Commissioners approve budget and new tax rate

The 1995-96 County budget was adopted by the County Commissioners in a special budget hearing on Sept. 20. A new county tax rate of .6565 which included a three percent raise was also approved during that meeting. The Court also authorized County Judge B.O. Roberson to notify the Haskell County Appraisal District that the Commissioner's Court is opposed to the resolution submitted by the Paint Creek School District; and that the Commissioners continue to support the earlier resolution adopted by the Commissioner's Court.

At the regular Sept. 27 meeting, Judge Roberson read the letter to the Court from the West Central Texas Council of Governments regarding the impending legislation in Congress on the Older American Act and the impact that it will have on the local senior nutrition program and the grant of $27,000 that the ECC was to have received from WCTCofG.

Judge Roberson said that he was very concerned if Haskell County would receive reimbursement from the government if the county went ahead and signed the contract by Oct. 1 and covered the costs at the center. Roberson said, "We know that even with the proposed amount of the grant, a great deal of money still needs to be supplemented."

Florence Peden, director at the Center, said, "The figure is a little less than 1/3 of our total budget."

Perry suggested that the center might raise more money by possibly raising the cost of the lunch contribution to $3.

ECC board member, Owen Akins responded to Perry's suggestion, "I believe if we raise it drastically like that, the amount of attendance will decrease and would effect the amount of monies collected. If we have to raise, I suggest raising it to $2.50. The benefit of the program is tremendous. I think this is a scare tactic, I don't think they will completely drop all funding."

The Commissioner's Court approved a motion to not sign the contract with WCTCofG prior to Oct. 1. Turnbow voted against the motion and suggested talking with the people at the center and checking on incorporating as was suggested and to call a special meeting on Friday and take another vote.

Retired State Trooper James Davis appeared before the Court and thanked them for their support of him and the Dept. of Public Safety for the past 27 years. Judge Roberson told Davis, "Haskell County appreciates the service you have rendered our county over the years."

Roma's celebrates first anniversary

Roma's Pizza is celebrating their first anniversary in business in Haskell. The restaurant which specializes in pizza, spaghetti and lasagna, opened its doors on Oct. 10, 1994. Roma's also offers a variety of other foods including hamburgers, chicken fried steak, catfish and salads.

Roma's is owned and managed by Arif and Laurie Alsabbagh. The couple moved here from Sherman in northeast Texas, where they also operated a pizza place. They have three children, Mohammed, Amira and Deyana. Arif said that it was a good move, "We love Haskell, it is a small safe town for our family; we don't have to worry, we are very comfortable with it and everyone is very friendly here."

The restaurant which is open every day, except Sunday, features a daily special and pizza special from opening until closing every day. Beginning Wednesday, Oct. 4, Roma's will be offering an anniversary special on two large pizzas with one topping each of the customer's choice for $12.12. The special will run through Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Arif and Laurie would like to thank all of their customers for an outstanding first year and their support. "We hope everyone will continue their support. We invite everyone to come out and take advantage of our anniversary special."

Local men commended

On Aug. 31, an RV belonging to Frank and El Nora Grevelle from Sweetwater caught on fire while it was parked on the square in Haskell. Two young men, Marty Clopton and Chris McGhee rescued Mrs. Grevelle from the burning vehicle. The vehicle was completely burned out inside but the Grevelles were not hurt.

The Haskell Volunteer Fire Department would like to recognize and thank these two young men plus other individuals from the community who also assisted the Grevelles and the fire department.

To the editor:
So often we fail to thank those that lend a hand in times of crisis or need. Had it not been for quick thinking and reaction of concerned individuals there could have been some serious injuries in the recently RV fire on the square. The Haskell Volunteer Fire Dept. would like to thank all individuals who assisted us with the fire especially Marty Clopton and Chris McGhee. Thorough risking their own personal safety, they were able to save the life of another and for that we are very thankful.

The Haskell Volunteer Fire Dept.

WTU customers to see rate reduction

Administrative Law Judges (ALJs) have issued an interim order allowing West Texas Utilities Company (WTU) to implement new, lower electric rates for its customers. The issuing of the interim order comes after WTU and parties to the rate review agreed to the settlement to resolve all outstanding WTU regulatory issues.

Starting with October electric bills, a WTU residential customer taking basic service will see an approximate 7 percent decrease on a monthly electric bill, compared to the permanent rates in effect prior to Oct. 1, 1994, when the interim 3.25 percent base rate reduction was implemented. This 7 percent decrease is based on an average usage of 1,000 kwh.

As part of the interim order issued by the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) ALJs, WTU customers will also share in a one-time $21 million refund, which will amount to approximately a $50 credit on a monthly bill for residential customers taking basic service and using 1,000 kwh of energy. The refund will be spread over two months and reflected in October and November bills.

"We are pleased that the ALJs agreed, after their review of the settlement, to allow the company to place the new electric rates in effect on an interim basis until the Commission can issue a final order," said Glenn Files, WTU chief executive officer and president.

"WTU entered the rate case with residential electric rates that ranked on average the fourth lowest of any investor-owned utility in Texas and because of the settlement our customers will enjoy rates that are even more competitive than before," Files added.

Prior to the rate case, WTU's commercial and industrial prices averaged 10 to 20 percent lower than the regional average.

"With even lower rates being implemented for commercial and industrial customers resulting from this settlement, we believe our communities will be in a better position than ever before to help West Texas grow and prosper," Files added.

The settlement resolves the current proceeding involving deferred accounting treatment of the Oklahoma power plant; the current rate case; and the pending appeal of WTU's 1987 rate case; and issues relating to a fuel reconciliation, which involves a review of WTU's eligible fuel costs and how those charges are recovered in customer bills.

Specifically, the settlement results in an annual $13.5 million retail base rate reduction, which includes $5.9 million in reduced rates that took effect on Oct. 1, 1994, and an additional 2 percent reduction in rates due to a reduction in fuel factors. The settlement also calls for a three-year freeze on base rates.

WTU serves more than 180,000 electric customers in a 53,000 square mile area in 52 West Texas counties.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — State Democratic leaders met in Austin last week and drafted a letter demanding the immediate resignation of party chairman Bob Slagle, who had announced in May he would not seek re-election.

Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock, Attorney General Dan Morales, Comptroller John Sharp, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and Treasurer Martha Whitehead signed the letter, which was hand-delivered to Slagle by Mauro.

Slagle, who has served as "top donkey" for 15 years, refused to comply. In a written reply, Slagle said party consensus on the next chairman "cannot be imposed from Austin."

Slagle told the Houston Chronicle he would not leave office until he was satisfied that a new chairman would have the support of party activists.

The leaders, at the Austin meeting; also agreed to recommend that the State Executive Committee elect Bill White of Houston as Slagle's replacement.

The Chronicle reported that the Democratic officials were anxious about possible Republicans in the 1996 elections.

Bullock said, "All one has to do is look at the gains that have been made in our state by what appears today to be the majority party in the state, the Republican Party."

White, a former member of the Clinton administration, said he was surprised by the call for Slagle to resign, and that he was not involved in the decision.

Bullock said White had the support of statewide officeholders and that he had been effective at raising political funds.

Still there will be an open race for party chairman at the Democratic state convention in 1996.

Victims to Witness Executions

Texas prison officials last week said they will move quickly to implement an attorney general's opinion that allows families of crime victims to witness executions in the Huntsville death chamber.

Texas Board of Criminal Justice chairman Allan B. Polunsky of San Antonio said the board "welcomes this authority as a due and just right for those close relatives who have lost loved ones in violent crimes."

The nine-member Criminal Justice board in September voiced support for permitting victims' families to view executions and asked for the Texas Attorney General's clearance as a guard against any possible legal challenge to a future execution.

Attorney General Dan Morales' opinion pointed out that the board must go through the legal formalities of proposing and adopting rules permitting the viewing. Polunsky said those legal mechanics could be accomplished at the board's meetings in November and January and the system could be implemented in February.

Polunsky said the prison agency is working with victims groups to develop rules for viewing executions.

Perot Eyes Third Party

Dallas billionaire H. Ross Perot told the nation last week he wanted a viable third party as an alternative to the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates in 1996.

Bill Walker, state director of United We Stand America, said he will get the 44,000 signatures to establish Perot's Independent Party in Texas, the Houston Chronicle reported.

Ann McGeehan, elections administrator for the Texas Secretary of State said Perot's supporters must first meet the Jan. 1 deadline for the filing of party rules, and furthermore, that to get on the November 1996 ballot, the Independent Party must:

- Hold precinct conventions on primary day, March 12; and
- By mid-May, collect 43,962 signatures from people who did not vote in either the Democratic or Republican primaries.

Other Highlights

■ In the first major reorganization in the agency's 104-year history, the Texas Railroad Commission approved plans to create an external affairs division, a policy and research branch and a Natural Gas Services Division that will work to expand markets for gas produced in Texas.

■ The Texas Lottery Commission reports that Texas has sold more lottery tickets than any other state for the second year in a row. Since the lotto debuted in May 1992, it has deposited an estimated $2.8 billion into the General Revenue Fund, said Nora Linares, executive director of the commission.

■ U.S. Rep. Jim Chapman, D-Sulphur Springs, announced he would not seek re-election in 1996. He won his 1st Congressional District seat in a 1995 special election. Chapman said he would announce in the near future whether he will join the field of candidates challenging incumbent Republican U.S. Sen. Phil Gramm, who is running for president.

■ The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals last week rejected Henry Lee Lucas' latest appeal challenging his 1984 conviction for the murder of an unidentified woman hitchhiker 30 miles north of Austin and his resulting death sentence. Lucas still has appeals to pursue in federal court, his lawyer said.

The slow, soil soaking rains which began about midnight Sunday and continued through Tuesday morning, totaled 2.45 in Haskell, according to figures released by Sam Herren, "The Weatherman." The wet weather has slowed down the opening and harvesting of cotton, but most farmers contacted by the Free Press editor, seemed pleased to receive the moisture. Cotton farmers, however, are anxious to harvest their crop. Grain farmers seemed very exulting over the added moisture.

From Al Hinds' column: Little Miss "Hey-Day," Robyn Wheatley, the pride and joy of the Bob Wheatleys, refers to a family outing, such as a drive to the farm, out to the lake, etc., as an "adventure." Last week after Bob had substituted for a couple of days as a teacher at Haskell High, Robyn skipped into the C&B Store and said, "Daddy, let's go on an adventure." To which papa Bob replied, "I have already had an adventure."

First prize winners in the 4-H division of the Haskell County Fair were announced Thursday. They were Kathy Hager, Diana Davis, Susan Weise, Debbie Campbell and Sue Hager.

Early Tuesday morning, J.R. Stoker of east of town, came to the office bringing a fruit jar with the lid sealed very tightly and within the confines of the jar was a centipede which would measure at least 9 inches long. Mr. Stoker expects to put the giant centipede in one of the fair booths for the folks to see while enjoying the other features of the coming fair.

Haskell Bargain Store advertised men's Sox for 9 cents; men's fall hats for $1.95; pair of ladies' silk hose, all colors, 39 cents; and children's school stockings for 19 cents.

Mr. W.B. Messrs. Hills and Cummings have 250 fine steers on sorghum fields finishing them for shipment to market in November.

Dr. B.O. Hester of Waco has located in Haskell and has established his office at Terrell's drug store. Dr. Hester has an X-Ray machine that is a curiosity to all who have not seen one.

Mr. L.E. Marr has sold his place to Mr. S.L. Sherrill of Temple at $15 per acre for the land and $950 for the growing crops. Mr. Sherrill, accompanied by Mr. P.L. Pollard, was in town this week and says he is well pleased with his investment here and desires to purchase more land.

Stenholm accepting academy applications

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm is currently accepting applications from young men and women in the 17th Congressional District who are interested in attending one of the nation's service academies.

This December, Congressman Stenholm will have the opportunity to nominate area citizens for appointments to the four U.S. academies: the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Co.; the Military Academy in West Point, N.W.; the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md.; and the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y.

Persons interested in the possible nominations should contact the Congressman's San Angelo office as soon as possible. The deadline for completed application files is Dec. 1.

To be eligible for an appointment, the applicant must meet certain requirements: American citizenship; good SAT or ACT scores; outstanding high school record; and good physical condition, including excellent eyesight. There is a very limited number of waivers for non-pilot candidates whose eyesight is less than 20/20.

Aside from academic achievement, emphasis is also placed on character, church and community involvement, extra-curricular activities and/or part-time employment. Applicants must be single with no dependents and at least 17 years of age, but not past their 22nd birthday upon admission into the academy on July 1, 1996.

Additional information may be obtained from high school guidance counselors or by contacting Jayne Schoonmaker in Congressman Stenholm's San Angelo office at 915-655-7994 or by writing to: 33 East Twohig #318, San Angelo, TX 76903.

Texas Medicaid dollars given to other states

Texas Medicaid faces devastation if the funding formula proposed recently by Senate Finance Committee Republicans is enacted, according to the Texas Hospital Association. The formula sends Texas tax dollars unfairly to subsidize high-cost Medicaid programs in states like New York. Texas spends about $2,800 per recipient, while New York spends more than $5,000. The national average is about $3,900.

"Part of the problem Congress must address is the disparity of states' spending on Medicaid," said Joe DaSilva, senior vice president of public affairs. "Texas hospitals believe that population growth and a high level of poverty should be recognized and addressed by Congress. Hospitals can support an equitable formula based on the needs of states and tied to their population growth. Instead these formulas penalize Texas, and shift the burden to local taxpayers and health care providers," he added.

The new formula would reduce federal spending for Texas Medicaid by $12 billion over seven years. This is $5 billion more than the $7 billion reduction in Medicaid growth approved last week by the House Commerce Committee.

"This cut in the growth of the program is the same as Texas not receiving the federal government's share of Medicaid for two years," DaSilva noted. "Who will make up the difference? The burden will fall to local taxpayers and health care providers," he added.

"Health care needs are not dictated by funding allocations. Where will low-income patients go for health care? Historically, they have sought services in hospital emergency rooms, the most costly places to deliver non-emergency health care," DaSilva said.

"It is impossible to serve a growing population of Medicaid recipients with fewer dollars. As a result, in some communities, local taxpayers will see assessments rise to subsidize public hospitals. In other areas, hospitals and doctors will treat more patients for whom they receive no reimbursement. As the health care delivery system strains to meet growing needs with fewer resources, some hospitals will close and some doctors will move away or retire. Access to health care will be jeopardized for all Texans," DaSilva said.

"Texas will lose significant federal funds if Congress caps federal Medicaid spending. Given our state's large and growing poor population and limited state budget to support Medicaid, the cost to Texas taxpayers will soar," DaSilva said. "And, most importantly, access to care will be jeopardized, from inner cities to rural West Texas."

DaSilva noted that the hospital association supports the efforts of state leaders, like Gov. George W. Bush and Comptroller John Sharp, who are working with congressional leaders, like Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison, to bring fairness and equity to the Medicaid allocation formula. "The future of Texas Medicaid also depends on the leadership of key Texas Republicans, like Sen. Phil Gramm and Congressmen Bill Archer, Dick Arme and Tom DeLay," he added.

One in eight Texans relies on Medicaid. At 54 percent, children are the largest group of Medicaid recipients, but they received only 28 percent of program funds in 1994. Texans age 65 and older represented 12 percent of Medicaid recipients in 1994, and they received 26 percent of program spending. Texas Medicaid pays some portion of the bill for 71 percent of nursing home patients. Disabled and blind recipients made up 10 percent of the Medicaid population in 1994, and received 30 percent of program funds.

The Texas Hospital Association is an Austin-based trade association providing advocacy and representation for 84 percent of the state's hospitals and health systems.

Computer screen may cause eye fatigue

You may have wondered if working all day in front of a computer will harm your eyesight; although prolonged computer use will not damage your eyes, it may be uncomfortable and fatiguing. Some symptoms of computer-related eyestrain are related to the eyes themselves and include dryness or irritation, blurred or double vision, eyes crossing or diverging, after-images, or light sensitivity. Symptoms you may not at first associate with eyestrain include brow discomfort, headaches, and excessive fatigue or irritability. Objects on the screen may blur intermittently; your neck, back or shoulders may ache; or you may have trouble concentrating.

Several factors contribute to video display terminal (VDT) eyestrain. The definition of screen characters, for example, can be of lower quality and less clear than on the printed page. Older and poorer quality monitors, in particular, may have screen flickering and low-contrast backgrounds that causes problems.

Glare can cause eyestrain, too. Unless your office is specifically designed for computers, it probably is about 25 percent too bright. In addition, lights reflecting on your screen can wash out characters. If a screen is too high, it may cause back, neck, or shoulder aches. Bifocals may cause difficulties because they are not designed for reading computer screens.

To get relief from eyestrain, start by turning off your desk lamp, fluorescent lights or other bright lights in your field of vision. Make sure your screen is at least 20 inches away from your eyes and below eye level. You might also purchase an anti-glare filter or image magnifier. Take an eye break by looking away from the screen and blinking every few minutes.

Uninterrupted hours in front of a VDT are not recommended, so take five to ten minute breaks often—even if you're just switching to a different desk task. Special glasses may help, too. Prescription "terminal spectacles" and special bifocal lenses can make VDTs easier on the eyes. And, don't forget to see your eye doctor regularly.

THE ONLY REAL HANDICAP IS NOT TRUSTING GOD'S WISDOM

The answer to why some people are physically handicapped is not easy to come by, but it is there. Those who over the years watched the TV series which was based on the true story of a struggling midwestern farm family will remember the heart-rending episode in which the beautiful eldest daughter went blind at the age of 15, a tragedy that would surely have destroyed her hopes of being a teacher. Nevertheless, after learning to cope with her sightless condition, she did indeed become a teacher —of blind children. The only people who are truly handicapped are those who fail to realize that God has a purpose for all of us, enabling us to live full and productive lives in which, regardless of our disabilities, we learn to help others as well as ourselves.

Rule native wins McAuliffe Fellowship

Marcia Talkmitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brass of Rule, was recently awarded the Christa McAuliffe Fellowship for developing a program guaranteed to take a "byte" out of the ordinary day-to-day routine for both the over- and under-achieving student.

Talkmitt teaches physics, chemistry and physical science at Slaton High School and is facilitator in the Gifted and Talented program. Her project, VESAMOTEX: Virtual Education—Science and Math of TEXas, was selected for the competitive award from among 110 proposals from Texas educators.

The Christa McAuliffe Fellowship Program was established in 1986 by the U.S. Dept. of Education and the Christa Corrigan McAuliffe Center in Massachusetts. It is operated in conjunction with TEA and the Texas governor's office. The program pays tribute to the late Sharon Christa McAuliffe, the New Hampshire English and history teacher chosen to serve as an astronaut on the Challenger Space Shuttle in January, 1986.

Virtual Reality involves wearing special eyewear to create a three-dimensional imaging system — flat objects pop to life and the image can be manipulated. Virtual Reality can be either passive, involving the use of 3-D glasses or immersive, involving a head-mounted device that seemingly projects an individual into the action. Talkmitt's proposal focuses on passive virtual reality, but it goes far beyond the basic computers-in-the-classroom scenario.

"My dream is to develop a roller coaster ride and the students can manipulate the curves and banks," Talkmitt said. "I plan to gather ideas about what simulations can't typically be done in class or are too dangerous for real life — like free fall or an accelerating car." She plans to turn these into lesson plans that will make for educational, exciting and memorable science and math classes.

As the idea catches on and the program expands, Talkmitt envisions using it in all disciplines. "Imagine American history coming to life as you 'walk' into the Civil War, take a trip to Old Mexico with a Spanish-speaking guide, or taking a trip down the Mississippi with Tom Sawyer or Huck Finn," she said.

Talkmitt has outlined four distinct phases for the VESAMOTEX project. The first includes the investigation and purchase of basic equipment. The second will involve students and teachers in the video production of various scientific and mathematical applications. The third will involve all students in the use of Virtual Reality within the science, computer and math classrooms. The fourth phase will demonstrate the program and other Virtual Reality possibilities to other schools within the district and throughout the state.

In a letter of recommendation to fellowship judges, Slaton High School Principal, James Starkey, expressed full support for the program and its future potential. "I have the fullest confidence that VESAMOTEX will not only succeed here at Slaton High, but that it will become a model program for the state and possibly the nation," Starkey wrote.

The program and needed software costs far exceed the McAuliffe Fellowship grant, but Talkmitt is determined to make the project work. She is attempting to secure $25,000 in computer equipment and $5,000 in software. She is planning a trip to the San Francisco Bay area to investigate software options.

Talkmitt's passion for computers is a family affair. Her brother, Ed Brass, who is an aerospace engineer, is helping her to develop the project, and her father, a former educator, is an avid user of the Internet and the Texas Education Network. She, too, enjoys time on the Internet and credits the computer network system for helping to bring her project to reality.

"Through the Internet, I have developed a friendship with Veronica Pantelidis, co-director of the Virtual and Educational Laboratory at East Carolina University," Talkmitt said. The two have discussed the project for about eight months and Talkmitt credits Pantelidis for helping to pull the project together and develop a winning proposal.

"The equipment that this fellowship will provide for us is something that could never be obtained with the budget that we operate under," Talkmitt said. "This fellowship is a pilot project, a dream...an idea that I have been given the opportunity to explore."

Green Thumb

By Gladys O'Neal

October is a nice month and the days we love have finally come. The air is crisper and the sky at night is a brilliant blue. We can pull on a sweater to ward off the chill and take a walk to hear the leaves crunch underfoot.

You can enjoy color all year long by planting flowers now. Pansies, a winter annual, will bloom all winter, even in the snow. When planting them, add one tsp. of bloodmeal, a slow release fertilizer, to each hole. Cover the bloodmeal with a shallow layer of dirt, then plant the pansies. They will die in the heat of late spring.

Mums will give lots of color to your yard for 45 to 60 days after their first full blooms and will die back at the first frost. Sometimes they will bloom again in early spring and will come back year after year.

If you have a bougainvillea, bring it inside before freezing weather comes around. Put it by your sunniest window and cut the plant back to a manageable size. Keep the soil just barely moist and do not fertilize. When it begins growing in February or March, increase watering and use a water-soluble houseplant fertilizer every two weeks. Don't change it to a bigger container; it will actually bloom better when it is potbound.

I have recently planted some herbs, namely chives, parsley and thyme. My garlic is growing nicely. I love herbs; they are so tasty in cooking and also very healthy.

Continue to water even if the nights are cool, as regular watering of shrubs strengthens them for the winter.

My mother, Bessie Fouts, was a member of the Haskell Garden Club for 23 years. She was president in 1969, 1970 and 1971. For her life, she had a special motto, which I want to pass on to you.

Quote:
"I expect to pass through life but once,

If, therefore, I can show any kindness or any good thing I can do to any fellow being,

Let me do it now and not defer, As I shall not pass this way again."

The Gazebo construction is nearing completion, with a few additions to be made to the original plans. An additional story about half as large as the main floor will be added to the top of the now existing Gazebo. A small steeple will be added at the very top of the Gazebo.

Storage-Haskell and The Warehouse Storage-Stamford; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson; American Legion; Shane, Amanda and Carson Hadaway; Progressive Study Club; Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Chapman; Bassett Owens in memory of Jimmy Owens; Ivonne and R.V. ## TAX PLANNING

Written By

Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

THE EXECUTOR'S JOB

Should you agree to serve if a relative or friend asks you to be the executor of his or her estate? You may feel proud that your relative or friend considers you capable. You will be compensated for your efforts, unless you choose to waive the fee. However, the job can be difficult, time-consuming, and sometimes risky, especially if there are conflicts among the heirs.

Before accepting the position, make sure that you do not have a conflict of interest. Will you be faced with decisions which could increase your inheritance to the detriment of others? Remember that you can be held personally liable for making imprudent decisions or failing to perform your duties as executor.

Your attorney can elaborate on the following lists of an executor's duties.

- Collect the assets. Search for assets and file a detailed inventory with the probate court.
- Value the assets. Art, antiques, and real estate should be appraised by experts.
- Protect the assets. Insure, property, if necessary. Act prudently to preserve the estate. Invest the assets in nonspeculative vehicles that produce reasonable returns.
- File the estate and income tax returns and pay the taxes. Under some circumstances you may be personally liable for unpaid taxes.
- Pay creditors and administration expenses of the estate.
- Prepare a final accounting. This allows all concerned parties, including the probate court, to pass judgment on your work.
- Distribute remaining assets to the heirs and beneficiaries after all accounting has been approved.

October 1-7 proclaimed National 4-H Week

Proclamation

I, B.O. Roberson, County Judge of Haskell County, Texas, do hereby declare that National 4-H week is to be held October 1-7.

Whereas National 4-H Week celebrates the accomplishments of 4-H youth during the days above mentioned, the theme for 1995 is "4-H...more than you've ever imagined." This theme reflects the variety of 4-H programming and the diversity of the lives and backgrounds of 4-H youth throughout the county.

Diverse groups of youth from across our country participate in 4-H activities. Young people from ages 5 to 19 develop leadership, citizenship, and interpersonal skills in a wide variety of 4-H programs. Of the total number of youth in 4-H projects that fall within four major academic disciplines: biological sciences, social sciences, arts and humanities, physical sciences, our greatest number of young participants are active in the biological sciences. The biological sciences have an enrollment of 50 percent of youth in 4-H projects.

For more information about 4-H, contact your local county Cooperative Extension Office, listed under the county government section of your telephone directory.

Young people between ages 5 and 19 develop leadership, citizenship, interpersonal and workforce skills in a wide variety of 4-H programs. Of the total number of youth in 4-H, 26 percent are from minority racial-ethnic groups. These diverse groups of youth participate in 4-H projects that fall within four major academic disciplines: biological sciences, social sciences, arts and humanities and physical sciences. Our greatest number of young participants are active in the biological sciences.

4-H creates supportive environments for culturally diverse youth and adults to reach their fullest potential. 4-H's innovative programs meet the evolving needs of our nation's diverse suburban and urban youth while continuing to fulfill the needs of young people in rural America. Over 5.6 million youth participate each year in 4-H's

"hands-on" self-determined learning activities. 4-H is part of the Youth Development program of the Cooperative Extension System.

Philadelphian Club

By Oleta Cornelius

Members of the Rule Philadelphian Club met Thursday, Sept. 21, at 8:30 a.m. for a brunch to begin the 1995-96 club year and in observance of Federation Day. Tables were covered with white cloths and held arrangements of fresh flowers. Grace was said by Tomi May. Members were served sausage casserole, fresh fruit, melons, cantaloupes, muffins, orange juice and coffee.

Following the breakfast, President Orheana Greeson presided over the business meeting. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Secretary Marilyn Cloud and approved. The treasurer's report was given by Ruth Eaton and accepted.

Mrs. Greeson reported that the Summer Mesquite District Workshop was a big success.

Members answered roll call with telling about their part in community service. Several things named included church work, federated club work, volunteering with senior citizens of serving meals on wheels, Chamber of Commerce, Rule Jubilee, visiting shut-ins and Haskell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Following discussion, a motion was made by Frances Campbell and seconded by Ruth Eaton against having homemade ice cream for the Rule Jubilee for this year. The motion carried.

Program director for the day was Orheana Greeson who led the pledge to the United States flag and the club pledge in unison by club members.

Nell Estes reported to the club on Federation News. She said that the Philadelphian Club had won three state awards for the 1994-95 year; 1st place in Communications and Public Relations; and 2nd place in both Outstanding Club Program and Public Affairs Coordinator. She also informed the group that the State Fall Board Meeting was being held in Abilene on Sept. 21, 22 and 23 and urged members to attend if possible. Mesquite District Clubs are hosts for the meeting.

Yearbooks for the 1995-96 year were presented by Frances Campbell. The president's theme for the year is "Our Legacy—Learn, Labor and Love."

Orheana Greeson described the General Federation of Women's Clubs as an international organization of community-based volunteer womens clubs. The activities provide leadership training that enables members to become involved in a variety of local community issues; encourages health and fitness; promotes literacy for children and adults.

Joins forces with other organizations to increase awareness of child abuse and emphasize the importance of victim assistance; educates members and their communities about conservation concerns such as clean water, solid waste management and energy awareness and preserving the legacy of volunteerism through the GFWC Women's History and Resource Center in Washington, D.C. GFWC Departments and Programs presented through studies include the Arts, Conservation, Education, Home Life, International Affairs and Public Affairs.

GFWC is responsible for the establishment of 75 percent of America's public libraries. In 1988, it instituted a youth suicide prevention program; in 1974, started an alcohol and drug abuse education program for women and youth; in 1944, endorsed a resolution supporting equal rights and responsibilities for women; in 1938, supported the first child labor law; in 1906, turned the tide for passage of the Pure Food and Drug Act; and in 1899, established the national model for juvenile courts.

Oleta Cornelius reported on the Historic International Headquarters located in Washington, D.C. Originally built by retired rear Admiral William Radford in 1875, the building was a five story stone and brick mansion. It was next bought by General Nelson Miles of Spanish and Indian Wars fame and later Commanding General of the United States Army.

He built a stable in the rear of the lot to house his thoroughbred horses. He gave one of the horses, named Duke, to Buffalo Bill, who used him as a lead horse in his shows for many years. At the present time, the stable is leased to the Iron Gate Inn, a popular Washington restaurant.

Later owners, Mr. and Mrs. John Jay White, remodeled the old house into a modern residence. White was a great traveler and big game hunter, frequently accompanying former President Theodore Roosevelt on expeditions from which he brought back trophies to adorn the house. During White's residency, impressive murals were painted on the walls of the drawing room.

Following World War I, the house was used as the Czechoslovakian Legation. The property was purchased by the General Federation of Women's Clubs in 1922 from White. It is now the center of three buildings in which the largest organization of women volunteers in the world operates and whose accomplishments for the common good have gained for it worldwide respect and admiration.

During her two years in office, the GFWC president resides in the mansion, her apartment is on the fourth floor. The building was designated as an historical landmark in 1991.

President Greeson reminded members of the Mesquite Dist. Fall Board meeting to be held in Merkel on Saturday, Oct. 7. The next Club meeting date will be Thursday, Oct. 19, at 2 p.m. with a program on International Affairs. Special guests will be Rule High School students with Educational Foreign Tours and will include: Julie Saffel, Susan Saffel, Jennifer LeFevre, Lezli Jenkins, and sponsors, Jo Ellen Jenkins and Joyce Saffel.

The meeting was concluded with the reading in unison of the Club Collect, led by Swede Kittley. Hostesses were Barbara Kile and Nell Estes with the social committee of Tomi May, Mildred Chambers and Swede Kittley.

1. Have your furnace or heating system checked by a competent service company at least once a year.
2. Take special care with fireplaces. Use a spark screen to prevent sparks from flying, and be sure the chimney is unblocked and free of excessive creosote accumulation. Fireplace fires are very common.
3. Keep combustible items away from all heating units.

1. If there is any sign of electrical trouble, shut off power to the circuit and have it checked by a good electrician.
2. Check cords and plugs frequently for signs of broken insulation or frayed wires.

1. Keep matches and cigarette lighters away from children.
2. If children show fascination with fire, professional counseling may be necessary to overcome the problems which motivate firesetting.

Farmers asked to make nominations for county FSA committee

"Farmers and other eligible voters are asked to nominate candidates of their choice by Oct. 30, for the County Farm Service Agency (FSA) Committee election ballot," said Glenn R. Brzozowski, County Executive Director. The FSA committee was previously known as the ASC Community Committee.

The FSA County committee election will be conducted from Nov. 24 to Dec. 4 by mail ballot. FSA, an agency of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, administers farm commodity, crop insurance and conservation programs for farmers and makes farm ownership and operating loans.

Haskell County farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve their farm community on the FSA county committee. Farmers may request and receive nominating petition forms from the county office.

Brzozowski reminded farmers that to be valid petitions must be limited to one nominee each, must include written certification that the nominee is willing to serve, if elected and must be signed by at least three eligible voters in the local administrative area. Also, the petition must be received in the FSA office by the Oct. 30 deadline. Eligible voters may circulate or sign nominating petitions for as many candidates as they choose. Anyone wishing to nominate a farmer for the county FSA committee election may contact the county for details, including eligibility requirements. Farmers should petition for and elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as an FSA committee member. "FSA committees are essential in the in administration of farm programs." The opportunity to nominate, vote and be elected to office is guaranteed to all farmers regardless of race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, marital status or disability.

List of eligible voters posted for elections

Glenn R. Brzozowski, County Executive Director said that a list of the names of all known eligible persons to receive ballots in the upcoming annual county Farm Service Agency (FSA formerly ASC) committee election soon will be available in the Haskell FSA Office. Farmers will begin nominating candidates on Oct. 5. Elections will be by mail ballot between Nov. 24 and Dec. 4.

Voters can request ballots at the county FSA office. FSA, an agency of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture, administers farm commodity, crop insurance and conservation programs for farmers and makes farm ownership and operating loans. Anyone who meets the following requirements is eligible to vote in the county FSA committee election: Any individual of legal voting age with an interest in a farm as owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper or who is eligible to participate in any FSA program. The spouse of an eligible voter is also eligible to vote. A person under legal age can vote, if he or she runs a farm and a legal guardian who runs a farm for a child can vote for the child. No person can be denied the right to vote because of race, sex, age, color, religion, handicap or national origin. A person may cast a ballot in any county in which he or she is an eligible voter, but a voter may not vote in more than one local administrative area in a county or area. If an eligible voter has separate farm interests in more than one local administrative area in the same county, special care will be taken to see that only one ballot is issued to that voter.

Annual ag forum to examine farm legislation

By Dr. Joe Bryant
 Texas A&M Ag. Service
 Alternative proposals for the 1995 federal farm bill and other legislation likely to impact the nation's food and fiber system will be examined during the Texas Agricultural Forum in Lubbock, Oct. 9. Producers, agricultural commodity and business leaders and government officials will take part in the annual conference which begins at 7:45 a.m. at the Holiday Inn Lubbock Plaza, South Loop 289. The $25 registration fee, payable at the door, includes lunch.

U.S. Rep. Larry Combest, luncheon speaker, will provide a congressional perspective on proposals for the pending farm bill.

Club pig sale set for Oct. 8

The fifth annual Club Pig Sale to benefit West Texas Rehab. Center is set for 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 8, at the new Wylie High School FFA Showbarn. Don Richburg and Jimmy D. Smith, Roscoe swine breeders, are co-chairmen for the event.

Anyone wishing to donate club pigs should contact West Texas Rehabilitation Center at 915-691-7290 in Abilene or 915-949-9535 in San Angelo.

Those attending the forum will be provided ample time to discuss these important issues with each of the speakers," said Dr. Edward G. Smith, forum coordinator. Smith is the Distinguished Roy B. Davis Professor of Agricultural Cooperation at Texas A&M University and economist and marketing and policy specialist.

Donald Johnson, executive vice president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and forum steering committee chairman, will open the daylong program at 8:30 a.m.

From trash tree to cash tree

While many landowners consider the mesquite tree a sore sight, to cooks it is the ultimate in good taste. Mesquite wood being used in cooking is now a 20 million dollar industry and processors like Roger Craig see even better times ahead with mesquite being used to make furniture and hardwood floors.

Extension Forest Products Marketing Specialist, Dr. Judd Michael, says it has only been within the past decade that cooking with mesquite has really caught on. Dr. Michael says it is a win-win situation. Ranchers want the thorny trees off their land and processors want the wood.

Mesquites cover 52 million acres of Texas land, so there is not much concern about chopping down too many. Sales this year are expected to increase by 50 percent.

Submitted by Max Stapleton, Haskell Co. Ext. Agent-Ag.

He says it is his objective to come up with more uses for mesquite because it is plentiful, but bothersome to ranchers. His central Texas operation is one of 70 in Texas.

Pesticide applicators must renew certification by 12/31

Private pesticide applicators who were certified before Jan. 10, 1989, have until Dec. 31, of this year to renew their certification or apply for a private license. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency requires that certification be renewed every five years for private pesticide applicators, such as farmers who use restricted or state-limited use pesticides on their crops.

Two options for renewal are available. Applicators may obtain 15 continuing education units including two credits in laws and regulations and one credit in integrated pest management by Dec. 31, and repeat this process every five years. Or applicators who cannot meet the Dec. 31 deadline have the option of applying for a license. To become a private licensed applicator, you must take the Texas Agricultural Ext. Service's private applicator training course; pass the Texas Dept. of Agriculture's private applicator test; and apply for a private applicator license which includes a $50 fee.

Continuing education units may be obtained by completing TDA accredited courses or by applying for credit through appropriate college credit courses or training held by out-of-state sponsors including universities, national association or the federal government.

For information about TDA's accredited courses, contact the department's regional offices at: Lubbock, 806-799-8555; Amarillo, 806-358-7285; or call the TDA Austin office at 1-800-TELL-TDA.

To say thank you seems inadequate when trying to express our gratitude for all the things done for our family during this time of our lives. The cards, flowers, food, phone calls, visits, and memorials have made this much easier. A special thanks to the doctors and hospital staff at Haskell Memorial Hospital and to the EMS guys for their hard work and concern for our loved one. Without Marc, Melissa and the McCauleys, where would our town be, a simple thank you is not enough. Coyt was a special man in our eyes and he will be greatly missed. God bless each of you.

First Homecoming of H.H.S. Ex-Students Set for Nov. 12

I bet we will see everyone at the Haskell Homecoming October 6-7

Back the Indians Friday Night 8:00

McGee's Lumber Yard 864-3552

Plans for the first annual Homecoming for ex-students, teachers and patrons of Haskell Schools which have been under consideration for some time, were given the green light Tuesday night by committees delegated to handle various phases of the undertaking.

Date for the first Homecoming has been set for Friday, Nov. 12, and the program being worked out for the occasion is being planned as a forerunner of yearly Homecoming on a community-wide scale.

Primarily local in nature, the first Homecoming for ex-students and teachers of Haskell schools is appropriately being launched during the Centennial of Public Schools in Texas, Supt. C. D. Allen pointed out.

Supt. Allen is general chairman of arrangements, and members of the school board head the six Homecoming committees as chairmen. These include: Attendance, W. O. Holden; Registration, Fred Gilliam; Reservations, J. B. Gipson; Foods, Ed Hester; Dr. Wm. J. Kemp, finance.

Because of the short time remaining until the first Homecoming, Chairman Holden and members of his attendance committee are asking the help of all ex-students and teachers in compiling a list of Exes to whom invitations can be sent. They ask that names and addresses of ex-students and former teachers be mailed or handed to Mr. Holden as early as possible. Mailing of invitations will be started within a few days, it was announced.

Homecoming planners are particularly interested in securing a list and the addresses of early-day students in Haskell schools.

Program Outline

A tentatively arranged program for the day calls for registration to begin at 9 a. m. Nov. 12, at one of the high school buildings.

Haskell schools will be dismissed at noon, and the Homecoming program will get underway at 2 p. m., with C. of C. Mahager Rex Felker presiding.

Following the invocation, Supt. Allen will give the welcome and Hon. Clyde Grissom, Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals and graduate of HHS, will be invited to give the response.

A 30-minute entertainment period which will include school songs and old-time favorites, will be followed by recognition of honor guests.

These will include the earliest student and graduate of Haskell schools; the ex-student with the largest family present; ex-students coming the longest distance; class with the largest representation present; and other features.

A business session will be held, at which time it is planned to form a permanent Homecoming Association.

Adjournment is scheduled at 7:30 p. m., with a barbecue or Homecoming meal to be served from 5 to 6 p. m. on the high school grounds.

Arrangements for serving the meal will be made with a catering service, and the registration fee of $1.00 will include the meal.

At 6 o'clock, all ex-students will gather for a gigantic pep rally and bonfire preceding the 8A conference football game on Indian Field between the HHS Indians and Munday Moguls, which gets underway at 7:30 o'clock.

Final plans for the Homecoming will be completed at a meeting of the various committees Monday, Oct. 25 at 7:30 p. m. in the Homemaking Cottage, Supt Allen announced.

Chairmen and committee members present at Tuesday night's meeting included Supt. Allen, Myrom Biard, Dr. Wm. J. Kemp, Carl Wheatley, Ed Hester, James Johnson, Royce Adkins, Fred Gilliam, Mrs. Clifton Cobb, Mrs. W. P. McCollum, Mrs. Jean Jeter, Mrs. Bob Herren, Mrs. R. A. Lane, Mrs. Elsy Eastland, J. B. Gipson, R. A. Lane, Billy Snow, Mrs. Viars Felker, W. P. McCollum, W. O. Holden, Rex Felker and Lon Pate.

Tribe Wins Olney Homecoming

By DON COMEDY

The Haskell Indians downed the Olney Cubs 15-0 last Saturday night in a game plagued by penalties. The officials amassed a total of 219 yards in penalties against the two teams.

Of the penalties, 98 yards were against Haskell and 121 against Olney. The Indians' total offensive yardage totaled 216 yards, bettering Olney's endeavor of 143 yards by 73 yards.

A total of 25 penalties were stepped off against the two teams, and another 9 were declined.

Both teams suffered during the first half from mistakes and poor execution. During the first half the Indians managed only 56 yards total offense compared to Olney's 90. Haskell had three first downs and Olney had 7. Haskell had 43 yards in penalties and Olney had 20.

The Cubs moved the pigskin to within 15 yards of pay dirt on their first possession but couldn't manage a needed first down to keep the drive alive.

Neither team had the ball over six plays during the first period and together managed only 6 first downs. The Indians had the ball three times and Olney twice during the first quarter.

The second quarter was even worse for the Tribe, who managed only 11 yards on seven plays during the entire quarter. Olney moved to within 25 yards of a TD early in the second period only to be halted when the Indians recovered a fumble. Two plays and three penalties later the Indians punted. A penalty and return of the punt gave Olney possession 16 yards from the goal line. (One yard from the original line of scrimmage).

Understanding what happened during the next 10 plays is pretty close to impossible. The Cubs began the drive 16 yards from the goal line, gained 15 yards, scored two TD's, (both were called back), and gave the ball up on the 6 yard line. Indians Ricky Bird, Calvin Marshall, and George Brown halted the final scoring attempt on 4th down and three yards to go when they threw Olney for a three yard loss. The scoreless half ended one play later.

The Tribe amassed a total of 160 yards offensively during the second half and held Olney to a total gain of 52 yards. The Tribe scored on their first possession during the second half with a seven-play drive which covered 67 yards. Indian Jim Pippin began the drive with three runs totaling 12 yards. On the fourth play, Quarterback Gary McAdams threw 18 yards to Cris Love. Pippin rushed twice more for 26 yards before Love scored from the 13 yard line. The entire drive took place without either team being assessed a penalty. This was the most number of consecutive plays by either team without a penalty. An offside penalty against the Cubs nullified Love's attempted extra point kick and the Tribe decided to try for two points. The conversion came on the same pitch-out from McAdams to Love around right end and was also good.

The Tribe defense held Olney to 5 yards on their next attempt. The Indians also had difficulty moving the ball on their next possession and were forced to punt seven plays later. The Cubs moved the ball 3 yards in as many plays and again punted to Haskell.

The Indians moved the ball 60 yards in six plays. (Two 15 yard penalties against Olney helped sustain the drive). McAdams connected with Love on the next play and the duo resulted in a 36 yd. scoring pass. Love's kick was good to finalize the scoring at Haskell 15, Olney 0.

Midway through the final period, the Tribe threatened to score again but could not manage a first down to keep the drive alive. The Cubs got the ball on their own 19 yard line and on their first play Indian Tom Watson recovered a fumble. Penalties stopped the drive and Olney again had possession of the ball.

The Cubs moved the ball to within 29 yards of a TD only to lose possession of the pigskin when Steve Drinnon intercepted a pass. Indian George Brown rushed for 10 yards and Jessie Billington moved another 5 yards as the game ended.

The Indians have an open date this Friday and will spend the next few days making final preparations for district play. The Tribe will meet Aspermont October 18 in Haskell at 7:30 p.

m. See you there . . .

First School Homecoming Is Termed Outstanding Success

Ex-Students in Haskell schools, from the Class of '87 down to the present day, filled the large new Texas Theatre almost to capacity Friday afternoon to launch the first Homecoming in the 68-year history of the Haskell Public Schools.

In an atmosphere of happy reunion among former classmates, the assemblage voted enthusiastically to make the Homecoming an annual event, and unanimously organized the Haskell Ex-Students Association to sponsor the affair.

Named as officers of the association were Hill Oates, Haskell druggist, president; District Attorney Royce Adkins, vice president; Mrs. C. V. Payne, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Ethel Irby, historian.

Rex Felker, C. of C. Manager and graduate with the Class of '31 was master of ceremonies for the program.

John Barry, minister of the First Christian Church gave the invocation. "May we live in such a way that we will be ready for that final great Homecoming," he said in closing.

Welcome was extended by School Supt. C. D. Allen, who urged the ex-students who had come from many points and distant states, to "Re-live your experiences of school days, re-live the good times, and visit and renew acquaintances on this happy occasion."

Calvin T. Whatley, HHS graduate of 1928 and who is now an executive with the Cabot Carbon Co. at Pampa, Texas, gave the response. Whatley, son of the late Rev. H. R. Whatley, who was pastor of Haskell's First Baptist Church for more than 20 years, kept the audience in laughter, almost continuously with his dry humor.

In concluding remarks, he expressed appreciation of HSS ex-students to the Chamber of Commerce, Manager Rex Felker, school officials and others who had inaugurated and made the first Homecoming possible.

Entertainment numbers which drew resounding applause were presented by talented Freddie Middleton in a brilliant impersonation skit, and Hubert Bell, who sang "Lawdy, Lawdy," with Mrs. Bell as accompanist.

Telegrams were read from a number of Exes expressing regret at being unable to be present, and sending greetings to classmates here for the Homecoming. Messages were from Fannie Jack and Mabel Baldwin of Dallas, R. F. Harrison of Richmond, Va., Fred and Vivian Atkins of El Monte, Calif., Lucille Taylor Sherrill of Pittsburgh, Penn., while scores of letters from others were passed among classmates of the writers.

Special Recognition
Fred T. Sanders, prominent retired ginner, who graduated from Haskell School in 1891, was the earliest graduate present. Also among the early graduates was Miss May Fields of this city, who finished school in 1893. Miss Fields also was one of the earliest teachers, along with Mrs. Ada Rike and Mrs. Ellis Irby, who taught in the Haskell schools in 1904.

Among the earliest students in Haskell attending the Homecoming were Mrs. Ola Beavers Frazier, and Mrs. Ada Rike who attended school here in 1897. Both still live in Haskell.

Mrs. Christine Griffin Clark, of Loop, Texas, whose family consists of six children, was recognized as the ex-student with the largest family attending. Mrs. Clark, graduate in the Class of '29, and her husband, were here for the first time in a number of years.

Given an enthusiastic ovation was Irion Pearsey of Haskell, former custodian in the Haskell schools for 35 years, who was the friend and advisor to two generations of students in the local schools. "Ol' Irion" as he is affectionately remembered by Exes, was the first target for returning Homecoming visitors.

Mingling with the Exes were approximately 36 former teachers, who were given special recognition during Friday's meeting. Also a standing tribute was given Miss May Fields and the late Miss Minnie Ellis, a veteran teacher in Haskell schools. More than 200 men and women stood when ex-pupils of the two teachers were called for during the program.

Largest Class Represented
Honors for the largest number from a graduating class registering for the Homecoming went to the Class of '41, on a numerical basis.

Percentage-wise, the Class of 1901, with four present out of a class of six graduates, possibly had the largest attendance. Members of this class present were Mrs. Ethel Irby of Haskell, Mrs. Jesty Ellis Irby of Dallas, Alvy R. Couch, Sr. of Abilene, and Mrs. Ophelia James Moorehead of Norman, Okla. Other members of the class were Lela and Stella Nesbitt. Also a student during a part of that year was Ollie Norris, members of the class present recalled.

The class of 1901 also was the first to be given diplomas, Couch recalled. His original diploma was on display during the Homecoming in the windows of Lane-Felker men's store.

A series of class reunions were scheduled following Friday afternoon's meeting, with many others held following the night football game, and on Saturday morning.

Highlight afternoon feature was a chuckwagon supper served on the schoolgrounds from 5 until 6 p. m., when between 900 and 1,000 ex-students and visitors were served.

A pep rally and bonfire was next in order, with Exes from classes at the turn of the century down to the current classes joining enthusiastically for the event

OCTOBER 24, 1957

City Prepares to Welcome Ex-Students Returning for Homecoming Oct. 25-26

"All that is needed now is a break in the weather to assure a record attendance at Haskell's third School Homecoming Friday and Saturday," declared Royce Adkins, president of the Ex-Students Association, in announcing Tuesday that all plans for the two-day celebration were complete.

Due to the fact that the 1956 Homecoming was cancelled, increased interest has been developed in this year's affair, especially among Exes and former teachers who have moved away. This is indicated in the large number of advance reservations which have been received in recent days, Adkins said.

Advance sale of tickets for the Homecoming chuck wagon supper have been heavy during the past week, according to Hill Oates, who is in charge of this phase of the program.

All local Exes — students, teachers, patrons — are urged to register Saturday and attend as much of the program as possible, Homecoming officials said.

Early-day ex-students, patrons and teachers will have a prominent part in the two-day Homecoming program, with special recognition being given the oldest ex-student present, pioneer teachers, largest class representation, visitors coming the longest distance, etc.

Judge Grissom to Speak
Homecoming speaker will be Hon. Clyde Grissom, Chief Justice of the 11th Court of Civil Appeals, Eastland, a native of Haskell and graduate of Haskell schools. He will be introduced by Tom Davis, prominent Haskell lawyer and former district attorney, a longtime friend and associate of Judge Grissom. Among the principal Homecoming activities will be the class reunions being planned by various groups and scheduled during the two days Homecoming. Friday Night Attraction, football game between the Has-

Indians and Stamford Bulldogs, which gets under way at 7:30 p. m. in Indian Stadium. Homecoming sessions and the general program will be held in the High School Gym, which will also be registration headquarters for guests and visitors. Visitors and Ex-students who have not sent in advance registration, will begin registering at 3 p. m. Friday, at the Gym. Registration will be resumed at 9 a. m. Saturday morning, followed by visiting and reunions until general assembly at 2 p. m. and the Homecoming program. At 5 p. m. the Homecoming chuck wagon meal will be served to all visitors and ex-students by the Jetton Catering Service.
