Bankers Are L.L. Champs

The Ozona National Bankers, managed and coached by Lloyd Winkley and Buzz Wilson, are champions of the 1978 Little League season, even though they have another game to play Thursday night. The Bankers have a 11-1 season record and even a loss would not change the outcome of the season.

All stars will be announced Thursday night between the final two games of the season. The all stars will be coached by Winkley and Wilson and will begin workouts next week. Little League all stars from San Angelo South and Sonora will play July 17, and the Ozona stars will take on the winners in Ozona July 19.

Last Thursday night Ozona Oil beat Moore Oil 5-4, giving them second place on the season with an 8-4 record. Winning pitcher was Robert Flores and losing pitcher, Nahium Estrade.

Crockett Automotive beat Ozona Electric to take third place for the season by a score of 6-2. Winning pitcher was Zeke Martinez and losing pitcher was Adrian Tijerina.

Only One Accident Mars Week

Only one automobile accident had been reported in Crockett as of noon Tuesday, giving the county a pretty good safety record for the four-day July 4 weekend.

The wreck, a 2-vehicle crash, occurred at the intersection of Hwy. 163 and 290 shortly after 7 p.m. Saturday, when a vehicle ran a red light and side-swiped the other.

Maggie Rodriguez, a passenger in one of the cars, was taken to Crockett County Hospital where she was treated for cuts and bruises.

The driver of the car, Johnny Rodriguez, 16, was not injured. Also uninjured was John L. Martinez, driver of the other car.

All involved were from Ozona.

Screwworm Cases Appear In Crockett County

At least two screwworm cases were identified in Crockett the last two weeks in June, the first cases to make appearance here this season. The first, a sheep mouth on the A.B. Hoover, Jr. ranch, collected by David Hoover, the second submitted by Fred Chandler, was in a sheep's ear.

Twenty-four counties in the west-central part of Texas recorded their first 1978 screwworm cases during June, reports Dr. M.E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr.

The director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture Screwworm Eradication Program compares the currently known 121 cases from 35 counties to 30 by June's end last year. By the same date in 1972 the total was 21,097.

Meadows draws some encouragement from the Live Oak County situation. The 15 reported case infestations in that county, and one in adjoining Bee County, have been slowed. No cases were found in the area during a 22-day period.

The west-central Texas infestations are in a region bounded by Crockett and Sutton counties on the south, Coleman County on the east, Crosby and Motley counties on the north, Andrews, Ector and Lynn counties on the west. In addition, Pecos, Brewster, Presidio, Jeff Davis, Culberson, Hudspeth and El Paso counties have all recorded screwworms.

One temporary sterile fly distribution center has been set up at San Angelo; another at Alpine. Earlier established centers are at Alice, Del Rio, and Laredo. The far west Texas screwworm cases are being treated from the permanent distribution center at Douglas, Arizona.

Screwworms are a parasite of all warm blooded animals. Adult female flies deposit eggs on the edges of wounds. As eggs hatch the tiny larvae enter the wound to feed on living flesh.

The feeding worms produce an odor which attracts other gravid female flies. They reinfest the wound. Repeated infestations, if untreated, can and often do lead to death of the host animals.

The Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service operated program is based on the fact females of this species usually mate only once in their lifetimes. Specially reared flies are rendered sterile but left sexually active by exposure to Cesium 137 radiation.

Sterile flies are released from APHIS aircraft among known populations of wild flies. Any eggs produced as the result of a sterile to fertile mating will not hatch, ending the life cycle.

In Precinct 1- New Election Is Official

An order for a new election for the unexpired term of Commissioner Precinct 1, was officially filed in 112th District Court here Friday. The election will be held August 12.

The new election grew out of a civil suit filed by Sostenes DeHoyos against Jesse Marley contesting the run-off election for the post which was held January 7 of this year. The suit came to trial in March and on March 30, after hearing evidence, Judge George M. Thurmond of Del Rio, set aside the results of the election in question, where Marley was the victor by 32 votes.

Irregularities in absentee voting was the main cause for setting aside the results of the election. Due to this Judge Thurmond ordered that the present county clerk and deputies will not be involved in any way with this election. The commissioners court was ordered to appoint two special deputies for the sole purpose of conducting the absentee balloting for the election. The court, in anticipation of the order, appointed two deputies during the regular meeting in June.

Veva Vargas and Barbara Walker were appointed to attend to all the duties in the absentee voting will take place for this election.

The period for requesting an absentee ballot by mail will begin July 13 and continue until August 9. To be counted a ballot must be received by 1 p.m. on August 12.

Absentee voting by personal appearance will begin

July 31, at 8 a.m. and end August 9, at 5 p.m.

The commissioners court has been ordered to canvass the returns and declare the results no later than August 14, and the winner shall immediately take office.

July 1, Brings Rainfall

A thunderstorm Saturday night left from .25 to .30 of an inch of rain on Ozona and got the month of July off to a good start. June made its exit with a respectable 2.89 inches of rain, and set a record for temperatures above 100-degrees.

The Saturday night thunderstorm did little to cool temperatures and the mercury was back up to the 100 degree mark Sunday, where it has been for this week.

At the end of June, the half-year mark, total rainfall recorded was 8.25 inches, down over 4 inches from last year's 12.33 inches at the end of June.

Crockett Fields Gain Extender

The Adams-Baggett Ranch (Canyon sand gas) field of Crockett County was extended two miles west with completion of Methane Gas Co., Dallas, No. 1-M (formerly No. 1) Ward "M", 18 miles southeast of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 820,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

Production was through perforations at 5,401-555 feet, which had been acidized with 5,000 gallons and fractured with 24,200 gallons and 40,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,013 feet from the south and 2,256 feet from the east lines of 30-TG-GC&SF.

Mesa Petroleum Co., Midland, will drill two outposts to Canyon sand gas production in the Ozona multipay field, 26 miles southwest of Ozona.

Both projects, in 49-MM-T&StL, are scheduled to 7,500 feet.

The No. 1-49 Hoover, 1 1/4 miles northeast and 1 5/8 miles west, is 1,182 feet from the south and 912 feet from the west lines.

The No. 2-49 Hoover, one-mile west and 1 1/4 miles northeast, is 1,726 feet from the south and 1,608 feet from the east lines.

You can call anything "the good old days," once you've survived them.

You can't take it with you, but have you ever tried going somewhere without it?

What this country needs is a grocery cart with four wheels that all go in the same direction.

When someone stays home from work on the pretense of having a cold, that's sinus fiction.

Ability is nearly always accompanied by humility.

If the grass on the other side is greener, your own grass may need a good watering.

The older a man gets the further he had to walk to school.

The kind of music more people should be listening to these days is domestic harmony.

The younger generation has no faults that becoming parents and taxpayers won't cure.

A vegetable garden is a little like a sad book, you weed it and reap.

In school these days they are teaching reading, writing, and pocket calculator operation.

The trouble with smart children is all too often they don't smart in the right place.

$20 BILLION TO SAVE US FROM OURSELVES?

Despite mounting criticism — including opposition from the House of Representatives — the federal government still plans to require U.S. automakers to install a questionably effective safety device in all new cars after the 1980 model year.

In an effort to reduce the accident fatality rate on the nation's highways — surely a worthwhile goal — the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and the Secretary of Transportation have decreed that all new cars after 1980 must be equipped with airbags or other "passive restraint" devices.

The bureaucrats are convinced that these airbags are more effective than seat belts in preventing serious injury in collisions. To sway Congress and the public, the agency and others in the pro-airbag lobby have mounted an extensive campaign to make Americans believe that airbags would significantly reduce the death rate.

But there is just one problem: facts do not support the claim. In testing done under NHTSA contract, the Calspan Corporation measured the impact on cadavers and dummies involved in front end, off center collisions. In the simulated crashes involving airbag "protected" subjects, three out of four accident victims would have died had they been real life collisions, according to the tests.

Yet in the same tests, not one seat belt restrained dummy would have "died."

Congressman Bud Shuster of Pennsylvania, ranking minority member of the House Subcommittee on Surface Transportation, believes that NHTSA has purposefully misled Congress and the public by withholding the findings of the Calspan tests. He charges that the agency has "presented material distorting the facts, completely omitted relevant information, impuned the integrity of those who oppose them, suppressed data in their possession . . . and intimidated employees who could not go along with their coverup." Under his leadership, the House voted June 12 to prohibit the Department of Transportation from using any of its funds to implement or enforce the airbag regulations.

Test results aside, there is also the matter of cost: how much are the bureaucrats going to force us to pay to save us from ourselves? NHTSA admits that the airbags would cost at least $200 per car for factory installation. With over 100 million cars on the road presently, that adds up to a $20 billion bite out of Americans' purchasing power as people replace their aging cars with post 1980 models. There are even more costs involved, too: once an airbag is inflated, the driver can not repack it himself and must send the car to a repair facility. By NHTSA's own estimates, this could cost from $400 to $600 each time.

Finally, there is the principle involved. By forcing consumers to purchase a questionably effective safety device, the bureaucrats again are saying they know what is best for us. It is an insult to the intelligence of every American driver, all 130 million of us, that the government thinks we lack the maturity and sophistication to make rational decisions about our own safety.

For some, airbags may be an attractive investment. But to make them mandatory is to deny our right to make basic decisions about our own lives and safety.

Big Brother is not only watching, he's acting to "protect us from ourselves."

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: Neighbors on two sides of my property have put up electric shock fences to control their livestock. What are my rights if I object to this type of fencing?

A: Your neighbors are legally entitled to erect any type of fence they desire on their property. Your legal rights would be violated only if the fence encroached on your property, in which case you could remove any of the fence on your land.

Q: Is it true that if you don't make a will three years before death, the government will take your property?

A: No. The government would not be entitled to take your property upon your death unless you leave no heirs to claim your estate.

Q: When I put my home up for sale, the realtor had it appraised by FHA, and I was sent a $50 appraisal bill by FHA. Also, the appraisal was lower than the price which I was told a buyer was willing to pay. Do I have to pay the appraisal fee, even though the appraisal was lower than the buyer's offer, and therefore cancelled the sale?

A: The normal procedure for paying FHA appraisal fees is for the seller to bear this cost, regardless of whether it adversely affects the sale of the property. A person selling property can protect their interest by working with their lawyer to draft an escrow sales contract to cover such contingencies as an FHA appraisal which is lower than the asking price.

Q: Our daughter died without a will and is survived by her husband and two small children. Their father won't let us see them at all. Is there any way we can see these children? And, who handles the estate the children should receive?

A: Any grandparent has the right to petition the district court in the county where the grandchild resides in order to obtain visitation rights. To do so, the grandparent asks to be named as a possessory conservator of the child and asks the court to compel the managing conservator, who in this case apparently is the child's father, to make the child available for visitation. The duty of managing the child's estate is placed on the managing conservator.

Federal Taxes

Though there has been growing sentiment in Congress for several months against income tax reductions, in this election year many solons think they must vote a goody to taxpayers to aid their cause in this fall's election.

That conclusion does the American people a disservice. Polls show the average American today wants inflation and excessive government spending halted—as first priorities.

The budget can't be balanced soon if Congress votes a $20 billion tax cut. That would also accelerate inflation.

What the times demand, and what President Carter and the last session of this 95th Congress should do, is balance the budget by next year by cutting expenditures across the board, by about $20 billions, and keeping income tax rates where they are.

This kind of fiscal responsibility and restraint would soon save citizens as much, through prices which didn't spiral, as gained temporarily by tax reductions, soon wiped out by continuing inflation.

Percy's Warning

Senator Charles Percy (R-Ill.) warns there has recently been an alarming upsurge in criminal penetration of labor unions. Percy noted that nine strike force chiefs who recently appeared before a Senate subcommittee unanimously agreed the trend toward criminal control of unions was alarming.

Deputy Attorney General Ben Civiletti now estimates some 300 local unions are now totally controlled by organized crime.

Reporting this is not anti-union, nor intended to discourage unions or union membership. The truth, however, must be faced and those in and out of unions need such facts to prevent organized crime from further penetration of the American labor movement.

It's partly because of this infiltration, the image criminal control and union corruption have created, that unions in the last year or two have not been able to increase membership.

The answer is not in damning all unions but in the unions cleaning up their house. It's a big job; the disturbing factor today is that criminal penetration and control are increasing—not declining. Organized labor, its leaders and its members, must redouble their efforts if the union movement is to be what it should be, and is to expand.

The Carter Failure

Whatever else one thinks about the performance of the Carter Administration, it's clear the peoples' greatest disappointment in Mr. Carter is that he has not reduced the bureaucracy, nor decreased spending by the bureaucrats.

Mr. Carter was elected on the hope and belief of millions that he would drastically cut the number of federal agencies and reduce spending. Mr. Carter was looked upon as an outsider, a Mr. Clean, a politician who—finally—meant his promises and would keep them.

Sad to relate, Mr. Carter has done exactly the opposite of what the nation hoped concerning the bureaucracy and its expenditures. He has not been different, but has followed the same path almost every politician follows—creating new programs and new hiring, and spending more and more.

Mr. Carter can truthfully point out how little power the President has to reduce the bureaucracy. He can claim that all his new programs are to increase services. As every politician believes, he believes his new employees and new offices will turn out to be different from the other tentacles of the federal octopus, but history shows this never happens.

The cold truth is that Carter has hiked executive salaries enormously. He has expanded federal jobs by about 18,000 as of this date. (Most of these employees get automatic pay hikes, whether the nation can afford them or not.) Mr. Carter's reorganizations don't eliminate jobs. Most of them create new jobs. Mr. Carter's new programs have also added thousands of new rules and regulations for everyone to follow.

While this has been happening, federal money to the states, liberally increased, has resulted in the hiring of hundreds of thousands of new state employees. Today some 17,000,000 Americans are on the federal, state and local payroll! The federal budget is never balanced and the world rightfully looks upon U.S. leadership as irresponsible and undisciplined.

Mr. Carter's great chance, and opportunity, was to do what the American voter expected him to do—reduce the federal bureaucracy and reduce waste and spending. He can still operate on that premise, if he will, and win the support of the American people—as witness recent events in California. But he is late in starting (if he finally starts) by eighteen months.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Consumers, unhappy over soaring electrical bills, jammed a Public Utility Commission hearing to demand relief.

"The time has come for this commission to put up or shut up," said Mrs. Angela Moore of Houston, representing the Texas Association of Community Organizations for Reform Now at the special airing of consumer gripes.

Spokesmen for the group (ACORN) called for establishment of lifeline electric rates.

"We are sick and tired of seeing preferential rates given to large electric users, while the people who can least afford it pay the highest per-unit rate," said Mrs. Moore. Lifeline rates provide a fixed low price for residential use of a stated number of kilowatt hours of electricity.

ACORN representatives argued conservation is difficult when one cent per kilowatt hour is charged for major usage and 10 cents an hour rates are levied on small users of electricity for home essentials.

The commission is studying alternative rate mechanisms. It will make a report to the legislature as a result of its hearings and studies.

Agencies Aged
The Sunset Advisory Commission tentatively ordered switching regulatory functions of the state nursing home administrators' regulatory agency to the State Health Department after learning the little agency had never cancelled a license.

E.M. Lawrence, executive secretary of the Texas Board of Licensure for Nursing Home Administrators, acknowledged he had investigated none of 660 complaints against nursing homes.

The nursing home board goes out of existence Sept. 1, 1979, unless renewed by the legislature. The Sunset Commission will vote again in September whether to abolish the agency and 25 others set for review. The nursing home regulatory board was created nine years ago to meet federal requirements for licensing of nursing home administrators.

Committees Meeting
Major legislative committees are scheduling hearings on tax relief measures here in preparation for either a special session or the 1979 regular session of legislators.

July 5, 6 and 7 meetings were set by the House Ways and Means and Constitutional Amendments committees on directives of Speaker Bill Clayton. A Legislative Council Property Tax and Joint Committee on Ad Valorem Taxation met last week.

Meetings this week will air proposals to fix state constitutional limits on state and local government taxation and spending.

The Ways and Means panel also will hear bills to eliminate the sales tax on home utility use; increase the inheritance tax exemption to $200,000 and to finance construction at 17 institutions of higher education through other methods than the 10 cent state property tax.

Courts Speak
Upholding a 99-year penalty for aggravated sexual abuse, the Court of Criminal Appeals held that compelling a defendant to display a tattoo does not violate rights against self-incrimination.

The same court held a dying man's statement could be admitted in evidence in a Victoria murder case, reversed a life sentence in a Falls County burglary conviction due to improper jury instruction, and affirmed conviction of a Dallas man for aggravated robbery and attempted capital murder.

The State Supreme Court agreed to hear oral arguments in an appeal from lower court decisions that a Gulf Coast Waste Disposal Authority-operated plant is exempt from property taxation. Pasadena Independent School district and Harris County tried unsuccessfully to collect property taxes.

AG Opinions
Attorney General John Hill said Upper Colorado River Authority may buy water from another district for distribution to its own users and store it outside its own boundaries in a reservoir.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Information submitted to the Office of Consumer Credit Commissioner by a pawnshop licensee is public. And so are financial records of Hidalgo County Jobs for Progress Inc., a community action organization.

Workmen's Compensation carriers have no liability to the second injury fund for death benefits attributable to those deaths occurring after the fund exceeds $250,000 in excess of existing liabilities and before it is reduced below $125,000.

A county tax assessor-collector is required to deposit tax funds in his possession in the county depository pending transfer of such funds to the county treasurer.

Short Shorts
President Carter's Texas visit netted about $550,000 for the Democratic National Committee through a June 23 Houston dinner.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe named Ned C. Butler of Gilmer criminal district attorney for Upshur County, succeeding Harry Heard who resigned.

Roland D. Saul of Hereford succeeds Andy Shuval, also of Hereford who resigned as criminal district attorney for Deaf Smith County.

Charles J. Hearn of Humble will be judge of the 263rd judicial district, Harris County.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

July is usually one of our hottest and driest months, but it can be one of the most colorful with summer flowers still blooming in your garden. Columbine, four-o'clock, hollyhock, marigold, blue sage, verbena, zinnia, daisies, lilies, and others. The Madonna lilies bloomed earlier and others will bloom later. The main hybrid trumpets and reflexed "sun-burst" and "turk's cap" kinds are blooming now. These pink, yellow and greenish trumpets are more tolerant of poor conditions than their parents were, and their color variations are the great thing to enjoy. Spider lilies and fall crocus can be planted now.

Another lily, magic (Lycaris squamigera) gives drifts of late summer color that seems to appear out of thin air overnight. The trumpet-shaped flowers of this durable perennial, clusters at the top of 2 to 3 foot stems. The flowers are soft pink to violet, developing on tall scapes that appear after the foliage dies. Although the flowers are delicate, they will retain their shape and color for as long as a week indoors, and are fragrant. They grow and look best in a semishaded location in a ground cover planting of ferns, periwinkle or others that will hide the early foliage and create a green backdrop for the flowers. They prefer moist, well-drained soil rich in organic matter. The best planting time is early spring so plan now to prepare the planting bed this fall. The bulbs are difficult to locate when the scopes dies back, so be sure to mark the location of the bulbs while they are in flower. Dig and divide them in early fall as you would daylilies. You may have friends that will give you a start of these lovely lilies. Also the old milk and wine lilies are easy to grow and have been in bloom a few weeks.

There are many attractive places to see now, so drive around our city and notice the colorful displays of color and landscape design.

Freemans No Way To Resign Host Deal From SS Pmts. Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Freeman hosted the annual Deal family reunion Saturday, July 1, at their home on Owens Street.

Descendants of the late and Mrs. E.O. Deal of Mertzon came from California, Houston, Dallas, Arlington, Mertzon, Odessa and Eldorado.

The two surviving children of Dr. and Mrs. Deal present for the reunion were Otis Deal of Eldorado and Mrs. N.C. Packer of Mertzon. Also present were four of his nine surviving grandchildren of which Mrs. Freeman is the oldest, nine great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

Dr. Deal drove a horse and buggy to cover a large West Texas area around Mertzon in all directions back in the early part of the century, looking after his patients, then came the automobile. He was able to drive a car up until shortly before his death at age 96.

Thirty-one people attended the reunion Saturday.

Supplies of milk will be plentiful during the month of July. Milk and the products made from it provide rich supplies of calcium, phosphorus and protein. Milk also contains carbohydrates and fats which furnish energy for summer fun, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Milk is one of the best sources of vitamins A and B2 (riboflavin) and is a good source of B1 (thiamine). It is also a good source of vitamin D.

Milk is a cooling, refreshing way to beat the heat of the summer. Enjoy it by the glass, or use it to dress up other dishes. Serve cold, fresh milk atop garden-fresh berries, crispy ready-to-eat or piping hot cooked cereals. A cooling touch that will please most any taste is pudding--made with nutritious milk.

Ice cream is always a favorite in summertime. It can double your fun if you make it homemade in your own freezer. You can use ice cream as a center of attraction at an old-fashioned ice cream supper. Ice cream flavors are limited only by your imagination. Add to the frozen dessert, fresh fruit, nuts, and various flavorings if desired. Start with a basic vanilla ice cream recipe, then go from there.

This recipe for homemade ice cream will make one gallon:

Beat 5 egg yolks until thick. Mix 1 1/2 cups of sugar and 1 tablespoon of cornstarch together and add to the yolks. Continue beating and add 1 can of evaporated milk and 2 cups of whole milk. Place on top of a double boiler and cook over boiling water until mixture starts to thicken. Remove and cool. While the mixture is cooling, beat 5 egg whites until stiff, not dry, then beat in 1/2 cup of sugar and fold into the cooled milk mixture. Add 2 teaspoons of vanilla and 1 pint of half and half.

Pour the mixture into the ice cream freezer insert and add enough milk to fill the freezer to the designated line. Remember that when it freezes it expands, so don't fill the insert all the way to the top or it will run over as it freezes.

If you want to add fruit or nuts to the mixture, do so before adding the milk for the last time. Chop the fruit into small pieces, or it will freeze and become hard and icy--rather unpleasant to bite into.

Fresh fruit often adds delightful flavor to a freezer of ice cream, but canned fruit will also give satisfying results. Some fruits you might try are peaches, strawberries, bananas, cherries, pineapple or various berries.

BEST PERFORMANCE

All he has to do is stay on for eight seconds. But that can be the longest eight seconds of the day when the rodeo performer gets a particularly spirited bronco. He knows that when he gives the final nod of his head and that big gate is swung open, some horses turn into twisting, turning beasts who seem to breathe fire and stomp lightning. Yet every performer hopes he will get that very kind of mount. Unless the horse puts on a wild display during the ride, the judges will score the rider low and he will miss the prize. Anything that brings a special reward usually requires a person to go beyond his normal performance. Shouldn't we all then be ready to give an extra share of our talents and abilities if we want eternal life--the greatest reward ever promised to man? This Sunday come to church and find how it's done.

Goat News

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association says that's off to the USDA standards and labeling people for their "mechanically processed meat product" labeling decision.

Shakespeare once wrote "a rose by any other name..." but in those days they didn't have people sitting around dreaming up grossly unappetizing names to foist off on things they didn't understand and consequently didn't like. To digress....

The processing arm of the meat industry has long realized that a vast amount of

Meat Imports Discussed

Despite the recent increase in the meat import level for 1978, U.S. cattlemen are still the net winners through foreign trade.

That's the opinion of Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Uvacek explains that the Meat Import Law of 1964 provides for a fixed level of imports and allows increases or decreases based on domestic production. Most exporting countries, however, have entered into voluntary restraint agreements with the U.S., which keep imports below the trigger levels of the quota.

This past March the voluntary restraint agreement level for 1978 was set at 1.29 billion pounds. President Carter's recently announced increase raised that level by 200 million pounds. In contrast, the trigger level for the Meat Import Law is 1.3 billion pounds.

Uvacek points out that about 35 percent of the total increased level of imports scheduled for this year has already been brought into the U.S. during the first four months. The remainder, therefore, will have to be spread out over the next eight months. The bulk of the increases came in March and April when prices were already in an upward spiral.

Research indicates that cattlemen's incomes are more indirectly affected by imports through the sale of cull cows, contends Uvacek. "Put into this context, then, it seems obvious that the income effects on producers from the greater imports for 1978 should be minimal," he adds.

The U.S. exports more beef and cattle by-products in dollars and cents than it imports. The majority of exports are hides, tallow, variety meats and by-products which have a low demand in this country. Thus, U.S. cattlemen have more to gain in the game of international trade.

edible meat is lost to the eventual consumer because it either lies too close to the bone or actually adheres to the bone. Even very sophisticated assembly-line techniques are inadequate to remove this tissue without danger of also removing sharp slivers of bone. (German Shepherds are quite efficient at removing it and work cheap, but what they gnaw off, they keep.)

Eventually someone developed a process whereby the meat, along with minute amounts of bone, is mechanically shaved, reduced to a fine paste and extruded through tiny filter screens. Most of the powdered bone is consequently removed and the remainder is too fine to raise objections from anything larger than a sugar ant.

Reasonable objections, that is. The process, when revealed, immediately raised howls of protest from self-appointed "consumer protectors." The basis for their objections is not completely clear--it may hark back to the notion that if dogs are associated with bones, humans shouldn't be. It may be an honest reaction to today's pervading fear that someone is getting away with something, or it could simply have presented yet another soap box upon which a frustrated public speaker could stand and speak.

Whatever the reason, USDA was forced to suspend the descriptive term "mechanically deboned meat", substituting instead, "Tissue from ground bone." The latter term doubtless represents many long hours of study by a dedicated and quite negative wordsman, and was obviously calculated to turn the consuming public away in droves.

The decision was made by USDA in October 1977 and was followed by "exhaustive study" of the product's safety and health aspects. The agency's conclusions were recently announced by USDA's consumer crusader Mr. Carol Tucker Foreman.

Carol Tucker Foreman. Ms. Foreman calls the product "Wholesome and safe" as long as the public receives "descriptive and accurate labeling information."

The announcement was accompanied by a new identifying term, "mechanically processed meat product," vastly preferable to the previous "ground bone" atrocity.

TS&GRA executive secretary Bill Sims says the new labeling "is something that has been sought by us, the National Wool Growers and the ASPC for some time. The deboning process should greatly increase the processing efficiency of slaughter ewes. It is our belief that this decision was made because of some fundamental research work done at the request of TS&GRA. This is a good example of how ASPC is able to work with other organizations in developing greater utilization of our slaughter ewes."

The new product may be used in certain processed meats and will not be permitted in ground meat, fabricated cuts or the like.

GAS COOKING OUTDOORS

Gas cooking outdoors sure makes sense in the summertime. It keeps the heat out, so your house stays cool. You save on air conditioning. Plus there's no charcoal or lighter fluid to buy, and no wait. Gas reaches cooking temperature fast and cooks full family dinners, everything your inside range and oven can cook, with that great outdoor flavor.

Take the heat out of the kitchen. Install a gas grill on the patio. It sure makes sense in the summertime, or anytime!

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF CROCKETT COUNTY, TEXAS 112TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

ORDER

ON THE 21st day of March, 1978, came on to be heard the above styled and referenced Election Contest, and came the Contestant in person, and by and through his attorneys of record, and announced ready for trial, and came the Contestee in person, and by and through
his attorneys of record, and also announced ready for trial. Whereupon, the Court proceeded to hear evidence concerning the conduct of the election held on January 7, 1978. On March 30, 1978, after hearing the evidence and considering the testimony of the electors, the special canvassing board, and the county clerk, the Court, directed that the absentee Ballot Boxes be opened and inspected. After examining the contents of the absentee Ballot Boxes and considering all other evidence, the Court finds that there are a sufficient number of illegal votes cast and irregularities in the counting and casting of ballots to change the outcome of the election. The Court further finds that, instead of undertaking to determine how individual voters voted, the election is void and another run-off election for Crockett County Commissioners Precinct Number 1 should be ordered.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that the election held on January 7, 1978, shall in all things be set aside and the election, and the canvass of ballots, is herewith and hereby cancelled, set aside, and held for naught; and

It is further ORDERED
and DECREED that a Run-Off Election, in Commissioners Precinct Number 1,
Crockett County, Texas, shall be held between the candidates, Sostenes De Hoyos and Jesse Marley, on the second Saturday in August, 1978, to-wit, August 12, 1978.

It is further ORDERED that the voting shall take place in accordance with the election schedule provided in Schedule A, attached hereto
and made a part of this Order.

It is further ORDERED
that the Commissioners Court of Crockett County, Texas employ two (2) Clerks, who shall be deputized as Special Deputy County Clerks, for the sole purpose of exclusively conducting the absentee balloting for the election to be held on August 12, 1978. The Special Deputy County Clerks appointed pursuant to this Order shall,

only for the election provided by this Order, be responsible for all statutory duties of the County Clerk, or her Deputies, concerning said election. Because of the incapacity of the County Clerk and the work load of her Deputies, said County Clerk and Deputies are specifically relieved of all statutory duties involving the election held pursuant to this Order, including the process of conducting the absentee voting, both by mail and in person;
accordingly, said County Clerk and her Deputies are ORDERED not to involve themselves in any way in the said election process. It is expressly provided, however, that the County Clerk and her Deputies may receive and sort the mail which might be incoming, and this will not be a violation of the Order. The Special Deputies appointed pursuant to this Order shall at all times act under the supervision and direction of the 63rd Judicial District Court, or its designee.

It is further ORDERED that the Bond heretofore filed by Contestee is herewith declared void,
and of no further force and effect; and

It is further ORDERED that Contestant is hereby relieved of the necessity to file the Bond heretofore imposed by the Court; and

It is further ORDERED that costs are assessed against both Contestant and Contestee, for which execution shall issue, and costs are hereby assessed 72% against Contestant and 28% against Contestee.
All relief sought for either Contestant or Contestee not hereinabove specifically granted is denied.

A copy of this Order shall be served upon the County Clerk and her deputies.
SIGNED AND ENTERED
this 26th day of June, 1978.

Thank you, Alexander Graham Bell, for the telephone. You've made it easier for me, you really have. Why, imagine life without your invention. I know, sir, that at times I've taken advantage. I can't count all the times I've picked up that marvelous little tool and dialed a number without once stopping to reflect gratefully.

And, oh, Thomas Edison, what we've been able to do because of your invention of the light bulb, in 1879. I probably wouldn't be so fond of reading if I were required to bother with a coal oil lamp. I'm convinced I'd never cook.

Benjamin Franklin was at his best when he relieved lots of straining eyes by coming through with bifocals. Not that I'm in great need of them at his point, but it is nice to know they are there if I ever need them.

We've come along way. We've got so many things we seldom notice. We have all these things, as well as sewing machines, typewriters, clocks and watches, air conditioners (though central air has since put them to shame) ovens, and permanent press fabrics.

But there is one thing I'm sure no one has invented. I'd give my eyeteeth for it. I

Perhaps it is because Ozona so readily welcomes newcomers that there has been such a growth in population of late. For whatever reason they have come, we want to wish each new family a long and happy stay here. A standing invitation is open to newcomers and those who know of newcomers to relay the information to the Stockman office so that we can introduce them in this column.

Jim and Lynn McWilliams moved to 309 Ave. G, in Ozona, June 13. Mr. McWilliams, whose grandfather was a deputy sheriff here "many moons ago," is employed by KRCT. The McWilliams' have two children, Lisa, 11, and Ricky, 10. They are formerly of Eldorado.

January newcomers to Ozona, George and Mary Turner live at 1306 Ave. A. The parents of four grown children, they moved here from San Angelo. Mr. Turner is manager of the Ozona Steak House, where Mrs. Turner helps occasionally.

hesitate to mention it, though, for fear someone more scientifically inclined than myself will get rich on my idea. However, I'll say it, and if that happens, I'll buy one and be glad I've got it. I want a car that never needs washing.

Sales Tax Rep. To Visit Here

State Comptroller Bob Bullock will have a representative from his San Angelo office in Ozona on Thursday, July 6, 1978, to assist local taxpayers and answer questions about state taxes.

Bullock said Enforcement Officer Claude Lacy will meet with local taxpayers at the County Library in the Crockett County Courthouse from 10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

"If Ozona area merchants, or anyone else for that matter have any questions about state taxes or need help in preparing tax forms, Mr. Lacy will be there to assist them," Bullock said.

"We're trying to cut the red tape in this office, and we believe these face to face sessions with taxpayers help do just that," Bullock added.

The San Angelo office, headed by Thomas M. Goff, serves San Angelo and surrounding counties.

Ozona Boys To Attend Salvation Army Camp

Three boys from Ozona will be invited to attend The Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle July 9 through 16, it was announced today by Mrs. Peggy Phillips, Camp Chairman for the Ozona Salvation Army Service Unit Committee. Each summer for over 20 years deservng boys between the ages of 8 and 14 have been invited to spend a week at the 380 acre camp near Midlothian. The participants from Ozona this year are Gino Tambunga, Micheal Trujillo, and Jesse Fierro, Jr. These boys, joining with others from around the state, will be afforded an opportunity to enjoy the pleasures of camping in a beautiful natural setting with facilities to rival those of the most expensive boy's camps. The Service Unit division of The Salvation Army conducts 4 week-long outings every summer. This year over 800 boys are expected to take part. "Each boy's trip will be financed by the Ozona Service Unit Committee with donations from private citizens in our community," Mrs. Phillips said.

The campers are housed in modern cabins with attached counselor's quarters. All activities are overseen by trained coaches and counselors who are responsible for the welfare and safety of the boys as well as supervision of the various programs. In addition a nurse is stationed at the well-equipped dispensary.

At Camp Hoblitzelle the daily schedule includes worship services and Bible study to augment the physical activities. A list of the recreational programs includes horseback riding, archery, swimming, boating, volleyball, hiking, handicrafts, and fishing.

One of the greatest pleasures available to the Ozona boys is the opportunity to make new friends. In the Camp Hoblitzelle atmosphere the boys will be encouraged to share their interests and develop new ones.

Periwinkles For Summer Color Now

Periwinkles offer Texas gardeners a low maintenance source of color for the hot summer months.

"Few, if any plants, offer so much color for so little care," contends Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Once planted, periwinkles often reseed and return each year."

Colors range from white to pink, rose and lavender. Some are white with pink centers. Dark green shiny foliage provides an appropriate background for the masses of blossoms. A pure white variety called "Little Blanche" has become especially popular for its masses of cool white flowers against dark green foliage, notes Welch. "Periwinkles prefer bright sunny locations and a well drained soil," he adds. "Moderate amounts of fertilizer and water are usually all that is needed to produce successful plantings. The plants normally produce flowers until frost in the fall."
