Haskell students receive medals at State competition

By Michael Copeland

Over 26,000 students competed in the Texas State Solo and Ensemble Contest during the Memorial Day weekend. Haskell had a total of 14 competitors

Medals are awarded for a Division I rating in all events and for a Division II rating on solo events. Kimberly Skiles and Tenille Mathis received a silver medal for their twirling solos. Kimberly and Tenille will both be juniors during the 1995-96 school This is Tenille' second year.

Anna Rieger and Kaki Stapleton received silver medals for piano solos. Anna and Kaki will both be sophomores during the 1995-96

The state contest is much more difficult than the qualifying region level. A performance that earns a three at state would probably receive a Division I at region. "These students have worked real hard. I expect to see a lot of great things from them in the year come." said Michael Copeland.

1300 mile trip on bikes Doyle High and triend complete

By Joyce Jones

It was "On the road again" for Doyle High and his friend Claude Walter of McKinney, when they flew to Long Beach, Calif., from Dallas on May 18 and began a 14 day, "cycle" trip back to west Texas. By cycle, I don't mean as in motorcycle, but as in bicycle.

This little jaunt was to celebrate High's 50th birthday, a couple of years late. He said, "It was a fun thing, it was just us against the world, and the challenges you face every day, the heat, the cold, the mountains and the mechanical problems. I had 12 flats in one day and five the last day of the trip, between Post and Haskell."

The pair put their bikes together at Long Beach airport, rode down to Seal Beach and dipped their rear tires in the ocean and headed east. Their route took them through the outskirts of Los Angeles and on to Palm Springs, Calif. where they picked up I-10 to Phoenix, Ariz. Out of Phoenix, they took Highway 60 to Socorro, New Mex., and then dropped down and picked up Highway 380 where it begins and followed it straight on in to Haskell.

They traveled over several different terrains, including the desert, where they drank three gallons of water a day; they came through Salt River Canyon in Arizona and cycled over the Continental Divide at Pie Town, New Mex., at an altitude of 8,112 feet. High said that they had a lot of headwinds going over the Divide and had to put the bikes in low gear going down the mountain. High

> They departed Roswell, New Mex. on Tuesday morning and rode 165 miles to Tahoka, their longest (mileage wise) day ride on the trip. On Wednesday morning, they left Tahoka and traveled the last 135 miles into Haskell, arriving at approximately 9 p.m. Wednesday night. High had a flat on his bike > just outside Rule. High got a call from his friend, Walter, at noon on Friday, informing him that he had arrived back at home in McKinney. He had spent the night at Decatur and finished the last leg of the trip on Friday morning.

> High said that they met a lot of good people along the way. "We met one man who said he had made the same trip. They ran into Royce and Jimmie Lee Adkins when they stopped at Roswell. A television reporter from Roswell talked with Walter about the trip, when the pair stopped at a roadside rest stop between Lincoln and Roswell. The rest stop was set up for Memorial Day traffic.

Are there any more bike trips on the horizon for High and his friend, Walter? High said, "No, I'm going to retire my bike, it's worn out."

OPINION

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The days following adjournment of the Legislature belong to the governor, who signs bills alone in the spotlight because weary lawmakers have gone home

After 140 days of lawmaking.

Last week, Gov. George W.

Bush took the microphone in a news conference to declare the 1995 legislative session a success.

The first-term governor, who fecused on four goals — education reform, welfare reform, juvenile-justice reform and tort reform — said he is ready to tackle another tough issue.

"We must look carefully at property tax relief, at relieving property owners of a high burden," Bush said. But he emphasized that property tax relief does not have to mean the onset of a state personal income tax.

"I am personally against an income tax," Bush said. "I believe—and hopefully we'll find a way to have property tax relief without an income tax."

Under a constitutional amendment adopted by voters in 1993, Texas cannot have a personal income tax without it first being approved in a statewide referendum.

Four Bush Goals Succeed

In addition to a $79 billion twoyear budget without a tax increase, the four goals Bush stressed during his gubernatorial campaign were at least partially achieved.

Here's a rundown of those goals:

Education. The centerpiece of Bush's education reform plan curbs the regulatory authority of the Texas Education Agency and gives local school boards more control (home-rule concept) over their curricula and programs.

Welfare. The governor was unable to persuade the Senate to give Texans but one chance to be on the welfare rolls. The final bill permits people to reapply after one to four years, depending on the recipient's education and work experience.

an emergency on tort reform, and lawmakers promptly passed several measures aimed at lowering litigation and placed caps on punitive damage awards. The measure also limits the liability of police officers and other public employees when sued for negligence.

Juvenile Justice. The governor said it was time to get tough with juveniles, and lawmakers did. They lowered the age at which young criminals can be tried as adults from 15 to 14 in capital murder cases; created a habitual offender provision that could put three-felony juveniles in prison for 40 years; and increased the number of juvenile detention beds from 2,500 to 6,300.

Democratic Chair to Quit

While Texas' GOP governor was inking bills, Texas Democratic Party Chairman Bob Slagle announced he would not seek another term.

Slagle, 60, who held the post longer than anyone else in modern history (16 years), said his "zest for fighting Republicans to achieve the real American dream of equal opportunity for all Americans is unabated."

The Sherman lawyer cited a desire to spend more time with his family as the reason he would not seek a ninth two-year term. His successor will be selected by delegates to the Democratic Party Convention in June 1996.

In the past two years, some party faithfuls have complained that Slagle should step down and allow the party to have fresh leadership.

And the complaints increased following the Republican victories in the 1994 elections.

Abolish State Treasury?
One of the 14 proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov.
7 ballot will allow voters to decide whether to abolish the State Treasury. If they do, the comptroller's office would take over the agency's functions.

Other bills signed by Gov. Bush

■ Allow licensed individuals to carry concealed handguns beginning Jan. 1, 1996, which Bush labeled another "weapon to keep lawabiding citizens safe."

Begin deregulation of the telephone business and open local service to competition and provide $1.5 billion over 10 years for high-tech equipment for schools, libraries and hospitals.

Austin Notebook

Now that I have finished my first legislative session as your State Senator, I find that there are many things that I would like to discuss with you. However, the most important issue to me this session, my legislative, package, will not be complete until the Governor signs or vetoes the bills that have passed. This week, I would like to let you know the way that I spent my time during a typical week in Austin as your state Senator.

During the last few days of the 74th Legislative Session, my schedule was just like everyone warned me it would be. Seeing my family once once a week for the past five months while trying to balance Austin legislative events against district occasions were just the beginning of a Senator's life.

The weekend before the final week of session, I did not get to fly home until Saturday morning because I was given the honor of awarding her diploma to this year's valedictorian of the Texas School for the Deaf, Jennifer McGrath of Sherman, on Friday night. After flying home Saturday and then back on Sunday, Monday morning began bright and early with a Senate Economic Development Committee Hearing at 8 a.m. I was sponsoring two bills in the Senate that had already passed the House of Representatives. Unfortunately, we couldn't take a vote on my bills that morning. A meeting of the Senate Republican Caucus was being held during the same time as the committee hearing and not enough committee members were present. Therefore, I left the committee and joined my colleagues in the caucus. As soon as that meeting was finished, the Senate session began and I was back in the chamber voting on

I had the special honor of having my grandson, Jeffrey Green, serving with me in the Senate that morning. Jeff, who is 8-years-old and lives in The Colony, was a Senate Page for a day. It was really a special time to work side by side with him. Even though my Senate duties didn't allow me to give him my full attention, he seemed to manage just fine and did a great job. We had lunch together in the Capitol Cafeteria before I put him on the plane home. It was his first time to fly, and I 'm not sure which one of us was more nervous.

The Senate Natural Resources Committee was scheduled to conduct a hearing that afternoon at 1 p.m. However, the Senate session lasted on and on, and before we knew it. Senator Gonzalo Barrientos of Austin had begun a filibuster on a bill which affected a portion of his district. Because Senator Barrientos filibustered last session for almost 20 hours, my staff arranged a "filibuster schedule" between themselves rotating three hour sessions so that I would be able to go home and get some sleep. I left the Capitol that night at about 9:30 p.m.

I received a telephone call at about 12:45 a.m. telling me that I was needed for a vote. After going to the Senate floor and listening to the filibuster for about an hour and a half, Senator Barrientos ended his talking marathon. I voted and was able to get back to sleep at about 3:30 a.m., only to be back into the office by 7 a.m.

We made it through Tuesday just fine, and passed as many bills as were humanly possible under the tight time boundaries that the Legislature sets for itself. Barrientos did renew his filibuster at 5 p.m., which continued until approximately 9 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Although I do miss spending time with my family and in my hometown, I wouldn't trade this job for anything in the world. It is such an honor for me to be serving Texas at this level of government that sometimes I feel that I should pinch myself just to believe it's real. The people of District 30, all the way from Cooke to Clay to Cottle to Collingsworth to Carson to Castro Counties, are the best people in all of Texas, and they have helped me represent their concerns better than I could have hoped. I hop you all know how much I appreciate your trust in me, and will continue to work with me for the advancement of District 30 for years to come.

Progress made in legislative session

By Charles Finnell State Representative

Texas state legislators are heading home following the sine die adjournment concluding a successful 74th Texas Legislative session. State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday and capitol staff are among those who feel that much was accomplished during the past 140-day regular session.

Rep. Finnell passed seven significant pieces of legislation, all of which he hopes will benefit citizens of the 68th House district. All seven of these cost-effective measures are on the desk of Gov. George W. Bush. They cover such vital issues as education, transportation, agriculture and interstate cooperation.

Finnell made progress in the are of higher education by adding the language of his HB 2531 as an amendment to a bill by State Rep. Ron Lewis that will now allow, for example, college students residing in Oklahoma counties bordering Texas to attend Midwestern State University, without paying the higher out-of-state tuition rates. The Finnell initiative affects the entire interstate border contiguous with New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

Once again mapping out transportation issues, Finnell passed HCR 127 urging the U.S. Congress to allow states to raise the speed limits on rural four-lane divided highways to 65 mph. Another Finnell proposal that passed (HB 1124) will increase public safety at rail-highway crossings by allowing operators of trains to report serious violations and "near misses" at such intersections.

Finnell's cotton industry bill (HB 3003) was a major victory for Texas agriculture this session. This legislation relates to the control and eradication of the boll weevil and other cotton pests under a program administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture. On the subject of interstate cooperation, HCR 128 will create the Red River Boundary Commission to address the matter of establishing a more permanent boundary for Texas and Oklahoma along a certain 116-mile segment of the Red River.

Another piece of legislation that passed was a local bill (HB 1024/SB 561) providing for the election of board members to the Jack County Hospital District.

"I feel that much was accomplished for the citizens of Texas, especially those of Northwest Texas," Finnell stated. "I'm proud to hear their concerns, to be a part of this process and to provide a voice for them in our state capitol." Again this session, Rep. Finnell was present and participating in every vote and action taken on the House floor.

In the tradition of something old, the bride wore her grandmother's 46-year-old engagement band and her greatgrandmother's 59-year-old engagement band. Her bridal dress was something new. Something borrowed was her veil, which belonged to her cousin. Something blue was a ring that belonged to her aunt. A penny was placed in the bride's shoe.

Missy Payne, sister of the bride, of Haskell was matron of honor. The bridesmaid was Monica Shelton, cousin of the bride, of Haskell. Stephanie Grand, niece of the groom, of Haskell was flower girl. Leslie Grand, niece of the groom, of Haskell was the candlelighter.

The bride's attendants were attired in floral patterned tea length dresses. They carried bouquets fashioned of mauve satin roses, accented with lace and mauve ribbon.

Best man was Steven Grand, brother of the groom, of Haskell. Danny Wainscott of Knox City was best man. Ushers were Robbie and Cooter Payne, brothers of the bride, of Haskell. Cooter Payne also served as ring bearer.

The groom was attired in a full dress Parisian tuxedo by Christian Dior. His attendants and the bride's father wore classic black Milano

Local host families sought

International Education Forum, IEF, is seeking host families for the 1995-96 academic year. Host families are asked to provide room, board, transportation and guidance to a high school student from European, Scandinavian, Asian or from Eastern Block countries. The students come on three, five and ten month programs. Previous and current host families state that hosting an international student is a rewarding experience.

If you are interested in hosting an international student, please contact our regional office at 800-825-8339. We have a coordinator in your area who will be happy to meet with your family to explain how rewarding this inter-cultural experience can be and to answer any questions you may have.

As our world becomes smaller, it is more important than ever that we bridge cultures. Hosting an international teenage student will give you and your family the opportunity to share in the realization of this goal.

SECTION 4.02. QUALIFICATIONS. No member shall be eligible to become a director or to hold any position of trust in the Cooperative who is not a member receiving service from the Cooperative at his primary residential abode in the area served by the Cooperative, or is in any way employed by or financially interested in a competing enterprise or a business selling electric energy or supplies to the Cooperative, or a business primarily engaged in selling electrical or plumbing appliances, fixtures or supplies to the members of the Cooperative, and no person shall take or hold office as a director who is the incumbent of or candidate for an elective public office in connection with which a salary is paid. No former employee whose employment has been terminated by the Cooperative may be eligible to serve as director. Any employee who resigns or retires from employment by the Cooperative shall not be eligible to serve as a director for a period of ten (10) years following such resignation or retirement. Nothing contained in this Section shall, or shall be construed to, affect in any manner whatsoever the validity of any action taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors, unless such action is taken with respect to a matter which is affected by the provisions of this Section and in which one or more of the directors have an interest adverse to that of the Cooperative

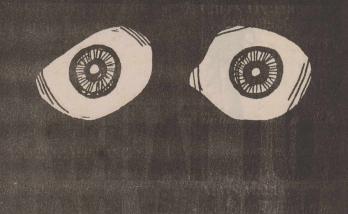

In the event an incumbent director, having served on the Board of Directors a minimum of six years, ceases to meet the requirement of receiving service from the Cooperative at his primary residential abode, such incumbent director shall nevertheless be qualified to continue to serve as director so long as he remains a member of the Cooperative and his primary residential abode is located within the area served by the Cooperative, or in close

SECTION 4.03. ELECTION. At each annual meeting of the members, directors shall be elected by secret written ballot by the members and from among those members who are natural persons; provided however, that when the number of nominees does not exceed the number of directors to be elected, and if there is no objection, secret written balloting may be dispensed with and voting may be conducted in any other proper manner. Directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes cast unless the members in advance of any balloting resolve that a majority of the votes cast shall be required to elect, and this Bylaw provision shall be drawn to the attention of the members and explained to them prior to any balloting. Drawing by lot shall resolve, where necessary, any tie vote

SECTION 4.04. TENURE. The business and affairs of the Cooperative shall be managed by a Board of seven (7) directors which shall exercise all of the powers of the Cooperative except such that are by law, or by the Articles of Incorporation of the Cooperative, or by these Bylaws conferred upon or reserved to the members. Beginning with the Annual Meeting of the members of the Cooperative held on August 21, 1954, two (2) members of the Board of Directors shall serve for a period of one year, two (2) members shall serve for two years, and three (3) members shall serve for three years, and that lots be cast as to the length of time each director shall serve; and beginning with the Annual Meeting of the members held in 1954, those directors who terms expire, such vacancy shall be filled for a period of three years.

SECTION 4.05. NOMINATIONS. It shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to appoint, not less than sixty (60) nor more than ninety (90) days prior to the date of a meeting of the members at which directors are to be elected, a Committee on Nominations, consisting of not less than five (5) nor more than eleven (11) members of the Cooperative who are not existing Cooperative employees, agents, officers, directors or known candidates for director, who are not close relatives (as hereinafter defined) or members of the same household of such existing employees, agents, officers, directors or known candidates for director, and who are so selected so as to give equitable representation on the committee to the geographical areas served or to be served by the Cooperative. The Committee shall prepare and post at the principal office of the Cooperative at least thirty (30) days prior to the meeting a list of nominations for directors to be elected. Any fifteen (15) or more members of the Cooperative, acting together, may make additional nominations in writing over their signatures, listing their nominee(s) in like manner, not less than twenty (20) days prior to the meeting, and the Secretary shall post such nominations at the same place where the list of nominations made by the Committee is posted. The Secretary shall mail to the members with the notice of the meeting, or separately, but at least ten (10) days prior to the date of the meeting, a statement of the names and addresses of all nominee(s) showing clearly those nominated by the Committee and those nominated by petition, if any. The chairman at such meeting, after all nominations so made have been duly announced, shall call for additional nominations from the floor. Notwithstanding the provisions contained in this Section, failure to comply with any of such provisions shall not affect in any manner whatsoever the validity of any action taken by the Board of Directors after the election of directors.

All too often, severe weather causes power outages. Wind, fallen tree limbs, and lightning can damage lines or equipment causing these outages.

Whenever an outage occurs, WI'U works nonstop to restore your service as quickly as possible. We know the inconvenience outages cause — and we appreciate your patience and cooperation.

Here are some steps you can take to weather an outage safely — and with as little inconvenience — as possible.

IN A POWER OUTAGE:

1. CHECK IT OUT.

When your power goes out, check all fuses and breakers. If they're O.K., check with your neighbors. If power is out around you, CALL WIU. You'll find our number in your local phone book, or on your WIU bill!

2. KEEP WTU PHONE LINES OPEN.

From the moment you call WIU, help is on the way so a second call isn't necessary. Please leave our lines open for other callers.

3. REPORT FALLEN UTILITY LINES.

If you see a fallen power line, don't even go near it! And, keep others away, too! Call WIU, the police, or the fire department immediately.

4. UNPLUG APPLIANCES.

It's a good idea to turn off your air conditioner and unplug televisions, major appliances, and computers during storms. If you experience an outage, you may want to leave them unplugged until power is restored. Don't open your refrigerator or freezer unless absolutely necessary.

5. BE CAREFUL WITH GENERATORS.

> If you have access to a portable generator, please do not plug it directly into your circuit breaker box. It's unsafe - especially for repair crews. Plug appliances and lamps directly into the generator.

6. PLEASE BE PATIENT.

You may see a WIU truck in your neighborhood leaving before your power comes back on. This is not unusual. We send people out to assess the extent and cause of an outage. The source of your outage might be several blocks away.

7. CHECK ON YOUR NEIGHBORS. Be mindful of neighbors who may have special needs. 8. TURN YOUR FRONT PORCH LIGHT ON.

Turning on your porch light lets WIU crews know your electricity is back on. 9. FOLLOW LOCAL

NEWS MEDIA. For updates on weather conditions and power restoration efforts, check local newspapers and radio broadcasts.

9. KEEP AN EMERGENCY SAFETY KIT.

It's a good idea to keep things like flashlights, batteries, bottled water, and a battery-powered radio handy.

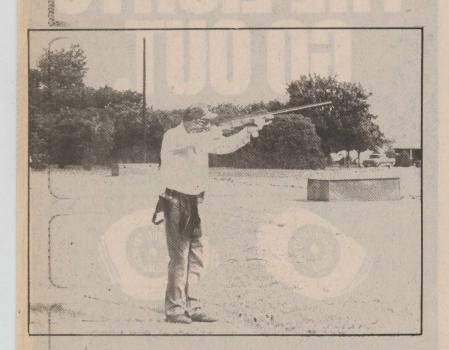

We Work For You.

Nobody likes it when your lights go out. You don't. We don't. Our job is delivering safe, reliable, low-cost electric service. And that means we work for you.

TO APPRECIATE THE FLAG, REMEMBER WHAT IT STANDS FOR

Last year, the flag received a lot of attention in an unfortunate way, because some individuals chose to burn or otherwise desecrate it in order to register a protest. It wasn't even effective, because their action gave no indication of what their grievance was. Measures designed to prevent this act without violating freedom of speech may be long debated, but one fact seems clear. Apparently, those who resent showing any respect for our nation's flag don't realize that among other things it has symbolized their very freedom to destroy it, if that's their way of making a statement. In many countries they would never have been allowed to do this. Our House of Worship, the choice of which our flag guarantees, bids us remember this fact, as well as all the other freedoms it represents in our land.

Library Notes

By Joan Strickland It is time for the children to start signing up for our summer reading program. The program will run from June 21-July 26. A parent or sitter or Grannie must accompany the child when they sign up. They may do this at the library beginning Monday, June 12 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. until story time begins on June 21.

Readers this year include: June 21-Mylta Kimbler; June 28-Randy McLelland; July 5-Maxine Hamilton; July 12-Stewart Ferrell; July 19-Mylta Kimbler; July 26-Party and presentation of certificates.

All children are encouraged to participate in the Summer Reading Program. This program is sponsored by the Texas State Library and is going on at most Texas Libraries throughout the State. Children pre-K through the sixth grade are eligible to participate. Storytime is for the very young children and anyone is welcome to come to storytime. You do no have to participate in the Reading Program to attend the storytime. If an older sibling reads to a younger child, they can both count the book on their reading log which they will receive when they sign up next week.

I would like to thank Girl Scout Troop #228 for the door decorations at the library. The girls and their scout leaders visited the library and decorated the doors and then we read stories. Those attending were Brianna Wheatley, Monica Buerger, Shanee Mays, Jaclyn Drinnon, Casey Lampe, Amanda Ray, Lindsey Villa, Morgan Acosta, Cortney Vaughn, Kaylie Billington, and Kitsie Drinnon and Jerri Buerger, Scout leaders.

We are preparing for a book sale to be held on the front porch in the every near future. Books will sell for 25 cents-$1.00 and the money will be used to purchase much needed items for the library and new books also.

One of our much needed items is a printer for our new IBM computer that the State of Texas has given us. (This is one of the many advantages of being in the Big Country Library System). I would like to thank Doyle High for the loan of a printer until we have funds to purchase one of our own.

Our patrons and friends of the library from far and wide have been so very supportive in this past year when we were in danger of losing our accreditation with the Big Country Library System. I would like to thank each of you personally but do not have the space to do so. We have raised just at $1,000 from donations. We have some patrons that never fail to put money in our "Kitty Can" every time they check out a book. We have received so many generous memorial donations from people who love our library and want to see it continue to grow. Thank you very much for your support. Now we get to start on next year. We have until Sept. of 1996 to do this all over again.

Memorial donations: Kevin Conner, Maude Williams, Dove Furrh, Velma Melton, Jimmy Owens, Tuffy Moeller, Katherine Rike Post, Addie Briscoe.

Thank you and see you at the
