Kitty's Korner

By
Kitty Montgomery

Next week marks the 24th anniversary of the disastrous flood which almost wiped the city of Ozona out in the early morning hours of June 28, 1954. The city has been saved from a repeat performance of that disaster by flood control dams which were built following the flood and in record time. Evert White, who was at the helm of The Stockman at that time, has written an account of the flood control project which will be of interest to those who were here during the flood, as well as those of us who came afterwards.

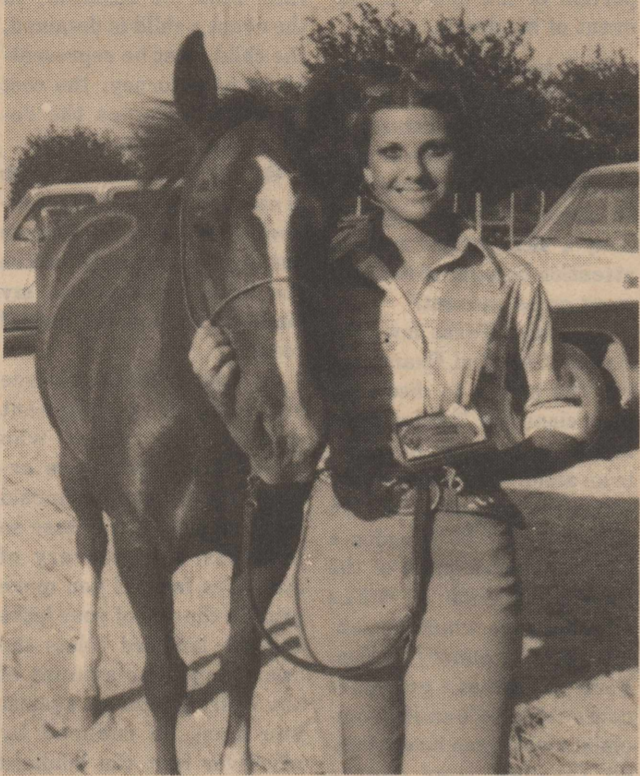

Due to lack of space, we will publish the first part of the account this week and follow up with the second part next week. We also hope to have pictures and personal accounts from those who went through the devastation which destroyed half the homes in Ozona, took 16 lives and resulted in millions of dollars in damage to ranch land and improvements in the area.

I think Proposition 13, which passed in California by such a huge majority and cut property taxes almost in half, has had quite an effect on the nation. But as expected, those who got the ax were those working in public service. I really think the people were trying to tell the bureaucrats something, and that something is less government and more efficiency. I believe everyone in the nation who pays federal income taxes deeply resents how that money is being spent. Instead of less government, we have more all the time and pay more taxes. If Congress is really concerned about the mood of the people, why doesn't it roll back the $12,900 increase in salary it voted itself last year. This might indicate they are less "all talk and little do," than most of us think they are.

Bankers Hold On To Top In Little League

Ozona National Bank is in the lead for the fourth consecutive week, as Little League play slides into the second half. Crockett Automotive follows ONB's 9-1 standing with a 6-4 record, barely rising above Ozona Oil's 6-3. Crawford Garage, Moore Oil and Ozona Electric tag behind with more losses than wins.

Gayle Underwood was winning pitcher last Monday when Crawford Garage snuffed out Ozona Electric 11-3. Miles Miller was losing pitcher. David Lovell led the winners with a double, while Manuel Perez had a double for the losers.

Ozona National Bank won their eighth game that evening against Moore Oil with a 14-4 game score. Eligio Martinez was winning pitcher, and losing pitcher was Nahum Estrada. Able Lara had a triple for the winners.

Last Tuesday's play saw Crawford Garage sneak by Crockett Automotive 7-1, with David Lovell winning pitcher as well as leading hitter with a double and a single for Crawford Garage. Ernie Vargas was losing pitcher, and also led the losers with a single and a double.

Ozona Oil fell to Moore Oil in the second game that night with a 6-2 score. Winning pitcher was Adrian Tijerina, and losing pitcher was Robert Flores. Nahum Estrada and Carlos Borrego had two singles each for the winners, while the losers

3 Accidents Over Past Week Here

Injuries were sustained in a motorcycle accident Wednesday, followed by two accidents on Father's Day, neither of which left anyone hurt.

Martin Martinez, 20, of Ozona, was taken to Crockett County Hospital, where he was treated and released for cuts and bruises after he ran his 1975 motorcycle into the back of a 1973 Mercury driven by Christobal Borrego. Martinez was thrown from his cycle by impact in the accident which occurred at Texas 163 and 2nd Street.

David Garcia Munoz, also of Ozona, hit a parked car at #5 E. 14th Street early Sunday morning. The parked car belonged to Leopolo Cervantez, and was stationed at his home.

William Glenn Brooks of Odessa, escaped injury when his northbound automobile apparently "drifted off the pavement" and overturned three times on a curve Sunday morning. The accident, which occurred 14 miles south of Big Lake on Highway 137, were led by Raul Delgado with a single and a double.

Crockett Automotive whipped Ozona Electric 8-3 Wednesday night, led by Ernie Vargas, winning pitcher, and Zeke Martinez, who had two doubles. Manuel Perez was losing pitcher, and joined Stevie Sanchez in making the two doubles for the losers.

Ozona Oil fell victim to Ozona National Bank in a 12-1 game Wednesday. Lonnie Galindo was winning pitcher and Harvey Fierro was losing pitcher. Lonnie Galindo led the winners with two doubles, while Robert Flores had a double and a triple for the losers.

In Monday night play, Johnny Rodriguez had a homerun, aiding in Crockett Automotive's 11-8 victory over Moore Oil. Ernie Vargas was winning pitcher, and losing pitcher was Adrian Tijerina. Fabian Delgado and Ernie Vargas each had doubles for the winners, and Diron Holt had a double and a single for Crockett Automotive.

Harvey Fierro was winning pitcher when Ozona Oil trounced Crawford Garage 12-3 Monday night. Losing pitcher was David Lovell. Leading the winners was Diego Leal with a single and a double, while Tracy Cole had a double for the losing team.

Johnson Draw Flood Control Story Told

By-Evert White

[Editor's Note--The following is an account of the remarkable achievement of the people of Ozona in effecting a record accomplishment of it's goal of assuring protection against repeat of a flood disaster the likes of that of June 28, 1954. By applying constant pressure, the Washington maze was penetrated, laws were amended, objections of bureaucrats brushed aside and a flood control plan for Johnson Draw approved in record time through cooperation of the USDA Soil Conservation Service. The account was written by Evert White, who was The Stockman editor at the time and who had no small part in keeping open telephone communications with Washington and a political friend, Congressman J.T. Rutherford, who carried the ball magnificently throughout the two-year ordeal of pushing the measure through Congress and by the many agencies whose approval was required. A telephone-toll war chest was provided for this purpose by the Ozona Lions Club at the time.

The account of the flood protection effort was prepared in response to a SCS request as a part of its public participation program of review and plan for conservation activities as provided in a recently enacted public law known as the resources Conservation Act. The written report was made a part of the Crockett Soil Conservation District's Dogged determination on the part of the people of Crockett County, the Soil Conservation Service, the Commissioners Court, The Crockett County Water Control District, the various civic organizations and the citizenship in general led to a record culmination of a movement for flood control measures on the Johnson Draw watershed above Ozona following the disastrous flash flood in that ordinarily dry wash in late June, 1954.

Almost in a matter of hours after the waters had receded and cleanup operations were underway, telegrams were dispatched to then Senators Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel, to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, and to the U.S. Soil Conservation Service in Washington asking help in making plans for measures to prevent a repeat performance of the flood stream. Then Congressman Ken Regan was the first official on the scene, arriving a day after the flood for a first hand look at the damage and promising all aid at his command. Regan was defeated in that year's election by Congressman J.T. Rutherford and Crockett County's flood control effort lost nothing in that exchange. Congressman Rutherford was a powerful ally in Washington in guiding the negotiations that followed through the maze of Washington bureaus.

time, led the early moves for a flood control study and worked unceasingly in the later stages of the negotiations.

The Army Corps of Engineers made preliminary surveys and reported to Senator Johnson that the "flood control problem appears far beyond the scope of a project that would be accomplished with available funds and that Congressional action would be required." The Corps proposed construction of a single large dam to impound flood waters above Ozona, thus inundating a considerable area of ranchland. Nobody here wanted that except as an absolute last report. But the Corps of Engineers was not through with us. It was the last agency is the Washington maze to approve the SCS flood control project.

Less than a year after the disastrous flood, thanks to the concerted efforts of local citizens and government agencies, the Soil Conservation Service engineers were here to begin surveys and to explain the requirements of Public Law 566. In July of 1955 the Johnson Draw flood aid application was submitted to Washington. Crockett County had agreed to advance $25,000 to finance the SCS survey and later called an election for a $200,000 bond issue to provide the county's part of the requirements of Public Law 566 at the time. Although 89 projects were pending in Texas at the time, all agencies saw a strong possibility that the Johnson Draw project would command high priority, because of the strong backing the project received locally.

Amusing in retrospect but hardly so at the time was an incident which occurred during a hearing held by the Corps of engineers to determine the wishes of the people of Crockett County. The public hearing was being recorded by the Corps and there was universal outpouring of descriptions of flood damage and death and the need for flood control. Like a bomb exploding at a picnic was the statement by one K.M. Smith, representing the irrigation farmers of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, saying his group would oppose any effort to hold up one drop of water from reaching the Falcon Dam for use in valley irrigation. If there was further opposition it had to wait as advocates charged the microphone to shred those who would dare to oppose their protection from floods of the kind which snuffed out 16 lives in Ozona and did an estimated $12 million in damage here and downstream.

Meanwhile, efforts were going forward. Crockett County voters overwhelmingly approved a $200,000 bond issue to pay the county's part of the flood protection cost. The vote for 389 for and 12 against.

Why Not Volunteer

Senators and Congressmen?

A year ago last February, Congress voted itself a $12,900 increase in salary. Come next October, and they will get another increase of 6.5 percent to compensate them for the expected rise in the cost of living. This will bring their total salary to $61,237.50, plus a long list of fringe benefits and overly generous pensions, often granted after only a few years of service. In addition, they have as much time as they choose to take for lucrative lecturing anywhere in the United States. Cushy, first-class trips abroad, often with little justification, add much to the attractiveness of their jobs. Congress is not setting a good example for the American people.

Many able, well-qualified men and women in this country would be happy to serve just for the prestige and distinction of being chosen for these responsible positions. It would be considered a very real and a very great honor.

Suppose we issue a call for volunteers to serve as senators and as congressmen in each of our fifty states. We would get plenty of takers. The voters could then make their choice among the volunteers.

Since these positions would not be such financial plums, the winners would be in position to do their duty rather than seeking to please the larger and more powerful pressure groups in the hope of being re-elected.

This would remove one of the most corruptive influences in politics. It would also save money, and it would give a good example to state and local officials. It might be an important part of the answer as to how we can obtain unselfish, honest, competent people to lead our government.

It Can Happen Here

The Warner-Swasey Company of Cleveland, Ohio, has done it again. Here is a digest of one of their recent newspaper publications:

"Have you ever faced the possibility that your country could cease to exist? Nations richer and more powerful in their day than we are in ours have been sabotaged, defeated and enslaved. Babylon and Rome, for instance.

"In every case it was the self-indulgent weakness of the victim which made the victory of the invader easy.

"How strong is a nation which allows foreign competitors to capture world leadership from many of its most vital industries? How virile is a nation which allows this or that group to decide not to fight the enemy? How wise is the nation which gives away so much of its substance abroad that it can no longer keep up its own strength and protection? How intelligent is a nation which is more careful to protect the criminal than his victim? How weak is the nation which allows bureaucracy and a socialistic philosophy to run riot and squander billions?

"Undoubtedly there were Babylonians and Romans who warned that each citizen is responsible for his nation and that that responsibility cannot be shrugged off onto officials. But to those who warned of impending trouble, there was then, as now, the smug sneer, 'It can't happen here.' But it did."

Thank you, Warner-Swasey, and God bless you. If every member of our great American Manufacturers Association would do one-half as much for popular patriotic education as you are doing, we could all then be sure that it couldn't happen here.

Take Note

DURING THE CURRENT YEAR, the United Nations will cost the United States nearly $122 million directly, and probably that much or more to UN subordinate agencies. This is quite a high price to pay for all the vilification that is poured upon our country by this Communist-dominated organization in our midst.

BETWEEN 1973 AND 1977, federal taxes rose 56 percent; Social Security taxes, 68 percent; food, 33 percent; shelter, 37 percent; clothes, 24 percent. Obviously, government is the sinner when it comes to bigger debts and deficits.

THE NEW MINIMUM WAGE rise will cost about $10.3 billion a year plus the loss of an estimated 300,000 jobs.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Democratic gubernatorial nominee John Hill called major state agency heads together to urge them to slash spending wherever possible and to hold a firm line on new budgets.

Hill's action, as a nominee still facing November opposition, was admittedly unprecedented. And it brought a prompt reprimand from his Republican opponent, Bill Clements, who chided Hill for trying to take over as governor before his election.

But both Hill and Clements shared the view that the spiral of appropriations increases must cease.

"Never before has a Texas legislature faced a stronger demand for stopping government growth," said Hill, noting a California vote to cut property taxes.

"You and I have a choice of fighting those demands and resisting budget cutbacks or accepting our responsibilities and cutting our budgets ourselves," Hill told the agency heads. "It's time for us to take our medicine."

Hill said governmental agencies must get accustomed to the idea of operating with less than they have been used to having. He said he wants Texas to become a model for the nation in innovation and courage in the area of governmental economies.

He made clear, however, he stands by his commitments to a billion dollars worth of increased aid to education, including higher teacher salaries, property tax reform, elimination of the sales tax on utility bills and property tax relief for the elderly, farmers and ranchers.

Cutoff Studied

Don't be surprised if an unseen hand—or device—cuts off your air conditioner one of these days.

At least two Texas utility companies told Public Utility Commission examiners they are looking into possibility of remote control equipment to allow them to switch off electrical appliances during peak use periods.

Use of the load management equipment is still far down the road, but various devices are being evaluated.

Purpose of the equipment (still too costly for practicality) is to reduce consumption during peak hours and, thus, to help stabilize rates by making new plants unnecessary. One system would turn off appliances for a few minutes, at different times for different areas of a city.

PUC is examining proposals to conserve energy and lower cost of electricity. A series of hearings is under way.

Courts Speak

The Court of Civil Appeals heard oral arguments in a far-reaching case involving the authority of the attorney general to contest actions by state agencies which he believes are not in the public interest.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the death penalty conviction of a Harris County man accused of beating an 81-year-old widow to death.

Texas Supreme Court overturned an intermediate court and concluded the state cannot appeal a judgment in a juvenile proceeding which is civil, not criminal, in nature.

A Houston man won a reversal of a life sentence for aggravated robbery due to improper jury instructions.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a sexual abuse conviction of a Cass County man.

The Supreme Court held two Garland men are entitled to trial of their suit challenging city of Garland contributions to the Chamber of Commerce.

AG Opinions

A drainage project to be constructed by an entity other than the Harris County Flood Control District is not exempted from a requirement that Texas Water Commission approve its plans though they already have district approval, Attorney General John Hill concluded.

In other recent opinions, Hill determined: Home rule cities shall follow their own charter provisions on construction bonds in event they conflict with state statutes.

A county tax assessor-collector is required to deposit tax funds in his possession in the county depository pending transfer of the money to the county treasurer.

Short Snorts

Texas insurance industry nearly tripled during the 1966-76 decade, growing from a $2.6 billion premium volume to $7.3 billion, according to the Bureau of Business Research.

President Carter will visit Fort Worth, Houston, Beaumont and Fort Hood June 23-24.

The comptroller's office set up roadblocks on major highways south of a line from San Antonio to Victoria to insure compliance with state motor fuel tax laws and other permit requirements. Agents will also be checking for violations of state sales and cigarette tax laws.

Texas Board of Education adopted policies making bilingual education mandatory through fifth grade for children who speak little English. Additional English training will be provided through grade 12.

The head of Texans for Equitable Taxation says no Texas tax revolt is likely because the state's per capita property taxes will remain in the median range for awhile.

Texas Research League says Texas school districts on a statewide basis raised local taxes by $148 million instead of following a legislative suggestion to use $130 million in new state aid for purposes of a reduction.

The Texas legislature will face several versions of a tax limitation proposal and a suggested constitutional amendment to extend to voters the right to initiate legislation by election.

you and the LAW
PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My husband and I are living in the house he bought while married to his first wife. Although her name has been taken off the title, would she have a legal right to claim 1/2 of the house if my husband should die?

A: Yes. Unless a provision disposing of the house was made in your husband's property settlement agreement with his first wife, she could make a claim for a portion of the house in the event of his death.

Q: I heard that a young boy died about a week ago due to a doctor's refusal to see the child because the mother owed $14 on her bill. Do doctors have the right to deny a sick patient medical attention because of nonpayment on an account?

A: Under Texas law, the Board of Medical Examiners has the power to discipline physicians for "professional failure to practice medicine in an acceptable manner consistent with public health and welfare." To abandon a patient is in violation of the Physician's Code of Ethics and therefore would be subject to disciplinary action. Each county has a grievance committee to handle complaints which can be contacted through your county medical society.

Q: A neighbor is having problems with his son . . . can he have his son placed in detention at the juvenile court?

A: The laws governing detention of juveniles are very restrictive. No child may be detained for longer than 48 hours without a detention hearing, and the practice is to have the hearing as soon after the referral as is practical. If the child has a responsible parent, guardian, or other custodian and is not likely to run away, then the child must be released. In the event a child is detained, the child must be represented by an attorney, the cost of which becomes the responsibility of the parent.

Q: I've been offered a job in another city, but I just renewed my lease. If I move out of my apartment before the lease expires, can my landlord sue me for unpaid rent?

A: Your landlord can sue and recover a judgment against any tenant who moves before the lease expires. He can sue for unpaid rent and also, if the lease so provides, for recovery of attorneys fees. If you move prior to the end of your lease and the landlord relets the apartment, the amount of any court judgment against you must be reduced by whatever rent the landlord collects.

CONTRACTORS' NOTICE OF TEXAS HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION

Sealed proposals for constructing 7.003 miles of Grading & Structures from 0.15 mile east of Live Oak Creek to US 290 at Bachler Hill on Highway No. IH 10, covered by I 10-3 (44) 336 in Crockett County, will be received at the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Austin, until 9:00 a.m., July 14, 1978, and then publicly opened and read. THIS CONTRACT IS SUBJECT TO THE WORK HOURS ACT OF 1962, PL-87-581 AND IMPLEMENTING REGULATIONS.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, in accordance with the provisions of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (78 Stat. 252) and the Regulations of the U.S. Department of Transportation (15 C.F.R., Part 8), issued pursuant to such Act, hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively insure that the contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder without discrimination on the ground of race, color, or national origin, and further that it will affirmatively insure that in any contract entered into pursuant to this advertisement, minority business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color or national origin in consideration for an award. Plans and specifications including minimum wage rates as provided by Law are available at the office of W.F. Dixon, Resident Engineer, Ozona, Texas, and State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Austin. Usual rights reserved.

Perhaps the attitude of these lawyers could well characterize the twentieth century. While some people deny the existence of sin, there are many other people who attempt to explain away sin and its effects with respectable labels.

For example, adultery and fornication are called premarital and extramarital relationships. Murder is called homicide. Drunkenness is called intoxication or inebriation. Slander and gossip are called grapevine news. Covetousness is called thriftiness. Sin is called a mistake, a weakness, a hang-up, a maladjustment, or a hereditary trait.

But the Bible says that "—sin is the transgression of the law." (1 John 3:4) The word "transgression" comes from the Latin word, "transgredi", which means "to step over" or "to walk across". God has established a bound-line between good and evil-right and wrong—and when we "step over" or "walk across" this boundary line, we are guilty of sin.

If morality and purity are going to be restored to this nation, more of us-like the tax-gatherer in Luke 18-need to say: "God, be merciful to me, the sinner."

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

After the long dry season of the last year you may be trying to rescue drought-damaged plants. If your shrubs were less spectacular this past spring and large portions of the plant have failed to produce new growth you may be seeing the result of last summer's drought damage. And if this season's new leaves wilt and turn brown, the cause may be drought damage from the current year since our area has experienced a prolonged dry spell. Our recent rains should be a great help to get new growth started. To restore the plant it may be necessary to prune these radically. Cut the tree or shrub all the way back to its main trunk and branches, leaving only live green wood. This may seem extreme, but it may save your plants. Shrubs treated in this way may not show signs of growth during the rest of the growing season, but you may be surprised next spring when the shrub or tree flowers.

Impatiens are among the most shade-tolerant bedding plants to brighten your summer garden. In large or small groupings, massed impatiens form neat, compact mounds of glassy foliage and bright, delicate flowers. Most varieties have red, purple, pink, salmon or white flowers with numerous bicolors. Plants range in height from 6-inch dwarfs to taller varieties of about 2 feet. At this point in the season, buy nursery plants rather than starting from seeds. Set plants out in well-prepared well-drained soil. They will tolerate light to deep shade, but may wither and burn in prolonged direct sunlight. Do not fertilize the bed at planting time. Allow plants to become established (about one month in the ground), then fertilize sparingly every 6 weeks. Use about one half teaspoon per plant.

Impatiens also make beautiful container plants and are at their best in hanging baskets. June also is the time for

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED-Mr. and Mrs. George Shelton of San Angelo announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathy, to Mr. Eugene Vinson of Mertzon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duwain Vinson, formerly of Ozona. The wedding will be August 12 at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church in San Angelo. The bride-elect is a 1975 graduate of San Angelo Central High School and attended Angelo State University. Miss Springer Weds David Pagan Saturday some specialized jobs such as making cuttings of evergreens. Make a rooting bed outdoors in a lightly shaded area, using perlite or vermiculite as the medium. For best results, keep this constantly damp and use a rooting compound. New evergreen growth is ready for cuttings when it hardens up. Make them 4 to 6 inches long and strip off all but the top set of leaves. Cut the base at an angle and stick the cutting at least an inch deep in the rooting medium. In 6 to 8 weeks after the cuttings have rooted and the roots are about an inch long, put them in a light soil mixture (1/2 peat moss, 1/2 vermiculite, 1/2 loam) and grow through the rest of the summer. Transplant into the garden in late fall. This will give you new plants at little cost this fall.

Kathryn Jo Springer and David Mac Pagan were united in marriage Saturday morning at the home of the

bride's parents in Sterling City. Clinton Eastman, pastor of First Baptist Church in Sterling City, officiated. Given in marriage by her brother, J.T. Springer II, the bride wore a white batiste dress softly gathered at the waist with white lace inset at the neck. She carried a nosegay of yellow sweetheart roses, white daisies and baby's breath, accented with white ribbon streamers. Serving his son as best man was J.C. Pagan. Matron of honor was Mrs. Donna Springer, sister-in-law of the bride. Karlene Eastman, organist, played The Lord's Prayer, Wedding Chorus and Annie's Song at the ceremony. Gussie Mae Pierce, grandmother of the bride, and Donna Springer served at the reception. The daughter of Mrs. Lora Eastman and the late J.T. Springer, the bride is a 1977 graduate of Stanton High School, and is employed by the Adobe Mini Mart at Sterling City. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Pagan of Ozona, is a 1971 graduate of Ozona High School, and attended Angelo State University and Southwest State University. He is employed by Stolts, Wagoner and Brown of Sterling City. Out of town guests at the wedding were Darrell Eastman and Emily Cahape, both of Lubbock; Jerrold Huff of Ft. Stockton; Rodney Pagan of Del Rio; and James and Steven Pagan, both of Ozona.

After a wedding trip to Aspen, Colorado, the couple will be at home in Sterling City.

Sew ruffles or flounces on new garments or add them to last year's garments. They're an important part of today's look.

For easy and fun sewing with ruffles and flounces, follow these tips:

Make the ruffle two to three times longer than the garment edge it will be attached to.

On soft, sheer fabrics, the ruffles can be full and long in length.

On a stiff fabric, make the ruffle with less fullness and shorter.

Use nylon thread on the bobbin for a stronger thread to pull up the ruffle gathers. Use regular thread on top.

Make two rows of gathering thread with basting stitch length at the top of the ruffle, one 5/8 inch from the edge and the second 3/8 inch from the edge.

Sew ruffle in place over the 5/8 inch line for a smooth-not puckered-- effect.

For a neat, even gathered look, follow these steps: Divide the ruffle into fourths marking each fourth with a pin.

Divide the garment into fourths with pins on the edge the ruffle will be attached to. Next, match the pins on the ruffle and the garment.

Pull up the gathering thread until the ruffle is the same length as the edge of the garment.

Even the gathers by moving them back and forth between pins. Stitch in place.

On The Right Course

Here's a man who knows where he's going—and it's a good thing he does! Because even a small craft can flounder pretty badly if it gets too far off course.

How about you? Do you know where you're going? If you're like many of us, you probably have your moments of doubt.

That's where the Church comes in. The teachings of the Church give us the basic understanding and philosophy we need if we are to do a good job of navigating our way through life. In the Church we learn the meaning of faith—and we learn, too, why our Faith has endured through the centuries. We come to realize the wonder and beauty of wisdom, kindness and tolerance.

If you feel that you've gotten off your course somehow... don't try to find your way back alone. Remember that your church stands ever ready to welcome you.

jolts from jan

Like most people, I entertain the devout belief that summer is great. While I join in on snide verbal attacks on the sweltering heat, and though I campaign against dry weather and raise Cain when summer rains pelt on us weekends, I nonetheless enjoy summer best of all the seasons.

Summer is the best because there are no books, no cafeteria lunches, no exams. Summer days mean hours in the sun, afternoons at the river, and lunches of jello and ice cream for the lucky ones not trying to lose the "college ten" they gained during the school semesters.

But absolutely the best facet of summer is vacation. Most of us spend the entire year planning our summer vacations. And we look forward to them as if they were the highlight of the year because they often are.

Vacation is a chance to take off and forget everything for awhile, to learn new things, to experience new experiences, and to just have fun.

I'm planning all those things for my vacation this year. I'm going to see states I've never seen. I'm taking cameras and pens and notepads to make a journal of the entire experience. Then, I'm going to come home and write some articles that will give old Rick Smith a run for his money. I intend to learn more in the next two weeks than is considered possible. Especially about people. I'm going to stay awake for everything that happens around me, and I'm not going to forget one bit of it.

Another thing I'm doing to prepare for this adventure is stocking up on T-shirts with Texas stuff all over them because I want everyone to know where I'm from even before I say, "Hi, ya'll!" I hear out-of-staters get a real bang out of Texans. And, I'm prepared for all those people who are going to say, "Talk for me, will you?" And then they laugh, I'm told.

After warnings from friends, I've given up my dream of how the capital of the United States is going to look, I am prepared for a building that looks like any other, except that it needs paint, and I am ready for city streets littered with trash and trashy people.

Even so, I simply can not give up my anticipation, and I will probably be just as overwhelmed as I've expected to be by everything I see.

GIGI MCKINNEY And winning recipe

Gigi McKinney, State 4-H Food Show Winner

Gigi McKinney of Ozona likes color and excitement—and that's just what she added to the 1978 State 4-H Food Show when she was named top winner in the snacks and beverages division of the state contest last week.

Amid little shrieks of joy, smiles and laughter, she ascended the auditorium stage and received a $500 scholarship.

Miss McKinney, 18, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. McKinney.

For the top honor, she created "Hot Broccoli-and-Cheese Dip," noting that the broccoli "adds color, flavor and texture."

She was also a high-point scorer on the contest's foods and nutrition quiz, another critical "must" for the top-place awards.

State 4-H Food Show is sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, and the Morrison Milling Company of Denton, Texas, which provided the scholarships.

Miss McKinney, a 1978 graduate of Ozona High School, has been a 4-H member for eight years.

During the time she has spent in 4-H foods and nutrition projects, she has prepared more than 4,200 different dishes, she says.

But that was just part of the projects, she explains. Other focus areas include principles of nutrition, food buying, menu planning and energy conservation.

Training in those areas helped her in six major ways, she says.

"I learned how to buy better brands, buy the best quality for the money and form good eating habits."

"I also learned by teaching other 4-H'ers," she says of her years as a junior leader of younger members.

"And I learned how to use the daily food guide—and I learned patience," she grins.

One young 4-H member the coed coached won the county and district 4-H food shows in the junior division and you can tell when she mentions it that Miss McKinney considers this one her proudest accomplishments.

Others include receiving the 4-H Danforth "I Dare You" Award and being nominated locally for "Best Citizen."

Miss McKinney also was named Crockett County 4-H Gold Star Girl.

Gigi was Ozona High School Band head twirler, and she was active in the high school stage band. She also served as class secretary.

Recently she participated in the 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour in Washington, D.C.

Miss McKinney plans to attend Texas Tech University as a speech therapy major.

"New York, when we need your help, we'll ask for it"

The Labor "Reform" Act looms as another desperate attempt by big labor bosses to grasp even more power. To spread their control to the Sunbelt. And to deny Texans their freedom to choose.

Because if they win this one, repeal of the right to work is next. And we lose, among other things, our freedom to choose between joining a union and not joining a union.

That's why Senator Tower says the issue isn't unions. It's freedom. You only have to look as far as New York City to see what happens when the people lose that choice. You'll see a once vibrant heart of a region now crippled by the excesses of big labor.

In standing for Texas, Senator John Tower stands squarely against the Labor "Reform" Act.

And for the right to work.

Today, he's spearheading the effort in the U.S. Senate to defeat this dangerous bill. And to preserve the right of employer and employee alike to choose.

His opponent, an ambitious two-term congressman, voted for the Labor "Reform" Act.

An unfortunate and political choice on his part.

Because the Labor "Reform" Act could be as devastating to the Texas economy as it is to our freedom to choose.

Which makes your choice in November clear. Senator John Tower. The man who votes for Texas. The man who stands on principle.

Not politics.

Beth Boyd To Leave Small Fashions July 1

"Small Fashions", which has been "the place to buy children's clothes," in Ozona for over eighteen years under the capable ownership and management of Beth Boyd has been sold to Alice and Ed Collett.

The Colletts will take over July 1. Mrs. Collett will operate the children's shop and Ed will open a gun shop on the second floor of the building.

Mrs. Boyd recalled many fond memories Monday during an interview with a Stockman reporter. She said when her husband, Leonard retired from the service over eighteen years ago, they decided they needed something to keep them busy and that a children's store would be "as much fun as anything." So "Small Fashions" was established and opened its doors in February, 1960 at 104 Sheffield Rd.

"Miss Nellie" Smith, a school teacher for 50 years, bought a baby dress for Kay Fuantoz and was her first customer.

A 1967 fashion show at the Civic Center, where 63 "little models" wore clothes from the store, also brings back fond memories for Mrs. Boyd.

The store began selling children's clothes in sizes up to 6X, and then expanded to cover sizes up to 12, and 10 for little boys, and later up to a 4 in toddler. The most recent expansion in stock has been the addition of some Junior sizes, because, as Mrs. Boyd said, "As the children grew up, I began to lose them, and I wanted to keep them coming in."

The first Christmas in the store, Mrs. Boyd received picture cards from some of their customers, and mounted them on the wall for everyone to enjoy. They stayed there, and as time went on, more and more were added when parents brought in school photos of their children. Photos are now scattered carefully across two walls in the new store, depicting small Ozonans from birth to parenthood, starting a collection thus far spanning two generations.

The first of the pictures displayed was one of the R.L. Bland children, exhibited near one of the latest additions to the collection, a picture taken at the wedding of one of the children.

At one point in her career, Mrs. Boyd sent clothes from her store to Korean children in an orphanage and they sent back photos of themselves, each of which is displayed on the walls along with those of the Ozona children.

Mrs. Boyd said the pictures are part of the store, and will remain there after she leaves. When asked how she feels about leaving them, she repeated with a sad smile, "Well, they're like some of the fixtures in the store." Also to be left with the store is the Christmas tree that snows, which is displayed yearly during the Yuletide season.

The store was moved October 1, 1976 to its present location on Ave. E. The first customer there, remembers Mrs. Boyd, was Billy Carson, who bought a birthday ring for his daughter, Julie.

Alterations have been a big part of Mrs. Boyd's career at "Small Fashions," as she has fixed many outfits to fit children. In addition, she has sewn clothes for weddings, specializing in little girl's dresses.

Mrs. Boyd started out in her business wrapping each gift sold in original decoration. She said she has stayed in the store as late as 2 or 3:00 a.m. wrapping gifts for showers, which she said she has delivered personally on many occasions.

Listed in the Air Force directory, Mrs. Boyd said the store has received calls from all over the world, and has shipped merchandise without a single loss. She is proud of the fact that, in all her years in the clothing business, she has never "lost a dime on a bad deal or a hot check." She added with a grin, "I've lost a few 'so-called' friends, though."

But not only clothes are sold at the children's store. Educational toys are an added item to be purchased there, all of which are made exclusively of wood and glue. No metal or plastic toys can be found at "Small Fashions" according to Mrs. Boyd.

"The best investment I ever made," said Mrs. Boyd, was the miniature table and chairs set up in the front of the store to occupy the children "while mother shops." The set, according to Mrs. Boyd, is one of the few wooden ones left to be sold, and is famous with children of regular customers. It was purchased from Western Auto upon relocation of the store.

Mrs. Boyd said, "I'm going to retire. I'd like to travel. I want to go to Canada. And I need to stay involved in my Care Center work and my church work and just do 'odds and ends'. I'd like to do a few things before I get too old to do them."

Senior Adult Day Is Sun. At First Baptist

The First Baptist Church will observe Senior Adult Recognition Day this Sunday. The purpose of it will be to officially initiate its Senior Adult Ministry. To highlight the day will be a noted senior adult speaker, Dr. J. Earl Mead of Dallas, who will speak at the 11:00 o'clock worship service.

Dr. Mead has been described as the spryest 85 year old you've ever met. He distinguished himself as a pioneer in the ministry of education in Baptist churches starting in 1919 as Minister of Education for the First Baptist Church, Beaumont, Texas. He served the Cliff Temple Baptist Church, Dallas, for 36 years where he retired at age 70. Since retirement he has been just as busy speaking at state, association, and local church gatherings. He is a storyteller and devotionalist par excellence who can keep you spellbound or in laughter for hours.

The Senior Adult Ministry of the First Baptist Church will provide programs and activities each month to give senior adults opportunities for fellowship with one another, and it will seek to discover areas of need to which the senior adults may minister. During the month of June these adults have been meeting for Friday luncheons, and their special guests for this coming Friday will be Dr. and Mrs. J. Earl Mead. Future meetings will be planned each month to have programs presenting information of interest to senior citizens, and there will be activities planned according to the interests indicated by the group. One important feature of the ministry will be to minister to the homebound senior adults in the community.
