

Mr. Muleshoe ...

By J. M. FORBES

The observant will have noted before now the beauty of the Bailey County courthouse lawn. It's lovelier than ever now that some low hanging limbs have been pruned away from the trees. These huge trees and the grass that seems to be doing better than ever this year form a beauty spot right in the heart of Muleshoe. Of course the courthouse square remains unpaved on two sides; and when this lack is supplied the attractiveness of the county property will be enhanced.

The Muleshoe country is a wonderful agricultural country. That is not, we realize, a statement to raise one out of his chair, or to astonish anyone. But it does need restating now and then so that all and sundry may be reminded and may more fully acknowledge the underlying causes of our swift development and advancement. Recently this writer has been visiting farms or livestock projects, alone or with the county agent and has tried to bring to the attention of all the rich possibilities created by our salutary combination of good climate, good soil, water supplies, and intelligent people.

Also, Travis Barnett of The Journal staff has been out with the camera, recording some of the livestock and crop scenes to be observed everywhere. We hope to do more of this in the future. The local paper, we know, ought to concern itself not only with the business community and its people but with the territory that makes it possible. No paper ever had more to talk about than The Journal.

The territory we strive to serve is richly diversified with its production of livestock, poultry, and various crops. It supports generously a large population and furnishes besides a steady stream of food and fiber to others in the nation. We recognize our inability ever to tell the story adequately, but we'll keep trying.

On a tour to the southwest part of the county Sunday, this writer saw thousands of acres of cotton. It was up to a good stand and it had a healthy, greasy green look. Never, everybody said, was there such prospects of a wonderful cotton crop and seldom was a good money crop so healthy. But it's different now. He covered a path through a portion of the county's good crop land and destroyed that pretty cotton.

Now the outlook is uncertain for many farmers. Of course it can be replanted, but farmers doubt the wisdom of replanting to cotton, so much of the more than 200,000 acres which had been planted to cotton will now go into sorghum grains. There still will be a tremendous acreage to cotton and if anywhere near favorable conditions exist from now until maturing time we still have a world of cotton to harvest this year.

Brooks Grandson Portrait Picked

Another former Muleshoe resident has been honored in a portrait exhibition. The Journal this week is in receipt of the following communication:

Would like to advise you that another one of Muleshoe's former residents have a grandson, whose portrait has been selected to be placed on exhibit in Lamme Galleries in Denver, Colo., starting July 16 through the 20th.

He is the 19-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Dunnahoo, of Roswell, N. M., and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Brooks of Lubbock. His mother is the former Bonnie Brooks.

R. L. and Opal Brooks have told a lot of people about their grandson. Now R. L. is wondering how he can arrange for the folks of Muleshoe to see this portrait on exhibit.

ENTER MEDICAL SCHOOL

Walter Seales left Saturday to enter medical school at John Tarleton in Stephenville. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Seales. He graduated from the Muleshoe High this year. He will stay with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Seale while there. He plans to enter Baylor this fall.

Big Roping Here June 17 To Pit Pros. and Non-Pros. Of Southwest

Muleshoe's third annual roping pitting professional ropers against non-professionals, will be unrolled here Sunday afternoon, June 17, in the Muleshoe Roping Arena under auspices of the Muleshoe Roping Club. Professionals who will rope are: Earl Moore, Clovis; Cotton Lee, Ft. Sumner; Buddy Fort, Lovington; Leon Jones, Littlefield.

The non-professionals listed to compete with the above are the following well-known ropers. Gene Lowe, Muleshoe; M. G. Kellar, Earth; Mitz Walling, Fairwell; Billy Teague, Crane, Tex.

In the two ropings held here last year and the year before, each side has won once, so officials are looking for the hottest kind of action from all these ropers for the winning, or sugar contest.

A jackpot roping will immediately follow the above contest and anyone may enter. The action starts at 1:30 p. m.

Jaycees To Cite Farmers

At the first regular meeting of the Muleshoe Junior Chamber of Commerce for the fiscal year of 1951-52, the club voted to honor an outstanding farmer in this area every three months, selecting them on some phase of farming or associated products.

John Humphrey of the Clovis Junior Chamber of Commerce was present to enlist the aid of the Muleshoe Jaycees in organizing a Junior Chamber at Texico and Fairwell.

Members of the Jaycees and the Tennis Club will meet tonight and finish pouring the remainder of the second tennis court at the junior high school building.

The board of directors will meet Monday night at the Cross Roads Cafe.

Work Underway On Building Remodeling

Work projected by the board of trustees, and bonds to pay for which was authorized in a recent school district election already is underway.

Under direction of Johnny Johnson, workmen are tearing out old partitions, ceilings, etc., in the top story of junior high school, which will all be replaced by modern materials.

The board made arrangements with the bank to obtain funds to pay labor while waiting for bonds finally to be approved by the state and obtaining money. Much has to be done and it is desired to have it done before school starts again in September.

Besides the remodeling work on the junior high school, the board will build three more class rooms, equipped with a central heating system, at the grade school. A crowded condition in the lower grades thus will be eliminated without resort to use of the old barracks formerly in use on the campus.

All work is expected to be completed by fall. A bond issue of $75,000 was authorized by district voters to pay for these improvements.

Copley Sells Interest In Gin

Rufus Gibleath has become the sole owner of the Copley Gin, an old established concern in Muleshoe. He recently bought the interest of A. W. Copley, who has been the gin manager, and before that had acquired the interest of another partner, A. M. Gable.

Mr. Copley has not announced what his future plans are. He and his family operate a 70-acre farm near Muleshoe.

Mrs. Moore Rites Were Held Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Ollie Texanna Moore, a pioneer resident of this territory, were conducted at the Methodist church here Friday morning, June 1, at the Methodist church, at 10:00 o'clock.

Rev. H. W. Hanks, pastor, officiated. Interment was in Muleshoe cemetery under direction of the Muleshoe Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Fred Determan, Jack Epps, Elmo Stevens, Raymond Roubinek, Edgar Broyles, Harry Engeling, and Charles Gustin.

Mrs. Moore and family moved here in 1925, and farmed northeast of Muleshoe, in the Pleasant Valley community for many years. Her husband, J. R. Moore, passed on in 1947. She is survived by seven children, two brothers and a sister.

Mrs. Moore died May 30, at the home of her son, J. R. Moore, in Muleshoe.

OPS Expert Here Monday

The Far West Texas district of the Office of Price Stabilization, in stepping up its price clinic day program, will send price specialists to more than 40 towns next week.

Lubbock district Price Executive C. J. Taylor said the expanded program is to assist all merchants in the 66-county district in bringing their respective firms into complete voluntary compliance with all the OPS pricing regulations.

W. C. Reynolds will be in Muleshoe next Monday afternoon, June 11, to confer with all types of business men who have questions concerning application of regulations. He is a price specialist in the Industrial Material & Refrigerated Products branch in the Lubbock district office, which includes this county.

He will maintain offices while here in the district court room in the courthouse. Although the OPS representative has specialized in one branch, he will be able to answer most questions concerning all types of business, especially those who sell consumer services. He reminded that consumer services establishments under Ceiling Price Regulation 34, must file their ceiling prices and descriptions of each service with the district Office of Price Stabilization, Broadway Building, 1202 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas not later than June 16.

Manufacturers, too, were reminded that they must file certain information with the Washington Office of Price Stabilization by July 2. Firms covered by Ceiling Price Regulations 22, 30 and 37 must file.

A price specialist from a different branch will be here on the same day of the week during June and July.

VISITED IN BIG SPRING
Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McWhorter and children, Jimmy Dale and Jerry Sue, visited in Big Spring last week end with relatives.

Hail Inflicts Heavy Damage On Cotton

Hail and heavy rain Tuesday put a different aspect to the best crop prospects that have obtained in this county in the memory of the oldest residents as thousands of acres of young cotton and many hundreds of acres of wheat were wiped out by hail that in some places fell like chunks of ice as large as a baseball.

The hail, falling in a strip some twenty miles wide, not only wiped out crops but damaged many houses and buildings and even injured livestock.

Men who have lived on the Plains a long period of time said it was the worst hail storm they have ever seen here.

House Badly Damaged
L. L. "Frog" Luman, 7 miles south and 7 west, lost about 400 acres of young cotton and besides had his new home badly damaged. Nail beat screens off windows, beat out the window panes and allowed the rain and dirt to damage walls and furnishings. Mr. Luman said he may be able to save about 100 acres. Because of the direction from which the cloud came, cotton in rows running north and south was less damaged than that in east and west rows.

Lost 210 Acres Cotton
Buford Hunt, a neighbor of Mr. Luman, lost about 210 acres of cotton.

Gordon Tiller, who lives northwest of Needmore, had a light rain and no hail.

Dr. L. T. Green's farms south and west of the Luman and Hunt neighborhood, had no hail.

Robert Bird of West Camp community, near the school, had his cotton hailed out.

D. E. Beller, 5 miles northwest of Muleshoe, said he had a nice rain, about three-quarters of an inch, but no hail. Similarly, J. E. Mills, northwest of Muleshoe, had a half to three-quarters of an inch of rain but no hail. "I'm out hunting for hail insurance right now," he told The Journal man.

Insurance Not Effective
Speaking of insurance, Mr. Luman, for instance, had applied for hail insurance Tuesday morning before the hail hit that night. A clause in all hail policies reads that it will not be in force for 24 hours, so that he in effect had no insurance, but would have had in a few more hours.

Had Big Loss
Bert Mathis, who farms both south and west of Muleshoe, lost out in both places. About 320 acres of young cotton was wiped out and he also lost about 60 acres of wheat south of town. It was pretty fair wheat, too, Mr. Mathis told The Journal.

In the same neighborhood, Dr. A. E. Lewis lost about a quarter section of wheat to the hail. He said it was beaten to the ground and laid flat.

However, Alvis White, who operates the Hoyt Morgan farm about 2 miles northwest of Needmore, had a shower but no hail. Muleshoe itself had hail, in a storm that passed over about 6 o'clock and in another which hit about 10:30 or 11:00. The latter storm was the one which did most of the damage here and in the quarter west, south, and southeast of town.

Another farmer whose name the newsman did not get, reported no hail and practically no rain at his place 1 mile south of Baileyboro.

Schusters Hard Hit
H. E. Schuster and son, Jack Schuster, about 8 miles south of Muleshoe on the Morton highway, lost about 4 labors of crops, including wheat and young cotton. The Schuster home was damaged. Hail beat off the screens, broke the windows, and great chunks of ice rolled across the floor. Six windows went out under the terrific weight of the falling ice. Dr. Lewis' place is near the Schusters.

Worst Hail He Has Seen
T. H. Clem, who farms 6 miles south and 4 west, told The Journal man it was the worst hail he has ever seen. Some stones were "as large as baseballs."

Everett Roark told The Journal that his crop was wiped out. Lewis Sanders in the same vicinity, said to have lost 240 acres of cotton.

G. S. Dowell, 9 miles west of town, said damage to cotton on his place likely would not exceed 30 per cent. He said less damage occurred at the Ross Goodwin place and toward Muleshoe than west of there.

Wade Burrus, farming south of Baileyboro, reported no hail fell at his place.

Crops Wiped Out
Alfred Patterson, who operates a diversified farm 6 miles west of Shady Rest, about 8 miles west of Muleshoe, the old C. S. Otto place, said he got two hailings, one around 7 o'clock and another around 11:00 and both were bad. The worst he had ever seen. Mr. Patterson lost 170 acres of cotton, 5 acres of wheat, 10 acres of beans, and 8 acres of watermelons. Water stood all about from the downpour estimated at 2 3/4 inches.

Losses North Of Town
Farmers north of town did not escape crop damage. Near Muleshoe only light showers fell. Delma McCarty, just north of town reporting three quarters of an inch and no hail. But further north damage resulted from the heavy rain covering up seed and young plants and some hail damage is reported. V. H. Bewley, 9 miles north on the Friona highway had his cotton covered up by the downpour.

First Wheat Reaches City
G. T. Taylor brought a load of 1951 wheat to Muleshoe Wednesday, June 6, and so far as can be learned it was the earliest on record for wheat to begin to move here.

Mr. Taylor lives in the Goodland-Stegall area. He brought the load to the Muleshoe Elevator here and Bill Moore, manager, said the grain tested No. 1. He said Mr. Taylor was averaging 13 1/2 bushels to the acre.

Draw Is Up At Muleshoe Today
They could rename Muleshoe today and a suggested new name is "Riverside."

Old Blackwater Draw is full of water and broiling through the southern outskirts of the city. Water from heavy rains to the west and northwest reached the city during the night Wednesday and this morning it was running over the highway in three places. Apparently the amount of water was dwindling and there is no danger of its getting anywhere near a residence.

Johnny Johnson, the observant, long-time resident, says the draw winds through the sand hills and on out through West Camp and into New Mexico. He says many low places or lakes have to be filled up before the waters reach Muleshoe. The draw runs south of the big lake at the west side of Muleshoe, beyond a ridge of sand hills. Waters which are racing past Muleshoe today presumably reach the Brazos eventually.

The citizens turned out in force to see the sight of running water, which has not been duplicated since 1941.

Alfalfa Mill On 24 Hr. Day
It's a 24-hours a day operation now going on in Muleshoe at the plant of the National Alfalfa Milling & Dehydrating Co. Nearly 40 persons are on the payroll at the big mill, which is turning out around 1100 bags of dehydrated and ground alfalfa daily.

Bill Moore had the first field to be ready for the field crews of the mill this year. He said his field had no green bugs to hold back maturity and said his alfalfa will be ready for a second cutting in the next week or two.

A. X. Erickson's alfalfa was cut next and today the mill was grinding away on hay produced on the Gus Tribboth farm.

Onard Upton, manager, said government regulations had held back beginning of operations in the new plant one week, but that they will go on and take alfalfa agreed upon even though it might be a little old. Local people will enjoy a visit to the big mill and watch its busy activities.

Engineering In Agriculture Basic Factor In Progress Of Farming

The integration of engineering and agriculture is a basic factor in the progress, maintenance and economy of farming and ranching in Texas. To carry it on more effectively the work of the agricultural engineering division of the A. & M. College Extension Service was divided into two phases in 1950. W. L. Ulich concentrated on farm machinery and equipment, soil and water conservation, and rural electrification, with a helping hand to a farm safety program. W. S. Allen prior to his recall by the armed forces and later E. C. Brown worked wholly with farm housing and related construction and farm electrification.

The progressive trend toward more complete farm mechanization within the past decade has added to the teaching responsibility of the engineer-specialist concerned with mechanical equipment. Illustrating the extent of the transition, about 250,000 tractors with allied equipment were in service on Texas farms at the end of 1950.

This array of mechanical resources meant that 85 per cent of the land was plowed and 88 per cent of the small grains were harvested by power equipment. But possession and operation of this machinery posed a problem in maintenance which Ulich sought to solve by demonstrations in welding technique, farm machinery field days and training of personnel to make repairs at home.

Welding Schools Held
The specialist served as instructor at four county welding schools designed to train farmers to make repairs at home and thereby economize on expense and time. He also assisted county agricultural agents to obtain instructors, equipment and visual aids for 43 similar schools attended by 1,562 adults.

A parallel activity was 15 two day district tractor maintenance clinics for training of an adult and junior 4-H Club leader and the county agricultural agent from each of 170 counties. Upon completion of the course those attending put on similar clinics for 4-H Club boys and adult farmers in 174 counties. An important consequence of the schools was the training of 4,822 4-H Club boys in tractor maintenance along with 1,755 adult farmers. Meanwhile, trained 4-H teams demonstrated before county groups, civic organizations and others upon the proper methods of caring for tractors. Twenty-five of these teams competed in a state contest.

During the year 25,413 blueprints were distributed and 210 county agricultural agents reported 23,480 pieces of equipment, such as self feeders and machinery, were built on the farms from plans furnished by the Extension Service.

In collateral activities, Ulich attended and gave assistance at 12 farm machinery field days and assisted at eight terracing demonstrations in as many counties. More than 227,000 acres of Texas farm land were terraced during the year under the immediate supervision of county agricultural agents.

Rural Electricity
Since more than 80 per cent of the occupied farms in Texas now have central station electric service, the specialist concentrated his work in rural electrification during 1950 mainly upon electric water systems, lighting and heating, particularly the selection of equipment. He assisted in eight county 4-H meetings concerned with farm electrification with more than 2,000 club members enrolled in the program.

The Housing Act of 1949 gave farm housing increased emphasis in 1950. New dwellings were built on 232 Texas farms and 99 families made major repairs on dwellings under the program. The contribution of the Extension agricultural engineer for buildings comprised training the schools for county Extension personnel, schools for farm families and leaders, and visits, advice and working plans for demonstrations. One hundred and twenty training meetings on housing were held in 52 counties. Meanwhile, a cooperative plan commenced in 1949 for furthering better farm housing was worked out with the state Health Department and Farmers Home Administration in Texas. A Memorandum of Understanding was signed by heads of these agencies for rendering cooperative assistance to farm and ranch families.

Storage Constructed
In addition to new or reconstructed dwellings, county agents report 1,651 grain storage buildings erected in 162 counties and 1,028 dairy barns built in 164 counties during 1950. In both cases plans or information were provided by Extension Service agricultural engineers. Furthermore, dairy husbandmen of the Extension Service were assisted in developing plans for a calf barn, and cooperating with the poultry and poultry marketing specialists on equipment, the engineer for buildings developed a turkey laying nest as well as a poultry feeding pen.

God made all that was mad, and He made it good, declares the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, June 10. The Golden Text is from Revelation 15:3, "Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints." Mankind must constantly endeavor to see this good creation, the Lesson-Sermon further asserts. The Psalmist prayed, "Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things of thy law" (Psalms 119:18). And Mary Baker Eddy states, "Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things"

TIMELY TIPS FROM YOUR H. D. AGENT By Miss Dian McClurkin

ROLLING CHORES

Many routine household jobs can be rolled off to save time, lifting and carrying simply by putting them on wheels or casters. For example, a rolling tray-table may carry meals from the kitchen to the dining table and then to carry out the dishes, may be used in laundry work, housecleaning, food preservation or even some outdoor gardening or painting work.

The tea carts of the twenties went out of fashion because most were two awkward or ornate. But streamlined models have returned in recent years to suit today's informal living and one-level houses. Small tables or stands may easily be converted to such use by installing ball-bearing casters and a comfortable handle. Large wheel casters roll easier than small. If two of the four casters will lock, the table can roll or stand securely, as desired.

The Department of Agriculture's step-saving kitchen includes a "planning disk" which actually is drop-leap table on casters so may double for extra space when needed. When the leaves are raised, it is a 48-inch rolling table, useful for food preservation, setting up salads or desserts when serving a group, a tea cart or meal table for two.

A rolling table in the laundry often is more convenient than a wall counter because it can be located wherever needed—besides the washer for sorting clothes, near the tubs for sprinkling clothes, and besides the ironing board to hold clothes before and after ironing. The clothes basket also needs to be on wheels or casters so that it can roll to and from the clothes lines.

Much housecleaning time and effort are saved if supplies are assembled conveniently on a cart and then rolled from room to room. Cleaning carts used in hotels might offer suggestions to the home carpenter.

PEPPER PROSPECTS

The high price of pepper has stepped up interest in the production of that leading spice here in the Western Hemisphere. Most of the pepper used in the United States in normal times comes from the Far East. Short production there has caused the price to growers to rise from 10 cents a pound in 1946 to more than $2.60 a pound in 1950.

Some experimental work in pepper growing has been done in Ecuador and Nicaragua, through cooperation of Department of Agriculture scientists. Pepper is the world's most important spice. It accounts for more than a quarter of the total tonnage of all spices imported by the United States. Yet the U. S. is getting less than half its normal supply. The shortage is the result of destruction of the plantations in Indonesia in WW II. Before the war Indonesia was one of the greatest pepper-growing countries in the world. India

Familiar as pepper in on the kitchen shelf and dinner table, many people know little about where and how it grows or even the difference between black and white pepper. Black pepper is the dried fruit of the tropical pepper vine. The berries are picked while still green and dried in the sun. White pepper is the seed of the berries left to ripen on the vine. To produce it, the ripe berries are fermented, then washed to remove skin and pulp, and finally spread on mats to sun-dry. Pepper vines often are trained to grow on such tropical trees as kapok which give them support as well as shade.

Insecticides Are Dangerous

The battle with bugs is now underway. As the fight becomes more intense, there often develops a tendency among the human fighters to become careless. Any relaxation of proper handling and methods of application of many of the commonly used insecticides can result in injury or even death, say the Extension entomologists of Texas A. & M. College, to the careless handler.

They point out that insecticides kept in the house should be stored only in a closed metal container. When insecticides that are classed as dangerous are being mixed or applied, the handler is urged to wear a respirator and avoid dust drift or spray mist. The clothing worn when dangerous materials are being handled should be removed and washed before being worn again.

Consult A Doctor

They advise anyone to consult a doctor immediately if any degree of illness is noted during or after applying one of the dangerous type insecticides. All fruits and vegetables that have been treated with insect poisons should be washed thoroughly before they are eaten. Applications of organic insecticides such as DDT should not be made within two weeks of harvest.

Materials that are highly flammable should not be stored in places where there is a fire hazard. When sprays are used in the house or barn, the specialists caution against getting any of the material in dishes, utensils and drinking or feeding troughs. Insecticides stored in barns or other farm buildings should always be clearly labeled poison.

The specialists suggest that you check with your local county extension agent regarding the toxicity of any particular insecticide.

Tech Announces Grid Schedule

LUBBOCK.—Two "bowl" champions are on the ten-game schedule Texas Tech's Red Raiders face this fall.

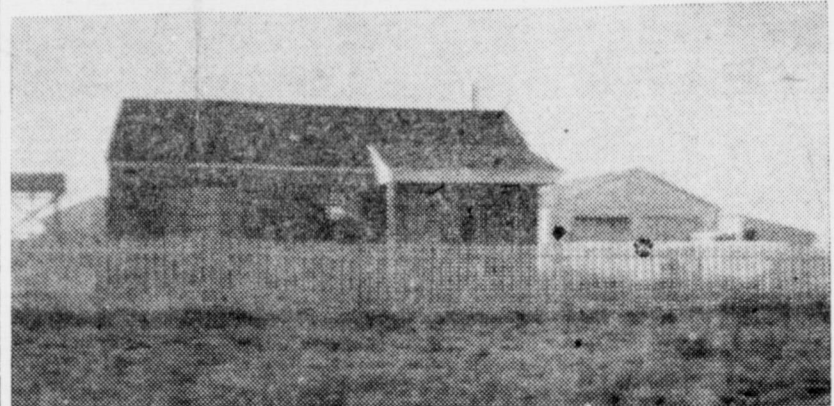

Texas A&M, winner of the Presidential Cup game, and West Texas State, Sun Bowl titlist, head the card. The Red Raiders engage three Southwest Conference schools, four fellow Border Conference members, two Missouri Valley teams, and a Sky-line Seven entrant.

To prepare the Red Raiders for this slate, Tech has hired practically an entirely new coaching staff.

Alsip Tells Of TVA Development

Joe Bill Alsip, commercial representative of a Chattanooga, Tenn., broadcasting station, addressed a group of his old friends at the meeting Tuesday of the Rotary Club of Muleshoe. He was introduced by J. M. Forbes, who had charge of the program, as "another Muleshoe home town boy who has made good." The club has heard several other Muleshoe boys in recent months.

Mr. Alsip described his city, which has a population of about 257,000. He told of the development of industry at Chattanooga, since the advent of the Tennessee Valley Authority. A tremendous amount of electricity is produced by the TVA, making cheap power available throughout the valley to industry and for domestic use.

Industry, he said, is moving southwestward and he believed that since Muleshoe and vicinity have many natural advantages, we ought to make an effort to get industry located here. "The more industry you have the stronger will be the economy of your town and territory," Alsip said.

He extended an invitation for all his listeners to visit him in Chattanooga, in fact dared them not to do so should they be in the vicinity. He described at length the various opportunities for wonderful fishing in the vicinity of Chattanooga in lakes created by dams of the TVA.

Mr. Alsip, who is visiting here with his family, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Alsip, pioneer Muleshoe people.

GRAYS VISITED FAMED KNOTT'S BERRY FARM
Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gray of Muleshoe recently visited Knott's Berry Farm and Ghost Town in Buena Park, California. There, like the forty-niners, Mr. and Mrs. Gray tried their luck

PRIMITIVE BAPTISTS BELIEVE
THAT all who mourn because of sin, or who ever have a divine inclination, are the children of God, and cannot go to an everlasting hell, because Jesus Christ bought them and paid for them with His own blood.
THAT the preaching of the Gospel is to prove that glorious fact, so that the individual may choose between living to the glory and honor of God or a vain life of unhappiness and dishonor.
THAT the church is the most exclusive order on Earth, and that no disorderly conduct should be allowed to walk in her ranks.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles. We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving. So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true. We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be. We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics. We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides — at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale. But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS. One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price. We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty. We might claim — you'll find more room — more comfort — more luxury — a smoother ride — more conveniences — more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field. But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own. And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe. Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Meat Markets Of Nation Have Until June 18, Post Official Prices

The nation's more than 300,000 meat markets will have until June 18 to post official OPS retail beef ceiling price lists, the Lubbock district Office of Price Stabilization announced this week. This county is in the Lubbock district.

Because of delays in printing the official lists, the agency extended the posting requirement for two weeks from June 4. Retail ceiling prices above which retailers cannot charge for beef went into effect May 14 and posting of the official ceilings had been scheduled to begin within 20 days.

Although the retail beef posting time is being extended until June 18, retailers have been required since May 14 to display their individual prices for cuts of beef grades. These prices must not be more than the ceiling price. When the official lists are available, housewives will have a readily available check that these prices are not in excess of official OPS ceilings.

The 8 by 17-inch posters in black ink on white paper are now being prepared by the government printing office. There will be 54 different charts — one for each of the three groups of retailers in the 18 retail zones which the nation is divided.

Posters Available Soon

The posters, which carry the title, "Retail Ceiling Prices for Beef," are expected to be available in the Lubbock OPS District Office well in advance of the June 18 deadline. That date has been selected to make sure that an adequate supply will be available in all district offices.

As soon as copies are received by district offices they will start mailing them to retailers who have filed OPS Public Form No. 5. Additional copies of the lists may be obtained from district offices.

OPS Form 5 is the one on which a retailer notifies the OPS of the group into which his store falls — Group 1, 2, 3, or 4. Since most retailers of meat also handle groceries, most of them filed OPS Form 5 when the grocery ceiling price regulations, CPR 15 and CPR 16, were issued and have their classifications.

Retailers may display the price lists as soon as they get their copies from the district office. They may use either the official list which will be furnished free or one that is an exact copy of the official OPS list if the printing is legible and at least as large.

The price list must be placed at or near where the meat is sold and where customers can readily see and read it. At least one list must be posted for each 20 feet of meat counter space.

Filing Deadline June 16
Price officials also called attention of those firms who sell consumer services that their deadline for filing ceiling prices is June 16. The sellers of such services are required by ceiling price regulation 34 to post their ceiling prices in their place of business and mail a duplicate copy to the Office of Price Stabilization, Broadway Building, 1202 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

This list must also carry an adequate description of each service performed. Among the firms and services included in the regulation which has been in effect more than two weeks, are: Bar-

Insect Control Saved Farmers $10 Million

The economic value of effective control of insect and parasite pests which prey upon Texas crops and stock was emphatically shown in 1950. Entomologists of the A. & M. College Extension Service estimate conservatively that systematic control work during the year saved Texas farmers and ranchmen $10,000,000.

The major portion of the year's entomological work was with cotton insects but with adequate attention being given to problems relating to animal parasites, fruit, vegetable and field crop insects, and grasshopper control. Of the 273 training meetings conducted 200 were in the field along with the instructions on how to make infestation counts and records. Dusting and spraying equipment also was demonstrated at these gatherings.

Unfavorable Conditions

The 1950 cotton crop was produced under most unfavorable conditions emphasized by the second highest initial boll weevil population in the State's record. The Extension entomologists' concentration upon salvaging the crop from invading insects was responsible for 76 per cent, or 5,285,005 of the 6,912,000 acres harvested, being treated for control. Only 40 per cent of the 1949 acreage was treated.

A leading factor in the high percentage of treatment was a leafworm infestation for the first time in several years. The 145,610 growers who followed insect control recommendations used more insecticides, both in dust and liquid concentrate forms, than in any preceding year.

Supplementing work in the field, a weekly insect infestation report was mailed to all cotton producing counties as well as daily and weekly newspapers, and radio farm directors.

TES To Aid Farm Labor

James Preston of the Texas Employment Service in Littlefield was in town last week and left a few suggestions to farmers concerning farm hands and labor.

At the present time, he stated there were several tractor and other farm machinery operators available, and that most of them were single and were not married.

He asked that farmers estimate the number of hoe hands they would need and let them know so they would be available when needed. He asked that when farmers needed hands to contact them at the Employment office in Littlefield.

Several booklets that will be of help to custom combine operators are available at their office. They give the acreage of wheat in all the counties and approximately the time harvest will start. The booklets also have the regulations governing the travel of combines over the state highways.

CREEP FEEDING BEEF CALVES

COLLEGE STATION—By creep feeding their beef calves, livestock men can add as much as 100 pounds of weight per head by weaning time, according to U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A. & M. College.

AA "creep"—an enclosure with openings large enough for calves to enter but too small for older cattle—is inexpensive and easy to build. This arrangement gives calves access to additional feed.

Specifications for building a practical creep feeder and suggestions for locating it are given in a new Extension Service circular, Circular 289 also gives suggested rations for feeding suckling calves and directions for starting the calves on feed.

Thompson points out that an important advantage of creep feeding is the better condition of the cows at weaning time. They are not suckled down so much when the calves receive additional feed.

In addition to being heavier and having more finish, creep-fed calves grow out more uniformly in size and condition. There is little shrinkage at weaning time.

Creep-fed calves usually sell for a higher price per pound than calves that are not creep-fed.

Thompson recommends that livestock men consult their county agent about creep feeding calves this spring and to also pick up a copy of Extension Circular 289, "Creep Feeding Beef Calves."

Robbie, our parking station manager, put this on the board the other day. The reason a dollar won't do as much for people as it once did is that people won't do as much for a dollar as they once did."

June Is Dairy Month

COLLEGE STATION.—June is "Dairy Month." The observation is nationwide and is sponsored by every segment of the dairy industry.

The idea is to promote the consumption of dairy foods through a broad educational program. The sponsors point out that ice cream, milk, butter and cheese are health musts.

Health authorities recommend a quart of milk every day for a child and nearly as much is needed by grownups.

Texas dairy producers are taking an active part in the program. Approximately four billion pounds of milk, valued at $200,000,000, was produced in Texas during 1950, according to R. E. Burlison, dairy specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Although Texas ranks low among the states in production per cow, Burlison points out that programs aimed at increasing production are being promoted by county agents, dairy associations, Texas A. & M. College and the farm youth organizations. In 1950 Texas moved from 46th to 45th in pounds of milk produced per cow.

The American Dairy Association is one of the producers' organizations which are participating actively in the Dairy Month program. The ADA, made up of dairy farmers in 40 states representing 90 per cent of the nation's milk supply, was organized to promote consumption of dairy products and good dairy public relations in general.

Scrap From Farms Will Help In Production of Defense Equipment

WANTED: All the iron and steel scrap that is lying dormant on farms, such as obsolete, broken and worn out equipment and other accumulated material. It is urgently needed to maintain and increase the output of steel plants and foundries. More scrap means more steel!

If steel mills and foundries are to achieve any increase in production over the present high level, all available farm scrap must be started moving off the farms, says the Committee on Iron and Steel Scrap, of American Iron and Steel Institute.

Farmers everywhere can help toward more steel by scrapping their obsolete equipment and selling it promptly to a local scrap dealer, with other iron and steel scrap from their farms. It will be used to make steel for defense equipment and essential civilian items.

The need is urgent. Steel plants and foundries are now using record quantities of scrap. Every day in 1951 about 98,000 tons of purchased scrap are being used. Never before have such large quantities been required. Even so the need will increase, for steel capacity is scheduled to rise sharply over the next year or two.

Farms have always been a good source of scrap and during the war when drives were conducted, agricultural areas yielded large tonnages of scrap to help win the conflict.

Farmers are asked to take their scrap now to town and sell it to scrap dealers. If the scrap is unusually bulky, preventing its easy transportation by the farmer, the scrap dealer can be called or arrangements can be made through the local farm agent to get it to the dealer.

Farms are one of the principal sources of the scrap that is required by steel companies and foundries. Auto wrecking yards, factories and railroads are among the other major sources.

More scrap from farms means more steel!

Parathion Is Available Now

Recently a new insecticide highly poisonous not only for insects but also for man and animals has become available commercially said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It is known under the trade name of "Parathion" and has proven quite effective for certain agricultural uses.

Because of its extremely high toxicity it would be desirable if its use could be restricted to a few individuals who could make a business of applying it and educate and equip themselves so as to insure the maximum of safety. In Texas and a number of other states, however, there are no laws making such restricted use possible. Therefore, a brief statement of warning is being offered.

"Parathion in the pure state is a brownish liquid with a high boiling point and a peculiar odor. It mixes but slightly with water, but is completely soluble in alcohol, acetone and certain other similar solvents. Under factory conditions it is usually mixed with a powder such as talc or bentonite as a carrier and appears on the market as a powder which has absorbed the parathion.

"Its toxic effect may result from breathing the dust, as a result of swallowing contaminated substances, or by absorption through the skin. The latter may be indirect absorption such as from contaminated clothing. Safe use is dependent on the use of precautionary measures so as to prevent contact. The user should seriously study and observe these precautions. The user should also be alert for symptoms of poisoning so that a physician may be in attendance without delay should be needed. Atropine, a potent medicine, has been mentioned as an antidote. It should be borne in mind that this is another poison about as dangerous, if improperly used, as is parathion. It should only be used under competent medical direction.

Texas July Draft Quota Is Only 367 Men; Smallest Since Korea War

AUSTIN, May 31.—A July draft quota of 367 men for Texas was received today from national headquarters, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, announced.

This is the state's share of a national quota of 15,000, announced.

Local board quotas for the July call are presently unavailable at state headquarters. Quotas will be sent to local boards sometime after June 15, according to present plans at state draft headquarters.

The July call brings the Texas total of men called for since the beginning of the United Nations fight in Korea to 27,207. During the same period, the entire nation has been called upon to furnish 565,000 men.

At the same time he made this announcement, the state Selective Service director passed on some advice to college students.

Students who plan to request deferment to continue their studies should notify their local boards immediately after the close of their current academic year.

"To get deferment consideration from local boards," General Wakefield said, "student registrants have to request it. Taking the college qualification test or ranking high in their classes won't assure consideration for deferment unless they ask for it in writing."

The Selective Service college qualification test is an examination to demonstrate high educational aptitude. It is estimated that 400,000 college students have registered for these tests. An estimated 175,000 already have taken it.

Failure to furnish information showing intention to request deferment in some cases, may result in a student's being inducted into service at the end of the 30-day postponement period commencing at the end of the current academic year, the state director said.

General Wakefield said responsibility rests upon a draft registrant to supply his local board with any information affecting his draft status.

PLAINS BAPTIST ASSEMBLY

A new "city" for the South Plains has emerged in Blanco Canyon 5 miles south of Floydada during the past three years. The newly created village is not the usual type of boom town, but rather one which has a population which changes from about 1,500 persons in the summer to only 4 permanent residents in the winter months.

The official name of this unique city of the area is the Plains Baptist Assembly. It is a camp which is being built by a cooperative program of some 170 Baptist churches in 20 counties of West Texas. Permanent improvements include 542 cabins, a large tabernacle, a dining hall, and according to camp officials, one of the finest outdoor swimming pools in West Texas.

The phenomenal thing about the camp is that construction of additional facilities continues at a rapid pace each year. Camp manager E. D. Morgan points out that there are nine cabins under construction at the present time. The name "cabin" is a misnomer in so far as the buildings which are owned by some of the churches is concerned.

modern facilities. Typical of most of the other church owned buildings, the labor is being furnished by volunteer workers. In addition to the large room which is to be used for sleeping quarters, the building will have a snack bar, a study for the pastor or counselor, and a large indoor fireplace.

TEXAS FISH STORY

The greatness of Texas and the independent thinking that prevails in the Southwest is the point of many a good story. John Randolph of Houston, with his Texas Brags, has focused attention on the peculiar qualities of a Texan that makes him think in terms of size with anything Texan always in the title role.

A Rotary speaker from the Philippines recently told a fish story. He said he arrived in Texas shortly after having caught a seven-foot fish off Acapulco. He told his Dallas audience that he had hesitated to mention this to some of the first Texans he had met at Corpus Christi, having heard that in the Lone Star State any visitor's story was always topped.

Finally, he said, he just had to mention it and said to his new friend: "I guess a seven-foot fish wouldn't seem large to you. What is the largest fish you ever caught?"

"Well," said the Texan, slowly. "I'd say fifteen inches is about the biggest."

The Philippine visitor said he was astounded. "You mean that you never caught a fish longer

STRAWBERRIES WITH SUGAR

COLLEGE STATION — Freeze some of those luscious red strawberries. You can freeze some of them whole, others sliced, some crushed, pureed, or made into sparkling juice.

Maeona Cox, feeds and nutrition specialist for the Texas Extension Service, recommends packing them in sugar for best results.

Start with the firm, red-ripe strawberries, sort and wash a few at a time, so you can work with them gently. Drain in a colander and then hull for this saves the juice.

Then, Miss Cox says slice the berries, sprinkle with sugar, using 3-4 cup to 4 cups of sliced berries. To draw the juice, turn the fruit over and over using a big spoon.

Pack the berries in moisture vapor proof containers, allowing room to expand in freezing, a half inch headspace between the food and lid in pint containers. Cover with juice.

Label to show the date and that the berries are sugared, then freeze at zero degrees Fahrenheit or lower.

The bulletin, "Frozen Foods," is available in county Extension agents' offices.

than fifteen inches?" he asked.

"Well, not exactly that," replied the Texan, "down here we measure them between the eyes." —Exchange.

New Addition Opened At Sudan

Development of Sudan's exclusive Boesen Addition is expected to be realized within the next several months as lots went on the market there last week according to an announcement by John Dean, Sudan real estate dealer.

Dean said that 54 lots, each 50x140 feet would be sold in the restricted addition which is completely surrounded by paving. The two new streets bisecting the new addition have been named Slate and Dean avenues and are scheduled for paving as development of the project progresses.

Restrictions prohibit any commercial enterprises from being constructed in the addition together with a provision that no livestock would be permitted and that a minimum size home of 1,000 square feet could be built.

Dean said that lots were being placed on the market for purchase by prospective home builders who were ready to start construction in the immediate future and were not available to those wishing to buy them for speculation purposes.

The landscaping of the project is ideal and the location chosen by the late Pete Boesen, Sudan pioneer, for the construction of

Babson Discusses

SECURE INVESTMENTS

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 1. No one knows whether we will have another World War within the next few years or not. Russia will not start one this summer. Her crops must be gathered and the rivers frozen over first. The Chinese Communists waited until the Korean rivers froze so that her troops would not be dependent upon bridges. The same policy applies to Russia. The critical time will not be this summer but late fall and winter. If Russia does not attack this winter, it is reasonable to believe we will have some more years of cold war.

Real security cannot be obtained by military force or by moving out of larger cities. There are many cases in history where the military force itself has turned against the Government and taken over the country under a dictator of its own. Hence, in building airplanes, tanks, and other implements of warfare, we may be equipping Revolutionists in our country.

The Inflation Enemy
Another possible enemy of security is inflation, which the military—instead of preventing—are encouraging. England "won" both World War I and World War II. The same might be said of France and certain other countries. The people of these countries have turned away from economic security for temporary military security. There is no doubt in my mind but what we would "win" World War III if it should come; but I am sure we would then lose economic security.

Before World War I, England was very prosperous with her Colonial possessions and her worldwide holdings of shipping, insurance and other stocks. Today England is broke. Her people have no economic security. If we enter into World War III, we might end up in the same way. Your money, Government Bonds and other investments might be worth only 30 cents on the dollar as our country would be burdened with a terrific debt.

Therefore, use your influence for World Peace.

Fundamental Security
War and threat of war undermines character. From a security standpoint, certain character traits, such as honesty, for instance, are fundamental for prosperous industry, commerce and investments. Hence, our churches, schools and homes try to instill character assets into our youth. Security in peacetime depends primarily upon character and the development of the very factors of life which military service tends to destroy.

We criticize today the criminal underworld which has been uncovered by the Kefauver Crime Committee. We deplore the exposures which Fulbright's Committee has shown up in connection with the RFC and other Government agencies. We hear that Washington is honeycombed with graft and inefficiency. We wonder what the reason may be. If we will turn back the pages of history, we will find that the same conditions followed the Mexican, Civil, Spanish-American and World War I. The wretched conditions today are due to the breaking down of character, caused by World War II.

What To Invest In
For security, locate where you are not liable to be bombed. Buy a place in some small agricultural community 10 mi. from a vulnerable city. Use this as a summer place and as a protection. Build up bank deposits in medium-sized, safe cities for reinvestment during the next panic. The nation's banking situation as a whole is excellent and you can safely buy stock in your local bank if it is safe from bombing. Good common stocks of companies safe from bombing should be good investments for the long pull, although they will fluctuate with general business conditions. In the case of corporate bonds or preferred stocks, you should buy only "convertibles."

The most important need for security is to invest in good health and character—together with a family of well-educated and spiritually-minded children. See that your children are taught not only industry, honesty and law-abidance, but also a sound religious faith which will stand by them when trouble comes. Furthermore, train them for some specific line of work, such as the medical, engineering and business professions, or the essential trades. In other words, invest in education.

WAYLAND'S BOLD STEP

It isn't too much to say that Wayland Baptist college at Plainview wrote a new chapter in the history of human relations Thursday afternoon. By unanimous consent, the doors of the small, but old-established school, were opened to a Negro. The action was taken without any of the fanfare and controversy which has attended applications of Negroes into state-operated schools, in Texas and elsewhere.

The simple announcement of the action by Dr. J. W. Marshall is not only explanatory but significant: "The board as a whole felt it was the Christian and democratic thing to do."

After three hours of discussion, mostly pertaining to the qualifications of the applicant, Mrs. Annie Taylor, the Wayland board voted unanimously to admit her to classes. Prior to this official action an even more revealing vote had been taken on the campus; this one a poll of students on the question: "Would you like to see Negroes admitted to Wayland College?"

The vote on the question was 265 in favor of admission; 9 against.

While the same measure of unanimity among the general public is not anticipated, the reaction to Wayland's step is so favorable as to bring possible similar action among other sectarian schools in the South. The Baptist denomination, it should be remembered, has made its greatest growth in the South.

The unanimity in a school steeped in the Southern tradition might point to another possible fact: that opposition to admission of Negroes in state schools was more vocal and vociferous than popular. The action by Wayland could be the move which will bring to a sudden end a controversy which never had a strong basis in Christian and truly democratic circles.—Amarillo News.

Sand Hills Philosopher is Off Again On Pet Topic; International Bankin System

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses banking again this week, a subject as foreign to him as hard work.

Dear editor:
For a long time now I've been admiring the international system of bankin and have repeatedly wondered why we can't have some like it here in Bailey County.

This mornin I picked up a copy of a newspaper which my dog brought in from my neighbor's house. I been trainin that dog for four years to retrieve papers and while he's brought in every thing from tin cans to plow points, this was the first time he turned up with a newspaper, and I took it out to the shady side of the barn and read the latest thing on the international bankin system.

Accordin to this article, Russia owes the United States two and a half billion dollars and has since the last war when we was allies. Four years ago the U. S. started negotiations, suggestin Russia pay up. Well, the thing has now dragged along them four years and we ain't no nearer a settlement now than we was when we started. Wantin to do the right thing, we cut the price from two and a half billion to one and a third billion, no use bein hard-hearted. Russia didn't budge. So then we went into a diplomatic huddle and cut it to one billion, droppin the third, and then, figurin maybe the word billion was indiplomatic we cut it to 800 million. But Russia just sits tight, sayin 240 million is all she'll pay, says the stuff she bought with that money is now depreciated almost down to nothing in anyway, and the two countries is still arguin about it.

Now what I want to know is why some bank around here don't rise up to the international level? Say I borrow $100. on account of me and the bank is allies in the fight against weeds and I need money desperately to hire hands. Then this fall when the note comes due, the bank would start international negotiations with me, and after four years of this would cut the loan down to $50, then down to $30, and make a final offer of $15, while all the time I was holdin out for payin only $2.50, pointin out the weeds the original $100 was used to get rid of, has long since come back and is now ranker than ever and no right-thinkin man would expect me to pay in full. Come out and look at the weeds, if you don't believe it.

I tell you, the international system would be the salvation of a lot of people. It may be hard on the lender, but it sure is fine for the borrower.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

TODAY'S meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

CALLED TO WITNESS
" . . . a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." (Isaiah 32:2.) Read Isaiah 35:3-10.

He sat on his porch. The village children played about his feet. Young people shared with him their joys. Mothers in distress came to seek his counsel. Men came to him for a renewal of faith and courage. "Who is this man?" a visitor asked an inhabitant. The reply was, "Oh, he is our anchor."

Through every community sweep the winds of doubt and of discord and the tempests of sin and sorrow. Their power and terror can be abated, however, if laymen live close to God. These Christian laymen become hiding places from the wind and coverts from the tempest. Everywhere people are to be found whose souls are famished and need to be revived and refreshed. To such people the layman can be as a river of water in a dry place. The heat of temptation is threatening the spiritual life of people all about us. To them God would like for His children to be as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.

PRAYER
Our Father, help us laymen to live close to Thee. May we be to others "as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest; as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land." In His name. Amen.

Airplanes play an important part in cotton insect control. LET'S GO SWIMMING!

This pretty blonde aquamaid makes a trim picture in her short-sleeved suit of birdseye pique by Rose Marie Reid. She'll look just as crisp after her dip, for the cotton pique is "plasticrip" to keep its fresh look after many swims, the National Cotton Council says.

Loans For Vets Ends June 30

World War II veterans planning to apply for direct home and farm loans from the Veterans Administration are reminded by the VA that the Direct Loan Program ends by law on June 30, 1951.
 VA states it would scarcely be possible in most instances to process applications before the June 30 dead-line that are received by the VA Regional Offices after June 15.
 The Housing Act of 1950 authorized to make direct loans up to $10,000 at four per cent interest to World War II veterans with which to buy or build a home, or to build or improve a farmhouse. The Act stipulated that VAA was to make these direct loans in those areas of the country where the regular GI loans were not available from private lenders. The Law further required VA to designate the areas as eligible for direct loans.

 Since the program got under way last summer, more than 2,600 counties or parts of counties in the United States have been designated as eligible for direct loans. An estimated 5,000,000 World War II veterans live in these designated areas.
 As of May 10, about $90,000,000 of the $150,000,000 authorized for the program had been disbursed or reserved under pending applications for direct loans to veterans.
 While the Direct Government Loan Program ends June 30, 1951, the regular GI Loan Program does not expire until July 25, 1951. Both programs are subject to the same minimum down payments imposed by the credit controls announced October 12, 1950.
