Nothing ever comes out even when you are putting a newspaper together. We either have too many pictures or not enough. The stories come out too long or too short. This week we simply have too many pictures, but we are going to use as many as we can and use the rest next week. That's not really timely, but it will just have to do. Things get frantic around here after the deadline, especially after a three-day holiday weekend. So you might just call this our pictorial edition.

More people stayed in town or came to town over the holiday period than I have ever seen in Ozona on a July Fourth holiday. The class reunions, or is it the classes reunion, brought a bunch of ex-Ozonans and their families back to big "O" and the watermelon feast and fireworks display brought a horde of parents and kids out. We made an attempt to get to the site of the fireworks display, but cars were so stacked up we couldn't get within a mile of it. We turned around and went back up on the hill and really had a ring-side seat. That was the place to be to get a good view of everything. There were so many cars on the road to the park it looked like a sea of blinking red lights. I don't know where on earth they came from.

The display was beautiful, but I kept waiting for the American Flag which was supposed to be the finale, and it never showed up. Beth Boyd said she thought it was supposed to end that way too. We were either misinformed or lost the flag rocket. At any rate it was breathtaking, and we were sorry we no longer had little ones to watch.

We got a pleasant surprise Sunday when Jim and Debbie showed up about noon. I had already committed myself to bridge, and you just don't cancel bridge at the last minute if you want to stay healthy. I really wanted to visit with my kids. However, Jim did yard work all afternoon in exchange for a Mom-made enchilada dinner and Debbie visited with friends, so it was just as well. Although we missed the hamburger supper, we enjoyed the weekend.

The firemen did get to put out a little grass fire Monday afternoon, after days of false alarms. Bob Falkner and I were musing over the mentality of a person who would call in false alarms. He thinks they just like to see the red trucks take off and listen to the sirens. I think they need some hard work and discipline. At any rate, it is against the law and they are on the culprit's trail pretty close.

Reception to honor artists

A reception, honoring the four Ozona artists who are showing their work at Kendall Art Gallery in San Angelo, will be held Sunday, July 12, from 2 until 5 p.m. The public is invited.

The four, Dorothy Montgomery, Mary Jo Mason, Charlotte Phillips and Fred Jones, will be exhibiting their work throughout the month of July. Around 40 pieces are on display.

Reunions and fireworks hilite the 4th-

Ozona offers choice of July 4th activities

Ozona High School class reunions, Country Club activities and a watermelon feast complete with a dazzling display of fireworks offered Ozonans a choice of activities this July 4 holiday period.

Planners of the 10-year class reunion were overjoyed at the big success of that event. Janice Marley, who coordinated the event locally, said around 180 persons were in attendance at the noon barbecue Saturday, including 77 graduates of OHS classes 1950 through 1959. Several former faculty members attended along with spouses and children of the graduates.

Registration started at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the high school and the group gathered at the Veteran's of Foreign Wars Post for a barbecue at noon. Members of Classes 1950 through 1955 spent the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kirby, and members of Classes '56 through '59 gathered at the home of Jess and Janice Marley.

Ozona Girl Scouts catered the barbecue dinner and due to last-minute reservations, they had to stay up most of the night preparing extra food. Local planners had expected to serve 100, but had to up the number just before the event.

They came from California, Washington, Atlanta, Ga. and points between. Roy Glenn Sutton, class of '57, won the prize for having come the farthest distance to the reunion, Yakima, Wash. He also won the prize for having the youngest baby.

Three prizes were given in the "one who had changed the least" category. These went to Larry Lewis, class of '54; Ann Ratliff, class of '55, and Erby Chandler, class of '57.

Betty Knox, class of '50, got the prizes for having been married longest and having the largest number of children.

A disc jockey dance was held from 8 to 12 midnight at the VFW to end the reunion.

A mini-annual of the event complete with pictures of the reunion and names and addresses of class members, is in the process of being compiled. There will be a printing run of 100. Anyone wishing to reserve one of the books may send $5 to Janice Marley and she will send the books when finished.

The Saturday night watermelon feast and fireworks display drew a tremendous crowd out near the Little League Park. The event was a first for Ozona, sponsored by the Ozona Chamber of Commerce. Beth Boyd, chamber manager, said 115 watermelons were sold by the slice, half or whole. Members of the board of directors handled the watermelon feast and put on the fireworks display.

Carloads of parents and kids lined up for miles to watch the fireworks spectacular, and for a full 45 minutes the rockets went off, one after the other. The chamber board expressed appreciation for the donations from local people for the $2,100 to purchase the display.

Country Club members had three days of July Fourth celebration. Lady golfers were out in droves for the annual ladies club tournament. Wanda Stuart won the championship. Results of the men's washer pitching contest were not available, but there were several entered in the Friday afternoon event. A crush of people were on hand for the ice cream supper Friday night, and those serving ran out of ice cream twice before calling a halt. Bingo games were held after the ice cream supper.

A youth golf tournament was held Saturday morning and there were so many in the clubhouse for the covered dish luncheon at noon, part of the dishes had to be left in the kitchen.

The annual bridge tournament was held Saturday afternoon and the men's club golf tournament got underway. For the youngsters there was washer pitching, ping-pong, races and swimming events. First, second and third place ribbons were presented to winners in all events.

Many returned Saturday night to enjoy dancing with Willena Holden furnishing her special brand of music.

Another bridge tournament was held Sunday and the men's tournament was concluded, before a hamburger supper closed out the activities.

Ron Koerth won the men's championship, and Mrs. Evert White and Mrs. Sidney Millsap won both days in bridge play.

Burger makes beer drinking arrests

It is against the law to drink alcoholic beverages anywhere but in one's home or a private club in a dry county, according to Trooper Dale Burger, DPS. Two Ozona men found this to be true Sunday afternoon when they were apprehended at Cedar Hill Cemetery while drinking beer.

The arrests came about after a local woman stopped to make a complaint at the Department of Public Safety building Sunday afternoon. She said two men were drinking beer in the middle of the south road of the cemetery and she was forced to leave the road to get around their car.

Trooper Burger was dispatched after obtaining a license plate number and a description of the two men. He found the two in the location given him. When he approached the vehicle the man on the passenger's side attempted to hide his bottle of beer with his arm while the one on the driver's side took his beer from the top of the car and placed it inside the vehicle.

When Burger neared the car, he observed an automatic pistol in the front seat. He also found a .38 caliber revolver. Both guns were loaded with hollow point bullets. The revolver was claimed by the driver, Ejiño Longoria Martinez, 26, and the automatic by his passenger, Americo Tambunga, 26.

Burger issued citations to both men for illegal drinking, and when a DPS check revealed one of the guns stolen here in Ozona earlier in the year, he arrested Martinez for possession of a stolen gun, after reading him his rights. Both were convicted in Justice of the Peace court for "consumption of alcoholic beverage in a prohibited area." Martinez was booked into Crockett County Jail under a charge of "possession of stolen property." The case is pending county court action.

O.N. Bankers win league title

The Ozona National Bankers won their makeup game Monday night, coming from behind in the bottom of the sixth inning to win the Little League championship undefeated. They downed Mayfield Construction 6-5, handing that team its first defeat in the second half of play.

The Construction crew led all the way until the bottom of the sixth saw Butch Gonzales get a line drive down first base to bring in three runs and take the lead. Abel Lara homered in the first inning for the champs. Valdo Galindo and Lara pitched for Ozona National and Roger Flores and Mark Fierro went to the mound for Mavfield Construction.

Following the game, trophies were presented to coaches and managers of the Little League teams, Senior League teams and T-ball teams, and each team was recognized. An even 100 T-ball players were presented certificates.

Parker services here today

Funeral services for Mrs. Roy (Sarah Frances) Parker, 84, were scheduled for 11:00 a.m. today, Wednesday, in First Baptist Church, with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

Mrs. Parker died Monday at 3:05 p.m. in Crockett County Hospital where she was taken after suffering a stroke at her home here Saturday afternoon.

She was born in Mullins, October 31, 1896. She married Roy Parker in Ozona, November 21, 1915. He died December 16, 1973. They were longtime residents of Ozona and operated a cleaning plant here for many years.

Survivors include a daughter, Mary Bess Harris of Ozona; a grandson, Bradley Harris of San Bruno, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Jessie Deaton, Mrs. Modenia Coose and Mrs. Vera Baker, all of Ozona.

All stars for the Little League and the Senior League were announced and all star hats were passed out. The Senior League will play their first game July 16, in Big Lake with Tom Powers managing the team. Ozona National also won the Senior League championship.

Little League all stars will be in Pecos for their first game at 7:00 p.m. Monday, July 13.

Chosen on the Little League all star team were Mark Roach, Valdo Galindo, Greg Underwood, David Gonzales, Jeff Sanchez, Oscar Payne, Danny Sanchez, Stanley Winkley, Abel Lara, Butch Gonzales, Darold Vargas, Roger Flores, Sam Hightower, Marty Lewis, and alternates Carlos Galindo and Peter Shacklette. Lloyd Winkley will manage the team and Robert Flores will coach.

Boy injured in car-cycle wreck

Edward Hernandez, 15, was seriously injured in a bicycle-vehicle wreck here Wednesday afternoon at 5:15. The accident occurred at the yield sign and highway 290.

Susan Duncan was traveling west on Hwy 290 in a Ford Pinto when the bicycle came onto the highway from Eleventh St. Neither wreck victim saw the other.

When the car collided with the bicycle, Hernandez was thrown onto the hood, then to the top of the car, crushing the windshield and denting the top of the vehicle before he fell to the pavement several yards from the point of impact. Apparently the car ran over the bicycle, which was left in pieces near the yield sign. The car came to rest at the other end of Triangle Park, near the Dairy King.

Hernandez was transferred to Shannon Hospital in San Angelo suffering from a broken hip and internal injuries. Miss Duncan was not injured.

Lions to sponsor blood drive here

Lions Club members are out drumming up support for the blood drive they will sponsor here July 21. The last drive was held in February of this year and netted 50 pints or units of blood.

The last drive was one of the most successful ever held in Ozona, with residents donating over 50 pints of blood. Blood drives here last year netted 54 pints. They were longtime residents of Ozona and operated a cleaning plant here for many years.

Survivors include a daughter, Mary Bess Harris of Ozona; a grandson, Bradley Harris of San Bruno, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Jessie Deaton, Mrs. Modenia Coose and Mrs. Vera Baker, all of Ozona.

is a potential blood donor, according to United Blood Services of San Angelo, whose staff will man the bloodmobile which will be here for the drive. Donor blood is kept in a blood bank, but even when stored under ideal conditions, refrigerated at just the right temperature and stored with the proper preservative, it has a legal use limit of 35 days. By becoming donors, Ozonans assure adequate blood supplies for their families, themselves and the community.

During the past five months other communities have supported all blood needs throughout West and Central Texas. Ozonans are being asked to help support First Savings and Loan. A blood needs for July 21, in order to assure themselves and their loved ones of an adequate supply of blood.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

The heat of July slows many garden activities so you can now enjoy the results of your spring planning and planting. Perhaps you will notice some changes in the arrangement of your plants might be improved upon for next year's plans.

I have been surprised to see several plantings of blooming mums which add to the many other colorful flowers in bloom now. So you don't have to wait until fall to have mums in bloom.

With a minimum amount of selective pruning, you can often restore overgrown wisecias to a controllable size. During July, cut back all young side shoots to four or five buds; then next March, reduce these shoots to only two or three buds. Newly trained shrubs may need support until they are established.

Cannas grow well in West Texas. They require lots of water so you may want to limit the size of the bed in order to keep them well watered. Their foliage or leaves are as attractive as the blooms if well cared for. As the blooms fade, keep them and seed pods cut off, so the plant will continue to make new blooms. If you plant fair sized clumps of the bulbs, rather than completely separated bulbs they will grow much faster. Wait until most of the danger of frost is past to plant new or old buds. The beautiful red foliage plants are attractive background for other lower plants.

This is a good month to start biennials from seeds. By fall the seedlings will be large enough to transplant into the garden for blooms next spring. Some you might want to try include hollyhocks, foxgloves, canterbury bells and wallflowers.

Always cut such flowers as roses, marigolds, and zinnias early in the morning, and immediately plunge the stems into a container of warm water. Let them remain in the warm water until it reaches room temperature, then re-cut the stems before arranging the flowers. Replenish water every day.

Debra Says

By Debra Price

Stretch your meat dollar--and make a major impact on your food budget.

During 1981, food-price hikes will be due mainly to upward trends in prices of meat and meat products, forecasters predict.

Since meat costs are usually the largest part of the food budget--25-30 percent, follow several meat-stretching basics and save.

Meat stretching depends on two major steps: buying and preparing.

Generally the most economical meats are those that take longer to prepare--including chuck or rump roasts.

These are as nutritious as other meats, providing high-quality protein, iron, B vitamins and some fat.

Let "cost-per-serving" be a buying guide. Don't go by "cost-per-pound" only.

To figure according to "cost-per-serving," determine how many servings a pound of various cuts of meat will yield, then look at the price per pound and divide it by the number of servings. Your answer is the cost-per-serving.

Here's an example of how that works:

Let's say a pound of ground meat costs $1. It yields four servings. Divide $1 by four. The answer is 25 cents, so ground meat--in this case--costs 25 cents per serving.

Now let's compare that with ribs. Say a pound of ribs costs 60 cents. Ribs only yield about two servings per pound. So divide 60 by two. The answer is 30 cents, so ribs, in this case, cost 30 cents per serving.

Surprisingly to some consumers, the ribs are more expensive than the ground meat in this example.

How can you know the number of servings different cuts of meat will yield?

Use this guideline: meat that is mostly lean with no bone, gristle or fat makes about four or five servings per pound. Round steak and ground beef are examples.

Meat with much fat, bone and gristle, such as short ribs or spare ribs, usually provides only one or two servings per pound.

Finally, in buying meats, consider a variety of meats so you can take advantage of specials. Compare prices of beef, pork, lamb, poultry and fish. Also, the "variety" meats, such as liver, kidney and other organ meats, are usually bargains.

"Prepare" to save--that is, prepare menus and food items with savings in mind. Use more ground meats, since they are economical, versatile and convenient.

Use them in elegant casseroles, pastas, meat loaves, meatball dishes or as simply meat patties.

Stretch the number of servings per pound by adding nonfat dry milk, soy mixtures, rolled oats, cracked wheat, egg and bread crumbs.

Or you can use vegetables as meat extenders--mushrooms, celery or onions are examples. Add a bit of crumbled bacon, garlic, herbs and spices and you have interesting tastes with budget-impactful economy.

To vary the meat selection, grind your own meat and mix less-expensive cuts with more-expensive cuts--half chuck with half sirloin, for example, or half lamb shoulder and half beef round. An interesting combination is white-meat-chicken with veal.

Another argument for grinding your own meat focuses on specials--savings can be significant when a larger cut of less-tender meat is on "special" and you grind it yourself.

Usually pre-packaged ground meat at the grocery market is made from less-tender cuts anyway, along with trimmings from the chuck, round and sirloin. Pork and lamb ground meat is from the shoulder or shank cuts.

If you choose to grind your own, be sure utensils, equipment and work areas are clean. Grinding exposes more of the meat surface to bacteria.

Problems... Problems

People chuckle when they see a baby who seems to have the weight of the world on his shoulders. What can he possibly be thinking about that makes him seem so pensive?

His thoughts probably aren't very serious, for babies often strike delightful and comical poses that enliven the family photo album.

But babies grow up and become adults, with real problems and difficult decisions to make.

Don't forget, as your baby matures, to emphasize those things that will enable him to cope with his future. Don't forget love, discipline, understanding... and especially, don't forget his spiritual training.

Worry causes insomnia

You go to bed worrying about whether you'll be able to sleep that night. After a little while you worry about how tired you'll be tomorrow. By this time you're in a vicious cycle of worry. And you have insomnia.

Nearly 50 million Americans have some trouble falling asleep, says the Texas Medical Association (TMA). There's a lot you can do without taking any kind of drug to help get the sleep you need.

Establish certain nighttime habits that will put you on a regular sleep schedule and help you relax. Go to bed the same time each night. Cultivate a nightly routine before bedtime, which may include reading a chapter of a book, or working on a relaxing hobby.

Some people find exercise beneficial in burning off excess energy. This is a fine idea, but don't exercise right before bedtime. The effect can be more stimulating than relaxing.

Avoid drinking anything with caffeine in it after mid-afternoon. This includes coffee, tea, cola drinks or cocoa. But don't laugh at the old home remedy, a glass of warm milk. An element in milk called L-tryptophan actually helps induce sleep.

Don't take naps in the daytime. Also, don't take any drugs to help you sleep. They can be dangerous and habit-forming.

If you follow these simple tips and still can't sleep, forget about it. Just get up, turn on the lights, and act as if you never heard of bedtime. Anxiety about not sleeping is one of the greatest causes of insomnia. Relieve your own worry about sleeplessness by looking at the time as "extra" time for yourself. You'll have the worst aspect of insomnia--worry about it--conquered.

Rancher's Roundup to feature ranch tours

Tours of progressively managed ranches in Southwest Texas and Mexico will be added features of the International Rancher's Roundup August 10-14 in Del Rio.

The tours are scheduled the first and last days of the Roundup. General group and concurrent educational sessions comprise the remainder of the week's activities.

The first stop on the Southwest Texas tour is scheduled at the Jack Brown Ranch in Val Verde County. Brown produces Rambouillet sheep, goats, cattle and whitetailed deer on rough terrain. Topography and drought must be considered in his management and breeding program.

Enroute to Sonora tour participants will pass by the Flying D Egg Ranch, the largest egg producing firm in Southwest Texas. Flying D operates several thousand hens on Dry Devil's River, a unique location for such an operation.

The tour will then stop at the Sawyer Ranch, 10 miles south of Sonora in the Edwards Plateau, where cattle, sheep, Angora goats, deer and turkey are produced. This is a long-standing demonstration ranch in cooperation with Sutton County Extension agents and Texas A&M University. Goat feeding, sheep production, range nutrition, and brush control are progressively pursued here.

The Sawyer Ranch operates a 4-pasture, 3-herd grazing system.

Air conditioned, full comfort tour buses will then whisk the Roundup visitors to the Sonora Research Station Ranch, operated by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, for lunch and a visit with Dr. Leo Merrill, resident director, and his staff.

The research ranch is internationally acclaimed for its nearly half century of long-term grazing experimental work. Results of various grazing and forage trails and animal production research will be discussed during this tour stop before heading for the woolhouse in Rocksprings.

There tour participants will observe preparation and grading of wool and mohair and hear how producers should prepare wool for marketing. Market outlook for wool and mohair in the area will be discussed. A demonstration in grading wool and mohair will conclude the Rocksprings visit.

The tour will then proceed to the Brackettville area where participants will be guests of Happy Shahan at Alamo Village after viewing Shahan's Longhorn cattle crossbreeding and grazing management programs. Shahan is a long-time breeder of registered Longhorn cattle.

Alamo Village is world renowned as being the setting for numerous western movies such as the famous Texas classic, "The Alamo," "Bandolero," "Two Rode Together," and many others. Countless commercials, television shows, travelogs and documentaries were also filmed in this scenic area.

Tour visitors will be treated to a barbeque supper along with country-western musical entertainment in an "Old West" setting. After browsing through Alamo Village, tour buses will carry Roundup participants to Del Rio in preparation for educational sessions the following day.

Those on the August 14 Mexico tour will visit the 100,000-acre El Caballo Ranch which is operated as a corporation combining five ownerships under one management. The most advanced animal science technology and management practices are used.

El Caballo Ranch operates 4,500 cows which are artificially inseminated with sex-separated semen. Their highly trained technicians inseminate about 200 cows per hour through four chutes, or about one cow per minute. Extensive pasture improvements and forage programs are utilized.

Next stop on the Mexico tour is a visit to the Zaragoza Experimental Station where researchers will discuss most recent work and cattle association representatives outline the Mexican cattle industry. Range research efforts and forage irrigation programs will be featured. After lunch at the research station the tour then moves on to Agida San Fernando, a cooperative ranch operated on government land. Cattle and grazing management practices will be viewed.

That evening the tour returns to Ciudad Acuna on the Rio Grande, where tentative plans call for a Mexican rodeo and buffet supper, a festive climax to a week-long Roundup activity.

Although June 30 is the pre-registration deadline for registration fee discounts to Rancher's Roundup educational activities, that date is the last day persons can register for either of the tours. Hence, interested per-

SELF-CONTROL CAN BE THE SMARTEST THING YOU DO THIS SUMMER...

Self-control can be the smartest thing you do this summer. Sometimes you have to cut down on the things you like, that takes self-control. Self-control is important when you overindulge in too many calories, or when you over cool your home. It can be rough on your pocketbook if you set your thermostat too low on hot summer days. WTU recommends setting your thermostat at 78 degrees or higher. Clean or replace your air conditioner filter at least once a month so your unit will operate as efficiently as possible.

Stop by your WTU local office today, and pick up your FREE copy of "Make your Home More Energy Efficient" you'll be glad you did. . . .

OZONA HIGH SCHOOL CLASS REUNION draws a large crowd from the 1950's. 180 were fed barbecue at the VFW Saturday at noon. Seventy-seven graduates and their families were on hand.

Outdoor furniture is an investment

Outdoor furniture is an investment you can keep for many years with protective special-care tactics, says Dr. Jane Berry, a housing and home furnishings specialist. Berry explains that although a plain soap-and-water rinse is "good for cleaning," applying a protective finish will extend the furniture's life.

For example, the patina and shine of aluminum furniture can be restored by wiping with fine steel wool and kerosene and then buffing with a soft cloth. However, if the furniture will be exposed to direct sunlight as well as rain, it needs a protective finish of auto paste wax.

Protecting outdoor furniture is the key to its long life, the specialist stresses.

Even redwood furniture, with its special properties that make it ideal for outdoor use, will benefit from a special protective treatment.

For redwood, the important thing is to use a "penetrating finish." Berry says, rather than a "surface sealer" such as varnish.

In the case of other woods, you can extend their lives with special-care tactics, but it's wise to realize they won't last as long as redwood if they're used in direct sun or exposed to rain.

For non-redwood furniture, use varnish or polyurethane sealers that sit on the surface. Also marine-type paints and varnishes made for use in water will hold up well on outdoor wood furniture.

In protecting wrought-iron furniture, the main "care-needed" signal is chipped paint. Rub any spots—where bare iron shows—with steel wool and paint them with both an anti-rust primer and enamel.

To extend wicker furniture's life, do not use it outdoors. Both rattan and wicker "like" to be in humid conditions rather than dry ones, but they will deteriorate in the direct sunlight or rain showers.

However, wicker and rattan do need cleaning from time to time. To clean them, scrub with detergent and water using a natural-bristle scrub brush. When they're dry look for chipped paint or hairline cracks.

If necessary, paint the furniture using a spray lacquer or a spray oil-base enamel or a spray latex paint with a gloss or semi-gloss finish.

BOTH SPOUSES MAKE HOMEBUYING DECISION

Old ideas about husband-and-wife homebuying behavior is falling by the wayside as new research reveals modern couples are sharing the decision on which home to buy.

In a report to the Texas Real Estate Research Center at Texas A&M University, Dr. Stan Madden says the notion one spouse makes the homebuying decision is outdated.

"It was once believed that one spouse was dominant in the decision-making process, and the other was willing to go along with the dominant spouse's decision," said Madden, an assistant professor of marketing. "But recent research indicates more persons are willing to discard any alternative not acceptable to both spouses."

County highways to be improved

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission has approved the 1982 Rehabilitation and State Highway Safety and Betterment and Farm to Market Road Improvement Program at an estimated cost of $218.9 million.

The program includes improvement and rehabilitation of 5,335.3 miles of state-maintained highways. In all, there are 892 separate projects in 214 counties of the state.

The work includes projects which will upgrade existing highways to handle heavier volumes of traffic, enhance safety, reduce the amount and kind of maintenance necessary and to protect the large public investment in the highways of Texas.

Almost 70 percent of the work is on US and State-numbered highways in Texas with the remainder being on FM roads.

District Engineer D. R. Watson, of San Angelo, said the work in the Crockett County area is part of the statewide effort to modernize roads and highways which are worn out or inadequate for today's traffic. The projects for this county include:

State Highway 163 from 1.5 miles south of R.M. 1973, south a distance of 4.0 miles, purchase of Right-of-Way.

U.S. 190 from 4.0 miles west of the Schleicher County

Texas peaches a treat

Fruit lovers, it's time to feast on ripe, luscious Texas peaches.

"Texas now has an abundant supply of the Queen of Fruits—the peach," says B.G. Hancock, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "In addition, the state boasts a bumper crop of plums, pears and apples."

Texas consumers are indeed fortunate to have a good supply of high quality peaches from the Hill Country, South Texas, East Texas and the West Cross Timbers area. And with this abundance, prices are reasonable. "Texas peaches are 'super' fresh because they are just hours off the tree," notes Hancock. "So ask your grocer or produce supplier for Texas-grown peaches for unsurpassed flavor and freshness."

Freestone varieties come into production in South Central areas in mid-to-late-June. The Sentinel variety is ripening in central and northern Texas and the Harvester is ready in South Texas. Ranger, Redglobe and Loring varieties will be ready soon.

"So enjoy the taste treat of the year. Sink your teeth in the best fruit available—the Texas peach," suggests Hancock.
