This has been a delightful week weather-wise. Last Tuesday's rainfall lasted throughout the night and gave Ozona a total of about an inch of rainfall before the sun came out Thursday. The afternoon high has been not over 84 degrees, and the countryside is lovely as only West Texas countryside can be with a little rain and cooler weather.

This next tale is a "tongue in cheek" story, but true. I received a letter Monday from the Cadillac Motor Car Division. The opening paragraph informed me the letter was sent in accordance with the requirements of the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act. It further informs that General Motors has determined that a defect which relates to safety exists in all 1977 and some 1978 Cadillacs.

Now get this; safety experts had determined if paper or other combustible materials are placed in the instrument panel ashtray receptacle they could accidentally be ignited and cause a fire which could reach the instrument panel and create the potential for burn injuries to anyone remaining in the vehicle if the flames are not extinguished.

To prevent this possibility, the company is sending me a shield for the ashtray. Until my shield is installed, I am not to use the ashtray, but in the event I do start a fire in my ashtray, I am to drive to the side of the road and exit my car. I must make no attempt to remove the ashtray or extinguish the fire unless adequate means is available. And it goes on and on.

Honestly, can you believe this? Do they really think anybody who has a license to drive a car doesn't have enough sense to know if you put a lighted cigarette in an ashtray full of paper it will catch fire? This is a hazard in any car for that matter. I have always wondered what the function of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration was. Now I know, it's sitting around lighting fires in ashtrays. People who work in the Washington bureaucracy either think everybody outside of that circle has the brain of a pea, or else they are the imbeciles. Either way, it's a terrible waste of tax money.

After the annual hassle with the post office trying to comply with their rules and hold on to my second class permit, I was especially put out to see the statistics put out by the U.S. General Accounting Office about the U.S. Postal Service employees and salaries, the 1970 figures, compared with the 1977 figures.

Total USPS employees in 1970 were 741,216, compared with 655,097 in 1977. Total salaries and benefits for 1970 were $6,541,816 and for 1977 were $13,124,065, an increase of 100% average salary and benefits in 1970 were $8,826 as compared with $20,034 in 1977, an increase of 127%. Employees were decreased (by machines no doubt) by 11.6% during the seven years. What the report neglected to say was postal service has decreased at least 150% in the seven year period, and postage has risen about 300%. And they have the unmitigated gall to call for a postal strike. Public employees should not be allowed to join or form unions. High salaries and benefits along with sloppy work is one of the big "wrongs" in the nation today, and most of this is found in public service and union jobs. The private sector is becoming unable to compete.

FALL FASHIONS BY THE TEACHER STORE drew a large crowd of area women Saturday at the Circle Bar solarium. The local store in conjunction with the Teacher's Pet in Sterling City showed a full collection of fall fashions with local women as models. The new line of children's clothes was also shown. Cella Allen, co-owner, furnished the commentary.

Many Activities On Tap----

Homecoming Week

It's Homecoming Week at Ozona High School and students and faculty alike are observing all the traditions the week brings with it. Each day students dress in a different manner, according to the dress code of the day. However, activities really get under with the junior high football games and the pep rally to follow on Thursday night.

The Cubs will play a double header with Sonora, beginning at 4:30 with the second game to follow around 5:45. The snake dance will form at the Village Shopping center parking lot at 7 p.m. The snake dance will wind around the town and end at the boy's gym where the homecoming rally will take place.

Friday the weekly pep rally will be held at 3 p.m. and the homecoming parade will start at 4:30. The parade will feature floats, the football team, the homecoming queen candidates, etc. It will make up at the Arco station, go south to highway 290, then follow 290 to the Red Apple Drive In where it will disperse.

The Lions will take on Rankin Friday night, and if spirit has anything to do with the outcome of a football game, they will surely get their first win of the season. The winless season so far has done nothing to dampen school spirit.

The Lions came close to getting their first win Friday night in Menard, but couldn't quite pull it off and the game ended 23-21 in favor of Menard. However, Coach Sewell said the Lions had some pretty impressive statistics. Freddie Garza had 110 yards rushing on 30 carries for an average of 3.66 yards per carry. Aldo Delgado carried the ball 11 times for 58 yards and an average of 5.27. Dan Sewell hit six of nine passes for 85 yards. His pass to Delgado set up the Lions third touchdown. Defensively, Coach Sewell singled out Joe Rebelez and Robert Tambunga as outstanding players.

Sewell reminded fans and players that Rankin will be a tough one, undefeated and unscored on for the season.

Pre-game activities will start at 7:40 Friday night. There will be the coin toss and the annual crowning of the football queen. Queen candidates, selected by the team, are Delia DeHoyos, Rea Lynn Dews and Michelle Galvan. Kick-off time for the game will be 8 p.m.

Saturday night activities will draw to a close with the annual Homecoming Dance for high school students and former Ozona High School graduates. The dance will be held at the Civic Center and will last from 8 p.m. until 12

CANDIDATE TO VISIT OZONA

Tom Loeffler, Republican candidate for U.S. Representative from the 21st District, will be in Ozona Friday to campaign.

He will be at the Ozona Inn of the West from 12 until 2 p.m. for those who would like to meet him and discuss the issues.

Space Age Television Coming To Ozona

Modern space age technology has provided some fantastic advancements for the people of the world.

Ozona cable television subscribers will soon have the opportunity to reap one of the benefits of space age technology in television broadcasting.

Plans are announced by Ozona Television System for a new dimension in TV service for its Ozona subscribers. Installation of an "earth station" which will receive TV broadcasts via a satellite in stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the earth is now under way at a site near the cable system's hill-top receiving tower in northwest Ozona.

Upon completion of this installation, which will consist of a huge "dish" beamed by modern scientific methods toward the satellite, Ozona cable subscribers will have access to programs broadcast, by one of the most sought after independent stations, Station WTCG in Atlanta, Ga., which broadcasts on a 24-hour basis, featuring sports, movies and programs viewers have asked to see again.

The Atlanta station's signal is beamed toward the RCA Statcom satellite in orbit 22,300 miles above the earth's surface and is re-broadcast on a new frequency to satellite receiving stations located near cable systems subscribing for the station's service. WTCG, the most sought after station in the south, is an independent channel featuring sports, movies and specially requested programs. The new service for Ozona subscribers will provide major league and college sports on a 24-hour schedule; up to 43 movies each week; favorite shows for all the family; special youth programming and encores of former network hits.

HBO is the pay-television service that makes your own home the "best seat in the house" for your favorite Hollywood movies, always uncut and without any commercial interruptions. HBO presents its very own "Standing Room Only" and "On Location" comedy and entertainment specials. These are exclusive performances you can't see on regular television. HBO puts you right up front for exciting sports from around the world--the events that regular television neglects.

Ozona cable television subscribers will have an opportunity to try out the new HBO service before they subscribe for it. The local TV System has announced that its subscribers will have a 2-weeks free service to judge the HBO programming after which each subscriber will receive the HBO service by paying an additional $8 per month. Installation of an electronic gadget on the TV service line will blank out the HBO signal for those who do not subscribe.

Installation of equipment for the new service is expected to be completed by early November, Oscar Kost, manager, announced.

In addition to the WTCG and HBO service provided in the expansion plan of the cable system will be a Christian broadcast from CBN Satellite Service, an affiliate of the Christian Broadcasting Service.

Two More Lawsuits Filed

Two more law suits have been filed by Jesse Marley against Sostenes DeHoyos since Marley filed a contested election suit last month in 112th District Court here.

DeHoyos' attorneys have filed an answer to the contested election suit, but a date for trial has not been set by District Judge Troy Williams.

The second suit, filed two weeks ago, contends that DeHoyos failed to comply with the election law in filing expense reports which were due both before and after the election. The suit requests double the amount of such unreported contributions and expenditures as damages for the Plaintiff as allowed under the election law. The suit also asks for attorney's fees for the Plaintiff in "at least the amount of $2,500.

The prayer asks that Defendant be cited to appear and answer as the law requires and that upon final hearing judgement against Defendant be as follows: Double the amount of all unreported contributions made to DeHoyos or any of his political committees in connection with the election held on August 12, 1978, in Crockett County, for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1.

Also, for double the amount of all unreported expenditures made by Defendant, for interest on such amounts as provided by law, for attorney's fees in at least the amount of $2,500, for costs of the suit and for such other and further relief, general and special, in law and equity, as the Court may deem proper.

The suit was filed on behalf of Marley by Odessa attorney Lucius D. Bunton and Charles Sherrill of Sonora.

In the suit filed last week by the same parties, Marley asks that the court remove DeHoyos from the office of Crockett County Commissioner Precinct 1, plus attorney fees and costs of suit.

This suit claims as County Commissioner DeHoyos has the duty to attend the meetings of the Commissioners' Court of Crockett County and to assist in the setting of the tax rate of the county. It further claims DeHoyos was and still is grossly derelict in performing said duty in attending the meetings of the court and among other things the ad valorem tax rate for the year 1979 was not timely set.

Attached as "Exhibit A" is a letter from Marley to District Judge Troy Williams requesting removal of DeHoyos as county commissioner.

The content of the letter is as follows: "As a taxpayer and citizen of Precinct 1, Crockett County, I hereby respectfully request that Sostenes DeHoyos be removed from the office of County Commissioner of Precinct No. 1. As you are aware, Sostenes DeHoyos was declared the winner in a special election held on August 12, 1978, and was certified as County Commissioner of Precinct No. One, upon such election and votes being canvassed.

The basis for this request is that Sostenes DeHoyos has been grossly derelict in performing the said duty of the office in that he has failed, neglected, and/or refused to attend meetings. As a result of his failure to attend the regular meetings, the ad valorem tax rate for the year 1979 was not timely set as required by law." The letter was dated September 21.

According to the suit, the judge has taken no action to remove Defendant, and Plaintiff therefore brings this action on behalf of himself and all taxpayers of Crockett County, Texas. The suit further claims DeHoyos has forfeited his right to hold office and should be removed therefrom "pursuant to the laws of the State of Texas.

Judge Williams was not available for comment, but as of Tuesday afternoon he had taken no action nor set any trial dates for any one of the three lawsuits.

No further action has been taken on a $240,000 damage suit filed in Federal Court by DeHoyos the latter part of July

Welfare Industry Bursting At Seams

By Senator Carl T. Curtis

Charles D. Hobbs, former Chief Deputy Director of Social Welfare of California, says in an important new book ("The Welfare Industry," published by The Heritage Foundation, Washington, D.C.) that the national welfare industry is "now comprised of 5 million public and private workers distributing payments and services to 50 million beneficiaries." For each of the 44 welfare programs identified and catalogued in the welfare system, Hobbs charts the history, eligibility requirements, benefits received, program overlap, and cost increase between 1971 and 1976. Total cost of these programs in 1976 was $187 billion, 1977 expenditures are projected at $210 billion and for 1979, approximately $250 billion.

Hobbs identifies four welfare industry goals. The first is to increase welfare expenditures at a faster rate than national economic growth. This goal has already been reached; the welfare industry grew at the rate of 25.11 percent a year between 1971 and 1976, "2.5 times the GNP growth rate and 3 times the growth of wages for the same period."

The second of the industry's goals is to centralize control and administration of welfare programs at the federal level. This goal is quickly being reached as "All but 2 of the 44 (programs) are federal programs and federal expenditures constitute 80 percent of total expenditures." And, federal control is almost totally centered in the Departments of Agriculture, Labor, HEW, and HUD.

Thirdly, there is a drive in the welfare industry for greater and greater complexity in the welfare system. This complexity results in program overlap. "Compounding of benefits through overlapping programs," Hobbs says, "is the major cause of the high welfare cost growth rate. Many welfare families are better off financially, by their participation in several programs, than are the families of workers whose taxes pay for the welfare." This causes a disincentive to work and increased dependency on the welfare system.

The fourth welfare industry goal is to increase continually the number of employees in the industry itself. This is revealed in the enactment of new all-service programs rather than the older style cash programs. Notwithstanding the lack of any real cost-effectiveness studies, approximately $2.5 billion annually is spent in so-called social services, and the call continues to go out to raise the ceiling. All this is despite the fact that one of the central aims of the 1962 Amendments to the Social Security Act — to alleviate dependency and reduce the welfare rolls — has never been proven to work in the fashion claimed.

Reform of the welfare system must be aimed at the welfare industry as a whole, Hobbs contends. He suggests that 1) the number of welfare workers be reduced, 2) the system be simplified, 3) control of the system be decentralized, and 4) expenditure growth reduced. Only then can welfare again be focused on "its true purpose: to help those who cannot help themselves."

Hobbs is clearly on the right track. One should, however, be wary of the siren call of simplification and emphasis on cash programs; President Carter uses these well-meant aims to attempt to secure support for a proposal which can only open new loopholes and escalate costs dramatically. Similarly, while the number of welfare workers can and should be reduced, it should not be through the substitution of a massive, mechanized system that has the poor quality control record of the federalized SSI (Supplemental Security Income) program. Hobbs is not suggesting this — but others might.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—A bitter legislative battle is shaping up over whether Texans should have a direct vote in 1980 on selection of presidential candidates.

The House Elections Committee recommended revival of a Texas presidential preference primary law, which expired by its own terms after single use in 1976.

However, the committee sought to fix the date on which the voting should be held as that of the June runoff primary rather than the May general primary.

That irked Republicans who voted in state convention to hold a presidential primary in May under their own rules.

Democrats are divided on the issue. Many conservatives in the legislature fear the primary would draw conservative voters into the Republican voting boxes to aid presidential candidates like Ronald Reagan, John Connally or George Bush.

Cross-overs, they reason, would increase the strength of liberals.

But many liberals have turned against the idea of a presidential primary, preferring the old convention system of naming delegates to national party conventions. Some liberals argue national party rules allow primary states to avoid major proportional representation requirements.

Democratic gubernatorial nominee John Hill has come out firmly for a primary, however, and said he expects the legislature to approve one of some type. The Democratic convention barely mentioned the issue, and tossed it to the state party's executive committee for a study and recommendations.

GOP State Chairman Ray Barnhart called the House committee recommendation "hypocrisy" aimed at misleading the people.

Stamps Changed
Welfare recipients won't have to spend their own money for food stamp program coupons in the future.

The Texas Board of Human Resources meeting in Amarillo voted to end the cash outlay requirement for participation.

If federal guidelines are received on schedule, the cash outlay provision will end December 1.

Recipients will receive fewer stamps than they now receive. They get an allotment of food for a greater value (determined on basis of household size) than they pay for stamps (based on net income). A household of four gets about $182 a month in food stamps. For this amount, the family pays $58 of its own money, making bonus value of the coupons $124. When the purchase requirement is eliminated, the household will receive the $124 in food stamps as bonus coupons, but will not have to pay out the $58.

Human Resources Commissioner Jerome Chapman said the change will provide needy Texans the same amount of food subsidy, while permitting them to retain more of their cash resources for other necessities.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

October 2, 1978
Dear Editor,

At this point, we are sure that the community of Ozona is probably bored or tired of hearing about the DeHoyos-Marley controversy, specially the DeHoyos part of it being dragged on. Not specially because of what they're saying, but because of how they're going about it. Please let it be known that not all of us feel or think the way that particular group does. Instead of helping us go forth in Equal Rights, they are creating a situation in which we are going back to the days of Civil Rights when animosity was held toward minority groups.

Everyone is supposed to hold the right to vote for whichever candidate they find suitable for themselves and their community, yet if they vote against a candidate of their own race, that race holds it against them, which is the case here with the DeHoyos group. So actually, the situation being as it is, we really don't hold that right of choice voting. They don't consider it a matter of "free vote," to them it's more a matter of supporting our race or not supporting our race. It seems to some of us that they want what's good for them, not necessarily what's good for us.

Not all of us Chicanos want to be included with them, that is what we're trying to say. We do want to have as many rights and privileges

Wednesday was "Grease" day. The Lion's Roar Staff was really "shocked" to see John Travolta-in person? Wow!! With all the Travolta's and Olivia Newton John's running around, it was hard to choose between them and the "Grease Lightning's!!"

Thursday at 7:00 p.m. the Snake Dance will be held. It will start at the Village parking lot and end up at the boy's gym for the big "Pep Rally." Everyone is invited to come and help GET THAT SPIRIT UP!!

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas

Activities Program Director

Sunday, a new resident moved into the Center whose home is in Big Lake. Her name is Bessie Sandy and she likes to be called "Sandy." She is 84 years young and her daughter is Jo Cook of Big Lake. She has an older sister living in Big Spring. She also told me about her three grandchildren, one granddaughter being in the Navy. Sandy has lived a very quiet life since the death of her husband seven or eight years ago. She joined us for ceramics, Monday, and says she plays dominoes and forty-two.

Last week's dominoes winner was Paul Cavin with Opal Eversole and Mike Pena tying for second place. Verna Talley and I played and I

In reading group I read from the Texas Highways magazine, The Stockman, a story from the Reader's Digest about a young boy and Winston Churchill, finishing up with a short story by Emmett Kelly, the famous clown, from Guideposts. He told of his beginnings as a clown and how he learned that being himself at all times led to his success.

Friday morning Bingo is always popular and Frances Tolson and Mary Seelye are usually in the dining room waiting an hour beforehand! The weekly gift certificate was won by Swede Lundgren, and Opal Eversole won second prize. We then played a blackout contest between everyone who had not won a prize all month. Dill Eversole won the $10.00 gift certificate given by Baker Jewelers. Opal and Dill's daughter, Thelma, and other company, assisted several residents, and we thank them for pitching in.

October birthdays to be celebrated next Monday afternoon are Verna Talley, October 13, and Jacinto (Shorty) Flores, October 20. By the way, Shorty will be 96!

Monday afternoon Kathy Weant, Kim Buie, and Stacy Chapman brought a varied program to our residents consisting of miming, singing, acrobatics, and piano playing. They came in response to my appeal in last week's column, and I hope this is the forerunner of many more entertainments, but my 'phone hasn't been ringing!

I am sorry to report that Lee Dudley is not feeling very well at the present, and is confined to her room. ATTENTION ALL VOLUNTEERS: There will be a meeting of the Auxiliary on Thursday afternoon, Oct. 5, at 3:30 p.m. at the Care Center. If you have been coming to the Center doing volunteer work but have not actually joined the Auxiliary, we need you, too. The nominating committee will make a report and we will vote on officers for 1978-79. The auxiliary does not set many meetings during the year and important matters will be discussed. They ask that everyone please make every effort to be present. They will welcome anyone who would like to become a member.

Disturbances Occupy Sheriff's Department

Crockett County Sheriff Department personnel spent much of their time quelling disturbances the past week while getting in their routine duties.

Wednesday officers issued a traffic citation for reckless driving, investigated a burglary at Hillside Apartments where stereo equipment was reported missing, took care of a disturbance at the cemetery and investigated an open door at Thorp's Laun-Dry, where there was no sign of forced entry. Apparently the door had been left open.

Thursday civil processes were served, a welfare case dispatched, and a theft of gasoline at the Quick Stop was investigated. Officers also recovered a stolen vehicle and arrested one for auto theft. An aggravated robbery suspect was picked up here Friday and held for Odessa officials. Officers had two disturbance calls that night and assisted the Highway Patrol with a wreck west of Ozona.

Officers investigated four family disturbances, a prowler report and a fight at the football field the following night. One disturbance resulted in the arrest of a drunk.

Two more disturbances followed the next night and were resolved. A civil process was served and a man caught for theft of gas at the Quick Stop.

Over the weekend one was arrested for being drunk at the Circle Bar, a citation was served for reckless driving, a disturbance between the Parish Hall and Catholic Church was stopped and another stolen vehicle was recovered.

Sunday a prowler was arrested on 12th Street, a stolen bicycle was recovered and returned to its owner, Placido Borrego, and officers investigated a wreck on Monterey Street.

Church Of Christ Sets Meeting

On Sunday, October 8, the Church of Christ in Ozona will begin a gospel meeting, which will be concluded on Wednesday night, October 11. Joe Malone, minister of the Church of Christ in Rhome, Texas, will be the guest evangelist.

JOE MALONE

Brother Malone has preached for forty-two years in three states and has conducted gospel meetings throughout the nation.

Before entering the ministry, he prepared for an art career and became editorial cartoonist for the Dallas Times Herald. Brother Malone effectively uses his artistic ability in his ministry by illustrating his sermons as he preaches. All of the sermons that he preaches in Ozona will be illustrated.

The meeting in Ozona will begin Sunday with Brother Malone teaching a Bible class for adults and high school students at 9:45 a.m. And he will preach at both worship services on Sunday. Throughout the week—Monday night to Wednesday night—the services will be at night at 7:30 p.m.

A cordial invitation is extended to the entire community to attend this gospel meeting.

Cattle Breeder's Clinic Set

In order to better serve and educate ranchers and producers, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has in the past worked closely with industry groups in co-sponsoring educational programs in artificial insemination and pregnancy testing. Because of increasing interest by Texas ranchers a series of statewide educational clinics have been set for 1978-79. Companies participating in the jointly sponsored programs include American Breeders Service, Central Ohio Breeding Association and Curtiss Breeding Service.

In addition to the actual field training in artificial insemination (AI) and pregnancy determination, participants devote half of their time to intensive instruction in management.

A clinic is set for October 16-19 in San Angelo. Anyone interested can contact Billy H. Reagor, Crockett County Extension Agent for complete details on this clinic and other scheduled ones.

Debra Says

by Debra Price

Food shoppers have "come a long way" -- but still have a long way to go, according to a recent study. Consumers are more aware of food value, but their purchases do not always reflect this, the report says. Although more consumers practice economy methods than they did in the past, more also buy foods "on impulse," and fewer consumers are cutting down on meat purchases.

Also, there is less outrage about high food prices. These are some of the findings of a "Supermarket Trends" report prepared for the Food Marketing Institute earlier this year.

On the subject of food prices, consumers did mention concern over the costs of coffee, paper goods, frozen orange juice and beef.

However, only four of every 10 were concerned about food costs in general.

That represents a considerable drop from recent years.

Also, most consumers expect food-price increases, but they expect slow increases rather than sharp jumps.

In spite of more impulse buying and less concern over prices, consumers do indicate they are aware of food value, and more are taking time to cut costs.

More consumers are practicing economy methods of food shopping and preparation, and fewer are buying convenience foods.

For example, more consumers are taking time to plan meals, shop with coupons and make better use of leftovers.

As could be expected, more of these consumers are homemakers not employed outside the home, the report says.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since September was such a pleasant month we are hoping for another in October, but usually we have some 80 degree or more days before the fall is over.

Most everyone is in the process of bringing house plants and other tender kinds from the window boxes or borders in-doors for the winter. The ones that have spent the summer in the shade under trees or buried in pots, and have gotten splashed and stained, need to be cleaned and checked. Some may need to be repotted. Several days before bringing in sprinkle slug bait around on the soil and in the top of pots.

October is a good month to propagate many perennials and tender plants for next year. If you have a cold frame with plenty of drainage below it your chore will be simple. Otherwise you can use flats and place where they won't freeze.

For plants such as geraniums some use a horticultural grade of perlite or perlite to which a little fibrous brown peat has been added and thoroughly mixed. Take cuttings where the succulent green stems fade into brown-barked, harder tissues. Nip off lower leaves with a razor blade or nail scissors. You may have better success if the stem ends are dipped in rooting hormone powder before placing in rooting medium. Firm the cuttings down with a carefully applied flood of water. After that just keep moist.

Other plants such as hardy perennials may be rooted in clean builders sand that has been shaken through a window screen sieve. Flood to compact sand around the buried portions of cuttings. With a frame, lay the sash in place and for the first few days lay a thickness of newspaper to give some shade. When temperature is high, open sash a crack. Feel the sand with your finger to be sure the sand is not completely dry. It needs to be just damp and too wet is as bad as bone dry. If where it might freeze, throw a mat or old blanket over it. If outside, bank compost or soil against the frame.

Decision Room... Sometimes

The Board Room. Here the directors of the corporation make their decisions. Unless, of course, they already have made up their minds at home.

Decisions rarely wait for the man with the gavel to put the question. Conscientious people sort out the facts, weigh the merits, arrive at a decision.

In our homes we make the most important decisions affecting our lives. Here we decide the needs of our family, the values we cherish. Here we wrestle with the challenges of marriage, parenthood, commitment to volunteer service, dedication to causes we would embrace.

A local church is eager to welcome you into its membership, to provide religious education for your family.

Right here at home you'll decide your family's place in the spiritual life of the community.

Crockett County Oil And Gas News

A discovery was fained and two wildcat re-entries were scheduled in Crockett County.

San Andres oil production was re-opened in the Betty (Grayburg oil) field with completion of C.F. Lawrence & Associates, Inc., Midland, No. 1 Bean "A", 12 miles north of Ozona, to pump 60 barrels of 29 gravity oil and no water.

Production was through perforations at 1,299-305 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons.

The following tops were picked on ground elevation of 2,454 feet; Yates, 643 feet; Seven Rivers, 780 feet; Queen, 960 feet; Grayburg, 1,090 feet; and San Andres, 1,284 feet.

Drilled to 1,430 feet, with 5 1/2-inch casing set at 1,362 feet, it is plugged back to 1,335 feet.

Location is 2,110 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the east lines of 27-UV-GC&SF.

The San Andres opener, Archie Bean No. 1 Archie Bean, was fained July 15, 1949 to pump 23 barrels of 25.6 gravity oil, plus 25 percent water, through perforations at 1,392-99 feet.

B & C Operators, A Partnership, Odessa, will re-enter and plug back to 2,700 feet for wildcat tests at two Crockett County projects, approximately 15 miles northwest of Ozona.

The 1 University BQ, former opener of the Massie (San Andres oil) field, is 1 1/2 miles southeast of the Strawn gas opener and lone producer from that pay and 1 3/8 miles southeast of the depleted Clearfork oil opener and lone producer from that pay in the Ozona, West field, 3 1/2 miles east-southeast of Grayburg conglomerate gas production in the Howard Draw field.

Originally drilled by Cities Service Oil Co. to 8,802 feet and plugged back to 2,069 feet, it was fained April 25, 1977 to pump 5.5 barrels of 33.1 gravity oil, plus 11 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 454-1, through perforations at 2,050-56 feet. It became depleted in August of 1977.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 1,650 feet from the east lines of 26-31-University Lands. Ground elevation is 2,453 feet.

The No. 1 University 31-36, former 7900 gas producer, is four miles east of Grayburg conglomerate gas production in the Howard Draw field and 3 3/4 miles southeast of the Todlaw (Queen gas) field.

Originally drilled by Continental Oil Co. and abandoned in 1953, it was later re-entered by Southland Royalty Co. and completed as a 7900 gas producer, which became depleted in 1971. No other information was available.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of 36-31-University Lands.

Confirmers were scheduled and a wildcat recovered shows on two drillstem tests in Crockett County.

Delta-Suburban, Midland, will drill two outposts to the two-well DePaul (Strawn gas) field and as 7890 tests, surrounded by production in the Davidson Ranch multipay field of Crockett County, eight miles southeast of Ozona.

Both of the projects, in 15-KL-GC-SF, are scheduled to 9,400 feet.

The No. 2 Davidson "15", 2 5/8 miles north and very slightly west of the DePaul field, is 1,321 feet from the south and 1,221 feet from the east lines.

The No. 2 Meybin, 2 1/2 miles north-northwest of the DePaul field, is 1,380 feet from the south and 1,470 feet from the west lines.

Cummings Oil Co., Oklahoma City, No. 2 West, in 23-AB-R. Adams, Crockett County wildcat, 1,320 feet northeast of its No. 1 West, opener and lone producer in the Tom T (Ellenburger) field and 15 miles north of Ozona, recovered gas and oil-cut drilling fluid on one drillstem test and oil-cut formation water and drilling fluid on another.

It recovered 545 feet of gas and 30 feet of oil-cut drilling fluid on a 1 1/2-hour drillstem test in an unidentified zone at 7,739-778 feet. Flowing pressure was 54 pounds; initial shut-in pressure, 933 pounds; and final shut-in pressure, 2,078 pounds.

It recovered 15 feet of oil-cut formation water and 195 feet of drilling fluid on a two-hour and 45-minute drillstem test in the Ellenburger at 8,125-37 feet. Flowing pressure was 7-36 pounds; one-hour initial shut-in pressure, 3,828 pounds; and three-hour final shut-in pressure, 3,528 pounds.

The project was drilled to 8,650 feet.

The Ellenburger discovery was fained June 27 for 90.39 barrels of 40 gravity oil, no water, with gas-oil ratio of 2334-1, through an 8-64-inch choke and open hole at 8,151-175 feet.

A wildcat was scheduled in Crockett County. Robert M. Wynne, Midland, will drill the No. 1 University 14, a 1,900-foot wildcat in Crockett County, 5/8-mile southwest of the Black 44 (Shallow oil) field, separated by a 1,780-foot failure, surrounded by shallow failures and 23 miles north of Ozona. Location is 2,389.9 feet from the north and 2,286.2 feet from the west lines of 14-44-University Lands. Ground elevation is 2,704 feet.

The Block 44 field produces from 1,740 feet.

Goat News

Ranchers and forestry people will still have to sweat the Environmental Protection Agency's decision of 2,4,5-T for a few more months, but the picture looks a little brighter now than it did when the federal agency first announced the review last spring.

EPA assistant administrator Steven Jellinek and USDA assistant secretary M. Rupert Cutler both toured West Texas recently to visit with producers and get a first-hand look at how what they do in Washington affects what folks do in the real world. Jellinek is the fellow in charge of toxic substances for EPA and Cutler holds sway over, among other things, the U.S. Forest Service.

Jellinek is thus directly concerned with the future of 2,4,5-T and Cutler, through his Forest Service and ASCS connections, also wields a lot of power in that area.

Considering the instinctive knack most bureaucrats display for avoiding a commitment one way or the other on almost any topic, both men appear to have been at least mildly impressed by the need for 2,4,5-T in West Texas. Jellinek was quoted by news media representatives as saying that EPA has so far been unable to find any evidence against the herbicide strong enough to justify cancelling its registration. Furthermore, he said, no decisive action can be expected before next spring at the earliest.

That last little bit is not quite as reassuring as it might seem, of course, because little concerted T spraying will be done the rest of the year, anyway; optimum control periods for brush are well behind us at this late date. If indeed an unfavorable decision is reached by next spring, it will be well timed to devastate spraying schedules for next season.

Enough pessimism, however. It's time to review an optimistic note or two. First, it could just be that someone has finally come upon an acceptable dosage level for TCDD, the toxic impurity of 2,4,5-T that's at the root of the whole problem.

TCDD is found in very minute quantities in the herbicide and so far the powers that have persisted in maintaining that they do not know how much of it humans can tolerate without exhibiting ill effects. The term they use is "no adverse effect level."

An Oregon pathologist, Dr. William McNulty, has hit upon a level that's at least acceptable in his opinion. According to theory, (and that's about all anyone has when it comes to 2,4,5-T and TCDD) the highest-risk group among humans is that of pregnant females. Both birth defects and miscarriages are charged against TCDD though none have ever been positively linked, much less proven. It follows, however that if a given dosage can be considered safe for pregnant females it should be even safer for everyone else.

McNulty's "maximum allowable level" is based on the level of TCDD that he fed--without harm--to a group of pregnant monkeys. He then divided this dosage by 100 to give a safety margin for differences in human metabolism. What he came up with was an equivalent of a fifth of a teaspoon, or one gram, of 2,4,5-T over a three week period. This is based on the "dirtiest" T the law will allow, and most commercial formulations today have as little as one-tenth the TCDD that McNulty is allowing for.

At any rate, EPA in an unrelated study determined the approximate maximum amount of 2,4,5-T that an individual could expect to absorb and inhale during an eight-hour day of spraying with a backpack sprayer. (They detailed several methods of application, but the backpack gave by far the highest absorption.) Their figures show that a 120 pound woman could expect to absorb and inhale no more than 4.4 thousandths of a gram of 2,4,5-T per day, or 92.4 thousandths in three weeks of spraying 7 days a week.

It doesn't take much comparing to realize that this is less than a tenth of what McNulty (who is no fan of 2,4,5-T) considers safe. It doesn't take any figuring at all to realize that there's no practical way for a woman to get more 2,4,5-T in her than she'd get spraying the stuff--she certainly couldn't get more by eating meat from livestock that grazed T-sprayed pastures or by drinking water from a reservoir fed by runoff from sprayed land.

In short, the only way she could be overdosed would be by freak accident--the same kind of freak accident it would take for her to seriously injure herself with a kitchen knife. So far, no government agency has mentioned much about banning kitchen knives. (Shhhh!)

Mrs. Lloyd (Mildred) Sherrill of San Antonio was a weekend guest in the home of Mary Lee Jones and Bonnie Warth.

OZONANS GOT A PREVIEW of the 1979 Cadillac in style Saturday as L-B Motor Co. held a special showing at the Circle Bar Truck Corral, complete with refreshments and prizes. After viewing the new vehicles on the parking lot, guests were treated to a poolside party in the solarium.

Election Set For SDS Director October 10

An election for a director to serve in Zone Five on the Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District Board is scheduled for October 10, at the S.C.S. Office-1004 Sheffield Road, Bill Baggett, Chairman of the board announced today. The election will be held at 7:30 p.m. The S.C.S. office is located beside the Chamber of Commerce office.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director's election, a person must own agricultural land within the subdivision where the election is being held. He (or she) must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and must be 21 years old. Under the community property laws of Texas the wife of a landowner also owns land and is entitled to vote and hold office.

Services In Luling For Mrs. Bowlegs

Funeral services for Mrs. Myrtle Bowlegs, 69, were held Friday in Luling. She died Tuesday, Sept. 26, in a Wichita Falls Hospital.

A longtime resident of Ozona, she had been staying with a daughter in Wichita Falls for the past several months. She was a member of Mt. Zion Baptist Church of Ozona and a member of the Eastern Star. She was born in Luling, March 20, 1909.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. J.S. White of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Francis Hall of New Orleans, La.; one son, Morris E. Parrimore of Houston; a sister, Mrs. Alice Kelley of San Antonio; a brother, Rufus Walker of Luling; thirteen grandchildren, and five great grandchildren.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he or she represents, be 21 years of age and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He or she must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district. Zone Five of the district includes all land in Crockett County lying West of county road following Howard's Creek and South of U.S. Highway #290.

Current members of the board of directors of the Crockett S.W.C.D. are as follows: Bill Baggett, chairman, Joe Couch, vice-chairman; Charles Davidson, III, secretary-treasurer; Bud Hoover-member; and Earl Acton-member.

The purpose of the Crockett S.W.C.D. is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on ranch and farm lands within the district and to serve as a voice for ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Care Center Auxiliary To Meet

The Crockett County Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary will hold its annual meeting for the installation of officers for the coming year Thursday afternoon at 3:30 at the center.

The public is invited to the meeting and the community is urged to join the auxiliary. Dues are $1.50 per year and while there are no specific requirements for member participation, volunteer help is desperately needed in the organization.

Jr. Auxiliary members are also urged to attend this meeting and anyone interested in joining the Jr. Auxiliary is invited to attend.

We would like to thank all of our dear friends for their concern, prayers, and gestures of love during the recent illness and death of Arthur Kyle. We are especially grateful to Dr. Owensby and the staff at the hospital. Your support has helped us tremendously.
