DOWNTOWN PARK is turned into a winter wonderland by blanket of snow on statue, trees and shrubs Saturday about noon. However, it was not for long. When the snow stopped about 2:30 Ozona youngsters were out in force with snow fights and the building of snowmen the order of the day. (Bill Dudley Photo)

Winter Snow Storm Brings Halt To Ozona Activities

An unusual winter snow storm almost brought activities in Ozona to a standstill Saturday morning and for much of the day, as the white flakes covered everything in sight. Reports range from 4 to 6 inches of snowfall.

Motorists living atop the hills surrounding Ozona found the going down slippery and the going up impossible. Some abandoned their autos and braved the blizzard, while others decided to stay in town until relief came. By 3:00 p.m. county road graders had cleared the snow from most of the roads and temperatures rose to an above freezing 36 degrees for the high for the day.

The snow began about 8 a.m. Saturday morning and by 10 o'clock visibility was down to zero. The only motorists able to travel with any degree of safety were those with 4-wheel drive vehicles.

Due to the weather all Ozona High School basketball games were called off Friday night. The Lionettes were to travel to Sanderson and the Lions were scheduled for a District game with Kermit, here.

Only the Sonora teams were able to make it to the eighth grade tournament here Saturday. The tournament was scheduled for four teams, but the weather made it impossible for the other teams to make it.

As the temperatures rose and dropped again, an ice layer formed underneath the snow, causing really hazardous road conditions. This, combined with heavy fog was responsible for many minor fender-bender accidents, but there were no major wrecks as traffic was almost at a standstill.

The blanket of snow still covered the town as the sun came out Sunday, but as temperatures climbed most of the snow was melted by mid-afternoon.

A previous cold front, which hit the area Friday brought brief flurries of snow mixed with sleet. But with temperatures in the 20's the white substance literally blew away.

For those who enjoyed the weekend of snow, according to the weather bureau there was more on the way Tuesday afternoon. However, at noon Tuesday, Ozona was enjoying bright sunshine with a temperature of 60 degrees and it hardly seemed possible.

District Judge Williams To Seek Elected Term To Post

Judge Troy Williams authorized the press to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of 112th Judicial District Court.

Judge Williams was appointed July 16, 1977 to the vacancy created when Charles E. Sherrill resigned. Judge Williams states that he is actively trying cases in an all out attempt to clear the dockets in the four county district and has heard and ruled on nearly 200 cases since assuming office. He states that January and February are Civil Jury months and he is hearing jury cases in the different counties throughout the district; he is enjoying the work, and especially enjoys meeting people in the area, renewing old acquaintances and making new ones.

Prior to his appointment Judge Williams was County Judge of Crockett County for almost 7 years.

A native Texas, born in Panola County near the Sabine River, Judge Williams came to Crockett County in 1931, graduating from Ozona High School in 1934. It was in the depression so there was no opportunity to go to college at that time. He worked in the family grocery, then entered the ranching business and still operates ranches in Crockett County in partnership with his two sons. He also engaged in the construction business and was an auto dealer for a number of years.

Entering college at Angelo State University in 1963 he commuted from the ranch for 4 years. Receiving a BBA degree in 1967 from ASU, he immediately entered Law School at the University of Texas graduating in January 1970. Judge Williams was admitted to the practice of law in December 1969 and practiced in Ozona until he took the bench as District Judge.

Judge Williams is a Baptist, a long time member of the Ozona Lions Club, member of the Ozona and Ft. Stockton Chambers of Commerce, is on the Board of Directors of Baptist Memorial Geriatrics Center of San Angelo, Paisano Baptist Encampment, is an assistant Superintendent of the Cattle Division of the San Angelo Stock Show, and is active in other civic and community activities.

Judge Williams is running for re-election on his public record and asks for the consideration and support of all voters in the District.

Water Dist. Directors Returned Sat.

Both members of the Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District were returned to office in balloting Saturday, which saw very few voters braving the weather to go to the polls.

J.W. Johnigan and Lowell Littleton were re-elected with 27 votes each and no opposition. Twenty-seven was the total vote cast.

January 31 Is Final Day For Ranchers

Crockett County ranchers are reminded that January 31, is the final day to apply for emergency feed assistance, turn in worksheets for those who have already applied, and the final day to file application for incentive payments for wool or unshorn lambs sold during the 1977 marketing year.

OHS Basketball Teams Break Even For Week

By Gregg Perry
The Ozona basketball teams broke even with a 2-2 record last week.

What do you do when you're 6 ft. 2 and play basketball for the Ozona Lions? Douglas Bean's answer to that question was to score 25 points as the Lions defeated the Wall Hawks in a true heart-thumper, 62-60. Following Douglas' tremendous effort was Clair McDaniel with 11 points. Both teams played super basketball as they scored in double figures all four quarters. It seemed as though it was going to go the Hawks way during the first half, having the Lion's down 13-16 in the first quarter and 28-33 at the half. Then in the third quarter, the Lions exploded for 19 points to tie the game at 47. Finally, in the closing minutes, the Lions pulled ahead to stay.

The girls varsity didn't have quite as good luck as they were beaten by Wall 50-78. It was a battle of height vs. quickness, with Wall having the first, and Ozona the latter. But it just wasn't the Lionettes night to hit from the field. High points for the girls were Lori Clayton and Sheri Cole, both with 12. Ruth DeLaRosa stood second with 10.

The JV boys met about the same luck as the varsity girls did against Wall, despite a 16 point effort by Shane Fenton. Their final score was 39-44. Aldo Delgado took second high point honors with 6.

The JV girls took the second win over Wall by a sound 33-23 score. High point for the Lionettes was Molly Womack with 13. Lisa Holt and Gloria Rodarte held second with 6.

Due to the weather that hit Ozona last weekend, the scheduled boy's games against Kermit were moved to last Tuesday, and scores will be available next week. Also, this Friday, the boys will play Sonora there for their third district game starting at 5:00. The freshman boys are scheduled to play Big Lake here this Thursday and Sonora here next Monday.

For the girls, the Sanderson game last weekend was cancelled. Last Tuesday, they traveled to Snyder, and this Friday they will travel with the boys to Sonora.

Twenty-three persons were in attendance at the businessmen's breakfast Tuesday morning at the Circle Bar Truck Corral. First in a series, sponsored by the Ozona Chamber of Commerce. Purpose of the meeting was to determine if the merchants were willing to work together to better serve Ozona consumers.

Don Stebbins, an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, spoke to the group, pointing out that retail merchants are important in providing jobs and helping a community's economy.

The group unanimously agreed that additional meetings should be held to develop plans to assist Ozona's economy.

A FABLE

Once upon a time a rich and generous king ruled over a large and wealthy country. The king was gracious and invited the few poor people in his realm to come to his palace once a year and help themselves to his gold and silver reserves. When they came, the king had his courtiers set the trays before them.

These good people had been trained in honesty. They believed the Ten Commandments and did not feel it right to take more than modest sums.

It came to pass that after a few years, other joined them in the annual procession to the king's palace. As the number of takers increased and the amount each one took also began to grow larger, the king's reserves were being reduced more and more. Some who took modest amounts in the beginning, saw others taking more. This encouraged them to dip into the king's reserves a little more heavily. As these were reduced more and more, the king began to worry about the future. His ministers told him the people were becoming more demanding, threatening at times, and even assuming that they had a right to the gold, and were clamoring for it in ever-larger amounts. Fearing an uprising, the king resorted to borrowing money in order to keep up his largess to the people.

After a few years, he found it impossible to borrow more money. As the mob became more threatening, he installed huge printing presses in the basement of his palace and started printing paper money. Each time he printed a new round, the value of the paper money dropped lower and lower. After a generation, it was down to only 20 percent of par. This caused great murmuring and dissatisfaction among the people and they felt they were entitled to take even more each time, to make up for the loss in value.

The mob was led by a rabble-rousing, leather-lunged artist who, at length, succeeded in overthrowing the king and making himself the dictator. The kind but misguided king was succeeded by a cruel taskmaster. To the surprise of the people, the new dictator chose a cabinet of powerful men and ordered them back to work if they wished to eat. Food tickets were issued and anyone who spoke against the regime or made any trouble received fewer food tickets or none at all.

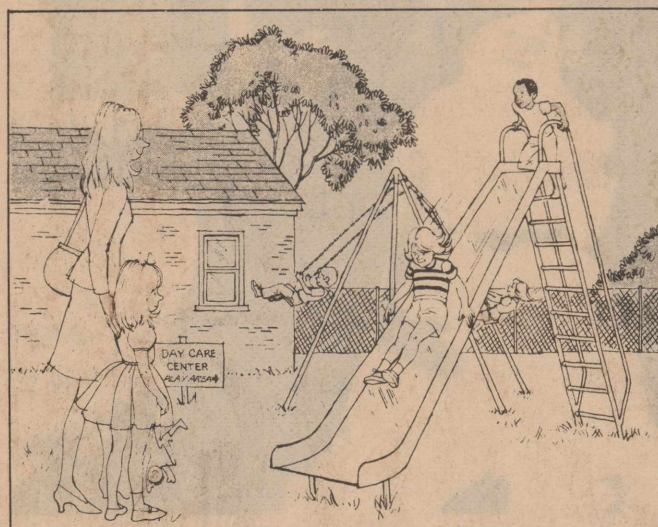

The farms were collectivized, the mines nationalized, and the larger industries placed under government management. Jobs were assigned and the people dared not object and had little to say about where they would work, what they would do, and what they would be paid. All adverse comment was stopped and nothing could be published until it had the stamp of the censor upon it. The standard of living declined to a bare subsistence level for most people, and to starvation for a large number of old and incompetent, and people without skills, initiative or strength.

After a short while, the schools were nationalized and the churches were closed. This harsh regime persisted for many years until finally after a long, long time the people began to assert a few of their former rights. At this point, they greatly restricted the franchise to people who were contributing to the country in an important way by some trade, profession or business. It was not deemed proper for those who contributed nothing to the common wealth of the country to decide by vote how much they were going to take from the wealth created by others.

As private schools were reactivated, courses in the principles of free market economics were taught to all young people. The people in general decided that their children must never become a prey to the economic ignorance that had made them victims of the Marxist philosophy spouted by the rabble-rousing mob leader.

The children were required to study hard and to pass examinations not only in the eight common branches, but in the principles of economics as well.

The country was thus launched upon a period of prosperity based on sound money and sound economics.

AUSTIN — Campaign spending by statewide candidates appears to be moving toward a new record.

The first half dozen reports filed with the secretary of state by statewide candidates showed contributions of more than $1.5 million and spending of $1.3 million before the election year ever began.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe topped the list in 1977 fundraising and spending. Seeking a third term, Briscoe said he had received contributions of more than $800,000 and had spent about the same amount.

His spending more than doubled that of Attorney General John L. Hill, who seeks the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Hill reported contributions of $536,032 during 1977 and pre-campaign outlays of $335,400.

Candidates in the U.S. Senate race were not included in the early filings. They report to federal authorities.

Attorney General Candidate Price Daniel Jr. far outdistanced Mark White Jr., the other Democratic contender, in contributions and expenditures.

Briscoe applied $208,409 of his 1977 take toward retiring his personal campaign deficit which once was above $1 million. He put a lot of his own money into his gubernatorial races of 1968, 1972 and 1974.

Sun Setting?

The sun may be setting on the state agencies which deal with the pesky pink bollworm, burial association rates, vehicle safety, pesticides and a Stonewall Jackson memorial.

But the Texas Navy is still afloat.

The new Sunset Commission, which is reviewing agencies to see if they should be continued or allowed to expire, examined staff reports last week on the six mentioned above.

Of the group, Texas Navy Inc., a kind of non-profit corporation promoting the Texas Navy and handing out honorary admiral's commissions, was the only one recommended for continuation.

The others, the commission staff found, have outlived their usefulness or, as is the case with the Stonewall Jackson Memorial Board, never really came into being.

Staff findings will be subject to a public hearing February 20-21. Under the Sunset Act of 1977, unneeded state agencies are to be terminated or consolidated following review and a chance to justify their activities.

Tests Approved

A new program to test 100,000 Texas students on reading, writing, arithmetic and citizenship has been approved by the State Board of Education.

Achievement tests will be given in April to pupils selected from elementary, junior high and high schools in every region.

About $708,000 is budgeted for the tests.

Results will be tabulated by regions and statewide. The program is expected to judge levels of achievement for comparison with national averages and for use in efforts to improve learning in the public school system.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court in a San Antonio case held banks do not have to accept unsolicited deposits for a checking account.

The 14th Court of Civil Appeals at Houston reversed a lower court temporary injunction halting Nazi party telephone recordings offering rewards to whites who kill non-whites who are attacking them.

In a split decision, throwing out a rape indictment in Orange County, the Court of Criminal Appeals held statutes of limitation continue to run though charges are filed in courts which cannot try them.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a Dallas County probation revocation because the state was not required to identify an informant in a heroin sale case.

The State Supreme Court directed a new trial of a long-running dispute between a Waco water supply corporation and a contractor who allegedly put down a faulty pipe.

An order granting a charter for City Savings Association in League City was upheld by the Supreme Court.

AG Opinion

The state is required to purchase available products and services from non-profit agencies for the blind at the fair market price set by the Texas Committee on Purchases of Blind-Made Products and Services, Attorney General John Hill has held.

Windfall Seen

New Social Security Act amendments may bring a $5.8 million windfall to the Texas treasury, according to the National Conference of State Legislatures.

The changes call for fiscal aid to state and local governments who handle aid to families with dependent children.

But no local governments administer welfare in Texas, so all aid from the amendments will be channeled to the State Department of Human Resources. The windfall will go toward meeting a deficit which had been projected.

Short Snorts

Nominations for purchase of Texas crude oil next month are 3,022,125 barrels a day, with additional demand for 571,515 barrels. The total is a decrease of 58,225 from January.

Lloyd W. Perkins of Sherman was named judge of the County Court at Law Number 2 of Grayson County.

SNIPS QUIPS AND LIFTS

A closed mouth gathers no food and an open mind, no prejudice.

Watch your thoughts, they become words; watch your words, they become actions; watch your actions, they become habits; watch your habits, they become character; watch your character, they become your Destiny!

January has not always been regarded as the first month in the calendar year. Until 153 B.C. it was considered the 11th month.

Always put off until tomorrow what you shouldn't do at all.

"Drinking coffee keeps me awake. Does it?"
"It sure does; I never could drink coffee while I was asleep."

The most difficult part of golf is learning not to talk about it.

You shouldn't fret if you found a lump of coal in your stocking-it means St. Nick was just wishing you a warm winter.

The real test of courtesy and restraint is to have an ailment just like the other guy is describing and not mention it.

"Don't worry" is a better motto if you add the word "others".

People would worry less about what other people thought of them if they only realized how little they do.

REACTIONS TO SNOW
The snow seemed to make an ordinary weekend a lot of fun. It is really fascinating how a little bit of snow can light up a whole lot of lives.

The weekend was spent making snow ice-cream, rolling in the snow, throwing snowballs, and then there were the snowmen. It's funny seeing the different shapes and sizes. One had big ears like that of 'Mickey Mouse' and another dressed for a party had a coat, pink pearl beads, a wig, and corsage.

There were snowball fights all over town and the "kid" even came out in some adults. Some mothers and fathers were seen building snowmen with their kids which eventually ended up in a snowball fight.

Some of the high school students became "Stockman Celebrities" when they built a Redneck snowman named "Frosty the Redneck." Others had their pictures taken by a local yokel while sliding down the interstate slab. A couple of Seniors entertained two OHS students, who were parking, by making donuts, figure eights, curly cues, etc. in a blue snowmobile.

There was a sign sticking in the snow by someone's "Frosty" saying "Thank God for the snow and pray that it won't melt." Well, it did.

BASKETBALL, YOU BET

Last week the JV girls and the Varsity boys beat Wall. Contral/Friday, the games were called off because of snow and ice but the games were re-scheduled.

Tuesday, the A and B girls played Snyder and the boys played their make-up game against the Kermit Yellow-jackets for the second district game of the season. Thursday, the Freshmen boys play Big Lake there. Good Luck!

Friday, the A and B girls and the A and B boys play the Sonora Broncos there in a district game. Corral 'em Lions and Lionettes!

We want to congratulate the 7th and 8th grade boys for winning their tournaments here the last two weeks! Keep up the good work!

OWER ALKS
by U.S. Senator for Texas
JOHN TOWER

WASHINGTON—One of America's best investments today is also one fewer and fewer Americans are able to afford: the single family home.

Consider a few revealing statistics on the costs associated with purchasing a new home just since 1970: Lumber prices have increased 70 per cent. Land costs have shot up 94 per cent. Financing costs are up a startling 215 per cent. If you're having trouble translating percentages into real costs, consider these dollars and cents statistics: Wood products have added $1,400 to the costs of a new home. Land costs have added $4,600. Financing added $3,400. Overhead has resulted in another $2,600 to the cost. Miscellaneous expenses besides labor and materials have added $2,200.

What it all amounts to is the shocking revelation that the median cost of a new home in today's real estate market is $54,000. Some estimates are that in just ten years, the average new home will top $115,000. Such figures are all the more troubling if you consider the fact that as recently as five years ago, the new home Americans dreamed of owning was about $25,000.

For many Americans, home ownership is the single most important investment they will make. The housing industry, moreover, represents a vital barometer of economic well-being, forecasting surges and declines in capital investment and jobs creation.

If the cost of a family home continues to outstrip the ability of the average American to pay for a new home, we can expect a downturn in housing starts because the cost of home ownership will have priced potential buyers out of the market.

The consequences to the economy under these circumstances would then be obvious: hope for improvement in unemployment and industrial growth would be bleak.

What's behind the inflation resulting in higher prices for everything from copper tubing to paint thinner? Government policy has a lot to do with it. By pursuing monetary policies that have allowed the money supply to grow too rapidly, and by pursuing fiscal policies that rely on massive deficit spending, government keeps the engine of inflation fueled and running.

Government is responsible for other costs as well. One study has concluded that excess government regulation adds up to 20 per cent to the cost of a new home. The study also revealed that, based on interviews with 2,000 builders, a $50,000 home built on a half-acre lot would include $9,800 in costs directly related to excess government requirements.

The same study asserted that reform of the process involved in housing would increase the number of families who could afford new homes by eight per cent.

An industry so important to the lives of Texans and all Americans, and to the economy, must not continue to be hamstrung by counterproductive government policies when the costs due to inflation are already high enough. America's investment in housing is much too important.

Tips
For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
by
Mrs. Bailey Post

It seems these warm, clear days, followed by freezing mists and cold winds has given us temperature fluctuations as predicted. Therefore it is important to protect newly planted trees and shrubs until warming trends of spring.

If you have vines climbing some of your trees and are not controlled, they will overrun them and deprive them of needed sunlight, causing damage or kill the tree. Vines such as the twining honeysuckle and English ivy can shade branches, and also girdle the trunk of a tree, gouging the bark. This interrupts the normal flow of moisture and nutrients just under the bark. Honeysuckle should be removed completely, but you can prevent damage by keeping ivy pruned so that it does not spread into the branches.

To keep indoor palms healthy and attractive, there is only one way-give them everything they need to stay that way, light, temperature, humidity and soil moisture.

The amount of light may well be the most important element in determining its success. A general rule is the brighter the light if filtered or indirect. Direct sunshine through window glass will cause most palms to turn brown.

Daytime temperature should range from 75 to 85 degrees, with a 65 to 75 degree range at night.

Humidity and soil moisture will be determined by changes in the humidity, temperature and amount of light. To help maintain a consistent soil moisture, add water only when the upper inch of soil has dried completely. Clay pots are helpful as they allow excess moisture to escape through the sides and bottom.

To continue the new rose list-"Pinata" a new climber, "Indy 500", a new grand-flora-flaming orange-red touched with smoky traces. "Hoosier Hysteria", a vigorous shrub rose that yields an abundance of red flowers-Armstrong nurseries announce two new roses, Allspice, a hybrid tea with yellow fragrant flowers and Gingersnap, a floribunda. It has large, pure orange double flowers up to 4 1/2 inches across. Miniature roses that are growing more popular for borders are: Heidi, Honest Abe, Minnie, Careless Moment, Twilight Beauty, Pink Shadow, Honey Moss, Lavender Jewel, Lemon Delight, Andrea, Strawberry Swirl, Climbing Lavender Lace, Born Free and Climbing Over the Rainbow.

DEBRA SAYS

by
Debra Price

Breakfast, as the etymologists tell us, is designed to break the fast from the previous night's meal and to satisfy the hearty new flare of appetite which marks the start of a new day.

Breakfast should supply many of the nutrients that are not stored in the body in large amounts-the protein of eggs, the B vitamins and iron in whole grain breads and cereals, the Vitamin C in citrus fruits. Breakfast also provides foods that are satisfying and have the staying power to hold us until lunch 4 to 5 hours later. Except on weekends, when the mood is festive and the family is free from the weekday world of responsibilities, most of us would not eat a lumberjack or cowboy's breakfast. Thus, the total caloric content of a nutritious weekday breakfast is likely not to exceed 300 to 500 calories. Proteins and carbohydrates are needed to avoid fatigue and to sharpen our wits.

Breakfast patterns to avoid are: The no-breakfast, the coffee, doughnut or Danish, and cigarette breakfast; no-citrus fruit, no-protein breakfast; the double breakfast, one at home and a second one at work; the substitute breakfast, the coffee break.

ORANGE BISCUITS
Bake 1 (8-ounce) package refrigerator biscuits as directed.

Topping-1 (6-ounce) can frozen orange juice concentrate, 1 cup sugar, 1/4 cup hot water and 4 tablespoons grated orange rind.
Combine all ingredients and heat in saucepan over high heat. Stir until thickened, about 12 minutes. Pour over biscuits and bake in 375 degrees (moderate) oven 5 minutes. May be served with heated Vienna sausage.

UPSIDE DOWN ORANGE FRENCH TOAST
3 tablespoons margarine
3 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 slices bread

Melt margarine in a 12-inch skillet. Stir in 2 tablespoons sugar, cinnamon and orange rind. Combine beaten egg, orange juice, remaining 1 tablespoon sugar and salt in a pie plate. Dip bread slices quickly into egg mixture, turning them to coat both sides. Arrange dipped slices on top of orange-sugar mixture in skillet. Cover and cook over low heat 10 minutes. Turn toast, adding more margarine if necessary. Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes longer. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

REMEMBER WHEN ...

... as a very small child, you trudged off to church tightly holding your mother's hand?

It was quite an event . . . you sat very straight . . . listening intently, wide-eyed . . . perhaps you did fidget a little during the sermon, but you thrilled to the wonderful music of the organ and the choir . . . and you proudly raised your own small voice in singing the hymns.

After the service, surrounded by all the smiling faces, you somehow felt good and happy, deep down inside. Yes, going to church was worthwhile.

Down through the years, you have come to realize, more and more, that your church can play an important part in your life, in the lives of those dear to you and in the life of your community. It can bring a message of goodwill and friendliness, of hope and courage . . . that you can't afford to shut out of your life.

Yes, going to church really is worthwhile.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas

Activities Program Director

We are happy that Beulah Baggett has been able to leave the hospital and is convalescing with us at the Care Center. She is now on her feet and determined to get completely well.

Finally, we have our piano tuned; it needed it so badly and now it is a joy to play and our residents all say they notice the tremendous difference.

Granny Carter is happy and smiling more than ever; her daughter, Lottie Davis, is now working at the Center so she sees her every day. Granny participated in our exercise program on Wednesday and appeared to enjoy it very much. In fact, the Wednesday morning session are becoming more popular each week, along with piano music and dancing to the stereo. Last time, before we knew it, we had worked up a thirst and appetite deluxe after one and one-half hours!

Wednesday evening, Thelma Janes and Judy Brown came and showed a film. If we can, we hope to obtain a film to show each week. We appreciate the time given by these volunteers.

Thursday afternoon we conducted our discussion group in the Day Room and had thirteen residents participating. I am trying to bring something educational to the group each week, and this time we studied the life style of right whales. This particular species is found off the Peninsula Valdes on the coast of Patagonia in southern Argentina, a remote and little-known frontier of natural wonders. In all probability we will continue our study of this area next Thursday as it evoked so much interest. One or two residents were still asking me questions about this the next day. In addition to the study, three residents dipped into my mystery can for subjects on which to voice an opinion.

Camille Montgomery drew "Tell about your most embarrassing moment", and she decided her most embarrassing moment was too embarrassing to tell! (Hm! Wonder if I will ever find out what it was!) Gordon Smith filled in with this describing a hair-raising experience back in Arkansas when a team of horses pulling a wagon ran away with him. Camille had another go and drew "If you were interviewed on T.V. what would you talk about?" She elected to talk about the management end of TV programming and Evelyn Bryant also had quite a lot to say about that one, too. The next subject drawn was "What do you remember about the Depression?" Eleanor Yeager shared her memories of Comanche County days, and several others chipped in on that one. Jessie Deaton quipped "there was always a depression!"

I am looking forward to our next session as I learn a lot, too. My source material for the right whale was gleaned from a National Geographic that was brought in with several others by Mrs. Dan Cullins. Thank you, Little Bit, we are putting them to good use. I can assure you. No one is ever too old to learn something new, myself included.

Doris Kilgore accompanied Liz Mary Pipes to our Bingo game on Friday morning and we are happy that she has joined the auxiliary. Last week I received notification that a subscription to "Crafts 'n Things" had been donated by Mrs. Chester Wilson. Thank you so much, Alma; we are looking forward to receiving our first pack. On Monday we continued with the Valentine door decorations. Have to really keep on the ball with innovative ideas because Eleanor Bradford keeps me in line with a critical eye! I'll get better, Eleanor, I promise!!!

Evelyn Bryant is really on a physical fitness streak—many mornings I find her busy cycling on our bicycle in the Day Room. Keep it up, Evelyn.

Air Force Offers Ed. Programs

Several Air Force educational programs provide a chance for in-service college attendance, according to Technical Sergeant Michael Allums, Air Force Recruiter here.

"For those interested in higher education," said T Sgt. Allums, "the Air Force has four programs to help them reach their goals. They include the Tuition Assistance Program, College Level Examination Program, Airmen Education and Commissioning Program, and the Community College of the Air Force."

The College Level Examination Program permits credit to be earned by examination only for selected courses, and is provided free to Air Force members.

Tuition Assistance is provided when an Air Force member enrolls for off-duty education courses at an accredited college or university. The Air Force pays up to 75 percent of tuition costs.

Under the AECF, selected airmen may complete degree requirements and earn a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force. The airman attends college full-time and draws the pay and allowances of at least a staff sergeant. Following graduation he or she attends a three-month Officer Training Program to fulfill commissioning requirements.

Community College of the Air Force programs involve a mix of Air Force and civilian instruction modeled after those found in two-year community colleges across the nation. Courses are based on Air Force technical training documented by the Community College along with successfully completed off-duty courses. When CCAF requirements are completed, an associate degree in applied sciences is awarded.

A new G.I. Bill, the Veteran's Education Assistance Program, allows members of the Air Force to make voluntary contributions of $50 to $75 per month toward furthering their education. Maximum contribution to the program is held to $2,700 for 36 months, and for each $1 contributed by the individual, the Government matches with a $2 contribution. Benefits accrued under the program may be used at any time after the first enlistment is complete, whether the individual is in the military or in civilian life.

For complete details on these and other Air Force opportunities, contact TSgt Mike Allums at his San Angelo office.

The first gasoline-engine taxicab, and the use of the first taximeter, appeared in 1907 in New York City. Today, according to The World Book Encyclopedia, there are about 164,000 taxis operating in the U.S.

Children And Electrical Safety

Practice electrical safety and protect children from potential hazards, says Dr. Carolyn McKinney, a family resource management specialist.

Remember, small children live on or near the floor within easy reach of electrical outlets. Their natural curiosity leads them to explore many potential hazards in the home, she continues.

Put plastic safety caps in unused electrical outlets to prevent children from sticking something into the outlets—and being shocked, the specialist suggest.

Also, unplug appliances at the wall outlet rather than at the appliance so that a child cannot harm himself with the open ends of connected cords.

Remove as many potential hazards as possible from the paths of small children.

Teach them that electrical things are not toys and not to touch switches or appliances with wet hands.

New Novel Inspired By Revolution

Largely ignored by historians, the failed insurrection of a group of Frenchmen in the colony of New Orleans back in the 1760's was the first concrete avowal of personal liberty on the North American continent. The blossoming growth and brutal suppression of these gallant romantics is the historical pivot for a new novel from Shoal Creek Publishers in Austin.

After years of cumulative research, teacher and writer Ilanon Moon has finally brought to completion her book "Twilight on the River." Revolving around the fictional character Gaston de la Mignet, a younger son of French nobility, this colorful novel explores the sentiments and events leading to the French colonists' refusal to be ceded to Spain and their subsequent move for self-government.

Besides being a vivid elucidation of a little known incident in history, "Twilight on the River" spins a romantic tale of its own. Gaston involves himself in the tangled paths of Marie, the blue-eyed charmer who dreams of Versailles; Juan Romero, the suave, glittering Spaniard up to his fingertips in intrigue; Lizette, the golden-haired daughter of a one-time French peasant; and Mezieres, their patient counselor.

These are all inhabitants of the frontier outpost of Natchitoches that guards French rights to the disputed Louisiana-Texas border. It is here that Gaston is exiled—with a land grant and the means for a profitable fur trade with the Orocquisac and Bidai Indians.

"Twilight on the River" then casts a fascinating look at wilderness life in colonial Louisiana, at the naive politicalization of raw, bustling New Orleans, and indirectly at the enervating decadence of Versailles. It is a troubling, often gripping tale about men and women pulled, struggling, between the tides of custom and change.

Plenty Of Demand For Fed Beef

There should be plenty of fed beef on hand to satisfy consumers during the year ahead, and consumer demand should also be up. "This points to a somewhat better year for cattle producers," says Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The amount of fed beef will generally be larger than in 1977, at least through the first half of the year, although the amount of "other" beef from cows and non-fed steers and heifers will be down from a year ago. "Demand should also be boosted in 1978 due to increases in Social Security payments, proposed tax reductions, changes in the Food Stamp Program, a substantial gain in minimum wages, and continued growth in the general economic activity of the country," contends Uvacek.

What should cattlemen expect in the new year? "Fed cattle prices may weaken a bit during the first calendar quarter but should gather strength by the middle of the second quarter," believes the specialist. "Lowest prices could come by late March and highest prices in June or July. Feeder cattle should follow about this same price pattern. Plenty of rain this spring could cause producers to temporarily overprice feeder types."

Consult Nutrition Sources, Avoid Fatal Food-Fad Traps

Consult a variety of nutrition sources and avoid the sometimes fatal $600 million a year food-fad trap, a foods and nutrition specialist says. Consumers not only waste money following food-fad practices, but they support harmful poor nutrition when they follow fads, Mary K. Sweeten continues.

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

By consulting a variety of sources, each consumer can learn to recognize food fads and their possible danger. Some food fads are dangerous, contributing to malnutrition, unnecessary surgery and even death, she warns.

Thirty-one deaths thus far are the direct result of liquid protein diets, according to the Disease Control Center in Atlanta, Ga.

Also, taking massive doses of vitamin A can cause symptoms like those of a brain tumor—and that might lead to unnecessary surgery.

Results of following other food fads are less serious, but even these encourage irrational nutrition practices that might be acting as "poor substitutes" for sound nutrition habits.

"A food fad is a misconception that people accept as fact," Mrs. Sweeten says.

Two sources of these misconceptions are the food fallacy and food quack, she adds.

"False or mistaken ideas about foods and nutrition are termed food fallacy."

"For example, the idea that adults do not need milk is a fallacy. Adults do need milk, milk products or other sources of calcium to keep strong bones."

"In addition, a food quack is one who has little or no foundation in foods and nutrition but who pretends to have knowledge and skill in the field."

"These quacks take facts out of context and draw the wrong conclusion. They fail to report the total facts," she explains.

"For example, the quack might say that phytates in cereals, or oxalates in spinach or chocolate, tie up calcium; therefore, they say, they are bad and should be avoided."

"In truth, it would take vast amounts of these substances at one time to make a significant difference in the amount of calcium absorbed," Mrs. Sweeten points out.

There are two types of food quacks—those who report about nutrition accidentally and those who report misinformation about nutrition intentionally, she says.

"The accidental quacks are those such as a scientist with a bias, scientists who misinterpret research of others, misinformed educators, health care personnel who are skilled only in their own field, and well-meaning friends, relatives and associates.

"These people do not really mean to spread misinformation."

On the other hand, some people spread misinformation intentionally, she adds.

"Some of these quacks are commercial publications that distort facts, self-instructed diet consultants working in specialty shops, advertizers and food promoters, and indiscriminate publishers and broadcasters," the specialist says.

To combat misinformation sources, nutritionists recommend that consumers try to keep abreast of as much information about food as they can. Just knowing about the many different viewpoints on food issues is a giant step toward sound nutrition, Mrs. Sweeten emphasizes.

Mrs. Sweeten suggests several nutrition information resources--

"List of Nutrition References and Book Reviews" compiled by the Chicago Nutrition Association may be purchased from the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill. 60610.

The American Dietetic Association offers assistance in determining the reliability of a reference. Their address is ADA, 420 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60610.

Various federal agencies such as the Food and Drug Administration, and the United States Department of Agriculture can also be of help.

"The Journal of Nutrition Education" reviews many nutrition books. This reference is available at local libraries.

Locally, contact dietitians, some home economists, nutritionists or county Extension agents (home economics) for information on resources reliability.

Prepared by the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters, the national society of life insurance professionals who have earned the C.L.U. designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. Can my widow still collect Social Security if she receives monthly payments from my life insurance policy?

A. Yes. According to law, monthly life insurance payments will not disqualify your widow in any way from receiving her full Social Security payments. Monthly life insurance benefits do not count as earned income, regardless of how much is paid each month through a policy.

Antiques Are Enjoyment & Investment

Antiques can provide enjoyment today and outstanding investment tomorrow, says Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The value of antiques keeps on climbing while new furniture depreciates from the moment it leaves the store, she says.

They are equally at home in a contemporary or traditional setting.

In shopping for antiques, rely on a reputable antique dealer, who is the consumer's best asset, Mrs. Young says.

In comparing items, look for those that are in good condition, while avoiding excessively refinished pieces.

Also, remember that an antique is anything that was in existence one hundred years before the date of purchase.

RCC Names Airport Planning Meeting Crockett Field

The Texas Railroad Commission, Oil & Gas Division has announced designation for a field in District 7-C. It is the M.A.G. (Pennsylvanian) field of Crockett County opened Jan. 10 with completion of Texas Pacific Oil Co., Inc., Dallas, No. 1 State of Texas, 18 miles southeast of Rankin, to flow 143 barrels of 46 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1.399-1, through a 19/64-inch choke and perforations at 9,395-406 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the north and 560 feet from the west lines of 29-5-University.

A Texas Airport System Plan regional planning meeting will be held at 10 a.m., Wednesday, February 8, 1978, in the Crockett County Auditorium Coliseum.

Airport development needs of Crockett, Reagan, Schleicher, and Sutton Counties will be discussed. The meeting will be conducted by the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

All area citizens with an interest in air transportation and airport development are invited to attend. Participating in the meeting will be city and county elected officials, airport board members, airport managers, representatives of the Concho Valley Council of Governments and other citizens. During the meeting, the airport development needs currently identified in the Texas Airport System Plan for area airports will be reviewed. Airport pavement maintenance and rehabilitation programs will be covered. The availability of state and federal funds for airport development will be discussed. Information on area economic development, community goals and objectives, and other factors that may influence the need for, or timing of, airport development will be requested.

The Texas Airport System Plan, developed for Texas and the Federal Aviation Administration by the Texas Aeronautics Commission, was published in January 1976.

Aliens Must Report

Joe F. Staley of the San Antonio Immigration and Naturalization Service has again reminded all aliens to report their addresses during January.

Cards with which to make the reports are available at Post Offices and offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Service throughout the country. The card should have a 13c-postage stamp affixed and placed in the mail.

Prolific Discoveries Indicated For Crockett County Fields

An Ellenburger discovery was indicated with the flowing of gas at the rate of 2.2 million cubic feet daily and the recovery of 30 barrels of oil on a drillstem test at Estoril Producing Co., Midland, No. 1 University 1-23, in 23-38-University, 11 miles southeast of Barnhart.

Gas surfaced immediately, flowing at the above gauge on the 150-minute drillstem test taken at 8,132-142 feet. Flowing pressure was 2,070-2,460 pounds; one-hour initial shut-in and six-hour final shut-in pressures, were 3,236 pounds.

The project, scheduled to 8,500 feet, was bottomed at 8,159 feet, logging.

The project blew out Jan. 11 at 6,681 feet in the Wolfcamp and caught fire. It was extinguished several days later. There were no injuries and no estimate on the amount of gas burned. The project was being drilled by Rig No. 3 belonging to Fortune Drilling Co., San Angelo, which crumpled to the ground about one hour and 20 minutes after the fire started.

Texas Pacific Oil Co., Inc. No. 1 State of Texas, opener and lone producer of the M.A.G. (Pennsylvanian) oil field, 18 miles southeast of Rankin, and four miles northeast of the Quantos (Ellenburger) field, was finalized for a calculated, daily flowing potential of 429 barrels of 46 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 1.399-1.

Potential was based on an actual eight-hour flow of 143 barrels of oil through a 19/64-inch choke and perforations at 9,395-406 feet. That gauge earlier was reported erroneously as the potential.

The following tops were picked, elevation unreported: Sprayberry, 5,948 feet; Dean, 7,158 feet; Wolfcamp, 7,240 feet; Pennsylvanian, 8,706 feet; Pennsylvanian detrital, 9,266 feet and Barnett, 9,474 feet.

Drilled to 9,615 feet, with 5 1/2-inch casing set at 9,609 feet, it is plugged back to 9,529 feet. Location is 660 feet from the north and 560 feet from the west lines of 29-5-University. Texas Pacific, a subsidiary of Joseph E. Seagram & Sons, New York, as operator for itself and Mallard Exploration, Inc. of Midland, drilled the discovery well on a 14,000 gross acre block.

Texas Pacific is a large independent explorer and producer of oil and natural gas, both domestically and internationally.

Dan J. Harrison, Jr., Houston, No. 4 Joe Wiley McMullan, tenth producer and a location east extension to the Live Oak Draw (Strawn gas) field, 10 miles southwest of Ozona, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1,690,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 8,980-9,086 feet, which had been acidized with 7,500 gallons.

The Strawn was topped at 8,960 feet on ground elevation of 2,420 feet. Drilled to 9,618 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 9,340 feet, it is plugged back to 9,245 feet. Location is 760 feet from the north and 1,700 feet from the east lines of 16-F-GC&SF.

C.F. Lawrence & Associates, Inc., Midland, No. 1 Half "65-E", ninth producer and a location east extension to the Fergus (Grayburg gas) field, eight miles south of Iraan, was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 680,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 1,505-551 feet, which had been fractured with 20,000 gallons. Drilled to 1,643 feet, where 5 1/2-inch casing was set, it is plugged back to 1,610 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the north and 4,500 feet from the east lines of 65-1-I&GN.

C.F. Lawrence & Associates, Inc., will drill the No. 2 Eck "58-A" as a 751-foot southeast stepout to the six-well Ecklaw (San Andres) field 12 miles north of Ozona.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 2,466 feet from the east lines of 58-OP-GC&SF. Contract depth is 1,500 feet.

In 1814 a Harvard education cost about $300 per year.

SS Provides More Than Retirement

Social security provides much more than retirement benefits, according to Franklin H. Upp, social security district manager in San Angelo.

Although social security began as a program designed to insure partial replacement of lost income because of retirement, it has been expanded to provide benefits for survivors of deceased workers and benefits for disabled workers and their families, as well as Medicare for aged and long-term disabled workers, Mr. Upp explained.

As little as 1 1/2 years of work out of the previous 3 years insures a worker that his family will receive survivors benefits when he dies, Mr. Upp added.

Fully insured status plus recent work (five out of the last 10 years for those disabled at age 31 or later) qualifies a worker for disability benefits for himself and family if he becomes too disabled to engage in any work for a year or more. Medicare protection is available both to those 65 and older and those entitled to disability benefits for more than two years. Full information regarding social security is available at the San Angelo Social Security Office located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608.

HELPFUL TIPS FOR YOUR DISHWASHER

- A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash one dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.
- Use the no-heat dry option to automatically turn off the electric heat normally supplied in the drying cycle.
