Barnett nominated for fire department award

Fred Barnett of Austin and the son of Lee Barnett of Haskell, was recently nominated for the Medal of Merit Award from the Austin Fire Department.

Barnett, a rookie with the City of Austin Fire Department and two other firemen, Gus Granados and Keith Moore, were nominated for the award for their efforts in successfully rescuing eight occupants of an apartment building in Austin during a 3rd alarm fire on Nov. 29.

The recommendation for the award states that Barnett's crew was the first unit to arrive on the scene and was advised by occupants fleeing the building that others were trapped on the second floor. Further investigation by Acting Lieutenant Gus Granados revealed two occupants trapped on a common balcony on the south side. Heavy fire was showing at this time and Granados requested a 2nd alarm as he overheard the many calls for help.

The recommendation award further states that Probationary Firefighter Fred Barnett deployed a rack line to the northeast corner of the structure while acting driver Keith Moore took a 24' extension to the southside to assist Granados rescue two people trapped by fire on their balcony.

Barnett, who was on the northside, asked a citizen to get a ladder after hearing people yelling for help. The citizen returned immediately with the 14' roof ladder, which even though it didn't reach the balcony was successfully used to remove six occupants. Barnett, with the citizen's help, removed two people and Granados arrived and assisted with the remaining four, all of which were trapped on a common balcony.

Granados and Barnett then returned and continued to search the second floor for occupants who might not have escaped as yet. Moore during this time returned to E-12 and began to supply the rack line which was being used by Granados and Barnett on the north balcony.

Barnett was on the San Angelo Fire Department four years before moving to Austin.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Chairmen of both the Republican and Democratic parties of Texas agree on one thing for certain: election year 1996 is going to be pivotal in the war for partisan control of government on the state and national levels.

Bill White, chairman of the state Democratic Party, told the Houston Chronicle he believes Newt Gingrich could lose his post as speaker of the U.S. House if Texans vote for Democrats in a number of contested races.

Due to attrition there will be seven open Congressional seats on the ballot, and 27 of Texas' 30 congressional districts will have partisan contests. But, White said, if Democratic officeholders hold their 18-12 edge over the Republicans, it could assure the margin needed to tilt the balance away from the GOP in the U.S. House, and weaken Gingrich's chance of holding the speakership.

GOP Eyeing Laney's Seat

Tom Pauken, the Republican chairman, said his party's aim is to vote out Democrat Pete Laney as Speaker of the Texas House. The GOP needs eight to 10 more seats in the 150-member House to get the needed conservative votes to unseat Laney.

Pauken said that in Laney's home district, Springlake rancher Hollis Cain will make a "very good candidate" for the GOP to run against the speaker, who has held his seat since 1973.

Pauken, however, acknowledged that Laney — who has made his mark as a concensus-builder governed by conservative principles — would be hard to beat at home, and White said the Hale Center farmer is not likely to lose his reelection bid.

Republican strategy also will focus on the state Senate, where Democrats hold a 17-14 seat edge. Pauken figures the GOP needs two more seats to strip some of Democratic Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock's power.

Last legislative session, however, Bullock presided over the Senate with support from both sides of the aisle, while working toward common goals with Gov. George W. Bush on a number of hot-button issues, such as the education bill, tort reform and concealed handgun legislation.

Uribe Seeks RRC Seat

Hector Uribe of Brownsville, a former Democratic state senator and representative, has filed as a candidate for the Texas Railroad Commission and will run against Republican Carole Keeton Rylander of Austin.

Uribe served in the state Senate from 1981 to 1990 and in the state House from 1978 to 1981. He dropped a bid last year to become chairman of the Texas Democratic Party.

Lower WC Rates Demanded

The Texas Department of Insurance has told 17 insurance groups representing 74 companies to lower their workers' compensation rates, justify them or face state hearings aimed at forcing them lower.

"Our patience has worn thin, and we're carrying out the responsibility the Legislature gave us to challenge excessive rates," Insurance Commissioner Elton Bomer warned.

The department said that workers' compensation insurance losses were between 52 percent and 57 percent lower than they would have been without reforms enacted by the Legislature in 1989.

Industry spokesman Rick Gentry said the department's figures are misleading because they do not account for reductions negotiated with individual employers.

Employers can compare the rates of different insurers by calling the department at 1-800-599-7467 for free copies of the Texas Workers' Compensation Insurance Rate Guide.

From the Prattle Column by Al Hinds—Tommy Matthews over at Dick's Barber Shop was telling me the other day of a fellow who lived across the river over in Knox County that had a burro he hunted birds with. The donkey would stop still in his tracks and point with his ears, everytime he came upon a covey of birds. A fellow who lived this side of the river wanted to buy the burro, but was told that he never would get the animal to cross the stream of water because the old donkey liked to fish so well it would stop at the river.

Local law enforcement officers settled a private dispute with gunplay last Wednesday afternoon. The men squared off, reached for their guns and drilled holes in a target. Al Cousins, City Marshall of Haskell, was the winner with a reported nine and a half, out of a possible 10. The Sheriff, Giles Kemp, was second with a nine and Mart Clifton was third with eight and a half. The argument will be resumed on the first windless day, as some of the boys claim they can't compete with the gales.

The marble machine vendor who has had his ups and downs lately in the local courts, has been in Haskell since last Wednesday trying to get around the ordinances of the marble machines. According to County Attorney, Ben Charlie Chapman, he will not be allowed to install any more of the machines, inasmuch as they are a violation of the law and the cases will be prosecuted as soon as one is put in operation.

Proposal protects taxpayers' revenue

State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday, a member of the influential House Ways and Means Committee, has acted to protect the state taxes being produced in his 13-county legislative district and to see they aren't siphoned off as Oklahoma state revenues.

Finnell, an Archer County small businessman, wrote and sponsored H.B. 499 in the 74th Texas Legislative Session. This bill would provide that any state agency finding it necessary to rent a motor vehicle in Texas rent only a vehicle that was licensed, titled and subject to property taxes in a Texas county. Finnell perceived that many state agency rentals, particularly in the areas near stateline boundaries, where rental contracts involving Oklahoma-registered rental vehicles, where all the fees and taxes were going to support Oklahoma state and local governments.

As a Ways and Means Committee member, Rep. Finnell is acutely aware of the revenue needs of state, local and school district governing entities. The heavy burden on Texas property taxpayers dictates that our state cannot afford any loss of revenue or fees that rightfully belong in the treasury of our state and local governments.

State agencies and car rental companies both got Finnell's message that "if you do business in Texas you are going to shoulder the responsibilities.

Editorial

Spousal abuse and child abuse (physical, emotional and sexual) have been brought to the attention of Americans this past year by the news media. The O.J. Simpson murder trial probably brought spousal abuse into the limelight more than any other thing ever has, even though it has been going on for generations.

The beating death of little Elisa Izquierdo, by her mother, the day before Thanksgiving made headlines around the world. It was a horrible tragedy that could probably have been avoided if more people had opened their eyes and their mouths and spoke up for this child. There were people in the neighborhood that knew the beatings were going on but chose to keep quiet about it, not get involved. And then when it was reported repeatedly to the Child Welfare in New York, they still did not take the child from the home.

The mother was on drugs and she or she and her husband (the little girl's step-father) were repeatedly abusing the child, both physically and sexually. Can you imagine the horror that was going on in this child's mind and how she must have wondered why someone didn't step forward and help her? The sad thing she was just another of many children who fall through the cracks each year due to people's lack of concern or bureaucratic red tape.

There are literally thousands of abuse cases, both in children and women each year, that are never investigated even if the authorities are alerted. Who can blame a person that takes the law into their own hands, when they repeatedly ask for help from the authorities and do not get it?

There is an old saying that where there is smoke, there is fire. Well when someone reports suspected abuse to the authorities, isn't a child's or women's life worth an investigation; and I don't mean just a one or two hour investigation and then stick it in the back of the filing cabinets. I mean an all-out investigation that takes some background digging and a lot of time and hard work.

If the United States Government can spend billions of dollars on the space program, why can't they spend even a fourth of that amount on the child protective system in this country. They spend all that money to see what is going on in space, yet can't protect and feed the children of this country. There is something terribly wrong with that situation.

The citizens of this country should also share a responsibility to the children; if they know abuse is going on or suspect it, they should come forward and report it and try to put a stop to it. Because anyone that knows it is happening and refuses to report it or try to stop it is as guilty as the perpetrator of the abuse.

There is nothing that makes me so angry as child abuse. If I had my way, child abusers would not just be put in prison for a few years, only to be released so they can commit the same crimes again; they would be severely punished in physical ways and branded with the words, "Child Abuser" on their faces for all the world to see.

I am speaking from a personal standpoint on child abuse, because had a granddaughter who was sexually abused when she was 1 years old and in the custody of her mother and the mother's boyfriend. And it is but for the grace of God that I am not serving time in prison right now, because unless you have experienced it personally, there is no way you can imagine the anger and rage that a parent or grandparent experiences when it happens to one of their own.

It is time for all of us to stand up for the children of this country, for they are the most precious commodities we have; it is time to put a stop to the horrors of abuse that is going on everyday. Every child has a right to go to bed at night without being afraid—afraid of the atrocities being committed against them or afraid that they will not see another sunrise. They have a right to be happy and to grow up without memories of abuse and horror in their lives. It is time the laws of this land were changed to protect the rights of these victims instead of the perpetrators of these crimes. Don't be afraid to speak out; who knows that life you save may be your own child or grandchild.

Chamber of Commerce Public Survey

The Board of Directors of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce is in the process of restructuring and making substantial changes to the Chamber. It is critical that the Board of Directors have input from the general public to determine the direction the Chamber needs to take. We want this restructuring to improve the Chamber and carry it into the 21st century. We would appreciate you taking a few minutes to complete this survey and returning it, by mail, no later than Jan. 20, 1996, to the Chamber of Commerce, 307 No. First, Haskell, TX 79521, or by delivering it to the Chamber office at the same address.

1. What specific activities or projects would you like to see the town involved in?
2. What questions or comments do you have about the Chamber?
3. Would you be willing to be involved in the Chamber of Commerce?
4. Would you be willing to join the Chamber if not already a member?

To the Editor:

How many readers drive pickup trucks? I would guess a large percentage. I know that pickup trucks are very popular here in Texas. That's why I decided to let you know "what's on my mind."

Statistics show that injury and fatality risks are reduced when drivers and passengers wear safety belts, yet pickup truck drivers and passengers are the least likely to wear safety belts.

In 1994, observational surveys of urban pickup truck occupants in Texas showed a usage rate of 64 percent (about 20 percentage points lower than passenger vehicles). Studies conducted in rural towns of Texas showed that only 36 percent of the pickup truck occupants buckled up. Unfortunately, other states show similar usage rates.

The fact that we have a seat belt law is not the issue. The fact that the belt may save a life is the critical issue. We can each do our part in reducing death, injuries and Health Care Costs by buckling up. If I may adapt one of the beer company's ads, "Live A Life," Buckle Up!

To the Editor:

We would like to thank everyone for making the 1995 Haskell Hoop Classic a big success. Without the help of the many volunteers who performed numerous tasks, our tournament would not have been possible.

A great deal of team work and cooperation was exhibited by parents of our athletes who did their part to help. Much thanks goes to them, as well as the many fans who attended the games.

Thanks to all of you for your help and support.

Marcus Overton receives Eagle Scout badge

Marcus Overton was presented his Eagle Scout badge at the Pat Morrison Auditorium in Paint Creek on Dec. 23.

Overton first joined Troop 148 in Feb. 1989, and since that time has served as Troop Quartermaster, Bugler, Patrol Leader, Senior Patrol Leader and presently serves as Junior Assistant Scoutmaster for the troop. He has earned the Arrow of Light, BSA Lifeguard, God and Family and 50 Miler Award.

He has traveled to Austin, for four years, for the Report to State, has served as Patrol Leader at the National Jamboree at Ft. A.P. Hill, Va., attended the Canadian Canoe Trip and is a Brotherhood member of the Order of the Arrow. Overton needed 22 merit badges for his Eagle rank, but completed 28 which entitles him to an additional honor of a bronze palm to place on his Eagle ribbon.

During the ceremonies at his presentation, his Scoutmaster Wallar Overton introduced guests which included Council Executive, John Clark, and Russell Dressen and Sammy Ferguson, both Executive Board members. He also read letters of congratulations from state and national leaders.

Kenny Thompson, assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 148 and Overton's Webelos leader, then reviewed the Eagle requirements and paid special attention to Overton's Eagle project which was the beautification of Capt. Marcy's Monument on Highway U.S. 277 between Haskell and Stamford.

Eagle Scout Hans Overton then presented the Voice of the Eagle and Eagle Scout Mike Overton conducted the actual Eagle badge presentation. Eagle Scout Sammy Ferguson presented the Eagle Charge to Overton and after his response, a slide presentation was presented to the guests, depicting Overton's adventures in the Scouting program. The ceremonies were closed by Eagle Scout William Overton, who led the benediction.

Marcus Overton is the 13th out of 14 Eagles who have earned their Eagle rank in Troop 148 in Paint Creek. The troop will not have enough boys to continue their charter and will be no longer meeting after this month.

As a final tribute to Troop 148 and their accomplishments, the following is a list of Scouts who attained the Eagle rating:

The troop wishes to thank everyone who had a part in producing these fine men and for their continuing support for the Scouting program.

Regional effort moves forward into 1996

Texas Midwest Community Network was founded in 1994. For a year the groundwork was established to provide non-governmental ways communities and community leaders can work together for the well-being of the region.

Thirty-three towns in the 20 counties surrounding Abilene have become the backbone of an organization to promote regionalism efforts concerning tourism, business development, a louder voice in Austin and interaction among community leaders.

Communication is the key to keeping people informed and working together.

Each participating town has a community liaison that sits on the TMCN Council and represents the interests of that town. The community liaison for Haskell is Abe Turner. The alternate representative is David Middleton.

Delegates from each community provide the leadership and planning to implement projects sponsored by the Texas Midwest Community Network. In 1996, watch for announcements regarding luncheons, speakers, workshops, publications and efforts with legislators from this region. For additional information, contact the TMCN Office at 915-893-2099.

Sagerton News

By Dorothy M. Clark

Our community was covered with a pretty white blanket of snow for a couple of days and everyone welcomed the moisture. Youngsters built snowmen while oldsters stayed inside by the fire. More moisture is needed for the wheat and pastures.

Upcoming events for the week of Jan. 14, include Family Night at Faith Lutheran Church on Sunday, at 6 p.m.; Big Country Lutherans meeting in Abilene at 10 a.m. on Jan. 15; Friendship Club dinner on Thursday, Jan. 18; and the men's breakfast at Faith Lutheran on Friday morning, Jan. 19, at 7 a.m.

Tom and Emmalee Bivins of Rule had dinner with their grandparents, Joe and Dorothy Clark on New Year's Day. Also visiting with the Clarks last week was their granddaughter, Anna Adler of The Woodlands and her friend, Jeremy Willis of Montgomery. Ray and Nancy Clark of Stamford and Emmalee were guests for supper and games on Wednesday night.

Ladain Anderson of Houston has returned home after spending some time visiting in the Reece and Frances Clark home.

Reece and Frances also had a surprise visit from a former pastor of the Methodist Church. Rev. Marvin D. and Mrs. Armpriester of Council Bluffs, Iowa, stopped by as they were driving through Sagerton. He was pastor here in 1965 and gave the cross to the church that hangs at the front of the sanctuary. He stopped by the church and then visited with the Clarks. He is still active in the Methodist Church and was a District Superintendent for six years. They have two children.

They expressed their desire to have been able to visit with all members, but their time was limited, so they asked the Clarks to say "hello" to everyone for them.

The Sagerton Hobby Club will meet today, Thursday, Jan. 11, at the community center with Wilma Teichelman acting as hostess. Visitors are welcome.

Delbert and Joyce LeFevre visited in Midland Saturday with Gary and Rene Laughlin.

Congratulations to two of our Sagerton youth who placed in the stock show at Stamford on Saturday. Josh Freeman placed third with his lightweight Duroc barrow and fourth in the breeding class. Paige Lammert placed second with her lightweight Poland China barrow. As usual, the weather was very cold and these youngsters are to be commended for their dedicated work.

Food for thought

"They did eat of the fruit of the land of Canaan that year."—Joshua 5:12.

Israel's weary wanderings were all over, and the promised rest was attained. No more moving tents, fiery serpents, fierce Amalekites and howling wildernesses: they came to the land which flowed with milk and honey and they ate the old corn of the land. Perhaps this year beloved Christian reader, this may be thy case or mine. Joyful is the prospect, and if faith be in active exercise, it will yield unalloyed delight.

To be with Jesus in the rest which remaineth for the people of God, is a cheering hope indeed, and to expect this glory so soon is a double bliss. Unbelief shudders at the Jordan which still rolls between us and the goodly land, but let rest assured that we have already experienced more ills than death at its worst can cause us. Let us banish every fearful thought and rejoice with exceeding great joy, in the prospect that this year we shall begin to be "for ever with the Lord."

A part of the host will this year tarry on earth, to do service for their Lord. If this should fall to our lot, there is no reason why the New Year's text should not still be true. "We who have believed do enter into rest." The Holy Spirit is the earnest of our inheritance; he gives us "glory begun below." In heaven they are secure and so are we preserve in Christ Jesus; there they triumph over their enemies, and we have victories too.

Celestial spirits enjoy communion with their Lord, and this is not denied to us; they rest in His love, and we have perfect peace in Him: they hymn His praise and it is our privilege to bless Him too. We will this year gather celestial fruits on earthly ground, where faith and hope have made the desert like the garden of the Lord. Man did eat angels' food of old and why not now? O for grace to feed on Jesus, and so to eat of the fruit of the land of Canaan this year.

FRANKLIN'S ADVICE FOR LIVING HAS VALUE FOR ALL OF US

The birthday of Benjamin Franklin should remind all of us that he was far more than just a revered American statesman with an incredible array of interests and achievements. In addition to his accomplishments as a diplomat, author, publisher, scientist and philanthropist, we remember him for his practical advice on living. He extolled the virtues of thrift, temperance, the wise use of time, and the merits of keeping sensible hours. His formula of "early to bed, early to rise" continues to be a household expression. Your faith will teach you that the value of Benjamin Franklin's advice knew no national boundaries and is as valid today anywhere in the world as it was during the colonial days of America in which we lived.

Weinert FCE makes quilt for telethon

The Weinert FCE Club ladies love to quilt. For the past 17 years, the club has been dedicated to improving the quality of life for the patients of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene. This dynamic small community club has made and donated a quilt each year since 1979 to the West Texas Rehab Center. The 15 volunteers devote a great amount of time to selecting a quilt pattern and material, assembling pieces and the actual quilting process.

The 1996 quilt pattern is Boston Commons. Myrtle Phemister is the club's quilt chairman for the 1996 quilt, which measures 83 inches in width and 99 inches in length. It could serve as a quilted spread and will accommodate pillows. The front side has printed squares of navy, pink, mauve and teal and the reverse side is solid mauve. The quilt has a pre-washed cotton top and lining, filling of high-loft 100 percent bonded polyester, and is machine pieced, hand quilted and hemmed. The quilt will be No. 912 at the Jan. 13, West Texas Rehab Telethon.

During January of each year, the quilt is auctioned off during the special televised Telethon, with the proceeds going to the Rehab Center patients. The club's 1993 quilt brought $1,000. The Weinert FCE Club has contributed approximately $7,000 to the Rehab Center from their quilt donations over the 17-year time period.

Phemister-quilt chairman, Rene Vojkufka—skilled volunteer quilter, Alice Yates, Erma Liles and Estalynn Liles—club president, attended a West Texas Rehab brunch on Dec. 9, to enter their donated quilt. Quilters from throughout the Big Country were recognized for their efforts and work. A record number of quilts and afghans were donated this year to be auctioned off. The Rehab Center raises about $30,000 from sales each year.

Submitted by Estalynn Liles, Club President.

Green Thumb

By Gladys O'Neal

Now is the time to start planning for beauty and bloom this spring and summer. January marks the start of 'Armchair Gardening' season, when mailboxes sprout garden catalogs jammed with this year's crop of new plants. January may not be the most colorful time of the year, but if your garden or flower beds are tidy, the subtle features of the season will show through.

To settle down with a bountiful crop of new seed catalogs and a cup of cocoa is a great way to brighten a gray winter day in this month.

As Robert Frost said in a writing, "I have promises to keep," I have lots to write about this month.

Watch the papers and magazines for new plants, arriving in the floral shop, just like new car models, arriving in the stores, everyday. They come by way of selection and breeding. Sometimes they even come from foreign countries.

Plant spring-flowering bulbs such as hyacinths and tulips by January 15, or 31, for best results.

Set out or transplant roses this month. Prepare the beds or individual holes as weather and time allow; so that little effort is required when you set them in the soil. Roses do better in elevated beds that drain rapidly. Be sure they receive at least six hours of full sun daily.

Mulch the beds with a six-inch mixture of fir bark, peat moss and compost. This elevates the beds and improves drainage. Make planting holes deep and wide enough to give the entire root system room without crowding.

To lengthen the blooming of pansies, for all winter and into the spring, give them a light fertilizer application every four to six weeks. Such applications also help snapdragons, stocks and other cool-season annuals.

This month is a good time to replenish mulch around shrubs and flower beds. Apply a two to four inch layer of shredded leaves, bark, pine needles, pecan shells or other organic matter to conserve water and reduce weeds.

Now for some good hints that you might like to have:

- keep squirrels from digging up your bulbs and flowers by shaving off chips of perfumed bath soap (I use Coast) and spreading them around your flower garden, it really works;
- set out a container to catch rain water for your house plants and the steam iron. Plants love it and you won't have to buy distilled water for your iron;
- to make your home smell good, combine the peelings of two oranges, three cinnamon sticks, twelve whole cloves and two cups of water in a saucepan—simmer on a back burner and add water as necessary;

- put coffee filters in the bottoms of your plant pots, they keep the soil from falling through the draining holes while still allowing water out;
- aphid-proof your plants with this spray: In a blender, combine and chop one garlic bulb, one small onion, one tablespoon cayenne pepper and add one quart of water, let steep, then add one tablespoon liquid non-detergent soap. Use immediately or store in a tightly covered container in the refrigerator for up to one week;
- to stop ants from invading your kitchen, wash and spray countertops, cabinets and floors with equal parts of vinegar and water;
- plant dill with all your vine crops, it does double duty in your garden as a squash or gourd bug and cucumber beetle repellent.

I wish for all of you a very happy, prosperous New Year and most of all, good health in 1996.

I enjoy writing this article and I hope you enjoy reading it.

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL)—A new drug has been approved that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain. This material has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itism" and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itism relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itism is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work. Use only as directed.
