Mr. Roach buried in Eldorado

Funeral services for Eldred B. Roach, 73, of Ozona and Eldorado, were held Monday at 10:30 at the First Baptist Church in Eldorado, with burial in Eldorado Cemetery.

Mr. Roach died at 12:27 a.m. Sunday at Nix Memorial Hospital in San Antonio, after an illness.

He was born Dec. 6, 1906, in Schleicher County. He was married to Alma Oberkamp in April, 1951. He was a retired rancher in the Eldorado and Harper areas and was a member of the Thoroughbred and Quarterhorse Association. He was also a past president of the Harper Lions Club.

Survivors include his wife, of Ozona; two daughters, Mrs. Lee Roy Swope of San Antonio and Mrs. Gail Howard of Covington, La.; a sister, Mrs. T.J. Bailey of Ozona and Eldorado; a brother, Jim Tom Roach of Eldorado; and three grandchildren.

Shower fails to halt heat

A brief shower late Sunday afternoon lifted spirits in Ozona, but failed to even make a break in the heat wave. The previous Thursday thunder rumbled overhead but not a trace of rain fell.

However, up to two inches of rainfall was reported on rangelands 20 miles south of Ozona, and the Bill Baggett ranch received .20 of an inch in all gauges Thursday.

There were no reports of any significant amount of rain in the county Sunday, but heavy clouds encircled the town, and it seemed almost impossible some parts of the county failed to get rain. Thunder and lightning caused some interruption in electrical service Sunday, knocking out some air-conditioning units.

Some cuts made—

Court reviews budget

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in a called session to review the proposed budget for 1981. The first item of review was the hospital budget which has been revised from the original budget submitted earlier in the year.

Hospital Administrator Glen Rumley reviewed the budget with the court. Total expenses were estimated at $478,500. Of this amount expected revenue from patient services was $347,961. Revenue from the county would make up the remaining $130,539.

With this budget, County Auditor Dick Kirby reported the general funds would be $22,000 short for hospital operation and the court would need to compensate for this amount.

County Judge Johnny Jones said the court could go three ways to make up the deficit, increase taxes, cut back the budget, or use surplus in other departments to transfer to general funds for hospital operation.

Rumley said private rooms in the care center will be raised from $30 per day to $48. He also said work on collections was being intensified, adding collections are up and the occupancy rate is up at the hospital.

He also reminded the court he had taken over the hospital after salaries had been increased by 15%, an extremely inflationary situation. Besides this, collections were some five years in arrears. Inflation has also affected the hospital budget Rumley said, citing national figures of 11.2% increase in hospital operating costs and 10.7% increase in employee salaries. These figures came from a study of the last 12 months recently released.

Rumley asked the court for an 8% salary increase for the hospital instead of the proposed 12% which is in the budget for all county employees. He also asked that he and the hospital board be entirely responsible for individual salary increases at the hospital.

A check with other hospitals in the area revealed the salary schedule here is considerably above that of other hospitals of comparable size. Rumley said the only way the hospital could operate efficiently was the merit raise system. The court agreed to leave the salary schedule entirely up to Rumley and the hospital board.

With a tax revenue increase of 25% over this year, the court was reluctant to increase the tax rate, although the budget is up by 18%. They continued the review of the budget in an effort to cut enough to make up the hospital loss.

The court cut the annual salary increase to 10% across the board instead of the 12% originally proposed. A sum of $12,500 earmarked for the fire department was cut to $2,500. The hospital salary increase was set at 7.5%. The $20,000 for the North Pool repair was cut $5,000.

Sheriff Billy Mills, who also met with the court on his budget, told the court he saw no way the existing budget could be cut. The increase in the sheriff's budget amounted to about $30,000. This will take care of three jailers, working in shifts around the clock; a new deputy and another car.

The court decided to put a gasoline tank in service at the jail, at an estimated savings of around 16¢ per gallon, for use by all sheriff department vehicles.

Ending the budget review, the court decided to carry over surplus in any department to the general fund to be used where needed.

Little League stars win District—

Ozona all stars remain undefeated

Ozona's all stars remained undefeated in the District 4 Little League playoffs Saturday evening, downing Pecos 5-4. The previous Tuesday night they beat San Angelo South by the same score. Both games were played in Big Lake. This was the second meeting with Pecos in the double elimination playoffs and the Ozona stars won both encounters.

The win gives Ozona the district championship and the opportunity to advance to the state semi-finals in Big Spring August 2.

Steve Sanchez went to the mound for Ozona and struck out three while allowing Pecos nine hits in getting the win. Tony Pena took the loss for Pecos.

Sanchez gave his team a boost in the first inning, hitting a home run to gain a 2-1 lead over the Pecos team. Ozona built their lead to 5-1 before Pecos fought back in the late innings.

Pecos actually had a chance to win the game in the bottom of the sixth as catcher Lance Windham hit a home run and narrowed the Ozona lead to 5-4. Pecos got a walk, a base hit and an error to load the bases with one out.

An infield fly and a fly to John Tom Stokes in center field ended the contest.

In the Tuesday night game, Gayle Underwood pitched all six innings for the Ozona Stars.

Ed Borrego homered in the first inning and scored Underwood. David Lovell and Abel Lara scored in the second inning and Harvey Fierro scored in the third.

Ozona will play Midland East Saturday at 8:00 p.m. in the state semi-finals. A win will send them to Waco for the state final tournament August 11.

22 contestants for IPSC match

A total of 22 contestants competed in the IPSC shooting match in Ozona, July 27. High scoring participants in the new shooter class were Larry Todd, Odessa, first; David Diffie, Midland, second; and Larry Sides, Lubbock, third. Class A results were Reid Holmsley, Ozona, first; Don Hoefner, Odessa, second. B Class winners were John L. Henderson, Ozona, first; Denny Roach, Midland, second; Guy Bott, Rankin, third. Class C winners were Herbie Noelke, Sheffield, first; Ross Sides, Lubbock, second; Mike Vordick, Ozona, third.

Match directors for this month's match were Bill Price and Bill Gage. Jimmy Moore served as safety director.

The International Practical Shooting Confederation is the guiding and coordination body for the conduct of international and intersectional practical marksmanship competition throughout the free world.

National headquarters for IPSC is Gunsite Ranch, Paulden, Arizona. Its director is Jeff Cooper noted author, teacher, lecturer, and fire arms legal consultant. He is considered to be the world's foremost authority on side arms. He is himself one of only nine individuals who have obtained the distinguished title of "Senior Combat Master."

Procedures and regulations of local groups are theirs to decide, except that any shooting called "Practical" should conform to the broad principles promulgated by I.P.S.C. These principles are: 1. The equal importance of accuracy, power, and speed; 2. continuous diversification of challenge (never shoot the same course of fire twice in one year); 3. relevance (all problems posed in the contests should represent a realistic defensive situation); 4. freedom of technique (present the problem and let the shooter solve it without telling him how.

Summer band

The Ozona High School summer band program will begin Monday, August 11, at the band hall at 7:00 p.m. All high school students interested in band are urged to attend.

In the parade, the flag bearers will be followed by this year's queen contestants. Miss Gay Burns, 1979 Rodeo Queen, will lead the contestants. The six contestants are Laura Lee, 14-year-old Ozona High School freshman and 4-H member. Her hobbies are horseback riding and swimming.

Cindy Reavis, 15, another OHS sophomore, is another of the queen contestants. Her interests include horses, rodeos, track, tennis, basketball and swimming. She is an active member of 4-H, Girl Scouts, FFA, and the high school band.

The other contestant is Melinda Hokit, a senior student in Ozona High School. She has been riding since the age of seven years. She spends her summers rodeoing and works parttime. She enjoys swimming when time permits. She has been a 4-H club member for nine years and was Gold Star Girl in 1979. She participates in basketball and is a library assistant.

The queen contestants will be guests of the Lions Club at their Thursday luncheon and will be honored with a barbecue at the Glen Burns home Thursday night. Judging will take place Friday and the new queen will be crowned during the show Saturday night by Miss Burns, retiring queen. The contestants will be judged on horsemanship, personality, dress and poise.

Trophies will include a silver buckle to average winners in all events. Silver Cheyenne roll name plates will go to second place winners, and a silver halter name plate for third. Silver trophy buckles will be given for Best All Around performance in each of the three age groups. To qualify for all-around, a contestant must place in at least 2 events. Trophies are presently displayed in the window at Watson's Department Store.

The Ozona Lions Club sponsors the rodeo each year with the assistance of the Chamber of Commerce. Contestants should pick up numbers at the chamber office between 1 and 5 p.m. Friday, Aug. 1.

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

With the passing of July, the last summer month, August is right upon us, so begin fall planning and planting. If it proves to be as dry, the monotonous chores of watering daily will have to continue.

With so much dust in the air to settle on all plants, and especially your potted plants, they need a good strong spray once a week in the early morning to clean the foliage so they can breathe.

Pecans need supplemental irrigation to assure optimum kernel development during this dry time. Water slowly and deeply, from out beyond the dripping line to half the distance to the trunk.

Due to the extreme dryness this is a critical period for many shrubs such as the azalea, camellia, boxwood, raphiolepis and other evergreens. A lack of moisture now will weaken these plants, making them less resistant to severe cold. Too, some are forming flower buds for next season blooms or fruit.

If old poinsettias have grown tall and leggy, cut back plants now to make growth more compact and flowers more abundant. Pruning about 6 inches from the tip of each branch should be sufficient, but don't leave over 10 or 12 inches tall.

If you are growing amaryllis, they should have a side dressing of well-rotted manure this or next month to help bulbs grow large and plump. The growth the bulbs make in the summer determines the quality and number of flowers for the next year. Then too, a well grown bulb will produce more off-sets, so keep watered in dry months.

All garden club members especially should be planting, transplanting or rooting cuttings for the fall plant sale. Anyone else that may want to join us for the project will be welcome to do so.

Symptoms of heat exhaustion

Thousands of people have been stricken by heat exhaustion during the worst heat wave in the country's history. Many victims could have been spared this physical trauma, however, if they had followed a few simple precautions.

Who's most affected by heat? Although people who work outdoors, such as construction workers, city service employees, firemen, window washers, painters and gardeners are primary victims—anyone who undergoes physical exertion when the temperature soars above 90° F. is susceptible—this includes joggers, bikers and even sun bathers.

Of course, the elderly must observe every precaution for heat exhaustion.

According to researchers the most common warning signs of which everyone should be aware are: Clammy skin, profuse perspiration, tiredness, weakness, headaches, cramps, nausea, dizziness (possible vomiting), fainting (the victim will regain consciousness when he falls down and blood rushes to his head).

If you or a passerby experience such symptoms, the

following corrective measures can be taken for relief: Give the victim sips of salt water (1 tsp. of salt per 8 oz. glass, half a glass every 15 minutes, over the period of one hour.)

Have the victim lie down and raise his feet off the ground 8 to 12 inches.

Rest in a shady or air-conditioned area and loosen clothing.

Apply cool, wet cloths and fan the victim.

If the victim vomits, do not give him any more fluids. As

Baby sitters need help from parents

Adolescents can be effective babysitters—with some help from parents of the young children involved, says a family life education specialist.

"When adolescents know what is expected of them jobwise, when they know exactly where the parents of the young children are for emergencies, and when they know the children, they are effective as babysitters," Dorothy Taylor explains.

Ms. Taylor, on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says babysitting can be a satisfying experience for adolescents.

"For some adolescents, it's an introduction into the work force, the first time they get to manage their own money, or it's their first experience in learning some parenting skills," she says.

Currently more than one million adolescents care for children, according to national estimates.

There are problems for adolescents as babysitters—along with the satisfactions, but these are solvable once pinpointed, Ms. Taylor says.

Through a recent study of babysitters in the South, researchers gained insight into some of the problems, and from that, solutions are emerging, the specialist notes.

In the study, adolescents indicated that they expected to perform these duties: putting children to bed, playing games, watching television as soon as possible, take him to a hospital where he can be given intravenous salt solution. People seriously afflicted with heat exhaustion should rest for several days and avoid exposure to abnormally warm temperatures.

Keeping your body properly hydrated is as important year-round as it is during the summer. Balanced and adequate body fluids are crucial to good health and well-being, especially while working and exercising.

Hospital auxiliary in meeting

The Crockett County Care Center and Hospital Auxiliary met for its regular quarterly session the first part of July in the Care Center Day Room.

A special contribution for Care Center use was reported by the treasurer and the members voted to provide the additional amount needed to purchase another wheel chair for the Care Center. Also, the auxiliary voted to buy indoor-outdoor carpeting for the hospital entrance.

A special fund was established to be used to replace draperies at the hospital. These draperies must be fire-proof fiberglass and anyone who would like to have a part in this project is invited to make donations marked for this purpose. Donations may be made to Beth Boyd, Memorials Chairman, or to any auxiliary member.

THE OLD WAY

The old pump handle was the counterpart of our modern water faucet. You simply had to be thirsty enough to want to pump water.

New ways often bring little that's new. They just make it easier to satisfy our necessities.

But those who spiritually thirst — for souls that are dry, there is no new way. There is no way to pipe the water of a new life into the soul of man.

It isn't difficult to overcome the spiritual drought of our time. But you've got to realize your own thirst for God. And you've got to draw on the deep, refreshing resources where they are. Let the church or synagogue of your choice help you rediscover the old way.

Ring hang up can cost a finger

From the Texas Medical Association

If you don't have a hang-up about wearing jewelry while doing physical work or playing sports, a ring could give you one.

When a ring hangs on something and the rest of the body keeps moving, the finger can be injured or even torn off, a Houston hand surgeon said.

The easy way to avoid the problem is to remove rings before possibly hazardous activities. But people participating in many sports including basketball, track and field events, rodeo and other sports, seldom realize the danger. Even racquet sports and jogging offer some risk because falls can cause dislocated or broken fingers. A ring on a hurt, swelling finger adds to the pain and problems because it can cut off the finger's blood supply, said James Bennett, M.D., who spoke recently at a sports medicine symposium at the Texas Medical Association's (TMA) annual convention in Houston.

To show the serious risk of rings, Dr. Bennett tells about the case of a carpenter who avoided injuring his fingers at work but lost a finger when his ring hung on the rim while he was playing basketball.

Earrings, especially for pierced ears, are another dangerous piece of jewelry, Dr. Bennett said in an interview. Ripped out earrings are one of the more common jewelry injuries and torn ears may require surgery to repair them without leaving scars.

Some employers prohibit jewelry such as rings and stiff bracelets that could become entangled with objects. But since no one regulates work at home or leisure-time activities, it is up to the individual to remove jewelry if there is even a slight chance of snagging a ring, or bracelet, getting a necklace caught or having a swinging necklace medallion knock out teeth, TMA says.

BIG FIRE LOSS FOR COUNTY-This $80,000 piece of county road equipment was lost to fire Thursday afternoon on Miller Lane, shortly after county employees were returning to the county barn. No cause was given for the fire. There will be some salvage value and insurance should cover half of the cost. One fireman said the fire would be the biggest loss to the county this year in dollar value.

How are your shopping skills?

If they're not so good, you could be losing lots of money at the grocery market. Test your skills with the easy checklist below (answer "yes" or "no"):

I plan weekly menus.

I plan meals to include weekly newspaper specials.

I compare brands for the best buys.

I compile a grocery list based on my menus.

I am flexible and include unadvertised specials.

I read food labels.

I check expiration dates on food products.

I go shopping alone if possible.

I organize my shopping list to go with the order of the store aisles.

I buy only what I can store and use before spoilage.

I occasionally buy in quantity for the freezer when I find specials.

I store food properly as soon as I return from the market.

I watch the checkout cashier to see actual amounts charged.

I examine produce carefully for damage.

I do not go to the grocery store with an empty stomach.

There are many more shopping tips than the 15 listed above, but each statement should have received a "yes" answer.

If you have less than 12 "yes" answers, you can be sure you are not using your time, energy or money efficiently.

Study the statements and map out a different and better strategy for your trips to the market.

METAL IN MICROWAVES

Don't use metal in microwave ovens—even when manufacturers approve.

Even when the manufacturer's instructions do not prohibit the use of metal pans, it's generally not advisable to use them for several reasons.

First, metal pans reflect microwave energy instead of transmitting it, so the time and energy-saving advantage of microwave cooking is lost.

Second, foods, especially frozen ones, will cook unevenly in metal pans deeper than three-fourths of an inch.

Another important reason is that a metal container or a dish with metallic trim may cause arcing, a lightning-like effect causing sparks that can damage the pan or pit the walls of the oven.

Arcing is less likely with substantial amounts of food—at least two cups in the pan—because moisture-carrying foods primarily attract the microwaves.

Use metal skewers as long as only the ends are exposed.

Remember that arcing will occur if metal touches the oven at any point.

If metal twist ties are used on cooking bags or frozen loaves of bread, sparks from arcing may ignite the covering of the ties and melt the plastic bag.

SMALL FASHIONS will be closed on Saturdays during the month of July only.

Drought to make range fires worse than 1978

Drought conditions in Texas promise to make 1980 as bad or worse than 1978 when firemen in one West Texas city contended with 87 range fires in August.

"Dry conditions are eating us alive now," said Bob Falkner, Ozona assistant fire chief.

"If we don't get some rain this month or the first of next month, we're in for it," said Barry Riggs, also a volunteer fireman and assistant chief at Big Lake.

More than 2,000 firefighters from 801 cities throughout the country are gathered at Texas A&M University this week for the 51st Annual Texas Firemen's Training School. Trainees battle chemical, natural gas, refinery, house and even ship-board fires during three week-long schools.

Municipal firemen attending the first week of training said the drought has caused some water supply problems but the situation is not yet critical.

They said cities that use well water are keeping a wary eye on water table behavior.

Falkner keeps close tabs with the Ozona department. "We've had two grass fires in the 10 days I've been here," said the emergency service dispatcher instructor.

"Water supply is usually no problem for us," said Falkner, a volunteer who works as a communications operator with the Texas Department of Public Safety. "Ranchers usually have a number of dirt tanks and one of our people will know about where they are. The road department and oil companies loan tank trucks to get water to our pumps."

Scales are vastly different in West and East Texas grass fires. "They don't usually call the fire department until a couple hundred acres cause problems," said a veteran firefighter. "In Brazos County, a 2-5 acre grass fire is front page news and gets five minutes on the 6 o'clock TV news."

Falkner said sections, rather than acres, form range fire terminology in West Texas. The Ozona department's big grass fire in 1980 involved 64,000 acres. "We lost a truck and some stock," he said.

"The difference between range and grass fires is that a 5-acre grass fire here endangers homes, buildings and so forth," said John Rauch of the Texas Engineering Extension Service which hosts the school.

Methods of organization and firefighting differ somewhat. Riggs said road maintainers and bulldozers supported by ranches with cattle spray rigs work ahead of flames to cut fire breaks. The Ozona volunteer department's 20-member force, usually responding six to 10 firemen per call, tackle hot spots.

Oil field fires involving tanks, drilling rigs and well blowouts present special problems. Lightning, cause of many range fires, ignited a cluster of four 410-barrel tanks at a gas processing plant near Big Lake. Riggs said other causes are static electricity, friction, power lines, catalytic converters on cars and, in some cases, public carelessness with fire.

Mutual aid, an inter-departmental practice throughout the United States, is honed to a fine degree over the wide expanses of West Texas. Riggs said the department responds an average of 30 miles and has gone as far as Eldorado and Sonora, more than 60 miles.

Hot, dry weather calls for special lawn care

Current severe heat and dry conditions pose many problems for homeowners, and lawn care during times of stress is one of the most difficult to deal with.

Dr. Richard L. Duple, turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers hope with some practical advice to help homeowners cope with lawns during the extreme weather conditions of this summer.

Where water is limited for lawn use, Duple suggests watering only when the lawn shows signs of stress, such as wilting or discoloration. "When you can water, soak the lawn about 3 or 4 inches deep to encourage deep rooting, stronger plants. Ideally, lawns should be watered early in the morning to incorporate any dew which might be present and to reduce evaporative loss," he says.

When water is available, Duple recommends mowing at a height of 2½ to 3 inches at 10 to 14 day intervals.

"If you cannot water the lawn, mowing at a height of 3 to 4 inches and only when the lawn becomes unsightly is the best practice. Mowing at this height will allow common St. Augustine and bermudagrass to mature and produce seed. The seedstalks can be shredded with a mower in late fall or winter to allow seed to revitalize the lawn next spring," he emphasizes.

The specialist also recommends little or no fertilizer during the summer months, and an active insect and disease control program to protect against further damage.

In South Texas, a particular pest during dry years is the chinch bug. Chinch bug damage can be distinguished from drought injury by the yellowish, irregular patterns of the infested areas.

How to store heirlooms

Store garments and other textile heirlooms for long periods of time without damage and deterioration, says Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist.

Follow these tips to maintain them for future generations, she suggests.

Store textile items clean and as free of dust as possible. Dust and soils often contain materials that deteriorate fabric, especially during prolonged storage.

Remove general surface dirt by brushing or vacuuming. Tumble dry nonfragile items alone on the air cycle of the dryer.

Launder soiled items, and remove all stains if possible.

Fold fragile items flat on a clean screen, and soak in the bathtub.

Dryclean soiled nonwashables. Alert the drycleaner of the item's age, fragile areas and intended storage for best results.

For best storage, lay items flat without folds. Do not store with pins or other metal objects such as jewelry which can rust and cause permanent damage.

Choose as large a box as possible for flat storage. Line the box with laundered muslin or sheeting to prevent the box from adding to fabric deterioration.

Pad any folds with the box lining fabric and cover the top with fabric. Then seal the box.

Cover and hang garments made of strong fabric on padded hangers.

However, avoid packing tightly in an overly crowded closet.

Dockery-Hoover win consolation

The Ozona mixed doubles team of Shannon Dockery and Tommy Hoover won the consolation trophy at the Big Lake Tennis Tournament last weekend. Dockery and Roger Epps won the championship a week before in the Ozona tournament.

Friday afternoon Dockery and Hoover downed Ortiz and Rodriguez to win their first game. The San Angelo team of McKee and Barber downed them and sent them the consolation route.

Three straight wins gave them the consolation win. They beat Ortiz and Rodriguez again, overpowered Stout and Danksworth and beat Big Lake's Tatum and Moore for the trophy win.

Dist. 4-H Fashion Revue

Six Crockett County 4-H members participated in the District 6 4-H Fashion Revue in El Paso, July 24. Junior contestants were Randi Thompson, Judy Flores, Julie Reagor, Tania Berry, and Kim Baker. Melinda Hokit participated in the Senior Division.

Randi Thompson was named first alternate in the nine year old age group.

Parents and leaders accompanying 4-Hers to El Paso were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Reagor, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Flores, Mrs. Floyd Hokit and County Extension Agent Debra Price.

Royals are third in Sonora

The Ozona Royals brought home the third place trophy from the Sonora Red Sox tournament over the weekend.

The Royals lost the first game to the Big Spring Red Sox by a score of 10 to 3. The Royals jumped out to a 1-0 lead but errors cost them the game and a chance to meet Sonora in the championship. Richard Sanchez took the loss.

Sonora beat Eldorado 5-2 to advance to the finals and Ozona beat Eldorado 3-2 to take the third place. The Royals were behind all the way until the bottom of the seventh inning when they scored two runs for the win.

Jimmy Ortiz started and pitched until the top of the seventh when he got into trouble. Sanchez took over and struck out the rest of the batters to earn the win. The Royals will host the San Angelo Red Devils Sunday with a double-header starting at 1:30 p.m.

Texas Sheep & Goat News.....

If participation is any key to interest, the recent Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association convention in Kerrville interested a whole crowd of folks.

The convention led off with a seminar on oil and gas leasing. Attendance at that session, Thursday night and Friday morning, was over 300, and that sort of volume carried over throughout the entire convention.

Leading topics included the so-called "windfall profits" tax, characterized by convention speakers as a "ripoff" perpetrated against small royalty owners and the consuming public alike. The Association called for repeal of the tax, or at least exemptions for small royalty owners.

Government actions took a strong shot also in regard to a proposal that would declare the "Devil's River Minnow" an endangered species and establish an open-ended "critical habitat" for the tiny fish. Opponents of the federal move point out that Washington's minnows have virtually no factual knowledge of either the minnow or its habitat, and that there is absolutely no restriction on the government's power under the "critical habitat" provision.

TS&GRA, in several amendments, supported a Texas Rodent and Animal Damage Assn. request for additional predator control funds; called for a doubling of Great Plains Conservation program funding limits; and called for more research funds to offset inflation in the budget of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service. Another resolution, keyed by concern over Extension organization restructuring, asked that county agents be supervised only by persons trained in agriculture.

Outgoing TS&GRA president Martin Wardlaw urged ranchers to be vigilant for screwworms, noting that rancher samples are essentially all that stands between the eradication effort's success and failure.

Wool and Mohair Marketing Committee chairman Robert Pfluger, San Angelo, told producers that British topmakers would be looking for kid hair four inches long or more this fall. He advised them to cull kids with shorter hair. A computerized system recently installed, he explained, would keep track of which producers and warehouses supplied what type and quality of hair. This will work in favor of top-quality producers, he noted, but could injure those who sell poorer quality product.

Awards presented during the convention went to Sam Kuykendall, Menard, outstanding County Agent; Mary K. Mohoney, Extension Service, College Station, for print media; and Joe Ellis, San Angelo, for broadcast media. Del Rio warehouseman Virgil Cauthorn won the Fred Earwood Award for industry contributions, and Mills County resident Andy Schwartz took the Bryan Hunt Memorial Scholarship.

New officers elected at the convention were:

Joe Mertz, San Angelo, president; I.W. Terry, Sterling City, first vice president; and Joe Jackson, Ranger, second vice president.

Selective watering can help drought stress

During present heat and drought conditions, homeowners may want to develop a priority system to aid in deciding which plants should receive water and other care first.

Selective watering can protect plants that contribute most to the landscape and also comply with water rationing, explained Dr. C. Wendell Horne, plant pathologist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

He said when a part of the root system, or in some cases top growth, dies for lack of adequate soil moisture, the weakened tissue is vulnerable to attack by organisms that break down organic matter.

Just how much drought stress will plants endure? He said each plant has its own individual point of "permanent wilt." Once a plant passes that point, it will not recover even when adequate water is added. However, Bermudagrass is an exception, because it will go into a state of semi-dormancy.

Shrubs and trees that have poorly developed root systems are probably the first damaged by drought stress. Horne said increased watering will not compensate for a deficient root system. Some foliage removal without shock pruning may help. He also said newly transplanted items have a greater water requirement for the top than the root system can support.

Homeowners who must water with low-quality water during drought conditions may damage plants due to salt accumulation. This injury may persist after the period of drought stress has passed, said Horne.

St. Augustine grass often fades out during drought stress. Organisms that are not normally harmful to healthy grass develop on weak plant tissue. He said watering spots where organisms may develop is nearly the only cure.

Cotton root rot is a fungal disease that affects many trees and shrubs through the central Texas blacklands. The fungus causes plants to die within two to three days. He said there is no control because the root system is usually completely killed before symptoms are noticed. Replanting at the proper time with a more disease-resistant species is recommended.

Add color and flavor to salads by including one or more of these ingredients with the basic green salad: Chives, pineapple tidbits, avocado, olives, Parmesan or blue cheese, mushrooms, croutons, curry powder, sesame seeds or celery seeds.

What famous big league baseball game was, oddly enough, decided by a great football player?..It was one of the most unusual baseball games ever seen..It was played between the Reds and Cubs on May 2, 1917..It's the only game in major league history when both starting pitchers pitched a no-hitter for 9 innings..This double no-hitter was hurled by Fred Toney of the Reds and Hippo Vaughn of the Cubs..After 9 innings of no hits by either team, the Reds got 2 hits and scored the only run of the game in the top of the 10th--and the winning run was driven in by Jim Thorpe, who's been called the greatest football player of all-time.. Thorpe was playing big league baseball that summer and his hit decided this unique baseball game.

Who was the oldest man ever to be a world champion in boxing?.. The record was set by Archie Moore who was the light-heavyweight champion of the world in 1961 at the age of 38.
