I've been getting some complaints about this column being missing. It's not that I don't write it, I just can't seem to make the deadline. I'm too busy on Tuesday writing the dozens of things that pile up on my desk right at the deadline. So, if you'll get your stuff in not at, but prior to, the deadline, I'll try to bestir myself and get this column written. This week I have Zelda Bennett to thank for copy. She copied it from a framed copy hanging in a doctor's waiting room, while she was waiting, of course. Everyone knows you always have to wait, sometimes hours, to see the doctor. It always has been and I assume it always will be.

The bit of prose is entitled "Do You Remember When...."

"Attending college was a privilege rather than a Riot? A farmer could plant what he wished?"

Taxes were a nuisance, rather than a burden?

The Supreme Court protected society rather than the criminal?

Foreign officials visited the White House without asking for money?

We entered a war to win?

A life sentence did not mean a parole in three years?

Our flag was respected at home and abroad?

America conducted her foreign affairs without consulting the U.N.?

A family went on welfare only out of desperation, and got off it as soon as possible?

Charity was a virtue instead of big business?

The doctor's first question was "where does it hurt?" instead of "Do you have insurance?"

U.S. Grant was the name of a president rather than a handout?

Giving aid to the enemy was treason and not foreign aid?

We had prayers in our schools instead of sex education?

We were safe on the streets, as well as in our homes?

The news media presented the truth rather than propaganda?

A policeman was a human being instead of a "Facist Pig?"

The 3 R's were reading, riting and rithmetic, instead of robbery, rape and riot?

A radical had to have a soap box to reach 40 people, instead of the news media providing him a microphone to reach 40 million?"

If you don't remember any of the above, you're much younger than I.

Cloudburst floods city streets

A cloudburst Friday afternoon dumped .30 of an inch of rain on Ozona in the space of about ten or fifteen minutes and flooded streets in the Village Shopping Center area.

Under sunny skies, the storm announced its arrival with a loud clap of thunder. Then the cloud moved overhead and the proverbial bottom fell out, accompanied by ear-shattering claps of thunder and jagged bolts of lightning.

The storm left as quickly as it came and the resulting sunshine gave Ozonans a steam bath.

$8,000 raised for WTRC building fund Sunday

Residents of Ozona and Crockett County raised approximately $8,000 in donations and pledges to the building fund for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center's new facility in San Angelo, during a reception honoring Rex Allen and his band at the Circle Bar Solarium Sunday evening.

The proposed new treatment center will cost approximately $1.5 million. The Mabee Foundation of Tulsa, Okla. has offered $500,000 in the form of a "challenge grant." Officials of the foundation offered to contribute the last half-million only if other donors had come up with the rest of the money by July 10. By Friday of last week the fund had reached $960,788, falling $88,752 short of the $1,049,540 needed to meet the challenge from the foundation. The $8,000 received here Sunday night helped reduce the shortage.

All kinds of handicapped receive therapy at the center, not just children. Many arthritic and stroke victims in the area receive regular therapy that allows him or her to combat pain or regain the use of lost bodily functions, so anyone of whatever age should be vitally interested in the center.

Ellen Brown, public relations director for the center, counted the Circle Bar party a huge success. Shelly Smith, Rehab Center head, was also present and expressed his extreme pleasure at the generosity of Ozona people. Lee Pfleger, head of the building fund, also expressed his appreciation and said he had confidence the goal would be reached to attain the matching funds by July 10.

The reception was hosted by several Ozonans, headed up by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baggett, Jr., members of the WTRC Building Committee and Crockett County fundraising chairmen.

Rex Allen, who has given his time and talent to WTRC for many years as a host for the annual telethon and as the voice on numerous Rehab Center promotional films, was the honored guest, and entertained along with his band, The Reinsmen of Hollywood, Calif. The gathering enjoyed several old songs and some of the best of the new, presented by Allen and his band.

Guests enjoyed a generous buffet prepared by the kitchen staff at the Circle Bar Restaurant.

Other hosts included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bean, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bissett, Dr. and Mrs. Don Carlisle, Mrs. Robert Cox, Mrs. Mayme Daniel, Ms. Anne Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Henderson, Jr., and Judge and Mrs. Johnny Jones.

Also, Mr. Tom Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Foy Moody, Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Owensby, Mr. and Mrs. John Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perry, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pierce, IV.

Mrs. Bob Bissett has been named memorials chairman for the building fund and anyone wishing to make a memorial contribution may mail her their donation to Box 656, Ozona.

Fireworks display to end July 4, activities here

Several activities have been planned for the July 4 weekend in Ozona. All will end with the giant fireworks display sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and set to go off after "good dark" Saturday night.

The Ozona Country Club will have its annual club golf tournament along with many other activities for the 3-day period beginning Friday, including bridge tournaments for Saturday and Sunday.

Class reunions for Ozona High School classes '50 through '59 are also going to be held July 4. The schedule for the entire group includes registration at the high school library at 10 Saturday morning and lunch at 12 at the VFW Post along with visiting from lunch until 5 p.m. The dance for all the classes will be held from 8 p.m. until midnight, also at the V.F.W. post.

Several classes are planning various class activities. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirby will have the classes of '53, '54 and '55 to their home for an outdoor barbecue Saturday afternoon before the dance.

The Chamber of Commerce has made final plans for a watermelon party and fireworks display to be held near the Little League Park Saturday night. Activities will get underway Saturday at 8 p.m. when members of the board of directors begin serving watermelon. The load of watermelons has been purchased and is being refrigerated so the melons will be well chilled by Saturday. Watermelon will be sold by the whole melon, a half, or by the slice. Mrs. Beth Boyd, chamber manager, asked all watermelon eaters to bring their own fork or spoon, but the salt will be furnished.

The fireworks have arrived and under the direction of Lane Scott will be a spectacular display in the night sky. There will be 400 different displays, all in brilliant color. It is suggested that parents forego the home fire-cracker and bottle-rocket shooting, and bring their children instead to see the community display.

Most businesses will be closed Friday in observance of Independence Day, since the Fourth comes on Saturday. A survey by Mrs. Boyd did not turn up one business or office which planned to close on Monday.

Closed Friday will be Small Fashions, Ozona T-V System, Watson's, Western Auto, United Department Store, Brown Furniture, Crockett County Water District, the Teacher Store, Ozona National Bank, Young's Barber Shop, all courthouse offices, West Texas Utilities, and the Ozona Stockman.

Remaining open Friday will be Baker Jewelers, Foxworth-Galbraith, Thornton's, Jim's Foodway, Sonny's Drive Inn, Perry's, White Auto, L-B Motors, and South Texas Lumber Co. All will close Saturday with the exception of the three food stores and Perrys.

Activities get underway Friday at the Ozona Country Club with the ladies golf tournament and covered dish

TRAGEDY STRIKES CALIFORNIA FAMILY when two were killed and six injured in a one vehicle wreck near here on I-10 Monday morning. The family members were on their way from Oakland, Calif. to Louisiana, where they planned to attend a family reunion. The bus, foreground, came to rest on its side after scattering passengers and possessions when it plunged off an embankment on the interstate. [see story]

California family involved- Van wreck kills 2 and injures 6

A California man was killed and an infant died later as a result of a one-vehicle accident on I-10 14.4 miles west of Ozona at 8:00 Monday morning, which injured six others.

Lonnie Calvert Hookfin, Jr., 35, of Oakland, California, was the driver of the Volkswagen bus which straddled a guardrail on I-10 and flipped end over end down a 30-foot embankment, coming to rest on the south service road after scattering passengers and belongings all over the hillside. Hookfin, was pronounced dead at Crockett County Hospital a short time after the accident.

Both Crockett County ambulances rushed to the scene and called back for help from all available EMT's, who rushed to the scene. The passengers in the wreck were enroute from Oakland to Louisiana for a family reunion. They were being followed by two more vehicles containing family members who witnessed the accident. The survivors felt Hookfin went to sleep at the wheel.

Wreck victims were scattered all over the service road and vehicles had to be warned of the situation lest they run over some of them. All were seriously injured and required professional assistance to be moved. Several were transferred to Shannon Hospital in San Angelo, among them was Frank Addison, 15 months, who died of his injuries at 7:55 Tuesday.

Hookfin was taken to Sizemore Funeral Home where no decision had been made Tuesday about services.

At 4:15 p.m. Monday in exactly the same location, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Stewart were injured in a one-vehicle wreck. The Stewarts were enroute to Sonora when Mr. Stewart, the driver blacked out and hit the guard rail twice on the passenger side. Mrs. Stewart was transferred to San Angelo in serious condition with rib and shoulder fractures. Stewart was hospitalized here where he was undergoing tests.

'MARKETING POLLUTION' MAY BE A SOLUTION

By Edwin Feulner

Every neophyte Congressman in the 1970s quickly learned, if he hadn't learned it long before reaching Washington, that "the environment" was about as sacrosanct a cause as motherhood or apple pie. One simply didn't go around reminding people that a clean environment came with a price tag or that snail darters were created a little lower than the angels.

Fortunately, the doomsday environmentalists who set out to scrub the universe clean of every last trace of human habitation have lowered their voices a bit the past couple years. The Reagan Administration's announced intention to overhaul the 1970 Clean Air Act, which at one time would have been decried as a move tantamount to repealing the Magna Carta, has received thoughtful attention from environmental analysts.

An innovative proposal to make the Clean Air Act more workable, without sacrificing the environment, is set forth in a recent issue of HARPER'S Magazine by environmentalist William Tucker.

In 'Marketing Pollution,' Tucker advocates a "marketable rights" system originally proposed by Senator William Proxmire (D-Wisconsin) in the 1960s. Under this system, each state would determine how much of a given air pollutant it was willing to allow in a given "airshed." Then it would simply sell the rights to generate this pollution on an open market. (We're all big boys and girls, after all, and can't pretend that an industrialized society can survive without creating a little pollution in the process.)

Tucker explains that industries would have to compete against each other for the right to create this pollution, inevitably bidding up these rights-to-pollute to their marginal level (i.e., the price at which it is cheaper for every individual to clean up his remaining emissions rather than pay more for the right to pollute). The task of cleaning up the total pollution for the entire airshed would be automatically distributed among the polluters in the most economical way.

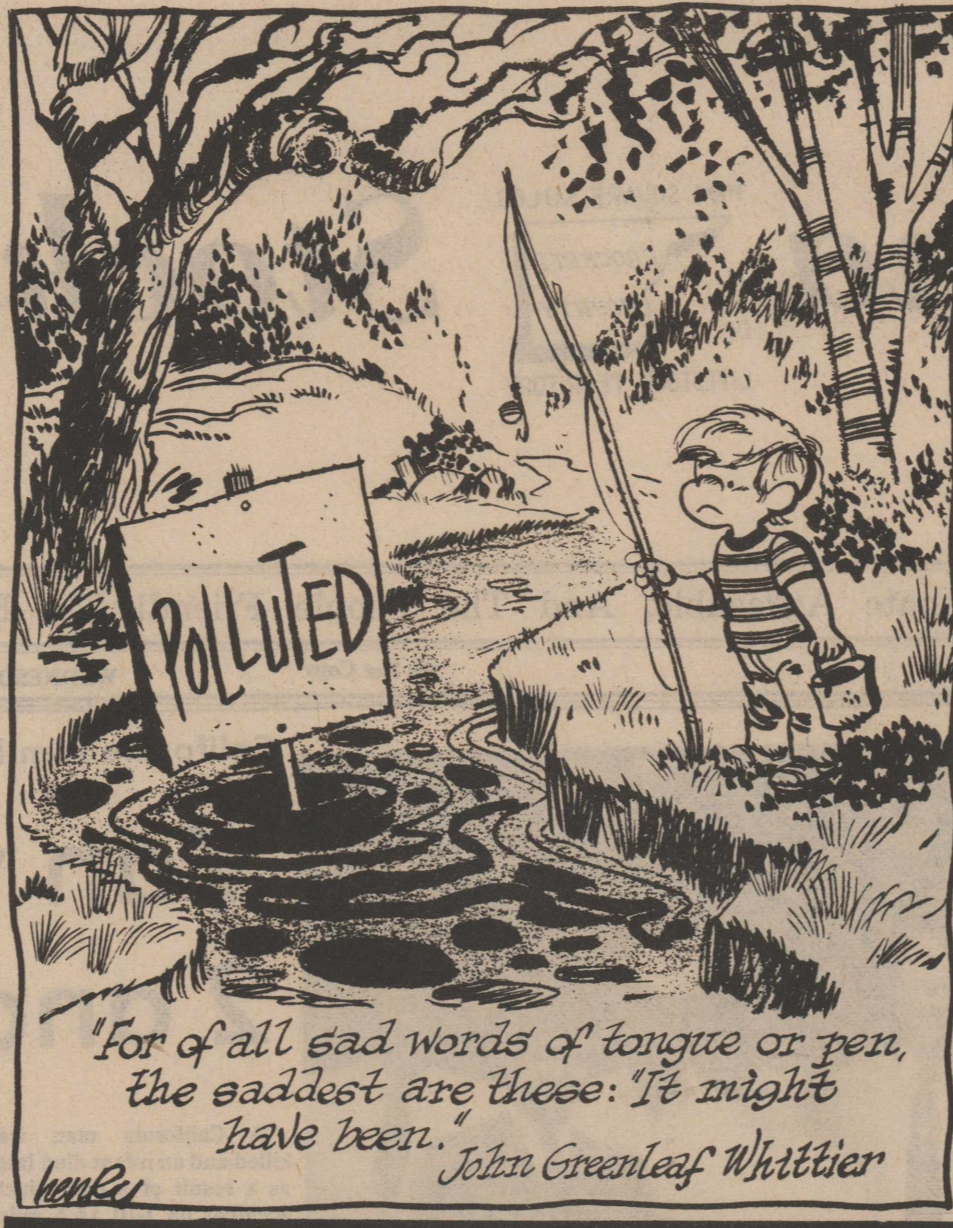

"The beauty of this system is that all the bureaucrats in the federal and state agencies who are spending countless thousands of hours deciding who should clean up what, when, and where could simply pack their bags and go home," Tucker says. "All the decisions would be made where they belong — by the people who are going to bear the costs of deciding how to clean up."

Tucker points to one extremely attractive aspect of the marketable rights system: the greater involvement of the public in a process which graphically shows them the price of the improvements they are requesting. "Currently, when people want cleaner air, the standard practice is to lobby the legislators, start a mailing campaign, or organize a mass movement. Politicians and bureaucrats are pressured into tightening up the emissions standards, and everyone goes home happy. No one takes the least thought as to what it is all going to cost, even though he will eventually pay the bill in higher consumer prices.

"But with the marketable rights system, the possibility exists that the public, either through municipal bodies or environmental groups, can organize itself to buy back some of the rights to pollute and 'retire' them, thus eliminating more pollution from the atmosphere. This way, the public will be able to improve the air but will understand exactly how much it is costing."

For all its novelty, Tucker's plan makes good common sense, and perhaps provides a common ground where both the Sierra Club and the Chamber of Commerce can come together in the war against air pollution.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Less than a month after the Legislature ratified new boundary lines for state House and Senate districts, the entire redistricting process is in upheaval again.

Governor Bill Clements has vetoed the plan for the Senate, thereby allowing the plan to be redrawn by the constitutionally provided redistricting board, composed of five state officials.

The board, headed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, tried to meet for the first time last week, but postponed action pending the outcome of a lawsuit filed last week which challenges the new House districts.

The class action lawsuit, with three legislators heading up the list of plaintiffs, charges that counties have been illegally split in each of the five major metropolitan areas: Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, Houston and El Paso, as well as Laredo and Amarillo.

A state district judge was scheduled to hear the case this week. If the judge finds for the plaintiffs, the new House districts will be invalidated and the redistricting board will assume the task of drawing an acceptable plan.

Meanwhile, Clements has not backed down one iota from his announced intent to veto any plan approved during the coming special session which does not provide for a black congressional district in his hometown of Dallas.

The Legislature adjourned last month without reaching a compromise on new congressional districts. Due to population growth, Texas is entitled to create three new congressional districts.

Clements & Blacks
Clements has been insistent in his desire to create a predominantly black state senate and congressional district in Dallas.

He has publicly and loudly said the Dallas blacks must get a fair shake.

That's a worthy cause, but some legislators are saying Clements has other motives hidden behind the civil rights banner.

The real targets are liberal Democrats who are a pain in the neck to Clements: State Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, and congressmen Martin Frost and Jim Mattox.

Perhaps the most influential black in the Legislature, Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, was highly critical of Clements' statements concerning the veto of the Senate plan.

"Clements doesn't care about blacks and he never has, but blacks are protected by the Voting Rights Act and Republicans are not."

Washington said the Senate plan had "a Dallas district that in excess of 66 percent minority. Is Clements suggesting that blacks are so lethargic and lazy that we cannot elect one of our own without packing all of us into one district?"

Mauzy, Two GOPs
Washington was referring to the Dallas district now represented by Mauzy. Clements may have a problem because Mauzy, a white liberal, is in good standing with blacks and has been repeatedly re-elected in predominantly minority district.

And Clements is probably more worried about the political survival of two Republican senators from Dallas who find themselves paired in a new district: Dee Travis and John Leedom. Travis, however, is expected to run for Congress.

Dallas Congressmen
That brings up the issue of congressional districts in Dallas. Clements says he wants a district cut where a black can win. Be that the case, the plan he has in mind will do that and weaken two liberal Democrats, Frost and Mattox, at the same time. Clements has already called Mattox "a disaster" and vowed he must go.

The Libs
If the Democrats dominated the Senate plan, not all Democrats were pleased. Two members of the House liberal faction, John Bryant, D-Dallas, and Ted Lyon, D-Mesquite, said they welcomed Clements' veto of the Dallas senatorial plan.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Fly the Flag on the Fourth. Join your neighbor in displaying the flag on this Fourth of July and other days throughout the year. Respect should prevail when the flag is flown; no frivolous uses should be permitted. When the flag begins to look worn, dispose of it respectfully, preferably by burning.

With so many beautiful flowers available now, you may want to bring summer's brightest colors to your table in a centerpiece of fresh flowers. If you are not fortunate enough to have them from your own garden, your friends will be delighted to share hers. With daisies, zinnias, marigolds, roses and many others blooming in the garden, shrubs covered with lush foliage, and wild flowers sprouting up everywhere, there's plenty to choose from for cutting.

For an interesting effect, arrange the flowers in an unexpected container—such as a watering can and other in containers for wild flowers. Other containers that you may have to use—a glass cylinder, jugs, a single or group of clay pots. These would be especially suitable for the patio, porches or formal affairs.

To make crepe myrtle produce large clusters of blooms the first requirement is full sun. Tip prune in February or March and fertilize in late spring and again in July, using 1 cup of 5-10-10 per plant, depending on size of plant.

amaryllis bulbs for August planting.

Throughout summer persist in spraying to kill insects.

Continue to divide iris and add some new varieties. Plant mint around doorways, as flies and rats do not like the scent of mint.

Sow a ring of radishes around each cucumber hill to control cucumber beetles.

Plant garlic around your roses to eliminate aphids.

Pamper your roses with chopped banana peel. Be sure to work it in just beneath the ground.

Keep all blossoms picked from annuals so the plants will continue to bloom.

MRS. DONOVAN INGRAM
...nee Georgene Cella

Celia-Ingram vows said in Richardson Saturday

Miss Georgene Ferne Celia and Mr. Donovan Roth Ingram were united in marriage Saturday evening, June 27, in a candlelight ceremony at First United Methodist Church in Richardson. Rev. Guy Garrett officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Samuel George Celia of Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. Huey D. Ingram.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a candlelight chignon gown with cathedral length train. Her fitted bodice was of Alencon lace and seed pearls and featured a Queen Anne neckline. Bishop sleeves of chiffon, slit from shoulder to wrist, were accented by the lace and pearls. Her fingertip mantilla veil was caught with a lace cap accented with seed pearls. The appliques were repeated around the veil. Her bouquet was a formal cascade of orchids with stephanotis, entwined with lilies-of-the-valley.

Her attendants wore baby blue floor-length gowns with a pleated bodice accented with blue appliques of lace. Matching sleeveless jackets accented the dresses. The attendants carried teardrop flower bouquets entwined with blue ribbon.

Maid of honor was Sarah Wells of Plano. Bridesmaids were Elizabeth Pannell of Ravenna, Ellen Yurcah and Nancy Cato, both of Lubbock.

Best man was Drew Ingram, brother of the bridegroom, of Midland. Groomsmen were Brad Hoover of Orange, Daryl Karr of Midland and Darryl Halenack of Houston.

The church was beautifully decorated with brass candleabra holding white tapers and entwined with greenery. The altar was centered with an arrangement of white glads, a bible and the wedding candle.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride is a graduate of Plano High School and Texas Tech University in Lubbock. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ozona High School and Texas Tech and is employed by a printing firm in San Antonio.

The couple will be at home in San Antonio, following a Caribbean Cruise.

The bridegroom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Double Tree Inn in Dallas.

Debra Says

By Debra Price

One of the most serious and devastating attitudes of parents for teens is rejection, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

Rejection has varying degrees—ranging from mild to severe.

Absolute rejection is encountered less often than the milder forms, but the milder forms—the ordinary ones—are still rejection.

Ordinarily parental rejection is indirect. Often it takes the guise of nagging, excessive criticism, impatience, crossness, sibling comparison, inconsistency or distrust.

A parent who actively rejects a teen tends to display hostility, threatens, needlessly denies things the teen wants or totally ignores the teen's presence.

Other parental behavior may include severe or unwarranted punishment, fewer gifts and favors, standard clothing or forcing the teen to use discarded possessions of older brothers or sisters.

Most parental rejection has a highly emotional base.

The teen may have been an unwanted child, show up a more-favored child in the family, or may be so like the parent that the parent sees the teen as competition.

Rejection inflicts heavy emotional scars on teenagers.

The rejected teen may spend much of his lifetime trying every means he knows to gain favor from his parents.

Or he may continue childish behavior long after he has passed that stage. He may even use childish acts to gain attention, affection and acceptance from other adults, teachers or employers.

Such a teenager may be extremely difficult to get along with if his motives are not understood.

A rejected child may even cause conflict between the mother and father when one parent takes sides with the rejected teen.

When the rejected teenager reaches his limit in tolerance, very often he will flee and join the thousands of Texas runaways.

Another dilemma families face is the threat of a rejecting parent throwing the child out of the home.

Whether a teen is the victim of ordinary rejection or absolute rejection, whether he is a runaway or was thrown out, the displaced teenager's emotional banishment still adds up to "throwaway person."

To prevent that, the best formula for happiness between parents and their teenagers is positive parenting and open parent-teen relationships.

HOW TO IMPROVE BACKGROUND

Buying the right furnishings for backgrounds of rooms can't be treated as unimportant if you want a beautifully decorated home. Many a room has failed to reach its potential because not enough care and attention were given to the background.

And, so this week, we'd like to present some ideas for you to think about, when you consider the backgrounds of a room.

One possible idea, often overlooked, is a large decorator screen, say behind a sofa. This can provide an exciting background.

Another often overlooked background idea is a beautiful bookcase.

And, when you're shopping for things for backgrounds, be sure to consider decorator clocks, as well as mirrors and pictures. Properly selected, these can bring new beauty to your home both in themselves and as the background setting they provide—and they can dramatically change the appearance of a room.

When it comes to the colors and textures of walls, you should consider harmony with the furnishings in the room as well as possible contrasts you'd like to achieve. One idea for a decorator touch is to make three walls all one color and the fourth wall an entirely different color or design. If done right, this can be very effective.

Valley Forge

Forever inscribed on the tablets of our history is a winter almost two centuries ago. Turned back by the British at Germantown, General Washington camped his ragged army among the rolling hills and woods northwest of Philadelphia. The place was called Valley Forge.

Today it is a rhapsody of green oaks and chestnuts almost dominating the historic shrine. The forts and redoubts of old are mounds and ridges blanketed with lush grass as they defend forest-crowned hills.

Rightly, there's a statue of "the Father of his Country" at Valley Forge. And, rightly, he's praying!

Was it war that won our freedom? Wasn't it really faith? Because so many of us believe that, we say in our Pledge of Allegiance . . . "one nation UNDER GOD."

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

Emergency loans available to Crockett Co. ranchers

Applications for assistance in the disaster stricken county of Crockett will be accepted by Farmers Home Administration until 7/28/81 for production losses. Emergency loans for farm and ranch operators are available through the Ozona or Eden county office of the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA), according to Ben T. Rucker, Jr., FmHA County Supervisor. Rucker asked that those who need farm credit as a result of drought and extremely high temperatures 9/1/79 through 8/31/80 make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office at Ozona or Eden. FmHA loans covering actual production losses may be used to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, livestock, or to meet interest and depreciation payments on current real estate and chattel debts. Other loans, beyond actual losses, can be made for annual operating expenses or to make major adjustments in a farming or ranching operation. "Funds can be used for essential operating and living costs," Rucker said. Loans covering actual losses are made at an interest rate of five percent and are scheduled for repayment as rapidly as feasible consistent with the applicant's reasonable ability to pay. Loans beyond actual losses have various maturities, depending upon the purpose of the loan. To be eligible for an emergency loan, an applicant must have suffered losses from the disaster and be unable to get credit from other sources. Emergency loans can be used to help the operator restore damaged farm and ranch operations and additional loans based upon the emergency designation can be used to reorganize the farm for greater efficiency and better production. Rucker asked that those who need farm credit as a result of the disaster make their needs known at the Farmers Home Administration office in Ozona, located in the ASCS office, on the fourth Thursday of each month from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon, or at the Eden Farmers Home Administration in the ASCS building. Rucker's office period in Eden is each Monday morning from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Address: Box H, Eden, Tx. 76837; Telephone, 915/869-3941.

Local artists to exhibit in S.A.

Several local artists will exhibit paintings at Kendall Gallery in San Angelo during the month of July. They are Fred Jones, Mary Jo Mason, Dorothy Montgomery and Charlotte B. Phillips. Ms. Montgomery and Ms. Mason will be interviewed on the Pat Atterbery show on KCTV this afternoon. Mrs. Mason, nee Mary Jo Ward, grew up on a ranch in Ozona and this has been a strong influence on her art works. She paints in watercolor and oils. She received her B.A. degree from the University of Texas in Austin and has studied with such notables as Wanda Johnson and Bud Biggs along with several watercolor artists. She is a past member of Richardson Civic Art Society and a member of the Southwestern Watercolor Society. She has exhibited in shows in the Dallas area and her paintings hang in homes from Ozona to Chicago. She says her first love is watercolor.

Dorothy Montgomery is married to Beecher Montgomery and they have two grown children. She is a graduate of Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, where she grew up. Her interests besides painting include golfing, fishing, gardening and cooking. It is easy to see her husband appreciates the latter interest most. Dorothy studied with private teachers as well as in public school art programs throughout her school years in Fort Worth. Mrs. Montgomery had special classes with Prof. Samuel Ziegler of TCU and has been in workshops through the years with many well-known artists. Her paintings have hung in various shows and many are in private collections. Mrs. Montgomery has been painting professionally for 10 years.

Fred Jones is a native West Texan and has spent much time working on ranches and rodeoing. He is a graduate of Sul Ross, where he was a member of the rodeo team. His experiences have given an authentic western flavor to his work. Mr. Jones is an active pilot and a teacher in the Ozona School System. Charlotte Phillips became interested in watercolors in fifth grade in San Angelo, under the guidance of Mrs. N. W. Webb. In 1912 she began China painting under the supervision of Mrs. Helen Grafke, also in San Angelo. She attended Daniel Baker College in Brownwood and received her Certificate in Art, which included China painting, oils, watercolors, and charcoal. She then taught art in Sterling City and Mertzon. She later studied China painting at T.C.U. in Fort Worth. She married Hillery Phillips and moved to Ozona in 1927, where she learned landscape painting from Mrs. Margaret Tupper, Ruth Matlock and Dwight Holmes all of San Angelo. Ceramics and porcelain became her interest in 1952 with Helen Elliott of San Antonio. Porcelain dolls and birds were her main subjects. She has two kilns and enjoyed working in that field for a number of years.

More Grass- Begins with the Banvel rangeland program.

Rangeland brush and weeds can get a stranglehold on the land, robbing water and soil nutrients from rangeland grasses. One acre of heavy mesquite consumes enough water to grow more than 7 tons of grass... grass that could add extra pounds to your grazing stock.

Banvel® herbicide—used in a tank mix with 2,4,5-T+—controls many of the most troublesome Texas woody brush and vines: mesquite... huiache... oak... hackberry and many tough to control broadleaf weeds including broomweed... bitterweed... ragweed and more.

With less competition from brush and weeds, rangeland forage has a chance to bounce back—opening the way to faster weight gains and more profit from your grazing livestock.

Break the brush hold on rangeland profits. Let the Banvel rangeland program help unlock your rangeland's true potential.

Ranchers Roundup to hold sheep & goat sessions

Legislation affecting sheep and goat producers, factors affecting buyer demand for lambs, world lamb marketing outlook and factors determining wool value are four of 15 topics to be analyzed at sheep and goat concurrent sessions during the International Rancher's Roundup August 10-14 in Del Rio.

Seventeen representatives from 12 producer concerns and agencies will appear on the three one-half day programs.

Producer organizations and personnel confirmed so far include: National Wool Growers (Don Meike, Board Chairman), American Sheep Producers Council (Chris Jouflas-President, Dick Biglin, Leann Nelson, Bill Brosovek), National Lamb Feeders (Janie Kothmann, President) and Mohair Council of America (Herman Moore, President).

Commercial firms represented are New Zealand Lamb Company (Graeme Lindsay), Swift and Co. (L. S. Wilde), Texas Lamb Company (Bob Quam) and Burlington Industries (Wylie McDonald).

Other topics certain to interest producers are: roles and functions of producer organizations, challenge of lamb marketing, seasonal supply and price trends, lamb fabrication and selling problem lambs, meat goat carcass evaluation and utilization of the lamb carcass.

Concurrent session chairmen will be Bill Sims, Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association; Jack Groff and Dr. George Ahlschwede, Texas Agricultural Extension Service sheep and goat specialists; and Dr. Zerle Carpenter, head, Texas A&M department of animal science.

Participants will also have the opportunity to attend concurrent sessions in beef cattle, range resource management, ranch business, horse management and wildlife. Daily general group sessions will comprise the remainder of each day's educational activities.

Thus far over 110 speakers from five countries and seven states have been confirmed for the three days of educational activities. Headliners include South African Foreign Minister P. Botha, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown and State Representative Susan McBee.

PBPA energy report

The Texas Railroad Commission recently set the Texas oil production rate for July at 100% for the 53rd month in a row. Buyers wanted to purchase 2,558,000 barrels a day during July. The month's permissible rate of output is calculated to average 3.5 million barrels a day with actual production estimated at about 2.5 million barrels each day. The maximum allowable applies to all but ten fields in Texas that are assigned lower legal rates of flow for conservation purposes. Actual production in July of last year was 2.5 million barrels a day.

There have been several articles written lately about oil prices remaining stable for a period of up to three years. May we quickly say don't count on it. The present oversupply of oil in the world was engineered by Saudi Arabia and can be stopped almost at will. In fact, some reports say the Saudis have already begun a cutback in production. The Saudis are currently producing about 3.5 million barrels a day more than their target of approximately 6.5 million barrels. The 3.5 million is almost exactly the amount of the glut now on the world market. By raising oil prices, OPEC countries have succeeded in making it profitable once again to look for oil in the U.S. and in forcing people to cut back on the use of petroleum products. Don't be surprised if the glut disappears early next year and prices start back up.

And, the special session of the Texas Legislature, set to begin July 13, will deal with property taxes. We'll keep a close eye on any changes that might effect the industry.

The Permian Basin rig count last week was 432. One year ago it was 329.

Auto safety tips for July Fourth

Texans should be especially careful when driving this July Fourth weekend because the plentiful supply of gasoline means that many cars will be on the highways, warns a Texas Safety Association official.

Bob Draper, the volunteer safety organization's manager of driver improvement programs, notes that 52 persons died in Texas over last year's July Fourth holiday. He offers motorists some common sense tips to follow to make this year's Independence Day Weekend safe.

First, before you leave, make sure your car is in good operating condition. Check the tires, belts, hoses, etc. to verify that they are in proper shape for a trip.

Once on the road, take other safety precautions, Draper suggests.

Stop at least five minutes every hour to rest and keep yourself alert. In the car, help yourself stay awake by opening the windows or fresh air vents, playing the radio and shifting around in your seat.

Don't mix alcohol and driving, Draper says.

"If you're going to drive, don't drink, and if you've had too much to drink, don't drive," he comments.

"Remember the one-for-one rule," he says. "It takes your body about one hour to rid itself of the alcohol in one drink. So, have no more than one drink per hour and no drinks an hour before getting behind the wheel."

Observe the speed limit, too, says Draper.

"Department of Public Safety troopers will be out in full force, so endeavor to drive 55 mph and not above. Besides saving lives, you'll save gasoline," he states.

"Ensure that you and your passengers buckle up your seat belts," Draper also stresses. He adds that any child weighing under 40 lbs. should ride in a crash-tested child car safety seat.

Last, drive defensively, reminds the traffic safety expert.

"Even though you may be obeying the rules of the road, other drivers may not be so careful. Keep an eye out for the other guy," he advises.

The July Fourth 1981 holiday accident count begins at 6 p.m. July 2 and runs through midnight July 5.

Texas Safety Association, headquartered in Austin, was chartered by the National Safety Council in 1938 as a non-profit, non-governmental public service organization. It is the largest state safety association in the United States.

Auto safety tips for July Fourth

Two day-long tours of Southwest Texas and Mexican ranches have been organized. Nightly meal functions and entertainment will occur after educational activities have concluded.

Prospective participants are reminded that June 30 is the pre-registration discount deadline. Those who complete the registration procedure before that date receive a $50 discount. To take part in the tours, participants must pre-register by June 30.

Pre-registration material can be obtained by writing to Rancher's Roundup, P.O. Drawer 1849, Uvalde, Tx. 78801.

Speculation continues that the Roundup could become the largest such event ever organized for Southwestern ranchers.

Crockett County Care Center News

By Mary Wilton-Director of Activities & Social Care

This has been a very busy week for all the residents beginning on Monday morning with music and song by Sara Hignight. Everyone always looks forward to Sara coming and the good music was enjoyed by all. Our sunshine hour was held on the back porch. Fresh fruit including a watermelon which was donated by Willie Tooke was served to twenty five residents. The fruit was arranged on two large silver trays and was very pretty to look at as well as tasty. Dorothy Doll was here to help get everyone outside and we were later joined by Ruth Dorris. Tuesday afternoon seemed to be the men's lucky day in bingo with Paul Cavin and Seferino Garcia both winning four games.

Wednesday morning there was a residents' council meeting held in the Day Room with eighteen residents attending. Polly Epler, food service supervisor, was there to answer any questions the residents might have concerning their diet.

Thursday morning Hazel Storms, Maria Vitela, Doris Hoffman, Ruth Dorris, and Kathy Storms came to set hair and we would like to thank them for doing such a nice job.

Our volunteer of the week is Kathy Storms. She is the seventeen-year-old daughter of Richard and Hazel Storms and has lived in Ozona for five years. Kathy has been coming for the past two years to help in the beauty shop and give manicures. It takes a very special teenager to give so much time to help others and ask nothing in return. Kathy you have the love of everyone here, keep up the good work, you are a good example for others to follow.

Thursday night, Charlie Beard and his band from Big Lake came to entertain us. The lobby was filled with residents and visitors and the music was enjoyed by all. I noticed that all but two of our residents were in the lobby, some were dancing, others

DPS estimates 44 deaths during holiday period

The Department of Public Safety today estimated that as many as 44 persons may die in Texas traffic accidents during the upcoming July 4 weekend unless drivers exercise extreme caution. Colonel Jim Adams, DPS Director, urged motorists to maintain safe driving habits during the holiday to help minimize the loss of life. "Texas is well on its way to yet another record year for traffic fatalities," Adams said. "We can put a stop to this dangerous trend if more motorists will slow down, refrain from drinking and use the most readily-available safety precaution--seat belts."

"In Texas, the chances of being killed in an accident during 1980 were four times greater for persons not wearing seat belts than for those wearing the belts," Adams pointed out. "The odds are clearly in the motorist's favor when everyone in the vehicle remembers to buckle up."

Adams said DPS Regional Commanders will deploy additional troopers where heavy volumes of traffic are expected. The DPS will be conducting "Operation Motorcade" during the holiday period to call attention to the dangers of holiday driving. The Department will tabulate traffic fatalities and release totals three times daily at 10 a.m., 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. The first report will be made at 10 a.m. Friday, July 3.

The 78-hour counting period will begin Thursday, July 2, at 6 p.m. and continue until midnight, July 5. Fifty-two persons died from traffic injuries received during the July 4th holiday period last year. Texas traffic deaths in 1980 totaled 4,424, a record high for the fourth consecutive year.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW
By Jerry Lay

Nobody in big league baseball history ever had one year like Joe Medwick of the Cardinals had in 1937...Medwick--incredibly--led the National League in 12 different batting departments including batting average, runs, hits, doubles, homers, total bases, slugging percentage and runs batted in, among others.. No other player ever dominated so many different categories in one season as Medwick did that year. **

Although most boxers never win a world championship, there was one man in history who--amazingly--held 3 different world titles in 3 different weight classes all at the same time..Henry Armstrong was the world welterweight, lightweight and featherweight champion..He won all 3 of those titles within the space of one year in 1938. **
