A mother is a rose in the garden of life

JOYCE HAWKINS

AMELIA OZUNA

MAE LOU YELDELL

By Joyce Jones
We salute all of the mothers in Haskell County, as well as throughout the world on this Mother's Day, Sunday, May 14. A mother wears many hats and carries many titles: she is a mother, a cook, a housekeeper, a nurse, a teacher, a chauffer, a disciplinarian, a best friend and a confidante. She teaches her children morals and manners and how to get along in the outside world; she corrects and disciplines them when they are in the wrong; she lets them know they are loved when they are depressed and sad; she stands behind them through the good and the bad times; she loves them unconditionally; and is always there to pick up the pieces when all else fails. Mothers hold their children's hands for just a little while...but they hold their hearts forever. A mother is a rose in the garden of life. Those of you who still have a living mother should visit or call her this Sunday and let her know that she is special and that you love her; because all too soon, their lives seem to ebb away and all you have left is just a precious memory. The three mothers featured in our Mother's Day tribute cannot lay claim to fame and glory in the outside world. They have never walked on the moon; they have never been a Wall Street banker; they have never been a world famous attorney; and they have never had their name up in lights or on Hollywood's "Star Walk of Fame." Their only claim to fame and glory is that of being wonderful mothers to their families. They have put their own hopes, dreams and needs aside for those of their children. They have all been through good times, hard times, happy times and sad times; and through it all, their love has never wavered for their children. To their families, they are "Super Moms." Joyce Hawkins Joyce, or "Granny Jo" as so many people lovingly refer to her, is the mother of 13 children, of which 11 are still living and two are deceased. Joyce, who is 73, was born in Montague County in 1922 and moved to Weinert, as a child, in 1932. She met her husband, John, in Weinert and they were married in 1939. They later moved to Haskell in 1967. The couple's 11 living children include seven boys: James of Wichita Falls, Johnny of Georgetown, Bobby of Lewisville, Glendon of Irving, and Clayton, Gary and Sammy of Haskell; and four girls: Yvonne Huffines of Dimmitt, Floradean Cockerell of Early, and Darlene Conn and Margaret Tatum of Haskell. They also have 24 grandchildren, two step-grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. Joyce considers herself just a typical mom. She said, "I have had a good life, all in all. I've had some ups and downs, but wouldn't change anything. I have had good health all of my life and am thankful every day to the good Lord for my health." Having a full time job at home with a house full of children to take care of, Joyce did not start working for the public until 1971. She has baby sat for a lot of children over the years, most of whom call her "Granny Jo." She has also been an Avon representative for the past 16 years. Everyone that you mention Joyce's name to has good things to say about her, including her kindness and helpfulness with others. Joyce responds to that saying, "I love people and I love kids and if I can help them, I want

City of Haskell is set for Sunday, May 21 from 1 to 5 p.m. "Sunday in the Park" is a special time of the year to reflect on the beauty of our world and to renew relationships with neighbors and friends. It is a time of relaxation and thankfulness for all our many blessings. The afternoon's activities will include concession stands, games, arts and crafts and entertainment. The entertainment schedule will include the following: 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., Clark Richardson and Frank Summers; 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., Haskell County Squares; 3:30 p.m. to 5 p.m., Haskell Junior High Band Spring Concert. decided on, because it would fit in the area provided better than a 40 foot gazebo. English said that she felt the 30 foot gazebo would be large enough for any event needed, including band events. Ed Walling reported that the cost of the materials needed for the

Voting light in city election

Voting was light in Saturday's Haskell City Council election. The voters returned incumbent Kenny Watson for a sixth term and elected two new aldermen, Fred Hernandez and Sue Wilkinson Medford. Incumbent Bob Aycock, Place 6, and Melisa Robinson, Place 1, ran uncontested in the Haskell School Board race. The Rule City Council race was uncontested with incumbents, James Marquis and Earnest Carreon being returned to the council and Sidney Hester replacing Council Woman Joyce Hester. Incumbent Bobby Don Smith was re-elected to the Rule School board. Robert A. Turner and Jackie Wilcox were elected as new councilmen.

In the Weinert City Council race, voters returned incumbent W.R. Hager and elected one new councilman, Ed Murphy, from a selection of six running for the position. Rod Townsend ran uncontested in the mayoral race and was returned to that position. Bob Easterling and Reida Harris were both seated as councilmen in an uncontested race. Larry Short and Bill Penman were elected to the Rochester School board in an uncontested race also.

The Commissioner's Court authorized the HBA gazebo committee to apply for a $6,000 bank loan, with the County backing them up and co-signing the note. However, they stressed that the committee will be responsible for the repayment of the loan. The committee will be soliciting donations from the community for the gazebo fund, out of which the bank loan will be repaid. English said that she feels that the donations will come in once the word has gotten out. Walling said that the committee will be going door-to-door asking for donations and pledges for the fund. Everyone in the community is encouraged to support this project by making a donation or pledge. See donation coupon on page 12

I wonder how many of you out there are as fed up with our elected officials in Washington, D.C. as I am. I am not a politician and have no intentions of ever becoming one; but I do think there is responsible adults living in this country that could and would do a better job than most of the ones that are in Washington now.

We elect supposedly fair-minded adult people as Senators and Congressmen to represent the people of this nation in making decisions that will be beneficial to all of the people, not just a select few. But it seems to me that most of the decisions they make are more beneficial for the rich than the everyday working person or middle and poor class. It also seems like that as soon as they get up on Capital Hill, they forget about all the promises they made when they were campaigning and the people that they made those promises to.

I think it is time that our representatives realize that there are a lot of people in this country that are living at or below poverty level, which includes a vast number of senior citizens and people who are working for the minimum wage. They want welfare reform, well they won't get it unless they raise the minimum wage and quit cutting programs for the elderly.

I would challenge any one of them to try and live either on the minimum wage or some of the Social Security checks that seniors live on. But the way I see it, they really don't care as long as they get their $100,000 plus a month salary. Why should they care how the poor have to live as long as they can live like fat cats? I wonder what would happen if they got their paychecks cut off for two or three months and had to live on the minimum wage or a senior citizen's Social Security check. Washington, D.C. would probably have a new river running through it from all of their tears and bellyaching.

Another thing that disgusts me about our Congressmen and Senators is all the fussing and bickering that goes on among them; over stupid trivial subjects. Each party fusses about something the other party does or wants to do. They act like a bunch of spoiled children; for instance — "I won't vote for your bill, because you are a Republican (or Democrat)," never mind that it might be a good bill. That doesn't seem to be what is important to them, it's which party introduced it. Hey you people, we don't care who introduces the bill; we just care that it will benefit this country and if it will, you need to forget this party bit and get it enacted into legislation.

Or they won't confirm someone for an appointment because that someone wasn't exactly truthful; well that is the pot calling the kettle black. The very fact that they don't live up to their campaign promises shows that they don't tell the truth all the time either. I am sure if they had to go through a Senate investigation, there would be a lot of skeletons dug up in their closets, including a lot of lies they have told the public.

I think it is time they forgot about partisan differences and joined together and worked in unison for the good of this country and acted like the adults they are supposed to be. These men and women are supposed to be setting examples for the rest of the country, especially the youth. No wonder there are street gangs and racial tensions and unrest among our youth. All they have to do is turn on their television and see the leaders of our country arguing and going at each other's throats, and joining together in their "little gangs" to conspire against the President or other members in the House or Senate. How can they possibly expect to lead this nation to peace and unification when they have no peace or unification among their numbers.

They get on television and act like idiots; they have arguments, call each other names and bad mouth the President. But you can't expect anyone that has no self respect to show respect for others. Because if they had any self respect, they would start acting like well-behaved adults instead of ill-tempered spoiled brats that can't have their way. It really makes you wonder about how they were raised up and what kind of parents they had. If my children acted the way most of them do, I would be ashamed to tell anyone that they belonged to me.

I also wonder how our Congressmen and Senators must look to other countries; this supposedly being a civilized nation with civilized leaders. Other countries look to the United States as a role model; well they are certainly getting a poor portrait of our country's leaders in this last few years of the 20th century. We can only hope that the 21st century will produce leaders that are mature acting adults who will work together for one nation under God to bring peace and unification to our country.

I think it is time that they started really representing the people; all the people, not just the rich, in this country. And I think it is time they realize that the people of this nation are getting fed up and disgusted with a bunch of supposed to be adults, that act like kindergarten children or younger, representing us in the nation's capital. Instead of all the arguing and bickering among themselves and with the President, they should pull together and work together as one, for a unified nation.

Medicare in plain language, part 2

Who can get hospital benefits

When you reach age 65, if you are over age 65 and eligible for any type of monthly Social Security benefit, you are eligible for benefits under Part A of Medicare. Normally eligibility is available if you are a retired worker, if you are a surviving spouse of a deceased worker, or a spouse of a retired or disabled worker.

Even if you do not qualify under one of these categories, you and your spouse can still qualify based on your government employment by having paid the Medicare payroll tax. However, one does not qualify for benefits if you receive monthly benefits based solely on one of the international agreements on Social Security that the United States has with other countries.

However, you can qualify even if you do not receive monthly Social Security benefits because you or your spouse continues to work.

You may be eligible for Medicare Part A before you reach age 65: If you are disabled and have been entitled to disability benefits from Social Security for at least two years as a worker, spouse, or adult child of a retired, disabled or deceased worker. It is not necessary to apply for a Medicare card if you qualify by the above, enrollment is automatic. Even though you are a family member of a disabled worker, you are not entitled to Medicare benefits under Part A unless you were eligible for benefits the previous two years due to your own disability.

There are some special rules covering individuals who are 65 but not eligible under the regular rules. If you were born before 1903, you probably have coverage regardless of your Social Security coverage or eligibility. Other individuals, uninsured, may purchase Part A at the standard 1995 premium of $261. This amount is reduced to $183 for uninsured individuals who have 30 quarters of coverage. You must also enroll in Part B and pay the monthly premium of $46.10 during 1995.

If you are disabled and lose your cash benefits because you return to work, you can still be eligible for benefits for 36 months after that time. Then, you can purchase Medicare the same way as people who are 65 or older, and uninsured.

Next week: How much does it cost and what benefits does Part A provide?

Submitted by Haskell Memorial Hospital.

News from Rep. Finnell's office

The Texas House of Representatives passed a resolution this week by State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday urging the 104th U. S. Congress to allow states to increase the speed limits on selected rural highways to 65 mph.

HR 127 urges the Texas Congressional Delegation to support federal legislation that would permit the state of Texas to increase the maximum speed limit on four-lane divided state highways without losing federal transportation funds.

"With 5,391 such state highway miles involved, Texas certainly has more at stake than any other state of the union. I'm glad to see that the U.S. Congress is getting into gear on this issue," Finnell stated. "Both Congressman Combest of Texas and Sen. Nickles of Oklahoma now have legislation pending which would grant states this permission. Current federal law impedes both transportation and industrial development in vast rural areas of Texas."

The prior Finnell legislation HB 454, increased Texas speed limits to 65mph on such state highways "immediately upon the passage of federal legislation granting states the latitude to make such a change."

State Senator Ken Armbrister of Victoria is the Senate sponsor of HR 127.

AUSTIN — A bill allowing Texans to carry handguns passed on a voice vote in the Texas House last week but was rejected by the Texas Senate on a 23-8 vote.

Rejection was based on a provision in the House bill requiring a statewide nonbinding referendum on the issue in November — two months after the bill would take effect.

Sen. John Leedom, R-Dallas, offered a motion to add the referendum provision, appealing to senators to hear the voters of Texas on the issue. "To not let the people express their opinion on this is ridiculous. If you trust the people, let them express themselves," Leedom said.

But the bill's author, Sen. Jerry Patterson, R-Pasadena, called Leedom's motion "silly." He said it would be a "cruel hoax" on voters if they rejected the right-to-carry law and then found that their vote did not count. "You do not have arbitrary popular votes on fundamental elements of the U.S. and Texas constitutions," Patterson added.

Bush Signs Emissions Bill

Gov. George W. Bush signed into law a measure that would resume last year's vehicle emissions testing procedures in regions of the state with poor air quality.

The bill, approved by the Senate 28-3, eliminates a centralized program that took effect in January. It also gives Bush the power to negotiate further testing changes with federal regulators.

Meanwhile, the company commissioned to inspect Texas vehicles until a centralized emissions testing program was scrapped, has sued the state for more than $150 million.

In a lawsuit filed in Travis County state court, Tejas Testing Technology alleges the state breached a seven-year contract to test vehicles in Houston, Dallas-Fort Worth and Beaumont-Port Arthur.

Tejas officials claim that program changes have brought them close to defaulting on loans they took out to buy $137 million worth of testing equipment and land required for the testing centers.

Child-care Reform Delayed

Under a bill passed by the Senate last week, stricter standards for child-care centers would be further delayed to allow for a new cost-benefit study.

Sen. Royce West, D-Dallas, sought the delay after complaints that the new rules would drive up the cost of child care.

The Texas Board of Protective and Regulatory Services last year voted to increase minimum standards for licensed child-care facilities. New regulations on staff-child ratios, group sizes and square footage were to take effect June 1, 1997.

West's bill would push the date back to Sept. 1, 1997, and require the agency to hire an outside firm to conduct a study of the rules' impact.

Bush Signs HIV Test Bill

Gov. Bush last week signed a bill to allow marketing of home-testing kits for the virus that causes AIDS.

If the U.S. Food and Drug Administration approves of the sale of the home-test collection kit, Texans could send a small blood sample to a laboratory and receive confidential results and counseling via a toll-free telephone number.

Other Highlights

■ The Texas Senate has approved a bill allowing cities to create special enterprise zones to pay for new sports complexes. The measure was backed by the Dallas Cowboys, Mavericks and Stars, the Houston Oilers and Rockets and the San Antonio Spurs.

■ A Senate-passed bill that would allow imprisoned child molesters to undergo voluntary castration was approved 5-2 by the House Corrections Committee. The controversial bill now goes to the full House for debate.

Joyce is also a big baseball fan. She said that she has attended a lot of ball games with her children and grandchildren in the past, and still enjoys going to the games and watching her grandchildren play now. She has one grandson playing Little League baseball this season.

Joyce said that she doesn't have any special plans for Mother's Day, other than just relaxing and enjoying her children and grandchildren that will be able to come. She said that she doesn't have to do any of the cooking; her family will make dinner and bring it to her home.

Amelia Ozuna

Amelia Ozuna, who will celebrate her 78th birthday in June, is the mother of 15 children, 10 of them still living and five deceased.

Ozuna was born in Stamford in 1917. She met and married her husband, J.B. Ozuna, Sr., in Stamford in 1931 and they moved to Haskell in 1932.

The couple's living children include: five boys, J.B., Jr. and Mike of Denton, Danny of Anson, Lewis of Wichita Falls and Domingo of DeSoto; and five girls, Christy Bryant of Plainview, Candie Galindo of Dallas, Susie Gonzales of Dimmitt, Janie Alexander of Oklahoma City, Okla. and Betty Martin of Haskell. They also have 42 grandchildren, 40 great-grandchildren and several great-great-grandchildren.

With her family being so large, her biggest career was wife and mother; but in later years, she did work at Rice Springs for three years and at the hospital for five years.

Amelia said that she was always busy with household chores, with such a big family; but that her oldest son, J.B. Jr., helped her with the cooking and ironing. "My family didn't like biscuits or

Weinert FCE goes on Abilene field trip

By Estalyn Liles

Seven members of the Weinert FCE Club went on a field trip to Abilene Saturday, May 6. The group toured the Grace Cultural Museum in the morning, followed by lunch at Miz Scarlett's Garden in the southside sunroom.

A short business meeting was conducted with members voting against sponsoring the 1996 Weinert Homecoming concession stand. The Weinert Family and Community Education Club calendar will be the club's main project for this year.

In the afternoon, the group attended "Stars Over Abilene," sponsored by the Abilene Quilters Guild, at the Civic Center. There were over a hundred lovely quilts and wearable art items. The group also visited "Under One Roof," where they viewed lovely dolls made by Pamela Phillips, award winning doll artist. Before leaving Abilene, the group had ice cream and drinks at the McLemore-Bass Drugstore.

Those members attending were Faye Jetton, Erma Liles, Estalynn Liles, Alta McGuire, Myrtle Plemister, Betty Sanders and Alice Yates.

The club will not meet in June, July or August. However, an ice cream supper is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Aug. 21, at the Weinert School cafeteria. Faye Jetton is recreation chairman and assisting her will be Alta McGuire and Janita Felty.

that was purchased for Precinct 1. The $44,219.48 broken down includes $10,885 for the difference in the old grader and the new grader trade in price and $33,334.48 in payments remaining on the old grader.

Commissioner Ray Perry asked for the court's permission to investigate and prepare a bid sheet for the purpose of obtaining new loaders for Precincts 3 and 2. Both Perry and Commissioner Ronny Chapman said that they felt it would be too costly to replace the old ones that are wearing out. The Court approved a motion for the request.

A motion was approved by the Court to buy a microfilm camera to be used in filming permanent records in the County Clerk's office.

In other action, the Court authorized the Sheriff to buy a back-up generator for emergency electrical service at the county jail at an approximate cost of $2,500 from the Government Surplus Agency.

lightbread, they wanted tortillas, so I had to make a huge stack of tortillas for just one day. I would use 50 pounds of flour in a week for tortillas," Amelia said.

According to Amelia, there was never a dull moment around her house and there was always room for one more. She said "the school bus driver would always tell me how nice he thought it was that I would allow the children to have their friends over to spend the night." At one time, Amelia had 10 children enrolled in school in the same year.

The couple's 50th wedding anniversary is a very special memory for Amelia; she had everyone in the family there, 12 living children, in-laws, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Amelia likes to visit with her neighbors and friends, and also enjoys working crossword puzzles. In the past, she said that she enjoyed sewing for her children, but doesn't do much sewing these days.

Amelia has no special plans for Mother's Day other than enjoying and visiting with the members of her family that will be able to come home. She doesn't plan on doing any cooking because her family will do it for her. Daughter Betty said, "She's fed us for years and years, now it is our turn to feed her." Amelia said that every weekend, some of her children and grandchildren come home; they all take turns with their visits to see their parents.

Mae Lou Yeldell

Mae Lou Yeldell is the mother of three children, one son and two daughters; but she also claims several children, that she helped to raise, as her own.

Mae Lou, age 70, was born in Marlin and moved to Haskell in 1940, when she was 16. She met her husband, Robert who is a night watchman for the City of Haskell, in 1968 and they married in January of 1969. Her parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Major Lewis Sr. and Robert's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Yeldell of Stamford.

The couple has one son, Frank Jordan Jr., who is currently attending TSTC in Sweetwater; and two daughters, Birdie Goudeau of Haskell and Edith Williams of Arlington. She also has one grandson, Leon Goudeau and five granddaughters, Angela Jordan, Tiffany Jordan, Virginia (Jenny) Goudeau, Brittany Jordan and Ebone Williams.

Mae Lou considers cooking as her profession; but besides her career as wife and mother, she has done housekeeping and baby sat most of her life. She now takes care of the elderly. She also worked at the museum (a job that she really loved) for a while.

Mae Lou said that she helped raise the Toliver children and Lois Redwine's three girls, "her little beauties," as she refers to them. She said, "The Redwine girls always remember me on Mother's Day, my birthday and other occasions, they send me corsages on Mother's Day."

In her spare time, Mae Lou likes to quilt and garden. She said "I'm an outdoor person, I love to work out in the yard." When time allows, she also works in the yard at the homes of some of the elderly people that she takes care of. Her yard bears her fondness for gardening, it is filled with an assortment of roses, honeysuckles and other flowers.

Mae Lou is strongly devoted to religion and is very active in her church, the Greater Independent Church.

She plans on just taking it easy on Mother's Day, but she will be participating in a special Mother's Day service at church, where each speaker will give a short talk on their memories of their mother. All of her children are supposed to be home for a family dinner and they will be doing the cooking for her. However, she does plan on supplying some of the desserts, which she has already cooked ahead of time.

The play from Rule, Steel Magnolias, won first place in the competition with Stephanie Stegemoeller of Sagerton and Megan Jones of Rule being selected on the honorable mention all-star cast and Julie Saffel of Rule on the All-star cast. Class A schools, which includes Rule High school, had 266 entered in the competition. Each play had won in district, area and regional competition before advancing to the State. Bobby Robinson is the director of the Rule group and has taken 4 previous plays to state competition. Clyde Stegemoeller of Richardson visited on Friday and Saturday.

Attending the Tuesday supper at the Community Center were Jack Tabor, Peggy Tabor, Mrs. John L. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer, Herbert and Christine Stremmel, Mrs. Eunice Guinn, Louis and Adeline Spitzer, Jeff and Marie Zell, Margie and Bill Hertel, Delbert and Joyce LeFevre, Dorothy and J. B. Toney, John and Sue Guinn, Joe Clark, Doris Lehrmann, Charles and Dorothy Clark, Clancy and Helen Lehrmann, Bobby and Regina O'Neal, J. We would like to express our appreciation to all our friends and neighbors for all their many expressions of sympathy during the death of our loved one. The food, flowers, memorials and phone calls were deeply appreciated during this difficult time. A special thanks to the Church of Christ for all the support and for the meal for our family.

Lynn Burton speaks at Beta Chi meeting

By Wanda Thompson
The Beta Chi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society International met Sunday, May 7, at the home economics room of the Rule High School.

President Vida White called the meeting to order and Betsy McManamon, recording secretary, read the minutes from the last meeting. Margaret Chafin gave the treasurer's report and Sara Hodgkin read correspondence to the the group.

President White introduced Lynn Burton, superintendent of schools in Rule, who presented vital information to the group on education reform that is taking place this month in Austin. Burton informed the group about both the Senate and House version of several important issues to be amended to the Texas Education Code such as school discipline, textbooks, salaries and retirement, school prayer, school facilities, vouchers, sex education and the no-pass/no-play rule. The Texas Legislature has set May 24 as the target date for the changes. After his very informative talk, Mr. Burton allowed the group to ask additional questions.

Cathy Bartley presented the Red Rose salute to Treasurer, Margaret Chafin and the Beta Chi woman of the Year award to President Vida White. Jackye Leonard presented the President's pin to Mrs. White to signify the end of her first year as Beta Chi President.

The Delta Kapa Gamma song was led by Mary Martin and President White adjourned the meeting. Delicious refreshments were served by the Rule members.

Organization meeting for Little League Football set for May 17

There will be an organizational meeting for all interested persons in playing Little League Football in Haskell County. This meeting will let us know how many are interested in playing football in the early fall. This will include all of Haskell County, Rule, Rochester, Haskell and Paint Creek.

The meeting will be held Wednesday, May 17, at the City Hall at 7 p.m. This is not a players meeting, this is strictly a organizational-interested persons meeting.

Actual registration for this will be in July. This meeting is to see if we have enough interested persons to have an association in the fall.

These events will be conducted at Stevenson Park in Abilene and Buffalo Wallow Lake in Abilene State Park. HONOR YOUR MOTHER FOR THE MANY ROLES SHE HAD TO PLAY

A mother must be many things,
To handle woes that childhood brings.
With more than just her apron strings
She must be on the ball:
A teacher, nurse and counselor
For anything that might occur,
And so you could depend on her
To answer when you'd call.
She had to play a different role
With every sorrow she'd console;
While helping you to reach your goal,
Whatever would befall.
Your House of Worship teaches you
To honor her your whole life through;
Whatever job she had to do,
Your mother did it all.
