

Efforts To Get High Quality Cotton Should Begin In Farmer's Field

College Station, August 26 — More emphasis should be placed on gathering the cotton crop for the high grades and avoid the lower or "penalty" grades. The place to start is in the field according to Fred C. Elliott, cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

To preserve the quality of their cotton farmers are urged to watch both hand and machine picking closely. Even though the gin has one or more driers, the cotton should be carried to the gin as dry and fluffy as possible. Picking cotton while still wet with dew and tramping tightly into the trailer will result in grinding the gin and pepper trash into the lint so thoroughly that even the best of the new gin machinery will have difficulty. So, pick only dry cotton and do not tramp into the trailer is a good rule to follow.

Farmers using a spindle picker will find it profitable to: (1) Defoliate, (2) Wait till the dew dries, (3) Set two trailers in the

Corbin Urges Drought Aid

Senator Kilmer Corbin of Lubbock urged Governor Allan Shivers in a telegram last week to press for Federal drought aid for the severely affected drought areas of West Texas. Senator Corbin pointed out that the threat of drought disaster to the farmers and stockmen was eminent and has imposed a burden on them that they are unable to bear. Corbin urged that in these critical times political differences should be disregarded and the good of the people should be uppermost. The telegram is as follows: "Governor Allan Shivers Austin, Texas

The prolonged drought, coupled with the paralyzing heat wave, has literally destroyed millions of acres of cotton and feed grain in West Texas. This has brought disaster to the farmers and stockmen and has imposed a burden on the banks and merchants that they are unable to bear. If complete ruin to the people in these drought stricken counties is to be avoided, immediate steps should be taken to procure loan aid from available Federal sources."

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 20

Proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 61 to authorize cities, towns, and villages of this State to provide insurance for employees; providing for the submission of the proposed Amendment to the qualified electorate; and providing for proclamation and publication by the Governor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding a new section thereto to be known as Section 61 to read as follows:

"Sec. 61. The Legislature shall have the power to enact laws to enable cities, towns, and villages of this State to provide Workmen's Compensation Insurance, including the right to provide their own insurance risk for all employees; and the Legislature shall provide suitable laws for the administration of such insurance in the said municipalities and for payment of the costs, charges, and premiums on policies of insurance and the benefits to be paid thereunder."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electorate of the State at the General Election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1952, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon (or in counties using voting machines the said machines shall provide for) the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages"; and

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing the Legislature to provide for Workmen's Compensation Insurance for employees of cities, towns and villages."

Each voter shall mark out one (1) of said clauses on the ballot, leaving the one (1) expressing his vote on the proposed Amendment; and if it shall appear from the returns of said election that a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said Amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for aid election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

School Registration Begins Today, Classes To Begin Meeting Monday

Muleshoe schools will begin a new term on Monday, September 1, with registration set for the preceding Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 28 and 29. This was announced today by Jerry Kirk, superintendent, who is busy completing final arrangements and completing the faculty for the new term.

The first general faculty meeting will be August 27, at 10 a. m. in the high school visual educational room. The principal and teachers meeting will follow the general meeting.

Buses Will Run Friday
The buses will not run on Thursday, Aug. 28, but they will run on Friday, August 29, Mr. Kirk said.

Grade school enrollment is set for Friday, August 29. The method of enrolling which will be used for the first five grades will be as follows: The students will enroll under any available teacher in his respective grade, and then the cards will be mixed in one bunch, with an equal number of boys and girls in each. Then each teacher will take every fourth card, and the cards that she draws will be the students that she has in her room.

Every student starting to school in the first grade must have a birth certificate. According to the latest regulations from the Texas Educational Agency, the high school students will be allowed to carry only four academic subjects at a time. Only students who rank in the upper 25 per cent of the students body scholastically will be permitted to take five subjects and this must be approved by the principal.

No student will be allowed to take any correspondence work unless he is a senior and has to have the work to graduate.

Check Of Irrigation Wells Of Area Can Be Carried Out By Owners

"Worrying over irrigation wells is a waste of time. If farmers on the South Plains would make a regular check of their wells and keep records like they do on other things, they would be all right."

That is the gist of remarks made last week by Robert V. Thurmond, Lubbock irrigation specialist with the Extension Service of Texas A & M. His suggestion is that the farmer borrow a water-level measuring device, such as most irrigation of how each well is holding a check of each irrigation well on his property at least twice each summer and once each winter. This would give the best indication of how each well is holding up.

Draw-down Significant

Thurmond's definition of a good well is one that will produce the most water from that particular formation with the least amount of draw-down.

Draw-down is a temporary lowering of the water level in the hole as all water is pumped from the surrounding strata faster than the water flows back into it.

Thurmond's favorite method of

South Plains To Have Exhibit At State Fair

An outstanding committee of agricultural leaders from Texas A & M Extension District is cooperating with the State Fair of Texas in working out the colorful South Plains exhibit of the 1952 Story Book of Texas Agriculture, to be presented at the Fair, Oct. 4 through 19.

The South Plains exhibit honors Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Howard, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Mitchell, Scurry, Swisher, Terry, and Yoakum counties.

The display will feature three ably Duroc pigs in a pen set in the center of a field of red and white grain sorghum, carrying out the exhibit's "hog and sorghum" theme. Huge color photographs of threshing in a grain sorghum field will fill the background behind a transparent curtain on which a big map of the district and its products will appear.

The South Plains will be honored with a special day at the fair Saturday, Oct. 18.

Dove Season Opens Sept. 1

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service approved the following Mourning Dove Hunting Season:

A 40-day Mourning Dove hunting season for North Texas beginning September 1 and a 40-day season for South Texas beginning October 1. Shooting will be restricted to afternoons, beginning at 12 o'clock noon and ending at sunset.

The limits are ten birds per day and ten in possession. Doves must be taken with a shotgun larger than a ten gauge.

The Federal Agency has final authority over dove and waterfowl regulations since doves, ducks and geese are migratory.

rating well performance is to check the rate at which the well can be pumped without overloading capacity, then check the amount of draw-down. This is classed as gallons per minute per foot of draw-down.

Overloading Is Expensive

Overloading a well will cause it to pump sand, increases the cost of operating the well by causing excessive wear on pump parts, and greatly increases fuel consumption costs. Many an irrigation farmer has found that increasing motor speed on an irrigation pump may double fuel costs without bringing twice as much water to the surface.

A constant check on the water level in a well often can save an irrigation farmer lots of worry or trouble. If the amount of draw-down is not increasing, or the static water level has not lowered appreciably, then there probably is some trouble in the pumping system. Knowing this, a repair job on the pump or work on the well may save lots of fuel costs, as well as worry.

Water Table Lowered

If there is any doubt about the amount of water being pumped by a well, it can be measured with a Parshall flume. This is not a necessity, but knowledge of the actual volume being pumped gives a closer check.

There are some wells on the Plains which have lowered the water table as much as 45 feet since heavy pumping has been undertaken. These are mostly in marginal water strata areas, though. The average lowering of the water table has been only about five feet, Thurmond says.

Do you believe in signs?
There are a lot of signs to guide you to the best buy in automobiles. Popularity is a good sign. It means that a lot of people have tried a car and found it good. So it's important to know that Buick is today — and has been since 1938 — the most popular car outside the "low-priced three."
Room, comfort, power, ride are good signs. So it's important to know that you can pay hundreds of dollars more and not beat the room and comfort you get in a Buick SPECIAL.
Nor, at the price, can you match its power. And only Buick gives you a real million dollar ride.
Doesn't all this give you a hint? Doesn't it suggest that you ought to try out a Buick — sample its Fireball 8 Engine — find out how it takes you over the road — feel the sure control that is yours on curves — discover its "big car" room and smoothness?
Do that — and look at the dollars on the price tag — and we know what you'll find out:
If you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick — and boy, what fun that will be! Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

Sure is true for '52
When better automobiles are built
BUICK
will build them

BABSON DISCUSSES

Salesmen

Babson Park, Mass., Aug. 22—I am bothered by the very unfortunate attitude we have developed recently toward sales and salesmen. Successful selling is the keystone of free enterprise and the selling profession must be revitalized for the good of our economy as a whole.

NEGATIVE ATTITUDE TOWARD SELLING

A recent FORTUNE magazine poll of mothers' attitudes toward selling as a career indicated that most mothers want their sons to become anything but salesmen! These mothers have the idea that a product should sell itself on its own merits; that there is something degrading about selling. In short, the idea of selling is revolting to many of them. I believe FORTUNE is wrong.

I wonder how many persons were unfavorably influenced by the movie "Death of a Salesman". It is tragic that Willy Loman, the leading character of the play, was ever tagged a salesman. One critic in discussing the film has had this to say: "The salesman, not as a commercial group, but as a social type engaged in many different careers, is a man who produces nothing, has creative contact with no object, and is in truth the epitome of the taker..." This charge that salesmen are parasites is a pretty serious accusation.

WHY HAVE SALESMEN LOST GROUND?
 Immediately following the war years, many over-age sales personnel retired. The young men taken over were given a bad start. They didn't have anything to sell. The competition was among the buyers, not the sellers, so they never really learned to sell. It wasn't their fault; they were simply products of the times. Unfortunately, the few opportunists among them gave the profession a black eye. Too many families, desperate for a roof over their heads, were fleeced by over-zealous real estate salesmen. Too many are fed up with the attention they never get from certain salesmen of automobiles, electrical appliances, televisions, furniture, and the like during the post-war era of shortages. Too many people have had to do the salesman's job for themselves for so long that they have become wrongly prejudiced against selling as a career.

SELLING IMPORTANT TO FREE ENTERPRISE
 People haven't been buying. Reports of more than 500 companies for the first quarter of 1952, compared with 1951, showed profits off anywhere from 61% in textiles, to 30% in paper, to 17% in electrical equipment. Obviously, some of this loss is due to increased taxation. But the real reason is that people aren't buying. And they're not buying because they are not being properly sold.

Seasoned management should have learned out of these two hectic years since June, 1950, that out country has the phenomenal ability to produce both war material and consumer goods simultaneously and in abundance. Obviously, this is good for people because once again this means sharp competition. Competition means more efficiency and lower prices. Lower prices mean a higher standard of living for more people.

GOOD SALESMEN HAVE A GREAT FUTURE
 In order for free enterprise to remain healthy, it must have not only the ability to produce, but also the ability to sell what it produces. Business remains good

SAND HILLS PHILOSOPHER

Says Women Can Learn A Lot From Political Editorial Writers

Editor's note: The Sand Hills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is misconstruing the news again his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
 I read some time back where, when Gen. Eisenhower was being interviewed by a lot of reporters, at two or three places, when they asked him a tough question, Eisenhower said "I don't know," just like that, and the reporters found it so refreshing they wrote long stories about it, and newspapers had editorials on it, sayin' the honest admission by a candidate that he didn't know the answer to some questions was certainly something new and would set mighty well with the people.

Well, they're right. I like to hear a man come out and admit there are some things he doesn't know, but I would like to point out Eisenhower is havin' more luck with this than I've ever been able to manage. I just don't get the same reaction.

NO HELP WANTED
 Out in West Texas, where water is scarcer than oil, the citizens of three cities are putting finishing touches on a $12 million dam on the Colorado River which will supply all their rapidly growing water needs for at least 30 years.

The project, due for completion this fall, is being undertaken without Federal aid and without imposing any taxes. It is being financed by revenue bonds to be paid off with receipts from the sale of water.

The story of the three cities, Odessa, Big Spring, and Snyder, is told in Washington Report, weekly newspaper published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. It is a story of individual initiative and responsibility, as opposed to Government direction, Government financing, and Government control.

The National Chamber points out that if the Texans had depended on Uncle Sam for help, their project would not have been completed for several more years and would have cost the taxpayers of the whole nation far more than the three cities found necessary to spend.—U. S. C of C.

only when there is a demand for goods and services. It is up to the newspapers and salesmen to create the demand and provide the stimulus for sales. Good advertising and good salesmanship are basic to our prosperity and to our way of life.

The advertising and selling professions hold a great future for usefulness, satisfaction, and unlimited opportunity for the youth of our land. Those entering the advertising profession should, however, remember that they will never get far by merely writing "good copy"; they must sell it and get some prospective advertiser to use it. Advertising needs good salesmen as well as do real estate, automobiles and refrigerators.

You let my wife ask me when I'm gonna get up out of my chair on the front porch and start plowin', and you let me say "I don't know", and she just ain't refreshed by the answer at all, even though it's an honest one. Eisenhower is a better man than I am, that's all I can say.

Certainly a man ain't supposed to know all the answers, and I find Eisenhower's blunt reply to the few questions he doesn't have a good answer for refreshin', we need more of it in public life, but also we need more of it in private life. Women just ain't as advanced in their thinkin' as editorial writers. You let a man come in at 2 a. m., and when his wife asks him where he's been, let him give a thoroughly honest answer of "I don't know", and see what happens. What this country needs is to get the women more politically astute.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

Plains Ginners Meet At Lubbock

Approximately 350 ginners and representatives of allied industries from the Plains area are expected to gather at Lubbock Hotel Saturday for the annual meeting of the Plains Ginners Association.

Headquarters for the convention will be Lubbock Hotel and the convention itself will be staged during the morning, concluding at noon with a luncheon.

Herb Petry of Carriazo Springs, former president of Lions International, will be principal speaker at the luncheon.

Program for the convention, as announced by Roy Forkner, president, calls for music by Bernie Howell from 9 until 9:30 a. m., with the meeting called to order by Drew Watkins, vice president, Sudan, at 9:30, followed by invocation by Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

J. H. Plemons, Smyer, will be in charge of recognition of guests after which Dixon White, secretary, and Forkner will make their annual reports.

Forkner will appoint committees on finance, resolution and ballots, which will be followed by election of directors. The directors will later select officers of the association.

Talks scheduled during the remainder of the morning session will include those by Jay Stillee, Dallas, executive vice president, Texas Ginners association, who will speak on "Present Government Regulations in so far as They Affect the Ginners." John L. McCollum, manager, Southwestern area Cotton Classing, Dallas; and Bill Franklin Jr., Lubbock office; K. N. Clapp, Anderson, Clayton Co.; W. O. Fortenberry, New Deal, past president Plains, Texas and National ginners association; Walter Y. Wells, Lubbock County PMA administrator; Sam Reed, O'Brien, president, Texas Cotton Ginners Association; and C. B. Spencer, agriculture director, Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association.

Earl Hobbs, New Deal, will give the invocation at the luncheon; entertainment will be given by children of Maurice Goodwin; and Marion Key, Lubbock attorney, will introduce Petry, the luncheon speaker.

Attendance prizes will be awarded during the morning session, Forkner announced. Besides Forkner, Watkins and White, directors of the association are: Curtis Boyd, Petty; Elmo Claude, Hale Center; Bill Smith, Ralls; W. O. Fortenberry, New Deal; and J. H. Plemons, Smyer.

Mrs. Bobbie McGee Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Bobbie McGee was the honoree of a pink and blue shower given Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. W. Q. Casey. Assisting hostesses were Miss Elizabeth Harden, Mesdames H. O. Barbour, Leon Julian, W. R. Bowers, and Walter Witte. The colors of pink and blue were dominant throughout the decor arrangements and the refreshments. Upon arrival the guests registered in a baby book and wrote a name for a girl and, or a boy as they desired. They then wrote a rhyme to correspond with a name. Mrs. McGee was declared the winner. She was escorted to a lace covered table where a lovely array of gifts were arranged. Mrs. S. L. Robison, mother of the honoree, assisted in opening and displaying the gifts. Refreshments were then served to Mesdames Anna Stevens, J. T. Barns, Harold McGee, S. L. Robison, Buford Butts, Arnold Morris, Bill Moore, I. F. Willman, Ray Edwards, Roy Jordan, Billy Don Barbour, Hoyt Morgan, and the honoree. Many sent gifts who were unable to attend.

SOIL BUILDER CONFUSION
The recent boom in synthetic soil conditioners is one of the most interesting commercial phenomena in many years. Ever since last December, when one of the world's largest chemical companies announced the development of a synthetic organic soil conditioner, the number of alleged "conditioners" has grown rapidly. Claims and counter-claims for these conflicting brands can easily confuse the purchaser. A "magic chemical" to treat the soil has long been needed. It is a well known fact that soil may be well limed and have an abundant supply of fertilizer and yet not be very productive because of bad crusting on top and poor physical condition underneath. Small wonder, then, that the announcement of an effective soil conditioner late last year caused such a stir. Many people swamped agricultural agencies with requests for this new product even before the discovering company was ready for full production. It was only natural that other companies rushed to "get on the band wagon." But a good soil conditioner is not as easy to produce as it might seem. The original company's research staff had been working on its product for many years before any mention was made to the public. When it was announced, they had a fully tested organic substance whose characteristics were known. This substance, a grayish white powder, was recommended for use at one pound to 100 square feet of soil. It worked in the soil, doing away with crusting and gave the treated area the characteristics of good garden loam, manufacturers said. In the first few months after the initial announcement, the Soils Department of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station tested more than two dozen possible substitutes that were brought in by producers for examination. Of these, only three were found to be effective. Some of the quickly developed products were declared to be virtually worthless. Others might or might not have some value. Until all these products get thorough trials by qualified agencies, the Texas farmer or gardener should realize that HE is doing the experimenting.

Auto Prices May Increase

DALLAS, August 25 — A revision in its automobile ceiling price regulation which may bring increases in automobile prices for Texas purchasers has been announced by the Office of Price Stabilization in Dallas. The revision was brought about by recent changes made by Congress in the Defense Production Act, which permits new car dealers to fix their retail selling price on the basis of historical margin mark-ups rather than on the former basis of dollars and cents ceilings. The change probably will result in an increase in the ceiling prices of many Texas new car dealers, according to R. G. Berle, regional OPS automotive chief in Dallas. Under the revised regulation, each dealer may establish his own ceiling price based on his usual pricing practice in either of the two base periods, May 24 to June 25, 1950, or alternatively, January 26 to February 24, 1951. Mr. Berle pointed out that dealers must continue to display posters listing the ceiling prices of each make and model, and an itemized breakdown of the charges. They will also continue to give each customer an invoice stating the selling price and other details of the transaction.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 38

Providing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of a new Section to be known as Section 50a, providing for the establishment of a State Medical Education Board and a State Medical Scholarship Fund from which grants, loans or scholarships may be made to students desiring to study medicine; providing that such students shall agree to practice in rural areas of this State; providing certain restrictions and limitations; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 50a which shall read as follows:
"Sec. 50a. The Legislature shall create a State Medical Education Board to be composed of not more than six (6) members whose qualifications, duties and terms of office shall be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall also establish a State Medical Education Fund and make adequate appropriations therefor to be used by the State Medical Education Board to provide grants, loans or scholarships to students desiring to study medicine and agreeing to practice in the rural areas of this State, upon such terms and conditions as shall be prescribed by law. The term "rural areas" as used in this Section shall be defined by law."
Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, A. D., 1952, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon (or in counties using voting machines the machines shall provide for the following: "FOR the Constitutional Amendment providing for the establishment of a State Medical Education Fund from which grants, loans or scholarships may be made to students desiring to study medicine."
"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment providing for the establishment of a State Medi-

Butane Powers Most Area Wells

Most irrigation wells on the South Plains are being operated with butane-powered engines, with gasoline running second, according to estimates made by county agents of 18 counties. Of an estimated 15,681 wells, 10,400 are being operated on butane, 2,013 by gasoline-powered engines. Perhaps of more interest to many people is the fact that the wells are almost evenly divided between wells pumping from below 125 feet, and those pumping from levels higher than 125 feet.

Thurmond Gives Figures

Robert V. Thurmond, Extension Service irrigation specialist who has recently compiled figures on irrigation wells on the plains, says that about 7,732 wells are pumping from levels higher than 125 feet, about 7,198 from higher horizons. One of the brighter sides of the picture is that 9,629 wells probably are pumping more than 700 gallons a minute, while only 4,671 pump less than that. There are 2,065 irrigated acres on 11,220 farms in 18 counties which will probably produce most of the expected large Cotton crop on the Plains this season.

textbook, included in the Lesson-Sermon: "The advent of Jesus of Nazareth marked the first century of the Christian era, but the Christ is without beginning of years or end of days. Throughout all generations both before and after the Christian era, the reflection of God—hence come with some measure of power and grace to all prepared to receive Christ, Truth...The divine image, idea, or Christ was, is, and ever will be inseparable from the divine Principle, God" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures p. 333).
