School Board sets election

A school board election has been called for April 7, to elect board members for two places on the board of trustees for the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District.

The two members whose terms expire are Joe Bean, presently serving as president of the board, and Sam Perner, vice president. Both men have filed for re-election. Anyone wishing to file for a place on the ballot must file with County Judge Johnny Jones thirty days before the election. The terms are for a period of three years.

Members with time remaining in their terms are C.R. Fuantoz, George Bunker, Jr., John L. Henderson, Jr., R.J. Everett, Jr., and Gene Perry.

2 injured in truck accident

Two persons were injured in a truck rollover 3:45 p.m. Saturday, 26.8 miles southwest of Ozona. The vehicle was headed east on a county road, when the driver lost control in a sharp curve and the vehicle rolled one time.

The truck was driven by Harold Ray Irwin, 36, of Sonora. He received leg injuries and was treated and released from Crockett County Hospital.

Mildred Delores Irwin, 46, of Sonora, a passenger in the truck, was listed in fair condition with back, leg and head injuries at Crockett County Hospital Saturday night. She was dismissed early this week.

Investigating officer was Trooper Bob Bailey, DPS.

Outgoing mail to go earlier

Postmaster Floyd Hokit announced this week outgoing mail will leave Ozona at 3:05 in the future. All mail needs to be deposited inside the post office by 3:00 p.m. to insure its leaving Ozona the day it is mailed.

If mail is deposited in the outside box, it needs to be mailed by 2:45 to insure same day departure.

Until now, mail had been leaving Ozona at 10 minutes to 4 p.m.

SocialSec. sets March visit here

Garland Gregg, representative of the San Angelo Social Security Office, has scheduled his March visit to Ozona. He will be at the County Courthouse on Wednesday, March 21, between 2:00 and 3:30 p.m.

Anyone who wants to file a claim for benefits, get information, or transact other business with the Social Security Administration may contact him at this time. Persons who are unable to meet with him are encouraged to call the office in San Angelo. Residents of Ozona may call toll free,

LETA POWELL HONORED AT OPEN HOUSE-Miss Powell and her deputy, Kathy Dawn Moore, greet well-wishers on the occasion of Miss Powell's 50th year in the county clerk's office Friday. An array of gifts and floral offerings filled the office. The silver tray at Miss Powell's right was presented by the county and engraved with "fifty years dedicated service."

Miss Powell honored on 50th anniversary

Miss Leta Powell was honored Friday at an open house at the county clerk's office on the occasion of her 50th year in that office, 25 years as deputy clerk and 25 years as county clerk.

Hostesses for the open house were county officials and former county officials and their wives. Mrs. James Dockery coordinated the event, assisted by deputy clerk Kathy Dawn Moore. The serving table was centered with a "Golden Anniversary" cake made by Kaleta Shepperson and a large arrangement of cut flowers. Cookies, punch and coffee were also served during the day to over 120 guests who braved sub-freezing weather to pay tribute to Miss Powell.

Miss Powell was appointed to the office following the death of George Russell during the flood in 1954. She was elected during the general election in November to her first elected term. She has been elected every four years since 1954 and has never drawn an opponent. Miss Powell is the seventh person to serve as county clerk for Crockett County. With her 25 years as deputy clerk and 25 years as clerk, she has served almost as long as her six predecessors, all men, with their terms combined. George Russell served 25 years, being elected to the office in 1929, and had been employed in the office three years previously. Other than Russell, Tom Nolen, the fourth clerk, had the longest length of service with 19 years in the clerk's office.

The clerk's office has literally been Miss Powell's home and family these many years and it is not unusual to find her working away in her office at night and on weekends. The longest time spent away from her desk was last year when she suffered a broken hip following an election January 7, and was out of the office until mid-April, 1978.

Miss Powell's hobby centers on record-keeping also. For the past 50 years she has kept a scrapbook of what goes on in Crockett County and by now it is a collector's item. Probably the single most important event covered in the book is the flood of 1954, when Ozona was almost wiped out by raging flood waters. There are numerous pictorial accounts as well as many newspaper clippings on the havoc wreaked by the flood. There are mementos from the war years, and wedding and birth announcements among accounts of other happenings collected in the book.

In attempting to recall some of the most memorable events during the fifty-year tenure, Miss Powell said the office handled the issuing of ration stamps during the war and that was the most difficult period she remembered. She said it was during that time her shoe size jumped from 6½ to 8½ from long hours on her feet.

A sterling silver tray from the county, engraved with "50 years of dedicated service" was displayed along with many other gifts of gold jewelry and numerous cut flowers and pot plants from well wishers.

Students move back to school

Monday was a red-letter day for Ozona primary school children. They were allowed to move back home, so to speak. Grades kindergarten through first have been having classes at the First Baptist Church, while second graders have been attending school at the Methodist Church since the fall school term opened, due to fire which destroyed four classrooms in the main building in September.

The four kindergarten classes were not damaged by the fire, nor was new construction which was not attached to the building. Four new classrooms were moved in for first grade and second grade students. The classrooms were finished last weekend and children returned Monday to the Primary School for half-day classes.

Classes will resume full-time next Monday. School will take up at 8:05 a.m. and dismiss at 2:30 p.m. with lunch hour scheduled for 11:45 a.m. to 12:25 p.m., Superintendent Foy Moody announced this week.

The completion of the Tax-Sheriff separation election set

After checking with the Attorney General's office to verify the legality of holding two separate elections on the same day, County Judge Johnny Jones announced early this week the election to separate the tax office from the sheriff's office will be held April 7, as set by the Commissioners Court at their regular monthly meeting.

The countywide election will be held the same day the school board election is scheduled. Voters will cast ballots at the courthouse for the school board election and at their regular precinct voting places for the election to decide on the separation of the tax office and sheriff's department.

classrooms leaves only the new Intermediate School remaining uncompleted. At this point, plans are being made to move intermediate students to the new facility during the first half of March. The junior high will then be moved to the old intermediate building. Hopefully, this will bring the almost $5 million school improvement program to a finish. Construction began sixteen months ago. The building which was destroyed by fire will be rebuilt. Plans are in the mill now and construction will begin hopefully in May of this year.

The school board plans to have open house to show off the improvements before school closes in the spring.

New museum exhibit

A new exhibit, consisting of quilts and coverlets, will replace the antique toy exhibit which proved very popular with visitors to the Crockett County Museum during the past few months.

Local residents are now being asked to loan, for a three months exhibit, family heirlooms of quilts and coverlets fifty years old or older. They may be brought to the museum beginning Tuesday, February 27. Owners of the old toys are asked to pick up their articles Monday, Feb. 26, in order to make room for the new exhibit.

Museum directors are grateful to all who shared their keepsakes with the public for the toy exhibit. Without such support the museum would be handicapped in developing programs.

Spring sports start at OHS

Basketball season gave way to track, tennis and golf at Ozona High School last week. The first event scheduled is tennis Thursday, with the junior and senior tennis teams traveling to Sonora for a meet with the Sonora teams.

The track teams, boys varsity and junior varsity and girls varsity, will see action March 3. The boys teams will be in Junction for a meet with the girls traveling to McCamey. Golf gets underway March 10 with the varsity boys playing in the Crane tournament.

The full spring sports schedule is published in this week's edition of the Stockman, sponsored by Ozona businesses.

The only roster we were able to secure this week was that of Coach Rip Sewell's 1979 Lions. The Lions tied for the district championship last year with Crane and will be attempting to win it outright this year.

Team members number 45 this year, 18 freshmen, 15 sophomores, nine juniors and three seniors. Of this number the squad had three returning lettermen, led by senior Dan Sewell in the hurdles and pole vault, juniors Fred Garza in the hurdles, high jump and long jump; Joe Rebelez in the shot and discus, Shane Fenton in the pole vault and sprints, Juan Cedillo in the mile and Ray Ramos in sprints.

Other returning lettermen include sophomores John Rodriguez, a miler, Aldo Delgado, sprinter; Randy Ramos, sprinter and hurdler; and Dan Martinez, sprinter.

Sewell said the Lions would be pressed to repeat as champions, but are optimistic because of the depth and talent of the incoming freshmen added to returning lettermen.

2,000 gather for chili cook-off

A crowd of an estimated 2,000 gathered for the first chili cook-off ever held in Crockett County during the weekend at the Circle Bar Truck Corral.

Chili cooks came from miles around and set up shop in everything from expensive motor homes to lean-to tents. Texas red eye wasn't the only thing cooking. There was everything from giant mushrooms in chili sauce to brisket over the coals. While many set up their pots over wood-burning fires, there were also elegant butane stoves and complete cook-houses. The liquid refreshment flowed like water and by the time the chili judging got underway at mid-afternoon Saturday it was difficult to tell the cooks from the pots.

One local team was nearly disqualified due to the finding of a bean in the brew. As far as could be told, there were no rules about the ingredients, except for beans and beans were a definite no-no.

The beans were added before the contestants knew the rule, and they went to all lengths to eliminate the oversight. They picked out beans for hours and went so far as to secure an electric mixer to beat the whole conglomeration together. But when it came judging time, one lone bean popped to the top of the judge's portion.

Races were held as scheduled Saturday morning with the temperature hovering around the 20-degree mark. Those entrants who finished came in with icicles hanging from their beards or chins and many lathered up sweat shirts frosted over and froze. The much acclaimed mud waller failed to take place due to the weather.

Two local women came in first and second in their races. They were Susan Gunnels and Debbi Adkins. As far as the Stockman staff was able to determine, they were the only local winners.

A San Antonio chili team won first place out of the 54 entries. Due to the weather, entrants in the wet T-shirt contest were few and far between. Winner was Julie Schaffer of San Angelo.

Weather hot & cold

Ozona weather has been unusual the past week, in that record high temperatures of 90 degrees Wednesday and Thursday plunged to the 20-degree mark for the low Friday and frigid weather held throughout the weekend, warming slightly Sunday.

ONE OF THE MORE INTERESTING RIGS at the chili cook-off held over the weekend at the Circle Bar was this complete cook house. Everything was covered with red and white gingham including the tops of the smoke stack. The back end of the rig, let down to make the gingham covered table centered with a floral centerpiece. An estimated 2,000 persons attended the event, according to reports.

Social Security Taxes-- Whose burden?

The first time around, in 1935, Americans hardly felt the initial bite that Social Security taxes took out of their paychecks, amounting to only $30 a year or a little less than 60 cents a week.

Under the circumstances, the fact that Congress voted to exempt itself and public workers from the Social Security Act--and the payment of these new taxes--did not strike people as terribly out of line or inequitable.

But what about today when millions of Americans pay out more in Social Security taxes every year than they do in regular income taxes?

And outgo and income of the huge system, now covering 90 percent of the U.S. workforce, almost offset each other, so that everyone contributes for somebody else's retirement support. The question raised is:

Should Social Security now include members of Congress and be expanded to cover about 8 million workers in separate public retirement systems, similar to the way that Social Security and private pension systems work together?

The proposal to consolidate the systems under the Social Security Act, known as "universal coverage," is likely to become a major issue before the new 96th Congress, which is expected to bear the brunt of public reaction to the staggering increases in Social Security taxes voted by the last Congress in 1977.

These taxes rose sharply Jan. 1 and will add $19 billion to fiscal 1979's payroll taxes and $22 billion in fiscal 1980. For most workers the true impact of the increases will not come until later in the year, when the deductions, instead of stopping at $17,700, will continue to be taken out of paychecks up to a maximum of $22,900.

The issue of universal coverage almost came to a head in the last Congress when the House Ways and Means Committee recommended that both private and public workers be brought under the system. The House rejected this recommendation, but Congress voted to establish an independent study group to examine the feasibility of universal coverage.

The study group, which now is conducting public hearings, must make its report to Congress by the end of 1979.

One of the leading advocates of universal coverage, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, believes the plan would have both short and long-term beneficial effects. In the short run, the Chamber believes, the infusion of new revenues would permit Congress to roll back part of the increases voted by Congress in 1977. In the long run, the business group says, the net result would be a more equitable system of protection for all workers with benefits in keeping with lifetime earnings and contributions. Both the Social Security and public employee systems also would be far better off, in terms of future financing, particularly the public systems which are notoriously underfunded for their future needs.

"We see no reason why any working American should be exempt from supporting and participating in Social Security which is, in reality, an income transfer system in which today's workers are taxed in order to supplement the incomes of those who have completed their working careers or who are widows, orphans or disabled," a spokesman for the Chamber, Richard W. Hutson, said in recent testimony before the study group. Mr. Hutson, a partner in an Illinois employee benefit consultant firm with 500 consultants who work with 2,000 employers, added: "It should not be a question of whether...(but) rather it is one of how it might be promptly extended to everyone, especially members of Congress and federal employees, for whom coordinated coverage under Social Security and existing staff-retirement systems would assure that total benefits are reasonably related to a worker's lifetime earnings and contributions."

Two questions of paramount significance face members of Congress as the vital issue of universal coverage heads toward a Congressional decision: Can members of Congress--who are exempt by virtue of a decision made when Social Security taxes were a pittance--close their eyes to the fact that in today's economy Social Security taxes will cost many American workers as much as $1,403 for 1979 alone--the maximum tax due from a worker earning $22,900 or more. Members of Congress, who earn $57,500 a year, would fall into that class. Further, since members of Congress over the years have not had to share the burden of rapidly increasing Social Security taxes--they will rise by almost $200 billion in the next decade--can they vote the true desires and best interests of their constituents? We shall see.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Gov. Bill Clements, two of three Texas Railroad Commissioners and the Texas Energy Advisory Council all sounded separate alarms this week but over the same awaiting crisis—a shortage of fuel to run the nation on.

In Washington, Clements declared: "We do indeed have an energy crisis," and went on to bombard President Carter for having failed so far in securing an oil and gas deal with Mexico.

On the home front, Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent made the first chilling revelation that gas rationing loomed ahead. His remarks came during a speech in Dallas. Fellow Commissioner Mack Wallace was quick to agree. "We are talking about rationing our gasoline supplies in peace time," said Wallace.

John Poerner, the chairman of the three-member RRC, was the lone voice of optimism. He disagreed with his colleagues but did admit it was "possible" that sometime during the coming summer the U.S. might face a slowdown in gasoline production because of the cut-back in crude oil from Iran. The mid-east country supplies 10 percent of the world's oil and five percent of that is gobbled up by the U.S.

Poerner said he was not "alarmed" even though the nation's reserves had fallen to a 70-day supply. "When we reach a 60-day reserve," Nugent remarked, "Schlesinger (Energy Secretary James Schlesinger) will be extremely nervous." At the time of the 1973-74 Arab oil embargo that created shortages and long lines at some gas stations across the country, the normal U.S. reserve was 54 days.

"I think we are in the most precarious international situation since World War II," announced Wallace, a frequent critic of the national energy policy forged by the Carter administration. A strategy Wallace feels emphasizes "cosmetic" solutions to expected shortages. "I don't see the administration encouraging production," Wallace remarked.

In an emergency meeting of the Texas Energy Advisory Council called to consider the repercussions of cutbacks in Iranian oil, a resolution offered by Wallace called on the nation to begin a no-holes-barred effort to produce the energy needed to keep the nation running. "We must face up to the problem," Wallace said before attending the council meeting. "The thrust of the nation's energy policy needs to be changed."

Ironically, in the first interesting action on the House floor, the leaders of what Speaker Bill Clayton calls the "loyal" opposition managed to slash in half an emergency appropriations bill for the RRC and specified that the money be spent only to implement the federal National Gas Policy Act of 1978. Typically, Clayton said he didn't think passage of the original appropriation was a test of his authority.

Word Game The magic word for Gov. Bill Clements is not "Bracero." The governor said he would stop using the term when referring to his proposals for dealing with Mexican nationals employed illegally in the U.S. "The word is obnoxious to some," Clements admitted, so "Bracero" is out.

"Excessive" is in. Clements used that term again this week when answering questions about the 160,000-member Texas Public Employees Association's demand for a 10.2 percent pay increase. Last week, the governor branded the Legislative Budget Board's proposed 22 percent jump in state spending as "excessive."

"Unimaginative" was Clements' favorite term when discussing a Department of Public Safety plan to combat illegal drugs. The ever-active governor has taken to re-writing what the DPS handed him.

Wiretaps are already part of the DPS strategy, and Clements backs such an idea, but if he doesn't watch it, the governor may come up with a dry hole. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby says a law legalizing wiretaps in narcotics cases will most likely get unplugged in the Senate.

With that in mind, Clements announced the creation of a citizens committee to help him in his crusade against drug trafficking. H. Ross Perot, head of one of the world's largest computer firms, was named to chair the 10-member panel. Perot is from Clements' old stomping grounds—Dallas. The remaining members of the committee, dubbed "Texans War Against Drugs," will be named later.

Courts Speak

The Texas Supreme Court this week upheld a state ruling that limits the practice of acupuncture to licensed physicians.

And the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the 1976 robbery conviction of former professional football player Warren Wells.

Short Snorts

Speaking figuratively, of course, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said the "bloodiest" struggle of the 66th session might well come over attempts to raise the home mortgage ceiling. But not a drop was spilled this week as House and Senate committees failed to act on legislation that would raise the home loan interest rate from 10 to 12 percent.

In the meantime, legislators appear to be sharpening their aim over the question of when to hold a presidential primary. The House Elections Committee met to discuss changing the dates of state primary elections but ended up spending most of their time arguing over a presidential primary.

House Speaker Bill Clayton and Hobby back a presidential primary in March with normal state primaries in July, shortening the campaign season. The State Democratic Executive Committee doesn't like it. Democratic National Chairman John C. White doesn't like it. GOP State Chairman Ray Barnhart doesn't like it. And one other Texas Republican isn't so hot about the idea—Bill Clements.

Q: My volunteer group is going to hold a fund-raising banquet for charitable purposes. Do we need to charge the sales tax on the tickets to the banquet as well as on the food when we serve it? A: If your organization is non-profit and the function is not a regularly scheduled one; and, if the function is not being held in an established restaurant or other eating place; and, if it's all volunteer -- you most likely will not have to collect any sales tax. To be absolutely certain, however, you may wish to check with the nearest district office of the State Comptroller.

fit? Can the father receive custody because of mental and physical abuse he has received from her? A: Despite the traditional reluctance of judges and juries to make the father managing conservator -- that is, the adult who has custody of the child -- the law in Texas has no preference.

The managing conservator must be a suitable, competent adult and the standard by which the choice is made is simply that the decision to choose one parent over another must be in the best interest of the child. Thus, the mother and the father are on equal footing. Mental or physical abuse is, of course, one of the factors that would be evaluated in deciding who should be chosen as managing conservator. Q: Does a private investigator or anyone else have the right to ask a bank or other business to make available the records of my payments on accounts? Shouldn't they have to get a court order or something? A: According to Texas law, a private investigator has no right to see your bank records nor does any other person without a court order. Internal Revenue Service has a process by which they can see bank records without a court order.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Since our severe weather has caused the flowering shrubs and bulbs to be late blooming, why not try to design an exciting foliage arrangement for your home. They are long lasting and don't try to conform to a stiff formality. It sets a style of its own, in the line, form, color, and texture of living plants. Before you begin to combine the plant material, identify the qualities that make a plant unique. Does it have a certain form, or an unexpected color, or a curiously textural leaf or a handsome line that will create a sense of flow within the composition? It's the interplay of mass and line and of color, form and texture that gives a foliage arrangement its grace and vitality.

Before you start collecting your material, you will need to give some thought to where the arrangement will be placed and how it will be seen. Too that will determine the size and the size determines the quality and character of the material you use. Also it needs to be in keeping with the general feeling of the arrangement and with the character of your room. It also needs to be heavy enough to keep arrangement from tipping over and large enough to hold a supply of water for several days. When all these have been determined, the most important thing to keep in mind is naturalism. To help you select the plants you need for a specific effect, refer to the lists below and there may be others in your garden.

Accent plant material-cluster mahonia, aucuba Fatsia Loquat-yellow edge California privet.

Deciduous line material-crepe myrtle, flowering dogwood, corkscrew willow, red twig and flowering dogwood, winged elm and euonymus and pussy willow.

Evergreen line material-Horsetail-showy jasmine, thorny eleagnus, willow leaf cotoneaster and Japanese yew.

Multi-purpose material-nandina-long leaf pine, luster leaf holly, southern magnolia, Virginia and white pine, and variegated pittosporum.

Mass plant material-Boxwood, burford holly, common camellia, photinia, Japanese pittosporum, scotch pine and sweet olive.

February is a good time to take cuttings of spring flowering trees and shrubs to force into bloom indoors. Make cuttings 6 to 20 inches long, and place them in water in a suitable container. Good materials for forcing include crabapple, red-bud, saucer magnolia, forsythia, flowering quince, pussy willow, and winter honeysuckle.

LOWELL LITTLETON'S CONDITION IMPROVES

Lowell Littleton is still undergoing therapy in a Houston hospital for a stroke suffered at his home here the first part of January. Doctors are very pleased with his rate of recovery. His speech has greatly improved as well as his handwriting ability and he is now able to take care of all his personal needs. While attending three speech therapy classes a day, he has managed a shopping trip and been able to go out for meals on weekends. He is in room 504, Methodist Hospital, Houston 77025. He also has a direct telephone, 713-790-3722.

Museum workshop held here

Glenda G. Morgan, Museum Field Consultant with the Texas Historical Commission from University of Texas Permain Basin, met with museum workers and committees here Thursday and Friday to hold a two-day workshop.

Thursday night she worked with the building and finance committees, while Friday was given to Education, research, acquisition, library, photograph exhibit and special events committees.

Hopefully the valuable information and training gained during the workshop will reflect in the continued growth of the Crockett County Museum.

Mrs. Morgan complimented the quality of the "Old Toy Exhibit," and gave many helpful suggestions for the display of quilts in the coming exhibit.

CORRECTION: The equipment donated to the hospital by the Ozona Womans Forum cost slightly less than $3,000, not $30,000 as stated in the cut lines under the picture in last week's paper.

Debra Says

Control family budget leaks and curb today's cost of living with an easy "classify-and-cut" system.

This takes time and self-discipline.

Design your own family budget plan to control "money leaks" and curb costs of everyday living, or try the "classify-and-cut" system below.

Study your spending and living habits.

Make lists of goods and services used everyday, weekly or monthly, and occasionally.

Next classify each item using a number 1, 2, or 3.

Use number 1 for goods and services which are necessities.

Use number 2 on items desirable for living.

Use number 3 for luxuries or needless item.

Study items classed as number 3.

Determine the dollar amount spent on these and figure their daily, monthly, or yearly costs.

Use self-discipline and cut some of these from present spending habits.

For greater cuts, review number 2 and number 1 items.

Decide whether you buy or use excessive amounts--or waste some of them.

Decide, also, if you shop around for the best prices.

Other keys to curbing costs of everyday living are:

Simplify your lifestyle--live with the basics and skip more luxuries.

Constantly recognize and reduce loss or waste.

Capitalize on your human resource. Learn and practice do-it-yourself skills.

MUFFINS

2 cups sifted flour

2 tablespoons sugar

3 teaspoons baking powder

3 tbs. melted shortening
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup milk

In bowl, combine flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Combine egg, milk, and shortening. Add all at once to dry ingredients. Stir quickly just until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 12 muffins. Unmelted shortening may be cut into dry ingredients if desired.

Blueberry Muffins

Add 1 fresh or canned or frozen blueberries, drained, to muffin batter. Proceed as above.

Raisin Muffins

Add 3/4 cup raisins or finely chopped dates to dry ingredients. Proceed as above.

ONION SOUR CREAM DIP

2 cups low-fat cottage cheese

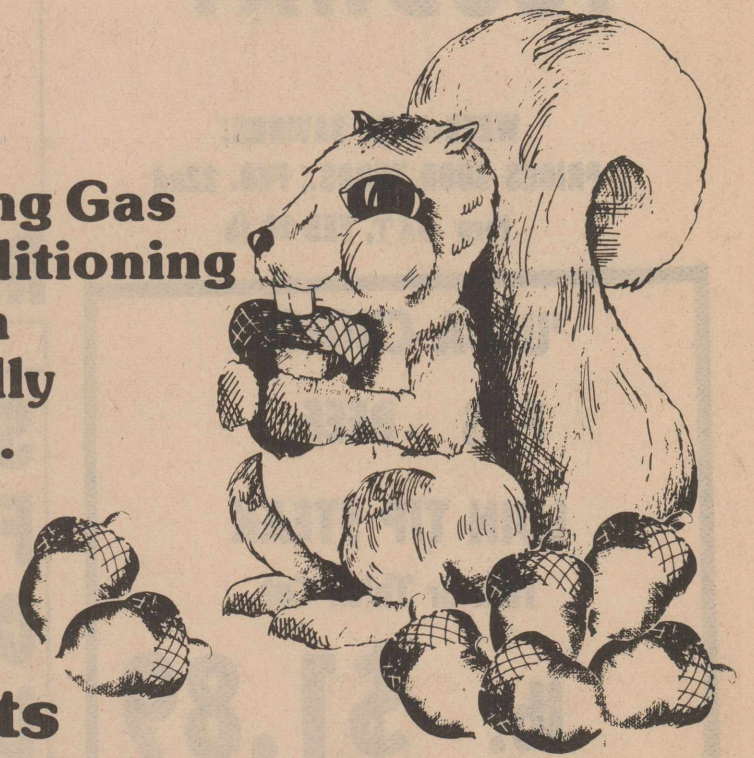

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
2-4 tablespoons skim milk
1 envelope dehydrated onion soup mix

Place cottage cheese, lemon juice, salt and skim milk in blender. Blend 20 seconds. Place in bowl and stir in soup mix. Set 15 minutes in refrigerator before serving. Yield: about 2 cups.

You can learn more than spelling while playing with blocks. You can also learn how good and evil are the results of the choices we make.

HAT could have been HATE. And LOVE would then have been incomplete. It all depends on where you put one block.

People who realize the tremendous importance of seemingly small choices want their children to acquire a sense of spiritual responsibility. The churches serving our community respect and fulfill that vital need through religious education and moral training.

When we grow up and put away our blocks, those same churches provide the spiritual foundation on which we build a life of decision-making.

Texas breaks hospitality records for year of 1978

Texas broke all records in the hospitality business during 1978, which took some doing because the state has been in the business for more than 40 years.

A record 2,117,277 travelers were served by Texas' 11 tourist bureaus last year, according to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation that has operated the facilities since their inception as adobe and log-cabin huts in 1936.

Open seven days a week except for a three-day Christmas break, Texas Tourist Bureaus on an average day during 1978 hosted 5,849 travelers, all of them clamoring for maps, literature and information about where to go, what to see and do in the Lone Star State. Professional travel counselors were glad to comply.

On an average day the average counselor greeted 71 visitor parties composed of 214 persons, explained the best route from there to wherever, told about points of interest along the way, handed out 714 pieces of travel literature, and wished a pleasant trip with the mandatory tag line: "Y'all come back." She tied up each such travel package in six minutes, 43 seconds flat.. the time it takes to serve 71 visitor parties during an eight-hour shift.

Search on for state's rural hero

Some deserving individual who has performed an act of exceptional bravery during a time of crisis will receive the 1978 Rural Heroism Award sponsored by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

The council sponsors the annual award program to help promote safety in rural areas, notes Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and vice president for farm and ranch with the Texas Safety Association.

Anyone aware of an individual who risked his or her life to save another is asked to submit a nomination. All entries must be submitted by Mar. 5 to the Rural Heroism Award Committee, Texas Farm and Ranch Council, P.O. Box 489, Waco, Tx. 76703.

According to Nelson, the heroic act or deed must have occurred in Texas during 1978 and should be related to farming or ranching operations.

Nominations should include a written account of the incident and names, addresses and phone numbers of all persons involved. Newspaper clippings and pictures should also accompany nominations if available.

The 1978 Rural Heroism Award will be presented at the opening general session of the 40th Annual Texas Safety Conference and Exposition, Mar. 25-28, at the Shamrock Hilton in Houston.

Texas travel counselors, does it in even less time. Partly because Martha has been doing it for 22 years. From her tourist bureau on Interstate 10 at Orange, Martha has the routes and distances to virtually every Texas locality memorized.

It's a good thing, because tourists don't really arrive in average numbers at every bureau. The tourist bureau at Orange is the state's busiest, and ended 1978 by hosting more than twice as many visitors as did some others.

While speed is necessary when the eager tourists are standing in line, it isn't the primary objective at state tourist bureaus. Travel service rendered in a few minutes represents response to demand that has more than doubled during the past 10 years; the combined Texas Tourist Bureaus in 1968 served "only" 981,000 people.

Now as then, the fundamental goal of state tourist bureaus is the exercise of Texas hospitality. It involves a three-part formula: 1) The welcome. "We're glad you're here!" 2) "Here's how to enjoy your trip" (requiring encyclopedic knowledge of Texas plus a large portion of genuine human interest), and 3) "Y'all come back!"

In applying the formula over the course of a year, Martha and her statewide associates will hand out and mail some 7.2 million pieces of Texas literature. With unflagging enthusiasm, they'll recite the distance to Dallas, to Houston, to San Antonio and to Corpus Christi, over and over again. They'll talk about wild orchids in the Big Thicket and wild burros in Big Bend, about where to swim, fish, hike and play.

Results are measured by questionnaires returned yearly from more than 30,000 tourist parties who've had the Texas hospitality treatment at state tourist bureaus. The surveys show that bureau visitors stay in Texas longer, travel wider, discover features they wouldn't have known about, and most of all, retain a feeling of Texas hospitality throughout their trip.

Thus, contributing to their own workload for next year, when Martha Shapiro and her cohorts say "Y'all come back"...those obliging visitors usually do!

SPORTS FANS!

By Jerry Lay

The longest basketball game in history, in either high school, college or pro competition, was played by 2 North Carolina high schools a few years ago when Marners High defeated Angier High in a game that went through—believe it or not—13 overtime periods!

Did you know there was once an owner of a sports team who fired his team but kept the coach! Usually it works the other way...But when Ned Doyle owned Miami of the American Basketball Association, his team had a bad year in 1969-70, so he got all new players for the next season, but kept his coach, Hal Blitman.. That's probably the only time that's happened in professional sports history.

Do you have any idea how many miles a player runs during a basketball game?...It's been estimated that the average regular in the National Basketball Association runs about 5 1/2 miles up and down the court in each game!

I bet you didn't know... L-B Motors is the place to go to select the car or pickup of your choice. Pick from our line of Chevrolets, Oldsmobiles, Cadillacs, Buicks and Pontiacs. See Jerry Lay or one of the boys.

Activities Program Director

We lost a dear friend over the weekend. Frances Tolson, long-time resident of the Center passed away on Saturday.

Frances, who would have been ninety years of age in April, had surgery last Wednesday in San Angelo. We will miss her. She was always cheerful and ready to participate in all our activities. She was indeed, an example to us all in her deep and abiding faith as a Christian. She loved a joke and never complained. We sympathize with her family.

Volunteers for the past two weeks have been Velma Marley, Casiana, James and Rosa Fierro, Blanche Walker, Alda DeHoyos, Irma Galindo, Nana Fierro, Martha Flores, Liz Mary Pipes, Doris Karr, Georgia Kirby, Mattie Cooper, Micky Arredondo, Alice Ross and Glenda Winkley. Junior Auxiliary: Yvette Martinez, Deniese Hedrick, Melissa Layman, Tasha and Phillis Light.

Tuesday night bingo was in charge of Nana Fierro and she took along Valentine refreshments for the group. The next day we received a lovely cake from Alma James, and each resident received beautifully decorated cakes from our radio station. Mrs. John Patrick recently brought in all kinds of things from Avon. We appreciate our friends so much.

Wednesday afternoon we were honored by a group of 4-H girls and their leaders, Mrs. Comer, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. McPherson, who came in and gave us a lovely Valentine's Day party. They served mouth watering cookies and punch, entertained us with piano solos and happy songs. They involved every resident in a game, and handed out cards to everyone. The girls were from 9 to 13 years of age and were very gracious and thoughtful hostesses. They had gone to no end of trouble to make this a very special day for our residents. Thanks to you all.

On Thursday afternoon Glenda Winkley showed a film. Friday morning we had bingo with Mike Pena winning the gift certificate after a runoff with Eleanor Bradford who won second prize for the second week in a row!

We had the same combination for winners of dominoes on Monday--Mike and Eleanor. The partnership of Ruby Cooksey and Leona Harris won forty-two after a close game with Paul Cavin and Eleanor Yeager. In "Toss Across" Gertrude Daniels beat Juana Hernandez by one game, then Opal Eversole challenged Gertrude and the game was tied as we broke up for lunch.

Going back to Friday, we really had a busy day because after morning bingo, our reading group met in the afternoon and then, since everyone was feeling so peppy, I stayed on and organized two foursomes of dominoes after supper, and I bet insomnia was not a problem that night!

Lorene Cade transferred to the hospital Friday, but I see she is walking around, today, so we think all must be OK.

A new resident moved into Room 207 Monday morning and his name is Shack Bonnell, but he prefers to be called "Pops". Since he once lived in Iraan we discovered that he and Opal Eversole are well acquainted. He has a daughter living nearby in Big Lake. Happy to have you, Pops!

As this goes to press, I will be attending the quarterly meeting and workshop for Activities Directors at Park Plaza Nursing Center in San Angelo. It is always interesting to visit in other nursing homes.

December bond sales

December sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in Crockett County were reported today by County Bond Chairman Lowell Littleton. Sales for the twelfth-month period totaled $911 for 72% of the 1978 sales goal of $30,000.

Texas sales during the month amounted to $23,849,667, while sales for the first twelve months of 1978 totaled $304,168,293 with 99% of the yearly sales goal of 306.6 million achieved.

Public Notice

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF CROCKETT HEIGHTS

The Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District #1 has been notified by the Texas Department of Health that the water being supplied in the Crockett Heights area by the system exceeds the maximum constituent level for Fluoride established by the Department's "Drinking Water Standards" which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act," Public Law 93-523 (U.S.).

The limit for this area has been set at 1.6 milligrams of Fluoride per liter of water. The samples of water from the system in the Crockett Heights area contained 2.1 milligrams of Fluoride per liter. There is no immediate health hazard for drinking water containing Fluoride at this level.

The excessive Fluoride content of the water may cause mottling of the teeth in children under 14 years of age.

All dentists in this area are aware of the Fluoride level. The Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District #1 has applied to the Texas Department of Health for either a variance or exemption from the Fluoride requirement while they search for alternate sources of supply and investigate available treatment techniques to lower the Fluoride to allowable levels. 50-3tc

The 66th Legislature has gotten under way, and from now until May 28, the State Capitol will be the scene of many a legislative battle.

This first month has mainly been devoted to getting organized. Bill Clayton was elected to his third term as Speaker, and I was privileged to give the first seconding speech to his nomination. Governor Clements was inaugurated in a very impressive ceremony. In addition, there was a variety of inaugural festivities that were all well planned and very gala.

House Committees were named and have now begun their work. I will be serving as Chairman of the Elections Committee, Vice-Chairman of the Calendars Committee, and member of the Agriculture and Livestock Committee.

Although almost 800 bills have already been introduced in the House, it is expected that over 3,000 will have finally been introduced by the end of the session.

Most of the time, effort, and energy during this session will be spent on money matters. How much of the state surplus will be returned to the taxpayers via tax relief, how much will be spent to run our state for the next two years, and how much will be used to finance our public schools are all major questions that must be answered.

As always, I welcome and urge your participation in the process by sharing with me your views, suggestions, and comments. I can be reached at (512) 475-2763 or P.O. Box 2910, Austin, Texas 78769. Mrs. Jean Kindle, who has been with me since I began my legislative service, will be glad to help you in the event that I am in committee or in session on the floor of the House. Also, this year we have Mrs. Jane Hall assisting us; and Jane will do whatever she can to lend support.

If you get to Austin during the session, please come by my office in the Capitol for a visit and a cup of coffee. Thanks to my seniority, I was able to move into a larger, nicer office this year; and I'd love to show it off!

by calling a toll-free telephone number: 800-252-9639. The service, provided by the Legislative Reference Library, is available Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Bills are listed by both subject and author. Also available through the telephone service are committee schedules and membership, House calendar, Senate agenda, legislators' office and telephone numbers, and the memberships of state boards and commissions.

Touch Calling (push-button) telephones are available in Ozona, according to Mike Sydiskis, San Angelo Division manager for General Telephone.

Touch Calling lets the customer push buttons instead of twirl a dial. Studies show that fewer dialing errors are made with Touch Calling and it is faster and easier. Customers wanting the service should make their requests to the business office.

Recent developments in equipment have made it possible to provide Touch Calling telephones to customers upon request at a reasonable cost to both customer and company. The new equipment uses little valuable switching office space and requires shorter installation time than was previously possible.

Touch Calling will be available to residential and business customers for an additional monthly charge dependent upon the style of telephone selected.

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY was the theme for the Ozona Womans Forum Buffet this year. Held Sunday at the Civic Center, Mrs. C.O. Spencer and Mrs. C.O. Walker, greet guests and take tickets beneath this arbor of spring flowers and greenery. The foyer and the auditorium where the meal was served were decorated with multi-colored posies in a southern tradition.

4-Hers exhibit at livestock show

Four Crockett County 4-H members exhibited livestock at the recent San Antonio Livestock Show. Marty and Bobbie Acton showed lambs and Becky and Bubba Everett exhibited barrows. Bobbie Acton placed 15th with her lamb and sold it for $160.00. Becky placed her barrows 5th and 17th, and sold them in the premium sale for 75c per pound.

Sixteen 4-H members from Ozona will be participating in the 1979 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, February 21-March 4. With more than 27,800 expected livestock entries, the Houston Show will once again be the largest in the world.

Twenty-four lambs, six steer and three barrows will be shown in the Houston Stock Show by the following: Will M. Black, Sue Ellen Black, Dan Bean, Wade Beasley, Becky Everett, Bubba Everett, Melinda Hokit, Cliff McMullan, Julie Reager, Vickie Reager, Louis Bunger, Jena Allen, Jody Everett, Ed Hale, Les Hale, and Jody Naron.

For junior exhibitors throughout the state, the Houston Show is the culmination of a year's hard work of preparing their animals for the toughest of show ring competition. It is hard work that often pays off: open show and junior exhibitors will vie for more than half a million dollars in prize monies and premium auction prices above market value.

From a spectator's point of view, the young exhibitors are center-stage in a two-week extravaganza that begins when Houston, the fastest growing city in the nation, takes a step backwards in time and brings a bit of western heritage to its busy streets.

Horses, buckboards and stagecoaches take to the concrete and businessmen don western hats and boots to welcome the largest civic event in the history of this bustling oil and space flight capital.

More than 6,000 trailriders journeying as far as 380 miles will join city officials and bands as the annual rodeo parade winds through the canyons of downtown streets at 9:15 a.m. on Friday, February 23.

Following the parade, the action moves farther out Main Street to the Astrodome and the adjoining Livestock Exposition Facilities where the rodeo opens with a matinee performance in the Astrodome at 2 p.m.

Services for Sanchez infant

Services for Ruben Sanchez, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Sanchez, were held at 2 p.m. Thursday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church with burial in Lima Cemetery under the direction of Sheppard Funeral Home.

The child was pronounced dead on arrival at Crockett County Hospital Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 13. He was born January 10, 1979 in a San Angelo hospital.

Survivors include his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanchez of Ozona, Mrs. Teresa Arrendondo of Ozona and Charlie Castro of the U.S. Air Force.

Crockett Hts water Fluoride level up

The Crockett County Water District, which serves Crockett Heights addition as well as Ozona with water service, has been notified that the water being supplied to Crockett Heights contains a slightly higher Fluoride level than allowed by the state limit.

The limit for the area has been set at 1.6 milligrams per liter, and the samples taken contained 2.1 milligrams per liter.

District officials have been assured there is no immediate health hazard for drinking water containing Fluoride at this level, but the water may cause mottling of the teeth in children under 14 years of age. Dentists in the area have been advised of the Fluoride level as well as residents of the area.

Officials of the Water District were quick to point out the slightly higher Fluoride content was found only in water in the Crockett Heights area and not in any other area served by the district.

Since the late 1950's, the rate of divorce for couples with children is greater than for childless couples.

Avoid octopus electrical connections--have plenty of wall outlets for lamps and appliances.

How to select ground beef

Consider use when choosing ground beef, Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist recommends.

Ground beef is marketed at three different levels. Ground beef with not less than 70 percent lean, which constitutes the regular grind, is a favorite for beef burgers, sloppy Joes, chili and spaghetti.

Ground beef with not less than 75 percent lean is selected for meat loaf, meat balls, tamale pie, noodle and rice casseroles.

Lean ground beef with not less than 80 percent lean is excellent for low-calorie diets, beef patties and combination dishes.

THANK YOU!

The members of the Crockett County CSD School Board want to express their appreciation to the citizens of Crockett County for their much displayed patience and understanding, while a building program and renovation program has been in progress for the past sixteen months throughout our entire school system.

We want to give an extra special thanks to the parents, students, and teachers for their cooperation through these difficult times. We realize that it has not been easy or convenient for anyone, but, as usual, the people of Crockett County have patiently waited through many problems encountered by the construction people.

Our current status in the building and renovation program leaves only the new Intermediate School unoccupied at this time, and hopefully we will be able to move into this building sometime during the first half of March. All other buildings in our schedule for construction and renovation during the past sixteen months have been accepted by the board as being substantially completed and are in use at this time.

It is the intention of the school board not to accept any building or facility as one hundred per cent complete until our architect and the board is certain that the specifications used in the building and renovation program have been followed completely as to quality of work done.

This past Monday, we have occupied four new classrooms and four temporary classrooms at the Primary School in order to house K-2. In March, we anticipate occupying the new Intermediate School (3-5) and also occupying the old Intermediate School with a Junior High School program made up of sixth, seventh, and eighth graders.

With several moves and changes still to take place, obviously we will continue to need your patience and cooperation.

WE ESPECIALLY WANT TO THANK THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS AND THE MEMBERS OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH AND THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH FOR THE USE OF THEIR FACILITIES FOR THE PAST FIVE MONTHS. THERE IS NO WAY WE COULD HAVE FOUND MEANS WITHOUT THE IMMEDIATE AND CONTINUED RESPONSE OF THESE TWO CHURCHES. WE ARE FOREVER INDEBTED TO THEM! ANOTHER "THANKS" GOES TO OTHER CHURCHES WHO SO GRACIOUSLY OFFERED THEIR FACILITIES.

It was unfortunate that the fire destroyed the twelve classrooms at the Primary School in their later stages of renovation, and, of course, this did compound the normal problems one would expect during a building and renovation program. Plans and specifications are being drawn to rebuild that portion of Ozona Primary School and perhaps construction can begin sometime in May.

It is possible that before school is out, we can have a series of "Open Houses" at all of our locations and give everybody an opportunity to visit all of our new and renovated facilities.

Respectfully,

Joe Bean, President

Music man held over in Midland

"The Music Man", Meredith Wilson's long-running musical comedy, will be held over for four extra performances at Theatre Midland Feb. 28 - March 3.

Curtains have been scheduled at 7:30 p.m. for Feb. 28 and March 1, while 8:30 p.m. will be the starting time for the March 2 and 3 shows.

Tickets are also available for the special Sunday matinee on Feb. 25. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

"The Music Man", one of the most popular shows in American stage history, ran for more than three years on Broadway in the late 1950's.

Jim Salners plays the incomparable "Prof. Harold Hill", the lovable con man who makes his living by dazzling small town people into letting him form a boys' band, and then making off with money they've given him to buy instruments, uniforms and instruction books.

Paula Cahoon plays the stand-offish librarian that causes "Prof. Hill's" plans to backfire in Iowa City.

The Theatre Midland box office is open 10-5:00 daily. Ticket reservations can be made for these four holdover performances and the special Sunday matinee by calling 682-4111.

Change habits and lose pounds

Families can avoid the hazards of overweight by taking off extra pounds, according to a new letter series on weight control--currently offered to Crockett County residents by the County Extension Agent.

Families can change eating habits that cause overeating and this letter series tells them how.
