Happy New Year to all of you from all of us. It's been so quiet around here since the Christmas paper, we've used just about everything that came across our desk to fill up the paper this week. If there is any news, we don't know it.

We do want to give our "Scrooge of the Year" award to whoever splashed the paint on Alfredo Tobar's murals he took so much time and trouble to paint at the "south mall." Anyone who would do something like that is really meaner than Scrooge.

We're still getting good vibrations from the bad story, so I guess all's well that ends well. One San Angelo business took a full page ad this week to send greetings to Ozonans, and more letters on the subject have arrived. For those wanting a copy of the paper the "story" was in, we have been unable to find any at all. We have managed to hang on to our copy, and when we find time we will see if we can get David Weant to run off some copies. If so, I will send them to those who requested some.

We only have one picture this week. For the past two weeks our people in Big Spring have mixed up the pictures and we have looked foolish. I figure with just one it might come out o.k. this week. Of course, you never know.

CONSERVATIVE BOGEYMEN

By Edwin Feulner

Events since November 4 have certainly taught me a lesson. While America's liberals have enjoyed being buddy-buddy with us conservatives over the years, have gone out of their way to engage in "dialogue" with us, have shared food and drink with us and proved their liberalism by giving our ideas their due — it's all been phony.

Now that conservatives are in power and conservative ideas form the likely agenda for the incoming Reagan Administration, the same conservatives that the liberals loved to show off at their cocktail parties have suddenly grown horns and become bogeymen.

For example, there has been almost hysterical outrage at our recent suggestion (one that we have been making for years) that we ought to overhaul "affirmative action" policy.

Conservatives, and a number of well-known liberals and blacks, have been arguing for some time now that it is patently unfair for the federal government to require or encourage discrimination against one class of citizens (primarily white males) in order to "help" other classes of citizens (women, blacks, people with Spanish surnames). The critics of quotas say it is especially wrong when the people being discriminated against are not guilty of any wrongdoing against those who are the beneficiaries of quotas — but are simply from a group the government has chosen for special punishment.

Dr. Walter E. Williams, the noted black economist, takes this a step further and argues that "affirmative action" quotas are really racist in nature. They tell black people and others who benefit from hiring and promotion quotas that "Yes, we recognize that you're equal, but you're not equal enough to compete in the free market for jobs."

It's important to note that neither Professor Williams, nor conservatives in general, are arguing that laws which prohibit discrimination should be done away with — only that, for a variety of reasons, quotas based on race, sex or nationality have no place in a truly free society.

There are some very real differences of opinion on what the government should and should not do to atone for past discrimination.

We would like to argue that fighting discrimination with discrimination is a faulty policy. Rather, what we need are new economic policies to encourage expansion of the private job market — providing ample job opportunities for all — and new educational policies that will provide those whose mothers and fathers and grandfathers and grandmothers may have been discriminated against, with the educational foundation for making it in our society.

Affirmative action is, obviously, a controversial and emotional issue. Those of us who would rather treat the problems (poor education and limited job opportunities) rather than the symptoms (not enough whatever-color faces in a particular organization) are not "hardcore racists," as one commentator suggested, but concerned citizens who are looking for meaningful and lasting solutions to long-standing problems.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

WE'RE LOOKING FOR A FEW GOOD EX-MARINES, SAILORS AND AIRMEN.

Your local Army Reserve unit has immediate openings for Marine, Navy and Air Force vets as well as former soldiers. The pay may surprise you. If you're a recent Marine Corporal, Petty Officer 3rd, Senior Airman or Army Spec 4, you can now make over $90 a weekend, and up, serving part-time with us. Just call your Army Representative, in the Yellow Pages under "Recruiting."

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Governor Bill Clements has an opinion about Texas prisons different from federal Judge William Wayne Justice of Tyler, who recently jarred the political establishment by ordering sweeping and expensive reforms of the state's prison system.

The week following the reform order, Clements opened his regular news conference by calling the Texas Department of Corrections a "model" system that is "one of the best if not the best in the United States."

However, Clements said he could "probably" agree with about half of the federal judge's reforms, though he declined to elaborate on specifics.

The judge came down especially hard on overcrowding and brutality in prisons with a 248-page opinion chock full of stories recounting prison abuses.

As Governor of Texas, Clements does not like to see his home state knocked about. As a self-made millionaire, he seems particularly to dislike any talk about Texas in inferior terms. And as a self-styled budget-cutting Republican, Clements (and many top Democrats) does not like the idea of spending a lot of taxpayer dollars to build several new Texas prisons.

This is, after all, supposed to be a cut-spending Legislature which is scheduled to convene in two weeks. The unexpected and extremely high cost of funding prison reform has caught budget leaders in a bind. The anticipated state budget to be hashed out by legislators over the next six months is already higher than last biennium's because of inflation factors.

Officials who draw up the state government's budget have always taken it for granted that taxpayers-voters would go along with regular cost-of-operating increases in government. But this year, a sufficient number of lawmakers feel a tax revolt rumble when they put their ears to the ground. Thoughts about increasing the cost of state government make them nervous.

Many legislators feel taxpayers may support some tax increases if the state government finds a way to significantly cut local property taxes, or even local school property taxes.

How Much Surplus?
No bigger political coup could be pulled this session than the return of tax dollars to taxpayers, but just how much, if any, tax money will be available for return is unclear at present.

Clements is insisting the state will be able to offer taxpayers some $1 billion in tax relief.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock predicts about half that amount, $568 million, including about $200 million which may go unspent by state agencies.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, also chairman of the Legislative Budget Board, said he does not see how Clements could find the extra money in Bullock's figures, but Clements said he has his own sources of information.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

December 26, 1980
Dear Kitty,
I would like to run a Full Page ad in your Ozona Stockman. We have many good customers from Ozona and we feel that the Standard Times gave your town a rotten deal. I have traveled through Ozona many times to see my folks in Sanderson and I know that Ozona is a beautiful little town. We're for You!

December 22, 1980
[Copy mailed to the Stockman]
Mrs. Lee Carlisle

Please put nice border around the ad. Enclosed is a picture of our logo. Can you blow it up as shown on the back of this letter? The copy is as follows: Use big bold type.

Please send me five tear sheets of the ad. Thank You.
Sincerely,
James Crowder
President

Dear Mrs. Carlisle:
I very much appreciated receiving your letter concerning the story about Ozona that appeared in the San Angelo Standard-Times. It was my pleasure to have lived in Ozona for ten years and have the opportunity to teach and coach many of your young people, both Anglo and Mexican-American. It has been extremely satisfying for me to see that many of these former students are now leaders in their community and successful in their chosen professions. I feel this is a tribute both to the people of Ozona and to their school system. Certainly you have a right to be proud of your community and to be proud of the accomplishments of the youngsters that have been raised in your community.

Ozona is a very friendly city and one of the most unique in the country, having been featured in the Saturday Evening Post in the late 1950's. Not many cities or towns enjoy that distinction. Ozona's civic pride is very evident. I felt that the Standard-Times was unfair in featuring the picture of the young Mexican-American with the background that was used. The reporter apparently had to search out some area that would make the Community look bad-I don't think I could locate the area where that picture was taken. The beauty and cleanliness of your city is most evident which is a tribute to the cooperative spirit which prevails in Ozona.

I do not concur with the article written in the Standard-Times. The article does not depict Ozona as I know it, as a community that is progressive, friendly and proud. We are very grateful to your community for the contribution it makes to this area. I appreciated receiving your letter because I share your concern over the article written in the Standard-Times. Please do not judge the attitude of the people of San Angelo because of one ill advised article any more than the people of San Angelo will judge Ozona by that article.

Sincerely,
B.E. "Sonny" Cleere
President

Board of City Development
San Angelo, Texas

Christmas is a time for exchanging a lot of things we can't afford for a lot of things we don't want.

A critic is one who finds fault without a search warrant.

If you burn the candle at both ends you may not be as bright as you think.

You can catch some men without money, sometimes without cigarettes, but never without excuses.

The worst danger that confronts the younger generation is the example set by the older generation.

Many people are not failures. They just started at the bottom and liked it there.

When a man wants to believe something it doesn't take much to convince him.

Flattery will get you nowhere. This is especially true when you give it to yourself.

A fool and a drunkard are two of the most mistaken people on earth. One thinks he is wise, and the other thinks he is sober.

Future generations will be born free, equal, and in debt.

A Lift For The Week
The distance from earth to heaven is not so much a matter of altitude as it is attitude.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Begin your new year, you should use no time in making plans for your landscape area and vegetable garden.

Much of the fun in gardening lies in the fascination we get from watching plants grow, and change with the seasons. Winter is the time to plant autumn foliage plants and assure your yard its share of fall color in years to come. Such trees and shrubs are permanent parts of the landscape, so give thought to combining them into the overall landscape picture. The autumn's color pageant is greatly intensified through contrast and accent of evergreens. They lend depth and relieve monotony in a garden or lawn. Evergreens used with restraint contributes year-round form and interest. They create a background for seasonal changes of deciduous plants. Usually evergreens should make up about one-tenth of the plantings in home yard landscaping, perhaps a bit less for a small property. The other nine-tenths of the plantings give seasonal interest and color in flowers, fruits, twig and form. Unless you buy balled and burlapped plants, all trees and shrubs should be planted between now and early March.

Every home yard benefits from planting of small flowering trees. They're ideal to use with low ranch-style homes where large shade trees might overpower the home. Consider these and others you may like—crabapple, dogwood, red bud, flowering peach, plums and crepe myrtle trained to a tree.

Don't throw away cut greenery used for holiday decorating—recycle it in the garden. Wreaths and branches stripped from Christmas trees make excellent mulch for protecting newly planted ornamentals from the cold. Remove the material in the spring, grind in a leaf shredder, and compost it.

This is the time to finish planting spring-flowering bulbs. In massed plantings, space bulbs about 8 inches apart.

Employed women don't use mail-order catalogs more than nonemployed women, in spite of the massive campaigns emphasizing the time saving benefits of mail-order shopping.

Final registration for stretch and sew

Final registration for the Stretch and Sew Classes will be January 7. People interested in taking the course can enroll at the County Extension Office on the top floor of the Courthouse Annex.

The Stretch and Sew Course will be taught by Bobbie Griffin of Andrews on January 15, 22, 29 and February 5, 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the Ozona Community Center. Registration for the course is $30.00. The registration fee covers the instructor's travel and teaching expenses.

The basic lessons are not beginning sewing lessons, but demonstrations showing time saving methods, materials, and techniques. There are 4 lessons (1 each week) in the series. In class 1 the neck ribbed T-shirt is taught. In class 2 will include the V-neck ragland sleeve dress or top. Class 3 is on pants and the 4th class is on Tab-front dress or blouse. Mrs. Griffin will be making a complete garment during the demonstration. To enroll for the course your registration fee must be paid by January 7. If less than 20 people register, the course will not be held and your registration fee will be returned. If the course is conducted and you are not able to attend, your registration fee will not be refunded, but you can make up classes that you miss in Odessa or send another person to attend in your place. Fabric, notions, and patterns will be for sale at the end of each session.

The class is sponsored by the Crockett County Family Living Committee and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, or national origin.

You need repair receipts

Ask for appliance-repair receipts, even when no charge is involved, advises Linda McCormack.

Maintain a permanent file of all appliances including warranties, use-and-care booklets, purchase receipts, and both in-warranty and out-of-warranty receipts for as long as you own the appliance, she recommends.

The ability to document recurring problems can help the consumer if future problems occur after the warranty expires, she points out. Also, the consumer can use a complete record of service calls to determine whether or not an identical problem has occurred.

Lack of proof that the problem did exist during the warranty weakens a consumer's position for consideration later.

For problems you cannot resolve with the local dealer or service agency, write or call the manufacturer, the specialist suggests.

If you are still not satisfied, write the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel 20 North Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60606.

They will study the problem and recommend a solution.

When making the complaint, be sure to give: your name, address and phone number; kind of appliance, brand, model and serial number; dealer and/or service agent's name and address; location of appliance; clear description of problem and difficulties experienced.

Nutrition added bonus

Enjoy vegetables for their flavor, eye appeal and versatility. Their nutritional value is really an added bonus, says Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Vitamin A abounds in deep green vegetables like spinach and collard greens and in dark yellow vegetables like carrots, sweet potatoes and winter squash.

Broccoli, cauliflower and cabbage offer vitamin C, but to preserve these nutrients, cook the vegetables quickly in a minimal amount of water, the specialist advises.

Fiber is another health benefit in vegetables. Fiber adds bulk to the diet and provides good exercise and cleansing effect for gums and teeth.

Because vegetables contain different amounts of cellulose, hemicellulose and lignin, they differ in dietary fiber value.

Raw vegetables like cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower make great snacks and can give the diet a fiber boost.

Vegetables are naturally low in calories. Serve them with herbs and spices instead of butter or high-calorie sauces, Mrs. Sweeten continues.

For example, caraway seeds add an interesting flavor to cabbage dishes.

Peanut supplies short

Such All-American favorites as peanut butter, peanut candy and salted peanuts will cost consumers more in the months ahead.

Why? Because peanut supplies are short due to this year's drought.

"Peanut products will not only be higher at the supermarket, but some may even be scarce," points out Johnny Feagan, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He expects this situation to last until new crop peanuts start coming in next August.

Just how short are peanut supplies?

Production of edible grade peanuts is down about 50 percent in the United States this year, points out Feagan. Texas production should drop about 45 percent.

Supplies of edible grade peanuts for the 1980-81 marketing year, which ends next Aug. 31, should total about 2.5 billion pounds, down from 4.4 billion pounds the past year.

With normal demand, usage of edible peanuts during 1980-81 should be near 3 billion pounds—2.1 billion pounds consumed in this country and 800,000 pounds exported. So, when compared with the total supply, this means a deficit of about 20 percent.

"Such a deficit is considerable but it's nothing to cause manufacturers and processors to panic," assures Feagan.

What will be done to increase peanut supplies in 1981?

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will lift import controls to allow more foreign peanuts to be shipped into this country, notes the economist. Also, grower allotments will be increased by about 8 percent.

Debra Says

By Debra Price

It is "cold" season again with all the old common-cold problems, but most colds are combatable—especially if you use a "common-sense checklist" as ammunition.

The "common-sense checklist" has three parts: understanding which treatments do not work, knowing basic treatment tips and spotting "call-the-doctor" signs.

To understand which treatments do not work, understand the common cold first. Most colds are caused by a virus—called "rhinovirus."

These tiny cells invade the body any time of the year, but late winter and early spring are the prime times for colds, according to epidemic patterns.

Antibiotics, such as penicillin and tetracycline, do not work to cure the common cold, because these antibiotics cannot fight a virus.

To treat a cold, keep its symptoms in mind. They include watery nasal congestion, sneezing, sore throat, sinus pain, cough and fever.

Also, remember that colds usually last from just three to seven days—and a low-grade fever often occurs around the third day.

Then follow these basic treatment tips:

Stay clean—personal cleanliness during a cold may help prevent the virus' spread to those around you.

Stay warm and rested—avoid excessively cold temperatures and over fatigue. Of course, you should also avoid getting over-heated.

Drink liquids more—make sure you increase the amount of liquids you usually consume.

Stop smoking.

Use oral nasal deconges-

WIND POWER TO BE TRIED AT TARLETON

An 80-foot windmill that should generate enough electricity to run two all electric homes will be in place here by late spring as part of a pragmatic Tarleton State University experiment with wind power.

The $16,000 wind-powered generator is to be installed near the Tarleton State dairy and probably will produce about half the electrical needs of the facility, said Dr. Jim McCoy, a physicist.

McCoy plans to install the tower and its 32-foot blade with a grant from the Center for Energy and Mineral Resources at Texas A&M University. Tarleton is part of The Texas A&M University System.

GET MORE USE FROM DINING ROOM

When you stop to think about it, you'll realize that many people have what amounts to a "wasted" room or area in their homes—and that is the dining room.

We say "wasted" because many families use this area just once a day, for the evening meal, or at most twice or three times a day.

But with proper furnishings and planning, the dining room (whether it's a separate room, or an area off the living room) can be utilized more beautifully and more fully.

Perhaps you never thought about it, but you might want to make your dining area become a charming second sitting room. One way to do this would be by maybe placing your dining table away from the center of the room and adding a sofa or bench, etc., and other appropriate items. Out of habit, many people furnish a dining room simply for eating but it can be more than that.

You might think about using your dining room for games, or for work, or for some other use—and furnish it accordingly. We can help you with ideas and the furniture for this and all other rooms in your home. Stop in.

He Could See Time passing

The folks who lived in the day of the hourglass had a psychological advantage. They could see time passing.

And as each fine grain slipped through the neck of the glass, a man's conscience would whisper within him: less time left!

When we look at a clock its hands seem motionless. Is that why millions put off the important decisions that ought to be made right now?

Whatever its cause, procrastination is a disease. It lulls the senses into indolence. It wastes our energy on trivial pursuits, while important tasks remain undone. Especially it attacks the soul, tempting man to believe that there will be plenty of time later to tend to his spiritual needs.

But the cure is simple . . . and immediate. Just set the alarm clock and begin the New Year with worship in your church or synagogue. You'll soon be facing every important task with eagerness and courage and faith!

Women outnumber Texas men

Texans can expect to see more of the state's wealth controlled by women who survive their husbands, says a Texas A&M University sociologist. "Between 1960 and 1970, the number of widows in Texas increased by about 100,000, and the number of widowers declined by more than 2,000, notes Dr. R.L. Skrabaned, "Texas had 540,000 widows and only 80,000 widowers in 1976, and the number of widows appears likely to increase." Skrabaned also found that single females outnumbered single males, and that has implications for marriage and voting patterns as well.

Calvary Baptist set film

The true-life story of Corrie ten Boom, a former Nazi prisoner, will be presented through the motion picture, The Hiding Place, tonight Dec. 31, at 8 p.m. at the Calvary Baptist Church.

This remarkable story of tragedy and victory shares the experiences of a family who was willing to risk all for others. The ten Booms became involved in the Dutch Underground during the German occupation of World War II by hiding Jews in a secret room built in their house, thereby aiding them in their escape from the Nazis. As a result of a raid by soldiers, Corrie's family was taken prisoner and Corrie was sent to the dreaded concentration camp, "Ravensbruck."

The Hiding Place, portrays the de-humanizing agonies of a concentration camp... the personal confusion and conflicts of both victors and vanquished...the confrontation of military might and gently ministry...and the costs of caring for others.

Millions of readers have cried, suffered and triumphed with Corrie ten Boom and her family through the book The Hiding Place. Now a motion picture captures all the power, excitement and sheer dramatic force that sets this story apart from all others. See The Hiding Place, a World Wide Pictures production, and share in a miracle of love.

Large women fashions making "chic" news

"Larger" women no longer have to confine their wardrobes to darkly colored polyester pantsuits and loosely fitting "housedresses," says Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist.

"Women can be big and still be chic, because now many ready-to-wear fashions are available for the larger women," she says.

Miss Rhoades is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Also, the larger woman who sews has more options because pattern companies are creating more fashion-oriented pattern designs especially suited for her.

Larger women should forget the cliches that say they can't wear fashion-conscious clothes, Miss Rhoades insists.

"Instead, they now can develop a positive attitude about their looks."

"Looking one's best is simply a matter of taste and appropriateness - for any size person," she stresses.

To look one's best, Miss Rhoades offers several guidelines - and even if the larger woman aspires to change her size, she will look her best while she slims down.

Avoid Heavy bulky fabrics. Ideal fabrics for classic tailored styles are soft tweeds, wool challis, gabardine, poplins, stretch wovens and crepes.

Know how to choose prints and plaids.

They are no longer "off limits" for larger women, as long as they are chosen carefully and used appropriately. When picking a print or plaid, don't choose something small and fussy or the largest pattern. Either extreme will make you look larger.

Keep surroundings in mind and wear colors that blend with the background rather than colors that stand out and define your shape.

Choose fabric colors that are flattering to your personal coloring, and use texture and color to create an illusion of slenderness. Try some of the rich, jewel-tone colors on the market now. Avoid stark colors, such as all-white or all-black, and avoid bright colors, such as fire-engine red.

Create height illusions by choosing fabrics or styles with vertical (up-and-down) lines and subtle stripes. These help slenderize the figure.

Choose styles and fabrics that don't add bulk.

If you are short and plump, never choose fluffy or fussy styles that add bulk. Instead, wear loosely fitted, soft fabrics that produce gentle vertical lines. Also, lightweight fabrics are more comfortable. But avoid those that cling!

If you are tall and robust, choose simple loose-fitting styles that suggest the body rather than tight-fitting styles that actually define it.

Layered clothes are ideal on the tall woman: tunics over pants and soft wraps. Thicker fabrics for coats can work well, too - if they float loosely over the figure without adding a feeling of bulk.

However, keep clothes well defined - even if they're loose fitting. Uncontrolled fullness always exaggerates size. For example, voluminous caftans may conceal body details, but they also make the entire silhouette look bigger.

Also, stay away from tucks and pleats, especially around the bust and hips. Avoid flounces around the neck that make it look fuller. Simple trimmings and flat laces around cuffs and collars look best.

Strive for a low-keyed look and avoid making a dramatic statement with your clothes.

Dress fashionably but simply, and play up your assets.

Wear clothes with well-placed design lines that lead the eye where you want it.

Finally, analyze your larger figure realistically and follow fashion when it's right for you.

PBPA energy report

The top stories in 1980 were the Windfall Profits Oil Excise Tax, the tremendous surge in drilling activity and the national election. The Windfall Profits Oil Excise Tax, proposed in the Spring of 1979, became law early in 1980. Major oil companies and royalty owners were taxed the most, while independents were taxed at a lower rate. The total amount of the tax is about $227 billion dollars throughout 1980. The tax does not apply to foreign oil production. Efforts will be made in the new Congress to repeal the oil excise tax. If that fails, a number of exemptions will be proposed by independent producer, royalty owner and stripper well associations.

Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen held hearings in Austin to amend the oil excise tax. Congress did approve a $1,000 one-time only, tax credit for royalty owners. A lawsuit, challenging the constitutionality of the tax was filed in October. Also in 1980, President Carter's oil import fee was defeated by Congress, as was the Energy Mobilization Board.

Yoakum County was the number one producing county in Texas in 1979 and drilling activity took off all over the country in 1980. In about a year and half the rig count increased from 220 to 360 in the Permian Basin and has set a new record nationwide. Forecasters say it should up at least another five percent in 1981.

And, the 1980 elections saw a drastic change in the make-up of the U.S. Senate. At least ten anti-production, anti-petroleum industry Senators were defeated. These changes in addition to the election of Ronald Reagan as President should allow the industry to go full steam ahead in the next four years. One of our Annual Meeting featured speakers, Steve Symms of Idaho, was elected a U.S. Senator. Another speaker, James Watt, may be nominated Secretary of Interior. All in all, it was a pretty good year for the industry. Thanks for your support in 1980.

The Permian Basin rig count last week was 374. One year ago it was 315.

Tobar home gets award

The Ozona Garden Club gave special recognition this year to the most unusual night decorations for homes. Winning the "Garden of the Month" award was the Joe Tobar home at 805 Fifth St. Receiving honorable mention were the Tony Allen home at 123 Cedar Drive, and the Royce Newton home at 108 Liveoak Drive.

Coping with holiday blues

After the whirl of holiday parties and good cheer have ended, the sobering colder months set in, oftentimes bringing along the credit due slips from parties and gifts already given. While coping with continuing inflation and perhaps an ailing bank balance, the Texas Medical Association (TMA) urges people to keep their mental balance as well.

The short tempers and frayed nerves of last summer's gasoline crisis are relatively minor signs of what economic pressures of any type can do. Bankers leaping from windows during the Depression and gun-fights over positions in gasoline lines are extreme examples of the despair people can experience.

No matter how stress shows itself, bad economic times mean extra stress for almost everyone. Even financially and emotionally secure people must take time to count and conserve finances, possibly even altering lifestyles to cut back on expenses. These changes alone provide some stress.

Usually, people can handle such problems. The danger comes when a person who is already under stress is hit by economic problems as well. Then stress may show up as hostility, fatigue, depression, suicide, child abuse, physical illness, or some other problem. How stress is expressed depends on the person's emotional makeup, the amount of stress and other factors.

While eating well and staying healthy do not guarantee protection against stress, they certainly help. The TMA urges people to give themselves a physical and financial boost by cutting back on junk foods and maintaining a well balanced diet. TMA also suggests that people can often use low cost, healthy ways to ease excess stress and ride out this period of economic strain. Exercising can help relieve tension and improve one's outlook. Talking about problems with a friend can help vent frustrations and provide solutions. Doing something nice for yourself everyday, even just propping your feet up for five minutes and relaxing, or taking a brief walk outside, can help relieve the pressure. Many traditional stress-relieving methods work well and are more effective than going on a buying spree or getting drunk to feel better.

If problems become severe, mental and financial assistance is available from many sources. Many towns have mental health clinics, and community counseling services. Churches, governmental agencies or telephone counseling services may also make referrals.

Agriculture program is scheduled

Are you interested in getting into farming or ranching, are you already in the business and want to expand, or are you thinking about retiring and turning the farm or ranch over to someone else?

If you can answer "yes" to any of these questions, then a conference planned by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Farmer-Stockman magazine is for you.

The conference, "Getting In - Growing - Getting Out of Agriculture," will be at Texas A&M University Research and Extension Centers in three different cities on three different dates. Sessions are planned for Amarillo, Jan. 20; Dallas, Jan. 21; and Weslaco, Jan. 22.

According to Extension economist Dr. Wayne Hayenga, the conference is intended to help farmers identify non-traditional alternatives for making farm business management easier and to learn more about turning problems into opportunities.

Major areas of discussion will deal with "Agriculture's Future," "Agricultural Business Planning," "Estate Planning Needs," "Financial Planning Considerations," and "Making Other's Problems Your Opportunity."

Further information on the conference is available from any county Extension office.

When selecting velour, notice the suggested fabrics on the envelope and in the pattern book. Select styles that are "fuss free," with few pieces, no top stitching or fussy details. Avoid buttonholes and zippers, if possible. Since velour knits vary in degrees of stretch, compare the stretch of the fabric to the stretch gauge on the pattern envelope. The fabric stretch should fit with the stretch built into the pattern. Before sewing, preshrink the fabric by washing it as you would the final garment or have it dry cleaned. This helps "relax" the fabric and remove chemical residue which can cause skipped stitches when sewing. Also, gather all the necessary equipment for making a velour knit garment. These include: Long staple polyester thread or cotton covered polyester thread. Ball point or all-purpose needle, size 11 (or 70-75). A roller or even-feed presser foot to assist in making pucker-free seams. Sharp shears. Pattern weight or long, thin, ball-point pins. Use the "with nap" directions on the instruction sheet

Versatile velour knits from elegant to sporty

Versatile velour knits can range from elegant to sporty, depending on the selection of pattern style.

Velours make excellent jogging suits yet become the perfect evening dress for a special occasion.

Although velour knits are sometimes a bit "tricky" to sew, a few basic principles of working with knits will reduce frustration when sewing.

When selecting velour, check the label for fiber content and recommended care. Ask for a care label to sew into the finished garment.

When selecting a pattern, notice the suggested fabrics on the envelope and in the pattern book.

Select styles that are "fuss free," with few pieces, no top stitching or fussy details. Avoid buttonholes and zippers, if possible.

for layout. All pattern pieces should go the same direction, either with the nap or against it.

When cut with the nap, the fabric will look smooth and shiny. The surface will look darker and rougher when cut against the nap.

Decide which appearance you like best, and cut all pieces going that direction.

Consider using pattern weights instead of pins to hold the pattern in place. Pins often get lost in the pile.

Use sharp shears to cut out pattern pieces. Transfer markings with chalk or use tailor's tacks.

Set the machine correctly for velour fabrics. Experiment with a double thickness swatch of fabric before tackling the "real thing."

In general, set the machine for 10-12 stitches per inch (or per 2.5 cm). This corresponds to a number three on most machines.

Slightly reduce thread tension and decrease presser foot pressure.

If fabric slips when stitching after the above adjustments, use an even feed presser foot or stitch with a layer of tissue paper between feed dog and fabric.

Also, be sure to pin the fabric carefully on the seam line to control the fabric at the seam when sewn.

Stitch with a straight stitch or narrow zig zag in direction of nap.

To finish seams, press to one side and make a second row of straight or zig zag stitches. Trim excess allowance to prevent rolling.

If using fusible interfacing, test the results on a fabric scrap. The fusing process may crush the pile, so a sew-in interfacing may work better.

Nylon or polyester zippers which are lightweight, strong and flexible are recommended for stretch velours.

Before hemming a garment, let it hang for 24 hours in case stretching occurs.

Then level and hem the garment with stretch lace, tape or sew one-fourth inch from edge and catch stitch.

Velour is hard to topstitch on, but if carefully done, hems can be double topstitched.

To press velours, use a scrap of velour, a terry cloth towel or a needle board. Press lightly on the wrong side.

EYE MAKEUP TIPS FROM THE "PROS"

Most any woman will admit that eye makeup can be her most flattering beauty aid. But she's likely to confess, too, that she's confused about how shadows and liners should be applied to achieve her full beauty potential.

Here's help, courtesy of professional models! Their eye makeup secrets, compiled by experts at Cover Girl, should aid you in developing your own prettiest eye looks.

* "Layer" For A New Look—Brush one of new mauve-toned "mulberry" shadows onto your eyelids, blending the color from corner to corner and lash-line to crease. Accent with a beige highlighter, brushing it from the crease of your lid to your brow and blending the two shadows just above where they meet at the crease of each lid. "Layering" is easily mastered when you use ColorMates, Cover Girl's new collection of shadow duos.

* "Open Up" Eyes That Are Too Small—Brush an eye-lightening shadow from lashline all the way up to your brow. ColorMates' "pink pearl" is nice. Then carefully smudge its matchmate, "rosa," into the crease of each lid. Apply several coats of Cover Girl Professional Mascara, which (as models know) curls lashes as well as thickening and lengthening them.

* Widen Close-Set Eyes—Blend a tiny dot of white shadow between the inner corner of each eye and the bridge of the nose. Then brush a flattering shade of shadow from the center of each lid to its outer edges, blending thoroughly. Line lashes subtly, also beginning from the center of each lid and moving out; the best effect can be obtained with a pencil closely matching your natural lash color. Finish by defining eyes with a coat of glossy, waterproof Marathon Mascara, with two extra coats on the outer lashes for added emphasis.

* De-Emphasize Prominent Lids—Since dark colors tend to "minimize" features, brush a brown-toned shadow from lashes to lid crease and slightly above, then accent with a highlighting "barely beige" shadow brushed on your browbone. Line lashes, and curl them as you apply mascara... several coats.

A little bit of know-how will take you a long way toward making up the eye looks you love. But practice makes perfect, too, so take your inspiration straight to a mirror and begin now to be more beautiful!

It is recorded of Philip IV of Spain that he only laughed three times in his entire life.

WOMEN ENROLLED IN HIGHER EDUCATION INCREASED IN THE '70s

The number of women in higher education has increased dramatically, according to a Texas A&M University demographer.

Dr. R.L. Skrabanek noted that in 1970 there were only 68 women enrolled in college for every 100 men; but by 1978 the ratio had increased to 92 per 100 men. Nearly one-half of all college degrees granted in 1977 went to women. The number of females receiving doctorates more than doubled between 1970 and 1977.

Skrabanek gathered his information from a new Bureau of Census report, "A Statistical Portrait in the United States: 1978." The report in itself can be viewed as an example of women's progress.

Marinades make meat tender

Turn less tender, less expensive cuts of meat or game into flavorful, more tender meat with marinades, says a foods and nutrition specialist, Mary K. Sweeten.

Marinades are usually a combination of an acid-vinegar, lemon or lime juice, tomato juice, sauce or catsup, liquor, wine or fruit juice - and cooking oil with herbs and spices.

Favorite herbs and spices include oregano, dill, fresh garlic pod, pepper, cilantro, caraway seeds, sesame seeds other herbs, she explains.

Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

To use marinades, cover the meat with the marinade and leave covered in the refrigerator at least 24 hours prior to cooking the meat.

Then broil, roast or braise the meat, the specialist instructs.

Here are some suggested marinades for favorite beef cuts or deer meat.

BASIC MARINADE FOR BEEF OR DEER

- Garlic powder
- pepper
- Meat tenderizer
- 2 cups dry red wine
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup salad oil
- Sprinkle meat with garlic powder, pepper and meat tenderizer. Prick meat with sharp-tined fork to help tenderizer work.

Mix all other ingredients. Place meat in non-metal container and cover with marinade. Let stand in refrigerator overnight.

This should make a thickly-sliced chuck roast perfectly acceptable for grilling.

*Wine, vinegar or regular vinegar also results in a very satisfactory product.

STEAK MARINADE

- 1 cup Burgandy
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1 bay leaf
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/2 clove garlic, crushed
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme
- 2 pounds sirloin, T-bone, club or tenderloin, or deer steak, 1 1/2 inches thick
- Mix wine, onion, parsley, garlic, bay leaf, thyme and salt in a shallow glass dish.
- Place steak in marinade and refrigerate overnight.
- Remove steak from dish and broil four inches from heat about nine minutes per side for medium doneness. Or charcoal-broil steaks.
- Heat and strain marinade for a meat sauce.
- Serves four.

MARINATED ROUND STEAK

- 1 cup salad oil
- 1 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup wine vinegar
- 1/2 cup minced onion
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- Combine all ingredients, pour over steak or deer meat in a flat dish. Cover dish and leave in refrigerator overnight.
- To grill meat, remove from marinade and drain well. Use marinade to baste meat as it cooks.
- Yields about two and three-fourths cups.

FLANK STEAK

- 2 pounds flank steak or deer meat
- 1/4 cup salad oil
- 1/4 cup wine vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- Score steak. Place steak in shallow glass baking dish. Mix remaining ingredients to make marinade. Pour over steak. Refrigerate overnight.

Grill and broil on each side to desired doneness.

For medium rare, broil 10 minutes on the first side and five minutes on the second side.

SAUERBRATEN

- 4 pounds chuck roast, top round or rump roast or 3 pounds deer meat
- salt and pepper
- 2 cups cider vinegar
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 cups red wine
- 1 large carrot, thinly sliced
- 1 green pepper
- 1 bunch celery leaves, top only
- 3 bay leaves
- 2 teaspoons marjoram
- 3 cloves garlic, crushed
- 2 teaspoons rosemary
- 2 teaspoons thyme
- 1 teaspoon sweet basil
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1/2 cup crushed ginger snaps
- Salt and pepper meat and place in marinade of vinegar, wine, spices, and vegetables. Cover and refrigerate 4-5 days, turning twice daily.
- Remove meat from marinade, drain and pat dry. Brown in butter.
- Add marinade and simmer 3-4 hours until tender.
- Remove meat to platter. Stir crushed ginger snaps and sour cream into gravy and stir until thick and smooth. Do not boil.
- Serve with sliced meat.
- Serves 10-12.

TIPS FOR RUG OWNERS

Do your throw rugs curl at the edges? Try this: paint the back of the rug with two coats of clear shellac, one at a time. This stiffens the fabric, lets the rug lie straight. But be sure the rug's dry before placing it on the floor.

Anniversary for fiber fabrics

An expanded 10th annual Natural Fibers Fashion Review is being planned for the 1981 Southwest Farm Show. The fashion contest and show will be held on March 7 in Fort Worth.

The contest is open to any homemaker from the Southwest Farm Show states of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico who is involved in agricultural production or an agriculture-related business.

The Fashion Review is designed to promote the use of natural fibers produced in the Southwest and to emphasize excellence in garment construction and fashion in home sewing.

Garments entered in the show must be made of a minimum blend of 50% wool and/or mohair.

The competition will have four divisions: day wear, evening wear, mother and child, and former grand award winners. The mother and child division and former grand award winners division are new this year. The contest is being expanded to provide a better showcase for exhibiting designs made from natural fibers and to attract more contestants.

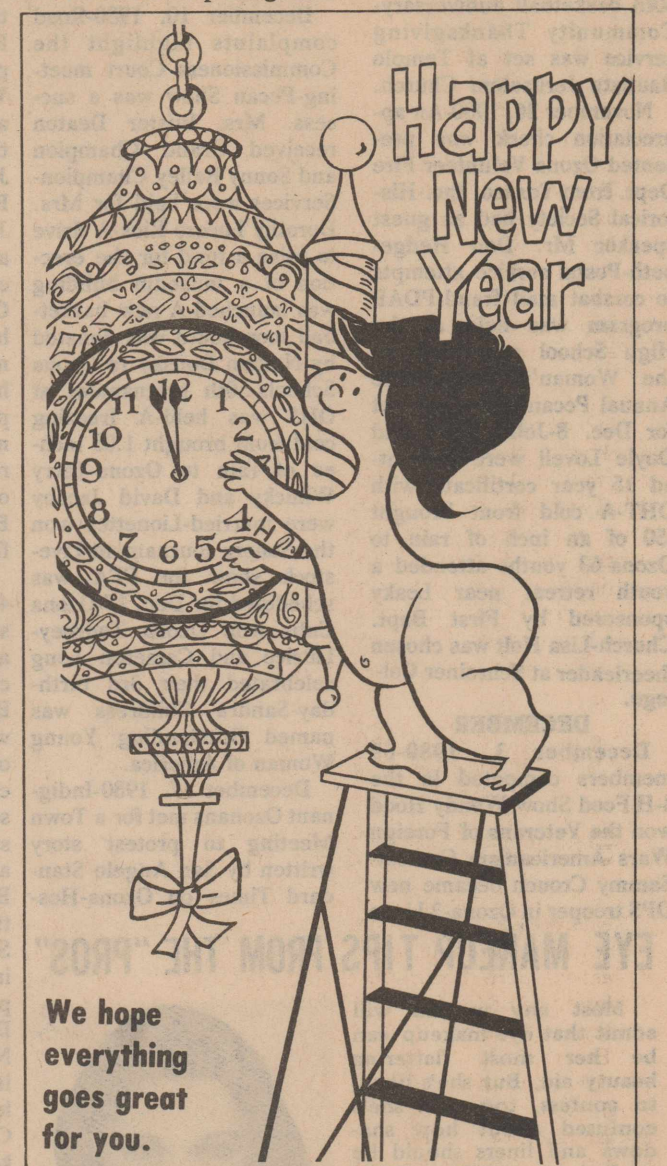

Prizes will be awarded to first, second, and third place winners in each division. The Grand Award winner will be selected from the winners of the mother and child, day wear, and evening wear divisions.

Sponsors of the event include the Southwest Hardware & Implement Association and Progressive Farmer. The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is coordinating and managing the contest and review with assistance from the Oklahoma and New Mexico Cooperative Extension Services.

Entries must be submitted by February 20, 1981. Contest rules and entry blanks may be obtained from county Extension offices, young homemaker organizations, and local tractor pulling associations.

The Natural Fibers Fashion Review will be presented at 4 p.m. on Saturday, March 7, at the Southwest Farm Show in Fort Worth.

How to clean brass

Make brass look new by following a few cleaning suggestions.

Scrub with very fine steel wool and full-strength household ammonia, rinse and then polish with brass polish, she says.

Use this method to clean a brass door knocker:

If possible, remove the knocker from the door. Let it stand in ammonia to get dirt out of the crevices, then polish with brass polish.

To give a brass door-knob a permanent shine, clean as described, and then apply a couple of thin coats of clear spray-on lacquer, the specialist suggests.

For solid-brass trays that have tarnished and turned powdery green in places, scrub with straight household ammonia and very fine steel wool, also.

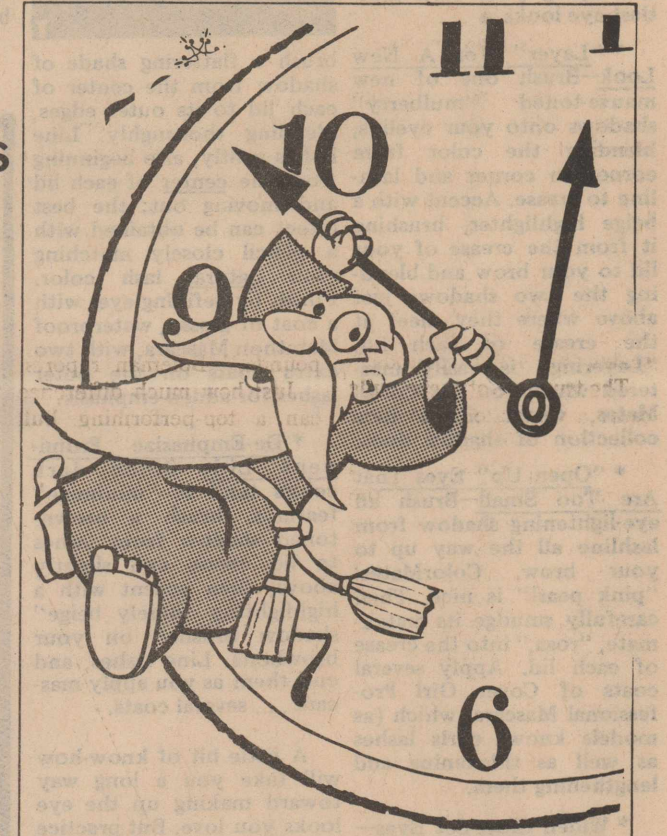

If trays are plated brass, clean with a soft cloth and brass polish only.

Applying a clear spray-on lacquer will prevent future tarnishing, but you'll get a prettier, softer look if you finish the tray with brass polish.

If brass is rusted or rusting, it indicates that it is plated brass and probably needs refinishing at a plating shop, she points out.

Near the seashore, if brass tarnishes only a few days after it is polished, wipe with a very thin film of gasoline or gun oil after polishing.

This will prevent tarnishing for several weeks.

All of us wish for you a Happy New Year.

Crockett County Care Center News

By Mary Wilton -Director of Activities & Social Care

Monday morning we all had a great time when Sara Hignight came to play the organ, piano and to sing. She played some Christmas songs and some songs from years ago by while Bertha Miller and Grace Cotter sang along. The lobby was filled with residents and staff alike as everyone enjoyed the good music. Thanks Sara for taking time out of your busy holiday season to come visit us.

Tuesday morning the stockings that are hanging on the rails in the lobby were filled with cookies and candy that was donated by Jim Marks, of Foodway, and Lottie Davis. On the spur of the moment we decided to play bingo, since there were no volunteers Ann Mayo,

Mrs. Farris, Bonnie Gentry, Lupe Rodriguez and Aurora Villarreal helped out. Sara Hignight returned today at 3:30, along with her came Larry Bailey, his lovely wife Roberta and their daughters Kathy and Karen. Roberta played the piano, Sara the organ, while Larry sort of led the singing. As everyone was enjoying the music a group of young people representing the Big Lake F.H.A. came by with courages they had made for each resident and a beautiful ivy for the lobby.

Mrs. Winnie Harvey has made some very pretty throw pillows to be used in the lobby, also some very nice knit covered clothes hangers.

Some members of the Faith Lutheran Church were here Tuesday night to sing and read the Christmas story from the Bible. Each resident, that was in the lobby, was given a praying hands pin.

Wednesday night some members of the Calvary Baptist Church came Christmas Caroling, the music was enjoyed by all.

Willie Tooke and Jim Marks sent a case of bananas, which were promptly eaten. Mrs. Jim Dudley gave some fruit and nuts and Mrs. Japson Pettit brought a can of assorted nuts. The GI Forum gave each resident a bag of fruits and nuts and the Ozona Bank sent jars of candy.

A special thanks goes to the girls in the kitchen for preparing a delicious dinner Christmas Day. The tables were decorated with white table clothes and red and green candles set in the middle of holly and mistletoe.

Friday morning bingo winners were 1st place Tomasa Ramos and 2nd place Verna Talley. Thanks go to Liz Mary Pipes, Anna Bell Patrick, Alice Ross and Georgia Kirby for coming every Tuesday and Friday to help with the bingo.

Saturday night the Charlie Beard Band from Big Lake was here to play and sing for us. All the residents always enjoy the good music when this band is here. Bertha Miller danced a couple of times and Grace Cotter clapped along with the music. We hope to have them back again real soon.

Sunday Church services were held at 4:00 in the lobby, presented by the Church of Christ.

Winners in dominoes this week were 1st Maude Pettit and 2nd Louise McWilliams.

Medical care changing in Texas

While mainstream medical education generally continues to be associated with large urban areas and hundreds of specialties, an unusual program in Texas is geared to provide family doctors and nurses for rural areas and enhance minority representation in the medical profession.

The Texas A&M University System - with Texas A&M's medical school operated at College Station and Temple, Prairie View A&M's nursing school at Houston and nursing and medical technologist programs conducted at various West Texas sites by Tarleton State - is changing the face of medical care in Texas.

Texas A&M, the system's flagship, is training nearly 130 primary care physicians, such as pediatricians, obstetricians, gynecologists and internists. Over the duration of the program, about two-thirds of those graduated are expected to remain in primary care and locate permanently in communities of less than 25,000 people.

At Prairie View A&M, one of the oldest minority nurse programs continues to be a leading source of black R.N.'s.

Attempting to dent the shortage of front-line nurses in rural areas, Tarleton State has embarked on a program of training nurses for small town hospitals based on the theory that a nursing student reared in a rural community would stay to practice in a small-town if the education, too, had taken place in a rural atmosphere. Of the 36 students who have completed the Tarleton training and went on to become registered nurses, 31 are now working in small hospitals around the Cross Timbers region served by the university.

medical technologist - the individuals who draw blood and perform other laboratory and chemical tests for doctors - has begun at All Saint's Episcopal Hospital in Fort Worth.

Thirty-three students have completed the 40-hour-a-week classroom and laboratory work and 17 more are either midway through the program or have just started.

The year in Fort Worth is the culmination of an additional 90 hours of classroom credits required to enter the med-tech program. The program is on the threshold of serving a critical need in the Fort Worth-Dallas metroplex as well as rural areas west of the urban center.

Mr. and Mrs. Evert White returned Monday from Aspen, Colo. where they spent Christmas with their children and grandchildren at a ski resort.

Bull performance leads way to pay

Performance is the name of the game, especially when it means more dollars for cattlemen. And bull performance leads the way.

"Every cattelman knows that it's important to have a good herd bull, but few realize just how much difference a top performing bull can make," points out Dr. Larry Boleman of Bryan, area livestock specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Just how much difference there can be was clearly demonstrated in a four-year study on the Mayfair Ranch near here.

"Two performance-tested Santa Gertrudis bulls were chosen for the demonstration. From a visual standpoint, they were relatively close," notes Boleman, "but there's where their similarity ended. At one year of age, one weighed 912 pounds while the other tipped the scales at 1,221 pounds."

The true test of these bulls came a year later with their first fall calf crops (from Brahman-Hereford heifers.) Heifer calves sired by the heavier or high-performing bull were 52 pounds heavier at weaning than heifer calves sired by the lighter bull. And steer calves from the heavier bull weighed 25 pounds more than those from the low-performing bull.

The bulls' spring calf crops (from Brahman-Hereford or Santa Gertrudis-Brahman-Hereford cows) also showed significant differences in favor of the heavier or high-performing bull, notes Boleman. His heifer calves averaged 39 pounds more at weaning than those from the low-performing bull while the steer calves averaged 12 pounds more.

Averaging all calves from both crops sired by each bull, calves from the high-performing bull weighed 31 pounds more at weaning than those from the low-performing bull.

didn't stop there. Yearling weights also showed marked differences," points out Boleman. Yearling heifers sired by the high-performing bull weighed 78 pounds more than those from the low-performance bull. Like wise, yearling steers from the high-performing bull weighed 73 pounds more than those from the low-performing bull.

Yearling steers from the high-performance bull also gained better in the feedlot, 2.33 pounds a day compared to 1.97 pounds for those from the low-performance bull.

And the story of these two bulls continues. Heifers from both bulls were bred to a Limousin bull and calved last fall. "As you might guess, there was a definite weight advantage for the calves from the daughters of the high-performance bull - an average advantage of 28 pounds," Boleman reports.

Just how much difference can a top-performing bull mean in terms of dollars-and-cents?

Of course, this depends on market prices, number of cows in the herd, whether offspring are sold at weaning or as yearlings, and the number of years the bull is kept. Considering average prices during the past four years and assuming a 40-cow herd, the high-performing bull would result in $68.17 added income per cow. Those same calves sold as yearlings would mean an added income of $121.34 per cow. Furthermore, that value would increase even more if heifers were kept for replacements.

"Using these figures, a cattelman can see how much more he can afford to pay for a top-performing bull," points out Boleman. "It will be money well spent."

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Jerry Lay

Who's the smallest man ever to play in the National Football League?...It's a man who played this season--Reggie Smith, a kick-returner for the Atlanta Falcons...Smith is 5-3 1/2... According to league research, he's the smallest player in the history of the NFL.

Did you know that a team from a foreign nation once played in one of our post-season football bowl games?...It was in the 1945 Sun Bowl at El Paso, Texas...In that game, Southwestern University of Texas met the University of Mexico, from Mexico City...Final score was Southwestern 35, Mexico 0.

Would you believe that a major-college post-season football bowl game, as recently as 1962, drew a crowd of less than 7,000 people?...It happened when Nebraska and Miami met in the now-defunct Gotham Bowl in New York City...The paid attendance at that bowl game was 6,166.
