills and home arts demonstrations, in addition to shopping in the trade show and educational exhibits available.

The group was honored to have the national president, Judy

Weinkauf, as a speaker and workshop presenter. Texas continued on "focus on families" through educational workshops as it strives to have a greater impact on health, environment, TV's impact on children and literacy. Members learned to recognize the issues and how to take community action to make a difference in families' lives.

Special awards were presented for individual accomplishments, as well as awards to outstanding counties and districts.

Delegates elected state officers for the positions of vice president for public policy, and secretary. Kila Lackey was elected to the vice president position. Gerry Zummer was elected secretary.

The state convention, with 905 in attendance, closed Thursday evening with a banquet, installation of officers and entertainment presented by the Prairie Winds chapter of The Sweet Adelines International.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake Liles

Scheets, Liles exchange vows

Deanna Dawn Scheets and Blake Edward Liles were united in marriage Oct. 1 in a ceremony at East Side Baptist Church in Haskell.

The bride is the daughter of Howard and Frances Scheets of Haskell. The groom's parents are Howard and Estalynn Liles, also of Haskell.

The bride's maternal grandmother is Lena Kreger of Haskell. Connie Belle and Bill Liles of Haskell are the groom's paternal grandparents.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an original gown of satin and lace in white. The fitted bodice, with portrait neckline, had long tapered sleeves; appliques of lace embellished with tiny seed pearls and paillettes, enhanced the bodice and sleeves. The low cut back was accented with strings of pearls. The full skirt of satin had appliques of lace medallions scattered over the front, and vertical lace insets in the back. The skirt fell into a chapel train.

A wreath of pearls held her finger tip veil of imported illusion. Silk flowers and a small pouf accented with pearls and strings of pearls trickled over the flowers and down the veil.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white Cassandra lilies accented with royal blue silk roses, white and royal blue Forget-me-nots and English ivy. Her throw-away bouquet was a nosegay of white silk Peruvian lilies, sunflowers, white daisies, and blue Forget-me-nots accented with royal blue and white streamers. Sue Patterson of Sue's Flowers of Haskell designed both bouquets.

For something old and borrowed, the bride wore her grandmother's 50-year-old heart-shaped watch; something new was her wedding dress; something else borrowed was a bracelet from her maid of honor; something blue was the garter. The bride wore a 1969 penny, the groom's birth year, and an English six-pence, which is said to be good luck, in her Granny boots.

Maid of honor was Connie Darden, sister of the bride, of Abilene. Maid of honor was Cathryne Seelke of San Angelo. Bridesmaids were Georgie Root of Hays, Kan., and Robin Souders of Abilene.

Attendants wore dresses of royal blue with blue lace covering satin basque waists. The dresses had rolled satin scoop necklines, V backs, shirred sleeves, and full skirts with graduated hems. They carried blue fans trimmed with white lace and small sunflowers, silk bluebells and white Peruvian lilies.

Flower girls were Sara Darden, niece of the bride, and Leah Petross, cousin of the groom, both of Abilene. Their dresses were identical to the bridesmaids' dresses. They wore miniature blue and white flower barretts in their hair. The girls carried white lace baskets filled with tiny sunflowers.

The groom wore an after-six white Calypso double breasted tuxedo with a black satin and shawl collar, black contrasting pleated trousers, white wing-tipped pleated shirt, black tie, black cummerbund and black boots. His boutonniere was a royal blue silk double rosebuds.

Jason Davis of Coleman served as the groom's best man. Groomsman were Mickey Dewey of Lubbock and Earl Scheets of Abilene, brother of the bride. The groom's attendants wore Henry Grethel black avanti double breasted tuxedo jackets with satin shawl collars, black Wranglers, white wing-tipped pleated shirts, royal blue ties and cummerbunds, and black boots. Their boutonnieres were royal blue silk double rosebuds.

Ushers were Stan Petross and Justin Wright, cousin of the groom, both of Abilene.

Organist and pianist was De Onn Wallace of Rochester. Soloist, Katy Martin of Haskell, sang "My Only Love." Brian Burgess of Haskell sang, "Forever and Ever, Amen." Brian and Katy sang "The Battle Hymn of Love."

Guests were welcomed by a Western atmosphere as they entered the church. The foyer held two rocking chairs clad with cowboy pillows, and a cream can filled with large sunflowers. A large Western print hung above the registry table, upon which tiny hay bales and cowboy memorabilia were scattered. April Baldwin of Haskell presided at the registry table. Guests registered in a white lace and satin heart-shaped bridal book.

Inside the church, pews were adorned alternately with lariat ropes accented by boots and a hat while others were trimmed with sunflowers and blue bandanas. At the altar were four antique wagon wheels decorated with native grasses, sunflowers and ribbons that added to the Western atmosphere. Mayree Turnbow of Haskell and Florence Peden of Old Glory did the church rehearsal dinner and wedding reception decorations and flowers and corsages in the chosen colors of royal blue and white.

As Blake and his attendants entered the church, Blake presented the mother of the bride with a single longstemmed pink rose. As Deanna approached the altar, she paused and presented the mother of the groom with an identical pink rose, also.

Following the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the church fellowship hall. A bride's portrait was displayed just inside the entrance of the fellowship hall. As guests made their way into the reception area, they could see two iron wagon wheels with an old watering can, a lariat rope, a small wagon wheel, an antique crock filled with wildflowers and a rusty old lantern.

The bride's table was covered with a white and blue plaid cloth. The graduated three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with edible white Peruvian lilies, white and bluebell flowers, and green ivy leaves. Cake tiers were connected with white seed pearls and cascading English ivy. The cake was crowned with a ceramic Western wedding couple framed by a wooden wagon wheel accented with white silk roses, miniature lariat rope, wheat, and white lace covered the base. Al and Cap Prachyl of Party Fare, Abilene, made and decorated the wedding cake.

The bride's table had an antique pitcher and cascading ivy centerpiece and a picture of the bride and groom in casual Western attire.

Almond tea was served from a large crock bowl. Minnie Scheets of Haskell, aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake. Lizette Hasteley of Rochester, cousin of the groom, served the tea. The bride and groom cut their wedding cake with a beautifully carved crystal serving set. They toasted each other from long stemmed silver toasting glasses.

The groom's table was covered with a blue bandana fabric, and a ceramic boot filled with wildflowers served as a centerpiece. Al and Cap Prachyl also made the groom's cake which was a chocolate cake in the form of a white chef's hat. Chocolate boots, hats, saddles, and covered wagon mints were served from a crock plate, and nuts filled a Western tin, accented by a horseshoe. Connie Petross of Abilene, cousin of the groom, served the groom's cake. Tara Petross of Abilene, cousin of the groom, served the coffee.

Steven Pritchett of Abilene caught the bride's white and blue lace garter. Robin Souders caught the bride's throw-away bouquet.

As the couple exited from the fellowship hall, Carmen and Courtney Bowden of Electra and Tara Petross passed out white and blue net birdseed bags that were tied with small royal blue braided rope.

The groom's parents rode to the church in an antique wagon pulled by two small mules. The wagon master was Benny Bowden of Electra. The newlyweds left the reception under a birdseed mirage and boarded the wagon. Mr. Bowden took them riding through the park and back to the groom's parent's house. He also took time to give all the children in the wedding a wagon ride around the block.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted on Sept. 30 by the groom's parents at East Side Baptist Church fellowship hall. Approximately 35 guests were treated to a catered barbecue meal.

The bride graduated from Haskell High School. She attended Hardin Simmons University and is now enrolled at Tarleton State University. The groom graduated from Paint Creek High School and attended Tarleton State University.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will live in Comanche where they are employed at P.A.R. Country Club where the groom is executive chef/restaurant manager.

Pre-nuptial parties included a couple's shower at the First National Bank community room Sept. 19. Hostesses used Western theme decorations and served crackers, cheeses, salami bites, cookies, praline candies and lemonade. La Quita Liles registered guests. Hostesses were Lyla Mary Isbell, Valiene Bullinger, Betty Dulaney, Dolores Medford and La Quita Liles.

On the eve of the wedding, a lingerie shower was given in the bride's honor by Connie Darden, Cathryne Seelke and Minnie Scheets. White carnation corsages were presented to Deanna, Frances and Estalynn. Minnie Scheets served punch. Guests enjoyed an assortment of cookies.

Guests enjoyed playing written games of Wedding Scramble and Honeymoon Havens.

Attending were Georgie Root, Cathryne Seelke, Robin Souders, Heather Stewart, April Baldwin, Brittany and Breanna, Sara Darden, Connie Belle Liles, Aletha Mayfield, Frances Scheets, Estalynn Liles, Minnie Scheets and Connie Darden.

Viola Mercer

Viola Atchison Mercer died Saturday in Haskell Memorial Hospital. She was 84.

Funeral services were Monday afternoon at East Side Baptist Church with the Revs. Alfred Altum and David Page officiating. Burial, directed by Holden-McCauley Funeral Home, was in Roberts Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Jess Leonard, Paul Dick, Rebus Guess, Lindo Guess, Olen King and C. E. Tidwell.

Mrs. Mercer was born in the Vontress community and had lived in Haskell County all of her life. She was a member of East Side Baptist Church and the Ruth Sunday School class. She and her late husband were long time volunteers with the Experienced Citizens Center.

She married Raymond "Pete" Mercer in Haskell on Aug. 25, 1932. He died Nov. 3 of last year.

She is survived by a daughter, Anita Kay Mercer Harrill of Mesquite; two granddaughters, Lisa Harrill Johnson and Lynn Harrill Dugger of Mesquite; two great-grandsons, Clint Johnson and Collin Dugger of Mesquite; and two brothers-in-law, Dude Mercer of Haskell and Roy Mercer of Arlington.

In addition to her husband, she was preceded in death by a daughter, Freddie Joyce Mercer.

Jimmy Lancaster

Jimmy Eugene Lancaster died Monday, Oct. 3, at his home in Liberty Hill. He was 38.

Funeral services were Thursday afternoon at the Methodist Church in Bertram with Damon Reelder officiating. Graveside services were Friday afternoon at Willow Cemetery in Haskell.

Mr. Lancaster was born in Haskell on Jan. 28, 1956. He was a 1974 graduate of Haskell High School.

He had lived in the Liberty Hill area for the past 17 years. He was employed by Merideu Achievement Center for 10 years and by Kenmar for the past two years.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Giles E. Lancaster, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Robison and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lancaster.

He is survived by a daughter, Tina Marie Lancaster of Liberty Hill; a sister, Gena Kay Lancaster of Midland; and two brothers, Johnny Dale Lancaster of Fort Smith, Ark., and Gary Bill Womack of Bertram.

18-year-olds must register

The House and Senate have voted to continue the requirement for all men to register with the Selective Service upon reaching age 18.

Federal law requires that every man must register within 30 days of his 18th birthday.

Delta Kappa Gamma meets in Aspermont

The Beta Chi chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met Oct. 1 at the First United Methodist Church in Aspermont.

Vida White, president, called the meeting to order. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Cathy Bartley in the absence of Betsy McManamon, and approved as read.

Lillian Hicks, Legislation Committee chairman, handed out forms of the Alpha State Legislative Poll, Fall 1994. The committee will compile results from members, and this information will be sent to Alpha State Legislature.

Yearbooks for 1994-95 were distributed and the president gave out Texas pins to the committee chairmen.

Mary Martin made a motion to change Article X of the by-laws making the first vice president the program chairman, and the second vice president chairman of the Yearbook committee. Christie Stapleton seconded and the motion carried unanimously.

The president reported that she and Judy Burnett attended the state convention in Amarillo in June.

Other business was a report that the state voted to pay lobbyists to feed information to the Delta Kappa Gamma in a communication exchange.

Members sang the Delta Kappa Gamma song and Mrs. White adjourned the meeting. Refreshments were served by members from Aspermont, Sagerton and Old Glory.

WTU employees to observe Ribbon Week

October is Drug Awareness Month and the week of Oct. 22-30 is Red Ribbon Week. West Texas Utilities Company employees will observe the week by wearing red ribbons.

"We encourage everyone to join us with their support. The red ribbon is symbolic of individual and community efforts for drug prevention education and the elimination of alcohol and drug abuse," said Kit Horne.

The Red Ribbon Campaign started in 1986 in memory of Enrique Camarena, an agent for the Drug Enforcement Administration who was killed by drug traffickers. The program has expanded nationwide.

The Texans' War on Drugs, founded in 1980, is a non-profit organization involved with drug prevention education and has sponsored her campaign in Texas since 1988.

In addition to the observance of Red Ribbon Week, WTU is providing drug awareness activity books to all fifth grade students in its service territory. Other businesses, civic organizations, church groups and individuals are uniting to encourage communities to win the "war on drugs."

--Library Notes--

By Joan Strickland
Fines of 5 cents per book per day overdue are charged by the library. Senior citizens are exempt from fines.

We encourage everyone to use our library and also ask that you treat the books as if they were your own. A hardback book costs about $24.95.

Having a library is good free entertainment. There are bookmarks available free of charge so please take one and refrain from "dog-eared" the pages. Also, please don't place our book face down with the pages open because this causes the spine to break and this is very hard to repair.

And if you drop books, this often breaks the spine. So again I encourage you to please care for the books that you check out from your library so they can circulate a long time.

A number of people have asked about starting a "Friends of the Library" group. If you would be interested in joining such a group, please let me know. There would be a membership fee involved and the friends would be responsible for bake sales, garage sales, talent shows, etc., to help raise funds for the library to be used as the friends see fit.

I cannot stress enough the importance of the library raising $800 by Sept. 30, 1995. Please help the library raise this money so we can continue the level of service we have provided our patrons since system membership.

If you have ideas or comments about our library, please tell me or talk to the library board. Members are Maxine Hamilton, chairperson; Gina Pike, secretary; Pat Henry, Pam Mathis and Janis McDaniel. Or talk to your commissioners, Ronnie Chapman, Bill Hester, Ray Perry and Bud Turnbow, or your county judge, B. O. Roberson.

Recent memorials: Morris Jones, Bill Jones, Skipper Westbrook, Bill St. John, Cliff Nicholson, Woody Carlock, R. A. Atkinson, Tom Chambers, Dr. J. G. Vaughter, Sam Herren and Felix Mullino.

See you at the library.

CLEAR CONNECTIONS

GTE — Value of service is our commitment to Brownwood customers.

Mary Dady
Brownwood District Manager

As your manager for GTE in the Brownwood area, I want you to know we appreciate the opportunity to work with our GTE customers in this area and commit that we will continue to provide the service that you have come to depend upon.

Recent statistics from the Department of Labor show that telephone service is one of America's best values. In the past five years, the cost of many consumer goods has skyrocketed. Medical costs alone have gone up by 45 percent.

During this same period, the cost of telephone service increased by little more than 3 percent nationwide. GTE has not increased rates since 1983. In fact, the company has reduced rates in Texas.

Our customers are the most important part of GTE operations. We feel we can provide you with the best that telecommunications has to offer.

After all, you — our customers — are the reason GTE is in business. You have my personal commitment that providing you with superior service that is an excellent value will remain the primary goal at GTE.

At GTE, we're doing our best to make your telephone service an EXCELLENT VALUE

It's amazing what we can do together

Lt. and Mrs. Chad Parrack

Teresa Unger weds Chad Parrack

Teresa Faye Unger became the bride of Chad Stephen Parrack in a wedding ceremony performed Sept. 3 at the Church on the Rock in Lubbock. Jackie White, pastor, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Ervin and Gwen Unger of Haskell. The bridegroom's parents are Dale and Donnell Parrack of Brownwood.

Robbie McLelland was the pianist. Duets were sung by Randy McLelland and Dalyn Griffith and by Robert Call and Leslie White.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown by Phylliss for Bianchi of bridal satin and lace in white. The fitted bodice, with soft draping in front, had off shoulders and long tapered sleeves. Appliques of beaded re-embroidered Alencon lace enhanced the bodice, shoulders and sleeves.

Her controlled full skirt with a bouffant back was accented with five cabbage roses down the back. One rose defined the waist and satin streamers. The skirt fell into a chapel train and the hem was edged with a beaded Alencon lace border.

A jeweled wreath, with satin roses, held her long veil of imported English illusion. The veil was outlined with tiny seed pearls. The bouquet was made by the bride's mother.

Shelia Campbell was matron of honor and Rebecca Unger was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Heather Chase, Connie Whilden and Joy McKeever.

Attendants wore identical sheath dresses of shantung in poppy. The fitted bodice had off shoulders and brief sleeves. A Dior-bow defined the back waist.

Flower girls, Judy Parrack and Whitney Campbell, wore white lace dresses made by Grace Bright, the bride's grandmother.

MSG John Doll was best man and groomsmen were Wynn Parrack, Jack Rich, Jeremy Jeffery and Jason Quenell. Bobby Baird, Johnny Campbell and Jason Angerstein were ushers and ring bearer was Dale Parrack.

The reception was held in the church foyer. The three-tier wedding cake featured a fountain and was topped with his-and-her lieutenant soldier cake tops.

The rehearsal dinner was in the Cattle Baron in Lubbock.

The bride is a student at Texas Tech University's Health Sciences Center and the groom is a graduate of Texas Tech. They will honeymoon in Hawaii in December when Teresa graduates from nurses' school.

The groom is a second lieutenant in the 422nd Infantry Battalion at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. They will live in Aiea, Hawaii.

Maw Toliver honored on birthday

Mrs. Beulah Toliver, better known as Maw Toliver, had her 95th birthday Sept. 29.

Her four daughters and sons-in-law took her to Abilene for a birthday dinner Thursday. They are Mr. and Mrs. Borden Clifton of Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Gholson of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Hess Hartsfield and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sammons of Haskell.

Employees of the restaurant sang "Happy Birthday." She had many calls and visits throughout the day, and received many cards which she enjoyed very much.

On Saturday afternoon, almost all of the descendants of Lynn and Maw Toliver gathered in the Haskell park for a steak cookout with grandson, Steve Sammons, being the chief chef.

Those enjoying the meal were the four daughters and their husbands, the following grandchildren and great-grandchildren:

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Casey, LeeAnn, Matt and Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Shewmake and Megan and Megan's friend, Montana, and Jo Brown (Mrs. Shewmake's mother) all of Abilene, Zane Clifton of Roundrock and Josh and Jeremy of Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Brent Clifton and Laurel and Jeffrey of Yukon, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Clifton and Amanda, Alicia and Angelia of Oklahoma City, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Calhoun, Katie and Nathan Lyles of Red River, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hartsfield, Haley, Ryan and Neil of Dallas.

Mrs. Mike Newberry and Lynn and Wrett Holt, the first great-great-grandsons, of Denton, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sammons, Christina and Andrew and Alvin Sammons and Mike Gholson and Jonathan and Matthew, all of Haskell.

Also were nephews and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Callaway of Wichita Falls and Mr.

Texas banks on firm ground

"The crisis appears to be over for the state's financial institutions," State Comptroller John Sharp said, reporting that Texas banks and thrifts last year earned more than $7 billion.

"The last financial institution in Texas to close was on Sept. 24, 1993, when a bank in Eagle Pass and another in San Antonio were shut down," Sharp said.

"So far this year, not one Texas financial institution has failed. That's a refreshing change from the 1980s when Texas led the nation in collapsed banks and thrifts," Sharp said.

Sunday continued with lunch in Maw's backyard for 34, then all departed, promising to see her next year on her birthday.

High-risk loans reduced

The 10th Farm Credit District reduced its high-risk loans by 25 percent during the first six months of 1994, continuing a trend that began more than four years ago.

Since year-end 1993, nonaccrual loans have been reduced by $28 million from a level of $93.8 million.
