Only one bid was received on

Only one bid was received on the new suburban that the board is planning on purchasing, so the issue was not acted on. The board authorized Superintendent Pheil to check on some used suburbans at the local Chevrolet dealer.

A motion for a school calendar amendment was presented, but after much discussion, a motion was approved to leave the calendar as amended in September.

In other business: a motion was approved to update the Student Code of Conduct as presented in Senate Bill 1 which went into affect Sept. 1; a motion was approved to hire a Records Consultant firm to get stored school records in compliance; and a motion was approved to include unexcused absences as well as excused absences on the test exemption waiver. The waiver had to be approved by the local school board before going to the state for approval.

Superintendent Pheil reported to the board on his trip to Weinert to check out the possibility of using the Weinert School building as a location for an Alternative Education Program to be implemented by the Haskell CISD. Pheil said that he is investigating the cost of starting the school and dividing the expenses per each school district that will be involved.

The next regularly scheduled meeting of the board is set for Tuesday, Nov. 21.

DPS offers safety tips for Halloween

The month of October, cooler weather, leaves falling; all reminders that Halloween is just around the corner. For many, private parties have become the tradition, but for many others, Halloween is an opportunity to visit our neighborhood door to door.

For those who will be out collecting candy this Halloween, Trooper Bobby Hart, with the Texas Dept. of Public Safety offers these following tips.

For Kids:

•Wear light colored clothing or reflective tape so you can be easily seen.

•Make sure your costume fits well.

•Face makeup is preferred, but if you wear a mask, make sure that you can through it.

•Small children should be accompanied by adults or older children.

•Trick or treat with friends. It's fun and safer, too.

•Carry a flashlight, it helps others to see you.

•Trick or treat in a familiar neighborhood.

•Only visit homes with porch lights on.

For Parents:

•Motorists should drive slowly in residential areas.

•Be alert, watching for kids darting into the street between parked vehicles.

•If you participate in Halloween, leave a porch light on.

•Remove obstructions in the walkways.

•Instruct your children in traffic safety, such as using sidewalks whenever possible.

•Advise your children not to eat the candy until you have had an opportunity to check it out.

Bridge replacement discussed at Commissioner's meeting

The Haskell County Commissioners Court met in regular session Tuesday morning with a short county jail—moving a fence so that a generator could be put in place—was progressing and was almost finished.

Joe Higgins with the Texas Dept. of Transportation had submitted a map of the county, with bridge locations on it, to County Judge Roberson, regarding the proposed building of a new bridge, over Turkey Paint Creek in Precinct 4, by the state. Commissioner Turnbow recommended accepting the proposal as the existing bridge was unsafe.

Commissioner Perry said that a bridge was needed over the California Creek in Precinct 3 much more than the creek in Precinct 4, because of the higher traffic in that location. California Creek does not have a bridge, only a low-water crossing. Judge Roberson said that the state is just replacing substandard bridges that need to be replaced, not building new ones, however that he would talk to Higgins about the matter.

Commissioner Perry suggested appointing Bob Baker as the county's representative on the Appraisal District Board. The Court was unanimously in agreement. Perry said that he would talk with Baker regarding the appointment before the next Commissioner's Court meeting.

The Courthouse will be closed Tuesday, Nov. 7, for the general election. Absentee voting began last Wednesday, Oct. 18, with a few votes being cast already.

AUSTIN — Though early voting continues until Nov. 3, Secretary of State Tony Garza predicts only one of every 10 registered voters is likely to cast a ballot in the Nov. 7 constitutional amendment election, which includes 14 propositions.

That works out to an anemic turnout — about 870,000 voters exercising their privilege (and duty).

Four propositions on the ballot deal with state bond debt and six deal with property tax exemptions.

The most highly publicized among the propositions is Prop. 10, concerning the elimination of the state treasurer's office. Abolishing the office would cut three-fourths of the agency's $11 million annual budget and merge its duties with those of the state comptroller's office. Prop. 10 has the support of state Treasurer Martha Whitehead, Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock and Comptroller John Sharp. All are Democrats.

Though doing away with the treasurer's office would save taxpayers' money, Texas Republican Party Chairman Tom Pauken and other

Commerce Chief Under Fire As director of the Texas Department of Commerce, it's Brenda Arnett's job to attract business to Texas. Doing that requires travel. Since May, Arnett's travels have cost more than $11,000. Expenses totaling $6,400 also have been charged to the agency for employees who have accompanied her on those trips, according to documents examined by Waco-based Texas State Agencies Newsletter.

The Newsletter also studied her phone bills. Arnett said she made $526 in calls on state business while vacationing in Mexico in March, and said she reimbursed the state for $137.19 in personal calls, the Austin American-Statesman reported.

Gov. George W. Bush, who appointed Arnett, called her a "tireless advocate for Texas" and said her position and responsibilities require extensive travel at home and

State Rep. Robert Junell, D-San Angelo, who serves as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said he has offered Arnett advice on travel and related expenditures, but added, "It's not my job to be hall monitor..."

Junell, like other state lawmakers, has criticized the Department of Commerce, and questioned the need for the agency. Problems over travel costs also plagued the Commerce Department during the Richards administration.

With the help of their greyhound dogs and a large spotlight on their pickup, Bob Edwards, John Wallace and Gene Bland hit the "jackpot" Sunday night. They bagged four coyotes and a bobcat, about nine miles northeast of Haskell.

A very unique, unusual and interesting program was conducted by Dr. T.W. Williams at the noonday luncheon meeting of Rotarians last Thursday. The Widening of Highway 277, Discount Houses and Co-ops were some of the topics fired to members of the club by Dr. Williams. Most of the members entered into the "Roundtable Discussion," Dr. Williams said.

The Haskell Indians popped the Hamlin Pied Pipers to the tune of 20-12 last Friday night in a 5-AA district conference game before some 5,000 fans down in Hamlin town. The Pied Pipers piped every kind of a tune in the books to lull the potent fighting Indians, but the "fired-up" Indians behind the brilliant quarterbacking of Bobby Watson, were just too much for Hamlin.

If winter comes, the light customers of Haskell are assured of a warm welcome when they visit the office of the West Texas Utilities Co. The company has just installed one of the most modern heating plants in West Texas, and this is the first installation of its kind in Haskell. The plant is the Arcola System, consisting of Arcola No. 8 furnace and four 16 section radiators.

By interview with farmers, merchants and inspection of the public weigher's books, we find up to October the 26th, there have been 954 bales of cotton received at this point, against 1,155 bales received to the same date last season. The public weigher says at this time last year, there were at least 500 bales of unsold cotton on his yard, where as there is now only 85 bales unsold.

Tommy A. Baucum, chief,

Planning, Development and Proce-

Division, Tyler.

Summary—Authorizes the Texas Education Board to issue $300 million in bonds to finance student loans. The amendment would increase the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board's bonding authority from $660 million to $960 million.

Arguments For-Could provide state loans to finance students' education with a program that is self-supporting. Bonds must be repaid by students so that no revenue is taken from the General Revenue Fund. This amendment attempts to extend the life of a program that currently makes loans available to approximately 20,000 students a year.

Arguments Against-If approved, this amendment would sale and issuance of general obligation bonds. These bonds add to the state debt, and voters are not informed of the state's total bond indebtedness when they approve them. Also, the state is ultimately responsible for general obligation bonds if a student defaults payment.

Amendment No. 2

Summary—Authorizes the Texas Legislature to exempt The Grand Lodge of Texas, a charitable organization, from property taxes. Some of their 916 lodges in Texas have been declared historical landmarks, which caused property values and property taxes to increase dramatically.

Arguments For-Would free up funds from The Grand Lodge of Texas to spend on other state charities. According to the Senate Research Center, the Masonic Fraternity spends more than $80 million annually on charity Arguments Against—Considering the fact that there are 916 lodges in Texas, local governments would lose approximately $1 million from property tax revenues. Also, this unfairly allows only one type of charitable organization to be exempt from property taxes.

Amendment No. 3

Summary—Authorizes the Texas Agricultural Finance Authority to use $200 million of the $500 million in bonds already authorized as part of the state's Farm and Ranch Land Finance Program. The $200 million would be used to guarantee loans to purchase farm and ranch land.

Arguments For-Would allow the Texas Dept. of Agriculture to provide farmers and ranchers with a more flexible finance program without having to authorize state debt. The program would use money that has already been authorized for agricultural use.

Arguments Against—Although the $500 million for the state's Farm and Ranch Land Finance Program was authorized in 1985, it was never implemented. This proposal could continue a dangerous trend: taking money saved and spending it to expand an already existing program. Also, the state is ultimately liable for G.O. bonds.

Amendment No. 4

Summary—Authorizes Texas homeowners to refinance their homes to pay off a tax debt owed to the Internal Revenue Service or, in the case of a divorce, to purchase a spouse's equity in the home.

Arguments For-Would bring the Texas Constitution in line with federal law. Also expands homeowners' rights to allow borrowing against home equity. Texas is the only state that does not allow homeowners to use home equity as collateral.

Arguments Against—Would remove the protections from a forced sale of a homestead and could result in people losing homes against their will. Amendment No. 5

Summary—Authorizes the Texas Land Board to issue an additional $500 million in general obligation bonds to finance low-interest home loans for qualified Texas veterans.

Arguments For-Could help those who have served their country and state in the armed forces to secure a loan for a house. Voters already have approved $1.5 billion in bonding authority for this program.

Arguments Against—Only benefits one segment of the population at the expense of all taxpayers. If participants in the program default on their loans, the state is ultimately responsible for the debt.

Amendment No. 6 Summary—Exempts the surviving spouse of a senior citizen (if the surviving spouse is at least 55 years old) from property tax on a residence

Arguments For-Provides tax relief from ad valorem taxes for the spouse of an elderly citizen. Arguments Against—Only benefits one segment of the population at the expense of all other citizens who will have to compensate for lost tax

Summary—Reduces the total bonding authority already granted for expenses related to the construction of the Superconducting Super Collider from $500 million to $250 million. Arguments For—Could help reduce the state debt, and therefore, enable the state to achieve a higher bond rating. The United States Congress has eliminated funding for the Super Collider, so there is not need for further financing from the state. Arguments Against—Could prevent bonds from being issued to promote physics research at universities and other laboratories. The money was allocated for scientific research and since the federal government stopped the program, not the state, the money remains available. Amendment No. 8

Summary—Establishes provisions within the Texas Constitution to abolish the office of constable in three counties: Mills, Reagan and Roberts County. The amendment also would transfer the duties of the constable in these three counties to the county sheriff.

Arguments For—Could help these small counties streamline their governments and increase savings. Arguments Against—Would remove authority from voters to elect county officials.

Amendment No. 9

Summary—Removes sanctions which prohibit the investment of money from the Texas Growth Fund in businesses with ties to South Africa. Arguments For-Would remove sanctions, implemented in 1987, no longer necessary to protest South African apartheid government, which is Arguments Against—Since the South African government is still volatile, money invested there would be at risk.

Amendment No. 10

Summary—Abolishes the state treasurer's office, effective Sept. 1, 1996. Arguments For-Will downsize government by preventing the duplication of many functions performed by both the Treasurer and the Comptroller's offices. Arguments Against—Would give management control over state revenues to one office and eliminate the checks and balances system. Mergers among state agencies have not always resulted in the desired financial savings. They can result in larger, less responsive bureaucracies. Amendment No. 11

Summary—Authorizes a landowner whose property was receiving an agricultural valuation to retain that valuation if the use of the land is changed from agriculture to active wildlife management. Arguments For-Would protect the rights of property owners and would help preserve wildlife and endangered species by providing economically feasible ways to restore and protect natural habitats. Arguments Against—This amendment could give landowners unfair tax breaks. It eliminates the use of previously productive land. Amendment No. 12

Summary—Authorizes the Texas Legislature, by general law, to exempt income-producing personal property and mineral interests from property taxes, if the property has a value insufficient to recover the administrative costs incurred in collecting taxes.

Arguments For—Would create a more efficient tax-collection policy. Arguments Against—Could provide a tax loophole for some personal

Amendment No. 13

Summary—Authorizes local governments, at their discretion, to exempt commercial shrimp and fishing boats from property taxes. Arguments For-Will assist communities dependent on the fishing industry to promote the local economy. Arguments Against—Would assist a special interest group by reducing tax revenue at the expense of the entire population.

Amendment No. 14

Summary—Would raise the constitutionally designated property-tax exemptions for disabled veterans and their spouses and children. Arguments For-Would bring tax relief to those who have served this country in the armed forces and their families. Arguments Against-Would assist a special interest group by reducing tax revenues at the expense of the entire population. The Free Market Foundation provides this voter's guide in an attempt to help citizens cast a more informed vote. It is not an attempt to pass or defeat any of the proposed amendments.

Trick or Treat the Safe Way!

Trick or treating can be safe and fun if you follow these simple but important tips.

Keep children away from lit jack-o'-lanterns.

· Make sure costumes are not so long that your child could trip on them. Reflective tape should be put on all costumes—especially dark-colored ones. Also, painted faces are better than masks since masks almost always affect vision.

 Instruct children not to eat any treats before you have inspected them.

· Trick or treat only in well-lighted neighborhoods preferably only at homes where you know the occupants personally.

· Carry a flashlight and walk on sidewalks, not on streets. Warn children not to run between parked cars to cross the street.

· Inspect treats closely. Candy with torn wrappers or any packaging that looks like it has been tampered with should be immediately thrown away.

 Fruit should be washed and cut into small pieces before eating.

GOD ENABLED PEOPLE TO WRITE THE BOOKS THAT WE ENJOY

Have you ever thought about how empty our lives would be if it weren't for books? We have them in our homes and yet seldom appreciate the wealth of learning and enjoyment they have brought to us. They are relatively inexpensive, particularly the paperbacks, compared to what they offer us, and they may be borrowed free of charge from our local library. Books cover virtually every subject in the world; including science, history, astronomy, adventure, romance, westerns, mysteries, children's stories, advice on everything from cooking to gardening to home repair, etc., and religion, which includes the greatest book of all, the Bible. At your House of Worship, thank God for the ability He has granted to the authors of all those books, which have done so much to enrich our lives.

Bakers to host fall revival at Haskell First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Haskell will host Evangelist Bo Baker and singer Dick Baker in a fall revival, "A Matter of the Heart," beginning Sunday, Nov. 5 through Wednesday, Nov. 8.

The pair will begin their revival with the Sunday morning service. Baker will conduct a Mini-Concert during the evening song service. A special service for children, grades one through six will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday night is family night with a dessert fellowship after the evening worship. On Wednesday night, the church youth will have pizza at 6 p.m. (F.A.C.).

Bo Baker is a native of Farmersville, the son of the late B.O. Baker Sr. and Martha Dee McCraw Baker, who at 91, continues to reside in Farmersville.

For more than 45 years, Baker has occupied a respected, influential place among Southern Baptists. A graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, he was an original member of the Youth Revival Movement which strongly affected the student world of the forties and fifties. He and his brother, Dick, joined talents to write and publish more than one hundred songs and hymns. For 17 years, their ministry of evangelism has extended literally around the world.

Baker has served as Trustee of Dallas Baptist University, President of Southwestern Seminary Alumni, Vice-President of the Baptist General Convention of Texas and Trustee of the Baptist Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Baker is married to the former Ruth Hutcherson. They delight in their children and grandchildren while continuing to keep the Baker tradition of involvement very much

The name Richard (Dick) Baker continues to be synonymous with the best of gospel music and composition. His unique talent has given the Christian world such beloved songs as "Longing for Jesus," "His Way Mine," "All to Thee" and the musical "Glory." Add to these more than 300 other published works and you begin to recognize the dimensions of his talent and influence.

For those who appreciate credentials, Dick holds degrees from Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. Dallas Baptist University has recently bestowed an Honorary Doctorate.

There is hardly a nation that has not heard his witness in song. Since 1956, he has had an international ministry of concerts and crusade. Billy Graham has included Dick Baker in his crusades as song director and soloist. Dick teamed for 20 years with his brother, Bo Baker, in an evangelistic ministry.

Blayne Davis, Brandy Gardner, Wes Halloween candy alternatives

This year when trick-or-treaters come to the door, they should be given something more nutritious than candy. Extension nutrition specialist, Dr. Dymple Cooksey, says there are some great alternatives. She suggests individually wrapped packages of crackers, plain cookies, raisins, nuts or sugarless gum. She says this would be substituting more healthful snacks with foods children still love. The key also is that the snacks be wrapped. Lots of parents will throw out homemade goodies and fruit because there is no wrapping to tell if they might have been tampered with. All this stems from scares in Halloweens past with poisons and dangerous objects hidden in candy and snacks.

Cooksey recommends telling children not to eat their treats until they bring them home and examine them. She says parents should accompany children, especially small children on their Halloween routes. She also recommends setting a curfew of nine o'clock for older children to be home from trick-or-treating.
