Well, here it is late Tuesday afternoon and instead of writing the column, I've been waiting around to find out if a bizarre tale is truth or fiction. It's certainly stranger than fiction, so I'll tell the unofficial version here and let you puzzle about it until the mystery is solved, if ever.

It seems two thugs were apprehended by Fort Stockton police after robbing a service station Friday afternoon. In their late teens, one talked and the other didn't. The one, a former resident of a mental institution, told of robbing and murdering a couple who they found asleep in their car atop Lancaster Hill at the park Thursday morning. He told officers he and his partner robbed the couple at gunpoint and then took them into a canyon and killed them. According to the story he returned to the park while his partner disposed of the bodies.

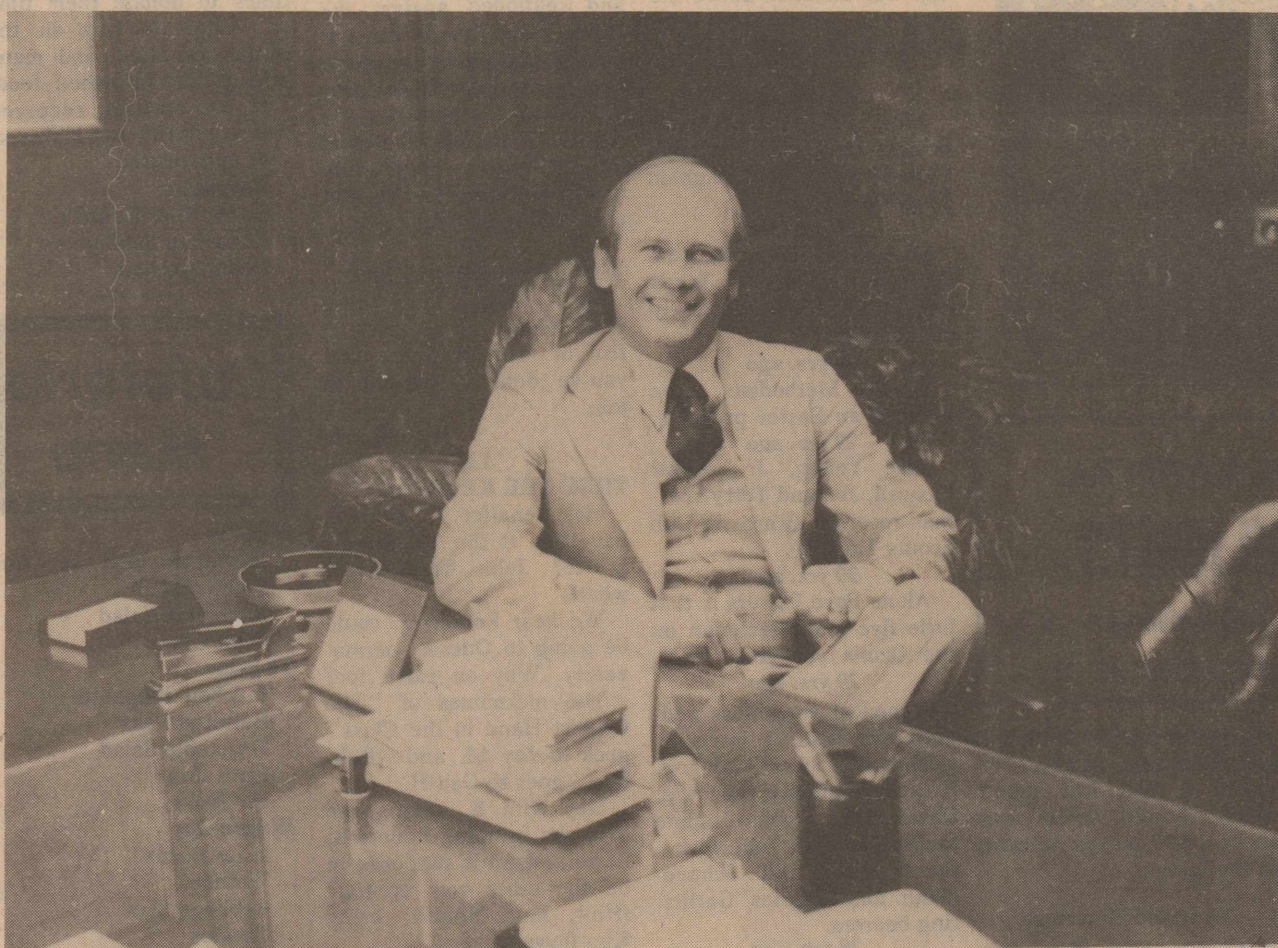

According to the man telling the tale, when his partner returned he said he had put the bodies where they would never be found. A report from Fort Stockton said the bodies were placed under a ledge and then the ledge broken over them with shale thrown on it.

The two men took the couple's car, along with their own stolen vehicle and headed toward Fort Stockton. The one driving the couple's tan station wagon with the front bashed in (the only description available) stopped and picked up a hitchhiker and gave him the car. He then traveled west with his partner.

It sounds pretty wild and crazy, but there was enough credence to the story to send law officers out to search the area. Along with a DPS helicopter and men on horseback. After a two-day search by local lawmen, firemen and others, the only evidence turned up was four tracks into a canyon and only two out, which lent some truth to the tale.

However, no bodies were turned up, the car has not been found if indeed there was one, and the results of a lie detector test given the tale teller were not available late Tuesday.

OZONA NATIONAL BANK'S EIGHTH president in 75 years is John Parks. Parks was elected at the most recent director's meeting when Lowell Littleton retired as president and was promoted to vice chairman of the board of directors. Several other promotions were made at the same time. See story for complete details.

Bank's 75th year highlighted by change

The Ozona National Bank will celebrate its 75th anniversary June 1, 1980. It has been at home in three locations in Ozona, and with recent changes in officers has had a complete turnover of personnel since it opened its doors in the back of Smith Drug June 1, 1905.

In the fall of that year, the bank moved to its new home at 910 Ave. E and conducted business for many years before opening in its modern new building at the corner of 11th Street and Ave. D., March 23, 1968.

John L. Parks is the most recent president, being elected last month at the board of directors meeting, when Lowell Littleton retired and was named vice chairman of the board. Littleton served the bank longer than any other member of the staff, and W.W. West, now chairman of the board, served as president longer than any other. Mr. West was elected in 1938 and served as president until 1975, when he was elected chairman of the board and Mr. Littleton took over as president.

Parks was promoted to the presidency from executive vice president. He is a native of San Saba and a graduate of Texas Tech University. He began his banking career as a teller with the Austin National Bank. He later served as a National Bank Examiner for six years. Prior to joining the staff of the Ozona National Bank in 1975, he was associated with Citizens State Bank and First Texas Bancorp in Georgetown. He is married to the former Mary Helen Hatton of Lubbock. They have two children, Christy, 13, and Jennifer, 10. Mrs. Parks teaches art.

Mr. Littleton, former President, is a native of Eastland County. He is a 1924 graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and joined the bank in 1929 as assistant cashier. He was appointed cashier in 1939, vice president and director in 1950, executive vice president in 1957 and president in 1975.

Mr. and Mrs. Littleton, the former Lucille Hardberger, have been an active couple in civic affairs in Ozona and this area. He is a charter member of the Ozona Lions Club, a member of the Ozona Rotary Club, deacon of First Baptist Church and on the board of directors of the Crockett County Water Board, serving as president. Mrs. Littleton is a retired school teacher and serves on the board of trustees of Hardin Simmons University.

J.W. Howell, named as senior vice president and cashier, is a native of Lorraine and joined the bank here in 1945 as a bookkeeper. He has served in every department of the bank and was named assistant cashier in 1946, cashier in 1950, and vice president and cashier in 1976, a position he held until his promotion. He and Mrs. Howell, Sybil, moved here in 1945. She is an avid gardener and active in the Ozona Garden Club.

John L. (Sonny) Henderson, Jr., was promoted to the position of vice president from that of assistant vice president. He is an Ozona native and a member of a pioneer Crockett County ranching family. He attended Ozona schools and is a graduate of Angelo State University. He has been with the bank for the past 10 years. He was named assistant cashier in 1969 and assistant vice president in 1979.

He is married to the former Martha Bailey of Ozona. They have two children, John L. III, and Mrs. Jack Baggett, Jr.

Promoted from assistant cashier to assistant vice president was W.P. (Pon) Seahorn III, a native of Ozona and a graduate of Southwest Texas State University. Prior to joining Ozona National Bank he was with North Texas Production Credit Association in Paris. He was named assistant cashier in 1976. He moved back to Ozona in 1976 with his wife, the former Jill Martin of Nixon, and children, Will, 9, and Terel, 8.

Ethel McCrohan was promoted from supervisor of the [CONT'D ON LAST PG.]

Ex-cult member reveals past

Sheila Toney, 23, of Odesa, a former Way, International Cult member, presented an interesting program on cults here Friday. She spoke to high school students in the auditorium Friday morning and to a large gathering of parents and students at the First Baptist Church Friday night.

Sheila joined the cult at age 18, in Theran, Iran, and was a member for four and a half years, until her parents kidnapped her, kicking and screaming, and had her deprogrammed. Although she resisted at the time, today she is glad and grateful they had her "mind returned to her."

She has embarked on a course to encourage parents of cult followers to use similar attempts to get their children out of cults.

Sheila was in Ozona with her mother, Mrs. Grady Toney, who is active in assisting parents cope with children who have been recruited into cults.

Sheila warns young people to beware of groups inviting them over for Christian fellowship, unless they are connected with an orthodox religion. While working with Boeing Aircraft in Tehran a group invited her to a "Christian meeting." She said she went because she had been a Christian all her life and they had easy answers at a time when she needed answers. Sheila said 18 is the prime age for cult recruits, but they recruit older persons as well. Sheila was living in Iran with her parents.

She went on to describe her experiences. The first meetings were all sunshine and light with emphasis on love, complete with Bible scripture. She described brainwashing techniques such as those used on prisoners of war. Soon Sheila was consumed with "The Way," and after returning to the states, began to recruit for them. She attended a cult-operated school in Emporia, Kan., and getting money and results for the group consumed most of her time.

Head of the cult operations is Victor Paul Wierwille, who has a questionable background, but the complete devotion and loyalty of cult members. Money is taken in by the cult through $100 a shot for Bible study courses, and direct donations, plus a percentage of any salary a cult member makes. The courses are based on the Bible, but twisted to fit devotion to the leader as the only true salvation and loyalty to the organization. The first doctrine the new cult member is taught is "Jesus is not God," and the Bible studies take off from there.

This blind trust is brought about, according to Miss Toney, by a rigid schedule, lack of rest, poor nutrition and a form of eye contact and touching hypnosis which puts the cult member in a trance-like state. Up to a dozen members live in a cubicle no more than 12-foot square and permission must be granted by three cult members before allowing one to leave the campus.

Miss Toney told Ozona high school students if they got connected with a group and felt they were being pulled into a cult to walk away and fast. Get information and check it out before getting involved, she said.

During her years in the cult she recruited a 14-year-old and 55-year-old, so there is no limit on age except the 18-year-old or college freshman seem more susceptible. Miss Toney also told of suicides of cult members who felt they could never live up to the expectations of the cult. The most pressure is to raise money for the cause.

Miss Toney's parents visited her at the college after becoming concerned at personality changes in their daughter and increased restrictions at the college. Seeing the school and the zombie-like students convinced Grady and Janice Toney that their daughter's "mind had been taken." They decided to enlist the help of reknowned deprogrammer Ted Patrick Jr.

Her family made up a story of a family illness and leaders of the cult reluctantly gave permission for her to visit her sick grandmother in Fort Worth. When she arrived in Fort Worth, she was spirited away by family members and the depro-gramming began.

The deprogramming took the better part of two days. Sheila said she was so exhausted by cult life she slept a great deal. A family member was always nearby. Sheila questioned the facts told to her by the deprogrammers, but after hours of sleep and nutritious food began to see the light. She began to doubt the validity of The Way International when she was convinced the school was not an accredited college and was presented facts on the gigantic rip-off of money from which Wierwille draws a large profit. Sheila admits she was not happy during her time with The Way.

Since her deprogramming eight months ago, she has been talking to groups about the dangers of getting involved in cults, and along with her mother, has done a great deal of research on various cults. She said there were around 3,000 cults with a total of around 3 million members. She said since the Jonestown debacle most people think the era of the cult is ended. Sheila says this is a mistake and cults are even more active than ever.

Sheila was here with her mother and Dr. and Mrs. Jack Jeanes of Richardson. Mrs. Jeanes is the former Marjo Pelto of Ozona whose son, Monte, is a member of The Way. She and her family tried unsuccessfully to have Monte deprogrammed last summer, but he escaped and went back to the cult before it could be accomplished. Way members tried unsuccessfully to have the family indicted for kidnapping. They are also active in warning parents and students about cults and recruitment tactics.

A question and answer period followed and students were so interested the assembly period lasted almost an hour and a half over the usual time. School officials felt it was a most enlightening program and a large crowd was on hand for both meetings, indicating a great deal of interest on the part of parents as well.

BOYS DOUBLES WINNERS in the San Angelo Tennis Tournament were Gary Smith and Lupe Gonzales of the Ozona High School Tennis Team. Several members of the team reached the semi-finals last weekend on the San Angelo courts, but this pair managed the only championship trophy.

FORMER CULT MEMBER TELLS HER STORY in Ozona. Sheila Toney, right, and her mother, Janice, stop by for a visit at the Stockman Friday between programs at the high school and First Baptist Church. Sheila was a cult member for four and a half years before her parents had her deprogrammed.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

The beautiful warm, sunny days of last week gave a hint of spring not very far off. But beware and fail to heed the urge to go all out to have early blooms which usually get killed by a freeze as late or later than Mar. 15.

Continue planting shrubs, trees and roses this and next month before the days get too hot.

If you are interested in a ground cover to reduce work and to provide year-around color, try a few that have proved to be satisfactory in our area.

Common periwinkle, (Vinca Minor) evergreen.

Andorra creeping juniper which provides a pleasing texture, light green in color in the summer and turns to a soft purple in winter.

English ivy, (Hedera helix) should not be overlooked as a Good ground cover. It will perform well in the sun or heavy shade. Needs control.

Carpet bugle (Ajuga reptans) is a very satisfactory ground cover in shady or sunny areas, but does best in light to dense shade.

Creeping liriope (liriope spicata) an evergreen with dark narrower leaves than the big blue liriope (liriope muscari).

The Creeping Carolina jasmine (Gelsemium sempervirens) is an evergreen vine that can also be used as a ground cover if given no support. It is covered with yellow, fragrant flowers.

Perennials can be used with dramatic effect in many planting compositions such as accent plants, shrubby plantings, color around a bird bath, patio plantings, old corners and drifts or masses against a wall or fence.

U.S. gardeners have striven for years to simulate the great perennial gardens of England. Most of us cannot hope to attain this perfection in our hot summer days and warm nights with prolonged droughts. Even so, in our own West Texas area we can have beautiful season-long color by combining both hardy and tender bulbs and annuals with perennials.

Whether you have a long border or only a 2-foot one, you can easily get continual bloom in it by distributing bold back-bone perennials in groups of 2 or 3 of each variety, starting with such early to late subjects as iris, peony, daylily, phlox, michaelmas daisy, and chrysanthemum. Leave enough space between the clumps to plant early mid-season and late daffodils and tulips. Use the bulbs in groups of at least six each, placing them in the center of the bed so that later blooming perennials or annuals will hide their yellowing foliage. If these hardy bulbs are planted deep enough, the annuals can be planted over the undisturbed bulbs. In between the bulbs and perennials, fill in with dainty flowers or contrasting foliage such as Columbine and shasta daisy. To add a cooling effect use the gray artemisia (dusty miller) or gray-leaved santolina.

Schools are not only for the individual's benefit. They are society's protection--the preserver of our common good.

Debra Says

"Cost-per-wearing" will stretch clothing dollars if you pay attention to it. It's like figuring cost-per-serving in food buying.

To find the cost-per-wearing of a garment, just divide the number of times you'll wear it into the purchase price.

Here's an example: you've found a sweater on sale for $20, you buy it, then don't like it, so you only wear it twice.

Its cost-per-wearing is $10-expensive for most people's budgets, even if it was on sale.

On the other hand, say you buy a seemingly expensive all-weather coat for $100 and wear it four times a week for six months.

Its cost-per-wearing is only $1--a very reasonable cost-per-wearing.

Also, if the coat lasts two years, the cost-per-wearing would be 50 cents, or for three years, just 33 cents.

Remember, a bargain is never a bargain unless it fits a need.

When buying clothing, consider color, pattern, comfort and need.

For wardrobe basics that get lots of wear, buy the best quality you can afford.

Think of high-quality basics as investments, and don't just buy "bargain-priced" garments each time you need a clothing item.

Of course, when high-quality basics actually have sale prices, they can mean a great savings and a really wise investment.

Finally, "bargain-priced" items can have a place in your clothing budget--especially for very limited needs, such as unusual occasions.

To help you decide, always figure the cost-per-wearing of high-quality items and "bargain-priced" items.

THE HUDSON RIVER

When you've seen great ships sail into a broad river and make their way to the sea, you forget that every river has its source.

Far up in the Adirondack Mountains of northern New York a mountain stream tumbles its rocky way to the valley... so begins the mighty Hudson.

Human might and greatness are the same. They begin in a small way as the individual makes the right decisions, embraces the important values, chooses the course of his life.

A strong religious faith can go a long way in helping us find our true destiny. Christians believe as we worship together that what we are today is but a point along the way to what God intends us to become.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas — Director of Activities & Social Care

We thank the Big Lake ladies of the VFW Auxiliary for bringing over a supply of beauty shop items, such as combs, spray, etc. They are often thinking about us.

Monday afternoon of this week we had a large group of Brownies (Trp. 192) led by Pam Coates and Becky Lynch. They sang some delightful little songs, with appropriate actions, and each little girl introduced herself and curtsied. They had made three very pretty floral arrangements all by themselves, and we have one in the day room and the other two in the lobby area; they are so bright and cheery. Winners this week in bingo were Ruby Cooksey first and Sally Speed second. The two ladies played in a run-off for the gift certificate. In dominoes, Leona Harris was first and Mary Pender second. Gertrude Daniels and Juana Hernandez played Toss-Across and Juana came out on top with four games to one.

Incidentally, during our Tuesday afternoon bingo, a week ago, Leona Harris had a wonderful surprise. First her daughter from San Angelo, Mary Margaret, came up to her, and then pointed to a very handsome young man in Air Force uniform standing in the doorway—it was Leona's grandson-in-law on a fast trip from Germany. Needless to say, Leona made a speedy exit from the game! Frieda Hill joined in bingo this week.

In the Wednesday morning Bible study group we read John 8 and the subject was "Knowing Someone Cares," an account of our Lord's great compassion and total forgiveness. An important point made was that we do not have the capacity to judge others as God does, and that He does so from a depth of understanding that is beyond us.

Our exercise session got a bit wild, to say the least! We put to music (a Herb Alpert tape with a beat all could hear) the exercises and steps choreographed the previous week. With a little more practice, arms and legs will be moving in unison. Judging by the smiles and chuckles everyone seemed to enjoy the mental and physical stimulation which this type of activity generates. Of course, I should explain, all was done in a sitting position. Actually, I think they did awfully well, and enjoyed moving to the music. Later we played "Name that Tune" as I resurrected a few old tunes of the 20's and 30's on the piano.

Several residents have accompanied me outdoors during this pretty weather. Mary Pender and Paul Cavin especially like this activity. The white benches at the hospital entrance offer a nice halfway resting and chatting spot.

In reading and discussion group I read "Desert Dragger, or How the Jackass Rabbit Keeps Loping Along." Mary Pender shared some of her memories of the jack rabbit round-ups when the hunters would go off in different directions from a central spot where, on returning, the ladies would be waiting for them with a picnic meal to reward their efforts. It seems that when times were hard, and cash to date the girls was hard to come by, the boys would hunt jack rabbits and when producing a pair of ears to prove their prowess, they would be paid a dime; many a date was financed on these earnings and it was quite an incentive to go out and get poor old Jack. Several others spoke of roundups in their areas. Some tall tales taken from an old Texas Highways magazine furnished more amusement concerning Texas' own jack rabbit.

Also in this session we read from "Grit" and Lottie Lee's "Snips, Quips, and Lifts" from the Ozona Stockman.

Grace Cotter joined us for both the Bible study, and reading and discussion group; I believe she will be with us regularly from now on. We were also very happy that Jessie Deaton joined us for the latter group together.

I have added two more angel fish to the aquarium with part of the funds furnished recently by Leona. We have many fish-watching now that the tank has taken on a new look with floral decor and a growing population of fish. I have found that introducing "strangers" to the older aquarium inhabitants can be a bit tricky as they can be awfully cruel to each other at first.

Wanted: I am hoping some readers will come up with the eggs that hosiery come in; and I could use several cigar boxes, please. Also, it won't be long before we stage our second annual Easter Bonnet contest and we will need some additional old hats.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS

From the depth of our hearts, we would like to thank all the wonderful people for their support and generosity during our time of sorrow. Thank you for the beautiful flowers and food. Our special thanks to Dr. Owensby and the hospital staff for the care our mother received. Our equal thanks and appreciation to Father Larry Droll and the South Side Lions for their support and many kindnesses.

Female athletes have built-in advantage

From the Texas Medical Association

Generally speaking, women are fatter, shorter, weaker and wider than men. But that is not bad. In fact those characteristics give women a built-in advantage over men in sports requiring balance and endurance. Men win out in sports that primarily require strength and speed.

So much for generalizations. There is no average body, male or female. There are excellent male and female athletes of all shapes and sizes.

But maturity brings basic body differences between the sexes that affect sports performance. Before puberty a girl might do fine playing baseball with boys her age. But as they mature, males usually surpass her in strength, said Metha Hunter, M.D., of Ann Arbor, Michigan. At a sports medicine conference during a recent American Medical Association meeting in San Antonio, Dr. Hunter said maturity gives women an advantage over men in balance sports such as gymnastics because their proportionately wider pelvis and shorter arms and legs give them a lower center of gravity. Agility seems to be about equal for both sexes.

Maturity also gives women a greater percentage of body fat than men. The greater percentage of body fat, about 25 percent for a physically fit woman compared to about 14 percent for a fit man, gives women more fat to convert to energy during endurance contests such as long-distance swimming or running.

Women already hold many long-distance swimming records. Marathon runner Joan Ulyot, M.D., of San Francisco predicts that women's natural endurance advantage means they will beat men in marathons eventually. In a recent issue of American Medical News, Dr. Ulyot said women only need more experience and training to catch up with men because women have been allowed to compete in marathons only eight years and men have been competing for about 80 years.

But can women's bodies stand up to the strain of running and other sports? Dr. Hunter said proper conditioning will help protect them from injuries including problems possible because of women's wider hips. This characteristic may increase the likelihood of hip pain and also encourage knee problems because wide hips may negatively affect the angle leg bones and knees absorb strain.

Conditioning to prevent injuries includes standard training techniques, even weightlifting. Dr. Hunter said women can increase their strength about 45 percent without increasing muscle size very much at all so women should not worry about appearing muscle-bound.

Dr. Hunter also dismisses worries about menstruation, citing a study that showed female Olympic gold medal winners were in all stages of the menstrual cycle. Other studies show athletic females have less menstrual tension and pain.

Protecting the breasts also may be a concern. Few serious injuries occur but a woman playing contact sports might want some protective padding. Finding a comfortable bra is most important so that straps or hooks on the bra itself do not injure the athlete.

The opportunity to save a life will be yours at the Crockett County Hospital between the hours of 3:00 p.m. and 8 p.m. Thursday, March 6. The United Blood Services Community Blood Center will be drawing blood to help meet the community's blood usage.

Every healthy human being in Ozona is urged to donate in order to keep blood available for the patients in need of the life sustaining

Schools planning open house

Ozona schools will have open house Thursday, March 6, according to Superintendent Foy Moody. The primary and intermediate schools will have visitors from 7 to 8 p.m. and the junior high and high schools from 7:30 to 8:30.

Moody said the open house will give everyone in the community an opportunity to see the classrooms and new facilities. All work on the school improvement program has been completed and is in use except for the Primary School which is still under construction. However, the new school is so near completion, a tour of the building has been planned. Completion date is projected as July 1, and workmen seem to be on schedule, Moody said.

All school facilities will be open to the public and teachers will be on hand to show the new facilities. Several coaches will be at Lion Stadium to conduct tours of the facilities, including the new field house and the modern new press box.

All members of the community as well as parents are urged to attend the open house.

fluid. Every community must be self-supporting to enable the assurance of an adequate blood supply. Blood must be available for the patient wherever and whenever it is needed.

If people wait until an emergency arises, it could be too late since processing and testing a single unit takes approximately 4 to 6 hours. When an emergency does arise, it is important that enough blood has been donated to cover the amount needed until more can be drawn.

Take this opportunity to help supply the hospital with an adequate amount. Go by the hospital and donate.

Castro guilty of assault

Felipe Castro pleaded guilty to assault in 112th District Court here Monday and was fined $1,000, given a 1-year probated sentence and ordered to pay restitution of $1,500 to Anastacio DeHoyos, Jr., victim of the assault.

Assistant District Attorney Bill Mason reduced the third degree felony charge to a misdemeanor in exchange for the guilty plea and agreement from all parties.

The charges grew out of a fight near the Parish Hall May 5, 1979, when DeHoyos suffered a broken arm. The $1,500 restitution was for medical bills and loss of work due to the injury to DeHoyos.

A jury was called and two civil suits settled out of court before the jury was dismissed about noon.

CONSERVE ENERGY AND SAVE MONEY WITH PROPER INSULATION, CAULKING AND WEATHERSTRIPPING.

Caulk around doors and windows

Weatherstrip all outside doors

Insulate your attic, first.

The most effective defense against rising energy costs is proper insulation. Insulation keeps the heat in during the winter and out during the summer, so that both your heating and cooling costs will be less.

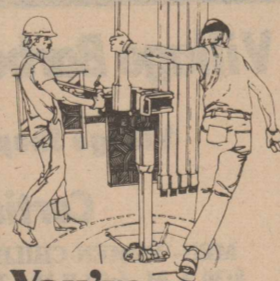

Insulation is measured in R-values and the higher the value, the more effective the insulation. R-values of R-30 in the ceilings and R-20 in the walls are now being recommended for new construction in this area.

IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN A MORE ENERGY-EFFICIENT-HOME, CALL WTU TODAY.

TRAINED ENERGY EFFICIENT CONSULTANTS ARE AVAILABLE TO ADVISE YOU ON PROPER ENERGY MANAGEMENT.

KITTY'S KORNER

One local official put it this way, "If the people are dead, they couldn't report the stolen car and robbery. On the other hand if the bodies are not found, there can be no murder. However, if the lie detector test finds the man is telling the truth, the search will begin again."

Meanwhile the partner in question is saying nothing. He won't even give officers his name.

By next week we may be able to tell you if this story is truth or fiction, but we feel it only fair to tell you that the lie detector test may be inconclusive, due to the mental state of the story teller.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Jerry Lay

Here's an interesting question for you...What man who played big league baseball in 1979 holds this unique double distinction: His brother played in the National Football League, and his father is in baseball's

Hall of Fame..Answer is Dale Berra, an infielder with the Pittsburgh Pirates..Dale's father is baseball immortal Yogi Berra..Dale's brother, Tim, was a wide receiver in the NFL with the Baltimore Colts.

What are the most goals ever scored by one team in any National Hockey League game in history?...The Montreal Canadians set the record when they scored 16 goals in a game in 1920--and no NHL team has ever scored that many goals in any game in all the years since then.

Here's an oddity..The entire Houston Astros baseball team hit only 49 home runs in 1979--while Dave Kingman of the Chicago Cubs hit almost that many himself--Kingman had 48.

I bet you didn't know..the place to go for that new car or pickup is L-B Motor Co. See our new Cadillacs, Oldsmobiles, Pontiacs, Buicks and Chevrolets.
