Christmas edition coming up

Next week the annual Christmas edition of the Ozona Stockman will be out. The edition traditionally features letters to Santa from Ozona children and greetings from local merchants and individuals.

The letters need to be in the Stockman office by Friday of this week in order that type may be set. All letters are then sent to Santa at the North Pole, by UPS.

An attempt has been made to contact Ozona merchants about the holiday greetings. However, if someone was missed, call the Stockman office or come by and pick out your greetings. We have all sizes and themes. The greetings are unusually attractive this year. Individuals may sign their ads or have names type set. Business logos will be used.

Schools dismiss for holidays

Ozona schools will dismiss Friday for the Christmas holidays and will have vacation until January 4, 1982, when all schools will reconvene.

Kindergarten will dismiss at 1:30 Friday, with first and second grades being dismissed at 1:45. This will enable parents to get their children to town in time to visit with Santa Claus, who will arrive at 2:00 p.m.

The intermediate school will be dismissed at 2:00 p.m. and the junior high and high schools at 2:30 p.m. Friday. Buses will run at 2:30 Friday, picking up primary and intermediate students at the park, then making pickups at junior high and high school.

Methodists offer the Nativity

The Methodist Church will feature an animated nativity scene with people, costumes and animals, Monday and Tuesday evening.

The scene will be set up from 6:30 until 8:00 both evenings, Dec. 21-22. The entire community is invited to drive or walk to the church where the scene will be displayed on the lawn.

Also, luminarias will be set along Eleventh Street, between the church and town. They will be lighted at dusk, beginning Sunday evening.

Directors election on tap

Election for two directors for the Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District will be held Saturday, January 16. Two directors will be elected at this time.

Members of the board whose terms are expiring are Lowell Littleton, who will not seek re-election, and J. W. Johnigan.

The election will be held at the Crockett County Courthouse. Those wishing to file as a candidate may do so in person at the Water District Office. The deadline for filing for a place on the ballot is December 28.

OZONA PLACES TWO IN MISS RODEO TEXAS PAGEANT-Melinda Hokit, left, and Kim Bishop, right, are both entered in the Miss Rodeo Texas Pageant, which will take place Jan. 13-17 in San Antonio. The pageant is for young ladies between the ages of 13 and 24 years of age.

who have won a previous title. Miss Hokit, 19, is enrolled in Southwest Texas Junior College. She has entered under the title of Southwest Texas Junior College Rodeo Queen. Miss Bishop, 15, an Ozona High School freshman, is entered under the title of Ozona Junior Rodeo Queen.

Commissioners Court in final meeting of year

Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in the final meeting for this year. The meeting was routine with most of the morning taken up with the road department report and discussion on road work for next year and new equipment purchases.

After the court was called to order, County Clerk David Weant reported he had gotten bids on roller shelling for his office. Hill Printing submitted a bid of $4,417.50 and Walraven bid $3,696.00. The bid from Walraven was accepted and the equipment is on order.

Glen Rumley, hospital administrator, gave the hospital report and reminded the court three new hospital board members needed to be appointed as soon as possible in order to be present for the first board meeting of next year. Several names were submitted from which three will be selected and asked to serve by County Judge Johnny Jones. Terms expiring are those of Dennis Clark and Gene Lilly, and one board vacancy remains.

Paul Shacklette came before the court to give the road department report. He submitted a request from Pat Aiguier, who is secretary at the road department, for a $75 per month car allowance for using her personal car on county business. The request was granted.

Shacklette informed the court the Baggett Road, in the south part of the county, has been finished and will hold traffic until spring at which time it will be paved. However, after Shacklette told the court that some landowners in that area were going to petition to have the road closed the court decided to wait on designation of paving until action is taken by the landowners. The court seemed to be in agreement against closing any county road and noted that all landowners using the road must be in agreement before such a decision could be made.

Shacklette reported his crews had graded and re-ditched Taylor Box Road, graded ranch roads in Precision 2, repaired several cattle guards on ranch roads, reworked the Meadows and Holmsley roads to the Pandale Road, and finished a good deal of patching of pavement in town.

The mess on the road in front of the Inn of the West was discussed. Shacklette said it was caused by a wash rack where garbage cans were cleaned and stacked and he understood the management planned to reroute it to the sewer. However, in the meantime some members of the court commented it was not only ruining the road, but seemed to be a health hazard and suggested a State Health representative look in to it the next time they come to check the dumpground.

The flooding caused by the Interstate 10 right-of-way was also discussed. Shacklette said he had looked into the matter and the state would not take responsibility and feel it is the county's problem. Much of the town, both north and south of I-10 gets under water with as little as one inch of hard rain. The run-off apparently was not designed to carry rainwater to the draw fast enough to prevent street flooding.

The court plans to pave 3 miles in each precinct next spring and the commission-

Santa to arrive here Fri.

Santa Claus will make his pre-Christmas visit to Ozona, Friday, Dec. 18, at 2:00 p.m. He will set up shop at the courthouse and visit with Ozona children at that time.

Santa is sponsored each year by the Ozona Lions Club and the Volunteer Fire Department. Members of the fire department spent several hours sacking several hundred pounds of Christmas candy at their meeting last week. Santa will give each child he visits with a sack of the candy.

He will arrive by plane at the airport and be brought to town in the big red fire truck. After a circle around the park, he will be ready to visit with the children.

Vandals wreck school again

Vandals threw large rocks through the windows in the three kindergarten rooms at Ozona Primary School late Monday night or early Tuesday morning, causing heavy damage to property and trauma to students.

The rocks crashed through the windows and hit the walls on the opposite side, scattering glass and debris throughout the rooms. Kindergarten students nap on mats placed on the floor during the day and glass creates a problem for their safety, as it is not easily swept up.

Vandalism has been a problem at the school since it was built. Recently, lights were installed to try to solve the problem and were apparently effective until Monday night. The school, in the past few years, has become a gathering place for drinkers after hours and into the night and vandalism has become common. Janitors spend many hours clearing the grounds of broken bottles almost daily and especially after a weekend.

Law enforcement officers have not been successful in stopping the practice, and school officials have exhausted every effort in an attempt to quell the practice. The hiring of a deputized night watchman could possibly be a solution to the problem and might prove less expensive than paying for the damages caused.

ers were asked where they wanted paving in their respective precincts. Precinct 1 Commissioner Sostenes DeHoyos designated Taylor Box Road, Precinct 2 Commissioner Jesus Castro designated Howard Draw Rd. and Commissioners Jack Williams and B. W. Stuart said they had not yet come to a decision in their respective precincts.

Tom Stokes, County Tax Assessor-Collector, met with the court to have them sign the ad valorem tax evaluation service contract. He said the service from the present firm, Pritchard and Abbott, had been very bad in recent years, and he had been in contact with another firm. The tax roll has been late the past two years, with statements also late and repeats on the roll have caused substantial loss in estimated valuations. Stokes also presented the bill for this year's work by the firm in the amount of $88,667.85. He told the court a representative from Thomas Y. Pickett, another tax evaluation firm, had been in contact with him and wants the county's business. The court seemed inclined to abide by whatever decision Stokes might make in the matter.

The court adjourned to have dinner at the Civic Center, sponsored annually by the Crockett County Extension Service for county employees and officials.

When they reconvened for the afternoon session, they voted to comply with Texas jail Standards, which amounts to taking some of the beds from the cells in the Crockett County Jail.

The court voted to purchase 2 radar units for the Department of Public Safety and to get bids beforehand. All other counties own the radar units used by the department in their respective counties.

Since an oil company is going to drill a well on a county lot located behind Mayfield Construction, the court agreed to ask at least $5,000 in damages and attempt to have the company drill in the most northeast corner of the lot.

Ozona takes consolation trophy-

Crane wins OHS tournament Sat.

Crane came away with the championship title in the 51st Annual Ozona Basketball Tournament which concluded Saturday night with the Golden Cranes taking a 45-44 victory over the Sonora Broncos in a game where neither team ever had more than a 4-point lead.

Wall won the third place trophy, downing Eden 50-41 in a close game.

The Ozona Lions won the consolation with a 55 to 54 victory over Stanton. Lion Robert Massey scored with 2 seconds left to win the game for Ozona.

Other exciting games in the tournament were the Junction-Ozona game in the first round, where the Eagles beat the Lions 52-50 in overtime. In the second round the Wall-Junction game was a thriller, going down to the bell before Wall prevailed 32-31.

John Blankenship of Sonora was voted Most Valuable Player. The all-tournament team, made up by coaches and officials, included Scott Church of Stanton, Lance Powell of Wall, Joe Lopez of Eden, Eddie Ray Jones of Crane, Robert Cadena of Crane, Nicky Haines of Junction, Ronnie Anderson of Sonora, Gregg Fisher of Big Lake, Varlyn Aldridge of Ozona and Zeke Martinez of Ozona.

Stuart is contest winner

Jeffrey Stuart won the football contest this week with a near perfect score. He picked every game correctly except the tie-breaker and he picked Atlanta to beat Los Angeles, for his only miss. Stuart has one other win to his credit this season.

The contest will continue through the play-offs and entries may be found on the sports page sponsored by Ozona merchants.

McBee will not be candidate

Susan Gurley McBee of Del Rio, who has represented the 70th District since 1975, informed the Stockman Monday that she will not be a candidate for re-election in 1982.

In making her announcement, Ms. McBee said, "The years I've spent representing you in Austin have been exciting and gratifying, and I thank you for the opportunity to have done so. But,

Jones of Crane hp with 12, Sonora 52, Wall 39. Tie for high point between Anderson, Blankenship and Powell, 14 points each.

Final round-Stanton 65, Sonora JV 31, Esparza of Stanton hp with 17, Ozona 55, Stanton 54, for consolation. Eden 41, Wall 50, for third place, Crane 45, Sonora 44, for champion.

as you know, I have never intended to become a career politician. I think eight years in office is enough. My term won't expire until January of 1983, and until that time, I will continue to serve the people of the district in every way I can.

Ms. McBee has been, in our opinion, the best state representative the district has been fortunate enough to elect, and successfully battled for her district in the recent redistricting campaign, keeping the district intact.

She earned a spot on Texas Monthly magazine's list of the state's ten best legislators and had many highlights in her legislative career. Chairmanship of the powerful House Calendars Committee was one of her achievements.

The district has fared well under Mrs. McBee, and certainly every county and township will feel deeply the loss of her leadership.

Cable service rates increase

Announcement of a slight raise in rates, effective Jan. 1, 1982, was made this week by the Ozona Television System, serving Ozona households with cable television reception via both microwave and satellite receiving stations.

The rate raise is divided between charges for Home Box Office (HBO) and for the regular cable TV service. HBO plans to increase its service to a 24-hour day programming. This expansion of service will entail the addition of a large number of new movies and features to the HBO menu, and an addition to the charges levied against the cable company for the service. This will mean an addition of $1 per month to the HBO charge, from the present $8 to $9 per month.

Increasing costs for doing business, labor and material advances, has necessitated a raise of another $1 per month to the TV service package. As with all types of equipment, time takes its toll and regular repairs and replacement of electronic equipment which produces the distributed signal is necessary. Microwave replacement equipment costing upwards of $18,000 was received by the company just this week in readiness for installation in the next few days to improve the television service. Oscar Kost, manager of the firm, announced.

Most observers concede that Ozona has the best television service of any town its size and better usually than that of cities several times larger. Mr. Kost observed. Even with the increased rate, the charges here compare favorably with those of neighboring towns and cities, he said.

WEINBERGER'S CHALLENGE

By Edwin Feulner

Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger, with whom I do not always agree, is right about one thing: "There is nothing hypothetical about the Soviet military machine." The facts are persuasive. The Soviet Armed Forces now number more than 4.8 million men, including a standing army of nearly 1.9 million strategic rocket forces, an ever-expanding and sophisticated navy, a huge air force and a separate air defense force.

The Soviet Ground Forces of the army have grown to more than 180 divisions — motorized rifle divisions, tank divisions and airborne divisions — stationed in Eastern Europe, in the USSR, in Mongolia, and in combat in Afghanistan, where they have an estimated 85,000 men.

In addition to these 85,000 combat troops, the Soviet Union also has an estimated 20,000 military personnel stationed in 28 other countries around the globe, including Algeria, Libya, Angola, Ethiopia, Iraq, Syria and South Yemen. Not surprisingly, several of these countries are leading exporters of international terrorism.

The Soviets have more than 50,000 tanks and 20,000 artillery pieces in the field. More than 5,200 helicopters are in the ready. More than 3,500 Soviet and Warsaw Pact tactical bombers and fighter aircraft are located in Eastern Europe alone (including more than 1,000 new fighters that have been produced in the last eight years).

The Soviets have eight classes of submarines and eight classes of major surface warships, including nuclear-powered cruisers and new aircraft carriers, presently under construction.

Their intercontinental strategic arsenal includes an estimated 7,000 nuclear warheads, with some 1,400 ICBM launchers, 250 SS-20 Intermediate Range launchers, 156 long-range bombers, and another 150 or so nuclear-capable "Backfire" bombers.

The Soviet Air Defense Forces, moreover, man 10,000 surface-to-air missile launchers at 1,000 fixed missile sights across the Soviet Union.

All this is made possible by a network of some 135 major state-run military production plants now in operation in the Soviet Union (with an estimated 35,000 individual factories), a military budget that has consumed 12-14 percent of the Soviet Gross National Product for the past two decades, and an army of 900,000 full-time scientists and engineers working for the state — an undetermined number of whom are engaged in military R&D.

The list of Soviet advances in almost every military-related field imaginable goes on and on. Their space program, the netherworld of biological warfare, genetic engineering, behavior modification, metals development, electronics, explosive technology — the Soviets are on the march in all these areas.

Unfortunately — despite the obvious — Reagan Administration budget cutters still have their eyes on the at-one-time "hands-off" defense budget, which was trimmed back in September, along with other federal spending.

As military analyst William Green points out, the September 24 budget cut proposal includes a $13 billion reduction in defense outlays over the next three years. This means the Reagan Administration budget for fiscal 1982 is only $1.8 billion more than President Carter proposed. In 1983, the difference amounts to only $9.6 billion. How we're going to build up our national defense, as the president has promised, with such negligible budget increases not only worries, but mystifies me.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS
 By Lyndell Williams
 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — With the state's primary election only five months away, there are still only two announced Democratic contenders to incumbent Gov. Bill Clements. State Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong, the latest announced candidate claims he is the only candidate in the race who has served in both the legislative and executive branches of government.

Fresh off a five-day, 21-city state tour, the Austin lawyer-rancher has raised something less than $100,000 toward what he predicts will be a Democratic primary campaign costing $2-3 million. He expects a bulk of his contributions to come after the Feb. 1 filing deadline.

Meanwhile, Tyler State Sen. Peyton McKnight got a big boost in his efforts to unseat Clements, as over 5,000 attended his birthday party-fundraiser at Billy Bob's Texas nightclub in Fort Worth.

The star-studded event is reported to have netted the campaign close to $900,000 at last count. McKnight is said to be planning a similar fundraiser in the Houston area, probably to be held at Gilley's club in nearby Pasadena.

Gives Deposition
 Governor Bill Clements dropped his threat of a U.S. Supreme Court appeal and gave his deposition to attorneys arguing the congressional redistricting lawsuit.

The attorneys had pushed for Clements' deposition in order to learn his political involvement in the hammering out of the compromise plan during this summer's special session. Clements resisted on the grounds of executive privilege.

But with time running out on the redistricting issue, Clements apparently decided further delay could only hurt the plan, which he wants approved in time for the May primaries.

And as he related to the press, he did not want to take a chance on losing the executive privilege issue, which would have set a bad precedent for future governors.

The attorneys who questioned Clements during the deposition did not come up with any dark political secrets, if such was their plan.

In nearly two hours of testimony, Clements painted his role as minimal, and stressed his one objective was the creation of a black district in Dallas.

Liberals Angered
 Clements said the creation of such a district angered liberals because it endangered Democrat Congressman Jim Mattox, but that liberals often use minorities to their own advantage.

"I never drew a map, I never drew a line on a map," he said.

"So far as my staff is concerned, I'm sure they were all drawing lines. You know, this was the greatest game going on in town."

It's no political secret that Clements wanted the black district to endanger liberals

Mattox and Martin Frost, but another liberal Congressman is facing a strong challenger, but not through redistricting. Thirty-year veteran Congressman Jack Brooks, who narrowly avoided a loss last election, will face three opponents in the Democratic primary. Two of them, W. L. "Bubba" Pate and Tom Combs, are from Brooks' hometown, which he lost heavily in 1980. The third, Galveston legislator Doug McLeod, is generally considered to have the inside track in unseating Brooks in what may well be one of the toughest campaigns in the state.

Legislative Redistricting
 The lawsuits challenging the redistricting plans for the Texas Senate and House of Representatives will be decided by a panel of three district judges from Dallas.

The two suits will be tried simultaneously because of the legal similarities.

Hats in the Rings
 Of course, the redistricting delays have played havoc in the minds of future candidates who don't know whether to announce for office because they still don't know what territory they will be campaigning. But as time runs out for prospective candidates, some are indicating they are ready to take the plunge.

Speaker Bill Clayton told friends at his recent fundraiser that he will make a formal announcement soon for the Land Commissioner's race. Clayton, who had delayed such an announcement until January, is undoubtedly worried about the prospects of Midland Sen. Pete Snelson entering the race. Snelson is expected to decide one way or another in the next two weeks.

Short Takes
 1980 statistics show Texas led the nation in child-abuse deaths with a total of 110. Criminal charges were filed in 48 per cent of last year's deaths.

Raymond Frank, former Travis County sheriff, charged Comptroller Bob Bullock should have paid approximately $7,000 to reimburse the state for his airplane flight to California for treatment for alcoholism. Bullock paid $2,229, which an aide said was the exact amount calculated following guidelines set by the attorney general's office.

Texas Oil & Gas . . .

U. S. Energy 'Crisis' Remains Big Problem

By Avery Rush, Jr., Chairman
 Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association

The United States of America continues in the throes of an energy "crisis."

True, there is in the world today an overabundance of crude oil, a so-called "glut." This overabundance is the result of the combination of full production schedules in most producing countries and conservation in the larger consuming nations. The result has been more than adequate supplies generally and a decrease in prices of some oil.

But, this situation almost surely will be short-lived. Saudi Arabia has decided to institute a one-million barrel per day reduction in production. Although oil decontrol has spurred U.S. drilling, we are not finding as much crude oil as we are producing; certainly not nearly as much as we are consuming.

So, if you are an American homeowner or apartment dweller, motorist, clerk, businessman, farmer, student or housewife your standard of living, even your way of life, continues to be affected. This is because our nation's appetite for oil, as already indicated, far outdistances our ability to produce under present economic, technical, and political conditions.

The extent of the problem can be understood as it is reflected in our import figures: Even after the acceleration of oil price decontrol by President Reagan and the aforementioned return of strength and vigor to domestic drilling, this country must import six-million barrels of oil daily.

To be sure, this six-million barrel level is a significant improvement over the days when we were bringing in eight- to 10-million barrels. But, six-million barrels at $35.00 per barrel costs $210-million each day. That amounts to $76-billion annually. This is not a sum that even the wealthiest nation on Earth can continue to pay indefinitely.

But, there is more than just economics to consider. There is another development — a cutoff of supplies — that could be of even greater concern to a nation that must import such a large amount of its energy, the national lifeblood of any industrialized nation.

To be denied access to that oil, with no other sources available, could wreak havoc with a country's economy. In an extreme case, a national economy virtually could cease to function.

It is for these reasons that the foremost problem facing this country today remains the displacement of this amount of imported oil with safe, secure, domestically produced oil. Only then will the energy "crisis" be a thing of the past.

Letters to the Editor

December 14, 1981

Dear Editor:

I was born in Ozona but my parents moved away when I was 2 years old. My parents were killed in an auto accident when I was 5 years old. I lived in and out of foster homes until I was 15 years old. I am now in a work camp in Ga. and I've never been so lonely in my life.

I do not write anyone and I don't know any relatives to contact. I do believe and pray that some of my relatives still live in or around your area. I thought if you could find time or kindness in your heart you would please publish my letter in your newspaper in hopes that some relative or friend of relatives might see it and contact me.

I would also like very much to correspond with anyone in or around Ozona as a pen pal. I am a white male but, loneliness picks no certain age or color. So if anyone cares to share a smile from time to time please write me. A lonely person I am.

If possible please enclose a stamp because I am locked in a small cell 24 hours a day and can't get any stamps unless someone sends them to me.

Thank you for your time and kindness in my behalf.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

With the most meaningful time of the year upon us, do take time to enjoy the holiday, where ever you may be.

More and more Texans are decorating their homes with rich native plant material along with the hybridized shrubs in our landscapes. Our winter gardens are anything but sterile even some have winter evergreens blooming such as Burford holly, eleagnus, photenia and others. Berries brighten the shrubs also for color, and may need the pruning. Be selective when you prune, maintaining the natural shape of the plant. Always use clean, sharp tools. Cut stems back to a bud or flush with a branch or the main trunk. Make cuts to a bud at a 45 degree angle, slanting downward just above the bud.

Maybe you have a mantle to feature your decorations. You don't have to follow rules or fit a certain style. So why not start a holiday tradition of your own.

Greenery can also be used to accent other features of the mantelpiece display. Living vines can be woven around candle sticks for a touch of green, or small branches of pine or holly may be attached to candles for a ribbon like effect. Large clusters of magnolia leaves make a perfect foliage bow. A variety of ornamental objects can fit into the spirit of your decorating scheme, but should enhance - not cover up - the features of the mantle.

If using greenery, be sure to soak it in water for at least 6 hours. If you include fresh fruit, choose the firmer bodied fruits and those with thicker skins.

At this time the holly and nandina berries along with red candles add a brilliant touch of color. Always the beautiful red poinsettias may be used for a center of interest most anywhere you may want to use them along with evergreens.

Be sure to give your gift plants the proper care to prolong their life. Water only when soil 1 inch below the surface is dry. Check to see that the wrapping is not blocking the drainage hole.

High score went to Mrs. Byron Williams and second high to Mrs. Evert White. Mrs. Kirby Moore won the bingo.

Others playing were Mrs. Clay Adams, Mrs. Bob Bailey, Mrs. Beecher Montgomery, Mrs. Joe Friend, Mrs. Buddy Phillips, Mrs. Jake Short, Mrs. B. W. Stuart, Mrs. Sherman Taylor, Mrs. C. O. Walker, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Gene Williams, and Mrs. Jack Williams.

Mrs. Larry Braden was hostess for bridge at the Country Club Thursday.

Pearletta Morris was in Del Rio, Wednesday, to present a program for the Buena Vista Garden Club at the San Felipe Country Club. She made up several Christmas Arrangements and explained each.

Womans League has Christmas meeting

The Ozona Womans League met in the home of Mrs. Dwight Childress Tuesday evening, December 8, for the Christmas meeting. Assisting Mrs. Childress in hostess duties were Nancy Vannoy and Kay Braden.

Sandra Childress, president, conducted the business meeting. Lou Deaton gave an inspirational reading concerning the joys of Christmas. Karen Childress led the League members in singing carols. She was accompanied by Jan Kenley at the piano. Mae Lay, Sammie Pierce, and Mary Helen Parks acted as Santa Claus in passing out secret pal gifts. The purpose of this meeting was to bring League members closer together in fellowship and love during this holiday season.

Also in attendance for this meeting were George Ann Aycock, Virginia Baggett, Paula Bailey, Helen Bean, Kay Braden, June Cameron, Cathy Carson, Becky Childress, Ann Childress, Elizabeth Clark, Jill Crawford, Lou Deaton, Peggy Holden, Betty Hoover, Benny Gail Hunnicutt, Carole Hunnicutt, Darla Jones, Judy Justiss, Mary Jo Mason, Jann Miller, Shawn Mitchell, Cathy Dawn Moore, LuAnn Pierce, Judy Probst, Jane Richardson, Sherry Scott, Jodie Sessom, Vicki Stokes, Chesta Stuart, Carmen Sutton, Elizabeth Upham, Darolyn Webster and Belinda Wilkins.

Admittedly, the term "housewife hands" is out of date today, but the condition it describes isn't. Anyone-man or woman-whose hands are exposed to harsh cleaning chemicals may experience skin problems, says the Texas Medical Association.

Most people first notice the condition when the skin underneath a ring breaks out. It usually starts as a red, itchy rash but can turn into skin eruptions if not treated promptly and properly. Although many people attribute the rash to an allergy, it is rare that a person is allergic to either the metal in rings or a cleaning product.

Some people try to protect their skin from harsh chemicals by wearing rubber or waterproof gloves. Most experts advise that when this is done thin cotton gloves (dermal gloves) should be worn under the rubber gloves. If this is done, and if the gloves only are worn for 15 to 20 minutes, any adverse effects caused by the skin's inability to perspire can be drastically reduced. In addition, for maximum protection the rubber gloves must be free of holes. Also, avoid exposing the skin above the gloves to irritating compounds.

When a rash does appear, the best course of action is to avoid the substance which produces the reaction. Although people often apply creams or lotions on the rash, sometimes a greasy preparation which covers the skin may slow down the healing process.

If the chemical which produces the reaction cannot be identified, if the rash refuses to heal or if skin eruptions develop, medical help should be sought.

Some "good, old" sayings about marriage just aren't true, says Diane Wilce, a family life education specialist.

Welch, on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says researchers term the following sayings "modern misconceptions."

"There are two types of marriage-good and bad."
"Love is what makes or breaks a marriage."
"Marriages are satisfying as long as two persons are compatible."
"Relationships are well established by the time a marriage occurs."

Save time, energy and nutrients--cook stir-fry style! Stir-fry involves cooking slivers or cubes of vegetables, meat, fish or poultry in hot oil at 425 degrees using a wok or skillet.

This form of rapid cooking over high heat originated in China and was used when fuel and food were scarce.

Stir-frying retains the natural flavors of the food as the hot oil preserves the color, flavor and crispness of the vegetable and seals in natural juices of poultry, meats and seafood.

Vegetables and meats stay bright, crisp, nutritious and flavorful with stir-fry cooking.

Of course, each food has its own cooking time. Thick or dense foods need more cooking time while tender foods need less time.

To ensure that ingredients are sufficiently cooked, add each food to the pan separately in a recommended sequence. Add a small amount of liquid near completion of the dish, and finish cooking the ingredients in it as quickly as possible.

Stir-fry cooking is energy efficient in both human and fuel terms. One seeming drawback is that Chinese styles of cooking take more preparation time beforehand than American methods.

For maximum energy conservation in stir-fry cooking, use small electrical appliances such as a wok or a frying pan rather than the range or oven. Also, use small amounts of liquid seldom more than one-half inch, and cover pans tightly. These procedures enable liquid and foods to reach and maintain boiling temperatures with less fuel. In addition, cooking will be faster, and foods will have an improved appearance while more nutrients will be retained.

Of all the decorating trends of the last decade, the biggest, and perhaps best trend, is one that professionals call "eclecticism" but what does eclecticism really mean?

Basically, it means picking the specific pieces of furniture that you like; in other words, it's surrounding yourself with furniture pieces that appeal to you in themselves making each piece stand on its own, decoratively speaking, and contribute to the whole.

Another definition of eclectic is taking the best or favorite items.

Now, eclectic furnishings does not mean that you should wind up with a complete unrelated hodge-podge. There are elements of unity and good taste that should be followed, but eclecticism can give you the best of both worlds beautiful overall decorating plus the exact pieces you like best.

It also means that you have more latitude in using things that you particularly like, letting you express your individuality and personal tastes more.

With eclecticism you can blend different furniture together and collect pieces you truly love. Of course we can help you pick out a whole room full of furniture or just that one piece you want, so for both help and a good furniture selection, stop in to Brown Furniture Today!

Whoever he is, wherever he is — I respect this man.

Naturally I respect anyone whose presence can bring calmness and peace where there could have been confusion and turmoil.

As for me, I'm just a writer. With others I've been writing on behalf of the Church — with conviction and enthusiasm — for many a year. Rarely until now have I written in the first person.

But this picture challenges one to identify himself. On this rocky hillside teeming with restless life only one is master, guide, guardian of all.

I share with you the common realization: I am not that one. We share too the simple faith that knows: The Lord is my Shepherd.

[CONTINUED FROM PG.8] to 15 snakes including rattlesnakes, boa constrictors and pythons. They also kept about 70 white rats to feed the snakes. Also living in the menagerie was one stray dog. (When he told me this I found myself wondering how many girls volunteered to go clean their house!)

Mr. McWilliams is pretty much of an outdoorsman and enjoys all sports and especially outdoor ones. Some of his favorite things are backpacking and camping. He has spent lots of time backpacking in Big Bend National Park. Also he has quite an interest in photography which comes in handy on his trips. His favorite color is brown, his favorite show was "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest". His favorite movie stars are Katherine Hepburn and Clint Eastwood. When asked what his favorite car was, he said, "One that gets about 50 miles per gallon!" Mr. McWilliams' dream has been to some day climb Mount McKinley in Alaska which is the highest mountain in North America. As far as traveling goes, Mr. McWilliams went overseas lots when he was younger and a few years ago he and his wife were lucky enough to get to go to Alaska. He said there they had only 2 major catastrophes. Once their canoe turned over in the Kenai River plunging them into 36 degree water off glacial melt. And then one time at 2:00 in the morning they were crossing Shilak Lake on a rubber raft and while passing between 2 large rocks they encountered some 5 to 7 feet waves. Mr. McWilliams wasn't sure of how cold the water would have been but it was about 28 degrees outside. After thinking awhile, he said there was just one other small catastrophe which was still an issue between he and his wife, and that is a Huskie Mut they acquired while in Alaska. Right now Mr. McWilliams is planning another trip which will be a canoe adventure down the Rio Grand from the Santa Elina Canyon all the way to Langtry.

The way he got interested in Biology was his love for the outdoors and once in college a friend took him along to a lab and he enjoyed it so much that he decided he would like to go to more.

Mr. McWilliams' main concern at the present is getting his Masters Degree in Biology with a minor in Wildlife Management which is studying with such things as range conditions for wildlife and population ecology. The biggest project dealing with getting his Masters is his thesis. In this he is collecting the flora of Crockett County which is all the vascular plants. Mr. McWilliams quoted, "This would be quite an extensive research." He has been collecting the contents for this thesis for awhile now and is keeping a sample of each plant in a herbarium in his classroom. He also said these samples could be used by anyone who wished to use them for reference or anything. The thesis will eventually contain a catalog of most plants in the county as well as an evaluation of the plant communities. In this research he is having to go to many different areas in order to get a thorough collection and is hoping to get some cooperation from the local landowners. As well as working on his thesis Mr. McWilliams is also writing his own lab manual for students. He has been taking some photomicrographs to go in the manual, these are pictures taken through a microscope. The manual he is writing, he said, "Will be geared more to the Texas State curriculum rather than a general field of Biology".

As you can tell, Mr. McWilliams is not our ordinary teacher, he is a man with lots of talent and ambition and one who has had lots of experience in many areas. With these qualifications I'm sure he can go no where but up!

Education expense deductible

Expenses for education relating to your current employment may be deductible on your federal tax return.

To qualify, the expenses must meet one of two specific guidelines. Taking the course of study must be mandatory for continuance in your current employment status—for example, a teacher required to take a course to retain a teaching position. If not, the course must be helpful in maintaining or improving skills which are required in your present employment—for instance, a television repairman taking a special course to keep up with the latest changes.

Educational expenses include amounts spent on tuition, books, supplies, laboratory fees, and similar items, and certain travel and transportation costs. Except for reimbursed expenses included in income, travel, and transportation, educational expenses are an itemized deduction and should be listed on Schedule A (Form 1040) as a miscellaneous deduction. Travel, transportation, reimbursed expenses, and all outside salesperson's educational expenses are deducted as an adjustment to income using Form 2106.

Jan. 1, drivers must have liability insurance proof

Beginning January 1, 1982 Texas drivers contacted by Department of Public Safety accident investigations will be required to furnish proof of compliance with the new compulsory liability insurance law.

Under House Bill 197, an amendment to the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety Responsibility Act (670th) approved this year by the 67th Legislature, all drivers must carry minimum liability coverage for medical expenses of $10,000 per person ($20,000 for two or more) and property damages of $5,000.

Department of Public Safety Director, Colonel Jim Adams, reports troopers will accept as evidence of insurance coverage the policy for the vehicle being operated or a document issued by the insurance company.

"Such a document must contain a statement that the liability coverage for the motor vehicle is the minimum prescribed by the law," Adams said. "The document must also include the name of the insurance company, the name of the insured person, the policy period and the policy number. This document may take the form of a letter or a card, depending upon the preference of the insuring company."

Insurance companies throughout the state recommend drivers do not carry their original policy or a photostatic copy of the policy declaration page or the insuring agent's binding agreement. They would rather motorists carry with them an official card or letter.

Adams has pointed out that DPS troopers will be enforcing the provisions of this law along highways and rural roads. Local police officers and sheriff's deputies have also been given the authority to request this information.

Drivers who do not maintain the specified coverage, refuse to give information or give false information to law enforcement officers risk a minimum fine of $75 for the first offense or $200 for subsequent violations.

In addition, a conviction under this new law will result in the suspension of the violator's drivers license and motor vehicle registration unless the violator establishes and maintains proof of financial responsibility for five years from the conviction date.

For convicted violators to establish proof of financial responsibility, a filing of an "SR-22" form must be made to the Safety Responsibility Bureau in Austin by the violator's insurer as proof of coverage.

The SR- form, used as

Wildcats slated in county

ABCO Energy Corp., The Woodlands, will drill two 6,000-foot wildcats in Crockett County, 25 miles southwest of Ozona.

The No. 15-81 Marley, 2 5/8 miles southwest of the Adams-Baggett Ranch (Canyon gas) field, 2 3/4 miles west and slightly north of Canyon gas and 5 1/2 miles northwest of the Strawn gas opener and lone producer from that pay in the Hudspeth field, is 833 feet from the south and 876 feet from the east lines of 109-O-GH&SA. Ground elevation is 2,142 feet.

The No. 13-81 Marley, 1 1/4 miles southwest of the Adams-Baggett Ranch field, 2 3/8 miles northwest of Canyon gas and three miles northwest of the Strawn gas opener of the Hudspeth field, is 660 feet from the south and 1,320 feet from the west lines of 111-O-GH&SA. Ground elevation is 2,058 feet.

The firm has 11 other wildcats scheduled in the immediate vicinity.

ELECTRICITY TENDERIZES TEXAS BEEF

The tender steaks you've been buying at the meat counter or ordering in restaurants probably got that way because they were jolted with more than 500 volts of electricity, says a Texas A&M University researcher.

Meat packing plants across the country now routinely stimulate beef carcasses electrically, a procedure developed at Texas A&M that produces tender meat without chemicals.

"The process of electrical stimulation to tenderize steaks and make them more tasty has gained rapid popularity among meat packing plants," said Dr. Jeff Savell, an animal scientist in Texas A&M's College of Agriculture.

Mail-order ministers get audit

Should a taxpayer have faith in avoiding income taxes by buying a church charter through the mail? The people who sell the church charters say "yes," but the IRS says "no!" The federal tax agency routinely audits tax returns filed by the so-called mail-order ministers, according to IRS District Director Richard C. Voskuil.

While there are legitimate tax benefits for churches, and for people who donate to religious organizations, the mail-order schemers use the money to the benefit of the organizer.

Those persons convicted under this new law will pay 20 percent more than the standard rate for insurance, if in the TAIP. Drivers convicted a second time will pay up to 95 percent higher rates.

Out-of-state, government-owned and self-insured vehicles are exempt from these insurance requirements. However, drivers of self-insured vehicles will be asked by DPS officers to produce evidence of self-insurance at accident scenes and traffic stops.

Other facts worth mentioning: The insurance industry predicts liability premiums to increase because poor drivers who once were uninsured will now be put into the insurance system.

What's In A Name?

In show biz, where Jews have become dominant, in the U.S. at least, must we still change names on the assumption that the average American is prejudiced?

Must Jews still change their names to fool the average film goer, or does this really hide the degree of dominance? Is the nation still inclined to prefer gentiles or is it that the average American would be dumbfounded to know that all those Berles, Picketts, Thomases, Balls, Browns, Bacalls, Tracys, Robinsons, Rivers, Bennys, etc., etc., are usually someone else?

It's a good question. And since entertainment has a way of influencing public opinion, and since those controlling the industry drain billions from U.S. pocket-books annually, one sometimes thinks accurate identity, total honesty, might be preferable. The average American is not that prejudiced. But all of us would be interested to know how dominant any minority group is in TV and entertainment.

"Good breeding consists in concealing how much we think of ourselves, and how little we think of the other person." Mark Twain

Notice of Rate Increase

Effective Jan. 1, 1982, a rate increase will go into effect, as follows:

Regular rate, now $10 will be $11 per month

HBO, now $8, will be $9 per month

We regret the necessity of raising our rates, but our costs are rising and we are constantly improving TV service for our customers. Even at the new rate, our charges are generally lower than in most of our neighboring towns and cities. We have never made a monthly charge for extra connections in subscriber homes as is the case in most other systems, and we do not intend ever to do so.

HBO is going on 24-hour programming Jan. 1, thus accounting for its raise in rates. We are presently in the process of replacing $18,000 worth of microwave equipment to further modernize the system. We are proud of our system and hope our subscribers are too.

Guidelines for drugs and elderly

Coping with special risks that drugs pose for older adults takes care and understanding, cautions Judith Warren, a family life education specialist-aging.

Older people themselves need to assume greater responsibility in their own health and care and drug management, the specialist urges.

To help older people cope with their special risks, the National Institute on Drug Abuse has recommended several steps they can take:

Give clear information to your doctor.

Tell your doctor(s) about all the medicines you are taking.

Also, alert him or her to any allergies or known drug sensitivity you have.

Consider making a written list of your medicines before you visit the doctor.

Get clear information from your doctor.

It is your right to ask for—and your doctor's responsibility to give you—information about prescribed medications.

Make a list of any questions you have—such as those below—and ask them. The information you get could save you "headaches" and dollars.

What is the drug's name? Why am I taking it? What's it for?

When and how often should I take it?

Under what conditions and why should I take it? At meals, with certain foods or drinks?

Should I avoid certain things, such as driving? We can usually carry out instructions better when we know why.

How long should I take the medicine?

What are the possible side effects?

When should I report any problems?

For example, one side effect may be a headache, but if the headache is a very bad one, the doctor probably needs to know.

How should the drug be stored? In the refrigerator or away from heat, for example.

If you don't get all the information written down while you're with the doctor, Stop in the waiting room and finish up the answers before you leave.

That way, they will still be fresh in your mind.

Other safety steps to take are just as important as giving and getting clear information, Warren reminds.

Don't stop taking a drug without asking your doctor even if you feel o.k.

Don't take drugs prescribed for anyone else, and don't share your medications with others.

Keep your medicines in their original bottles.

Throw out old or expired medicines.

Finally, remember these "musts" above all: follow the doctor's instructions and alert your doctor to any problems you have. When in doubt, Ask.

With medicines, it's better to play it safe, Warren stresses.

Continuing trends mean ag. problems

Continuing present nationwide soil and water conservation trends would mean serious future conservation and farm production problems, according to a U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) report.

The finding is based on an analysis of the condition and trends of the soil, water and related resources of the United States. The analysis was part of a report required by congress in the Soil and Water Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), explains Clitis Sinclair, district conservationist for the Crockett District.

The analysis shows that the demand for food and fiber produced in the United States would increase while technological advances in agricultural production would decrease.

Without better technology to boost production, the demand to produce more food and fiber will mean that more acres of marginal land will be farmed. The result will be increased soil erosion rates and other resource problems.

If this happens, the productive capacity of American agriculture would decrease and production costs would increase.

The report says that these resource problems need to be addressed most quickly: Excessive erosion rates, upstream flood damages, groundwater depletion, and deteriorated water quality.

To project future conditions, the USDA analyst used a computer model to simulate the nation's agricultural productivity related to erosion. Although the model's results can't be taken as absolute indicators of what will happen, they do show the relative direction of American agriculture and the possible magnitude of future resource conditions and problems.

RCA Appraisal Part II, the second of three major RCA documents, contains the detailed analysis of the trends in the use and condition of America's soil and water resource base. A copy of this and other RCA documents is available for reference use at SCS and Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices throughout the state.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

So many people are remembering their friends at our Care Center at this time of the year. It is good to have those who do not forget to share the good they find in life. If you are one who "has been meaning to" but have not made a visit to a friend in our Center, let this be your reminder that our people love people, love knowing that someone cares.

Activities of the week began with dominoes being played by Frank Jefferson, Seferino Garcia, Carol Reed, Ola Mills, Louise McWilliams, Bertha Miller, and Paul Cavin Monday morning.

Monday afternoon we had a birthday party sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary and directed by Alice Ross and Dorothy Doll. Corsages were furnished by Maxine's Flower Shop. Birthday people of the month include: Grace Cotter, Arthur Phillips, Gertrude Daniels, Seferino Garcia, Delfina Lara, Brownie Harvick. Volunteers included Louise Johnigan, Grace Dorsey, Liz Mary Pipes, Sadie Whitehurst, Maria Vitela, Edward Fierro and Elvira Higginbottom.

Tuesday afternoon Jo Cook, Opal Watkins, Geneva Bell, Jean Solomon, Jan Solomon and daughter, Sarah Elizabeth Solomon, and members of the First Baptist Church of Big Lake brought us our annual Christmas shopping spree and party complete with entertainment and refreshments. This group each year brings nice gifts for our residents to select and then give to their families for Christmas. Sarah played the piano while the residents "shopped." These are the same ladies who cleaned some of our greenware for ceramics and helped the residents paint them earlier this month.

Thanks also goes to the ladies of the Big Lake Auxiliary #3216 for sending beauty shop supplies, and just when we were on our last bottle of White Mix at that!

We had help with decorating our home this week from Thelma Janes' Girl Scouts #189, Charlotte Judd's Girl Scouts #128, and the PTL Club girls. The kissing balls spoken of last week are now up. Doris Hoffman and her daughters Danielle and Jeannie helped make us some extra ones and we really appreciate their time and effort.

Wednesday the following ladies from Woman's Forum came and gift wrapped the gifts from the shopping spree: Jane Black, Doris Moore, Georgia Kirby, and Crystelle Childress. Also helping from the Ladies Auxiliary of Ozona were Grace Dorsey and Dorothy Doll. Frances Borrego from the Center also helped.

Mary Helen Parks obtained and sent us a movie furnished through the school system which we enjoyed on Wednesday afternoon.

Thursday we had our beauty shop, our afternoon Bible study, and our night-time Spanish hour. These volunteers are always so faithful!

Friday morning Bingo winner was Bertha Miller with a gift certificate from The Teacher Store and also she was the winner of a special game prize which was a lovely Kleenex box with a needle point cover made and donated by Liz Mary Pipes. Verna Talley was second place winner. Winner of a dinner for two at El Chato's was Carol Reed.

A nice Christmas party was the Friday afternoon treat brought by the Fidelis Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church of Ozona. They brought lovely refreshments, gifts, and lots of personal visitation which is a treasured gift of oneself that is greatly appreciated by our residents. Those members present included: Liz Mary Pipes, Jewel Bailey, Lucille Littleton, Anna Belle Patrick, and Dorothy Doll.

Christmas cards and decorations as well as store discounts have been furnished by Diana Dodd, Clayton's Village Drug, Baker Jewelers, South Texas Lumber and Perry's.

Our thanks to Jane Black for our poinsetta and The Upper Room in large print. The Ozona Stockman for Christmas card notebooks, Foodway for a case of popcorn, Sadie Whitehurst for mending some clothes, and Mina Dowdy and the Fidelis Sunday School for three lap throws.

We have parties three nights this week coming up. (Bet that is more than some of our readers!)

The cast for this play consisted of Bogan O'Bryant, Cathy Castro, Jill Sanchez, Joann Rodriguez, Monica Sanchez, Will Hoover, and Kathy Weant. "Christmas for Carol" was the second play. The members of this cast consisted of Cathy Weant, Marcia Morin, Glenda Capps, Joann Rodriguez, and Jill Sanchez. The Speech class really did a good job and everybody enjoyed the Christmas celebration. Between the two plays we were entertained by Merry Stratis, Erika Lee, Bucky Moreno, Joe Lara and Santiago Ybarra. This group performed two songs, "Open Arms" and "Don't Stop Believing". Both of the songs are by "Journey". They did a super job and really got everyone into the Christmas spirit.

A HOLIDAY HOEDOWN
By-Sue Ellen Black

On December 18, 1981, from 8-12 p.m., there will be the annual Christmas Dance at the Civic Center. The dance is put on each year by the sophomore class.

The Sophomore sponsors this year are Mrs. North, Mr. Hood, and Mr. Hicks. They are the lucky people in charge of persuading the sophomores to work in the basketball concession stands to raise money for their class.

The theme for this year's dance is "Here Comes Santa Claus". The music will be by "Whiplash". Sometime during the dance, the Christmas King and Queen will be chosen.

Last but definitely not least, for all of you good little boys and girls, old Santa himself may make a jolly appearance at the dance. So try to be real good between now and Christmas, (it's not very long) and maybe you'll get to see Santa for real.

JR. HIGH BASKETBALL ABOUNDS AGAIN
By-Wendy Hood

The Jr. High boys played against Big Lake this week. The seventh grade game was Monday night and they lost with a score of 30-20.

Coach Hansen said the boys were trying very hard, but this was their first out of town game and they were scared. Abel Lara was high scorer and the entire team played. The boy's main trouble was their lack of height which caused trouble on the boards.

The eighth grade game was also Monday night. It was their second game of the season and they won with a score of 44-34. This was a really close game until the last three minutes, when the boys started pulling ahead.

Steve Sanchez was high scorer with 16 points, and Chuey Hernandez did a good job on the boards with 10 rebounds.

The Jr. High boys will play Wall, Monday, 14th, and Big Lake again Thursday, 17th. 51ST ANNUAL OZONA INVITATIONAL BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT

This past weekend the 51st Annual Ozona Invitational Basketball Tournament was held in Davidson Gym. There were 12 teams participating in the tournament. The teams were Big Lake, Stanton, Crane, Iraan, Sonora Varsity, Sonora J.V., Eden, Ozona Varsity, Ozona J.V., Eldorado, Wall, and Junction.

The Ozona Lions played their first game Thursday night against the Junction Eagles. Ozona lost 52-50 in over-time. The Lions next played the Eldorado Eagles at 4:45 Friday afternoon and beat them 53-43. This would have made us play our J.V. team, but the J.V. forfeited. This placed us in the consolation bracket where we then played Stanton for consolation and won 55 to 54.

The Crane Golden Cranes won the tournament by defeating the Sonora Broncos. The Wall Hawks won third place and Stanton received the Sportsmanship Award.

The all-tournament team members voted on by the coaches and officials this year were: Scott Church, Stanton; Lance Powell, Wall; Joe Lopez, Eden; Eddie Jones, Crane; Ruben Codena, Crane; Ricky Haney, Junction; Ronnie Anderson, Sonora; Gregg Fisher, Big Lake; and two Ozona Lions--senior Varlyn Aldridge, and Junior Zeke Hernandez.

The eighth grade girls also played Big Lake. They lost by the score of 14 to 19. The high point scorer for this game was Donna Sanchez with 6 points followed by Vanessa Miller with 5 points. Olga DeHoyos and Radene Flores were leading rebounders. TEACHING SCHOOL AND GOING TO COLLEGE

By-Stacy Chapman

If asked to define the word "teacher", most everyone would think of some kind of character with a one-track mind on school, who has no hobbies whatsoever and who would be found anytime after 3:30 each afternoon at home grading homework or planning our lessons. Well, Mr. McWilliams is living proof that we are wrong in our definition of "teacher".

David Norris McWilliams Jr., was born in Big Lake, Texas, on December 3, 1952. He is one of 2 children and has 1 older sister. He is now married and he and his wife have 2 beautiful, twin daughters named Amber Lee and Autumn Kee who are 20 months old.

Mr. McWilliams attended high school for a while at Notre Dame International in Rome and then spent his senior year and graduated from Wheelus in Tripoli. Yes, it does sound a little strange, but due to his dad's job, they got to live in some extraordinary places. Mr. McWilliams went to college in a more familiar institute, Angelo State University. There he majored in health and physical education and minored in Biology.

While going to college he and 2 other guys all lived together in a rather "creepy" trailer house. Mr. McWilliams said they "generally had anywhere from 14

Phone someone this Christmas.

This year, say Merry Christmas with a phone from GTE. We've got phones that say it the old-fashioned way, phones that take the modern approach, and phones that stand on their own two feet (and come with their own two ears). What's more, you can actually take these phones home, wrap them up and put them under the tree. So call your local General Telephone business office. For a gift that really communicates.

Hospital board in meeting

The Crockett County Hospital Board met Thursday evening, Dec. 10, at the hospital. The financial statement was presented for approval and Jody Conaway explained collections and the new format for reporting the financial condition of the hospital.

A general discussion was held concerning laboratory procedures and personnel. Dr. Don Carlisle commented on the number of tests being sent out to reference labs and suggested that technicians be instructed to perform all tests possible in the local lab. Attitudes of technicians was also discussed and more discipline was recommended in their working relationship with both patients and physicians.

The salary level of the nursing staff was discussed in general, especially in the area of nurses aides. A new entry level for aides needs to be established which will increase LVN and RN wages as well. Wages will increase in January.

Beware of flight insurance

Traveling by air for the holidays? Beware of flight insurance, advises Linda McCormack.

Even though some people may feel flight insurance is a wise idea because of the air-traffic controllers' strike, that's no reason to buy air-travel insurance, the specialist says.

"Air-travel insurance is exorbitantly priced. It wasn't worth buying before the strike—and it still isn't."

McCormack says.

"This insurance offers very limited protection. A passenger pays a lot and gets very little," she says.

On the other hand, the specialist suggests that basic life and medical insurance policies will "do the job" of protecting air passengers adequately.

"If you're afraid of flying because of the strike, make sure your own basic life and medical insurance policies are up to date," she says.

"Don't make last-minute bets against death by air crash—which is why most people buy flight insurance. The chance of dying on a typical air trip is about one in a million," McCormack says.

If you are convinced you need extra insurance due to airline travel, buy an annual renewable "term life" insurance policy rather than air-travel insurance, she suggests. "The cost will be much cheaper for more protection," she adds.

Ozona girls to compete in state rodeo pageant

Two Ozona girls are entered in the Miss Rodeo Texas Pageant this year. Melinda Hokit, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hokit is entered under the title of Southwest Texas Junior College Rodeo Queen. Kim Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Tite Bishop is entered under the title of Ozona Junior Rodeo Queen.

The Miss Rodeo Texas and Miss Rodeo Texas 'Teen' Pageant is for young ladies between the ages of 13 and 24 years of age. They must come to the Pageant with a title that they have won. The pageant is judged by nine judges from over the United States with three judges judging the categories of Horsemanship, Personality and Western Attire.

Winners will receive scholarships, handmade saddles, special designed buckles and a complete western wardrobe. The winner of the Miss Rodeo Texas title will receive the use of a new pickup truck and trailer to use during her year of reign. Both winners will be traveling extensively throughout the state of Texas promoting PRCA Rodeos, Stock Shows and Western Events, with all expenses paid. The Miss Rodeo Texas will win an expense paid trip to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma to compete in the Miss Rodeo America Pageant which is held in conjunction with the National Rodeo Finals. If she should win the title of Miss Rodeo America she will move to Denver, Colorado where she will serve as a hostess for the P.R.C.A. during her year of reign. After her year of reign she will have the option of competing for the title of Miss World Rodeo, which five countries compete in. The winner of this title will receive a $25,000 cash award and will have her expenses paid throughout the year to represent rodeo in these five countries.

The pageant for Texas will be held Jan. 13 thru Jan. 17, at the Sheraton-San Antonio Motor Inn in San Antonio. The public is invited to attend the functions and may write to Miss Rodeo Texas Pageant, P.O. Box 906, Stephenville, Texas 76401 for more information. Deadline for entries for the 1982 pageant is December 1, 1981.

Fifty-three 4-H members participated in the Annual Crockett County 4-H Show held Saturday morning at the Civic Center. Keeping accurate financial records for income tax purposes should be as important as keeping a record of the family tree.

When the time comes for filing a federal tax return, good records can mean the difference between filing an accurate return or an inaccurate one, the Internal Revenue Service says. Good records can also insure that taxpayers take all the deductions and benefits they are entitled to.

Taxpayers are not required to use a specific record-keeping system, however, receipts, cancelled checks, bills, old returns and other written documents are essential in proving expenses. Tax records should be kept at least three years after the return is due or filed, or two years after the tax was paid, whichever is later.

An exception to the three-year retention rule is a property transaction, such as the purchase of real estate. These records should be kept for as long as they are helpful in determining the basis of original or replacement property.

More detailed information about recordkeeping appears in the free IRS Publication 552, "Recordkeeping Requirements and a List of Tax Publications." Taxpayers can obtain the free publication by mail by using the handy order blank contained in the tax package, or calling the IRS Tax Forms/Information number listed in the local telephone directory.

Fat mares are not poor breeders as believed

The popular belief that fat mares are poor breeders is simply not true, according to a research study conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. In fact the study shows that good body condition improved re-breeding after foaling.

The study measured the reproductive performance of 959 mares, including those on four Texas ranches during the 1981 breeding season. Ranches involved were the Wilson Ranch, Inc., Pattison; Shelton Ranches, Inc., Kerrville; Phillips Ranch, Frisco; and McDermott Ranch, Madisonville.

According to Dr. Gary Potter, Experiment Station horse researcher and professor of animal science at Texas A&M University, horses in the intensive study were grouped into four levels of body condition and nutrition: fat mares that foaled and were fed to stay fat, fat mares that foaled and were fed to lose weight, thin mares that foaled and were fed to gain weight, and thin mares that foaled and were fed to lose weight.

A key finding in the study was that the first three groups of mares had about a 90 percent conception rate within 30 days after foaling while less than half the horses in the fourth group became pregnant within a month after foaling.

"This shows that fat mares will conceive as well as or better than thin mares that are kept thin during lactation," points out Potter.

Not only do fat mares or those in good condition conceive faster after foaling, but they are also cheaper to maintain, notes Potter.

"It takes more than twice as much feed to add a pound of fat to a mare than to maintain the extra flesh. This means 30 to 40 pounds of grain a day to get a thin mare back into condition for breeding within 30 days after foaling. So you're talking about a lot of money for feed," emphasizes Potter.

"Also, energy needs are highest during late winter and early spring when you're trying to get your mares in condition for breeding. Therefore, it's best to allow mares to gain weight during late summer and fall when grazing is plentiful and energy needs are down and then to keep them in good condition throughout the winter months," adds the horse official.

Stud farm managers also like to see mares in good condition so they can get the mare bred quickly, notes Potter. They are in the business of breeding mares and don't want to keep the mare around and feed her just because she doesn't breed. At today's board rates, the extra time required to get a thin mare in foal could cost $250 to $500 more than if she was in good condition.

"A mare in good condition needs to gain at least 100 pounds during her pregnancy to allow for growth of the foal," believes Potter. "She'll lose about 150 pounds at foaling but must still be able to produce enough milk for her foal and RCC designates two fields in Crockett Co.

The Texas Railroad Commission, Oil & Gas Division, has announced designation for two fields in Crockett County.

The Live Oak Draw, North (Strawn) field was opened Sept. 30 with completion of Harrison Interests Ltd., Houston, No. 6 Joe Willie McMullan "A", 10 1/2 miles southeast of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2,100,000 cubic feet of gas daily, through perforations at 9,064-92 1/2 feet.

Location is 660 feet from the south and 2,018 feet from the east lines of 3-F-GC&SF.

The Pikes Peak Draw (Eilenburger) field was opened Oct. 5 with completion of Joe McGuire, Midland, No. 2 Joe F. Bean "C", 14 miles northwest of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 607,000 cubic feet of gas daily, with gas-liquid ratio of 307,984-1, through perforations at 6,851-7,226 feet. Gravity of the condensate was 70.10 degrees.

Location is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of 48-UV-GC&SF.

get pregnant again within a month whether she's fed to gain or to lose weight."

Foal growth for all the different groups of mares was similar, indicating that energy requirements for lactation were being met.

Overall, Potter comes to these conclusions regarding body condition of mares:

Mares foaling in thin condition apparently have impaired reproductive performance even when energy requirements for lactation are met.

Increasing the energy fed to these mares during lactation improves re-breeding efficiency, but the large amount of feed required to produce weight gains may increase the risk of colic and founder.

Mares foaling in fat condition can use stored body energy for efficient reproduction and lactation even when losing weight.

Foaling problems do not increase with mares in fat condition.

Open and maiden mares should enter the breeding season in moderate or higher condition to achieve maximum reproductive efficiency.

Excess fat does not reduce breeding efficiency of non-lactating mares.

Foaling mares should foal in moderate or higher condition to achieve maximum re-breeding efficiency.

Improving body condition above moderate levels does not improve or impair reproductive performance in mares.

"Our overall conclusion is that breeding efficiency is apparently maximized by maintaining mares in moderate or higher body condition (a condition score of 5 or more on a scale of 1 to 9) throughout the year," says Potter.

Mrs. O. D. West, who was critically injured in an automobile accident the latter part of October, has been transferred from San Angelo, to the local hospital, and expects to be home by the end of this week.

June Henderson returned to her home here over the weekend after recovering from two bouts with surgery in a San Angelo hospital. She has made good recovery.

ENERGY EFFICIENT HOMES COULD MAKE YOU SICK

Some homes are so energy efficient they could make you sick, says a Texas A&M University architect.

The problem is indoor pollution resulting from a build-up of dangerous chemicals and gases trapped inside buildings constructed with air infiltration barriers. The barriers reduce the rate air inside the building is exchanged with outside air.

Barriers, not to be confused with insulation such as polyethylene sheeting, can be placed in walls and urethane foam can be sprayed around the 2X4's that form the base of houses built on concrete slabs. These barriers, which can reduce heating costs up to 25 percent, make it more difficult for the house to "breathe."

Degelman said dangerous gases like carbon monoxide and the radioactive gas radon (which is released naturally from soil and some building materials) can build up in these tight houses and pose a problem to the occupants.

Experiment with big game recipes

It is fun to try new recipes and to make up some of your own. Expect some failures along with successes when you are "experimenting" with big game cookery. Be sure to write down the recipe for any dish you really enjoyed. General rules for successful cookery of big game are:

Cook big game the same as lean beef. Most game has little fat and corresponds in quality to beef carcasses with little or no external fat. It should be cooked in the same way. The tender cuts such as the loin and rib can be pan fried or roasted. Round steak, meat from the leg and the less tender cuts are best when cooked by moist heat—braising, stewing or pot roasting.

Do not overcook big game meat. It has short fibers that toughen quickly if overcooked or cooked at too high temperature. Plan to serve it medium to well-done, never rare or overcooked.

Use acid to tenderize. Vinegar, tomato sauce and French dressing sauces are good for tenderizing big game. Cover slices or chunks of meat and allow to stand in the marinating sauces for at least 24 hours. Pan fry to medium-done.

Reduce the sugar in sauce recipes. The natural flavor is sweeter than other meat. Sauces made for domestic meats may be too sweet; use one-fourth less sugar.

Remove all visible fat before cooking. The gamey flavor is exaggerated in the fat. If fat is desired, ground pork or beef fat may be substituted.

Big game is a dry meat; moisten to prevent dryness. Chunks of beef fat may be added to self-baste it or the surface may be covered with bacon strips anchored with toothpicks.

I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By Jerry Lay

Here's one hard to believe, but it's true. Although Terry Bradshaw is the only quarterback in history to win 4 Super Bowls, he's never led the National Football League in passing in any season, and, although his teammate Franco Harris has gained more total yards rushing than any other player in the game today, Harris has never won the rushing title at the end of any season.

Which major-college football team in the nation has gone the most years without having a losing season? Answer is Penn State which has not lost more games than they won in any season since 1938. They have now gone the amazing total of 43 straight years without a losing season but, oddly, Penn State has never won the national championship in any year.

Oddly enough, only once in football history have 2 major-college teams from the same state played each other in a post-season bowl game. The only time it's ever happened was in the 1965 Sun Bowl when Texas Christian played Texas-El Paso.
