Firemen gain experience at training school

Sixty-one students from a wide area of Texas attended the 2nd Annual Haskell Fire/Rescue School held Sat., Sept. 20, from 8 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All were members of volunteer, paid or part-paid fire departments of cities and industries who wanted to learn the latest training in rescue and related skills. The local school offered them instruction for keeping abreast of new opportunities and developments in the fire service, and to gain experience in rescue methods.

Using the local facilities furnished by the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department, the school was sponsored by the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department, the Mid-West Texas District and Fire Marshal's Association and the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association of Texas.

Conducted by the Emergency Services Training Institute of the Texas Engineering Extension Service, a member of the Texas A&M University System, 4-hour and 8-hour Fire and Rescue courses were offered in Landing Zone/Helicopter Safety; Drug Labs; ISO Short Course; Vehicle Extrication; Ground Cover TFS; House/LPG Live Fire.

Led by Dallas Renfrew of Dallas, representing the A&M System, instructors from across the state were in charge of the courses. Together, they spent many hours in service, preparation and travel to present the instructional Fire Protection Training.

Departments and Equipment Companies represented, their home county and the total number attending from each were:

Contributions of older workers recognized this week

Each year Experience Works, Inc., promotes National Employ the Older Worker Week, which spotlights seniors and the contributions they bring to the labor force. During this week, employers are encouraged to recognize the rich potential seniors bring to the workplace and to profit from their broad experience and strong work ethic.

During the week of Sept. 22, the nation is encouraged to focus upon the important contributions of senior workers who offer experience, dependability, reliability and dedication. The week is also an opportunity to recognize the employers of older workers who establish age-friendly work environments by training, recruiting and retaining qualified older workers.

In Haskell, the week was observed with a ceremony at the Experienced Citizens Center honoring Experience Works employee, Lona Mae Phelps, who works for the Texas Department of Human Services as a clerical assistant.

Experience Works is a national, non-profit organization that provides training and employment services for mature workers. Established in 1965 as Green Thumb, and renamed Experienced Works in 2002, the organization reaches more than 125,000 mature individuals in all 50 states and Puerto Rico each year.

Opening in 121 primarily rural Texas counties, Experience Works gives older, economically-disadvantaged job seekers the opportunity of sharing their years of experience, hard work, and dedication through training assignments with local community-based organizations. Through their participation, the seniors maintain their independence as productive contributors to their communities and profit from job-skills training which allows for transition back into private sector employment.

Field Operations Coordinator Wendy Brown of Waco said Experience Works is in the process of hiring an additional worker for the Experienced Citizens Center of Haskell. Bobbie Hendricks will soon be employed there as a kitchen and dining room aide.

SENIOR WORKER HONORED—Celebrating Older Worker Week in Haskell in recognition of the Experience Works Program were: l-r, Haskell County Judge, David Davis, Experienced Citizens Center director, Jennabeth Kimbrough, Experience Works Field Operations Coordinator, Wendy Brown and Experience Works employee Lona Mae Phelps, who works for the Texas Department of Human Services as a clerical assistant.

Misty McMeans
 RN, BSN

Dear Misty:

Q: I have been caring for my ill husband for four years. The demands are so great for providing for him and at times I feel as if I don't know where to turn. How can I take good care of him and do something for myself?

A: "When one is sick, two need help," is the motto of the Well Spouse foundation, an organization dedicated to the support of that wife or husband whose spouse is disabled or chronically ill. Groups such as this, as well as many others, including the American Diabetes Association, the American Heart Association, and the Alzheimer's Association can offer support and resources that may make a huge difference in the day-to-day lives of those dealing with the care of ill family members. You may contact these organizations directly or ask your doctor or home care nurse for more information.

Q: My father had a stroke in November. He was in the hospital for one week and then went to a rehabilitation unit for three weeks. His left arm is very weak, and he is not doing all the things at home that he did in the rehabilitation hospital. Can he get better or is this something he must accept after having a stroke?

A: Often times, patients can continue making progress and regain more independence at home following a stroke (CVA). Physical therapy services may evaluate the patient at home when ordered by a physician. Following evaluation, the therapist will visit the patient's home on a regular basis to reach established goals which may include strengthening, independent functioning and a safer environment.

What questions regarding home care do you have for the nurse? Send your questions to Haskell Home Health Agency, 417 S. First, Haskell, TX 79521 or call 940-864-5074 or 1-877-864-5074.

Local cotton research facility part of tour

The Delta and Pine Land Company of Haskell, a cotton research center directed by senior breeder Gary L. Rea, Ph. D. of Rolling Plains Cotton Research, was host on Fri., Sept. 19 to the Cotton Breeder's Tour of the Texas High Plains.

Arriving at the local facility at 10:30 a.m. after a six day tour of other textile, delinting, and experimental stations over a wide area, the group made up of persons from across the nation and other countries, including Greece and Australia, was led by Cotton Breeder's Tour host Dr. John Gannaway, cotton breeder for Texas Tech University. The Haskell native is the son of Lucille and the late Maurice Gannaway, and brother of Haskell banker, Andy Gannaway.

Delta and Pine Land Company employee, Randy Kuehler of Haskell, led a tour of the facility's cotton gin and four-row planter.

The local research center breeds cotton varieties for the best growing conditions across the world. It's purpose is to breed varieties that are disease resistant, high-yielding and have quality fiber for the Rolling Plains. They plant test plots in Altus, Oklahoma, Munday, Inadale, San Angelo and in Haskell.

Kuehler said they mostly use their gin for samples they take from their yield test plots. This year, they will take a sample from about 6,300 of their 9,500 plots. A sample is weighed, ginned, the lint is weighed and the seed is weighed. The seed is discarded and about 10 ounces of the lint is sent to the lab to find the quality of the fiber.

The center also gins samples from progeny rows, which are single row

30 foot plots. From about 2,500 progeny plots, they keep and gin about 500 of them. Each row plot will weigh about 20 pounds. After ginning these, they hold onto the seed and send 10.03 ounces of cotton to the lab. Out of the 500 plots they gin, they will replant about 120 of them the following year.

A chuck wagon lunch was served the tour group before they departed for Lubbock.

ON COTTON RESEARCH TOUR—Dr. John Gannaway of Texas Tech, center in white cap, host of the Cotton Breeder's Tour, and Randy Kuehler of Delta and Pine Land Company of Haskell, answer questions, Sept. 19, concerning the 4-row cotton planter on display at the local research center.

LOOKING AT THE GIN—Two members of the Cotton Breeders Tour look over the cotton gin at Delta and Pine Land Company's Rolling Plains Research Center, during the tour's stop in Haskell.

Spaghetti Supper set Fri., Oct. 10

The Progressive Study Club will hold its annual Chicken Tetrazzini Supper at the Haskell High School cafeteria during Haskell Homecoming weekend, Fri., Oct. 10, from 5:00 to 8:00 p.m.

The popular event is the club's only fund raiser to help with their contribution gifts to local civic, state, and national projects. In the past these have included scholarships for graduating area seniors, Memorial Civic Center, Haskell County Library, Senior All Night Party, Cemetery fund, Cancer and Heart Associations, American Legion Boy and Girl, recognition of government and law enforcement offices, Noah Project, Goodfellows, A Day to Remember observance and various local programs presented on educational, community and world needs. In addition, the club participates in Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Mesquite District, and General Federation of Women's Clubs projects.

Tickets for the supper are $6.00 for adults, $3.00 for children under 12. They may be purchased from any club member or at the door. Pre-purchase will help in determining number to be planned for.

Appreciative of the community's continued support of their annual supper, the Progressive Study Club is planning for another large turn out during Homecoming this year

The bride wore an A-line gown with halter top and train. Her long, sheer veil featured a floral design, and her silver tiara was beaded in white. State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Mike Cox

Senators return but no honeymoon for 3rd session

AUSTIN—It's not as if attack helicopters bristling with missiles were circling the Capitol looking for opposition leaders, but all is still not peace and love in the reunited Texas Senate.

When the third-called special session began on Sept. 15, lawmakers started talking about congressional redistricting again. That's something they had not done for 45 days while all but one and then all but two of the Senate Democrats added to the population of Albuquerque, N.M. But the reconciliation has certainly not blossomed into a second honeymoon for Democrats and Republicans.

Beyond the issue of new congressional boundaries, senators from the two parties are not yet in agreement about the $57,000 in fines faced by each of the Democrats who fled Texas to break the quorum. Neither did these senators have their reserved parking places back. Nor did their staffs have floor access restored. And subscriptions to their hometown newspapers had been canceled. (Not that they could write home for news. Republicans also ended postage privileges for the Democrats.)

Though those issues were expected to be resolved sooner than redistricting, it's obviously going to be a while before it's business as usual in the upper chamber of the Legislature.

One slight silver lining: By being back in session, lawmakers are going to be able to clean up some legislation they passed during the spring.

Since none of the problems were big enough to have warranted a special session of their own, that's a slight bonus for Texans. Otherwise, the tweaking would have had to wait until the next regular session in 2005.

Dollars to doughnuts...

Remember the verse? "It's dollars to doughnuts at our State Fair..." Forty years ago, Hollywood turned a musical about the State Fair of Texas into a movie. And nearly that long ago, the Texas Department of Agriculture has been filling the Food and Fiber booth at the fair with exhibits about Texas foods.

The fair opens Sept. 26 and continues through Oct. 19. Last year, 2 million people checked out Texas products at the agriculture department's extensive display.

A less pleasant sign of fall...

The Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission is reminding Texas youngsters that the agency and Texas law enforcement in general have zero tolerance for drinking by minors.

Anyone under 21 caught in possession of alcoholic beverages, or drinking and driving, faces a fine of up to $500, a mandatory alcoholic awareness course, up to 40 hours of community service and suspension of the driver license for up to two months.

But the agency clearly would prefer talking minors out of doing something dangerous and potentially costly. TABC is planning an educational outreach effort to discourage illegal use of alcohol. For details, visit the agency's Web site at www.tabc.state.tx.us.

In addition, TABC enforcement chief Greg Hamilton encourages anyone with information about underage drinking or planned underage drinking parties to contact the agency at 1-888-THE-TABC.

DPS graduates new troopers...

TABC agents won't be the only ones out this fall looking for people who have had too much to drink or who should not have been drinking in the first place.

The Department of Public Safety graduated 160 new troopers earlier this month. The new state police officers will fill most of the 170 additional trooper slots approved for the regular session.

The new troopers underwent a half-year of law enforcement training, receiving instruction in everything from terrorism to Spanish.

Drinnon joins HSU staff

Glenda Drinnon of Haskell has joined the Hardin-Simmons University Academic Advising Center as coordinator for students with disabilities.

A Hardin-Simmons graduate with a master's degree as an educational diagnostician, Drinnon retired from the Haskell public school system after working as an educational diagnostician for 12 years and teaching for 11 years.

She and her husband, Cleatus Drinnon, who is also an HSU graduate, have four children and nine grandchildren. The couple attends the Cornerstone Baptist Fellowship in Haskell.

Drinnon enjoys computer work and being with her grandchildren.

"I have a deep love for Hardin-Simmons," she said of her association with the Center.

Quail Odyssey tour set in Oct.

by Brandon Anderson
Haskell Co. Extension Agent

Texas Cooperative Extension is sponsoring a "Quail Odyssey" through eight top West Texas quail-producing counties each Thursday in October.

Dates and counties involved include: Oct. 2, Scurry/Fisher Counties; Oct. 9, Coke/Tom Green Counties; Oct. 16, Coleman County; Oct. 23, Stonewall County; and Oct. 30, Shackelford/Taylor Counties.

Dr. Dale Rollins, San Angelo-based Extension wildlife specialist and odyssey coordinator, said the five tours are intended as a series.

"We'll be touring some of the best quail properties anywhere in the U.S.," said Rollins. Some tour sites are 'finished products' while others are just starting, so participants will be able to see operations from planning stages through completion. Each site will offer instructive lessons in quail management for any quail manager.

"Quail management is an art based on scientific principles. We'll see various landowners' creativity in habitat management, including brush sculpting, prickly pear management, and grazing management. Other management practices like supplemental feeding and predator control will also be discussed.

"Webster defines an odyssey as 'a long wandering or voyage usually marked by several changes of fortune' or as 'an intellectual quest.' Both definitions are appropriate conquests for aspiring West Texas quail managers."

Rollins said the series is intended to be a "brown-bag" affair. As such, there won't be any registration fees. Donations to support ongoing quail research efforts and the Bobwhite Brigade Wildlife Leadership Camp will be accepted. Participants are asked to bring along their lunch, refreshments, and a folding chair.

"Quail numbers are up nicely over most of West Texas this year," said Rollins. "This may be the best year we've seen since 1987. Our goal for the tour is to take advantage of this momentum and build on it. Good quail management shines in dry years, not in wet ones."

The quail manager's goal should be to sustain quail numbers at hunting numbers through the tough times while the not-so-good managers' hunters are sitting home watching the Cowboys play football on TV."

Ranches on the tour include: Wild Wings Ranch, Scurry County; Aiken Ranch, Fisher County; Bond Ranch, Coke County; Angelo State University Management Instruction and Research Center, Tom Green County; Codorniz Ranch, Tom Green County; Brown and Big 6 Ranches, Coleman County; Snipes and Box P Ranches, Stonewall County; Rio 42 Ranch, Shackelford County; Ramsey Ranch and Hailey Ranch, Taylor County.

Three retire at local TxDOT plant

Bennie Harvey, Erlinda Mayfield and James McFadden, three Abilene district employees who worked in the Haskell County maintenance section, were among 30 from across the 13-county Abilene District who took advantage of the state's retirement incentive and retired on Aug. 31.

Together Harvey, Mayfield and McFadden had a combined total of 68 years and three months of service to the State of Texas when they retired from the Texas Department of Transportation.

Harvey, a maintenance technician, started his TxDOT career in Haskell County in March 1978 and remained in that section throughout the years. Although his supervisors said there wasn't much of anything Harvey couldn't do when it came to roadway maintenance, his specialty was performing as a maintainer operator. He retired with 26 years, three months of service to TxDOT.

Mayfield, the Haskell County office manager, had 11 years, five months of service to her credit when she retired. She joined TxDOT in June 1994 and remained in that position throughout her career. Mayfield had previously worked for the Texas Department of Health.

McFadden, assistant supervisor for the Haskell County maintenance section, retired following a 30-year, seven month career with the Department. He started working for TxDOT as a maintenance technician in January 1973 in Haskell County and remained there throughout his career. McFadden worked his way up the ladder holding many positions including being selected as a crew chief in 1991. In 1995 he was named to his present position.

A 1966 graduate of Haskell High School, Harvey is the son of Jack and Alta Faye Harvey of Haskell. Harvey and his wife Connie have two grown children, Paul and Paula.

A member of the East Side Baptist church, Harvey enjoys fishing and hunting.

Mayfield, a native and lifetime resident of Weinert, is a 1961 graduate of Weinert High School and a graduate of Western Texas College in Snyder. In addition to her job with the Health Department earlier in her career, she worked as a secretary for the First National Bank of Munday, a substitute school teacher and a part time tax collection agent for Weinert School district before joining TxDOT.

She is married to Haskell County Commissioner Tiffen Mayfield and they have two married sons, Mondy and Mitch, and one granddaughter, Madison, eight years old.

Mayfield lists reading, crafts, gardening and traveling as her hobbies. Asked what her retirement plans are, she said, "Play with the grandkid, do some yard work, read, aggravate the world and probably hunt a job."

A Haskell native who enjoys camping, fishing and traveling, McFadden graduate from Haskell High School in 1961. He is the son of Jim and the late Argie McFadden of Haskell.

McFadden is married to the former Carol Fullen of Modesto, California, and they have six married children: Jama, Gregory, Treacia, Devona, Aaron, and Thresa, and 14 grandchildren.

An active member of the Haskell First Assembly of God, the retiree's plans are to travel, fish, spend time with his children and grandchildren and work in his church.

Harvey, Mayfield and McFadden were honored along with the other district retirees on Aug. 22 at a retirement ceremony in Abilene.

Fannie May Barton's daughter, Kaye Derrick and friend, Audrey Crist, came from Fort Worth to Haskell Sept. 10 for Fannie May's birthday. Thursday morning they went to Weinert and picked up Erma Liles and the four went to Ruidoso and Cloudcroft, N.M. for three days of sight-seeing and birthday celebration. They returned to Haskell Sunday afternoon and took Erma back to Weinert, then Audrey, Kaye and Fannie May went to Fort Worth.

On Monday morning, Kaye took Fannie May to Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth where they met Mike and Jo McGuire from Cornerstone Baptist Fellowship, Haskell and several of the ministry team, directors consultants and film directors from the Southern Baptist of Texas Convention officers from Irving to make a video film of Fannie May speaking in behalf of the annuity board of the Southern Baptist of Texas Convention to be shown in Corpus Christi at the annual meeting Oct. 27-28. A surprise birthday gift to Fannie May was a recording of her favorite gospel songs from Biggon and Glenda Drinnon for Jo and Mike to play in the car on the return trip to Haskell.

On Sept. 19-20 ten ladies from Cornerstone Baptist Fellowship and Erma Liles from Weinert Baptist Church met with the Elmcreech Baptist Church ladies retreat at Abilene at Big Country Baptist Assembly at Lueders for a meeting.

This Week's Devotional Message:

FAITH WILL GIVE YOU PATIENCE FOR TODAY'S WORLD

In this age of instant foods and virtually everything else, we often clamor for the immediate fulfillment of all our wishes as a matter of course. Patience has nearly become a lost art because we seem to have so little need of it in this push-button era. However, faith in God will not only help you regain your patience, but will let you know if the rapid results you have come to expect are really worthwhile attaining. There may be no such thing as instant success, but there is an instant faith which will direct you toward it in the proper manner. It's as near as your church.

Wolves stay undefeated by downing Haskell

Although the Wolves howled last Friday night, the Haskell Indians showed their 'never say die' attitude by scoring the final TD of the evening.

Late in the fourth quarter, and with the Wolves of Colorado City operating from their own 15-yard line, defensive lineman Raymon Cuellar of the Indians, hit hard on CC's running back Otis Johnson, causing the pigskin to become a loose object. Alertly, Haskell's linebacker, Aaron New, recovered the football to give the Indians a last chance effort to cross into pay dirt. The Indians put together a 5-play, 20-yard drive to score with only 3:15 left in the game.

Facing second down and five yards to go for a TD, the Indian quarterback, Brandon McClatchey, hit wide receiver, Ronald Chapman on an aerial strike to give the Indians their score of the ball game. The try for the extra point, via the kick, failed. Final score was Haskell 6-Colorado City 26.

The Haskell Indians started the ball game against the undefeated Colorado City Wolves on a dominate note. On the Indian's second possession, Haskell moved from their own 43 yard line on 10 plays to reach the CC's 14 yard line. There, with 4th down and 8 yards to go for a first down, the Indians attempted a 31 yard field goal, but were unsuccessful. On the last play of the quarter, Colorado City hit a 25 yard pass to put the ball at the Indian's 10 yard line.

Four plays later, Colorado City tacked on a TD when tailback Jacobie Russell ran the final four yards. Tyler Kelly kicked the PAT. The Wolves scored their second TD with Russell going 23 yards for the "touch" at the 5:48 mark of the quarter. Kelly again kicked the PAT.

On the next series by the Wolves, fullback Kenneth Scott scored on a one-yard plunge. The third quarter of this non-district game saw both teams striving to dominate. The Indian defense stopped and set back the Wolves on three straight plays when the Wolves seemed about to score from the 5 yard line. The Wolves had to settle for a 30-yard field goal try which was no good. Colorado City's quarterback Bryan Proctor added the final points of the game with a one-yard QB sneak. Final score-Haskell 6, Colorado City 26.

Indian quarterback, McClatchey had 16 carries for 29 yards; Josh Barbee, running back, got 63 yards on 13 carries; running back L. J. McCulloch had five yards on one carry; Holton Hernandez got 15 yards on four carries, and Julio Solano got five yards on one carry. McClatchey was 3 of 7 with one interception and one TD throw in the passing game. Wide receiver Ronald Chapman had the lone TD catch of 5 yards. Hernandez had one catch for 5 yards and McCulloch had one catch for 7 yards.

Ronald Chapman was named the defensive player of the game. Ramon Cuellar was named the offensive player of the week.

Haskell will return home to Indian Field Friday night when they host the Hamlin Pied Pipers. Kick off time is 7:30.

The Indian JV team downed the JV Wolves 32-6. The 8th grade Warriors put the hurt on Colorado City, 38-6, while the 7th grade Warriors went down in defeat, 0-30. All three sub-varsity teams see action Thursday in Hamlin. Games start at 4:00.

Indians Coach Brad Brunson said, "The boys played hard Friday night. The 2nd quarter hurt us. Defensively, we are beginning to make strides. We have continued to improve the last three games and we must work hard this week to get ready for the Pipers."
