Kitty's Korner

By
Kitty Montgomery

Good grief! This life and then the fireworks. We got last week's paper out and felt it was one of our better endeavors. Even took off Thursday to go to San Angelo and visit friends in the hospital.

Friday morning I heard all the complaints the staff was getting throughout the day Thursday (after, apparently, everybody had read the paper).

Some of the mistakes we were forced to take credit for, like Cathy Dawn Davis instead of Cathy Dawn Moore. That one was on me, and I am happy to report Cathy and Douglas are still a couple with no divorce in sight, as far as I know. She has not resumed her maiden name, and we are sorry for any stir this might have caused. However, we are certainly impressed that our newspaper is well-read, and by so many people. That little paragraph was on the jump to the second page, so much for those who say "nobody ever reads anything but the front and back page of The Stockman."

We are absolutely convinced that our subscribers read every word of The Stockman, and after last week we don't even have any doubts.

There was some problem on almost every page, but we can't claim the credit there. We can't read minds and by noon Tuesday we don't have time for guessing about or confirming reports that came in Tuesday morning. We just edit, do a little re-writing and set them in type. If a club member's name is misspelled, it's generally the fault of the reporter who brought the story in unless, of course, it happens to be a typographical error (that happens too). If something is left out of a report, we have no way of knowing until someone who was there tells us. Then, of course, it's too late.

SMOLDERING BALES OF COTTON kept firemen from Ozona and Sonora busy Sunday afternoon for several hours. There were no injuries and the truck carrying the flaming load was not damaged, but the load was a fire-damaged, water-soaked, loss. The bales were still smoldering after water and foam was used, and firemen had to stay on the scene for several hours. [Steve Kenley Photo]

Ozona Firemen Fight Two Major Fires Over Weekend

The Ozona Volunteer Fire Department did not have the weekend off, having major fires Saturday and Sunday and being called out on two false alarms.

Firemen were called out around 3:30 Saturday afternoon where an oil well fire was reported about 3 1/2 miles north of Ozona on the Bill Baggett ranch.

Crews from Globe Well Service and Jim's Hot Oil Service were cleaning out a well and getting ready to circulate hot oil when the fire broke out.

Oil and paraffin on the ground ignited and engulfed the rear ends of the two trucks in flames. The smoke could be seen clearly from town.

Ozona firemen, using water and foam, had the fire under control in approximately 10 minutes, although damage was heavy. Firemen were out for about 45 minutes and pumped 400 gallons of water.

TP&WD Sets Public Hearings

A public hearing on proposed changes in hunting and fishing regulations will be held at 2 p.m., March 13, at the County Courthouse in Ozona, according to officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

All interested citizens of Crockett County are invited to attend and express their views on the proposals which are still subject to P&WD Commission approval.

A transcript of the hearing will be forwarded to P&WD Commissioners prior to their consideration of the proposed changes.

Sunday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock the Ozona department was called by Sonora firemen to assist with a burning truck between Ozona and Sonora on I-10. The truck was loaded with cotton bales and had come to a stop seven miles west of Sonora. The driver was not aware his load was on fire until a passing driver flagged him down.

Local firemen remained on the scene for several hours assisting Sonora firemen.

FFA Member Honored

Jody Naron was one of 40 FFA and 4-H members honored at a banquet held during the Livestock Show in San Antonio last week.

Of the 40 youths so honored, two were from Ozona. Jody is a member of the FFA Chapter. Max Schroeder, 4-H member, was the other Ozona honored.

OHS Basketball Teams Close Out The Season

By Greg Perry

The Ozona High School basketball teams closed out their season last week with 4 wins and 2 losses.

Both OHS boys teams closed out the season in style by beating Sonora. The varsity took the first win 72-43. The Lions seemed to do everything right against the team that had previously beat them by 3. High point was Blake Moody with a 18 point total to close out his senior year in basketball. Danny Sewell was second with 14.

The JV also closed the season with a win over Sonora, 44-41. R.J. Everett took high honors with 10, and was followed by the threesome of Shane Fenton, Danny Martinez, and Alfred Enriquez, all with 8.

The girls finished up the season with two games scheduled. The varsity girls ended up a disappointing season with two losses, the first to Sonora, 55-77, and the second to Crane, 48-65.

High point in the first game was Kathy Sanchez with 18. Second stood Lori Clayton and Ruth DeLaRosa with 11. In the second game Sheri Cole took top honors with 18. She was followed by Lori Clayton with 15.

The girls' JV ended up with the best season record of all the teams as they finished up with 2 wins last week. The first win came over Sonora 31-19. High point was Melinda Stephens with 19 points. Kaye Thompson was second with 6.

In the second game, Melinda Stephens with 12 and Kaye Thompson with 10 again lifted the Lionettes to a victory over Crane, 37-28.

The boys varsity ended up with a season record of 13 wins and 12 losses. As a team they scored an average of 47 points per game. In individual scoring, senior Douglas Bean had the most points for the year with 257, or an average of 12 points per game. Clair McDaniel, a junior, was behind him with 168 points, or 8 points a game.

Other individual statistics include: Senior Blake Moody, 144; Senior Danny Weant, 133; Junior Danny Sewell, 106; Junior Jay Huffstetler, 100; Junior Bubs Huffman, 54; Sophomore Freddy Garza, 52; Senior Victor DeLaGarza, 17.

The girls varsity finished with a record of 6 wins and 20 losses, and an average of 46 points per game. Kathy Sanchez, senior, had the season high with 359 points, or an average of 14 points a game. Ruth DeLaRosa, senior, followed her with 272 points, or an average of 10 per game. The rest of the scoring went like this: Sheri Cole, soph., 207; Lori Clayton, freshman, 191; Karen Warren, junior, 91; Delia DeHoyos, junior, 49; Kathy Adams, junior, 27; Janice Janes, junior, 6. In six man basketball, often the defensive players are left unnamed. So the most valuable player for the defense this year, according to Coach Robbie Biggerstaff, was Janice Janes.

The JV boys season record ended at 5 wins and 10 losses. The two scoring standouts were Shane Fenton, 135 points, and Alfred Enriquez, 110 points.

The JV girls had the best season record of the year with 13 wins and 8 losses. Molly Womack took high point honors for the year with 140 points. Kaye Thompson was second with 127 points.

Freak Ice Storm Adds Moisture

A freak ice storm Sunday night during the early hours left Ozona covered with ice and snow. The ice remained until morning due to freezing temperatures. However, soon after sun-up ice melted from cars and roads. Only .08 of an inch of moisture was recorded, but that amount brought the total rainfall for February to .63 of an inch. A better record than February, 1977, when not a trace of moisture was recorded for the entire month.

January exited with a respectable .85 of an inch of rainfall, plus a 4-inch snowfall which helped the moisture picture. January of 1977 the total rainfall for the first month was .62 of an inch. The rainfall total for the year stood at 1.48 inches as of Monday, Feb. 20.

4-H Members Get Good Price For Livestock

Crockett County 4-H members received good prices for the sale of their livestock at the San Antonio Livestock Show recently.

Melinda Hokit received $400 for her reserve champion finewool lamb. Receiving from $1.30 to $1.50 per pound for 14 head of lambs were Sue Ellen Black, Will M. Black, Rebecca Everett, Regina Everett, R.J. Everett, III, Louis Bunger, Dan Bean and Douglas Bean.

Steers also sold high in the sale and local youngsters receiving from 62c to 68c per pound were Regina Everett, Ed Hale, Les Hale, Cliff McMullan and Mike Couch.

The Veteran's of Foreign Wars will have a barbecue at the post Saturday night, Feb. 26, and will begin serving at 7:30.

Members and guests are invited.

Tests Scheduled At County Strike

Four-point tests were scheduled at a prolific Crockett County strike and a conformer was finalized. Also an outpost was scheduled in Crockett.

Estoril Producing Corp., Midland, was taking four-point tests at its No. 1-23 University, in 23-38-ULS, Crockett County Ellenburger gas strike, 4 1/2 miles north of the depleted Block 39-B (Ellenburger gas) field, 10 miles east of the Childress, East (Canyon and Ellenburger gas) field and six miles east of Barnhart.

It flowed an unreported time, making gas at the rate of 820 million cubic feet daily, through a 10-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,092-159 feet.

The project blew out Jan. 11 at 6,681 feet in the Wolfcamp and caught fire. The 130-foot derrick crumpled to the ground about one hour and 20 minutes after the fire started, while the rest of the rig was charred and partially burned away. It was extinguished several days later. There were no injuries and no estimate on the amount of gas burned. The project was being drilled by Rig No. 3 belonging to Fortune Drilling Co., Inc., San Angelo.

The Pure Bean, South field of Crockett County gained its ninth producer and a location south extension with completion of Jones Drilling & Production (Amended from Todd Aaron, Midland, No. 1 Paul Pearson, 10 miles northwest of Ozona, to pump six barrels of 36 gravity oil, no water.

Production was through perforations at 1,409-451 feet, which had been acidized with 750 gallons.

Location is 2,356 feet from the south and 330 feet from the west lines of 81-OP-GC&SF.

William Perlman, Houston, will drill the No. 2 Lillian M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital "B" as a 1 5/8 mile northeast outpost to the Crockett County portion of the Whitehead (Strawn gas) field, 15 miles southeast of Ozona.

Location is 1,111 feet from the south and 1,412 feet from the west lines of 6-N-TCRR. Contract depth is 9,500 feet.

DRILLING FOR BRIDGE FOUNDATION began recently at the Batchlor Hill Interchange for the U.S. 290 overpass west of Ozona. Completion date for the 5.2 mile project is close to schedule. When this leg of I-10 is completed, there will only be 15.8 miles of the super highway left to complete in Crockett County. [Jesse Segars Photo]

MELINDA HOKIT shows the Reserve Champion Finewool Lamb at the San Antonio Livestock Show recently. The lamb, bred by Bud Cox, sold in the auction for $400.

SUE ELLEN BLACK was among Crockett County 4-H members to show at the San Antonio Livestock Show. Shown with her 9th place lightweight finewool lamb, which sold for $1.30 per pound at the auction sale.

Labor Law Reform

WASHINGTON—Examining the debate thus far on labor law reform leads to only one conclusion: never have so few convinced so many that black is white or that one plus one equals three.

Never has fact in a debate counted for so little. The labor reform measure, passed with only token dissent in the House of Representatives and due to be considered by the Senate in coming weeks, is a union organizer's delight.

Streamlining procedures of the National Labor Relations Board, as the bill does, would grease the wheels of organized labor's electioneering machinery, while slapping stiff penalties on employers deemed responsible for interfering with membership drives.

Glossed over or completely disregarded has been the impact of this legislation on individual workers who may not wish to join a union, and on future labor relations in this country, not to mention the impact on the taxpayer's pocketbook from such a sweeping revision of the Nation's labor laws.

Employees themselves can expect few of the rights unions claim will result from the bill's passage. Individual workers will continue to be frozen out on decisions governing the quality of their working lives. Union might will decide right.

Texas has enjoyed a relatively trouble free labor management relations environment, due largely to a strong right-to-work law. If this legislation becomes law, you can expect all that to change overnight.

In Texas, the issue apparently has already been decided. The results of a recent poll conducted by the Opinion Research Corporation overwhelmingly confirm what Texans across the state have been telling me in town after town: the Federal government should not tamper with a delicately balanced labor-relations law, tipping it toward labor unions and as a result, altering a history of good labor relations and vigorous economic growth.

According to the poll, only 15 per cent of the Texans asked thought reforms to make unionization easier were a good idea. Forty per cent of those asked thought current laws should not be changed, and most revealing of all, only about one-fourth of the members of all union households asked thought such reforms should be implemented.

Taxpayers across the country will find little to like in the cost of the labor law reform proposed. An analysis prepared by the National Labor Relations Board itself concludes that increasing the size of the Board would cost at least $28 million. The NLRB budget will total some $113 million in FY 1979 without the new reforms; passing them into law will amount to a $42 million budget increase over the year before. This is hardly consistent with Administration pledges to scale down big government.

Unions want more rights. Passage of this legislation, unfortunately, would mean all the rest of us would pay for those rights.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In last week's paper there appeared an article on the fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buie. In that report reference was made to the presence of "petroleum by-products" and "thin wood paneling" and their part in the intensity of the fire.

Some took exception to this reference.

During 1976 the National Fire Protection Association reported that there were 2 million 939 thousand fires in the United States. These fires claimed 8,000 lives and injured 108,000 people, while mounting up a dollar loss of 3 billion 360 million dollars. It is only through a careful study and evaluation of fires and how they spread that we can take the proper steps to reduce these statistics.

People who witness a fire or see the after affects are shocked by the way fire spreads so quickly through a room or building. They react by saying that something special was present that is not present in their homes. Living in a world of synthetic goods of all descriptions, it becomes important for the home owner to realize that no one is spared the hazards. Not at home or at work. Only through a constant reminder of the dangers can we hope to reduce the occurrence of fires.

Mention of the factors involved was done only so that others might be made aware and in being aware be more fire safety conscious. To those who mis-interpreted the article, be advised that many of these same hazards are present in all of our homes. In no way was this fire unusual, or the factors involving its spread unique. There is no reasonable assurance that fires occurring at the rate of 1 every minute somewhere in the United States will decline in number until the public as a whole demands materials that are more resistant to fires.

Thank you,
Steve Kenley

AUSTIN — Homeowners may be paying sharply-increased rates for their insurance coverage.

The State Board of Insurance staff last week recommended raises in property rates averaging 13.1 per cent statewide.

Actually the rates vary by area—15.4 per cent for the central part of the state, 12.5 per cent for the Gulf Coast and 8.2 per cent for North-west Texas.

The Texas Insurance Advisory Association, an industry group, asked for a 14.1 per cent statewide raise.

If the board grants the recommendation, homeowners would pay $91 million more than the present level of $807 million a year for all lines of building insurance coverage.

Industry spokesmen claimed the increase is needed because of the steady rise in material and labor costs.

In Dallas, homeowners would pay about $39 more on standard coverage for a $35,000 brick veneer home ($289 a year total). Owners of a $25,000 home in the same city, would pay $29 more.

The increase, if granted will be the first property insurance boost in two years. The board last year ordered a two per cent reduction in rates, although companies sought a 6.6 per cent increase. The cut was never made since the industry demanded a rehearing. Action has been delayed indefinitely.

Board members will meet February 22 to hear arguments on the latest proposal, although a decision likely will not be made until next month.

Refused to order cosmetics executive Jacques Bergerac, former husband of actress Dorothy Malone, to increase a $300 a month child support paid for two daughters.

The Court of Criminal Appeals said a juror in an obscenity case who acknowledged she did not think mere nudity is obscene should have been dismissed.

LR PUBLIC NOTICE-A collection will be taken up this LR Like most red-blooded American males, I enjoy watching football, especially college football. Nothing is more exciting than a football game between two good collegiate teams. Every year I eagerly awaited the bowl games because these games feature the best college teams in the nation, playing each other.

Of special interest to me this year was the Orange Bowl which featured the University of Oklahoma against the University of Arkansas. Several weeks before the game the attention of the nation had been focused on the Orange Bowl because of an incident in the Arkansas athletic dormitory, involving a girl and three key offensive players of the Arkansas team. Coach Lou Holtz, the head coach of the University of Arkansas, disciplined the three players by suspending them from the team that would play in the Orange Bowl.

Before the incident, the Arkansas team had been rated as a slight underdog; however, when another offensive starter was injured in practice and three players were suspended from the team, the "experts" rated the game a mis-match. Oklahoma was predicted to crush the Razorbacks by at least eighteen points.

The days before the game must have been very trying for the Arkansas Razorbacks. The three suspended players made legal maneuvers for reinstatement; they stirred up sympathy among other players who threatened to boycott the game, charging that Coach Holtz was motivated by racism. But Coach Holtz stood by his decision—the three players would not play. He apparently believed that if he were not allowed to discipline these players then he would lose not only con-rol of them, but he would lose the control and the respect of the entire team. I think that this incident pinpoints a great problem in the average American home—a lack of discipline. According to published statistics by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, juvenile arrests for aggravated assault have increased seventy per cent faster than the general population in recent years. Two-thirds of all the crimes of violence—murder, rape, and assault—are committed by those under twenty-one years of age. A recent Associated Press article reported that physical attacks by students on their teachers are increasing each year. Most of these attacks occur in junior and senior high schools, although these attacks are on the increase in the elementary schools. Can there be any doubt that one cardinal weakness in the average American home is a lack of discipline?

The Word of God says: "Train up a child in the way he should go, even when he is old he will not depart from it." (Proverbs 22:6) Then it describes one important aspect of this training.

"Foolishness is bound up in the heart of a child; the rod of discipline will remove it far from him." (Proverbs 22:15)

"Do not hold back discipline from the child, although you beat him with the rod, he will not die. You shall beat him with the rod, and deliver his soul from Sheol." (Proverbs 23:13-14)

"The rod and reproof give wisdom, but a child who gets his own way brings shame to his mother." (Proverbs 29:15)

"Correct your son, and he will give you comfort; he will also delight your soul." (Proverbs 29:17)

Discipline is not strictly corporal punishment; it is defining the lines of authority and acknowledging that they will be enforced. But the best standard of measurement for any principle is: "Does it work?" When consistently applied, discipline bridges the generation gap in families; it permits teachers to do the job that they were hired to do and it encourages children to become responsible citizens. Discipline works!

By the way, the final score in the Orange Bowl was: Arkansas 31, Oklahoma 61

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Though this month has been too cold and damp for much outdoor action, be ready to start real garden work on warm days. Sow early vegetable crops and sweet peas, if you forgot to start them as early as required. Try planting them along on the garden where they may be easier to care for along with the vegetables.

Even though we have had more severe cold days than usual, the spring flowering shrubs and trees are beginning to show bud growth. If you wish early spring blossoms, bring in a few of the budded branches, place in warm water to force bloom in a few weeks.

If you don't have room for a rose garden, try the climbing varieties. They are profuse bloomers and much more vigorous than the same hybrid tea rose. Too, they are ideal sources for cut flowers, and can easily be grown against a fence or without support in a sunny location. Some of the best are: My favorite, Don Juan (red) Sutters Gold, Climbing Peace, Charlotte Armstrong, Chrysler Imperial, Crimson Glory and the showy yellow Lady Banksia. There are some new ones that I have not seen or grown, but inquire about them at the nursery.

A guide to pruning flowering and evergreen shrubs may be helpful. They look their best when allowed to develop in their natural shapes, but require pruning to maintain them in their best form. Dead, diseased or damaged wood should be cut out, and old wood that interferes with new growth removed. Cut out the oldest and poorest branches all the way to the ground. Other branches may be shortened to a reasonable length to keep the plant from becoming unattractive. Shrubs can be trained to keep their natural shapes by thinning out old branches and pruning back to a bud to control the direction of growth. The new shoot will grow in the direction the bud points. Make a cut on a slant about even with the top of the bud. When removing the entire branch, make the cut flush with the stem. Spring flowering shrubs bloom on wood formed the previous year, so should have been pruned after their bloom of last spring.

Bright, or strong colors and light tints make the body look larger. Conversely, dull or subdued colors and darker shades generally make the body appear smaller. Use color to make "top heavy" or "bottom heavy" figures appear proportionate. For example, a dark, cool colored skirt will help subdue heavy hips. For a taller appearance, choose cool, dark, solid colors or muted prints. Direct attention upward with a color contrast near the head. To appear shorter, select cool, dull colors with contrasting colors at top and bottom. Belts or contrasting colors at the hemline direct eye attention downward.

DEBRA SAYS

by Debra Price

As colors change with the seasons, choose those that create a desirable effect for present body size, shape and personal coloring. Sometimes favorite fashion colors are not the most attractive color choices for an individual. Also, skin and hair color change with whim or age and figures change in size and shape. Flattering color choices may also change.

Some basic guidelines about affect of color on the body may help in clothing selection. Warm colors make the body appear larger; cool colors make the body appear smaller. Warm colors are those with dominant red, yellow, or orange hues. Colors with dominant blue, green, or purple hues are cool colors. Colors create different effects depending on their value or strength. For example, bright, hot pink reacts as a warm color while pastel pink responds as a cool color.

Bright, or strong colors and light tints make the body look larger. Conversely, dull or subdued colors and darker shades generally make the body appear smaller. Use color to make "top heavy" or "bottom heavy" figures appear proportionate. For example, a dark, cool colored skirt will help subdue heavy hips. For a taller appearance, choose cool, dark, solid colors or muted prints. Direct attention upward with a color contrast near the head. To appear shorter, select cool, dull colors with contrasting colors at top and bottom. Belts or contrasting colors at the hemline direct eye attention downward.

Colors also have a dramatic effect on skin tone. Hold colors next to the face to determine the effect reflected on the skin. Generally, cool colors and lighter warm colors compliment cool skin (those with bluish or violet cast). Warm colors and bright, cool colors flatter warm skin (those with deep peach, yellow, or red cast).

Intermediate skins (opaque white with greenish tints and those with both warm and cool traits) are complimented by both cool and warm colors. Avoid purples and yellows with yellow skin, and avoid greens and reds with dominant red skin. Blemished skins should avoid rose and purple tones.

If favorite colors or the colors which create the best illusions for the figure are not complimentary to the face, wear a small portion of a flattering color as a scarf, collar, or jewelry item near the face.

Mary and Bob had driven out of their way to come to this little country church where Mary's grandparents and great-grandfather were buried.

Mary hadn't wanted to come — but she felt it was her duty since they were so near. Now, standing in the quiet winter sunlight, she sensed a feeling of peace and strength, rather than of loss and sadness, which she had expected. All at once she realized that the faith that had seen her forebears through the complexities of their lives could be an ever-present sense of strength for her, too.

But it is not enough to adopt the faith of our fathers. Each person must find their own. The Church stands ready to help, its doors are open to all who search, and within its portals you will find that "peace which passeth all understanding."

Activities Program Director

Several residents have expressed an interest in having the Bible read to them, therefore on Monday, a week ago, I instituted a Bible reading and study group in the Day Room for those wishing to participate.

Since this is the Lenten season, the readings will consist of the Old Testament lesson, the Epistle and the Gospel readings for the appropriate time in Lent. After the lessons we turned to Luke and after establishing when he wrote his book, and a little of his background, we proceeded with the study of the first chapter. The meeting ended with a reading of the 23rd Psalm. This group meets at 11 a.m. following handicrafts which takes place in the dining room at 10 a.m.

New residents welcomed to the Center last week are Francisco Herrera and Bertha Robinson. We hope they will feel at home--both have had many visitors since their arrival.

On St. Valentine's Day Rick Whitworth of KRCT radio station presented each resident with a box of chocolate candy; Brownie Troop #261 came by after school, bringing a huge red decorated heart with each girl's signature on individual hearts placed on the larger one. It was most attractive and it is easy to tell much thought went into it. Thank you girls, and your leader,

New Law Cuts Paperwork In Filing Quarterly Forms

Six million employers will have much less paperwork when reporting wages for social security and Federal income tax purposes for over 100 million workers as a result of a change in the law effective this year. The change is expected to result in millions of dollars in savings for both employers and the Federal government, according to Franklin Upp, District Manager of the San Angelo Social Security Office.

For the past 40 years, most employers have had to report employees' wages to Internal Revenue Service every three months. Most used IRS Form 941 (Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return), along with detailed wage data on each employee. Many larger employers reported on computer produced magnetic tape. All employers completed a Form W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) at the end of the year for each employee which showed total wages for income tax purposes.

Effective with 1978, employers no longer have to submit detailed quarterly wage data. Instead, they will report wages on an annual basis, using the familiar W-2, Mr. Upp said. This means employers must complete only one wage report a year, rather than five. However, they still must send summary wage and tax liability information to IRS once a quarter.

The first report under the new system is due in early 1979, covering wages for 1978. Employers will send the W-2's to the Social Security Administration instead of to IRS. Employers who have not been notified of the address of where to send the report by the time it is due can get it from any social security office.

Annual reporting has been in effect for some 9 million agricultural employees and self-employed people for a quarter century. Now, the system applies to ten times that number. Wages for employees of State and local governments as well as for domestic employment, however, will continue to be reported quarterly.

Annual wage reporting has the potential of substantially reducing the paperwork burden on employers, particularly smaller ones who report on paper forms, Upp pointed out. The new system also should reduce Federal government administrative costs and improve compliance with Federal income tax laws. Legislation eliminating the need to keep quarterly data should save both the employer and the government a considerable amount of time and money.

Employers can realize a more immediate savings, however, by joining the growing numbers who report wages electronically. SSA estimates that 40,000 employers with small computers are capable of reporting on so-called "floppy disks" which are relatively inexpensive. SSA sends tape and disk reporters a verified summary of reported wages by tape, microfiche, or paper--whichever way an employer prefers.

SSA has different reporting plans to meet the needs of employers who wish to report by tape or disk. For more information, ask for booklet Tib-3, "Magnetic Tape Reporting" at any social security office.

The San Angelo Social Security Office is located at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608. Residents of Ballinger, Big Lake, Brady, Junction, Mason, Ozona, Sonora, and Winters may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058".

ECA Classes To Start March 20

An Emergency Care Attendant class will begin in Ozona March 20, at 7:00 p.m. at the Primary School Cafeteria. The class will be meeting on Monday and Tuesday nights until April 17.

The State Department of Health Resources will test students completing the class for state registration April 17-18.

The class will be taught by local Emergency Medical Technicians, Brian Henry and Dub O'Bryant, with lectures by local doctors. To enroll in the class or for more information call 2-3557 or 2-3578. Students must be enrolled by March 1. The class will be limited to 20 students.

Consumer Food News For Week

Consumers may "go back to their own grind" to save money on beef.

Beef prices are showing a price climb that may continue for awhile, according to forecasts--and ground beef prices are increasing more than other cuts in some markets.

"Beef supplies are not as great as a year ago, especially the light weight type," says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist. "Generally, this means higher prices and fewer market specials as supplies decrease."

"For consumers who have facilities at home, it likely would save money to buy a good value chuck cut and grind it themselves. Be sure to save the bones for making soup stock," she advises.

Best beef values include chuck roasts and steaks, round and rib steaks and liver, she adds.

Economical buys at Texas grocery markets this week include grapefruit, fryer chickens, Grade A large-size eggs, cabbage, some root vegetables, several canned items and raisins, she says.

Although cold weather and rain has disturbed the produce market, cabbage is in good supply with low prices. Root vegetables with economical prices are carrots, turnips, potatoes, dry yellow onions and rutabagas.

Grapefruit is plentiful and has economical prices, but consumers should compare prices on oranges, tangerines, pineapples, apples, bananas and pears for the best economy.

Fresh strawberry supplies are increasing, and prices are moderate to relatively high.

Despite earlier predictions of a greater supply, pork prices have increased.

Generally, values include Boston butt and end-cut loin roasts, shoulder steaks, smoked picnics, some brands of bacon and sausage.

Along grocery market aisles features include canned ed tomatoes and tomato products, clingstone peaches and pears. This year's raisin crop is reported to more than double last year's so use raisins generously in cooking and for snacks.

Consumer Watchwords—Potatoes with cheese sauce make an economical, nutritious dish.

ICA Blames Government For Farm Problems

T.A. Cunningham, president of the Independent Cattlemen's Association, told members of the House Committee on Agriculture this week that the farm problem is a national problem brought on by government policies which have not allowed agriculture producers a fair return on their investments. The committee is holding hearings in Washington, D.C. on the general condition of the agriculture industry.

Cunningham criticized this nation's trade policies saying untold millions of dollars have been lost in trade due to the "ridiculously low prices placed on our agricultural products." He asked the 45-member committee to do everything in its power to change America's and the government's apparent lack of understanding of the farm crisis. "The people in agriculture are asking that the policies of the government be changed from a cheap food policy to a fair food policy," said Cunningham. "In curbing inflation, government policies have sacrificed the agricultural sector of the nation. Prices received by the farmer have been held down while at the same time the farmers' costs have risen at an alarming rate."

He added that, "It is sad that these people (ranchers and farmers) have been pressed to the point that they must come here to demand what is rightfully theirs—a fair return on their investment. It is even sadder that the government has let the finest agriculture in the world reach a state of bankruptcy."

Speaking also for the cattlemen he represents, Cunningham requested that the committee members use their "expertise to influence" congressional colleagues to rewrite the 1964 Meat Import Act, allowing less imports into the United States when domestic beef production is high. "In the past, the agriculture producers have been misled and often manipulated by government forecasts and crop reports. Not too many years ago, the American farmer was told that in order to head off vast world wide food shortages, it would be necessary to plant fence row to fence row. We beef producers were told to increase herd size, to maximize production because it would be impossible to supply the country with the beef necessary in 1980. These forecasts were nothing more than myth."

Cattlemen refer to the 1964 law as the "Bandruptcy Act of the 70's" because it allows an escalation of meat imports as domestic production increases and the set quotas do not include all processed meat and live cattle.

The ICA is supporting legislation by Sen. Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma (S.2484) and by Rep. Jake Pickle of Texas (H.R.10894) which would limit beef imports at a time when domestic production is high, Cunningham told the committee.

The association is also backing legislation which would require tougher inspection and labelling of foreign meat products. "We feel the consumer has a right to know what he or she is purchasing," said Cunningham.

Cunningham gave each member of the committee an American Produced Beef window decal. Association members are distributing the decals nationwide to stores and restaurants which use only domestic beef.

Save Energy When Baking Or Roasting

When oven roasting and baking, practice energy-saving methods, says Dr. Carolyn McKinney, family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

When roasting large items, avoid preheating the oven—it is unnecessary and wastes several minutes of heat.

When baking cakes, pies, or cookies, preheat the oven but have pans ready to go in as soon as the preheat temperature is reached.

Then, resist the temptation to "peek." A 20 percent heat loss occurs each time the oven door is open. This wastes energy and also increases baking time.

Have Reason To Prune Agent Says

From now through February is the time to prune woody ornamentals in your landscape. However, pruning should be done only if there is a particular purpose, emphasizes Billy Reager, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

4-H Clothing Projects Set

Plans are being made to begin the 4-H clothing projects in February and March. All youth between the ages of 9 and 19 that would like to learn to sew are welcome to participate. Adults that would like to help a small group of 4-Hers in clothing should contact Debra Price at the Extension Office (392-2721). 4-H member and leader books are available from the Extension Service.

Call the Extension Office for more details. Everyone is welcome to participate in the 4-H program regardless of race, creed, color, sex, religion, national origin, or socio-economic levels.

If you cannot justify the removal of a limb or branch, you had better put up your equipment and go spade the garden for exercise.

Some reasons for pruning include removing dead or winter-killed growth or balancing the top with the root system when setting out new plants. Diseased or insect-injured wood as well as storm or accident-damaged limbs should be removed as soon as possible.

Rejuvenate older shrubs by removing the older branches at the base. Pruning can also help develop a desired shape or size as well as aid in producing better flowers and fruit.

Avoid drastic pruning unless it is necessary to correct damage from storms or accidents, emphasizes the agent. It is usually better to prune lightly and more often to reduce danger of sunscald to the inner branches and to lessen the amount of sucker growth and water sprouts.

Never leave stubs that allow insects and disease to enter; remove branches or limbs at the point of origin or to a lateral branch. It is advisable but not necessary to paint all wounds or cuts over three-fourths of an inch in diameter with a wound dressing available at any nursery or garden center. In lieu of regular wound dressing, common orange shellac makes a good temporary dressing.

Prune immediately after flowering those plants that bloom in early spring with the appearance of new leaves. However, prune while dormant those that bloom later in the spring or summer.

To make pruning easier and for good, smooth cuts, always use sharp tools.

Reddy's helpful tips for your HOME LAUNDRY

PLAN AHEAD
Sort clothes according to type of fabric, color-fastness, degree of soil and garment construction.
You'll save both hot water and electricity by doing similar items together.
Accumulate a full load before running your washer.

BE SELECTIVE
Choose the cycle that is precisely appropriate for the clothes you are washing. Is a "hot" temperature setting really necessary? Except for heavily soiled items, most loads will come clean in either a cold or warm wash. Look into cold wash detergents.

Too much detergent can clog machine and drains... always measure, don't guess!
Follow the manufacturer's recommendations for your type equipment.
Mixing brands of detergents can cause graying of clothes.

FOR SAFETY SAKE
Be sure control is "off" before reaching into your washer.
If one is necessary, use only a heavy duty extension cord.
Be sure your washer is grounded.
Keep dry cleaning agents, color remover and Fiberglas out of your washer. It's a good idea not to wash clothes containing cleaning fluids in your washer.

news last week was my fault entirely. It was completed and handed to me by the hostess, Lucille Littleton. I carefully folded it and put it in my bag. What happened after that is anyone's guess, but we haven't seen it to this good day. It is dangerous to give me anything outside the office, especially if I drop it in my bag. I've spent subscriber's subscription payments, failed to post someone's bill when they hand it to me in cash at the post office, and lost the Village Drug's check last summer. Lots of news items show up when I change bags every fall and spring, but seldom any money.

I do hate it about the bridge report and would have put it in late this week, but nobody I asked knew who won high, and what's a bridge party report without a high score winner. Dilly Dockery was second high. Toots Williams won the bingo and Dorothy Montgomery beat me out of low by a bare edge. If anyone won high week before last, please let me know.

Steve Kenley was in the office early this week and we were discussing these newspaper problems. He said he wouldn't be a newspaper editor for anything. He thought newspaper editors were just born mean and grouchy. I finally convinced him it wasn't so, they just get that way over the years out of self-defense I guess.

When I was a young woman and decided the newspaper business would be exciting and fun, a wise old editor with forty-five years tenure, told me if I planned to stick it out, I'd have to develop a hide like an alligator. And, Mr. White, you were right, you were right.
