Most Ozona noon-time soap opera watchers are of the opinion the selection of a new pope at exactly 12:18 Ozona time Monday was a conspiracy, and nobody will ever convince them otherwise.

It does seem unnecessary for all three networks to carry the exact same programming when anything newsworthy happens anywhere in the world. And to draw things out endlessly only adds insult to injury as far as those who are not interested are concerned.

We concede that to those Catholics who speak Italian and are of Polish descent, it was an unforgettable moment and one they will never forget. For the rest of us, the 6 o'clock newscast would have been more appropriate and sufficient.

The three networks need to take into account the diversity and regional differences in their viewing audience and come to some kind of agreement among themselves to better satisfy their captive audience. Within a month the television-watching American public has been forced to view hour upon hour of people filing past a dead pope. They have had all kinds of camera shots of the dead bodies. All kinds of rhetoric has been spoken over and over again. In my opinion, it's just plain bad taste, and they richly deserve the battering they have taken at the hands of the soap opera addicted American public.

John Held and his Hiway Cafe have already been sorely missed by Ozonans. Not only by coffee drinkers, but the entire community as well. Not many men have served their community as well and unselfishly as John has. Mr. Held has always been among the first to send food when death has visited a family. His pies and pastries, picked up at a moment's notice, have graced many a refreshment table for many years. He always managed to deliver food to those who were unable to pick it up. Another thing I'm sure most of you do not know, for years Mr. Held had newspapers delivered to the hospital and when the care center opened, he extended this service to residents there. I have been at the Stockman almost 20 years, and he was delivering the Stockman to hospital patients when I came here. These are only a few of his good deeds. Many a family or person in adversity has found the helping hand of John Held quietly outstretched.

To those revelers who find it necessary to throw wine bottles on the pavement at the park and shred them—"May you have a flat tire every day of your life."

For General Election Nov. 7

Absentee Balloting Starts Wednesday

Absentee voting in the No. 7, General Election begins Wednesday morning in the county clerk's office in the courthouse. A press breakdown Friday where the ballots were being printed indicated the ballots for the county might be delayed, but officials were assured late Monday the ballots had been printed and were on their way to Ozona. So barring any transportation hold-up, the ballots will be here in time for absentee voting to begin as scheduled.

A total of 2667 residents are eligible to vote in the upcoming election. Broken down in precincts, there are 928 registered in precinct one, 406 in precinct two, 704 in precinct three and 629 in precinct four. Absentee voting will continue in the clerk's office through Wednesday, November 1.

The ballots, "saddle blanket" size, are printed in English and Spanish, and besides having six columns for candidates, have nine proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution.

The Democratic Party has a candidate for every post, followed by the Socialist Workers Party with candidates for U.S. Senator and several state offices. The Republicans have candidates in the first five races and one for the unexpired term of Railroad Commissioner, while the Raza Unida trails with three candidates on the ballot. The other two columns on the ballot, Independent and Write-In are blank.

The race creating the most interest locally and throughout the state is that of United States Senator, where long-time Republican Senator John Tower is facing a strong challenge from U.S. Congressman Bob Krueger, a democrat. Also in the race are Luis A. Diaz DeLeon for the Raza Unida and Miguel Pendas for the Socialist Workers.

In the race for U.S. Representative, 21st District, Democrat Nelson Wolff is battling it out with Republican Tom Loeffler. This is the post presently held by Krueger, who is serving his second term.

For governor, Attorney General John Hill, who ousted Governor Dolph Briscoe in the Democratic Primary, is the front runner. His strongest challenge is coming from Republican Bill Clements. Mario C. Compean is the La Raza candidate and Sara Jean Johnson, the candidate for the Socialist Workers Party.

Democrat Bill Hobby, incumbent Lieutenant Governor, has token opposition from Republican Gaylord Marshall and Socialist Andrea Doorack.

Democrat Mark White is the front runner for Attorney General. He faces Republican Jim Baker and Socialist Agnes Chapa.

Warren G. Harding, a Democrat and incumbent State Treasurer, has token opposition from the Socialist Workers Party in Derrick Adams, as in the race for Railroad Commissioner incumbent democrat Mack Wallace has in Jana Pelusch.

In the race for Railroad Commissioner, unexpired term, John H. Poerner, presently serving in that post and winner of the Democratic Primary, faces Republican opponent James W. Lacy.

The full slate of democrats face no opposition at the state level with the exception of State Representtative, District 70, Susan Gurley McBee, who is opposed by Josue Faz, Raza Unida Party.

Democratic nominees also face no opposition at the district or local level. The ballots are all the same locally with the exception of Precincts 2 and 4, where Byron W. Stuart will be on the ballot for commissioner in Precinct 2, having won the nomination in the Democratic Primary, and incumbent Jesus Castro in Precinct 4.

Besides the list of candidates, there are nine proposed amendments to the constitution for voters to approve or turn down. The first amendment is "The Tax Relief Amendment," which would reform property tax laws in the state and set a limit on state spending. The other eight amendments have to do with products of handicapped, employment opportunities, city redevelopment funds, solar energy tax exemptions, justice of peace jurisdiction, associate justices, courts of civil appeals; state building commission and water district funds for fire fighting.

Annual 4-H Awards Winners Announced

Becky Everett and Les Hale 4-H GOLD STAR GIRL & BOY

Mabel Delgado and Ed Hale Co-winners 4-H MOTHER DAVIDSON AWARD

Hoover Is Returned To SCS Post

Bud Hoover was recently re-elected to the Crockett S.W.C.D. Board of Directors October 10. Hoover represents Zone Number 5 of the district.

As one of five individuals serving on the District Board of Directors, Hoover will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas Soil Conservation district law.

The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District was organized April 25, 1950. In Texas there are 198 S.W.C.D.'s. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCD's do not have the power of taxation or eminent domain.

The Senior and Junior 4-H Club officers planned the meal and decorations.

HBO Work Progresses

Work is progressing by Ozona Television System to bring Home Box Office Movies to Ozona cable subscribers. The first pieces of equipment are expected here next week.

The original plan is to offer subscribers a sample viewing before they sign up for the service which will add an extra $8 per month to their cable bill. However, manager Oscar Kost said this week anyone who does not wish to try the service may call the office and the sample service will be blocked out on their set.

Hospital Board Reviews Report

The board of directors of the Crockett County Hospital met earlier this month to review the financial report and accounts payable.

Board members were told the hospital loss during the previous month, was $9,934.96, and the care center loss was $6,755.14.

A flamephotometer, a piece of medical equipment which would assist doctors in evaluating and planning the course of treatment for seriously ill patients, was approved for purchase at a cost of approximately $6,000.

An X-ray auveloper and associated equipment was approved for purchase in the first quarter of the 1979 budget at a cost of approximately $9,500. This will replace equipment in service since the hospital opened and will greatly improve and update the X-ray capability at the hospital.

The board approved the development of a special care unit during the second or third quarter of the coming year at a cost of $5,000. The unit would provide special care to those critically ill or seriously ill patients who need constant monitoring.

The unit would include a television camera, ENA table monitor and a T.V. monitor.

A piece of legislation which became law October, 1978 was reviewed. It requires all nursing homes to develop and submit to the state health department for approval an in-service training program for employees. Harold Taylor told board members he had been in contact with other administrators in the area and an effort was being made to have Angelo State University provide the service.

Taylor told the board the hospital is in the process of evaluating all employees. The system is an impartial evaluation of an employee's work, attitude and other intangibles which go into the development of an employee. The system will be a tool to continue monitoring the quality of nursing care and services provided in the hospital.

Currently the hospital is on probation in regard to the Medicare Waiver of Liability, which releases the hospital from responsibility of absorbing uncovered charges and receiving Medicare reimbursement. Procedures have been established to eliminate the loss of the Waiver of Liability.

On hand for the meeting were Steve Sessom, Pon Seahorn, Sue Arledge, Harold Taylor, Dr. Carlisle, Mrs. Carlisle, Dr. Owensby and Dub O'Bryant.

Buying That Dream Home

WASHINGTON — Time was when homeownership represented a dream most every family could take for granted as an eventual reality.

Interest rates on home mortgages were low, the housing industry maintained a plentiful supply of new homes on the market from which to choose, and the average price of that new home made it an attractive and worthwhile investment for the family.

Interest rates today fluctuate up and down as the Federal Reserve Board varies its monetary policies in an effort to battle higher prices. The home building industry, in reaction to changes in interest rates, slows or advances housing starts.

Meanwhile, new home costs have far outdistanced price trends overall, as well as the ability of most Americans to afford one.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board reports that the average price of a new home in August was $63,900, up from $53,000 a year earlier. The interest rate for the conventional mortgage on that new home one year ago averaged 9.02%. Today it is 9.69%.

And reliable forecasts indicate no reprieve in the steady progression upward of both interest rates and new home prices.

Those forecasts mean an ever increasing number of American families will be priced out of the homeownership market unless the traditional means of paying for that home change to reflect market realities.

Congress holds the key, and already the doors for so long closed to new types of loans for individual purchasers are beginning to open.

The Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs has adopted my resolution allowing all federally chartered savings and loan associations to offer alternative forms of mortgages to homebuyers.

This should be the clear message to a reluctant Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which has the authority now to initiate such alternative instruments on its own, that Congress is behind consumers in finding ways to battle inflated prices for new homes.

Two types of alternative mortgages in particular offer real promise to potential homebuyers.

Graduated payment mortgages offer low monthly payments initially, and are designed for young families with rising incomes.

Another alternative, reverse annuity mortgages, are designed for older households and retirees who will be able to supplement their income out of the equity of their home.

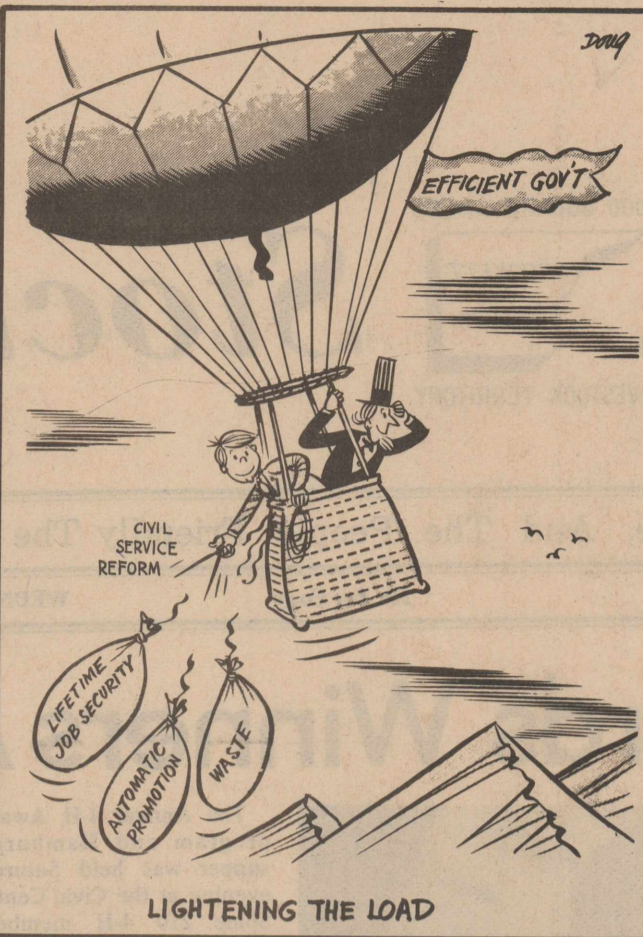

The advantages of alternative mortgages in times of high inflation and high interest rates cannot be overstated. Moreover, my resolution contains a number of important consumer safeguards, including a requirement that homebuyers be given a "documented choice" between the different types of mortgages and a standard fixed-rate mortgage when buying a home.

The possibilities for buyers under such alternative mortgages are significant. The Federal Home Loan Bank Board itself has estimated that the graduated payment mortgage, alone, has the potential for increasing homeownership by up to 2.5 million households.

Inflation for too long has ruled conditions affecting the housing market, and consequently, the ability of people to buy.

Alternative forms of mortgages can help remedy the problem, and once again turn dreams into reality.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Legislative Budget Board recommended abolishing two agencies and transferring their duties to other agencies.

The budget-writing arm of the legislature said the Governor's Office of Migrant Affairs and the Texas Commission on Jail Standards should be wiped out.

At the same time, the budget board declined to act on proposed budgets of the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the Board of Private Investigators and Private Security Agencies.

Board members expressed concern that it takes six to eight weeks to release a prisoner after he is paroled and called for a new budget of the private detective agency fitting its revenues.

GOMA's duties, the budget-writers said, should be transferred to the Texas Department of Community Affairs to avoid duplication of effort. An increase in staff of the Manpower Services Division of TDCA also was recommended to permit closer monitoring of government sub-contractors for training programs.

Commission on Jail Standards duties should go to an agency such as the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education, the budget board suggested.

An LBB staff report said the commission relies too heavily on physical inspections of jails and provides too little technical assistance.

Bids Opened

The Department of Highways and Public Transportation opened bids this week on 51 highway projects with an estimated total cost of $59.8 million.

Projects in the October letting included an addition section of Houston's northwest freeway from east of Fairbanks-North Houston Road to east of Hollister Road.

Another important project is for improvement of a section of State Highway 111 in Jackson County.

The new highway will provide access to Palmetto Bend Dam.

The letting also included another section of Interstate Highway 37 between San Antonio and Corpus Christi in Atascosa County, and Spur 55 providing a new highway link from the Baytown area of Harris County to the industrialized areas across Cedar Bayou in Chambers County.

Veto Agreed

The federal government agreed to give Texas veto power over storage of nuclear wastes within the state.

Two Texas sites—one in Randall County of the Panhandle and the other in Anderson County in East Texas—are under consideration for designation as nuclear waste disposal areas.

Attorney General John Hill said Energy Secretary Schlesinger advised him that his department will not locate a nuclear waste geologic disposal facility within the state without Texas concurrence.

Hill said he will offer legislation in 1979 to establish

you and the LAW PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: I am told that when I buy my new home that I'll have to pay for something called "points". I don't understand. What is this point business all about? Is it some kind of hidden charge?

A: A point is not a hidden charge because it is, or should be, disclosed on the face of your loan agreement - the papers you will sign at your closing. A point is a charge for the making of a loan to you. It is sometimes called an "origination fee" or a "start-up fee". A point amounts to 1% of the amount borrowed, 2 points is 2%, etc. Since it is a cost of borrowing money, it is in the nature of interest; however, it is paid in advance unlike other interest. The purpose of charging a point is to enable the lender to realize some immediate income from making your loan. Payment of a point has the effect of making the interest charged on your loan a little higher than you may have thought. Not all lenders charge a point, so keep that in mind while comparing interest rates on your home loan.

Q: I'm thinking of starting my own small business. Can you tell me briefly what legal requirements I must meet to get my business started?

A: That depends on what business you're starting. Certain businesses require permits from local or state governments. If you plan to have employees, you must be prepared to pay federal employment taxes. If you plan to sell to the public, you must secure a sales tax permit. If you plan to do business under a name other than your own, for instance, "Tip-Top Toys" or "AAA Widgets", you must file an assumed name affidavit. You should first meet with your lawyer for advice on whether to do business as a sole proprietorship, a partnership, or as a corporation. There are great tax and liability considerations in that first step. Your lawyer will also be able to help you secure the proper permits, financing, and advice to help you get off the ground. Now is the time to seek advice, don't wait until you run into a problem. Good luck on your new venture.

Q: A barking dog is threatening my sanity! The family living behind me has a dog capable of continuous barking - all day, all night. I've called and written letters and he still barks! Must I listen to this dog the rest of my life?

A: A barking dog is not only a nuisance mentally and emotionally, but may be a nuisance legally. If the canine cacophony is so frequent that the normal person's health and enjoyment of his property is affected, it might be possible for you to establish that the barking constitutes a common law nuisance and obtain an injunction. This would make the dog's owners liable for the barking continued. It might force them to move the dog.

Q: I recently heard that if you don't make a will three years before death, the government will take your property. Is this true?

A: No, this is a false statement. The government never takes your property unless you have no heirs.

Q My husband and I have no heirs. If either of us should die, would the other one automatically get everything?

A: If you have had no children the surviving spouse would inherit all of the community property. As to your separate property the surviving spouse would inherit all of the personal property but would only get one-half of the deceased spouse's separate real property. The deceased spouse's remaining one-half of the separate real property will go to the deceased spouse's parents if they are alive or if they are deceased then to the deceased spouse's brothers and sisters or their children if the brothers and sisters are deceased. It is always a good idea to have a will as it will make the cost of administering your estate much less costly and troublesome, even if your property would pass as you would like it to by intestacy.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Garden construction of most kinds can be undertaken this month-making paths, rock gardens, terraces and other features. There is more time for this now than in the spring.

Houseplants require more careful attention in all matters affecting their growth as days become shorter, less light and the indoor atmosphere in most rooms gets drier and less satisfactory for the growth of plants. Where several plants are grown close together in a window, they are apt to be more successful than solitary specimens, because the moisture given off by a lot of foliage moistens the air locally. Keep the soil evenly moist, but not constantly saturated. Give enough to saturate the entire body of soil thoroughly, then give no more water until it is nearly dry again.

With cacti and other succulents, be particular careful not to overwater, but do not allow them to dry completely even in winter. The Christmas cactus will bloom more surely if you rest it from early October until mid-November by keeping it in a fairly cool room and giving it little or no water.

Now that your mums are or will be in full bloom soon, take a little extra care to insure the staying power of the flowers and increase your enjoyment of them right up until frost. We hope it will be late this year. First, keep the plants, as well as all other plants, well watered during dry weather. If you notice plants wilting, water them immediately. Potted mums are especially prone to wilting. After all flowers have faded, cut the plants back to about 6 inches tall. Divide and transplant next spring if you don't plant in soil after blooming.

If you are planning to move a native tree or shrub this winter, tag it now while leaves are still on the plant and you can easily identify it. Prepare the planting site now so the soil will be in excellent condition to receive the plant. Try to duplicate the plants current location. Make sure each site is well drained unless your plant you are moving prefers a constantly moist location. Although you may be tempted to move large plants to create the most immediate landscape effect, your chances of a successful transplant will be greater if you move only small plants that have been root pruned. There are many beautiful native plants in our area that can be moved successfully.

Mrs. Bunger Entertains Bridge Club

Mrs. George Bunger was hostess for bridge at the Country Club Thursday. Mrs. Gene Williams won high with Mrs. Bud Cox taking second high. Low went to Mrs. Bob Bailey and bingo to Mrs. Brock Jones. Others playing were Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Clay Adams, Mrs. Jack Williams, Mrs. Bruce Mayfield, Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mrs. Kirby Moore, Mrs. Hillery Phillips, Mrs. Dave Matney, Mrs. Joe Bean, Mrs. J.B. Parker, Mrs. Joe Kingston and Mrs. J.J. Marley.

Alpha Alpha Mu Meets At Civic Center

The Alpha Alpha Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Monday, Oct. 9, at the Civic Center. Nikki Sewell served as hostess.

The president, Evelyn Hall, presided at the business meeting. Plans for the Spaghetti Supper were discussed. The Spaghetti Supper will be Friday, November 3, at the Civic Center. Plates will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. There will also be take-out orders. Tickets may now be purchased from any sorority member. If you do not buy your ticket in advance, they can be purchased at the door. The price of the tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children. There will be door prizes to register for at the door.

Peggy Mullins read a thank you note from the Crockett County Care Center thanking the sorority for the $50.00 donation. This money will be used to buy Bingo prizes for the residents of the Care Center.

Elizabeth Clark presented the program on "Learning to Earn". Following the program, refreshments were served.

Other members present were Helen Bean, Jill Crawford, Debbie Glasscock, Peggy Holden, Jan Larremore, Corleen Meyer, Vicki Odom, Dena Porter, Jodie Sessom, Chesta Stewart, Nancy Vannoy and Darolyn Webster.

State Rep. McBee Offers Amendment Explanations

State Rep. Susan Gurley McBee is offering to anyone in her district explanatory material concerning the constitutional amendments that will be on the ballot November 7.

"The amendments are important, particularly the tax relief amendment; and they are complex. I will be happy to provide information on them to my constituents," McBee said.

Requests should be made

Winners in Duplicate Bridge Club play at the Country Club Saturday were Mrs. J.B. Parker and Mrs. Hillery Phillips. Winners in play Sunday were Mrs. Gene Williams and Mrs. Clay Adams.

McBee has made several speeches in the legislative district about the proposed amendments and has found a great deal of interest expressed by her constituents regarding them.

Debra Says

Retortable pouches will arrive on grocery market shelves in the near future. This innovative new food packaging should change the complexion of grocery store shelves and food buying practices and, hopefully, reduce energy used by manufacturers and consumers in getting food on the family table.

The pouch consists of three layers that provide the strength of a metal can and convenience of boil-in bags. An outer polyester layer gives strength, the middle aluminum foil serves as a barrier against light, moisture and gas while the inner layer of polypropylene provides the heat seal and inner container for food.

The advantages of this packaging innovation are numerous:

The pouch takes about 30 to 50 percent less time to reach sterilizing temperatures producing a product that has better color, firmer texture and fresher flavor.

Pouched products require no refrigeration or freezing and can be stored at room temperature as long or longer than canned items.

Pouched foods take less time to heat than frozen items, thus saving energy. Items can be heated in microwave ovens if removed from the package first.

The pouch opens easily by tearing across the top.

Campers can eat directly from the pouch to eliminate dishwashing.

The pouches weigh much less than cans and take up less storage space than cans, jars or trays in storage and disposal.

Pouches require less energy to manufacture than cans, jars and trays. Estimates indicate that energy required from harvest to consumption will be 60 percent lower for a vegetable packaged in the retort pouch than for a frozen vegetable and about 15 percent lower than canned vegetables.

Single serving portions may provide new meal alternatives for singles.

RANCH ROUND STEAK
3 pounds beef round steak,
1/2 inch thick cut in serving-size pieces

1/4 cup flour
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon worcestershire sauce

Trim excess fat from meat; slash edges to prevent curling. Combine flour, dry mustard, salt, and pepper; use to coat meat. Reserve remaining flour mixture. In skillet, brown meat, half at a time, on both sides in hot shortening. Push meat to one side; stir in reserved flour mixture. Combine water and worcestershire; stir into skillet mixture. Cook and stir until thickened and bubbly; reduce heat. Cover and simmer for 1 to 1 1/4 hours or until meat is tender. Remove meat to warmed platter. Skim excess fat from gravy; drizzle gravy over meat. Makes 8 servings.

The Better To See You

When Grandma wants to get a good look at you, she takes off her glasses. She needs them for reading and for needlepoint, but not for distance. Her sister, however, wears glasses for distance, but takes them off when she reads or sews.

Our physical vision spells out the way we see, yet it is our mental vision that determines the way we look at things. We form opinions, we judge, according to our background, education, experience, the way we were taught when we were young. Like our eyesight, the way we think becomes a part of us.

Sometimes we are wrong. Sometimes we judge too quickly. In our humanness we need help, guidance, particularly when the going gets rough.

The Church, remember, is there for all times—good and bad. Have you visited it recently?

Texas Sheep

Goat News

If it doesn't happen this November, it probably never will. "It" is reform of property taxation in Texas, more specifically the portion of that reform which calls for assessing agricultural land at its productive, rather than speculative value.

That was the gist of an address to Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association members recently by Texas Rep. Jim Nugent, Kerrville. Nugent, a supporter of the Texas tax reform amendment, was keynote speaker at the TS&GRA fall directors' meeting in Menard.

Nugent told his listeners that more than half of Texas' legislators already come from only five urban areas and that those same five areas will be electing 60 percent of our legislators within two years. Agricultural and rural landowners will soon lose what little voice they still have in state affairs, he added, hinting at what most of us already know--urban voters would just as soon landowners continued paying a disproportionate share of property taxes.

He explained that the only bargaining point rural landowners currently have (and it took this leverage to get productive value taxation on the ballot) is that their urban counterparts don't want "under any circumstances" to pay taxes on their intangible property.

As the state constitution now reads, all property, tangible and intangible, must be taxed equally. That requirement is being taken at face value when it comes to rural land, but has generally been ignored as it applies to intangibles (stocks, bonds, bank accounts, etc.) Recent tax suits by disgruntled agricultural landowners, however, threaten the special status unofficially granted intangibles.

The tax relief amendment gives state legislators the authority to legally exempt intangibles, a power they do not now have. It is this trade-off that has made the productive valuation provision possible, Nugent said.

As has become more and more the case these days, government regulations and machinations comprised most of the business discussed at the Menard meeting. On the positive side, it was announced that small volume livestock haulers who use gooseneck trailers will be able to get hauling permits now without having to cough up legal expenses nearly as high as their equipment costs.

The Texas Railroad Commission requires for-hire haulers of almost anything within the state to possess permits, but getting those permits has often been a red-tape nightmare and the answer to a corporate lawyer's dream. The RRC, after urging by TS&GRA, has seen fit to consider gooseneck-level livestock haulers a little differently now than they do their larger counterparts.

On the negative side, at least for producers in deer country, is a reported federal income tax provision that would disallow tax exemptions for corporate hunting and recreational leases. It is said to be part of the "three-martini-lunch" bill and is considered too far along to effectively oppose.

Some producers fear a loss of deductions for corporate lessees may mean a loss of competition for leases. At the same time, ironically, the "three-martini-lunch" itself may make it through the fire unsigned. It's been suggested by some landowners who've never had a "three-martini-lunch" that they take up the habit--to lure new leaseholders.

In the neither-good-nor-bad-but-just-hanging-fire department, TS&GRA members were told that nothing much has changed as far as predator control is concerned. Texas Animal Damage Control head Milton Caroline told the group that an add-on to the control budget may be coming out of Washington. Attributable primarily to the National Wool Growers Association, the budget supplement is still not home free. If it does make it, however, it could mean an additional $290,000 for control programs in Texas, enough to hire and equip about a dozen trappers and a couple more troubleshooters the first year and as many as 30 new trappers the second year.

Association members also moved to continue the Operation Dead Lamb project next year, and Caroline asked that all carcasses submitted bear information as to when and where they were killed and suspected manner of kill. Tags are available from the TS&GRA providing this information.

Winter Rye Grass Cuts Seed Costs

Planting rye grass for winter pasture allows producers to cut seed costs without sacrificing quality grazing.

"Ryegrass is a winter annual plant that provides forage high in digestibility and protein from late fall or early winter until it heads out in late May or early June," points out Don Dorsett, forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Although it has to be planted each year, ryegrass does not cost as much as small grains such as wheat or oats."

High quality, high protein ryegrass is desirable for either stocker calves or for cows having calves and needing to rebreed during the late winter or early spring, points out the specialist.

Several varieties of ryegrass are available for winter pasture planting, notes Dorsett. Common ryegrass is a commercial mix of several varieties of ryegrass. Gulf ryegrass is probably the most used of the ryegrasses. Its major advantage over most ryegrasses is resistance to leaf rust.

All varieties of ryegrass should be planted at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds per acre when used in mixtures with other winter pastures or legumes. By itself, ryegrass can be planted at a rate as high as 30 pounds per acre.

"Ryegrass can be planted either on a prepared seedbed or overseeded on perennial grass such as coastal bermudagrass," points out Dorsett. "However, with overseeding, ryegrass will provide little fall grazing, and more fertilizer will be required for similar production as on a prepared seedbed. Of course, even on a prepared seedbed, ideal conditions are necessary for fall grazing from ryegrass."

Ryegrass planted on a prepared seedbed under good growing conditions will produce grazing by late November or early December in South Texas, and by late December or early January in North Texas.

Limited research at Angleton indicates that on a prepared seedbed, around 120 pounds per acre of actual nitrogen will give near maximum yields of grazable forage from ryegrass. All this nitrogen can be applied at planting.

Under sodseeded situations, it is best to allow ryegrass to germinate and start growth before large amounts of nitrogen are applied, reminds Dorsett. Applying nitrogen at planting encourages base grass growth, especially in bermudagrasses. Sodseeded ryegrass needs 30 to 40 pounds more nitrogen per acre to approach the yields that would be obtained on a prepared seedbed.

Because ryegrass can be overseeded on bermudagrass with minimum land preparation, it is making an important contribution to the livestock industry. It can be either direct drilled into short bermudagrass sod or after lightly discing the sod. It's a relatively simple operation to broadcast 20 to 30 pounds of ryegrass seed per acre and harrow it is on a lightly disced bermudagrass sod, says the forage specialist.

"If you're looking for a way to increase the amount of quality winter grazing from an acre of pasture, consider using ryegrass, either sodseeded or planted on a prepared seedbed. Ryegrass can furnish a lot of quality grazing in late winter and early spring for calf weight gain or cow-calf re-breeding programs," points out Dorsett.

Hill backs tax relief on ballot November 7

"We've got a great opportunity Nov. 7 to take a significant first step toward tax relief in Texas. I'm urging everyone to vote for the proposed constitutional amendment to give tax relief to our farmers and ranchers, homeowners, and elderly. After this amendment is adopted, I'll be ready to take the lead in the 1979 legislature to follow through on this first step."

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you By Jerry Lay

Do you know how many major college football teams in the last 50 years have been able to go through a regular season unbeaten, untied and UN-SCORED ON, all year? Only 3 teams have done it in all this time... They were Colgate in 1932, Duke in 1938, and Tennessee in 1939, and no team has been able to do it since then.

Which are the largest football stadiums in America?...There are only 3 which can seat more than 100,000 people...Can you name all 3?...They are the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif...The University of Michigan Stadium in Ann Arbor, Mich...And JFK Stadium in Philadelphia.

***

Here's an amazing football fact...The quarterbacks on the winning teams in EACH of the last 7 Super Bowl games have ALL worn the number 12 on their uniform...Here are the winning quarterbacks in the last 7 Super Bowls: Roger Staubach (Super Bowl 12), Ken Stabler (Super Bowl 11), Terry Bradshaw (Super Bowls 10 and 9), Bob Griese (Super Bowls 8 and 7) and Staubach (Super Bowl 6)...Every one of those quarterbacks wears number 12.

EIGHTH GRADE PUNTER gets good blocking from the backfield as the Cubs down their Big Lake opponents 19-0 and remain undefeated for the season.

Eighth Grade Cubs Remain Undefeated

The Eighth Grade football team was victorious last week with a 19-0 win over the Big Lake 8th graders. The Cubs started slowly in the first part of the game but came on strong in the second half to win their 4th straight. The Eighth Grade Cubs led at halftime of their game 6-0 on a 79 yd. pass and run from Allen Dews to Joe Villarreal. PAT was blocked. The second half the Cubs settled down to business and put the Owls away when David Badillo followed a beautiful trap block by Dan Bean and scored from 29 yards out. The PAT by Harvey Huereca was good for a 13-0 lead. The Cubs scored again on a 56 yard pass and run from Badillo to Huereca. PAT was no good. Defensively the 8th graders were led by Joe Villarreal with a fumble recovery and 15 tackles from his linebacking spot, Huereca with 8 tackles, and Bean with a fumble recovery and 3 tackles. The Cubs and the Junior Varsity will host Menard here at Lion Stadium Thursday, October 19.

Lions Lose Sixth Straight

The Ozona Lions, hunting for that elusive first win of the season, will travel to Alpine Friday night for a try at the Alpine Bucks. The Lions took their sixth straight loss of the season Friday night in Iraan at the hands of the Iraan Braves. The final score was 61-0. It was also the most one-sided loss of the year for the Lions. The Lions will have an open date the following Friday night to prepare for the district opener with Crane here Nov. 3. Ironically, the Lions do have an official "win" by virtue of Menard playing an ineligible player in their game against the Lions, despite being unable to get in the victory column on the playing field.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cox and children, Kristen and Chad, of Friendswood, were here over the weekend visiting his mother, Mrs. Robert Cox.

Seventh Graders Down Big Lake 22-0

Putting together a very aggressive defense along with good blocking and running on the part of the offense, the 7th Grade Cubs took another victory last week by beating the Big Lake Owls 22-0. The Cubs first score came on a 11 yard run by fullback Johnny Rodriguez. This was set up by a 23 yard pass from quarterback Kent (Hollywood) Hokit to wingback Robert Flores. The next score came midway through the 3rd quarter on a pass from Diego Leal to Robert Flores. The final score was in the 4th quarter with a 65 yard punt return by Marcello Hernandez.

The offensive line led the way for the Cubs, led by the blocking of Mark Vallejo, Emilio Garza, Richie Artz, Curt McPherson, Arnold Vargas and Bo Aycock. The Cubs had a potent ground and air attack. Defensively the Cubs were led by the efforts of Manuel Perez, Diego Leal, Johnny Rodriguez, Oscar Vargas and Kent Hokit limiting the Big Lake Owls to only 3 first downs for the entire game. The 7th grade Cubs are now 4-0 on the year.

Energy Saving Tips on Electric Heating.

Check your thermostat setting. Recommended temperature setting for winter heating is 68°. Remember, the lower you set the thermostat in the winter the lower your energy cost.

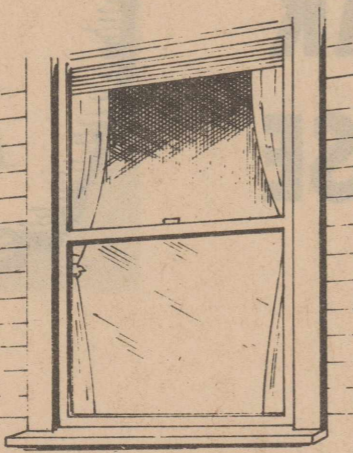

Have your heating system checked now! Proper servicing before the heating season begins is good preventive maintenance.

Keep filters clean. Check the filter every 30 days on forced-air systems. If filter is permanent, clean it by manufacturer's directions, if it's disposable, replace when dirty.

Have your home properly insulated! Adequate home insulation keeps the warmth in, cuts energy use... can pay for itself by lowering heating (and cooling) costs.

Use the warmth of the sunshine! On sunny days open the drapes. The sun shining through the glass will supply additional heat at no cost.

Remember, Reddy Supplies the Energy, only you can use it wisely!

Crockett County Gas And Oil News

Three wildcats and a re-entry were scheduled in Crockett County and a wildcat was rescheduled to deep-en.

Anderson Petroleum, Inc., Ozona, will drill two 7,500-foot projects as wildcats and Canyon sand tests in the Ozona multipay field, 30 miles southwest of Ozona.

The No. 2-42 Laura Hoover Estate "A", one mile southwest of Canyon gas and five miles northwest of Clearfork oil production in the Ozona field, is 1 1/4 miles northwest of the one-well Bump-Gate (Strawn gas) field and four miles east-northeast of Clearfork gas production in the American multipay field.

Location is 1,979 feet from the north and 661 feet from the west lines of 42-MM-T&St LRR. Ground elevation is 2,230 feet.

The No. 2-10 Elmer Hoover Hatton "F", surrounded by Canyon production and one mile northeast of Clearfork oil production in the Ozona field, is 2 5/8 miles southeast of the Bump-Gate field.

Location is 661 feet from the south and 1,000 feet from the east lines of 10-MM-T&StLRR. Ground elevation is 2,125 feet.

Operator will test as a wildcat for gas production at 2,100-4,700 feet and the Canyon zone at 5,800 feet in both projects.

The Bump-Gate opener, Lario Oil & Gas Co. and Murjo Oil & Royalty Co. No. 1 Hoover Estate, drilled to 13,473 feet, was finalized March 28, 1975 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2,630,000 cubic feet of gas daily through perforations at 12,870-13,478 feet.

C.F. Lawrence & Associates, Inc., Midland, will drill the No. 1 University "A", a 1,300-foot oil wildcat, 5/8-mile north-northeast of shallow production in the Midway Lane (Permian, 1050 sand, 1300 and Ellenburger) field, but separated by dry holes and failures, and 15 miles north of Ozona.

Location is 990 feet from the south and 1,650 feet from the west lines 25-45-University. Ground elevation is 2,672 feet.

C.F. Lawrence & Associates filed application to re-enter and deepen from 1,356 feet to 1,400 feet at its No. 1 Todd "D", recent tenth producer and a 2 5/8-mile southwest extension to the Wyatt (San Andres) field, for recompletion attempt as the third producer and a 3/8-mile northwest extension to the Todlaw (Queen gas) field, 15 miles west of Ozona. It was finalized June 16 to pump 18 barrels of 31 gravity oil, plus nine barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 56-1, through perforations at 1,315-356 feet. Ground elevation is 2,610 feet.

Bill Meinecke of Houston was an overnight guest Sunday of his sister and brother, Mrs. James Dockery and Bud Meinecke.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 2,130 feet from the west lines of 69-UV-GC&SF.

The firm filed application to amend contract depth from 1,800 feet to 2,400 feet for its No. 1 Half "60-E", active wildcat, 1 3/4 miles east of the Millard (Queen) field, separated by a 7,775-foot failure and eight miles south of Iraan.

At last report the project was drilling below 1,200 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 3,400 feet from the east lines of 60-1-I&GN. Ground elevation is 2,368 feet.

Hill backs tax relief on ballot November 7

"We've got a great opportunity Nov. 7 to take a significant first step toward tax relief in Texas. I'm urging everyone to vote for the proposed constitutional amendment to give tax relief to our farmers and ranchers, homeowners, and elderly. After this amendment is adopted, I'll be ready to take the lead in the 1979 legislature to follow through on this first step."

WD-40 Is No Cure For Arthritis

The nagging pain of arthritis can force victims to seek relief from almost any source, however hopeless or false it may be. The Texas Medical Association says one of the latest additions to this realm of medicine-show magic is WD-40, a substance sold to lubricate, loosen and protect parts in machines, but not in people. After hearing reports of people putting WD-40 on their skin to treat arthritis, TMA checked with the WD-40 company in San Diego and found they also were baffled by the phenomenon. Glen Agnew, WD-40 technical director, said that the product has been on the market for 20 years but that the company had heard of it being used for arthritis only in the last couple of years. There is nothing in the product that would help arthritis and the company definitely does not recommend or encourage its use as a medicine, Agnew said.

Yet some people insist that it has helped their arthritis. Ed Easley of Houston, executive director of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation, said people who claim it has helped probably have rheumatoid arthritis, one of about 100 types of arthritis. Rheumatoid arthritis victims often claim that odd, unworkable remedies help them because they are tricked by the nature of their disease. Rheumatoid arthritis tends to get better and worse in an unpredictable pattern so if someone tries an unproven treatment about the time the arthritis gets better by itself, the quack cure naturally gets the credit. Unfortunately this pattern happens a lot since about 20 percent of the nation's 31,600,000 arthritis victims have rheumatoid arthritis. But if WD-40 does not help, can it hurt? The answer, like many medical issues, involves a definite yes and a definite maybe. The warning on the side of the product says WD-40 is flammable and also is dangerous if swallowed. The "maybe" comes in when considering its action on skin.

Most people can use it under normal working conditions with no problem unless they have an allergy to the ingredients. The question becomes cloudier when talking about long-term exposure because no tests have been run. However, Agnew and Mike Ellis of the Southeast Texas Poison Control Center in Galveston both said the only long-term danger for most people might be dry, cracked skin with perhaps red spots. They urged anyone with these problems to stop using the product or the conditions could get worse. But using WD-40 for arthritis has more subtle dangers than dry skin, TMA said. Reliance on the product can waste money and distract patients from dependable treatments. People seeking information on trustworthy treatment should contact their physicians or local chapter of the Arthritis Foundation. If no local chapter is handy, write: Arthritis Foundation, Suite 108, 8000 Vantage Drive, San Antonio, Tex. 78230.

Money Management

A stock purchase represents a fairly liquid investment because, as a rule, the stock can be sold at a moment's notice and the proceeds are received within five business days. However, the novice investor should be aware that stock must be held at least one year and a day in order for profit resulting from the sale to qualify for tax benefits as a long-term capital gain.

When selling stock the broker may ask if you care to leave the proceeds of the sale on account with the brokerage firm. Before agreeing to this, find out if the money will earn interest, and if so, at what rate. Although a brokerage account is convenient for investors, remember that your money should be working for you between stock purchases.

Besides executing buy and sell orders, a stock broker usually is an excellent source of counseling about securities. He or she has access to reports from financial analysts and can draw upon personal experience as well. But beware of the occasional broker who may try to "churn" your account—recommend frequent purchases and sales for the chief purpose of stimulating commissions.

Some stock market invest-tors finance sizable stock purchases by buying "on margin," which means the investor puts up part of the money—perhaps 50 percent—and the broker provides the rest in the form of a loan. This arrangement often is used for purchases of speculative stocks that offer hope of a large profit. As a rule, it's less worthwhile for income-producing stocks because the interest on the broker's loan cuts into the yield.

Buying stock on margin is a risky transaction because the stock serves as collateral for the broker's loan. If the value of the stock drops sharply, the investor may have to provide the cash to make up the difference, or a sufficient amount of the stock will be sold to achieve the same objective.

When making a stock purchase the investor usually has the option of instructing the broker to hold the stock certificate under the firm's name (a "street name" account). Many investors prefer the convenience of this arrangement: they don't have to worry about the safety of the certificate, and when selling the stock, they need not be concerned about returning it to the broker within the required time.

S.S. Benefits Amount To $108,954 In County

Social security benefits were being paid to residents of Crockett County at the rate of $108,954 a month effective June, 1978, Franklin H. Upp, social security manager in San Angelo said today.

Social security benefits can be paid to retired persons age 62 and over, to workers who become severely disabled before age 65, and to survivors of deceased workers.

Monthly social security checks are also paid to certain dependents of a worker who has retired, become disabled, or died. Of the 529 social security beneficiaries living in Crockett County, 273 are retired workers and 29 are disabled workers. Another 75 persons are receiving benefits as the wives or husbands of retired or disabled workers. Widows, widowers and dependent parents of deceased workers number 78. In Crockett County, 161 people under age 65 and 368 people age 65 and older are receiving monthly social security benefits. Of total beneficiaries, 197 are men, 258 are women, and 74 are children.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas

Activities Program Director

Visitors from Big Lake provided us with a wonderful evening of entertainment last Thursday.

Charlie Beard and his fiddle, along with other musicians playing guitars, arrived shortly after 6 p.m. and played and sang oldtime country music and gospel songs to a very appreciative audience until around 8 o'clock. Mr. Beard, who kept up lively chatter on the mike between numbers, was accompanied by Dean Beard, Jimmie Smith, W.D.

Smith, Idell Coker and B.R. Dane. They have promised to pay a return visit next month.

Looking around I saw feet tapping and hands clapping to the rhythm, and a gala evening was had by all. We really do thank our Big Lake neighbors for coming over to Ozona and giving their time to make so many people happy.

Margaret Miller and Ruth Seahorn have given a "Toss Across" game to us from their newly opened toy store, which I believe will give our residents much enjoyment. It is a sort of tick-tack-toe game played by throwing small beanbags into the slots, and may be played from a standing or sitting position, which is ideal for us. I plan on introducing it this week. We thank you so much.

Weekly Bingo was won by Mike Pena with Mary Seelye coming in second. Forty-two winners were Nita DePriest and Frances Tolson. Dominoes, table No. 1 winner was Eleanor Yeager with Mike Pena second; table No. 2 winner was Verna Talley and Evelyn Bryant was second.

On Wednesday afternoon, Glenda Winkley showed a film entitled "Along the Potomac."

On Thursday afternoon a number of us took advantage of the lovely weather and sat on the back patio. Playing guessing games while soaking up the sun were Nita DePriest, Gordon Smith, Verna Talley, Eleanor Bradford, Swede Lundgren and Gertrude Daniels. Then we had our usual reading and discussion group in the Day Room. I told residents that instead of being entertained, they were going to do the entertaining on the 14th of next month when the Center will host the quarterly meeting of Activity Directors for this region. We will put on a demonstration of exercises and rhythm band for our visitors; guess we had better have a few rehearsals!

Floy Clare Short seems to be progressing quite well, but Early Baggett is not doing so well at the present time.

Auxiliary officers for this year are Carol Carlisle, president; Veva Vargas, treasurer; Doris Karr, secretary; and Beth Boyd, memorials.

Clothing Care To Save Energy

Practice wise clothing care methods to conserve energy and possibly cut utility costs.

The greatest savings can occur with reduced water temperatures for laundering, points out a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Heating water accounts for three percent of all U.S. energy usage, Becky Culp reports.

Reduce energy consumption in doing home laundry 50 percent by using warm water for washing and cold water for rinsing rather than using hot water temperatures.

In fact, between 1970 and 1976, studies show that the number of loads washed in warm water increased by 15 percent while the number washed in hot water decreased by the same amount with about 50 percent of households using warm temperatures.

However, the general rule still holds true--use hot water (130 degrees F., 70 degrees C.) for the most difficult cleaning jobs or for sanitation.

Also, use warm water (100-110 degrees F., 38-43 degrees C.) on fabrics with greasy, oily stains by first pretreating and/or presoak-

Employer's Tax Deadline Is Coming Up

Employers must report on Form 941 Social Security and withheld Federal income taxes for the third quarter of 1978 by Tuesday, October 31. If the quarterly liability (reduced by any deposit during the quarter) is $200 or more, the unpaid balance must be deposited.

Persons who have deposited the entire quarterly tax liability in a Federal Reserve Bank or approved commercial bank have until November 10 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return," the Internal Revenue Service said.

Employers should use the preaddressed Forms 941 mailed to them by the IRS or obtain copies of the form from the nearest IRS office.

ing soiled areas, the specialist recommends.

Since lower wash temperatures can lead to an increased bacteria count at the end of the wash cycle, use a disinfectant especially during flu or cold seasons or when infant clothing is part of the regular laundry.

When using cold water wash temperatures (60-80 degrees F., 16-26 degrees C.), dissolve powdered detergents before use or use a liquid detergent or one formulated for cold water washes, she suggests.

Also, more detergent may be needed for effective cleaning.

Hot water temperatures may also result in harmful effects on garments, particularly unnecessary fading and shrinkage, Mrs. Culp adds.

Two Calls For Ozona Firemen

Ozona firemen answered two fire alarms during the past week within the city. A residence fire Thursday night on Santa Rosa street had been extinguished before firemen arrived on the scene. A gas explosion was believed to be the cause of the fire.

Late Saturday evening a tree limb broke on the 1200 block of Ave. C, hitting power lines and creating an electrical fire. Residents in the area had a brief electricity failure, due to the fire.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank Dr. Owensby and all my friends for your care, prayers, cards, gifts and flowers during my illness in both San Angelo and Ozona hospitals. Though I have not been able to return to my home, and still have surgery to be performed in the near future, I felt the need to thank you.
