Kitty's Korner

by
Kitty Montgomery

We're all back to work around here after attending the Texas Press Association summer meeting in San Angelo over the weekend. Don't know that all the knowledge we picked up could ever be applied to our small operation, but we enjoyed the fellowship, shop talk and had lots of fun in the bargain. It's always enjoyable to renew acquaintances, and the semi-annual meetings are about the only time we are able to do this with newspaper people. We talk the same language and understand the problems which come up regularly each week.

In fact one speaker suggested we cut out newspaper talk when talking to advertisers. For instance, he suggested, hardly anyone outside the newspaper business knew what a column inch, a pica, bold face, an agate line, etc. was. He suggested we use layman's terms, however, he didn't tell us how. After pondering this for some time, I decided that while other newspaper advertisers might not know what a column inch was, mine all did. As for substituting 1 and 5/8 inches for 9/4 picas when talking column width, I decided one was just as confusing as the other. So, we'll just blunder along as we have in the past until someone comes up with a solution to the communication gap. It's really been no problem for us, but then I've always known our advertisers were just a little sharper than anyone else's.

This same speaker, who kept the audience entertained throughout his dissertation, suggested we might be taking license too often in abbreviating and using initials in headlines. He suggested J4 for July Fourth, CD for Christmas Day, and NYE for New Year's Eve, just might get us in trouble on Valentines Day.

All in all the seminar was interesting and we came away with many new and good ideas and lots of resolutions to do better. However, here we are behind the deadline and it's the same old "do the best you can, as fast as you can," attitude which always prevails after the deadline has past and time is of the essence. CUNW, we're out of time.

Commissioners face varied agenda

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday morning with a hodgepodge of items on the agenda which ranged from a request from an oil company representative to decrease taxes to a request for a new deputy sheriff, with those making the request to pay half the salary.

John Mackle of Houston, the tax representative for Shell Oil Co., asked for a 15c decrease in county taxes in view of the large surplus carried over by the county and the projected large increase in taxes for next year's budget.

Mackle made a good case for a tax cut, but met with firm opposition from the court as well as the county auditor, Judge Johnny Jones pointed out the increase in valuations was about the same percent as the expected rise in inflation and county road repair and the hospital had created a bigger drain than expected on the county budget.

Auditor Kirby said the surplus would be used mainly to rebuild the burned primary school and would leave the school tax fund without a surplus. Mackle said his company was not in the business of paying taxes and that the county is not in the business of making a profit, and he felt there was ample room for at least a 10c decrease.

No decrease was granted, but there was no mention of an increase, so that could be construed as good news for Crockett County taxpayers. The tax rate has not been set as yet.

The public hearing for proposed budget amendments for Federal Revenue Sharing Funds was held at 10:00 a.m. as scheduled. Since there was no public objection, the amended budget was passed as proposed, with all members of the court voting "for."

Kirby said the Federal Revenue Sharing Funds for this year would be $123,000. The court has proposed to spend $50,000 of this amount for the care center bonds, $12,000 for law enforcement vehicles, $20,000 for water control equipment and $8,000 for a vehicle for the county agent. Some discussion was held on the remaining $33,000 and it was decided to use this amount for dump ground equipment.

Tom Mitchell and Larry Walker appeared before the court to ask that a new deputy be hired for the sheriff's department, with the Circle Bar Truck Corral paying half the salary and that he be on duty at the truck facility three days a week, with a car furnished on the grounds. Mitchell proposed the deputy be under the direction of Sheriff Billy Mills and accountable only to the sheriff. He went on to explain extra law enforcement was needed at the facility, especially at night and on the weekends.

It was the general opinion of the court that the county can not mingle or go in partners with the private sector in the area of law enforcement. The court seemed to be agreeable to hiring another night deputy if necessary, but said they had no objections to Mitchell hiring members of the force during their free time, provided Sheriff Mills was agreeable. Sheriff Mills was expected at the meeting, but had not arrived by the noon recess.

The matter was to be brought up again during the afternoon session, but when nobody appeared Judge Jones telephoned the truck corral and Walker told him they had agreed with Sheriff Mills to hire his deputies on their off-days.

Mitchell also requested repair of the county road which gives access to his facility. The court instructed Road Department head Von Parker to repair the road as soon as possible, when he appeared before noon to ask that the county consider the purchase of a portatank to replace the old asphalt tanks now being used for paving.

E.L. Kirklen, hospital administrator, brought the hospital report and informed the court that the new doctor, Dr. Patrick Dwyer, had been to Ozona and indicated a desire to practice here. He said as soon as some technicality in his application was cleared up, he would be approved. He also said Dr. Dwyer had called him that morning asking that he check on his apartment and had indicated he planned to be in Ozona on or around Sept. 1.

Kirklen also told the court Dr. Owensby wanted to get back into eye-glass fitting when the new doctor arrives and wanted to move his office to Dr. Blanton's former office and give his present office to Dwyer. He submitted a bill for improvements to the old office.

The court agreed to repair and make any repairs, but turned down funds for any remodeling or refurbishing of the two offices, reminding Kirklen the facilities were given rent-free.

The court approved a transfer of $75,000 to the hospital and $35,000 to the care center from the general funds. Kirby reported both facilities had greatly exceeded the budget, reporting that this far in the year the hospital had a deficit of $135,000 and the care center a deficit of $60,000, adding that five months still remain in the year.

Some discussion followed on the rising costs of hospital operation. Kirklen outlined some plans for cutting costs.

Several items were approved after the commissioners returned from a noon recess. Kirby submitted amounts of the re-invested certificates of deposit, and asked permission, on behalf of the tax assessor-collector to publish the delinquent tax roll. Both items were approved.

Some discussion was held on the collection of delinquent taxes and the process involved.

The court voted to do away with Box 5, in voting precinct 2, as requested by those who held the elections.

The final item on the agenda concerned the district and county clerk's office. Mrs. Jean North, who was appointed last month by the court to replace long-time clerk Leta Powell, asked to be relieved of her duties as soon as a replacement could be found. Asked if she would serve out the term to which she was appointed if experienced help could be found, she replied she had rather not. She told the court that competent help was too difficult to find and it just involved too much responsibility. Mrs. North, who worked twelve years in the office under Miss Powell discussed the pay scale for extra help with the court. At present Sybil Browning, deputy clerk at Rankin, is driving over to assist with district records two days a week. Bud Meinecke, who was hired several months ago, is working full time in the office. Mrs. Jerry Hayes has been employed on a part time basis and an assistant bookkeeper has been hired for two days a week.

A SMALL TURNOUT of Ozonans visited with U.S. Congressman Tom Loeffler Monday morning at the Civic Center for a question-answer session on national politics. Loeffler was making a tour of his district while Congress is in recess. The Loeffler entourage left Ozona by automobile for Sanderson where another meeting was scheduled. Those who visited with the congressman were impressed with his straight-forward answers to their various questions.

Rain brings total up

Weekend rainfall amounted to .18 of an inch of moisture according to the official gauge at the Water District office. However, unofficial reports of up to .50 inch were received from around the county.

Reports of up to two inches were common when rain fell most of the day on the first day of August. However, the official gauge recorded a total of .75 of an inch for that period, bringing the official rainfall for August to .93 of an inch.

Les Hale winner of Rutherford Award

First place winner in the boys division of the 1979 J.T. Rutherford Achievement Program was Les Hale, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Hale of Ozona. Les has been active in 4-H Club work for eight years with projects in horses, sheep, beef and veterinary science. He has served as a club officer and is a member of the county, district, and state 4-H council. Les has also participated in stock shows, Texas 4-H Congress, Texas 4-H Council Workshops and the District and State 4-H Horse Show in the judged and breakaway roping events.

Winners for 1979 were selected in the 24th Annual J.T. Rutherford 4-H Achievement Award Program during the District 6 4-H Record Judging held in Fort Stockton on July 31. Thirteen entries came from eight different counties. Former U.S. Congressman from the 16th Congressional District of Texas, Mr. J.T. Rutherford, has sponsored this 4-H Achievement Program since 1955 to honor outstanding 4-H Club girls and boys based upon their 4-H records. Each of the winners receives a 4-H achievement medal and a large rotating trophy is presented to the high achieving 4-H girl and boy. The county that gets three different 4-H members' names on a trophy retains permanent possession of the trophy.

Crockett County oil activity stepped up

Cities Service Co., Midland, will drill the No. 1 University-BZ, a 9,600-foot gas wildcat in Crockett County, 3/4 mile southwest of the depleted Wolfcamp gas opener and lone producer from that pay in the Ozona, Southwest (Strawn gas and Clearfork oil and gas) field, 3/4-mile northeast of its No. 1 University-BW, active wildcat, 3/4 mile northeast of its No. 1 University-BX, scheduled wildcat, four miles east and slightly south of the Pennsylvania gas opener and 5 3/8-miles southeast of Canyon gas production in the Howards Creek field, 15 miles southwest of Ozona. Location is 1,320 feet from the north and west lines of 15-32-University.

First place winner in the girls division of the 1979 J.T. Rutherford Achievement Program was Rainy Calhoun, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Calhoun of Midland; Midland County.

Gas & Oil boosts county's economy

The sale of crude oil and natural gas from Crockett County wells in 1978 boosted the county economy and accounted for $154.1-million of the $17.1-billion value placed on Texas production last year, according to Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

In a report on the economic impact of oil and gas industry operations in the top producing counties of Texas, the Dallas-based Association said the county ranked 27th among the 202 counties having marketed production valued at $100,000 or more, not including the sale of natural gas liquids.

The county's wells produced five-million barrels of crude oil, valued at $46.9-million, and 106.1-million Mcfs of natural gas, valued at $107.2-million. Owners of royalty in the county received $19.3-million as their share of the output, the Association said.

"Considering the shortfall in total U.S. petroleum production relative to our nation's energy needs, production from every Texas county is more vitally important today than ever before," said the Association's president, H.B. (Hank) Harkins of Alice, an independent producer and drilling contractor.

In addition to paying local, county, and state property taxes, producers in the county also supported state government through production tax payments estimated at $10.2-million, according to the Association. Crude oil taxes amounted to $2.2-million, while natural gas levies totaled $8-million.

Based on Texas Employment Commission figures, some 444 oil and gas industry employees in the county received wages of about $5.2 million in 1978.

In the search for new petroleum reserves in the county, oil and gas operators spent a reported $64.5 million in the drilling of 370 wells, including 33 wildcat, or exploratory, wells. This effort resulted in the completion of 115 oil wells and 200 gas wells, although some $6.5-million was lost in the drilling of 55 dry holes.

Petroleum processing also contributed to the county economy, with nine natural gasoline plants, having a total daily capacity of 190.2 million cubic feet of natural gas, in operation.

Reserve seats now

Ozona Lion football fans who wish to reserve the same seats for home games they had last year need to notify the Superintendent's office by August 22.

After that date, reserve seat tickets will be on sale on a first come, first serve basis.

OZONA FIREMEN IN ACTION-It took the local volunteer force exactly eight minutes from fire station and back to put the fire in this late model Lincoln Monday afternoon about 2:00 p.m. In front of the Village Drug. The car belonged to Joe Tobar and Mrs. Tobar was driving. She said she started the motor and it died and when she started it again it caught fire. Firemen are Steve Kenley and Jerry Hill.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

After the rains of the last few weeks, I feel sure most everyone is trying to cope with the problem of getting rid of fast growing weeds in yards, vacant lots and alleys. Destroying weeds immediately will help control an upsurge of mesquitos. Also all containers or cans around the place should be emptied to prevent stagnant water. Please help in this effort.

Daily, the public and each individual is urged to help protect our beautiful parks, highways and countryside from fire, litter, and vandalism. Here in Ozona the county makes it possible to have these parks for everyone to enjoy and use. Litter barrels are placed in each, and in convenient places along the streets, yet many fail to realize the importance of seeing that litter is placed in these barrels. It would save many hours of work each day cleaning up the litter. Hours that might be spent on improving the conveniences furnished for public pleasure and use. Also, if everyone would see that the vacant lots and alleys were mowed and cleaned, many fires would be prevented during this dry summer. What a difference our concern could make in such a short time.

Some do and don'ts hints for gardeners:

Do-Follow a regular feeding program for plants, trees and shrubs.

When using commercial fertilizer, always follow the directions.

Feed plants while they are making buds.

Feed plants after pruning to cause good growth.

Feed plants after they finish blooming to replace food they have used in making blossoms.

Follow a regular watering schedule both summer and winter.

Remember, nothing will take the place of regular care and cultivation.

Don't-Overfeed plants. Don't apply plant food without knowing what food is needed.

Hidden sugars and fats in the diet

Did you consume 102 pounds of sugar last year? and not know it? Or 15 pounds of salt?

Probably you did, says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Most Americans did--and unknowingly gained weight. In fact, researchers say we're eating and drinking more sugar, salt, fats and meat each year.

We get much more sugar and salt from processed foods and beverages, Mrs. Sweeten says.

We don't realize how much we're getting, because we don't stop to read labels, she adds.

For example, studies show that each of us consumed about 102 pounds of sugar last year.

That equals about eight or nine pounds of sugar each month--per person.

Most of that sugar was syrups and sugars in processed foods and beverages.

Our dietary fat increased because we ate more salad oils and cooking oils.

What's the verdict on all this?

Not too bright, Mrs. Sweeten cautions.

This trend is linked to nutrition-related problems such as obesity.

Too much of any food will make you gain weight.

Debra Says

by Debra Price

Pickle the extra okra from your home garden or roadside vegetable stand that you do not freeze or use fresh. Pickled okra is a favorite for many Texas families and adds zest to meals.

Select tender pods which are uniform in size. Wash thoroughly to prepare for pickling.

Here's how to pickle okra:

DILLED OKRA
3 pounds uncut and washed young okra pods
Celery leaves
6 small hot red peppers
Cloves of garlic
Large heads of dill and stems, or 1/2 teaspoon dill seed per pint
1 quart water
1 pint white vinegar
1/2 cup salt

Pack okra into hot pint jars with a few celery leaves, pod of pepper, clove of garlic and head of dill or dill seed in each jar.

Make brine of water, vinegar and salt. Heat to boiling. Pour over okra.

Process in boiling water bath by placing in a large kettle of boiling water to which a little cold water--about one cup--has been added to lower the temperature only slightly.

The kettle should have a rack to hold the jars off the bottom and be deep enough for the water to come over the jars one to two inches with a remaining head space of one to two inches. It should also have a tight-fitting lid.

Process the okra for 20 minutes. Start to count processing time as soon as hot jars are placed in actively boiling water.

Remove jars and place on a rack to cool out of a draft. The next day after processing, remove rings. Wash and dry jars and store in cool place.

Note: The okra will be shriveled immediately after removal from the water bath, but after several days will absorb the liquid and become plump once again.

Don't grow the same kind of plants in the same location year after year without replacing the soil or adding food.

Don't feed plants that look sick. Plants need to recover before being fed heavily. Keep well watered and when it begins to revive apply food gradually.

Don't think plants can be set out and left to take care of themselves.

Don't feed plants after being damaged by freezing. Keep well watered and allow to recover before feeding.

Don't forget to take a pail of water along so that the ends of flowers may be plunged immediately into water after cutting. The best time for cutting is early morning or late evening.

New provisions for income tax

In planning their income tax strategies for 1979, farmers and ranchers should consider new tax provisions. Numerous changes due to the 1978 Revenue Act can affect income tax planning, points out Dr. Ashley Lovell, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Aircraft owners use tax is due

Civil aircraft owners are required to file Form 4638 and pay any federal use tax due by August 31, 1979, the Internal Revenue Service said.

When filing Form 4638, taxpayers must include the $25 annual fee for each aircraft plus the tax of 3 1/2 cents for each pound of maximum certificated take-off weight for turbine powered aircraft and 2 cents for each pound of maximum certified take-off weight over 2,500 pounds for piston powered aircraft.

The tax year for the use tax begins July 1 and continues through June 30, of the following year, the IRS said. If the first taxable use of an aircraft is after July 31, 1979, the tax based on weight is prorated by month.

Form 4638 and the free IRS Publication 582, "Federal Use Tax on Civil Aircraft," are available free from local IRS offices.

For example, owners of single-purpose livestock, poultry or horticultural structures are eligible for investment credit beginning with tax years ending after Aug. 15, 1971. This includes buildings used to breed chickens or hogs, produce milk from dairy cattle, and produce feeder cattle or pigs, broiler chickens and eggs. The investment credit rate is 10 percent on fully qualifying items, including up to $100,000 of used property in any tax year.

According to Lovell, the law also allows a 10 percent investment credit for rehabilitation of existing buildings used in all types of businesses, except residential. Expenditures must have been made after Oct. 31, 1978 on buildings in use for at least 20 years. Of course, it's important to depreciate rehabilitation costs.

As a result of the Revenue Act, cost-sharing payments after Sept. 30, 1979 from conservation programs may be excluded from gross income. These programs qualify: Emergency Conservation, Agricultural Conservation, Great Plains Conservation, Rural Clean Water, Rural Abandoned Mine, Water Bank, Resource Conservation and Development, Forestry Incentive and Small Watershed. Also included are certain state conservation programs.

Before deciding to exclude income from those programs from gross income, Lovell encourages investigation of basis adjustment, investment credit, depreciation, impact upon recipient's income, and recapture provisions under the 1978 Revenue Act. Also, determine the necessity for timing the receipt of such payments.

Farmers and ranchers should also take a look at the Energy Act of 1978 which provides for a refundable energy credit for business investment in solar and wind energy property acquired or constructed after Sept. 30, 1978. The credit equals 10 percent of the qualified investment in solar or wind energy property.

The Energy Act also allows for tax credit on energy-saving home improvements installed during 1979. A 15 percent credit (up to $300) can be claimed for such items as insulation, exterior storm (or thermal) windows, caulking or weather stripping.

Lovell encourages producers to consult a tax accountant or attorney regarding business details.

Report on S S funds

Each year, the Social Security Administration's Board of Trustees must report to Congress on the financial state of social security trust funds. The trust fund is a financial reserve which can only be used to pay social security and Medicare benefits and administrative expenses of the program.

Although men and women currently in the work force provide social security taxes that pay beneficiaries on the rolls, the trust fund maintains a reserve to guard against changes in the National economy. Several years ago, the President and members of Congress expressed concern about the stability of social security financing. Recent changes in the Social Security Act brought about by the 1977 Amendments have insured the financial soundness of the trust fund. The Board of Trustees estimates by 1981 income to the trust fund will exceed expenditures well into the next century. The trust fund of $30.5 billion is expected to increase to $42.5 billion by the end of 1982. Even with the projected increase of people drawing retirement, survivors, and disability benefits in the coming years, social security will have sufficient revenue to pay benefits and costs of administering the program. For more information, contact the San Angelo Social Security Office at 2214 Sherwood Way. The telephone number is 949-4608. Residents of Ballinger, Big Lake, Brady, Junction, Mason, Ozona, Sonora, and Winters can call toll free by dialing "Operator" and asking for "Enterprise 2058."

Feeding operations need TACB permit

Failure to obtain a construction permit from the Texas Air Control Board (TACB) causes legal trouble for one or more cattle feedlots, poultry operations or hog farms each year, says Dr. John M. Sweeten.

Sweeten is a waste management agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He says only one odor complaint from a neighboring land owner is needed to get the TACB regional investigator to the feedlot where the evidence (concrete buildings and steel fences) can't be hidden.

The TACB requires a permit before construction begins on new livestock and poultry feeding operations with a capacity of at least 1000 head of animals--any type or size. Existing operations must obtain a permit before doubling their size. Delays of 60-90 days are typical in obtaining permits, says the engineer, and should be allowed for in the planning and construction schedule.

All construction permits involve public notification and, in most cases, a public hearing, says Sweeten. This step, while the operation is still on the drawing boards, is the least expensive way for a producer to discover potential "neighbor problems" and to adjust plans for feedlot location or design and to select a manure management system accordingly. Within 60 days after the livestock facility begins operation, a producer must re-apply for an operating permit.

Operations smaller than 1000 head capacity are exempted from the TACB permit system, says the engineer. However, if a producer can demonstrate that his feeding facility won't cause a significant odor or dust problem, any size operation can be exempted.

Hogs, poultry, cattle and sheep are all considered on an equal basis in the 1000 head capacity limitation even though manure production and odor potential are different. Several design and management practices are available to reduce odors from livestock feeding facilities, points out Sweeten.

Many agricultural producers and their bankers are apparently not aware of the existence of the Texas Air Control Board's construction and operating permit program, authorized by amendment to the Texas Clean Air Act in 1971. If you have already made the mistake of building a feeding operation without a permit, write the Texas Air Control Board and request an exemption before complaints arise, advises the specialist. Besides complying with state law, possession of the TACB construction permit may also provide a measure of protection if a private nuisance suit involving a jury trial develops later.

Freeway changes are made

Drivers on Texas freeways and frontage roads may notice a change when they are entering or leaving the freeway.

The recent legislature passed a new law which provides that vehicles entering or leaving a freeway have the right-of-way over vehicles on the frontage road. This is true regardless of whether the frontage road is one way or two way traffic.

District Maintenance Engineer James R. "Bobby" Evans stated that in San Angelo all signs have been changed to conform to the new law.

Along Interstate Highway 10 in Kimble, Sutton and Crockett Counties the signs will be changed on August 23 and 24. This will make the signing uniform within the District simultaneously.

Drivers should be alert and heed the new signs as they encounter them.

Crockett County Care Center News

By Joan Nicholas
 Activities Program Director

Two of our residents have gone home, they are Hank Poeller and Bernarda Aguirre, and we wish them all the luck in the world.

On Tuesday morning, Darolyn Webster brought craft materials, which she kindly donated, and residents were introduced to flower making with colored tissue paper. We plan to make some sort of a collage with them, but will probably make several more flowers at some time in the near future. As this goes to press, Darolyn will bring another new idea to the Center, Tuesday. Alma Wilson, Darolyn's mother, came last week to help us, along with our regular volunteers. She also stayed to help with the afternoon Bingo.

In Bible Class on Wednesday morning, the lesson was entitled "Faith Calls for Moral Action," and we have now moved on to the book of Amos. We learned that religion has three main ingredients—belief about God; conduct of life; and worship. Further into the lesson we read that "the smooth functioning of a community depends on the willingness of its members to work together for the well being of all. This spirit of creative cooperation is justice." Taking this a little further we thought of the Center as being our "community" and residents as its citizens and discussed how working together and helping each other, we could become an even better "community".

Later in the morning, Leona Harris entertained us on the piano. After taking a vote the week before as to whether the group would like to listen to the Marilyn Monroe story or not, the vote was in the affirmative. So, in reading and discussion we completed about half of it. Some liked it, others, I felt, didn't, so will take another opinion poll before doing it this Thursday afternoon. I do like to feel that whatever material I use is enjoyed by all.

Bingo was won by Gertrude Daniels last week and she received a gift certificate donated by Watsons. Second prize winner was Mike Pena.

This Monday, Glenda Winkley was hostess for the monthly birthday party and was assisted by Marty Elliot. One of the honorees, Elvira Pena, also furnished a cake. I mentioned earlier that we had five birthdays, but a new resident, Maria Alvarado who moved in Friday afternoon, also had a birthday in the month which made six. This made up for June and July when we had no birthdays at all!

Everyone enjoyed cake and punch, received carnations to wear from Maxine's Flowers and many pictures were made. Granny Carter had a new haircut for the occasion and daughter Lottie Davis brought her a lovely new pink dress to wear. All our ladies looked lovely for their day and our two gentlemen, August Prugel and Pop Bonnell got slicked up and were in a jovial mood. Pop had several members of his family, from Iraan and Louisiana. Juanita Harris came to help her mother, Eunice Graham, celebrate. Granny's great-grandson kept everyone tickled as he scooted around in his walker at age 4 months! (I do believe they advance quicker with every generation!) His mother, Karen, was also there of course. Elvira had many friends and relatives there. Jacinto (Shorty) Flores must have thought he had caught up with his 97th birthday in a hurry, because he was all dressed up in a white shirt and tie! He has a few months to go yet.

At 6 p.m. sharp, Sara Hignight came to play the organ and, eventually a tired and happy crew started to retire to their rooms.

In future I will list volunteers about once a month unless we add some new names to our regular group. Thanks to everyone.

Royals end season with 32 wins, 9 losses

By Orlando DeHoyos

The Ozona Royals closed out the 1979 baseball season by claiming the second place trophy at their own baseball tournament. Claiming the championship trophy was the San Angelo Red Devil Club as they held on to defeat the host Royal team by a score of 5-2 and thus stop the Royal's winning streak at nine games and leave the Royal's season record at 32-9.

In the opening game of the tournament Sunday, the Royals played flawless, baseball to defeat the San Angelo Chicanos by a count of 10-0. The Royals used the two-hit pitching of Rudy Martinez, 11-2, and a 6-run first inning to defeat their old pitching nemesis, Steve Winger, and send the Royals on their way to an easy victory.

In the second game, the Red Devils methodically wore down the Eldorado A's to advance them to the championship game and send the A's into the 3rd place contest against the Chicanos. The Chicano's bats came alive in that game as they pounded out twelve hits to defeat the A's by a score of 12-1 to claim the 3rd place trophy while the A's claimed the Sportsmanship trophy.

The championship game was clearly dominated by the Red Devil team, whose lineup included other San Angelo stars. However, winning pitcher and the tournament's Best Pitcher award winner Ignacio Ramirez handcuffed the Royals on just four hits as he used his curve and slider to near perfection, the only real serious threat for the Royals occurring in the sixth inning as Rudy Martinez walked with one out and Richard Sanchez doubled to left-field. With men on second and third, Orlando DeHoyos was intentionally passed to load the bases. John Galvan and Romaldo Cervantez followed with ground outs to end the threat. However, the Royals averted their first shutout of the year in the bottom of the ninth inning as they rallied for two runs as Orlando DeHoyos doubled and scored the first run on a deep triple to right field by John Galvan. After Cervantez walked, Willie Fierro struck out and Jimmy Tambunga grounded out to the first baseman as Galvan came across with the second run for the Royals and thus finish the scoring for the Royals. Afterwards, individual trophies were also presented to Roy Valadez of the Red Devils for being the Best Hitter. All-Tournament trophies were presented to Martinez of Ozona, Jimmy Aguilar of Eldorado, Henry Gonzales of the Chicanos and Jody Martinez of the Red Devils.

The Royals would like to thank Kyle Kleeners, Elma's Grocery and L-B Motors for sponsoring the team trophies. Also, the Royals would like to especially thank the public who made the season an exciting and enjoyable season for the players.

It looks like upcoming cancellation hearings on herbicide 2-4-5-T are nothing more than a formality. The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency has made it abundantly clear that it intends to cancel registration of the brush killer regardless.

Cancellation hearings on most uses of T were announced some time back, but rangeland and rice uses were not originally included in those proceedings. Then, about a month ago, EPA said it was consolidating the two remaining uses with those already scheduled for hearings.

The agency recently distributed its position document officially announcing the hearing consolidations and outlining its reasons for including range and rice uses in the cancellation push. That position document leaves no question that EPA is bound and determined to outlaw all uses of 2-4-5-T.

Several times in the report the bureaucrats mention their authority to do whatever they please with a pesticide if it appears to present a risk to human health or the environment. The only real limitation they face in exercising that authority is to see that the pesticide's benefits don't outweigh its supposed risks.

That's not much of a limitation, however, because-as the report is quick to point out over and over-it is EPA itself that makes the risk/benefit decisions. If there has ever been a clear-cut case of one elite group playing judge, jury and hangman, this is that case. Of course, EPA might have to share its distinction of omnipotency with Khomeini's cut-throats in Iran, but they're there and it's here, so there should be no competitive clash.

The most recent 2-4-5-T position document trots out most of the old tired claims of potential hazard, but differs in one respect from earlier position papers. This one carefully omits research results and use data that might in any way weaken EPA's case for a total ban. Because of the nature of the report, it was necessary to acknowledge objections lodged against past agency claims by users and supporters of T, but the report generally soft-pedals these objections or does tap-dances around them.

Not once did the report mention that 2-4-5-T has never in 30 years of use caused a single documented case of damage to humans or animals when used properly. Not once did the report admit that an Oregon miscarriage study used as an excuse to begin the cancellation process has been repeatedly torn to shreds by competent scientists. Not once did the report admit that scores of laboratory "rat tests" supposedly "proving" the herbicide's hazard potential can't ever seem to turn up with the same results twice in a row (in one such test, a given dosage of T was claimed to have produced a high percentage of tumors in rats, but dosages 500 to 1000 times higher produced no such results).

In one part of the report, EPA acknowledged in an extremely round-about way that its publicized interpretation of one experiment in reality had very little if anything in common with the experiment's actual results. Without admitting anything outright, the agency said essentially that it was supposed to have gotten certain results so it went ahead and announced those results anyway.

Even more galling was the report's attitude toward users of the herbicide. Ignoring any number of benefits provided by 2-4-5-T's brush killing abilities, EPA chose to calculate the compound's benefits entirely on the basis of increased beef production. The agency then grandly dismissed these benefits as "insignificant." Even less significant, in the eyes of the Washington bureaucrats, is the expense and hardship to be suffered by stockmen who stand to lose the use of 2-4-5-T. EPA describes these as "localized impacts," and announces that it did not see fit to bother calculating them for the purposes of the position document.

Overall, EPA's handling of the 2-4-5-T issue is an excellent and frighteningly typical example of the runaway mentality on the Potomac. Unelected, uncontrolled and unnamed petty dictators people countless federal office buildings and rampage unchecked in their obsessive drive to siphon off our last few ventiges of personal freedom.

The difference between Cuba and the U.S. is that the Cubans have one dictator-we have thousands.

And Ernie Nevers, who was a major league pitcher

Ever wonder what's the longest hole-in-one anyone ever made in golf?...The record is held by a man named Robert Mitera, who on the 10th hole of the Miracle Hills Golf Course in Omaha, Neb., on Oct. 7, 1965, made a hole-in-one of 444 yards!

Has any big league baseball team ever been able to stay in first place EVERY DAY from opening day till the end of a season?...Oddly enough, only 2 teams in history have accomplished this.. They were the 1923 Giants and the 1927 Yankees.

I bet you didn't know.. L-B Motor Co. has a large selection to choose from if you are looking for a new or used car.

IMAGINE A WORLD WITHOUT COMMUNICATION

Communication is important not only between individuals, but between business and the consumer.

At WTU, we think it's important that consumers know about the services we offer, our billing practices and the details, and all the portions of your bill. We also want to provide you with information on how to use electrical energy in the most efficient manner possible. Conservation of our energy is important to our future and to you as a billpayer. It's also important that you and your family know the proper safety measures required when working around electricity.

These are just a few of the reasons WTU feels it's important to communicate with you on topics that concern and involve you. At West Texas Utilities, we're working to serve you better.
