

Plains Test For Brahma Cattle

The adaptability of the Brahma breed of cattle to colder winters will be tested by the Texas Tech agriculture division it was announced by W. L. Stangel, dean of the division.

Establishment of the Brahma herd at Tech, accompanied recently, will also give Tech another teaching "tool", Stangel said.

Popular in the southern and coastal areas, the Brahma is noted for its resistance to heat and many types of insects, according to the dean.

The Tech Brahma herd was completed recently by the addition of two more females and an outstanding sire. The latest additions were contributed by Herman Taylor of the H. T. Stock Farms, Natchitoches, La., and Burke Bros. of Corsicana.

The sire was also a presentation from the Burke Bros., accompanying the loan of an outstanding show female.

Eight other registered females were donated to Tech last year. Donors were P. H. Willie, Beaumont; C. K. Boyd, Devers; Gale Whitcomb, Houston; O. J. Flowers, Menard; H. C. Koontz, Inez; J. Hudgins, Hungerford; A. P. George, Richmond; J. W. Pate, Hidalgo.

WAS $6.25
NOW $1.37

It's getting to be a rare day when you see a real, genuine bargain advertised. In these days of planned economy everything seems to be included in the plans except economy.

But we have here an honest-to-Pete bargain to tell you about. It's a bargain because it's much more useful than it once was, and costs much less than it used to.

It's the television set.

In 1948 our 10-inch screen set cost $6.25 per square inch of picture. Today, our 20-inch set costs only about $1.37 per square inch, and gives you a much finer picture almost four times the size.

So, you see, with all the forces of inflation, a counterforce has been quietly at work. Research and engineering are steadily plugging along—improving products—making them do more, cost less, and last longer.

At least, that's the way it is at General Electric.

Sure, it's smart to look at the price tag. But it's also smart to look beyond... to the performance of the product and the name of the maker. The best possible products at the lowest possible prices—that's G.E.'s idea of good business.

TEXAS HYBRID CORN

The history of corn is as old as the history of mankind.

From the earliest records which ancient man left around his campfires down through medieval and modern history, civilizations have achieved greatness or have crumbled according to the supply of corn. "Corn," in this sense, applies to all cereal grains, those abundant streams of golden and white kernels which are literally the lifeblood of healthy, vigorous nations.

Ancient Egypt's strength was derived from its corn crop. The annual inundation of the land by the Nile River provided fertile soil to produce grain for thousands of slaves who built huge temples and monuments that are still wonders of the modern world. The energy which produced these architectural marvels came from products of the soil.

One of the first incidents concerning the founding of our nation is woven around this grain. When the Pilgrims landed on the rocky eastern shore, they were met by friendly Indians who helped them prepare for the hard winter ahead. Perhaps one of the most valuable acts of friendship by the Redmen was to teach the newcomers how to cultivate a corn crop. The fruits of this act were served at the First Thanksgiving meal.

We have come a long way in the development of corn since those early days. The Pilgrims merely dug a hole in the ground and dropped in a kernel of corn fertilized with a small sliver of fish. Today, through a process of scientific research, improved fertilization, and careful certification, we are developing better strains of corn which assure the farmer of maximum yields.

Your State Department of Agriculture each year studies results of extensive tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment station in principal corn production areas. These tests prove the superiority of one strain of corn over another. Yield and stalk lodging, shelling qualities, disease resistance, and good shuck coverage are factors in rating merits of the strain. These merits determine the certification number which the Department of Agriculture requires on every bag of grain sold in Texas. As newer and better strains are developed, certification is extended to include the improvements and the old strains are dropped.

To bring history up to date, the Division of Field Seed Certification has announced that Texas Yellow Hybrid Corn Numbers 8, 12 and 20 are being replaced by Numbers 26, 28, and 30 which show in conclusive tests to be superior. Considering both yields and vegetative characters, Texas 30, 28, and 24 are recommended for the East Texas farmer; Texas 30, 28 and 26 for the Blackland region, and Texas 30, 28, 6 and 24 for the "drier" areas.

Texas Certified Hybrid Seed Corn producers are expanding production of the newer hybrids in 1952 and sufficient quantities of the better strains should be available for farmers next year.

Daniel Defends Texas Gas Tax

AUSTIN, July 3 — Attorney General Price Daniel this week interrupted his campaign for U. S. Senate to carry on his fight to save the State's new gas tax revenues for building more rural roads and improving the public schools.

This gas tax—which was sponsored by County Judges, Texas Farm Bureau, and other farm and ranch groups—is being upheld in the courts by Attorney General Daniel against attacks made by some major gas companies.

As a member of the Legislature from rural counties in Southwest Texas and as Speaker of the House in the 48th Legislature, Daniel, a native of Liberty, has consistently fought for Texas farmers and ranchers in supporting REA, soil conservation, rural road building, and similar programs.

Himself a farm owner and REA member, Daniel has pledged in his campaign for U. S. Senate to work to strengthen and maintain the REA program, soil conservation work, farm price supports, aid to the aged, and other such "sound and constructive programs."

BABSON DISCUSSES Automobile Accidents

New Boston, N. H., June 27 — The death of a friend has brought to my attention this week both the economic loss to the country and the personal loss to relatives from needless automobile accidents.

NEED OF BETTER ROADS
First, let me admit that these accidental deaths have not increased proportionately with the number of motor vehicles, although the deaths may have increased proportionately with the mileage operated. When I was a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, there were only four automobiles in the United States. When I was married in 1900, this had increased to only 8,000 automobiles, one of which I owned. Today there are about forty-five million automobiles and about nine million trucks in operation. Truly this is a miraculous industry.

Unfortunately, most of the roads used today were laid out before automobiles were even dreamed of. The improvements in these roads have not begun to keep pace with the number of automobiles. This is primarily responsible for most accidents. We, however, are now entering a new road building industry of tremendous proportions. Great toll-roads, and super-highways, costing nearly $1 million per mile, are being built. Those looking for employment opportunities or business profits should study super-highways, underground parking, outdoor theatres and allied developments.

STATISTICS ON ACCIDENTS
It is estimated that there were about 40,000 persons killed by automobiles last year, and many, many times this number injured. Over one-third of these deaths were due to collisions; and about one-third from non-collision accidents, such as running off the road. About 10,000 needless deaths were the result of hitting careless pedestrians.

These new super-highways and improvements on existing roads should reduce the collision and non-collision accidents, as well as save time, gasoline and maintenance. (The only group to suffer is investors in railroad stocks, which so many people are now rushing to buy due to temporary high defense earnings.) Very little is now being done, however, to reduce the deaths of pedestrians. Ninety per cent of these are in cities and towns and could be eliminated. Any reader of this column may be the next pedestrian to be needlessly killed.

OBEY EXISTING POLICE RULES

Every up-to-date community has traffic lights and traffic officers, but neither of these safety measures supply the necessary brains and self-control to prevent people from disobeying traffic regulations. Pedestrians cross streets in any place without regard for themselves, their families or the unfortunate auto driver who runs them down. In addition to 10,000 pedestrians being killed, 200,000 were injured.

Readers should resolve at once to cross streets only at intersections, and to obey carefully traffic lights where they exist. Children, at home and at school, should be trained to do this. Diagonal crossing of streets should be forbidden. Those who are caught doing so should be fined, and the money used to employ more traffic officers.

A NEW SOURCE OF TRAFFIC OFFICERS

One economic problem today is finding work that aged can do. While automobiles are increasing the number of deaths, modern drugs are increasing the length of life. This situation is being met by pensions, social security, relief, and old-age assistance.

Unfortunately, politics has seriously entered the latter and the politicians are fighting over whether names should be made available to the public. Relief and old-age assistance are greatly increasing each year; in many cities the cost is second only to schools costs. A large percentage of the tax dollars now goes to old-age assistance and relief.

Now here is my suggestion: Let us organize the able bodied men and women who are now on relief as "Safety Monitors" in uniform. These individuals would work only a few hours a day; but contribute their time without pay. They should be stationed at different locations to prevent people from crossing the streets except at marked places. The very presence of these "Safety Monitors" would tremendously reduce the death and accident toll. By taking the names of those who fail to observe the traffic rules, fines could be collected which would materially reduce the cost of relief assistance. I am very serious about this suggestion and hope that every one of the 400 communities in which this column is published will give some thought to it.

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER

Favors New Idea Congress Has For Making Living Expenses Tax Deductible

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may have hit on a popular idea, but we doubt if he gets anywhere with it.

Dear editor:
I read in yesterday's paper which my wife had lined the pantry shelf with where Congress, not wantin to come out and vote itself a raise but still wantin one, had figured out a method which accomplished the same ends, and while the idea carried in the House, the Senate voted it down.

I regret that the Senate is not as far sighted as the House, and I wish you would use your influence if you haven't misplaced it and get the bill re-introduced, not only for Congressmen but for everybody.

Here's the way it would work: It would allow Congressmen to count their living expenses in Washington as legitimate deductions on their income tax. Whatever it costs to live, the whole amount could be counted as a business expense and deducted. Now this is what I call the most advanced think I've encountered in years. The income tax ain't too high, we just can't deduct enough items before we start figurin how much we owe, but if the government would let me count everything it takes to live out here as a business expense, it wouldn't make much difference to me how high the income tax went.

Accordin to the Congressmen favorin this bill, livin in Washington certainly ought to be deductible expense, and they're right, the same as livin out here ought to be. Just because a man has an income of so much a month ain't no sign he's able to pay any income tax on it. The more money you make, the more it takes to live, I've seen it happen over and over, and the man makin the most money frequently is the one shortest on cash.

Under this new proposal, though, whatever it takes to live on comes first, and what's left over is subject to an income tax. It's one of the most beautiful ideas I've seen in years, and is just the thing to meet inflation with.

This might not bring in much income tax, but I guarantee it would make business boom. Let's get it passed.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Pilate saith unto him (Jesus), What is truth? (John 18:38.)
Read John 18:33-38.

Once a teacher told a class to draw the flight of the Holy Family into Egypt. One small boy handed up a picture of an airplane with four occupants. Three were recognizable as the Holy Family. When the teacher asked who the fourth person was, the boy explained, "Oh, that's Pontius the pilot."

The boy had expressed in his drawing more truth than might at first be seen. Some people do trust the sacred cargo of their faith to the airy flights of their minds and ask, "What is truth?" but do not wait for an answer.

As did Pontius Pilate, many today think that truth is something for the intellect alone to determine. But to the spiritual-minded, truth can be discovered also through faith. Jesus says, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." By our faith in Him we come to know truth—spiritual truth. Christ is the way of knowing truth by living it out. With Paul, each can testify, "I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me." Christ alone is the truth that makes us free.

O God, Thou art in Christ reconciling the world unto Thyself. This day purge all bitterness from my heart. I pray for that

We are entering three of the most exciting weeks in America political history—to be culminated by four or five of the most exciting days. It is totally possible at this moment to give a confident forecast of the outcome.

It is widely agreed that Mr. Eisenhower's two weeks of political campaigning have produced no miracles—no magic spark. It is agreed that Senator Taft's control of the Republican party organization is very strong. There has been some complaint at this control—some charges of a steamroller. But these charges have not started a national wave of protest. There is too much to be said on the other side, and the Eisenhower spokesmen have sometimes absurdly exaggerated.

Nevertheless, it seems clear that Senator Taft and his experienced, hard-driving corps of managers intend to use their organization advantages to the full. And it is apparent that the Eisenhower supporters will try to arouse political indignation at these tactics. Which is more likely to win is completely uncertain. It would be a national tragedy if the impression should prevail that the will of the people had been blocked by machine organization. The nomination won under such circumstances would be worth nothing, for it would almost certainly lead to defeat in November. The main thing for the Republicans to avoid is suicide.

MULESHOE'S GOOD NAME DOES GET AROUND
The good name of Muleshoe does get around, as Erick Moeller points out to The Journal in a letter this week. Erick was here earlier in the summer from his home in Wheeling, W. Va., in company with his family to visit his mother, Mrs. Anna Moeller and other relatives. Mrs. Moeller made a trip to the West Coast with Erick and family. Erick, who is in the produce brokerage business in Wheeling, enclosed two form letters sent out by the Santa Fe. One of these letters, giving produce information to buyers mentioned the fact that 40 acres of onions are growing at Muleshoe. Other towns mentioned are Monroe.

Dr. Jones New Tech President

Lubbock, June 24 — Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech since 1948, has been promoted to president replacing Dr. D. M. Wiggins who has resigned to enter the banking business in Lubbock.
Dr. Jones was named Tech's sixth president at a board of directors' meeting Saturday in Dallas. Chairman Charles C. Thompson, Colorado City, in announcing Dr. Jones' appointment to the presidency, said:
"We believe he has proved himself deserving of the position. All board members concurred in the decision."
No replacement for Dr. Jones has been named, and the exact date of the change-over in command is indefinite. It is expected sometime before Sept. 1.

VISITED BAKERS
Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wright of Vernon, visited here last Tuesday and Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Baker. Mr. Wright is manager of the J. C. Penny Co. store in Vernon.

Hereford, and Kress. Carload shipments, the Santa Fe said, were due to start about June 27. Those letters went to buyers everywhere and carried the food name of Muleshoe to countless business men. Thanks for letting us know, Erick.

Bailey County Has Sent 21 To Prison System

Huntsville, July 2 — Bailey County in the past ten years has committed 21 prisoners to the Texas Prison System.

This was revealed recently in a study conducted inside the prison by graduate students at Sam Houston State Teachers College, under the supervision of Dr. Rupert C. Koening, head of the college's sociology department.

In number of commitments per thousand population, the County ranked 79th in the state with 2.77 persons per thousand committed, the study further showed.

Ten counties during the period, 1942 to 1951, representing 41.73 per cent of the total population based on the 1950 census, committed 50.27 per cent of the prisoners.

In the order of the number of commitments they were Harris, Dallas, Bexar, El Paso, Tarrant, Hidalgo, Jefferson, Travis, Cameron and Wichita. These counties committed 11,424 of the 22,705 total commitments.

Highest among them in percentage of population in commitments was El Paso County, which sent 5.77 men per thousand and ranks ninth in the state in percentage of commitments. Next was Hidalgo, which committed 4.51 per thousand, nineteenth in the state. Others and the number per thousand committed were Harris, 4.07, Wichita, 3.76, Dallas, 3.38, Cameron, 3.13, Jefferson, 3.18, Bexar, 2.87, Travis, 2.74, and Tarrant, 2.66.

In 1951, the order of number of commitments ran according to the ten average, except that Nueces County was eighth. Over the ten years, Nueces County, which ranks seventh in population, is twelfth in number of commitments.

SOLVE YOUR PLOWING PROBLEMS WITH MM WHEATLAND DISC PLOWS

For plowing stubble or sod, MM Wheatland disc plows do a superior job and often cut plowing costs as much as 50%. They thoroughly mix trash with soil to increase moisture absorption and to prevent soil blowing. They do not leave air pockets. MM Wheatland disc plows have a wide range of adjustments of disc angles from 40 to 60 degrees. Adaptable to any size farm... offered in 4, 6, 8, and 10-foot sizes.

MM Wheatland disc plows can be set to plow at any depth from 3 to 9 inches, and one of their big advantages is that they hold to their work at the depth for which they are set. Electrically heat-treated discs are 26 inches in diameter. MM larger-diameter discs turn soil better. Disc bearings never require lubrication, and a special end-thrust bearing takes all end thrust of the entire gang assembly. See us for complete facts.

Well Spacing Is Recommended

We read the following interesting item in the Progress and Activity report of the Hi-Plains Underground Water Conservation District, issued this week:

We have been receiving information from several states on various ground water programs. Some compare a great deal to the proposed program of the High Plains District, and are very beneficial in helping us in setting up our conservation and educational policies.

Some interesting information came to us from Dr. Charles V. Theis, Geologist in charge of the ground water investigation in New Mexico. Mr. Conover of the same office has this to say about our area.

"In an area such as the High Plains, where the recharge rate is not only low but the area of artificial discharge is at appreciable distances from the area of natural discharge, the water pumped by wells is taken from ground-water storage and the water levels must necessarily lower.

The rate of lowering at a particular spot depends, in part, upon the amount of pumping near the particular spot. Because of the slow movement of ground water under the High Plains, much of the effects of pumping are confined to the vicinity of the pumps with the result that large lowerings occur in congested areas and small lowering at a distance where pumping is non-existent or nearly so. Full utilization of all the water in the High Plains could best be accomplished by large well spacings."

WHEN POLIO IS AROUND

RECOMMENDED BY THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION FOR INFANTILE PARALYSIS

Seven-year-old Karen Blecha enacts 1952 polio precautions recommended by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. When polio is around, the National Foundation cautions parents to watch for these signs: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, tenderness and stiffness of neck and back. A person showing such symptoms should be put to bed at once, away from others. Then, call your doctor and follow his advice. If polio is diagnosed, call your local chapter of the March of Dimes for advice and assistance, including needed financial help.

AGRICULTURE

By John C. White, Com. of Agriculture

WEIGHTS & MEASURES

When the Texas housewife goes to the grocery store, she has every right to assume she will get an accurate measure of food-stuffs weighed on the grocery scales. In most cases she does, and her chance of getting the full amount of commodities from scales in good working order are increasing every year.

Protection of the public from inaccurate scale devices is just one of the functions of a branch of the State Department of Agriculture which is little known by the average person, the Weights & Measures Division. This division is not only concerned with grocery store scales, its inspectors also guarantee you a fair measurement from pharmaceutical scales, hopper scales, livestock and motor truck scales and wholesale devices.

Filling station gasoline pumps are under its jurisdiction, as well as milk and cream testing units. And high on the list of important duties is the administration of the Texas Net Container Law which assures the purchaser of full value in all goods sold by weight, measure or numerical count. Hardly any field of commerce is exempt from the scrutiny of this division.

In order to maintain a high level of equality in all commercial weight and measure transactions, the Department of Agriculture is constantly making spot checks and blanket inspections of devices throughout the state. Full time inspectors are stationed at Houston, Encinal, Austin, Nacogoches, Brownwood, Wylie and Stephenville. These men are assigned a territory and also participates in inspections in other areas when needed. If a report of suspicious scales reaches the department officials in Austin, an inspector is dispatched to the scene immediately.

Because the department's scope of activity is necessarily limited by the size of the state and overwhelming number of scale devices, several cities have their own weights and measures division. These include Austin, Cleburne, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, and Tyler. The city bureaus work in close cooperation with the state and make monthly reports to the department.

The seal of the Texas Department of Agriculture on scales and gasoline pumps is your assurance that these devices were accurate when checked by inspectors. Until recently, these seals were oval shaped and dark green in color. A new rectangular white seal bordered in green is now being used which bears the date of the last inspection.

Watch for them! They are your guide to full measure.

Texas Teachers Rank Sixth In U. S.

AUSTIN, July 2 — Despite the fact that Texas teachers have not had an increase in their base salaries since 1949, they have continued to improve their professional training. They now rank among the five top states in the nation in teaching preparation, according to Charles H. Tennyson, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Tennyson said that figures available from the Texas Education Agency show that more than 95 per cent of the state's 58,513 public school teachers now hold degrees from accredited institutions of higher learning.

During the school term just closed, only 2.299 or 4.5 per cent of the white teachers in the state did not have degrees. Only 146 or 1.84 per cent of the Negro teachers in Texas do not have degrees.

The school year 1951-52 also marked progress in another direction, Tennyson added. It was the first year in history of the state that the schools did not have some people teaching who had less than a high school education. The previous year 34 such people were employed as teachers.
