Our readers are the best people in the world. After being so embarrassed about the paper last week, due to the break down of a machine, we received not one complaint. On the contrary, several persons complimented us. One said it was easier to read, another liked the black cut lines under the pictures and just generally healed our wounded pride. Still, we plan to enter a copy of that paper in the "Worst Looking Newspaper Contest," at the next opportunity.

We failed to report on the rain and thunderstorms after we lost our "t" last week. However, we are happy to report as of today, Ozona has received a grand total of 1.06 inches of rain during the month of February. The thunderstorm about 5 p.m. February 11, also had a little hail. It was an unexpected spring storm, and if those who quote the old axiom "thunder in February, frost in April," are to be given credence, we may lose the biggest part of our fruit crop, and pecans. The last few warm days have seen fruit tree buds swell and bulbs blooming all over town.

There is going to be no end to good places to eat in Ozona. El Chato's offers lunch specials now, as does Pepe's. Ye Olde Steak House is also popular with the noon lunch crowd. Charlie Frazier will open the old M & M Cafe next week and the Circle Bar is a popular spot for dining, along with the Ozona Steak House. All this when we are dieting.

For fast foods try Norma's Kountry Kitchen, Red Apple Dairy King or Dina's Poco Taco. Tom is on a diet of less than 1,000 calories, and since I am the cook, I just eat the fare I prepare for him. We are both going to Pat Walker's. He lost 10 1/2 pounds last week and I lost 2. How about that.

Larry Petron brought us a clipping last week from the Foxworth newsletter. We couldn't use it because it had t's in it. Here it is and how true, how true:

RODS PRODS-after hearing the president's State-of-the-Union message the other night and the loyal opposition's reply to it, and the news medias misunderstanding of both, it is abundantly clear that almost no one KNOWS the state of our union, and those that do certainly don't know how to fix it.

Board names Cotton Asst. Superintendent

The Board of Trustees of the Crockett County Consolidated Common School District, in its February regular meeting, promoted Ted Cotton, long-time school employee and current principal of the Ozona Intermediate School to the position of Assistant Superintendent.

Mr. Cotton, who will complete eighteen years of service in the local school system at the end of the 1982-83 school term, will begin his new duties as director of curriculum planning, supervision, and evaluation on July 1, 1983. He will also be in charge of the accreditation procedures within the district and will be responsible for other "special" educational programs. Other duties will include official custodian of textbooks and development of a continuing public information system.

Cotton is an experienced administrator who is respected by his students, staff, and colleagues. He will perform a very important role in the instructional improvement of the Ozona Schools.

He and his wife, Virginia, a second-grade teacher at Ozona Primary School, have two daughters in the Ozona Schools. Christy is a fourth grade student and Jana Kay is in the first grade.

Another action taken by the Board of Trustees at its regular meeting, which will have an impact on the future of Ozona's High School instructional program, was its decision to request a bond election to be called for the purpose of renovating the school building on Avenue E which formerly housed the Junior High School. The "Old" Junior High Building was put back into use this year with temporary classrooms for speech and art. Renovation of the building will enable the high school to further improve and expand the curriculum by developing programs in basic and special education, programs for the gifted and talented, classroom space for expanding career/vocational efforts, and rooms to expand the advances in educational technology such as computer literacy and application.

Architect Ron Barbutti is finalizing preliminary plans and estimates for the project, and additional information will be made available in the very near future. The firm of Kidder, Peabody Company has been secured by the school board to assist in the development of the bond proposal. Architect Barbutti is working closely with the Texas Commission for General Services and the Texas Historical Survey Commission in order to meet state requirements and preserve the historical significance of the building construction and design.

Other business conducted by the Board of Trustees included approval of microfiche equipment and supplies to update and improve student research capabilities in the high school library. Mrs. Sherry York, Librarian, explained the purpose and the use of the microfiche process.

Also approved was a position for an athletic and physical education trainer who has met state certification requirements in prevention, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries to students in the school district. Athletic Director L. T. "Rip" Sewell made a presentation to the Board explaining the advantages of having a trainer and outlining the duties which would be required of the position.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss Debbie Deaton from her coaching and teaching duties in the school system effective at the end of the school year. Miss Deaton will return to college to further develop her interests in the field of geology. Contracts were extended for employees who are on two-year contracts to include the 1984-85 school year. These employees are principals: Jim Payne, High School; C. R. Womack, Junior High; and Walter Spiller, Primary; also, Rip Sewell, Athletic Director; Don Abbott, Head Football Coach; and John Curry, Head Boys' Basketball Coach.

The vacant position of Intermediate School Principal, created by the promotion of Ted Cotton will be filled within the near future. Interest by employees within the district who have administrative certification will be assessed before other applications are considered.

Other action taken by the board included the purchase of two school buses, the sale of a 1965 Corvair automobile which has been donated to the O.H.S. Shop, and the approval of a third adult computer class.

Lions close out season with loss

By-Ross A. Alexander

Paced by Reuben Saucedo's 24 point performance, Ballinger ruined the Ozona Lions' final home appearance of the season 76-58 Friday evening in Davidson Memorial Gymnasium before the largest and most vocal crowd of the year, in a wild and wooly contest which saw some 59 fouls called.

The Bearcats held the usually potent Ozona axis of Martinez, Bean, and Massey to a total of just 22 points as the domination of this year's Lion team by the aggressively physical squad from Ballinger continued. Steve Sanchez, whose awesome offensive talents were barely evident in the crucial first quarter of action, came on somewhat in the second half and finished with 18 points on the night to lead all Lion scorers.

However, the most satisfying development for Ozona fans was the fine defensive performance of the courageous Kent Hokit, who blocked shots, dished off a spectacular bounce-pass assist to Martinez, and generally provided solid floor leadership, as Coach Curry elected to more or less rest David Badillo.

Although the Lions' record was 13-12 for the season overall, Coach Curry's excellent system is in place and Ozona fans can expect some really fine basketball next year as the returning varsity members and the talented JV players move up to fill the vacancies created by the loss of Curry's graduating seniors.

A Lion inside source, noting the winning record said, "You know, John Curry pulled off a miracle in producing a winner in this his first season with the limited basketball talent he had to work with. He has the great ability to show well down the line however, and we can expect some really exciting Lion basketball from now on. He has the junior high coaches using his system, and from this point, he won't have to do so much teaching and will be able to concentrate on just coaching."

Beardmore services here Sat.

Funeral services for Roscoe (Ross) W. Beardmore, 89, were held at graveside at 2 p.m. Saturday in Cedar Hill Cemetery. Dr. Nelson Lanham, pastor of First Baptist Church officiated.

Mr. Beardmore died Friday at 6:20 a.m. in Crockett County Hospital.

He was born in Graysville, Ohio, August 12, 1893. He had been a resident of Ozona for the past 34 years. He married Gean Martin, June 1, 1935, in Roswell, N.M. He was a retired rig builder and oilfield pumper. Survivors include his wife of Ozona; two daughters, Mrs. Gene Lilly of Ozona, and Mrs. Bill Seeds of Nocona, and four grandchildren.

Crime stoppers now in operation

The local Crime Stoppers program got underway officially last week when the hotline was installed and the number 392-5000 became available for anonymous reporting of crime. The line will be manned from 8 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Rewards of from $50 and more will be offered for the arrest and indictment of a perpetrator through a hotline tip. The caller need not give a name, but will be given a code number and asked to call back in a month to check on the disposition of the case. Also, rewards will be given anonymously.

The local Crime Stoppers is patterned after the San Angelo chapter, which has proven very successful since its inception. The program here is sponsored by the Ozona Womens Forum, and Mrs. Kirby Moore is chairman. A committee of officials determine rewards and committee members will remain anonymous.

In a meeting Friday at the Crockett County Jail, the Crime of the Week was selected. The news media members and law enforcement officials meeting with Mrs. Moore were David Young, manager of KRCT radio; Kitty Montgomery, Ozona Stockman; Steve Kenley, special investigator for the Sheriff's Department; Wayne Wahl, chief deputy; and R. B. Babbitt of the Department of Public Safety. It was decided the Crime of the Week would be spotlighted each Wednesday. It will be announced over the radio beginning at 7:45 a.m. and will appear in the Stockman when it comes out at noon. R. B. Babbitt will be announcing the radio spots.

This week's spotlighted crime concerns cow theft by butchering. Three cows have been found butchered over the past three months. All were found north of Ozona near Highway 163. The first case was reported November 11, when the remains of a three-year-old cow

Prison inmate speaks to OHS students

A twenty-year-old inmate of Texas Department of Corrections' Huntsville prison spoke to high school and junior high school students and teachers in an assembly at the Ozona High School Auditorium Monday morning, stressing respect for the law and the prison systems.

Convicted of drug-related burglary charges and sentenced to ten years in TDC, the young man told students his problems started when he started "running with the wrong crowd" and failing to resist peer pressures to become involved with drugs and alcohol.

He also related his "life story" to the group, telling students he thought he knew all the answers when he was a teenager, and that he wouldn't listen to the advice of his parents or teachers.

"If what I have to say will help just one of you," he said, "it will be worth it." Sponsored by the TDC and the local probation office, the program is aimed at helping to direct teenagers into becoming law-abiding citizens.

was found one-half mile south of Midway Lane. The head, both shoulders and the hindquarters were taken. The second crime was discovered on Dec. 29, again on the Boyd Baker Ranch, three and one-half miles south of the site of the first crime. In this case, the entire cow was taken. The hide was recovered several weeks later at the dump ground east of Ozona. The third case was reported January 31, when a calf was discovered butchered on the J. B. Parker ranch.

Any person who was traveling in this vicinity during the night or early morning on these dates and noticed any vehicles driving slowly or parked along the side of the road, please call Crime Stoppers, 392-2500. Officials believe the beef was brought to Ozona to be disposed of. Anyone having information on these crimes is asked to call the hotline, and if the information leads to the arrest and indictment of the perpetrators, a $100 reward will be given. You need not give your name. Just give the information to the person answering the 392-2500 number and you will be given a code. When you call back you will identify yourself by the code number and you will be given information on the case.

The program depends entirely on contributions from local persons and business people, and donations are being solicited for the program. However, those who have not been contacted may make their contribution by mailing a check to Crime Stoppers, P. O. Box 1515, Ozona.

The program has worked well over the state, and is credited with a decrease in certain crime in areas where it is used. The crime of child abuse has received much Crime Stopper attention, as it allows reporting of the crime anonymously. It has also proved effective in drug and vandalism related crimes.

GTE offers local business service

The advantages of a local telephone company business office are now available in Ozona at the Flower Basket, 1004 Sheffield, next to the Ozona Chamber of Commerce.

Open for business February 14, 1983, General Telephone's new local service agency at that location offers telephone customers a variety of services, some of which customers can use to avoid charges that would apply if the company sends an employee to a customer's premise.

Now customers can, among other things, take advantage of the new facility to:

- Pay their telephone bills
- Shop for phones
- Apply for new or additional service
- Initiate any needed repairs

Should a customer need to discontinue service, they can save on their final bill by returning the phone to the same location.

General Telephone's Ozona local service agency at the Flower Basket is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

VICA chapter wins big at show

Ozona's High School Auto Mechanics Class competed in the District VICA contest this past weekend in San Angelo.

VICA is the leadership organization of the Auto Mechanics class. VICA which stands for Vocational Industrial Clubs of America is an International Organization comprising of students in Vocational Education classes in the fields of trade and industry.

In the competition in San Angelo the Ozona students did very well. In the skills competition Chad Poindexter placed fifth overall in the whole field, also Greg Fierro placed fifth in the Wheel Alignment contest. Robert Flores was elected District Sgt. of Arms for 83-84. In the exhibit contest a student must score a 95 in order to qualify for the State VICA meet.

Willie Payne, Chad Poindexter, Henry Delgado, Gino Tambunga, Javier Sanchez, Jose Flores and Oscar Vargas qualified for the state meet. Along with these individual projects the club qualified their club project which was a replica of a 1927 Sprint T Roadster. This Roadster was a joint project of the Auto Mechanics Class and Circle Bar Racing.

The car is the second one that has been built by the Auto Shop and has been an eye catcher. The cars have been a vital part of the learning process for the students of Ozona High School. The students go into the planning and building of the automobile. The car this year was sponsored by Tom Mitchell and the Circle Bar Truck Corral. Tom Mitchell, Chet Fillip and the students are the people responsible for the project's success so far.

The students also entered the roadster and two other vehicles at the San Angelo Custom Car and Hot Rod Show. One of the vehicles was the project the students built the previous year which was a replica of a 1923 Model T. The third project was Tom Mitchell's 1947 Ford pickup. All three of these vehicles placed first in their respective class. The 1927 Sprint T Roadster won an overall championship trophy for the best built Roadster.

The Roadster will be entered in State Meet for VICA students in Fort Worth on April 14, 15, 16. The class would like to thank Tom Mitchell and Chet Fillip for the help and recognition they have given this VICA Chapter and Ozona High School.

"ONLY THREE PEOPLE IN THE CAR, BOOK'EM"

By Edwin Feulner

The Nation's Capital is quite a sports town. Washingtonians love their Super Bowl-champ Redskins, and during the recent NFL playoffs football fever was rampant. Bumper stickers proclaiming love for the 'Skins' were selling like crazy, as were posters, team photos and t-shirts bearing the symbol of the "Hogs," the self-adopted nickname for the team's offensive front line. One store was even having a run on $35 music boxes that play the team song, Hail to the Redskins.

Probably the hottest selling objects were tickets to the NFC championship game between the 'Skins' and their most-love-to-hate cross-country rivals, the Dallas Cowboys—"America's Team." Remember those American Express card TV spots of Cowboy coach Tom Landry in western garb being surrounded by Redskins in a frontier saloon?

Well, tickets for that long-awaited game at R.F.K. Stadium sold out immediately. So the only way to get tickets was to buy them from someone who either couldn't make it to the game, or had never intended to go; people who bought up tickets specifically in anticipation of reselling them for a profit. Twenty-dollar tickets were going for $150 or more. The Washington Post carried column after column of classified ads either advertising tickets for sale or tickets "wanted to buy."

This 'ticket scalping,' as it is called, brings us to the point of this column. According to one newspaper report, D.C. police arrested more than thirty people for selling their tickets at a profit. You see this is illegal in certain areas of the city. Talk about 'victimless' crimes! It makes you wonder how many other crimes were taking place unpunished that same day: muggings, stickups, robberies, rapes, you name it.

Granted there are crimes labeled victimless which are not as harmless as one might think. Prostitution is one of the most oft-cited examples. Quite often prostitution is accompanied by other criminal activities, such as drug dealing, mugging of customers, enslavement of young runaways—both male and female. Yes, there are sound arguments against prostitution being considered a victimless crime. But ticket scalping?

Mind you, this is not the fault of the police officers who arrested these scalpers. Rather, one must question those who assign them to a particular crime task force.

One wonders how many other examples there are around the nation of police units being assigned to 'defend' us against such serious crimes as selling tickets to sporting events at obscene profits.

Commuters to the Nation's Capital from neighboring Virginia have been questioning yet-another example of the misassigning of law-enforcement manpower that might better be used elsewhere in the war on crime.

Recently, after several years of inactivity, Interstate-66 was opened as a major link between the Old Dominion and the District. But during peak commuter hours (inbound in the morning and outbound in the evening), this major artery is open only to what the bureaucrats have dubbed "HOV-4" in their governmental gibberish. Translated into English, HOV means "high occupancy vehicle." The "4" means four-passenger. Thus, HOV-4 means, only vehicles with four or more passengers may use I-66 in rush hours, despite the fact that all of the taxpayers financed its construction.

It is generally recognized that there are laws on the books which should be repealed, but until that happens these laws should be enforced. If the law says you cannot sell a ticket to a public event at a profit, and a police officer is in a position to catch the culprit in the act, an arrest must be made. For the officer to do otherwise would be dereliction of duty. Or if an officer is cruising a highway which is restricted—reasonably or unreasonably—to cars with a particular number of passengers, and the officer sees an underoccupied car, a ticket should be issued.

But when police officers are specifically assigned to ferret out such 'crimes' while other far-more-serious crimes are being committed in and around the city, that is not serving the best interests of the public.

(Feulner is president of The Heritage Foundation, a Washington-based public policy research institute.)

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The skies cleared again last week for Gov. Mark White when two embattled utility commissioners resigned, allowing him to appoint two new commissioners who promise to abolish the controversial fuel costs pass-through on utility bills.

White's foremost campaign pledge was to abolish the clause, but he also promised to appoint "a housewife" to the Public Utility Commission. In the wake of last week's resignations, he nominated El Paso housewife Peggy Rosson, who also happens to be chairman of the El Paso Public Utility Regulatory Board.

Also nominated was former commissioner Al Erwin, an original member of PUC when it was created in 1975, but quit before his term expired. Erwin predicted abolishment of the fuel adjustment clause would be one of the new membership's first actions.

On the day White nominated him, Erwin received a telephone call from a Wall Street analyst who said his firm was lowering the rating on the Texas Public Utility Commission because of the resignations of commissioners George Cowden and Tommie Gene Smith.

"It was a subtle warning," Erwin said. "My response to him was that I was happy to learn PUC is no longer Wall Street's favorite regulatory body."

Senate 45, House 1

In the Legislature, the action has all been in the Senate. Senators by last week had passed 45 bills compared to one passed by the House.

The reason is the Constitution prevents floor action on bills during the first 60 days of a session. Traditionally, both chambers have voted to suspend the rules and begin voting on some bills almost immediately. This session, the Senate suspended the rules, but the House did not.

Early voting allows the Legislature to approve early many of the beneficial, non-controversial bills that could be killed later when the dog-fights begin as the session wanes.

The situation can easily be compared to putting women and children in the lifeboats first.

This session, however, the House has deliberately slowed its pace to allow new Speaker Gib Lewis time to get organized.

Senate Action

Thus, the Senate has the spotlight to itself and last week it passed some 28 bills alone.

Against protests by the National Rifle Association and to the cheers of law enforcement officers, the Senate voted unanimously to outlaw Teflon-coated bullets, called "cop-killer" bullets because they easily penetrate bullet-proof vests.

The Senate also passed bills which would:

- Establish a state board regulating lay midwives, providing for licensing and prohibiting midwives from using drugs and surgical methods.
- Make obtaining a hardship drivers license more difficult for 15-year-olds. The applicant would have to prove economic or health hardship and pass a driver training course.

• Permit county commissioners to levy taxes by a vote of three commissioners, eliminating a requirement that all five members must be present. Under the old requirements, a commissioner could walk out of a meeting, leaving his colleagues unable to adopt a budget.

• Double the amounts of credit life insurance sold in Texas for loans.

Nuclear Waste

Last week the state hired a Houston-based environmental consulting firm to search for a permanent storage site in Texas for low-level nuclear waste.

The firm will offer five potential sites for a dump scheduled to open in 1988. Low-level waste comes from hospitals and research facilities, not nuclear power plants. Nuclear waste now produced here is shipped to a dump in Washington which will close its doors to Texas in a few years.

Fuel Tax Proposed

The chairman of the state highways board told the House he preferred raising the gasoline tax by 10 percent, instead of raising car fees for funds to repair the state highways.

The governor later said he wanted no new taxes but would sign a five percent tax. He would not support hikes in car fees.

State Gold

The Senate approved $7 million for repair of the fire-damaged Capitol, and State Treasurer Ann Richards is thinking about minting gold coins to finance the restoration.

A 1981 law gives the treasurer the right to commission gold coins—similar to South African Kruggerands—and sell them to commemorate the 1986 Texas Sesquicentennial.

New Job

Former Speaker Bill Clayton, who set a legislative record of eight years with the gavel, now coaxes his former colleagues as a registered lobbyist.

Among other clients, Clayton lobbies for the Texas Association of Cotton Producers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

February 18, 1983

Dear Editor:

When the reportorial gentry from San Angelo turn their attention toward Ozona most Ozonans have learned to duck. It's usually going to be something insulting, belittling, degrading or inciting to community disruption of one kind or another.

A cub earned his byline recently by writing a feature story on a little one-column ad that has run in the Ozona Stockman for some sixty years or more. For information on the story, he called the Stockman editor, Kitty Montgomery. Maybe it was Mrs. Montgomery's threats to inflict mayhem on the young man if he pulled another sneak attack on Ozona in "that paper" that deterred him from waxing vicious.

The story was about a little ad that offers a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone guilty of theft of livestock in Crockett County. The reporter checked with the sheriff's department and elicited the information that the reward has never been paid, or at least that livestock stealing was not a great big problem in Crockett County. After getting the per week charge the newspaper bills the county, the reporter went to his calculator and came up with the staggering figure that ad would have cost the county in sixty years. He then got from a deputy sheriff the statement that he "Isn't sure why the ad is running."

Call the roll of sheriffs in Crockett County, say from Jim Moore in 1913, C. L. Williams, Sandy Willis, Mrs. Willis, V. O. Earnest, Frank James, Bruce Harp and for the last number of years, our own and present sheriff, Billy Mills. Somewhere down that line a sheriff, in cooperation with the County Commissioners Court, decided that the best law enforcement was a deterrent to crime—like the death penalty back when it was a real threat. The little reward notice was to serve as notice to those who might contemplate pilfering somebody's sheep or cows that more eyes than just the sheriff's were watching them. The same theory prevailed when groups of ranchmen employed deputized patrolmen to roam their country in nighttime or day.

Had there been livestock thefts in days gone by, the reward would have been paid with pleasure if the miscreants were caught and brought to justice and no doubt the county would have been reimbursed the expense of the reward money from grateful ranchmen. The same applies today and will apply every week that the now famous little Stockman ad appears in the paper.

Dear Editor:

There are several bills pending in the State Legislature which are very important to our children of divorced parents, to the parents and to the grandparents. I would like to use this means of bringing them to the attention of your readers, and to urge people to contact their representatives in Austin regarding the need for passage of these bills.

It would be wise to also contact Lt. Gov. William Hobby and Gov. Mark White, asking for their assistance in getting these bills through the legislature and enacted into law.

Two of the bills are: House Bill No. 367 by Alan Schoolcraft - relating to joint managing conservatorship of children; and, Senate Bill No. 79 by Chet Brooks - relating to the rights of grandparents to have access to their grandchildren.

Among others to be considered are: SB No. 45 by Ray Farabee, HB No. 94 by Matt Garcia and HB No. 262 by Rollin Khoury.

If you wish to read the bills before voicing your concern, you may obtain a copy by calling Senate Bill Distribution 475-2520; House Bill Distribution 475-8452 (there will be a small charge for copies) or by contacting the Austin office of the sponsoring legislator.

Address for senators, governor and lieutenant governor: P. O. Box 12068, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711; for representatives: P. O. Box 2910, Austin 78769.

For the name of the senator representing your district, call: 475-4271; for representative in House, call: 475-2213.

The time is now—these bills are in committee or probably will be shortly.

Dear Kitty,

I wanted to send you a copy of this letter thanking one of our local organizations for their support of the Day Care Center. In the past year, we have had several organizations such as the VFW, Ozona Women's League, Beta Sigma Phi, and many individuals contribute to this project. Their help has been the backbone of our success. Just like all non-profit ventures, we always seem to be in need of money, supplies, or equipment. Again, let me emphasize how important these people and their help have been to the center.

Very truly yours,
 Elizabeth Upham

(Copy of letter follows)

Dear VFW Members & Associate Members,

On behalf of the Ozona Day Care Center, thank you for the generous donation. The Day Care Center being non-profit, non-denominational, and non-discriminatory depends on community support such as yours in order to operate. Our goal is to provide an atmosphere of love and learning for each child we care for, not just a babysitting service.

Your donation came at a time when our funds seemed to be dwindling because of holiday salaries, Christmas holidays, and increased utility costs. We also are in need of better air conditioning when warmer weather arrives and hope to use some of the money for this purpose. Again, thank you for your support. Ozona is a town where organizational support, such as the VFW exhibits for worthwhile projects, makes it "that special place to call home."

Extension office news

Don't tell your age by your eating habits-you may be aging, but you can eat young, Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist, says.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Calorie requirements are the only difference between what young and old people should eat--nutritional needs are generally the same. The body doesn't need any one particular food--it needs components of food: protein, fats, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, called nutrients.

Daily caloric needs decline with each decade over 50, so calorie intake must usually be reduced. Requirement for most other nutrients remains fairly constant during older life," she explained. Foods furnishing nutrients are grouped into four basic groups.

Major sources of protein in the American diet are red meat, poultry, fish and eggs. This group also contributes iron and some thiamine (Vitamin B-1). The excellent protein contribution of milk and milk products is often overlooked. Dried peas, beans and peanut butter, especially when combined with meat or milk proteins are also good protein sources. Cereal protein and meat protein, combined in a frozen entree, provide useful protein at mealtime.

Calcium is the nutrient most likely to be consumed in amounts below recommended levels in the diets of the elderly. Milk and milk products furnish most of this important mineral. Those who do not drink milk may enjoy cheese, yogurt or milk desserts. Also, small amounts of calcium are found in vegetables, especially the dark leafy varieties. The mild group also supplies riboflavin and, if fortified, Vitamin D. Two cups of milk or equivalent calcium in dairy products is needed daily, she said.

The fruit and vegetable group furnishes Vitamins A, C, some calcium and iron. In the American diet, orange juice has become the major source of Vitamin C. But other sources are grapefruit, cabbage, broccoli, vine-ripened tomatoes, green peppers and such fruits as strawberries and cantaloupe. A serving of a Vitamin C rich food each day is recommended.

"Think 'green' and 'orange' for food sources to furnish Vitamin A. Deep green leafy vegetables, winter squash, carrots and cantaloupe are all excellent sources of carotenes, which are converted to Vitamin A by the body. Liver is a rich source of Vitamin A. Vitamin A is stored by the body, and one serving is needed every other day."

Four servings of the bread-cereal group are needed daily. Cereal products contain the B vitamins: thiamine, riboflavin and niacin. These three vitamins are mentioned together because they normally appear in the same foods. Along with iron, they are the three vitamins added when cereal products are enriched. Whole-grain cereals are the most common source of these B vitamins. In addition, riboflavin is found in dairy products, while pork is a good source of thiamine or Vitamin B-1.

"No single food has a high iron content. The dietary intake must come from small amounts of iron found in many foods. Meats, eggs, cereals, whole-grained or enriched, dark leafy green vegetables, dried apricots and raisins all add to the daily iron intake.

"Dietary fiber provides bulk necessary for the efficient function of the gastrointestinal tract. Food sources of fiber are fresh fruits and vegetables, whole-grain cereals, dried fruits and nuts," she said.

Water is an important component of all body cells. It functions in the regulation of body temperature and the removal of waste products from the body.

CARD OF THANKS

May I express my deep appreciation to my Ozona friends for the many expressions of sympathy and condolences on the death of my father, E. C. Hatton. Your concern has been most gratefully received in my time of sorrow.

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

The great showers of the last few weeks, and the beautiful warm, sunny days, gives us a hint of spring not very far off. But beware and fail to heed the urge to go all out to have early blooms which usually get killed by a freeze as late or later than March 15.

We are being rewarded with the early planted bulbs blooming in many yards over our city. Daffodils are the easiest to grow of all spring bulbs and flower for many years with minimum care. Tolerant of either sun or shade they add vibrant color almost anywhere in your garden.

If you want to plant seeds to have your own transplants that will be ready to set out in the garden after danger of frost has passed, do so now. Although transplants do best when grown in a greenhouse or cold frame, you can grow them on a sunny window sill.

Begin planting gladiolus corms now and make two or three additional plantings two-week intervals to prolong the blooming season. Drive a stake beside each corm to pinpoint its location and support the plant. When growth begins, loosely tie the stem and flower spike to the stake with twine.

Prepare your soil at least two weeks before planting, starting by digging and turning planting beds to a depth of 12 to 18 inches. Small areas can be turned with a spading fork--never work wet soil, as it will dry compacted and hard. For annuals and perennials put down at least a 3-inch layer of organic matter; also add 5-10-10 fertilizer at the rate of 1/2 cup per square yard of bed. Work these materials into the soil thoroughly, and water well.

The finest blossom display comes from annuals planted in early spring. This way they have plenty of time to become well established before flowering begins.

Forum meets at C. Center

Mrs. Jess Marley and Mrs. Brock Jones gave financial reports. Mrs. Kirby Moore reported on the Crime Stoppers program. Mrs. Gene Perry was in charge of the program, "Trans-Canada by Train". Her beautiful slides and interesting commentary made this one of the outstanding programs of the club year.

Other members attending were: Mrs. Charles Black, Mrs. Bill Carson, Mrs. Pleas Childress, Mrs. Roger Dudley, Mrs. Lee Graves, Mrs. Madye Jo Humphries, Mrs. L.D. Kirby, Mrs. Arthur Kyle, Mrs. Allie Lock, Mrs. J. McCartney, Mrs. J.B. Miller, Mrs. Roy Pearson, Mrs. Arthur Phillips, Mrs. Buddy Russell, Mrs. C.O. Spencer, Mrs. W.T. Stokes, Mrs. C.O. The Thinker... and Believer

The sculptor was right. Our ability to think -- our determination to think -- is the key to human progress.

But the same God who endowed man with the ability to think also gave him the sense of spiritual destiny. To be thinkers is only a beginning in the quest for our purpose, our mission, the meaning of our existence.

The message of Christianity has always been directed toward men and women and youth who have the God-given zest for thinking. Week after week in our churches the thinker is challenged to become a believer.

The most exciting and promising of man's endowments is not his capacity for thought... rather his yearning for faith. And faith is never content with human progress. Faith is determined to commit our intelligence to the achievement of Divine Progress.

Losers Together!

Dear Pat Walker's,

We kept putting off going on a diet because the word diet to us meant bland food, hours of being hungry, and usually giving up without results.

So we were delighted to hear Pat Walker's was opening up just 30 miles away in Sonora. Here was the help we needed. With their help we lost 57 lbs. and 47 inches combined.

We think Pat Walker's is great for couples who want to lose weight, because you not only have Pat Walker's help and encouragement but, you have each other...

Texas murder rate three times birth rate

The murder rate in Texas is increasing almost three times as fast as the population growth rate, according to a recent study by the Criminal Justice Center at Sam Houston State University.

While the state's population increased 26.7% in the 10 years from 1972-81, the murder rate shot up 69.9%. The United States as a whole had an 8.8% population increase and 21.6% murder rate increase.

The figures come from the first comprehensive study of Texas murder statistics ever published. The study was a joint effort of the Criminal Justice Center and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Murder is the ultimate crime," said Colonel Jim Adams, Department of Public Safety director. "It is a crime that touches every citizen of Texas. Many of us know or are related to victims and the rest of us are surely conscious of its threat."

Other findings of the study included:

More murders, proportionately, occur in large cities; Females are much less likely to be murder victims than males; white males are much less likely to be victims than black males; murder is moving up on the list of the top 10 causes of death; the "lovers' triangle" is declining as a cause of murder; handguns are being used less as murder weapons, with other weapons, knives and other sharp objects being used more; murder case disposition and sentencing has changed little in 10 years; unless something is done, murder rates will continue to rise faster than population increases.

Dr. Raymond H. C. Teske, Jr., director of the Criminal Justice Center's Survey Research Program, said that 80% of all Texans live in areas of 50,000 or larger, yet 87.7% of the murders occur in such areas.

In 1981, the report says, 18.2 of every 100,000 persons living in urban areas (above 50,000) were victims of murder. The rate for rural areas was 11.3 and for small cities 8.9.

A Texan's chance of becoming a murder victim increased dramatically in 10 years. In 1972 one of every 8,118 Texans was murdered; in 1981 one in 5,906.

During 1981 a man was almost five times as likely to be murdered as a woman. One in every 3,545 men was a murder victim, and one of every 17,465 women.

A black male was eight times more likely to be murdered than a white male—one of every 6,259 white males to one of every 1,241 black males.

A particularly scary figure for black males aged 30-39 is that in 1981 one of every 578 in that category was murdered.

"The data suggest that during the 25 year span from age 20 to age 54 a black male is running an exceedingly high risk of being murdered," said Teske.

In the population as a whole, the 20-29 age group was the one most affected by murder (1 in 3,018), with 30-39 next (1 in 3,733), followed by 40-54 (1 in 5,109).

The murder statistics were compiled by Teske and Michael Hazlett, a Criminal Justice Center research assistant. They were taken from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and Texas Department of Public Safety Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau reports. That data were compared with statistics from other agencies, such as the Texas Department of Health, for additional analysis.

That comparison, for instance, revealed that in 1972 murder ranked 10th among the leading causes of death in Texas. In 1981 it had climbed to 7th, overtaking early infant death, diabetes and arteriosclerosis.

Heart disease was the No. 1 killer, followed by cancer, stroke, motor vehicle accidents, all other accidents, and influenza and pneumonia.

One of the problems in undertaking such a study, Teske said, is that good statistics are often not available. Several of the categories of information have been available only since the DPS began its Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau in 1976.

"They have the finest state Uniform Crime Reporting Bureau in the United States," said Teske. "The study illustrates the value and utility of their work."

"The crime data which they have collected and will collect in years to come should provide policy makers in Texas with a sound basis for decision-making and evaluation."

The newest DPS statistics include information on victim/offender relationships and homicide circumstances. In 1976, for instance, 67% of all murder victims knew the offender. By 1981 the percentage had fallen to 58.1. Homicides during arguments accounted for 39.9% of all such crimes in 1976, falling to 34.7% in 1981, and was the single greatest factor both years. Categories which showed increases in 1981 were justifiable homicide (3.8% of murders, 420% increase) and homicides during commission of another crime (13.2%; 10.8% increase).

A circumstance category which showed a decrease was "lovers' triangle" (2.5% 16.8% decrease), and one which remained constant was "brawl influenced by alcohol or drugs" (10% both years). Although still accounting for more than half (50.1%) of all murders, handguns were decreasing in frequency of use in comparison with other firearms (19.9% of weapons used, 17.9% increase) and knives or other sharp objects (18.6%; 22.9% increase).

The greatest change in disposition and sentencing came in the number of convicted murderers sentenced to the Texas Department of Corrections. In 1976 61.1% were sent to state prison; in 1981 65.5%. The average sentence declined slightly from 22 to 21.6 years.

Life sentences declined almost 5% and death sentences stayed the same at 2%. Death sentences were given to 147 persons convicted of murder and none were executed.

In the number of murders in cities of 50,000 or more there were few changes in the top 10 cities in six years. The top five remained constant—Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth and Corpus Christi.

El Paso, 6th in 1976, swapped places with Austin, which had been 7th. Lubbock remained 8th and Longview 9th. Waco dropped from 10th to 20th and Beaumont moved from 14th to 10th.

In murders per 100,000 residents, Houston was 3rd in 1976 and 1st in 1981. Dallas dropped from 1st to 2nd. Fort Worth moved from 5th to 3rd.

Others which moved up in rankings were Galveston, 10th to 4th; Corpus Christi, 13th to 5th; San Antonio, 9th to 6th; Port Arthur, 8th to 7th; Lubbock, 11th to 9th; and Odessa, 18th to 10th. Tyler was the only top 10 city of 50,000 or more besides Dallas to improve its murder per 100,000 residents climate, going from 7th to 8th.

Most of the cities in the clearance rate top 10 in 1981 had improved their rankings in the past six years. Richardson moved from 32nd to 1st, Waco from 30th to 2nd, and Tyler from 29th to 3rd.

Plano was 4th both years, Midland moved from 6th to 5th, Mesquite from 7th to 6th, Irving from 33rd to 7th, Brownsville from 14th to 8th, and Amarillo from 24th to 9th. Abilene went from 1st to 10th.

Looking to the future, Teske said that if characteristics of the Texas population remain consistent and changes are not made in laws and society, the murder rate will continue to rise faster than the population rate. The rate per 100,000 residents is expected to increase from 16.5 in 1981 to 23.3 in 1991, said Teske.

Fertilizing West Texas landscapes and plants

Reasonable fertilizer programs are a part of basic landscape maintenance. Our West Texas soils are inevitably low in plant essential nitrogen. Yearly applications of nitrogen containing fertilizers are necessary for healthy trees, shrubs and turf grasses.

There are as many fertilizer formulations on the market as there are diet colas. Exotic fertilizer combinations are usually as nutritional to the plant as a diet cola, also. Specific fertilizers are marketed for specific plants (geranium fertilizers, pecan fertilizers, tomato food, etc). It is a proven fact that plants are unable to read fertilizer labels. West Texas soils are abundant in phosphorus and potassium in almost all cases. They are also low in plant available iron because of high pH values (alkalinity). Nitrogen in our soils is inherently low, due in part to the low organic matter content of the soil.

It is possible, and much more economical, to use the same fertilizer on your lawn, trees (shade, fruit, nut), flowers and vegetable garden. What fertilizer? One that is primarily nitrogen (the first number of the analysis) with lesser percentages of phosphorus and potassium (second and third numbers). The old stand-by, 16-20-0, has been used for decades in West Texas, but it is probably not the best. Fertilizers that contain sulfur, zinc and iron may contribute somewhat to plant available amounts of these elements in the soil, but additional and separate applications of iron (in a chelated form for alkaline soils) will be needed on ornamentals and fruit trees. Pecans will also need zinc (as a foliar spray) for greatest vigor and nut production.

Ideally, fertilizer rates are based on soil samples. If you have never taken a soil sample, your county Extension agent can assist you with instructions. The following fertilizer rates are given as a guideline, you may want to adjust the total yearly application up or down based on your past experience or specific cultural needs. Make split applications (half of the fertilizer in early spring, the other half in late spring) on sandy soils. Remember that fertilizer applications go hand-in-hand with sufficient waterings throughout the growing season.

Trees: apply 1.5 pounds of 21-0-0 or 2 pounds of 16-8-8 or 3 pounds of 12-6-6 etc., per inch of trunk diameter. A 10 inch pecan tree would need 15 pounds of 21-0-0 scattered around its dripline.

Shrubs: Apply 1 pound of 21-0-0 or 1.5 pounds of 16-8-8 or 2 pounds of 12-6-6 per foot of shrub height. A group of three junipers, 4 feet in height would require 18 pounds of 16-8-8.

Lawns: Apply 20-30 pounds of 21-0-0 or 25-35 pounds of 16-8-8 or 35-45 pounds of 12-6-6 per 1000 square feet of common bermuda turf. Hybrid bermudas require 10-15 pounds more and St. Augustine and fescue require about 10 pounds less per 1000 square feet. These are total yearly amounts of fertilizer. Divide your total requirements into 2-3 applications. Always measure your yard.

Vegetable Gardens: Pre-plant incorporations of 1 pound of 21-0-0, 1.5 pounds of 16-8-8 or 2 pounds of 12-6-6 per 100 square feet of garden are needed. Additional sidedressings of fertilizer may be necessary during the growing season.

Annual and perennial beds may be fertilized similarly to vegetable gardens.

VA trying to collect debts

The Veterans Administration and Department of Justice now are two years into their effort in Texas and elsewhere to collect debts owed by veterans who attended school under the GI Bill.

Most of the monies owed the VA stem from educational overpayments while the veteran was in school or from defaulted education loans.

Under VA's program of collecting debts of $1,200 or less, VA District Counsel Offices in Texas so far have received more than 22,700 debt cases totaling more than $13,600,000.

Keeping The FAITH

In the whirlwind pace of our technology, mobility, and hypertension, more questions concerning values, morals, and faith are being asked than ever before.

One of the changes affecting a vast portion of our society is the attitude towards sex and its role in love and marriage. A study by Professor Gerhard Gollwitzer of Germany, entitled Sex, Eros, Marital Love discusses on a scholarly level the spiritual significance of sex in the order of God's creation as a matter of great social and religious importance.

Even though humans have explored nearly every horizon on earth, the most uncharted region remains the same—our own interiors.

We still have a lot to learn about the processes that result in our conscious thoughts and emotions. We know even less about the mind which produces visions, voices, and hallucinations.

The booklet Dreams, Hallucinations, Visions, by Dr. Ernst Benz, a leading German theologian, offers an objective study of such phenomena as recorded in the Bible, writings of mystics, and scientific annals.

Both booklets may be obtained by sending $2.00 to Swedenborg Foundation, Dept. SD, 139 E. 23rd St., New York, NY 10010.

FRIDAY BRIDGE

Mrs. Joe Friend was hostess for the Friday Club last week in her apartment here.

High score went to Eddie Arnold and second high to Mrs. Evert White. Mrs. Sterling Baker won the bingo.

Others playing were Mrs. Oscar Kost, Mrs. Roger Dudley, Mrs. J. B. Miller, Mrs. Bailey Post, Mrs. Sherman Taylor, Mrs. Clay Adams, Mrs. C. O. Walker, Mrs. Joe Couch and Mrs. O. D. West. Guests included Mrs. Embree Hunt and Mrs. Pete North.

letters, 5,928 Texas veterans already have repaid or agreed to repay a total of more than $3,163,000 in lump sums or through repayment plans.

The District Counsels also have filed suit in state and federal courts on 1,996 cases totaling $1,094,396. The U.S. Attorneys have filed on another 614 VA cases during the last two years.

VA's aim is to collect the debts in instances where the veteran fails to make repayment arrangements. The veteran first is notified by letter of the indebtedness, then advised that about 30 days remain after its receipt to pay the debt in full or make other arrangements for payment before necessary court action is taken.

Debts in excess of $1,200 are referred to the Department of Justice. As a general rule, the department will demand immediate repayment of the debt. The department is also prepared to litigate the matter in court. Both the Department and the District Counsels use various post-judgment remedies such as taking liens on properties, and attaching bank accounts and other liquid assets.

Plan would tax consumer health benefits

Until recently, Congress worried about whether Americans could afford to pay for decent health care. Consequently, in 1965, the Medicare and Medicaid programs were created to care for the poor and elderly. Over the years employers and private insurers have shown that they can provide working people and their families with adequate health care coverage. In fact, between 1960 and 1980, the number of people with private health coverage increased from 123 million to 186 million. About 90 percent of workers and their families have health insurance.

But some political leaders say Americans have too much health insurance today. As a result, they say, we use too much health care. Their solution is to reduce the coverage provided to employees and their families and give them incentives to use less health care.

The Reagan Administration and some members of Congress have prepared a plan they claim will accomplish this. This plan is also designed to raise taxes to offset some of the budget deficits.

Employers may now contribute any amount to a health insurance plan for their employees and families without having those contributions count as taxable income to the employee. Under the Administration's plan, a limit or "cap" would be set on the size of this tax-free benefit: $840 per year for a single person and $2,100 for a family have been proposed. Anything the employer pays above the cap would count as taxable income to the employee. In other words, federal, state, local income taxes and Social Security taxes would have to be paid by the employee if an employer pays for health insurance above an amount determined by the federal government.

Those who believe the tax cap would be good health policy say employers and employees would be encouraged to choose lower cost health plans in which employees pay for more of their care out of their own pockets. Under these conditions, supporters of the plan say, employees would have a greater incentive to be cost-conscious consumers of health care.

The trouble is that a tax cap can't really distinguish between health insurance plans which encourage cost-conscious behavior and those which don't. For example, if you live in a large metropolitan area where medical care is expensive, you may be penalized by the tax cap even if your health plan contains incentives for you to avoid unnecessary or expensive care. Someone else, living where medical care is cheaper, may feel no effect from the tax cap while using medical care wastefully.

In the same way, the tax cap discourages employers from adding features like dental care, mental health coverage and preventive care to their health benefit plans. Even if such comprehensive coverage were accompanied by employee incentives to be cost conscious, the tax cap could bite into it. However, a health plan covering, say, only hospital care and having no incentives for cost consciousness could escape the tax cap entirely.

Let's say you belong to a family whose annual taxable income is $25,000. Assume that your employer paid $2,500 in health benefits for your family last year. If a tax cap had been in place in 1982, $400 of that $2,500 would have been added to your wages even though you never saw the cash. What would have happened to your tax bill? You would have paid another $116 in federal income taxes. In some states you would pay roughly another $20 in state income taxes. And you would pay about $27 more in Social Security taxes. In addition, your employer would have to pay $27 more in Social Security taxes on your behalf.

Assuming your employer is willing to absorb the employer Social Security tax, you would pay $163 in taxes on $400 you never saw—that is a 41 percent tax rate. Now, if your employer can't afford to absorb the $27 Social Security tax and reduces your wages or other fringe benefits, you lose even more.

There is also no guarantee that the tax cap will be indexed to rises in total health expenditures. If, in our example, your employer raised your health benefit by 15 percent in 1983 (a conservative assumption given recent experience) and there were no change in the cap, $775 of your benefit would then be taxable. The total tax you pay on your health benefit would rise from $163 to $315—a 94 percent increase. At this rate, by 1985 you would be paying $700 in taxes on your health care benefits alone.

What can you do about this? Well, the Administration and some economists say that what you will do is persuade your employer to reduce your health insurance coverage by $400 (in 1982) to get the benefit below the cap and take the money in additional wages or other fringe benefits. But, be careful. If you take the $400 as wages, you're going to be taxed on it—federal, state and Social Security taxes. You might be able to persuade your employer to add the $400 to your pension plan, on which the taxes would be deferred, although these kinds of additions aren't easy to arrange.

And what happens as a result of your reduced health care coverage? You have two choices. When someone in your family gets sick you can choose not to seek treatment. Or you can pay for medical treatment out of your own pocket. So, unless you have a lot of savings, you will probably have to take the $400 in wages rather than as a tax-favored fringe benefit. You will pay the increase in taxes, but at least you'll have about $237 left to pay for health care.

Americans are all potential volunteers

Looking for volunteers to help with a community project or charity drive? Don't despair. According to June Cline, an organization specialist, research shows that 65 million Americans are potential volunteers.

"The problem is that we must find ways of asking people to volunteer," says Cline, who is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Volunteer recruiters tend to go to parts of the community where they expect success rather than reaching out to tap new volunteer resources, observes Cline.

Cline, who has worked with Texas voluntary Extension organizations for the past seven years, suggests several strategies for recruiting help.

"Start by looking beyond your circle of personal acquaintances and people already serving on committees," recommends Cline.

Also, don't be afraid to recruit in the areas that have a need for the program, or among those who will be receiving the services. Recruit retirees to work in programs directed toward senior citizens, for example, or parents to work with youth programs, she says.

According to Cline, a well-planned publicity campaign to reach people aged 18-24 and over 65 can be quite productive.

Students are often interested in developing work-related skills and receiving school credit for volunteer activities. They can be recruited through school counselors and student professional or service clubs.

People over 65 are seeking a means to maintain their involvement in the life of the community, she notes, and can be recruited through a variety of senior citizen groups.

Regardless of who is being recruited, personal contact is probably the most important factor in "marketing" a volunteer program, says Cline. "You must be willing to go to people and their groups, talk to them, be enthusiastic, and answer their questions," she says.

Cline also suggests that Vocational nursing school to be held Preadmission testing for Hermann Hospital's School of Vocational Nursing will be held on February 26 and March 5.

The tests will be given on Saturdays at Hermann Hospital in Houston to those men and women interested in joining the class that begins on May 9.

People applying to the school must be high school graduates or have successfully completed the G.E.D.

Hermann's School of Vocational Nurse Examiners and is certified by the Texas Education Agency for veteran's attendance. It is also one of only four vocational nursing schools in the state to be accredited by the National Association for Practical Nurse Education and Service Inc.

Graduates of the school who are hired by Hermann Hospital will be eligible for tuition and fee reimbursements.

To register for an entrance test, or for more information, call the Hermann Hospital School of Vocational Nursing at (713) 797-4080.

recruiters think in terms of recruiting one "special" volunteer for a particular job, rather than a pool of volunteers for unspecified jobs.

The names of potential "special" volunteers can be found by asking members of other organizations for ideas, watching the local newspapers for stories about people with special skills, or contacting the librarian for the names of people in specific fields. These people can then be recruited through personal letters or direct contact.

"Everyone is self-directed at something," says Cline. "The job of a volunteer recruiter is to discover that self-direction in each individual, then find a place where it can be used positively," she adds.

Notes from the locker room

By-Ross A. Alexander

Ozonans should keep in mind that Marcello Hernandez could be the star of this year's track season. The guy is probably in the best shape of his athletic career, and has posted some of the best times already that some people have seen in years at this early juncture of pre-season preparations and workouts. "I feel pretty good," Marcello said to me recently. "What I'd like to see actually, is the track team reaching a peak at just the right time because a lot of people really don't know that our guys are some of the fastest to be found anywhere around. Mark Vallejo, Willie Payne and several others are capable of breaking some long-standing district records this year, and Ozona shouldn't be surprised if we place several in the State finals either."

The tennis team was well represented in Saturday morning workouts this past weekend. Some of the tennis team members think that this is a game that can be played well without much work. Tennis, if it's to be competently and consistently played, has to be practiced and worked on vigorously and frequently. I'm surprised at how few Ozona tennis players have effective service. Mike Bien, Ozona's super pro, who will, incidentally, be involved in a match this weekend in San Angelo, has been working with some of our more motivated players recently and we look for fine results from his efforts. He is a terrific player, by far the best I've seen in these parts. I hope that Mike will remember that perfecting an effective serve is crucial for these young people, and is something they sorely need work on. Corina Deihl and Jim McCrohan have excellent serves also. They can and will help, if asked. Both are fine tennis talents.

Speaking of tennis, the Crockett County Tennis Association will sponsor Chris Dunn and possibly a few others in USTA tournaments this summer. I predict that Chris will be another Mike Bien soon. When Chris conquers his McEnroe-like temper, he'll be the best Ozona has ever seen.

Diron and Kent will get to sow their seeds on the Ozona links very soon as OHS' fine golf team swings into action. Massey, my inside source tells me, has had some fine rounds recently, and if everyone lives up to the advance billing, and takes the season seriously, this should be a terrific golf season. I look forward to covering the golf team. Diron could have played tennis and would have been one of our best, but my inside source insists that his strength is golf. Boy, what talent Ozona, Texas has this year in just about everything.

Next week, I'll take a look at the upcoming baseball and softball season and some of the personnel we expect to shine during the season. I'm told that Ozona is as much a baseball and softball town as it is a football town. Can that be true?

How many of you realize that Jim Williams was once a pro football player? The guy is in such great shape he can probably still play tight end for the Washington Redskins.

For such a little town, Ozona sure has an extraordinary accumulation of athletic talent. Covering sports in this place is big fun, believe me.

Crockett County Care Center News

BY ANN McCARTNEY
DIRECTOR OF ACTIVITIES & SOCIAL CARE

Third Sunday services were once again brought by friends of the Catholic Church. A large group of students from the Church's second grade class presented our residents with hand and face cream and a lovely Valentine. They gave a program depicting the Lord's Supper which was really enjoyed.

Monday morning residents enjoyed a Valentine's Day party complete with the crowning of Queen Tomasa Ramos and King Johnny Henderson. Party refreshments included cookies made by the residents served on Valentine place mats made by the Elementary I, II and III Church School classes of the United Methodist Church. Tomasa and Johnny were presented flowers donated by Maxine's Flower Shop.

Monday afternoon was the day set aside for our monthly birthday party so it was partytime again. Ladies Hospital and Care Center Auxiliary members Mary Lea Jones and Bonnie Warth served the birthday cake made and donated by Polly Eppler to our birthday honoree Paul Cavin. Paul, our oldest Care Center resident, was also given a carnation by Maxine's Flowers.

Tuesday morning's bingo winner of the El Chato dinner for two was Tomasa Ramos. Volunteers were Alice Ross and Doris Karr.

Friday morning's overall winner of the two bingo playing sessions was Nila Turnell. She was awarded a gift certificate from Watson's Department Store. Second place winner was Nina Mayfield. There were nine other residents running a close third. Volunteers helping included Alice Ross, Veronica Tebbetts, Herminia Garza, and Anna Bell Patrick.

Wednesday morning ceramics was led by Marie Pierson. Residents participating included Juana Hernandez, Frances Borrego, Tomasa Ramos, Bertha Miller, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills and Moriana Perez.

Wednesday afternoon all our residents were treated to a milkshake by Clayton's Village Drug. Residents making the trip and enjoying theirs at the drug store included Carol Reed, Paul Cavin, Juana Hernandez, Maude Pettit, Tomasa Ramos, Audra Moore, Ola Mills, Johnny Henderson, and Virginia Russell. Many thanks goes to Mr. N. T. Hickey for assisting residents in and out of the car.

Thursday morning beauty shop was once again manned by Madye Jo Humphreys, Bonnie Warth, and Arlene Clayton. Thursday afternoon Bible study was led by Rev. Dennis McKain and assisted by Marie Walker. Maude Pettit played the piano. This was followed by Spanish Hour of Praise brought by Maria Vitela, Paulita Leal, Carmen Vargas, Alicia Perez, and Blanca Castro.

Thursday night residents were once again treated to the music and singing of the Knox Band. Jamie Knox, J. D., and Don Kilgore gave a fine performance. We are happy that they have become third Thursday night regulars.

Friday afternoon residents Juana Hernandez, Paul Cavin, Bertha Miller, Maude Pettit, Ola Mills, Moriana Perez and Leona Harris enjoyed reading and discussion from the book A History of Crockett County recently donated to our Care Center by June Henderson in memory of her husband Roy. This turned into a fun hour with lots of reminiscing about old times. We really appreciate June sending this book.

Another memorial that came this week was from Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carson in memory of Romeo Vela.

Anna Bell Patrick brought us fingernail polish, Mrs. George Bean brought some religious materials and Mrs. Charles E. Davidson, III, gave a money donation to the activity fund. We appreciate all these friends and all they do for our residents. Let's all think volunteer!

PBPA Energy Report

Two of the three members of the Texas Public Utility Commission resigned abruptly on Tuesday, February 15. Governor Mark White, four hours later, appointed Peggy Rosson, a member of the El Paso Public Utility Regulatory Board, and Alan Erwin, a former member of the utilities commission to the vacated positions. Erwin said he would only serve through August. Commissioner George Cowden said the P.U.C. had become a "political football" and he was tired of trying to write a fuel-adjustment clause for utility bills that would satisfy Governor White. The other commissioner, Tommy Gene Smith, had not yet been confirmed by the Senate and the prospect of rejection was the reason for his resignation. In other news, Saudi Arabia is lobbying for a systematic reduction in OPEC's base price of 34 dollars a barrel. Iran and Venezuela oppose a reduction. If the benchmark price is reduced to 30 dollars a barrel, gasoline prices would probably not drop because many OPEC members are already discounting their prices by as much as seven dollars a barrel.

And, the Chairman of Phillips Petroleum, William Douce, said a gradual reduction in oil prices to 25 dollars a barrel would benefit oil companies and the economy in the long run. He also said he thought the oil industry can bear more taxes as part of a favorable natural gas deregulation package.

In the Permian Basin our rig count this week is 268. Last week it was 265. One year ago it was 467.

TDTR amends water plan

The Texas Department of Water Resources Thursday released a planning report for amending the Texas Water Plan for review and comment.

Water quality protection, water conservation, municipal and industrial water supply development, and water for environmental needs are emphasized in the report. TDWR Executive Director Charles E. Nemir said copies of the report were presented to members of the Texas Water Development Board Thursday at their regular monthly meeting. Copies will also be made available to members of the Texas Legislature Thursday.

Nemir said the planning report is a result of more than a year's work by Department staff. As part of the planning effort, the Department, the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council, and the Governor's Task Force on Water Resource Use and Conservation conducted a broad-based public participation program early in 1982 in order to provide for the public's interest. It included public forums, personal interviews and comments, and a public opinion survey.

The flexible guide for orderly development of water supplies, wastewater treatment facilities, and related water needs for Texas' future covers a 50-year planning horizon, beginning with the 1980 data base and continuing to the year 2030 with projections shown in 10-year increments. The report is a 700-page technical document to be used in amending the 1968 Texas Water Plan.

Following the review and comment period, the Department and Board will schedule public hearings prior to final adoption of amendments by the Board.

Copies of the report are being mailed to water-related entities, professional groups, and to citizens who have previously requested the document.

Body wraps taking starch blockers place

From the Texas Medical Association

Where starch blockers left off, body wraps seem to have taken up the slack as the latest weight-loss gimmick.

Starch blockers are the diet pills that were supposed to let a person eat heaping portions of starchy foods such as potatoes, pasta and bread and still lose weight. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration took steps to remove them from the marketplace last July after consumers complained of nausea, vomiting, diarrhea and stomach pain.

Now come body wraps and custom garments that claim to "melt" fat away in almost no time. A typical body wrap advertisement promises the user will "burn away fat even while you sleep" or "lose 4-6 inches the first day."

The Texas Medical Association says, however, that the only effective and lasting way to lose weight is to cut calories and exercise regularly.

Body wraps and custom garments are designed to make the person lose inches and weight through perspiration. The problem is that the fluids are soon replaced by drinking or eating. Some of the plastic or rubber garments cover only a part of the body, while others cover most of it. One outfit is inflated with air from a vacuum cleaner, another with a hair dryer. Some wraps are used after a cream, gel or lotion is applied or after being soaked in a solution.
