Local care home introduces new concept

by Mary Kaigler

Ann Decker, administrator, says the residents of the Rice Springs Care Home of Haskell will soon be experiencing an "Eden Alternative" to their regular, routine, sometimes boring daily life.

The idea behind the 'Alternative' is a new vision for nursing home care that will creatively try to bring back some feeling of purpose and renewed interest into the lives of the residents. Realizing that the majority of the suffering they experience does come not from physical factors, but from feelings of loneliness, helplessness and boredom, the creators of the Eden program, Drs. Bill and Judy Thomas of Sherburne, New York, developed the components to help long-term care employees assist in a better quality of life for those in their care.

"Edenizing" can come from things such as opportunity for attachment to a pet they get to choose a name for, having green plants to tend, after school interaction with students, or a day care center. Decker tells of the difference having a pet bird has made in the life of one resident, who recently told her, "I don't know what I did before I got Baby."

Believing that the innovative concept will add a new dimension to the lives of the residents, Decker says it will give much of the decision making about the care of the individual to the nurses and assistant nurses who know them first hand. This exciting new concept brings a sense of spirit and purpose within the entire staff that she says will make Haskell a perfect place for people in a care home. At this time, the nearest care homes implementing the Eden Alternative are in Weatherford and north of Amarillo.

Mary Walling, RN and Christyne Green, LVN, are certified trainers of the Eden Alternative. The program will be introduced in stages during the coming months.

Burn ban imposed by County Commissioners

At the Oct. 13 meeting of the Haskell County Commissioners Court, Commissioner Kenny Thompson reported that the unpaid taxes at the Anchor now total $2,976.00. Originally $300.00 to $400.00 per year, since 1994, they have added penalties, interest and lawyer fees. The court tabled the problem until all solutions are analyzed.

The County is considering holding Haskell County prisoners, and possibly those from other counties (in excess of 45 days), on a per diem rate from the state.

W. E. Wooten was awarded the bid for a county pecan shaker.

Commissioner's motions that were approved the meeting were:

1. Ronnie Chapman's motion to set salaries.

2. Bill Hester's motion to make each commissioner a road overseer at $100.00 per month.

3. Kenny Thompson's motion to pay part-time employees from $5.15 to $6.00 per hour, depending on experience.

4. Bud Turnbow's motion to appoint himself and Bill Hester as grounds overseers.

The meeting times of the Court will be 2nd. Mon. and 4th. Tues. at 10:00 a.m.

Juror pay was set at $6.00 for selection, $10.00 for serving, and $15.00 for grand jury.

It was decided by the Court that: Commissioner Kenny Thompson will act as judge pro tem; holidays are set and will be posted at the Courthouse; Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts will be doing landscaping at the County Library, and a water well was authorized to be dug for the library grounds.

In the matter of the 911 repeater needed, it was decided to take bids for a 100 watt repeater system. Discussion of several options in the location and tower height ended with this being tabled, pending further investigation.

A burn ban was passed with the exception of approved control burns coordinated with the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation office.

The resolution for expansion of Hwy. 277 from Haskell to Wichita Falls was approved for County Judge David Davis to sign.

ECC needs volunteers

The Experienced Citizen Center at 1404 S. 1st. St. is a great place for Haskell County residents 60 years or older to go for fellowship and nutritious noon meals on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. Announcements begin at 11:45 a.m., followed by lunch. A contribution of $2.00 per meal is suggested.

The Center is also a great place for Haskell County resident of any age to volunteer to help carry home-delivered lunches to the home-bound.

The Center can also use help with contributions (tax-deductable) to help defray the costs of operation.

Information about assisting the Center may be obtained by calling 940-864-3875.

Haskell wins over Olney 21-10

Going scoreless until 47 seconds before half-time Fri., Turner Frierson's touchdown after a 47 yard pass reception from John Abila and the point-after kick by Chris McSmith, overcame a 10-point deficit and sent the Haskell Indians to intermission only three points down in their game with Olney.

Another scoring two-yard run by Frierson with only 1:25 left in the third quarter gave Haskell the lead, which they maintained to the game's end.

A 4-yard scoring run by Jason Hobgood in the fourth period wrapped up the Indians' 21 to zero shut-out win over Olney.

Other Indian statistics for the night were: 15 first downs, 50 rushes for 218 yards, 142 passing yards, 8 completions, 13 attempts, zero interceptions, two punts for 33 yards, four fumbles lost, and 11 penalties for a total of 105 yards.

Haskell now holds a 4-2 season record. They will meet Electra in the second game of District 9-2A play here Fri. Oct. 17.

Pirates conquer Eagles 48-0

Running over the Dallas Academy Eagles Sat. night, the Paint Creek Pirates won by a score of 48-0.

With control of the game from the first play, the Pirates had a total of 384 on offense. Hegan Lamb had 100 yards passing for the night, completing six of nine passes, all to Jodie Reel.

Leading the offense on the ground with 85 yards on 10 carries, Johnny Martinez also had three touchdowns.

Jason Shackelford had 12 carries for 79 yards and two touchdowns.

Reel carried twice for 56 yards, and Wesley Lefevre carried twice for 54 yards and one touchdown.

Holding the Eagles scoreless, the Pirate defense was led by Martinez with six tackles. Shackelford, Reel, and Blayne Davis each had five tackles. Reel and Davis each had one interception.

Feeling that they have the momentum on their side, the Pirates will meet Moran, there, Fri. to start District play.

City Council approves zoning recommendation

During the regular meeting Oct. 13., the Haskell City Council passed the recommendation of the Zoning Board to re-zone the property at 300 N. 14th, belonging to Billie Sue Ray, from residence to special zoning for a mobile home.

A proclamation was signed by Mayor Ken Lane, to be presented to the West Texas Girl Scout Council in recognition of 50-years of serving girls. It will be accepted by the Girl Scouts at the school flagpole on Tues. morning.

Adella Villa Garcia was appointed to the Housing Authority Board.

No action was taken on the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority or the proposed work at the City Park fountain.

TEACHERS AT WORKSHOP—From the left, TAAS consultant Kelly Fox of Marble Falls, displays teacher training materials with the help of Kim Chambers, 5th. and 6th. grade teacher at Benjamin, Amy Kaase, 4th. grade teacher at Paint Creek, and Paula Everett, 4th. grade teacher at Haskell.

TAAS training held for local teachers

Twenty-five teachers from Paint Creek, Haskell and Benjamin participated in a TAAS workshop Fri. at the Haskell National Bank Community Room.

Hosted by Paint Creek ISD, and sponsored by Region IX Education Service Center, the workshop provided training by Kelly Fox of Marble Falls. Mrs. Fox, a consultant with Cheryl Cox and Associates, presented information on various hands-on strategies for reading and math instruction.

Information was provided on ways to interpret TAAS data to improve student learning.

The TAAS is the test given to all students in the state of Texas in grades three through eight. Tenth grade is also tested and high school students are required to pass these tests in order to graduate from high school.

Teachers reported the workshop a success, and that they went away with new strategies and ideas.

Jane Smith named FCE Club Woman of the Year

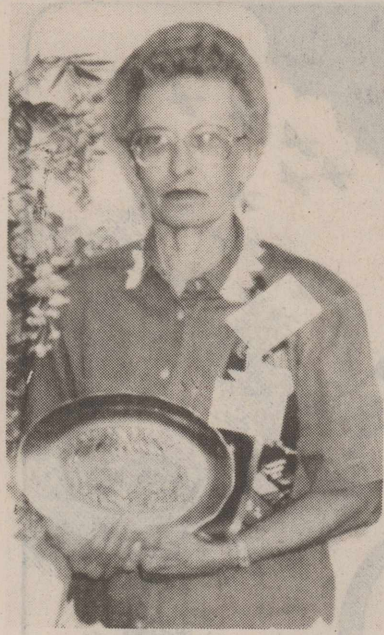

It has been said that the five most important words in any organization are: "You did a good job!" The 1997 FCE Club Woman of the Year is a "doer"—whether it has been in the role of a wife, mother, grandmother, employee, seamstress, Boy Scout or Girl Scout leader, church committee member, Sunday School teacher, FCE club officer and leader, 4-H volunteer leader, or fashion show or fair judge. She is always willing to be involved in any way she can with her family and in her church, community, county and club.

Jane Smith has been very active in Family and Community Education (FCE) Club work for twelve years. During this time, she has worn many "hats". She has served as her club's president and reporter as well as serving on serving on various club committees. On the County FCE Council she has served as County Council Chairman, Reporter, and Education and Recreation Committee Chairman. She is beginning a two year term as the County TAFCE Vice-Chairman.

She has the attitude: "Not what the organization can do for me, but what I can do for the organization". She has shown this by participating in many projects such as delivering meals for the ECC, helping with the annual FCE concession stand at the Haskell County Junior Livestock Show, and working to carry out various fund raising and other activities. She is also faithful to attend club, district, and state meetings, leader training meetings, Tri-County Rally Day, and monthly County Council meetings.

Jane was a charter member of the Young Homemakers and was an active HHS Band Booster from 1967-1987, serving as president in 1986. She worked as a Boy Scout Den Leader from 1961-68 and as a Girl Scout Leader from 1975-78.

She is a long time member of the Methodist Church where she has served on the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee and the Administrative Board. She taught a children's Sunday School class for fifteen years.

JANE SMITH

Jane and her husband of 45 years, John Smith, have four children and six grandchildren. Their children are Jack Allen Smith, Danny Ray Smith, Darrell Gene Smith, and Melinda Jane Williams. Their grandchildren are Jay, Jeff, Jennifer, Charlie, Taylor, and Ashley.

Her hobbies include sewing, cooking, painting and decorating shirts, grandchildren, woodworking, and tole painting. Other interests include helping 4-H'ers learn to sew and judging fairs and fashion shows. Jane says, "I love helping people!"

The following sums up her contributions to her home, church, community, county and club:

- Do all the good you can
- By all the means you can
- In all the ways you can
- In all the places you can
- At all the times you can
- To all the people you can
- As long as ever you can.

Jane was recognized at the annual Haskell County FCE Information Day held on Sept. 24 with an engraved tray.

BOBBY HOWARD - RHONDA DORNER

Dorner, Howard plan November wedding

Announcement is being made of the approaching marriage of Rhonda Gayle Dorner, daughter of Mike and Linda St. John of Haskell, and Bobby Dean Howard, son of Sherry McCommas of Albany.

The wedding is planned for Nov. 15, at the East Side Baptist Church, Haskell.

The bride-elect is a 1996 graduate of Haskell High School and is employed at the Haskell National Bank.

Howard is a 1994 graduate of Moran High School. He is employed at Strickland Bridge, Inc., in Haskell.

Liles presents Study Club program

Continuing the year's theme of "Unity in Diversity: Perfect in Any Setting", the Progressive Study Club enjoyed a program on "Federation Jewels" at their meeting Thurs. Oct. 9.

Prior to the program, club president, Kim Meredith introduced County Judge David Davis, who explained the "Funds for Fencing" project being proposed to extend fences around the ball park/rodeo grounds/Corral building/Civic Center complex. Pointing out that the project is a joint effort of various clubs and individuals, Judge Davis spoke of the over-all clean-up and enhancement the improvements will mean to the city.

Nancy Toliver introduced club member Erma Monk Liles, who is a 50 year member of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, a life member and District past president. Still active in club work, she served on the state-wide committee planning the Federations' 100th anniversary celebration in Waco in June.

A native of Weinert, Mrs. Liles taught school there for 20 years. Although she has traveled the world extensively, she said she wouldn't live anywhere else. Displaying commemorative medallions and jewelry she has collected at federation meetings and conventions through the years, she told the club that the real jewels of federation are the individual women who make a difference in their community and world.

Speaking of the accomplishments of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, particularly in the area of establishing and funding libraries, she emphasized the added strength there is when many individuals are unified in a common goal.

Among the Federation memorabilia she displayed was a large group picture taken at the General Federation of Women's Clubs National Convention at the Ritz Hotel in New York City in 1947, at which her mother, Mrs. Fred Monk was a delegate.

During a business meeting, Judy Patterson led the reading of the club's constitution. Franciene Johnson gave a report on plans for the chicken spaghetti supper to be held on Oct. 17. Treasurer Doris Reeves Jordan gave a financial report.

Twenty-one members and one guest, Kay Phillips, of San Diego were present.

Serving refreshments from a table arranged with Fall leaves, pumpkins, and candles, were hostesses Sandy Forehand, Mary Martin, Nancy Plunkett and Jill Druessedow.

Haskell Co. FCE Clubs holds Information Day

Haskell Co. Family and Community Education Clubs met Sept. 24, at the Haskell National Bank Community Room for the annual Information Day.

Registration began at 9:30. Refreshments were served as people gathered.

A Garden Party theme was carried out with potted plants, a picnic table complete with striped umbrella and a picnic scene.

The delegates to the State Conference held in Wichita Falls gave reports on seminars and workshops. Delegates were Dolores Medford, TAFCE chairman elect, Jane Smith, TAFCE vice-chairman-elect, and Lena Tidwell, county council chairperson. Joetta Burnett gave a report on the Country Store. Betty Sanders and Kathryn Schonertedt told of workshops they attended.

Year-end summary of club activities were given by Dolores Medford, Pres. Homespun Club and Alice Yates, Pres. Weinert Club.

As out-going TAFCE chairman, Joetta Burnett installed Dolores Medford as TAFCE chairman and Jane Smith as TAFCE vice-chairman for the next two years.

County Extension Agent Lou Gilly and Ophelia Newsom presented the Club Woman of the Year award to Jane Smith. Rookie of the Year was Jonita Felty.

The program was presented by Garden Club members Gladys O'Neal and Juanita Rhea. They gave helpful hints on fall planting and demonstrated arrangements.

Eighteen members and five guests attended, including Mrs. O'Neal and Mrs. Rhea, County Judge, David Davis, Commissioner Prec. #2, Ronnie Chapman and County Ag Agent Greg Kaase.

Weinert Club elects officers

The Weinert FCE Club met for the first new year's club meeting on Oct. 7 at the Extension Office Kitchen. '97-'98 officers for the Weinert FCE Club are: president, Alice Yates; vice president, Myrtle Therwhanger; secretary/reporter, Estalynn Liles; treasurer, Kathryn Schonertedt; council delegate, Faye Jetton; council delegate, Kathryn Schonertedt; and alt delegate, Myrtle Therwhanger.

President Yates presented a reading "The Clown's Prayer," and gave the noon salad luncheon prayer. The members answered "roll call" with "What I Like or Dislike About October". Estalynn Liles read the previous meeting's minutes.

Myrtle Therwhanger gave the 4-H report and issued the members material on Octoberfest '97 at the Brownwood 4-H center. Kathryn Schonertedt mentioned that the State Convention in Wichita Falls was one of the best and the Country Store was a big success. A new speaker system was purchased through Council which was used on Information Day.

Myrtle Therwhanger prepared the programs for '97-'98. Therwhanger reviewed a copy of the programs with the club members. Council will meet Oct. 15 with Weinert being hostess and also every other month.

The club committees were assigned by Yates. These committee assignments help each club member to know what their responsibilities will be for the club year. Yates passed out sheets received at the State Convention from Jane Smith on the Haskell County ISD Buddies System and FCE Sting Awareness Project.

The next meeting will be Nov. 4, a noon salad luncheon, at the Extension Office Kitchen, with hostess Betty Sanders. A craft "Show and Tell" is planned and Kathryn Schonertedt will instruct members in making cotton ball and various kinds of angels.

Attending were Lou Gilly, Cordie Cunningham, Faye Jetton, Estalynn Liles, Myrtle Therwhanger, Henrietta Rueffer, Betty Sanders, Kathryn Schonertedt, and Alice Yates.

From The Inside Out

By Mary Kaigler

But, like all of us, his creatures, even butterflies are not free to forever circle and dance and smell the roses (or even periwinkles); oblivious to their individual responsibility to do whatever is needed to sustain their livelihood.

Though free to live in this world, once they have rested and refueled, even they must continue working out and living out the reason behind their existence.

So, they touch my life mightily with a transient beauty, and an enriched affirmation of the ordered Universe, and then they move on, listening to that inner voice leading them; free to be what they were made to be.

In the little collection of daily blessings, A Grateful Heart, I found the following thought written by Elizabeth Kubler-Ross. It speaks of the wonderful gifts of universal principle and order of our created world.

"How do geese know when to fly to the sun? Who tells them the seasons? How do we, humans, know when it is time to move on? As with the migrant birds, so surely with us, there is a voice within, if only we will listen to it, that tell us so certainly when to go forth into the unknown."

Perhaps there is a lesson for us here to take another look at the beautiful order of the created world when we become impatient with life and disillusioned with our part in the whole thing.

Maybe, occasionally in our life's headlong rush to 'get there' and 'make it', we too need to take a little 'lay-over'; be still and listen. We might even though someone's life with beauty while we're at it.

Then, like a Monarch, we must trustingly move on with joy to whatever may be planned ahead for us.

For about a week we've entertained royalty at our place on Brick Street. In all their majestic finery, the Monarchs have reigned supreme.

Descending on us before we realized they were here, they have established a regal presence that can't be denied, and I have become a butterfly watcher.

Drawn to the cool, moist shade of the front side yard, thousands of the butterflies set up a lay-over during their annual Fall trek to southern climes. One scraggly, old hackberry tree seems to have a particular attraction for them, and they have turned a vintage althea bush into a literal 'butterfly bush'.

Unable to resist, I've walked around and under their chosen spot, causing them to fly up and out in such number I can sense the feel and sound of their wings fluttering. It's breathtaking.

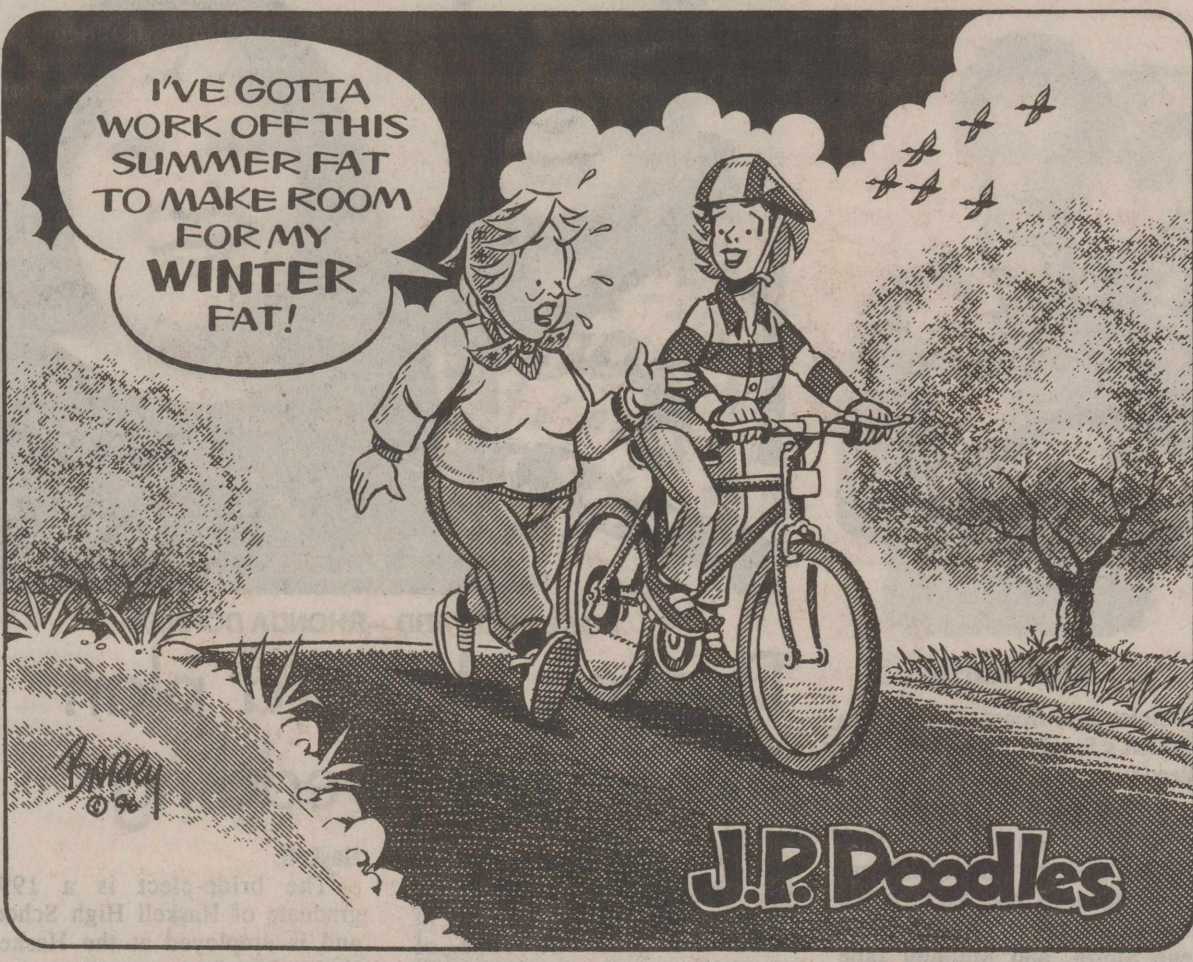

Disturbed, they lift, circle, float, dance and swoop, filling the air of the whole back yard with a big cloud; spiraling like black and orange flakes in a snow flurry. Against pecan tree green, periwinkle purple and Autumn sky blue, they are a kaleidoscope of changing colors and shapes.

From my ringside seat on the back patio, I watch this priceless, free performance of what must be one of nature's "greatest shows on earth," and I'm filled with awe for the Creative Hand which orchestrated it with such unfathomable wisdom in the first place.

Butterflies are, indeed, free to be enjoyed in all their royal splendor this week. If they had been made for no other reason than to bring this brief moment of heart-rending beauty, it was a master stroke of making by the Master.

Legal Matters

By Attorney General Dan Morales

Perhaps the most frustrating consumer complaint is one against a company is one against a company that is out of business or that has moved without leaving a forwarding address. Agencies that assist consumers may not have the resources to find these companies. As with any consumer problem, your best defense is prevention. Our mission at the Office of the Attorney General is arm you with the information you need to avoid this difficult situation.

Don't let it happen

To help protect yourself from fly-by-night businesses, observe the following rules:

- Don't give your credit card number or bank account information to a stranger who contacts you to make a sale.
- Insist that a company provide you with their business address.
- Don't allow yourself to be rushed into a purchase or agreement.

If you are interested in a deal someone offers you at your door, a trade show or fair, or over the telephone, write down the company's name and address. Later, when you have verified that the company exists, you can contact them. This way, you will at least know that you can find them where they say they are.

When a salesperson says you have to buy right now to get the deal, consider looking elsewhere. Pressure to buy now is a time-tested means of luring consumers into making quick decisions—and costly mistakes.

If the company is bankrupt

If you learn that the company has filed bankruptcy, you must file a "proof of claim" to have any chance of recovering your money. Obtain a proof of claim form from the clerk of the Federal District Court in which the business has filed for bankruptcy.

Bankruptcy cases can be very complex, so you may want to hire an attorney to help you—especially if your claim is large. The State Bar Association and many county bar associations operate lawyer referral programs.

If you can't afford a lawyer, you may be eligible for federally-funded legal assistance. Look in the phone book under "Legal Aid" or "Legal Services."

Letters to the Editor

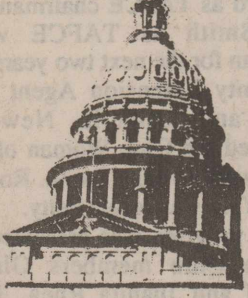

Dear Editor:
I want to say a great big thank you to the Haskell firemen who came and put out the fire on the vacant lots by my house Sunday, Oct. 5. I want to say a special thank you to whoever it was that called the fire department, and to whoever the man was that was trying to put the fire out with a broom. I also want to say a special thanks to Dr. Wayne Cadenhead and Jeremy for their help.

The people of Haskell are very fortunate to have such a quick and dedicated team of firemen.

HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams & Ed Sterling
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Wall Street Journal.

SB1 requires cities, counties, water districts and local entities to map out how they will conserve water supplies and respond to future droughts in their planning areas. The legislation also requires the regional water planning areas to submit plans to the water board for approval every five years, beginning Sept. 1, 2000.

Judge Defends Prof's Right

In an interview with the Austin American-Statesman, Judge Fortunato "Pete" Benavides of the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals said University of Texas law professor Lino Graglia has the right to speak his mind, even if his ideas are offensive to some.

Graglia's comments sparked national attention in September when he said most black and Mexican-American students can't compete with white students because those students don't look upon failure as a disgrace.

He made the comments at a news conference in support of the New Orleans-based 5th Circuit's "Hopwood" decision which barred the University of Texas School of Law from using race as a factor in student admissions.

Benavides said it is "wrong to call for (Graglia's) resignation. We all say things that are wrong."

And he defended the "freedom of professors, above all, to speak out even when they're perceived to be wrong or whatever by the community, whether they are on or not."

"To me," Benavides said, "a college campus is supposed to be for ideas that are spoken about freely and checked out to see whether they're true or not."

Other Capital Highlights

Teachers would have to be recertified every five years under a proposed state requirement. The Texas Federation of Teachers says teachers should be allowed to vote on the proposal. Currently, 97 percent of teachers in Texas are certified but at least half teach subjects outside their field of certification.

Democrats are airing television ads in East Texas asking voters to call the district office of Sen. Drew Nixon, R-Carthage, and demand his resignation. Nixon said he would not resign after a Travis County jury sentenced him to six months in jail on gun and prostitution charges.

The U.S. House voted 309-106 last week to approve an agreement allowing Maine and Vermont to ship their radioactive waste to a disposal site near Sierra in West Texas.

Child support payments by delinquent parents in Texas rose to $700 million last fiscal year, an increase of 13 percent over last year, the attorney general's office announced last week.

The attorney general's Child Support Program collected $427 million through wage withholding, $78 million through IRS refund receipts and $55 million through its license suspension program. Another $140 million was collected through direct payments, lien collections and lottery winnings interceptions.

Attorney General Dan Morales credited his staff with the increase in child support payments, and said that each year the collections program increases and improves its services to children and families despite an ever-growing case load.

He added, however, that "Texans shouldn't lose sight of the fundamental absurdity of expecting government to force parents to take care of their own children. No technological innovation, indeed no government program can ensure that children will get the support that they are due."

Since state fiscal year 1990, cases with court orders have increased by 145 percent; paying cases have increased by 233 percent; and the number of children for whom paternity was established increased by 269 percent.

Despite the improvements, however, collection overall have reached just 22 percent of the 915,064 cases being handled by the attorney general's office.

Water Zone Map Released

The Texas Water Development Board has released a draft of a map dividing the state's 4,959 square miles of inland water into 14 regional water zones.

Last week, the water board scheduled public hearings to be held around the state in October to receive comments on the draft.

Senate Bill 1, the comprehensive water bill passed during the legislative session that ended in June, requires the water board to transfer the responsibility for managing water resources to 14 regional water planning areas.

Water resource management had been shouldered by the state and a loose network of more than 7,000 river authorities, water conservation districts, utility companies and others.

Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown, R-Lake Jackson, co-author of the legislation, knows that disputes are likely.

"The nice thing about the process is that those concerns get to get aired before the lines are drawn," Brown was quoted in the

Mary Belle Turner

Turner to attend youth conference

Mary Belle Turner of Rochester has been selected to attend The National Young Leaders Conference from Oct. 21-26, in Washington, D.C. The National Young Leaders Conference is a unique leadership development program for high school students who have demonstrated leadership potential and scholastic merit. Turner will be among 350 outstanding National Scholars attending the conference from across America.

The theme of the National Young Leaders Conference is The Leaders of Tomorrow Meeting the Leaders of Today. Throughout the six-day conference, she will interact with key leaders and newsmakers from the three branches of government, the media and the diplomatic corps.

Highlights of the program include welcoming remarks from the Floor of the United States House of Representatives and a panel discussion with prominent journalists at the National Press Club. Scholars will visit foreign embassies and receive policy briefings from senior government officials. Turner may also meet with her Senators and Representatives or an appointed member of their staff to discuss important issues facing Rochester and the nation.

To complement these special meetings and briefings, she will participate in a number of leadership skill-building activities. In one activity, "If I Were President", students role-play the President, members of the Cabinet and representatives from Capitol Hill who must respond to an international crisis. The National Young Leaders Conference culminates with the "Model Congress", in which Scholars assume the roles of United States Representatives by debating, amending and voting on proposed legislation dealing with juvenile justice.

"The Conference provides the opportunity for students, like Turner to distinguish themselves as tomorrow's leaders," said Michael Lasday, Council Executive Director. "Scholars not only gain knowledge and experience in the nation's capital, they leave with a sense of accomplishment and an increases ability to face the challenges of the future."

Turner is a junior at Rochester High School where she participates in volleyball, basketball and track. She has served as an officer in the Steer Band, FHA, FFA, junior class and local 4-H Club. She was a stage-crew member of the Area qualifying One Act Play and was Regional qualifier in U.I.L. ready writing. She has received two Division I ratings in piano competition and was invited to participate in the Abilene Music Teacher's Association 1997 Spring Recital.

Turner has shown cattle through the Haskell County 4-H Club for eight years and is a past director of the Texas Junior Hereford Association. She is a recipient of the local and county showmanship awards and the West Texas Hereford Association Dorthea Griffin showmanship award. She is an active member of the Rochester First Baptist Church where she serves as a Sunday School pianist.

She and her sister, Amy, are the children of Cole and Susan Turner. Her grandparents are Joyce Turner of Rule and George and Sharon Mullino of Rochester.

Harmon Cable announces near completion of upgrade project

Harmon Cable Communications recently announced that the cable and strand portion of Haskell's extensive upgrade, which began earlier this summer, is now complete. "Construction and activation of the fiber portion of the rebuild in the southeast and northeast sections of town are complete with 80% of our customers transferred to the new system," commented Gus Cagle, Harmon Cable's General Manager. Construction crews continue to work on upgrading the electronics portion of the upgrade.

The local telecommunications company's new system includes fiber optic transmission facilities and the replacement of all its electronic amplification equipment. The company has installed standby power supplies in key locations that ensure that the cable system will continue to operate when there are localized power outages. When the project is complete, Haskell's capacity for video delivery will be increased dramatically. "This rebuild will give us the opportunity to significantly expand our channel capacity and increase reliability. Animal Planet, The Home Shopping Network, Home and Garden Television and TV Land are four new networks that will be added to Haskell's channel line-up as soon as our rebuild is complete," Cagle added.

Plans call for the project to be completed early December. "In that we will be switching from our current equipment to new equipment, cable customers can expect some brief service interruptions. We will be providing weekly updates on our community bulletin board," Cagle concluded. The Community Bulletin Board, seen on Cable Channel 7, will provide information on where crews continue to work and areas that might be expected to have service outages.

Around Town

By Joyce Hawkins

Historical Commission marks old school sites

The Haskell County Historical Commission is an unfunded group of individuals appointed by County Judge, David Davis, to discover and preserve our past people, places and things before they are lost forever. Most members of the commission are also members of the Historical and Genealogical Society.

One of their recent achievements has been to locate and identify old country schools in the Northwest section of the county, including the Jud and Rochester areas. Metal markers that have been made for each school will be soon be set as near as possible to each location. Using information from the memories of Mrs. Grace Helton and Melvin Fannin, and prior published research, Johnny Scoggins of Rochester and Jim Hollingsworth of Jud, worked to complete the project.

Cinda Flanary of Sagerton, who chairs the Commission, states that she experienced a most wonderful feeling when she became active in searching out the courageous and daring people of early Haskell county. She invites all people of the county, past and present, to share in the Commission's goal of preserving the rich history of Haskell County.

Anyone having things of historical value, such as old pictures, books, or articles that could be used in a county museum, are asked to call Flanary at 997-2595, or one of the other Commission members. Present members are Cinda and Gene Flanary of Sagerton, Waller Overton of Paint Creek, Harlan Weinert of Weinert, Wanda Ham, Kay Henry, Ernestine Herren and Sue Medford of Haskell, Marguerite Gauntt and Johnny Scoggins of Rochester, and Grace Bishop, Jim Hollingsworth, Ola Mae Lisle, Margo Troyer, Joyce Turner and June White of Rule.

Floyd and Hellen Stout of Weinert had as guests in their home, daughters Nina Hall and Hellen (Missy) Smith and husband Farrow from Las Vegas, NV. They came to celebrate their mother's birthday, Sept. 22. Missy's birthday was Sept. 19, so it was a double celebration.

Dorann Redding of Seymour spent the day Sat. visiting her

Auction to benefit Rehab

The Stamford Farmers & Ranchers Livestock Auction will host the final sale for the 1997 Cattlemen's Round-Up for Rehab to benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. The sale, set for Thurs., Oct. 30, will be a first for the new Stamford sale barn.

The Rehab Chuckwagon will be serving breakfast from 8:00 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. for donors and buyers. The auction of specialty items will begin at 10:30 a.m. with the sale of cattle starting at 12 noon. The public is invited to come out for the sale and to be a part of the bidding.

Anyone wishing to donate specialty items or cattle should call 915-773-3700 or contact any area Round-Up chairman. Volunteer Chairmen for Jones County include: John Berry, Rex Bland, Ed Ekdahl, John Ferguson, Jr., Andy Holloway, Gary Mathis, Cecil Sellers and Tommy Spraberry.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White.

Glendon and Charlene Hawkins of Irving visited her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Walters over the weekend. Glendon also visited his mom, Joyce Hawkins.

Paula Garcia had her son Renee of Ranger visit her over the weekend. On Mon., her brother, Florentino Salas of Olney came over for a visit.

David and Deniece Conn spent Sun. in Weinert visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Carroll. Also another daughter, Kerry Perryton was there visiting for the weekend.

Darlene Cummings, Neat Bevel's daughter came for her on Fri. to spend the weekend with her. Darlene is with the school system at Santo. It was Neat's first time there. She had a good time and liked Darlene's place very much. They also visited granddaughter, Windy at Stephenville. Darlene brought Neat back on Sun.

afternoon.

Bernice Hilliard attended the Halloween square at line dances in Tye on Sat. night. Calling was Leon Ivey for square and Maxine Ivey for line.

Visiting Velma Jetton the past week was her son, Doyle Keaton and his wife, Pauline, from Lakewood, Colo., her daughter, Nelda Jennette from Warner Robins, Ga., and her friend, Floyd Maxwell, from Jupiter, Fla.

Velma, says she is exhausted but it sure was nice to get out. They went shopping in Abilene Tues. On Wed., they went to Breckenridge to visit her granddaughter Shelah. Thursday, Rita cooked for the whole bunch. She had salmon they had caught in Washington State. That and one other was the only home cooked meal they had, except breakfast.

The last ones left Sunday morning. Velma says she will probably have all winter to rest now before any one else comes.

Food for thought

by Charles H. Spurgeon
"When my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the Rock that is higher than I."

—Psalm 61:2
Most of us know what it is to be overwhelmed in heart: emptied as when a man wipeth a dish and turneth it upside down; submerged and thrown on our beam ends like a vessel mastered by the storm.

Discoveries of inward corruption will do this, if the Lord permits the great deep of our depravity to become troubled and cast up mire and dirt.

Disappointments and heart-breaks will do this when billow after billow rolls over us, and we are like a broken shell hurled to and fro by the surf. Blessed by God, at such seasons we are not without an all-sufficient solace, our God is the harbour of weather-beaten sails, the hospice of forlorn pilgrims.

Higher than we are is he, his mercy higher than our sins, his love higher than our thoughts. It is pitiful to see men putting their trust in something lower than themselves; but our confidence is fixed upon an exceeding high and glorious Lord.

A rock he is since he changes not, and a high rock, because the tempests which overwhelm us roll far beneath at his feet; he is not disturbed by them, but rules them at his will.

If we get under the shelter of this lofty rock we may defy the hurricane; all is calm under the lee of that towering cliff. Alas! such is the confusion in which the troubled mind is often cast, that we need piloting to this divine shelter. Hence the prayer of the text. O Lord, our God, by thy Holy Spirit, teach us the way of faith, lead us into thy rest.

The wind blows us out to sea, the helm answers not to our puny hand; thou, thou alone canst steer us over the bar between yon sunken rocks, safe into the fair haven.

How dependent we are upon thee—we need thee to bring us to thee. To be wisely directed and steered into safety and peace is thy gift, and thine alone. This might be pleased to deal well with thy servants.

This Week's Devotional Message: FAITH REVEALS THE GOOD THINGS ABOUT OUR YOUTH

Our most unfairly maligned age group is the one consisting of older children and teenagers. Because of the spectacular, headline-making antics of a very small minority, our young people are routinely suspected of everything from noisy, insolent behavior and drug addiction to school vandalism and a willingness to knock an elderly woman to the ground for the few dollars in her handbag. In truth, the vast majority of our youth are friendly, respectful, enthusiastic, law-abiding, hardworking students; intent only on learning to make their way in the world and perhaps improving it in the process. If your training and influence have been reinforced by family attendance at the Church of your choice, then YOUR children undoubtedly belong to this praiseworthy majority.

Sagerton News

By Dorothy M. Clark

A new business has opened in our little town...Maria's Stop and Go. It is located at the site of the former Exxon service station at the flashing light and is operated by the Frank Soto's. I stopped by for a visit with Mrs. Soto and found a very neat, clean little store. She has a variety of groceries, burritos, bread, ice and cold drinks and plans to add more in the future. She would appreciate everyone's business and welcomes visitors.

Something else that is new here is the Gulbransen DH-1 Digital Hymnal that was installed at Faith Lutheran Church by Tru-Sound Studio of Stamford. The Hymnal is an electronic, computerized system that is programmed specifically for The Lutheran Book of Worship. It contains over 5000 hymns and songs from eleven other church hymnals. It is able to transpose keys 1/2 step throughout octave to accommodate various voice ranges. It has 128 different sounds, including 4 organs, grand piano, carillon, choir, and even drums can be added for contemporary music. The heart of the system is a Samick SMS-82 stereo mic'ing console with 8 channels and 3 band E.Q. on each. The console includes a TEAC cassette player, Sony C.D. player and TEAC cassette recorder. It can be used in the absence of an organist or pianist to accompany hymn singing. The Digital Hymnal was used for the first time Sunday and should be an asset to the congregation of Faith.

The regular monthly community supper was held at the center Tuesday night with Ken and Jill Brown and Mike and Sheryl Hertel hosting the potato bake, salads and desserts. Residents enjoying the meal and fellowship included Alvin and Alice Bredthauer, Jack and Peggy Tabor, J.B. and Dorothy Toney, the Toney's grandson, Clay, of Fort Worth, Alvin and Ev Ulmer, Corene Lowack, Delbert and Joyce LeFevre, Mary Neinst, Clancy and Helen Lehrmann, James Gellner, Pastor Jeff and Marie Zell, Helen, Paige and Britany Lammert, Odene Dudensing, Jessica and Lilia Buebla, Cade, Tullie, and Kinsey Brown, Michael, Jeremy, Andrew and Kristin Hertel, Bill and Margie Hertel, Frances Clark, Karen, Jennifer, M'Lynn and Joanna Lehrmann, Charles and Dorothy Clark, G.W. and Ophelia LeFevre.

The ladies breakfast was held at the community center Wednesday morning. Cooks for the day were Joyce LeFevre, Leona Letz, Dorothy Toney, Odene Dudensing and Peggy Tabor. After the meal, Dorothy Clark read a funny story by Erma Bombeck entitled Of Underwear That Creeps. Other ladies enjoying the time together were Edna Diers, Hazel Letz and Berniece White of Old Glory and Wilma Teichelman, Helen Lehrmann and Frances Clark.

The Hobby Club met Thursday for their regular monthly meeting at the community center with Mrs. Charles Clark, hostess. The program for the day was given by Janie Ritter of Tye representing Home Interiors decorating. She gave an interesting demonstration of the products that she sells. The club trip to the quilt show in Munday was postponed from October until January 17. The upcoming Bazaar was discussed and the date was announced as November 15 at the Community Center. If booths are needed, you may call Joyce LeFevre at 940-997-2103 or Margie Hertel at 915-773-2801. There will be a flea market included in the event this year. Tickets for the quilt drawing may be purchased from any club member for $1.00. Each year the club members hand-piece and quilt a lovely quilt and proceeds from the sale are used for local projects and scholarships to local graduating senior of Rule High School. Everyone is urged to come out for the bazaar, a home cooked meal and lots of fun. Visitors attending the meeting were Corene Lowack, Isabel Mrazek of Aspermont, Helen Lehrmann, and Doris Lehrmann, Margaret Kitley, Swede Kitley and Pat Kitley all of Rule. Members present were Joyce LeFevre, Mary Neinst, Ev Ulmer, Dorothy Toney, Leona Letz, Christine Stremmel, Wilma Teichelman and Margaret Wendeborn.

As I write this on Saturday morning, there's a slow drizzle falling, just enough to drip off the roof and ruin a new hairdo. We hope that it continues and brings a good rain for the wheat farmers and then clears off so the cotton farmers can get on with their bountiful harvest.

Garden Club discusses plant choices

On Oct. 9 at the Community Room, the Garden Club met. Marion Carlisle presided in the absence of the president, Wilma Pruet. The roll was called and the minutes were read by Dee Sprayberry.

"From These Roots Eternal Beauty" was the topic of study. Daylilies was discussed by Dee Sprayberry concerning the planting, and culture of growing and care.

Mary Kommanga gave an interesting discussion about irises. She told of the planting, dividing and growth and progress in our soil and climate.

Florence Peden read an interesting article on perennials.

The Allsup's 23rd Annual Fall Road Race is scheduled for October 25 in Clovis, New Mexico. The Road Race is unique since the event offers four different types of races: a 1/2 marathon, 10,000 meter, 5,000 meter and one mile run. Since its inception in 1975, with only seven runners participating, Road Race registration has grown immensely. Over 350 runners are expected to participate this year.

Entry forms are available at all Allsup's store locations. Interested runners can also call the Allsup's corporate office at 505-769-2311 and ask for Dawn DeHaai for details. Completed entry forms should be mailed with a check to: Allsup's Convenience Stores, Inc., P.O. Box 1907, Clovis, NM, 88101. registration fees are $10.00 per person.

She said to consider the design of our yards and gardens because perennials will design a pattern for us. Also she told how warm colors make a garden seem smaller and cool colors tend to make it seem larger.

Horticulture was brought by Marion Carlisle, Mary Kommanga, Dee Sprayberry and Gladys O'Neal.

Using a motif of Halloween, refreshments were served by the hostesses, Juanita Bevel and Peggy Burnett. Those present were: Mona Gibson, Marion Carlisle, Florence Peden, Mary Kommanga, Dee Sprayberry, Helen Cox, and Gladys O'Neal.
