Lions lose to Alpine

Ozona's Lions will be sitting out Friday night in preparation for the opening of District 7-AA play with Crane, Nov. 2, in Crane. The Lions lost a 14-0 tilt with the Alpine Bucks here Friday night.

The Lions were stifled offensively by the Bucks, who outweighed the Lions by a conservative estimate of 20 pounds per man. However, the stalwart Lion defense held the big team to only two touchdowns, both in the first half of play. The second half was strictly a defensive struggle.

The win put Alpine 3-3 on the season while the Lions dropped to 2-5.

Getting the most yardage for Ozona was Freddy Garza with 55 yards in twelve carries and Ernie Borrego who had 43 yards on seven carries.

The Bucks also dominated the offensive statistics with 16 first downs to 9 for the Lions. Alpine had 268 yards rushing to 118 for Ozona, and 54 yards passing to 47 for the Lions. The Lions completed 6 of 18 pass attempts and had 3 intercepted. Alpine completed 4 of 11 passes with no interceptions. The Lions punted 5 times for an average of 42.2 yards while Alpine punted 5 times for a 30.4 yard average. The Lions had 3 penalties for 24 yards and the Bucks had 8 for 70 yards.

SEASONED WITH SUN-A demonstration in Mexican cookery drew a rapt crowd of 4-H members and their leaders at the Civic Center last week. Janice Rabenaldt, Home Economist with Pioneer Natural Gas Co., showed the group how to make enchiladas, Mexican Corn casserole and other spicy dishes. They are reprinted this week.

4-H awards program

Crockett County's annual 4-H Awards Program and Hamburger Supper was held in conjunction with the Extension Achievement Night at the Civic Center Saturday evening with some 250 4-H members, parents, leaders, committee members and guests attending.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of awards. Winner of the Mother Davidson Award, the highest county honor bestowed on a 4-H member, was R.J. Everett. The Gold Star awards, for outstanding 4-H boy and girl, went to Melinda Hokit and Will M. Black.

Jim Bob Bailey presented the Mother Davidson award and County Judge Johnny Jones made the presentation of awards to the Gold Star boy and girl. The two, along with their parents, extension agents and district council representatives will be recognized at the District 6 Gold Star Banquet in Kermit.

4-H members opened the program with Les Hale giving the welcome address. Donna Comer led the 4-H Pledge and Motto and Cindy Reavis expressed appreciation on behalf of members to the Leaders Association. Sue Ellen Black gave an address of thanks to 4-H leaders, parents and agents and Kristal Williams led the 4-H prayer.

Club officers and council delegates for the 1979-80 club year were installed by 4-H Organizational Leaders Larry Bailey and Cynthia Ramos. Installed were Sue Ellen Black, president; Les Hale, vice president; Melinda Hokit, secretary; Kristal Williams, reporter; Dan Bean, district council delegate. Shelia Comer and Judy Flores were installed as fourth grade council delegates; Mary Lou Hayes and Vickie Reagor, fifth grade council delegates; Bonnie Cameron and Jerrie Lynn Martinez, sixth grade council delegates; George Guerra and Donna Comer, seventh grade council delegates. Other council delegates and grades included Curt McPherson and Rita DeLaRosa, eighth; Cindy Reavis and Fabian Delgado, ninth; Mike Couch and Felice Delgado, tenth; Will M. Black, eleventh; and Marilyn Moran and R.J. Everett, III, twelfth.

"The Extension Way-People Helping People" is the program thrust for the next five years. County Extension Agent Billy Reagor discussed the theme and made comments relating to the program in Crockett County.

Joe Couch, past chairman of the Crockett County Program Building Committee, reported on the committee's accomplishments and responsibility. He pointed out the committee initiated and continues to sponsor the Crockett County Pecan Show, which will be held on December 3, this year.

Livestock and Range Committee Chairman Bill Black, reported the committee had met regularly the past year and sponsored a Livestock Information Day, Sheep and Goat Meeting and Deer Management Meeting, and is planning a Beef Meeting in the spring. The committee also worked on result demonstrations in sheep, goats, beef cattle, range and wildlife.

Mary Barrow gave the Family Living Committee report. Highlights of the activities included the Sitters Clinic and the Diabetes Clinic.

The Community Development Committee report was given by Rick Whitworth. He reported the committee had sponsored businessmen's breakfasts and other community activities, in conjunction with the chamber of commerce.

Alice Couch, chairman of the 4-H and Youth Subcommittee, summarized that committee's accomplishments during the past year. County Extension Agent Debra Price made the closing comments and announced upcoming events. 4-H project displays, posters, home economic displays and agriculture displays were set up in the back of the auditorium.

A total of 67 4-H members received awards. 4-H members explained each project and announced the award winners.

Making the Clothing project presentation were Lydia Hayes and Felice Delgado. Clothing awards went to Oneita Carlisle, Katrina Phillips, Larisa Schoehals, and Julie Cantu. Dress Revue awards went to Lydia Hayes, Kristal Williams, Vickie Reagor, Pam Wilton, Deniel Payne, Cassi McPherson, Bernice Ybarra and Shelia Comer.

Food and Nutrition awards were presented by Jennifer Naron and Vickie Reagor. Winners were Marcia Moran, Radene Flores, Jena Allen, Dena Beth Phillips and Mary Lou Hayes. Awards for Dairy Foods went to Susan Scott, for Breads went to Wendy Hood, T.J. Carlisle, Jon Moran, Jennifer Probst and Kathy Bailey. For Food Conservation safety, Tammy Cooke, Joanne Hearne, Sandra Hearne and Darla Judd received awards. An award for Home Food Management went to Jerrie Lynn Martinez.

Louis Bunger presented the Horse and Horse Judging awards. Winners were Lori Clayton, Kristi Kirby, Skipper Carlisle, George Guerra, Curt McPherson, Bobbie Acton and Christy Parks.

Sheep project awards were presented by Julie Reagor and Sue Ellen Black. Winners were Dan Bean, Julie Reagor, Kim Williams, Amy Jones, Marty Acton, John Tom Stokes, Russell Winkley and Stan Winkley.

Jody Naron and Jody Everett presented Swine project awards. Winners were Wade Beasley, Naron and Everett.

Range and Grass project awards were presented by Ann Hoover and Christy Parks. Mike Couch received an award for Range and Grass. Judging awards went to Will Hoover, Kelly Sinclair and Ann Hoover.

Mike Couch and R.J. Everett, III, presented the Agriculture-Beef awards. Receiving awards were Sue Ellen Black, R.J. Everett, III, Cindy Reavis, Marilyn Moran and Frankie Reavis.

Local society to participate-

THC to observe 25th anniversary

Plans for local observance of the 25th anniversary of the Texas Historical Commission in a joint meeting with the Crockett County Historical Society on November 26 were made at a meeting of the Crockett County Historical Commission Monday afternoon at the courthouse.

Mrs. R.A. Harrell, chairman of the Commission, announced that an interesting program will be present-

Halloween carnival Saturday

Ozona will have a first class Halloween carnival in the park Saturday night. The Ozona Chamber of Commerce coordinated the event along with civic clubs and organizations. West Texas Utilities will furnish lighting for the park.

Darts and fortune-telling will be offered by the XI Sigma Omega Sorority. The Southside Lions Club will have a sweets booth and a cake walk. A game booth with sponge and washer pitching along with dartboards will be offered by the Crockett County 4-H Club.

The Ozona Catholic Women's Society will offer hot tamales for sale and the Arthritis Foundation will have a bingo booth. The concession stand will be manned by Ozona High School Band Boosters. They will offer popcorn, popcorn balls, hot dogs, sandwiches, Cokes, coffee and Kool-aid. Girl Scout troop #128 will have the ring toss and fishing pond while Boy Scout troop #153 will have a shaving creme throw. Other booths will be manned by the Southside Boy Scouts, the Fire Department and the Lions Club.

Chamber manager Beth Boyd said a sponsor for the spook house was not yet secured, but promised there will be a spook house in the old bank building if she has to run it herself.

Organizations may keep all proceeds from their various booths. The chamber is sponsoring the carnival as one of their community projects for the year. So far this year the chamber has sponsored a tennis tournament and a pet show.

ed at the November meeting by Mrs. Charlie Black, Jr. Mrs. Black has just completed a task which has occupied her for the last year or more to make a picture history of the historical markers in place in Crockett County. An expert photographer, Mrs. Black has toured, and sometimes retoured, areas of the county where markers are located and made slide photos of the markers and surrounding points of interest. The slides, along with Mrs. Black's commentary, will be the principal entertainment of the evening's program.

Bill Baggett, chairman of the Historical Society, has announced the Society's meeting with the Historical Commission and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the affair. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the civic center.

Historical Commission chapters throughout the state are joining in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the creation of the Texas Historical Survey Committee, now the Texas Historical Commission, by the legislature in 1954 and appointed by then Governor Allan Shivers. County Commission members are appointed by the county judge and county units throughout the state have a fine record of accomplishment in marking, preserving, and restoring points of historical interest. Under Mrs. Harrell's leadership the Crockett County committee has done much to focus interest on Crockett County's past and to mark, preserve and beautify those things illustrative of the past. Goals set at the Monday meeting are for research and marking of Indian trails through Crockett County and the history of newspaper publishing in the county.

Dry front brings frost to area

Another dry cold front moved into the area early Monday morning and some frost was reported in low lying areas Tuesday morning.

Heavy September rains failed to materialize this year and the month passed with a rainfall record of only .86 of an inch. There has been no rain in October and rangelands in the area are beginning to show the lack of moisture.

OHS honor roll is announced

The high school honor roll for the first six weeks was announced Monday by high school Principal Jim Payne. Payne said band and P.E. do not count toward the honor roll average, and a student must have a 90 or better academic average with no grade below B minus, to qualify.

The senior and freshmen classes led the list with 15 students each on the roll, followed by the junior class with 12 and the sophomores with 11.

Seniors on the list included Wade Beasley, Gay Burns, Chris Carlisle, Rea Lynn Dews, Shane Fenton, Freddy Garza, Vicky Gonzales, Kristi Kirby, Lisa Mitchell, Jody Naron, Peri Pennington, Gregg Perry, Jan Watson, Debbie Wallace and Jeffrey Young.

Sophomores named were Varlyn Aldridge, Shelly Behrens, Ernie Borrego, Mike Couch, Fernando Galvan, Thomas Gries, Jay Justiss, Jennifer Naron, Larry Payne, Dale Perry and Jack Thompson.

Freshman students on the honor roll are Karise Aycock, Dan Bean, Gayla Bell, Jerry Cantu, Michelle Couch, Randy DeHoyos, Fabian Delgado, Henry Delgado, Allen Dews, Sarah Falkner, Darla Lovell, Jacinda Marley, Robert Massey, Cindy Reavis, and Javier Sanchez.

OUTSTANDING 4-H CLUB MEMBER R.J. Everett was the recipient of the coveted Mother Davidson Award at the annual awards event. The award is the highest honor presented to a 4-H member in Crockett County.

4-H GOLD STAR BOY AND GIRL-Will M. Black and Melinda Hokit received the honors this year. Judge Johnny Jones, center, made the presentation at the annual 4-H Awards Dinner Saturday evening at the Civic Center.

SALT AND THE SOVIET SUCCESSION

By Edwin Feulner

While trying to make some sense out of the almost impossibly complicated, yet vital SALT II issue, there's one more consideration to juggle around in our heads. In addition to visions of MX missiles, Backfire bombers and hidden silos, we must also keep a solicitous eye on the guy who signed the treaty for the Soviets — Leonid Brezhnev.

The "detente" era, which has brought us SALT I and II, will almost certainly see the Soviet Union through its fourth leadership change. After fifteen years' rule, Brezhnev appears gravely ill, possibly even dying and is obviously destined to step down in the very near future.

Those who sign treaties don't always stick around to enforce them. The embraces and flourishes of a signing ceremony, even if all parties have the best of intentions, often fade the morning after. After signing a major arms limitation treaty with the United States, Brezhnev will soon relinquish his power to an as yet unknown and certainly unnamed successor.

The fourth leader in Soviet history — after Lenin, Stalin and Krushchev — Brezhnev has headed the USSR during an era of steady gain in strength and world leadership. Since 1964, when Brezhnev took over from Krushchev, Russia has made such progress it is now prepared to move into the 1980s on what many experts consider to be at least equal military footing with the United States. Brezhnev's successor — whoever he may be — will be working from that unprecedented Soviet position.

All indications point to a period of U.S. vulnerability in the next several years. Somehow, the early eighties were forgotten when strategists made up our long-range plans. (For example, the much publicized MX missile won't be ready until 1985 or '86 and it doesn't take much imagination to figure the Soviets were well aware of this when, in SALT II, they OK'd development of the MX.) As William R. Van Cleave and W. Scott Thompson point out in Strategic Options for the Early Eighties: What Can Be Done?, published by the National Strategy Information Center, "by the early to mid-1980's the Soviet Union may have achieved an unacceptable edge over the U.S. in strategic capabilities."

Any potential Soviet leader worth his SALT would be tempted to push the advantage.

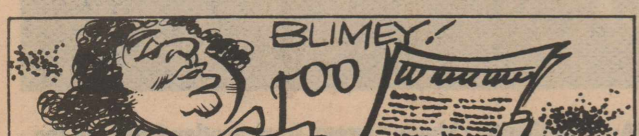

In a recent Heritage Foundation study, researcher Richard Harrison explored the Soviet foreign policy outlook after Brezhnev. "In the early stages of post-Brezhnev transition," says Harrison, "Soviet policy would probably be relatively moderate and less prone to foreign entanglements. This has certainly been true in the past during both the Stalin and Krushchev succession periods, as the ruling groups turned inward and devoted most of their energies to domestic problems and jockeying for power."

"On the other hand," Harrison writes, "the Soviet Union might become even more adventuresome overseas under a new ruling group. The next leadership team will be the first to achieve power when the Soviet Union is not recognized as militarily inferior to the U.S. The new leadership will be able to thank the current regime for this new international authority; for the achievement of strategic parity with the U.S. has been the outstanding accomplishment of the Brezhnev years. This new sense of power might actually encourage expansionist tendencies within the new leadership."

As time passes, says Harrison, "the succession issue and the policies resulting therefrom become more difficult to predict. One thing is unlikely: with the passage of time and as more of the older rulers fall away, the chances for any sort of continuity in foreign policy grows slimmer as the likelihood of a new leader with less experience in foreign affairs, and less secure in his own position, increases."

Whatever direction Soviet policy takes in the future, Harrison concludes, there's little chance of a lessening of tensions between the U.S. and the USSR due to a change in Soviet leadership.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The curtain opened last week on the second act of a political drama that has promised for weeks to put the Governor of Texas and the Texas Attorney General on a collision course in the courtroom.

Attorney General Mark White filed suit in a Houston federal court last week seeking $10 million in damages from SEDCO, the oil drilling firm founded by Gov. Bill Clements, and a Mexican drilling firm, Permargo.

White told reporters he will seek to prove negligence on the part of both drilling firms in connection with the 1976 oil well blowout, the largest in history, which washed millions of barrels of crude oil onto Texas beaches this summer.

Although the well is still flowing, engineers last week managed to slow the flow with a giant metal cap placed over the wellhole on the Gulf floor.

White told reporters he declined to sue PEMEX, the Mexican government-owned oil company, because he did not want to interfere with U.S.-Mexico negotiations for damages in regard to the oil spill.

However, he left open the door on such legal action, should the negotiations fail to satisfy Texas interests. "We are refraining (from suing PEMEX) until it is certain that all negotiations by the U.S. Department of State for damages from Mexico have been exhausted," he said.

Clements Says "Politics"

White said several weeks ago, after he discovered SEDCO had scuttled the damaged drilling rig in deep international waters, that he would include SEDCO in the negligence lawsuit.

The Dallas-based drilling firm was founded by Republican Gov. Bill Clements, who turned it over to his son in a blind trust when he took office. Clements has charged that the suit is "politically motivated."

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Bill Clayton are two leaders whom Democrats are considering running against Clements in 1982. Several Clements supporters think White is maneuvering to have himself become a third choice, but so far White has mentioned only lawsuits, not gubernatorial races.

Meanwhile, SEDCO filed suit early last month to have all liability limited in a suit against SEDCO.

Fuel Tax Increase

Regarding tax issues, Clements last week said he will propose that the next Legislature increase the state gasoline tax, the lowest in the nation.

In concurrence with Hobby, Clements said the drop in gasoline sales has caused a shortage of revenues for highway construction. The nickel-a-gallon tax is levied on every gallon sold at the pumps, and recent curtail-ments in driving because of the fuel shortage is blamed for the loss.

Sales Tax Boost

Earlier, Clements told a group of Texas mayors he would consider backing an increase in the local option sales tax for cities from one cent to three cents.

The Mayors' Advisory Committee had urged him to boost the tax in order to replace all or part of the property tax revenues. Currently, cities may collect a one-cent sales tax in addition to the four-cent state sales tax.

The mayors would like to drop or lower property taxes in concurrence with the sales tax increase. Clements said he had no opinion on the issue at this time.

Grassroots Candidates

In the Panhandle, two farmers who were prime movers in grassroots organization of the American Agriculture Movement are moving into politics.

Gerald McCathern of Dalhart announced he will run against incumbent State Sen. Bob Price, R-Pampa.

R.C. Porter of Spearman announced for the House seat being vacated by Rep. Bob Close, R-Perryton. Close, a lawmaker highly respected by his colleagues, said last month he was getting out of politics to stay closer to home.

Bullock Heart Attack

State Comptroller Bob Bullock is in stable condition in an Austin hospital following a heart attack last week. Bullock, a hard-working politician who sometimes is thought to burn the candle at both ends, was reportedly reading press releases as he was wheeled into the intensive care unit for treatment.

AG Opinions

Mark White issued four attorney general opinions last week, including one ruling public junior colleges, in order to be eligible for state appropriations, must charge foreign students the same tuition rate charged by state senior colleges.

White also ruled the Texas Tech Board of Regents must comply with the terms of Senate Bill 213 in order to sell the land to which the bill relates.

And, the coordinating board and the governing boards of state-supported colleges and universities may not change the legislatively established name of an institution under their jurisdiction.

Finally, water supply corporations removed from the jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission as of April 19, 1979, must pay assessment imposed by state law for the period during which they were subject to PUC jurisdiction.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

October lends an air of finality about it. In its hot beginning and chilly nights causes us to expect frost at most anytime. So, don't get caught short of protecting any tender plants you may want to save.

As of now October has been dry, so keep new grass well watered and keep leaves raked off to prevent shading and matting.

Chrysanthemums and dahlias are at their peak now. An attractive bed of rose-pink colored mums may be seen at the home of the Jack Baggetts. In April the same bed is colorful with iris. Summer annuals, marigolds especially, are on their last surge as if they expect their end will soon come.

With proper care, all those cuttings you made early this month can be fine blooming plants by Christmas. And don't forget paper white narcissus. They are easily forced for winter blooms and delightful fragrance. Some start them November 1, and the blossoms peak on Christmas Day.

With cool weather expected the latter part of the month perhaps you have already planted your fall garden. To get the garden off to a fast start, set out vegetable transplants instead of sowing seeds. When setting out plants, loosen any roots that have become wrapped around the soil ball so that they can spread into the soil as quickly as possible. After all the plants are in the ground, water the garden thoroughly. As weather cools, apply a protective mulch to the garden. About two weeks after planting fertilize the garden with 5-10-10 at the rate of 1 cup per 10 feet of planted row. Apply fertilizer to both sides of the row. Water thoroughly. Repeat monthly. Watch for destructive insects that

Country Club bridge

Mrs. Buster Deaton was hostess for bridge at the Country Club Thursday.

Winning high was Mrs. Evert White. Low went to Mrs. Larry Braden and Mrs. Deaton had second lowest score. Mrs. Joe Friend won the bingo.

Others playing were Mrs. Sherman Taylor, Mrs. C.O. Walker, Mrs. Byron Williams, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Jack Williams, Mrs. Gene Williams, Mrs. Clay Adams, Mrs. Duane Childress, Mrs. John Childress, Mrs. Dwight Childress, Mrs. Betty McIntire of Fort Worth, Mrs. James Dockery, Mrs. Brock Jones, Mrs. Arthur Kyle, Mrs. Kirby Moore and Mrs. Douglas Moore.

The Ozona Woman's Forum met Tuesday, October 16, at the Civic Center. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Beecher Montgomery and Mrs. Charles Black.

are still active in the early fall garden. Dust with Sevin or rotenone.

To add instant color to fall vegetable gardens, set out some pansy plants or blooming mums. You will enjoy them for your home all winter.

Young trees and shrubs you intend to move this winter should be root-pruned now. Force a spade into the ground all the way around the plant about 18 inches from the trunk. This severs the roots and induces new feeder roots to form closer to the plant. With partially formed new feeder roots, plants suffer less during the process of transplanting. Keep all root-pruned plants well watered until transplanting time in December or January.

The business session was led by the President, Mrs. J.D. Brown. Roll call was answered and minutes read and approved.

Mrs. Lowell Littleton gave a report on plans for the District Convention to be held in Ozona in March of 1980.

The program was on Public Affairs. Mrs. Kirby Moore discussed "Straws in the Wind for Next Year's Election," discussing the pluses and minuses of each presidential candidate.

Other members attending were Mrs. Bill Carson, Mrs. Huey Ingram, Mrs. Brock Jones, Mrs. Dempster Jones, Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. J. McCartney, Mrs. Arthur Phillips, Mrs. Buddy Russell, Mrs. C.O. Spencer, Mrs. W.T. Stokes, Mrs. C.O. Walker, Mrs. W.H. Whitaker, and a guest, Mrs. Bill Carver.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Ivy of Fairfield, Texas, were here this past week visiting Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Whitaker.

Ft. Stockton tennis meet scheduled

Local tennis buffs are invited to participate in the Fort Stockton Adult Tennis Open Oct. 27-28, at 8:00 a.m. at the Fort Stockton High School courts.

Offered will be men's, women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles with A and B divisions, high school and adult. Entry fee will be $5 per event. Ozonans may register by calling 336-3346 or 336-8054 after 5 p.m.

COUPLES GOLF TOURNAMENT

A mixed couples golf tournament will be held at the Ozona Country Club Saturday, Oct. 27, at 10:00 a.m.

Keep a card file of fabric bought as a quick inventory reference for color, fiber content, yardage, care and other information.

Debra Says

BY DEBRA PRICE

Two-paycheck families may be richer than they ever dreamed--and poorer than they think.

Self-discipline can help keep the two-paycheck benefits "real."

To find out where you stand, take a long look at spending first.

You can't do much about the heavy taxes levied on your second income, and filing separate returns rarely helps. Also, you can't avoid paying Social Security taxes twice.

But you can do something about wasted money from "too-free" spending habits. These wasteful habits include buying many frozen dinners, convenience appliances, eating out and making lots of unplanned trips to the grocery store.

Make a careful study of other spending, too, including costs of transportation, clothing, lunches and child care.

If you really are poorer than you thought, try these self-discipline tactics:

Keep track of expenses--like a detective.

Do this for several months to identify loop holes in spending--and impulsive spending.

You might find 10 percent of your salaries was spent just for eating out or buying small gifts. If that money was needed for "basics," it's time to make a new spending plan.

Set financial goals--rather than only rules that deprive you of things you were spending money for.

For example, don't just say we'll save one paycheck each month, or we won't eat out anymore.

Instead, simply set goals and work toward them--with self-satisfaction in mind. Coordinate spending--and realize this is a major decision that both partners need to feel satisfied with. Each partner might be responsible for certain expenses.

For more information on financial planning, contact your County Extension Office.

Coconut Drop Cookies
 3/4 cup butter
 1 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 2 cups sifted all purpose flour

2 cups flaked coconut
 2 eggs
 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

1/4 teaspoon soda
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup sour cream
 3/4 cup coarsely chopped nuts

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Cream butter and sugar together. Add eggs and vanilla beat until light and fluffy. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with sour cream; mix well. Stir in coconut and nuts. Spoon by tablespoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake for 15 to 18 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen cookies.

Glowing Years

It was their Golden Anniversary. And, as Granddad placed his arm around Grandmother he said, "The years have been good to us."

"You have been good to the years," someone replied.

What a perfect description of their marriage. They cherished each day and filled it with love. They faced every week as a new adventure in useful living. They counted the months with patience and crowned them with firm commitment. They made the years glow with their confident trust in God.

Thus they lighted the hearth-fires of faith in the lives of their children and grandchildren.

Long after our grandparents are gone, the years will still glow with the faith they kindled in a dozen other hearts.

Early day Crockett County tales-

Tales of the stage lines & Indians

By Victor I. Pierce

PART IX

The Stage Coach of course was a big thing in the early days and there was four that came into Ozona each evening at different hours. Of course, the main line was the San Angelo Stage, and one came from Sonora and one from Comstock, and also one from Fort Stockton. Each driver had a bugle or a horn and as he came into town he tooted that horn and people would say well, there comes the Sonora Stage or there comes the other Stage and they would gather at the Post Office. It might be 10 or 11 o'clock at night before the San Angelo Stage got in and it was quite an operation a running the Stage Line.

In later years, Mr. Kincaid bought out the San Angelo Stage Line and then he had something like a hundred horses that he pulled those hacks with. Ralph Watson was his main driver and they had a saddle shop here that Arthur Williams and his brother ran and those men worked 90% of their time on repairing the harness for the stages that ran. They would leave here at 4:00 in the morning and they would come by your house and pick you up without breakfast and you would get breakfast at the first stage stand and then dinner at Sherwood, then got on into San Angelo at night.

And the same way-going to Comstock the first stage stand was where the liveoak trees are at Joe Tom Davidson's where the road bends there. They had a lot of grass-top houses and tents and one thing and another there, and they ate breakfast there, then the next meal was at Juno, then they ate supper at Baker's on the crossing there, then they went on into Comstock. The train from Comstock going to San Antonio went through there about 9:00 so you could leave Ozona about 4 in the morning and catch the 9 o'clock train out of Comstock and be in San Antonio by 4 or 5 o'clock the next morning. The Stage Coaches were quite an operation and must have made good money because they were out a lot of expense for drivers and horses and feed and things it took to operate them.

There's another story, I know all of you have heard, its when the Indians chased the stage down Fort Lancaster Hill and they said the driver took them off there in a run-why, there used to be an old Mexican here that lived to be 108 years old and he didn't associate much with the other Mexicans, he was a freighter. He lived down here somewhere close to where this Little League Ball Park used to be, over there, and he had an orchard and a place there and he and his wife they were old gray headed and he freighted. He later moved to Barnhart and freighted after the railroad was there.

In 1912 I was going to school in San Antonio and they had a Spinal Meningitis epidemic. I don't know what the difference is in it and any other epidemic but they quarantined San Antonio and stopped all the schools and picture shows and sealed the trains and wouldn't let anybody on and off. Frank Kincaid and I knew a conductor who lived out close to where we went to school who liked to take a drink every now and then. We managed to get him a few drinks and wanted him to slip us on the train so we could get out of there, but he said he couldn't do anything like that. Frank said, "Well, we wouldn't ask you to but you could leave the door unlocked," so he did and we got on the train and got out to Uvalde.

I came on home-that was in 1912 and my father had cattle on the ranch. Mr. Kincaid had just bought the 90 sections from Wilkerson and lived there where Blake-neys live now. Ernest Sparkman and I were over there that winter and how I wished I'd a gone back to school and spent the winter there. Its the old Henry Mills ranch which is still there or part of it. This old man that had been reported to have been a guard on that stage that had made the run down that hill with the Indians after them, was going down there taking salt to somebody and it was a right cold night, and he came by there and we insisted that he come up there and bring his bed-we just had a little ole shack-and our bedrolls out on the floor and cooked on a fireplace. My main reason was to get him to tell us about that ride. So after we ate supper I asked him if he was really a guard on that stage that the Indians chased down Fort Lancaster Hill, and he said he was not a guard on that stage, but he was a guard on the stage that was coming from the other way, and that they came into Fort Lancaster, and there was rumors out that there were Indians in the country and that they were going to pick up a troop of Calvary to guard them, and they left there with a bunch of Calvary. When they got to the hill-they had sent out Calvary from the fort to meet this other stage, but somehow or other, they missed it, and they were waiting there at the bottom of the hill thinking this stage would come on, it came in sight with the team running and the Indians were not very close to it, but shooting at them. This Calvary that was going to protect them went up the hill and chased the Indians off and a part of them came on back and protected them, but he said it wasn't such a feat a coming down that hill with your brakes on with 4 mules to a hack because the soldiers hauled dirt up that hill every day in the year and the road was wide and you could pass on it. It wasn't as dangerous as we would think, because it was a road that was plenty wide and plenty of dirt on it. They had wagons that they hauled the dirt up there with every day, and I don't know whether he said it was extra duty for soldiers to do that, but he said the soldiers hated that fort on account of having to do that, but he said the soldiers hauled the dirt and worked the road every day. So I guess the story is partly true that the Indians did run a Stage Coach off the hill.

There has been a lot of controversy about the speed of the Stage Coaches, and lots of people have an idea that these horses ran well-a horse doesn't run very far until he is given out. The drivers of these Stage Coaches were men with a lot of ability in handling horses and a lot of brains to take care of them and they had certain places where they let the horses walk. Down hill where there was a little slope well they trotted it-trotted it pretty fast-but as far as these horses running with stages, they didn't run only a lot of these horses were very high-spirited and when you first hooked them up somebody had to hold them until everything was ready, and they let them run probably a quarter, or maybe a half, a mile, then they would simmer down to a trot.

The stage leaving Ozona, going toward Comstock, where the passengers ate breakfast was located close to the line of the Baggett Ranch and the Harrell Ranch. It was a big rock pen there where they penned the horses-also had tents and some hoses, and some wire pens, and they served breakfast there in a big tent, then they went on to Juno and ate lunch. They ate supper at the Baker Crossing at Baker's house. They had a dining room there where they served. Then they went on to Comstock to catch the 9 o'clock train to San Antonio.

The freight wagons that came from San Angelo made me think about it. They used to have a 4th of July picnic out at the Baggett Grove, and one year they advertised they would have free iced lemonade, and we just wondered how on earth they could have more lemonade than we could drink. They sent a wagon on to San Angelo and loaded it with ice and packed it with sawdust to get it out here. Then they ran hacks and wagons with chairs and carried the people out there. In those big oak trees they had a lot of seats taken out of wagons and hacks and buggies and tied with big ropes up in the trees and the boys would swing the girls. Once they were swinging there and Lena Myers-you remember Lena Myers?-well, the rope broke and she fell out. Claude Hudspeth was about the most polite politician you ever saw around, and he ran and grabbed her and blood was running out of her forehead where she had hit a rock, put a hankerchief to head and stopped it, and that kinds put a little 'quietus' on things.

Mr. Barton was dishing out the free lemonade-and they had more than we could drink! They had a roping contest out there and Blake Mauldin won it. For several years the 4th of July celebration was at the Baggett Grove. [Cont'd next week]

Everetts place at State Fair

Two local youngsters earned places with their animals in the sheep show at the State Fair of Texas held in Dallas last week, Oct. 16.

Joleta and Jody Everett, accompanied by their father, Joe Everett and Tom Green Extension Agent Jerry Kidd, showed several head of lambs at the show, placing with two fourth places, a tenth and a fifteenth. Breeder of the lambs was R.A.

Harrell, Crockett County Rancher.

The brother-sister team has shown Harrell lambs in several major shows throughout the state the past two years and have never failed to place.

L.B.T. Sikes, former Ozona school superintendent, now of Austin, was a visitor here over the week-end.

Reddy's tips on electric safety

★ When disconnecting an appliance, don't pull cord; pull plug.

★ Be sure each appliance has the type of cord suited to the job it does - heavy duty extension cords for power tools; moisture resistant cords and plugs for outdoor equipment.

★ Have frayed cords replaced promptly.

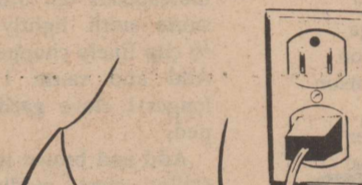

★ Water conducts electricity; never handle electric appliances or switches with wet hands or when standing on a wet surface.

★ If an appliance has a separate cord, attach cord to appliance before plugging it into an outlet; disconnect cord from outlet before disconnecting it from appliance. Store cords away from cutlery, heat and dampness.

★ Don't place cords where they'll be tripped over or be subject to wear (under a well-travelled rug, through doorways).

★ Teach children not to play with or around electric sockets or equipment.

★ Don't use an electric lawn mower or hedge clippers when barefoot, or on wet grass or hedges.

★ Don't place cords where they'll be tripped over or be subject to wear (under a well-travelled rug, through doorways).

★ Teach children not to play with or around electric sockets or equipment.

★ Don't use an electric lawn mower or hedge clippers when barefoot, or on wet grass or hedges.

Remember, Reddy supplies the electricity—only you can use it safely!

Miss Beasley marries Lt. Taliaferro Sat.

Miss Karen Denise Beasley became the bride of Lt. William Craig Taliaferro in a ceremony Saturday, Oct. 20, at 2:00 p.m. at Faith Lutheran Church with Rev. A.B. Wagner of Kerrville officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry L. Beasley of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Taliaferro.

The bride wore a gown of ivory taffeta and chiffon. The fitted bodice, covered with Alencon lace, featured bell sleeves. The skirt formed a chapel-length train bordered in the lace. Her chapel-length train was held by a lace garden hat. She carried a mixed floral bouquet of white roses, pink carnations, lavender and yellow daisies and baby's breath. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was the sister of the groom, Mrs. Lee Ann Bauer of Refugio. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Patti Taliaferro of Eureka Springs, Ark., Mrs. Margaret Cuellar and Mrs. Karen L. Beasley, both of Austin.

The attendants wore dusty rose satin gowns and carried a single white rose.

Best man was Steve Taliaferro, brother of the bridegroom, of Eureka Springs, Ark. Groomsmen were Bob Berger of Del Rio, Brett Vance of Lubbock and Wade Beasley, brother of the bride.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Ruby Olson at the organ.

The altar was centered with a floral centerpiece and candelabras and flanked with white baskets containing white glads. The communion railing was decorated with greenery and pink carnations with white pompons.

A reception followed the wedding at the Circle Bar Solarium.

After a trip to San Angelo, the couple will be at home in Del Rio, where the bridegroom is a student pilot at Laughlin, AFB. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ozona High School and holds a B.S. degree from the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The bride recently graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a B.A. degree.

The bride recently graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a B.A. degree.

The bride was honored with a gift coffee at the home of Mrs. Harold Shaw prior to the wedding. Other hostesses were Mrs. Bud Coates, Mrs. Charles Huffman, Mrs. John R. Hunnicutt, Mrs. Buster Loudamy, Mrs. Douglas Moore, Mrs. George Olson, Mrs. Buddy Russell, Mrs. Hank Wellman, Mrs. Jack Williams and Mrs. Vance Worthington.

Mexican Cookery

A program on "Mexican Cookery" was presented by Janice Rabenaldt, Consumer Information Specialist with Pioneer Natural Gas Company. The program was presented for 4-H members enrolled in food and nutrition projects and the general public. The program was sponsored jointly by the Pioneer Natural Gas Company and the Extension Service. The recipes below were used in the demonstration:

ENCHILADAS

In a large skillet heat 2 tablespoons oil. Stir in and saute until lightly browned 1/2 cup finely chopped onion. Add and saute 1 minute longer-1 clove garlic, chopped.

Add and brown in a large skillet over medium gas flame the following-1 pound lean ground meat, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon cumin, crushed; 1/2 teaspoon whole oregano, crushed; 1 (15 ounce) can tomato sauce, and 1 cup water.

Simmer slowly for about two hours. Make the chili a day ahead and refrigerate. Remove fat.

Separate-12 corn tortillas. Dip each tortilla in a dish of water. Place tortilla in a small slightly greased skillet and steam 5 to 10 seconds on each side or until the tortilla is flexible.

Combine in medium mixing bowl...meat mixture, 2 cups grated cheddar cheese and 1/4 cup diced onion.

Place 3 or 4 tablespoons of cheese, onion, and meat mixture on each tortilla. Roll and place side by side in a buttered baking dish (10" x12"). Cover rolled tortillas with remaining chili mixture. Top entire mixture with 1/2 cup grated cheddar cheese. Bake at 350° in your gas oven for about 30 minutes. Garnish with chopped green onion tops. Serves 4 to 6.

MEXICAN BEAN DIP

Combine 1-16 oz. can refried beans and 1-4 oz. taco sauce.

Heat until warm. Add 1/2 cup grated Cheddar cheese.

Heat again until cheese has melted. Serves 15 people.

MEXICAN CORN

Combine...1 can whole kernel corn, drained
1 can cream-style corn
1/2 cup corn meal
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 beaten eggs
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese (reserve some for topping)

1 small can green chiles, chopped

1 tablespoon oil
Place in a casserole or 8x8-inch pan and bake 30 minutes at 350°.

Absentee voting in progress

Absentee voting in the proposed amendment election Nov. 6, opened Wednesday, October 17, in the County Clerk's office. Very little interest has been shown locally and not one absentee ballot had been cast as of noon Tuesday, indicating a light turnout of voters on election day.

Three amendments to the Texas Constitution will be considered. The proposals are numbered 1 through 3. Proposal 1 would add an amendment to provide for the appointment of notaries public for the state and for a term of not less than two years nor more than four years. Proposal 2 would provide for legislative review of the process of rulemaking by agencies in the executive department. Proposal 3 would authorize the legislature to provide for the guarantee of loans for purchase of farm and ranch real estate for qualified borrowers by the sale of general obligation bonds of the State of Texas.

Precinct 1 voters will cast ballots at the courthouse, Precinct 2, at the Junior High Building; Precinct 3, at the Civic Center; Precinct 4, at the Ozona Primary School and Box 6 will be open at the WTU Power Plant.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Miss Powell, Mr. Smith wed in Sat. ceremony

Miss Margo Powell, daughter of John Rae Powell and the late Tibba Powell, became the bride of Mr. Ken Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Smith of Carlsbad, N.M., in a ceremony Saturday at First Presbyterian Church in Eldorado.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a candlelight gown of chiffon over peau-de-soire. The bodice of peau-d'ange lace was fashioned with a natural waist, high ruffled collar and pleated bishop sleeves. The pleated skirt swept into a chapel train. Her veil of illusion was edged with Brussels lace and held by a band of flowers and pearls.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joe Jones of Uvalde. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Roy Cooper of Durant, Okla., Miss Teece Teague of Crane, Miss Kay McMullan of Ozona and Miss Jana Smith of Carlsbad, N.M.

Best man was West Smith, brother of the bridegroom. Groomsmen were Johnny Powell, brother of the bride, of Eldorado, Jim Espy Jr. of Ft. Davis, Buzz Jones of Carlsbad and Phillip Berry of Lovington, N.M.

The bride is a graduate of Eldorado High School and attended Howard College and Sul Ross. The bridegroom is a graduate of Carlsbad High School and attended Howard College.

After a wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Carlsbad, where the bridegroom is in the ranching business.

Among parties honoring the bride was a dance at the Ozona Country Club hosted by her father, following the rehearsal dinner at the Circle Bar Corral, hosted by the bridegroom's parents. Also, a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Charlie Davidson with Mrs. Steve Fryer assisting hostess.

Cubs win one and lose one

The Ozona 8th Grade Cubs defeated the Menard 8th Grade by a score of 27-20 while the 7th Grade lost to Menard, 0-28.

The 8th graders were led by the hard running of Diego Leal who ran 6 times for 68 yards and 2 TD and Rowdy Holmsley who carried 7 times for 92 yards. Robert Flores caught 2 TD passes of 75 yards and 63 yards from Leal. The Cubs ran the ball 30 times for 194 yards and a 6.5 yard average. They threw the ball 7 times, completed 5 for 176 yards for a 35 yard average per completion. Offensive linemen who provided the blocking for the passers and runners were center Adrian Tijerina, guards James Perry and Arnold Vargas, and tackles Curt McPherson and Roy Tambunga.

Defensively the Cubs were led by Robert Flores with 2 pass interceptions, 1 fumble recovery, and 8 solo tackles, Holmsley with 8 solo tackles, Tijerina with 7 tackles and Johnny Rodriguez and Diego Leal with 6 tackles each.

This Thursday, Oct. 25, the Cubs will host the Iraan Junior High at Lion Stadium. The J.V. game will follow.

Sports Fans

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Here's one hard to believe...Although Vince Lombardi was considered one of the most successful football coaches of all-time, there's an amazing total of 13 other coaches who won more National Football League games than Lombardi... It's a little-realized fact that Lombardi had a relatively short coaching career, and won only 96 regular season games in his entire career...Many less-famous coaches like Buddy Parker and Sid Gillman won more NFL games than Lombardi did.

Which is the only National Football League team that never plays a home game in their home state?...Answer is the New York Giants...They play all their home games at Giant Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey.

Here's a tricky football question many fans miss On a forward pass, how many eligible receivers are there?...Answer: in pro football, 16; in college, 17. All 11 defensive players are defined in the rules as eligible receivers...On the offensive team, the 2 men at the ends of the line, and all 4 backs are allowed to catch a pass, although the pros do not allow the quarterback, when he lines up behind center, to do so.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas — Director of Activities & Social Care

Last week's winners of Bingo were first, Frances Borrego who won the gift certificate donated by the Teacher Store and Tomasa Ramos won second prize. Bible lesson for the week was taken from Paul's letter to the Philippians, the theme being "Christ Gives Meaning to Life." We had a good group. Afterwards we awakened our legs and arms with exercises to music, separated by relaxation and deep breathing exercises. We also remembered finger exercises and the shoulder area.

We had our reading and discussion group on Friday afternoon instead of Thursday. We thoroughly enjoyed items from our new "Sunshine Magazine," and one of the poems which caused the group to laugh was entitled "Memorable Fashions"—the first verse of many reading, "Remember lisle stockings and bloomers of black, and long underwear with drop seat in the back?"

Then, there was the story of a family pet, a large St. Bernard dog that saved the life of a little girl. As always, we read Vic Pierce's latest installment in the Stockman which prompted those present to recall and to share experiences immediately following World War I.

Evelyn Bryant and Gertrude Daniels both happened to be in Waxahachie; Louise McWilliams was in Ballinger, and Vera Miller was teaching Home Economics in the state of Washington. She said she remembers the building of a great bonfire on the top of the Rim Rock to celebrate the armistice. Leona Harris was in Barnhart. Paul Cavin and Nila Turnell discovered they were both in McCullough County. This started talk of where they had attended school; Nila went to a country school at Claxton and Paul said he went to the Nine School, called that because it was nine miles out of Brady. I wonder if any readers remember these country schools. Paul is in his early nineties so it would be quite a time back! We were happy to have Leona's daughter, Mary, from San Angelo as a visitor.

On Friday morning the OHS cheerleaders came by and pinned our residents with football ribbons. This really pleased everyone so much.

Stories in Spanish on long-play tapes were enjoyed by some residents Monday afternoon. We use a special machine for these furnished by Commission for the Blind in Austin, and the tapes are called "talking books" for the use of the handicapped.

I am wondering if there is someone who would like to volunteer to do some mending for some of our residents? Sometimes we have buttons off, ripped seams—just little things which can be done in your home. Our launderess, Aurora Gutierrez, notices garments needing attention, and we can work out a system if someone should call me to volunteer.

We also need someone to polish the ladies' nails at a regular time each week. Anyone interested?

Two ladies, Maria Esmerado and Connie Marroquin, members of the Ozona Church of God of Prophecy, distributed candy to residents on Monday afternoon, and took time to visit with each one. Thank you!

Paul Cavin and Ruby Cooksey had a lengthy game of dominoes, Monday morning. Paul won. At the other table Vera Miller won and Louise McWilliams was second. Both are former members of the "Space Agers Club" of Big Lake—a club for senior citizens, where they played regularly.

We have the decorations out that we have made in crafts class for Halloween. One group started to work on key chains for Christmas giving, also.

Birthdays coming up in November are Vera Miller, Nov. 2; Sterling Baker, 3rd; Ramona Lugo, 8th; Floy Clare Short, 11th; Eleanor Bradford, 16th and Dolly Coates on the 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted White and son, Mark, were in Grandfalls Friday to attend funeral services for Mr. White's brother, Alfred White. Graveside services were held there at 3 p.m.

MR. AND MRS. MIKE OGLESBY

Ceremony unites Miss Bailey and Mr. Oglesby

Miss Sara Jo Bailey was married to Mr. Mike John Oglesby in a 6 o'clock ceremony Oct. 19, in the Ozona United Methodist Church Chapel with Rev. Larry Bailey, pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Oglesby of Pecos.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of white chiffon and lace. The bodice featured lace appliques with long tapered sleeves, highlighted with seed pearls. Her long chiffon veil flowed above the chapel train and was caught with a chiffon turban enhanced with lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and carnations.

Miss Stacy Hazl of Alpine was maid of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of garnet chiffon and carried three red roses.

Best man was Mr. Roy Lindsay, Jr. of Lubbock, Mrs. L.B. Cox, III, furnished piano music for the occasion.

Arrangements of white spider mums and pom mums combined with garnet and pink carnations were used in decoration along with silver candelabra and white tapers. A reception and dance followed the wedding at the Ozona Country Club.

After a short trip, the couple will be at home in Pecos where the bridegroom is employed with a gas and oil company.

The bride, a graduate of Ozona High School, is a candidate for December graduation from Sul Ross University where she is a cheerleader. Her major is speech and P.E.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Pecos High School and attended Sul Ross University where he was a member of the varsity football team.

Out of town guests included the bridegroom's parents, Mrs. Nannette Scott, sister of the bride, and her daughter, Carrie Jo, of McAllen; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rosenberger of Ft. Sumner, N.M., Mr. and Mrs. Lance Evans of Pecos, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Davis and Phil of Seymour, Mr. and Mrs. Sy Mussey, Bill Oglesby, brother of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Passmore, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ball, all of Pecos.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Worth Odum and Mr. and Mrs. Les Haus and Clay of San Angelo, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jones of Uvalde, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Mitchell of Del Rio,

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Whitley of Mertzon, Mr. John Rae Powell of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tillman of Junction, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Evans of Pecos and Miss Patti Trepagnier of San Antonio.

A patio party Oct. 23 at the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Davidson honored the couple. Co-hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Holt, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Fryer.

They were honored with a party at the Circle Bar, hosted by Mrs. Max Schneemann Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Max Schneemann, III.

Has your business outgrown your phone system?

When a business is expanding, so is the load on its phone lines. The usual solution is to add more phones. That's all right up to a point. But eventually, you can be spending more for a less efficient system. And that is the time to have a talk with General Telephone's Communications Consultants. They will make a complete survey of your business phone needs and show you how to use your system more efficiently. They may find ways to save you money. Maybe even make money. And best of all, there's never any extra charge for their service. Call your General Telephone business office today and make an appointment for a telephone survey.
