Services Tuesday For Mrs. Malone

Funeral services for Mrs. Carl (Laura) Malone, 67, were held Tuesday at 4 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with Rev. Nelson Lanham, pastor, officiating. Burial followed in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sheppard Funeral Home.

Mrs. Malone died Sunday afternoon in Hudspeth Memorial Hospital in Sonora, where she was rushed Saturday night after collapsing at her home in Pandale.

She was born Laura Cain March 3, 1911 in Alpine. She married Carl Malone Jan. 29, 1929, in San Antonio. She was a member of the Ozona First Baptist Church and a member of the Pandale Study Club for the past 30 years.

Survivors include her husband; one daughter, Selma Malone Braselton of Corpus Christi; two sons, Carl Malone, Jr. of Victoria and Earl Malone of Sheffield; one sister, Mrs. Herbert Foster of Silver City, N.M.; two brothers, Emmett Cain of Del Rio and Henry E. Cain of Langtry; seven grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

WOOL BUYERS GRADE AND BID on Crockett County wool here Thursday morning. Buyers bid on 170,000 pounds of four-months wool at Ozona Wool and Mohair and Crockett County Wool and Mohair. Grown wool brought a little over 93c as top price for the 4-month clip and lamb's wool went for 90c a pound.

Amendments Up For Voters In November

In addition to the various candidates on the ballot for the November 7, general election, Crockett County voters will be faced with voting for or against nine proposed constitutional amendments to the Texas State Constitution.

The first amendment to appear on the ballot, although not numbered as such, is "The Tax Relief Amendment." This amendment would allow the Legislature to exempt intangible property and personal property from taxation. Also, it would tax land devoted to farming or ranching on its productive value rather than what the market price might be. It would give property tax relief to the elderly and the handicapped as well as limit state spending while enforcing uniform standards and procedures on taxing authorities imposing property taxes.

Amendment Number One has to do with aid to the handicapped. It would strike all reference to "Deaf and Dumb Asylum" from the constitution, while allowing the state to purchase stationery and other products made by the handicapped without going through the competitive bidding process.

Amendment Number Two

Brownrigg Services In Mertzton

Funeral services for Jack H. Brownrigg, 53, were held at 3 p.m. at graveside in Mertzton Cemetery with Bill Morrison, pastor of Ozona Church of Christ officiating, under the direction of Sheppard Funeral Home.

Mr. Brownrigg died Friday in Crockett County Hospital following an illness.

He was born Dec. 4, 1924 in Ozona. He married Mattie Bradford Sept. 19, 1949 in Snyder. He was a member of the Ozona Church of Christ, VFW post 6109, and a veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his wife, two daughters, Kathleen Wilkinson of Iran and Karen Loudamy of Ozona; one son, David Brownrigg of Barnhart; a sister, Mrs. Ed Spoons of Ozona; two brothers, Ernest Brownrigg of Las Vegas, Nev. and Ramond Brownrigg of Eldorado; his mother, Mrs. J.D. Narin of Ozona and 4 grandchildren.

would permit the Legislature to allow local governments to issue revenue bonds to create employment and finance industry. If passed, this amendment would allow local governments to compete with private investors and financial institutions in the field of industry.

Amendment Number Three would allow local cities and towns to issue tax increment bonds to finance the redevelopment of blighted areas. In theory the bonds would be repaid with funds collected by taxing the increased value of property in the redeveloped area.

Amendment Number Four would exempt solar and wind-powered energy devices from taxation in order to encourage private investment in them and encourage alternate energy sources.

Amendment Number Five would extend the jurisdiction of justices of the peace in civil cases. This amendment would raise the $200 limit to $500 in small claims court presided over by JPs where an attorney is not necessary.

Amendment Number Six

would allow the Legislature to expand the number of judges on any court of civil appeals and allow the court to sit in sections and requiring a concurrence of a majority of justices to decide a case. Backers of this amendment believe it is more practical and less expensive to increase the size of existing courts to meet increasing demands than to create additional courts which require separate personnel and facilities.

Amendment Number Seven would eliminate the State Building Commission and State Building Fund from the constitution. These exist in name only and no longer serve a function. All records have been transferred to the State Board of Control.

Amendment Number Eight would authorize certain districts to engage in fire-fighting activities and to issue bonds for this purpose. This amendment would authorize water districts to establish fire protection programs and to spend district funds to finance them.

Drake was high bidder on 69,321 pounds at Ozona Wool and Mohair and bid on 6,300 pounds at Crockett County Wool & Mohair.

Historical Society Program On Museum

Monday evening, Sept. 25, the Crockett County Historical Society, W.R. Baggett, Jr. president, presiding, met for its regular quarterly meeting in the Civic Center.

Mrs. P.L. Childress, Museum Director, gave an interesting program on new ideas for Museums. She began with the stated purpose of the Crockett County Museum: "...shall be to sponsor the collection and preservation in a museum in Ozona all procurable specimens and items of historical character and of natural history pertaining to Crockett County and adjoining areas."

She stated that a museum is a unique learning tool. From very young children to aged adults can learn by observing over and over objects on display. The time spent is optional for each individual.

"A museum is for the public," she said, and "the public helps to make a good museum by sharing items for exhibit."

It was noted that it is not desirable for a museum to accept items on loan except for specific time periods for special displays. In the near future persons with items now on loan in the local museum will be contacted and asked to make definite decisions about these items.

Mrs. K.R. Stanton, Museum Hostess, stated that a total of 897 persons had visited the Museum so far in 1978, 200 were from out-of-state, 13 from foreign countries, 359 from Texas and 325 from Ozona. Attendance ranged from a low of 43 in January to a high of 160 in August.

Mrs. Childress mentioned numbers of sources of help for small museum planning and stressed that good exhibits, clearly labeled are essential. Special exhibits for class study can be arranged upon request.

She expressed special appreciation to volunteers including Jim Read, W.D. Cooper, Mrs. Owensby, Mrs. Stokes, Mrs. Arthur Phillips, and Mrs. George Bean. Also to those who have made recent contributions to the Museum: a Shepherds crook from W.H. Whitaker, a Singletree from Ted White, Fossils found on I-10 from Inez Ybarra, a group of early Ozona pictures including one of the first store belonging to Fermin and Andres Aguirre from Joe Tobar, an old knife from W.D. Cooper, a fossil from Mrs. Stanton and an old fork from Mrs. Childress.

A future project is to complete the collection of graduating class pictures of every Ozona Class.

Volunteers are needed for the Acquisition Committee, the Exhibit Committee, the Education Committee, the Maintenance Committee and the Finance Committee.

Mrs. Childress concluded her talk with the story of a very poor family's "Pretty Table" and suggested that Ozona's Museum could become the Community's "Pretty Table."

Lions Lose Third Game In a Row

The Ozona Lions took their third straight loss here Friday night at the hands of the Eldorado Eagles. The score was 7-0. Going into the game neither team had broken into the win column. Eldorado's score was the first tally for the team this year.

The Lions outplayed the Eagles in the statistic department, but were unable to score, and that was the ball-game.

The Lions will be in Menard for a game with the Yellow Jackets Friday night at 8 o'clock.

first half of September.

Dr. James E. Novy, acting veterinarian in charge of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) program, says the Texas count was 604 in 52 counties by September 19. Jeff Davis County had tallied 110 cases and Pecos had 84.

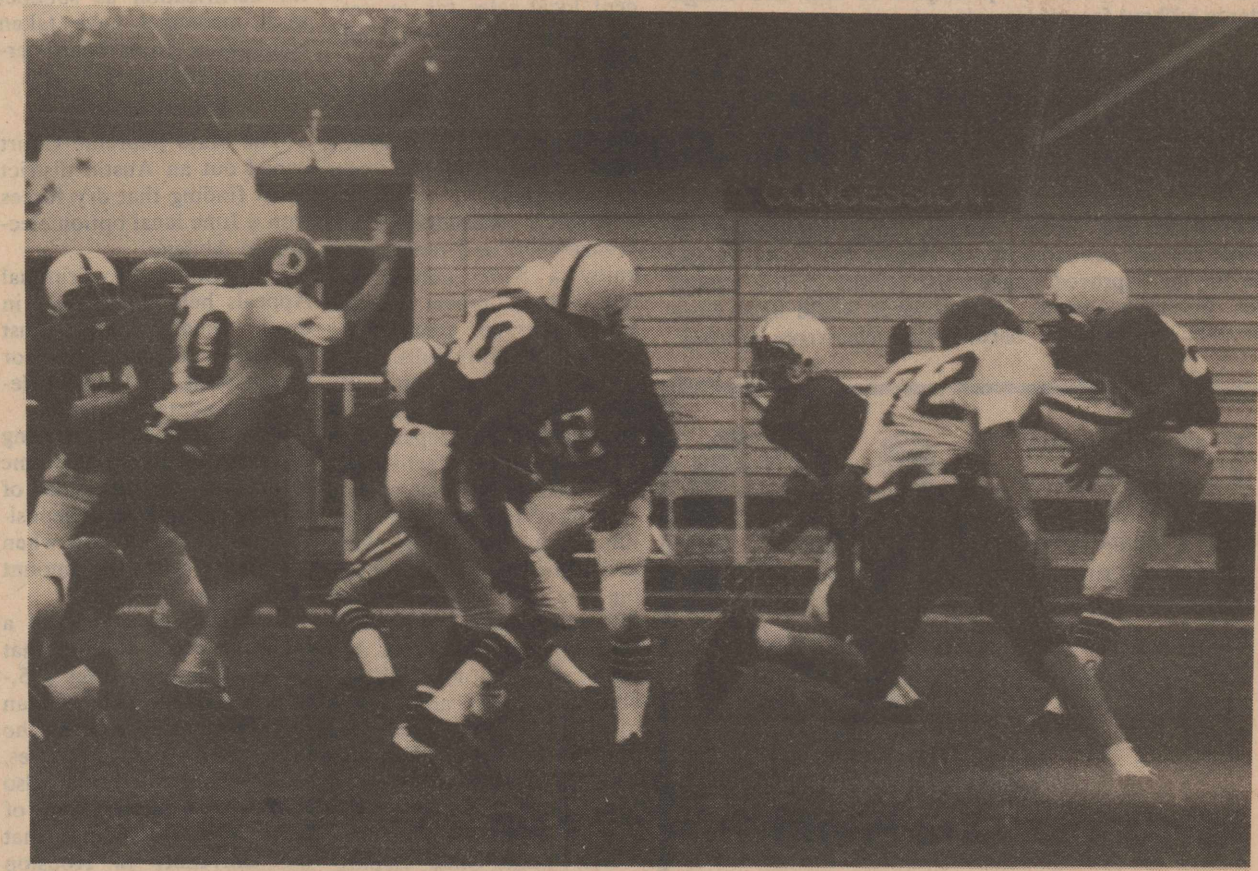

Sixty-three per cent or 110 of the early September cases were in cattle, 24% in sheep, six percent were in horses and a like share in goats. One screwworm sample was taken from a dog.

Heavy West Texas Rains Miss Ozona

Heavy rains which have fallen in West Texas the past week almost passed Ozona by, leaving only .22 of an inch recorded in the Water District official gauge by Tuesday afternoon.

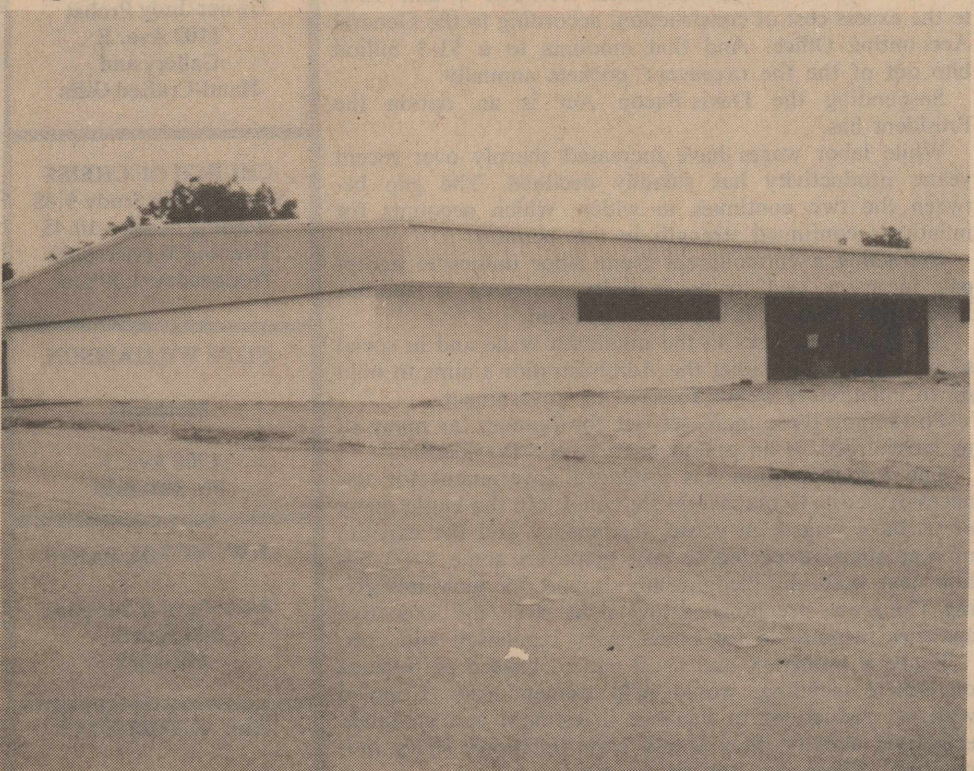

The front which brought the rains did cool temperatures and Ozonans have enjoyed a week of cool, fall weather mingled with an occasional mist.

Light rain was falling at 2 p.m. Tuesday, but only traces of rainfall were recorded from the intermittent showers. However, rain was forecast for the immediate area.

OZONA'S JUNIOR VARSITY in opening win against a heavier Iran team here Thursday. The team, made up for the most part of freshmen and sophomores, is coached by David Porter and David McWilliams. Freshmen team members bring an undefeated junior high team record with them.

Educational Reform Needed

By Anthony Harrigan

As a new school year begins, parents and community officials are deeply concerned about problems of educational content and administration.

A number of states are plagued with strikes by teachers. Such strikes are among the most unfortunate work stoppages, for they offer impressionable youngsters a model of irresponsible behavior on the part of persons who are supposed to embody civic virtues.

On the other hand, many teachers have a legitimate grievance in that their earnings have fallen behind in a period of runaway inflation.

The solution for the teachers and the community is not a strike but a reappraisal and restructuring of spending on public education.

In many communities the educational apparatus is top-heavy with administrative personnel and expensive consultants. Money goes into the salaries and "perks" for the new educational bureaucracy, not into the salaries of classroom teachers.

The most needed educational reform is a reduction in the size of local and state educational hierarchies and elimination of costly facilities and "perks."

To be sure, administrative bureaucracies exist, at least in part, because of the demands of education laws passed by Congress, such as the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965.

The lesson is that federal aid always results in federal control and heavier burdens on the taxpayers. Participation in federal education programs also results in enormous requirements for paperwork in connection with compliance forms.

Unfortunately, it's far easier for a state or a school district to become involved with federal financing and planning than it is to end the involvement.

If public elementary and secondary education are to be improved, however, it will be necessary for the states and school systems to end their dependence on Washington.

The emphasis in the schools must not be on the individual student and individual classroom teacher. Much has been accomplished in recent years in the way of providing accurate aptitude tests and for determining learning disabilities.

Public schools have real needs--improved book collections in school libraries, wide vocational opportunities, a stress on written and spoken English and basic mathematics, and freedom for teachers and principals to test and assign students without fear of lawsuit or harassment.

The way for Congress to help is to dismantle the federal educational apparatus constructed since the mid-1960s, not extend money and controls to more schools.

Decentralization, local control, and elimination of bureaucracy and administrative overhead--this is the proper route for an improved educational system in the United States.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Republicans are fielding a record number of candidates in congressional races.

Highest GOP hopes are pinned on George W. Bush, 31, of Midland, and Tom Loeffler, 31, of Mason.

Bush is running against State Sen. Kent Hance, conservative Democratic nominee for the 19th West Texas district seat held by retiring U.S. Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock.

Loeffler is contesting former State Sen. Nelson W. Wolff of San Antonio, Democratic nominee for U.S. Rep. Bob Krueger's 21st district seat.

Another close race pits Waco oil and gas distributor Jack Burgess, 40, against Democrat Marvin Leath, 46, Marlin banker, in District 11.

Some Republicans see an outside chance for Wesley of Fort Worth against ultra conservative Democrat Phil Gramm of College Station in District 6 which is being vacated by Rep. Olin "Tiger" Teague.

Still others feel Bill Fisher, 34, of Abilene, could possibly defeat Democrat Charles W. Stenholm of Stamford in District 17 which was represented by Rep. Omar Burrell of Anson since 1946.

Other Republican congressional candidates include Leo Berman, 42, of Arlington against Martin Frost, 35, of Oak Cliff and Dallas lawyer Tom Pauken, 33, against Rep. Jim Mattox, 35, of Dallas.

Veteran Republican Congressmen Jim Collins of Dallas and Bill Archer of Houston are safe for re-election.

Tax Repealed

A hundred and twenty five Texas cities notified Comptroller Bob Bullock they will repeal the one per cent local sales tax on residential gas and electric bills effective October 1.

Another 127 informed, Bullock they will retain the tax. Some 900 cities levy the local-option, one per cent city sales tax.

Bullock estimated Texas homeowners and renters will enjoy a $150 million tax break with repeal of the state's four per cent tax on residential utility bills.

The one per cent city sales tax on utility bills will be automatically repealed in all Texas cities effective October 1, 1979, unless they vote by May 1, 1979 to continue the tax.

Building Sought

The Texas State Department of Highways and Public Transportation again is trying to build a new headquarters in Austin—this time a $10 million structure in the Camp Hubbard area.

The department several years ago picked a site in downtown Austin south of the capitol and directly across the street from the governor's mansion.

Building plans finally were abandoned on order of the legislature after the site had been cleared. The old site is now a parking lot, with some public park features.

DHPT officials told Legislative Budget Board it will seek a $10 million appropriation for a multi-story building near where several department units already are located.

AG Opinions

The Open Records Act does not require release of names of rape and attempted rape victims, Attorney General John Hill said in a new opinion.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

Statutes do not authorize Gaines County to provide day care to all children, although the county may provide day care to some children, or under some circumstances.

A county clerk has a duty to provide mailed written notice to all assumed certificate holders under the Business and Commerce Code, and he is not relieved of the duty by budget limitations.

Courts Speak

The State Supreme Court wiped out an Austin district court finding that dry forces won a June local option election in Abilene.

The Court of Criminal Appeals held that judges in death penalty cases must designate psychologists or psychiatrists for indigent defendants at state expense.

A November 1 hearing has been set in the Supreme Court on the question of whether a bank or a depositor must suffer the loss when a swindler raises the amount of a check.

The high court upheld a Houston court finding that Kroger Company owes $75,000 in damage to a woman held by security guards who thought she stole cigarettes.

The Supreme Court also affirmed Houston Court of Civil Appeals findings that the University of Houston had the right to force retirement of tenured professors at age 65.

TOWER TALKS by U.S. Senator for Texas JOHN TOWER

Tough Talk on Inflation

WASHINGTON—The President's new get tough policy to battle inflation can't be faulted for its aims. Few will disagree tough measures are necessary if the Administration expects results on its promises to whip double-digit inflation robbing the purchasing power of every American.

What is troubling about reports on the President's new inflation offensive is its direction. Having tried the voluntary approach without much success, the President apparently has concluded tough measures will center around wage and price "standards."

Should the "standards," or whatever else he calls them, prove ineffective, however, he will have proceeded too far in the direction of controls to turn back, despite word games denying such a progression.

It's hard to imagine a worse eventuality. Wage and price controls, as a means to short-circuit higher prices, have been tried before. Their impact on an economy tied to free market principles, proved unworkable and ineffective.

But conceding tougher measures are needed to curb inflation raises the question: Are there other options the President might consider? Well, his arsenal is not that limited. He could make headway by training his sights on a few of the real sources, not the imagined ones.

In the construction industry, for example, inflation has soared at near uncontrollable rates. The Federal government itself contributes because the Davis-Bacon Act provides the Department of Labor shall establish "prevailing wages" on all projects involving Uncle Sam.

Davis-Bacon, alone, contributes between 5 and 15% to the excess cost of construction, according to the General Accounting Office. And that amounts to a $1.3 billion bite out of the taxpayers' pockets annually.

Suspending the Davis-Bacon Act is an option the President has. While labor wages have increased sharply over recent years, productivity has steadily declined.

The gap between the two continues to widen, which accounts for inflation's continued strength in this country. Extracting a commitment from labor unions to accept pay increases tied to productivity increases is another Presidential option. It should be pursued.

Scheduled increases in the minimum wage and in social security taxes contradict the Administration's aims to hold down inflationary trends fostered by government.

Postponing these increases, set for January, as many of us have urged, is an option open to the President. The Administration has criticized government for unnecessary costs to taxpayers. He could join the battle many of us have waged on waste, inefficiency and the expense of regulation—expected to cost taxpayers some $102 billion next year—by pledging his support for measures giving Congress strengthened oversight over the executive agencies responsible for unnecessary regulation and cost.

Realistic monetary and fiscal policy, instead of reliance on deficit spending, would help tremendously. Coupled with tax reductions to increase investment and stimulate economic activity, they would slow inflation's sharp momentum. These are options he has.

Clearly, several approaches to stemming inflation are available. Measures which force us in the long run to rely on wage and price controls shouldn't be considered among them.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since the much needed and refreshing rains of this month, our area is beautiful and green again. Maybe we won't have anymore sizzling summer days, and the fall colors will begin to turn for us to enjoy.

After the hot, dry, early summer that brought lower than usual yields in both flower and vegetable gardens, with a little luck and good fall weather, we can have a fine re-bloom of plants and a good harvest of fall vegetables.

Fall fruits ripen now—especially pears and apples. Pick the pears before they are fully ripe. As the first yellowing appears, pick and wrap them individually in newspaper. Store in a cool place for many weeks of enjoyment. If left on tree too long they will fall off, bruise and rot in the center.

Getting first rate bulbs may be more difficult this fall and will be higher in price. If you haven't ordered or spoken for yours, arrange to be notified by your merchant or nursery when they arrive.

Plant strawberries from now to November, for fall is the best planting season for strawberries in Texas. Plants set out between now and November will bear next April. If you delay planting until spring, the plants must be in the ground an entire year before producing a significant crop. Be sure to set out enough plants to satisfy your family's needs. For a family of four, set out at least three dozen plants. The planting will enlarge as the parent plant send runners after they have fruited next spring.

Plant strawberries in a sunny spot—at least half a day. For the best fruit production, work compost or other organic matter into the soil to promote both rapid root establishment and adequate drainage. Set plants so that the top of the root ball is at the same level as surrounding soil; then firm the soil around the plants. Plants set too low are susceptible to crown rot; those too high may dry out and die. Keep plants watered during the

Terrell M.O.D. To Sponsor EMS Neonatology Seminar

The Terrell County Chapter March of Dimes will sponsor a Neonatology seminar, Saturday, Oct. 14, at Sanderson Junior High School for Emergency Medical Service personnel from Sanderson and surrounding areas.

The seminar is designed to educate E.M.S. personnel on new developments in the area of emergency baby deliveries.

The seminar will get underway with coffee at 8:30. The program will start at 9 a.m. and run until 3:30 p.m. A barbecue lunch will be catered and reservations will be necessary.

Dr. Michael Blackburn, director of Neonatology, St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock, and Mrs. Helene Botsonis, director of Health Services, Amarillo, will speak of recognizing difficulties of delivery, difficulties of breathing in newborns and various stress situations. Emergency techniques will be taught to those attending.

dry weather of fall. Water at least once every four to six days during periods of little rainfall.

Be sure to select a variety that is suited to our area. Among the ones recommended for Texas are Sequoia, Tioga, and Fresno. To keep lawns, flower beds, shrubs, and vegetable gardens at their best, water the entire garden thoroughly every five to seven rainless days. Some plants may need more.

in raising the necessary funds for the Blackburn Neonatology Seminar, and is proud to provide this service not only to its local EMS personnel, but to share with neighboring counties. For information interested persons may contact Terrell County March of Dimes, Drawer H, Sanderson, Texas.

Dr. Blackburn, because of his interest in the distances between hospitals in far West Texas and the emergency deliveries that could occur, is giving his time to instruct personnel attending the seminar.

Winners in Duplicate Bridge Club play Saturday at the country club were Mrs. Evert White and Mrs. Sidney Millsbaugh. Sunday winners in the first round of play were Frank Tillman and Mrs. Millsbaugh, and in the second round, Mrs. Robert Cox and Mrs. Gene Williams.

Make Fabric Softeners Efficient

Making fabric softeners work efficiently starts with knowing how they work in the first place.

Fabric softeners add softness and they control static electricity—they do not soften water.

The most popular is the final-rinse-cycle type.

Another teams with detergent in the wash cycle. Still another works in the dryer. It might be tear-off sheets, pads, attachable bars or aerosols.

Whatever the type, it is important to follow label directions to avoid problems. After continued use on clothing several times, fabric softeners can leave a "build-up" on garment surfaces. "Build-up" interferes with the performance of certain fabric finishes and fibers, and it causes dinginess and graying or a lack of absorbency.

To prevent this, omit the fabric softener from every fourth or fifth laundry load. To correct problem build-up, soak garments in detergent and bleach that is safe for the fabric. Then launder garments without using the softener.

When fabric softeners leave stains in garments, the stains will resemble grease stains—they are usually blue-gray, blue-green, yellow or black.

Remove these stains by gently rubbing them with bar or liquid detergent. Then re-launder the fabric.

Thornton To Donate Sales To ACS Unit

Cathy Carson, Special Events Chairperson for the Crockett County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, has announced that Thornton's Supermarket will donate a percentage of their sales Monday, Oct. 2, to the Cancer Crusade.

Mrs. Carson urged residents in Ozona and the surrounding area to help kick off the '78-'79 fund drive by shopping at Thornton's that day. "This most appreciated donation will help fund research to find the causes and cures for the nation's number two killer," she said.

Debra Says

by Debra Price

Fashions focus on the shoulder this season.

From the popular shoulder drawstrings, tucks, embroidery and other detailing currently popular, fashion is adding an exaggerated shape with shoulder pads.

The look ranges from the more extreme "football" effect to a slight shoulder modification.

Besides pads in jackets and coats, women will see them also in blouses and dresses.

Considered a basic home-sewing notion, shoulder pads were primarily used in outerwear and suit jackets or blazers.

However, in line with an increased fashion emphasis, notion companies are expanding shoulder pad varieties and quantities. Some of the types available include blouse pads, iron-ons, press-on/peel-offs, heavy designer weights and covered pads.

Some companies distinguish between shoulder pads and shoulder shapes with the shape being a thinner version.

Many interfacing companies provide information for making shoulder pads.

For a set-in sleeve, the armhole seamline of the garment is traced between front and back armhole notches. The width along the shoulder seam and number of padding layers needed depends on the garment, figure and look intended.

Before sewing any shoulder pad into a garment along armhole and shoulder seam allowances, first pin the shoulder pad in place and try the garment on.

Placement, size or amount PHONE NEWS TO THE STOCKMAN.

of padding is easiest altered at that time.

Figure-wise, exaggerated shoulders usually have a shortening and broadening effect on the figure but can also balance a heavy hipline.

Slight to moderate padding often makes garments fit better, maintain their shape longer and even correct some fitting problems such as sloping shoulders.

CHILI CON QUESO

1 small onion, chopped fine
1 tablespoon shortening
1 large ripe tomato, chopped fine
2 medium green chilies, chopped fine
2 tablespoons chili powder
1/2 teaspoon oregano
3/4 pound mild processed cheese, grated

In a skillet, cook the onion in melted shortening until clear. Add the tomato, chilies, spices and salt. Cook over low heat 8 to 10 minutes. Stir in grated cheese until melted. Serve as a dip with celery or carrot sticks, tostadas or corn chips.

CARD OF THANKS

Since it will not be possible in every case for me to say thanks to all my friends for their sympathy and interest in my recovery, I hope you will accept this as my personal thanks for all the telephone calls, cards and letters, flowers and various goodies sent me during my hospital stay. I am deeply grateful for your thoughtfulness and assure you of my deepest gratitude for your attention in those trying days.

Sincerely,

It's A Small World

Ever run into a friend in Tokyo, or meet one of your neighbors in Amsterdam? Maybe not—but such things are happening every day!

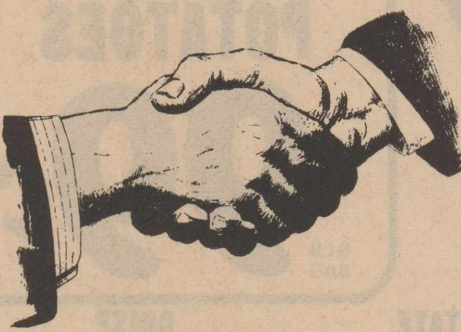

It makes you stop and think—the way this world is shrinking. It makes you wish that the men and women who live on opposite sides of the globe had more things in common.

There can be no more unifying force in the world than a common belief in God. And toward that ideal we are rapidly progressing. Christians the world over are feeling and expressing their unity of faith and purpose.

Sunday is World-Wide Communion Sunday. On that day, within the space of a few short hours, Christians in every land will reverently participate in the Lord's Supper which has been a mark of Christian faith for almost two thousand years.

Essay contest winners get free trip to D.C.

An all expense paid trip to Washington, D.C., next June will be awarded to two young people from this area by Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative, Inc., according to Elton McGinnes, General Manager of the System.

An essay contest will be conducted by each area school that elects to participate. From this group two students from each school will participate in an oratorical contest to select the two winners and the two runners up.

All high school juniors between the ages of 15 and 18 are eligible to participate. Contest entrants will be required to submit a 500 word essay on the subject "Facts About Rural Electric Cooperatives and Their Role in Energy Conservation."

Essays will be judged by the area school on the basis they select.

Deadline for submitting essays will be February 19, 1979. On the basis of the essays, finalists will be selected to give a talk on the same subject before a committee of judges who will select the winners.

This is the second year Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative has sponsored this contest. Winners last year were Paige Helmers and Carl Igo of Eldorado. Both were very enthusiastic about the association with the other winners, the sites visited enroute to Washington, and the interesting and historic sites visited in the Nation's capital.

As participants in the Youth Tour, local contest winners will travel by bus to Washington where they will spend 5 days visiting with political people, getting a first hand view of our government in action, as well as visiting many places of historical interest.

Approximately 1000 young people from across the nation will meet during the week for a special program coordinated by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association. The program will feature congressional leaders and high government officials. A visit to the White House and a fun-filled banquet will highlight the day's events.

S. S. Visit Ozona October 18

Garland Gregg, representative of the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his October visit to Ozona. He will be at the County Courthouse on Wednesday, October 18 between 2:00 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. Residents of Ozona may call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058".

Be sure to file two to three months before the month you plan to retire. This will insure faster processing of your claim and protect your rights to all benefits that could possibly be paid to you under the law.

Local Catholics In San Angelo Meeting

Members of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church in Ozona recently attended a meeting of the Diocesan Pastoral Council in San Angelo. That meeting, held Friday and Saturday, included priests, sisters, and laity from the entire West Texas area. The Council meets to advise the Bishop on what is needed for the Church at this time.

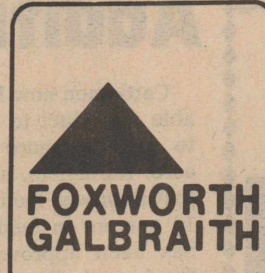

Local church members participating in this Diocesan meeting were the pastor, Fr. Larry J. Droll; the Director of Religious Education, Sr. Jovita Perez; and the lay representative from the Ozona parish, Mr. Sostenes De-Hoyos.

Major discussion and decisions were made to strengthen the status of the family in our culture. The Council decided that the year 1980 would be designated as "The Year of the Family" in the West Texas area. The entire time of 1979 is to be spent in a "listening and study process" where by as many people from local parishes as possible will be given opportunity to contribute their thoughts and insights to the Church as it undertakes to develop practical programs of ministry and education for marriage and family life. Local activities will be held in conjunction with activities at the state and national levels.

Concern for strengthening the relationships between husbands, wives, and children, concern over the break-up of many marriages in our society, concern to be able to minister more effectively to families that are in need, the Church is calling for this year of preparation in 1979 and this year of concentration in 1980 on the importance of marriage and family life to our society. The bishops of the United States plan to follow with a decade of teaching from 1980 to 1990 on marriage and family life. A high point during this time will certainly come with the scheduled White House conference on the family, 1981.

Goat News

The Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association favors the Texas Tax Relief Amendment. There's a simple, forthright statement if ever we made one.

The amendment comes up for a vote by the people Nov. 7. It's not necessarily all that all of us might have wished, but it does a more than credible job of addressing several important points that have long needed addressing.

The amendment is a compromise measure, but it really couldn't have been anything else, considering the wide variations of interests represented within the State of Texas. It mandates some tax-related changes and allows for others at the discretion of the legislature. Mandated changes that the amendment will provide include:

A homestead exemption from school taxes of $5,000 off the market value; notice to a homeowner of a re-evaluation of his property, including the actual effect of that re-evaluation; public notice by any local government of plans to increase total tax revenues, along with a public hearing on the proposal; a prohibition against centralized property tax appraisals; a requirement that all future enforcement of uniform tax appraisal standards be originated in the individual counties; a prohibition against increased state spending above the estimated growth of the state's economy.

Provisions that are allowed by the amendment but which will still require legislative action include:

Additional homestead exemptions for the elderly or disabled up to $10,000, and a prohibition against increasing taxes on such homesteads unless they change hands or are remodeled; an increase on household goods and personal effects exemptions from the current $250 to an unlimited amount, as long as the property is not used to produce income or is otherwise exempt from forced sale for debt; valuation of agricultural and forest lands on productive, rather than speculative values.

The last provision has already been acted on by the legislature. The 1977 legislative session produced a bill calling for just such productive value taxation, but it cannot be put into force without a constitutional amendment such as the one we'll be voting on soon.

The tax relief amendment has been attacked by some as a "special interest" measure offering benefits for only a select few. It's hard to see much truth in that claim, because the "select few" include the elderly, the disabled, the rancher and farmer and the homeowner, just for starters.

Less obvious, perhaps, but just as valid, is the amendment's application to almost anyone else not fitting these categories. Everyone pays property taxes, whether he or she be a homeowner or a renter. Members of the latter group may not see the tax statement, but they pay it with a portion of their monthly rent. If that's not near enough to home, the amendment's limitations on state spending should be. It is spending that determines taxing, and the more is spent, the more will be taxed.

Some continue to argue that agriculture and timber producers are getting the big break, but in reality it's not a break at all—it's simply an evening of the burden. At one time, the term "property" was almost synonymous with real estate, and property taxation was accordingly based on the ownership of real estate.

The link between real estate and wealth has long since been broken, but the taxing philosophy is still the same. It's not secret that farmers and ranchers own the most land, and because they do, they carry a grossly unfair share of the burden. The "big break" given producers is that their land will now be taxed according to what it can produce, not what some developer might be willing to pay to turn it into a jungle of condominiums, tennis courts or high-priced shopping boutiques.

Additive Increases Cattle Production

Cattlemen now have available a product to help them to produce more beef per acre. Rumensin, an additive that improves feed efficiency 10 percent in feedlot cattle, has been approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

Sitters Clinic Offered

A "Sitters Clinic," sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be offered in Ozona in the near future. The two day class teaches people how to care for people that are bedfast.

The clinic teaches how to make a bed with the person lying down, catching a falling person, lifting people, feeding people, and other topics on care of a person confined to a bed. At the end of the class participants will receive a completion certificate. The class would help you be qualified if you wanted to work as a sitter or would help in taking care of your own family members.

Mary Barrow, head nurse at the Crockett County Hospital and Debra Price, County Extension Agent will teach the class. Call the County Extension Office 2-2721 or Stella Valadez at the Ozona Community Center 2-2710 to register for the "Sitters Clinic." All educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

Livestock Information Day Is Set

An informal livestock information day will be held in the County Show Barn near the Rodeo Arena on Wednesday, October 4. The program will begin at 10:00 a.m. with the following agenda:

- 10:00-Angora Goat Production and Increasing Kid Crops in Angora Goats by Dr. George Ahlschwede.
- 10:45-Cow-Calf Economics by Gary Condra
- 11:00-Ralgro Trials in the County-by County Agent Billy Reagor
- 11:15-Cancer Eye Treating Techniques and Demonstration--by Nelson Adams
- 12:00-Dutch Treat Barbecue Lunch
- 1:00-Ear Tag Parasite Control-by Charles Neeb
- 1:15-Pregnancy Detection Demonstration (Scanoprog II)--by Nelson Adams and George Ahlschwede

Coffee will be available throughout the day. Everyone is welcome. This program was planned and is sponsored by the Livestock and Range Sub-Committee of the Crockett County Program Building Committee.

tration for use in range cattle.

This means that Rumensin can now be fed to stocker, feeder and slaughter cattle weighing more than 400 pounds," points out Dr. Larry L. Boleman, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "The approval has immediate application to all cattlemen using pastures in any way with beef cattle."

According to the manufacturer, Elanco Products Co., a division of Eli Lilly and Co., the cost of Rumensin is only about a penny a day per animal, and research trials indicate a 16 percent faster rate of gain. Cattle on pasture fed 200 milligrams of Rumensin daily gained 0.2 pounds over those not receiving the additive.

Studies indicate the product is effective in both steers and heifers, in implanted or non-implanted cattle, notes Boleman.

Plant Legumes Now For Spring Grazing

Producers who want high quality forage for their cattle in late winter and early spring should give legumes a try.

"Legumes can provide high quality grazing at a time when there is little other forage available and when cows that are calving have high nutrient requirements," points out Don Dorsett, a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Legumes can also provide high protein hay and can return some nitrogen to the soil to benefit other grasses."

Dorsett notes that there are several misconceptions about legumes in the Southwest. One is that they provide a lot of winter grazing since they are fall planted. Another is that they return a large amount of nitrogen to the soil.

"Although legumes are planted in the fall, they make only minimal growth until late winter," explains the forage specialist. "Growth is rapid from then until late May or June when legumes are high in protein and are highly digestible. This is when they provide high quality forage so essential to good animal performance, especially for cows with young calves that must get back in condition for rebreeding."

As far as the nitrogen building aspect is concerned, legumes do take nitrogen from the atmosphere if they are well nodulated, points out Dorsett. However, most of this is used in the growth of the plant and is removed as the plant is grazed or cut for hay. The nitrogen in legume roots is only about 20 percent of the plant's total nitrogen content, and this

"Rumensin may make continuous supplementation on poor quality pastures a more profitable practice, provided the feeding practice will insure a consistent intake of the material on a daily basis," says the specialist. "Mineral blocks, molasses-type blocks or other supplement mixes or carriers may be used to control consumption if they do so at a low cost. The type of carrier will be important in the overall economics of pasture supplementation since the high cost supplemental feed or feeding system can easily offset the weight gain advantage of the additive."

Ranchers should also be aware of a low intake or palatability problem of the additive that could occur for cattle grazing high quality forages such as winter pastures, reminds Boleman.

How does Rumensin work to improve weight gains in cattle?

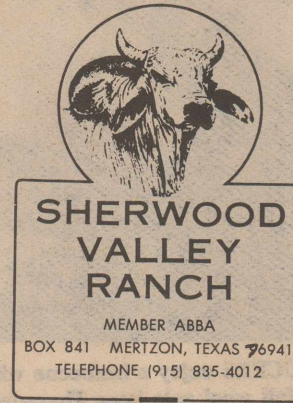

Monensin sodium, the active ingredient in Rumensin, shifts the ruminal fermentation patterns, explains Boleman. The propionic acid production is increased at the expense of acetic or butyric acid, and this alteration increases the efficiency of energy use for growth and fattening.

"Use of Rumensin could have a tremendous economic breakthrough in growing cattle on pasture, provided it can be used economically," contends Boleman. "The additive must be supplied in a low-cost carrier and must be consumed by the animal for its use to be effective and profitable."

Producers should remember that although Rumensin is safe for cattle, it is quite toxic to horses, adds the specialist.

Younger persons generally accept sexual equality. Persons ages 18-29 are more likely than ages 30-44 to share wage-earning and child care responsibilities.

RATLESNAKE TIME-This time of year the countryside abounds with snakes of this kind. All are deadly poison, but they vary in size and shape. Jim McCrohan and daughter, Sharon, show off one of the heaviest kills this year. The rattler measured 5'2", weighed 12 pounds and was 8 inches in diameter. It was killed on the Couch ranch. Jimmy Moore shows off another big one, killed on his pumping lease. Rather an unusual specimen, it was not so long and heavy, but unusually large in diameter with a huge head.

Cubs Open Season With Wins

Ozona's Junior High Cubs opened the season Thursday with both the seventh and eighth graders claiming victories. The eighth graders, playing Iraan here, took a 33-0 victory over the hapless Iraan team, while the seventh graders were in McCamey to take a 6-0 victory.

All Cubs played and defensive and offensive efforts were shared by all. Huereca scored three touchdowns and kicked 1 PAT, Villarreal scored a td, caught a pass for a two point conversion. Badillo scored a touchdown.

In the seventh grade defeat of the Badgers, Johnny Rodriguez scored the lone touchdown.

National 4-H Week Coming Up Oct. 1

Nearly 5.5 million young people across the nation--more than 100,000 of those in Texas--will observe National 4-H Week, Oct. 1-7. Activities will center on the theme, "4-H--Freedom to Be."

President Jimmy Carter called the theme "most appropriate for a program which is reaching out to all young Americans--rural and urban--from every cultural, economic and social background."

"For many," he said, "4-H is opening doors to a lifetime of personal growth and fulfillment. In learning-by-doing, through educational projects and through community involvement efforts, 4-H is providing useful guidance and direction to young people and making them more responsible and sensitive adult citizens."

"National 4-H Week is set aside annually by the Cooperative Extension Service to focus attention on the values of 4-H as an informal educational program for boys and girls 9 to 19 years old," said Dr. John T. Pelham, state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"The program's learning-by-doing philosophy encourages young people to acquire 'real life' skills and develop citizenship and leadership abilities," noted Pelham. Most 4-H members are enrolled in locally organized clubs on a year-round basis. Others take part in 4-H through special interest groups, nutrition education programs, instructional television, international programs, short-term activities and camping.

Hunts Open New Gift Shop Near Sonora Home

A unique and unusual shop has been opened in Sonora by Mr. and Mrs. James Hunt. The new shop named "The Old Shop" is located next to the Hunt's home off East Second Street, and their home, which is a replica of Early American mansions, will be an integral part of the shop.

The shop has long been a dream of Linda and James Hunt and has finally become a reality, since the Hunts moved in from the ranch and settled in their new home in town.

During their years at the ranch the Hunts spent much of their time studying, traveling and buying in preparation for the store. According to Linda, the shop will have "A Little Bit of Everything Nice," for everyone. "We put together the kind of things we love and treasure," she said.

The inventory includes antiques and collectables of all sorts, reproductions, beautiful linens, china, crystal, silver, pewter, cloisonne, brass, copper, baskets, a lot of the Old Chinese blue and white Babar books and the lovable Steiff teddy bear. The shop will have many goodies for the Christmas season, plus ornaments and Old World decorations. Also everything from oven to table ware will be featured, plus crockery, old molds and many more items too numerous to mention.

The shop also carries wedding selections for engaged couples.

Hiring The Paralyzed Veteran

Special job help for paralyzed veterans will be part of the Veterans Administration's affirmative action program to improve job opportunities for severely disabled veterans.

During Fiscal Year 1979, Administrator Max Cleland announced today, VA will set aside 250 selected job vacancies to be filled by veterans paralyzed by spinal cord injuries.

To initiate the program, VA Chief Medical Director, Dr. James C. Crutcher, has authorized 12 new positions to be allocated among VA spinal cord injury hospitals and funded during the current 1978 fiscal year.

Each facility in VA's nationwide system of hospitals, outpatient clinics and regional offices has been told to identify jobs that could be successfully filled by qualified spinal cord injured veterans and to set a goal of hiring at least one during the next 12-month fiscal period.

To better match jobs with applicants, the Paralyzed Veterans of America organization is working closely with VA counseling psychologists and personnel officials.

Junior Varsity Wins Opener From Iraan

The Ozona Lion Junior Varsity football team took the field against the Iraan Junior Varsity team and came away victorious with a score of 8 to 0. The win was sparked by a defensive effort which only allowed the visiting braves 98 yards total offense. The Lion offense rolled up 182 yards on the ground and 35 yards through the air for a total effort of 217 yards.

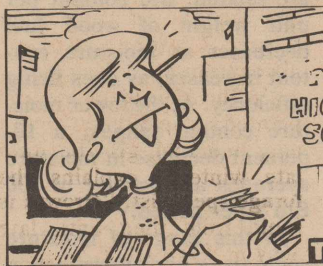

The lone Lion touchdown was scored by Felix Flores.

The two extra points came on a pass from Varlyn Aldridge to Larry Payne. Another offensive standout was Hector Leal who carried the ball for 128 yards. One of the many defensive players that made a difference in the game was Mike Vallejo who was the leading tackler with 11 tackles.

This was the first game for the Lion J.V. this year. The J.V. will take on the Big Lake Owls J.V. this Thursday, Sept. 28, at 6:30 p.m. in Ozona.

Help! I need some entertainers! Once more I am going to appeal to Ozonans to come forward. If you play a fiddle, a banjo, a flute—any musical instrument, let me hear from you. If you recite, if you can do a suitable dramatic reading, a skit, a monologue, if you can sing, juggle, do card tricks, or do anything, please give me a call.

Are there any young folks with guitars out there? This appeal is urgent! Our residents love to have young people coming in.

A request to those of you who feel you can't do a thing (which is doubtful), and you know of someone else who can, please contact me and I will take it from there. Okay? Thanks!

Floy Clare Short is continuing to do well since she returned to the Center and tells me she is ready to play Bingo. It's nice to have her back. Gordon Smith is improving daily since his return from hospital and surgery recently. He has discarded the wheelchair and is walking around very nicely. Can't keep a good man down!

We had a group of thirteen residents for Bible study on Wednesday morning, with a break for exercises before going back to the lobby for music. On Thursday afternoon a good group listened intently to a rather sad story about a little Swedish girl whose idol was Elvis Presley. She was very sick and not expected to live long and wrote to Elvis. Her tutor felt sure that the letter would be lost among the thousands he must have received each week, but the little girl was undaunted because she just knew he would reply. Finally, the tutor wrote herself and explained the situation and eventually the wee girl received a handwritten note from Elvis and a huge Teddy Bear. A regular correspondence then ensued. Elvis must have given much enjoyment to millions who were his fans but never as much joy as he must have given through this correspondence with the little girl who died when she was nine. He showed that he cared, and at the child's request their friendship remained their secret until, after his death, the tutor revealed the story and the contents of the letters that passed between them.

On a lighter note I read about our own Kitty's cruise and there were many smiles.

Again the Bingo winner was Mike Penal. Second place prize went to Mary Seelye. This coming Friday after our regular Bingo session, all the losers for the past month will be invited to play (blackout) for a gift certificate donated by Baker Jewelers. Residents like the nice big cards and to make it easier for all, just one card is played.

Volunteers for the past two weeks are: Carol Carlisle, Anadelia Fierro, Martha Flores, Thelma Janes, Blanche Walker, Maria Vitela, Lito Pena, Liz Mary Pipes, Georgia Kirby, Casiana Fierro, Glenda Winkley, Carmen Reina, Grace Dorsey and Beth Boyd. We thank you all—we are most fortunate to have you. Liz Mary always comes on Friday mornings for Bingo, but we would like to have one or two more to help out at 10 a.m. now that our juniors are back in school.

Thanks also to Bro. Bill Morrison and a group of about fifteen members of the Church of Christ who came to the Center on Sunday afternoon for scripture readings and songs. To those of you who come from the various churches on Sundays, I would appreciate it if you would each enter your name in the volunteer book which is kept in a drawer at the nurses' station.

Francisco Gonzales, or "Pancho" as we all knew him, passed away on Saturday. He was a dear; occasionally he joined in music with maracas, and often he could be heard repeating prayers to himself in Spanish. Our sympathy is extended to his family.

The Scientists Tell Me . . . We Must Take a New Look At an Old Fuel, Wood

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

The Nation's total energy needs can be greatly relieved if the wood product industries can totally utilize the fuel potential of their own raw material, wood. At present these industries account for about 6 percent of the nation's energy consumption.

Feasibility studies indicate that fossil-fuel costs for the wood product industries can be almost totally eliminated if they adopt a concept called the "two-stream approach" with the incoming wood materials.

In simplest terms, one stream is the raw material for the manufactured product; the second stream is wood fuel. Residues from the manufacturing process are added to this second stream.

"This raises two questions," says Dr. W.K. Murphey who took part in the study for The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station: "One, is wood an economically feasible fuel? And two, are wood product manufacturing systems truly capable of being self-sufficient from wood fuel?"

"If these two questions can be answered positively, then wood products may have an economic advantage over products manufactured using fossil fuels."

Murphey, who is head of the Forest Science Department at Texas A&M University, makes these telling points:

Oil prices paid by steam-electric generating plants are now over $2.00 per million Btu's. To compare wood fuel to oil requires defining firing efficiency—that amount of useable energy obtained from a fuel—and the Btu's obtained from a unit weight of wood fuel.

Firing efficiencies are related to type of firing chamber and moisture content of the fuel. If wood is direct fired in a dutch-oven-type furnace, the efficiency is approximated at 65 percent. Oil firing efficiencies are near 80 percent. And for our analysis, let's assume 1.25 as much wood fuel would be required to equal oil in terms of firing efficiencies.

One ton of oven dry wood contains about 17 million Btu's. At an oil price of $0.30 per gallon ($2.00/million Btu), the wood industry could afford to pay $34.00 for oven dry wood in the firing chamber.

Wood is not often in the oven dry state; thus moisture content of the wood delivered to the firing chamber is important. Water decreases the amount of wood substance per unit weight of wood fuel and also uses energy to dissipate the moisture in the form of steam.

Wood manufacturing processes studied that may provide sufficient residues to be energy self-sufficient are soft-wood lumber, oak flooring, lumber made from veneer, and both hardwood panel and softwood sheathing plywood.

Underlayment particle-board manufactured would require 0.52 tons of oven dry wood in the fuel stream to make up the deficit 235 horsepower-hours of mechanical energy and the 625 pounds of steam required to produce each ton of product. Fiberboard, insulation board, and hardboard require 0.42, 1.25, and 2.51 tons of additional wood fuel to become energy self-sufficient for each ton of product manufactured.

Besides the firing efficiencies and moisture associated with wood fuel, the selection of wood over fossil fuel depends on their relative costs. Price sensitivity is important in regards to changes in 1) cost of wood delivered to the mill, 2) oil prices, 3) wood moisture content, and 4) relative firing efficiencies.

Price of wood delivered to the mill, exclusive of firing efficiencies and fuel handling within the mill, can be calculated if oil is $2.00/million Btu and wood is $41.28 per cord. If oil prices increase $0.01 per gallon, fuel costs increase $0.01 per gallon, fuel costs increase $0.06 per million Btu. A $1.00 increase in the price of an oven dry ton of wood raises the price per million Btu $0.06.

Wood moisture content and firing efficiency changes are related. Btu content per unit weight of wood fuel decreases as moisture content increases, as does firing efficiency. At the lower moisture content ranges, a 10-percent decrease in moisture averages an increase of 600 Btu's per pound.

In this range of moisture contents, a percent reduction increases the worth of wood fuel by $0.24 per ton. Stated another way, we could afford to spend up to $0.24 to dry the wood. Similarly, firing efficiency is raised by the reduction in moisture because less fuel is consumed changing the moisture to steam and reduction stack gas losses.

Murphey estimates the total change would result in increases amounting to $0.34 for each one-percent decrease in moisture. An additional benefit not considered is the reduction of particulate matter produced at the increased efficiencies.

A great deal of research must be done to assure a continuing supply of wood fuel to the wood industries. Development of energy plantations, definitions of net energy relations to specific sites, efficient production of fuel chips, and many other areas need more hard data.

Our research has verified that wood is viable fuel for the wood industry. Other research must determine how we can best use this resource. When this is done, the nation and this industry will have taken a long step toward reducing our dependency on fossil fuels and by replacing a part of our needs with a renewable resource.

Used properly, chlorine bleach whitens, brightens, cleans and disinfects laundry items. Read bottle instructions for correct usage and list of inappropriate fabrics.

John Hill sets record with service as Secretary of State, Attorney General

John Hill will be the first governor in the history of Texas who takes office with eight years of valuable experience in the executive branch of state government. His two years as Secretary of State and six years as Attorney General are unprecedented among Texas governors. This experience will give Texans a governor ready to take charge on the first day in office — a governor who knows how to bring efficient management to the job of the state's chief executive.

Back-to-work Women Need Good Resumes

Writing a resume can unfold hidden talents, especially for "off-to-work" mothers, says a home economist.

As mothers and homemakers, these women have acquired a number of valuable skills—often those that employers consider the most important, says Linda McCormack.

They include responsibility, discipline, organization and planning skills and ingenuity, she adds.

Before actually writing a resume, outline talents and experiences first.

List special areas of expertise and special "likes."

Include such activities as money raising, extensive entertaining for husband's business interests, leadership of various groups, or organization of others.

Type a resume on standard 8 1/2 x 11-inch paper, usually white bondpaper—or a beige or gray with, perhaps, a slight texture if it really "adds something" and shows good taste.

For most people, a resume should fit on one page.

Type name and address at the top of the page, centered, so a paper clip cannot hide it. Include age and marital status opposite the name and address, if desired.

Next include four headings: experience, education (or education and training), interests and aptitudes, and references.

Under this heading, describe activities that involve important skills.

For example, list managing money, caring for children, decorating or fund raising.

Also, include previous employment.

Then list special skills. For instance, include writing, photography, typing, shorthand, languages, music or graphic arts.

Include all formal schooling and training, degrees or certificates.

List night school courses, scholastic honors, extra-curricular activities, correspondence courses and seminars attended.

Describe talents and hobbies, including recreational interests, such as sports. Add a paragraph that describes the range of work that seems most suitable—and that would be most appealing.

List all references, personal and professional, or note that they will be furnished on request.

Finally, remember to keep a resume up-to-date—including each activity that adds a new skill and increased experience—both of interest to prospective employers.

Alcohol Is Threat To Unborn

Pregnant women who drink alcohol may threaten their unborn baby--with malformation or mental deficiency.

Three ounces of alcohol or more per day is a definite risk, says Carla Shearer. Ms. Shearer is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Drinking only one to three ounces of alcohol per day also can be risky, and pregnant women should approach even these amounts with caution," she adds.

Researchers say that of the total newborns in the United States, thousands are malformed and mentally defective because their mothers drank too much alcohol during pregnancy.

Due to evidence that alcohol consumption by pregnant women can cause--in some cases--birth defects in children, the Food and Drug Administration is now considering new regulations that would warn consumers of this danger.

Labels of caution would appear on certain oral drugs and foods that contain alcohol, according to the proposed regulations.

Alcoholic beverages might also carry such labels.

Just "how much" alcohol is "how dangerous"--and "when" during pregnancy--are still areas of uncertainty, but researchers are still looking for the answers.

"However, until we know the answers, extreme caution with alcohol consumption is best.

Explaining how alcohol damages an unborn baby, Ms. Shearer says that when a pregnant woman drinks, the alcohol goes through her bloodstream and that of the unborn--in the same concentration.

"In other words, if the mother is drunk, so is the baby," she stresses.

Best Buys In Food This Week

Best buys at Texas grocery markets this week include fryer chickens, turkey parts, eggs, frozen orange juice, cooking greens and dry yellow onions, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reports.

Also, brown sugar and confectioner's sugar has sale prices--with an eye on upcoming holidays, she says.

This week's price-quality trends include the following: Both whole fryer chickens and mixed parts are bargains, and turkey parts have low prices in some markets. Medium-size eggs usually are the best buy currently.

Dry yellow onions in heavy supply have attractive prices in many markets. Cooking greens--mustard, collards and turnips--and others from local truck farms have excellent quality at reasonable prices.

Other economical items are cabbage, carrots, corn, bell peppers, squash and potatoes. Buy only small amounts of sweet potatoes, since current supplies are not cured. Late fall and winter supplies will be cured, and they will keep longer.

More attractive prices appear on eggplant, broccoli and cauliflower.

Most economical items in fruits are bananas, plums, cantaloupe and honeydew melons. Some grape varieties have lower prices. Soft summer fruit supplies are dwindling. New-crop apples and pears have larger supplies, but prices are high.

Look for features on chocolate milk, sour cream, yogurt and cheeses.

Specials are fewer in beef.

Most economical choices are chuck roasts and steaks, boneless roasts, round steaks, liver, ground beef.

Chili Lovers Cook Book

The "Chili-Lovers' Cook Book," hottest recipe book of the year, has just been issued by Golden West Publishers.

This unique three-in-one cook book presents three sections of recipes: chili without beans, chili with beans, and dishes made with green chile peppers and chile products.

Many of the recipes were prizewinners in recent chili cook-offs. Chili chefs in Arizona, California, Colorado, Illinois, Louisiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, Ohio, Texas and Washington have provided the bulk of the recipes.

United States Senators and Congressmen who share their personal recipes include: Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, Sen. Pete V. Domenici of New Mexico, Sen. Harrison Schmitt of New Mexico, Sen. John Tower of Texas, Rep. Eldon Rudd of Arizona, Rep. Bob Wilson of California, Rep. Lindy (Mrs. Hale) Boggs of Louisiana, Rep. J.J. Pickle and Rep. Kika de la Garza of Texas.

Some of the more esoteric recipes are: Bowl of Fire, Buzzard's Breath Chili, Butcher's Best Chili, Bite-the-Bullet Chili, Hog-Heaven Chili, Fiesta Chili, Prospector's Chili, Mucker's Chili, Rio Grande Chili, and Truck Stop Chili.

In the "Recipes with Chiles" section, are such novelties as Carne Enchilada, Chile Cheese Puffs, Chili Paste, Drunken Beans, Green Chile Grits, Hot Pepper Jelly, Jalapeno Cornbread, Peppy Pecan Balls, and Red Chile Apple Pie.

With its plastic binding (permitting the pages to lie flat), easy-to-read type (ingredients are printed in bold-face, capital letters), glossy, easy-to-clean cover, and background information, the Chili-Lovers' Cook Book is a practical recipe book as well as a colorful gift item.

Copies of the cook book may be obtained from local booksellers or may be ordered at $3 (plus 50c postage) direct from the publishers: Golden West Publishers, 4113 N. Longview, Phoenix, AZ 85014.

The book was compiled and edited by Al Fischer and Mildred Fischer, whose earlier cook books are also available: the Arizona Cook Book and the California Cook Book.

Contrary to popular belief, chili is not of Mexican origin, but was probably created in the chuckwagons, cafes and kitchens of Texas. Today, chili has become so popular that chili societies throughout the country now conduct annual chili cook-offs to determine the most unusual version of this favorite dish.

Hot Dogs

Nutritious

Hot dog lovers can say "hot dog!" with complete enthusiasm, according to a foods and nutrition specialist.

Hot dogs, weiners or franks, are a nutritious, economical and convenient food, says Marilyn Haggard.

Taste and variety are other factors in the hot dog's popularity—as proven by the 14 billion hot dogs that Americans eat every year, the specialist says.

Whether the franks are beef and pork, all beef or chicken, each one provides as much protein as an egg. Calorie-wise, one frank has 150.

And even more taste is available in the newest type-coarsely ground weiners.

Weiners are a good buy since there is little loss during cooking.

To cook weiners, cover them with boiling water and let them stand just long enough to heat them thoroughly—or eat them right from the package since they are fully cooked by the manufacturer.

Of their content, Miss Haggard says weiners are about 85 percent meat, 5-10 percent added water and about 5 percent seasonings and cure.

By law, they can be 30 percent fat—an amount slightly less than that in a broiled T-bone steak.

Personalize Your New Mobile Home

Personalize a new mobile home by pre-selecting from designs the dealer has in stock, suggests Glenda Moore, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

When the new mobile home arrives on the site ready for occupancy, a problem may arise because the mobile home was not decorated with the buyer in mind.

It's carpeted, draped, furnished and lighted, but it's still impersonal—very much like a room in a motel, only larger, the specialist points out.

However, the mobile home dealer will often allow the buyer to choose the floor plan, colors, and styles of furnishings and accessories that they like best to help eliminate much of the impersonal atmosphere.

If a choice is available, follow guidelines for decorating any small area: Try to stick with simple color schemes.

Use one dominant color throughout to achieve a feeling of spaciousness.

Light colors reflect light making the room appear larger. Walls especially can make a difference.

Floor coverings are more pleasing if they're at least a shade darker than the walls.
