Airplane crash kills two

The investigation into the crash of a single-engine airplane in northwest Crockett County last week which killed two Iran men continued this week with inspectors from the National Traffic Safety Board and the Federal Aviation Administration on the scene. Reports had not been released this week.

Killed were Pecos County constable Eugene Clemmons and Keith Blakesley, an Iran businessman. The plane went down Tuesday morning shortly after the two men took off from the Iran airport for a business trip to Wichita Falls.

The crash site was not discovered until around noon last Wednesday. Crockett County Peace Justice A.O. Fields ruled the deaths accidental. He was taken to the scene by law enforcement officers shortly after the crash was discovered. According to Fields the airplane was completely destroyed with the exception of part of a wing. The men's bodies were found near the crash and taken to Sizemore Funeral Home here.

Texas Confederate Heroes Day Mon.

Texans in over 200 counties will gather at high noon Monday, Jan. 19, in pilgrimages to historic sites and official markers commemorating the roles of Texans in the Civil War.

Mrs. Lane Scott's history class will have a ribbon-tying and memorial ceremony at the marker in the downtown park as part of Crockett County's participation in the statewide observance of Texas Confederate Heroes Day.

January 19, has been designated by the Legislature as Texas Confederate Heroes

Day, a time for a special observance honoring soldiers, civilians, and officials who distinguished themselves during this period of conflict.

Members of VFW Post 6109 will observe the event by placing flags on the six Civil War veterans' graves in Cedar Hill Cemetery. Graves of those to be marked include Henry Street Hudspeth, William Mathias Miller, Joseph L. Casbeer, Samuel Theodore Smith, Pharis Hulse and Francis Miller Drake.

This Heritage and Pilgrimage Day is one of ten to be sponsored annually by the Texas Heritage Project, a joint endeavor of the Texas Historical Foundation and Texas Historical Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Graves of Ozona are Crockett County's Texas Heritage Project Chairman and Mrs. R.A. Harrell is the Historical Commission Chairman.

The marker in the park square is a tribute to the Confederate soldiers who manned Fort Lancaster, and protected travelers from Indians and invasions by Federal Troops. The fort, located 33 miles west of Ozona on U.S. Highway 290, was an integral part of the frontier defense line from San Antonio to El Paso.

Recompletion attempt in county field

Wendell W. Iverson, Midland, will re-enter and clean out to old total depth of 1,456 feet for recompletion attempt as the re-opener of the Bean (San Andres) field of Crockett County at the former Wahlenmaier, Currie & Bosworth No. 1-A George Bean, former opener and lone producer, surrounded by old gas production in the Donham field and 11 miles northwest of Ozona. It is the No. 1-48 Joe Bean.

It was finalized Jan. 15, 1941 for 196 barrels of 26.3 gravity oil, through a 3/4-inch choke and open hole at 1,451-56 feet. It became depleted in 1942.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of 48-UV-GC&SF.

Hospital board examines deficit

The Crockett County Hospital Board met Thursday night at the hospital and learned the combined loss for 1980 for the Care Center and Hospital was $521,907.00. Part of the blame for the loss was attributed to inflation and part to those using the hospital not paying their bills.

Collections for the final months were up considerably, but the large deficit could not be overcome. Hospital officials hope to turn the trend around this year by collecting bills promptly.

In a comparison from 1979, when the deficit for both facilities was $368,599.00 it was pointed out that the hospital operated at 70% capacity in 1980 compared to 37 percent in 1979.

The hospital charged out $863,089.00 for all services in 1980. In actual cash transactions, $738,425 was collected and $1,119,566 was spent, leaving a deficit of 381,141.

Revenue per patient day increased by $23 for every patient for every day hospitalized. Overall losses, according to the report, were reduced by over 50 percent from 1979. A loss of $66 per day was recorded per patient in 1979 and only $32 per patient day was lost in 1980.

Before the meeting adjourned, the board asked Hospital Administrator Rumley to look into purchasing new mattresses for hospital and care center patients. About 6 are needed.

In attendance at the meeting were Gene Lilly, Dennis Clark, Charles Huffman, Beth Boyd and Mrs. Jack Wilking, board members. Others were Glen Rumley, Dr. and Mrs. Don Carlisle, Dr. R.M. Owensby, Mrs. Elvira Farris, Mrs. Polly Eppler, John Stokes, James Conaway and Dub O'Bryant.

Court has busy New Year agenda

Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday for the first meeting of the new year in an all-day session with a busy beginning year agenda.

Bills were approved for payment, holidays were set for 1981, board members and committees were appointed.

Glen Rumley, Crockett County Hospital Administrator, gave the hospital report and told the court raises for hospital employees would be given the end of January on a merit basis with an average of 7.5%.

Martin Harvick appeared before the court and reported the county had been receiving royalty payments on a lot that belonged to the Edna K. Harvick Estate. County Auditor Dick Kirby was appointed to check into back payments with Reading and Bates Oil Co.

The court voted to make an emergency purchase of an asphalt porta-tank from Wilson Paving of San Angelo for $35,000, for the road department.

Bids for a street sweeper for the road department were opened from six firms. The low bid from Environmental Sales of Hurst, was accepted with delivery in six to eight weeks in the amount of $30,850. The acceptance of the bid was unanimous.

Bids were opened for a sheriff's car, a 1/2 ton pickup, and a truck. L-B Motor Co. of Ozona had the low bids in all three cases and all were accepted. Hobbs Equipment of San Antonio had the low bid on a dump body, $3,139. Several bids were received for all pieces of equipment.

The court will bid old equipment and odds and ends at the next meeting.

Dorris Haire and Bob Falkner appeared on behalf of the Fire Department and were authorized to get bids on the purchase of 2 walkie-talkies. The court also gave approval of the purchase of a smoke ejector for the fire department.

The two asked the court for permission to be on the scene and in charge when hazardous chemicals and other accidents occurred in Crockett County. The court granted permission.

Weldon Maness submitted the only bid for the lease of the Ingham Trap south of town, that being $450.75 per year. Maness has leased the trap for the past two years.

A representative of Pritchard and Abbott, taxing consultants, appeared on behalf of the firm and submitted a new contract for the new appraisal of minerals and the tax roll for the county. The cost will be 1.6% per $100 evaluation on minerals and $150,000 for in-town parcels re-evaluation, to be paid over a 4-year period. The new contract was approved.

The court voted to reappoint all county board members, and gave their approval for an over-all 12% salary raise for county employees.

County holidays for 1981 were set as follows: Easter, Monday, April 20; Memorial Day, Monday, May 25; July 4, Friday, July 3; Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7; Veterans' Day, Friday, Nov. 13; Thanksgiving, Nov. 26-27, Thursday and Friday; Christmas, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 24-25, and New Years Day, Friday, Jan. 1.

The salary grievance committee was appointed. Members include Billy Mills, Tom Stokes, Jim Dudley, David Weant, Tom Cameron, Gary Vannoy, Mrs. Charlie Black, Raul De La Rosa, and Debra Price.

The court instructed that $3,006.52 of the County Clerk's trust fund be transferred to the general fund and that $100,000 be transferred to the hospital fund and $40,000 to the care center fund from the general fund.

Mileage pay for the use of personal cars on county business was raised from 15c per mile to 20c and bids for two sheriff's cars were authorized.

Bonds were approved for county officials, Billy Mills, Gene Williams, B.W. Stuart and Sostenes DeHoyos.

In an effort to improve the poor state of the downtown park, Jerry Nelson was hired to prune trees in the park for $1,500. Also, it was mentioned Billy Reagor and his 4-H group plan to re-seed grass on new dirt in an effort to grow grass again in the park.

The court agreed to advertise for bids for the micro-filing of records in the county clerk's office.

FOREIGN POLICY: EXPECT FEW SURPRISES

By Herb Berkowitz

As the reality of a Reagan Administration begins to grip the international community, all sides are wondering whether to expect any sharp lurches, one way or another, in U.S. foreign policy.

The answer, it would appear, is both yes and no. If by "sharp" we mean sudden and unexpected, it would appear to be "no." President-elect Reagan has been forthright and consistent in his world view, and it would be unrealistic, indeed, to expect any extraordinary surprises.

If, on the other hand, one means substantial change from today's foreign policy posture, the answer would appear to be "yes." There is little in the makeup of the Reagan Administration or the President-elect to suggest that he will accept the status quo.

What, then, in the way of change? As a general rule, I expect the Reagan Administration will be harder on our foes, and more cooperative with our friends. The banner of "human rights," while understood, will be waved with a steady hand, and applied equally to the totalitarian regimes of the East, or not at all. After all, the President-elect and his advisors argue convincingly that it makes no sense to squeeze friendly governments on these issues, while letting the Soviets and their stooges completely off the hook.

Most important, I would watch for the Reagan Administration to cement our long-standing friendships with such stalwart allies as Israel, South Korea, and South Africa — and not stab our friends in the back, as the Carter Administration did to lonely Taiwan — which continues to stand by us, despite the present Administration's best efforts to ignore the reality of this thriving island nation of 18 million.

And even here, watch for changes — though experts agree that they are likely to be low-key, neither earth-shaking nor insignificant, perhaps as much style as substance.

In fact, says Dr. James Hsiung of New York University, if the new Administration does nothing more than put a stop to the "pettiness" that has characterized U.S. dealings with Taiwan since President Carter discontinued formal diplomatic relations, it will be a step in the right direction.

Dr. Y. M. Kau of Brown University hit the nail on the head at a recent New York seminar when he noted that our current policy toward Taiwan is based on the "fiction" that Taiwan does not exist. Thus, Taiwan's official representatives in the United States are forced to conduct their business "in restaurants, hotel lobbies" and the like, instead of in a dignified, official manner like the representatives of other nations.

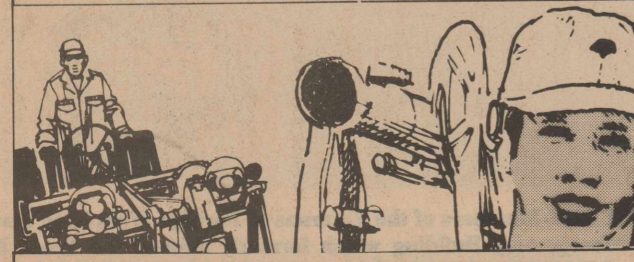

Even some of the world's most murderous regimes are treated with more respect and dignity.

Yes, watch for some changes. They may be quiet and gradual, as in the case of U.S.-Taiwan relations, or forceful and bold, as in our dealings with the Soviet Union. The one thing I do not expect is any real surprises.

MONEY QUIZ by Miller

It usually pays to know as much as you can about money. This quiz can help you determine how much knowledge you have to profit by.

1. How much does it cost to build a synthetic fuel plant? About (a) $100,000 (b) $2 million (c) $7 billion?

2. How much profit does a company like Mobil Oil make on each gallon of gas sold in the U.S.? About (a) 3 cents (b) 45 cents (c) 99 cents?

3. How much on each dollar of revenue does an oil company pay in taxes? (a) about a dime (b) almost a quarter (c) under a penny?

4. In January 1979, the average cost of crude oil to a U.S. refiner was $13.11 per barrel. By December 1979, this cost had (a) fallen (b) stayed the same (c) almost doubled?

ANSWERS: 1. (c) A 100,000-barrel-per-day coal-to-oil synthetic fuel plant would cost between $6 and $8 billion to build—two to three times as much as all the money an oil company like Mobil earns in a year.

2. (a) Mobil's after-tax energy profits during 1979 were only about 3.3 cents a gallon sold in the U.S. 3. (b) Taxes took their toll to the tune of about 24 cents of every oil dollar made. 4. (c) The average cost of crude in December was $22.75, or 54.2 cents per gallon, an increase of about 23 cents a gallon.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — One group wants to raise interests rates. Another one wants to lower property taxes.

A year from now maybe taxpayers will be paying out bank loans with money they saved from tax reforms.

Last session one of the Legislature's bloodiest fights involved an effort to remove the 10 percent ceiling on home mortgage loans. In days long gone by, when mortgage rates bobbed around four percent, the Legislature prohibited lending institutions from charging more than 10 percent interest. In recent years, inflation drove up the rate beyond the worst fears of past lawmakers . . . through the roof, in fact.

The 10 percent ceiling, once believed a safeguard, became a hindrance. Texas lending institutions had to borrow federal money between 12 and 13 percent, and home mortgage loans came to a virtual standstill for a while in the Lone Star State.

Finally, after multiple threats flung back and forth, the Legislature raised the ceiling to 12 percent. However, when Congress temporarily suspended all state ceilings soon after, home mortgage interests shot up to 17, 18, even over 20 percent.

Voters took it in stride. Predictions that a vote to remove the 10 percent ceiling would result in doom for any legislator did not prove true. The subject was not a serious issue anywhere in the state during campaign season.

Now, bankers, credit unions, finance companies, retailers and auto dealers are announcing they are joining forces to remove the new 12 percent ceiling on interest rates.

A consumer association has called it "a conspiracy of lenders to allow an open season on all borrowers," but the lenders say they need the credit opportunities for businesses in Texas.

Some are predicting the issue to be a bloody repeat of last session's fracas. Then again, depending on how lawmakers sense the attitudes of their voters, they may not be afraid to approve the issue. With the recent election in mind, anti-ceiling lawmakers may have fared far better than preceding colleagues.

Led by John Sharp of Victoria, some seven state representatives last week proposed a plan to use a local option one-cent sales tax hike plus state surplus funds to dramatically lower local property taxes.

The bill would supply an estimated $300 million a year in surplus funds to school districts which increase homestead exemptions, plus it would allow cities and counties to share equally in a sales tax increase to compensate for property tax reductions.

Using 1979 data, Sharp estimates the bill will reduce property taxes per homestead an average of $70 per month.

Now in the works are several lawsuits challenging the census findings in Northern cities. If the census figures are thrown out (probably sometime after the Legislature adjourns), then the Texas redistricting plan would be voided, and the entire process begun again two years from now.

Austin attorney Steve Bickerstaff, a former assistant attorney general under John Hill, said until the census figures are resolved as reliable, then any Texas plan will remain in jeopardy.

A Panhandle legislator last week suggested he would introduce a bill to sell two predominantly black Texas colleges and use the proceeds to integrate their students into mostly white colleges.

Pampa legislator Foster Whaley immediately drew fire from black legislators and educators for his plan to sell Prairie View A&M and Texas Southern University.

Whaley said his bill was designed to end vestiges of a "separate but equal" system, but opponents viewed it as a way to avoid appropriating an additional $20 million to the two colleges as a means of sidestepping a discrimination lawsuit.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Although the twin problems of inflation and unemployment loom large before us, the minimum wage rose from $3.10 to $3.35 an hour Jan. 1.

That increase, though nobly intended, will only make both problems worse.

The latest of the increases mandated by legislation passed in 1977 means that the minimum wage has increased by 46 percent since that year. A U.S. Chamber of Commerce study concluded that for every 20 percent increase in the minimum wage, 880,000 job opportunities are lost—either existing jobs abolished or the failure of new job opportunities to present themselves.

Common sense tells us that if business costs increase, only two things can happen: Ways can be sought to cut those costs, or prices must be increased to compensate. Either way, Americans on the lower end of the income spectrum lose. They lose job opportunities, and they feel more keenly the ravages of inflation than people who have more discretionary income.

Especially hard hit are teenagers. With the unemployment rate in the 16-to-19-year-old age bracket running between 15 and 20 percent—and over 50 percent among minority youths in some cities—we must find a way to put these willing workers into jobs.

Yet, it is unrealistic to expect businesses to hire untrained, even immature, workers if we require them to pay wages at a higher level than their productivity justifies. Young people find themselves in the treadmill of not being able to find work because they have no experience, and not being able to gain experience because they can't find jobs.

The best way out of this quagmire is to institute a "Youth Opportunity Wage." This youth differential in the minimum wage would allow businesses to pay teenage workers a slightly lower amount, making it economically possible to create new jobs or place these less productive workers into existing jobs.

When they have gained maturity and skills, they will be able to work at the higher adult minimum wage, or, more likely, move above that level.

Would the youth differential throw older workers out of jobs? No. Mature workers are more productive and well worth the difference in pay. Further, most of the jobs in our economy require some measure of skill or experience and thus could not be filled by the young workers who would be covered by the differential. In fact, the number of workers above the age of 20 employed in minimum wage jobs is a minimal percentage of the workforce.

If we are serious about helping our fellow citizens, we must look for workable solutions. Is it better to be unemployed, or to have the satisfaction, and income, that comes from working? The question before us is that simple. Congress must realize it does not work in a vacuum. Every action we take affects the lives of every American and the economic well-being of our nation. We have a sacred obligation to remember that and act accordingly, rather than to legislate through wishful thinking.

A: In the event of a default in payment of lease obligations, a formal demand for payment should be made upon the company currently owning the lease. Your lease may provide a specified time period, say 30 or 60 days, in which the defect may be cured. After that time period, if no action is taken, your next step would be to file a suit for cancellation of the lease in the county in which the property is located.

Q: Is it a violation of state or federal law for a physician to deliberately write a prescription for a fictitious person?

In addition, federal law makes it a criminal act for anyone, including a physician, to write a prescription that contains false information.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

January is the midway month for winter planting and transplanting of trees and shrubs. Several have asked for the names and varieties of trees, shrubs and plants that do well in Ozona. Perhaps a list of the one's I have tried and experimented with may help. CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought To You By Brown Furniture

In making sure that you have a beautifully decorated home, it's important that you consider the impact of textures - and, although textures are often spoken of only in fabrics - the truth is that textures also apply to woods and walls and all the materials used in furnishing a home.

Oddly enough, many people forget about textures when they decorate their homes - yet, textures have a very important effect on the final appearance of a room.

For example, should a particular chair have a smooth, silky material or a rough, tweedy one? Should a chest have highly polished wood or a duller, open-grained wood? Should walls be smooth or have textured material on them? Should the carpet be soft or shaggy?

These things should be considered. When people don't give enough consideration to textures (and many don't), they're often unhappy with their furnishings later without really knowing why.

Texture is a useful tool in making rooms more interesting and more beautiful, and we can help you use it. For decorating suggestions, and for any of your furnishing needs, stop in and see us at Brown Furniture.

Living on the Leftovers

They don't have much — Granny and Gramps:

A little "retirement cottage" with a guest room for visiting grandchildren, though they own it free and clear . . .

A modest savings account for a rainy day — it took some doing to add to it month by month. . .

Memories, the kind that grow warmer and deeper with every passing year . . .

Affection — it reaches to them across the miles from more than a score of loving hearts . . .

And Faith, the firm, courageous, ever-celebrating faith that has made life to Granny and Gramps a confident walk with God.

No, they don't have much as many people count riches. But they do have certain treasures that can never be lost, stolen or foreclosed. Priceless things whose value reaches beyond time into eternity.

They're living on the leftovers of a life of giving.

Lionettes run Dist. wins to 2

The Lionettes won their second district game last Tuesday night against Eldorado. The win puts the Lionettes 2-1 in district play.

The girls were slow getting started and trailed in the first quarter 7-11, but came back to tie the score 17-17 at half time. The Lionettes took a three point lead in the third quarter and finished the game with a 40-34 win over Eldorado.

Leading the scoring for the Lionettes was Lori Clayton with 12 points followed by Kaye Thompson and Lana Cole each with 9 points. Also scoring were Molly Womack with 8 points and Elsa Fierro with 2 points.

The Lionettes could not seem to get things together at the Eldorado Tournament. Ozona played Christoval for the first game and won 39-33. Kaye Thompson was high point with 17 points followed by Lana Cole with 10. The second game of the tournament against Eldorado was unfortunate for the Lionettes. Ozona could not find the basket and Eldorado could not miss. Eldorado won the game 36-27. Lori Clayton led the scoring with 10 points.

Ozona played McCamey for third place but lost by a close score of 39-43. The Lionettes led the whole game but could not keep control of the ball the fourth quarter allowing McCamey 18 points to their 9 points. High scorer was Lana Cole with 14 points and close behind was Kaye Thompson with 10 points.

No excise tax drop this year

The nation's telephone customers will not get a one percent federal excise tax reduction on telephone service during 1981 as expected.

President Jimmy Carter signed the Fiscal Year 1981 Budget Reconciliation Bill Dec. 5 which contained a provision maintaining the excise tax on telephone and teletypewriter service at the two percent level in effect during 1980.

The tax, originally 10 percent, was enacted as a "temporary" measure during World War II. Congress voted in 1970 to gradually eliminate the tax, reducing it one percent per year beginning in 1973 until completely eliminated in 1982.

The continuation of the 1980 two percent tax level during 1981 delays elimination of the tax, and is the first time the reduction has not been made on an annual basis since 1972.

General Telephone Company of the Southwest estimates continuation of the two percent level means its customers will pay $4.5 million more in excise taxes during 1981.

Estimated tax due

Taxpayers who did not have enough 1980 federal tax withheld, or whose amended income estimates for 1980 changed substantially during the last quarter, are required to pay the final installment of estimated income tax by January 15, 1981, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The IRS notes that there is an exception to this rule for those taxpayers who file their returns and pay all taxes due by February 2, 1981. This exception applies whether the declaration is an original or amended one.

Generally, taxpayers must file estimated tax if their tax is expected to be $100 or more and if they have more than $500 in income not covered by withholding.

For additional information, a free copy of IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax," can be ordered by calling the IRS number listed in the local telephone directory.

Families can defeat Alcoholism together

Museum Memorials

Family intervention—an approach to alcoholism in which loved ones aid in the recovery of a chemically dependent family member—has helped the likes of Wilbur Mills, Betty Ford, Joan Kennedy and we think-Billy Carter.

Absent from the program's reported 80 percent success list are Marilyn Monroe, Judy Garland and Elvis Presley, along with an estimated 75 million Americans who feel the fear, anger and hurt of living with an alcoholic.

Counselors John and Pat O'Neill travel the southwest for La Hacienda Treatment Center in Hunt, Texas, leading information and treatment sessions that explore the family dynamics contributing to, contained within and affected by the progressive nature of chemical dependency.

What many persons won't accept, the O'Neills say, is that each member of an alcoholic's family suffers from an illness triggered by living with the primary victim of the disease.

The victim's spouse, for instance, sees himself or herself as the family's "chief enabler," using self-pity and super-responsibility as a means of covering guilt and pain. The family "hero," usually the oldest child, feels responsible for his relatives' pain and deems it necessary to provide self-worth for the family. He/she suffers from loneliness and inadequacy, but super-imposes honor and achievement over his wounds.

Because the oldest child usually assumes the hero role, the second child becomes the "scapegoat," defiantly withdrawing from the others, repressing his anger through drugs and destruction.

The "lost child," meanwhile, spends time alone, deluding himself into independence and offering relief to the crumbling "chief enabler." Providing laughs and humor is the mascot, often the youngest child, who develops charm and humor to survive the painful family system.

Through family intervention, the "chief enabler" can begin to make proper decisions, the "hero" might channel his leadership qualities into more constructive areas and the "scapegoat" usually becomes a good counselor, a good listener.

The "lost child" having spent so much time alone, transforms his thoughts into imagination and creativity and the "mascot" becomes both fun to be around and serious in his thoughts, when intervention training is successful.

The O'Neills point out that these roles aren't always as rigid as they seem in print and occasionally a family member slips from one survival role to another, trying something else on for size. But the results of living in an environment with an alcoholic are so serious that "once this has gone on, you can remove the chemically dependent person and the other members still will suffer from the problem," the O'Neills say. The husband-wife team first learned of the program at Minnesota's Johnson Institute, where it was developed. "It's a tried and true program across the country," says John. "The Minnesota experience reports a recovery rate from 80 percent to 85 percent."

Families which are willing to undergo the treatment are urged to contact a counselor who will facilitate the intervention. Each member of the victim's family writes, discusses and re-writes three things-usually situations-he wishes the victim to recall, then explains how that hurt him.

For example, in a recent meeting, a "hero" told his family that he was disappointed that he had not attended his school play.

A "chief enabler" told his wife, "When we came home and found you lying on the couch, we just turned away. I thought how much I wished that I wasn't married to you and I hated feeling that way. I love you, but I can't stand to see you this way."

John encourages participants to write these feelings,

GRAPEFRUIT PECAN BREAD makes a nice in-between-meal snack with its tasty, tangy flavor, notes the Texas Department of Agriculture's home economist. The treat can be prepared with or without icing.

- Candied cherries for garnish.

Cream butter, honey and sugar together until fluffy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Blend in grapefruit rind. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add dry ingredients to butter mixture alternately with milk and grapefruit juice. Fold in pecans and chopped candied cherries. Pour into 9x5x2-inch loaf pan. PBPA energy report Executives from several petroleum associations met with Senator Robert Dole of Kansas in Wichita in December. Dole is the new Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. This committee handles all tax matters involving the petroleum industry. The Windfall Profits Oil Excise Tax was the topic of discussion. Short of repealing the entire tax, there were calls for a realistic plowback provision, total stripper well exemption and an across the board 1,000 barrel per day exemption. Another idea was to transfer the excise tax from domestic oil to all imported crude oil. After meeting with Senator Dole, the associations agreed to wait on President-elect Reagan's proposals and then take a united course of action for all independents.

President-elect Reagan is keeping his commitment to step up energy production in America. He has nominated James Watt as Secretary of Interior and James Edwards as Secretary of Energy. Watt is the head of the organization that filed the lawsuit against the oil excise tax. He also believes strongly in opening more federal land to exploration and supports reasonable environmental regulations.

James Edwards, the former governor of South Carolina, has said his main task may be working himself out of a job. Some people think he may run for governor of his state in 1982. Environmental groups oppose both men, especially Watt. The Senate is expected to confirm both nominations.

The Permian Basin rig count last week was 374. One year ago it was 303.

Mrs. Dick Kirby returned to her home here Monday after recuperating from surgery performed last week in a San Angelo hospital.

Individuals who earned at least two-thirds of their 1979 or 1980 gross income from farming have until Thursday, January 15, 1981, to make a 1980 declaration of estimated tax and pay any taxes due the Internal Revenue Service says.

However, farmers who plan to file their 1980 income tax return and pay the total tax balance by March 3, 1981, are not required to make an estimated tax declaration, according to the IRS.

Additional information is available in the free IRS Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," and Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax." These publications can be ordered by mail using the order form in the tax package, or by calling the IRS number listed in the local telephone directory. If more convenient, they can also be picked up at most IRS offices.

then read them exactly as written. "Sincerity and concern come across just as well when you read the paper because it's your stuff. It's your life on that paper," he says.

Skeptics at a recent meeting were convinced of that when a young girl reading to her alcoholic father detracted from her paper just long enough to ask, "Is it okay if I hug him?"

The purpose of a truth session with the dependent family member is to persuade him to submit to 28 days of hospitalization or, at the bare minimum, agree to attend daily Alcoholics Anonymous meetings for three months.

A typical response of an alcoholic confronted by his family's emotional appeals, is, "Okay, okay. I'm sorry. I had no idea I was hurting you this way."

The program's success, however, demands more than an emotional commitment to stop drinking or taking drugs. "Tough love" that is very confrontive, very supportive," says John, is necessary, as are years of aftercare treatment for the entire family and lifetime involvement in organizations such as AA.

"All's fair in love, war and intervention." John adds, explaining that drastic measures are sometimes necessary to corner the victim and make him listen.

Due to an accident on Christmas Eve I have been in the hospital in San Antonio. Ann Mayo did a great job replacing me and I would like to thank her and all the volunteers who helped.

Ann McCartney came on Thursday afternoon for a reading and discussion group, several have said how much they enjoyed it.

Last week while listing the volunteers who help with bingo I somehow failed to mention one of the most faithful, Doris Karr, thanks Doris.

The winner of "loser of the month" bingo game was Mattie Scheagal, the prize is a gift certificate from Bakers Jewelers. Jan. 2 bingo winners were first place, Blanche Fortune; second place, Frances Borrego. January 9 first place went to Mattie Scheagal and second place to Bernarda Aguirre.

Blanche Walker brought three bottles of White Minx hair rinse to be used on Thursday morning when all the ladies get their hair shampooed and set.

Everyone was saddened by the passing of Evie Keading. Evie was always cheerful and enjoyed helping others, she will be missed by all.

Jacinto (Shorty) Fores, 98 years of age, who had been a resident here for 5 years passed away Jan. 11. It seems odd to come in and not see him sitting in the sun with a cigar in his mouth. He will truly be missed.

Welcome to Edna (Brownie) Harvick, now residing in room 208.

Winners in the Monday morning dominoes game were first place, Paul Cavin, and second place, Evelyn

Bryant. Thanks to Mr. Roy Pearson for giving a year's subscription to the Readers Digest large print edition. These books are used in our reading and discussion group and are placed in the day room so everyone can get them to read.

Joan Nicholas came by Saturday to play the piano, the music was enjoyed by all. While she was here she did a little work in the fish aquarium, thanks Joan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Perry, Dale and Jeannine, and John L. Henderson spent last week skiing in Colorado.

Nearly a quarter of all restaurant orders are for hamburgers.

Harrells celebrate 50th Wedding date

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Harrell celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Thursday, January 8, by spending several days in San Antonio, the same city where they spent their honeymoon fifty years ago.

Ranchers into computers

Farmers and ranchers are into computers just like the rest of the business world, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is working to help them make the most of these technical marvels.

That's the purpose of a workshop on "Computers in Agriculture" to be held in Corpus Christi, Jan. 27-28, at the Holiday Inn--Emerald Beach.

"This workshop is designed to provide agricultural producers, agricultural lenders, commercial fishermen and Extension personnel an introduction to several of the computers available to them," points out Dr. Richard Trimble, Extension economist in management at Texas A&M University.

He notes that computer programs presently available as well as those soon to be available will be discussed. Also, participants will have an opportunity to operate several of the computer programs in "hands-on" sessions.

Discussions the first day will center around electronic decision aids in farm management, programmable calculators, micro-computers and time sharing systems. The second day will be devoted to workshop sessions in these areas: programmable calculators, micro-farm accounting system, time sharing systems, micro-computer decision models, TI 99/4 Micro-Computer software, and APPLE programs in commercial fishing.

Speakers will include Extension Service management and marine economists and a data processing programmer.

Advance registrations are requested by Jan. 23. Registration information is available from Lawrence Lipke, Extension area economist, Rt. 2, Box 589, Corpus Christi, Tex. 78410 (512/265-9201).

Little Strokes Fell great Oaks.

Remember Poor Richard's advice? We think it's as sound today as it was in the eighteenth century.

In these days of glamorous high yields and time deposits, we still welcome small savers.

We have always felt that the secret to successful saving is not the sum but diligence. Throughout the years, determined savers have regularly deposited small amounts into their passbook accounts. These savings have grown, with compound interest and new deposits, into tidy nest eggs that have helped enrich that saver's life. And that's the most important sum of all.

Old-fashioned virtues like service & savings, the convenience of tomorrow's bank today.

BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Jerry Lay

One of the least-known rules in football would cause a sensation if it ever happened - Let's say a player is running down the field in the last few seconds of a game with his team behind by 2 points - He's about to be tackled and can't get out of bounds to stop the clock. So, he suddenly stops running, and drop kicks the ball through the goal posts for 3 points - and his team wins the game. Unknown to most fans, it's legal in the National Football League to drop kick the ball for a field goal from anywhere on the field at any time - behind, or in front of, the line of scrimmage. It hasn't happened because drop kicking went out of style years ago, but the rule is still on the books and a player could legally try it today.

Here's one hard to believe - but it's true. Every team in the National Football League has finished in last place in their division in one season or another in the last 20 years. Strangely enough, no team in the NFL has escaped having a last place finish in their history.

I bet you didn't know... L-B Motor Co. offers low interest loans when you are ready for that new car or pickup. Come by and talk to us about a GMAC loan.
