We've had a rash of political hopefuls calling on us lately. In fact, this is the first Tuesday in a couple of months that our afternoon has not been taken up with one politician or another. The Democratic Primary May 6, will weed out some of them, but we have the general election and possibly a runoff coming up.

For the most part I have enjoyed visiting with the various politicians, both old and new. We've made new friends and renewed acquaintances with many old ones.

We are well aware that our endorsement has been sought, but this is something we just don't do ordinarily. On occasion we endorse a politician, but rarely. We feel that our voters are just as up-to-date on the issues as we are, and we know our subscribers are. So we feel that people should make up their own minds and vote their conscience. I think it sort of insults the readers when a small newspaper tries to influence their vote. We sometimes take sides in a general election and almost always in a presidential election, but in the upcoming primary every politician has had an opportunity to give his views through paid advertisements in The Stockman, and we think they have done so very well that our readers can make up their minds how to vote without our assistance.

Insurance appraisers and roofers have invaded Ozona since the hail storm which apparently caused more property damage than at first thought. This constitutes most of the discussion when the town folk get together. Comparing appraisals has become a common everyday thing. And in almost every case of roof damage, the insurance adjuster's appraisal has been less than the roofer's appraisal. I believe there will be some adjustment made and a fair settlement worked out for those who have their insurance with local agents, but I feel for those who have policies with out-of-town agents.

You only appreciate insurance when you need it and it's one of the things you can't buy when you need it at any price. I am glad, however, we are fortunate enough to have our insurance with a local agency.

CONSTRUCTION NEARS COMPLETION on the new shop building being built on the campus of Ozona High School. Part of the $5 million school improvement program, the building will be used for vocational classes for high school students. Construction is going on all over Ozona and as of mid-week it was on schedule. Projected completion date is mid-October. However, some parts of the project will be completed in time for use in the Fall.

Absentee Balloting Underway

Absentee balloting in the May 6, Democratic Primary is now underway in the office of County Clerk Leta Powell.

Persons who plan to be out of Crockett County May 6, may cast absentee ballots during regular office hours at the clerk's office through Tuesday, May 2.

Absentee balloting began last week and through Monday, a total of six ballots had been cast, indicating little interest in the Democratic Primary on the part of Crockett County voters.

FIGHTING FOR INDEPENDENCE

Small businesses, directly or indirectly, provide a livelihood for more than 100 million Americans. They account for 43 percent of the Gross National Product, 48 percent of the Gross Business Product (excluding farms and government), and 55 percent of all private, non-farm employment.

In other words, small businesses are vital to the American economy. And they are something else. They are a testimony to the independent spirit that got this country started and has kept it going for the past 200 years.

But small businesses are in trouble today. Inflation is making their costs soar and their profits dwindle, and they are having a tough time competing with larger firms. They are being buried in a mound of required state and federal paperwork that they don't have the time to do themselves or the money to get someone else to do. Unions have raised wages so high that they can't afford to hire more full-time employees, and since the federal government has raised the minimum wage again, many have even had to lay off part-time employees.

Legislation which is supposed to help all business is often really only helpful to big business. The Carter Administration's tax proposals are a good example. The National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB), an organization with 520,000 small business members across the country, stated recently that the 1,300 largest U.S. corporations will receive more than 75 percent of the Administration's business tax reduction proposal, while the nation's small firms will receive less than five percent.

President Carter promised substantial help for small business in his tax proposal," noted NFIB President Wilson S. Johnson. "Unfortunately, the President's eloquence far outstripped what he actually had to offer."

The week of April 30 to May 6 has been designated as National Small Business Week. Politicians might consider observing it by working on some legislation which will give small business a boost—some meaningful tax relief, for example. Their constituents could observe it by supporting the small businesses in their neighborhoods.

Let's give small businesses a pat on the back. They deserve it.

Why Do We Betray Our Friends?

Nowhere and at no time has our country shown more blatant hypocrisy than in the stance we have taken with reference to majority rule in Rhodesia. In plain terms, we are promoting Marxist, Communist dictatorship by means of force and terror.

The cruelty practiced by the Communist guerrillas is comparable to the record in Cambodia. It consists of torturing and murdering innocent people, mostly blacks, whose only offense is living at peace and earning their living under the present regime. These guerrillas are at least partly financed by American money. Thus, we join with Russian, Chinese and Cuban Communists who are supplying the arms to thwart the evolutionary process which would bring reconciliation and majority participation in an enlightened, peaceful move toward more freedom in Rhodesia.

It is a sad and an old story beginning with the time we backed Tito, the Communist, in the overthrow of Mihailovich, the patriot freedom fighter in Yugoslavia and continuing through the cover-up that shielded Russia from the blame of the Katyn massacre of 15,000 Polish officers—the cream of the intellectuals in that country. It continued through the financing of two bloody wars to suppress Tshombe, the Christian who wanted to lead Katanga into close cooperation with the West, and silence over the disappearance of the Polish government-in-exile which went to Moscow after the war to set up a government for the future and was never heard of again. (The same thing happened to Nagy, the freedom fighter in Hungary who, under a flag of truce went to negotiate with the Russian Communists on behalf of the freedom fighters who drove out the Russians and maintained a free regime for four days in 1956 and who, likewise, never was heard of again.)

Another such act was siding with Russia against our allies England and France, who sought to prevent Egypt from unlawfully seizing the Suez Canal. Similar cases are too numerous to mention—for instance, when General MacArthur was fired because he sought greatly to strengthen our position in the Far East, and our unofficial approval of the assassination of Diem in South Vietnam, leading to the communication of Indo-china. In short, we are particeps criminis with the Communists.

... FDR STARTED big spending. But his last peacetime budget in 1940 was less than $10 billion. Now, the budget is running over $400 billion, and the deficit alone for next year is expected to run around $75 billion.

AUSTIN — State Insurance Board Chairman Hugh Yantis has taken a stand against an increase in homeowners insurance rates.

The board is expected to vote on the matter in June.

Board statisticians recommended a 13.1 percent hike which would cost homeowners about $43 million in additional premiums. There has been no adjustment in rates since July 1976.

The chairman indicated he may vote for selective increases in some categories but not for a general statewide adjustment.

At the same time, Yantis announced he is seeking to discourage "deposit term" life insurance policy sales.

And he directed a staff attorney to come up with proposed penalties for insurance firms and agents who sell policies to old people which they do not need or cannot afford.

Yantis said deposit term life insurance cannot be banned, but purchasers can be warned of what they are getting into. Deposits are forfeited if policyholders drop the 10 year policies or fail to make payments.

The board chairman said companies and their agents should be made accountable for selling unneeded insurance to the elderly whose judgment as to their requirements may be faulty due to age.

Penalties for victimizing the elderly could run as high as loss of license, the chairman indicated.

Allowable Set

The Railroad Commission ordered continuation of the legal producing rate for most Texas oil fields at 100 percent of market demand for May.

The finding means Texas wells, with few exceptions, will have wide open producing allowances for the 15th month in a row. Actually, all-out production has been authorized nearly every month for six years.

Chairman Mack Wallace said crude and petroleum imports into the U.S. averaged more than eight million barrels a day for the four-week period which ended April 7. That amounts to about 42 percent of the nation's demand, Wallace stated.

Purchasers nominations and additional demand for Texas crude oil in May totaled 3,551,424 barrels a day, up 7,627 from April.

Texas' estimated calendar day allowable for May is 3,558,816 barrels of oil with actual calendar day production of about 2,910,000 barrels.

Deaths Increase

Motorcycle accident deaths increased 111.5 percent and injuries 47.7 percent during the four months of 1977 after the legislature repealed the law requiring riders to wear helmets.

The Department of Public Safety said 110 motorcyclists died in accidents during September-December. Fifty-two were killed during the same period in 1976.

Motorcycle deaths for all last year increased 45.2 percent over 1976, DPS said, although registrations increased less than 10 percent.

The law was repealed on urging by motorcyclists. Helmets are still mandatory for riders and passengers under 18.

Courts Speak

The Texas Supreme Court allowed the estranged husband of the late Candace Mossler to challenge her $10 million will.

In another ruling, the high court affirmed lower court decisions granting $80,500 in legal malpractice judgments against Don Yarbrough, who resigned his Supreme Court seat last year as the result of prolonged legal troubles.

The Court of Criminal Appeals set aside life sentences of Jefferson and Harris County men convicted 10 years ago.

Citing failure to schedule a sanity hearing separate from a DeWitt County trial, the Court of Criminal Appeals dismissed one of two murder convictions against a Michigan man.

A district judge in Beeville ordered fines for 72 Iranian students found guilty of trespass in refusing to leave the Bee County College gymnasium after a meeting with the college president.

AG Opinions

A trial court clerk cannot refuse to file pleadings which appear inadequately certified under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, Attorney General John L. Hill said.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Names of applicants for municipal court appointments are public information and should be revealed.

The Montgomery County child welfare board is a governmental body within the meaning of the open meetings act, but may meet in closed session for the limited purpose of discussing case files of persons receiving or applying for public assistance.

Short Snorts

Dry pastures in South and West Texas have caused the deaths of thousands of sheep, according to the State Department of Agriculture.

More than $1 million in grants for emergency assistance have been approved by the governor's office.

A U.S. district judge in Washington ruled the federal government cannot prevent Attorney General Hill from challenging in a Texas court constitutionality of the "prime farmlands" section of the new federal strip mining statute and accompanying regulations.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Again we did have that hail just before our annual flower show, but the club voted to go ahead with plans, and have the best one possible. Everyone was agreeably surprised that the horticulture specimens were better than expected, although not as many were exhibited as normally. The design division had all classes filled with forty or more artistic arrangements which were beautifully staged with back grounds for each. The Ozona Garden Club wishes to thank all non-members who exhibited horticulture specimens and helped in any way. Now that it is time to plant annuals will name six basic kinds that are easiest grown and reliable in color. You may have other favorites that do well here. Zinnias might be considered as first place annual by some, but since mildew is such a serious problem when sprinkled, that should be considered. Their color range is unquestionably the most spectacular of annuals. They do need full sun to bloom as they should.

Another that has proven to be a favorite is the marigold. For several reasons the French dwarf are preferred over the taller, large flowered American varieties. They're earlier blooming, have a wider color range and they stay neat and compact. The rusty-red are gorgeous. Caremn Fiesta and Bolero are among the best of these. A new group recently created from a cross between the French and American are called Triplod Hybrids. Buy the plants or plant seed inside for protected handling until ready to plant outside.

Petunias of course are a great favorite for bedding plants and baskets. You may profit by buying plants or by rooting from old geranium plants. They do well in pots or planters, take less care and water than most other annuals. They do need a sunny location for half a day at least to do well.

Impatiens (Sultana) is the favorite plant for shady beds, borders, pots and hanging baskets. They require a moisture retaining soil containing humus. There are many color varieties.

Another annual that does well in partial shade, that need soil that contains plenty of peat is the wax begonia. The best to buy are the new hybrid varieties, so don't expect substitutes.

Other annuals are Portulaca (for sun) in a vivid color range for borders or ground cover.

Coleus is gaining rapid popularity as a colorful foliage plant for beds.

Snapdragons do well here until hot summer starts. Cut back in mid-summer and have a second bloom in late summer and fall.

Finally, the beautiful Celasias are recommended "Red Fox" or "Golden Triumph". Too, the crested type (cockscomb) Fire-glow" is consistently good.

Debra Says

by Debra Price

Before the 1978 food preservation season begins, inventory pantry and freezer stocks. Plan weekly menus around these foods to use them before or during the preservation of new crops.

If last year's foods are not used before this year's canning and freezing starts, store them in front of or on top of the newer foods. If too many containers of a particular food are left from last year, too much of that food was planted and preserved or the family may not care for that food as anticipated. Consider these factors in preserving this year.

Length canned and frozen foods can be kept. All unopened canned foods, 12 months; canned fruit juices, 9 months; frozen fruits, 12 months; citrus fruits and juice frozen at home, 6 months; fruit juice concentrate, 12 months; vegetables, 10 months.

Examine containers of frozen foods for tears in wrapping materials and use those items as soon as possible.

PROBLEMS BIGGER THAN YOURS

That's right! His problems seem bigger to him than yours are to you! Sadly, that is one of the last things we understand about our children. But some parents do understand their children's problems. They are careful to nurture soul and spirit as well as mind and heart. The years ahead will prove them right. The role of the Church has never been to cut the problems down to the size of the man — always to build the man up to the size of his problems.

Goat News

Seems like the more effective something is and the harder it is to replace, the more the meddlers want to do away with it. "It", in this case, is 2,4,5-T.

The meddlers are part and parcel of the same bunch that succeeded in outlawing predator control toxins, many of the most effective screw-worm smears and--well, the list goes on, but it brings tears to many a grown man's eyes, fire to many another's.

Back to 2,4,5-T. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has just released a notice announcing a review of the herbicide's status--the review could very easily result in the product's removal from the market.

For the uninitiated, 2,4,5-T is the only chemical control agent currently available for effective control of mesquite, not to mention numerous other noxious brush and weed pests. All mesquite spray products in use today contain "T" in one concentration or another.

As for substitutes, Soil Conservation Service state conservationist D.B. Polk says he knows of two--diesel oil and kerosene. These, of course, must be applied by hand to the base of each individual plant, an exorbitantly expensive procedure in terms of the supplies alone--not to mention the thousands of man-hours required to cover even miniscule parcels of rangeland. (Environmental activists might note that the pouring of such oils on the ground is an act of polluting, by their all-encompassing standards.)

The alternative is not to control mesquite at all, and continue giving up millions of acres of productive rangeland and untold gallons of precious groundwater to the relentless invader. Those landowners who surrendered to the pest would doubtless then suffer additional pests who would take pleasure in accusing them of allowing the ruin of the rangeland. Guess who?

What's so bad about 2,4,5-T? Nothing, exactly, except that it sometimes contains impurities known as "dioxins", admittedly toxic chemicals that EPA says may cause cancer or birth defects in rats. EPA also says these dioxins are not limited to 2,4,5-T--but the herbicide is singled out for attack, anyway.

The attack actually dates back to Agent Orange, the highly concentrated defoliant used by the U.S. military in Vietnam. It contained "T", along with other chemicals, and environmentalists claim the spraying contributed to birth defects in the war-torn country.

What they don't bother to say is that the relatively unregulated Agent Orange, according to EPA, contained levels of dioxins as much as 400 times as much as allowed by law in 2,4,5-T. The scare stories and removal demands, then, are based on conditions that do not exist in this country today if indeed they ever did.

EPA will accept comments on the status review until June 5. Correspondence should be addressed to: Environmental Protection Agency, Office of Pesticides Programs, Technical Services Division WJ-569, 401 M St. SW, Washington, D.C. 20460.

Activities Program Director

We have received some orders for ceramic items as a result of our exhibit at the Arts and Crafts Show last week. Now that each member of the class has some items to keep we hope to sell enough to pay for the materials we use.

Residents are justly proud of their work and it really does look most professional thanks to Carol Carlisle's efforts and those of other volunteers who come every Monday morning to help.

When Mary Lou Lilly sent over some of her lovely Iris we had a sneak preview of the Flower Show. The muted colors of the flowers were exquisite. We also fell heir to more of the flowers after the show. Eleanor Bradford and Verna Talley accompanied by Maureen Werst, Eleanor's daughter, went to the show; also Evelyn Bryant and Camille Montgomery were taken over there by Dorothy Montgomery. All four ladies thoroughly enjoyed the outing. I popped in just before six o'clock. The arrangements become more sophisticated in design every year. We have so much talent in Ozona and anyone that missed these two shows should put them on their agendas for next year.

Lora Smart of Iran is a new resident; unfortunately she is not well enough at the present time to join in any activities.

The winner of the Bingo gift certificate last week was Paul Cavin. Winners in Forty-two were Paul and partner Frances Tolson; winners at two tables of dominoes were Mike Pena and Eleanor Bradford.

Thursday afternoon in the reading group we read about "The Traveling Hat Trimmer" and other stories. Listening to members of the group talking about related experiences it brought to my mind something I had quite forgotten such as my mother and I, as a little girl, going down town (in England) to a fashionable millinery establishment owned by the Misses Evans, two sisters. Sometimes we had our hats custom made. What sticks in my memory more than the hats, however, is that it seemed to me that Mother stayed to talk to the ladies an interminable time while I fidgeted around being thoroughly bored!

From hats we turned to discussing Nazi Germany, and advancements in science during our lifetime. Tara Brubaker was a visitor.

AUTHOR AWARDED — Brownson Malsch, left, receives the 1978 Summerfield G. Roberts Award for his book "Indianola, The Mother of Western Texas." Presenting the prize is Larry W. Hays, first vice-president of the sponsoring organization, the Sons of the Republic of Texas. The award, given annually for the best work on the Republic of Texas published in the past year, carries with it a $1,000 check.

Consumer Food News For Week

Best food values at Texas grocery markets this week include several fresh vegetables, dairy products, eggs and grapefruit, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt. Potatoes are an excellent choice, pricewise. Other price-quality values include collards, mustard and turnip tops, carrots, cabbage and broccoli. Onion prices are lower as supplies increase.

Fresh asparagus has best quality and lowest prices during April and May. Cheese, a high-protein food, is a feature. Other advertised specials are on sour cream, yogurt and milk. Egg prices remain attractive.

Start losing weight today or money back. MONADEX is a tiny tablet and easy to take. MONADEX will help curb your desire for excess food. Eat less — weigh less. Also try AQUATABS: they work gently to help you lose water-bloat. AQUATABS — a "water pill" that works — $3.00. Both guaranteed and sold by: THE VILLAGE DRUG Grapefruit has attractive prices and good supplies. Fresh pineapple has reasonable prices and good quality. Apples show good quality, but prices are rising slightly. Strawberry supplies are somewhat limited due to cooler-than-usual weather.

Prices will be higher this year than earlier forecast because of a shorter beef supply. Less nonfed beef (lean) and more fed beef will appear on the market. Most economical choices are chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks and liver.

For economical, efficient shopping, practice four habits:

Make a shopping list. Build menus around "specials" or seasonal foods in plentiful supply at economical prices.

Allow room on the list for in-store substitutions that offer a better buy than items on the list.

Watch for unadvertised specials.

Estate Planning Seminar

Ozona business people are invited to attend a seminar entitled, "How To Live... and Die With Texas Probate."

The seminar is sponsored by the Small Business Administration and will be held on the south campus at the University of Texas of the Permian Basin from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. on May 2, 1978.

The program is designed to give information to non-professionals in tax, and non-tax estate planning.

A team of attorneys, CPA's, trust officers, life insurance underwriters, and UTPB professors will conduct the seminar.

There will be a fee of $15.00 for the seminar, to cover materials and administrative costs.

Financial Management Seminar Set At A&M

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service will offer a three-day Financial Management Seminar for Agribusiness Firms at the Texas A&M University Research & Extension Center here May 23-25.

Discussions will center around such areas as financial statements, merchandising credit, analyzing business opportunities, time management, capital budgeting, forms of businesses and planning for growth.

General chairman for the seminar is Dr. Wayne Hayenga, Extension Economist in management.

Dr. John Hopkin, Stiles professor of agricultural finance and head of A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics, will be the featured speaker on opening day and will discuss "What's Important for Financial Managers." He will point out how loan needs can best be met and how to manage credit once it is established, says Hayenga.

Also on the first day, Hayenga will discuss financial statements and the relationships between an income statement, a balance sheet, and the source and use funds statement. Then seminar participants will hear about "Analyzing Financial Statements," which will deal with methods of analysis for both borrowers and lenders in interpreting financial performance and making financial controls meaningful.

"Analyzing New Business Opportunities" will be discussed by Dr. Bill Vestine, an Extension food distribution economist. He will deal with pertinent financial points in analyzing new market potentials and in doing a financial analysis for starting new enterprises or expanding existing enterprises. Topics covered will include cash flow analysis, working capital management, and estimating cost and returns for a break-even analysis.

Making the best use of capital by investing in the most profitable alternatives will be discussed by Dr. Richard Trimble, Extension economist in management. Tools to help are capital budgeting techniques such as "net present value" and "payback method."

Of course, different busnesses need different forms of business organizations, notes Hayenga. Judon Fambrough, an attorney and instructor in A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics, will talk about two types of corporations—general partnerships and limited partnerships—and explain how each can be used to a businessman's advantage from both a tax and a financial point of view.

A discussion on "Planning for Growth" by Hayenga will conclude the seminar.

Past participants in the seminar have included accountants, bankers, farmers and ranchers, machinery dealers, realtors, farm managers, farm equipment salesmen, farm supply salesmen and grain dealers.

Hayenga invites anyone interested in attending the seminar to contact him for additional information and registration material at the Texas A&M University Research & Extension Center, 17360 Coit Road, Dallas, Tex. 75252 (214/231-5362).

Harry Ledbetter's Money Management Program

As a fiscal conservative, I have developed a comprehensive program to effectively manage the $2 Billion dollars on deposit in the State Treasury. Here are aspects of it:

Rate of Return: The State Treasurer should not play politics with our tax money. I pledge to put the taxpayer's money to work earning the highest interest available.

Cash Flow Forecasting: Using modern management techniques, we can accurately determine how much money the state needs in liquid funds. The state's obligations must be paid on a timely basis at minimum administrative cost.

People all over Texas are responding enthusiastically to my campaign. I appreciate your support. I know that the public trust must be earned, and it is a responsibility I accept. I ask for your vote on May 6th. If you share my concerns, encourage your friends and neighbors to vote for Harry Ledbetter for State Treasurer in the Democratic primary election May 6th.

Land Is Limited Natural Resource

Without question, land is a limited natural resource. The same can be said for good farmland. Yet some five million acres of rural land are lost to non-agricultural use each year in the United States, about a million acres of this being "prime" farmland.

"The indiscriminate use of farmland for non-agricultural purposes is of concern to many people and is being given special attention during this year's observance of Soil Stewardship Week, April 30-May 7," points out Dr. B.L. Harris, soils and water use specialist. The Extension Service is cooperating in the observance with the National Association of Conservation Districts and Soil and Water Conservation Districts throughout the state.

Theme of the weeklong observance is "Compelling Ventures" and is designed to instill in all Americans the need to venture forth to take care of the valuable land, water and other natural resources God has put on the earth.

Along with the issue of preserving farmland, Soil Stewardship Week is also designed to stress the importance of controlling water pollution caused by run-off from unprotected farms, ranches, roadsides and construction sites.

"America's good farmland is one of our greatest gifts, yet much of it is used indiscriminately each year for housing developments, highways, shopping centers and the like," says Harris.

"Our challenge is to make wiser, better and more responsible use of the land our Creator has given us. We must respond to God's call to be responsible stewards of this bountiful land. Our bountiful supplies of food and fiber depend on the conservation, wise and proper management of our soil and water resources."

The Scientists Tell Me... Some Food Research is Out of This World

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Did you ever wonder what factors make one steak tender and another tough? Or why some pinto beans are so hard when cooked that they rattle in the pan?

Well, so do a lot of other consumers, and finding the answers to these and other such questions stimulates much of the research of food scientists with The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Meat tenderness is one of the most important characteristics that consumers want. In-depth research on beef tenderness is wide ranging, including a genetics approach; and use of carcass aging and high-temperature aging, enzymatic (digestive juice) tenderization, Texas A&M Tenderstretch method, elevated temperature conditioning, mechanical tenderization, electrical stimulation of the carcass, and identification of naturally tender carcasses.

The consumer also wants beef of good color and fresh odor, with the right amount of fat and juiciness. When cooked, beef should be tasty and nutritious and have desirable aroma.

Scientists are working to preserve or enhance these per characteristics after slaughter and during processing, shipment, and marketing.

As to the hard pinto beans that seemed to boil forever without getting tender, scientists found it mostly a matter of heredity—"they were just born that way." Selections of tender pinto bean varieties solved the tough bean problem.

Some Station research is literally out of this world; food scientists have been instrumental in developing the foods necessary for space exploration.

Fundamental principles of research involved the physical, chemical, and engineering aspects of producing and preserving these foods.

Current studies include efforts in the area of military feeding and technology adaptation for civilian use. This light-weight, high-quality food has found acceptance with campers, backpackers, and the home-bound.

Savings Bond Sale For March

March sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in Crockett County were reported today by County Bond Chairman Lowell Littleton. Sales for the third-month period totaled $1,619 for 19% of the 1978 sales goal of $30,000.

Texas sales during the month amounted to $26,644,081, while sales for the first three months of 1978 totaled $77,564,628 with 25% of the yearly sales goal of 306.6 million achieved.

ma protein (extracted from slaughter blood) to edible meat products. The addition of plasma protein to raw meat can greatly improve cooking properties and nutritive value and has no adverse effect on taste.

A Station scientist has isolated high-quality protein from blood serum. He has found that the plasma isolate can be substituted for as much as 10 percent of the flour in bread. The addition of the plasma protein to wheat protein dramatically increases the nutritive value of bread by increasing the levels of essential amino acids.

In this way nutrition is improved with the odorless, tasteless white powder made from a low-value by-product of the meat-packing industry.

Sorghum, used as a feed grain in this country, has a great potential as a food grain for more of the world's population than at present because it can be grown in most areas of the world. Efforts are being made to improve its palatability and color through selection and its caloric value by processing.

A new effort is underway to evaluate the public health aspects of food processing. These studies are designed to provide fundamental information needed to simultaneously furnish adequate protection for the consumer and minimal regulatory constraints on the producer.

Food is a basic need for all and this effort to help provide food that is palatable, nutritious, and appetizing is worth our whole-hearted support.

Revell Succeeds Ramsey As WTU Dist. Manager

New district managers at Abilene and San Angelo have been named by West Texas Utilities Co. pending the approaching retirement of the district manager at San Angelo.

Named to succeed W.K. (Bill) Ramsey at San Angelo was Don Revell, who has been district manager at Abilene for the past two years. Replacing Revell will be Bob Utley, who has been assistant district manager at Abilene.

The changes were announced by W.P. (Bill) Sayles, a WTU vice president and director of customer services.

Sayles said Revell will spend most of May in San Angelo acquainting himself with the city and other towns in the district. He will assume the manager's responsibilities on June 1, when Ramsey begins a month's vacation prior to his retirement July 1 under the company's regular retirement program.

"These are the two largest districts in our system," Sayles said. "We are fortunate to have someone with Don Revell's experience ready to take over from Bill Ramsey, who we feel has represented West Texas Utilities well for many years in Abilene. Bob Utley's experience as assistant district manager will provide continuity for the operations at Abilene."

The Abilene District includes local office operations in Abilene, Albany, Cisco, Clyde, Cross Plains, Merkel, Moran, Rising Star, Santa Anna, Throckmorton, Tuscola, and Winters.

The San Angelo District includes local offices in San Angelo, Ballinger, Bronte, Eden, Eldorado, Junction, Menard, Miles, Ozona, Robert Lee, Sonora, and Sterling City.

Ramsey has been manager of the San Angelo District since 1967, and prior to that was district manager at Abilene and McCamey. He served four years in the Air Force during World War II.

He is a native of Robert Lee and a graduate of Abilene High School. He joined WTU as a cashier-bookkeeper at Ballinger after receiving a business administration degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1936. He went to McCamey as a clerk in 1937, was promoted to district auditor there in 1946, and was district manager from 1955 until being transferred to Abilene in 1965.

Ramsey was named Citizen of the Year for 1976 in San Angelo, culminating many years of dedicated civic work in the Concho City. He had received the coveted George B. McCamey Award in 1963 for his civic activities in McCamey.

At San Angelo, Ramsey has served on the Chamber of Commerce Board, as pres-

While in Stamford, he was a member of the City Council and a member of the Rotary Club, and was local president and state vice president of the Jaycees.

Revell was transferred to ident of the Rio Concho Manor Board, and as president of the Concho Valley Council for Boy Scouts of America. He received the Silver Beaver Scout Award in 1977.

He currently is on the Board of Directors of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, the Chihuahuan Desert Research Institute, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

He also is a member of the boards of WTU and of the First Savings and Loan of San Angelo.

Ramsey and his wife, Elmina, live at 2914 Chatterton. They have one daughter Prudy, the wife of Dr. Otto Zinser, a professor at East Tennessee State University, and two grandchildren. The Ramseys are members of the First Methodist Church, where he has served as chairman of the Administrative Board.

Revell, a native of Abilene, joined WTU in 1948, two years after graduating from Abilene High School. His early career with WTU was interrupted by service with the Seabees in North Africa. He first worked in plant construction at Abilene, and later worked as a meterman in Abilene and Stamford, serving as district meterman in Stamford from 1959-68.

Advice To GI Bill Students

Ted W. Myatt, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director in Houston, Texas, has a friendly reminder for GI Bill students who might overload themselves with summer courses.

"The VA doesn't pay GI Bill students for dropping courses," Myatt pointed out. "In fact, a veteran who drops a course mid-term can find himself owing the VA money or at least having his monthly educational payment cut proportionately," the VA official said.

That's why the VA encourages GIL Bill students contemplating dropping "problem" courses to use GI Bill tutorial assistance bene-

May Social Security Visit Set

Garland Gregg, representative of the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his May visit to Ozona. He will be at the County Courthouse on Wednesday, May 17th between 2:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. Residents of Ozona may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058".

Students should notify the Social Security Office if they drop out of school, become a part-time student, or marry.

fits to avoid both educational and financial setbacks. It's a free service to the veteran which isn't charged against the veteran's basic educational entitlement.

The government did not pay for tutorial assistance for World War II and Korean Conflict veterans, but under present law VA will pay as much as $69 a month for such help up to a maximum of $828.

In addition to veterans and active duty servicemen, tutorial benefits are available to widows, widowers, spouses and children studying under the VA's Dependents' Ed. Assistance Program.

Veterans and servicemen attending school at the post-secondary level on at least a half-time basis are eligible if they have a deficiency in a subject required in an approved program of education, VA said.

Applications, certified by the veteran's school, should be made on VA Form 22-19904 within a year of the tutoring and should be submitted to the VA regional office which maintains the veteran's claim folder. Campus veterans offices or local VA offices have the forms and details.

Why Should Dolph Briscoe Be Governor for 10 Years?

There is no good reason!

No other Texas Governor has ever asked for 10 years, much less been elected for 10 years. Dolph Briscoe's record does not merit 10 years in office:

- ★ Yet Briscoe has spent more than $2 million in this campaign — including $900,000 his supporters borrowed from 13 banks — to get 10 years in office.
- ★ Property taxes have increased by 1 BILLION DOLLARS since Briscoe was elected; so far, he has done nothing to provide property tax relief.
- ★ Welfare costs have more than doubled under Briscoe, without a fair increase in benefits for those people who really deserve them. The reason is waste. The worst example is Briscoe's own Office of Migrant Affairs, which spends $8,000 for each person it helps find a new job.
- ★ Utility rates have skyrocketed while Briscoe has been governor, without a single sign of concern by the Governor.

Elect a New Governor

Endorsing John Hill, the Kilgore News Herald said: "He fought Southwestern Bell all the way to the Supreme Court to stop an unfair rate increase. He appears to have beat the Howard Hughes empire over millions in inheritance taxes. And he cleaned up Duval County."

Endorsing John Hill, Fort Worth Star-Telegram said: "In two terms as state attorney general, Hill has shown himself to be energetic, articulate and assertive. He can make firm decisions and work persuasively to see them carried out. As governor, he would be an active, accessible chief executive projecting a strong leadership image."

Endorsing John Hill, the Dallas Times-Herald said: "John Hill has been an outstanding attorney general. He has made impressive progress in making the office what he has always said it should be—the people's law office."

Ms. Williams No Bounce Checking To Present Is More Efficient 2 Recitals

Mrs. Bill Williams will present two separate piano recitals in May. The intermediate age group will perform Tuesday, May 2, at 7:00 p.m. in the Civic Center Auditorium. They will be playing the pieces which they will present in the National Guild Auditions in San Angelo, Saturday, May 6.

The students in the May 1 recital are Debbie Brown, Tressa Crawford, Candace Williams, Skipper Carlisle, Alma Kay Ramos, Maricella Payne, Deena Beth Phillips, Susan Scott, John Tom Stokes, and Sherri Buckner.

The May 4 recital will be at 7:00 p.m. Thursday, in the Civic Center Auditorium. The junior high and high school students will be presented in this recital. They are Gayla Bell, Glenda Capps, Michelle Couch, Chris Carlisle, Sara Falkner, Tobie Henry, Lisa Hohertz, Katrina Phillips and Marilyn Wester.

Many contemporary and classical composers will be featured in the Thursday recital.

The public is cordially invited to attend both recitals.

No-bounce checking eliminates the embarrassment of accidentally overdrawing a checking account and having a check returned--and, there is no service charge and no minimum required in a checking account.

No-bounce checking operates by automatically advancing a lump sum of money into an account to cover an overdraft.

In other words, no-bounce checking is receiving approval on a loan being held in reserve. Money can be borrowed on demand and with no delay.

Recycle Clothes For Spring

Recycle clothing for an economical new spring and summer wardrobe, suggests Marlene Odle-Kemp clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

But, before deciding to recycle a garment, consider these steps:

First, decide what is wrong with the garment. If it's too small, too short or the wrong style, consider recycling it.

If it is the wrong color and not worth recycling for yourself, consider giving it to someone else.

Next, decide if it's worth recycling. Examine the fabric--see if it's worn or in good condition and still fashionable.

Also, look at current styles in fashion magazines and newspaper ads for ideas or ways to recycle.

Then, decide what to do to make the garment wearable.

Consider time, sewing skills and money involved to recycle. Can the changes be made within the garment or will extra fabric, notions or trim have to be purchased? Will another garment have to be bought or made to wear with the recycled garment?

After considering these points, decide how to recycle that garment into something new, the specialist adds.

Generally, between $500 and $1,000 credit is available.

There is no interest charged until the money is actually placed in the account, then interest is paid only on the amount transferred.

The lump sum is a predetermined amount, usually $50 or $100.

Interest is charged on the entire amount advanced. The interest--one or two percent per month will amount to usually less than the penalty for an overdrawn check.

Interest is paid only for the exact number of days the money is in the account.

If the advance is not paid back, the bank will leave it in the account and deduct monthly payments. These payments are usually about five percent of the amount advanced.

Interest will continue to be charged on the outstanding balance.

To save money, pay back the advance as soon as possible. This can be done at any time.

First, deposit adequate funds to cover the transaction, then call the bank and instruct it to withdraw the advance plus any finance charges from the checking account.

For people who have trouble controlling credit, no-bounce checking may be a disadvantage.

Parks Dept Has Toll Free Line

Texans have a new informational tool at their disposal now that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has installed a new toll-free WATS line at its Austin headquarters.

Callers, for example, can get information on fishing, hunting, facility phone numbers, parks, state fish records, boating and hunting safety as well as on a number of other department activities. The line may also be used to report information the public may have which may be of interest to the department.

Did You Know?

That no one has yet been able to count all the different ways that disposable foam drinking cups can be used?

According to the Foam Cup and Container Division of the Society of the Plastics Industry, just about every time a count is completed, several more uses are discovered.

Popular in volume feeding operations because they are light, inexpensive and sanitary, foam cups are now finding even greater acceptance in the home. They're available everywhere, and simplify meal and snack time clean-up.

Leave it to the ingenious American consumer, however, to take a product designed to be used once and thrown away and turn it into something he can use again and again.

The cups are often used to package fine crystal stemware for storage, to protect and store lenses in a camera bag safely, as unbreakable parts containers in a home workshop/garage, and as disposable paint and glue mixing dishes.

We would like to share the following April 16, 1978 with the voters in Crockett County: editorial from the Del Rio News Herald,

Support Susan McBee

Del Rio has had the good fortune of being able to provide the people of Texas with a rare jewel, Susan Gurley McBee, who has served them with distinction in our state legislature.

The News-Herald accords her its enthusiastic and unequivocal endorsement in her bid for re-election as representative of the 70th District.

Representing the 70th District is no easy task. In some of our metropolitan districts, a state representative is elected to represent but one little cohesive neighborhood. Representative McBee's district, by contrast, stretches almost halfway across the state, including many widely separated communities and a diversity of geography and economic and social interests.

Her fairness, her desire to be helpful and her ability to get the job done have made her much loved and respected among people in all walks of life in virtually every corner of this sprawling district.

Susan McBee has gained the respect and confidence of her peers in the legislature, who call upon her to carry an ever increasing share of the burden of leadership as her dependability has become time tested and proven in the crucible of experience.

Because the trend toward big city domination of her state government will continue to grow, rural areas such as the 70th District, which contains not one Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area, now, more than ever, need the strongest, most effective voice we can find to speak for our area in the halls of state government. We need Susan McBee in Austin.

STOCKMAN

Dahlgren Announces Candidacy

Paul Dahlgren, candidate for U.S. Representative, 21st District, has authorized the Stockman to make the following announcement.

"I wish to introduce myself to you as a sincere and qualified candidate for the position of United States Representative for the 21st Congressional District of Texas, Democratic Primary. As a native of San Antonio, who has spent many summers working between Val Verde, Kinney, and south Edwards counties, I believe that my qualifications will allow me to translate the concerns of all citizens of our district into a well-planned and forward-looking course of action.

"As the only candidate who has served in the 'All Volunteer' Active Duty Military, as a U.S. Army officer, I know the need for a strong National Defense. I also believe that a primary goal of our Defense Policy should be the fair treatment of all military personnel who serve and have served in our Armed Forces. I have also worked as an auditor for the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, San Antonio Branch.

"I resigned my position and possible career with the Federal Reserve to campaign full time. I will try to meet as many voters on a personal basis as I possibly can. I also challenged all my opponents to debate; any time, any place, any subject. They have all refused. I want to debate my opponents in every county seat. We should have the opportunity to judge all candidates on their opinions and goals, not simply their personalities.

"I earned my Master of Business Administration Degree at the University of Texas at San Antonio. My Bachelor of Science Degree in Business was earned at Texas Tech University where I minored in Economics and Political Science. I am also a graduate of New Mexico Military Institute.

"The abilities necessary to deal with economic, financial, and national defense issues are of critical importance to our nation today. I believe we need more people in government who not only know how to manage public money in a responsible manner, but are also willing to be held accountable for doing so. You will find that I am willing to accept that challenge. I believe that fewer dollars more wisely spent can result in a program of Federal Spending that will be more responsive to the needs of our citizens. We can reverse the trend toward increasing bureaucratic intervention into our lives, without sacrificing humanitarian goals. We need to bring a free enterprise philosophy—the kind of thinking that made America a great nation—back to the federal government.

"I need your support in this campaign. It is my hope that I can earn your respect and trust and that you will feel it to be in your best interests to vote for Paul Dahlgren during the coming elections."

Shop For Mobile Home Parks

Look for a mobile home park to suit individual needs and interests as well as accommodate the mobile home, suggests Glenda Moore, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

Find out about facilities within the park—paved streets, parking, paved walks, refuse collection, laundry, she adds.

Also, look at the number and sizes of lots in the park. This will give an indication of privacy and the amount of rent to be charged, the specialist continues.

A mobile home should occupy no more than one-third of its lot—the lot should have at least 2,800 square feet to accommodate modern mobile homes and their accessories.

This size will also assure some space between homes, Miss Moore adds.

Leave at least 15 feet of clearance between adjacent mobile homes.

There should be a minimum of 25 feet from any mobile home to the property line abutting a public street or highway. At least 15 feet of space is needed between a mobile home and all other property lines.

Don't forget to look for play grounds or areas for children to play. Specific areas for play will help keep children from playing in the streets.

In the bathroom, "non-slip strips" should not only be applied to bathtubs and shower but also to ramps and steps to make them less slippery.

Soil Stewardship Week Scheduled

"The United States' annual loss of five million acres of rural land to non-agricultural use is a special concern during this year's celebration of Soil Stewardship Week April 30-May 7," Bill Baggett, Jr., chairman of the Crockett Conservation District announced today.

This year's Soil Stewardship Week theme, "Compelling Ventures," also stresses the importance of controlling water pollution caused by run-off from unprotected farms, ranches, roadsides, and construction sites Baggett added.

Soil Stewardship Week is a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water, and other natural resources. Traditionally, churches and local citizen's groups participate.

"Nearly 3,000 conservation districts throughout the U.S. will focus their attention upon conserving and preserving America's best farmlands during this 21st annual observance of Soil Stewardship Week," Baggett said. "The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates that of five million acres annually lost to agriculture, nearly one million acres are classed as 'prime' land—the best and most productive land we have. We are encouraging the preservation of these top-quality farmlands for farming rather than their indiscriminate use for housing developments, highways, shopping centers, and the like."

For divorced males and females above age 30, the remarriage rate of females is significantly lower than that of males.

Hawaiian Luau Honors Masons

More than a hundred Master Masons, their wives and members of the Order of Eastern Star from Ozona and neighboring towns were present Saturday night for an elaborately staged Hawaiian style luau at the Ozona Civic Center.

The affair was sponsored by the Ozona Chapter No. 287 of the Eastern Star, honoring Master Masons of the Ozona Lodge No. 747. Mrs. Kaleta Shepperson, Worthy Matron of the OES Ozona chapter, acted as master of ceremonies at the program following the buffet supper consisting of the traditional roast pig, plus a tempting array of other goodies arranged on an attractive Hawaiian style feast table.

Special guests for the affair were Mrs. Ronnie Os-ton, Associate Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star, from San Antonio, and Kermit Schnelle of Boerne, Texas, a member of the Ma-

Feed Program Continues

The Crockett County ASCS Committee has determined that drought conditions in Crockett County warrant continuing the Emergency feed Program another 30 days. This would be limited to feed to be fed April 15 thru May 14, 1978.

Since this is the beginning of a new crop year all previous applicants who wish to participate must go by the ASCS Office and sign a new application and report any changes in livestock numbers. It will not make any difference whether the applicant signs up the first day or last day of the feeding period as it will still be figured from April 15 thru May 14.

If current conditions remain the same after May 14 new applicants can participate in the Emergency Feed Program.

Several producers in the county have not turned in feed tickets under the current program, this should be done as soon as possible.

sonic Brotherhood Committee of District 5, of the Grand Chapter of Texas. Both addressed the gathering on the work of the Order. Also introduced was H.L. (Blackie) Mears, District Deputy Grand Master of District 55, of the Grand Lodge of Texas.

Mrs. Shepperson is Worthy Matron and Rollie Conner is Worthy Patron of the local Eastern Star chapter. Visitors were here from Sonora, Eldorado, Big Lake and San Angelo.

Conservation Act Explained In Leaflet

A new leaflet explaining the Resources Conservation Act of 1977 and the public's role in its implementation is now available at offices of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service.

Under the new law, SCS will appraise the nation's soil, water, and related resources; develop a comprehensive 5-year strategy to guide conservation efforts and evaluate the effectiveness of ongoing conservation programs. SCS will carry out the work in cooperation with appropriate citizen groups; conservation districts; and other federal, state, and local agencies. The appraisal and program will be completed by the end of 1979 and updated every 5 years.

Copies of the leaflet "Your Role in Conservation's Future" may be obtained by calling 392-2301 or coming by the S.C.S. office.

"The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service will co-sponsor a workshop or open meeting about this legislation in the future," C.H. Sinclair, SCS district conservationist, said, "and it would be helpful to read the leaflet before the meeting."

Sinclair said that public participation is a built-in feature of the Resources Conservation Act, and suggestions from interested groups or individuals are welcome at any time.
