

Mr. Muleshoe . . .

By J. M. FORBES

Jimmy lay on a special cot in the hospital ward where I was visiting my brother, a veteran of War I. Jimmy had been flown in from Korea. They turned him over every 6 hours. His head hung off the end of the cot for some reason and I couldn't see his face, but continually I heard him mumble old songs he and his buddies had sung in service, something like "Join the Navy and See the Sea." His arms, about as large around as a broomstick, hung down and he moved them about continually with a sweeping motion. Jimmy was 21. My brother thought if more could see Jimmy there would be more daily prayers for peace, and more thought on how to avoid senseless wars in the future.

Local JayCees are spreading the good tidings of the Muleshoe county at Houston where the annual state convention is in session. They are telling whoever will listen about our great section. The boys have a printed piece about their candidate, Doc Putman, with a cartoon that cleverly calls attention to our fair city.

The cartoon depicts a young man, about 3 years old, garbed in western fashion, standing with one booted foot atop a suitcase in a hotel lobby talking to a young fellow of about the same age who is dressed in the manner of the effete east. The westerner says: "You all mean to stand there, son, and tell me you ain't never heard of Muleshoe, Texas?"

The cartoon has a history dating back several years. Austin Panter, of Lincoln, Neb., saved it several years before he could think of bringing it to Clyde Bray on his periodic trips here. Finally Clyde got it, had a cut made of it and used it on his business blotters. Then he offered to allow the JayCees to use it. The Journal clipped one of them from his blotter, pasted the traditional example and shoe onto it, and had a new cut made of it to use on the JayCees literature. We venture to say nothing anyone ever did will attract more comment and attention to our town and section.

Note to Fred Johnson: I am going to return the book I borrowed, just haven't been able to finish it. "The Long Journey" is the hardest book to read I have found lately, but it's so absorbing. I figure it's "must" reading. Am anxious to return it so I can borrow one of your books from your shelves while you're back was turned.

Another suggested book for reading by young and old: The Road Ahead, by John T. Flynn. Rep. Ralph W. Gwinn and New York has remarks appertaining thereto of Senator Owen Brewster, of Maine, to be placed in the Congressional Record and has sent this paper a copy thereof.

The Road Ahead - America's Creeping Revolution, says: We are following in the footsteps of Great Britain. We are much further along this road than we suspect. If we do not clearly recognize that fact and abandon that fatal road, we shall inevitably, perhaps in less than a decade, be in the condition the British now find themselves in.

In Great Britain we have a perfect case history of the infection and progress of the Socialist disease. For four years now the Socialist prophets of abundance and security have been in power. Finally it has dawned upon the British people that the realities of the Socialist paradise does not correspond with the rosy dream. The dream has turned into a nightmare.

Our (U. S.) system is in an appalling mess now, what with the public debt, the confiscatory taxes which drain the blood from its very veins, Government intrusion and the threats of ultimate extinction that are taking ever more erifying shape. The task calls for patriotism and courage; it must not be delayed another day.

The task before us is clear. For our principles of action we must go back to our Constitution, to our Declaration of Independence, to our history and to the example set by our national fathers. We must begin now to dismantle the tyrant state in America and to build up once again the energies of a free people.

Flynn's book created a furore about a year ago. It is still "must" reading, the trend about which it warned is even more pronounced today. I hope you find time to read it and decide for yourself whether it is exaggerated or is a truthful survey of our present situation.

Myron Pool Elected CC President At Organization Dinner Thursday Night

Myron Pool, local insurance and loan man, was elected the first president of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce at its organization dinner held last Thursday night at the American Legion Home with more than 250 interested persons attending.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, was guest speaker for the evening. In his address, Mr. Downing pointed out the necessity and importance of an active and interested chamber of commerce.

Twenty years ago, Mr. Downing said, Texas had 2,532 post offices and at the close of 1950 had 1,993-439 post offices less than 25 years ago. He said that each of these towns which dried up and blew away did not have a chamber of commerce.

Another reason for the decline was the advancement of transportation. Twenty-five years ago the average speed was 15 miles per hour, the present average is 60, and mathematically speaking, the average speed 25 years from now will be 240 miles per hour. These advancements make people think less of going farther distances to do their shopping, whereas 25 years ago they didn't.

Businessmen have a great responsibility to customers, he pointed out, because to interest them they should have the same modern facilities and modern stores as those in larger cities and their merchandise should appeal to the local persons. For an example, he stated the ladies here read the same fashion magazines as the ladies in New York City and we owe it to them to give the latest merchandise now, and not a year later.

To keep abreast of the times, he said, we must accept the responsibility of citizenship. Often times too many people or the citizens of the company by which they are employed are not citizens of the community. He urged people to do things with what they had and not wait for something else to show up. If we don't, we will lose the knack of doing things with what we have.

He closed his address with a quotation, "Tomorrow will look brighter if you have done something worthwhile today."

F. L. Shelby was master of ceremonies and the invocation was given by Minister Ebb Randol. A quartette composed of Bob Harvey, Lowell Irvin St. Clair, Tye Young, and Lloyd Alsop, accompanied by Billy Don Barbour, gave several vocal selections.

Pat Bobo introduced guests from neighboring towns which included C. O. Green, Southwestern Public Service Company, Clovis, and Fred Phelps of the Clovis Chamber of Commerce; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neal, Earth; Mr. Romack and Mr. Black of Friona; Drew Watkins of Sudan; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crowell of Littlefield; Malcolm Breneman, Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Crook, Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Green of Lubbock.

The delicious buffet style meal was prepared by Joe Duke of Muleshoe.

"Unusual" Spell Of Weather Hits Here Tuesday

MYRON POOL

Tuesday was one of those "miserable days" in this section of the Plains. The wind blew hard from the north nearly all day and sand whirled everywhere but mostly into offices, homes, and in people's eyes.

Some folks are said to have talked and acted as if they never saw a sandstorm before. At nightfall it was getting colder by the minute, and R. J. Klump, the weather recorder, said the mercury slid down to 20 degrees sometime during the night.

He doesn't have a wind velocity gauge but arrived at the conclusion that the wind, at least a gust, got to 60 miles per hour, for the reason that a last year's straw hat he owned took off and hasn't been seen or heard of since. It would, he said, take a wind of at least that velocity to do that.

It was NOT a blizzard, Mr. Klump reminded The Journal, seeming to infer that this newspaper is in the habit of calling any inclement spell of weather a blizzard. Well, all right, it WASN'T a blizzard, but it sure was unusual in the opinion of some citizens.

Fire Department Sponsors Stage Show And Circus

Plunkett's Stage Show and Circus combined will appear in Muleshoe Wednesday, April 18, under the auspices of the Muleshoe Fire Department for one day only. Two performances will be given. It is the same Plunkett family show that has operated in this part of the country the past 10 years and has been on the road since 1929.

This year they are presenting a stage show and circus combined, featuring a line of beautiful girls and beautiful wardrobes, numerous animal acts, and aerial acts along with bareback riding and performing elephants.

"This show is something you haven't seen before, but something the entire family will enjoy as it is clean, clever and entertaining."

All proceeds received by the fire department will be used to help buy a portable iron lung for this community.

The Three Way board of trustees will have two new members, Dossie Terrell and Horace Hutton. Leaving the school board will be W. J. Foust. Hutton was re-elected for a second term.

Tye Young was re-elected county trustee at large. In Precinct 2, Ross Goodwin will continue to serve as county trustee as no election was held, and Glen Williams was re-elected county trustee for Precinct 3.

36 Boys To Report Today For The Beginning of Spring Grid Practice

Thirty-six boys were set to begin spring football training at Muleshoe high school today, Coach T. J. Bailey announced this morning. Scheduled to begin April 1, spring training has been set back to today so that the track boys could participate.

After the regional track meet practically all of the boys who have been on the track squad will be free to take part in spring training. Also, Coach Hedges will be free to help with the direction of the drills.

Coach Bailey knows the boys who will turn out and he said this to The Journal reporter: "I think we have a bunch of boys who want to play football. We sure are not pointing to the district, but I believe we can have a squad that will fight every inch of the way and turn in a fine game and that is what I want."

Several good players were lost because of graduation, but those who know say the youngsters have come along fine and some mighty good material will be seen in spring practice. Sessions will be held daily, 1:15 to 4:00 o'clock. Those boys who live in town will work out longer. Spectators are welcome to watch the workouts at Penny Douglas Stadium.

Muleshoe Canning Co. Will Give Free Seed To Tomato Growers

The Muleshoe Canning Company, owned and operated by Carl Case and sons, announced this week they would give Rutgers Certified Tomato Seed to growers in this area who will plant from one to 10 acres of tomatoes this year.

Tomatoes are a good money crop and several persons planting them last year recognized more profit per acre from tomatoes than from any other crop.

A few acres of tomatoes will bring in a little cash in the time when it is needed most—before cotton and other crops are harvested.

This seed is free of charge, and there is no obligation except the company wants to check with the grower on the land which is to be planted in tomatoes.

Tomato seed will be limited, and persons desiring to plant tomatoes are urged to contact Muleshoe Canning Co., either at the cannery or Eddie Lane's Real Estate office.

They are also taking contracts for green beans for this year's canning. You can plant an acre in beans and make a profit and still have your land ready for fall seeding to alfalfa or wheat. For any details concerning the growing of tomatoes and beans, Muleshoe Canning Company will be glad to give them to you.

Babson Discusses

SELF-PROTECTION

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 6.—For some time, I have been advising my readers who live in large cities to have — as insurance — a small house with enough land to feed one's family and far enough away from the large city to be safe in case of World War III. I am not recommending farming as a small business, as it is fast becoming a "big business" operation. It is very difficult for an experienced person, without much capital to compete with big farmers. As insurance, however, I believe such a small place in the country is the cheapest, safest and most sensible insurance a family can buy, after being insured against fire.

Being Smug Will Not Pay
I am now getting letters from readers saying: "We already have a house to which we can flee in an emergency. Hence, we are okay whatever happens." This week I wish to remind such readers that they have forgotten the "refugee problem." It is very possible that when you reach your "hide-away," you will find it already occupied by others who have fled from a large city and — by permission of the Red Cross or some State official — have already taken possession. The rule may be that the first refugees who reach an unoccupied house — or an occupied house with empty rooms — can take possession, whoever the owner may be.

Hence, it is important that we (who think we are well provided with a safe refuge) should wake up and do something now, to prepare for an abrupt surprise! This applies not only to those who are planning to flee to a summer place in the country, but also to those who now live smugly in the quiet suburbs of some city which may be bombed. Such houses will be occupied by strangers if we leave them vacant — while we must share them with strangers if we remain in them. In case of enemy bombing, refugees will be given any empty beds whenever needed.

"What shall we home owners do?" you ask. Let me reply that our future safety depends upon getting interested now in helping the other fellow. If a city within 75 miles is bombed, only those who are truly unselfishly interested in helping the refugees will save their own homes, whether in a city suburb or in a little farm or village. This means we should now become an active Red Cross or refugee worker. We should now study first aid nursing and emergency diet. We should now definitely plan to take strange people into our homes either in entirety or in part, in case of need. If we have a barn or garage or empty building, we should now fix it up for refugees. Our personal safety will depend not upon how much money we have, but how much we are doing for other people who have lost everything. Only our generosity will save us. Smugness and the feeling that we will get preferential treatment because of our houses, our money, our social standing or our political pull could land us in a concentration camp.

Cease Being An "Anti!"
It is very important that we at once quit being an "anti" and now train ourselves and our children to care and share with others. It seems as if everyone with whom I talk is "anti-something." Some families are anti-Jewish, others anti-Negroes, others anti-Catholics and others anti-Protestants, or anti-Labor or anti-Capital! Then, I find one family is anti-Truman and the family next door is anti-Taft, or anti-something else. Some are for World Federation, in which I believe, and others laugh at me. To save our own necks we must forget this "anti-stuff" and remember Jesus' profound statement: "If we are to save our lives we must be willing to lose our lives."

All of us are more or less "anti" on our foreign policy — whether to follow Hoover or Dewey, or Acheson. I especially wish the United Nations could quit its childish debating about "who cast the first stone." It should unite on some constructive policy of providing all countries with their just peace needs of oil, food and other necessary raw materials. This is the only way War III can be prevented. Our hope and safety lies not with more bombers, more ships and more ground troops, but in assuring the world of the FOUR FREEDOMS which we offered them nearly ten years ago. But, in the meantime, let all of us plan something for the refugees in case some city near us is bombed.

Sand Hills Philosopher Says
The Racketeers Are Busy, But
Crime Not Increasing Out There

Editor's Note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes an optimistic note this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
A group of my neighbors and me was considering organizing a crime investigation committee out here, but the radio facilities are so poor I doubt if we could get a audience big enough to make the thing worth while, but as a substitute we listened to everything we could hear on the radio and read all we could find in the newspapers about the other investigations, the senior one in New York and the junior one in Austin, and since about everything has been said about the discoveries that could be said, ain't no use in me commentin'.

Understand in the television areas business was at a standstill because everybody was at home watching the performance, but I suspect what the committee was turnin up was worth what business was lost.

A neighbor asked me this mornin if I thought crime was on the increase, and while I can't answer for New York or Houston or Dallas, I know it ain't increased none out here at Needmore. Newspapers, radio stations and television studios would starve to death if they depended on a livin reportin the crime news from this area. Guess we're just backwards.

However, I don't think crime has increased so awfully much, it's just reported better these days. I'll admit some strang goin-on have been takin place in the big cities, where gamblers and racketeers have been supplantin the polices' income, due I suppose to the high cost of livin and them feelin sorry for 'em, and some men in high places have been asked some mighty embarrasin questions which they ain't answered satisfactorily to me and my neighbors, but I ain't been able to find no decrease in the number of average citizens, inside of congress or out, who are about as law-abidin as they ever was.

The racketeers ain't about to take this country over. I don't think anybody is. It still belongs to the people, even if sometime we don't know what to do with it.

Yours faithfully,
"J. A."

6,807 Men To Take
Physicals In May

AUSTIN, April 9.—Texas draft boards have been called upon by State Selective Service headquarters to order 6,807 men for physical examinations during the month of May. State headquarters originally had intended to examine around 10,000 men in May, but cut the figure down after April induction call was reduced from 4,150 to 2,075, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, State Selective Service director, said.

Gen. Wakefield said that local board quotas for the May physical examinations and May inductions are now in the hands of local boards. The May induction quota for the state is 3,112.

May physical examination quota for the state will bring the number of those called for that purpose to 31,211 since the beginning of the Korean fight to 88,117.

Induction quota for May will bring the number of those called for that purpose to 31,211 since the beginning of the struggle in Korea. Pre-induction examinations and induction are carried out by Fourth Army joint examining and induction stations at Abilene, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, San Antonio, Houston, Shreveport, and Texarkana.

Most Common Infectious Diseases Discussed By Medical Association

Certain diseases have descriptive words or phrases which stick in the mind long after the technical name and symptoms of the disease are gone. Tetanus is distinguished by its popular title of lockjaw; typhoid fever is easily remembered as the one that's spread by the four "F's"—food, flies and fingers; undulant fever symptoms rise and fall like the waves of the sea; and pertussis is better described by the name whooping cough.

All of these infectious diseases are caused by the germs known as bacilli. Tetanus comes from a drumstick-shaped germ which thrives in many places, though it is most prevalent in stock yards and stock pens. Given plenty of air and sunlight the germ behaves itself; when managed to get beneath the skin of humans, however, and the skin closes over it, cutting off the air, that drumstick brews up a poison which beats out a sad tune on your nerves and muscles.

The nerves and muscles get lighter and lighter when this poison spreads through or around them and they won't stretch and send messages around the body as they are supposed to; the jaw nerves and muscles don't work right and the jaw is locked.

It takes only a tiny place for the germ to enter the body; nail, scissors, or any deep puncture-type wound closes more quickly than others and is possibly more likely to permit the germ to enter and shut off the air than other types. Thorough washing of all cuts and sores would be the best protection against tetanus. There are tetanus shots available which help the body in its defenses against the germ should it gain a foothold.

These advance shots for tetanus, like the advance shots for protection against typhoid, are particularly desirable for those whose work or living habits bring them into constant contact with the thriving places of the germs.

Typhoid fever is caused by a plump little germ that gets into the digestive tract by means of food, fingers, flies or filth. From the digestive tract it can spread throughout the body, taking about two weeks to produce the symptoms of typhoid fever; these symptoms may vary a great deal but they can all combine to make you feel real sick. One of the most distinguishing things about typhoid is that your fever goes up higher every day.

After about two weeks of constantly rising fever, you usually break out in a rash which consists of tiny red spots along and above the waistline. Then for the next couple of weeks the fever goes down a little every day in pretty much the same manner as it went up.

With fever running as high as it does in typhoid, there may be delirium. Many complications are possible with this disease and that means constant medical supervision to prevent other illnesses from arising from typhoid. Such is the nature of the illness that even after you are over the disease, relapses are fairly common.

Sanitation and preventive shots have done much to cut down on the number of persons racked with typhoid fever; 30 years ago it was one of the leading illnesses. Undulant fever is one of those diseases that you cannot be protected against in advance. The method of control for this disease, which is also known as brucellosis, Malta fever and Mediterranean fever, is by inspection and elimination of the cattle, goats and pigs that are infected.

The most common form of undulant fever in this country is the strain that originates with the pigs; of the three varieties of the disease, it is fortunately the mildest. But even at best, it can cause serious illness.

The germ that causes undulant fever is a combination of two types of germs and enters the body through intact skin, or by mouth from the ingestion of infectious dairy products. Most germs need a broken place on the skin to get at you, but not the germ of undulant fever. Once it gets hold of you, this germ works slowly to produce signs of sickness; you gradually feel bad mentally and physically. Then maybe you feel pretty good again. Then a wave of bad-feeling sweeps over you. The name, undulant, is descriptive of the rise and fall of the waves.

Undulant fever may act like so many other diseases that it is not always easy to diagnose; laboratory examinations are necessary to determine for sure that undulant fever is the cause of your trouble.

But it seldom kills. Rest during the waves of illness, plus medications as your doctor advises, make up the usual treatment for undulant fever which has a way of gradually working itself out.

If undulant fever can be compared to waves of the ocean, whooping cough can be called a volcano. The rumble of cough, whoop and vomit are very much like nature at one of her more rugged moments.

Whooping cough is rugged. Though it rarely kills by itself it leads to other complications which kill and maim; pneumonia and central nervous system diseases are the most common complications.

Whooping cough kills more infants under two years of age than any of the other communicable diseases and 90 per cent of all deaths traced to whooping cough complications are in children under 5 years of age. As an infant killer, whooping cough has been confined in recent years by the preventive shots which are usually given infants about 6 months of age. A child who has been exposed to whooping cough but has not had a preventive shot may be protected completely from the disease or else get a slighter case by another type of infection.

Then there was the obliging appliance salesman who ended up with a black eye and a red face when the beautiful blonde came in and said she wanted a little oven."

Chigger Time Will Soon Be Here

AUSTIN, April 8.—With a few well placed bites a tiny little six legged animal, so small it is hardly discernible without a microscope, can make a red-eyed, itchy insomnia out of a sound sleeper. Whether you call them red bugs, harvest mites, chiggers or Eutrombidium alfreddugesi, their scientific name, State Health Officer George W. Cox warns you're due to meet them this spring and summer, especially in lawns of Bermuda grass. Chiggers, Dr. Cox says, can spot persistent scratching. Dr. Cox says chiggers are tough to control in heavily wooded sections, but in lawns, camp sites, and picnic grounds where grass can be cut close, the job can be done inexpensively and without much trouble.

He recommends dusting or spraying the area with crude benzene hexachloride at the rate of 2 to 5 pounds per acre. "Your summer will be more pleasant for the effort," the doctor advised.

That severe itching is caused by an anti-coagulant material they inject into their host, according to the health official. Favorite spots seem to be feet, hands, and stomach. Secondary infection in the form of boils and sores results from

13 Muleshoe Track Team Members Point For Regional Meet April 20

Muleshoe's track team was in 7th place in the Big Spring Invitational track and field meet when points from the finals were totaled up Saturday night. They were the only Class A team even to score and finished with a nice 18 behind such powers as Brady, Amarillo, Lubbock, and Odessa, first, second, third and fourth in the order named.

Recald Johnson won second in the mile, coming in about a stride behind Amarillo's miler. It was a horse race, for Johnson really had to put out to win over the third place man, as they had come down the final stretch together. Right behind these two and pressing them was another Mule distance runner, Bob King, who seems to get better with every track meet he enters. Johnson, who had just run the 220 dash, was a little tired, but was clocked in the good time of 4 minutes, 54 seconds.

Then the Mules teamed up to win 3rd in the two mile relay. Running the 880 yard laps in this relay for Muleshoe were Kenneth Hicks, Johnson, King, and little Jimmy Holt.

Other boys who competed but who failed to make points were Bobby Seid, Fred Harvey, Charles Hornbrook, Gerald Elders, Eugene Buhman, and Donald Moore.

Pointing To Regional
The boys are now pointing for the regional Interscholastic Track and Field Meet to be held at Tech in Lubbock next Friday and Saturday, April 20 and 21.

All the boys named above and three more, Odell Spivey, Ray Kersey, and Sammy Donaldson, are eligible to enter the regional meet. Coach Willard Hedges and all the fans are hopeful that Muleshoe will

Carl Duncan In Brooke Hospital

FORT SAM HOUSTON—Pfc. Carl F. Duncan, 20, 2nd Infantry Division, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Isn't it peculiar that the human brain begins to function from the moment you are born, improves as you grow older, then stops completely when you stand up to talk?

We have always wondered what would happen if a rattlesnake bit a drunkard.

Your Home

Springtime is traditionally re-decorating time at our house and we're in the midst of the job right now. Because we wanted to do a really professional job I talked to Mr. Hayes Quinn, the color consultant for the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. He gave me complete instructions for correctly re-painting a room.

Because so many of you will also be re-decorating, I thought you'd be interested in these suggestions. First—according to Mr. Quinn—comes the preparation of the walls. Upon this operation depends the success of the paint job. Before starting to paint, wash or scrape off all calcimine, loose paint, grease and dirt. Fill all cracks with patching plaster and sand to a smooth surface. Touch up patched spots with first coat. Even though no spots or cracks need patching, wash the surface thoroughly.

Mr. Quinn explained that the application of paint on interior plaster surfaces has become increasingly difficult, because of such things as a tendency to rush painting on damp walls. That's why these preparatory steps are doubly important. He mentioned, too, that it is not wise to use varnish sealing coats, because they may cause trouble for later painting work.

One of the most important steps, he emphasized, is to read the directions on the label. By following these instructions, you are assured of a better paint job.

We are following this expert advice carefully and are mighty pleased with the results. Oil base wall paints and primers certainly gave a professional look to our rooms . . . and we're going to decorate the "right" way from now on!

Uncle Sam Says

Andrew Jackson, our seventh President, said: "Save your money and thrive or pay the price in poverty and disgrace." Ten years ago millions of Americans started buying U. S. Defense Bonds. THAT all who mourn because of sin, or who ever have a divine inclination, are the children of God, and cannot go to an everlasting hell, because Jesus Christ bought them and paid for them with His own blood.

THAT the preaching of the Gospel is to prove that glorious fact, so that the individual may choose between living to the glory and honor of God or a vain life of unhappiness and dishonor.

Control of Many Poisonous Plants

COLLEGE STATION, April 8.—Control of many poisonous range plants is practical with herbicidal sprays such as 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T, according to Dr. Omar E. Sperry, professor of range and forestry, Texas A. & M. College.

In tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Station, control costs, when applied on large acreages, ranged from $2.00 to $4.00 per acre.

For lasting benefits, Dr. Sperry emphasizes that lighter stocking of ranges, deferment of poor-condition ranges and isolation of heavily infested areas should be practiced along with the spraying of poisonous plants.

Effective kills of bitterweed, rayless goldenrod, peavine, loco, garbanillo, groundsel and desert baileya were obtained with different concentrations and mixtures of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T in field tests conducted in 1950.

A summary of results from experimental work in controlling poisonous range plants conducted in 1950 is given in Progress Report 1334, available from the Publications Office, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station, Texas.

Tax Law Explained By Representative

Col. Dwight H. Horton, Employer Representative of the Texas Employment Commission, pointed out today that some employers are losing money because they do not understand tax provisions of the state's unemployment tax law.

Co. Horton said, "If employers will take time out to read this it will save quite a lot of money for many. The fact which some employers fail to understand is that employment taxes when due actually saves hard cash in the long run, and here's why."

"The Federal Unemployment Tax Act assesses a three per cent tax on payrolls of employers working eight or more employees on at least one day in twenty weeks during a year. This tax is different from, and in addition to, the old age and survivors insurance tax, commonly known to many as 'social security'."

He pointed out that the State Unemployment Tax Law also assesses a tax on payrolls of employers having eight or more employees. This tax, he explained, is 2 1/2 per cent, but the law entitles the employer to deduct the 2.7 per cent taxes paid to the state from the Federal 3 per cent tax. Therefore, the employer sends the Federal Government the balance of three-tenths of one per cent.

Muleshoe's New Lighting System Now In Use

Construction work has been completed on Muleshoe's new street lighting system and it is now ready for full operation, Jeff Peeler, Muleshoe manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, informed Mayor Harold D. King this week.

There are 110 street lights in Muleshoe's new modern street lighting system which covers the business area, the traffic approaches to the city, the school and hospital areas and the biggest portion of the residential section. The new lighting system is constructed so that additions may be made to it very easily, as the community continues to grow.

Forty-one 16,000 lumen mercury vapor fixtures mounted on steel standards are used in the downtown district and on the highway approaches adjacent to the business section. These whiteway fixtures are of the latest design, and gives Muleshoe a lighted business section comparable to that of communities of much greater size. The whiteway system will meet the needs for business section lighting for many years to come.

Six thousand lumen incandescent lamps are used near the schools and the clinic. These areas are well lighted because of the need for quick identification, and the fact that a large amount of the community life is centered around the school buildings. There are eighteen 6,000 lumen fixtures, mounted on steel poles, in the new street lighting system.

Fifteen 4,000 lumen incandescent fixtures, also mounted on steel poles, are used to tie the school and clinic areas into the whiteway system of the business district and to light the courthouse area.

Twenty-seven 1,000 lumen fixtures, mounted on wooden poles, will be used in the residential areas of the community.

In addition to the erection of the new standards and fixtures, the entire street lighting circuit has been rebuilt with new conductor. The old business district system was underground wiring, which has been removed and replaced by the overhead system. A carload of new wooden poles was used to replace old poles in the residential area, and in other sections using wooden pole construction.

The street lighting circuit is now fed by two transformer bank installations, one of 50 kilowatt capacity, the other of 30 kilowatt. The 50 kilowatt transformer handles the business area and traffic way system, while the smaller transformer is for the residential system.

The street lighting system was designed by H. E. Laird, lighting specialist for the Southwestern Public Service Company, and was approved, with some modifications, by the city council.

Construction was done by a Muleshoe crew of the Southwestern Public Service Company. Members of the crew were: Herb Potter, foreman; Pinky Barbour, Herbert Wright, Fred Clements, Sam Schornick, and Garland Kennedy.

The new street lighting system is operated by a photo-electric cell which operates to turn on the system when the natural light falls below a certain level and turns it off when it goes above that level. The advantages of this type of system are many, including the fact that the system can be put in operation at any time of day if it becomes dark enough to make it necessary.

Mr. Peeler pointed out that the new street lighting system was a part of an overall improvement program for Muleshoe which his company is carrying out with the cooperation of the business men of the community and the city council.

The growth of Muleshoe has been reflected in the growth of the local office of the electric light and power company. Five years ago, some 600 customers were served through the Muleshoe office, while today the local office has more than 1,200 customers. Because of this growth, the local business office was remodeled last year.

In addition, a new rural substation has been constructed to take some of the load off the local city substation. This improvement makes it possible for the company to be prepared to serve the new alfalfa dehydrating plant through the city substation. To improve service in the business area, the capacity has been increased in all the transformer banks in the downtown area, affording local merchants adequate power to meet their needs.

The Southwestern Public Service Company is continuing its improvement and expansion program throughout its entire service area with the 1951 construction budget, the largest in the history of the company.

Sudan Man Killed In Accident

Ernest Lee Richards, 33-year-old Sudan man, was killed last Saturday night on a farm near Tullia where he was employed.

Richards' head was crushed between the bed and the frame of a hydraulic truck when the bed fell.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Tuesday in the First Baptist church of Sudan, with Rev. Wayne Perry, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in Sudan cemetery, under direction of Hammons funeral home of Littlefield.

Surviving are his wife, his mother, Mrs. Lena Burrus of Visalia, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Cecilia Dean of Granite, Okla., and Mrs. Leota Skipper of Visalia; two brothers, J. R. Richards of Sudan and A. D. Richards of La Feria, Texas; and a half sister, Mrs. Lillian Fulcher of Sudan.

ENRICHMENT ANNIVERSARY

In movie, MODEST MIRACLE, a school principal takes a boy and his father on a picture trip to Java, starting point for research that led to enrichment.

This year parents and school children, too, will be hearing more about the enrichment of bread. It is the 10th anniversary. Ten years ago bread enriched with 3 B vitamins and the mineral iron began to appear on the market. Now 26 states require enrichment while the majority of bakers in many states enrich voluntarily. The story of enrichment and the early research which led to enrichment is told in the movie, MODEST MIRACLE, which will be shown over stations of the ABC television network and at community meetings during the month of March and throughout the year.

Cotton Is Defense Material

AUSTIN, Tex.—Cotton is high on the list of defense materials, and the nation's farmers have been asked to produce 16 million bales of cotton this year.

In the light of this need for cotton, Texas' commissioner of agriculture, John C. White, is opposed to price ceilings on raw cotton. He calls these ceilings "impractical, confusing, and cumbersome."

The price ceilings expire on June 30 unless extended, and White is urging the cotton industry to "cooperate in obtaining relief from this most impractical order when public hearings are held on extension of the act."

Commissioner White gives these reasons for his position on the cotton ceiling:

"With ceiling prices on the various qualities of cotton, the holders of cotton are absolutely in the dark. There is no provision for split grades.

"We all know, who have worked with cotton any at all, that cotton classing is not an exact science, and competent cotton classers differ in classification and, as quality determines the ceiling price, the difficulty in trading is increased.

"Also, the inability to buy back hedges greatly interferes with the normal functions of the futures markets. All this adversely affects the cotton producer and is of no benefit to the consumer.

"All of us, including the cotton producers, desire to reach the 1951 goal of 16 million bales. But a fixed ceiling price on raw cotton without a fixed floor price in keeping with the producer's cost of production, only increases his hazards and makes more serious the difficulty of reaching the acreage quota, as well as the maximum production on acres planted."

To point up the economic value of cotton, White notes that it is first among his nation's agricultural exports. It is one of the five big U. S. crops. Texas produces about 27 per cent of this country's cotton.

The Texas cotton crop is valued at about half of all the other farm crops in the state. Cotton is grown in 224 counties of this state's 254 counties. There are in Texas about 175,000 cotton farmers, and like the rest of us, they have their troubles.

As Commissioner White observes, the cotton farmer's labor costs are high—if he can find labor at any price. The same is true of his equipment, his poisons, and his fertilizer.

In many cases his tenure or rental agreement is weak and inadequate. And on thousands of farms, the soil is depleted, eroded, and infested.

Even so, White comments, "the cotton farmer is the basis and the bed rock of the entire cotton industry. The industry itself can rise no higher than his ability and his capacity to produce."

White describes the cotton farmer as "a definite link in our economy. He produces a raw product on a highly competitive basis, with domestic markets and world markets staring him in the face 24 hours each day."

The commissioner, emphasizing that price ceilings on raw cotton are undesirable, adds:

"In my judgment, the welfare and the economy of our state depends to a great degree on the condition of our cotton industry in Texas—and underlying the whole proposition is the welfare of the cotton producers. Their number, their volume of business, and the most essential product they are raising, cause me to reach this conclusion."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

The tragedies of mortal existence so often attributed to God are seen to be part of His creation according to the Lesson-Sermon titled "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 15. The Golden Text observes, "He that is our God is the God of salvation; and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death." (Psalms 68:20)

Also from Psalms is this Bible citation, "For the word of the Lord is right; and all His works are done in truth." A more detailed explanation that God's plan for His children is not both good and bad is seen in this statement taken from page 471 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If sin, sickness, and death are as real as Life, Truth, and Love, then they must all be from the same source; God must be their author. Now Jesus came to destroy sin, sickness, and death; yet the Scriptures aver, 'I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.' Is it possible, then, to believe that the evils which Jesus believed to destroy are real or the offspring of the divine will?"

Summer Rains Can Be Serious Soil Robbers

88 Per Cent of Loss Occurs During Season

Summer rains can be "soil robbers" that cause serious erosion losses unless farm land is protected by good conservation safeguards, Ohio State University soils research men point out.

A 10-year study of erosion damage at the Zanewille, Ohio experimental station, showed that more than 88 per cent of the soil loss due to rainfall occurred in the six summer months. Farm soil is most vulnerable in summer because clean-cultivated row crops during those months provide only a small amount of protection.

High intensity summer rains cause soil losses in two ways, the Ohio research men say. Large-sized drops strike the earth with such force they break the surface soil into small particles that quickly fill all surface pores. This seals the soil surface into a hard crust that water cannot penetrate. Excessive runoff and erosion losses are the result. Also, high intensity rain beats down so fast that even unsealed earth cannot take it as rapidly as it comes.

Thick stands of deep-rooted legumes and grasses will provide a soil-protecting cover that will enable the land to take high intensity rains in stride. To produce dense, leafy stands, the legumes must be well fed. That means liming, where needed.

New Corn Spray

Until recently, the corn earworm has prevented profitable sweet corn growing, especially in the South. Sometimes every ear in a crop is infested. Such corn cannot be sold.

Now the department of agriculture has developed a spray containing DDT, mineral oil, and water that may be applied to silks and husks of developing ears. When applied at right times it kills worms before they attack and ruin the corn.

The new spray, when applied at the right times, will eliminate earworm and pay in growth of healthy corn on the American farm.

R. A. Blanchard, bureau entomologist, developed the method. He tested it in the field during three growing seasons in Texas, Mississippi, Missouri, and Illinois. Earworms were controlled in every instance, he reports.

January Exports Pass $224 Million Mark

January agricultural exports totaled $224,300,000, the agricultural department reports. Cotton topped the total with $83,500,000.

Wheat and wheat flour were second to cotton, valued at $47,300,000, while corn was in third place with $14,700,000. Imports during the month were valued at $290,700,000, or approximately 60 million more than exports.

Learn, Obey Farm Safety Rules, NFSW Theme

The background for National Farm Safety Week, to be observed July 23 to 29, is a picture blacker than it need be. It includes an annual 17,500 fatalities from accidents, and 1,500,000 disabling injuries. Also about 35,000 buildings are destroyed by fire. The annual loss, much of it preventable, is estimated at about one billion dollars. "Learn and Obey Farm Safety Rules" is the theme.

Fidelis Finishes Silver Purchase

Members of the Fidelis Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met Thursday, April 5, in the home of Mrs. O. D. Ray for their regular business and social session, with 18 members and one visitor present. Mrs. C. M. King, president, was in charge.

Mrs. I. L. St. Clair gave the devotional. Committees reported during a short business session. Mrs. W. B. McAdams, chairman of the last silver project, brought the last order of silver and turned it over to Mrs. L. T. Green, who is custodian for the silver which the class has been buying for the church. This order makes the one hundred place settings which was a goal set for one of the class' 1950 and 1951 projects.

A social hour was enjoyed by all. The hostess, Mr. O. D. Ray, served lovely refreshments of frozen punch, assorted cookies, mints and nuts to all attending. Mesdames A. W. Crow, P. H. Davis, James A. Barnett, Mrs. I. L. St. Clair, C. A. Barnett, Joe Dameron, W. B. McAdams, R. D. Precure, L. T. Green, Arlie Thomas, J. E. Mills, Ray Griffiths, J. V. Peeler, C. M. King, Mitzy B. Humphrey, T. C. Young, hostess and co-hostess.

The next meeting will be May 3 in the home of Mrs. Joe Dameron.

Fellowship With Mrs. Wilterding

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Christian Church met on April 4 with Mrs. Wilterding as hostess. Mrs. Wilterding, worship chairman led the devotional, the theme being "The Lord Shall Satisfy My Soul in Drought." The Scripture was from the 4th and 7th chapters of John.

Mrs. Epps led the study on the Near East which was begun at this time.

Mrs. Moore, chairman of CWF had charge of the business meeting. Plans were made for an all day meeting with Mrs. Epps on April 11 to make surgical gowns for our foreign mission hospitals.

Present for this meeting were Mesdames G. T. Maltby, Leota Wilterding, W. W. Smith, L. M. Bell, John Dudley, Bill Moore, and Jack Epps.

Ceremony Held For Five Pledges Of Epsilon Chi

Mrs. Noel Woodley's home was chosen for the scene of the jewel pin ceremony of the Epsilon Chi chapter of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority Wednesday, April 4. This lovely formal ceremony took place before an improvised altar upon which were twin arrangements of jonquills with yellow tapers.

The background was the beautiful brick fireplace and a third arrangement of jonquills were reflected by the mirror in their unsurpassed beauty.

The vows were accepted in the golden glow of candlelight by the pledges, Mrs. Travis Barnett, Mrs. Don Bryant, Mrs. G. W. Mayben, Mrs. Bill Jim St. Clair, and Miss Mary Frye.

Officiating was president Gwyneth Bigham, assisted by Marjorie Precure. After the pledges received their jewel pins, pineapple florets and cheese crisps were served by Mrs. Woodley to the following members: Mesdames J. B. Glaze, Willis Farrell, Carol Howell, Karl Lovelady, Connie Dale Gupton, Jr., Bob Gregory, Herbert Griffiths, K. W. Precure, Miss Billye Jones, and Miss Gwyneth Bigham.

Mrs. Harvey Is Sunshine Hostess

The Sunshine Club met in the home of Mrs. R. C. Harvey with 10 members and one visitor present. The meeting opened with each member reading from the Bible. Business was discussed and the ladies decided the sand was too bad to quilt, so the quilt was laid back for a future time.

Several games were played. Several projects were discussed. We hope to have a lot of news from the next meeting, which will be in the home of Mrs. Clara Harrison.

Present were Mesdames C. W. Patterson, N. W. Lee, George Chambless, M. M. Simmons, Jube Crawford, Hut Crawford, R. L. Lewis, Jess Murrah, C. H. Odom, L. E. Ware, a visitor, and the hostess.

Isn't it funny how women can talk on and on about things that left them speechless?

A KITCHEN WITH A FUTURE

Look what faced this housewife every time she came into the kitchen! Taking up a great deal of valuable space and giving little in return, the cumbersome sink is unattractive and provides little convenience. Nearly all the work surface area and storage space are in the old-fashioned cupboards at the right. The housewife's work was scattered all over the room. The steps she took every day soon counted into miles! With advice from the Youngstown Kitchens Planning Service, below is what she did about it.

It's like comparing the first awkward airplane with a modern, jet-powered beauty! Using standard steel kitchen units, the old room was transformed into the most attractive and popular room in the house. Modernizing for years to come, the homemaker selected an electric sink, complete with dishwasher and food waste disposer. And look at all the work surface and storage space — plenty of it right where she needs it. Here is really practical beauty at work!

WCS Met With Mrs. Pierson

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Muleshoe Methodist Church met Monday afternoon, April 9, at the home of Mrs. F. B. Pierson with 13 members present. The opening song was "Guide Me, Oh Thou Great Jehovah," followed by prayer by Mrs. H. W. Hanks.

Mrs. H. Jay Wier brought an inspiring interpretation of the chapter "Building and Using a Worship Service," from the book, "We Seek Him Together." She showed that a worship service should be simple, reverent, and sincere and should fit the needs of the group.

At the close, prayers for our loved ones in service and for our summer revival meeting were led by Mrs. Shofner, Mrs. Willman and Mrs. Haney.

The lesson was closed with the group singing "Blest Be the Tie." At the close of the short business meeting, coffee and cookies were served by the hostess to Mesdames Tom Smallwood, C. R. Farrell, B. W. Carless, R. O. Gregory, I. W. Haney, Arnold Morris, Lud Taylor, H. M. Shofner, I. W. Willman, O. N. Jennings, H. Jay Wier, and H. W. Hanks.

Bars are something which, if you go into too many of, you are apt to come out singing a few of, and maybe land behind some of.—S. C. W. Co. Bulletin.

Ultra High Sound Waves Knock Off Borer Moth

Scientists at the U.S. department of agriculture research center at Beltsville, Md., have found that ultra high frequency sound waves which can't be heard by humans will knock off the corn borer moth. They also work on mosquitoes, and some bacteria in milk can be destroyed by sound waves.

Now scientists are busy bombarding hybrid seed corn to see if they speed up germination.

Map Shows Outline of Plains Underground Water Reservoir

PLANS ARE GOING AHEAD for formation of the underground water conservation district, following official designation of a water reservoir on the Plains as shown above. Much of Bailey County is included in the reservoir, but it will be noted that the reservoir does not include some of the ranch lands and land where it is known irrigation water cannot be found. The Bailey County Water Conservation Association has assisted in the formation of the High Plains Water Conservation and Users Association, which will guide the formation of the district organization.

BACK FROM HOT SPRINGS Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Awtrey, Sr., returned last Wednesday from Hot Springs, N. M., now Truth or Consequences, where they took the baths for a week and also attended the Ralph Edwards show and Sheriff's Posse Rodeo, which has been changed from September to April to fit in with the Ralph Edwards show, an annual event from now on. On their return home they visited over night with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Awtrey, Jr., in Albuquerque. He who gets hot under the collar usually isn't so hot above the collar.

Irrigated Farms Are Increasing

Irrigated farming now occupies an important place in Texas agriculture. During the nine-year period, 1940-1948, the area under irrigation increased from 1,045,000 to 2,885,000 acres, according to figures cited in a new publication recently released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Most of the expansion in irrigated land resulted from the development of wells by individuals and partnerships. Wells accounted for 1,369,000 acres, while an increase of 463,000 acres resulted from utilizing surface-water supplies. Nearly 1,000,000 acres were developed between 1946 and 1948, almost three-fourths of which came from wells developed in the High Plains area. In 1948, 30,000 Texas farms were partly or wholly dependent upon irrigation for their production. Approximately 10 per cent of the total acreage harvested in 1948 was from irrigated land. And crops from irrigated land accounted for nearly 30 per cent of the total value of all principal crops grown in Texas that same year. Miscellaneous Publication 59, which gives the historical development and the present status of irrigation in Texas, is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Counsel, to police witness: "But if a man is in the middle of the road on his hands and knees, that doesn't necessarily prove that he is intoxicated." Policeman: "No, sir, it doesn't but this man was trying to roll up the center strip."

CHRYSLER'S NEW AMBULANCE TO MEET OCD NEEDS

The 1951 Chrysler ambulance, designed specifically to meet Civilian Defense requirements, can be transformed in a matter of seconds from a six-passenger, four-door sedan into a two-cot ambulance. Maximum utility is provided.

Here a patient is rolled quickly into a secure and comfortable position inside the ambulance, where a nurse may be seen sitting in the attendant's position, ready for the quick run to the hospital. When not in use, the collapsible cot folds away behind the rear seat.

Although only one cot is in use here, two may be used, with the attendant's seat folded against the front seat at the left. The Oriflow shock absorbers, plus other Chrysler riding features, assure a safe and shock-free ride to the hospital.

Fertilizer Use Is Increasing

COLLEGE STATION, April 10.—Texas farmers bought more than a quarter of a million tons of commercial fertilizers from July 1 to December 31, 1950, according to Dr. J. F. Fudge, State chemist, Texas A. & M. College System.

The tonnage sold during this 6-month period exceeded that sold in any entire year period to 1945. It was 20 per cent more than the amount sold during the last half of 1949.

Approximately one-fourth of the total fertilizers sold were mixed goods. One-third of this was 0-14-7 and another third was 5-10-5.

Much more 0-14-7 was sold last year than in 1949, and 57 times as much as in 1945. During the last half of 1950, nearly five times as much 5-10-5 was sold as during the same period in 1945, while only about two-thirds as much 4-12-4 was sold in 1950 as in 1945. The sale of high analysis fertilizers, such as 10-20-10 and 12-24-12, was important last year—with 2,280 tons being sold.

Nitrogen Sales Up 50%
Nitrogen sales were 50 per cent greater than in 1949. Potash sales were nearly twice those of a year ago, and seven times as great as in 1945.

The sales of 20 per cent superphosphate totaled 126,516 tons. Ammonium phosphate sales (16-20-0, 11-18-0, 13-39-0, etc.) were nearly five times as great as they were a year ago; nearly all of these products have appeared on the fertilizer market during the last five years.

Hidalgo and Wharton counties led the State in use of fertilizer last year, both using more than 10,000 tons. Farmers in Hidalgo county bought 19,382 tons.

Between 5,000 and 10,000 tons were sold in Cameron and Harris counties.

The distribution of the different fertilizers by counties is given in Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Progress Report 1325, available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

Many are anxious to do big things in the future, but few are willing to do small things now.

JayCeers Plan More Recreation For Muleshoe

Work is under way on two projects, designed to bring more recreation to this area, by the Muleshoe Junior Chamber of Commerce. The tennis courts started last year are nearing completion and work has started on the construction of a junk car race track.

The back stops are being put around the tennis courts at the Junior High School and the concrete will be poured to finish the other court in the near future.

The race track is located just east of the city dump ground and will be open sometime in May. Stock car and junk car races will be held each week. The first race will probably be staged by a professional racing association and will give spectators their share of spills and thrills.

The track will be a quarter mile rectangle affair and should allow plenty of speed and the curves will test the racing drivers' abilities.

In a physiology class the teacher said, "Johnnie, can you give a familiar example of the human body as it adapts itself to changed conditions?"

"Yes, ma'am," said Johnnie, "my aunt gained 50 pounds in a year, and her skin never cracked."

Rotary Hears Declaimers At Noon Luncheon

Marilyn Guppton and Roald Johnson, high school declaimers, entertained members of the Rotary Club and guests at the noon luncheon Tuesday.

Marilyn, a high school junior, gave "The Window Pane." Roald gave "Listen, America."

The two were accompanied and introduced by Mrs. Horace Blackburn, a member of the faculty, who told the group that the two declaimers will soon go to the regional interscholastic league meet and that she believes they will go on to the state meet. Rotarians agreed.

The two certainly have a fine talent and it will indeed be a great declaimer who can defeat either of them. The speech department of Muleshoe high school is to be congratulated on the production of these two fine speakers.

Guests included besides those mentioned, Mr. Horace Blackburn and three members of the Rotary Club of Sudan. John McDonald, implement dealer here, and L. S. Barron, abstractor, were elected to membership.

Buzz And The Off-Key Baritones

Reverend Lester of the church out on Hillsboro Road coaches his Young Peoples' Choir late Thursday afternoons—after high school basketball practice lets out.

Buzz Ellis pastures cows next to that church. Around 5 o'clock they used to make a lot of racket about wanting to go home. That made it kind of rough on the choir.

When Buzz learned what was going on he said to Reverend Lester: "I never yet heard of a cow that could moo on key. So, I'll just move 'em in a little earlier..." This started me to thinking. Buzz doesn't go to that church. And he's so tone-deaf he couldn't carry a tune in a bucket!

From where I sit, you might say that Buzz didn't have much in common with those singers. But he doesn't divide folks into groups he's "with" or "agin." Your politics, your personal preferences—or the fact that you like a moderate glass of beer—mean nothing either way to Buzz. He's a real neighbor to everybody!

New Polish For Spring Housecleaning

Spring cleaning will actually rejuvenate your furniture this season if you apply the new furniture polish that contains silicone and leaves a protective coating on the woodwork. Hot coffee, tea or milk, as well as the children's sticky fingerprints can be easily removed from the furniture after this amazing polish has been used.

This new polish, called Dri-Glo, does wonders for all types of woodwork including blonde. The housewife can wipe it on with a damp cloth and polish surfaces to a bright lustre with little more time or effort than she would use for dusting. The resulting film, protective and invisible, will maintain its hand-rubbed look for months.

Silicone compounds, developed in research laboratories during the last war, were first used to protect precision instruments, to insulate delicate electrical equip-

GOODLAND MARINE OFFICER AWARDED BRONZE STAR FOR HEROIC ACTION IN KOREA

Marine First Lieut. Frederick M. Humphrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Earl Humphrey of Goodland (Bailey County) has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for "heroic achievement in connection with operations against an armed enemy while serving with a Marine artillery battalion in Korea, Aug. 3 to Sept. 6, 1950."

The citation reports that Humphrey was serving as ammunition officer and "performed his duty in an outstanding manner and maintained the supply level of ammunition during all operations."

He led ammunition trucks thru heavy enemy sniper and mortar fire over "hazardous roads" to continue supplying the battalion.

Humphrey is the husband of Mrs. Mildred Humphrey of San Diego, Calif. He entered the service from California.

Previously he had been awarded the Silver Star medal for action in Korea.

Beauty Tips for Teens —By TONI WOODWARD ANS Features

Does damp weather make your hair droop? Can you come out smiling from a swim, with curly locks to tempt your best beau? If you can't answer "yes" to these questions, says Katherine Potter, Beauty and Grooming expert for Procter & Gamble, you'd better take time to give yourself a permanent, because you can't just let your hair go hang.

For nothing spoils good times or good looks more than stringy, shapeless hair, yet day in and day out hair setting gets to be a bore. The growing importance of home permanents on the beauty scene directs our attention to new features and improvements in wave kits. There's one, for example, which comes with a unique plastic turban. The purpose of the turban, the experts say, is to make sure that all your hair has the same bouncy curl. You wrap it around your head after curls are wound to keep the air out and prevent evaporation. Being plastic, it doesn't absorb the curling solution from the hair; also, it keeps hair at an even (body) temperature during the curling process. Don't worry about frizz, either, for the new solutions give the same soft, smooth curl to hair ends as to top hair. But a permanent wave isn't a permanent hairdo, reminds Miss Potter. You'll have to set your hair. With a good permanent, however, once after each shampoo should be enough.

Plastic turban helps keep curling solution from evaporating.

Flashlight Regarded 'Must' In Farm Homes

Survey Shows Many Need For Use in Rural Areas

Even a farmhouse with electricity doesn't have enough light to illuminate all the places in and about a home where darkness means danger.

This was apparent from recent surveys disclosing that inside as well as outside a flashlight is a farm "must" for nighttime safety as well as convenience.

The principal uses of flashlights

A lantern flashlight is ideal for the den or room since it helps eliminate stumbling and groping for light switches.

revealed by the surveys have just been summarized in the following commandments for safety in the dark:

1. Carry Flashlights—On dark stairways to prevent falls. On highways at night. On your bicycle. In the car; one for changing tires, one for safety signalling by companion.
 2. Keep Flashlights—Handy in the kitchen for outside chores at night or trips to the cellar. Near the bed; a luminous flashlight is ideal for the bedroom since it helps eliminate stumbling and groping for light switches. In the medicine cabinet; helps you find the right medicine, or to make a throat examination.
 3. Use Flashlights—When gas fumes are suspected to be present. When you are changing a fuse in the fuse box. When checking the nursery or baby's crib at night.
- According to W. S. Allen, general manager of the electrical division of Oil Industries, Inc., New Haven, Conn., the best general purpose flashlight is the two-cell, fixed focus type with a luminous case that glows in the dark. It can be located without stumbling or lighting matches. Under ideal conditions it will throw a beam 700 feet.

Cottonseed Is Becoming Scarce

Storm-proof cotton seed is becoming a scarce item among most seed dealers in this area, according to reports of several dealers in Muleshoe. This is because of the increased acreage being planted to cotton this year and due to the small cotton crop harvested last year.

Several other varieties of seed not storm-proofed are available and many farmers will probably have to use these types for planting.

Much of the seed harvested here last year has a low germination.

Dehorning Spreads

Movie makers may soon have to raise their own cattle if they want to show them with horns, for dairymen and ranchers are becoming convinced that horns can become costly liabilities. Horned cattle often gore each other and their attendants. The latest equipment developed for dehorning is this electric dehorning iron. It consists of a 300-watt soldering iron with a special tip having a hollow cone point. After pre-heating for about 15 minutes, the iron is applied over the horn button, with best results when the horn button is from 1/4 to 3/8 of an inch high. The instrument kills the horn cell and cauterizes the skin around the horn button. In about five weeks the scab, formed by the operation, dries up and falls off, taking the horn with it. The electric dehorning iron can be plugged into a 110-volt AC circuit.

Orangegg A Day Helps Keep Doctor Away

An Orangegg is such a nutritious idea that it's a good suggestion for any member of the family, any hour of the day, containing as it does eight ounces of Florida orange juice, full of Vitamin C and low in calories, and one egg, an excellent source of protein food values, and economical now. Beat one egg well; add eight ounces of chilled orange juice (use the juicy fresh Florida oranges, now coming into markets, or frozen or canned orange juice) and beat well again. It's an ingenious way to insure getting an egg a day, and with eggs plentiful, it's an inexpensive meal-in-a-glass.

Capital Baseball League Season To Open Sunday, Muleshoe vs. Sudan

First game of the new baseball season will be played in Muleshoe the coming Sunday afternoon by Muleshoe and Sudan clubs of the Capital League. Strot Walker, manager of the Muleshoe club, said the game had been scheduled for Sudan but the latter club's field was not ready.

Walker gave the following list of players for Muleshoe: Robert Rundell, outfielder; Cecil Rundell, second base; Jesse Cray, shortstop; Doc Howell, first base; Alvin White, pitcher and second base; Les Lambert, left field; Jerry Angeley, catcher; Rex Angeley, center field; Russell Haberer, outfielder and pitcher; Shorty Kelly, outfielder; Morris Hicks, outfielder; Wilbie Burselon, second base; Bobby Wallace, pitcher and third base.

The club thus has three fair pitchers. White has been starting the games, and will have two good standbys for relief in Wallace and Haberer. Angeley is said to be one of the best catchers out of pro ranks, in fact could be playing pro ball.

The Muleshoe club was greatly strengthened by the acquisition of the four Earth boys, the two Angeleys, Kelly, and Haberer. The Earth club did not form again this year.

Ten Team League Formed
 The Capital League will have ten teams this year: Lazbuddie, Littlefield, Muleshoe, Sudan, Springlake, Anton, Needmore, Amherst, Olton, and Pep. The teams are pretty well grouped and traveling will be held to a minimum. Each team is allowed 18 players.

The season schedule is printed below and fans would do well to clip this out and keep it handy for ready reference.

.21 Inch Fell Here In March

Muleshoe received .21 of an inch of moisture during March, a report of E. J. Klump, weather recorder here, shows. Showers of .03 fell on the 17th, and .04 and .14 on the 25th.

This precipitation added some to the ground store of moisture but farmers fear that the high winds will be needed before seeding on unirrigated places.

There were 16 clear days in March, 4 were partly cloudy and there were 11 days classed as cloudy. April so far has continued the unruly winds of March, a bad duster having occurred last Thursday and another Tuesday of this week.

High temperature of the month was recorded on the 22nd and a low of 16 was recorded on both the 12th and 18th, Mr. Klump reported.

George Hicks Relates Story Of Strange Travelers To California

Two weeks ago, George Hicks, of Hicks Tractor Co., was en route to Las Cruces, N. M., to visit one of his brothers and passed a lady pushing a wheelbarrow with a small boy in it on the edge of the White Sands National Monument and just this side of Oregon Pass. After wondering about the incident for several days, his brother sent him the clipping which is printed below from the Las Cruces Sun-News.

When told of the incident, one or two more persons we have talked to remembered seeing the woman at one place or another.

A middle-aged former Hungarian beauty queen; a nine-year-old boy with shoulder-length golden curls, and a four-footed Arkansas traveler were tourists who visited Las Cruces Monday night.

They are traveling by wheelbarrow.

The former beauty queen, who speaks with a lilting Balkan accent, is Julia Roka King St. Clair, Jacksonville, Fla. Her son, Dolphy, 9, has a head of hair the envy of many a teen-age girl with a bob.

The Arkansas Traveler is "Tabby-Puss," a white cat of dubious parentage that Dolphy picked up in Arkansas.

Now About the Wheelbarrow: This family of tourists have, believe it or not, traveled from Jacksonville, Fla., to Las Cruces, en route to Glendale, Calif., pushing a wheelbarrow.

Why? Well, first, obviously, they want to get to California; next, they like to travel by wheelbarrow; third, Mrs. St. Clair is writing a book, and fourth, although she says it means nothing to her, it incurs lots of attention and that means publicity.

Mrs. St. Clair and her son left Jacksonville, May 13, 1950, after making an earlier trip to Detroit from Jacksonville by wheelbarrow.

Since then, they've had all kinds of adventure. They broke a precedent near here Sunday when they hitched the first ride they've ever accepted when they left Holloman Air Base.

Pretty Desolate
Dwellings are somewhat few and far between on that stretch of road, it was cold, and "Well, to heck with the record," said Mrs. St. Clair, "we were offered a ride to Las Cruces in a pick-up truck—wheelbarrow and all—so we accepted."

They dismounted, however, at Organ, spent the night, then trudged on in to Las Cruces, pushing the 130-pound loaded wheelbarrow, in about nine hours. A pretty fancy feat, even if it is downhill.

They left here this morning for Deming, and have an itinerary planned on as far as Duncan, Ariz., en route to Glendale.

How It Began
Mrs. St. Clair told how she started the trip, pointing out that Dolphy became anemic in Jacksonville, after an attack of measles.

"He decided he wanted to ride a wheelbarrow one day, so I pushed him around awhile in one."

He liked it so much, she related, that later when they planned to go to Detroit, Dolphy suggested that they go in the wheelbarrow.

They did. When it was decided on making the trip to Glendale, Dolphy again decided to wheelbarrow the trip.

No More Anemia
Incidentally, he hasn't anemia anymore.

There has been voiced in some quarters an objection that (1) the trip is keeping Dolphy out of school, (2) such a rig as Mrs. St. Clair's is a menace on the highway, and several other gripes.

Mrs. St. Clair pooh-poohs the whole business, and continues trudging down the highway taking advantage of being an American and doing just as she pleases.

Her sentiments are echoed by Dolphy, who is developing a talent

Irrigation Wells In Use As Farmers Try To Save Wheat Crop

A large majority of irrigation wells in the Friona district have been going full blast within the past few weeks, as farmers over the area make a valiant attempt to save what remains of the 1951 wheat crop.

Admittedly, the crop will be short in this area. With one of the driest winters on record keeping early growth at a standstill, the wheat has, during the past few weeks, faced the additional menace of greenbugs and cutworms, both of which have done their part toward further cutting down the prospective harvest.

Recent light rains brought a quick trace of green to most fields, but in the long run, it is conceded that the current wheat crop will be far below the average.

Farmers are turning a good deal of water and time toward preparing fields for spring planting of sorghum crops or cotton, both of which are expected to be very popular this year.—State Line Tribune.

TO CROSBYTON

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bass and children visited friends in Crosbyton Saturday and Sunday.

for telling off policemen, and for disliking Texas and Texans. (They got barred from wheelbarrowing down Texas highways.)

When they reach Glendale, they will have accomplished quite a feat, and gathered up lots of publicity, but actually haven't proven anything.

Maybe Dolphy will get into the movies or something, but it's doubtful.

TIMELY TIPS FROM YOUR H. D. AGENT

By Miss Dian McClurkin

Stainless Steel — Use and Care
Important for the housewife these days is knowledge of best use of metal kitchenware and the care that will make it last and give service.

Stainless steel (a steel alloy) is still rather expensive but practically indestructible. A utensil made entirely of stainless steel tends to become too hot in pots so heat must be kept low to prevent burning food in top-of-stove pans. For more even heating, copper or aluminum often is applied to the undersurface of the pan, or a special heat-distributing core is used in the steel.

As yet few home baking pans are made of stainless steel. Because it is a darker metal than aluminum, it absorbs heat more readily and produces a darker crust on baked goods.

Over heating turns stainless steel dark in spots. The darkening is likely to be permanent but does not impair the usefulness of the utensil. Rigorous cleaning methods do not harm stainless steel.

When the Pie Is Frozen — To Bake or Not Before Freezing
Can I use my family's favorite apple and pumpkin pie recipes for home freezing? How long will pie keep in a freezer? Is it better to bake the pie before freezing, or after?

With only a few changes, standard-recipes may be used to prepare fruit pies for home freezing, also mince, pumpkin, and chiffon and cream types. Custard pies, on the other hand, do not freeze well. Meringue trimmings are best avoided, because they are likely to toughen and stick to wrappings.

To use the pies at their best, plan to leave them in the freezer no longer than 2 to 3 months.

As for the best baking time—before or after freezing—pies are satisfactory if frozen either baked or unbaked. However, crust will usually be more tender and flaky and flavor fresher, if pie is frozen unbaked.

When pies are frozen unbaked: Some fruits need special treatment of hold color and flavor. Steam apple slices 2 minutes, cool, and drain; or dip raw apple slices in a solution of 1/2 teaspoon ascorbic acid to 1 cup water. Apples for 4 or 5 pies can be dipped in this amount of solution. Peel peaches without scalding, then slice. Mix peach slices with 1 tablespoon lemon juice or ascorbic acid solution made by dissolving 1/2 teaspoon ascorbic acid in 1 tablespoon water. Coat berries or cherries with a mixture of sugar and flour. Use spices lightly, especially cloves, because they may become bitter and discolor frozen filling.

Do not cut steam vents in top crust of an unbaked frozen fruit or mince pie until ready to bake. Then cut vents, bake the pie just as if fresh, allowing about 10 minutes longer baking than for fresh pie.

When pies are baked before freezing: Prepare and bake the pies as usual. Cool thoroughly before wrapping and freezing. Best way to thaw a baked fruit or mince pie is to remove the wrapper and heat the pie at once in a moderate oven, 375 deg. F. for 30 minutes. Let baked chiffon and pumpkin and cream pies thaw at room temperature.

Pie Plates and Wrappings
Put pies for freezing into paper pie plates made for baking; or use rust-proof metal pie plates, if you can spare them. Wrap pies in moisture-vapor-resistant material and seal with heat or tape. Cover pie with a paper plate and place in stockinette or paper box for added protection in the freezer.
