Kitty's Korner

By
Kitty Montgomery

I have become leery of the word "reform" especially when used by politicians. It has been my observation through the years that when the federal government puts "reform" into action, it costs more and delivers less. That's why I am not too surprised to hear forecasts that under the recently passed tax reform bill, taxpayers will actually be paying more, not less. This is a deception which has been practiced by our nation's lawmakers for years. The word "reform" has one meaning for the average American and an entirely different one to Congress.

Another misconception is the recently passed energy bill. Instead of deregulation of our natural resources and a return to supply and demand with incentive for more production, quite the opposite seems to be true. Although I don't understand it, and I seriously doubt any of the lawmakers who rushed the bill through at the last minute have any conception of what the legislation contains, it seems the original purpose has completely been obliterated. Instead of deregulation, the government is going to regulate intrastate gas (with deregulation coming in 1980, possibly). The government will arrange priorities, with the industrial east getting low cost natural gas from Texas and Texas will be forced to "make-do" with coal from up there somewhere. Instead of the rest of the natural gas users in the nation having to pay the same price Texans pay for Texas gas, Texas gas users will be penalized and face possible shortages.

This makes not a particle of sense to me, and I'm not going to continue attempting to explain it. If they don't understand it, how on earth are we going to decipher it?

Glad to see that last week's column produced some letters to the editor for this week. We still heard many more complaints about the three networks carrying the same programming than we did anything else, and by far the soap opera watchers were the most vocal and most numerous although they are not counted among the letter writers.

As long as I've been here, I should be used to it, but it always amazes me how things I say are interpreted by my readers. I am either inept at making my point, or some just pick out one sentence or phrase and blow it out of proportion, disregarding completely the text as a whole.

Evidently the networks had some change of heart during the week and it had to be public pressure. On Sunday afternoon Tom watched his football game and I watched the installation of the pope, and we were both happy.

Girl Scout Halloween Carnival

A Halloween Carnival has been planned by Girl Scout Troops #50, #255, #10, and #130.

The carnival will be Friday, October 27, at the Parish Hall from 6 until 10:00 p.m. and the public is invited to attend. Various booths will be manned by the Girl Scouts and their leaders and they will also be selling hamburgers, hotdogs, burritos and other hot foods.

All proceeds from the Carnival will go to the hosting Girl Scout Troops.

Halloween Oct. 31

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS will find this Halloween scarecrow as they trick and treat next Tuesday night. The scarecrow, made by Bruce Whitley, is in the trailer park at 308 Ave. G.

Election Contest Hearing Is Friday

A pre-trial hearing on a contested election suit filed here September 13, by Jesse Marley against Sostenes DeHoyos, will be held in the district courtroom at the courthouse Friday at 10 a.m. Retired Judge Jim Weatherby of Kerrville will preside.

The suit was filed after DeHoyos won a special election for commissioner in Precinct 1, August 12. An election ordered by a district judge after DeHoyos filed a contested election suit against Marley and a trial was held here late in March of this year. The results of a January 7, election, which Marley won were thrown out and the new election was called.

Marley in his suit claims there were enough irregularities and illegal votes to effect the outcome of the election and have him declared the winner.

Cooler Weather Brings Rainfall

After two weeks of mild days and cool nights, Ozona residents experienced a plunge in temperatures and awoke to find a real chill in the air Monday morning. Some rain fell in the area as the first cold front of the season moved through.

Drizzle began around noon Sunday in Ozona and by 10 o'clock Monday morning a total of .40 of an inch of rainfall had been recorded in the official gauge at the water district office.

The mercury was down to the 40-degree mark early Monday after the front came through and only climbed to 50 degrees during the day. At 2 p.m. Tuesday the time and temperature sign on the bank read 55 degrees.

At the end of September rainfall for the year was up to 14.14 inches of moisture. 3.92 inches was recorded in the month of September alone, giving that month the distinction of the heaviest rainfall month this far in the year. The next heaviest month for rainfall was June, when 2.89 inches fell in Ozona. The .40 of an inch recorded here Monday morning was the first rainfall for October.

Salvation Army Drive Kicks Off

The annual Salvation Army Fund Drive started last Tuesday with a meeting of all the captains and workers at the adult reading library at 10:30 a.m.

Heading up the drive this year are local Salvation Army service chairman Jim Adams and Peggy Phillips, unit treasurer. Captains for the drive are Linda Sessoms, Buzz Wilson, Billy Reagor, Johnnie Hoover, Edna Tambunga and Peggy Phillips. A modest $1000.00 is the goal for this campaign and funds will be used to help both local residents and transients in emergencies when in immediate need. Over a period of a year some 150 families and individuals were helped with meals, groceries, gasoline, lodging, rent, transportation and many other necessities. The program also helps to support the state programs such as disasters, caused by tornado fire and floods; the summer camp for boys, which is free to the boys and their families.

Other projects are also helped. The home for unwed mothers, help for parolees, location of missing persons, aid to service men and women and other services. As the local fund has been depleted, funds are now needed to continue with this program.

Surviving is his wife.

Proposed Amendments, Pro and Con-

Absentee Balloting Gets Off To Late Start Here

Absentee balloting for the November 7, general election got off to a late start last week due to a delay in receiving the ballots, but very few voters have appeared to cast absentee ballots. Peggy Holden and Veve Vargas have been hired as deputy clerks and are conducting absentee balloting in the law library at the courthouse. The absentee polls close Nov. 1, at 5 p.m.

Light absentee voting usually indicates a light turnout on election day. Polls will open at 7 and close at 7 on election day Nov. 7. Election judges have been officially announced. For Precinct 1, the courthouse, Maria Vitela will be election judge. In Precinct 2, voting at the Intermediate School, election judge will be Mrs. Bob (Jeanette) Bailey; Precinct 3 voters will cast ballots at the Civic Center with Frank Reavis as election judge, and precinct 4 voters who will vote in one of the unburned portions at the Primary School, will have Concha Zapata as election judge.

The nine proposed amendments on the ballot have received a great deal of attention from various groups. The tax relief amendment, which appears first on the ballot, is receiving a great deal of attention. Organized labor in Texas is the only group actively campaigning against this amendment, to our knowledge. Several pieces of literature have been received by this office in support of the amendment, from various groups.

Those in favor of the amendment argue that it is a balanced tax relief package that could total over one-half billion dollars in tax reductions over the next three years, and more important, the amendment will have the long-range effect of preventing an increased dependence on property taxation for government revenue.

Arguments against the amendment say it is a hodgepodge of loosely-related proposals that should have been submitted separately to the voters. They say in addition, total government spending will not be substantially reduced by the amendment, also much of the revenue lost by local governments must be replaced by the state and that could lead to a state sales tax increase in a few years.

Amendment number 1, having to do with the handicapped, has created very little controversy. Arguments "for" state the social and economic value of employing otherwise unemployable handicapped individuals far outweighs any value of competitive bidding on products and services that can be supplied by them. The taxpayers would not suffer any loss because the law requires that items be purchased at a fair market price.

Those against the amendment argue that even though employing the handicapped is praiseworthy, the policy of competitive bidding is also sound and that competitive bidding assures the state will pay the lowest possible price for what it purchases, also the establishment of a "fair market price" under a statute is not assurance to the taxpayer that the government is operating in the least costly manner.

Amendment number 2, developing job opportunities for Texans through the issue of industrial bonds, has received almost as much attention in the state as the Tax Relief Amendment.

Proponents argue that experience in other states has shown the use of industrial development bonds to be a valuable means of attracting new business and improving local economics.

Arguments against state that by almost any standards the Texas economy and the business climate are among the best in the nation. Unemployment in Texas has long been below the national average and our communities do not need programs such as this to attract new business. Also, involving local governments in financing private business ventures is not consistent with the free enterprise philosophy to which most Texans adhere.

Amendment number 3, authorizing cities and towns to issue tax increment bonds to finance redevelopment of blighted areas, has created little local interest. Proponents argue that the amendment will provide Texas municipalities greater flexibility in developing local solutions to the problem of urban deterioration. Opponents argue that permitting cities and towns to siphon off taxes that would otherwise go to school districts, counties, hospitals districts, and other taxing entities is a bad precedent.

Amendment number 4, which would give tax exemptions to windpowered or solar energy devices, has created almost no controversy. Proponents of the amendment argue that as traditional energy sources are depleted, it becomes more important to exploit alternative energy sources, and that tax exemption for solar and wind-powered devices is an effective method of encouraging private investment in them.

Those against the amendment say schools, cities and other local governments depend primarily, if not exclusively, on property taxes to finance their operations, and exemptions diminish their ability to raise revenue.

Amendment number 5, expanding jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace, has its pros and cons. Proponents say passage of the amendment would help relieve crowded county court dockets. Opponents feel the JP court has outlived its usefulness and should be replaced with a court better able to deal with today's complicated legal disputes. This position is attributed to many bar associations and students of the judiciary.

Amendment number 6, which would enlarge the number of associate justices on Courts of Civil Appeals. Those "for" the amendment say it is more practical to increase the size of existing courts to meet demands than to create additional courts which require separate personnel and facilities.

Sorority Spaghetti Supper Set

The Alpha Alpha Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will sponsor a Spaghetti Supper Friday, Nov. 3, from 5:00 to 7:30 p.m., at the Civic Center, prior to the football game between Crane and Ozona.

Adult tickets are $2.50 and children's (under 12) are $1.50. The entire family is invited to eat out with friends before the football game. The menu will consist of spaghetti and meat sauce, salad, bread, tea or coffee.

There will be a door prize awarded. Tickets may be purchased from any sorority member or at the door.

First OHS Honor Roll Announced

High School Principal Jim Payne announced the first six-weeks honor roll for the fall school term Monday. The freshman class leads the list with 15 students, followed closely by the senior class with 14. The sophomore class had ten honor students and the juniors, six.

Seniors listed on the first honor roll include Kathy Adams, LaDawn Adcock, Rebecca Everett, Jose Gutierrez, Janice Janes, D'Anna

Koerth, Bobby Longoria, Teresa Martinez, Robert McDaniel, Tracey Preddy, Danny Sewell, Rocky Stephens, Wayne Sutton and Karen Warren.

Juniors on the list are Regenia Adams, Wade Beasley, Chris Carlisle, Peri Pennington, Gregg Perry, and Jeffrey Young.

Sophomores making the 90 or better grades include Teresa J. Carlisle, Danny Crawford, Lisa Hohertz, Jennifer Marley, Jesse Moreno, Kim Sinclair, Gary Smith, Kaye Thompson, Connie Trujillo, and Molly Womack.

Museum Receives Gift

Mr. and Mrs. C.S. Denham of Lubbock, formerly of Ozona, recently presented nine photograph albums and four Ozona High School Annuals to the Crockett County Museum, Mrs. P.L. Childress, museum head, announced this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Denham came to Ozona in 1928. He served as principal for six years and as superintendent until 1948. She taught fourth grade. After leaving Ozona, the couple kept in touch with the town and has maintained an interest in the history of the county.

The Denham's gift included photo albums covering the following years: 1928-29, 1931-32, 1933-34, 1934-35, 1935-36, 1936-37, 1937-38, 1938-39, 1939-40, 1941-42. The high school annuals cover 1950 and 1953 through 1955.

The albums and annuals cover most of the years from 1928 through 1955, however, some are missing and museum officials would like to have these on loan, by donation or by having copies made. Officials are grateful for the donation and expressed hope others would be inspired to share items of interest and preserve valuable information through the museum.

Everyone is invited to look through the books and assist in identifying the students.

TIME TO FALL BACK-Daylight Saving Time comes to an end at 2 a.m. Sunday morning when all clocks will be turned back one hour to Central Standard Time. Sue Cheely of the Stockman staff turns the office clock back an hour to demonstrate. We strongly suggest residents turn the clock back before retiring Saturday night. Seems to make more sense.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Our locality is beginning to show fall color in some of the trees and shrubs and should reach its peak in brilliance this and next month.

Two factors are necessary for the production of red fall color--sunlight and cool nights. There must be warm, bright, sunny days during which time the leaves manufacture sugars. Such days must be followed by cool nights, so we should have a beautiful face for that is what we have had the last few weeks.

Brightly colored foliage of our deciduous trees and shrubs interspersed with evergreen plants, presents an array of color. The blazing reds of nativesumace, red maples, plums and oaks are the first fall colors. The trees with a multitude of colors, from wine to red to yellow are the tallows (if a freeze or frost stays away) crepe myrtles, sugar maple and crabapple.

Then come the bright yellows of the elms, red bud, persimmons, pecan, pomegranate, oaks, hackberry and chinaberry.

Garden cleanup is for garden health as well as for tidying up for winter. Next month is fall cleanup month, so be getting your trash ready as plants die and leaves fall that you do not put into compost. The county trucks will give a date later on for pick-up-week. Remind your neighbors to help groom our city for the winter.

Fall blooms on the roses may be the prettiest of the whole year, provided plants are watered regularly.

To preserve autumn leaves with glycerin, stand cut ends of branches in 1 part glycerin and 3 parts water. Mix well and let them remain in water until you can see glycerin in the leaves, which will become pliable and will take on a sheen. Colors will fade slightly, but the leaves will retain enough to be attractive in dried arrangements throughout the winter. For grasses-use 1 cup glycerin to 2 cups water. For these, use a tall jar rather than flat containers.

Mrs. Bean Hostess To Bridge Club

Mrs. Joe Bean was hostess for the Country Club Bridge Club Thursday at the club.

Winning high was Mrs. J.B. Parker. Second high went to Mrs. Bruce Mayfield and low to Mrs. George Bunker. Mrs. Tom Montgomery won the bingo.

Others playing were Mrs. Clay Adams, Mrs. Cuatro Davidson, Mrs. James Dockery, Mrs. Tommy Harris, Mrs. John R. Hunnicutt, Mrs. Dave Matney, Mrs. Kirby Moore, Mrs. C.O. Walker, Mrs. Byron Williams, Mrs. Charles Williams, and Mrs. Gene Williams.

GIRL TO OLSONS

Mr. and Mrs. Gerold Olson of Del Rio are the parents of a daughter born Oct. 18, in a Del Rio hospital. The baby has been named Cristalle Nicole. She has one sister, Terra, 2.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Olson and Mrs. Leslie Cole of Ozona and Mrs. Sue Lambert of Ballinger.

SUPPER BRIDGE CLUB

The Supper Bridge Club met Tuesday evening, Oct. 17, at the Civic Center. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mayfield and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bailey were hosts.

Following a Mexican supper, bridge play began. Winning high were Mrs. Jim Bob Bailey and Mrs. J.B. Parker. Second high went to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirby and low to Mr. and Mrs. H.O. Hoover. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bebee won the bingo.

Mrs. Joe Couch was appointed new club chairman for the year.

Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wester, Mr. and Mrs. C.O. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Pancho McMullan and Mr. and Mrs. Couch.

this extended holiday season, try to slack off from your weight reduction program and work toward maintaining your weight.

Advanced planning of the day's total caloric intake can help prevent overeating.

Recognize holiday foods which are lower in calories and try to incorporate some lower caloric special foods into the menu.

Experiment with some new herbs and spices that add a unique flavor--but very few calories--to certain foods.

Refrain from adding rich sauces and gravies to holiday meat, vegetable and fruit dishes.

Also, breading and leaving fat on meat or skin on chicken add extra calories.

Alcoholic beverages add calories without adding nutrients, so go easy on ordering those extra calories. Use lower caloric mixes such as water, diet colas or fruit juice instead of rich, creamy, dessert-type beverages.

Never treat yourself to second helpings even though it may be difficult to refuse urgings from well-meaning relatives. Simply comment on how delicious the food was, but say that you are no longer hungry.

Use skimmed milk or buttermilk made with skimmed milk for drinking and cooking where appropriate. You'll save 90 calories per cup.

Use oil and vinegar or other low-calorie dressings for salads.

For dessert, select lower caloric desserts such as those included in various low-calorie cookbooks.

Make your own sugar-free relishes or jellies at home. For example, try this recipe for low-calorie Holiday

Cranberry Chutney:
Holiday Cranberry Chutney
 1 pound canned, peeled tomatoes and liquid
 1 pound fresh cranberries
 1 cup seedless raisins
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 ½ teaspoon ground ginger
 Enough sugar substitute to equal 1 cup sugar
 Cut up tomatoes into large pieces. Place tomatoes, juice and all other ingredients in a large saucepan.
 Cover and bring to a slow boil over medium heat. Simmer for 10 minutes.

 Cool to room temperature and refrigerate in an airtight container for two days before serving. Recipe makes about five cups.
 Each one-fourth cup serving contains 30 calories.
 Serve as you would regular cranberry sauce or as a meat condiment.
 A variety of other low-calorie recipes are found in cookbooks for persons with diabetes and heart problems. They are available through local American Diabetes and Heart associations or from local book stores.

 These recipes are usually lower in carbohydrates, cholesterol and saturated fat if these nutrients must be restricted.
 Your local county Extension agent (home economics) can also assist you in securing addresses for ordering some low-calorie recipes.

John Hill calls for state tax freeze

"Our state taxes in Texas are among the lowest in the nation, and I want to keep them there. As I've said many times, I'll veto a tax increase before the ink dries on the bill."

As Attorney General, John Hill proved he could increase the efficiency of his office without any unnecessary budget increases. He absorbed a three-fold increase in his office caseload by hiring top legal talent capable of higher productivity. The result: his staff lawyers doubled their average workload, and the increased court judgments and enforcement of civil penalty laws returned $25 for every $1 of state funds spent on his office.

As Governor, John Hill will insist on this same type of increased productivity for all state agencies. He will institute new controls over federal funds, demand that we follow our "pay-as-you-go" budget policy, and use zero-base budgeting to eliminate unneeded programs before any new programs are added. And he'll block any state tax increase -- there won't be any new taxes under John Hill.

The game is almost over, and this is the critical moment. The final score hangs on what Ken does with the ball. If he is successful, he will be the hero of the day. If he isn't, people may not entirely blame him, but even so . . .

Throughout our lives, even if we never touch a football, we cannot avoid coming up against moments when the "final score" depends upon our actions.

Decision-making is never easy, especially when the decision involves others as well as ourselves, and major decisions almost always do. This is when we need a place to go where we can empty our hearts and souls and let the peace and understanding which is God's flow into us . . . that place is the church.

Quality Deer Result From Doe Harvest

By James Crumley

Have you heard or said, "The state is absolutely ruining our deer herd by allowing doe killing. How can they possibly think that they are improving our hunting by asking us to kill the only source of our bucks? Bucks don't have bucks...does have bucks."

Now think about this just a minute. What would happen if a rancher kept all his heifer calves and all his ewe lambs and sold only his steer calves and his wether lambs?... What kind of fool question is that? He'd have livestock running out his ears. If he did it very long his country would look like the devil, severely overgrazed...bare as a swept floor.

Nobody tries this with livestock, but many good ranch managers do this with their deer. They wouldn't even think about abusing their country with their livestock, but they will do it with their deer. Year after year they harvest every buck they can and leave the does alone.

"O.K., then why isn't my country as bare as that 'swept floor' and why don't I have deer 'running out my ears, I don't take any does."

First of all deer are very picky eaters. They like only certain browse plants, forbs and sometimes tender grass species. These plants make up only a small percent of the total forage on a ranch. These plants can be extremely overgrazed but the overall appearance is that of a ranch with plenty of grass and forage...for something besides a deer! In other words just because there is a lot of grass doesn't mean there is a lot of food for deer. This isn't what deer prefer to eat.

You've got to know what deer eat. If what they eat is over browsed and overgrazed then odds are you have too many deer. You know if your grass is too short then you may be overstocked with cattle. The same is true for deer, except they primarily eat browse plants and weeds.

Die off, poor conception rate and fawn abandonment. These keep our deer numbers down. These are a direct result of poor nutrition and poor nutrition is direct result over browsing and overgrazing.

A yearling doe with good nutrition will normally have a fawn. Most of the remaining years of her reproductive life she should have twins if her nutrition is good. If there is over population of deer and over grazing she will not have a fawn as a yearling. If poor nutrition and over population continue she will only have one fawn each of the following years. Some years she may not have a fawn or she may fail to raise one.

The records show that taking antlerless deer from over populated ranges has not reduced the kill of legal bucks. On the contrary, it has been shown that by adequately harvesting the surplus of both sexes the buck harvest can be increased. Does have more fawns, and more fawns survive on good range than on poor range. By removing surpluses of both sexes, the sex ratio of the deer herd will tend toward a 50:50 because fawns are born to a 50:50 ratio of bucks to does.

What about the bucks? It depends on your objective? A ranch that consistently produces good bucks will always be in high demand. 75% or more of the deer killed on most Texas ranges are between 1 1/2 and 3 1/2 years of age. A buck has to be 4 1/2 years of age before he is capable of producing his first good set of antlers. Prior to this most of a buck's nutrient intake is used for body development instead of antler development. If good bucks are your objective then more bucks will have to reach the age of 4 1/2 or older. This means not harvesting the small raked bucks which are usually less than 4 1/2. They are next year's trophy. Take only "good" bucks which are usually 4 1/2 years or older.

It's also a good idea to harvest spike bucks. Spikes are usually inferior animals. They will not normally develop into a trophy deer. It is best to eliminate spikes from the deer herd.

To attempt deer management takes team work between the hunter and the landowners. "Starvation is the end product of poor deer management or no deer management. If the range will not support the herd, and if the annual crop is not removed by hunting, starvation will remove it. This is an axiom, an unalterable rule in deer management." What competes the most with deer for food?...another deer! Over population means heavy competition. The result is low percent fawn crop because the nutrition is inadequate for the doe to breed up or to maintain a fawn. The effects of malnutrition doesn't stop with the does and fawns. Small bucks, both antlers and body, are results of malnutrition coupled with the young age at which they are usually harvested.

Goat News

Good-neighbor stock hauling deals can get a fellow in trouble. Out of necessity, many gooseneck trailer owners have been hauling stock part-time for pay. The necessity is often that of helping neighbors whose loads can't attract a bigger rig, combined with the necessity of getting enough service out of the gooseneck to justify its cost.

Whatever the reason, a lot of these good-neighbor haulers have recently found themselves paying out considerable premiums to their local peace justices because the man who patrols the highways discovered that they had no legal permit to haul for hire.

These permits, known as Specialized Motor Carrier Certificates, are issued by the Texas Railroad Commission and are not to be had on a whim. Many would-be haulers who've tried to get them have given up on the often difficult and expensive endeavor and either quit hauling or resigned themselves to paying fines.

It's not that the permits themselves cost so much—a total of $25 for filing fees and $11 per vehicle for registration-in fact, that expense is as little as a tenth or twentieth of what some fines have reportedly cost.

The real expense comes in, apparently, when an application is protested by already established haulers. Answering a protest means appearing before a hearing examiner in Austin, proving the public necessity of the desired permit, etc. A certificated hauler must also carry RRC-approved insurance, maintain certain records and follow established rate tariffs.

These last three items in themselves are not overly unreasonable or prohibitive, but added to the hassles and expense of battling a protest, they're enough to convince many part-time small-load haulers that fines are friendly by comparison. The end result? A lot of extralegal hauling.

Cooperative efforts by the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers, the Texas Farm Bureau and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn. may be shedding a little different color of light on the subject, however. Representatives of the three groups met recently with RRC officials to seek a solution to what's come to be called the "gooseneck situation."

The outcome may not be apparent right away, because it involves no regulatory, legislative or interpretive change by the RRC. What the commission did offer was a suggestion, and it's one of those pleasant cases where a simple suggestion may eliminate the need for a difficult change. What the RRC suggested was that prospective applicants voluntarily restrict their own hauling authority. A standard permit might allow a hauler the right to use any size of equipment, move unlimited loads and serve a broad territory when all he really intends to do is pull an occasional gooseneck load to the local auction. It's generally best to get all the authority you can when the price is the same anyway, but such a broad request is sure to generate protest from established competition.

The RRC suggests instead that applicants specify that their authority be limited to such vehicles as gooseneck trailers and that their operating range be limited to their own local area. Other restrictions might include prohibitions against hauling to or from commercial feed-lots or packing houses, limits on the number of head of stock hauled in one load and limits on the number of loads to be hauled in one day. These limitations, again, are not mandatory, but may be handpicked by an applicant at his own choosing. In fact, he himself must request that they be applied against him. The RRC simply says that the more restrictions, the less chance of a protest; larger volume truckers know all too well that they can't service the small loads and have no logical reason to protest competition from a fellow who's been obviously restricted out of competition at his own choosing.

There are no reported plans to lower minimum insurance requirements or alter tariff compliance. The

Hill backs tax relief on ballot November 7

"We've got a great opportunity Nov. 7 to take a significant first step toward tax relief in Texas. I'm urging everyone to vote for the proposed constitutional amendment to give tax relief to our farmers and ranchers, homeowners, and elderly. After this amendment is adopted, I'll be ready to take the lead in the 1979 legislature to follow through on this first step."

OCTOBER IS 'COOPERATIVE FARM & RANCH DEMONSTRATION MONTH' -- Governor Dolph Briscoe signs a proclamation designating October as "Cooperative Farm Demonstration Month" in Texas and calls upon all citizens to join in the observance. The proclamation indicates that the first farmer-conducted demonstration on the use of scientific research in farming was inaugurated on the Walter C. Porter Farm near Terrell in 1903, by Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, special agent for the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Observing the proclamation signing are W.A. [Bill] Porter [left] of the Porter Farm and Dr. Daniel C. Pfannstiel, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

October Salutes Farm & Ranch Demonstrations

October marks the 75th anniversary of the completion of the first successful farm demonstration. It was the success of this venture on the Walter C. Porter farm near Terrell, Texas, that ultimately led to creation of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Thirteen of these ranch demonstrations are underway in Crockett County this year. The following demonstrations are being conducted in cattle, sheep and range management and they are: growth stimulants in calves and lambs, internal parasite control in sheep, external parasite control in beef cattle, bitterweed control, rayless goldenrod control, salt cedar control, broadleaf milkweed control, and deer management. The following ranchmen have cooperated with these demonstrations: E.H. Chandler, Tony Allen, R.A. Harrell, R.J. Everett, Jr., John Lee Henderson, Penn Baggett, Rod Richardson, and Bill Black.

Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, a former president of Iowa State College and in 1903 a special agent for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, came to Terrell and set up the farm demonstration at the Porter Farm at the request of area citizens for "improved farming methods." He asked Terrell citizens to find a demonstration site and a farmer, who would farm precisely as Knapp recommended. Local citizens also raised $1,000 to cover any losses that might arise from farming with "the new methods," but the money was not needed!

The farm demonstration was a financial success, and the technique spread rapidly to other areas. Soon, farm demonstrations were evident in many counties. And they are still popular!

Result demonstrations in ranching have been key ingredients in the Crockett County Extension program for many years.

County agriculture leaders join with others around the state in observing October as "Farm Demonstration Month in Texas," as proclaimed by Governor Dolph Briscoe.

Simple Alterations Can Create Good Fit

Simple alterations can create a "good fit" for many ready-to-wear garments, but decide before buying, a clothing specialist advises.

Good fit--a fashion "must"--makes a garment more attractive and comfortable, and many ready-to-wear garments need an alteration to achieve this, Becky Culp adds.

Mrs. Culp is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Good fit is a 'must,' because not even the best quality, color, fabric or the newest fashion trend can make a poor fit look good," she insists.

Consider skills and the time required for fitting and altering before buying a garment that needs alterations.

If ripping is a "dislike," then altering probably will be unpleasant.

However, if a less-than-perfect fit is uncomfortable, then successful altering can save money, expand the wardrobe and add to a good feeling about appearance.

All garments cannot be altered.

Garments more than one size too small or large usually cannot be altered successfully through existing seams--especially in areas such as the neckline, shoulders and across the back or upper chest.

Also, manufacturing techniques, such as punched holes that mark darts, clipped seams and trimmed darts or seams, sometimes make it impossible to alter a garment.

Adjustments that usually "work" are those in the width of the bust, waist and hips, and those in hem lengths--since they have little effect on design lines.

For garments more than one size too large, the most successful adjustment is to remake it. Re-cut it using a pattern that does fit, and then re-sew it.

Altering results usually are more satisfactory when making a garment smaller--rather than larger.

Also, garments made in some fabrics are difficult or impossible to make larger.

One reason is that releasing seams or folds in some fabrics may cause the original stitching lines to show.

These include velvet, corduroy, suede, satin, leather, vinyl, sequined and permanent-press fabrics.

Of course, in some cases, pressing, brushing, laundering, or drycleaning may help remove original creases or seam lines.

However, before altering, when in doubt, release a small area and look for any needle marks.

Insects Thrive in Cool Weather

With cooler weather, insects begin seeking a warmer place, and homes are ideal locations, says Billy Reagor, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The most common household invaders are earwigs, crickets, pillbugs, spiders, millipedes and cockroaches. These pests will damage fabrics, feed on food products and may also transmit disease-causing organisms within the home.

The first control step should start outside, advises the agent. Remove hiding places such as plant debris around the foundation and perform any needed maintenance on portals of entry to keep insects outside.

If insects have been a problem in the past, treat the foundation 12 to 24 inches above the soil line with a recommended insecticide such as diazinon, malathion or carbaryl (Sevin). Also apply the insecticide to the soil surface next to the foundation and around sidewalks, patios, driveways and storage areas. Be sure to read the label and follow directions closely when applying any type of insecticides.

If insects are already inside the home, it is usually best to hire a certified pest control operator rather than to take care of the problem yourself, Reagor adds.

Eighth Graders on way to undefeated season!

Cubs Defeat Menard to Remain Undefeated

The Menard Yellow Jackets made their first visit to Ozona in several years and found the young Cubs and Lion J.V. ready and waiting. The 7th Grade Cubs and 8th Grade Cubs and J.V. teams were all victorious by scores of 30-0, 42-0, and 14-8 respectively.

The 8th graders offensive unit was led by the blocking of ends Frankie Reavis, Joe Villarreal, center Ramon Cedillo, guards Zeke Martinez, Randy DeHoyos, and tackles Dan Bean and Dan Peek. Running power was supplied by David Badillo, Harvey Huereca, Willie Payne and Gregory Fierro. Badillo scored on TD runs of 11 and 31 yds., Huereca scored on TD runs of 28, 39, and 64 yards and Fierro scored on an 8 yard run. Huereca kicked 2 PAT. Badillo and Payne scored 2 point conversions.

The Cubs continued with good defensive play by recording their fifth straight shutout. Defensively the Cubs forced 3 fumbles and 1 pass interception. Leading tacklers for the 8th graders were Villarreal with 10 and Peek with 6 tackles and 1 fumble recovery.

Next week the 8th grade and J.V. travel to Iraan to do battle with the Braves. Game time is 5 p.m. for 8th grade and 6:45 for J.V.

Eighth Grade Cubs include Allen Dews, Fabian Delgado, Robert Hearne, David Badillo, Albert Borrego, Gino Tambunga, Harvey Huereca, Willie Payne, Gregory Fierro, Robert Massey, David Tijerina, Ramon Cedillo, Javier Sanchez, Sammy Rivera, Randy DeHoyos, Zeke Martinez, Dan Peek, Jene Wilton, Dan Bean, Rudy Martinez, Tony Goss, Frankie Reavis, Carlos Borrego, Henry Delgado, Joe Villarreal, and manager Jerry Cantu.

Cheerleaders are Sarah Falkner, Karise Aycock, Becky Ybarra, Jana Lilly, and Mari Tijerina. 8th grade coaches are Gene Hood, Ruben Penalarf and Jerry Ayers.

7th Graders Shut out Menard 30-0

The Ozona 7th grade remains unbeaten after defeating Menard last week by a score of 30-0. The Cubs defense led the way allowing Menard only one first down in the entire ballgame. Menard had only 14 yards total offense for the game. Offensively the Cubs had 191 yards rushing and 57 passing. The offensive attack by the Cubs was again led by Kent (Hollywood) Hokit. Robert (Bullet Bob) Flores scored 3 times for the Cubs twice on runs of 27 and 19 yards and had one touchdown that came on a 43 yard pass play. Marcello Hernandez was the leading rusher for the Cubs having 109 yards, one a 51 yard touchdown run. Diego Leal had 36 yards rushing and was also the leading tackler for the Cubs. The defense was led by Diego Leal, Oscar Vargas (who also blocked a punt), Kent Hokit, Richie Artz and Kevin Miller.

The 7th grade will be open this week while the 8th grade takes its high-rolling offense and it's unbeaten, unscored on record to Iraan.

J.V. Downs Menard

The Ozona J.V. got back into the winning column by defeating Menard's J.V. 14-8 Thursday night. After two losses on the road, the J.V. again showed their ability on the field.

Following a 47 yard sprint setting up the Yellowjackets touchdown and 2 point conversion, the Lion's defense held off Menard the rest of the night. The Lion's first touchdown came with a 1 yard plunge by Hector Leal. However, the extra point attempt failed leaving Menard over Ozona 8-6 at the half.

The third and fourth quarters belonged to Ozona as the Lions marched in another touchdown carried by Ernie Borrego behind the blocking of D. Crawford, T. Gries, J. Castro, R. Perez, and M. Vallejo. Borrego carried in the ball on the extra point attempt for two more points bringing the score to 14-8.

Ozona's defense held off two more drives by the Yellowjackets to win the contest. The defense was led by Mike Vallejo with 10 tackles, Felix Flores had 9 tackles, Ken Stokes accounted for 8, Ernie Borrego had 7 and recovered a fumble, Danny Crawford 7, Caterino Villarreal 6, and Gary Adcock 4.

Ozona had 144 yards rushing, 49 yards passing, and 13 first downs. Leal led the runners with 93 yards and Borrego 53 yards. Flores made up the rest of the rushing with Aldridge throwing for 26 yards and Leal passing for 22 yards.

This week the junior varsity will travel to Iraan where they will try to improve their 3-2-0 season mark.

Lions Lose Seventh Ballgame

The Ozona Lions suffered their seventh straight loss at Alpine Friday night when the Bucks exploded in the second half for three touchdowns and were victorious to the tune of 29-6.

The Lions will have the night off Friday prior to opening district play with Crane here Nov. 3. With only three district games scheduled this year, the Lions and their fans have only one more out of town game this season. They will travel to Kermit to play the Yellowjackets Friday, Nov. 10. The final game of the season will be Nov. 18, when they host the Sonora Broncos. Kick off time for all three games is 8 p.m.

Friday night's long trek to Alpine was disappointing to Lions and fans, but the Lions played a good defensive game the first half only allowing the Bucks to score one touchdown and kick the extra point.

The three scores by the Bucks in the second half broke the game open, but the Lions did manage to score one touchdown in the final quarter with the PAT no good.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas

Activities Program Director

Winner of the Bingo gift certificate last week was Paul Cavin. I was really tickled when I went to remind Paul about Friday's play he told me he had missed it on Tuesday so wouldn't stand a chance. However, he was persuaded to join us, and guess what, he won one game after another. I think I made a believer out of him!

Other winners were Mary Seelye and Gertrude Daniels. In dominoes, Mike Pena won and Opal Eversole was runner-up. Forty-two winners were Eleanor Yeager and Frances Tolson. We have also been playing with our new "Toss Across" game; Juana Hernandez is getting quite good at it.

In our reading group I read several poems of Edgar Guest, one of which was "The Old Wooden Tub." This opened up a lively conversation and much reminiscing. "When bathrooms were exceptions and we got our weekly scrub by standing in the middle of a little wooden tub..."

Gertrude Daniels told how her mother died when she was quite a small girl, and her father took over the chore of bathing the kids and, to quote Gertrude, "he gave us the scrubbing of our lives!" Several others remembered the small tub in front of the kitchen fire, but Frances Tolson said they used to set a tub of water out in the sun to heat. This struck a chord in Mary Lou Simpson's memory as she remembered that they used to do that in her family.

Mike Pena remembered how they used to go down to the river to bathe. Seems to me, with all the dire predictions of energy shortages to come, we might all be resorting to the oldtime ways again in a few years!

After sharing a few silly riddles, we went on to more serious stuff—the life story of Queen Mary, wife of George V of England.

We have a new resident, she is Eunice Graham from Big Lake. Eunice does very well traversing our long halls with her walking cane; she has some difficulties with failing sight, but is becoming accustomed to this change in her life quite well.

Seven members of the W.M.U. of the Big Lake Baptist Church came over Monday afternoon and gave a lovely program to our residents. They sang, and then everyone joined in with hymn singing. They served delicious homemade cookies and visited with everyone. Two little ones handed out decorated paper butterflies, on the back of each one was a Bible verse. I got busy with the camera and have three more pictures in our album. We appreciate the loving support we are receiving from the Big Lake people.

I have the ceramics on display in the cabinet in the lobby. Everyone has been wanting to buy Swede Lundgren's Jack O Lantern. I can see that we will have to concentrate on this item next year about this time.

Volunteers during the past week were: Velma Marley, Grace Dorsey, Carol Carlisle, Veva Vargas, Blas Vargas, Glenda Winkley, Blanche Walker, Angelita Pena, Doris Karr, Liz Mary Pipes, and Georgia Kirby. Juniors were Yvette Martinez and Tasha Light. Accompanying Bill Morrison on Sunday from the Church of Christ were Alma Janes, Myrtle Schneider, Barbara Wallace, Jo Nell Stokes and C.W. Bednar.

Our sympathy is extended to the families of Floyd Cooper and Early Baggett.

Nautie Tatum had an accident this weekend and was taken to San Angelo with a broken hip; we hope she will recover soon.

Refinish To Stretch Budget

Redo worn furnishings to redecorate without straining the budget, a housing and home furnishings specialist suggests.

Many families find great satisfaction and savings by refinishing wood furniture or reupholstering. Sue Young explains.

To begin with, decide on the color or colors which will look nice.

When shopping for fabric, take samples of other fabrics, wall colors or floor coverings to coordinate colors, the specialist advises.

Consider designs in furnishings. Too many bold designs create confusion and seem to take up space.

A large design in upholstery fabric is more difficult to work with than small all-over designs or tweeds, because the design should be centered and matched.

Select upholstery fabric that's firmly woven and treated for stain repellency. Before buying fabric, measure the chair or couch and determine the amount of fabric needed, Mrs. Young recommends.

Reupholstery is hard work, but very rewarding when considering money saved.

A cleanup and repair, or complete refinishing, can bring many old pieces of wood furniture back to their original beauty.

Try a natural finish for wood with pretty grain.

...Amendments

Opponents feel there is little need to increase the size of a court of civil appeals or temporarily assign active or retired judges to them, because the supreme court already has the power to equalize the dockets of the different courts by the assignment of cases.

Amendment number 7, to abolish the State Building Commission and State Building Fund, has created little interest on the part of the average voter. Proponents point out the State Building Commission now exists in name only, since all records, property and personnel have been transferred to the State Board of Control and the board now spends money appropriated by the legislature from the State Building Fund. Opponents say it is important that the state maintain sufficient office space. Therefore, the money remaining in the building fund should be used for the purpose for which it was originally intended. They feel if the amendment passes into law before the building fund is depleted, it is possible that a future legislature could divert the money from this purpose.

Amendment number 8, funding fire fighting by water districts, has little if anything to do with local voters. Proponents argue the unavailability of adequate fire protection in some heavily populated areas of the state poses a serious threat. Opponents argue that with the availability of volunteer fire departments and other means of fire protection, residents of water districts should not be required to assume the additional financial burden of financing a fire protection program operated by the water district.
