Indians are overwhelmed by Seymour

Playing before a full house of Homecoming fans Friday night at Indian Field. Seymour's one-two combination of Mr. Inside, Chris Peters and Mr. Outside, Shane Christian was too much for the Haskell Indians.

With the score of 67 to 14, the Panthers handed the Indians their third loss in District 9 2A.

Seymour proved they are one of the favorites to win the district with their power and speed. They remain undefeated in district play at 3-0, and move their season record to 8-0. The Indians are at 4-4 for the season.

Chris Peters scored three TDs for the Panthers on runs of 30, 50, and and 60 yards, while Shane Christian was unstoppable in the second and third quarters, running for TDs on runs of 57, 30, 40 and 40 yards out.

Haskell, who racked up 270 yards rushing on 60 carries, led 8-7 in the game during the mid-point of the 1st quarter. The Indian's quarterback, Casey Riley scored on a 3-yard run with 7:18 left in the 1st quarter. The try for extra point made good when Haskell used a "razzle-dazzle" play for the twopoint conversion.

Seymour's balanced attack was just too strong for the Tribe.

Haskell will play host to Holliday at Indian Field this Friday.

crowned Homecoming Queen during halftime at the Haskell Seymour game Friday night. She is surrounded by her royal court:

Rule falls to top-ranked El Paso Chargers, 78-34

Rule High School runningback Brian Lehrmann scored four touchdowns and Grant Hisey scored once and intercepted two passes, but it wasn't nearly enough as the Bobcats were beaten Saturday by Texas' top-ranked private six-man team, the El Paso Jesus Chapel Chargers, 78-34.

In the game played at Midland's Trinity High School field, the Bobcats found themselves down 20-0 midway through the first quarter and were unable to keep up with the "spread" offense run so well by their opponents.

The vaunted Bobcat defense of Lehrmann, Hisey, Cody Tibbets, Jody Harvey, Joe Sotelo, Josh Smith and Justin Coker were unable to adequately handle the onside kickoffs of the Chargers nor the running and passing of the platooning El Paso team.

The closest the Bobcats could get to the Chargers was 20-14 in the second quarter after some fine passes from quarterback Smith to receivers Sotelo, Hisey, Lehrmann and Harvey got them into position.

BBQ dinner set

The First United Methodist Church of Haskell is planning a fund-raising barbecue and bake sale to be held at the church fellowship hall beginning at 12:00 noon, Sun., Nov. 7.

The meal will feature the special barbecue of former Haskell resident, Bob Pheil, who will be back especially for the occasion.

Tickets for the barbecue dinner will be $5.00 each and can be obtained at the church office or from members of the church. Take out dinners will be available.

Members of the church will be baking all the items offered at the bake sale.

With Tibbets, Lehrmann and Harvey bucking the line for a little yardage, Lehrmann was able to follow the blocks of Mike Casey, Sotelo and Jeremy Hertel for two short touchdown runs. The first half ended, however, with Rule down, 36-20.

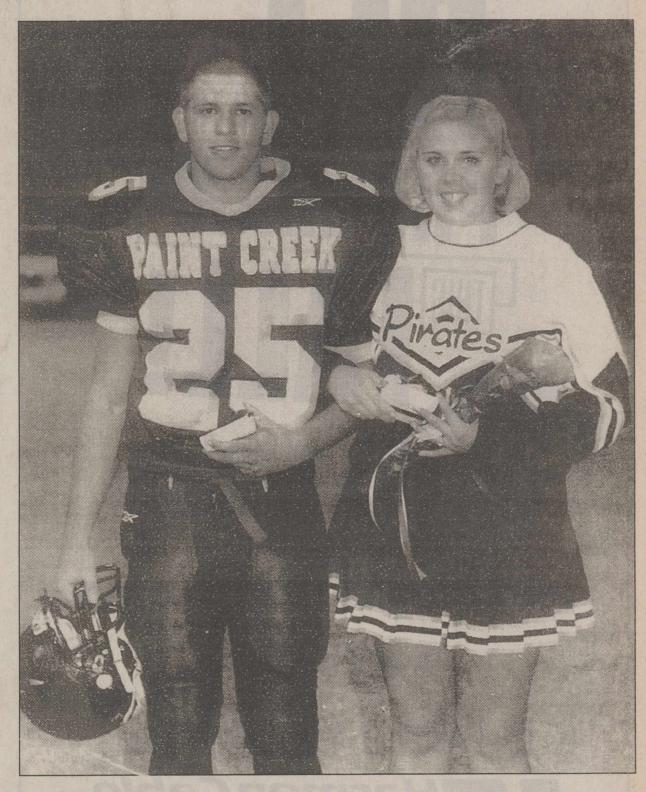

Rule was held scoreless in the third quarter, but came back to score twice in the final period. However, Jesus Chapel answered every challenge by the Bobcats, scoring 14 in the third quarter and 28 in the last to win, 78-34.

Rule, now ranked number seven in the state among UIL teams, will take on the winless Patton Springs Rangers at the school's field, located in Afton, north of Dickens, Friday night, Oct. 29. They finish out the regular schedule next week in Rule against the 1-7 Guthrie Jaguars.

Last Thursday night, the Bobcat Junior Varsity thrashed the Benjamin Mustangs by a score of 60-12, on the strength of scoring runs by Jason Custer, Tony Navarrette and Trey Kittley. Quarterback Bobby Flores threw passes to Carlos Flores and Brady Standefer for several extra points. Matt Arendall and Jeffrey Murray led the Bobcat defense with several tackles.

The Rule Junior High Kittens stayed perfect (6-0) this season with a 26-14 win over Benjamin Junior High. They were led by Forrest Hatley, Kolt Kittley, Kyle Kittley and Lucas Hisey. Defensively, Hatley, Ricky Truelsen, Matthew Hensley and Samuel Turner slowed down the Mustangs. The 1999 season will be over following their home game tonight (Thursday) against the Patton Springs Junior High Rangers.

Congressman Charlie Stenholm has announced the award of a grant by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in the amount of $95,856 to the Haskell Housing Authority.

"This funding will not only improve local housing developments but will also ensure that low-income families have affordable housing," Stenholm said.

The award is made under the Comprehensive Improvement Assistance Program. The funds made available will allow the Housing Authority to improve the physical condition of existing housing developments. It will further allow for upgrading the management and operation of these developments to assure continued availability to low-income families.

OPINION

AUSTIN — Texas Attorney General John Cornyn on Oct. 18 filed a lawsuit against Publishers Clearing House for violations of the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices Act.

The sweepstakes company made a variety of misleading representations through mail order solicitations designed to deprive money primarily from elderly recipients, the state's lawsuit alleges.

"Elder Texans need and deserve protection from those who would try to take advantage of them.

"By taking legal action, I hope to bring to an end the clearly illegal practices Publishers Clearing House has engaged in," Cornyn said.

According to the lawsuit:

 Publishers Clearing House developed a cycle of illegal acts designed to reinforce one another.

 Victims, who disproportionately are seniors, are lured into believing they will win if they respond to the solicitation in a timely manner.

The company implies that placing an order for advertised items may enhance their chances of winning.

Those who place orders receive a barrage of solicitations claiming the victim is closer and closer to winning and that additional orders will help cement their multi-millionaire status.

By concentrating on those customers who have spent from $500 to $20,000 or more each year in hopes of winning, Publishers Clearing House has taken millions of dollars from Texas consumers, the lawsuit alleges.

The lawsuit asks a state district court in Travis County for a permanent injunction requiring the

Voter Registration Rises Voter registration totals increased slightly between January

1999 and this month, according to updated information from county election officials. A count of registered voters taken in anticipation of the Nov. 2 constitutional amendment election reflects a Texas voter registration count of 11,405,562. That figure represents 80 percent of the voting age population in Texas.

Voter registration in January 1999 was 10,987,639 or 77 percent of the voting age population in Texas.

Codeine Scammers Beware

Officials at the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse recently have alerted doctors and pharmacists about scams to obtain codeine cough syrup to get high. Users with insurance or Medicaid have learned which symptoms to describe to get a prescription for cough syrup.

Information on this illegal practice was cited in a study by Dr. William N. Elwood, adjunct professor at the University of Texas School of Public Health in Houston.

More Firms Cleaning Up

The Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission last week saluted the 200 firms that are members of "Clean Industries 2000" for progress in reducing pollution across the state.

Members agree to reduce hazardous waste generation and/or releases and transfers of toxic pollutants and contaminants to the Texas environment by at least 50 percent by the year 2000.

Some new Clean Industries 2000 members include Exxon Co., USA Baytown Refinery: Mobil Chemical Co., Houston Olefins Plant; Alcatel, Plano; General Motors, Arlington; Motorola, Fort Worth; and TXU Electric plants in Fort Worth, Dallas, Monahans, Mesquite, Waco, Savoy and Coppell.

"My heart is turning home again; and there I long to be," wrote Henry Van Dyke.

Writer T. S. Eliot said that 'Home is where one starts from."

Last weekend, hundreds of people returned to where they started from as students and/or graduates of Haskell, Weinert and Mattson Schools. During the biennial homecoming the city was alive and hopping with hugs, handshakes and heartwarming hospitality. Meeting together in various homes across town, classes renewed old ties and even old firstgrade "flames" met again after so many years they had to read the name tags to really believe it was true. (Ask Anita Collier Herren about this if you're wondering.)

One of what must be the most dedicated, courageous, heartwarming examples of "being given to hospitality" ever, was demonstrated by Jud and Juanita Jenkins Miller. Despite the fact that at the time, Juanita was in Hendrick Medical Center awaiting surgery on Monday morning, they hosted a dinner at Burkett's Restaurant Saturday night for Juanita's class of 1936. Nine class members plus five spouses attended. In what is now a tradition for them, the Millers have treated the class to a dinner over a period of several homecomings. This year, even in the face of such daunting odds, they persevered to do it again. Thoughtfully sending their younger son, Kenny and daughter-in-law Debbie Miller of Snyder to act as hosts, the Millers gave the class a setting for a great reunion. And, as a 1942 graduate of Abernathy High School, who was privileged to be at the Millers' 1936 class party by reason of marriage, this Haskell adoptee has to say it was a special evening. As is usual for such occasions, the group shared stories of their school days together. Wallace Stark recalled the time he took Juanita riding in his dad's Ford V-8, after adjusting the gear shift stick to that there was more room for her to sit over closer to the "driver." It seems that during the evening, the gear shift was somehow permanently jolted into second gear. He had to drive it home in second gear and try to adequately explain to his dad how it happened.

Wallace also told of being stuck in the rumble seat of Eugene Rose's father's coupe with a girl (he claimed he couldn't remember her name) when the rumble seat lid slammed shut on them when Eugene hit a big bump. (This story begged for more delving into than either of them elaborated on.) Before the evening was over Jud Miller arrived from his wife's bedside in Abilene. As a treat for the group and a tribute to Jud and Juanita, son Kenny Miller and wife, Debbie sang several of the Miller's favorite old songs. In beautiful harmony, the couple sang "After the Ball is Over," and Jud's favorite, "When the Roses Bloom Again.'

they spoke of their own life together. That in itself is no doubt a great tribute to Jud and Juanita for the role they have played as models for their children. Obviously touched by Juanita's desire to have the long-planned party go on in spite of her current difficulty, members of the class fondly voiced tributes to her lifelong attitude of kindness of spirit to everyone. As Tom Kaigler expressed it, she was the friendliest, sweetest natured one of the whole class.

In lieu of a get-well card from the group, who did not know until they arrived at the party that Juanita was in the hospital, everyone signed a dinner napkin "message" to send back with Jud when he returned to Abilene after the party. On Monday, an arrangement of her favorite pink flowers would arrive for her from classmates, who have probably

Most feral hogs are disease-free

by Brandon Anderson Haskell Co. Extension Agent A recent sampling of feral hogs in several Rolling Plains counties found them relatively disease-free. That is good news for domestic swine producer and hunters alike. Both would be adversely affected by disease in wild populations of pigs. Very few hogs tested positive for any diseases or parasites. Swine veterinarian Bruce Lawhorn says the survey is important because it alerts ranchers and hunters in this area to potential livestock and human disease dangers.

The sample reflects an everexpanding swine population which impacts the national PRV and brucellosis eradication programs. United States' animal health officials established a goal to eradicate pseudorabies and authority.

years: Mark Wallace, Sue Medford, Delight Jones, Karen Ratliff, Cathy Bartley, Charles Chapman, David Middleton, Carolyn Pippen, Peggy Adams and Sandra Earle.

Mrs. McKeever, the teachers, students, Debi Burson, Robb McClellan and James Bevel should be commended for supporting the homecoming activities at the brucellosis in domestic swine by the year 2000.

Swine brucellosis causes abortions in sows and infertility in boars (male pigs). It can cause losses in reproduction that can decrease profits on pig farms. Humans can get swine brucellosis through handling infected tissues of pigs.

Lawhorn says there is a need for more current surveys in other sections of the state. Feral hogs spread disease to humans and domestic livestock, prey on young livestock and damage crops. Hunters are at risk when they dress wild pigs and should take precautions. Lawhorn suggests that farmers take precautions to minimize the threat wild pigs pose to domestic swine operators. For precautions contact your local

Library is topic of Study Club program

The Haskell Progressive Study Club met Oct. 14 for A Rainbow of Library Information program.

President Frances Lane welcomed guests and expressed appreciation to members for their work at the successful Spaghetti Supper.

Thula Perry led the pledge to the American flag.

Guest speaker, Joan Strickland, Haskell County Librarian was introduced by Doris Jordan. Strickland began by saying that all the books she had brought for display and the rest of more than twenty thousand books owned by the Haskell County Library, along with the paperbacks, microfilm, and book audios, need a new home.

Strickland told the club that the library has an expansion program with Big Country Library System in Abilene, which allows it fiftytwo large print best sellers per visitors have used 14.186 pieces of material. The library is now on the Internet which may be used by anyone, including younger children accompaned by an adult. Also, over 30 rolls of microfilm are available, including past issues of The Haskell Free Press.

Emphasizing the need for space. Strickland said that the library reading programs for children were attended by 69 children reading over 1500 books this past summer in a very small reading room. At the programs, prizes were given. including savings bonds a bicycle and amusement tickets. The children's reading room is the only private room available at the library yet it is also being used for genealogy searches.

A Tocker Automation Grant in the amount of $22,628 has been applied for and received by Strickland for getting the card catalog and library cards on computer. She has also written a letter of intent to apply for a large Telecommunication Intrastructure (TIF) Grant to be used when more space is available. The library has received a $25,000.00 donation. provided the County will match it. which they have agreed to do, and that The Friends of the Library organization will also match it. The librarian also received a letter from Laura Bush stating that Haskell County Library. along with 52 other libraries in Texas has been chosen to receive a $3000. computer and education donation from the overage in the Texas Inaugural Endowment Fund.

With these donations in mind, Strickland stress the need of having an individual to up the Friends of The Library, which is a non-profit organization. This organization would solicit donations and establish fund-raising projects. The Friends of the Library Fund already established at the Haskell National Bank now has a balance of more than $5,000. Anyone wishing to donate to this funds should make their checks payable to Friends of the Library

Strickland said the library and the county commissioners have a sketch for a building to be built east of the existing library at a cost of about $150,00. Although the present building will not long support the weight of the many books, Strickland said it could be made useful for other purposes, such as the Haskell County Historical and Genealogy Society, once the books are removed to a new building.

Following her presentation Strickland was presented a gift of appreciation by club member Shirley Reed.

Hostesses Mildred Berry, Billie McKeever, Joan Medford and Ruby Turner served refreshments to twenty-six members and one guest.

A business meeting followed with a reading of the Club Constitution by Jill Druesedow, a report by club treasurer, Doris Jordan on the Spaghetti Supper. Erma Liles, Federation Counselor, gave a report of the September Texas Federation of Women's Club Fall Board Meeting at Austin which she. Mary Kaigler, Nancy Toliver, and Frances Lane attended of another month...how time flies by when you're having fun! The cotton harvest is getting into full swing and oddly enough, there is some to be harvested. Although there was a prolonged drouth during the year, there are some fields that will have to be harvested. The local gin is running smoothly and farmers are doing the best they can considering the odds against them. There's one thing to say about farmers...they have a lot of stamina and thoughts of next year, but after several years of the same thing I'm sure the "next year" saying is getting old!

Here it is again...nearly the end

Another end that will be taking place in the community next Sunday will be the final sermon for Pastor Jeff Zell at Faith Lutheran Church at the 10:30 worship service. The Zells will be going to Farmers Branch after serving here for a little over five years. All members are encouraged to be present and other friends of the community are invited to be present for the farewell occasion and stay for the potluck dinner to follow the service to say their goodbyes and wish the Zell family well in their new congregation. The whole community will miss the Zells and seeing little Thomas outside in the front yard of the parsonage with that big friendly smile and the friendly wave as we pass by. The Friendship Club met for its regular monthly dinner at Faith Lutheran Church last Thursday with the following people present: J. B. and Dorothy Toney, Minnie Monse, Isabell Mrazek, Frances Clark, Pastor Jeff, Marie and Thomas Zell, Margaret Wendeborn, Jo Brown, Ed Fouts, Delbert and Joyce LeFevre and Alvin and Ev Ulmer.

Funeral services were held at Faith Lutheran Church Friday for Tony Letz, father of David Letz of Sagerton. Tony was a lifelong resident of Old Glory in Stonewall County and a member of the local congregation. He was a successful attest to the fact that he was one of the few farmers in the area who could boast of a chemically free farm. He believed in hoeing and plowing and this was evident as one passed by their immaculate homestead and fields. A weed or sprig of Johnson grass never even dared to get six inches high on p field that Tony Letz farmed. He was respected by all who knew him and his shy smile will always be remembered by his many relatives and friends. The community extends its sympathy to David, Leona and their families.

Ann Young attends certification workshop

Haskell's City Secretary, Ann Young, a Texas Registered Municipal Clerk since 1992, recently attended a Personnel Management workshop in The session was Kerrville. sponsored by the Texas Municipal Clerk's Certification Program located at the University of North Texas, Denton.

While there members studied the legal and ethical framework of employment decisions; contractual and constitutional issues; recent developments in employment law; legal and ethical pre-employment practices; effective management of employees; and special issues such as drug testing, e-mail, polygraph testing, and privacy in the workplace.

Instructor during the two day workshop was Dr. Marcia Staff, Professor of Business Law, and Associate Dean and Director of Accreditation of the College of Business Administration at the University of North Texas, Denton.

completed her law degree at the University of Houston Law School, magna cum laude. Receiving the Texas Registered Municipal Clerk's Certification in 1992, and recertified in 1997, Ann Young's attendance at this workshop fulfills part of the requirements for the continuing recertification which must be completed every five years. She is a member of the Texas Municipal Clerk's Association, Inc. a statewide organization of 800 city secretaries and municipal clerks.

Dr. Staff is an attorney and

A native of Lueders, Young has been city secretary in Haskell since 1987. She and her husband Kenneth Young have raised two sons and two daughters, and now have six grandsons.

Speaking of her twelve years of working at City Hall, Young said she has found it to be very interesting work and has enjoyed every minute of it.

Soil Conservationist's Creed

I believe God created the earth by His divine process for the benefit of man, not one man, nor one generation, but mankind for all time.

I believe the Almighty gave man an inheritance of the earth, not to be hoarded as a miser guards his treasure, but to be used with wisdom for the perpetual benefit of all men.

I believe all mankind, regardless of race or creed, are entitled to a fair and equitable share of the earth's bounty commensurate with their own efforts. But in so believing, I hold the irrevocable conviction that man himself owes earth a debt of respect and fealty.

I believe that whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap; that he who manages his fields, pastures and woodlands, and streams with respect and wisdom shall reap the bountiful harvest, and so shall his descendants, while he who uses them selfishly, thinking only of his immediate gain, shall bring grief to his land, himself, and his children's children.

Therefore, I dedicate my self to the task of helping my fellow man realize his own personability in conserving the earth for the generations which follow. To this end I shall devote my best knowledge in guiding the efforts of others who use the soil so that the land which nurtures us shall be fruitful without end.

For truly, the earth is the Lord's and the fullness therefore, but the responsibility of its stewardship is vested in man.

This Week's Devotional Message: FAITH LEADS US OUT OF THE MAZE OF SUPERSTITION

Whenever we are scheduled for a Friday the 13th, the thought of it recalls all the traditional fears, bugaboos and omens of bad luck such as black cats, broken mirrors, etc., as well as their good-luck antidotes in the form of horseshoes, four leaf clovers, etc., many of little-known origin, that have persisted throughout the ages. However, as people turned away from superstition and toward faith in God, the truth about their destiny began to emerge: that their good fortune did not depend on any charms or circumstances, but on God's love and guidance. You too can learn the truth about superstitions such as Friday the 13th at the Church of your choice, and Sunday the 15th would be a very good time to start.
