I must be getting old. I seem no longer to have the energy for a prolonged crusade against anything anymore. In years past, nothing got my veins stirring with printer's ink like a good controversy, but I guess it's time for me to hang up my quill and go fishing.

There's been a lot of flak about the unusually large raises given by the court to the hospital heads, and I do agree they seem to be somewhat out of line when you consider what the hospital costs the county each year. On the other hand, in my opinion, all county salaries are out of line. This is my opinion as a casual observer you understand. I have no real first-hand knowledge.

There is still a great deal of complaining about the beer drinking in the park, the cemetery, the school grounds, and the public roads. A lot of folks think I should do something about it, since nobody else will. At my request, Susan McBee did considerable research and sent me copies of everything she could find pertaining to the problem. There are several things that can be done, but the county fathers must do the regulating and the county sheriff must enforce the regulations. I'll be happy to turn this information over to any group or organization who wishes to pursue the matter further. I had an anonymous letter this week, whose writer says to make the sale of alcoholic beverages legal would solve the problem. I don't see the logic in this, but it's bound to have some kind of merit.

There is a ground swell of public opinion against putting the new courthouse in the downtown park. I believe this is premature, since the voters have to approve bonds for a new courthouse before any action along those lines can be taken. My readers tell me members of the court take a lot of action that is never reported in the Stockman. If this is true, I have no control over it, but I don't think they can build a courthouse in the park without the public knowing about it well in advance of the ground breaking. Of course, I could be wrong.

Maybe it's the heat making everybody a little irritable or a lot, depends on the individual. And maybe the heat has made me a little apathetic on these issues.

BUILDING REJUVENATION-The Ozona Oilfield Supply building recently completed an extensive face lift, resulting in this attractive facility. It's quite a change from the white stucco which stood at the corner of Ave. H and 9th Street for so many years. Other construction in Ozona, the drive-in bank, is also nearing completion.

School activities point to nearing of fall term

It may seem the middle of summer vacation, but school officials are busy getting ready for the beginning of school, so fall is just around the corner. Football physicals are scheduled for next week and football shoes will also be issued. Band practice is all set to begin and the school registration schedule has been announced.

Physical examinations for high school boy athletes will be given by Dr. Don Carlisle at the high school library Thursday, August 6. Football shoes will be issued next Wednesday, Aug. 5, from 8:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. at the field house, according to Coach Don Sessom. Two a day practices will begin Aug. 10, at 8:00 a.m. and again at 4:00 p.m. The team will practice from 8 until 11 o'clock during the morning hours and again from 4 until 7 p.m.

Summer band will begin Monday, August 10, at 7:00 p.m. for all high school band students, at the band hall. Director Kelly Glaze asks all students in grades 9 through 12, to report to the band hall on that day. Rehearsals will be held daily at 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, with Wednesdays off, until school begins.

Scouts search for volunteers

The search is on in Ozona for some good men and women to participate in El Camino Girl Scout Council leadership positions for the 1981-82 season. Troop leaders, consultants, troop assistants and advisors for short-term interest projects are currently being recruited by local Girl Scouts.

Persons over the age of 18, with a desire to work with young people and a willingness to subscribe to the principles of Girl Scouting are urgently needed to assume a variety of responsible positions. Assistance may be long or short-term, advisory or participatory, and may be on either neighborhood or troop level.

In Ozona, the recruitment effort is being spearheaded through second grade, will register August 13. Kindergartners will register from 9 a.m. until noon, and first and second grades, from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m.

Intermediate School students will also register August 13. Grades three through five may register anytime from 9:00 until 12:00 and from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m.

Ozona Junior High students, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, will register at the office in the school, August 13 and 14. Registration hours are from 9 to 12 and from 1 until 4, Aug. 13, and from 9 until noon, Aug. 14.

High School students, grades 9 through 12, will register August 12 through 14 as follows: Seniors, Aug. 12, 1:00 until 4:00 p.m.; Juniors, Aug. 13, 9:00 a.m. until noon; sophomores, Aug. 13, 1:00 until 4:00 p.m.; and freshmen, Aug. 14, 9:00 until noon.

Teachers will report to classrooms Monday, August 17, for a week of in-service training, and classes will start in all schools Monday, Aug. 24.

Rodeo weekend is on tap for Ozona

At noon Monday, 105 entries had been received for the 25th Annual Ozona Junior Rodeo, which will be held here this weekend. Midnight Monday was the deadline for entries, but as long as they are postmarked before that time, they will be accepted, according to Beth Boyd, chamber manager.

The rodeo will get underway with the parade at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. All parade participants need to gather at the vacant lot near South Texas Lumber Co. in the south part of town. The parade will head north, wind around the park, continue through the shopping center and disperse near the Red Apple on Hwy 290.

Contestants may enter no more than three events. Girls may enter boys' events and boys may enter girls' events. Younger age entries may enter older classes, but may not enter the same event in two different age groups.

The entry fee for ages 12 and under is $7 for each event. The girls in this age group will have barrel race, pole bending and flag race. Boys events in this age group include pole bending, break-away roping and flag race.

The entry fee in the 13 through 15 age group is also $7 per event with the exception of bull riding, which is $10. These fees also apply in the 16 through 19 age group.

The girls events in both these age groups include goat tying, barrel race, pole bending and flag race. The boys' events in these two age groups are steer roping, bull riding, calf tie-down, hair pulling for the younger boys and ribbon roping for the older group.

The queen contest has fielded four candidates. It is under the supervision of Paula Bailey and the reigning queen Melinda Hokit. One of the four will be selected for the queen's honor by a panel of judges and the crowning of the new queen will highlight the second night's events.

Bobbie Acton, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Acton, is one of the contestants. She is active in 4-H Club horse judging, lamb and horse shows. She is a member of the Ozona High School band and a member of the OHS golf team. She will be a sophomore when school begins in the fall. Another fifteen-year-old contestant is Kim Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tite Bishop. Kim is a seasoned cowgirl, spending much of the summer rodeoing. Kim has been active in 4-H for six years and has won many awards in her horse projects. She will be a freshman at Ozona High School and will be a member of the band.

Cindy Reavis, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reavis, is another of the contestants. Cindy is a high school junior and participates in basketball and tennis. She is active in 4-H and shared the Danforth award with Melinda Hokit this year. In FFA her first year she earned the Star Greenhand Award. Last year she received blue ribbons for her lambs. She is active in Girl Scouting and rodeoing and horses are her main source of enjoyment. She has been a queen contestant for the past three years.

The fourth contestant is Karen Keilers, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Keilers, who will be a senior at Ozona High School in the fall. She is in the band and on the yearbook staff. She works for Dr. Gary Vannoy during the summer months. She is a certified Emergency Care Attendant and a member of the District Horse Judging Team. She is an avid horsewoman and has become interested in the Arabian breed. At present she is assisting in the training of two Arabian colts. She plans to attend Sul Ross after graduation and major in Horse Science.

The girls will be guests of the Lions Club at their noon luncheon Thursday and following that will put the rodeo programs together. Thursday evening they will have horsemanship practice at the rodeo arena, with a barbecue supper to follow at the Floyd Hokits. They will be honored with a salad luncheon at noon Friday at the Bob Bailey home, with an interview with the judges to follow. They will be judged on horsemanship Friday afternoon.

Silver buckles will be given average winners in all events. Those placing second will receive silver Cheyenne roll name plates, and a silver halter name plate will go to those placing third. Silver trophy buckles will go to best all-around in each age group. To qualify for all-around, a contestant must place in at least 2 events.

The Charles E. Davidson award, $500, will go to the best Crockett County performer.

There will be a dance on the slab each night and Lions Club members will be manning the concession stand during all activities, featuring charcoal hamburgers.

Aguirre services today

Funeral Mass for Bernard S. Aguirre, 80, was held at 10:00 a.m. Wednesday in Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church with burial in Lima Cemetery under the direction of Sizemore Funeral Home.

Mrs. Aguirre died at 5:10 a.m. Monday in Crockett County Hospital after a long illness.

She was born May 11, 1901, in San Angelo. Her husband, Andres Aguirre died in September of 1974.

Survivors include two sons, Jesus S. Aguirre of Denver, Colo., and Andres S. Aguirre of Aurora, Colo.; a stepson, Andres T. Aguirre, and a stepdaughter, Oralia A. Rivera.

Perkins graveside service

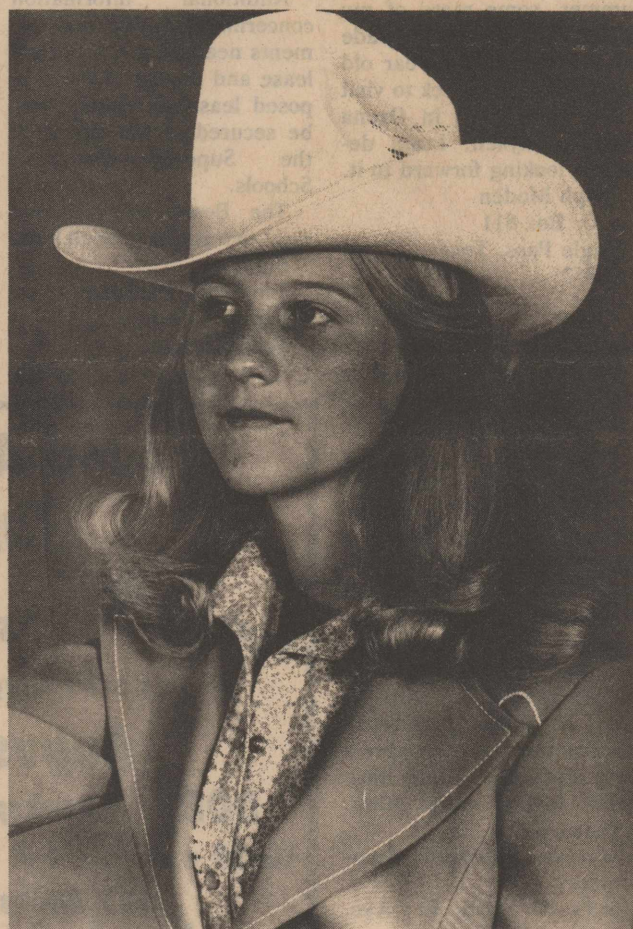

Graveside services for Jesse Thomas Perkins, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Perkins, were held Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

The baby died Saturday at 11:15 in Iraan Hospital.

Other survivors include his sister Jamie Lee Perkins of Ozona; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wade Moore of San Leon, Mrs. Johnnie Whittaker of Del Rio and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Perkins of Crane.

AFFIRMATIVE OR NEGATIVE ACTION?

By Edwin Feulner

Affirmative action is a cure that has turned out to be worse than the original disease.

In a recent talk delivered at The Heritage Foundation, Dr. Thomas Sowell, the brilliant black economist from California, argued that poor blacks — who should have been the beneficiaries of affirmative action programs — are actually worse off now than they were before.

How can this be? Dr. Sowell, who has done extensive research on affirmative action policies and their practical effects, explained that the programs have created a demand for the "super-qualified person." It is true, he says, that employers look for minority employees to satisfy federal quotas and timetables. However, the same laws that make it imperative to hire a few minority employees make it nearly impossible to fire or demote them if they don't work out — unless the employer relishes being dragged before the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. In interviews with employers, Dr. Sowell found that they are reluctant to hire any minority member who does not have a proven track record, or at least spectacular paper qualifications.

Thus, while affirmative action has created an incentive to hire the "super-qualified" minority member, it has created an equally strong incentive to avoid the "average" person from the same group.

This isn't the way it was supposed to work. Well, Dr. Sowell said, affirmative action isn't what it used to be either. Originally, he told us, the concept meant "enlarging the pool of applicants from which you choose employees."

Now, this original concept has been distorted in several ways. First, "affirmative action" in practice has come to mean "unequal treatment of equally qualified individuals." Second, a policy which was meant to help blacks has been broadened to include women, the elderly, and any other group that can get the federal government to designate it a "minority." "The decisions are all made by unelected officials," Dr. Sowell said. "You're a minority if they say you're a minority."

He cited evidence collected by George Gilder, author of Wealth and Poverty, who has shown that officially designated "minorities" now comprise 70 percent of the population of the United States, and control 75 percent of the wealth. Blacks were just used as the "entering wedge" for affirmative action policies, Dr. Sowell argued. As the policy is now enforced, he said, its chief beneficiaries are the other so-called "minorities" whose paper credentials are often superior to those of blacks.

The proponents of affirmative action argue that the current system is only a temporary process, which will be disbanded when its social goals have been accomplished. "We're not God, who could just say 'let there be light,'" Dr. Sowell said. "We have to build dams and generators — that is, we have to look at the process we've created, not just the long-term goal. And the affirmative action 'process' has put a premium on game-playing, and made it less important to make the best selection — because the hiring selection ends up being made on the basis of how it looks to a third party."

As the game is played, the rich get richer and the poor get poorer than they were before they had "affirmative action." The more things change, I guess, the more they stay the same.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The Texas Senate, bogging down in debate on the controversial congressional redistricting bill, slowed action in the Legislature considerably last week.

The Senate finally approved, 16-15, a plan which creates a black minority district and a primarily Republican district in Dallas. Also included is a new South Texas district in which a Mexican-American candidate stands a good chance of election.

The Senate, slowed down by parliamentary maneuvering, also dimmed hopes of finishing business early in the first special session. Many legislators had hoped to complete work on the governor's five called topics so that he could include other issues.

For the most part, other issues are not likely to make it into this special call. One that might, however, is the regulation of social psychotherapists.

The issue, of importance to Sen. Chet Brooks of Houston, failed to pass during the regular session . . . but a House committee chairman told his panel to expect the announcement to come from Gov. Bill Clements.

Redistricting Tradeoff

This slip of information, coming one day after the Senate passed the redistricting bill by a one-vote margin, set off speculation of a tradeoff by Brooks. On that final vote, it was Brooks who switched sides to give the Republicans and conservative Democrats the winning margin.

Regarding redistricting, most of the basic plan was worked out during the regular session, although it failed to pass. Left to be resolved was the Dallas issue: whether to create a black district and, in the process, alter two liberal Democrat districts into GOP districts. To say the least, it has been an exercise of raw political power against power. Postures of fair play have been replaced by partisan politics and, in some cases, pure self-advancement. The essence of politics.

A good example is in the House, where redistricting committee chairman Rep. Tim Von Dohlen has surprised everyone with a substitute plan for the one just passed by the Senate. Von Dohlen's bill would weaken his own congressman, U.S. Rep. Bill Patman of Gano. Patman served in the Texas Senate until he moved up in the last election to Congress, and he and Von Dohlen have always been at odds. Observers wonder if Von Dohlen is just trying to even the score a bit, or if he actually intends to replace Patman in Congress.

Medical Practice Act
The bill to renew regulation of medical doctors was passed by the Senate and sent to the House, where a compromise over the last sticking point has been worked out. Optometrists, who had wanted to use diagnostic eye drugs over the objections of ophthalmologists, got half a loaf. They may be able to use the drugs under a doctor's standing orders, if the House votes to approve the compromise. The House is not likely to buck the plan, since the chief optometrist in the action was also campaign manager for House Speaker Bill Clayton.

Accidents, homicides and suicides account for about 75 percent of deaths in young people ages 15-24.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

[Ed note: It has been the policy of this paper for many years to refuse to print unsigned letters. We will withhold names upon request, but even then we cannot print slanderous or libelous comments, it's too big a hassle. To the corporal in the USMC who signed himself OHS graduate, 1980: To the county employee who requested "name withheld" status: by the time we edited it, there was nothing left.]

July 23, 1981

Dear Editor:

Much of the time, "Letters to the Editor" complain or find fault with someone or some thing. This one does not do that.

Early in this month, three of my seventh-grade students and I spent a couple days and nights in your city of Ozona staying at the Flying W Lodge. We were on our way home from the Big Bend area.

Everyone that we had opportunity to meet in Ozona was very friendly and helpful. The gentleman in the Chamber of Commerce office was pleasant and helpful in every way.

Frank, Jose, Francisco, and I thoroughly enjoyed your outstanding museum and the lady in charge there was wonderful in explaining everything and answering all our questions. I am now enjoying reading the book Ozona Country which I'm finding very interesting.

Then I returned and played in your tennis tourney and spent a long week-end in your community. The pastors and everyone present were so friendly at the First United Methodist and First Baptist Church where I attended services Sunday morning and evening.

But the main reason for this letter was one other thing. Having, along with my public school teaching for 36 years, worked with boys basketball, baseball, track, and tennis teams for over 30 years, I always find myself at any athletic events available, if possible. So I attended the Ozona-Sonora Little League game on Friday evening and the Ozona-San Angelo game on Monday.

I had already seen the picture of the Ozona Little League All Stars in the Ozona Stockman so knew that they were a fine looking group of young players. When I started meeting some of them at the ball park, it was easy to tell that they are also good citizens. Their outstanding and never-give-up spirit and play in both games and their excellent sportsmanship in every way, both on and off the playing field, proved them to be truly ALL STARS in every respect. Their parents and the entire Community of Ozona should be very proud of each boy on the team and especially of Manager Lloyd Winkley and Coach Robert Flores.

The players for both the Sonora team and the San Angelo teams played well and showed real sportsmanship and of being good citizens too, so, all-in-all, Friday and Monday evenings were too very exciting and enjoyable evenings for me in Ozona.

The lady in charge of the tennis tourney and your high school coach made everything pleasant and fun for everyone in the tourney, even for those, like myself, who lost our first event. But I definitely am looking forward to coming back for another "go" at it next year if they will have me.

Before the end of the summer, some more of my boys from my seventh-grade classes and my ten-year old daughter will be back to visit a few more days in Ozona and, for myself, I am definitely looking forward to it.

Dear Kitty,
Enclosed is a check for $12.50 for my subscription to the Ozona Stockman.

I would like to take this opportunity as a member of the Class of 1950 to thank each person who gave so generously of their time to help with the 50's High School Reunion. Although a large percentage of my class, including myself, were unable to attend, I'm sure we were all thinking of each other on that day. We were a close class and would have loved seeing each other.

Thank You,

Here's an irony about Gene Mauch replacing Jim Fergosi as manager of the California Angels earlier this year. Mauch managed 21 previous seasons in the majors and never finished in first place in any of those years, while Fergosi the man he replaced managed only 2 full seasons, and finished in first place in one of those seasons 1979 with the Angels.

Here's an oddity. No catcher has been able to win the batting championship in big league baseball for almost 40 years. Last catcher to win the batting championship was Ernie Lombardi, in 1942.

Which football player set this amazing record. He played in the Super Bowl in 3 different decades. Who is he? Answer is guard Gene Upshaw. He played for the Oakland Raiders in the Super Bowls of 1968, 1977 and 1981.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Our extended days with no moisture and very hot afternoons, watering has been the number one chore to keep gardens looking their best. If you plan to have a fall vegetable or new flower beds August is the month to prepare them, for it is said that plants are only as good as the soil they grow in. If your soil contains plenty of humus, so much water will not be required. Since our soil is mostly alkaline there is one advantage, for there is a much wider variety of alkaline plants than acid-loving ones.

August and September are the months to plant oriental poppies if you have a good place or room for them. Also bluebonnets should be planted or thrown out on a hillside so they will be there when we have rains. It would be wonderful to have another beautiful display of them next spring.

Perhaps you have a doorway or entrance, or want to make a dense sunscreen on a trellis or arbor and want a rapid-growing, pest free vine to use. One of the few durable evergreen vines available is the hardy, native throughout the south, greenbrier smilax (Smilax lanceolata). A plus for it is that it does not damage the structure it climbs on. Some support is needed at planting, but once established, it will layer over itself to create a dense screen that is surprisingly light and airy in appearance. It will do best in full or partial sun-needs moderate amount of water, well-drained soil and will climb 20 feet in single season. Its dark-green foliage has a softening effect on the architecture.

Dunlap birthday supper

A Sunday supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson honored Mrs. Ray Dunlap and her children, Wanda and B. W. Stuart, Basil Dunlap and Bill Wilson, who are all celebrating birthdays from July 16 through July 31.

Hosting the party were Mrs. Dunlap's nine grandchildren, including Doug Stuart by proxy from Washington, D. C.

Guests enjoying ice cream and "Family Tree" birthday cake were Mrs. Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. David Sewell, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Stuart and Jason, Mr. and Mrs. Greg Stuart, Shelby and Emily, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson, Debra and Lori, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Bullard and Benny Logan of Eldorado.

Balloons, crepe paper, rainbow and showers were decorations for the yard party.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Couch, Mike and Capp, spent last week in Corpus Christi and Port Aransas, deep-sea fishing.

Mrs. Wellman is head of Easter Seal drive

Mrs. Peggy Wellman, of the Ozona National Bank of Ozona has volunteered her services as the 1982 Easter Seal Crockett County Representative. Mrs. Wellman has been at Ozona National Bank for 9 years. She has shown her concern for handicapped citizens through her involvement with Easter Seals.

The Texas Easter Seal Society now in its 51st year, provides such services as physical, occupational and speech therapy; orthopedic equipment such as wheelchairs, walkers and crutches; hearing evaluations and transportation to rehabilitation centers.

Funds are used to serve individuals in this area regardless of financial status or disability.

Today as programs and services for the handicapped increase in magnitude and complexity, the need for the disabled person to obtain information on referral and follow-up services becomes increasingly evident.

Many disabled people are not receiving the services they require, despite the availability of such services, simply because they do not know where to go for help. If you are handicapped or know someone who is, contact your Crockett County Easter Seal Representative, Mrs. Wellman, at the Ozona National Bank.

To request additional assistance call the Easter Seal Action Line number toll-free at 1-800-492-5555 Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Ask for the Treatment and Service Coordinator and your request will be handled immediately.

Ms. Hunnicutt is hostess for bridge club

Mrs. John R. Hunnicutt was hostess for bridge at the Country Club Thursday.

Mrs. Kirby Moore won high and Mrs. Evert White, second high. Mrs. Hugh Childress was third and Mrs. J. J. Marley and Mrs. Eddie Arnold tied for the bingo.

Others playing were Mrs. Clay Adams, Mrs. Jim Bob Bailey, Mrs. George Bunker, Mrs. Billy Carson, Mrs. Joe Friend, Mrs. Arthur Kyle, Mrs. Gene Lilly, Mrs. J. B. Parker, Mrs. Jake Short, Mrs. Sherman Taylor, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Dick Kirby, and Mrs. L. T. Sewell.

Miss Smith marries Mr. Chandler

Nesa Smith and Fred Chandler exchanged wedding vows in the Crockett County Courthouse on July 16, with Judge John R. Jones officiating.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Kelly Wise Smith of Brownwood and Mr. John R. Smith of San Antonio. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. E. H. Chandler and the late Mrs. Chandler of Ozona.

The bride is a graduate of Brownwood High School and Angelo State University. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ozona High School and Texas Tech University. Following a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N.M., the couple is at home in Ozona.

Debra Says

By Debra Price

Demand for processed and convenience foods is a major factor influencing food costs.

Employed homemakers have little time for shopping and cooking and in some cases, menu planning is done in the supermarket. Consumers no longer have one standard item to buy for a specific product, but may choose from frozen, dried, canned, instant, concentrates and heat-and-serve pre-cooked items.

Convenience foods have been defined as any fully or partially prepared food which no longer requires significant preparation or energy input from the homemaker, but rather from the food processor-distributor.

COTTAGE CHEESE STUFFED TOMATOES

6 servings about 125 calories

6 large tomatoes, ripe
12-ounce carton cottage cheese, creamed or garden style

2 tablespoons salad dressing, mayonnaise-type
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Chives, chopped, dried as desired

6 lettuce cups
Wash and dry tomatoes, remove cores. Cut each tomato into wedge three-fourths of the way down, pull apart slightly. Mix cottage cheese, salad dressing, and pepper. Stuff tomatoes with the cottage cheese mixture. Sprinkle with chives as desired. Serve in lettuce cups.

FRENCH TOASTED TUNA SANDWICHES

6 sandwiches about 360 calories each

9/4 ounce can Tuna
1/4 cup celery, finely chopped

1/4 cup onion, finely chopped
1/4 cup sweet pickle relish
1/4 cup salad dressing, mayonnaise-type
12 slices bread, dry
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla about 2 tablespoons oil or fat.

Drain and flake tuna. Mix with celery, onion, relish, and salad dressing.

Spread tuna mixture on 6 slices of bread; top with remaining slices.

Mix eggs, milk, and vanilla.

Dip sandwiches into egg mixture to coat each side. Brown in fat on a hot griddle or in a frypan, about 3 to 4 minutes on each side.

juice

3/4 cups sugar
1/4 bottle liquid pectin

In a 3 quart casserole, stir together plum juice and sugar. Cover. Microwave at high 10-12 minutes, stirring after 6 minutes or until boiling.

Stir in pectin mixing thoroughly. Cover. Microwave at high 3-5 minutes more; until mixture returns to boil. Then, time for 1 minute of boiling. Stir and skim off foam. Ladle into prepared jars and seal.

OTTOMANS CAN BE HANDY

Did you ever stop to think that one of the more practical pieces of furniture is the ottoman because they have so many different uses.

People often overlook the possibility of using ottomans by themselves in their own right. Ottomans can be useful for informal seating, singly or in pairs, and they even come with casters so that they can be rolled around and used where needed and then pushed under a table, or placed beside a fireplace, or window when not needed.

But that's only part of the ottoman story. They, of course, can also be teamed with chairs as a footrest, complimenting the beauty and comfort of the particular chair the ottoman is being used with.

There are even ottomans that open into a full size bed which gives you a great idea for guest rooms and family rooms as well as living rooms. You have a seat by day and a bed by night that can solve a lot of decorating problems.

And, speaking of solving problems, we can offer you a wide variety of furnishings, and we invite you to come in for any of your decorating needs at Brown Furniture.

Something Greater

Bonanza... Mrs. Jones dropped the phone and fainted... She had just won first prize for naming a new detergent. Dame Fortune had smiled her way... and smiled sweetly.

Yes, money is nice to have. It can make realities out of dreams and kings out of paupers. To some, it's a new car, a fur coat or perhaps the freedom to travel. Others see it as an education, security or the birth of a new business.

But what about the lack of money?

Earning and holding on to enough of it is often a problem. Money problems can dissolve marriages, wreck promising careers and keep millions unhappy.

As money comes and goes in our lives, a vital truth remains constant. There is something greater than all the riches of this world; the love of an understanding God.

Renew your life with true and changeless riches. Worship this week.

Malathion safe despite uproar in California

Despite the public uproar in California about use of the insecticide malathion to control Mediterranean fruit flies, the material has a proven track record of being safe and free of health hazards.

Malathion has been with us a long time—since the early 1950s and is one of the most commonly used insecticides by farmers, homeowners and gardeners," points out Dr. Phil Hamman, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Hamman says he had been inundated with telephone calls since the California controversy from people wanting to know about the safety of malathion. Tests sponsored by the National Cancer Institute have shown malathion to be both non-carcinogenic (not causing cancer) and non-mutagenic (not causing genetic changes).

According to Dr. Bill Plapp, research toxicologist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, malathion is one of the least dangerous insecticides in use today.

"Malathion is routinely used by many homeowners and gardeners to control insects and mites on trees, shrubs, houseplants, flowers and vegetables. It is also used to control external parasites on pets," says Hamman. In addition, he explains that malathion is used widely to control many different insect pests of crops. For instance, it has been used in large area control programs for boll weevils and grasshoppers in West Texas.

Another major use of malathion in Texas has been for mosquito control programs, points out the entomologist. "Malathion is used almost exclusively to rid urban and suburban areas of disease-carrying mosquitoes," says Hamman. "In 1966-67 and again in 1971, vast areas of Texas, including major cities such as Dallas, Houston and Corpus Christi, were aerially sprayed with malathion to control outbreaks of St. Louis encephalitis and Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis, diseases spread by mosquitoes."

The entomologist points out that in all of these uses of malathion, there has been no record of problems involving human health.

Of course, Hamman cautions users of malathion as well as other insecticides to follow commonsense precautions for safe and effective results.

Doctoring yourself cheaper?

Is "doctoring" yourself cheaper or not?

Americans spend more than $3.5 billion a year "doctoring" themselves with nonprescription drugs readily available at pharmacies and supermarkets, says Beverly Rhoades, a consumer information specialist.

"Sometimes these medicines neither prevent nor cure illness or discomfort. In fact, if consumers keep a record of these expenses, most will be surprised at how much they spend," the specialist says.

In addition, many consumers are concerned about their prescription-medicine expenses, the specialist notes. "What can consumers do? Realize that prescription and over-the-counter (OTC) medicine indeed constitutes a sizable part of medical expenses."

Then take a hard look at both types of medicine—with your own buying-and-use procedures in mind, she advises.

In each case, decide if you're getting the most effective results possible for the most economical prices.

Before taking any more over-the-counter (OTC) medicines, ask yourself these questions:

Are the drugs safe for general use without a doctor's supervision?

Does the label warn you not to take the drug if a certain illness or condition exists?

Can you take the drug safely in combination with other drugs you now take?

Does the label warn about possible side effects?

Do the drugs really do what the makers claim they will?

If you had to say "no" to any of those questions, avoid treating yourself.

The money you spend is wasted if the illness or complications, she says. Money you "saved" by avoiding a doctor's visit may actually become an added expense when you finally do see a doctor or buy prescription medicine to treat an illness that over-the-counter medicine didn't cure.

Sonny Bailey treated Crockett County road employees to a barbecue dinner at his ranch home last Tuesday.

Lubbock blow-out for LULAC council

President Chevo Moralez of LULAC Council #263 of Lubbock, Texas announced today that his Council has joined forces with some local businesses to put together one of the biggest events for Hispanics ever in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Co-sponsoring with the local Budweiser distributor, LULAC will hold the 1st Annual "Fandango Jalapeno" on September 6, Sunday of Labor Day weekend.

Half of this event will feature a music festival starting 11 or 12 of the top Chicano bands in the country. Working with the local promoters, LULAC will be bringing in some of the top recording artists that have made Chicano music the art that it is now. Several bands have confirmed and announcement of the names will be made as soon as all the bands have confirmed. Also present will be some of the biggest promoters in the area and radio and TV personalities will be the guest masters of ceremony. There will be continuous music for nine hours with no breaks or intermissions.

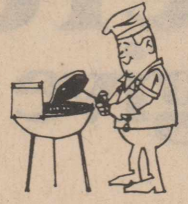

Catholic youth to gather

San Angelo's Sacred Heart Cathedral will provide the setting for the 20th semi-annual Christian Community Weekend for high school and college age youth from around the Diocese of San Angelo. About 200 young people coming from as far away as Odessa, Midland, Stanton, Abilene, Sweetwater, Snyder, Ozona, Sanderson and elsewhere are expected to participate. The weekend will begin Friday, August 7, and will conclude Sunday afternoon around 6:00 p.m.

Students attending the Christian Renewal Weekend are graduates of the Search for Christian Maturity program, another Christian Weekend Experience, CCW and Search are evangelistic programs which take as their fundamental theme the embracing of the Christian life as a vital, personal relationship with the Lord. Emphasis is placed on the formation of a Christian community among the young people.

Reverend Robert Bush, pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Stanton, heads the search and CCW team of priests, sisters and laity involved in the program.

BOY TO VINSONS

Measles clinic to be held in Ozona

In view of the fact that cases of measles have been reported in Region 4, an immunization clinic will be held for all who need vaccine by the above criteria. Clinic hours are 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Civic Center on Thursday, August 6, 1981 here in Ozona.

An outbreak of measles is occurring in the State of Texas (80 times the rate for the entire United States). Almost half of the patients are below the age of 15 months. Eighty percent are of preschool age (less than 5 years old).

The Commissioner of Health in consonance with consultative advice provided from the National Center for Disease Control has reviewed the use of measles vaccine and the following recommendations have been instituted.

All persons attending school, including those attending institutions of higher learning, should be fully protected against measles by vaccination or certified in writing by a physician to have had a case of measles (rubeola). In circumstances of increased risk, as explained below, consideration should be given to removing from school all individuals not immunized or certified by a physician as having had measles (rubeola).

Texas children at increased risk of exposure to measles should be protected by an intensified schedule of immunization. The augmented special recommendations for measles immunization in all such children at increased risk of exposure to measles are as follows:

Single antigen measles vaccine should be administered as soon after six months of age as possible, up to the age of twelve months.

Children who have reached twelve months of age should receive MMR (mumps, measles, rubella) vaccine.

Children who received immunization against measles between six and twelve months must be reimmunized against measles at 15 months of age, using MMR vaccine.

There are at least two categories of children who are currently recognized to be at increased risk and requiring special protection:

Children living in any Texas city or county which experiences measles activity (i.e. even one confirmed case of measles which exposes unprotected persons) within calendar year 1981.

Children at high risk of exposure to measles, such as children in families of migrant workers; or children who anticipated travel to or through any area where measles is being transmitted.

The severe morbidity associated with the outbreak is also unusual. Hospitalizations and cases of pneumonia were frequent, particularly in children under 15 months old. The age of the fatal case 13 months is within the age range for which mortality from this disease is highest.

Stay young in health

Wish you could "stay young" in "health?"

Practice six health steps, and you'll go a long way toward that goal. Six habits or practices can significantly influence your health and life expectancy to the extent that a person who practices all six has the health of a person 30 years younger who ignores all of them.

Here are the six steps: three regular meals a day with few snacks—make sure breakfast is one of the meals, moderate exercise two or three times a week, not more than seven or eight hours of sleep every night, no smoking, maintaining moderate weight, little or no alcohol consumption. These are the findings of a study conducted by the California State Department of Health.

Crockett wildcat drilling

Pend Oreille Oil & Gas Co., Houston, will drill the No. 1 W. R. Baggett Jr., et al, a 9,000-foot wildcat in Crockett County, surrounded by shallow failures, six miles west-northwest of the onewell Parker-Harrell (Ellenburger) field and five miles northwest of Ozona.

Location is 300 feet from the north and 200 feet from the east lines of 42-OP-GC&SF. Ground elevation is 2,544 feet.

The Parker-Harrell opener, J. Cleo Thompson No. 1 Parker "A", was finished June 13, 1977 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2,025,000 cubic feet of gas daily, with gas-liquid ratio of 32,185-1, from open hole at 8,757-787 feet.

Mrs. Clay Adams and Lela Nussbaumer were guests of Mrs. Joe Friend in Ruidosa, N.M. last week.

Sinclair chosen to attend camp

Kelly Sinclair was chosen to attend Range Camp at Brownwood, August 2-7. Selection was based on outstanding projects and interest in range management.

Kelly's local sponsor is the Soil Conservation District Board, a strong supporter of range education and leadership development of local youth.

The weeklong Range Camp, sponsored by Texas Section, Society for Range Management, is arranged to honor outstanding range and ranch youth and provide them an opportunity for complementary training in range management and leadership skills. According to B. J. Ragsdale, Range Camp Coordinator of College Station, participants will learn to identify range plants, evaluate rangeland potential and current condition, manage rangeland for livestock production, wildlife habitat and practice ranch planning. Leadership training will feature discussion of interpersonal relations, communication skills and group leading practice. A field trip away from camp will be to Mrs. Betty Bucy's Brown County ranch.

There's good news and bad news about the screwworm situation in Texas. The good news is that no more confirmed cases of screwworms have been reported in the state since the outbreak in Presidio County last May. But the bad news is that submission of suspected screwworm samples to the fly lab at Mission has declined sharply.

"We are hopeful that no more screwworm cases are present in the state, but we don't really know; that's why it is so important for livestock producers to continue sending in suspected samples," Dr. John Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission said.

"We did have a big increase in samples following the Presidio County outbreak. But since then, the numbers of samples submitted to the fly lab at Mission has dropped drastically. We need to again request livestock producers to submit suspected screwworm samples. Mailing kits are available for this chore," he explained.

More than a dozen confirmed screwworm cases have been reported in Mexican border states in the last two months, and that is an area which has been screwworm-free for about a year. Confirmed cases have been reported 50 to 100 miles from the Texas border.

Crockett County Care Center News

By Mary Wilton-Director of Activities & Social Care

There have been two donations made to our activities fund as memorials to Gordon Smith. These were made by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Caldwell and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell McCaleb.

Our sympathy goes out to the friends and family of Bernarda Aguirre who passed away Monday morning. She had been a resident at the care center for a number of years and will be missed by all of us.

Wednesday afternoon Dorothy Doll brought a birthday cake and some punch so that we could help her and Louise McWilliams celebrate their birthdays. Barbara Davee and Alice Ross came to help with the serving.

Our volunteer of the week is Doris Hoffman. Doris has been helping in the beauty shop as well as with crafts and parties for about a year and a half. She has become very special to all of the residents and we hope she knows just how much she is appreciated.

Maude Pettit won the five dollar gift certificate, donated by Watson's, for winning the most bingo games. Virginia Russell won second prize, a box of face powder.

Even though the weather has been very hot and many of us do not want to leave the comfort of our air conditioned rooms, I have noticed that Maude Pettit, Nila Turnell, Tomasa Ramos and Louise McWilliams are still taking walks outside everyday. This is very good exercise and these ladies are not about to let a little heat stop them.

We sure could use some hair spray. If anyone would like to donate some just call me and I will pick it up or you can bring it by the care center anytime. We ran out last week and we would like to thank Doris Hoffman for buying a can. We could also use some White Minx hair rinse, it takes a lot of these items to keep our 28 ladies hair fixed. All donations are accepted and appreciated.

Wednesday morning in Bible study we started studying about Job. We sure did have a good discussion following the reading of the first two chapters. Eunice Graham shared some of her memories about the old fashion camp meetings that she went to and played the piano. Gertrude Daniels, Louise McWilliams, Leona Harris and Paul Cavin also shared their experiences during brush arbor days. I could set for hours and listen to some of these stories about things that took place 60 or 70 years ago. I really look forward to the days we have discussion because I learn so much, everyone of these people is a teacher to me and I wouldn't take anything for what I'm learning.

Volunteers helping us this week are Hazel Storms, Sophie Kyle, Doris Hoffman, Ruth Dorris, Maria Vitela, Ofilia Enriquez, Dorothy Doll, Barbara Davee, Alice Ross, Liz Mary Pipes, Georgia Kirby, Doris Karr and Annabell Patrick. Thanks to everyone of these for giving so much of your time to help us.

We would like to thank the First Baptist Church for a box of homemade cookies they gave us to eat with some ice cream for our Sunshine Hour on Tuesdays.

Miss Busbee returns from N.Y. seminar

Pam Busbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jody Conaway, has recently returned from attending a seminar in New York City, July 18-22, held at the Waldorf Astoria. The seminar was held in conjunction with the National Congress of CEDIESCO. Mrs. Busbee is currently living in Midland and is the manager of the Christine Valmy Skin Care Salon.

Replace jacket lining

Tattered lining spoiling an otherwise perfect blazer jacket?

Linings are relatively simple to replace, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist. Basically, all you do is take the old lining out of the jacket, separate all the pieces, determine how much new fabric you'll need, buy it, cut it out and sew it into the jacket.

Here are the steps for actually replacing the lining: Carefully remove the old lining. Take it completely apart at the seams, darts, vents or pleats. Mark the stitching lines where darts and pleats were.

Press the lining free of wrinkles. This will allow all seams to lie flat. Determine the lining grainline and mark with chalk.

Lay the lining out on a table to determine how much new lining you'll need to buy.

Buy a new lining fabric similar in weight to the original lining. A lightweight slick is good for jackets because it makes the garment easy to put on and take off.

Choose an attractive matching color or a contrasting one, she suggests. Don't feel you must stay with the original color in making your selection.

Next, use the old lining as a pattern and lay out and cut the new lining, being careful to keep the pieces "on grain."

Construct the new lining just like the old.

Employer child-care helps on-job workers

Should the boss help the workers with babysitting arrangements? Some bosses are finding it's well worth it. Employer efforts toward child care have resulted in workers doing a better job, less absenteeism, better employee attitude toward work and organization and lower job turnover, said a 1978 U.S. Department of Labor survey.

At the same time, the arrangements benefited the children, surveyors found.

Working parents need reliable, good-quality child care, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

"They need to be assured their children are in an environment that fosters development," the specialist says. "This means, first, a facility that is open during the parents' work hours," she adds.

"When parents feel confident about child-care arrangements, they can focus on their work," the specialist continues.

"When they do not, their work may suffer from lost time or parental worry--and the child can suffer from poor-quality child care," Welch says.

More and more attention is focusing on employer policies that recognize family life needs: respond to them sensitively, but much work must still be done in order to make the ideas become reality, Welch says.

How much work will it take to put the ideas into practice, and who will do the work?

Welch answers that question this way:

"A real need is for parents, communities and business and industry to work together.

"Theirs could be a dedicated effort to review needs for child care and to start plans to meet those needs and others as they emerge," she says.

A "starting place" might be three approaches now in the "talking stages" among groups concerned with programs to meet child-care needs, Welch continues.

Approaches fall into three major categories, or levels, of service for parents: information and referral systems, easier access to child-care already available, child care itself offered at the work site.

These approaches are based on already successful child-care services established by employers and employees as well as communities working together, Welch adds.

Information and referral systems include child-development-and-care seminars at work sites and referral services to inform parents of available care in the community.

Some groups have established easier access to available child care for workers. Three examples of this are: Recruit and train caregivers who will provide family day-care service. Then arrange for employees to use these services. Also a company may donate services or products to a local facility. In exchange, the facility makes child care available to the company's employees at a discount rate.

An employer or union subsidizes the cost of child care by providing vouchers for X dollars. Vouchers are "good" at any licensed child-care center in this arrangement.

On-site child care, the third approach, provides child care at a convenient location--and at the hours needed--to employees.

A key advantage of this approach is that reliable child care is available to all ages of children in an arrangement tailored to fit the parent-worker needs, Welch says.

In addition to considering various approaches, Welch suggests building other factors of equally major importance into the plan.

Those factors include needs assessment, cost analysis and legal review, she reminds.

Any workable plan should include considerations that meet the needs of all concerned, she concludes. That includes the employees' needs, the workers' needs, the children's needs and those of the community, she explains.

PBPA energy report

The chairman of the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, C.M. "Mike" Butler the third, believes President Reagan will make a decision on natural gas decontrol within the next sixty days. Butler favors decontrolling all gas by 1985 and maybe stretching the deadline to 1987 to ease the price increase to the public. Under the present law, about forty percent of natural gas will still have price controls at the end of 1985. There is some division within the petroleum industry on the wisdom of the immediate decontrolling of gas prices because of the large, overnight price increases that would result from that action.

The Kiplinger Washington Letter says Saudi Arabia will slowly reduce its production to reach a daily figure of 8 1/2 million barrels by the end of this year. The Saudis are producing about ten million barrels a day right now. Kiplinger says prices will continue to slide gently in coming months. The letter predicts an OPEC agreement in December that will produce unified prices and only moderate increases in the future.

Nationally the rig count is 1,073 ahead of the same week last year for an increase of 37 percent. First-half 1981 well completions stood at 35,581. That's an increase of 6,300 well or 21.6 percent over a year ago.

Couples' grandson to cover games

Ernest Gill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gill of San Angelo and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Bohannon of Ozona, has been named Associate Producer for news production for the Captioned ABC News, and will cover the 14th World Games for the deaf in reports each weeknight from Thursday, July 23, through Monday, Aug. 3, on PBS.

Gill is a part of a TV crew and group of reporters in Cologne, West Germany to report on the World Games.

Gill notes that the United Nations has designated 1981 as the International Year of Disabled Persons. "The World Games is exactly the type of event that the IYPD stands for, and the Captioned ABC News is proud to be providing the only network coverage."

The program is an open-captioned rebroadcast of ABC's evening news program, World News Tonight. Daily tapes and reports on the World Games will be inserted into the ABC program. The program can be seen in this area on cable television via channel 13, Public Broadcasting System.

Gill is a graduate of San Angelo Central High School, where he was active in Journalism and Band. A 1972 graduate of Angelo State University majoring in Journalism and minoring in German, he was a member of the Ram Band and a charter member of Kappa Kappa Psi band fraternity. During his four years at ASU, he worked for the San Angelo Standard Times as reporter, feature writer, and editor of the Weekly Standard.

Following graduation from ASU he served as reporter and feature writer for other Harte-Hanks newspapers in Corpus Christi and in the Boston area.

Since his association with WGBH TV/Public Broadcasting in Boston, he has become fluent not only in German but has become a

Roundup time grows near There'll be a big roundup in the Southwest Texas border city of Del Rio next month. However, it won't be the traditional type roundup folks in this region are accustomed to seeing. Instead, hundreds of ranchers will be gathering August 11-13 to hear over 125 of the top ranching experts in the world.

Two dozen ranching enterprises, eight state/Federal agencies, numerous producer concerns, and 12 agricultural universities from as many states will be represented on the giant broad-based program.

It's all part of the International Rancher's Roundup which will be held at the Del Rio Civic Center and high school.

Thus far, about 300 persons have pre-registered to take advantage of a pre-registration fee discount and make the tour deadline. About three or four times that number is expected to participate.

"We have been working over a year planning the type conference ranchers have requested--one that covers the entire ranch operation," stressed Dr. A. L. Hoermann Texas Agricultural Extension Service livestock specialist and Roundup co-chairman. "This could very well be the largest number of ranching experts ever assembled anywhere in the country for an educational activity. We certainly want the participants to get their money's worth."

Hoermann added that entertainment activities will occur each evening after meetings have concluded.

A 500-page bound copy of the proceedings containing most of the talks presented during the three day-long sessions will be available. Ranchers who plan to attend but haven't pre-registered should make motel arrangements at their earliest convenience, suggests Hoermann. He said several motels in the Del Rio area are already filled and the expected last minute flood of participants may result in room allocation problems.

However, Del Rio Chamber of Commerce personnel are assisting ranchers locate motel rooms. Participants are urged to phone the Chamber office (512/775-3551) which maintains a daily log of vacancies.

Planners say response to the Roundup has been very enthusiastic with some activities already closed out, including the two ranch tours.

Translation won't be a problem for non-English-speaking ranchers, ranch managers or foremen who want to attend the Roundup. Recognizing that many ranchers would like to have their Spanish-speaking managers or foremen attend the broad-based conference, Roundup organizers have obtained the services of one of North America's premier translation firms. The anticipated large turnout of influential Mexican ranchers also accelerated the need for extensive translation services. A team from Mexico City, complete with the most modern equipment and trained operating technicians, will be on hand for general and concurrent sessions. A special registration format has also been arranged to accommodate Spanish-speaking participants.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank Sonny Bailey for the lunch he gave for the Crockett County Road Department employees Tuesday. We appreciated it very much.
Hector Gutierrez 22-1tp

CARD OF THANKS
We want to thank everyone who expressed sympathy at the loss of our father and grandfather. All of the cards, flowers, food, and memorials were greatly appreciated. A special thanks goes to the doctors, staff, and volunteers at the Care Center. The Family of Gordon Smith 22-1tp
