This column has been cancelled this week due to equipment failure, not physical, mechanical. Our headliner, which is also the machine we make ads on, broke down Tuesday morning about 9:30. After two hours on the telephone with a Dallas technician, we thought we had it back together, but alas! It was just not to be. They say a computer is only as good as the operator, but in our case it just is not so. We are endeavoring to get the paper out. If you read this, you'll know we made it, with the help of someone else's headliner, that is.

We hope you'll all go to the polls Tuesday, and let your voice be heard for a change. A change in the operation of this country is a must if we are to continue enjoying the freedom we have known in the past. The past four years under the present administration has brought us to the brink of disaster. Can we afford four more years of the same? Ask yourself this question, then vote for Reagan-Bush. A new administration can only be an improvement over the present.

Ozona man critically injured

An Ozona man was critically injured in a one vehicle rollover at 3:45 p.m. Thursday 25 miles south of Ozona on the Pandale Road. Domingo Diaz Leal, 41, was transported to Crockett County Hospital and then transferred to Shannon by Crockett County Ambulance Service. He suffered head, shoulder and neck injuries after the 1978 propane tank truck he was driving ran off the left side of the road.

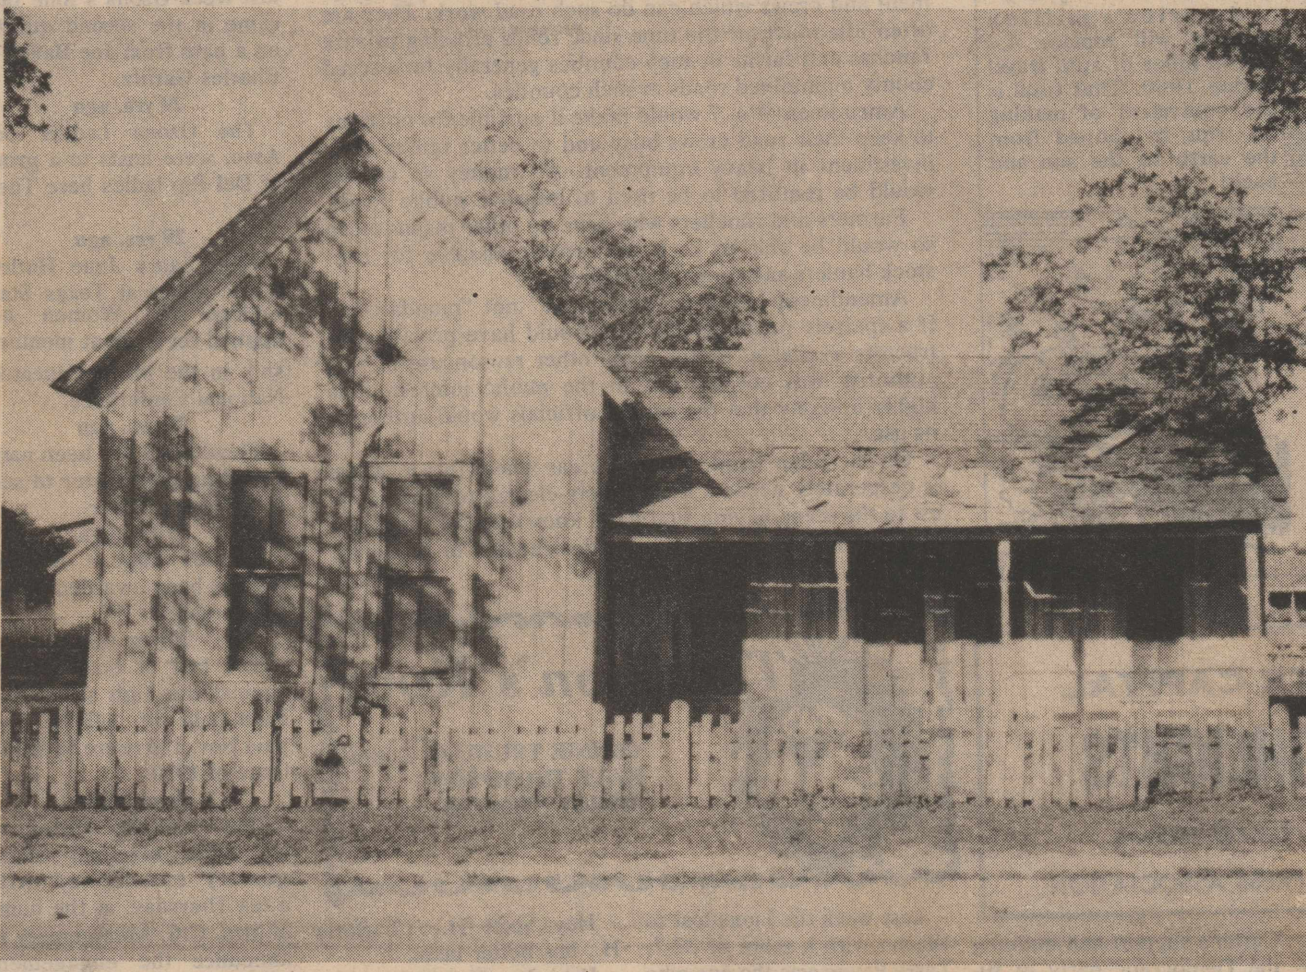

Leal, an employee of Ozona Butane, was headed toward Ozona when a possible load shift caused him to lose control and the truck turned over. Leal was thrown from the truck. Fire equipment was sent to the scene where there was some propane leakage, but there was no explosion or fire.

4-H Club sets meet

The Crockett County 4-H Club meeting will be Monday, November 3, 7:00 p.m. at the Ozona Community Center. This month's program called "Speak Up" will be presented by Larry Bailey and the senior 4-H officers and council members.

The program is designed to instill confidence in ones self when speaking to a group. Telephone manners will also be included. The program will include skits and games. All youth between the ages of 9-19 are welcome to attend. Parents of 4-H members are always welcome.

The club meeting will be completed at 8:15 p.m. Parents are asked to pick their children up at that time.

THIS OLD HOUSE has been coveted for years by Ozona history buffs, and this week the Crockett County Historical Commission gained title to it. The oldest dwelling in Ozona, it was moved from Emerald around 1892. The commission members plan to move and restore it as part of a museum complex.

Polls to open at 7:00 a.m. Tuesday—

Absentee to continue through 8:00 Friday

Absentee voting for the Nov. 4 general election stood at 170 Tuesday with three full days to go before absentee closed. County Clerk David Weant said the clerk's office will be open until 8:00 p.m. Friday, for absentee and other business.

Weant said he thought the count was low for a general election, but said a survey by the Sonora radio station indicated the Crockett County absentee vote was greater in numbers than any other county in the area.

With very few races on the ballot, the most interest has been shown in the presidential race and the race for congressman, 21st District. Otherwise, the amendments command the most attention,

C of C Turkey shoot is Sat.

The annual Ozona Chamber of Commerce Turkey Shoot will be held Saturday, Nov. 1, at the Ozona Rifle Range. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

Officials ask that loaded guns not be brought into the area, and there will be no drinking of alcoholic beverages before, or during the shoot. There will be a $3 entry fee for each event, or $3 each time you enter the same event. Tickets must be purchased for each event before going to the firing line. There will be no less than 8 shooters per round, per event.

Activities get underway with a target rifle shoot at 9:00, both small bore and large.

The hunting rifle shoot will be held at 10:00 a.m., followed by a .22 rifle shoot at 11:00 a.m.

A meal of ham or brisket, cornbread and beans, will be served between noon and 1:00 p.m.

The shoot will resume at 1:30 p.m. with a black powder rifle shoot, followed by a pot luck shoot at 2:30. A shot gun shoot is scheduled for 3:30, followed by a pistol shoot at 4:30.

Fire destroys Gene Lilly home

The Gene Lilly home, at 906 Thrid St., was destroyed by fire shortly after noon Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Lilly were out of town at the time, but their daughters, Jana and Dona, were at home. Neither of the teen-age girls knew the house was ablaze until a neighbor knocked on the door and informed them.

The fire started in the attic, and apparently was contained for some time by the spray-on plastic roofing material. Several calls were made to the Fire Department within minutes around 12:22 p.m. Firemen said there was no doubt the fire started from electrical wiring in the attic. Held by the roofing material, the fire burned through the house and the ceiling collapsed in the game room and the hall. There was heavy smoke damage throughout the house, but firemen managed to contain the fire in the back part of the home, saving many items in the front rooms of the house.

An insurance inspector pronounced the brick dwelling a total loss Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lilly and the girls were making their home at the Flying W Motel Tuesday, while looking for a house to rent or buy.

Nobody was injured in the fire, but damage to property ran into the several thousands of dollars.

and only about three out of the nine proposals can have any direct effect on Crockett County.

The polls will open Tuesday, Nov. 4, at 7:00 a.m. and close at 7:00 p.m.

Precinct 1 voters will cast ballots at the courthouse where Edna Tambunga is election judge. Room 207 in the Junior High School building will be the polling place for precinct 2 voters. Precinct 3 will vote at the Civic Center where Frank Reavis is election judge. Box 36, also in precinct 3, the WTU power plant box, will be overseen by Bill Couch. Precinct 4 will vote in the library at South Elementary with Concha Zapata the election judge.

Election judges are appointed by the county commissioners in the four precincts, and are required to attend an annual election school, along with their clerks. However, very few attended the school this year, prompting some concern on the part of election officials with the state in Austin.

Of the nine amendments, proposal number 7, is of the most importance to rural voters in Texas. It would provide for the county to build and maintain private roads in counties under 5,000 population, while imposing a reasonable charge for the work. In Crockett County this amendment would be good for the people and the coun-

De La Garza wins weekly f'ball contest

The Stockman football contest was won by Jesse De La Garza this week. He missed three games in the week of upsets just past.

The other forty odd contestants missed 5 to 6 games each.

Anyone who wishes may enter the contest each week. Entry blanks may be found on the football page, sponsored by local merchants. All entries must be turned in or mailed to the Stockman by 5:00 p.m. Friday.

CCHC acquires oldest house

The Crockett County Historical Commission has acquired title to Ozona's oldest dwelling, the Deland House, at 11th St. and Ave. F. Plans are to have it moved from its present location and restored. The Commission met Monday afternoon and toured the old house, finding that although it is not in

Lions lose first Dist. ballgame

By James Pagan

It was a frosty evening last Friday in Mason as the Punchers downed the visiting Ozona Lions by the score of 32-7.

The Punchers kicked off to Ozona to open the game and the Lions wound up having to start on their own 3 yard line. Three plays later an Ozona fumble was recovered in the end zone and the Mason Punchers led 6-0. The PAT was missed. A few minutes later the Mason quarterback ran for 32 yards and another Mason score. The PAT was again no good.

The mighty Lions trailing 12-0, cranked up and drove down field. The drive was climaxed by a 7 yard pass from Varlyn Aldridge to Larry Payne for the score. Will Mason added the PAT.

It looked like the Lions were going to turn the tables on the Punchers but with just 14 seconds left in the half Mason quarterback, Mike Keller lateraled to Chuck Lipsey who then threw a 44 yard scoring pass to Kenny Peterson, end. Mason again missed the PAT and led at halftime 18-7.

The second half saw Mason adding two more scores to their total on runs of 3 yards and 6 yards and a 2 point PAT on the second score.

The Lions could never get their offense untracked in the second half and the final score was Mason 32, Ozona 7.

The Lion's next game will be here at Lion Stadium on Nov. 7, when the Menard Yellowjackets will come to town.

top-notch shape, it has held its own surprisingly well. Lee Graves, a member of the commission, has been appointed to arrange to move the house. He assisted in moving the old Cox ranch sotol house to the Heritage Museum at Texas Tech in Lubbock some years ago.

The Commission members indicated they would like to move the house to the east end of the rodeo park, restore it and possibly use it as the beginning of a museum complex in the area. Original plans for the park provided for a museum.

Early deeds show that the lot on which the structure now stands was deeded by E.M. Powell to J.A. Schwalbe on Dec. 27, 1892. About 1892 the house was moved to its present location from the original townsite of Emerald, eight miles east of Ozona. It was occupied continuously from that time until recent years.

The Deland family owned the house from 1916 until the present. Other owners have included: J.W. Friend, W.D. Cochran and J.W. Hill—joint owners, Albert Sowell, N.L. Morgan, Rudolph Theis, Phil Perner, J.B. Reilly, Nick Wizzell, S.W. Westphal, Archie Cochran and George Harrell.

The structure is an excellent example of early Southwest Texas architecture and has been of historical interest to preservationists for many years. The Crockett County Commission plans to move and restore the house to its original condition so that it may be used for small group meetings as well as a small museum. It is hoped that appropriate furnishings from early periods in Crockett County will be donated as the project progresses.

The site to which the house will be moved will be determined at a later date. It has been projected that the location could become also the beginning of a Museum complex for all citizens of Crockett County.

THE WILL TO RESIST

By Edwin Feulner

In a recent address to the Institute for Soviet and East European Studies at John Carroll University in Cleveland, Anthony Harrigan noted that the economic, industrial, and technological advances the United States enjoys over the Soviet Union will not be decisive in the struggle of freedom against oppression.

We have enjoyed superiority in these areas for the past 60 years. Yet, during the past decade, U.S. power and influence has been on the decline — crippled by a mindset that tells us it's unfashionable to resist, unfashionable to speak harshly of Soviet imperialism, and unacceptable on the cocktail circuit to speak of standing firm, when everyone else is enthusiastic about detente.

All this changed suddenly in 1978, when Soviet expatriate Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn went into the innermost sanctum of establishment moderation and told a Harvard University commencement audience that the West has lost its courage, its guts.

The address was a classic, and has recently been published in book form by the Ethics and Public Policy Center, Washington, D.C. (Solzhenitsyn at Harvard, Ronald Berman, editor, 159 pages). With commentaries by 18 journalists and scholars, it is must-reading at this time of national self-doubt and retrenchment.

Though Solzhenitsyn develops a number of major themes in his address — some of them religious, others political, others philosophical — it is his remark on the West's loss of "civic courage" which is perhaps the most telling.

The Western world, he argues, particularly its ruling and intellectual elites, suffers from a loss of "civic courage." Governments have become paralyzed when confronted with powerful aggressors, terrorists, and other threatening sources.

Most people, Solzhenitsyn says, have achieved a level of material comfort beyond any previous generation's dream, and are unwilling to risk that comfort in defense of the common good. Thus, we see today, a nation that conducts its foreign affairs with bumper stickers that say "Free the Hostages," rather than strong foreign policy leadership.

The West will never prevail over Communism until it regains its lost will, Solzhenitsyn argues. This involves more, however, than mere spiritual re-awakening.

Harrigan correctly notes that we can't just say we intend to put up a good fight, we have to do something about it. "We can't effectively counter the Soviet Union by short bursts of defense activity or foreign policy activism. It's essential that we have a consistent policy and steadfast application of resolve. Given this requirement, it is tremendously important that we have an ongoing national discussion of where we are going and what we are attempting to do with respect to the Soviet threat. We must have a continuous program of education for the American people, so that our citizens, at all levels, understand the necessity of firmness wherever we have vital national interests, wherever the Soviets attempt to undermine our security or further dismantle our civilization."

Even more important, he says, "We must match our will for military resistance with a will to rebuild our industries on which our security rests and to invest more in technology in order to maintain our superiority."

Gas-Thrifty Mopeds Help America Work. America's moped population has just passed the one-million mark, a 20-fold increase from 1975 when just 50,000 mopeds were on U.S. roads. Everyone expected this fun, two-wheel motorized pedal vehicle to capture the U.S. imagination, but the energy crunch clinched the matter. Mopeds average 135 miles to the gallon! America's million mopeds will replace 4.4 billion miles of auto travel during 1980. That total is the equivalent of making 24 trips by moped from the earth to the sun and back! The 1980 gas savings comes to 240 million gallons. For each moped owner at today's gas prices, that comes to more than $300. Mopeds, it turns out, are a thrifty way of being patriotic!

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Lyndell Williams TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texas voters have been promised a lot of attention from candidates, and last week they received a big dose of it.

President Jimmy Carter last week made campaign stops in Beaumont, Texas, and Waco to appear with Texas Democrats and strengthen his program to capture this "must win" state on Nov. 4.

Meanwhile, GOP nominee Ronald Reagan met in Austin with Gov. Bill Clements and conservative leaders of several farm and ranch groups to discuss ways to promote his election.

Their endorsements, however, were clearly made by individuals and not rank-and-file group members.

Not to be overlooked was Massachusetts Sen. Ted Kennedy, who courted votes for Carter in blue collar areas of Beaumont and Hispanic areas in McAllen.

Rural Texas As political polls continue to indicate a neck-and-neck horse race, rural Texans find themselves more and more the object of attention.

Clements said he is pushing Reagan to pick a new secretary of agriculture from Texas, an incentive which no doubt helped to fuse the above-mentioned endorsements.

China Grain Deal And from Carter, Texas farmers gained assurances they will sell millions of tons of grain at market prices to China in a treaty signed Wednesday for more than $9 billion in trade.

Republicans have charged the grain deal signing near election day is a political ploy, but administration officials explained the signing was delayed by China's displeasure over U.S. news leaks and potential market fluctuation.

As if to underscore that point, last week a $10 million class action lawsuit was filed against the nation's largest grain company and a former Nixon agriculture official by 294 farmers in 35 Panhandle counties and two New Mexico counties.

The suit alleges that Continental Grain Co. and a former federal official, now a Continental vice-president, conspired to keep U.S. wheat prices artificially low prior to the controversial 1972 Soviet grain deal.

An Active Chairman Newly-installed Texas Democratic party chairman Bob Slagle, accompanied sometimes by former U.S. Agriculture Committee chairman Bob Poage, completed his first week of scattered rural courthouse speeches across the state. Slagle is intent on clarifying President Carter's support and building the Democratic party in rural Texas.

SUGGESTED EDITORIAL

Those Texans who believe the best government—the most responsive and the most responsible—is the government closest to home will find no problem with supporting Constitutional Amendment No. 7 on the November 4th general election ballot.

This proposal, introduced by Representative Susan G. McBee of Del Rio and Senator Ron Clower of Garland and approved by the State Legislature, would give commissioners courts in sparsely populated counties the authority to decide whether or not county equipment and crews can work on private roads for reasonable fees.

Limited to counties with 5,000 or less population, this proposal is intended to remedy a critical problem existing mostly in the remote rangelands of western Texas.

In counties so sparsely populated that many include not even one incorporated town and a visit to the nearest grocery store often involves a trip of over a hundred miles, there are simply no private contractors around to do the road work for farmers and ranchers, who cannot afford to own such expensive equipment themselves.

In such areas, the county usually has the only equipment and crews which can do such road work. They are often idle much of the time since roads crossing private ranches and farms in such counties generally far exceed county maintained roads in such counties.

Amendment No. 7 would make it possible for counties to keep their road crews busy and to better utilize their investment in heavy equipment. All money so earned would be required to be used to improve public roads.

Farmers and ranchers who have no other means to do so would be able to keep their roads passable for livestock haulers and range fire fighters.

Amendment No. 7 is "permissive" not "mandatory." If a sparsely populated county should have private contractors available, or for some other reason use of this authority was not deemed in the public interest, it is highly unlikely that the county officials would authorize its use.

On the other hand, in those areas where this measure is desperately needed, the publicly-elected officials closest to the scene having first hand knowledge of the situation would be the ones to decide whether to authorize the work.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Now that fall is really here in all the beautiful colored foliage, flowers, and fruit, I wonder if you remember a persimmon tree, or perhaps grew a native one. Native persimmons are easy to spot this month and next, when the yellow to orange fall foliage drops to reveal the 1 1/2 inch orange fruit. They are often found along fence rows of pastures and fields. Oriental persimmons are available at local nurseries or from mail-order sources. It has a larger and firmer fruit. They are hardy in the middle and lower south, growing to about 25 feet tall with a rounded crown. Persimmons should be planted away from walks, terraces and other areas where the dropping fruit will create an untidy appearance. Since they are deep rooted and do not transplant easily, select a permanent location. Young trees are more easily established than larger trees. For best growth they need rich, well-drained soil, full sun, and plenty of space. However, they will grow in sandy and clay soils if well drained. They need a consistent moisture supply. You need to plant both male and female to ensure cross-pollination and fruit production. Unlike the native type, some Oriental persimmons do not require a pollinator and produce seedless fruit. They are just as sweet as the American type but are much larger and slightly firmer when ripe. They are best when they look as if they are about to become overripe.

The best time to move houseplants back indoors is right now if you haven't already done so. They need a period of adjustment before cold enough to have a warm house at once. Be sure to check for insects and diseases and do necessary pruning and repotting while outside. We almost had a frost last week so be listening for the warning to cover up anything that might freeze. Once houseplants are indoors, try to place them where they will receive about the same amount of light they were getting outdoors. Watering needs are likely to change when plants are indoors and need less so not to over-water.

Drive by the Jack Baggett home to see their beautiful Daisies (Chrysanthemum) bed in bloom now. The white Caladiums at the Beecher Montgomery home have displayed their beautiful leaves all summer.

One of the adventures of Autumn is hiding in a pile of leaves. Not really hiding, though. The fun is in poking your head out and surprising someone!

When we're growing up, every season brings its adventures. Our days are full of opportunities for having fun.

Hopefully those days will also be marked by adventures that help build character. With each passing season the soul as well as the body needs to grow.

The opportunity for youngsters whose families are concerned for their spiritual development is in religious education.

We don't belong under the debris of Fall — our convictions are the heralds of a new Spring.

ACA endorses Loeffler Livestock reports due from ranchers

U.S. Congressman Loeffler from the 21st District of Texas was endorsed for reelection today by ACA (Americans for Constitutional Action). The non-partisan National organization, headquartered here, said it was endorsing Congressman Loeffler because of his consistent voting record for constitutional principles.

Mrs. Charlene Baker Craycraft, Chairman of ACA stated, "Congressman Loeffler is best judged by his legislative record. It gives factual evidence of his valuable and unselfish service to our Nation."

Americans for Constitutional Action (ACA) periodically rates all Members of Congress on issues which are of major National Importance and adherence to constitutional principles. ACA's Chairman stated, "If every Member of Congress voted as Congressman Loeffler, there would be little or no Federal debt, inflation would not be a problem, our National military strength would not be in question, and Americans would be paying lower taxes. His most recent rating, for 1980, is 92%."

Mrs. Craycraft commented that Congressman Loeffler's voting record is outstanding. "He puts the interest of the United States first and works continually for the preservation of constitutional government."

The endorsement of ACA brings to the Congressman the support of highly distinguished citizens, Democrats, Republicans and Independents, who are Members of ACA's Board of Trustees, including former 21st District Congressman O.C. Fisher and Judge Ed Gossett."

From mid-November to early January, thousands of Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. The information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining the final acreage, yield, and production of crops and end-of-the-year livestock and poultry numbers for the state of Texas and for each county.

All of the estimates published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service are based on the data provided by Texas farmers and ranchers, County Extension Agents, ASCS offices, and many others in agriculture. This cooperation provides the necessary data which is, in turn, returned to farmers and ranchers and others in the form of accurate estimates, which are so essential in making the wisest production and marketing decisions. Accurate estimates are also essential to farm organizations and legislators in promotion, planning, and enacting wise legislation and are used in establishing acreages and payment levels to producers under the various commodity programs.

The collection and publication of agricultural statistics are a cooperative effort between the Texas Department of Agriculture and USDA.

This cooperation avoids duplication of effort, promotes economies, and increases the effectiveness of statistical reports. All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential, and only state and county summaries become part of the final published estimate.

County estimates for 1979 and January 1, 1980, are available on Livestock, Poultry, Dairy, Field Crops, Small Grains, Cotton, Vegetables, Fruits and Pecans, and Cash Receipts from the Sale of Texas Farm Commodities.

Performance beyond promises!

When he first asked for our vote two years ago, Tom Loeffler promised he'd put his Washington background and Texas heritage to work for us to do the best job possible to represent the 21st District.

In those two short years, Tom Loeffler has given us much more than he promised! He is a growing and respected voice in Congress with important committee assignments. During his first two years, he has been more effective in protecting the freedoms and rights of Texans than many people who have served 20 years in Congress. He's been and done everything he promised—and more!

In fact, Tom Loeffler has proven he's the best of a new breed of responsive and responsible congressmen forging a new brand of leadership in Washington. He deserves our overwhelming vote of confidence on November 4th!

Let's re elect

Vote to Keep Judge Will Garwood on the Texas Supreme Court

Judge Will Garwood has widespread support from Democrats, Republicans, Independents, three former governors, four former attorneys general, 11 former Supreme Court justices, 15 Texas Bar presidents.

Texas lawyers endorsed Judge Garwood by 82%. He won local judicial preference polls by 86% in Dallas, 86% in Houston and 80% in Fort Worth.

Judge Garwood is the choice of so many because he's fair-minded, non-partisan and better suited to the job through personal qualifications and superior training.

He has over twenty years experience in private civil law practice. He served with the Judge Advocate General's Corps, U.S. Army, and was first in his class every year at The University of Texas School of Law, receiving his LLB with honors.

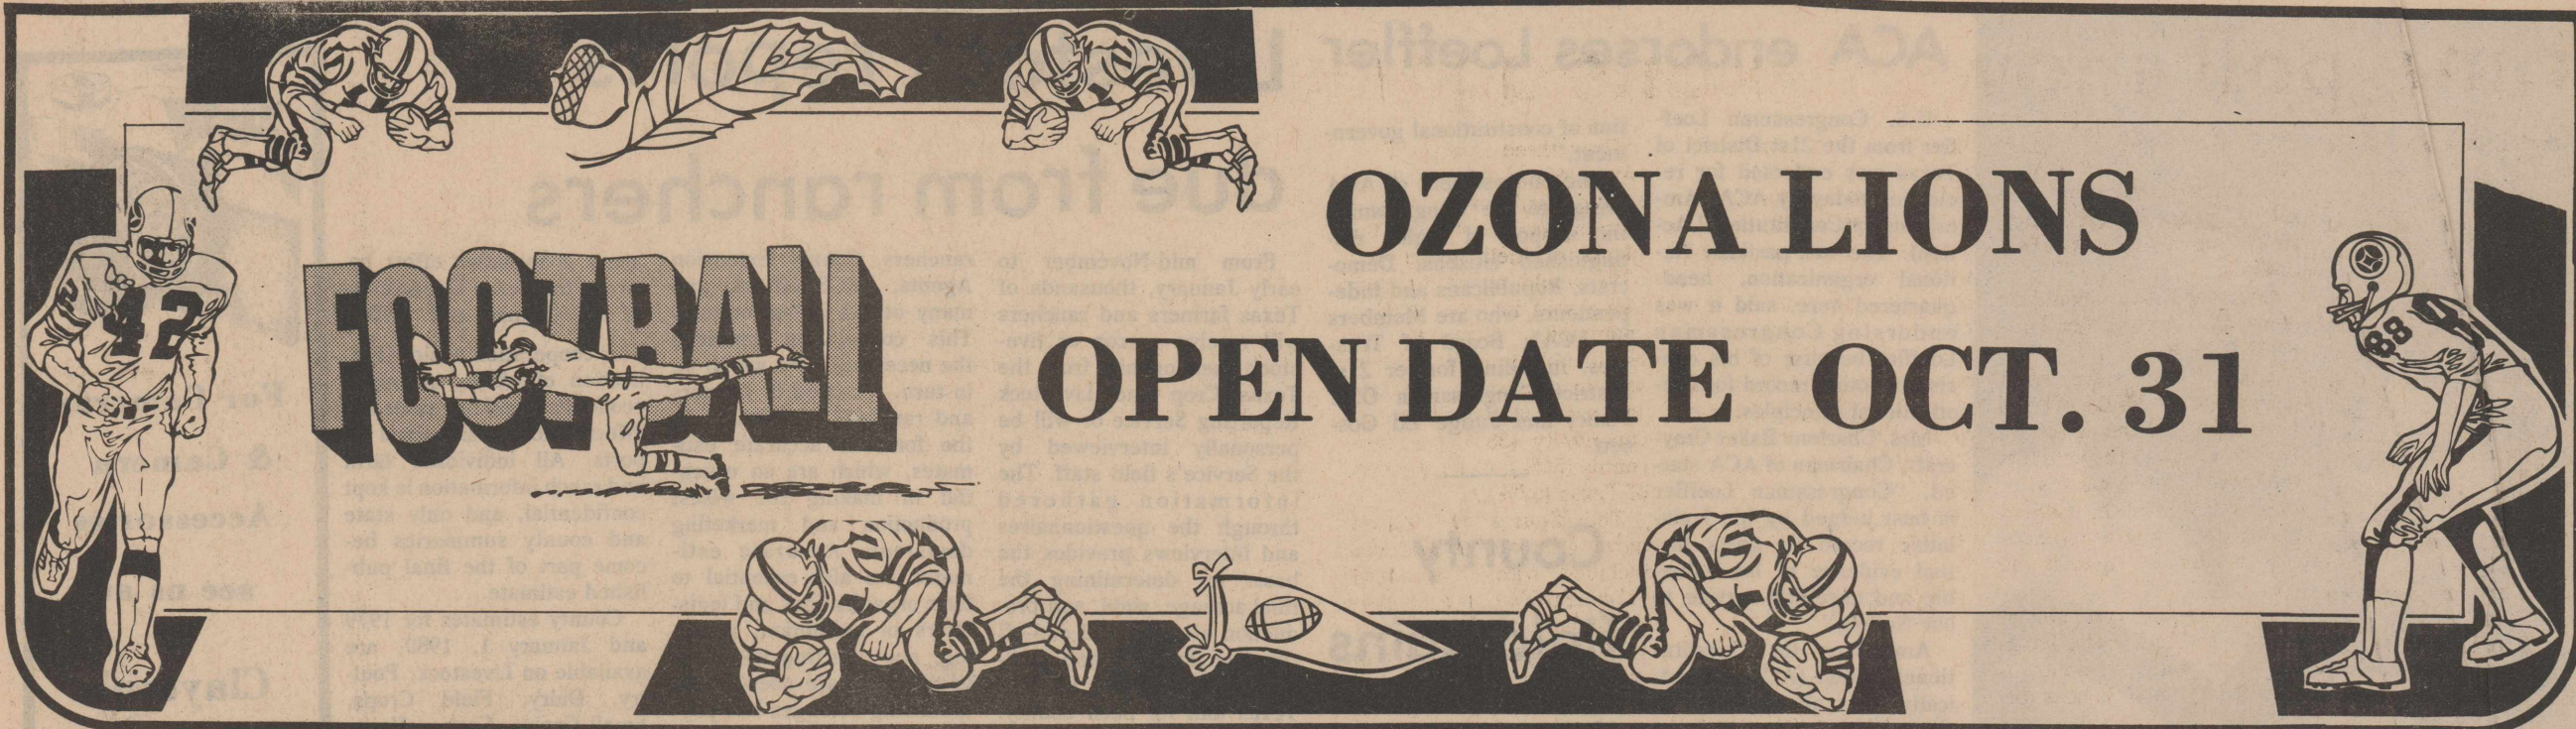

"The appointment of Will Garwood to the Texas Supreme Court sounds like a chapter of Texas history repeating itself. The Garwoods have a long record in the judiciary. Will Garwood's grandfather, Hiram Garwood, was county judge of Bastrop County in 1888 and at one time president of the Texas Bar Association. W. St. John Garwood, son of the county judge and father of the new associate justice, was the first Houstonian to be named to the Texas Supreme Court in 80 years... This three-generation record of public service is in the finest Texas tradition"

Crime poll shows Texans against pornography-obscenity

From the Criminal Justice Center

Two out of every three Texans surveyed in the latest Texas Crime Poll feel that "hard core pornographic magazines" and "commercial outdoor X-rated movies" should be against the law.

Only 44% indicated that topless dancing should be against the law and less than one-third (29%) believed the sale of "soft core pornographic magazines" such as "Penthouse" and "Playboy" should be illegal.

These were among the results of the Latest Texas Crime Poll conducted by the Criminal Justice Center at Sam Houston State University. A total of 1341 Texans from 173 counties participated in the survey.

Dr. Raymond H.C. Teske, Jr., Crime Poll director, said that questions were designed to measure opinions regarding several sexually-related issues:

What types of pornographic behavior, if any, should be against the law;

Where respondents would object to certain types of pornography being displayed or sold, as well as certain types of business establishments;

Opinions regarding the sale of pornographic magazines and artificial sexual devices;

Whether a wife should be allowed to accuse her husband of rape.

Respondents were most united in their dislike of child pornography. Nine out of ten (90%) of the respondents indicated that "movies or magazines which display nudity of children (under 17)" should be against the law.

Respondents were almost equally divided on the legality of bottomless dancing, "artificial sexual devices (other than for normal sexual intercourse)," "plays which engage in nudity," nude modeling, and "commercial indoor X-rated movies."

Eighty-three percent indicated they would object to an X-rated motion picture theater being located within two blocks of their home, 56% would object to one in their town or community, and 49% would object if it were located in a specially designated area of their town or community. Forty-five percent would object to it being located in their county or in the State of Texas.

Forty-two percent objected to businesses selling soft core pornographic magazines within two blocks of their home. Approximately one-third or less objected to businesses selling them in other locations--in their town or community (33%), in their county (29%), and in the State of Texas (30%).

Outdoor clothing selection

Outdoor clothing's not just for hiking and camping anymore, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

It's functional, lightweight and fashionable, and it's become a staple in the American wardrobe, she points out.

When selecting outdoor wear, there are several considerations, the specialist continues.

Look for stitches that are well-sewn, neat, even and securely fastened at the ends of the stitching lines.

Look for garments with clean finished raw edges, flat-felled seams or French seams, Miss Brown advises.

In quilted garments, check for evenly and fully filled channels.

Occasionally some features will poke through the fabric of down garments, but a fuzzy-looking surface may indicate poor quality.

In quilted down garments, avoid lines that run vertically--most of the down will eventually settle to the bottom.

The thicker the loft or filling, the warmer the garment, so consider the specialist suggests.

Check for pockets that are equipped with insulation and closures.

Look for securely attached closures. Many will have a second closure as a backup. Flaps over zippers help keep out wind and snow.

Over three-fourths (78%) would object to businesses selling hard core pornographic magazines within two blocks of their homes and 63% would object to their being sold in their town or community. Over one-half would object to their being sold in a specially designated area of their town or community (58%), in their county (56%), or in the State of Texas (57%).

The figures for topless dancing in each of the areas included: within two blocks of home (82%), in their town or community (54%), in a specially designated area of their town or community (46%), in their county (41%), or in the State of Texas (41%).

In answer to another question concerning the manner

Prevent poisonings in the home

Help prevent accidental poisonings in the home, urges Mary Ann Shirer, a health education specialist.

Here's what you can do, she recommends.

Buy and use products with child-resistant caps and closures.

Make sure household plants are not poisonous.

Keep products in original containers with warning labels intact.

Make sure that drugs, cleaning products and other potential poisons are kept securely in cabinets and other locations out of children's reach.

Remember, if it's not food, it's probably dangerous to a

Evidence must be submitted for S.S.

When applying for a social security number for the first time, everyone regardless of age or place of birth must now submit evidence of age, identity and U.S. citizenship or alien status.

These requirements may appear unnecessary and at times may even be nuisance to the person applying, however, the procedures are intended to help protect the integrity of a person's social security record and to deter unauthorized use of another person's social security number. Still another requirement is that all social security number applicants age 18 or over who have never had a number, will have to apply in person. The reason for the in-person interview is that a person normally should have had a social security number before the age of 18.

A person's birth or baptismal certificate is the best evidence of age and citizenship and should be submitted if at all possible, but other evidence can be used when they are not available. Evidence of identity should be documentation which shows the person's picture, signature, date of birth or age, or other identifying information.

Applicants not born in the U.S. must submit evidence of their U.S. citizenship or their immigration records showing they are lawfully admitted to the U.S.

Because of the requirement that evidence of age, identity and U.S. citizenship or lawful alien status be submitted, an individual will normally have to present two documents. An applicant requesting a duplicate card will generally just have to prove his or her identity.

Normally it takes about six weeks to receive new cards, so people should apply as in which soft core pornographic magazines are sold, 32% said they should not be sold at all, 50% said businesses which sold them should not be allowed to display them publicly, and only 16% said businesses should be allowed to sell and display them publicly.

In answer to the same question concerning hard core pornographic magazines, 64% said they should not be sold at all, 31% said that businesses which sold them should not be allowed to display them publicly, and only 4% said businesses should be allowed to sell and display them publicly.

Respondents seemed less concerned about artificial sexual devices, with only 56% objecting to their sale, 38% indicating that businesses should be allowed to sell them but not display them, and 4% saying that businesses should be allowed to sell and publicly display them.

Another survey question, related to pornography and obscenity only in that it also concerns a current sexual topic, focused on the issue of wives being able to accuse their husbands of rape.

Several states have passed laws permitting wives to so accuse their husbands, but two-thirds (64%) of the Crime Poll respondents said they did not approve of such legislation. Thirty-four percent said they are in favor of such a law in Texas.

Of those responding to the survey, 52.2% were male and 47.8% were female.

Planning to include apples in your holiday snacks and meals?

You made a great choice! Apples are "enjoying" a record crop now for the third year in a row--and they're "holiday delightful."

Apples--with only 70-80 calories--are a nice change of pace from high-calorie sweet desserts. They supply needed vitamins and minerals and fiber. Their crunchiness has a cleansing effect on the teeth and gums, too.

To store apples, choose the refrigerator, as it's the ideal place. Apples stored in a plastic bag maintain quality, juiciness and crispness. Remember, apples ripen about 10 times faster at 70-75 degrees F. than at 32 degrees F.

Among the most popular varieties of apples are Red Delicious, Golden Delicious, McIntosh, Rome and Jonathan.

Here's a brief look at these varieties:

Red Delicious--are the ones with the five distinct "knobs" on the blossom end. They are generally a dark, brilliant red, but sometimes, they're light red with bold stripes and tinges of yellow-green.

The Red Delicious is sweet, crisp and juicy with a mild aroma--it's a good eating apple. Also, it's a low-acid apple.

Golden Delicious--apples stay whiter longer than other varieties, making them excellent selections for salads and fruit cups.

This yellow to yellow-green variety is crisp, tender, sweet, juicy and not acidic.

Golden Delicious is an all-purpose apple, good for eating, cooking and baking.

McIntosh--bright red in color, sometimes with greenish-yellow stripes, is a thin-skinned apple, and the skin separates readily from the flesh.

This one is juicy, crisp, medium-acid and very aromatic.

It's another all-purpose variety--but watch cooking and baking time to prevent overcooking this tender apple.

Rome (or Rome Beauty)--can grow to be quite large. This red apple is firm and heavy with a mild flavor and medium-acid taste.

Rome apples show off their flavor best when cooked or baked--and they hold their shape well during cooking.

Jonathan--is a small-to-medium-size apple, bright to dark red in color.

An all-purpose apple, it's excellent for eating, baking and cooking.

The Jonathan is tender, juicy, moderately tart and very aromatic.

Now that you're well-acquainted with these most-popular varieties, enjoy the "holiday-delightful" eating.

FLAKY FOLDOVERS USE AMERICA'S FAVORITE FRUIT

"An apple a day" has been popular advice for more than 300 years, and this crisp, delicious fruit is still America's favorite.

Flaky Apple Foldovers are an excellent way to savor the tart, tangy goodness of the season's fresh apples. The flaky turnovers are good warm or cool, so you can serve them for dessert, then enjoy any leftovers as snacks. Using refrigerated biscuit dough for the crust makes them especially easy to make.

Calorie counters will also be delighted to learn that this apple treat has only 167 calories, less than half the number for a piece of regular apple pie.

FLAKY APPLE FOLDOVERS

- 10-oz. can Hungry Jack refrigerated flaky biscuits
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 3/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 1/4 cups finely chopped, peeled apples
- 1/4 cup margarine or butter, melted

Heat oven to 375° F. Separate dough into 10 biscuits. Press or roll each to a 4-inch circle. In small bowl, combine sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Spoon about 2 tablespoons apples onto center of each flattened biscuit. Spoon 1 teaspoon sugar mixture over apples.

Fold dough in half over filling; press edges with fork to seal. Dip both sides of each in margarine, then in remaining sugar mixture. Place in ungreased 15x10-inch jelly roll pan or 13x9-inch pan.

Bake at 375° F. for 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pan to cool. Serve warm or cool. 10 turnovers.

PBPA energy report

How many of you are planning to vote for "None Of The Above?" And, if you do vote for "None Of The Above," are you willing to accept the blame for increasing government controls, growing bureaucracy and someone else telling you how deeply to breathe?

Sound a bit drastic? Well, maybe. But, your failure to vote, because you're not happy with any of the candidates, can only help get some more elected you won't like! But, have you done anything to prevent such, in your opinion, unelectable candidates from being candidates?

Presuming you have registered, have you been participating in party politics only, or have you really looked at all the candidate, on both tickets? In spite of your Granpappy's undying devotion, neither party has a handle on all the good, qualified individuals. Certainly, neither party represents what it once did.

And, just because some clown has been in office for so many years doesn't necessarily make said clown the best choice for the office, even though belonging to the party of your choice. What we're trying to say is, "look at the individuals, decide which ones will do the best job for the country (not necessarily your party or business per se) then go VOTE! If you don't VOTE, don't GRIPE.

Working married couples are taxed extra

Who brings home the bacon in your family?

If it is both husband and wife, then you are assessed more taxes than if just one spouse earned the same total income, says Nancy Granovsky, a family resource management specialist.

Mrs. Granovsky is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Here is her analysis of the tax situation for working marrieds: If each spouse earns $5,000, they will be taxed $202 more than they would be if they were single and earned $5,000 each. That $202 "extra" amounts to a 40 percent increase in their total tax bill--hence, a $202 "marriage-tax penalty."

In 1979, a person earning $15,000 would have been taxed $1,635 if married to a non-working spouse.

That same person with the same salary if married to a working spouse who also earns $15,000 would be taxed

$2,796 on that one $15,000 income.

A single person making $15,000 would be taxed $2,345.

In other words, just because you're married and both work outside the home, you're "penalized" that extra amount, according to current tax regulations.

Some people call this the "string" of the "marriage-tax penalty."

It happens only to working marrieds.

How can that be? It works this way: the presence of a second income means the couple's total earnings are thrust into a higher tax bracket.

In fact, the government looks at both salaries as one total salary.

The "first dollars" earned by the second worker--which would be subject to lower rates if he or she were single--are taxed at the maximum rate (a higher rate) applied to the "last dollars" earned by the other spouse.

How did this happen? It all started back in 1948, with a tax provision to help the majority of families, Mrs. Granovsky explains.

In 1948, the majority of families depended on one wage earner for financial support.

So, to "take pressure off" of families who depended financially on just one wage earner, the 1948 tax provision began "penalizing" married couples with two wage earners.

But the nation's majority has changed since 1948. Today, 32 million working marrieds are affected by the 1948 tax provision--as more than half of the nation's married women work outside the homes for wages, Mrs. Granovsky points out.

Working marrieds need to become aware of both the obvious and the hidden costs entailed in earning a living, the specialist advises.

They must grapple with making enough from the second income to offset the higher taxes they'll have to pay when they are both working--in addition to other extra expenses that the "second" job will create--such as transportation costs, clothing costs, and, perhaps, babysitting fees.

Since they cannot break the tax rules, some couples simply do not marry in order to avoid the "marriage-tax penalty," while some working marrieds have actually divorced to avoid the "penalty."

This is causing greater awareness among national policymakers, Mrs. Granovsky adds, who are beginning to recognize that current tax regulations do not meet the needs of today's families.

Most probably, Mrs. Granovsky says, tax rules will change.

But here's where things get rather complicated. It isn't a simple matter of just "throwing out" the "marriage-tax penalty."

Since the provision that created it depends on the idea of "lower tax brackets" and "higher tax brackets"--and on married persons, single persons and "unmarried-head-of-household" persons, then any changes in the tax rules must deal with all of these factors.

Here's what Mrs. Granovsky says about the future: Although we do not know when changes will occur, the U.S. Congress is definitely involved in ideas for change.

The House Ways and Means Committee held hearings last April on the tax treatment of married and single taxpayers.

Bills to reduce tax inequities have been introduced in both the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate.

At the three White House Conferences on Families held this summer, the proposal to eliminate the "marriage tax" drew more support than any other issue, Mrs. Granovsky adds.

By a margin of 17-1, the 2,000 delegates specifically called for permitting a married couple the option of filing joint or separate returns. Support for the issue cut across regional, economic, ideological and political divisions within the delegations.

Several ways to resolve the issue have been proposed, Mrs. Granovsky says.

"Each proposal has potential benefits--and costs--for families, as well as for American society as a whole," she says.

"The possible impact of each proposal to change tax rules needs careful evaluation before specific tax-reform measures can be adopted," she stresses.

Here are some ideas that have been proposed:

1. Allow married two-earner couples the option of being taxed on each spouse's own income according to the rates for single persons.

Such a policy would permit a tax system that is neutral with respect to marriage, advocates of this idea say.

2. Return to the mandatory individual filing which was the law before 1948.

3. Permit a tax deduction or credit for the secondary wage earner in married couples.

Eliminate the tax-rate coin, if the "marriage-tax penalty" were "thrown out," if would cost the United States government billions of dollars, some experts argue.

They estimate it would result in a loss to the government of about $8.3 billion a year.

Whatever the changes, the public will be affected, Mrs. Granovsky says.

How satisfactory and fair to the majority these changes might be will depend largely on the public's understanding of these issues and their effects: on the nation's individuals and families and on the nation's economy, the specialist concludes.

Nutrition the same in eggs

Which are best for you fertile or nonfertile eggs?

"Actually, there's no difference between the two as far as nutrition is concerned," points out Dr. Dave Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Today there are essentially no fertile eggs sold as table eggs. Most producers remove roosters from hens producing table eggs due to possible blood ring development in fertile eggs.

In some parts of the Orient, cooked chicken and duck embryos have long been considered a delicacy. However, these are not fertile eggs, but embryos which have been allowed to develop for 10-14 days. The nutritional value of these eggs is, no doubt, different than an egg, but whether they are more nutritious is questionable.

A fertilized egg is more expensive to produce than a nonfertilized one, says Mellor. The extra feed and space required by the rooster increases expenses, and his presence usually decreases production, despite the popular belief that he is necessary for egg production.

Regardless of the different types of eggs available to consumers, clean, sound shelled, graded eggs maintained under refrigeration (all requirements of the Texas Egg Law) and purchased from a store where movement is rapid is still the best choice, contends the specialist.

KNOCK-OUT PUNCH!

An upstart from the world of technology--the calculator--has delivered a knock-out punch to one of the oldest contests in the University Interscholastic League--the slide rule contest.

The 1980 UIL contest was the last in which high school students competed in slide-rule mastery. Henceforth, a new calculator applications contest, designed by Dr. John Cogdell, an electrical engineer at The University of Texas at Austin, will substitute for the slide rule which was a staple of UIL judgments for 46 years.

Dr. Cogdell considers calculators "lots more fun" and "more stimulating to the development of mathematical skills."

A form for the engagement is not necessary.

MOBILE WEIGHT STATION-Colonel Jim Adams, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today that 12 new vans with trailers containing semi-portable scales will be used by State Troopers to weigh trucks and other heavy vehicles. The mobile scales will provide more flexibility in administering the License and Weight Laws and will result in a higher percentage of compliance with the statute while preventing additional damage to the state highways from overweight trucks. State License and Weight Sergeants Wesley Johnson of Pecos, left, Harold Kornegay of Garland, center, and Bill Summerlin of Abilene check out one of the new items of equipment. The new equipment, which was funded through a Federal grant by the Department of Highways and Public Transportation, will make the weight-enforcement program more effective.

Heels, high fashion but often hazardous

Women looking at the fall shoe selection should keep in mind that many high-heel styles not only are fit for a fall—they also can be just the right thing to cause strains and pains from the toes to the back.

The Texas Medical Association (TMA) also warns that narrow, pointed-toe shoes can cause problems such as bunions or Morton's neuroma, a condition that occurs when narrow shoes squeeze foot bones which then painfully mash nerves. Repeated jolts or blows to the foot also can cause the condition, which may be relieved by wearing wider shoes, pads for the ball of the foot, other shoe pads recommended by a doctor, or possibly surgery.

Considering that feet absorb approximately 1,000 tons of force a day, much of it on hard pavement, it's amazing that feet survive the approximately 70,000 miles they carry a person during a lifetime. But bad shoes do cause break-downs. One orthopedic surgeon estimates that women have 40 times more bunion surgery than men mainly because of feminine shoe styles.

Some women wear high heels for years and never have problems. But others' feet, possibly 20 percent of the female population, are not as hardy and they fall victim to painful foot problems. Many of these problems are caused because high heels shift a lot of weight forward onto the ball of the foot. Over a long period of time, tissues may bend and cause painful deformities.

A bunion is one such deformity that occurs when a big bump appears at the outside base of the big toe. Some bunions seem to be inherited but narrow shoes with high heels can aggravate any tendencies. One possible solution is buying shoes that don't cramp a bunion and cause irritation and swelling. A physician's recommendations might include surgery, wearing prescription shoes, or taking drugs to relieve pain.

Shoe problems do not end with tortured toes. High heels can cause someone to fall off them and twist an ankle if she is not used to wearing them. Spike heels can get caught while walking and some clog styles even cause women to fall while walking up stairs.

Problems can creep on up to the back because high heels change the way someone steps and may stretch and strain ankles, knees and the back.

Many women probably will not want to avoid problem-causing shoe styles entirely. But it could help to alternately wear more sensible shoes and be aware of possible falls when wearing high-fashion hazards, TMA says.

"I shall make electric light so cheap that only the rich will be able to burn candles"

That's what Thomas Edison promised over 100 years ago.

And he did it!

For the same amount of light produced by ten 100-watt bulbs during their average lifetime, you'd have to buy $59,937.50 worth of 35¢ candles. (That's a conservative estimate supplied by a reputable bulb manufacturer.)

Yes, electric lighting has come a long way, since Edison invented the incandescent bulb. And through most of those years the price of electricity has gone down steadily. Even now, when inflation is forcing power companies to increase their rates, electricity is still America's best bargain.

Roping to benefit crippled children

A two-day "Stockmen's Paradise" Roping at the John Stokes K-Bar Ranch in Sonora November 1 and 2, will benefit the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

The Stokes-sponsored event will kick off Saturday, November 1, at 9 a.m., with a scrambled egg roping "which will consist of mixed age groups," explains Stokes. "The juniors must be under 18 years of age and the senior ropers over age 35." Roping on Sunday, November 2, will also begin at 9 a.m.

That event will be followed by an 80-year-old cowboys team roping. "This means a combined age totaling 80 years," he said.

An open roping at the K-Bar cannot be entered by anyone who has won more than $5,000 in the past three years. "All these ropings will feature $30, three headers, progressive after one," adds Stokes. "There will be a $6 cattle charge and ropers can enter all roping events six times. They can tie on one end if they are female or over 45 years of age."

Bits and spurs will be given to over-all team winners of each day's roping. At 1 p.m. Saturday, a tack auction will feature ropers used ropes, saddle pads, spurs and anything else cowboys wish to donate. All items sold will also benefit the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

For more information call: Stokes at (915) 387-3290.

Crockett County Care Center News

by Joan Nicholas-Director of Activities & Social Care

Loads of birthdays coming up in November; our winter months have the most birthdays which leads me to reflect about the poor doctors traveling by horse and buggy down rough roads to see that these youngsters in our Center saw the light of day safe and sound.

Celebrating are: Mattie

Schlagal on the 1st; Vera Miller, 2nd; Sterling Baker, 3rd; Ramona Lugo, 8th; Floy Clare Short, 11th; and Virginia Russell, 27th. They total 512 years of living between them and three of them are 90 and 90-plus years of age!

In December, in addition to all the other festivities we will celebrate five more; three in January and five in February. In any case, it seems as if I am already getting a bit fuzzy, (or is the expression "flakey" these days?) Because, I have another correction to make this week. However, this time I believe I have a legitimate excuse. I was writing the column at 8:30 p.m. Monday night last week, and by 9:15 I was being whisked off to the hospital. After hibernating for three days I am back on my usual track and resuming my regular pace.

Anyway, here is the Halloween doors correction: 1st was room 202, Verna Talley and Blanche Fortune; 2nd-room 102, Juana Hernandez and Ramona Lugo; 3rd-Rm. 203, Louise McWilliams and Vera Miller. Honorable mention went to Rm. 205, Bertha Miller and Maude Pettit. The children's names appeared correctly last week.

Ann Mayo took over Bible class on Wednesday morning, and volunteers had crafts and bingo on schedule; Ann showed the film Wednesday afternoon and I was back in time for reading and discussion Thursday afternoon. We read some interesting editorials concerning recent news, and enjoyed, as usual "Yesteryear" with many comments and "Oh I remember that" as we went along. We all empathized with Mr. Pierce on his stay with Rob and Roy Miller when he was looking forward to having a high old time with the older boys, and ended up doing all the work and never did hear one funny story from the twins which stories were supposed to have been the highlight of his stay at the Miller place.

Now about our sick folks. Vera Miller and Louise McWilliams returned this Monday from our hospital... Louise for the second time, and is now wearing a cast on her arm. As she said with a wry grin "if it isn't one thing it's another." Frances Borrego is recovering from surgery in our hospital and doing nicely. Eunice Graham is also home with us once more, but Sterling Baker is now in the hospital. We wish for everyone speedy recoveries.

Saw Kathy Storm giving some pretty manicures on Thursday evening to compliment the hair-dos given that morning.

Received a cash gift for our Activities Fund from a lady who wishes to remain anonymous, magazines from others, and the renewal of the Sunshine Magazine.

Thank you all, so much. Dominoes winner this week was again, Evelyn Bryant, playing with Maude Pettit, Blanche Fortune, and Bertha Miller. Bingo winner was Maude Pettite with Paul Cavin winning second prize.

Would mothers who are going to bring small children to the Center on Halloween-nursery schools, Brownies, and what-have-you, please give me a call so I will know when to expect you, please? We would like to have as many little visitors as we had last year and we will have some goodies on hand. Thank you!

Plan ahead for Christmas gifting

Plan ahead for Christmas gift-giving to save time, money and frustration, advises Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

First, decide how much money to spend, and resolve to stay within that limit, she says.

After setting a spending limit, use the following money-saving tips to reduce gift expenses:

Take advantage of sales and specials to buy gifts. Buy gifts at bargain prices whenever possible.

Use imagination in choosing gifts. Try new types of stores and items.

For example, instead of one large present, consider several small, related gift items, or combine purchases with homemade items.

Make your own gifts if you sew, bake, paint or are skilled in other crafts. These may mean more to the receiver than a bought item.

Buy Christmas cards, supplies and decorations for the following year during after-season, markdawns have gone into effect.

When the family or group is large, consider drawing names instead of buying gifts for everyone.

Set aside a place at home for storing gift items and wrapping supplies.

Be realistic in the amount of money you budget for special occasions. Spend only what you can afford. Substitute money with time, effort and skills.

Make gift-giving a joyful experience for the giver and receiver. Don't kill the pleasure by wrecking the family budget, the specialist continues.

Ask the following questions:

How many friends and relatives should you remember?

How should you remember them--by present, card or party?

How much money is available to spend?

How much money should you spend on each person? Do you have to spend money at all?

Vote for Greater Banking Convenience

Passage of Proposition 1 on the November 4th ballot will open the door to even greater banking convenience. This simple change in the law will allow Texas banks to place unmanned teller machines at convenient locations for faster service, night or day. These teller machines are becoming a convenient option for handling routine banking business.

"Round-the-clock banking at unmanned tellers is convenient, safe and a positive step toward avoiding unnecessary credit card use... moreover, it is an energy saver — instead of traveling across town to a bank, an unmanned teller can be built in your neighborhood."

— San Angelo Standard-Times

Proposition 1 "will make life easier for bank customers... (it) will eliminate many, if not all, of the tortuous lines seen clogging drive-in bank lanes."

— Houston Chronicle

Proposition 1 "has gained widespread support as the amendment faces voters Nov. 4."

— Orange Leader

"Off-premises unmanned teller machines should be approved by Texas voters."

— San Antonio Light

People in forty other states already have this convenient banking choice. It's time Texans did, too.

Vote for Proposition 1 November 4th.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW By Jerry Lay

Here's the story of one of the most unusual games ever played in the National Football League. The Cleveland Browns of 1950 were ridiculed by some NFL teams for passing too much, so Cleveland coach Paul Brown decided to show the world he could win without passing at all. In a game on Dec. 3, 1950 against Philadelphia, with first place at stake, the Browns played the whole game without ever throwing a pass-and they won 13-7. There's never been an NFL game since then when a team went through an entire game without throwing a pass.

How many points can a team score and still lose a football game? Davidson College scored 55 points against Furman on Nov. 3, 1979 but lost the game 63-55-and that's the record for most points ever scored by a losing team in college football history.

What was the longest game ever played in the history of college or pro football? It happened Christmas Day, 1971, in a National Football League playoff game between Miami and Kansas City. Before the tie score was broken and Miami won, the game went midway into the sixth quarter, to set the all-time record.

I bet you didn't know... L-B Motor Co. will be glad to show you the new 1981 cars and pickups so come on by and see our selection of Oldsmobiles, Pontiacs, Cadillacs, Buicks, and Chevrolets.
